Chesterville and District Fair Has Good Surplus

The annual meeting of Chesterville and District Agricultural Society was held in the Community Hall on Wednesday of last week with a good attendance. It was reported that the best year in the history of the society was enjoyed last year. The attendance at the fair was the largest and the sponsoring of a "Red and White" day attracted the Ayrshire breeders of Grenville-Dundas with a very large entry which included many of the outstanding animals of that breed in Eastern Ontario.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $751.07 on the right side of the ledger.

So pleased were the shareholders with the officers who were responsible for such satisfactory results that all of last year's officers were elected for the present year. These include; Pres., Wm. Servage; 1st Vice Pres., Angus Smith; 2nd Vice Pres., Howard Kittle; Treas., Chas. McMillan; Sec., Eric Casselman; Directors, A. E. Smith, W. J. McConnell, Howard Kittle, Harold Durant, Chas. F. Marselis, Alex J. Barrie, Thos. Allen, Angus Smith, J. H. Fulton, Wm. Servage, Allison Graham, Graham Durant.

Auditors: R. C. Dillabough, Geo. G. Merkley; Delegate to annual meeting, Wm. Servage; Dundas Crop Improvement Directors, Harold Durant, Eric Casselman; Dundas Federation of Agriculture Directors, Wm. Servage, Eric Casselman.

A Grounds Committee, including Wm. Servage, Angus Smith, Harold Durant, H. R. Johnston, Cam Thompson and Eric Casselman was appointed to investigate the possibility of erecting a few suitable buildings on the Fair grounds.

THERMOMETER TO 30 BELOW.

Wednesday morning there were various readings of thermometers hereabouts. However, when its cold we want to go along with the coldest and take the lowest figure, which was thirty with variations. There has been very little let up for almost a week. Most of us are either frozen in or frozen out but what can you do about it other than take it as it comes.

Dundas Cheese Producers Hold Annual Meeting

The Dundas Cheese Producers Association after a postponement of the annual meeting from December 14th, held the meeting last Thursday in the Picadilly theatre at Williamsburg, with the president, Chas. Harkness, presiding. The business session was preceded by a dinner served to more than 150 members and visitors by the Red Cross Society in the Oddfellows' Hall. When the meeting was called to order many reports and resolutions were handed in which brought forth very interesting discussions in regard to the manufacture and sale of cheese.

Mr. McPhail of Kemptville Agricultural College was the guest speaker and his address was very closely followed and enjoyed by all.

Before closing the meeting the following directors were elected:

Matilda: Chas. Harkness, Dwight Merkley, Cephus Smyth; Mountain: Harry Williams, Arnold Gilroy, Dryan Martin; Winchester: Roy Fetterly, John Barrett, Elburn McIntosh; Williamsburg: Oscar Beckstead, Wm. Lane, Shaler Heagle.

The directors held a meeting and chose the following officers: Pres.: Cahs. Harkness; Vice-Pres.: John Barrett; Sec'y.: W. W. McIntyre.

The annual meeting of the provincial association will be held February 1st and 2nd in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto.

Radio Forum News

Spruce Grove Forum, as reported by Maurice Beckstead, held their most succesful forum of the year at the home of Charles Beckstead with Fred Beckstead as convenor. 21 interested members were present. William Beckstead who represented the Forum at the Youth Short Course at Queen's, during the holidays, gave a detailed report of the course. He was so enthusiastic over the success of the Course that he intends going again next year at his own expense.

S. S. No. 10 met at the home of George Beattie. 17 members were present. Under the leadership of Mrs. John Sutherland some lively discussions took place. The forums, after settling most of the world's problems, had no time for a recreational period. Of course time was taken out for lunch. The topic for discussion was "Rural education and the Changing Curriculum of rural Schools." One point was especially recommended—that no student in a rural school should be allowed an entrance certificate without a thorough knowledge of the Babcock milk test. So many farmers, when receiving a low test for their milk, blame the plant tester and fail to realize that the trouble is in the home herd. It is much easier to blame the tester than it is to go to the trouble of finding out the low testers and change the herd to a higher testing one. Also, many people do not understand the extreme fluctuations in the butterfat in milk which are apt to take place day by day in the average herd. It was recommended that testing, along with elementary mechanics, should not be added to the already overworked rural teacher but should be taught by a qualified Agricultural teacher, travelling from section to section.

S.S. No. 10 meets at the home of Eric Casselman next Monday night, with Mrs. Irwin Merkley as convenor. Any farmer interested in starting a forum is cordially invited to attend.

TRUE OR FALSE.

Last Thursday night about 11:30, the fire alarm was sounded but after considerable search no fire could be found in town. Just where the call came from or whether it was the work of a practical joker we cannot say. The following morning many on hearing of the destruction of the Presbyterian church in Avonmore believed it had been a call for assistance but the fire in Avonmore is said not to have been discovered until around 1:30 Friday morning.

HYDRO ELECTRIC PRESENTS GOOD REPORT

During the year just passed the consumption of Hydro Electric power in Ontario reached an all-time high of 12 billion kilowatt hours, evidencing that there has been no particular slackening in war time requirements although it is claimed that essential civilian, domestic and municipal power needs suffered no shortage. One of the bright lights of the year just closed was the release by the Metals Controller of an increased quantity of material for line construction that would service food production, or otherwise be of assistance to the war economy in rural areas, enabling the commission to resume on a moderate scale the extension of rural service. A total of 400 miles of primary line was actually constructed and service given to about 10,000 new customers either from the new primary lines or by connection to previously existing lines. The total number of consumers on rural lines at the end of 1943 exceeded 136,300. Notwithstanding restrictions ordered by the Dominion Power Controller, which continued in force until October 1st, 1944. the average power sold to all rural consumers, including war industries in rural areas, increased by nearly 14 percent. The reductions in interim rates which were made effective January 1st, 1944. for a large number of municipalities tended appreciably to curtail revenues. Nevertheless the Commission's revenue from the supply of power to municipalities of northern Ontario increased about five percent and revenue from power sold to industries also increased slightly, compared with the previous year.

ONTARIO POTATOES BEING CROWDED OUT

Concern is being felt respecting the retaining of the market for home grown Ontario potatoes. Keen competition is being encountered by commercial growers by the increased production in other parts of Canada and it is realized that larger yields of quality potatoes per acre must be obtained to meet the inroads of producers in other provinces. This whole matter was threshed out at an open meeting of the Agricultural Commission of Inquiry at Queen's Park last week when a system of land planning was advocated, under which only suitable land in concentrated areas would be developed to the Commercial production of potatoes. Other matters discussed included the question of compulsory grading of potatoes and enforcement of regulations under the Farm Products Grades and Sales Act, licensing of potato truckers and extension of grading and storage facilities. A warning was also sounded that unless growers now holding large quantities of potatoes released them for marketing in an orderly manner during the next two months there was danger of a bad glut in the market in the late spring.

THE BEST OF FISH BECOMING SCARCE

There has been an alarming decline in the supply of trout and whitefish in the Great Lakes in recent years and the authorities are at a loss to know what to do about it. For instance, 100 pounds of Lake trout as representing the take in 1936 in Lake Huron had declined to 25 pounds in 1944 and whitefish were down 47 percent. There is doubt in certain quarters as to the value of a closed season to restore the situation although such a season has proved of value in regard to sport fish. There are enemies of the commercial fish such a smelt, lamprey, eels and other predatory piscine which prey upon trout and whitefish. Lamprey eels have proved an annoyance to swimmers but the local variety, probably somewhat harmless, has been reinforced by the sea lamprey which has worked its way up the Great Lakes. The lampreys had been found killing lake trout that were in the pound nets. It is also contended that the smelt, the little fish that smells like a cucumber, may have something to do with the decline in lake trout fishing. In any event a study into the feeding habits of these intruders and consideration of a closed season seems in order.

USED CAR REGULATIONS.

The Wartime Prices & Trade Board has announced a revision of regulations which requires the licensing of all used car dealers. This will ensure a more equitable distribution at fairer prices, besides having a more effective control over the general marketing of used motor cars. Every used car must have a price tag showing whether or not the car is reconditioned. A 30-day warranty is implied in favour of the purchaser when a used car is sold as reconditioned. All persons carrying on a business of buying or selling used cars on January 2nd, 1945, and who wish to continue in the business after March 31, 1945, must apply for a permit. A dealer entering the business after January 2nd, 1945, must also have a permit. Permits will not be issued to dealers who are without facilities for repairing or reconditioning motor vehicles.

Too Bad

Two lions who worked in a circus were getting a little tired of doing the same act night after night. One said to the other: "You know that part of the act where the trainer puts his head in my open mouth; well, I'm going to bite it off at tonight's performance."

At the evening performance the crucial moment arrived, and instead of biting, the lion went through the show as usual.

Afterwards his companion said: "I thought you were going to bite his head off?"

The other answered: "I couldn't. He'd been eating onions—you know I can't stand the smell!"

H. E. Shaver President Stormont Holstein Breeders

Despite the fact that all township roads and concession lines were closed as a result of the storm and even some of the county roads blocked up, some 40 Holstein breeders of Stormont County attended the annual meeting on Friday.

President George McNaughton was in the chair. The club had a very active year with about 120 paid up members in the county. In reviewing the activities of the club, A. M. Barr, agric. rep., pointed out that Stormont held the largest Black and White show in the Eastern Ontario district in 1944, and provided the largest prize list offered by any Black and White show in the province, $610 being offered.

They also staged an annual banquet which is perhaps the largest holstein banquet to be staged in the province in November, with 400 breeders and their friends present.

A joint field day was held with the Ayrshire breeders in June, which was very well attended. The club also supported the Newington Calf Club with a membership of 19, with 19 calves exhibited at the Achievement Day. The club is one which believes in putting their money to use and, therefore, their financial balance is not as great as would be found in some clubs, but there are results in evidence for the money spent.

Membership tickets for 1945 had already been sold and 100 members signed up.

The membership ticket included a draw on a Holstein bull calf provided from the herd of Chas. Shaver and Son of Aultsville. The draw was made by Keith MacMillan, one of the Calf Club members present, and, strange to relate, he drew his own ticket.

Directors for the coming year are: Finch township, Morrison MacLeod, S. E. Ouderkirk, H.E. Shaver; Osnabruck Township, Chas. T. Baker, Harold Shaver, Arthur Zeran: Roxborough township, T. H. Rutley, Leonard MacIntosh, Howard Morrow: Cornwall township, Michele Filliol, Harold Brown, Thomas Aitken.

The directors met and elected officers: Hon. presidents, G. A. McNaughton, A. M. Barr; president, H. E. Shaver; vice-president, Leonard MacIntosh; secretary-treasurer F. C. Eligh; auditor, Arthur MacMillan.

Several delegates were chosen for the annual meeting of the Holstein Friesian Association of Canada in Toronto, February 14.

Nimmo read an address and Mrs. Coulthart presented Miss Laura Hunter with a Life membership certificate from the Women's Missionary Society for her faithful services to her church as organist and choir leader where possible. A Life Membership certificate was also presented to Miss Laura Moffat in memory of her late sister Miss Bell Moffat, who was a most faithful Charter member of the WMS and to Laura for her faithful attendance to her church and choir. It was a great pleasure for the Women's Missionary Society to present these certificates. Both ladies replied with thanks and appreciation. A most delicious lunch was served and a social hour spent.

The Evil One

An Englishman caught a boy in his garden stealing apples and handed him to the police.

As it was the boy's first offense the magistrate let him off but told him never to yield to such temptation again, adding:

"Ye should have flown from the Evil One."

"So I did, sir," replied the boy, "but he grippet me afore I got over the fence!"

FOLLOW THESE RULES CUT POULTRY LOSSES

Following are ten rules, that if followed says George Robertson, Dominion Poultry Husbandman, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

1. Buy chicks from a breeder or hatchery that uses eggs only from Pullorum free stock.
2. Buy chicks from a source close enough home that the chicks are not too long on the road.
3. See that the houses in which the chicks are to be brooded have been thoroughly cleaned, scrubbed and disinfected.
4. See that the chicks are properly brooded—never over heated or chilled.
5. Have the brooder house sufficiently far from the old stock so that the chicks never come in contact with either the old stock or their surroundings.
6. Raise the chicks on clean ground over which no old stock has run for at least a year.
7. Do not allow the same person who is handling the layers to tend the chicks. If this is impossible then insist that he use rubbers before going into the chick ranges.
8. Do not allow strangers, especially those who are keeping poultry, to go into the flock, without first putting on a clean pair of rubbers.
9. Remove any ailing chicks as soon as it is noticed and do not put it back in the flock even after it has apparently recovered.
10. Get the chicks onto good green range as early as possible and see that this range condition is continued throughout the growing period.

PROGRESS & SILK HOSIERY

Queen Elizabeth, who reigned in England from 1558 to 1603, was the proud possessor of silk hosiery. That in itself, is an interesting fact, but the story it tells is of far greater significance.

The luxuries of today are the necessities of tomorrow. Our industrial system is based on volume prduction system is based on volume production not be successful without it. Joseph Schumpeter, a widely known and distinguished economist has put the situation in these words:

"The capitalist achievement does not consist of providing more silk stockings for queens, but in bringing them within the reach of factory girls for steadily decreasing amounts of effort."

Industry might have taken a different road. The economic system could have provided more things for people of great wealth, but capitalism meant a system of mass production for the people, at low prices, prices they could pay.

Take, for instance, the telephone. It was, at first, regarded as a toy few dreamed of the part it would play in business. It is a great labor saving device. Then moving pictures and radio, from small beginnings, they have grown tremendously, bringing joy, happiness, and wider knowledge to millions. The household refrigerator is now common equipment! Progress was slow at first. Now there are over 20,000,000 on the continent of America. Who can measure the help and health this gives to millions of people. Capitalism brings to the world, more goods, better quality for steadily decreasing amounts of effort.

Nor should we forget the leader of them all, the motor car. It too might have been confined to the luxury class. The men who developed it had a greater problem—they had to find a wider market for a higher priced product. Fortunately, they had the larger vision. They planned for mass production. They moved towards lower prices. Year by year, they built more serviceable cars, bringing them steadily within the buying range of more and more of the people of the nation. They carried out, in their plants, the idea of great production per man and with greater production went higher pay—they brought to the minds of men the fact that higher earnings are the fruit of increased production, there is no other way.

Nor should we ignore the steady improvement in the quality of products produced. It is in evidence everywhere. The bread we eat, the meat and eggs we buy, the milk we consume, has been standardized at a higher quality. There is here, an improvement in the stardard of living, which price indexes fail to record but which represents a material change for the better, in the things we buy and use. All this was evolved under a system of production for the masses, not for the few. It gave to the workers more of the things they wanted for steadily decreasing amounts of effort.

But we are in a hurry, too great a hurry! We want the millennium tomorrow morning—5:30 daylight saving time. It won't come—'till we earn it. There are times when the hurry hinders rather than helps. Think of this: If the national income was increased one and two-thirds per cent per year it would double in 50 years—gain as much in the next fifty years as in the previous 1944—what a triumph that would be—can we make it?

Wait a moment! There's good news. As we go to press there comes a dispatch stating that a new process has been developed which will eliminate runs in silk hosiery—another gain for progress.

IN MEMORIAM

RIDDELL—In loving memory of my dear mother, who died January 16th, 1938 and my dear father who died January 13th, 1944.

In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of you both are always near,
We who loved you, sadly miss you
As it dawns another year.
Ever remembered by

WHEN IODINE LOSES POTENCY IN SALT

Iodine is an important element in the growth of animals and for some time studies have been in progress to determine the loss of iodine in iodized salt under various conditions. Iodized rock salt placed outside during summer pasture conditions lost its iodine completely at the end of 2 months, irrespective of the stabilizer used. Under stall conditions, losses were less rapid, but at the end of 9 months there was little iodine and at the end of 16 months traces only were present.

When the salt was stored in a cool place in cardboard cartons, there was very little loss after nine months, and when stored in glass jars, there was no loss at the end of 15 months. From the fact that iodine was lost less rapidly in the winter than in the summer, it is concluded that the combination of moisture and sunlight is the chief factor causing the loss of iodine. From this initial experiment in the laboratories of the Division of Chemistry, Dominion Department of Agriculture, it would appear, says the report, that the stabilizers which were used did not appreciably prevent the iodine loss.

T. ROOSEVELT STRESSED CARE OF EYES

It is known that seeing is a function of the brain, as are also hearing smelling and testing. But here is a curious fact. Though these sensations exist only in the brain, they never seem to be there. They always seem to be in some other part of the body or even outside of the body. If someone steps on your toe you say you feel the sensation in the toe whence the nerve impulses were conducted to the brain. Some sensations are projected completely beyond the limits of the body. We do not hear the motor horn in our ears but out where the car is located. We do not see the car in our eyes where the nerve endings are stimulated but completely outside where the car is located or where we think it is located.

The accurate projection of sensation is largely the result of experience. People who are born blind and whose sight is later restored have difficulty for a time in appreciating the distance and relation of objects: Even people with high errors of vision, may, at first, experience the same difficulty in a lesser degree when given glasses that correct the error and give them clear vision that they have not been accustomed to.

Notice a woman who ordinaryily wears corrective lenses try to thread a needle without them. She may miss the needle by inches. But with her lenses and restored vision all goes well again. The person with uncorrected eye defects is always handicapped. Theodore Roosevelt said that as a boy he was clumsy and backward. Then he found that he could not see things that other boys were able to see and his parents had his eyes examined and lenses prescribed. It opened up a new world to the boy, and no one will say that Roosevelt was a back number after that. It is safe to say that the list of presidents of the United States would have never contained the name of Theo. Roosevelt if he had been condemned to go through life with uncorrected vision.

Six out of every ten persons cannot see efficiently without aid and only two out of that six have taken the precaution to secure proper assistance determined by a visual analyses. The reason is that there is no accurate means of comparing one's own vision with that of any other person.

Only an optometrical examination can determine the degree of efficiency—not mere visual acuity—with which any individual is seeing. Modern living, either as civilian or serviceman makes greater demands on rapid, accurate vision than any age in the past.

New Provincial Educational Grants As They Affect Elementary Schools

1. All rural boards will receive in 1945 in the annual legislative grant an amount equal to 50 percent or more of the school operation costs for the calendar year 1944. Fewer than 150 urban centres will receive less than 50 percent of their 1944 operating costs, while more than 5600 public and separate schools will obtain 50 percent or more of these costs. In gross, the Ontario Government will pay in school grants in 1945 50 percent of the cost of elementary and secondary education in the province. About 20 percent was paid in 1944.

2. The scheme is the simplest which has yet been used in Ontario. School secretaries, municipal clerks, teachers, inspectors and clerks in government departments will be occasioned less work in preparing the necessary reports and in making payment of the grants.

3. For urban centres the grants to public and separate school boards vary according to the population of the urban centre, and are a percentage of the preceding calendar year's school operation costs. This percentage begins at 80 for the largest urban centres and goes as high as 60 for the smallest urban centres. In each urban centre the percentage of school operating costs paid to the public school board and to the separate school board is the same. The table covering urban centres is as follows:

(a) 100,000 or more, 30% of the approved cost.

(b) 10,000 or more but less than 100,000, 35% of the approved cost.

(c) 5,000 or more but less than 10,000, 42% of the approved cost.

(d) 2,500 or more but less than 5,000 50% of the approved cost.

(e) less than 2,500, 60% of the approved cost.

(All four villages in Dundas County are in category e).

4. For rural school sections and areas the grants to public and separate school boards are a percentage of the preceding calendar year's school operation costs. This begins at 50% where the assessment per classroom of the rural school area is highest and goes as high as 90% where the assessment per classroom is lowest. It is necessary to use assessment as a basis for rural schools since no comparable population statistics are available for school sections.

The basis for rural and public and separate schools is as follows:

(a) Equalized Assessment $80,000 or more per classroom, 50% of the approved cost.

(b) $50,000 or more but less than $80,000, 60% of the approved cost.

(c) $30,000 or more but less than $50,000, 75% of the approved cost.

(d) less than $30,000, 90% of the approved cost.

(In the territorial districts the actual and not the equalized assessment is to be used).

Township Boards and Township School Area Boards

1. Grants to township boards and township school area boards are upon the same basis as for rural public schools, except that,

2. An additional grant equal to one mill calculated on the equalized assessment in counties and on the actual assessment in territorial districts of all rateable property in the township or area, as the case may be is paid to township boards and township school area boards, but such additional grant shall not be less than $150.00 nor more than $300.00 for each school section which has become a part of a larger unit of administration. NOTE: The township school area now in operation in Williamsburg Township will now receive annually an additional $900 in legislative grants, as against the $600 which it has been receiving. Matilda township which goes under a township school board in January 1946 will receive a minimum of $3000 additional in legislative grants annually. A minimum of $150 per school section will be paid in the autumn of this year to each individual school board, in addition to the grants regularly earned. Three schools in that township which have been closed temporarily due to small school population will each stand to receive $150 next autumn, and these three schools will bring into the treasury of the township school board a similar amount in succeeding years. Thus schools closed temporarily cease to be a dead loss so far as legislative grants are concerned, if they form a part of a larger unit of administration.

5. While no board may receive in grants more than 95% of its school operating costs for the preceding calendar year, yet each board is guaranteed a grant at least equal to that received in 1944.

6. The Ontario Government emphasized two main principles when announcing the new scheme. These were:

(a) that increased grants from the provincial treasury are to be the means of lowering the burden of taxation for school purposes on real property;

(b) that the increased grants are to enable every community to provide for every Ontario child as nearly equal an educational opportunity as possible.

7. The increased grants to high and continuation school boards will lower the cost of secondary school education for county pupils since high school boards are required to deduct all legislative grants from their gross costs in determining the net cost to be paid by the county and township councils in behalf of their county pupils attending high schools. This will lower high school costs levied through county rates on farm properties and should enable more rural pupils to attend high schools and for longer periods.

8. Assisted grants will not be required after the new grant scheme goes into operation, and fewer special grants for the teaching of special subjects will be necessary. Every school board will be expected to provide a full program of studies with both obligatory and optional subjects included and with ample equipment for use by teacher and pupils.

9. While the larger cities will receive in school grants 30% of their school costs and the poorest rural areas may receive 95%, the tax rate necessary to raise the remaining 5% in the poorest areas will still be larger than the rate required to raise the remaining 70% in the large urban centre.

10. The County equivalent of the legislative grants on equipment and accommodations, formerly required, is now discontinued.

11. It seems probable that special grants for Fifth Classes and for transportation of pupils to secondary schools will be discontinued since boards will now receive at least 50% of their costs for these services.

12. Since all costs are subject to approval before grants can be assured, there should be the closest understanding and cooperation between the school board and the inspector in each case.

Any rapid increase in expenditures by boards in 1945 (and this is very important) will defeat the main purpose of the new grants and will give the Province difficulties in meeting grants on the basis of 50% of costs in future years. The first accomplishment in 1945 should be a major reduction in local school rates, and then a moderate use of the increased grants toward more and better equipment, and improved school buildings and school grounds.

13. Under date of December 21st, a circular to all public school boards in Dundas County from the office of the local school inspector, contained the following advice (quoted).

"The increased school grants are to aid in removing part of the heavy taxation on real property for the support of schools, as well as to create better and more equalized opportunities educationally for the pupils of the Province. I would respectfully but emphatically caution boards against increasing expenditures unduly with an eye mainly upon increased provincial grants. Until the war is finally won (and there appears to be no prospect of an early peace), I would recommend that boards carry on pretty much as they have been doing, so far as expenditures are concerned—that is, that they defer any large-scale outlays for the present. In the event that any unusual expenditure is contemplated, the boards should consult the inspector before committing themselves, as under the new system, grants are payable only upon approved expenditures. I would not interpret this to mean such routine expenditures as pertained to the purchase of pupils' library books, maps or other standard items of equipment fuel, caretaking expenses, painting and routine repairs, and pupils' consumable supplies such as pencils, work books, etc., but it would apply to any major expenditure."

Grants for Collegiate Institutes, High Schools, Grade A and B Continuation Schools

1. $10.00 per pupil of average attendance for the preceding calendar year.

2. An additional grant where the mill rate is—

	% of approved cost.
(a) less than 1 mill	5%
(b) 1 mill or more but less than 2 mills	10%
(c) 2 mills but less than 3 mills	15%
(d) 3 mills but less than 4 mills	20%
(e) 4 mills but less than 5 mills	25%
(f) 5 mills but less than 6 mills	30%
(g) 6 mills but less than 7 mills	35%
(h) 7 mills but less than 8 mills	40%
(i) 8 mills but less than 9 mills	45%
(j) 9 mills but less than 10 mills	50%
(k) 10 mills but less than 11 mills	55%
(l) 11 mills but less than 12 mills	60%
(m) 12 mills but less than 13 mills	65%
(n) 13 mills but less than 14 mills	70%
(o) 14 mills or more	75%

Mill rate in an urban municipality means the equalized assessment of the portion of the high school district lying within an urban municipality plus one-fifth of the equalized assessment of the portion of the high school district lying within a rural municipality.

In no case will legislative grants exceed 95% of the approved cost.

Other minor limiting factors based on average attendance and approved costs are omitted in this report.

Alan Young Returns Over Dominion Network

Canada's own youthful comedian, Alan Young, who recently rocketed to fame and a top radio place in the United States, is now a 1945 feature of the CBC Dominion network. Commencing on Jan. 2, Young's weekly half hour broadcast entitled "The Alan Young Show," goes over the Canadian airwaves each Tuesday at 8.30 p.m. EDT.

Alan arrived in New York last summer—via Toronto and Vancouver where he got his radio start—when he was invited to replace Eddie Cantor in a vacation spot. He made such a hit that he was invited to stay on to do a weekly show of his own. This began early last October, but until now it has not been heard over a Canadian network.

Born twenty-four years ago in England, Alan came to Canada with his parents when he was a very small boy and began doing amateur bits soon afterwards. He describes his parents as "frustrated entertainers" and claims he came by his acting ability honestly.

After many amateur appearances and entertainments at clubs in Vancouver, Alan got a job on a radio station as actor-announcer-writer-stenographer and office boy, but it wasn't until he became star of the comedy program "Stag Party" that his fame began to spread in Canada. After four years on this show he left for Toronto with a 26 week commercial contract in his pocket to write and star in his own comedy program. His big chance came when a New York agent dialed this show by accident, liked Young so much he suggested him for the Cantor replacement.

The following letters have been received by Berwick Women's Institute from boys overseas who have received parcels.

November 29, 1944.

Dear Mrs. Bogart:

Just a few lines in thanks for the lovely parcel I received from you a few days ago. I was sure surprised and very pleased to receive it.

To tell the truth I don't know how to start in thanking you, Mrs. Bogart, and your organization. It sure makes us feel good when we receive parcels from people around home, makes you feel that even if we are away there's still someone who thinks of us back home.

I trust that you will thank the other members of your institution for me, on their wonderful work in making us happy.

How are everyone around Berthe best of health. As for myself, I wick? I hope they are all enjoying am doing very good for what can be expected out in this part of the world. Of course, it is not like being back home with all the old friends, although I believe we will be back soon, all of us!

I guess this will be all, as I'm not too good at writing letters. News is also scarce out here. Thanks once more for the parcel. I will close wishing you all the best of luck and health.

Your Friend,
Edgar Lefebvre.

November 13th, 1944.

Dear Mrs. Bogart:

Several days ago I received a parcel from your Institute. I would like to take this opportunity of thanking you very much, as it was greatly appreciated.

Please extend to your members my best wishes for Christmas and the New Year.

Sincerely yours,
Alex Stark.

December 4, 1944.

Dear Mrs. Bogart:

I would like you to pass on my thanks to the members of the Berwick W. I. for the box of good things which I received a few days ago.

Although we will have to spend this Christmas over here, we know we will be at home next year.

It is getting quite cold in this country now, and is also damp, as the ground is very low and covered with water.

I would also like to thank Mrs. C. Swerdfeger for the lovely pair of socks which were in the parcel..

You are doing a wonderful job for the boys over here, and we hope to be able to repay you in some small part when we return.

Sincerely,
Arnott Empey.

November 30, 1944.

Dear Mrs. Bogart:

Just a few lines in thanks of the parcel which I received in your name from the Women's Institute of Berwick. Everything was very nice and I appreciate it all very much.

All is going well with me here and at present we are quite comfortable. Have had an awful lot of rain and all kinds of mud but now turning colder and will very likely be freezing up soon. Guess you know as well as I how long the war may last. But no doubt Spring will see the end here, and a lot of us should be home by mid summer.

Meet up with many chaps here from back home. Had a long talk with Alf. Carr the other day. He is here in the same area and also with the Camerons. Think he is married now to some gal from Scotland.

Again many thanks for the lovely parcel and please pass on my thanks to all members of the Women's Institute.

Wishing each and everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

I remain, Yours truly,
Jake Casselman.

November 3, 1944.

Dear Mrs. Swerdfeger:

I am writing these few lines to thank you for a small roll neck sweater which arrived today sent by the Canadian Red Cross and finding your address inside I guessed you made it.

It is the real thing for the weather over here and as I have spent 3 years over here I know what the winters are like, not the same as at home, dry: but lots of dampness and cold, and as I say the sweater is the real thing to keep out the cold.

My home is in Toronto and I can tell you I will sure be glad to see it once more or any part of Canada will do. There's no place like home. I will bring these few lines to a close wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. I remain,

Yours truly,
Cpl. L. Marples.

December 1st, 1944.

Dear Mrs. Bogart:

I am writing you this letter, in appreciation for the lovely Christmas parcel I received from you and I want you to convey my appreciation to the members of the Institute.

I am looking forward to having a good Christmas anyway. Well how is everybody at home. Tell them I was asking about them. Well news is real scarce over here. I received your parcel a few days ago, but we moved and I've been pretty well occupied since. Tell Mrs. Hutt her socks were smell as they sure come in handy over here.

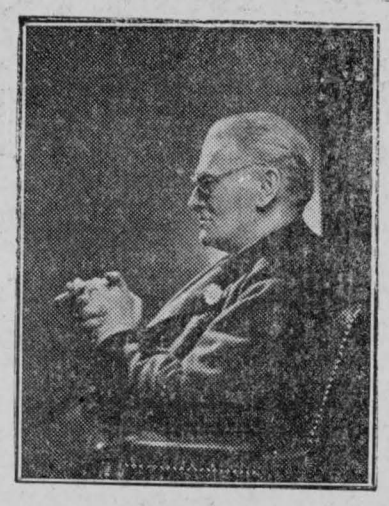

I am closing for now and once again I wish to thank you and members for the Christmas parcel and wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Yours truly,
Bryan Walsh.

"Oh, no," said the bright boy. "Dad says our cook's pretty reliable."

Irony

The late Herbert Mundin served through the last war on a British minesweeper. Like all men in that dangerous service, he was required to wear a life preserver at all times. It was bulky, uncomfortable and he came to hate it with a deadly hate. It symbolized all the discomforts of war.

One morning when his ship was on patrol in the North Sea, the wireless brought news of the armistice. With a wild whoop of joy, Mundin tore off his life jacket and hurled it overboard. It sank like a rock.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN
Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! We've only a soft spot on our butter plate after making hearty lunches for our industrious folk. Busy workers need more food for they use a lot of energy and should build resistance to the communicable diseases that are more prevalent at this time. The butter for the extra sandwiches is limited these days. Butter contains fat to supply a lot of energy and Vitamin A which regulates the functions of delicate membranes, particularly the breathing system. A substitute for this important product should be considered each day. More fatty meats, gravy, fish, salad dressing or mayonnaise, rich milk, supply similar fuels, while Vitamin A which is found in carrots, tomatoes green cabbage, milk and eggs.

The encouraging part of food substitutes is that there is always something else available and at comparable prices. With everyone doing their part less butter will be required. Meanwhile, 'stick' to recipes using other fats.

BROWN STEW OR BEEF WITH DUMPLINGS

1 pound round steak, ½ onion, 3 tbsp flour, 2 cups boiling water.

DUMPLINGS

2 cups flour, 4 tsps baking powder, ½ tsp. salt, 2/3 cup milk.

Cut the round steak or stewing beef into 1 inch cubes. Fry out the fat from it and in this brown the onion, chopped fine. Dredge the meat nicely with the flour, then add it to the fat and onion, and brown the cubes well. Add the hot water and one tsp vinegar. Let simmer one hour over electric element turned low. Fifteen minutes before the stew is done add the dumplings made as follows:

Sift the flour, salt and baking powder into a bowl. Add the milk using enough to make a soft dough. Drop by spoonsfuls over the stew cover closely and boil rapidly for 15 minutes. Serve on a platter with the dumplings as border for the meat and garnish with bouquets of parsley.

BREADED STEAKS

Three veal steaks, ¾-inch thick, salt and pepper, flour, 1 egg, 3 tbsp. water, fine bread crumbs, 3 tbsps. shortening, ½ cup liquid, grated lemon rind and chopped parsley.

Wipe meat, sprinkle with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. Beat egg and water. Dip meat into crumbs then into egg mixture and again into crumbs. Brown in hot shortening. Add liquid (water, broth, tomato juice or sour cream). Cover and cook slowly for about 45 minutes in electric oven. Serve very hot, sprinkle with combined lemon rind and parsley.

CORNMEAL DUTCH APPLE CAKE

Cornmeal goes grandly with apples —as this delicious dessert will prove! Serve it hot from the oven, with cream; or try something unusual, and serve this hot apple corn-cake with crisp sausages or bacon, as a hearty luncheon or supper dish.

1¼ cup pastry flour, 4 tsps. baking powder, ¾ tsp. salt, 5 1/3 tbsps. shortening, 1/3 cup brown sugar, 1 egg, 1 cup milk,, 1 cup cornmeal, peeled apple wedges, brown sugar, ground cinnamon (optional).

Sift the flour once before measuring. Add baking powder and salt, and sift again. To the soft shortening, add sugar; combine thoroughly Beat and add the egg. Add milk and cornmeal. Mix thoroughly. Let stand while peeling two apples and cutting in eighths.

Add dry ingredients to cornmeal mixture and combine well. Spread in greased 8 inch pan. Cover with the apple wedges, pressing down edges into batter. Sprinkle with brown sugar, then cinnamon. Bake in electric oven 375 deg. for 25 to 30 minutes. Cut in squares and serve hot—with cream if as dessert, with crisp sausage if a main course.

NOTE: If desired, the mixture may be baked in greased muffin pans, for individual Dutch Apple Cakes and served with Pudding Sauce.

OLD-FASHIONED PUDDING SAUCE

½ cup sugar, 2 tbsps. flour, ⅛ tsp. salt, 1 cup hot water, 1 tbsp. milk-flavoured fat, 1 egg yolk, 1 tsp. vanilla.

Combine sugar, flour, salt and water. Bring to boiling point. Stir in fat. Add to beaten egg yolks, return to heat and cook, stirring for 2 minutes. Add vanilla.

To pancake flour add ¼ cup sugar. Beat eggs until light, add milk and vanilla; add to dry mixture and combine well. Mix in a little additional milk if required—the batter should be rather thick "drop" consistency. Have deep fat at 365 deg. (hot enough to brown a cube of bread in 60 seconds). Drop batter by small spoonfuls into fat. To make shaping easier, dip spoon in fat before using to shape the doughnuts. Fry until golden brown. Drain on crumpled absorbent paper and coat with a mixture of sifted icing sugar and ground cinnamon. (Keep doughnuts rather small, to give a generous proportion of thin, crisp, golden-brown crust). Twenty to twenty-four small doughnuts.

Thank Women's Institute For Christmas Parcels

Dear Ladies:

Your most welcome parcel arrived late last month in excellent condition and I wish to thank the Institute and especially Mrs. Colquhoun most heartily.

You know it isn't the fact that a parcel contains needed items, or coveted luxuries, although one must admit that those things do make it enjoyable alone—but it is because interested and sympathetic ladies, thousands of miles away, think of the boys far away and sent a remembrance.

Your kindness will be remembered.

Gratefully,
R. W. Hummel.

13 December, 1944.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Labre:

Received your very welcome Christmas greeting and letter and I must say I am extremely glad to hear from you people.

It seems some of us have been away for so long now that only a few remember. In times like this one comes through to find true friends, those that work on at home for the war effort, and on behalf of the men overseas I thank those at home for their worthwhile effort. You will smile to yourself Mrs. Labre when I mention this. When our mail Cpl. passed by and handed me your Christmas greeting I was in about as nice a mess as one could get in. I was entertaining near the front approximately 2150 men in three different places not far apart, under trying circumstances, under darkness and also our close friend rain hence mud. Well to make a long story short, all three projectors or generators broke down within five minutes shortly after starting. Well I was just starting then to lose what small amount of religion I have left when the Cpl. handed me your letter in semi-darkness. I looked at it and figured of course it might be official and it is always best to read official orders at once and I was in a good frame of mind to read official orders when I noticed it was a Christmas greeting. Well Mrs. Labre, I saw the humorous side the situation, shoved it in my pocket for future reference and got busy. Glad to say in a matter of minutes the equipment was repaired and everybody happy. So you see that is one Christmas card which helped a great deal. Our work gets real trying at times and it requires all the will power to continue, but our fighting men here are doing a grand job under trying circumstances and everything we can do to keep their morale up is well worth doing.

Sorry to hear of Clarence being wounded, however as long as they come through O.K. it is not so bad.

I have seen some very sad cases over here, a great many. War seems so unnecessary and all that, sometimes I think the civilians suffer more than the troops. One notices some heart-breaking cases among the civilians over here.

You have a real job on your hands with the soldiers' parties, for Chesterville has several representatives at the front. Best of everything and kindly remember me to all the folks.

Your Friend,
Gordon Cummings.

Avonmore Church Destroyed By Fire

A village landmark was destroyed by fire Saturday morning when St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, built in 1890, was destroyed in a blaze of unknown origin.

So fierce was the fire, despite the efforts of a volunteer bucket brigade and the Finch fire department that it was felt the village was saved only by the heavy layers of snow on most of the rooftops.

The loss, partly covered by insurance, is estimated at $15,000 including contents.

The fire was noticed by Mrs. A. O. Miller, who aroused neighbors, shortly after 1 a.m. So intense was the heat that several windows in the Miller home and other nearby houses were broken.

A new heating system had been installed a few weeks ago, but it was believed the fire may have been caused by faults in the chimney.

Rev. M. N. McDonald is minister in charge of the church.

NOW SHIPPING SHELL EGGS TO BRITAIN

At least 600,000 cases of Canadian shell eggs are to be exported to Britain before April 30, 1945, and every surplus egg of suitable grade and size (Grade A Large and Grade A Medium only) will be required to fill the contracts, states the Dominion Department of Agriculture. From now on, many registered egg stations will be putting up a complete export pack in their own premises at the request of carlot assemblers. It is now clear that the future of the poultry industry in Canada is largely dependent upon the satisfaction and reputation that may be established on the current shipment of eggs. If the eggs arrive in Britain in good condition and of the quality represented, a long step will have been taken towards insuring a market in the future.

Grade A Large and Grade A Medium alone should be packed for export. Proper grading, paying attention to the fact that Grade A means Grade A as defined in the Canadian standards for eggs should be observed. All eggs should be packed large end up and packed only in new cases with new egg trays, or new No. 1 fillers and cup flats. No extremely large or long shaped eggs or eggs with weak shells should be included, and each egg that is exported is to be stamped with the word "Canada" That is now a British requirement, and the number of the Canadian registered egg station is to be stamped on the right hand side of the top cleat on each end of case.
