Blair Starts Campaign Trail

Gordon Blair Starts Campaign For Re-election

Liberals and friends of Gordon Blair from all over Grenville-Carleton, including a bus load from Iroquois, attended the nomination convention of the Liberal Association Monday night, packing the Merivale school auditorium.

It was a quiet nomination meeting, Mr. Blair being the only candidate, and a meeting more of recognizing the past services of Mr. Blair to the riding as a whole and as well giving Mr. Blair an opportunity to give a report of his stewardship of the past four years.

Hugh Blaine of Mountain officially presented Mr. Blair's nomination, seconded by the ladies section of the party, the President of Carleton Provincial Association and a representative of the youth branch of the Liberal Association.

Grenville-Carleton Liberal Association President Cliff Chadderton chaired the meeting, calling on constituents to offer their services in the forthcoming election in various job capacities. He announced that the full campaign would gather momentum rapidly in the coming weeks, now that the nominating convention was over noting that the "opposition are doing a good job with their efforts".

The Legion Pipe Band of Spencerville started the show and a group of Ottawa entertainers added to the festive note of the convention.

Mr. Blair undertook to touch on many aspects of life in this riding and the diversified problems faced in this unique riding, from the suburbanites, public servants, farmers, small business men and industrial workers.

He dwelt on the problems within the civil service, of bilingualism, of the farmers' plight and of the problems in the country as a whole and the part he has played in all spheres as Member for this riding.

Mr. Blair noted that "from the beginning I have seen the task of representation as including three man responsibilities. First, to be an ombudsman to assist people in their many dealings with government. Second, to ascertain the opinions of the constituency as a whole

To address Lions

Carl Brant, a council member of the Six Nations Indian Band, will be guest speaker at Iroquois Lions Club on Monday evening at the Iroquois Civic Centre. Mr. Brant will act as an official representative of the Iroquois group of Indian tribes and will give a history of the Indians as part of his address.

The dinner is called at the regular 6:30 time, but at 8 p. m. the general public is asked and invited to attend the Lions meeting to hear Mr. Brant.

This year the Iroquois Lions Club is celebrating its 25th anniversary of service within the community.

Busy Times Being Planned

Morrisburg Lions and Fire Department are sponsoring an Oktoberfest at Community Centre, Sat., Sept. 23, from 9 to 2 featuring Bavarian Brass Band. And Home and Trade Show sponsored by Morrisburg Chamber of Commerce on Sept. 28-29-30 which again promises to be an interesting event. It is running each evening from 7.30 to 11.

A trade show is also being planned by Iroquois Lions Club in October - the 20th and 21st at the Seaway District High, with plenty of door prizes. Anyone interested in entering an exhibit is asked to contact Peter Swank, Frank Rooney or George Jackson regarding details of entry.

Joint Bingo Morrisburg

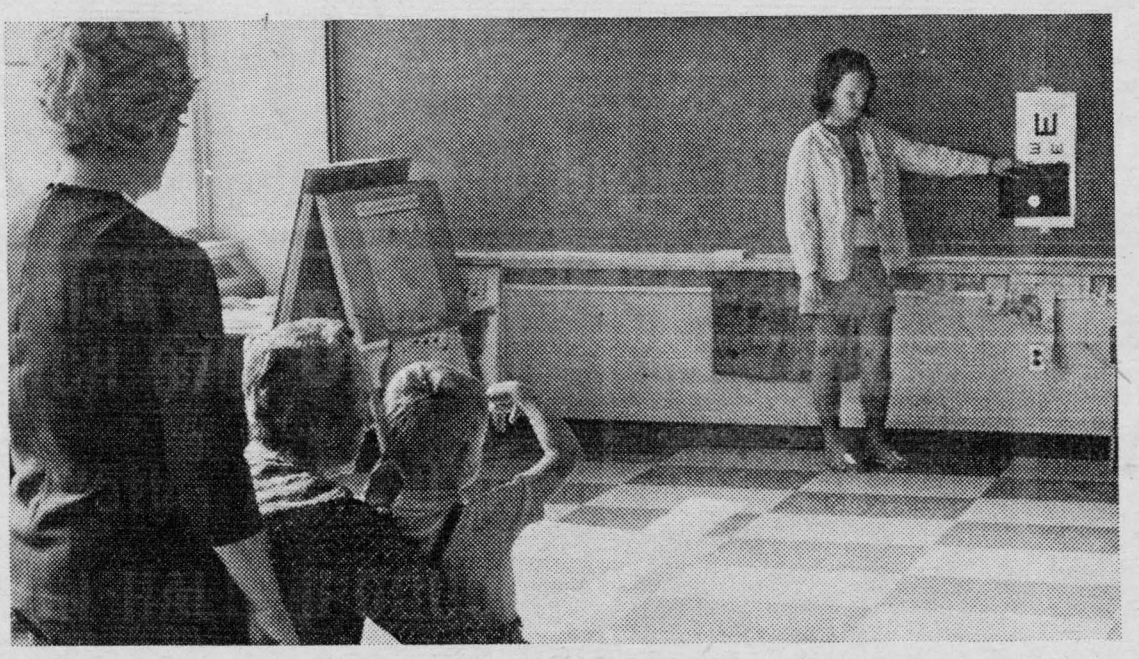
Tonight (Wednesday) Iroquois and Morrisburg Lions Clubs are joining together for a joint bingo in Morrisburg Arena. It will be the largest bingo ever held along this area of the "front" with prizes totalling over $900 being offered.

The bingo starts at 8 p.m. and we would advise readers to be at the arena early to get choice seats. The clubs announce that there is seating for 1,000 people in the arena.

Several dozen Lions members will be hard at work tonight assisting in running the bingo to raise money for projects within their respective communities. It is a very worthwhile cause and we urge all interested in bingo to attend to support their local service organizations.

SPECIAL NOTE TO HUNTERS

We publish a special appeal to hunters NOT TO SHOOT a Black Swan that is making its home below Iroquois. Be a true sportsman and save her life.



Another CNIB Service

Children will not grow crossed eyes. As a part of its prevention of blindness program, CNIB informs parents of the need to check early and in some localities conducts surveys on children's eyes. When you make a gift to the once-a-year financial appeal of The Canadian National Institute fot the Blind, you advance the prevention of blindness program right here in this district.

Election '72

If performance in office is the only criteria, then Gordon Blair should have no trouble getting re-elected in Grenville-Carleton. For certainly Mr. has worked hard at representing all the people of Grenville-Carleton, as well as Canadians as a whole.

His unopposed nomination to again represent the Liberal party in this riding is certainly proof of his wholehearted acceptance by his own party at the constituency level.

During his four years serving this riding, he has operated on an open door policy. Any person could contact him, and thousands did, and always received a fair hearing. And he acted with good faith on all requests for his assistance with no thought as to the political affiliation of any of those seeking help.

His honesty in all his dealings with the public, his ability to "listen" to all complaints and his astuteness in handling these situations, have certainly made him one of the most able and respected Members this riding has had in all its years.

With many problems facing the government of Canada and many of those problems focused on some aspects of our riding's people, Mr. Blair is well aware of the political situation in his own area. Unemployment, the bilingualism issue, the farmers plight, are among the foremost problems to be faced.

As well, Mr. Blair will have to contend with the aspirations of the Conservatives who are ably represented by Walter Baker, an Ottawa lawyer and former resident of the "front". Mr. Baker is sparing no efforts in his campaign to try to take the riding away from the Liberals and Mr. Blair. And he is presenting a well organized campaign, hoping that this will do the job and reach the required results.

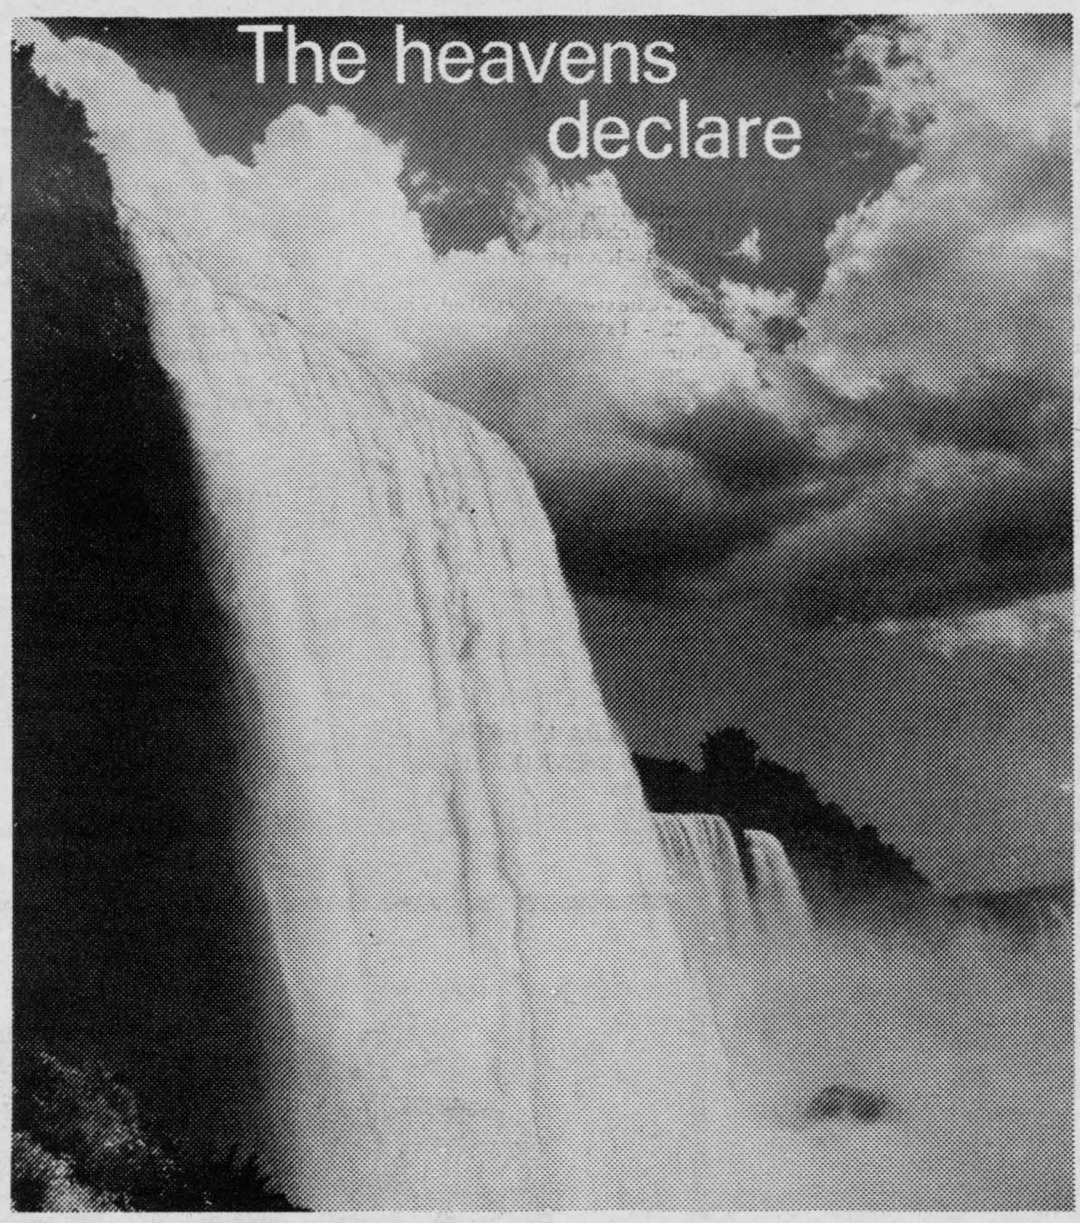
There is no thought of complacency on either side and both major parties are going to mount their strongest campaigns in the history of the riding as they seek to elect their candidate.

So we have before us a newcomer to the arena seeking to upset a man who has worked hard, and who has become well known to the people he has represented.

The coming weeks will see all manner of accusations and promises and the public in general will have much to sort out as they try to make up their minds as to whom they wish to have as a representative in the House of Commons.

We look forward with interest and anticipation to these few remaining weeks now before us and the results that will ensue.

While we may have our personal opinions as to what we would like to see happen, we also would like to see the campaign conducted in a manner befitting to our Canadian way of life without mud-slinging and inuendoes. Both men are known for their honesty of opinion and we hope they continue to maintain that quality throughout the coming weeks.



People are so busy here and there that they often fail to perceive the beauty and grandeur of Creation.

A storm at sea, a beautiful sunrise or a full moon riding in a clear sky are but commonplace aspects of the weather. Towering mountains, a great waterfall or a far-spread fertile valley are but features of the landscape.

Blessed is the man gifted with the vision and understanding to see the deeper meaning of Nature's matchless wonders.

For behind all the wonderful phenomena of earth and sea and sky is the pattern of a sublime plan which stirs the awe and challenges the imagination of man. There can be but one answer to the marvels and wonders of the universe—God! The Church brings man into spiritual relationship with his Creator.

TIME TO QUIT BEING CRYBABIES

by Bill Smiley

I am reluctantly coming to the conclusion that Canadians are turning into a nation of crybabies. It hurts, because I love this country and want to respect and admire my fellow-citizens.

But the feeling has been growing for some time and neared full flower after the first hockey game against the Russians.

What an edifying spectacle that was! There were our finest, giving up everything – except salaries, insurance, expenses and other fringe benefits – to defend our national honour against those dastardly Russians who'd had the nerve to think they belonged on the same ice.

And there was a huge and happy crowd of hockey fans, almost slavering over the anticipated slaughter.

And there were the poor old Russians, walking into the lion's den, some of them so pint-sized compared to our hulking menaces that they looked as though they were fairly large Peewee players.

Whack! went the puck into the net and the roof nearly went off the Forum. Whack! again, and across the nation people winked at each other and settled back to speculate on whether the Russians could score a goal before our heroes got into two figures.

But then something began to happen that turned strong men across the country a pale gray. Those dumb Russians didn't know enough to quit and go home and forget the whole thing as a bad dream. They just kept skating and passing and shooting, and every so often, one of their shots would go into the Canadian net.

The happy crowd in the Forum grew glummer and glummer. Team Canada, the greatest, and most expensive collection of hockey talent ever gathered under one roof, looked more and more like the Hayfork Centre Midgets. But just wait until the third period. After all, these guys are pro's. They'll get organized and come back to win the game with a bang.

Unfortunately, the game ended, not with a bang, but a whimper. Toward the end, the visitors were toying with the Canadians, as a toreador plays a bull. And toward the end, our boys began to resemble bulls, rushing wildly at anything that moved, only to find it wasn't there.

Not content with looking like the Ladies' Aid on skates, some Canadian players showed anything but professionalism and began swinging sticks, throwing elbows, and such. Crybaby stuff.

What about the fans? Did they give the Russians a standing ovation, or even a hearty round of applause for toppling the giants?

Not they. They filed sullenly out of the arena, muttering, grasping for excuses, dazed. They hadn't had their blood. The toreador had not been tossed by the bull, and the bull had not even been neatly dispatched, just sort of stunned. Crybabies.

In the next morning's papers, it was rather fun to watch the experts and the sports writers tearing at their own entrails like wounded hyenas, a species which sports writers resemble in some respects. Crybabies.

To be fair, the players and coaches were honest. They'd been well and thoroughly whipped, and admitted it.

Since then, of course, things have changed and our businessmen on skates are showing why they are so well paid. But the fact is

Fall Schedule For 'Treachery and Triumph'

Residents of Iroquois and community will be pleased to know that the passion play "Treachery and Triumph", presented in Iroquois last May, is alive and well! In fact, it has been getting ready for its fall schedule, which starts this Sunday evening in St. John's United Church, Kemptville.

Since the early part of September, the Director, Rev. Brian Gee, has been working with several new actors who will fill the places left vacant by Keith Dalton, Christine Styles, and David Hill, who have left for University.

Danny Tucker, who played Annas, moves to the role of Pilate. Wayne Marston will take the part of Annas. Stephen Peacock will play the two roles of Judas and Herod. Katy Organ of Morrisburg will take the role of Mary Magdalene. The remainder of the original cast will be active again in their usual roles. Two girls, Jennie VanBeilen and Christine Mudde, have been added to the cast, as well as four new boys. They are Jimmy Mustard, Peter Karelse, William Ewing, and Stanley Davis.

Over the summer, the play was performed at the Teen Weekend at Rideau Hill Camp. At that time, Mr. Richard Dennison of the Theatre Department, National Arts Centre, Ottawa, was present. He was asked to offer constructive criticism, to enable the cast to strengthen their performance for the several fall presentations Short of minor items, Mr. Dennison said he had no criticisms. He commented that he has seen several different "passion plays" presented by professionals, but that he was moved and captivated as much by "Treachery and Triumph" as any of them. He referred to the cross used in the play as "a work of art".

The following are the dates for the fall schedule:

Sept. 24 - Kemptville United Church
Oct. 1 - Chesterville United Church
Oct. 22 - 1st Presbyterian Church, Brockville
Oct. 29 - Knox United Church, Cornwall
Nov. 5 - Southminster United Church, Ottawa
Nov. 12 - Town of Mount Royal United Church, Montreal
Nov. 19 - Iroquois United Church, Iroquois.

The time of each Sunday evening performance in these churches is 8:00 p.m.

Danger to Merit System

"There is a grave danger to the merit system in the announcement by Treasury Board President Drury that the Government intends to list bilingual jobs," so states Walter Baker, Progressive Conservative candidate in Grenville-Carleton. "If the Treasury Board persists in this policy the result will be that traffic signs will be erected on many deadend streets of Government Service. This latest guideline does not set forth what standard will be used and it does not signal a dropping of arbitrary quotas or the end of impossible deadlines. The bulldozer methods of implementation will continue but now there will be a policeman to give directions."

"The Trudeau Government has stated once again that it has no intention of easing the burdens of bilingualism for the unilingual public servant even though Mr. Drury admits the program has not produced the expected results. The listing of bilingual jobs is another example of arbitration and the refusal to accept formal representation of Public Service staff associations can do nothing but weaken confidence on the part of public servants"

"The Treasury Board and it's President ought not to assume that staff associations have nothing further to say about bilingualism in the Public Service; their membership has been living with it on a daily basis and even this arrogant Government might learn something if it consulted it's employees."

To release growth study

Claude Bennett, Parliamentary Assistant to the Ontario Treasurer, will release the Province's analysis of the Eastern Ontario Region's development prospects at a public meeting in Ottawa on Tuesday, October 3.

The 8 p.m. meeting will be at the Skyline Hotel, Lyon Street, Ottawa. The public is invited to attend.

The report, entitled "Design for Development: Prospects for the Eastern Ontario Region," is the first step in planning the economic growth and social development of the Region.

Mr. Bennett, who has special responsibilities for provincial planning, said: "It is important that the people in the Region realize the Report is not a evelopment plan. Rather, it is our analysis of the issues, trends and conflicts emerging from the Region's natural evolution in social, economic and geographic terms."

Mr. Bennett continued: "We at Queen's Park can spell out the Region's prospects as we see them based upon our contacts with organizations in the area. Now that we have this Report, it is appropriate to ask again how do the people of Eastern Ontario want the Region to develop so that they have the kind of life they desire for themselves, their families, the next generations?

"It is imperative that the people, the municipal representatives and members of the business community, make up their own minds on how they want this part of the Province shaped for future growth. Then, with their views known, we can sit down and formulate final recommendations to channel the development initiatives of private enterprise and local governments in a way that is acceptable to the people who choose to live in the Region."

Mr. Bennett, MPP for Ottawa-South, is expected to speak for about 30 minutes at the October 3 public meeting before answering questions from the audience. Copies of the Report will be available aftermeeting.

The Eastern Ontario Region consists of the counties of Lanark, Renfrew and Frontenac; the united counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry; Leeds and Grenville; and Prescott and Russell; and the Regional Municipality of Ottawa-Carleton.

Mrs. Ida Foster Mourned In Area

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida B. Foster were conducted Friday, September 15 from the Fitzsimmons Funeral Home, Iroquois, with Rev. J.J. Hibbs officiating.

Born at Morrisburg on Aug. 17, 1884, she was the daughter of the late Oscar Castleman and his wife the late Catharine Whistle. After receiving her education at the Morrisburg Collegiate Institute and the Ottawa Normal School, she, for some years, taught in the local area schools.

The former Ida Beatrice Castleman married Harry Lee Foster of Iroquois in 1908. He pre-deceased her in 1964.

To mourn the loss of a loving mother she leaves three sons, Edward on the Foster homestead, Iroquois, Donald with General Motors at London, Dr. H. Lee Foster, Hamilton and two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Tousaw (Marian) Iroquois; Mrs. Dwight Becksted (Eileen) of Morrisburg. Another daughter Mrs. John Moon (Doris)of Port Hope, pre-deceased her in 1950. Her only brother, Ernest, passed away a number of years ago. A number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren also survive.

The many floral tributes and "In Memoriam" cards bore evidence of the high esteem in which she was held.

Pall bearers were her five grandsons Edward Foster, Gordon Foster, Bruce Foster, Victor Foster, Arnold Barkley and Harold Dunbar of Iroquois.

Interment was in Point Iroquois Cemetery.

Bill Smiley

that if it had been a one-game shot, the Russians would be truly world champs. And if it had been a two-game series, total goals to count, the Russians would be winners, 8-7.

Somehow, the whole thing was a little saddening. I know a number of people who felt that their personal honour had been smirched. There were aggravated ulcers, endless alibis, and probably some heart attacks across this fair land. Over a game!

I chose this single incident to illustrate this sinking feeling I have that many Canadians have their values all turned around.

We whine endlessly about the Americans taking over Canada, and do nothing about it. Except warn stridently that something must be done about it. And then run to Washington, hat in hand, when the Yanks suggest any form of tariff that might cost us dollars. Crybabies.

We virtually ignore our writers, actors, artists, musicians, until they have made it big somewhere else. Then we can't understand why they don't come home and work in their own vineyard, at labourers' wages.

Same with our athletes. We sneer at their Olympic efforts. "Yeah, we finished twenty-third again." Smarmy sportscasters find all kinds of excuses for the athletes. Admirably, most of the latter are much more honest. The best of them bluntly say they did the best they could, but it wasn't good enough.

Oh, we're great at spending billions on building: highways, dams, high-rises; and on welfare, medicare, second-rate education. But when it comes to spending something on the development of the human being, in this case a strong national team of athletes, we pinch the purse until it hurts.

This is written more in sorrow than in anger. Let's wipe away the tears and stand up in the true north, strong and free. Come on, Canadians. Let's not be crybabies.

Mr. Charles McInnis gave a brief report on the meeting of the General Council of the United Church held at the University of Saskatchewan in Saskatoon.

Best Wishes are extended to Mrs. McInnis who underwent eye surgery on Wednesday in the Ottawa Civic Hospital.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction. The hostess served a dainty lunch and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

19 Attend UCW Meeting

The September meeting of Iroquois U.C.W. was held in the Church hall on Tuesday evening with 19 members present.

The meeting opened with hymn 157 and Scripture Reading from Mathew 6 and 7, followed. This was read by Mrs. Brian Gee, who was in charge of the Devotional period. A very thought-provoking reading entitled "Can Honest Men Pray" was given by Miss Kay Morgatroyd. Mrs. Gee then lead in Prayer. The offering was received and dedicated. This section of the meeting was brought to a close by singing of hymn "What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

Mrs. Mac Fetterly then took the president's chair for the business period. Minutes were read and approved. Treasurer's report showed a substantial bank balance.

Mrs. A. Brown gave a report, stating that in conjunction with Morrisburg U.C.W. and also U.C.W.'s from other churches, a bale was sent.

Mrs. U. Seeley requested those in charge of chapel boxes have the mall in for Nov. Meeting.

A committee composed of Mrs. S. Moffat, Mrs. G. Parmeter, Mrs. H. Marsters and Mrs. C. McGee was appointed to look after plans for the Bazaar coming up in November.

Mrs. Marion Davis and Mrs. Theresa Cougler agreed to convene the dinner for the Elders' Retreat, coming from Brockville which is to be held in United Church, Sept. 16.

A request for the U.C.W. to cater to a banquet for the Golf Club was brought before the members by the Committee Convenors, Mrs. M. Shaver and Mrs. G. Casselman and was dealt with.

Mrs. Joan Gee then gave a very interesting address from the study packet, on "Africa Today". The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

A social time followed, which was enjoyed by all.

Hockey League To Meet Here

The Upper St. Lawrence Minor Hockey League will hold its general meeting on Sept. 25/72 at 8 p.m. at the Iroquois Civic Centre. (Town Hall).

It is hoped that all minor hockey association presidents, or association representatives, league executives, managers, coaches, referees, sponsors, convenors, and interested parents will attend this meeting. It is hoped that the parties who are in receipt of this notice will extend to friends and others who may be interested an invitation to attend this meeting.

Application to enter the league will be accepted at this meeting along with the preparation of schedules for league play. A fee of $5.00 per team has been set as an entry to the league.

During the past season, the league had representation in the midget, bantam, pee wee, and atom divisions, with playoffs being conducted at the end of the regular schedule and the presentation of trophies and crests.

It is expected tohold three league meetings during the season in the months of November, January and April. Two meetings are determined by the league constitution which states that the annual meeting for the election of officers will take place on the fourth Monday of April, and the meeting to accept entries to the league, and to set up schedules is the first Monday in November. (By request the November Meeting is being held this year in September).

BY TOM TREMFIX

Question: We are very proud of the new barbecue we bought in the spring. However, our repeated use and enjoyment of it this summer has burned off most of the paint, and now we have an eyesore.

Is there an easily applied paint I can use that will improve the appearance, protect it from rust and not burn off when we put the unit back in use next summer?

Answer: There is a new line of Tremco Heat Resistant Enamels that are packaged in convenient aerosol cans for easy application. The enamel has been especially formulated for use on any metal surface that is subject to temperatures of up to 650°F, but not to direct flame. It would be ideal for the hood and the exterior of your barbecue. In fact, any surface that is not heated to more than 650°F. This does not include the grille itself. It can also be used to protect and beautify the heat-subject metal surfaces of camping equipment or home heating radiators that discolor when conventional coatings are used.

To get the best heat resistance and durability, the colours available are limited to flat black, orange, metallic aluminum, and metallic gold. However, this selection should enable you to satisfy your aesthetic needs.

SPRAY ON CLEAN SURFACE

To get a lasting finish, you should prepare the metal by removing any rust down to bare metal with a wire brush and make sure the surface is free of oil, grease, dirt and wax. When the surface is clean and dry, spray the heat resistant enamel directly on the metal without a primer. It will dry to touch in 3 to 5 minutes.

For information on the use or application of Tremco Heat Resistant Enamel, write to Tom Tremfix, The Tremco Manufacturing Company (Canada) Ltd., 220 Wicksteed Avenue, Toronto 17, Ontario.

on matters important to it and third, to speak as a Member on national issues".

He maintained that his "open door" policy and his accessability at all times was most important to his being available when the people needed him and that at no time did he refuse to meet with people or act on their behalf. "I believe that citizens, whether rich or poor, well known or not, should be able always to approach their government through their Member and assert their basic rights" he stated.

In referring to some of the remarks made in recent weeks by members of other parties, he reflected that their grandiose proposals seemed to be based "on a belief in miracles"; the spending of more money coupled at the same time with lower taxes.

Mr. Blair said he was going into this campaign with enthusiasm and optimism and was seeking re-election basing his platform on "past performance" and his record in the past four years as representative of this riding in the government.
