Bullies beware

Winchester Public School students, along with peers at a number of Upper Canada District School Board educational facilities, took a stance against bullying on Wed., Nov. 20. During the boardwide Pink Shirt Day initiative, students were encouraged to wear a pink article of clothing to show that, despite their differences, everyone could come together as one against bullying. Township's waste management woes ongoing

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER – As the provincial Ministry of Labour keeps a watchful eye on the Township of North Dundas' recycling pick-up practices, the department's director remains handcuffed by an increased workload and a lack of manpower.

During the municipality's Tues., Nov. 19 council meeting, Doug Froats informed politicians he has sent formatted collection procedures to the ministry.

To date, Froats has had to install a platform on the department's recycling pick-up vehicle, which was added in order to provide more security for those employees taking part in the weekly practice.

In the past, one department staff member has driven the truck, while another worker would stand on the attached bumper at the rear of the vehicle. The worker then hops off at each designated stop.

However, this act goes against ministry guidelines, and presents the possibility of hazards to occur. This was the message delivered to Froats by a ministry staff member who happens to live in the community, and witnessed the recycling team's process.

The waste management department may also be violating the provincial Highway Traffic Act by making a sweep up and down both sides of a single road or street at once, zigzagging back and forth. Froats, however, said he is awaiting clarification on the matter.

Meanwhile, Froats has been tinkering with the weekly collection process. One idea would see blue boxes placed on one side of the road on those thoroughfares travelled just once on collection day. For those travelled more than once, pick-up times for homes may vary.

"It is not an easy process changing the whole system," he said.

Flash A 'Stache finale set for Friday

WINCHESTER – Funds raised have surpassed $26,000, and the 2013 Dare to Flash A 'Stache campaign is set to go out in style on Fri., Nov. 29.

That evening, the Winchester Junior "B" Hawks Alumni squad is slated to take on the Ottawa Senators Alumni at the Joel Steele Community Centre. Game time is 8:15 pm.

The upstairs hall at the rink will open at 7 pm for a social hour prior to the game, while the public will be welcomed there afterward to celebrate the achievements of this year's prostate cancer awareness initiative.

Jordan Hodge, a computer technician at THC Technology in Hallville, has taken over the top spot in individual fundraising, generating $3,625 to date. It is expected Hodge will shave off both his beard and hair during the Nov. 29 celebration.

In the team fundraising department, the Mountain and District Lions Club leads the way, having secured $3,070 in pledges.

The inaugural campaign in 2012 raised $57,025.50, with proceeds being split between the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Foundation and the fundraising arm of the Ottawa Hospital.

This year, the initiative goal was raised to $75,000, with funds earmarked for both the local hospital foundation and Dr. Anthony Bella's ongoing men's health research project.

Anglican Parish prepping for regional church build

WINCHESTER – A sign was long ago erected in a field south of Winchester proclaiming the land as the new home of the North Dundas Anglican Parish. Now, the news inscripted on the faded marker is ringing true.

Tenders are due today (Wed., Nov. 27) from any construction firm hoping to play a part in the building on a new Anglican church for the region.

In this part of Eastern Ontario, the last standing church of the Anglican denomination is Winchester's St. Matthias. Houses of worship in Chesterville, Crysler, and South Mountain were shuttered some time ago due to shrinking congregations and increasing facility operation costs.

The new church, which has yet to be named, is expected to occupy 5,000 square-feet along County Road 31.

Construction is proposed to begin in early 2014.

Forum to tackle youth employment issues

CHESTERVILLE – In an effort to retain as many youthful workforce entrants as possible, a rural forum on employment for young people is set to take place in Chesterville.

Scheduled for Mon., Dec. 2, several provincial ministries, local economic development agencies, employers, youth, and non-profit organizations will hear new ideas, share their knowledge, and discuss priority actions.

The forum is being hosted by the Township of North Dundas and the Rural Ontario Institute (ROI).

"As a young Ontarian who recently graduated university, I understand first-hand the difficulty and challenges associated with youth employment in rural communities," North Dundas Mayor Eric Duncan said. "This event provides an opportunity to look at what we are doing well, and ways we can collectively address and communicate new ideas going forward."

A youth panel will discuss challenges surrounding school-to-workforce transitions. Provincial representatives will talk about how the new Youth Employment Strategy is rolling out in the region, while Healthkick Huron will showcase its initiative to help retain youth in rural areas.

The presentations will be followed by small group discussions to identify barriers and challenges, and to brainstorm the most promising ideas for increasing collaboration among youth-serving agencies.

The information collected from this forum, and two others like it being held across the province in early 2014, will be compiled into a report that will be shared with municipal, provincial, and federal policy makers, as well as the public.

"Many stakeholders are sharing concerns about youth returning to rural communities after education and being unable to find meaningful employment," Norman Ragetlie, the ROI's director of policy and stakeholder engagement, said. "Meanwhile, we hear about rural businesses unable to attract young talent with the right skills. This forum will give organizations in the region an opportunity to share what they know about this issue, and the opportunity to discuss ways they can respond."

High praise for WDMH

WINCHESTER – The maternity program at Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) has been deemed one of the top four recommended sites in the province.

Through a recent patient satisfaction survey, it was noted that expectant mothers are choosing the local medical facility above others in the region. Meanwhile, WDMH also ranks in the 90th percentile for inpatient care (both medical and surgical patients), which means the medical site has scored many percentage points higher than other Ontario hospitals in the same category.

The data was collected by National Research Corporation Canada, an independent research institute.

"This survey is important because it gives our patients an opportunity to tell us how we are doing," CEO Cholly Boland said. "The feedback helps us to keep improving to meet their expectations."

Hospital board chair Lisa Little echoed Boland's sentiments.

"I'd like to congratulate the entire WDMH team for these outstanding results," she said. "They speak to [the hospital's] commitment to quality and safe care."

Waste woes

"One truck is always going out."

As well, Froats has been looking at timeframes and the amount of distance travelled by a given truck. If a vehicle is collecting in the South Mountain area and becomes full, it then has to travel back to the Boyne Road landfill site to empty.

"It becomes about the amount of hours in a day, and the amount of employees it takes to do the work," he said. "[I really] don't want to change the runs."

Ultimately, Froats said there may come a point in time where all garbage and recycling is placed on one side of a given road or street. However, there is then the problem of one person's garbage in another's yard, he added.

Councillor Tony Fraser hinted at a safety concern when it comes to residents crossing a roadway carrying garbage and recycling containers, yet Froats retorted the same consideration must be given to township employees.

Meanwhile, as the waste management department heads into the holiday season with employees on vacation, Froats said there will be a need to review worker numbers in the coming year.

POLICE BLOTTER

Domestic assault

RUSSELL – On Fri., Nov. 22, Russell County OPP constables responded to a 911 hang-up call on Castor Street.

At the location, an officer spoke to a female. Further investigation revealed that a domestic assault had taken place.

A 45-year-old male resident of Russell is to appear Wed., Dec. 18 to answer to an assault charge.

Speeding leads to arrest

RUSSELL – On Thurs., Nov. 21, Russell County OPP constables were patrolling North Russell Road when they stopped a vehicle for speeding.

Further investigation revealed a number of crimes had been committed, and an arrest was made.

Fawaz Abduallah, 24, of Ottawa is scheduled to appear Dec. 18 in L'Original court to face charges of failure to comply with an appearance notice; failure to attend court; and two counts of criminal activity.

Meanwhile, Hussein Mohammed, 27, of Ottawa will also appear in court that day, answering to a possession of cocaine charge.

Possession charge

CHESTERVILLE – On Wed., Nov. 20, at approximately 8 pm, Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry OPP officers responded to a report of a neighbourhood dispute on Mill Street.

The investigation revealed that a 30-year-old male (William Wickholm) was in possession of a small amount of suspected marijuana.

He was arrested and faces charges of possession of cannabis marijuana, and resisting a peace officer.

Wickholm is scheduled to appear Tues., Jan. 7, 2014 in Morrisburg court.

OPP food drives assist charities

WINCHESTER – Four recent food drives undertaken by the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry (SD&G) OPP Auxiliary have helped local charities in need. In Dundas County, initiatives took place in Winchester, Morrisburg, and Iroquois.

Winchester's stops, held late last month, saw collection campaigns held at Andy's Foodland and Mike Dean's Super Food Store. Morrisburg's stop was at Riley's Valu-mart, while Iroquois Foodland was another location where donations were solicited.

The Dundas County Food Bank received a total of $1,415.75 and 2,500 food items, following the drive.

At Andy's Foodland, $307 and 570 food items were collected for Naomi's Family Resource Centre.

"This is just another example of the generosity that the communities of SD&G have by pulling together to help people in need," Auxiliary Staff Sgt. Al Jodoin said.

2014 budget process underway in North Dundas

by Matthew Uhrig
Press staff

WINCHESTER – Township of North Dundas council members were given their first look at 2014 budget numbers during the municipality's most recent council meeting.

On Tues., Nov. 19, four departmental draft budgets were presented, as the debate about financial allocations for the coming year has begun.

According to township treasurer John Gareau, it is too early in the process to speculate about a possible increase for taxpayers as all numbers have yet to be gathered, including those of the most costly departments – public works and recreation.

The biggest expenses for the coming year will be the rehabilitation of the Joel Steele Community Centre in Winchester and furthering of North Dundas' ongoing roads improvement schedule. Added funds may also be allocated to the recreation budget, as the Chesterville Pool is likely to undergo repair efforts.

On Nov. 19, waste management director Doug Froats presented his department's draft budget, eyeing some $945,000 in expenditures.

In the planning, building, and enforcement department, roughly $520,000 has been earmarked for spending between the three units.

The most discussion the draft budget received was director Calvin Pol's addition of an $8,000 printer, one large enough to print large-scale planning maps and blueprints.

Council debated the merits of the purchase, with Mayor Eric Duncan suggesting North Dundas' department could share with those at the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry level, or perhaps the township could team up with the Municipality of South Dundas and purchase one printer for both Dundas County governments.

Councillor Al Armstrong, not completely dismissing the purchase, inquired as to whether it was necessary as electronic communication is becoming predominant in society.

"Everything else can be done electronically," he said.

The economic development department budget sees $182,000 in possible expenditures, while a general government draft budget of roughly $1.2 million was submitted.

One of the bigger increases in the governmental budget is a $65,000 allocation for group benefits, which is up 20 per cent from last year. According to CAO Angela Rutley the difference comes following projections from the township's provider, Desjardins, which expects added funds to be needed based on North Dundas' claims history.

Council was expected to discuss further budgetary issues at its Tues., Nov. 26 meeting.

Council notes from North Dundas

Arena engineering tender issued

WINCHESTER – Planning has already begun for the Township of North Dundas' next major project – rehabilitation of the Joel Steele Community Centre in Winchester.

During the municipality's Tues., Nov. 19 council meeting, it was announced that a tender for engineering services was recently released. (Job bids were due after press time on Tues., Nov. 26.)

Much like the substantive work recently completed at the Chesterville Arena, the Winchester project is to see the concrete ice pad replaced, as the underground coolant lines have begun to cause problems and must also be upgraded.

As well, new dasher boards and glass are to be installed.

It is unclear what the exact scope of the project will entail or what the final cost may be. In Chesterville, total rehabilitation of that village's arena cost more than $600,000.

Proposal for former hydro property

North Dundas has received a zoning bylaw amendment proposal that would see the former Ontario Hydro property in Winchester rezoned to permit a storage facility.

Gregoire Villeneuve of 7997078 Canada Inc., a business registered under the Canada Business Corporations Act, wants to convert the space in order to permit indoor and outdoor storage.

The land, according to Villeneuve, would be suitable for outdoor storage of vehicles, campers, and recreational vehicles, while the indoor storage would be confined to the existing buildings on the St. Lawrence Street site.

A previous plan to open a flea market-type facility on the space was met with derision by neighbouring residents, and North Dundas ultimately denied the request.

The township is set to host a public meeting about the possible rezoning early next month.

Waterfront skating?

Despite unpredictable winter weather in recent years, North Dundas is once again attempting to revive its Skating on the Waterfront initiative. The plan would see a section of the South Nation River, running through downtown Chesterville, blocked off for access by public skaters. The municipality ran this project a couple of years ago with limited success.

Currently, the township is seeking an individual or group willing to care for the area, which requires flooding late at night when the temperature drops.

To date, council has discussed the idea of forming a committee to manage the ice, or possibly hiring someone to complete the work throughout the skating season.

Solar farm woes

Drivers on Boyne Road east of Winchester have, no doubt, noticed the substantial addition taking place in one of the fields adjacent to the roadway. Canadian Solar has been working to complete its 10-megawatt solar farm, which totals 87 acres.

North Dundas has taken issue, however, as subcontractors working for the company have been disobeying the road usage agreement approved some time ago.

According to Cal Pol, the township's director of planning, building, and enforcement, employees have been caught making deliveries on the municipality's tar and chip roads, a contractual "no, no."

Pol said he has received assurances this will not happen again; however, he, along with other township employees, will be watching for further infractions.

Christmas in Chesterville

The Chesterville Farmers' Market vacated its downtown location on Sat., Nov. 23 to set up shop inside the village's Royal Canadian Legion branch. As part of the market's annual Christmas sale, numerous vendors were set up throughout the hall, each with a variety of gift ideas. Local author Lisa Lalonde-Boucher was one of many on hand, as she was selling copies of her recently published two-part storybook, Cally's Rescue and The Shelter.

Reserves take a hit with major projects

WINCHESTER – The Township of North Dundas will see a dip in its reserve funds heading into next year.

Thanks to two major projects this year, the municipality shelled out $850,000, of which only about $50,000 was covered by new taxation.

The balance owing – meaning money North Dundas is set to put back in its own coffers – is to be covered by grants and further taxation revenue throughout the next five to 10 years.

A further $65,000 remains unfinanced in the public works department, which is money owing from road projects in 2013.

Meanwhile, both a garbage compactor and roll-off truck were purchased for the waste management department at a cost of $260,000.

Township treasurer John Gareau, during North Dundas' Tues., Nov. 19 council meeting, acknowledged the payments were appropriately budgeted for this year, but will cause a noticeable drop in the township's reserve balances.

CoC looking to benefit from hospital's success

WINCHESTER – North Dundas Chamber of Commerce members are looking to strengthen the relationship between local business owners and Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH).

During a breakfast session at The Country Kitchen restaurant on Wed., Nov. 20, hospital CEO Cholly Boland outlined the medical facility's recently released five-year strategic plan, as early phases of the scheme are now being rolled out.

Directionally, the three strategic areas of focus being undertaken in the plan include strengthening current patient care and rural health education programs; filling key gaps in the communities' needs; and implementing a rural population health research program.

WDMH Foundation executive director Troy Cross also spoke during the meeting, outlining what it is the charitable arm of the hospital accomplishes, and how local business owners can help.

According to chamber of commerce president Owen Shortt, there is room to improve and opportunity for all local business owners to benefit from the hospital's patient success.

"We need to bridge that gap," he said.

Meanwhile, Shortt inquired about the state of Dundas Manor, and its plans for expansion in the future.

Boland confirmed plans to increase the number of beds at the Winchester-based long-term care home have been discussed, but nothing is imminent.

"It is horrible infrastructure… Not enough space to operate, and too many people sharing rooms," he said. "The government says we must rebuild, but is not giving us [the funds to do so]."

Council notes from South Dundas

Public washrooms closer for plaza

MORRISBURG – Public washrooms at the Morrisburg Plaza are one step closer to becoming reality.

Municipality of South Dundas council approved CAO Stephen McDonald's recommendation to issue a charitable receipt in the amount of $34,875 to Doug Grenkie for his donation of the empty retail unit in the shopping centre.

Local politicians also directed staff to draft a long-term lease agreement with the Morrisburg Business Improvement Association (BIA) with the condition that a portion of the space be used for public restrooms. All costs associated with the project, including renovation and operation, are to be the responsibility of the BIA.

Treasurer's report

Treasurer Shannon Geraghty was asked to explain the 2013 monthly financial report and capital project update, which showed a substantial difference – in the millions – between the budgeted and the actual amounts for the administration department's revenue, as well as for the recreation department's expenses.

The discrepancy is due to the current capital projects, which continue to sit on the books while funding details are completed, Geraghty said.

Geraghty is to provide a more detailed report, complete with a departmental inventory of 2013 projects that may be transferred to 2014, at the Tues., Dec. 17 council meeting. At that time, he said he should have a better idea of the capital surplus for 2013.

Board to dissolve

South Dundas council has directed staff to prepare a resolution to dissolve the Iroquois Golf Club board, as it is no longer needed.

The topic arose when Councillor Evonne Delegarde noted a meeting had not taken place within the past two years.

"We haven't had a meeting because there hasn't been anything to meet about. The agreement [with Seaway Golf] doesn't require any disclosure. They haven't really brought any issues to our attention. The bills are being paid and it's not costing the municipality any money," McDonald said. "The board was formed when the municipality was operating the golf course. Since we've leased to Seaway Golf, there's probably no need for the board to exist."

With the dissolution of the board, the tenants will now be required to deal with council.

Leasing Iroquois Point

Local politicians approved the assignment of a lease from the St. Lawrence Seaway Management Corporation for space at Iroquois Point, including the picnic shelter, band shell, and memorial area.

The township's request to lease the entire space was denied.

The roadway and parking area, which are open to the public, will continue to be controlled and maintained by the owner.

Meanwhile, those groups wishing to utilize the space will need to satisfy requirements of both the owner and the leaseholder, McDonald said.

British home children

Deputy-Mayor Jim Locke requested council endorse a motion to declare the week of September 28 as British Home Child Week beginning in 2014.

In 2012, Ontario celebrated the first British Home Child Day as a result of provincial legislation passed in 2011, which was brought forward by former Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry MPP Jim Brownell.

A group of local individuals is lobbying all provincial municipalities to support the motion, which has already been passed in the Township of South Stormont.

Council discusses safe drinking water

MORRISBURG – Municipality of South Dundas' local politicians were recently reminded of their legal culpability under Ontario's Safe Drinking Water Act.

"You're actually making a commitment, not just signing," Rodney MacGibbon, senior management system consultant for AMEC Canada, said during his Tues., Nov. 19 presentation to council. "The point I want to make to council [is that] you are the owners. You own that water plant. It isn't the guy who didn't do something that's solely responsible. I want to impress that upon you. Under that act, you have a legal responsibility to ensure adequate oversight such that a reasonable person could expect safe drinking water."

In addition to emphasizing section 19 of the provincial legislation, MacGibbon reported on AMEC's technical review of South Dundas' system, as well as the company's progress in developing a Drinking Water Quality Management System (DWQMS) for the township.

AMEC was hired by the municipality earlier this year at a cost of $10,000 in order to complete the tasks required for South Dundas to receive full accreditation for the operation and management of its own drinking water. South Dundas took control of its system in June, and under provincial legislation is required to become accredited.

"I can assure you that from my observations, you're in very good hands here," MacGibbon, who has been a quality management inspector for roughly 30 years, said. "You've got a very good team and good systems."

Ian Kemp was hired by the municipality last spring to become its new water and wastewater supervisor. Overseeing Kemp is South Dundas' public works manager, Chris Bazinet, who also began working for the township at the end of April.

MacGibbon said the accreditation applications should be finished within the next two weeks, and then sent to the Ministry of the Environment (MOE). Once accepted by MOE, a registrar – a third party paid for by the municipality – will need to do an on site assessment of the effectiveness of South Dundas' water management system.

Updates to warden system recommended

MORRISBURG – While a decision has not yet been made, members of an ad hoc committee have recommended that the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry make changes to its warden system.

Mayor Steven Byvelds, a member of the committee, updated his colleagues on recent counties news at the Municipality of South Dundas' Tues., Nov. 19 council meeting.

Currently, the system includes the appointment of a deputy-warden, as well as a warden, each set to serve a one-year term with the former moving into the latter's position upon completion of the initial year.

Appointments are made on a rotational basis from the mayors and deputy-mayors of the counties' six municipalities.

The committee's recommendation includes the elimination of the deputy-warden position, while the position of warden would be chosen through election rather than the current process of appointment, Byvelds said.

It was also recommended that the warden be given the option of serving a maximum of two consecutive years. However, he or she would need to be elected to the position each year, with no guarantee of a second term.

If the plans are approved, Byvelds said the counties would hold a special meeting after all the lower tier municipalities have sworn in their council members in 2014.

"The assumption is that the council of the day will vote for the best person for the job at that time," he said.

Current deputy-warden, Eric Duncan, who is the mayor for the Township of North Dundas, is to become warden for 2014, taking over from the Township of North Stormont's Deputy-Mayor Bill McGimpsey.

Drain maintenance contractor secured

MORRISBURG – Three of the Municipality of South Dundas' recent municipal drain maintenance tenders were awarded to one local company.

At the Tues., Nov. 19 council meeting, local politicians approved manager of planning and enforcement Don Lewis' recommendation to award each contract to Frank Ault Excavating.

The Brinston-based business was the only one to submit bids on all three projects, Lewis said.

The Miller-Farrell Mellon Municipal Drain is to cost $14,181.50, and the Thomas Merkley Municipal Drain, $14,916, while the Foster Municipal Drain is to be $84,118.33 due to its location in a heavily wooded area.

As per the province's Drainage Act, the affected landowners are responsible for all costs incurred by the projects, Lewis said.

Sights set on cyberbullies

The federal Conservatives have set their sights on cyberbullies, but more than that, the party is working to shrug off a distasteful message shared by the government's former public safety minister.

Yes, it was Vic Toews who, when defending a broad based online surveillance bill in February 2012, said critics could "stand with us or with the child pornographers."

So, either you pander to the one common denominator or be forever labeled a public offender.

Now, however, the government is distancing itself from the Protecting Children from Internet Predators Act. According to justice minister Rob Nicholson, the party listened to the concerns of Canadians, and made necessary changes.

On Wed., Nov. 20, Toews' successor, Peter MacKay, announced a shift of focus by the Harper government, with new legislation aimed at better prosecuting those who take part in cyberbullying. As an example, MacKay took specific aim at those who post intimate images deemed sexually explicit online without consent.

This includes photographs or videos in which the subject is nude, exposing themselves, or engaged in clear sexual activity.

The new bill is known as the Protecting Canadians from Online Crime Act, which includes many recommendations contained in a July report by federal, provincial, and territorial justice and public safety officials.

It was fast-tracked following the high-profile suicide of cyberbullied Nova Scotia teenager Rehtaeh Parsons, as pictures of her alleged rape circulated over the Internet.

Another case that strengthened calls for legislation of this type was the much-publicized suicide of British Columbia teen Amanda Todd, who took her own life after being harassed by online peers.

It is safe to say this cyberbullying law was born from noble intent. Given the tragedy of teens who ended their lives rather than continue on and endure persistent online humiliation and bullying, the ruling Conservatives have struck upon measures sure to enjoy broad public support.

There remain numerous questions that need exploration, however. Does this bill truly go far enough to protect victims? Where are the resources coming from to fund and enforce such provisions?

Making it a crime to distribute images is a proper step, but some of the vilest online bullying acts come in the form of verbal abuse. Visit any website that allows anonymous commenting and one will find numerous examples, as online users, safe from rebuke as they hide behind a computer screen, unleash a fury of negative statements.

The new bill does not speak to that, but it is likely because that would border on an attack on free speech, which many citizens stand behind when slinging observations, good or bad.

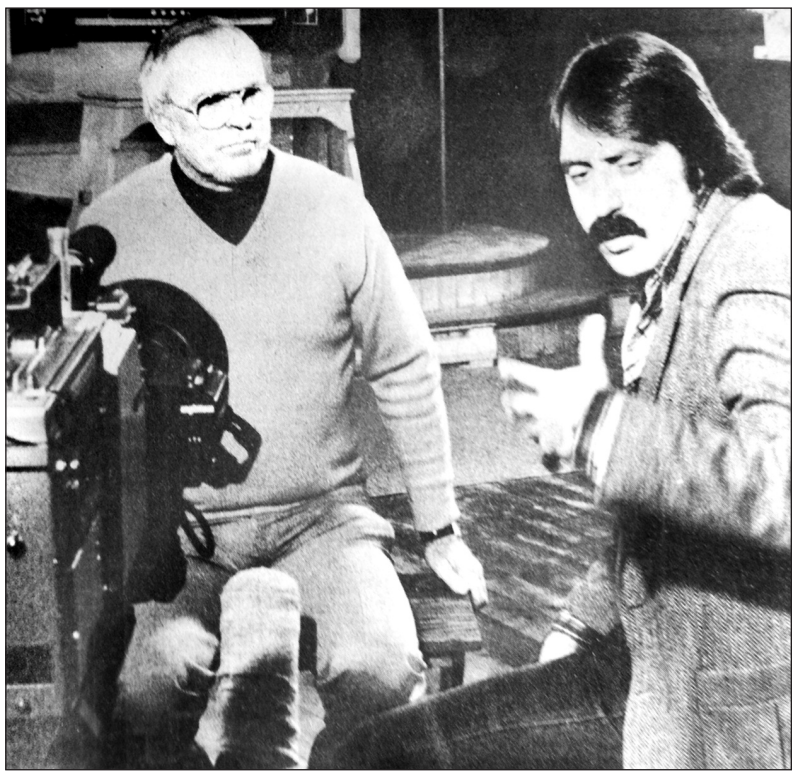
Yet, Canadian citizens have, largely, reached a workable agreement when it comes to hate speech. However, our government won't take the same approach when it comes to text bullying.

According to Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry MP Guy Lauzon, the government is focused on its continued efforts to protect children from all forms of bullying.

The key now is to have residents hold Lauzon and his Conservative colleagues to account, ensuring that the legislation is employed as it should be.

For a government that has championed, for some time, a "tough on crime" attitude, there is no reason to further muddy the waters. Focus should be given to the real offence, and the increased population of online predators.

The downward spiral of cyberbullying casts a wide net, many Internet users are not free from harm; but no more lives need be lost as government officials stand idly by.



This week, in 1983, Wayne Rostad interviewed Roy Fawcett for a segment of Country Report. Rostad and his CBC crew visited Fawcett's museum in Van Camp for the show's upcoming Christmas special. The museum, formerly a United Church, was awaiting demolition when Fawcett purchased it for $1, with the intention of storing his antique organ collection in the building.

Remember when...

An advertisement titled "Scientific Palmist Here" was featured in this week's Winchester Press. "Have your hand read by Scientific Palmist [lady], who has read the hands of many distinguished people; also for hospitals and specialists."

1933

This week's Press reprinted an excerpt from the Brockville Recorder and Times, which applauded the Winchester editor for a recent editorial on the need to protest the high salaries of government officials: "Unlike the editors of some other weekly publications, the venerable generalissimo of the Winchester Press is never afraid to express an opinion or to come to grips with public problems."

1943

This week's Winchester High School (WHS) column, edited by student Reg Workman, relayed war-related news: "Dr. Harrison, military examining officer, says, 'The majority of impairments causing military rejections are resultant from malnutrition, dental, and tonsil infection, and disease of the eyes occurring at school age." Workman also reported that former WHS student Sgt. Air Gunner Earl Empey had arrived safely overseas, and that a student from last year, Frank Kellogg, was visiting at home.

1953

A couple of this week's editorial notes reflected on societal trends toward cutting corners. The editor agreed with a recent piece in the Smiths Falls Record News that suggested local hockey games were using the restricted (shortened) version of the national anthem, rather than the longer, original version. "It's used altogether too frequently," he said.

1963

Dundas Junior Farmers president Ralph Fawcett, the chairperson for the group's first banquet, which was held at the Presbyterian Church in Winchester, said the Dundas County Dairy Princess Competition, which "has increased markedly in size," was one of the group's major projects for the year.

1973

In a follow-up to last week's downtown Winchester fire, the Press reported: "People stared in disbelief when, less than 30 hours after the fire had been brought under control, curtains on big plate glass windows were parted and an "OPEN" sign appeared on the door… Wayne Burns, the family pharmacist so well known to countless area residents, realized the seriousness of the situation and set out almost immediately to put people's minds at ease. Realization that the familiar Duncan store, almost directly across the street from the fire scene, was no longer in business supplied the youthful druggist with a solution to his dilemma."

1983

Members of the Greely-Manotick Station Women's Institute welcomed Bruce Sutherland, program director with Cable 12 in Arnprior, to a recent meeting to give a presentation on wife abuse. The Press' report said the members learned that wife beating is a social problem that exists in rural municipalities as well as in the cities.

1993

This week, Press readers discovered, "The NDP government's proposal for a new system of graduated licenses is one step closer to becoming reality now that a committee of the Ontario legislature has reported on the proposed changes."

2003

It was announced that the third council of the Township of North Dundas was to be sworn in: "The swearing in will begin the Dec. 8 meeting at 7 pm. The first regular meeting of the new five-person council will follow, including a full agenda of items to address. This will be the first time mayor-elect Alvin Runnalls will wield the gavel at the head of the council table."

A special gift, a beautiful friendship

From the Other Side

by Jeff Morris

Last week, the Diva and I had a once-in-a-lifetime chance to meet two beautiful people, and found ourselves in the middle of the purest friendship we have ever seen.

It started out at the Canadian Tire Centre last month with Myrtle Barbaro, an avid Sens fan who was celebrating her 97th birthday at the game. I got the contact information for her caregiver, and wanted to see if I could do something for her.

After some brainstorming with the Diva, I sent an email to an old friend, Kurt Overhardt of KO Sports in Denver. If hockey has a Jerry Maguire, it's Kurt. Kurt is a top-notch agent whose players are all first-class guys who know and understand the power of reaching out to fans, and being a part of the community.

Within a couple of hours, Senators defenceman Patrick Wiercioch, one of Kurt's clients, emailed me. "What can I do?" he inquired. After going back and forth a few times, I left a Sens poster and some silver Sharpies, along with a birthday card, for him at the arena. Two weeks later, I got an email from him, letting me know that the items were ready to be picked up.

Patrick had the entire team sign the poster, and, as requested, wrote a personal note for Myrtle on a birthday card. Excited, I rushed back to Wal-Mart and bought a poster frame, and then called Dee, the woman who was with Myrtle at the game. I told her we were ready to visit Myrtle, and bring her a belated birthday present, but Dee gave us some sad news.

"You'll have to come to the hospital," she said sadly. "Myrtle was admitted two weeks ago with a heart problem."

Suddenly, a fun little project to get a present for a 97-year-old woman took on a whole new level of importance.

We met Dee at the hospital and she led us to see Myrtle. She was thrilled to see us, and gasped with excitement when we showed her the poster.

"Isn't that something!" she kept saying. "What a beautiful painting!" she said of the poster as her smile filled the room. We told her that one of her favourite Senators players, Patrick Wiercioch, got the whole team to sign the poster. "Imagine that!" she exclaimed. Dee then read the note and the card from Patrick to her. We realized by her smile that, after two weeks of lying in a bed in a room with curtains for walls, and with no television and no ability to read because of her delicate eyesight, Myrtle felt like a million bucks.

Myrtle, who was born in 1916, shared memories of going to games "at the old auditorium" during the Sens' dynasty of the 1920s. "I'm a huge sports fan," she said with a spark. "I love baseball too. I never miss a Blue Jays game. My husband was a pitcher and played over in Hull. He was drafted to go play in the States."

Myrtle lost her husband in 1980, and three of her four children have passed on. Her only remaining daughter lives in London. She has outlived her friends and family. Yet, her smile has a spark of sunshine that is truly infectious. She is one of the most beautiful souls you could ever meet.

Dee, who is in her 40s, lives in the apartment across the hall. As the day went on, we realized that Dee was truly an angel. Dee had called the Sens and arranged for Myrtle's first trip to the Canadian Tire Centre and her first modern-day Senators' game. Through her work and through the generosity of the Senators, Myrtle and two friends got to go to the game and sit in a suite, be taken to and from the game by ParaTranspo, and a sports store gave them T-shirts.

Dee even tracked down Robin Lehner's mother outside the arena after the game, and arranged for Myrtle to get her picture taken with the young Sens goalie.

Myrtle was still thrilled with her experience at the arena. "There were so many people and it was so loud," she said excitedly. "Imagine that, right Dee?"

As we ended our wonderful visit, Dee gave her friend a soft kiss on the forehead and assured her she would be back to check on her the next day. On the way to the elevator, she told us that we were the only visitors, other than herself, that Myrtle had received in two weeks.

We gave Dee a ride home and learned more about her and her 97-year-old friend. Fate brought them together as neighbours less than two years ago. We don't know what Myrtle would do without Dee there to watch over her. Never had we met a more caring and selfless person who had shown such unconditional love for a friend.

After a goodbye filled with hugs, smiles and tears, we went on our way. How could I ever let Kurt Overhardt or Patrick Wiercioch know how their little favour made such a difference in someone's life? How could we ever let Dee, a humble and caring person, know how much of a hero and an angel she is? If only the world had more people like her.

Isn't it funny how when you try to make a difference for someone, they end up being the ones who make a difference for you?

Letters to the Editor

Look to existing legislation for answers to grain elevator debate

The Editor:
First, I am not a member of, or associated with, any group in opposition to the proposed elevator(s) for a site on Lakeshore Drive.

However, I am a long-standing member of Dundas Federation of Agriculture (DFA) and have been a resident here for nearly four decades. In addition, I have a career in agriculture working at Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada (AAFC) in the crop sector, including policy and program development and delivery.

I write this letter from a personal perspective believing that officials must adhere to the rules.

At the Municipality of South Dundas roundtable public meeting at Matilda Hall in October, the elevator issue was clearly on the minds of those in attendance. At that meeting, Mayor Steven Byvelds emphasized that it was council's role to set the rules for staff to administer, and that if the manager of planning and enforcement had questions he would come back to council for clarification.

As a follow-up, I wrote to all elected officials (and selected staff) pointing out what the rules said, and I specifically asked that the subject be put on the agenda for the Tues., Nov. 5 council meeting.

Being informed that that was not possible since the agenda was already set, I asked that it be put on the agenda for Tues., Nov. 19. Following the meeting, on Nov. 5 the mayor informed me by email that council discussed the project at the meeting and "agreed with the definitions as concurred with our planning consultant J.L. Richards."

Interestingly, there is no mention of any such discussion or decision in the minutes of the Nov. 5 meeting. The mayor's message did not say that my request would not be on the agenda for Nov. 19, but having attended that meeting I now know for certain that not a word was raised on the issue.

Clearly it is time to go public on this issue, and explain the pertinent facts for all of the property in question, both north and south of Lakeshore Drive:

1) South Dundas bylaw 2010-48 specifies in Section 1.13 (16) that "all uses are prohibited unless specifically permitted in this bylaw," [note the "specifically permitted]."

2) There is nothing in the bylaw, and specifically in Sections 8.1 and 8.2 (which cover M1 and M2 zones) that "specifically permits" a commercial grain facility of any nature [neither grain nor elevator are even mentioned].

3) The definitions provided in Section 2 of the bylaw do not include "elevator," "grain elevator," or "grain terminal," and the "warehouse" definition does not include any grain elevator component.

4) Other sections of the bylaw do mention "grain elevator" so as to distinguish it from a warehouse (e.g. height restrictions).

5) Where there is an absence of definitions in the bylaw, then Section 1.13 (1) should require that the "customary meaning" should apply.

6) The customary terminology for all facilities in our area that handle grain as is proposed for the site(s) in question is elevator (or grain elevator). Warehouse is definitely not the term used.

7) Provincial legislation (Grains Act and the Farm Products Payments Act) makes it clear that any facility operating in the manner as proposed for the facility in question would be a grain elevator, and must be operated under a valid grain elevator operator licence.

In summary, the important question is what the rules say. It is not a matter of appeasing a landowner or nearby residents' view of the river, or whether some farmer might think that a new elevator will help in marketing corn. There may also be other concerns, such as environmental, that I am not addressing since they become important only if the rules permit such a facility.

I write this letter in the hope that other people who have been on the sidelines become well aware of what is happening. I think it is important that they speak up, and insist that South Dundas officials follow the rules.

The Lakeshore Drive site is not zoned for any grain elevator (under any contrived terminology). It is time for the public to call the councillors and the mayor now, not just for this proposal, but also for all projects. Who knows where the next site will be if we let them pick and choose, or simply ignore the rules?

Cat problem needs to be solved meow

The Editor:
I am utterly fed up. There are no bylaws pertaining to cats in the Township of North Dundas, so this is my problem.

I have a neighbour who has cats galore living in a shed on his yard. The cats, sometimes eight or nine at a time, use my garden as their toilet.

I am an avid gardener, and have spent plenty of money on new plants only to have them dug up by the cats, not to mention the disgusting mess they leave.

I have approached my neighbour, politely asking him to do something about his cats, but to no avail.

What am I supposed to do? Put up with the smell and mess, and become more and more frustrated?

It is totally not fair not being able to have some control on cats, especially as it is my yard that is being trespassed upon by someone else's creatures. I can't even call them his pets.

I feel better for having vented publicly, but would feel even better if there were a solution to this problem.

Reader lauds recent poppy editorial

The Editor:
I would like to echo the sentiment in Matthew Uhrig's recent editorial, "What colour is your poppy?" in the Wed., Nov. 13 edition of the Winchester Press.

I am proud to note four generations of servicemen in our family. Two great-uncles experienced poison gas in the trenches during the First World War; my maternal grandfather served in both world wars, fighting in the desert in the Camel Corps; my paternal grandfather used his medical training in prisoner of war camps; and my father flew Lancaster bombers and when the war in Europe ended, like many other "keeners" he immediately volunteered for service in the pacific.

Current generations served in Bosnia and Lebanon, and a member of our newest generation serves in the air force.

Well-intentioned though they may be, the folks who are trying to introduce the white poppy are misguided as to the message of the original red poppy. It does not glorify war, it glorifies what rare generations of men and women were willing to put on the line in the name of peace.

The youngsters that enthusiastically rushed to enlist in the First World War had no idea the horrors they would face, and when the "war to end all wars" didn't and the Second World War came about, many signed up for a second time, never complaining when they were away from home for stretches of five and six years without break.

Our Korean and Vietnam veterans arrived home to no fanfare, and few thanks, and our "modern day" soldiers face their own challenges.

So, when I wear a red poppy, I do not believe for an instant that I am supporting war. I am honouring the unhesitating sacrifice that men and women were and are willing to make, again, not in the name of war, but in the name of peace.

This is a free country (thanks to our veterans) so if you choose to wear a white poppy, so be it. But mine will always be red.

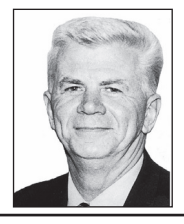
Teen-fiction author to speak at OTHS

METCALFE – In a special presentation by the Ottawa Public Library, Teresa Toten, a Toronto-based writer of teen fiction, is set to visit Osgoode Township High School this Friday (Nov. 29) at 9 am.

The event, which is open to all, is to be held in the school's library.



In and around Osgoode Ward
by Councillor Doug Thompson

Winter parking

Winter overnight parking restrictions in the City of Ottawa are now in effect.

The restrictions are in place to ensure that the city's snow-clearing crews are able to keep Ottawa's roads safe and clear for pedestrians, cyclists, public transit, and motorists.

Between Fri., Nov. 15 and Tues., April 1, when seven centimetres or more of snowfall is forecast by Environment Canada, overnight parking restrictions go into effect. These restrictions are automatically enacted, unless the city's general manager of public works issues an exemption.

When restrictions are in place, parking will not be permitted on Ottawa streets between 1 and 7 am, and those vehicles found parked on the street will be ticketed. However, there is an exception for vehicle owners who have a municipal on-street parking permit, and they are exempt from winter overnight parking restrictions.

To receive free email or Twitter restriction notifications, sign up at www.ottawa.ca. To find out if a restriction is in effect, call 311.

In addition, when daytime or nighttime snow removal operations are planned, temporary "no parking" snow removal signs will be posted. In such situations, vehicle owners are reminded not to park on streets, or the car will be ticketed and towed. This restriction applies to all vehicles, including those with on-street parking permits.

Seasonal market

The Country Creations, Artisans, Vintage, and Collectibles Market is now open at its Main Street location in Osgoode.

With new stock arriving weekly, the market features local crafts, repurposed treasures, homemade jams, and more.

From now until Thurs., Dec. 5, the market will be open from 5 to 8 pm on Fridays and 10 am to 4 pm on Saturdays and Sundays. Then, from Fri., Dec. 6 to Fri., Dec. 20, the market will run from 3 to 8 pm from Monday to Friday, and 10 am to 4 pm on Saturdays and Sundays.

The market's indoor sidewalk sale will be held for three weekends beginning Dec. 20.

In addition to the numerous non-profit vendors participating in the sales event, a portion of the market's proceeds will go to The Township of Osgoode Care Centre.

For more information, email sweetpeaspantry@gmail.com.

Heritage homes

Grannies All About Kids is hosting a Christmas Heritage Home Tour on Sat., Dec. 7 from 10 am to 4 pm in Metcalfe and its surrounding areas.

Tour tickets are $25 each, and lunch tickets can be purchased for $10. All proceeds are to go to the Stephen Lewis Foundation in support of African orphans with Aids.

For more information or to purchase tickets, visit www.granniesevents.com, email katheycauley28@yahoo.ca, or call 613-821-4981.

WI members go organic

by Helen McDonald

VERNON – President Kim Sheldrick welcomed Vernon Women's Institute members and guests to the organization's monthly meeting at the hamlet's recreation centre on Tues., Nov. 19.

Following the "Ode" and the "Mary Stewart Collect," 19 members and four guests answered the roll call by discussing their favourite organic vegetable.

Cheryl Bunda, convener of agriculture, introduced her speaker, Amber Payne, a native of Manotick Station. Payne has studied nutrition and natural healing, and worked on organic farms in Australia. She now operates her own small farm where she grows organic vegetables, and has a contract to supply customers with a quantity of vegetables each week. She has local clientele, as well as a business in Ottawa South, and is also a vendor at the Metcalfe Farmers' Market.

Organic means "no chemicals," and in organic farming, manure or compost is applied to fertilize the soil and plants. Pesticide sprays are made from natural sources, including soaking rhubarb leaves in water, which is later used to spray on plants to eliminate insect pests.

Crop rotation, hand weeding, tilling, and mulch are used to manage weeds. Alternating wet material, such as kitchen vegetable wastes, and dry material, such as dry leaves or old hay, can make compost.

WI members were amused to learn that Payne's chickens are housed in bottomless houses, which are moved daily to help fertilize the soil. The pigs enjoy rooting up a section of the garden, and this helps to till that soil.

Bunda presented Payne with a gift, and thanked her for informing the group about her approach to organic farming.

In other business, members agreed to send their annual donations to Rural Ottawa Seniors' Support Services, Winchester District Memorial Hospital, and the Township of Osgoode Care Centre.

Alice Miller won a prize for wearing her pin, while Sheldrick thanked Isobel McDiarmid and Kathy Jorgensen for serving lunch.

Greely Players awarded Trillium Foundation funds

GREELY – Thanks to recently announced provincial funding, The Greely Players will be improving its production capabilities.

The local theatre troupe is on the receiving end of a $15,000 Ontario Trillium Foundation grant, which will be used to purchase high-grade stage risers.

"This is a wonderful 25th anniversary present," Holly Villeneuve, president of The Greely Players, said. "The grant came at a perfect time. The cast of our upcoming spring production will be thrilled at the addition of the new staging."

A presentation ceremony for the funding is to be held Sat., Nov. 30 at 7 pm at Parkway Pentecostal Church in Greely. Nepean-Carleton MPP Lisa MacLeod is scheduled to be in attendance.

"I am really pleased that The Greely Players have secured [this grant]," MacLeod said. "An extra $15,000 for new equipment will go a long way for performances in our community."

Meanwhile, the theatre troupe will also be presenting its annual Christmas in the Village concert on Nov. 30 at the Parkway Road religious facility. Tickets are $10, while children 10 and under are free. Proceeds from the evening performance are to be donated to area churches.

Second safety award this month for WDMH

WINCHESTER – For a second time this month, Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) has been lauded for its workplace safety efforts.

During a recent Ontario Hospital Association (OHA) conference in Toronto, the village medical facility was awarded the Quality Health Care Workplace Award.

"It is certainly nice to be acknowledged by a provincewide organization," CEO Cholly Boland said. "This is great recognition for WDMH."

The OHA's silver level award recognizes efforts to improve workplaces in ways that contribute to the quality of work life, as well as the quality of the care that health care providers deliver. It encourages learning, self-evaluation, and improvement. The initiative is a partnership between OHA and the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care's HealthForceOntario.

"This award shows that our efforts to improve the patient care experience by focusing on quality and safety, as well as staff satisfaction and engagement, are having an impact," Boland added.

According to the hospital's top employee, however, there is still work to be done at WDMH. "Both of the awards we have received in the last month have also included valuable advice about how to further improve, and we are committed to doing that," Boland said.

Diabetes educators

WINCHESTER – Living well with diabetes can be a challenge. But it is possible. At Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH), diabetes educators are here to help.

WDMH's diabetes education courses cover topics such as meal planning, physical activity, medications, complications, and stress management. There is no charge to attend, and you can sign up for a class without a doctor's referral. Family members are welcome, too.

The team also offers a monthly community information session featuring various experts and the opportunity to chat with other people living with diabetes.

Winchester District Memorial Hospital's diabetes education team is comprised of Rachelle Charlebois (left), Deirdre Cooke, Rachel Westenbroek and Nancy Graham.

The hospital's Diabetes Education Centre is located in the Dillabough Building, adjacent to WDMH.

How diabetes educators can help

- Answer questions when you are first diagnosed
- Assist in the prevention of risks and complications
- Teach self-management skills to improve health
- Provide medication counselling
- Help you set goals to better manage your disease.

Plowing Fore A Cure delivers funds to hospital

WINCHESTER – Many of the Plowing Fore A Cure golf tournament's committee members were at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital (WDMH) late last month to deliver the proceeds from this year's edition of their annual fundraiser.

In June, the 11th annual Plowing Fore A Cure event, which was held at Anderson Links Golf and Country Club in memory of Dave "Finster" Findlay, raised more than $35,000.

More than 150 people participated in the tournament, along with dozens of volunteers, including committee co-chairs Sharen Armstrong and Shaun Powell.

The donation helped to purchase a new biosafety cabinet in the hospital's pharmacy. The cabinet is an enclosed, ventilated laboratory workspace that protects staff when mixing chemotherapy medications. It also ensures the medications are protected from extraneous airborne contaminants. All of the air is exhausted outside.

Plowing Fore A Cure began in 2002, when many of the 2001 International Plowing Match organizers from Navan decided to turn their focus toward hosting a charity event benefiting local cancer care.

Throughout its initial 10 years, the tournament raised $201,337 for The Ottawa Hospital Foundation. In 2013, the committee decided to begin directing the proceeds to the WDMH Foundation.

Moose Creek Tire Recycling's recent $18 million facility expansion was officially unveiled on Fri., Nov. 22. The local business collects discarded tires, and breaks them down to produce mats used in the agricultural industry.

$18M grant nets expanded facility, new jobs

MOOSE CREEK – A newly expanded production facility in Moose Creek is boosting the local job market, and advancing efforts to eliminate tire waste in the province. On Fri., Nov. 22, Moose Creek Tire Recycling (MCTR) announced the completion of its $18 million facility expansion project, resulting in the creation of more than 45 jobs within the local region.

MCTR began processing Ontario's used tires in 2004, and partnered with Animat, a Sherbrooke, Que. producer, to manufacture innovative rubber mats made from recycled tires for agricultural and commercial use. The expanded facility features state-of-the-art technology, which enables the company to produce more than 300,000 mats each year, satisfying a rising demand for the recycled tire products it offers.

"This expansion is as significant to Ontarians as it is to MCTR because it allows us to manage waste responsibly within the province, and boost local job growth, all while fulfilling the growing demand for innovative recycled tire products," Andre Lafleche, MCTR president, said.

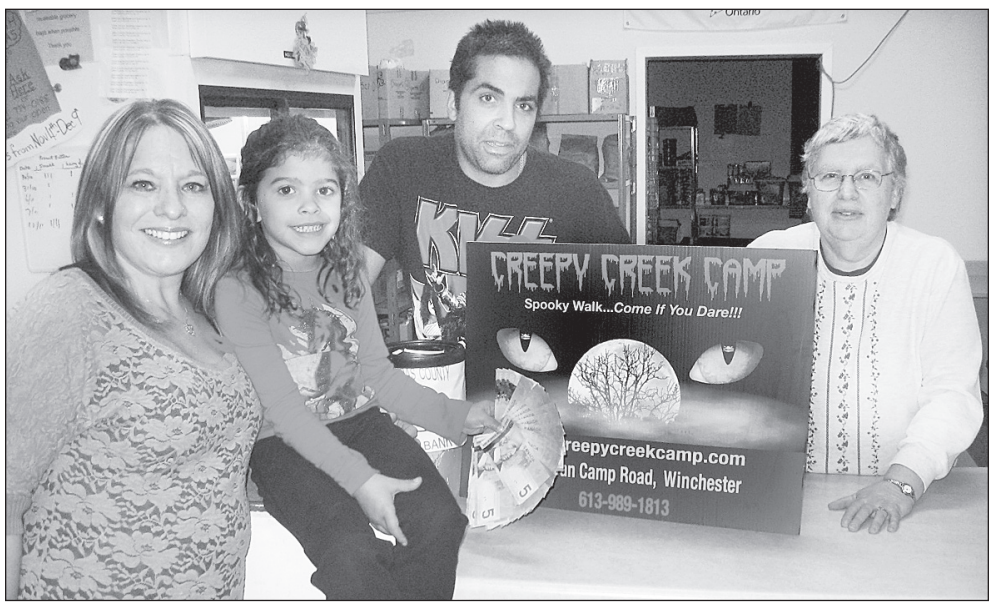
In Ontario, more than 12 million tires are sold each year, and every tire contains more than 90 per cent recyclable materials, such as synthetic and natural rubber, oil, polyester, and steel. Under Ontario's Used Tires Program, operated by Ontario Tire Stewardship (OTS), MCTR works with collectors, haulers, processors, and product manufacturers like Animat to sustainably recycle these used tires into fine crumb rubber. Crumb rubber is a key ingredient when creating new recycled tire products, such as MCTR's Animat rubber mats.

Moose Creek recycler repurposes tired tires

"Ontario's agricultural community is increasingly realizing the livestock, environmental, and long-term cost benefits of using eco-friendly recycled tire products for its operations, such as those offered by Animat," Lafleche said. "This demand has had a significant impact on our decision to expand our production capabilities to better serve Ontarians."

Environmentally safe recycled tire products offer the benefits of long-term durability, weather and slip resistance, easy installation, and minimal maintenance. Animat products are most commonly used in agricultural industries where its livestock mattress systems, rubber mats for stalls and interlock flooring for barns and milking stations prove to be safer, more durable solutions for animals.

Since 2009, Ontario's tire recycling community has worked with OTS to successfully divert more than 50 million tires from Ontario communities, landfills and hazardous waste burning facilities, and continues to transform tire waste into innovative, eco-friendly products for a variety of residential, commercial, and industrial uses.



Haunted helpers

Following another successful season at Creepy Creek Camp, the team behind the Halloween-themed attraction has once again made a donation to the Dundas County Food Bank's Winchester location. This year, $438 was handed over by Julie Gaumond (left), Lakeisha Allan, and self-proclaimed "Hauntmaster" Paul Allan, creator of the Van Camp Road walking tour. Also pictured is Judy Hilson, food bank co-ordinator.

Metcalfe residents win battle against aggregates

METCALFE – Through collective force, a group of Metcalfe residents has won the first of what could prove to be many battles against mineral extraction near the village.

The Metcalfe and District Citizens Committee took its fight against the City of Ottawa's official plan to city hall earlier this month in hopes of persuading changes that would eliminate the proposed expansion of an aggregates area north of Metcalfe.

If the change had been approved, land-use restrictions would have been imposed on a number of homeowners, dropping zoning opportunities from 16 at the moment to seven.

In the summer, about 40 affected landowners received a notice from the city informing them that their land or neighbouring land was under consideration for mineral reserve designation. At that point, recipients were asked whether they agreed or disagreed with the rezoning.

Many residents took exception, however, as feedback was being gathered by planning department staff, yet despite the city's stance the province retains ultimate authority on the extension of the area's boundaries.

According to Osgoode Ward Councillor Doug Thompson, the change was made because city staff agreed that Ottawa already has 100 years of supply zoned for extraction, and because citizens were so vocal in their opposition.

Developers, meanwhile, were not lobbying very hard to extend the boundary and open new lands, the councillor added.

This issue is likely to continue in the coming years, as the city reviews its official plan every five years and construction companies are continually looking for new land to source their minerals from.

Double Blue: OTHS recognizes top students

METCALFE – Osgoode Township High School (OTHS)' 2013 Double Blue Awards Ceremony took place last Thursday (Nov. 21) inside the school's cafeteria.

The event recognized academic excellence, extracurricular participation, and community efforts of junior students throughout the previous academic year (2012-2013).

Wedding Announcement

Payne–Wheeler

Sylvia Wheeler, daughter of Henry and Doris Michels, and Daryle Payne, son of John and Sandra Payne, were married on October 26, 2013. They were attended by their children, Megan and Martine Payne and Jordan and Steven Wheeler. They enjoyed a lovely evening wedding with family and friends in attendance. The couple is residing in Crysler, Ontario.

Hospice graduates

Thirteen people spent 30 hours learning about palliative care at Williamsburg's Dundas County Hospice this fall. On Wed., Nov. 20, they graduated and are now ready to move forward with the knowledge they have gained through the non-profit organization's education program. While some may have taken the course for personal reasons, others will choose to use their newfound knowledge by volunteering at the local care facility, which provides bereavement support for clients and family members seven days a week. Pictured are: Ashley Barber-Levere (front, left), Ariel Gillard, Eadie Sneath, Jane Simzer, Patty Thompson, and Babs Bradley. Food for fines back

WINCHESTER – The Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry County Library recently announced the return of its holiday program, Food for Fines.

From Sun., Dec. 1 to Sun., Dec. 15, library fines may be paid for in non-perishable food items, which will then be donated to local food banks.

For every item donated during this time, one dollar's worth of fines will be waived, up to a maximum of $10 per borrower.

"There is an increasing need for donations at local food banks this year and during the holidays, and the library is very happy to be able to offer this incentive to encourage people to donate food," Erika Heesen, communications and marketing librarian, said. "Even if you do not owe library fines, you can still donate food – though we cannot credit your library account."

For information on county library branch locations and hours of operation, visit www.sdglibrary.ca.

Christmas at Cass Bridge

Customers inched their way through the crowd of shoppers at Cass Bridge Gift Shop on Thurs., Nov. 21. The store, located south of Winchester at Cass Bridge, held its annual holiday open house, giving people a three-hour window of opportunity to snatch up giftware and jewellery items at 20 per cent less than the regular price. Items on display included designer purses, wall hangings, candles, calendars, an assortment of Christmas decorations, and more. The store also sells food items, including a variety of cheeses. Pictured during the store's one-night event is Liz Jones.

Christ Church United welcomes minister

CHESTERVILLE – Christ Church United in Chesterville has a new minister, with Rev. Deborah Poirier having accepted the position.

A meet and greet tea has been scheduled for Fri., Nov. 29 from 6:30 to 8 pm at the local religious facility, located at 5 Casselman St.

Poirier comes to Chesterville from Mid-Laurentian United Church in Rawdon, Que., where she served as minister since 2004. While there, she was involved in many local initiatives, including pastoral care, hospital and prison chaplaincy, community outreach, family counselling, faith development, youth ministry, human rights, and global mission. Poirier's recently retired husband, Alan Favreau, was also an active volunteer with Mid-Laurentian United, assisting with church repairs, renovations, and fundraising.

She replaces Rev. Wendy Wright-MacKenzie who retired earlier this year, following the merger between Morewood United Church and Chesterville's Trinity United. The Morewood building was deconsecrated and sold, while its congregation moved to the Chesterville building, which underwent a name change in honour of the merging congregations.

Throughout the past 10 years, Poirier has also been very involved at the conference and national levels of the United Church of Canada. Past president of the Montreal and Ottawa Conference, she also served with the Canadian Truth and Reconciliation Commission, and on the conference's French Ministry Task Group.

A voting commissioner to the 41st General Council, Poirier is currently a member of the council's committee on programs for ministry and mission. She is also co-chair of the conference's Native Concerns Committee.

Poirier studied at McGill University and the United Theological College in Montreal. Prior to answering her call to ministry, she worked for twenty years in community development in Hemmingford, Que. She was also in business for seven years as a personnel consultant, recruiting engineering and support staff for national and international companies.

Poirier and Favreau have four adult children, Raymond, Nicholas, Dax, and Amanda, as well as two grandchildren, David and Amelia.

UCW ready for Christmas events

by Sandy Croteau

WINCHESTER – The most recent meeting of Winchester United Church Women (UCW) took place earlier this month in the religious facility's sanctuary.

Clara Edwardson opened the meeting with a Remembrance Day prayer. Janice Hyndman led the group in reflection of "remembering" and scripture.

The business portion of the meeting opened with the minutes of the last session being read by Lillian Moore, and followed by the treasurer's report given by Betty Skuce.

During this year's Country Christmas Parade of Lights (Sat., Dec. 7), UCW members will provide a lunch of smoked meat sandwiches and hotdogs between 10 am and 3 pm.

The UCW's Christmas dinner is scheduled for Mon., Dec. 9 at 6 pm at St. Paul's. Lyle Skuce is set to cater the event, which is $15 per ticket. The group's general meeting will follow the dinner. For more information, contact Edwardson at 613-774-2407.

The meeting closed with "What can I do?"

The upcoming unit meeting will see Unit 4 meet at the Beachcroft on Mon., Dec. 2 at 1:30 pm.

Defeat Glens 3-2

Hawks rebound after thrashing in Casselman

ALEXANDRIA – After absorbing a 9-1 pummelling in Casselman, the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks rallied and skated back into the win column by way of a 3-2 victory over the Alexandria Glens.

Last Thursday's (Nov. 21) shelling by the Vikings (18-1-2-0) gave the St. Lawrence Division leaders a 3-1-0 record against Winchester. The Hawks opened their six-game set against Casselman with a 3-2 OT win but have since fallen 8-2, 7-2 and 9-1.

"They [Vikings] are an elite team," offered Hawks head coach Tom Kirkwood. "Unfortunately, they play some of their best hockey against us. We bring out the best in them."

Casselman wasn't as dominating in their next two tilts earning just one of a possible four points. The Gananoque Islanders handed the Eastern Ontario Junior Hockey League's best team a 3-2 setback on Friday and the Akwesasne Wolves followed up chewing off a 7-6 OT win on Sunday.

Friday (Nov. 22), the Hawks were in Alexandria where they posted a 3-2 win and improved their second-place mark to 14-4-0-2. The Glens (7-9-4-1) dropped into fifth place two back of Akwesasne (10-10-1-0).

"It was a very tight game and we limited our mistakes, a good team effort," said the coach following the one-goal decision.

Kirkwood noted that Sunday (Dec. 1) is the cut down deadline and the Hawks will be making a few changes to their roster.

Hawks 3 – Glens 2

Winchester captain Josh Stubbings buried a Sam Hodgson relay at 11:57 of the final frame breaking up a 2-2 tie and lifting his team to a 3-2 victory.

Defenceman Eric Guevremont gave the Hawks a 1-0 lead on an unassisted play 1:01 into the first period. He then made it 2-1 on a power play engineered by Kyle Richardson with 11:14 to play in period two.

Leo McLean (3:28) and TJ Burns (16:13) put pucks in behind Winchester 'tender Nathan Bowness in the second session.

The Hawks drew six minor penalties and were one for seven on the PP. Alexandria served 16 minutes in penalties and were outshot 36-23.

Vikings 9 – Hawks 1

It was another fight-filled meeting between the Hawks and Vikings that produced 27 infractions and a total of 109 minutes in penalties.

Working down low

North Dundas Midget "B" Demons' forward Donovan Williamson (No. 4) attempted to backhand the puck toward the North Leeds goal hoping teammate Braden Findlay (No. 18) would pounce on a rebound. Unfortunately for the host Demons, they weren't able to put any pucks into the opposition's net and were blanked 8-0 in last week's (Thurs., Nov. 21) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game.

Hockey weekend in Winchester

WINCHESTER — Hockey and supporting worthy causes will dominate weekend activities here in Winchester.

There are a couple of fundraisers, with hockey as their theme, scheduled for the Joel Steele Community Centre.

Friday (Nov. 29), the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks and the Ottawa Senators are skating in an alumni exhibition game as part of the Dare to Flash A 'Stache fundraiser, which will channel a portion of the evening's proceeds in support of prostate cancer awareness.

There is a $10 admission fee for adults. Students will be charged $5 and children under 12 will be admitted free. The upstairs hall will open at 7 pm and the game will get underway at 8 pm.

Rockets revisited

Saturday (Nov. 30) the recently completed 75-minute film documentary on the history of the Inkerman Rockets junior hockey team will debut in the arena hall. There will be two showings, a matinee at 3:00 pm, which will be followed by a 6:30 pm screening.

A $20 donation in aid of the Winchester United Church's ongoing restoration, which could hit the $1 million mark, will get hockey fans a seat for the viewing.

Saturday evening will also feature a Rideau St. Lawrence Conference game between the Winchester Jr. "B' Hawks and the visiting Westport Rideaus. The puck will drop at 7:30 pm.

Senior Devils finish as finalists in pre-season basketball tourney

RENFREW – They only had six players, several of those rookies, to face the run and gun Holy Trinity Falcons in the championship game of the 2013 Renfrew Early Bird Tournament, but the North Dundas District High School Senior Devils still managed 55 points in a 76-55 loss.

Coach Deanna Corbett-White reported the Falcons, from Cornwall, continued to press even when leading by 30 points, but her depleted squad battled right to the final buzzer in Saturday's (Nov. 23) final.

"With only three returning players on the floor, sometimes only two, and our rookies playing their first games we did super," commented the coach.

Veterans Bruce Bufton (21) and Wes Schmidtke (20) poured in 41 of their team's 55 points. Connor Zersch (8), Evan Corbett-White (6) and Patrick Jaquemet (3) completed the scoring.

"To score 55 points against this team with all of the odds stacked against us I am very happy where we are at, this point in the season." said the coach. "I hope we continue to improve each and every time out – that's why we attend these tournaments."

This week (Fri., Nov. 29 and Sat., Nov. 30) the Devils are taking part in a tournament at St. FX (Hammond) were they will meet VCI (Vankleek Hill) and St. FX on Friday. Those results will determine Saturday's opposition.

Tourney tales

Bufton lit it up in North Dundas' opening game against Renfrew swishing seven of eight three-point shots, hitting all of his foul shots and finishing with 28 points in the 56-28 win.

"That was the best game I have seen Bruce play in the five yeas I have coached him," said the coach.

Schmidtke (9), Evan Corbett-White (8), Will Zandbelt (4) Jaquemet (3), Dayton Kelly (2) and Zersch (2) chipped in the rest of the points.

"Everyone contributed on both ends – exactly what we want," she said.

North Dundas advanced to the championship game eliminating St. Albert College (private school from Belleville) 45-28.

The Devils defence shone in the victory draw eight charges (Wes 2, Connor 2, Will 1, Bruce 1, Patrick 1 and Dayton 1).

Schmidtke drained 23 points (7/7 from line) thanks to some solid set-ups provided by Evan Corbett-White and Bufton. Bufton (8), Corbett-White (6/6 line), Kelly (2), Zandbelt (2), Zersch (2) and Jaquemet (2) produced the remainder of the offence.

Exhibition tilt

The Devils opened their pre-season challenging St. FX in Hammond on Tues., Nov. 19 on the court where they clinched an OFSAA berth last year.

Dialing in

Bruce Bufton was on fire throwing down seven of eight three-point field goals in the North Dundas District High School Senior Devils 56-28 victory over the host school in the 2013 Renfrew Early Bird Basketball Tournament. Bufton finished the game with 28 points. The Devils lost 76-55 to the Holy Trinity Falcons in the championship game.

Pressured

North Dundas Pee Wee "B" Demons forward Curtis Bell battled through the Alexandria Glens defence and goal area during last week's (Wed., Nov. 20) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game but wasn't able to track down the puck. Alexandria left Winchester with a 7-4 victory and a share of third pace in the East Division standings.

Alexandria Glens down Pee Wee 'B' Demons 7-4

WINCHESTER – A win over the visiting Alexandria Glens would have given the North Dundas Pee Wee "B" Demons sole possession of third place in the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League East Division standings.

Unfortunately, the Glens defeated the Demons 7-4 at the Joel Steele Community Centre last week (Wed., Nov. 20) and moved into a tie for third with North Dundas. Both teams owned 2-7-1 records and had identical five-point totals following the game.

The Cornwall Colts (4-4-0) were second with eight and the undefeated South Stormont Selects (9-0-0) were alone in first with 18 points. South Dundas (1-6-1) and Char-Lan (0-6-0) rounded out the rankings.

Tonight (Wed., Nov. 27), the visiting Brockville Junior Braves (7-3-0), the number-two team in the West Division, will provide the challenge the Demons at 7 pm.

Riley Stinson counted North Dundas' first goal against Alexandria finishing a play started by Xavier Leclerc and Seth Christophersen with 9:43 left in period two.

Owen Goulet rang up the Demons' second goal on an unassisted play at 9:19 of the final frame. He scored again at 8:30 after taking a relay sent to him by Stinson and Brandon Lovely. Nolan Brown used a feed from Lovely with 3:04 left in the game to complete the North Dundas scoring.

Bantam 'B' Demons defeat Wolves 10-1

WINCHESTER – Cameron Reid, Jacob Robinson and Brandon VanBruinessen combined for 14 points, including four goals, in the North Dundas Bantam "B" Demons 10-1 romp over the visiting Akwesasne Wolves.

Monday's (Nov. 25) decisive win at the Joel Steele Community Centre enabled North Dundas to improve its record to 7-4-0 and move into a tie for second place with Brockville (6-1-2) and South Grenville (5-2-4) with 14 points. The Smiths Falls Bears (12-0-2) top the West Division standings with 26 points.

North Dundas held a 4-0 first period lead on Akwesasne and were leading 7-0 after two periods.

Kyle DeJong (Jacob Robinson, Jack van Kessel at 13:32) netted the GWG early in the opening stanza. Bayden Carr lost his shutout bid 3:01 before the final buzzer.

Brandon VanBruinessen (2-3-5), Robinson (1-4-5) and Reid (1-4-5) all contributed five points to the win. Travis McInnis (2), Jack Messervey, Brayden Roberts, Avery Holmes and DeJong sniped the other goals. Rhyce Sherrer (3), Mitchell VanBruinessen, Caleb Jaquemet and DeJong all earned helper points.

Meet the Hawks

Patrick Morin
No. 9
Forward

Patrick Morin joined the Winchester Jr. "B" Hawks seven games into the 2013-2014 Eastern Ontario Junior Hockey League season. In his first 13 games with the St. Lawrence Division team the 20 year-old Quebec City resident has netted 12 goals and set up seven scoring plays for 19 points, fifth best on the Hawks. The University of Ottawa student is credited with three PPGs and has served 10 minutes in penalties. Brister Insurance Brokers Ltd. and Weagant Farm Supplies Ltd. co-sponsor Morin's No. 9 jersey.

Hawks

Winchester had Chris Rossi, Brandon Pantaleo and Austin Rothe tossed, while Vikings Erik Just and Sylvain Quesnel were banished.

The Vikings led 2-0 after a period and 7-1 after 40 minutes. Four of their markers were PPGs.

Patrick Morin counted Winchester's only goal finishing a play created by Wyatt Coghill and Kyle Richardson 4:21 into period two.

Devin Desnoyers (2), Maxime Choquette, Ethan Wensink, Thierry Henry, Simon Cousineau, Taylor Widenmaier and Yannik Bertrand cashed the Casselman goals.

Brandon Lowry faced 30 shots in his 40 minutes of work and was replaced by Greg Carre who debuted for the Hawks playing the final frame and making eight saves on 10 chances.

This week

The Hawks will face a pair of Rideau Division teams this week hosting the Westport Rideaus (7-12-3-1) at the Joel Steele Community Centre on Saturday (Nov. 30) at 7:30 pm and travelling to Athens to challenge the Aeros (11-9-2-0) at Centre 76 on Sunday (Dec. 1).

Trainer needed

The Hawks are looking to recruit a team trainer and any interested parties should contact either GM Craig "JB" Smith or head coach Tom Kirkwood (see ad in this issue of the Winchester Press).

Basketball

Bufton threw down 12 points leading the Devils to a 51-21 victory. Schmidtke nailed 11, Kelly and Dan Trumper each put nine up while Corbett-White hit eight and Zersch added a deuce.

Coach Corbett-White said she got excellent defence from everyone and the points were well distributed.

The coach has lost Corey Vandemheen, Liam Morrow, Austin Carruthers and Chris Neil from last year's EOSSAA silver-medal winning squad through graduation but has a solid foundation of five veterans – Bufton, Schmidtke, Kelly, Trumper and Corbett-White – to build another SD&G "A" senior boys championship team on.

The rookies are Jaquemet, Zandbelt, Mitch Melenhorst (on injury list) and Connor Zersch.

Junior Devils

Schmidtke and Evan Corbett-White are coaching the North Dundas Junior Devils this season and have put the team through a couple of exhibition games.

Ben Schoones (13), Cory Ross (2) and Braden Cochrane (2) provided the points in a 48-16 loss to St. FX.

Schoones (8) and Quinn Chambers (2) had the points in a 43-10 loss to the Holy Trinity Falcons.

Metcalfe Jets' offence fizzles in back-to-back games against Ottawa West Golden Knights

METCALFE – They held the Metro Division leading Ottawa West Golden Knights to six goals through 120 minutes of hockey, but the Metcalfe Jr. "B" Jets managed just two in back-to-back losses.

The top ranked Golden Knights (17-3-0-0) nipped the fifth-place Jets (7-15-0-0) 2-1 at the Barbara Ann Scott Arena last week (Thurs., 21) before handing them a 4-1 setback Sunday (Nov. 24) at the Larry Robinson Arena.

Ottawa West outshot the Jets 34-29 in last week's encounter and took a 1-0 lead on Mike Milito's first-period marker. Period two was scoreless, but the Knights counted what would prove to be the GWG when Phil Edgar made it 2-0 at 14:37 of the final frame.

Matt Borkowski (Jordan Malette) sliced Metcalfe's final deficit when he made it 2-1 with 1:28 left on the clock.

Dylan BrindAmour suffered the one goal setback stopping 32 of 34 shots. Knights' JJ Pristanski missed one of 29 shots he faced.

Metcalfe drew four minutes and Ottawa West took four minor penalties.

Rematch

Ottawa West owned a 1-0 lead after 20 minutes and 3-1 after two periods on their way to a 4-1 win on Sunday in Metcalfe.

Nathan Avery (Simon Martel at 10:22) counted the lone Jets goal in period two.

Jeff Gottzmann (2), Dave Kilrea and Eric Wintjes (GWG) were the Ottawa West snipers.

BrindAmour (24 of 28) and Pristanski (33 of 34) were once again the opposing goaltenders.

The Knights were whistled for five minor infractions, while the Jets served six minutes.

Buma unbeatable

North Dundas Rockets rip Vankleek Hill Cougars 6-0

CHESTERVILLE – Jason Buma blocked every shot the Vankleek Hill Cougars fired at him and backed his hometown North Dundas Rockets in a 6-0 National Capital Junior Hockey League victory.

Saturday's (Nov. 23) win improved the Rockets record to 3-11-2 and moved them into a share of eighth place with the Gatineau Olympiques (4-10-0) who also have collected eight points. North Dundas is now within striking distance of both the Cumberland Bandits (6-7-0) who have 12 and the Cougars (7-9-0) with 14 points.

This weekend (Sat., Nov. 30), the Rockland Nationals (7-8-2) will visit Chesterville for a 7:50 pm tilt with the Rockets.

Dylan Marshall cashed his first and the GWG finishing a play started by Pete Klein-Swormink and Dustin Tinkler with 9:10 left in the first period of the Vankleek Hill game.

Kyle Adams made it 2-0 cashing a PPG set up by John Vanzyl and Will Fawcett at 7:46 and 16 seconds later Adam Polgar opened up a 3-0 lead scoring from Stephane Weiss and Scott Low.

The first frame ended with Tinkler making it 4-0 after taking in a feed from Klein-Swormink and Adrian Lee.

Dayton Kelly registered the lone goal of the second session. Adams and Cole Rowden picked up the assists at 10:56.

Adams made it a 6-0 final cracking a PPG 6:47 before the final buzzer sounded. Kelly and Nolan Gillis created the opportunity for the Rockets leading scorer.

With 1:26 left on the clock Rockets Adrian Lee and Will Fawcett decided to dance with Vankleek Hill's Jacob Marley and Sam McGillis. All four combatants were assessed fighting majors and game misconducts.

Road win

The North Dundas Novice House "C1" Demons skated to a 2-1 victory over the Athens Aeros in Athens on Sunday (Nov. 24). It was the fifth win in 12 Upper Canada Minor Hockey league games for the Demons (5-7-0) who stand third in the East Division standings. William Miller and goaltender Sam Hart were involved in this action.

Country Girls, remain undefeated, blank WS Trucking Company 1-0

WINCHESTER – There wasn't an abundance of offence produced by any of the Winchester District Ladies Hockey League teams.

Sunday morning's (Nov. 24) triple bill was a low scoring affair featuring a pair of 1-0 decisions and a 1-1 tie.

The first-place Country Girls (5-0-3) opened at 8 am nipping the WS Trucking Company (0-4-4) 1-0. Sonja Bradley registered her second shutout of the campaign and Jessica Hendrikx netted the GWG, finishing a play engineered by Kelly Morrell and Dianne Lapier with 10:58 left in the first half. Mireille Drouin was named the player of the game.

Cashelle Baldwin suffered the one goal setback.

Shelby Aubut, filling in for Cristal Beattie, hung up her fifth zero of the year backing Andy's Foodland Reds (3-2-3) in a 1-0 victory over the Annable's Jewellery Blues (3-3-2) in the 9 am tilt. Amy Murphy cracked the GWG finishing a play started by player of the game Stacey Murphy at 17:40 of the first half.

Carrie McCadden tended the Blues net.

Chantal Thurler used a pass provided by Kaitlyn Hay and Holly Klein-Swormink to hand KCs Lawn Maintenance (1-3-4) crew a 1-0 lead 5:52 before the half of the 10 am contest. Kristie Wade held the Cooper Physio Pinks (1-1-6) off the board until Stephanie Borden earned player of the game status tying it 1-1 on an unassisted play 12:21 before the final buzzer. Shelby Aubut worked the Pinks' cage.

Demons edge Aeros 2-1

ATHENS – Nathan Thompson's second period goal held up as the deciding shot fired in the North Dundas Novice House "C1" Demons 2-1 victory over the Athens Aeros.

Sunday's (Nov. 24) win at Centre 76 left the Demons with a 5-7-0 record and sole possession of third place in the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League East Division standings with 10 points.

The South Dundas "C1" Lions (7-0-3) are first with 17 points and will provide the opposition today (Wed., Nov. 27) when they visit the Demons at the Joel Steele Community Centre.

Second place belongs to the South Dundas "C2" Lions (7-5-1) who have 15 points. The Kemptville "C3" Panthers (4-5-1) are one point behind North Dundas with nine.

North Dundas took a 1-0 lead on the Aeros on an unassisted marker by Aaron Casselman with 7:57 left in the opening period.

Thompson made it 2-0 netting a Nicholas Guy rebound with 5:36 left in period two. Athens cut their deficit to 2-1 1:43 before the period ended.

Sam Hart was the winning 'tender.

The day before in Kemptville, the Demons were blanked 2-0 by the Kemptville "C2" Panthers.

Heuff's move up in standings

Doggers bite off 5-2 win against Bush Leaguers

WINCHESTER – Brandon Buma ripped in three goals leading the Heuff's Carpentry Doggers to a 5-2 victory over the Bush Leaguers.

Last week's (Tues., Nov. 19) decision was notable in that it moved the Doggers into a tie for second place with the Leaguers in the Winchester Town Hockey League standings. Both teams own 5-4-0 records and have collected 10 points.

The late half of the Tuesday night twin bill was recorded as an 8-3 victory for the top ranked Red Roosters (7-2-0) over the fourth-place Chesterville Maulers (1-8-0).

Buma blasted in his first two goals opening up a 2-0 lead for the Doggers in the first half. Kyle Sobering and Trevor Morozuk drew assists on the first marker at 12:50 and the second was unassisted at 11:48. Doug "Bubba" Ferguson (unassisted) put the Leaguers on the board 58 seconds before the intermission.

Dean Byvelds (Bill McRoberts at 10:21) managed the second and final Leaguer tally, while the Doggers buried shots fired by Buma (Justin Heuff at 16:46), Mike Cross (unassisted at 7:57) and Adam Schofield (unassisted) with 31 seconds on the clock to register their 5-2 victory.

Roosters 8 – Maulers 3

Clayton Kohn cashed four goals and picked up an assist on one of Mark Mitchell's three in the Roosters drubbing of the Maulers.

Mitchell (3-2-5) also finished the game with five points. His second tally set up by Derek Vingerhoeds, who engineered five scoring plays, at 22:55 of the second session was the GWG.

Dana Schofield (1-1-2) sniped the single and finished with two points. Chris Piquette, Trent McBain and James Gilmer each collected an assist.

Robyn Sadler netted a deuce of Mauler markers while substitute Brandon Buma added the single and an assist to the cause. Travis Rowe set up two of the three goals.

Turned back

The North Dundas Midget "B" Demons hosted the North Leeds Rideaus last week (Thurs., Nov. 21) at the Joel Steele Community Centre in an Upper Canada Minor Hockey League West Division game. North Dundas forwards Nick Fleury (No. 3) and Patrick Gibson (No. 9) were turned away by the opposition's goaltender on this play. The visitors left Winchester with an 8-0 victory added to their 3-5-1 record. Press Photo – Van Bridger

Novice House 'B' Demons win 10th game

CHESTERVILLE – Jordan Heuff's second period goal proved to be the winner in the North Dundas Novice House "B" Demons 2-1 victory over the visiting Kemptville "B2" Panthers.

Sebastien Lafrance earned the assist on the GWG that was scored with 2:07 left in the second period of Monday's (Nov. 25) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game at the Chesterville Arena. The win was the 10th in 12 games for the Demons (10-2-0) who have 20 points and top the West Division standings. The "B2" Panthers (6-3-3) are second with 15 points.

Nolan Foley converted Caden Holmes' relay into a 1-0 North Dundas lead with 9:45 left in the opening stanza.

Kemptville had tied it 1-1 scoring at 4:55 of the second session.

Pee Wee House 'C' Demons tie South Stormont Selects 1-1

CHESTERVILLE – Brady Berube used a pass provided by Chase Holmes to get the host North Dundas Pee Wee House "C" Demons a 1-0 lead against the South Stormont Selects.

Berube's marker came at 13:41 and held up until the Selects tied it on Chris Berantino's PPG at 14:29 of the second stanza of Monday's (Nov. 25) Upper Canada Minor Hockey League game at the Chesterville Arena.

The verdict moved the Demons third-place record to 5-1-1, which left them tied at 11 points with the Kemptville "C1" Panthers (5-6-1).

Sunday (Nov. 24), the Demons met the Glens in Alexandria and suffered their first defeat losing 6-3.

All nine goals were registered in the third period when the Glens took leads of 2-0, 4-1 and 6-2. Bradley Larmour (Spencer Horton, Sam Sylvestre at 12:11), Horton (Larmour, Nathan Saari at 3:13) and Justin Dagenais (Preston Shelaga, Sarah Messervey at 1:15) were the North Dundas marksmen.

Bronze medalists

The Winchester Curling Club recently hosted its first annual bantam/junior bonspiel. The competition featured six teams, two from the host club. The Winchester foursome of lead Chloe Zeigler (left), second Grace Cave, vice Lisa Scheuner and skip Sarah Holmes finished in third place. Mandy Peddle convened the event.

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS – The family of the late Joseph Crites of Cardinal would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all family, friends and neighbors for their prayers, cards, calls, donations of food and flowers. Special thanks to Dr. Bhatt and Dr. Davidson, staff on the second floor of BGH and Bayshore Home Health for their excellent care. Thanks to Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home for all their support, to the pallbearers who honored Joe on his final journey and the ladies of the CWL for such a delicious lunch. Your outpouring and sharing of special memories, funny stories and music helped us celebrate his life and be thankful for the time shared.

In Memoriam

BALL – In loving memory of a dear husband, father, father-in-law and grandfather, Eric, who passed away November 29, 2004.
The special years shall not return
When we were all together.
But with the love within our hearts,
You will walk with us forever.
– Love Jessie and family
38

MURPHY – In memory of Jim, December 3, 2009.
There is always a face before me
A voice I would love to hear,
A smile I would always remember
Of a son I loved so dear.
Deep in my heart lies a picture
More precious than silver or gold,
It's a picture of my son,
Whose memory will never grow old.
Gone are the days we used to share
But in my heart you're always there,
Never more than a thought away
And there you will always remain.
Goodbye for now Jim, until we meet again.
– Sadly missed, deeply loved
– Mom and family
38

CRUMP – In memory of our mother, Helene, who passed away November 24, 2004.
A special person, a special face
Someone we love and can't replace
Few on this earth are equal we find,
Always so good, unselfish and kind.
These are the memories dear Mother
– Elaine, Betty, Angus and Heather - 2012

38

LEWIS / WYATT – In memory of my late husbands, Fred Lewis, April 30, 1965 and Lorne Wyatt, November 26, 2008.
Those we love don't go away
They walk beside us every day
Unseen, unheard, but always near
Still loved, still missed and very dear.
– Lovingly remembered
– Helen Wyatt

38

HOLLIDAY – In loving memory of our dear husband, father and papa, Raymond, who passed away, November 30, 2004.
What I would give to clasp his hand,
His happy face to see,
To hear his voice, and see his smile
That meant so much to me.
The rolling stream of life rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of the one who once sat there.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
– Forever in our hearts,
– Phyllis, Tracey and Dave, Mitchell and Brandon

38

JIM MURPHY
1960-2009
In memory of Jim Murphy, who passed away December 3, 2009.
God saw you were getting tired
And a cure was not to be,
So He put His arms around you
And whispered come with me.
A golden heart stopped beating
Hard working hands now at rest,
God broke our hearts to prove
He only takes the best.
– Always thinking of you
– Love Shirley, Rob and Ashley

38

ZWARTS – In loving memory of Maria, who passed away December 3, 2012.
There is an empty place in our hearts during the holiday season.
Sweet memories will linger forever;
Time cannot change them, it's true.
Years that may come cannot sever,
Our loving remembrance of you
At Christmas and all year through.
– Wish Jesus a Happy Birthday Mom
– Love always Marleen Zwarts-Fawcett and family and all your family

SHOCKED, SURPRISED 70TH PARTY

Very big thanks from the bottom of my heart, to Jamie & Tina & Whitnie & Adrianna & Hunter. To Michael & Debbie & Beth and all families, for all the very hard work and decorating Lions Hall, preparing the delicious meal, my excellent 70th birthday cake, the many phone calls you made. (YOU PULLED IT OFF) Saturday night, Nov. 16, 2013. Escorted by my son Jamie ('Dress Christmasy') for my grandkids' (Hockey Banquet Christmas Party) (TO BE) HA! HA! "The Best Party Yet."

As the doors opened, and very dark inside, with a heart-shape balloon 'Happy 70th Mom' floating and balloons everywhere. A full house of people (cheering 'Surprise') and singing 'Happy Birthday', with DJ Jamie. A beautiful poster and photo of Gramma and my grandkids on the wall, a lovely poster to sign, a decorated table full of gifts, cards, flowers, balloons, banners. What a special evening, I'll never forget.

Many thanks to my children and grandkids. Bless ya's. I couldn't believe it.

To all my family and my many relatives (from both sides), for being there, plus the Beachcroft Ladies and some hockey families too. What a wonderful surprise, for sure.

Thanks so very much to you all, and for my 70th birthday party, my gifts, cards and phone calls. It sure was great to see everyone, I love you all.

God Bless You All, Always.
Love, Barbara Van Breugel

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory
Dorothy Evelyn Wicks
November 6, 2012

We cried when you passed away,
We still cry today.
Although we loved you dearly,
We couldn't make you stay.
A golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands at rest.
God broke our hearts to prove to us
That He only takes the best.

Love always,
Bruce, Kathy
and family

IN MEMORIAM
David Howarth

January 13, 1963-November 27, 2011

I thought of you with love today but that is nothing new,
I thought about you yesterday and days before that too.
I think of you in silence, I often speak your name,
We cherish all the memories and your picture in a frame.
Your memory is my keepsake with which I'll never part.

Our dear Dave, precious husband and best friend, amazing father, cherished son-in-law, brother-in-law and uncle. You are with us always…

Thank You

With the passing of our mother, Lois Thompson, we would like to thank our families, friends and relatives who sent heart-warming cards, flowers, dropped off food or shared some little story that involved mother over her 84 years. Even yet we still have people sharing their sympathy with a handshake or a few kind words. We are blessed to be surrounded by a neighbourhood of this quality. You will live in our hearts forever.

As always, whether in joy or sadness, the Heckston UCW has the resources to draw on and step in to welcome the community. We thank you for being there.

On May 10, 2013, there was a part of our lives that stopped, and now we would be drawing on all the memories. With help from Victoria Byers and her staff at Byers Funeral Home, we were allowed to focus on what was really important to us at this time, while they looked after all the details in a most respectful and professional manner. Thank you.

We would like to thank Rev. Brian Barr for conducting the service for Mother as if he had known her all his life, when in fact he had never met her before. We are thankful our community is made up of people like him.

Thank you to Pat Sugarman for the music that allowed our thoughts to travel to a special memory we had of Mother.

Many thanks to the staff at Bayshore Home Health and Gamma-Dynacare for having a smiling face every time they came to the house no matter what time of the day it might have been.

A special thank you to Dr. Blaine and his staff for all their care and attention to Mother's health requirements over the many years.

Contributions of British Home Children remembered

OTTAWA – In honour of British Home Children, Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry (SD&SG) MP Guy Lauzon recently made a statement in the House of Commons.

"I am happy to announce that for the first time ever, the Ontario East British Home Child Family Organization laid a wreath to mark the contributions and sacrifices of British Home Children and their descendants at the National War Memorial this past Remembrance Day," Lauzon said. "Between 1869 and the late 1940s, more than 100,000 orphaned and abandoned children arrived in Canada from Great Britain and Ireland. These homeless children, ages six months to 18 years, relocated to rural communities in Canada. They often worked as farmhands and domestics for room and board, and faced considerable challenges and hardships. But, due to their courage, bravery and determination, many went on to live productive lives."

When I grow up

North Dundas District High School and Intermediate School students were given a taste of what their futures could hold during the education facility's annual Career Day event on Mon., Nov. 25. A number of local businesses were on hand with displays, while high school co-op students also showed off the knowledge acquired during recent job placements. The day also featured three keynote addresses.

Far left: Alan Archer, Winchester District Memorial Hospital's chief liaison officer for volunteer services, answered a number of inquiries throughout the event.

Ottawa Fire Services member Steve Mattice was on hand to discuss firefighting as a career choice.

Jersey day next Friday

NDDHS Notes

by Amber Cotton

MAPLE RIDGE – As the temperature drops, the student council at North Dundas District High School (NDDHS) has been busy preparing activities to keep everyone warm throughout the winter season.

First of all, council members would like to thank everyone who participated in anti-bullying day on Wed., Nov. 20. There were many students wearing pink to show their support, and it was greatly appreciated.

Also, Taylor Cummins will be collecting jeans as a fundraiser in support of homeless teens. If anyone has used or old jeans, bring them to Taylor to help out a good cause. Just a reminder to all students that Fri., Nov. 29 is National Jersey Day, so students should be sure to wear their favourite jersey that day.

There will also be a shooting contest at lunch on Nov. 29 for any student who would like to participate. For all Grade 12 students, there will be practices for the Christmas concert, which is quickly approaching. Meetings and practices will take place throughout the week, so be sure to bring any necessary materials.

As road conditions worsen, we would like to remind drivers to be safe and to be sure to watch out for students, as well as ice and other conditions related to the winter weather when driving.

As for students, due to the winter conditions, any information about bus cancellations and delays can be found at www.steo.ca.

We highly encourage everyone to stay safe, and enjoy the winter season. We hope you all have a great week!
