Winchester Will Get Overpass For Railroad Crossing

A commique from the office of the Honourable Lucien Lamoureux confirms that an overpass on Highway 31 in Winchester has been approved.

Following is Mr. Lamoureux's statement as released to the Winchester Press:

"The Board of Transport Commissioners have issued an order for the construction of an overpass on Highway 31 in Winchester. This decision was reached following negociations with the Provincial authorities and in response to representations received in Ottawa by the Federal Member on behalf of the Municipal Councils of Winchester and Chesterville. Earlier, an Order of the Board authorizing a level crossing on the bypass had been rescinded. The only point at issue left is the apportionment of the cost between the province and the Federal authorities.

The Federal contribution will depend on the extent vehicular traffic will be diverted from the present crossing in Winchester to the new overpass. The statutory requirements are that a contribution can be made out of the Federal Railway Crossing Fund for a substantial amount of traffic diverted from the old crossing to the bypass. Preliminary surveys indicate that there will be such a substantial diversion which would result in the approval of a contribution out of the Railway Crossing Fund.

My comment is that I am delighted that, as a result of the joint action between the Provincial Member, Mr. Irvine, the Reeves of Winchester, Chesterville and Williamsburg, and the respective councils and, of course, the Federal Member speaking on their behalf in Ottawa this very satisfactory decision has been obtained for the benefit of the citizens of the area"

Campbell's Campaign "Confident"

Grant Campbell, Progressive Conservative candidate in Stormont-Dundas, has stated on several occasions that he is particularly well pleased with functioning of his organization. He says he is confident his association is better organized than has been the case for many years, with key organizers from all parts of the riding playing an active role.

Mr. Campbell is spending long hours 'in the saddle' and as a result has availed himself of opportunities to speak with literally thousands of voters and he has shown a keen interest in the youth vote.

Always appearing in a buoyant mood, he is capitalizing on a statement made by the popular Liberal candidate in Grenville-Carleton, Gordon Blair.

Mr. Blair, in his nomination speech, had stated he thought "an independent member in our type of parliament is generally forlorn and unproductive". Mr. Campbell has repeatedly suggested that he is in full agreement with this line of thinking and for this reason strongly advises voters in the Stormont-Dundas riding to vote for him rather than his Independent opponent.

The lively greying candidate, who tasted defeat once before when he opposed Mr. Lamoureux, is confident the end result will be different this time around.

"We're only now moving into second gear", he says, "and once we shift into 'high' victory will be within sight."

WINCHESTER RALLY

Plans have already been completed for a giant rally at Winchester Public School on October 19th and the candidate assures all he will have much more to say about this meeting in a few days.

He also will be speaking at a well organized meeting scheduled for MacDonnell's Inn at Emer's Corners on October 10th and on October 23rd Mrs. Robert Stanfield will be at the Cornwallis Hotel, Cornwall to give the campaign encouragement as the final week of canvassing begins.

House Numbering Now Complete

287 Winchester home owners have now purchased house numbers and all revenue, after meeting expenses, will be turned over to the community centre fund through Winchester Lions Club.

According to a Lions Club spokesman aproximately $635.00 has been realized and all members state they have been very pleased with the co-operation and support offered by all residents.

Those who have not yet picked up their numbers are advised they are available at the clerk's office and those wishing assistance in affixing numbers to homes are asked to call Howard Manchester at 774-2554.

Metcalfe Fair

5,000 Attend Final Day After Saturday's Rainfall

Members of Metcalfe Agricultural Society had good reason to be pleased with their decision to extend this year's exhibition to a 4-day event including Sunday.

Although both Thursday and Friday were pleasant days and Friday's an all-time record for that particular day, Saturday had to be rated as being in the disaster zone. Heavy rain, combined with winds and far below normal temperatures threw a blanket of gloom over the huge 300-acre fair grounds. Fortunately however the protective confines of the new community centre enabled classes to be run off on schedule.

SUNDAY DIFFERENT STORY

It was evident early Sunday morning that the weather man had much better things in store, but fair officials wondered if the thousands who stayed home on Saturday would venture out to see the society's first Sunday fair.

By Noon they had their answer as long lines of cars approached from all directions and by mid-afternoon one fair director estimated at least 5000 people were enthusiastically watching the tractor-pulling event, the quarter horse show or just wandering aimlessly through the noisy midway.

The tractor-pulling event and the quarter horse show, both new features, were enthusiastically approved by the huge crowd and farmers brought their powerful machines from all parts of the district for the friendly competition.

One of the happiest men on the grounds was Colin Campbell. It was Mr. Campbell and a few of his mechanically inclined friends who had spent endless hours manufacturing the power-testing device and their labours suddenly seemed all worth while as they were besieged with requests to make their mechanism available to neighbouring towns.

The quarter horse show was rated by horse lovers as the finest exhibition ever staged in the community and the valuable well trained animals performed with amazing precisions obeying the slightest command of the nattily attired riders.

It was the first time in the 116-year history of the fair that officials have ventured into the realm of 4-day entertainment and, as one official said, "we made some mistakes, we learned a lot and another year we'll iron out the deficiencies as we plan for even better things".

Summary of prize winners throughout the fair, as released by secretary J.E. Craig follows:

THURSDAY

Despite lack of formal instruction elementary students of Osgoode Township - Greely and Metcalfe Public School; St. Leonard's, St. Mary's and St. Catherine's Separate Schools - entries in all classes exceeded other years. Metcalfe Public placed first in total points closely followed by St. Catherines's.

Gloria Prevost, Edwards and Mrs. Alfred Campbell of Kemptville were top winners in the vegetable department and Alex Campbell of Metcalfe walked off with the hay and silage award.

Dwight McRuer, Kenmore and John K. Campbell, Metcalfe, exhibited the best seed grain and once again Ian Crerar was top honey exhibitor.

The photography and art exhibit topped all previous years and Mrs. Tom Mears, Metcalfe; Mrs. Carmel Scharf and Miss Munro shared top prize money. Lack of early frost resulted in an excellent flower show and Mrs. C.J. Angst, Kemptville, Mrs. Beverly Downes, Metcalfe and Mrs. Richard Morrow, Russell were top winners.

Friday's program at Metcalfe Fair included a 'Pet Show' and youngsters from the district arrived with dogs, cats, rabbits, birds, and even goldfish. There was a wide variety of prizes including one for the 'biggest pet' and judges were convinced making this decision was going to be greatly simplified when they saw little Joseph Pyne arrive with his pet Llama 'Billy Joe'.

Joseph's father, Don Pyne, proprietor, of Valley Game Farm soon arrived on the scene, however, and advised judges he felt it would be unfair to have other little girls and boys competing against such unexpected opposition.

Although undoubtedly Joseph had the biggest pet in the show, he accepted no prize money, but was the centre of attraction during the afternoon.

Capacity Crowd Sees Film Stars At Morrisburg Trade And Home Show

A capacity crowd attended the Morrisburg Trade and Home Show in the Community Centre on Saturday evening when film stars from the movie 'Tom Sawyer' being filmed at Upper Canada Village were present.

Jane Wyatt who plays Aunt Polly, Josh Albee as Tom Sawyer and Jeff Tyler as Huck Finn were introduced by Chamber of Commerce president, Earl Baker and presented with lacrosse sticks by Reeve C.F. McInnis.

Karen Pearson of Toronto who plays Becky Thatcher was also presented with a gift.

During the evening Les Cruickshank, vice-president of the Morrisburg Chamber of Commerce, presented an inscribed silver tray to Bob Matisse in recognition of the work he had done for the community in the planning of Old Home Week in June.

Highlight of the three evenings was several lucky draws from merchants and cash prizes from the Chamber of Commerce. Exhibitor spaces were filled to capacity with a varied display of merchandise. Some exhibitors are already planning on a bigger and better show for 1973.

Entertainment each night included General Grant, Miss Ottawa. Local talent entertaining included Del and Rog on Thursday evening and the Seaway Singers on Friday and Saturday evenings. Ottawa Nationals hockey star Guy Trottier was present on Friday evening. Also present during the three-day show which was opened on Thursday evening by the Hon. Bert Lawrence was Miss Eastern Ontario.

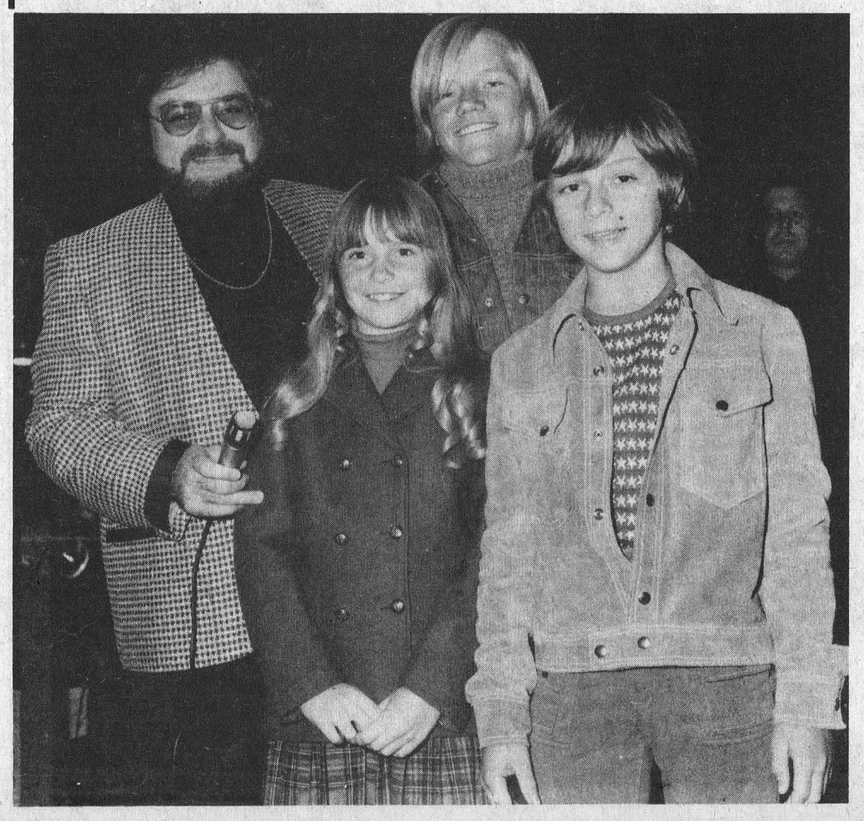
TV Feature Being Filmed At U.C. Village



For the next 3 weeks Universal Films, Hal Roach Productions, will be shooting a feature film "Tom Sawyer" at Upper Canada Village and in the Parks.

The 90 minute special, supported by 80 technicians and cast, is scheduled for showings on CBS television on Friday, March 23, 1973.

Picture

Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn were the centre of attraction at Morrisburg Trade Fair last Saturday night along with lovely Aunt Polly.

The ever-popular novel is being once again made into a film presentation with Upper Canada Village as the setting and it was a happy Chamber of Commerce that welcomed the group to the Trade Fair.

Master of Ceremonies Ken Grant introduced the stars and Aunt Polly, being played by Jane Wyatt, accepted a lacrosse stick from Morrisburg Reeve Carleton McGinnis.

Although Miss Wyatt received a thunderous applause from the capacity crowd at the community centre the three shown above were made just as welcome.

The producer is Trevor Wallace, Executive Producer Earl Glick and the Director is Jim Neilson.

Featured in the cast are Jane Wyatt as Aunt Polly, Buddy Ebsen as Muff Potter, Neville Brand as Injun Joe, Josh Albee as Tom Sawyer, Jeff Tyler as Huck Finn and John McIver as Judge Thatcher.

Included in the supporting cast of 27 Canadian actors and actresses from Toronto are Dawn Greenhauglh as Mrs. Thatcher, Karen Pearson as Becky Thatcher and Colin Fox. A number of local people will perform as extras and limited use will be made of village staff, animals and vehicles.

Jane Wyatt's film credits include "Lost Horizons" however she is probably known best as the mother in the Father Knows Best TV series. Buddy Ebsen was Jedd Clampett in the TV series Beverly Hillbillies and Neville Brand starred in "Laredo" and "Al Capone".

The normal operation of Upper Canada Village will be unchanged however some exhibit buildings may be temporarily restricted to visitors from time to time.

This is the largest project of this kind undertaken at Commission sites and with favourable weather should be completed around the middle of October.

THE NEWS in Brief

Drainage Problem On Gladstone Street

Residents of Gladstone Street here in town sent a delegation to Monday night's regular council meeting requesting a solution to drainage problems that exist in that section of the village. It is understood their request was looked on favourably and an engineer will study the situation.

A report from the Ministry of Environment, read by the clerk, indicated that tenders have finally been opened for bringing the new well into production.

Council members noted that October 8th to 14th is 'Fire Prevention Week' and drew attention to the fact that once again Winchester Press will carry a two-page spread promoting that theme.

It was noted that a petition is being circulated in an attempt to once again force a vote on the liquor question but clerk Annable stated that it was too late to have such a vote incorporated with the regular municipal election.

However, Mr. Annable explained, if residents favoured another vote it would be advantageous to have it as soon after the regular election as possible.

"This", he said, "would greatly simplify compilation of voters' lists."

Announces Development Road Designation

Donald R. Irvine, M.P.P. for Grenville-Dundas is pleased to announce that the Honourable Gordon R. Carton, Q.C., Minister of Transportation and Communications, further to the request by the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, has designated parts of County Road No. 1 and No. 5, being the Black Creek Bridge and the Winchester Springs Bridge, as a Development Road.

Full Enrollment At Area Schools

A survey of enrollment at district schools indicates most will be taxed to the limit again this term.

Here's the story as released by school principals on Monday morning.

North Dundas District High School, 1,015; Osgoode Township High School, 542; Winchester Public 327 (K to 8); Nationview 417 (K to 8); Metcalfe Public 502 (K to 8); St. Catherine's Separate 254 (K to 8); Greely 201 (K to 5) and Osgoode 385 (K to 8).

Features Home Nursing Program

Members of Williamsburg W.I. have arranged a special meeting for Tuesday, October 8th, when home nursing services will be discussed by experts.

The 8:00 p.m. meeting will be at the Oddfellows Hall, Williamsburg and Miss E.D. Moore, supervisor home makers and nurses services, Toronto, will deliver an interesting message concerning home making services in the community, as well as, provision and finances.

Also present at the meeting will be Ed Thompson of Tri-County Social Services, Cornwall; Mrs. Jan Clapp, V.O.N.; Dundas public health nurse and Miss T.J. Pelletier, administrator of the home care program for the area.

Winchester District Memorial Hospital officials are expected to be present and the general public is cordially invited to attend this very important promotional meeting.

Area People Hold Lucky Tickets

Pat Smith, Heckston and Clarence Marriner of South Mountain held lucky tickets in the South Mountain Pee Wee Ball Club draw last week. The draw was made by Arnold Dulmage on Friday night. Mr. Smith won $50 and Mr. Marriner, $25.

Another raffle, conducted by Connaught Rod and Gun Club, Chesterville, was also completed last week and Brian 'Bud' Raistrick, South Mountain held the lucky ticket on a semi-automatic Ithica 12-gauge shot gun.

NDDHS Hosts Largest Art Show

North Dundas District High School will host a public opening of artario 72 at 7:30 p.m. October 12th, in the school library. The N.D.D.H.S. exhibit is one of 500 artario 72 exhibits in 150 communities throughout Ontario, across Canada, and around the world scheduled to participate in the simultaneous opening on October 12th.

artario 72, the art multiples project sponsored by the Ontario Arts Council, is designed to involve all the citizens of Ontario with the quality and excitement of contemporary Canadian art in the familiar surroundings of their own communities. The mass opening on October 12th marks the start of a province-wide celebration of Canadian art.

North Dundas District High School principl, Don McGahan, cordially invites all students, parents, and members of the community to attend the exhibit on the night of October 12th. Visitors to artario 72 will have the opportunity of ordering at prices ranging from $2 to $15, any pieces striking their fancy.

Mr. McGahan reports that artario 72 will be maintained on display at the school for several weeks, after which the collection will be integrated into ongoing educational programs at the school.

South African Farmers Visiting

Farmers from South Africa will be in the area Saturday evening when they hope to meet agriculturalists from this district and discuss farming problems.

The group will be hosted by Mrs. Rose Campbell at her home (east of Vernon) and Mrs. Campbell has extended an invitation to friends and neighbours to meet the visitors at 8:00 p.m.

Trudeau Will Visit Blair Headquarters

Prime Minister Trudeau will pay a visit to the Gordon Blair headquarters at 50 Capilano Drive (just off Merivale Road), this Friday morning.

Mr. Blair has established his headquarters at City View Curling Club and Mr. Trudeau will arrive at 8:30 a.m. and it is expected he will remain to talk with party workers and offer words of encouragement.

Because of the limited space available it is understood the doors will be locked to the public immediately after the Prime Minister arrives and those planning to be present are advised to come very early. Mr. Blair, who has proved himself a hard working representative of the riding, is seeking re-election and is confident his record will assure his return to Parliament for another term.

He is being opposed by Progressive Conservative Walter Baker and NDP candidate Joan Kabayama.

Passes Hairdresser's Course With Honours

Miss Debbie Freeland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Freeland, Winchester, received word Monday from the Department of Labour that she had passed with honours her final hairdresser's examination.

Miss Freeland is a graduate of North Dundas District High School and the Model Hair Dressing School, Ottawa.

She is presently working with her mother who operates a beauty salon in Winchester.

Couple Honoured On 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pyper (nee Margaret Smith), R.R.3, Winchester, were honoured at a public reception dance held in the Inkerman Community Hall on Friday evening September 29th in honour of their 25th wedding anniversary.

During the evening the couple were presented with a buffet bookcase from friends and neighbours. The accompanying address was read by Allison Fawcett. Mr. Pyper replied expressing the couple's appreciation. The evening was spent in dancing and visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Pyper were married on September 20, 1947 at Bell Street United Church, Ottawa by Rev. A.O. Lloyd. They have four sons and two daughters: Donald, Earl, Delmer, Harold, June and Edna.

On Sunday afternoon the couple were honoured at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie McEwen of Metcalfe. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Pyper, Kenny and Glen; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Pyper, Dean and Linda; James McQuaigg; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pyper; Mr. and Mrs. Willis McKeown and Tracey; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pyper, Barry and Ricky, all of Manotick; Mrs. John Little of Metcalfe; Mrs. Isobel Galloway and Steven, Metcalfe; Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Miller, Bobbie, Tommy and Ronnie of Manotick; Mr. and Mrs. James Quinn, South Gloucester; Mrs. Gladys Kerr; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Kerr; James and Maynard McKeown.

On this occasion Mr. and Mrs. Pyper received many miscellaneous gifts.

Anniversary Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pyper and Mr. and Mrs. Ken McNeely enjoyed an anniversary dinner last week at the Bells Corners Steak House in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Pyper's Silver Wedding Anniversary.

Student Leaders At North Dundas

Students at North Dundas District High School last week selected student leaders for the coming term.

Head Girl is Marie Chambers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chambers, Chesterville and Head Boy is Doug Stel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stel, Winchester.

Both are Level 5 students.

Westboro United Scene Of St. Pierre-Stranks Wedding

Westboro United Church, Ottawa, was the scene of a pretty wedding on July 8, 1972, when Rev. Dr. C. Daniel Matheson solemnized the marriage vows exchanged between Penny Eileen Stranks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Stranks, Aylmer East, Quebec, and Jean-Paul St. Pierre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis St. Pierre, R.R.#2, Winchester, Ontario.

The wedding guests were seated by Ray St. Pierre and Bob Williams. Bert Scheepers assisted the groom as best man. Organist for the occasion was Mr. U.H. Romeny, Guitarist was Ed Honeywell and the soloist was Mrs. Judie Lutes. The bride's attendants were Jane Murchison, maid of honour, Patricia Stranks and Lorraine St. Pierre, bridesmaids.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length sleeveless gown of white lagoda crepe, styled on a-line worn under a full length long sleeved lace coat with attached matching lace hood. She carried a bridal bouquet of American Beauty roses, baby's breath and fern.

The wedding reception was held in the Ukranian Hall, Byron Avenue, Ottawa.

Guests were present from Hamilton, Oakville, Fredericton, N.B., Winchester, Limoges, St. Albert, Marionville, Embrun, Crysler, Starksboro, Vermont, U.S.A., Toronto, Woodstock, Kingston and Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. St. Pierre spent their honeymoon in Cape Cod and are now residing at 1129 Meadowlands Drive, Apt. 501, Ottawa.

Sauve-Dawley Vows Exchanged At Winchester

Judith Diane Dawley and John Louis Sauve were married on Saturday, September 9th, 1972, in Winchester United Church, at four o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. A.J. MacDonald. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dwight Dawley, R.R.3, Winchester; Mr. Sauve is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Sauve, Cornwall, Ontario.

Donald Dickson, Pembroke, Peter Burman, Montreal and Joe Sauve, Ottawa, seated the wedding guests. Marcel Lefebvre, Toronto, assisted the groom as best man. Mrs. Howard Fetterly church organist, played selections appropriate to the occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length white silk organza gown with stand up collar, long bishop sleeves ending in deep cuffs and a natural waistline. A ruffle flounce edged the skirt matching the ruffle on the bodice of the gown. An appliqued crown held her cathedral length silk illusion veil and she carried cascading red sweetheart roses. Her attendants, Mrs. Wendy McNabb, Cornwall, matron of honour, Mrs. Madeleine Lefebvre, Toronto, Mrs. Donald Dickson, Pembroke, and Mrs. Peter Burman, Montreal, both sisters of the bride, bridesmaids, wore identical gowns of cherry red taffeta styled on empire lines with full circular skirts ending in bottom flounce to match the ruffled necklines and the trim on the bodices of their gowns. Red taffeta rosebuds adorned their hair and they carried baskets of white fuschia mums.

Guests were in attendance from Toronto, Oakville, Brampton, Galt, Ottawa, Cornwall, Pembroke, Thorold, Burlington, Montreal, Winchester and area.

After a reception at The Villa Nova Motor Hotel, Ingleside, the couple left for their honeymoon in Florida and are now residing in Cornwall, Ontario.

Prior to the wedding, Miss Dawley was honoured at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of Mrs. Wendy MacNabb, Cornwall.

Special Exhibition To Honour Artists' Ninetieth Birthday

The Art Gallery of Ontario opened a special exhibition, A. Tribute to A.Y. Jackson, on October 3rd, the artist's 90th birthday. A.Y. Jackson is the oldest surviving member of the Group Seven, and his work has made a profound contribution to Canadian art. The words which end Jackson's autobiography A Painter's Country best describe his significant role: "We do not strive to produce a national art. But if we have the will and the vision and the courage to work out our national destiny, we may create a climate in which the arts will flourish".

The exhbition includes a selection of Jackson's oil paintings, sketches and water colours from the AGO collection, as well as a number of books illustrated by the artist.

The exhibition will continue until October 24th. Admission is included in the entrance fee to Ontario Society of Artists: 100 Years (25¢ for adults, members, students and children free; no admission charge on Tuesdays and Thursdays).

Mrs. Mabel Robinson Hosts Mountain Women's Institute

Members of Mountain W.I. met recently at the home of Mrs. Mabel Robinson with president Mrs. Carole Roach in the chair.

Guest speaker Miss Joanne Havekes, was introduced by Citizenship and World Affairs convener Mrs. Bessie Boyce and Miss Havekes told of her activities during the last three summers as counsellor with the Seaway Community Project. She illustrated her interesting talk with coloured slides of children at work, at play, on bus trips and on the beach.

During the business portion of the meeting Mrs. Dien Havekes was appointed delegate to the training school on "Sewing with Knits" which is to be staged at Chesterville this month. Mrs. May Cameron was appointed delegate to the area convention at Hawkesbury later in the month.

Arrangements were also completed for catering to a Pee Wee ball team banquet planned for October 13th.

A social hour brought the meeting to a close.

UNICEF President To Speak At Public School

Mrs. Sybil M. Darnell, president of the Canadian UNICEF committee will be visiting Winchester next Tuesday to talk to both children and adults.

Born in Ottawa, Mrs. Darnell moved with her family to Regina at an early age and was educated in Regina and at the University of Washington in Seattle where she obtained a B.A. degree in Sociology.

She taught Business Education at Balfour Technical School, Regina, where she met her husband, William L. Darnell. They have three children, two boys who have recently graduated from university and a daughter attending York University.

After moving to Toronto, Mr. Darnell continued her interest in education as Director of the Gregg Awards Program in Business Education.

Mrs. Darnell was founder of the UNICEF Committee in the boroughs and city of Metropolitan Toronto, Chairman of the metropolitan Toronto UNICEF Committee for five years, and Chairman of the Ontario UNICEF Committee for three years. She became President of the Canadian UNICEF Committee in 1970 and she has been a Canadian Government delegate to the UNICEF Board Meetings in Geneva and New York.

Mrs. Darnell has travelled extensively and has visited Europe, Australia, the South Pacific and Israel. She participated in a South American tour of UNICEF projects in various parts of Colombia and Brazil. This tour, financed by the volunteers themselves, gave great insight into the effectiveness of UNICEF programs in these countries.

Mrs. Darnell's other interests are curling, golf and gardening.

She will be at Winchester Public School auditorium at 3:00 p.m. in the afternoon and everyone is invited to attend.

Maxville Man Wins Lions Baby Beef

Garnet Campbell of Maxville held the lucky ticket last Sunday afternoon when Metcalfe and District Lions Club annual Baby Beef Draw was successfully concluded.

President Eric Shortt was on hand along with draw committee chairman Martin Rowan and several other club members when the winning ticket was selected.

Raffling the baby beef in conjunction with the fair has become one of the feature projects of the Metcalfe and District club and according to Mr. Shortt this year's net profit surpassed all preceeding years.

One member, who until this year, held a record for ticket sales lost his crown despite the fact his total sales were in the neighbourhood of 180 books. Martin Rowan now holds the title of 'club super salesman' having unloaded 216 books. The two members had a friendly wager and it is understood both salesmen, along with their wives, will be enjoying a night at Ottawa's Skyline with Mr. Boland picking up the tab.

In an effort to stimulate sales this year members were offered a chance to have free club dinners for the entire year. Each book of tickets sold entitled the seller to one chance on a draw that will be conducted at the October 11th meeting.

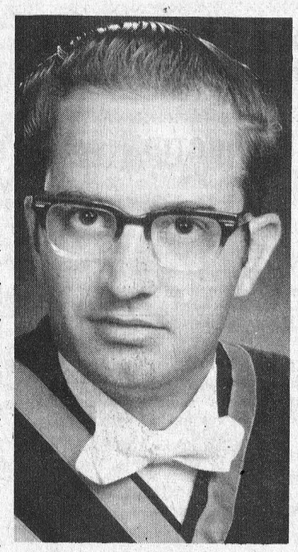
Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Weaver of Niagara Falls spent the past few days at the home of Miss Flossie Christie.

Sympathy of this community goes to Mrs. Charles Woods and family on the passing of Mrs. Woods' husband.

Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. John Cameron were Mrs. Wm. H. Cameron of Franktown and Mr. and Mrs. Benson Cameron of Athens, Ontario.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Nelda Bouce held a shower in honour of Miss Joan Kerr, whose marriage took place last Tuesday evening.

Several from here attended the Sunday evening praise service at Reids Mills United Church.



Receives B.A. Degree

Ted Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Robinson, South Mountain, Ontario, recently obtained his B.A. degree from Queen's University majoring in Mathematics.

Mr. Robinson has taught elementary school for two years in Sophiasburgh Township, one year at Winchester Public School and is presently entering his sixth year as a teacher of mathematics at North Stormont District High School, Finch, Ontario.

Eightieth Birthday Honours

Mrs. A.T. Workman of Mountain, better known to her many friends as 'Eva', recently accompanied her two daughters, Mrs. Eldon Stobo of Sudbury and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hutt, as well as, grandsons David and George of Mountain, on a trip to Skowhegan, Maine to visit her son Mac Workman.

While with her family she was honoured on her approaching 80th birthday and received many lovely gifts including a family ring.

More honours awaited her when she returned home. After enjoying a delicious dinner at Kemptville with her good friends Mrs. Weldon Carlyle, she returned home to find over 40 friends and neighbours assembled to extend sincere good wishes.

Brilliantly coloured fall flowers decorated the room; greeting cards were attractively arranged and a birthday cake centred the table.

During the afternoon her minister, Rev. Ralph Neil, extended congratulations. The Press joins in wishing Mrs. Workman many more returns of the happy day.

IN MEMORIAMS

FROATS — In sad and loving memory of a dear grandfather, Harvey Froats, who passed away October 7th, 1971.

This day comes with deep regret
It brings back a day we will never forget,
You fell asleep without saying goodbye,
But memories of you will never die.

23c —Grandchildren

FROATS—In loving memory of a husband and father, Harvey Froats, who passed away October 7th, 1971.

Without farewell he left us all,
A beautiful life came to an end.
He died as he lived, everyone's friend,
We shall meet again in a brighter land,
Where farewell is never spoken,
And we shall clasp each other hand in hand.
And the clasp shall never be broken again.

—Ever remembered by wife Jean and family. 23p

ACRES—In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Cecil Acres, who passed away October 2nd, 1971.

A silent thought, a secret tear,
Keeps his memory ever dear.
Love's greatest gift — remembrance.

23p —Wife and family

MARCELLUS—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, C. Ernest Marcellus, who passed away October 8th, 1971.

There is a link death cannot sever,
Love and remembrance live forever.

—Daughter Irene, son-in-law Jay and family. 23p

MARRINER——In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grondmother, Dulciene Marriner who passed away October 6th, 1971.

Her charming ways and smiling face
Are a pleasure to recall,
She had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.

23p —Husband and family

SHANNETTE — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Bessie Jane Shannette, who passed away October 9th, 1958.

There's a place set apart in the depths of our hearts,
A corner that's always your own;
No one can replace it or time erase it,
We keep it for you alone.

23p —The Family

SHAY—In loving memory of a dear aunt, Eva Elizabeth Shay, who passed away October 16th, 1966.

God knew that she was tired,
And the hills were hard to climb,
So He took her weary hand in His
And said, Peace be Thine.

23p —The Shannette Family

McKEOWN—In loving memory of a dear Dad and Grandpa, Roy E. McKeown, who passed away October 10th, 1971.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past,
In silence he suffered, in patience he bore,
Till God called him home to suffer no more.

—Errol, Doreen, Judy and Dean. 23c

One seat unlike all others

By Maurice Western

Of the 264 constituencies into which the country is divided, one is a seat unlike the others. This is Stormont Dundas, fronting on the St. Lawrence and centring on the city of Cornwall.

Elsewhere the question of primary public interest on October 30 will be: Who wins what? Stormont-Dundas will be different because more is at stake there than the fortunes of one party or another. In the last Parliament it was represented by Lucien Lamoureux, first continuing Speaker of the House of Commons, and on the outcome in Stormont may well depend the future of a brave, but still uncertain, experiment.

The situation at the moment is somewhat unclear. Mr. Lamoureux will stand again as an independent. An official Conservative candidate has been in the field for some time. The NDP have been expected to enter but may be having second thoughts. The Liberals will not nominate, a sound decision even though it has been publicly supported with some odd reasons, including the announced discovery that Mr. Lamoureux is "unbeatable."

In their professions, all the parties are for a continuing, independent Speakership. We have already seen its benefits. The impartiality of Mr. Lamoureux was never questioned. He presided over the House of Commons with an authority owing a good deal of his personal qualities but primarily to his independence in fact as well as in theory.

Why then should he be confronted with officially sponsored opponents? Why, in particular, should the Conservatives reverse course when they gained so much credit in 1968 by standing aside?

The political temptation is plain enough. Cornwall has suffered a good deal from unemployment and may thus appear to party managers an inviting target. But what is the case for intervention and what is it worth? A case has in fact been made but it is not worth much.

It was the pipeline debaucle which convinced many people of the need for a continuing independent Speakership. One of those so persuaded was a former Conservative member briefly a Minister, Frank McGee. To avoid the sort of difficulty which has now arisen, he proposed an ingenious scheme which would require no party to sacrifice anything for the common gain. The future continuing Speaker would represent an artificial constituency, "Parliament Hill".

The Government has taken no initiative calculated to implement this particular scheme or anything like it. By this omission, the argument runs, other parties have been freed of responsibility . As the experiment, although highly successful, was not carried to completion; not safeguarded by institutional arrangements, they are within their rights in wrecking it.

This may strike many people as a shabby argument. It requires a mantle of apparent respectability and has been given one. The pretence is that a constituency represented by Mr. Speaker is not represented. Intervention is presented as the means of rescuing the poor, disfranchised citizens of Stormont-Dundas.

Sucker-Bait

Such presentations are commonly described as sucker-bait. There is nothing respectable about them. The inference is that Mr. Lamoureux cannot make appropriate representations on behalf of his people - or, if he does, will not be heard- because he cannot attend caucus, pull wires, or please ministers by making partisan speeches.

What blithering nonsense! An independent speaker is the most influential member of the entire House. Any government which chose to ignore him would be out of his mind.

Even among partisans, access to caucus is not everything. No one torments Ministers more than the arch-Oppositionist John Diefenbaker. But if they are wise, they accord him discriminating attention (often he enjoys more attention than government private members) because of his great experience and the well known fact that many resort to him as a former prime minister.

Mr. Lamoureux is not a partisan. But he is the servant of the whole House and it is thus the plain duty of the House to defend him. No one could occupy a stronger position. To pretend otherwise is to insult the intelligence of voters.

Mr. McGee's approach, whatever its merits, is not the only one; nor is it the one taken in Britain which pioneered in this respect. They began as we did in 1968. Their system does not require that Mr. Speaker be unopposed. But there is a strong convention that candidates, standing against Mr. Speaker should not be endorsed by political parties, with their great organizations and massive resources.

It would be absurd to suppose that this convention took root because of the superior morality of British political parties. The credit belongs to British voters, who are jealous of their institutions and who recognize that irresponsible parties must occasionally be brought to heel. Their method deserves attention here, especially - unless the situation changes - in Stormont Dundas. When British candidates opposing Mr. Speaker attempt to array themselves in national party colors, they are merely treated by voters in that particular constituency as the representatives of splinter groups, bound for nowhere.

It is a remarkably uncomplicated method and the results have been admirable. For proof of this, see any speech on the workings of the representatives of splinter British Parliament by leading Canadian thinkers of the deceased House - especially those of Conservatives.

E.O.L.C.A. Curling Playdowns Coming To Winchester

Members of Winchester Ladies' curling club held their annual meeting at the club last Monday evening and one of the highlights discussed was the E.O.L.C.A. play-downs which will be staged at Winchester in January. Mrs. Charles Anderson will represent the local club at a zone meeting in Kingston when scheduling will be determined.

Monday's meeting was well attended and all were welcomed by president Mrs. Max Boyd who predicted an interesting 1972-73 season and urged full co-operation by all members.

Furniture in the club rooms was examined and following discussion a committee was set up to make enquiries concerning possible additional purchases.

Mrs. Toop, reporting for the social committee, told members that summer activities had netted the club $318.00.

It was also noted that additional equipment was necessary for the kitchen and Mrs. Toop and Mrs. Curtis were appointed to study the problem. The 'Housekeeping Committee' report was submitted by Mrs. Sherwood.

President Mrs. Boyd and past president Mrs. Wylie reported that curling pins have been presented to both Mrs. Doug Keys and Mrs. Al Inglis who are no longer with the club because their husbands had been transferred to other localities.

The Robinson Pins bonspiel was discussed and it was agreed the matter would be further studied by the committee after interviewing Mrs. Robinson.

Winchester club will again have an entry in the popular Radio Station CFRA bonspiel and skip Mrs. Barton agreed to enter her rink.

Members agreed more time should be spent encouraging new members and this year a list of 'Do's and Don'ts' will be given to all members including new members and experienced curlers will be assigned to assist beginners.

Bonspiel dates were set as follows: Biccum Bonspiel, November 29th; Ladies' Invitational, December 7th; Fetterly Bonspeil, January 17th.

Following adjournment a delicious lunch was enjoyed.

30 Hopefuls Try Out For Jets

Metcalfe 'Jets' may be headed for another great season. Over 30 eager young players were on hand for the first two practice sessions and already several have signed cards.

New coach Pat Brophy appeared well pleased with the array of talent and, although always reluctant to lose star players the management was pleased to learn that both Bob Woods and Rupert MacDonald signed Junior 'A' contracts.

Those already signed include Doug Harten, Dennis Lemadelaine, Steve Morris, Earl Davidson, and Greg Holmes.

Another work-out is scheduled for this Friday night and it is expected several cards will be signed at that time.

School Unity A Step Closer?

It's always encouraging to see the results of genuine co-operation. Too often in the past Public and Separate School administrators have gone their separate ways apparently oblivious of benefits to be gained by closer collaboration.

The most recent addition to the Public School at Metcalfe encroached on lands belonging to the nearby Separate School. A generation ago such a step would almost certainly have stirred up animosities that most likely could only have been settled in a court of law. Good to know we have finally learned the meaning of the "Commandment" that states unequivocally "Love your neighbour."

Note the following motion passed recently by Carleton Board of Education: "That the Board enter into an agreement with the Carleton Roman Catholic Separate School Board to accommodate Grades 6, 7 and 8 students from St. Catherine's Separate School for instruction in Home Economics and Industrial Arts for a minimum period of two years in the Metcalfe Public School, in exchange for title to encroaching lands in accordance with the draft agreement submitted with the Board Agenda, 28 August 1972."

As we see it, the only obstacle dividing the two systems is the government's obstinacy regarding the teaching of religion. A move by the Department of Education to bring Christianity back into the classroom might bring down those last weakening barriers. Many existing courses are optional. Why not religious training?

Rev. Charles Dawes of Metcalfe United Church, a personification of the real meaning of ecumenism, has stated repeatedly he hopes to see the day when Metcalfe Public and St. Catherine's become one truly excellent educational complex.

We hope, too, that the day will come when Mr. Dawes and his fellow clerics can walk down one long corridor bringing the word of God to classrooms.

Education boards have now proved that this is an age of tolerance. Maybe Mr. Dawes' dream is close at hand.

And Indians Shared The First Feast

Ever look up the origin of Thanksgiving? The Columbia Viking Desk Encyclopedia has this entry: "A national holiday . . . commemorating the harvest of Plymouth Colony in 1621 . . . Colonists and Indians shared the first feast." As we reach Thanksgiving day, 1972, we might do well to ponder that bit of North American history.

It is trite to remind ourselves that this country is lavishly endowed with beauty and natural resources, that our standard of living is among the world's highest; that, in spite of pollution and a rising crime rate, our cities are attractive and relatively safe — for the white majority.

They are a danger and frustration to most of the Indians who gravitate to them in ever-increasing numbers; who are lost both spiritually and materially, in the midst of plenty, and in a land their ancestors once claimed as their own.

To suggest that there are easy solutions to Indian problems would be folly; their own best leadership is as baffled as the non-Indian agencies which try to help, but somehow they must be drawn into the Canadian community as worthy participants in its life, worthy in their own eyes because they are persons of worth. Welfare and liquor have had their demoralizing effects, but they are more the result of the Indians' peripheral status than its cause.

To some Indian people the idea of integration is unwelcome, but, since their ancient patterns are impossible as a way of life in a sea of technology, they must move in that direction.

Some of them have made splendid strides. Those who speak for their people are strikingly perceptive and articulate. But integration is impossible without acceptance and a respect for their potential, and communication of this respect to individual Indian people.

Few of us have much to do with programs and strategies, but fair and friendly attitudes — the key to good inter-relationships — are the province of everyone. We are all part of the human condition. It's about time we emulated the colonists and sincerely invited our first citizens to share the feast.

Time For Meditation

Bungling Builders

by Rev. Gordon C. Smyth

The account of the building of the Tower of Babel is given in the 11th chapter of Genesis and comes before the days of the patriarchs. More than once it had to be destroyed and rebuilt. After the death of Hammurabi in the 18th century B.C. the Hittites tried to raze the mighty structure to the ground. Nebuchadnezzar had it restored in the 7th century B.C. Its history certainly points back into the dim past.

The first fact which impresses me about the story is that it tells of a great vision which failed to be achieved. Those primitive people said, "Come, let us build ourselves a city, and a tower with its top in the heavens, and let us make a name for ourselves, lest we be scatterd abroad upon the face of the earth."

They wanted to prove what human genius could accomplish. Unfortunately, they were bungling builders. What united them at the outset divided them in the long run. Something fundamental went wrong and they were confused in more than language. The heaven on earth of which they dreamed became a sort of hell.

What of moderns? With centres of education mushrooming everywhere, when was there as much knowledge? With medical laboratories even predicting brain transplants, what is beyond the potential of science? With hot lines between world capitals, who need be afraid of war? And with so many leisure hours, people are just bound to make sure that no elderly person goes unvisited or no new family is left out of things. It is not simply grand? What nonsense! How unrealistic can one be.

We have been bungling builders too. Dr. Arnold Toynbee says what we all should realize and confess, "In the social and spiritual fields, the battle for humanity against the innate savagery of human nature has to be fought by every human being in his own soul. All human beings are responsible for man's inhumanity to man and we all need forgiveness because we are sinning against the light."

Now since we have failed, it would be the better part of wisdom to inquire why those ancient builders blundered. They did not fail because of the madness of their project. Surely it is not mean or unworthy to have as a goal the use of all possible powers of nature and human nature for the improvement of man's lot?

No more did they blunder for lack of effort. They put their best thought and maximum energy into making their plan come true. The fact that they bungled things does not mean that they took the easy way. They not only wished to have a model city with a matchless tower, but they willed these things. They put their efforts where their mouths were. Why, I repeat, did they blunder?

They blundered because they tried to leave God out. That left them to their own devices. Nature abhors a vacuum. Thus, putting themselves in, they lost communication with or interest in their fellow men. Men as gods! It was and remains an impossible task. The wreckage is growing all around us.

There is a story that, centuries ago, the Pope of Rome had a dream. He saw St. Peter's swaying in the wind, threatening to fall in ruins. Then he saw a little man run toward the swaying Cathedral and prop it up with his hand. The Pope awoke in tears. The next day a man wearing a peasant's garb obtained an audience. His Holiness was amazed to recognized in the visitor the man whom he had seen in his dream.

"What are you going to do?" asked the Pope. "I am going on a great adventure," was the answer. "What is that adventure?" the Pope questioned. "I am going to save the Church," was the reply. "How are you going to save it?" the Pope inquired. "By obeying Jesus Christ," came the determined answer. The name of that person was Francis of Assisi.

Given such dedication each of us can so pull his own weight, in one way or another, as to save tottering homes, tottering churches, tottering administrations, tottering ethical standards in lives of folk whom we love, and a tottering world.

The Seventh Column

There was good news from the House of Commons last Friday. A communique from the office of the Hon. Lucien Lamoureux brought the good tidings that an overpass on Highway 31 at Winchester will become part of the by-pass now nearing completion. Mr. Lamoureux. in his message to the Press, made it very clear the final decision was speeded up because of joint action between Provincial Member Don Irvine and the Reeves of Winchester and district municipalities and other interested citizens. Mr. Lamoureux himself "carried the ball" to Ottawa, and everyone using Highway 31 will be pleased to learn the "unlevellest" level crossing in Canada can soon be avoided.

This corner is glad the Russia-Canada hockey extravaganza is over We thought it was programmed as an exercise to promote better understanding between two countries instead of a knock-em-down, drag-em-out affair complete with clowns like Al Eagleson. If what we were watching on television was friendly competition, then we sincerely hope the two great hockey teams never meet to determine world supremacy. It did, however, prove one thing. The National Hockey League is just another group of athletes blown far out of proportion by over-zealous sports writers and sportscasters. This winter let's turn off the television sets and support our own St. Lawrence Jr. "B" league, along with other minor teams in the district. We think our youngsters would make much better ambassadors if another goodwill mission is planned.

Chamber of Commerce members here in Winchester will have to reach down deep in the hat to come up with a Trade Fair attraction to equal the star-studded performance at Morrisburg last Saturday night. The colourfully decorated community centre in the St. Lawrence town practically bulged at the seams as young and old alike flocked through the turnstiles to get a glance at motion picture greats. Lovely Jane Wyatt, of "Father Knows Best" fame, appeared to be genuinely thrilled as she greeted her Seaway Valley fans. The charming actress was introduced by CFRA's Ken Grant who wanted to know if it was true she always called for Dr. Welby when she needed medical attention. Laughing merrily the popular performer said the thought often crossed her mind. Three young motion picture performers were also present to round out the program. Maybe C. of C. president Mel. Vice should give "Duke" Wayne a call.

The heavy gloom that hung over the administrative office of Metcalfe Agricultural Society on Saturday evening lifted suddenly on Sunday and officials smiled broadly as they counted the take late in the evening. Although cold, windy, wet weather wrote disaster to Saturday's performance, Sunday's crowds surpassed the most imaginative dreams of optimistic fair directors. Bright sunshine, combined with warm temperature, transformed the annual fall fair from a large "red" entry in the ledger to an attractive "black" figure, and practically assured the continuance of 4-day fairs at Metcalfe.

Ladies exhibiting at Metcalfe Fair once again proved their efficency at the "kitchen range," and the prize-winning goodies were in great demand. Fair past president Gord. Boland surveyed names of winning cooks, glanced at their ruggedly-healthy looking husbands, and observed that maybe both he and this writer should have been a bit more demanding many, many years ago.

There have been rumours that Winchester curlers are planning to extend parking facilities for the coming season. Such measures, it seems, will be a "must" considering ambitious community centre plans. Artifical ice facilities are certain to make the new centre a virtual focal point for all community endeavours, and curlers are understandably eager to provide space that can be reserved for their own use. Creating such an area will assure better working relations between the two thriving sports centres.

As a PR man for Ottawa Rough Riders, Ernie Calcutt has drifted far out into left field. Typical of many Ottawa fans he rides high in the saddle when the team wins, and crouches very low when the tide is turned. Sunday afternoon was a typical example. Ottawa, although off to a bad start, rallied and came very close to pulling out another thrilling win. Despite a dedicated effort by players, Ernie delighted in degrading not only Cassata but also both offence and defence units. When Rough Riders win the Eastern title (and they will) the very big sportscaster will most likely be saying "I told you so." Unless, that is, he has used up all his time throwing cold water on Ottawa Nationals of the W.H.A. Come on, Ernie, fans need an optimistic hometown commentator — not a fence-straddling kibitzer.

I THINK I'LL BE A CHAUVINIST PIG

by Bill Smiley

There are teachers and there are teachers. Most of us in the rank and file face from 150 to 200 students every school day. We groan about the size of our classes, sigh over the impossibility of giving personal attention to each student, and grumble continually about the amount of marking of papers that we have to do at home.

And then, of course, there are the aristocrats among teachers. These are the people with small classes, and not many of them, who teach in an easy atmosphere of freedom.

We have one of each type in our family this fall. Your humble servant belongs to the great mass of slaves in the profession, reacting like Pavlovian mice to bells, subject to the whims of administration, and bent almost double under a continual deluge of paper work, ninety per cent of which has nothing to do with the learning situation.

My wife has joined the tiny aristocracy. Yep, she's a teach. She has not "got a job", as we ordinary teachers put it. She has "accepted a position."

It fair makes my heart bleed. I come home about four, head straight for the refrigerator, hurl myself into a chair and mutter incantations such as "Oh, boy! Oh, boy! There must be some other way of making a living."

She is sitting there, cool, unsullied, ready to regale me with a detailed account of her "day."

Some day! She starts as 11.20 a.m., and goes nonstop for thirty-five minutes. She has one class. There are five students in it. Private school. No bells. No hall supervision. No cafeteria supervision. No bus duty. No teams to coach.

If she wants to take her class out and sit under a tree, or bring them to our house to listen to records, no problem.

If I wanted to take a class out and sit under a tree, I'd have to notify the Governor-General or somebody a month ahead, in triplicate, and then the principal would veto the whole thing, because it might start a trend. Other classes would be distracted and jealous. Other teachers might want to do the same thing, and the whole system would crumble overnight.

If she wants a cigarette or a cup of coffee during her "teaching day", no problem. She has it.

If I want a cigarette somewhere about the middle of teaching four straight periods and 120 students, I have two alternatives. I can just go on wanting, or I can sprint the half-block to the men's can, making like a dysentery victim, swallow two drags, choke on them, and make the return dash to confront the next class, red-faced and coughing. Hardly worth it.

That's all rather hard to take. But what really rubs salt in the wound is the homework. She comes home with five little sheets of paper, and fusses over marking them as though she had just discovered something on a par with the Dead Sea Scrolls.

I come home with an armful of essays, look at her skinny sheaf and in frustration hurl my eight pounds of paper into a corner. They have to be picked up again, but it's worth it.

Another thing that gets me: you'd think her miserable little band of five was the only group of students in the country. She can spend twenty minutes a day on each of them, telling me what Gordon didn't say and what Rick said, and so on, and how she gently led them from the murky valleys into the sun-kissed mountains of beauty and truth.

She thinks she's so dam' smart that it's infuriating. For years, I've been the savant in the family. Poem or play, short story or novel, my opinion was the final one, accepted with proper humility.

Now, she thinks my interpretation is wrong, and hers is right. How's that for sheer ingratitude? It's bad enough when a stranger disputes a chap, but when it's his own flesh and blood – well, she's not quite, but practically – . . . I tell you, I'm not going to take much more of that.

At the same time, along with this effrontery, there's another irritant. She hasn't the slightest scruple about picking my brain whenever she can find anything there to pick. And next day tossing an idea out as though she hadn't stolen it twenty-four hours before.

There's one other aspect of the situation that has me slightly alarmed. Her earnings, while not ample, are just enough to screw up my income tax. At the same time, she's spending more than she makes on books, equipment, and new clothes.

I wear my old gray suit five days a week, four weeks a month. But it seems that lady teachers, especially in the aristocratic bracket, have to wear something different each day.

If this is an example of Women's Lib, you can call me a male chauvinist pig.

Now I know why the peasants stormed the Bastille and lopped off the noodle of Marie Antoinette.

Fishing, Snowmobiling, Awarding

Fishing with an experienced guide can be very rewarding.... not only in the number of fish caught, but in techniques used. When I was invited to fish with Pat Tallon of the Poplars Resort in Newboro, and Tykie Finn his top guide, I jumped at the chance. Tykie is the type of guide who insists on doing everything.. even to baiting your hook. He believes that the guide who does everything for his customer is appreciated more and that the customer gets more for his money. Usually, a day's fishing includes a shore lunch which can range from southern fried chicken to freshly caught fish. It's all part of the package. Pat had a little trouble catching his first bass but after we told him he couldn't have a coffee until he caught one, he pulled one into the boat in a hurry. Tykie is unbelievable at times. The uncanny sense he has should make bass scatter to the other side of the lake. "There's one by this fallen tree". "See that broken stump? Put your minnow on the far side of it". Almost all the time, you get a hit.

This day, we were not to enjoy the thrill of a big bass (over 5 pounds) but we got the action we were looking for and Tykie proved to be the top guide everyone claims to be. In fact, he has people that phone Pat from Pennsylvania, New York and other points in the U.S. just to be sure they have his services booked well in advance. That proves he is good. Again, it was a whale of a day and a lot of fun. If you want to try your luck with a guide, then be sure you contact a good one like Tykie Finn at the Poplars Resort in Newboro. You'll learn a lot of tricks that are sure fire fish catchers.

Snowmobile Drags

Well, the snowmobile drags at the Rideau Ferry Yacht Club were fast and exciting. I only have one suggestion to make..... move the fans farther back from the drag strip. Winners included Frank Fanning, Sharbot Lake with a Ski doo; Wayne Hewitt, Smiths Falls on a Yamaha; Ron Tackaberry, Athens on a Yamaha; Bill Fulerton, Pickering, on a Moto-Ski; Stan Sheed, Streetsville (2 wins) on an Alouette; Larry Mallan, Athens (3 wins) on an Artic Cat and Ian Bell of Selly's Bay on a Yamaha. Another interesting point was the race between the Moto-ski and the motorcycle. The Moto-ski won hands down!! If you hear of snowmobile drag races in your area, go. There a lot of fun.

Garbage Can Award

The following letter has to take first place in The Garbage Can of the Week Award. Here it is.....

"Please consider the following nomination for your Garbage Can of the Week Award.

On a family outing last Sunday in the Calabogie area we stopped at Mile Lake along the old K. & P. track for a better view of the lake. Better View???? Upon stepping out we were confronted with the heads of about 50 Mudpout scattered in the lake and along the shore, papers, bottles, cans and 5 places where are so called fishermen were unable to step into the bush to relieve themselves and used the roadway and boat ramp.

I would like to have the Garbage Can Award presented to them but then how will they know? I am sure they don't read Sportsman Columns and then maybe they would think the award was for being able to catch 50 mudpout.

In closing may their boots stink.....and their hands smell fish forever or better yet, may enough true fishermen upon hearing of this place go and fish it completely out and may our so called fishermen search forever for a new spot to fish and abuse".

Yours truly,
L.A. Blimkie,
165 Moore St.,
Arnprior, Ont.

Thank you Mr. Blimkie. I believe that ever sportsman agrees that it was a foul thing to do when this group left the area in state of shambles. Litter can turn a person off. Myself included. I agree that these persons do not read outdoor columns because they would know by now that we just do not do this type of thing. Thank you for your letter.

It is an eye opener from a fellow sportsman. My wish is for you and your family to find some secluded spot that you may enjoy in peace and may it remain beautiful and litter free.

Letters, comments and notices are welcomed by The Valley Sportsman, Box 292, Smiths Falls. Especially ones like the letter from Mr. Blimkie.

4-H CLUBS MEET

Dundas Horse

Fourteen members of North Dundas 4-H Horse Club gladly accepted an invitation to appear at Metcalfe Fair and their presentation of the 'Musical Ride' was presented in conjunction with the Sunday afternoon quarter horse show in the new community centre.

The skill of both horses and riders was greatly appreciated by the large crowd in attendance and the young equestrians praised their club leaders for making the trip to Metcalfe so successful.

Canada Geese Arriving At Wildfowl Sanctuary

The vanguard of the Fall migration of Canada Geese have arrived at the Commission's Wildfowl Sanctuary is possibly the only place in Eastern Ontario where people can enjoy, at leisure the full spectacle of Canada's national wildfowl during migration.

During the migration period of about eight weeks an estimated 90,000 Canada Geese stop over at the Sanctuary for rest and food. In addition 5,000 or 6,000 ducks including Blacks, Mallards, Teal and Wood ducks take advantage of the safety and hospitality offered in the Wildfowl haven. The wild ducks seem to be more wary than the Canada Geese and usually come into the feeding area later in the evening when the numbers of Canada Geese, as well as, visitors are much less than in the earlier part of the afternoon.

Each day a ton of corn on the cob is distributed at 2:30 p.m. in the feeding area and during the peak migration flow about 2,000 Canada Geese are fed daily. On some days the number will exceed 3,000. Here and there among the Canada Geese visitors will often see two or three Snow Geese and a few Blues.

While peak migration periods are directly influenced by the far northern weather, they usually occur in the second and third week of October.

The summer resident flock of Canada Geese numbers about 1,000 and is maintained by around 400 goslings raised each year in the Sanctuary area. All of these Geese usually go south for the winter however last year there were three Canada Geese that wintered in the feeding area.

These beautiful wild birds, which in their second year average about nine pounds, mate for life and it is interesting to watch through binoculars a flock land and "pair up".

A visit to the Sanctuary is a unique and enjoyable experience for all the family. Don't forget your camera.

Twenty-two Metropolitan Cities Hold Half Canada's Population

More than half of Canada's population lived in 22 census Metropolitan Areas in 1971, statistics Canada reported today in a publication tabulating the population by age groups.

Census Metropolitan Areas are localities in which the population of a city and its surrounding suburbs totals more than 100,000. Additions to the list since the 1966 Census were Chicoutimi-Jonquiere, St. Catherines-Niagara and Thunder Bay.

While the population as a whole was divided 55%-45% between the 22 metropolitan areas and the rest of Canada, the gap was narrower at both extremes of the age cycle and wider in the middle. Only 52% of children from infancy to 14 years and of men and women over 65 lived in these largest urban centres, but 57% of those between 15 and 64, and nearly 60 per cent of those between 20 and 44 were metropolitan residents.

Details of population by age groups for census divisions, census metropolitan areas and cities and towns of 10,000 population or over, are contained in Census publication 92-756 released today. Copies are available for 50 cents from the Publications Distribution Unit of Statistics Canada or the Publications Division of Information Canada, both in Ottawa.

Why should you have to sprint to get a hot shower?

An oil-fired heater can give you up to 30 gallons of hot shower water in 20 minutes.

It's morning shower time in some homes, this is what happens. Dad gets on his mark. Sets. And there he goes. If the family beats poor old Dad to the shower and uses up all the hot water, he may not get a hot shower at all. Not unless his house has an oil-fired water heater.

Oil can heat water 3 times as fast as gas; 6 times as fast as electricity. So it makes a lot of sense that an oil heater is going to give your family more hot water faster for hot showers, and washing soiled clothes. Not to mention the pile of breakfast dishes.

Oil really does heat faster. It's a fact we can prove. If you're not heating water with oil now, sprint to your phone and call us on our hot line.

A DIFFERENT LOOK

For 1972 Ottawa Winter Fair

Everyone attending the 1972 Ottawa Winter Fair should arrange to spend considerable time in the "Consumer's Concourse".

Situated in the Upper Concourse of the Civic Centre, this area will truly be the Show Window of Agriculture. It will feature several educational exhibits on the more common agricultural products from the Ottawa Valley. The intent is to inform the consumer about the production costs, quality control and nutritional value of these products.

Of particular interest will be displays of meats, including beef, pork, lamb, rabbit and chickens, with baby chickens hatching every day. In the centre of the meat display will be a theatre where meat cutting demonstrations will be conducted daily by personnel from the I.G.A. and Steinbergs Food Stores. During these demonstrations, draws will be made for free roasts of beef. In addition carcasses of meat, pork and lamb will be on display for the first time in this area. Besides helping to relate the carcass to the live animal, displays will provide comparisons of the desirable and the not so desirable carcasses and reasons for variations in quality and meatiness of various cuts.

Among the other interesting exhibits will be dairy products, honey, cheese, apples, maple syrup and maple sugar, and wine making. The production of honey will be shown, also the making of maple syrup and maple sugar and the public will be able to purchase the finished product.

Apple pie and cheese and milk will be on sale as well as the ever popular Tea Room conducted by the Women's Institute.

The fair opens on Tuesday, October 24th and continues through Saturday, October 28th.

Junior Competition

Each year the Ottawa Winter Fair has a Junior Management Competition as one of the programs. This year, emphasis will be on the feeding of livestock since low quality roughage is causing many feeding problems.

It is the intention of the committee to familiarize participants with nutrient requirements for the dairy cow, beef cow and beef steer and to formulate a ration which will meet these requirements at least cost.

The competition is intended as a learning experience and the majority of the day will be spent on instruction. Farmers and farmers' wives 18 to 29 years of age are encouraged to enter this competition and can do so by contacting their local agricultural office.

Ministry Offers Ladies' Groups Course On Ontario Fruit

The Home Economics Branch of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food is holding a free two-day course on Ontario Fruit. Topics covered include fruit production in Ontario, fruit processing, role of fruit in the diet, the selection, care and storage of fruit and fruit varieties. The use of fruit in appetizers, drinks, main dishes, salads, jams and desserts will be discussed and some of the recipes demonstrated.

Who may participate? Any women's group.

What does it involve? The women's group sends a leader and assistant to the Training School. These ladies then hold three meetings in the community to teach the course. A "summary day" is held at the completion of the project. Manuals are supplied free of charge.

When is it? Tuesday, October 31st from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. and Wednesday, November 1st from 10:00 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Where is it? Richmond Community Centre.

How to apply for it? Contact the Home Economist at 26 Thorncliffe Place, Ottawa, Ontario, K2H 6L2 or telephone 828-9167.

Test And Use Organic Acids In Pig Feeds

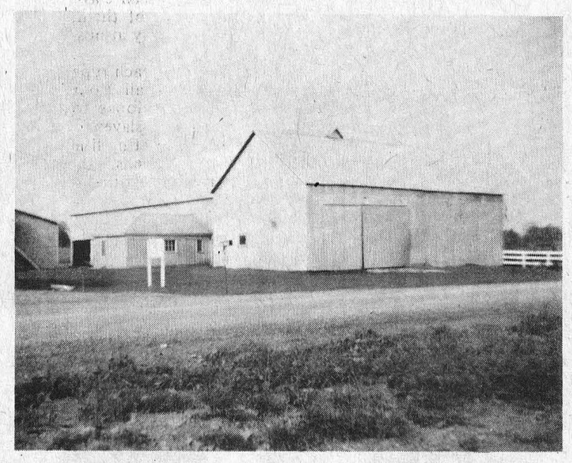
Organic acids have been tested and used as a feed preservative for a number of years in Europe, the U.S.A. and Canada. Their primary use is to preserve high moisture grains without spoilage in low-cost storage, says J.R. Morris, livestock and poultry division, Ridgetown College of Agricultural Technology.

Acid-treated corn can be fed successfully to feeder pigs, says Mr. Morris, and is a practical alternative to other storage methods for high moisture corn. Its successful use depends largely on the comparative economics of the systems.

A trial was recently completed at the College, feeding high moisture corn treated with an organic acid compound (Chemstor) to 128 Duroc X Yorkshire pigs. Under the conditions of this experiment, the acid-treated diets showed no real nutritional advantage in terms of feed efficiency, average daily gain and carcass merit. However, says Mr. Morris, other investigations have shown that acid-treated corn does have higher nutritional value.

Corn quality at feeding time is important. Recommendations by the manufacturers must be strictly followed to prevent feed spoilage and to minimize the risk of harm to persons handling the acid material.

1. Avoid direct contact of liquids and vapors with clothing, skin and eyes. The application area should be well ventilated.
2. Follow the directions of the manufacturer closely.
3. Determine the moisture content of the grain and apply the recommended amount.
4. Determine the applicator output for the grain and set the required application rate of acid.
5. Avoid untreated pockets.
6. Do not blow treated grain into storage for at least one-half hour after application. No delay is necessary if the grain is moved to storage by auger or conveyor.
7. Protect stored grain from moisture sources such as rain, snow and damp surfaces.
8. Protect stored grain from contamination by molds and bacteria. Dirt, organic matter, lumber and cement surfaces can all be sources of contamination.
9. Inspect the stored grain regularly for evidence of hot spots. In case of trouble, contact your dealer immediately for advice.
10. It is not recommended that stored grain be kept in outdoor storage in warm weather. Warmth from the sun can cause high temperatures and condensation which can initiate spoilage.
11. Feed the acid-treated corn before hot summer weather comes. Spoilage may occur if hot, humid weather persists.



Fire Destroys Russell Barn

Fire recently destroyed a barn and contents on the farm of Maynard Cherry, Russell.

Although no livestock was lost the building, some machinery and the entire winter feed supply were destroyed. Both Russell and Embrun fire departments fought the blaze and prevented the fire from spreading to the nearby farm home.

Mr. Cherry estimated the loss at $75,000.

Soybean Harvest

Soybeans are an increasingly important cash crop in Ontario agriculture, with approximately 367,000 acres planted in the province last year. This crop is a valuable source in providing high protein feeds for livestock. However, it has an increasing array of uses. Soy flour and cooking oil are two important products for human consumption. And according to food scientists, other soy products will be a valuable source of much-needed protein in the near future.

Pick Your Own Apples For Freshness And Quality

Cool nights and sunny days in the month of September help to increase the colour and flavour of Ontario's apples. This is the perfect time of year for a family outing to a "Pick your own" farm, says John Hughes, horticultural specialist, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

The pick your own method of harvesting has become increasingly popular. Both the customer and the farmer profit from the arrangement. For the farmer, the problem of harvesting his fruit is solved and the customer is able to get produce as fresh as possible. Many family shoppers are concerned about quality; with this method of harvesting, customers select their own fruit.

Many apple farms now have dwarf trees making picking much easier. Since most of the trees grow only 7 to 8 feet tall, ladders are not needed.

There is often a variety of produce available at "pick your own" farm markets. In most cases, the farmer obtains this produce from his neighbours to provide a varied selection of fruits and vegetables.

For Next Year's Garden Care For Dahlias Now

Dahlia tops are killed by the first light frost in the fall. To prepare the roots for winter storage, these blackened tops should be cut off about 3 inches above the ground shortly after the frost. The roots can stay in the ground for a few days. However, they must be dug up before a hard frost comes, says D.B. McNeill, horticultural specialist, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Use a fork to carefully ease the roots out of the ground. Shake the soil off, but do so with care as the roots are quite brittle. Set the roots in the sun for a few hours before taking them indoors. This softens the roots and makes them easier to handle.

When the roots are dried they can be stored in boxes of dry peat moss, sawdust or perloam and stored at 45 degrees. The roots can also be divided at this time and stored in plastic bags. However, success in wintering dahlias will be determined by maintaining the correct temperature and low humidity.

Jolly Bakers Group Organizes

'Jolly Bakers' is the name of the new Wincheser 4-H group and at a recent meeting a slate of officers were elected.

The first meeting was at the home of Mrs. Ian Reid and plans were drawn for interesting future activities.

Group leaders are Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Ormond McConnell.

Wild Wheaties Hold First 4-H Meeting

Hallville No. 2 'Wild Wheaties' (a 4-H unit), was formed when interesed girls met at the home of Mrs. H. Jansen recently.

Following election of officers the club was officially named and Mrs. Allan gave an interesting talk on cereals. Before adjournment members enjoyed making frying pan cookies.

The following officers were elected : President, Marie Arcand; Secretary, Marilyn Simser; Treasurer, Marnie Smith and Press Reporter, Ann Jansen.

PREVENT FIRES

Stay alive!

FIRE CAN BE TOTAL DISASTER

Imagine the heartbreak of this tragedy... the loss of home, business, farm, forest. Guard what you cherish. At home: remove trash and litter, check wiring, hold fire drills. At business: obey fire laws. On the farm: check home and barns for safety. In our forests: snuff out campfires, cigarettes, don't litter.

Area Fire Departments Stand Ready For Action

Winchester

The Volunteer Fire Department in Winchester is a well-trained unit under the direction of Chief Dalt Kenney. There are 23 volunteers and since most of them work in the village, they are able to have equipment on the scene of a fire in a matter of minutes.

The Department has at its disposal: one 500 gpm pumper, one 450 gpm pumper with 200 gal. tank, and one 150 gpm pumper with a 1300 gal. tank. The Fire Station is centrally located and 8.2 miles of water mains serve 38 hydrants.

2,800 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose and 600 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose, with ladders, masks and complete modern equipment, make this one of the best units in Eastern Ontario. Protection is furnished for the entire village as well as parts of Winchester and Mountain Townships, and other communities if fire-fighting facilities are required.

Residents of Winchester and surrounding area are proud of the efficiency shown by their local fire fighters who have proved themselves many time, often averting what well may have proved a great disaster.

Mountain Township

Mountain Township has been broken into three divisions to make the best possible fire coverage available. Each division works in close co-operation with other departments close by.

Residents of Mountain Township should take special note of the division breakdown and the "Call" number for each division.

DIVISION 1: North-west corner of the township as far south as Mountain Station and approximately two miles east of Hallville. Residents in this division should call Kemptville 258-2221.

DIVISION 2: The east half of the township that is, all east of that covered in Division 1, should call Winchester 774-3344.

DIVISION 3: All areas not above mentioned and including the northern portion of Matilda Township can summon immediate help by calling South Mountain 989-2013.

All township residents are urged to determine the area covered by their specified department and post the number in a prominent place. It should be understood that if a call is made to ANY ONE of the numbers listed, the response would be immediate from any of the departments, and Mountain Township would be agreement pay for such service.

South Mountain Department is made up of ten volunteers under the direction of Chief Lyle Sullivan and Deputy Chief Lucien Benoit. This unit now has a new truck which was purchased two years ago, 1500-gallon tank, P.T.O. pump, as well as an auxiliary pump. This equipment is stored in the fire hall at South Mountain while an older truck is available and it is stored at Mountain.

Williamsburg

Fire Chief Dwaine Hess with his 17 volunteers are ready for action at moment's notice and their promptness is well known in the district. The station houses a new modern 250 gpm pumper with 500-gallon water tank, and 1550 feet of hose. Two alarm boxes are located in the village.

This efficient fire-fighting unit serves the Townships of Williamsburg and Matilda, and it, too, where a fire is in danger of getting out of control, can call on nearby Winchester.

The close co-operation that exists among all six departments in this area is commendable. Always if one department is called in to help another, a nearby station is alerted to stand by for them.

Osgoode

Osgoode village proudly reports no fires in the town during the past year but just as proudly directs attention to the fine record of the efficient department in assisting neighbouring fire fighters. Designed to serve the west half of the huge township, the unit works closely with Metcalfe and during the year was called on several time to travel to the eastern extremities.

Stewart Cossar is the newly-appointed Chief and he has a dependale list of volunteers.

The unit has at its disposal a 150 gpm pumper with an 800-gal. tank and 1000 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose. Recently the department has acquired another valuable asset - a 2000 gal. auxiliary water tank which has proved valuable at fires throughout the entire district. This additional equipment makes it possible for the pumper to remain on the scene rather than travel to the nearest water supply.

Like other rural fire fighters, this department has many miles of country road and in winter this sometimes means real hardship. Like Metcalfe, it is subsidized by the Township and there is a possibility that these two departments may be amalgamated under one fulltime fire chief. This is, however, only a proposal that is now being studied by township council.

Metcalfe

Metcalfe volunteer department serves the village, as wellas, the eastern portion of the township and also, when called on, comes to the assistance of neighbouring units.

The department is in the midst of an ambitious rebuilding program and many junior volunteers are undergoing training.

Fire Chief Art Benson, reports the unit's efficiency has reached a new high and directs attention to the assistance of Peter Griffin, a new resident, who has had vast experience and is presently an employee of the National Research Council.

The station is located in the village and the equipment includes a 500-gpm pumper with an 800-gal tank and a portable pump, as well as 700 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose and 800 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose.

More equipment is presently being added and plans are under way for the purchase of an additional 2000-gal. auxiliary tank truck.

The continuous growth of Osgoode Township with many new homes and some new industries tends to increase the load on this Department, but during the last year their prompt answer to the "Fire Call" and efficiency on the job have resulted in many favourable comments from local residents.

Morewood

Although Morewood now has fire fighting equipment, organization of the department is in the planning stages and as yet there is no official fire number for that station.

The pumper is, however, ready to lend assistance to both Winchester and Chesterville at the present time and residents of the township are assured of instant action by telephoning either the Winchester FIRE EMERGENCY NUMBER (774-3344), or the Chesterville FIRE EMERGENCY NUMBER (448-3333).

Further information concerning the new Morewood volunteer brigade will be published when organizational details are completed.

Russell

Rated as one of the most highly efficient volunteer brigades in the province, Russell not only has modern equipment but also has a year-round program of fire prevention measures.

Fire Chief Phair, who has on several occasions been honoured for devotion to duty, carries out interesting fire-prevention schemes at various times throughout the year and encourages careful inspection by all homeowners in an effort to eliminate fire hazards.

At Russell, according to the Chief, perfection is always just a short distance off but never reached and consequently improvements are almost continually in progress.

At the present time a new 2-door building is almost complete and hopefully at a later date, Russell and other district departments will be featured in this newspaper.

Russell's EMERGENCY FIRE NUMBER is 445-2112.

FIRE PREVENTION A Year 'Round Job

$1,300 is the average cost of a blaze in a home. This fire, the price of carelessness, will cost many times $1,300.

657 PERISH IN FLAMES IN 1971

Record Property Loss of $240,000,000

Children left alone to hazards chief sufferers of fire neglect

FIRE destroyed in 1971 a record property loss of $240,000,000. Fire deaths increased to 657, from 636 the previous year. These are estimates by the Dominion Fire Commissioner, based on preliminary reports by the Provinces. Appraisals exclude forest conflagrations and government establishment fires.

• Property waste rose sharply from the 1970 figure of $204,194,431. The 1969 total was $197,102,448.

• Fire deaths of 657 for the year comprise 256 men, 181 women, and 220 children. The 1970 comparisons were 247 men, 166 women, 223 children. However, the toll last year was below the top figure of 681 in 1967. In the 10-year period (1962-1971) at least 6,297 have suffered a horrible death by fire, with thousands of others scarred and disfigured for life.

Billion $ Loss to economy

• The total cost of fire in a year represents a burden of more than one billion dollars to the economy, according to the Dominion Fire Commissioner. The calculation takes into account the indirect losses—the stoppage of industrial production and consequent unemployment—which is said to be five times the direct loss.

• One encouraging change over the decade is the downward trend in annual fires. In the early 1960's the number had reached 85,000. Today the figure is of the order of 70,000—a tribute to the persisting fire prevention campaigns by the nation's 50,000 fire fighters. This holds true of household fires, despite the vast growth of new homes. But the owners of the premises may reflect that the average cost of a blaze is now more than $1,300. against the $500 average of ten years ago.

Multiple calamities of five victims

Multiple death fires, in which three or more died in a single fire, made national headlines last year. Heading the list was a fire aboard the cruise ship "Meteor" in which 32 of the crew perished. At East Saint John, N.B., a gasoline explosion on a vessel at dock killed six men.

Children were again the principal sufferers in many tragic incidents.

Take, for example, a flash fire in a Toronto apartment. Six of the seven victims were youngsters, trapped in their bedrooms. The blaze started in a kitchen stove, cooking Sunday breakfast.

The coroner's inquest found delay in summoning aid, but it was revealed that the fire fighters were on the scene a minute after receiving the alarm at a nearby fire station.

7 fire fighters hurt trying to save 7

Matching the seven victims, seven fire fighters were injured in the frantic rescue attempts.

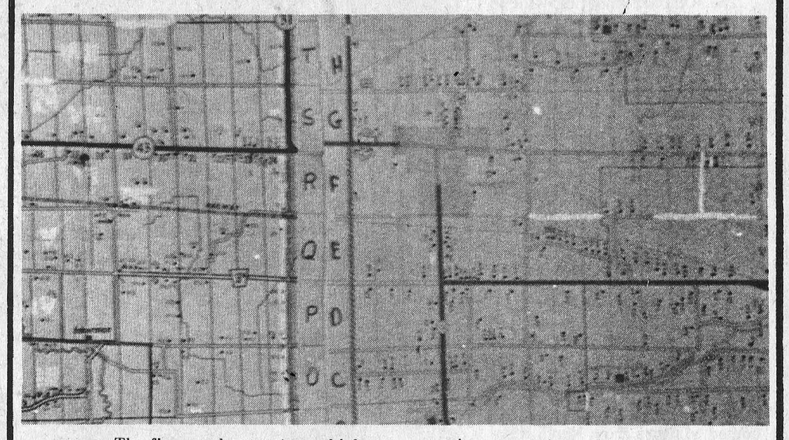
Another Ontario fire claimed five children in flames started by a defective oil space heater. Their parents were away at the time, as indeed was the circumstance of a fire at Massett, B.C., in which five children of tender years died because of an overheated oil stove.

STOP FIRES! SAVE LIVES!
FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCT. 8-14

Three unattended youngsters were asphyxiated in a small log shack at Wabasca, Alta., from a stove fire which ignited a paper-lined wall. From Frog Lake in the same province comes the sad report of a fatal fire caused by a girl, 4, who played with matches, according to the investigator. The girl lost her life and those of a sister, 2, and an infant brother who had been born just three weeks before.

The remorseful mother had been visiting nearby.

New System FOR WINCHESTER AND AREA



The fire number system which was instigated and carried out by the Winchester Opportunities For Youth group during the summer months is now in effect and everyone is urged to memorize his own number.

The fire number should not be confused with telephone numbers since giving telephone numbers to fire departments in no way help pinpoint the exact location.

Accompanying photo shows master map located at fire stations and every home is marked on the map as a number. Thanks to the work of the OFY group each householder now has a corresponding number and in case of fire this is the number to use when summoning help.

The excellent system applies in both Winchester and Mountain townships.

FALSE ALARM WARNING

Fire warning to persons guilty of making a false alarm.

Bill C-2 of revised Criminal Code statutes makes the crime an indictable offense for which the maximum penalty is now two years' imprisonment.

Previously, the maximum penalty was a fine of $500 or six months' imprisonment.

In crowded traffic congestion, response to a false alarm adds to the public hazard. Besides, such response deprives the station of men and equipment, should there be a real fire call.

Trials of a bed-smoker!

"WE LEFT THEM ALONE ONLY A FEW MINUTES"

Bereaved parents' anguished words

JURY'S TRAGIC TALE OF "HAZARDOUS SMOKER"

HER death was particularly horrible, according to the inquest jury.

The 23-year-old victim was dressed in a nightgown and a short time before had treated her wig with an aerosol can of hair spray.

She lit a cigarette probably with a lighter and the night-gown caught fire. She ran to the bathroom and somehow got off the burning gown and threw it into the bathtub where it burned, scorching the shower curtain. She stumbled back to the bedroom and collapsed on the bed, where she was found dead.

She had suffered severe third-degree burns to 40 per cent of her body.

A friend told the jury that she was not "just a careless but a hazardous smoker."

"Make the public more aware of the terrible dangers of flash fires combined with smoking and the use of matches or lighters," the jury recommended.

This is a fire prevention message, directed especially to all who smoke, particularly in situations like the above.

KNOW YOUR FIRE CALL

One of the most important telephone numbers to remember is your FIRE CALL. Seconds count in time of fire. The time it takes to look up the number may cost a life. MEMORIZE THAT FIRE CALL. You may need it tomorrow. If you live in

Winchester 774-3344
Metcalfe 821-2121
Williamsburg 535-2018
Osgoode 826-2424
Russell 445-2112

(NOTE: See Details on Mountain Twp.)

When you dial your "Fire Number", a fire crew goes into immediate action. Although volunteers, all are experienced in the art of battling stubborn flames. Often in rural areas, distance, and in winter time road conditions cause slight delay but whether or not the gallant men who man the pumpers are able to save a burning building, they invariably prevent fire from spreading to adjacent structures.

In farming communities this often means saving the dwelling, or in cases where fire is in the house, then huge barn complexes can be saved from certain destruction.

SD&G Foster Parents Group Meets In Finch

The September meeting of the S.D.&G Foster Parents Group was held on Monday, 18th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duart A. MacLean, Finch. There was an excellent turn out of foster parents, coming from Avonmore, Martintown, Cornwall, Long Sault, Ingleside, Newington, Chesterville, Winchester, Morrisburg and Brinston.

Dr. Slowely of Chesterville talked to the group on "Family Life and the Teen-Aged Rebel". After a healthy discussion with the parents present, Dr. Slowey summarized his remarks with the encouraging words "The name of the game is that we must keep in trying."

The October meeting will be held at Trinity Anglican Church Hall, 2nd Street, Cornwall on Monday evening, 23rd October and the November meeting will be held on Monday, 20th November, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Van Allen, Annette Street, in Morrisburg.

Refreshments and good fellowship concluded a most worthwhile evening.

30 Persons Attend Leonard Institute

Roll call, "How can we teach our children to be good citizens", was answered by 10 members and 20 visitors at the regular meeting of Leonard W.I. last week.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. Thorpe and president Mrs. J. Corry welcomed visitors from North Russell Branch.

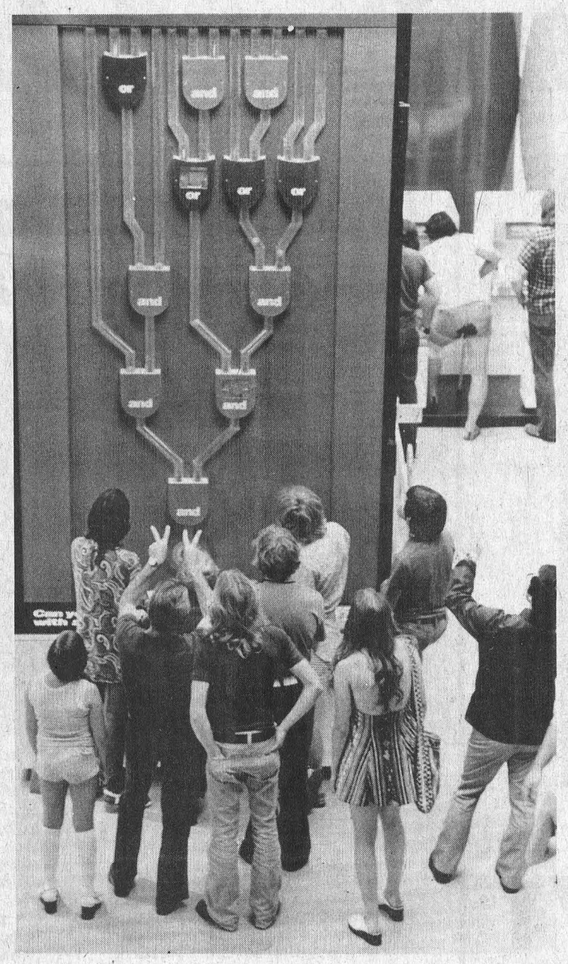
Following a discussion on resolutions for the area convention Mrs. W. Birch was appointed branch delegate.

Citizenship convener, Mrs. M. Larmour, gave the Motto which was followed by humorous readings.

Contest winners were Mrs. Keith Dugdale, Mrs. N. Dugdale, Mrs. Helen Boothe, Mrs. P. Graham, Mrs. N. Watson and Mrs. G. Bakker.

Hostess prizes were won by Mrs. A. Sullivan, Mrs. J. Morrice and Miss Tena Schnittka.

Harmonica selections by Harvey Morrow of Sarsfield were enjoyed and a dainty lunch served by Mrs. J. Thorpe, Mrs. A. Schnittka and Mrs. W. Birch.



Confusing !

Visitors at the Ontario Science Centre try to figure out the Logic Gate game in the Centre's Hall of Communication. Adult visitors now have the opportunity to experiment with such popular exhibits in the evening unimpeded by classes of school children. Tuesday through Friday the Centre is open until 10 p.m., Saturday, Sunday and Monday until 6 p.m. After 6 p.m. children are permitted only when accompanied by adults.

Announce Christmas Parcel Mailing Deadlines

Don't look now, but here comes Santa Claus!

And just ahead of him is the Canada Post Office which today released the first mailing deadlines for Christmas.

Canadians are given the choice of sending their Christimas parcels by surface, which may take longer but costs less, or by air mail, speedier but more expensive. For unsealed parcels under one pound, Canadians can benefit from the new Small Packets rate of postage - for both air and surface.

While you have until the beginning of December to mail parcels by air to overseas destinations, the deadline is October 2nd for surface parcels going to the Middle East, India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka (Ceylon), all of Australasia and Oceania (except Australia and Fiji - October 13th) and the Orient (except Japan and Hong Kong - October 20th).

And the deadline is October 6th for all of Africa, with the exception of South Africa (October 20th).

Other deadlines for international surface parcel post are as follows: October 13th - Cuba; October 20th - Europe (except Britain), Central and South America (except Cuba); November 10th - Britain.

Deadlines for international air parcel post, and for parcels going to destinations in North America, fall in the first two weeks of December. Please check with your local post office.

Gerald T. Black Dies Following Auto Accident

Gerald T. Black, a well known and highly respected Mountain resident, died as a result of an automobile accident on September 22nd. Mr. Black, a Bell Canada employee, was in his 42nd year.

Born at Winchester, he was a son of Mrs. Harold P. Black and the late Mr. Black and received his education at South Mountain Public and High Schools.

Besides his mother, the late Mr. Black is survived by two brothers and six sisters: Norman and Bert, both of Mountain; Mrs. Jake Casselman (Alice), Ingleside; Mrs. Walter McGowan (Audrey), Williamsburg; Mrs. Walter Merkley (Sybil), Chesterville; Mrs. Lloyd Marcell (Mona), Cornwall; Mrs. Robert Brown (Edna), Winchester and Mrs. Eric Hogg (Frances) of Peterborough. A member of South Mountain United Church funeral service at Armstrong Weagant Funeral Home, was conducted by Mr. Mervyn Peters at 2:00 p.m. September 25th.

Pall bearers were Harold Boyce, Ewart Simms, Martin Hall, Ralph DeVries, Gerald Foley and Lorne Dillabough.

Interment was at Maple Ridge cemetery.

Mrs. Bernice Casselman Dies Following Brief Illness

Mrs. Bernice R. Casselman, the former Gertrude May Baker, died in Brockville General Hospital on September 28th following a brief illness. She was in her 83rd year.

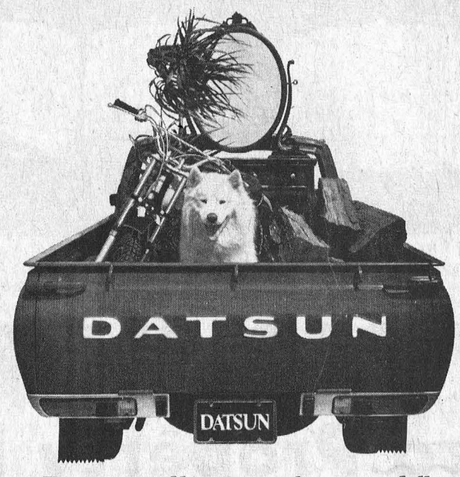
"I've always wanted a sports car.



But I really need a truck".

Datsun announces the new Sportruck

All you really need is a new Datsun Sportruck. It's still North America's number one imported pickup. Only more so now.

Up front, there's an all-new cab with crisp GT styling. Inside, a cushy, angled seat that's as comfortable as sin. With two inches more stretch space for leggy types. And a sexy instrument panel that looks like it was stolen from our 240-Z. (It was).

Take comfort, too, in a slightly longer wheelbase and new cab mounting for sedan-like smoothness. Plus an improved, high capacity heater and flow-through ventilation.

But behind that pretty face, it's still a Datsun. Same rugged suspension. Same eager, rally-winning engine. Same quick gear-box, same big cargo box. Think of the possibilities. You can haul fence posts to the back forty. Haul your camper to the lake. Haul your lady to the dance. All in the same sweet rig.

Datsun Sportruck. It's all you really need.

Datsun is all you really need.

Philco-Ford introduces PHILCOMATIC III Color TV.

It's a source of a different color.

The automatic "Hands-off" tuning system is here. It's a better idea.
This is the feature that puts PHILCOMATIC III one giant step ahead of any other color TV. Compare it.

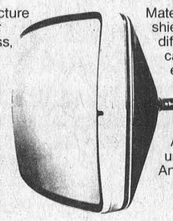
All you do is select a channel. If you see the Philcomatic green light come on, take your hand off the channel selector. The picture is locked in automatically! Not even a button to push! Only the new PHILCOMATIC III gives you all of these features: (1) a light that tells you when the picture is right; (2) preference controls that adjust color, tint, brightness and contrast, even while in the "automatic" position; (3) "Hands-off" tuning. It's the most dramatic, most demonstrable tuning system on the market...And that's just our tuning system...

The 100% solid state modular chassis. It's a better idea.
The Philco engineers call it the BOSS ("Best of the Solid States"). PHILCOMATIC III is 100% solid state, and it doesn't stop there. We believe it's also the most advanced modular solid state design in the industry. There are no tubes to burn out. Instant-on sound and picture. A modular component structure second to none. And every PHILCOMATIC III module is tested for maximum reliability. And that's only our modular chassis...

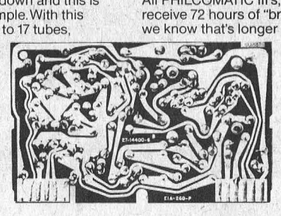
The 14-module design. It's a better idea.
PHILCOMATIC III has divided its key operational functions among 14 modules. Because the more you have, the fewer critical parts are clustered on an individual module. Which makes each module less expensive to replace. And since every PHILCOMATIC III module has a snap-in design, most repairs can be done simply and quickly. PHILCOMATIC III makes service a snap. Snap out. Snap in. And that's only our module design...

The PHILCOMATIC* III with Super Black Matrix picture tube. It's a better idea.
Our tube delivers a 100% brighter color picture than any non-black matrix tube we've ever made. Greater black surround, clearer glass, concentrated color beams. What's more, the cathodes of the 3-barrel electron gun are designed to operate at a lower temperature for long life and outstanding picture. And that's just our tube...

The PHILCOMATIC* III detachable anti-glare shield. It's a better idea.
Mated with our tube is our anti-glare shield, and it too provides a demonstrably different picture. It eliminates glare that can make color viewing harsh to the eyes. Color and tint are cooled for comfort, yet color tones remain unchanged. "Visual noise", tiny jumpy lines, are filtered out, for a picture that's steadier, easier to watch. A picture with more color contrast even under bright room lights or sunshine. And that's only our anti-glare shield...



The simplified printed circuitry. It's a better idea.
Turn our BOSS chassis upside down and this is what it looks like—clean and simple. With this chassis, we've (1) eliminated up to 17 tubes, (2) eliminated 119 feet of wiring, (3) eliminated 67% of the handmade connections, (4) cut the operating power in half, from 350 watts per hour in last year's Philco model down to 170 watts per hour in PHILCOMATIC III. We've made it simple, so there's simply less to go wrong. And that's just our circuitry...



72 hour "break-in" testing. It's a better idea.
All PHILCOMATIC III's, like all our Philco sets, receive 72 hours of "break-in" testing. As far as we know that's longer than any other in the industry, to be sure we find any weaknesses before your customer does.

See It Now. . . At Black's

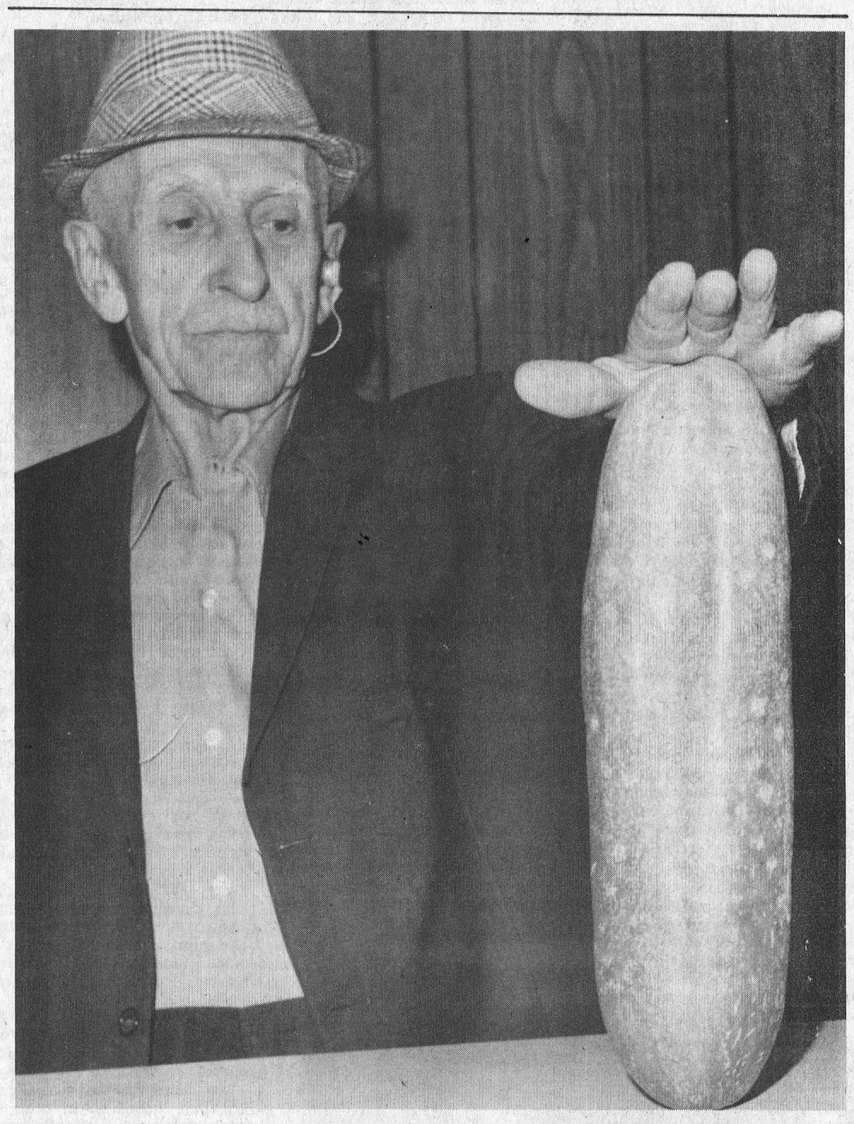
Mrs. Pemberton demonstrated the various methods of correct measurement. "The Cereal Swingers" was selected for the club name and future meetings are planned for Wednesday evenings.



Good Year For Cucumbers

J.A. Grummett of Osgoode, on a recent visit to the Press office, brought along one of his home grown cucumbers and as photo indicates the rainy summer was most beneficial to this type of crop.

This dandy should fill several pickel bottles since it is 14 1/2 inches long, 13 1/2 inches in circumference and weighs 4 1/2 pounds.

"My tomatoes and potatoes didn't mature well" says Mr. Grummett, "but I do have a 51 pound Hungarian squash and a 43 1/2 pound pumpkin.

Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge Auxiliary Needs Members

Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge Administrator G.E. McGregor has taken steps to assist Lodge auxiliary members in their efforts to increase membership.

Mr. McGregor has sent a letter to relatives of all Lodge residents hoping to arouse interest and find more people, both young and old, who are willing to volunteer time and talent. Only a few yesterdays ago the men and women who now reside at the lodge were valued members of society, and it was through their efforts the things we enjoy today were made possible.

Mr. McGregor's letter, which follows, should encourage many to help and add a note of cheer to the lonely corridors of the Lodge.

September 18, 1972

Dear Sir or Madam,

The following is a short story which I hope you will read and enjoy.

John Smith is 94 years old. He is in good health physically and mentally. He is a resident in a home for the aged. Ask John how he likes living in the home. His answer probably will be "It's a good place to live. They treat me well. I get good meals; a clean place to sleep and entertainment is provided but it does get lonely at times."

How could it be lonely living with 200 other people? Well after a time even 200 people form a reasonably small family, that is if you are together 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

It's a little too far for John to walk downtown, even a couple of times a week. What's the answer? What can be done to relieve John of his loneliness? Ask John that question too. He'll probably answer this way:-

"There must be a lot of younger folk who still have an hour or two to spare each week or even each month. I know we have a good staff here who chat with us while they work but that's hardly enough. They are too busy to spend much time idly but if some of those young folk outside would drop in for a game of checkers, or cards, or even a little chat, it would be different.

I'll tell you one thing, that Home Auxiliary does a terrific job. Not enough of them though. If they had more members, we would see more of them. We would have more variety in our visitors, more books to read and heaven knows what else."

Yes, that probably would be John Smith's answer to that question and who knows better than him. John Smith is just a name I have picked for one person but it applies to 199 others. Maybe one of the others is a friend or relative of yours. Why not give a little more freely of some time even one hour each month?

The Home Auxiliary at Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge is in need of more members. Give them your support even for that one hour per month. If interested just drop a line to me at the address below.

Remember - some day I may be able to call you John Smith!

Yours truly
Mr. G.E. McGregor

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

HE WANTS A FAMILY

This has been a difficult year for Ronny.

He has seen a younger brother go to adopting parents. Then two girls whom he knew as foster children like himself were also adopted.

But so far an adoption home has not been found for Ronny.

No wonder this nine-year-old is worried about his future and is constantly asking: "What about me?"

Ronny is an attractive youngster with a pleasant shy manner, very eager to be friends. Canadian-Indian in descent, he is in good health, perhaps a little small for his age, with dark eyes, dark hair and medium complexion. His glasses are for near-sightedness.

Ronny is pictured outdoors where he spends his happiest times. He would like to live on a farm. He loves baseball, camping and hockey. Fishing — summer or winter is his delight.

Ronny is not a great student and had some difficulties in Grade three, but he was promoted and is now in Grade four. His special problem is with reading. However, he is an interesting boy who expresses himself well.

This lovable youngster needs a mother and father to love him and take an interest in him and his doings. They should be warm, affectionate people who understand he has memories of his past life and who will not pressure him for academic achievement. It will be best if he is the youngest in the family or at least if there are no children close to him in age.

To inquire about adopting Ronny, please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K, Toronto. For general adoption information, ask your Children's Aid Society.

Fall Care Of Tuberous Begonias

Tuberous begonias are often at their best in the fall. However, since they are very tender, they are easily damaged by frost, says D.B. McNeill, horticultural specialist, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

If you wish to prolong their beauty indoors for a few weeks, dig up the bulbs with soil on the roots, just prior to frost. Transplant them to pots or flats and place in a sunny window.

When the plants become shabby reduce the water and allow them to become quite dry. When the leaves have turned yellow, the stems will break off easily and the tubers are ready for winter storage.

Store the tubers in dry peat at 40 degrees. Examine them occasionally during the winter and dampen the peat if they look withered.
