Pretty Wedding at St. Mary's Church

Baskets of white gladioli and mums adorned the altar of St. Mary's Church, Morrisburg on Friday, November 1st, for the marriage of Anne Marie Young to Bryan Ralph Dawley. Rev. Fr. D. W. MacDonald officiated at the 12 o'clock double ring ceremony.

Miss Rosemary Colgan played the wedding music and Miss Linda LaPorte was soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Young of RR1, Iroquois and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton C. Dawley of Morrisburg.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor length gown of white brocade with empire waist, A-line skirt, scoop neck and long sleeves, and a full length train attached at the shoulders. Her waist length veil was held in place by a wedding ring headpiece made of sequins. She carried a cascade of two dozen red roses. The brides gown and headpiece were original creations, also the headpieces of the bridesmaids.

The bride was attended by Miss Wilda Locke, as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Joe Ann Cadworth, Iroquois, Miss Rose Anne Helferty of Picton and her sister Miss Isabel Young. They wore full length gowns of blue cloud dreamlette with empire waist, A-line skirt, short sleeves and wedding ring headpieces of silver sequins and blue veiling, and matching accessories. They carried bouquets of white mums tipped with blue.

The flower girl Miss Lucille

Young, sister of the bride wore a full length gown with white brocade bodice, and blue skirt and sash. She wore a white ribbon in her hair and carried a basket of white pom-poms tipped with blue. The ring bearer was Kelvin Young, brother of the bride.

The groomsmen was Jack Notman of Morrisburg, and guests were ushered by Steven Young, brother of the bride, William Hawkes of Waterloo, and Dennis Whitaker of Morrisburg.

Following the ceremony a reception for over 100 guests was held at the Morrisburg Civic Centre. For receiving guests the brides mother chose a rose coat and dress ensemble with navy accessories, and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The mother of the groom wore a gold coat and dress ensemble with brown accessories and a corsage of bronze tinted mums.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. I. McAlpine chose a navy blue one-piece dress with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's grandmother, Mrs. G. Dawley wore a teal-blue coat and dress ensemble, black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the reception the young couple left for a trip to Northern Ontario. For travelling the bride donned a two-piece gold wool plaid suit, gold hat, black accessories, and a corsage of pink roses.

Guests attended from Picton, Bellville, Kingston, Montreal, Cornwall, Iroquois and Morrisburg.

: DUNDAS : THE LOST COUNTRY

(A report by the Chairman of the Morrisburg and District Industrial Committee.)

Last week, Dundas was regaled by the Press informing the public of the huge loans Ontario Minister Randall, of industry has issued, tax free, to multi-million dollar industries, in and around Cornwall, for expansion, and locating new industry. This is especially interesting to the Morrisburg Industrial Committee, for the unfilled promises Mr. Randall, and his predecessors have made to our Committee. We are informed Courtland's are to receive about $200,000.00, others in proportion, with a new industry locating at Summerstown, to receive over $200,000.00, as an inducement from Minister Randall, indicating who placed it there. It is said the American Kraft Food Products Co. are to receive a huge tax free loan for locating at Ingleside. Others could be mentioned.

Recently, the mass Press gave banner headlines announcing the Eastern Ontario Development Association, are sharing in the massive industrial placement sponsored by Minister Randall's Department, in the Eastern Districts. It mentioned all around, particularly Stormont and Glengarry, BUT NOT DUNDAS. How come enormously wealthy industries are able to obtain massive tax free loans, with other concessions? And why, over the years, has Dundas been deliberately ignored when long informed many industries had expressed a desire to locate in Dundas.

Until now, our Committee have respected the promise to keep all industrial matters confidential. In face of all betrayals, and discrimination, our Committee feel no longer bound, and are informing our public of a few of the many facts.

It openly began about two years ago when Premier Robarts, speaking at Cornwall, assured special preference to Stormont and Glengarry for new industry.

Dundas was deliberately ignored. Resentful, our Committee wrote Mr. Robart, asking what right he had to discriminate against Dundas or any other region. In reply, Mr. York, vice-minister to Randall, claimed Mr. Robart had not made the statements, and indicated no such report had appeared. Yet, screaming on the front page of the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder, in big, bold, black type was Robarts statement, signed in the same big type, "Guidon". Conservation member for Stormont. A proof sheet was sent Mr. York, to which he refused to reply. Twice after, when the Cornwall press reported new industries in the area, Mr. Guidon stated it was in policy with Mr. Robarts decision to favour the two eastern counties with industry. Since these public remarks, industry has flowed steadily into Stormont and Glengarry, particularly, since Dundas has been politically deprived of Federal representation. No criticism is intended against Mr. Lamaroux, and Guidon. Full credit is given them in serving their constituencies with their energy, but not at the expense of Dundas. It appears to be plain political duplicity at Queen's Park.

All around, Renfrew, Smiths Falls, Perth, Annaprior, Hawkesbury, Charlottetown, Alexander, Prescott,

Brockville, Stormont and Glengarry industry has located, sponsored by Government, who had promised so much to Dundas. Dundas, a political island of apparent discrimination, appears to be blackballed. The EODA operating with Randall's office, while taking our annual dues, have never aided.

Where are our highly paid representatives, from the lower political levels upward? Not once did any attend our meetings, or help to clinch an interested prospect. We saw them disappear elsewhere, and received nothing but evasive replies. All got here today is by our own efforts.

One agent attending the one only meeting, replied to the question, if the Provincial Department of Trade and Industry had the privilege to advise other location to a prospect, even if he considered our area favourable. He replied they had, confirming our suspicions Toronto was using our hard earned efforts to ulterior purpose. Last February, when conferring with Mr. Randall, at Toronto, he denied the charge. We offered to allow his office to inspect our files to justify our complaints. The accusatory evidence was not accepted.

A fitting example of frustration by politics is in the incident occurring about two years ago when a large industry gave every intention of locating here. We gave them full co-operation. To finalize their decision they required a special costly report. We were reluctant unless assured they would locate here. The report cost the municipality about $3,000.00. The firm expressed great satisfaction. It was considered settled. Two months later we were amazed to hear over the radio they would locate in Stormont. On enquiring the reason for this betrayal, the answer given was "Politics".

This has been the common frustration since 1956, and still is.

In the long wrangle between Dupont, and Union Carbide over location priority, a ninety day moratorium was given with Government and Hydro the referees. We supported Union Carbide, by being first to apply, and judged best for us. Union Carbide lost out. A top executive of the latter informed us that the political pressure was too much for them. Immediately locating at Smiths Falls, within six months Union Carbide built a factory employing 200 workers. After four years, the 2000 Dupont acres remains a waste land disfiguring community landscape.

Mr. Stanley Durand, chief industrial agent for CNR exploratory agent 1 nthe promotion, told us Dupont were anxious to get started. All new plants would be built here. Instead, they have built new plants at Maitland, and recently announced another to be built elsewhere. At any time, Dupont have refused to give us any other answer than they may build next year or ten years later. Our agreement with all concerned was a firm was predicted to start building within two years. Politics have dictated at the expense of Dundas.

When conferring with Mr. Randall and his colleagues, last February, our Committee insisted something had to be settled about Dupont. By political connivance, and legal intrigue Dupont has forced out two industries. The second firm we worked with obtaining dock privileges climaxed the deal by check payment known to us. They started, spending a large sum of money, when, by trickery Dupont took over the land. Legal suit followed to no avail. This firm would have employed eighty-workers year round. Dupont further frustrated development at Riverside Heights. Mr. Randall said he knew personally the top Dupont executives from whom he personally would solicit a decision. We demanded a time be set for operating start. If years was to be further consumed waiting, we required them to forfeit the land for resale. Industries have told us they are afraid to locate here until they know what Dupont will do. Mr. Randall was to see them at once, and immediately advise us, also of two other industries promised "sure", we had worked on. For nigh three months we waited in vain, then wrote requiring the promised reply. Mr. Mason, his assistant replied with disgusting evasion, saying only what had been told us.

The two factories in question was not referred to. Another top bracket, contact made while at Toronto, had supposed to excite the Department in which we gave all information

Vows Heard at St. Peter's Church

Yellow shasta daisies and yellow spider mums decorated the altar of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Williamsburg, for the marriage of Karen Jo-Ann Whitteker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross E. Whitteker, of RR3 Williamsburg to Douglas Raymond Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wells of Morrisburg, on Saturday, October 26th at 2 p.m. Rev. W. J. Goos performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father the bride chose a floor length gown of chantilly lace styled with tight bodice, round neckline and Lilly point sleeves. The back bodice came to a low point and was trimmed in roses of the same lace. The full skirt dropped to a chapel train. A cluster of organa roses and Lily of the Valley held her three tiered illusion veil in place. She carried a sheaf of pink sensation roses.

She was attended by Miss Jane Meyer of Williamsburg as Maid of Honor and bridesmaids were Miss Eileen Potvin of Ottawa, cousin of the bride, and Miss Paula Wells of Morrisburg, sister of the groom.

Miss Jane Meyer wore a floor length gown of royal blue crepe with empire waist, round neckline, straight skirt, and long full sheer sleeves, and the fitted gown was covered by a full sheer overdress. She wore matching accessories and a headpiece of pale yellow shasta mums. The dresses of the attendants were cerise and fashioned on the same lines as the Maid of Honor. They wore matching accessories and headpieces of pale yellow shasta mums. They carried cascades of pale yellow spider mums.

The groomsmen was Richard Froats of Morrisburg and ushers were Donald Whitteker, Morrisburg, brother of the bride, and David Millward of Morrisburg.

At the reception held at the Country Kitchen, Winchester for 90 guests the brides mother chose a teal blue metallic brocade dress, black accessories and a corsage of white feathered mums. The groom's mother wore a Caribbean wool dress with black accessories and a corsage of yellow miniature carnations.

For a trip to Western Ontario, the bride wore a lime green dress with fur packet, black accessories and a yellow cymbidium orchid en corsage.

Guests attended from Prince Edward Island, Canton, N.Y., Cornwall, Long Sault, Ottawa, Ingleside, Chesterville, Iroquois, Morrisburg, Williamsburg.

Prior to her marriage the bride was entertained at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Susan Shaver and Mrs. Sharon Shaver at the home of Mrs. Cecil Hanson and another shower at the home of Mrs. Arnold Van Allen, Williamsburg.

Gord McGregor To Long Sault

Superintendent H. Ramsbottom, Commanding Officer of No. 11 District, O.P.P., announces the appointment of G. E. McGregor, to the position of District Accident Prevention Co-ordinator, at Long Sault, O.P.P. Headquarters.

Constable Gord McGregor, who was transferred to Long Sault, D.H. Q. from the Morrisburg Detachment, replaces Constable G. F. Ockerse, who was relocated to O.P.P. General Headquarters, Toronto.

Constable Gord McGregor was born and educated in Renfrew, Ontario. He joined the R.C.A.F. in 1958 and served for five years as a metals technician at Rockcliffe Air Force Base. He became a member of the Ontario Provincial Police in 1963, and was posted to Morrisburg Detachment, where he served as an Accident Prevention Officer from 1965 to date.

His experience in the traffic safety and public information field has earned him favourable recognition and a wide knowledge.

Gord, his wife, Iona, and two daughters reside in Morrisburg.

DRIVER ESCAPES AS BIG BUCK CRASHES INTO AUTOMOBILE

Thomas Cecil Lafleur, 58, of Riverside Heights narrowly escaped injury Monday at 8:30 a.m. when the car which he was driving west on Highway No. 2, east of Morrisburg was thrown to the north shoulder of the highway when a huge buck crashed into it from the river side. Mr. Lafleur said, "I didn't know what had happened when the blow came on the driver's side at the middle of the car, a shower of fine glass flew around and fortunately I was able to bring the car to rest before it landed in that deep ditch."

The accident occurred early in the morning almost opposite the antique train and station near Upper Canada Village where Mr. Lafleur is employed on the security police staff. The driver sustained a cut thumb, the car suffered extensive damage and the buck was killed.

Constable Steve Fraser, Morrisburg OPP and the area game warden investigated.

NAME DATES FOR AREA VISITS BY NEW BOOKMOBILE

The Board of Eastern Ontario Regional Library System has laid down a schedule on a three weeks rotation basis. Steps have been taken to engage a bookmobile clerk-driver and if such a staff member can be secured on time, the service will start November 18th. Exact location of stops will be publicized as soon as possible. While the initial schedule concerns mostly Stormont and Glengarry Counties, some visits are also made in Dundas. Stops for the Bookmobile in this immediate area are given as follows:

November 18 and December 9th—Riverside Heights, 2:30 — 4:30.

Nov. 19 and Dec. 10—Osnabruck Centre, 9:55—10:10; Grantley 10:35—10:50; Dunbar, 11:00—11:15; Elma, 11:30—1:00; Bouck's Hill, 2:15—2:30; Hoasic, 2:45—3:00; Gallingerstown, 3:15—3:30.

Nov. 21 and Dec. 12—Glen Becker 10:00—10:30; Williamsburg, 10:45—1:00; Winchester Springs, 2:00—4:00.

Boucks Hill Man Died in Hospital

Harry Floyd Stillson, a respected native of the Williamsburg area, died on Wednesday, October 30th in the Winchester Memorial Hospital, following an illness of a year's duration.

The late Mr. Stillson was born March 19th, 1898 at Bouck's Hill, a son of the late Charles Asa Stillson and his wife, Anna Jane McIntosh.

He received his early education in area schools, and later took up farming. In the early years of his life, he worked in the Kirkland Lake Gold Mines. In 1941, he moved to the Gallingerstown area, where he had farmed until he retired a year ago, and moved to Williamsburg. A quiet unassuming man, Mr. Stillson had never married.

He is survived by a brother, Charles Stillson, Newington; and 3 sisters, Ina Mae "Dollie" Colquhoun at home; Mrs. Lillian Colquhoun, Williamsburg; Mrs. Louise Lindop, Ajax, Ontario.

Funeral service was held at his residence on November 2nd at 2 p.m., with Rev. D. L. Gordon, of Williamsburg United Church officiating. Interment followed in Union Cemetery, Williamsburg.

Pall bearers were: Dale Marcelus, Robert Weagant, Mahlon Gow, Merton O'Shaughnessy, Graham Wells, Alton Barkley.

4-H Achievement Night

A very successful 1968 4-H program in Dundas was brought to a climax on Tuesday night, November 5th, with the Annual 4-H Awards Night held in the Auditorium of North Dundas District High School. The Chairman for the evening was Keith Fawcett, Inkerman, Vice President of Dundas 4-H Club Leaders.

The highlights of the evening included a 4-H demonstration by Diane and Barbara Fawcett, which placed in the B' Group at the Central Canada Exhibition earlier this summer, a report on Junior Farmer Camp by Dundas County's representative, Diane Fawcett, and an inspiring and enthusiastic presentation by the Guest Speaker, Mr. Nelson Hawn of Kemptville. Mr. Hawn was introduced by Danny Johnstone, a Senior Student at Kemptville College of Agriculture and appreciation was expressed to Mr. Hawn for his presentation by Frank Casselman, a member of the Morewood 4-H Dairy Club.

Three members of the North Mountain 4-H Club received Provincial honours during the 4-H year. Rodney Gilmer, a first-year student at the University of Guelph represented Dundas County at the Provincial 4-H Leadership Week at Guelph in July and he was one of seven 4-H boys chosen to represent Ontario at the National 4-H Club Conference. This is one of the highest honours that any 4-H member can receive. National 4-H Club Conference will be held on November 15-20th in the cities of Ottawa and Toronto.

On October 25th, the Provincial 4-H Inter-Club Judging Competitions were held at the University of Guelph. A total of about five hundred 4-H members participated this year. The largest competition was the Dairy Division which had a total of 80 judging teams. The team of Deborah Blaine and Douglas Blaine, representing the North Mountain Club, placed first in this competition. This is the highest honour that any 4-H Judging Team can win in Ontario. Everyone in Dundas County would like to congratulate these 4-H members on their recent victory. 1951 was the last time that Dundas County won this Trophy and very fittingly the team members of that team were Gordon McVey and Franklin Milne, one of the present 4-H Club Leaders of the North Mountain Club. The other leader is Edward Rose. Deborah and Douglas Blaine are daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Blaine, R.R. 2, Mountain, well-known Holstein breeders in Dundas County.

At the Ottawa Winter Fair, last week, several of Dundas County's 4-H calves received red ribbons, the calves belonging to the following members: Dennis Blaine, Greg Hillis, Ronnie Thompson, Carman Dawley, Diane Fawcett, Bruce Holmes and Allison Coons.

Dundas County's 4-H Swine entries did extremely well at the Winter Fair. Peter Leyenaar had the first prize single and first prize pair of gilts. Dundas County had the championship group of 3 gilts, and these belonged to Peter Leyenaar, Brian Stebo and Ian Fawcett.

Kierans is Congratulated

Charles, G. Munro, president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, congratulated Postmaster General Eric Kierans earlier this week concerning the decision to allow rural areas to remain on six-day mail delivery.

The OFA had requested by special resolution earlier this month that the recent government policy regarding the five-day postal delivery be modified to serve rural areas. The resolution was given unanimous consent at a monthly Members' Meeting.

In the resolution it was pointed out that farm people do not have the same access to post offices as is enjoyed in urban areas. Mail delivery is the major distribution system for newspapers in rural parts of the province.

The recent postal strike did not involve the rural mail carriers because they are contracted carriers rather than employees.

Mr. Kierans conceded that to end Saturday deliveries would cause "serious hardship" in farm districts. A post office department official said that any community that has 2,000 or more points of delivery gets letter carrier service and is classified as urban. Any community smaller is considered rural.

The daily visit of the rural mail carrier is more than merely the delivery of a newspaper and letter; it is the complete postal service . . . pickup and delivery, stamp sales, and money orders. If the carrier doesn't come along the concession line the farmer is unable to receive mail, post letters, or even purchase postage stamps.

The OFA represents in excess of 85 member organizations.

I shall never forget

Dimmer and dimmer grow the pictures of men, young men, full of blood and juice and desire to live, staggering under great coats and full packs into the tearing and terrible hot hail.

Fainter and fainter come the sounds of choking and coughing and retching, as their lungs are seared and their guts are splattered and they go down in a piggish agony, a howl for mother, or a scream for God to do something.

Hollower and hollower become the annual reminders that we "remember them", that "they died for us", that "they gave their lives for freedom."

Remembrance Day is becoming about as important, except for a dedicated few, as the 24th of May, the Queen's birthday.

Vimy Ridge and Ypres are in the history books now. And if there's one sure way to take the life out of something, it's to put it in a history book.

But they're not history for that 72-year-old, head bowed, standing at the cenotaph on Nov. 11th. He was a little, throbbing, terrified piece of that history, 50 years ago.

And he remembers. Mud and misery, girls and guns. And the faces that will never grow old and wrinkled and filled with pain, like his own. For a few minutes, it all comes back, and a lump comes in his throat and his eyes grow wet when The Last Post sounds in the sombre November air.

Behind him, with their blue berets, and balding heads, and bulges in the wrong places, are the "young fellows" of World War II. And despite the generation between, their thoughts are much the same. Girls and guns, bitter ale and bitter cold, and the faces that will never grow old.

The faces that will never light to the joy of children. The hearts that will never wrench with the sorrow of children. The mouths that will grin forever, but will never smile again, or whisper a prayer, or kiss a woman, or gulp an ale.

But then Reveille sounds, and the heads lift, and the little scattered knot of onlookers disperses, and the parade moves off, back to the warmth of the Legion Hall, and beer and comradeship and a turkey dinner and funny stories that have been polished and embellished and garnished by the years.

And that's about what Remembrance Day has come to be in this land, that sent thousands and thousands of its young men off to fight the Kaiser or Hitler, 3,000 miles away.

What do the youngsters think of it? Almost nothing. A few, whose fathers were killed before they knew them, wonder a bit, feel a strange yearning. Most are indifferent. They know they should look solemn, and they do. But there's no understanding.

Some are even hostile to the whole idea. Anti-war on general principles, they have the mistaken idea that Remembrance Day is somehow a glorification of war. It's just the opposite.

Those in their twenties and thirties are even less interested, if possible. The whole thing is a drag, a sentimental journey for old and middle-aged squares.

And what about the old and middle-aged? We must face it. Only a minority of them feel some emotion. And most of these are people who were directly touched by the loss of a brother, husband, son.

But on the whole, Canada, despite heavy losses of youth, was scarcely touched, at home, by the two great world wars. And Remembrance Day, as old soldiers are supposed to do, won't die. It will just fade away.

Perhaps it's just as well. Both wars were bloody shambles best forgotten. But I hope there's a special place for old soldiers when they finally fade away. A place where all the young faces are, and there's lots of beer, and they can exchange lies with Roman legionnaires and panzer troops and confederate fighters and veterans of Waterloo.

The "hunting widows"

Ray Argyle's column is not available this week. In its place, Count Marco comments on the latest round of the "battle of the sexes."

By COUNT MARCO

Now that the horn of the hunter sounds from the hill, lots of women are getting left at home while the man tracks his game or squats in his duck-blind.

And, oh, how you "hunting widows" wail about being neglected — you're even worse than the "golf widows."

Just remember, though, that you females have come a long way from the subjugation you once thoroughly enjoyed, starting with the caveman who went off into the hills with his club to capture a bride, not a deer. Those were the days when the would-be-bridgroom beat the bushes until he flushed a likely quail. He would carry her off in triumph while she screamed her joy to the high heavens.

Under the ancient rules of polygamy, the bride was hidden behind a veil until the very last minute. At the end of a long, involved ceremony, the hunter finally was permitted to sneak a peek and discover what he really had captured.

Another ancient rite called for the shaving of the bride's head. This showed the humility and gratitude for having been chosen. It also had a stupefying effect on any Johnny-Come-Lately who, taking one look at old bawdy, would flee in terror. The divorce rate was practically nil.

In Egypt, the bride went to the ceremony with her hair hanging down. True lovers of beauty, her husband and friends couldn't bear to prune her lustrous tresses, so they compromised by tying them in an upsweep to indicate complete subjugation.

In ancient Japan, where heavy eyebrows were considered one of a woman's charms, her husband proved his power over her by having those eyebrows shaved right off.

Brides in those days knew what a rough time really was. They were either having their hair shaved, tied, lifted or cut. They were hauled and clubbed, and pushed and pulled.

You didn't hear them caterwauling when their beasts went off to find the dinosaur steak or venison haunch for dinner — they cleaned up the home and made sure the fire was ready to put on the dinner when their men returned.

Several years ago there was a movement in Europe, which thankfully, was a miserable failure. It was decreed by some frigid Swiss females that women could never be equal until "men learn how to be equal to women."

A leader of this movement said disdainfully, "Like little boys, men imagine that they can take care of themselves, but have you noticed that they always come running to women when they are in trouble?"

Somehow or other, perhaps, because of language difficulties, they confused "emancipation" with "emasculatation". A woman whose husband had suffered a nervous breakdown and learned to knit as part of his therapy said, "If knitting is good for male health, so is the rest of the housework." (No doubt she's driving him to another breakdown.)

Another of this misled group thought this an exceptionally bright idea: "So that men can reduce their working hours and get more practice in household behavior, women will have to take more jobs away from them." Mon Dieu!

A concluding suggestion made by the leader should make every American male roll on the floor with hysterical laughter. "Living at home," she said, "will awaken men so that they no longer need the stimulation of alcohol, tobacco or strip-tease." Little does she know that it's how the average American wife manages her home that drives most men to alcohol, tobacco and strip-teasers.

Is it any wonder such a movement failed? You can drag a man into marriage but you can't make him do housework. Aren't you glad such a silly movement never crossed the ocean?

LOCAL and GENERAL

It is reported that children from at least three Morrisburg homes received trick-or-treats on Halloween which had been booby-trapped with pins and/or razor blades. This despicable practice by some deranged people is the more insidious because it is virtually impossible for the authorities to trace the offenders. The time may yet come when it will be necessary for the traditional Halloween practice of trick-or-treat, to be forbidden for the protection of innocent children.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle J. Deeks of Pembroke spent a few days at Morrisburg with his mother, Mrs. J. D. Deeks, and brother, Mr. Lee Deeks.

Members of Veterans organizations will be happy if the fine weather we have experienced this fall is still with us for the Remembrance Day Parade and Service on Sunday afternoon. The grounds at the Civic Centre, and around the whole 'Post Office corner' are in fine shape, and an ideal setting for this service.

Mrs. Margaret Scott, accompanied by Miss Carol Ivens of Cornwall and Mrs. Floyd Whitteker of Williamsburg, have returned home after having attended a 3-day convention of the teachers for the Association of Teachers of Retarded Children. The convention was held at the Sheraton-Brock Hotel in Niagara Falls.

Mrs. H. S. West of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan is enjoying a week's vacation with her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Colligan and Mr. Colligan at Morrisburg.

Miss Nina Casselman of Williamsburg, called on her aunt, Mrs. J.D. Deeks, Augusta Street, who has returned from a five week's stay in Winchester Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Lee Duval of Morrisburg has been honoured by the Morrisburg Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society for nearly 30 years service. She was presented with a corsage and the Society's long service pin. Mrs. Duval was one of the first members of the Morrisburg Branch when it was formed in 1939 and ever since that time has been knitting section chairman. Ill health has now forced her retirement.

Joan Beverley Patrick, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Patrick of Cornwall, died Sunday in West Berlin of injuries received in a bus-car accident Sept. 23rd. Miss Patrick, who never regained consciousness, was on a European tour when the accident occurred, killing one other person and injuring seven.

Guests over the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tim LaPierre were: Mr. and Mrs. Percy Reid of Wolfe Island, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Killins and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cockrane all of Toronto; Mrs. F. Furnace of Cardinal and Mrs. Ault, of Toronto, Ont.

Congratulations and good wishes are extended by her many friends to Miss Mary C. Amson of Morrisburg, on the occasion of her 90th birthday, which she celebrated on Tuesday.

The death occurred in hospital, on Sunday, November 3rd, 1968, of James Willis Herriman in his 87th year; beloved husband of Unice Sunderland and dear father of Mrs. Hugh Fisher (Doris) of Maxville; Willis of Stoughton, Sask.; Gerald of Long Beach, Calif.; Edward of Williamsburg, and Marion deceased. Remains rested at the Vice & Craig Funeral Home, Chesterville, where service was held on Tuesday at 2 p.m. Interment was at Spruce Haven Cemetery, Brinston.

Legion Branch Will Build Monument

A delegation from Morrisburg Branch No. 48, of the Royal Canadian Legion appeared before Council at the November meeting. John Rice requested that the Legion be permitted to place a memorial for the fallen in World War II and in the Korean War on the law fronting the Civic Centre and balancing that of the First World War.

Mr. Rice reported that the Women's Auxiliary of the local Legion had donated the funds necessary to erect the 6 x 8-foot granite base on which will be inscribed the names of local veterans. The figure of a soldier will later be placed at an approximate cost of $3,000. Upon receipt of permission, plans were to have the work completed by Sunday, November 10th. On that day, the annual Remembrance Day Service will be held at 3 p.m. in the Civic Centre, with Major the Rev. H. MacLeod, B.A., D.D., S.T.M., C.D. as guest speaker. Major MacLeod is the Chaplain at the Royal Miltary College, Kingston. It was announced that Morrisburg Trumpet Band will lead the parade from the Legion Hall to the Civic Centre.

The 11 a.m. service will be held at the Cenotaph on Monday, November 11th and village merchants are requested, in observance of Remembrance Day to close the stores from 10 to 12 o'clock.

Relative to a carport being erected on a Lakeshore Drive property to within two feet of the property line when the bylaw states that there must be an 8-foot allowance, it was stated that Council has no authority to issue a permit contrary to the by-law. Clerk Lloyd Barkley and Works Superintendent Clare VanAllen were authorized to see that regulations are observed. Councillor Carlton McInnis noted that there have been numerous cases recently where it was necessary to enforce the by-law. In one case, a basement wall had to be torn down and rebuilt because of an incorrect measurement of one foot.

Correspondence was read presenting a report regarding the corporation purchasing the local street lighting plant which would eventually lead to a tax saving of approximately one-half mill. Since the report was lengthy and involved it was decided that photostatic copies should be made and given to each member to study. The clerk will meet with regional hydro members and look further into the matter.

Snow removal this year will be looked after by the works superintendent and his staff.

Because of elections being held on Monday, December 2nd, the first meeting of the incoming council will take place on Tuesday, December 3rd.

DUNDAS

after several meetings. They asked we leave it with them to climax, contacting overseas for the Anglo-German franchise to the Canadian group to whom it was promised. Indifferently, Mason briefly wrote they were still working on it and would advise. On a matter requiring immediate action, which we could right then have solved by a call to Ottawa. Suspicious, we contacted the parties concerned to learn no contact had ever been made with them. This is an old story. We could fill a book with political unfaithfulness in the service of Dundas. Money was all required. Randall said we could get $50,000.00. Peanuts even for a small industry today, whereas millions are disposed to wealthy firms who should not need the aid. We therefore contacted a Montreal industrial finance firm who were willing to underwrite the promotion. Randall, and Mason were informed. They lacked the decency to reply, and for some reason scuttled a valuable industry.

What is behind it all? It is far from the glamorous promises given by Premier Frost, his successors, and Hydro in the Seaway years, when we were told Dundas would be the diamond in the Golden industrial Triangle. Instead, industrially it is the most impoverished and apparently by official consent.

Rosy press splurges promising prosperity in the future is an unacceptable sop we have no need for. We have waited too long. Action is wanted with forthright people back in the fight, unafraid of political opposition. This we are told will never be as the public is too apathetic. If this is the case they deserve all they get and should quit complaining. Nevertheless, it behooves every citizen, in the interest of their slimming purse to observe more keenly the nominees seeking to govern public affairs. Challenge their background of experience, particularly achievements. Too long have public interests been governed by people with no background, experience or accomplishment. The tax surferage is a result. These people receive salaries. For what? Some are designated to perform certain duties. They never attend industrial meetings. Never establish a prospect. Never pursue a contact. Never touch the load of correspondence necessary. Provide none of the endless changing list of statistical figures daily in demand. Never make a phone call long distance, or take a trip at their own expense. To ask them to guest a prospect over the area for a day, or half a day shocks them. They have their daily occupation to consider. You do it, as though the other fellow can sacrifice time without cost. Such people, and they are legion today, who fail to perform the post assigned to them while taking the tax payers money are misappropriating public funds. Others seeking office to serve them in political furtherance are traitors to any cause. They seek to surround themselves with pets and pawns as "Yes" men, so common in our mismanaged Parliament. These are the type who have aided our political foes, frustrating the efforts of the honourable men and women in all communities. Industry will only come if the public stand up and demand genuine service of the elected, whether it be at municipal, provincial, or federal level, backing the men who give so freely of their time receiving no compensation. Not even thanks.

A LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF THE COMMUNITY

To the Residents of the Village of Morrisburg:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you all for the co-operation and assistance you have given me over the past 4 years while I have served on Council and also on the Morrisburg Recreation Committee. It has certainly been an honour and a privilege to serve the community while I have been a resident of the Village.

It is with deep regret that my family and I are leaving Morrisburg and we would like to extend to all our friends an invitation to pay us a visit any time you are in the Ajax area.

I would also like to wish the new Council success in the coming years and also to extend to everyone the Compliments of the Season from myself and my family.

CYSTIC FIBROSIS AWARD MADE TO CFRA'S T. KIELTY

On Tuesday evening, October 29 Terry Kielty, General Manager of radio station CFRA and CFMO FM was presented with the Canadian Cystic Fibrosis Communications Award by Harry S. Brown, Shinerama Liaison Officer of the Foundation.

On presenting the Award, Mr. Brown stated that CFRA and CFMO participation in Shinerama was a major factor in the success the University of Ottawa had in raising $14,225 in this year's one-day shoe shine blitz held on September 28. Also this year, as in the past, CFRA's involvement was not only one of publicizing the event but also of technical assistance, in setting up a complete communication network between "Shinerama Central" and the students out shining shoes all through the city of Ottawa. Mr. Brown also referred to the highlight of this year's publicity campaign, when four University of Ottawa students hijacked CFRA for a period of six hours in order to publicize "Shinerama".

On receiving the award, Mr. Kielty said: "The continuity of student management has been the greatest factor in the enormous success of the University of Ottawa's Shinerama project".

The banquet was attended by members of the local chapter Board of Directors and their special guests the students of the University of Ottawa who were responsible for this year's Shinerama.

A small boy was telling his mother about a ride with his dad. "Gee, Mom", he said, "we passed two idiots, three morons, four darn fools, and I don't know how many knot-heads".

Ontario Provincial Police officers in Dundas County last week patrolled 12,476 miles in 1005 working hours. During this time, there were 68 charges laid under the Highway Traffic Act, along with 65 warnings being issued. Two persons were arrested and charged with driving while their ability was impaired by alcohol. There were 7 thefts, one Break and Enter, one Disturbance, along with 27 miscellaneous complaints. The Liquor Control Act was strictly enforced with seven persons being charged as a result of five occurrences being investigated.

The accident rate in Dundas County appears to be on the increase with persons being involved in 15 property damage accidents, along with two persons receiving minor injury as a result of two personal injury accidents. This is an increase as compared to this same period last year, when there were only six property damage accidents and no personal injury accidents. This seems to indicate a lack of care and control in our Dundas County drivers.

Hallowe'en night came and went, leaving several buildings closer to the ground level than they had been before. There were also several reports of other property damage, but it was mostly of a minor nature.

Magistrate's Court was fairly quiet during the past week with officers spending a total of 13 hours in Court and registering a total of 59 convictions.

Morrisburg School patrol member of the week — Peggy Steer.

THEY DON'T FORGET

The Quebec "Almanach du Peuple", for 1969, just issued covers all vital statistics for the Province of Quebec, and information on all subject matter dealing with the French Canadian way of life. It is a typical production, well illustrated. Of local interest is that the two prominent feature stories on George F. Jowett, is the only English Canadian referred to in this French language official publication. Judging from this, and the considerable publicity given to George in the last year for his athletic ability, the French Canadian athletic following have a great fondness, and appreciation for our old champ who once trained among them, and in his early days was one of their most popular athletic idols.

It gives one a warm feeling in these hectic days of race controversy to know there is an abiding link of sincere friendship between the two founding races of Canada with a strong bond existing in preserving the memory of our local citizen.

Before the big game

Wally Gabler began to discuss the most important game of his three-year tenure as quarterback of the Toronto Argonauts.

It was mid-Tuesday morning, six days before he and his mates would take to the field at the Canadian National Exhibition against Russ Jackson and the Ottawa Rough Riders. The winner of the game would be awarded first place and a bye into the Eastern Conference two-game total point playoff for the right to advance into the Grey Cup final.

The loser would face the Hamilton Tiger-Cats in a sudden-death encounter. Sudden-death victors are not always the better team, and is the case in sports, the worst can defeat the best on "one of those days."

Gabler discussed what he felt he and his Argo mates would have to do to defeat Ottawa.

"We're going to run right at them, you know, just the simple and basic stuff. It's going to be the same as before with a variety of formations. (Ed. note: The Argos have used about 17 various formations during the season).

"We haven't been using our halfback pass recently, but if the Ottawa defensive backs come up close, then our halfbacks will throw. Ottawa realizes Bill Symons and Jim Dillard can throw the ball, and naturally, this has helped our running game.

"We have to score, and to do this we're going to have to keep the ball. A balanced attack of passing and running is what we hope to achieve. And our defence has to be at its best.

"Ottawa has to stop Symons. Isn't he having a remarkable year? Symons is going to run left behind Bob Swift and Bill Frank. Also, he'll sweep to the right, and I don't think Ottawa can stop this.

"Ottawa will be weaker if they play a man-to-man pass defense against us, but they'll probably play a zone. Our game plan is going to have to be ball control. I imagine they'll be the favorites to win, and this will make it easier for us to get up for the game.

"I realize the papers will build it up as Gabler versus Jackson, and this is about right. It really boils down to who has the hottest hand. I'll tell you one thing, it'll be a high-scoring game.

"Ken Lehmann (Ottawa's all star middle linebacker) doesn't bother us. We can run right at him. If he keys on Symons out of the backfield, then I'll start throwing to Bill because Lehmann can't cover him downfield. They'll probably use Gene Gaines on Symons. Gaines tells me what defence Ottawa will use, so I key on him, using audibles at the line of scrimmage.

"I hope they use Vic Washington on defence to cover Bobby Taylor. Bobby can turn Vic around. Washington can be beaten, definitely.

"We're going to throw a lot to both ends, Mel Profit and Al Irwin. We'll use Irwin for the deep patterns as he's been really successful against Ottawa. Dillard is the key blocking back for us.

"You can be sure we're going to score a lot of points this time. The big burden is going to be on Ottawa's defence."

By now the game is nothing more than a memory or two for most people. The loser is preparing for the Hamilton Tiger-Cats and the winner is resting, comfortably and confidently.

But we thought you would like to know what Wally Gabler felt six days before he played the most important game of his professional life.

STURGEON STUDY OTTAWA RIVER

by Robert Easton
Conservation Officer

This year the Department of Lands and Forests completed the first in a proposed series of studies on Lake Sturgeon in the Ottawa River between Ottawa and Hawkesburg.

Sturgeon gill nets of ten inch extension measure were set on June 3 by two commercial fishermen and maintained until the end of August in conjunction with their regular operations. The closed season on sturgeon ranges from May 15 to June 14. During our closed season tagging operations forty seven specimens were tagged and released. Over the summer months, the total number of fish tagged and released was 364.

The specimens were measured to the nearest tenth of an inch and tagged. The right pelvic fin was clipped for future identification in case the tag was lost.

The purpose of this study is to determine the growth rate of sturgeon in this area and to supply us with an age-length relationship.

It will also provide us with information regarding the movements of this species and future rate of commercial exploitation.

Both Quebec and Ontario commercial fishermen concerned have been notified of the programme and asked to submit tag returns along with any pertinent data. This study will continue next year.

TREES AND THEIR ASSETS

by L. G. R. Billings,
Forestry Technician

Trees provide many added benefits apart from shade and timber production. For ardent nature lovers they supply a place for birds to perch, sing and build their nests as well as providing a home and playground for squirrels. Hardwood species adorned in their autumn colours add a special beauty to the landscape in the fall. Strategically located trees can also be used to perfect a balanced lawn area. Trees assist in overcoming the effects of wind and soil erosion.

Regeneration seldom occurs on carefully tended lawns and fields. The reason for this being that suitable seed beds are not exposed.

Trees growing under these conditions would be allowed to grow to maturity and die, or die as a result of disease, leaving no young trees to take their place. This condition can be overcome by planting. Native species are best suited as they are adapted to the local climate and soil conditions.

Hardwoods selected from a woodlot can be successfully transplanted using the balled root method. Conifers can be transplanted, using either bare root or balled root method. If you are selecting trees from a woodlot other than your own, be sure you have the owner's consent. The following considerations should be made in selecting and transplanting trees:

1) Select a well-formed, open grown tree, free of insect and disease damage.

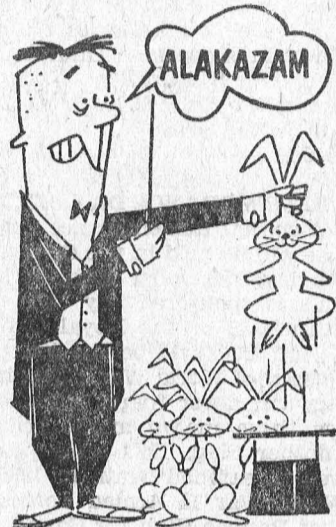

2) Select a species to serve your intended purpose. (a) Tall growing trees such as the Oaks, Maples, Basswoods, Pines, and Spruces, should be planted at least their potential height from any building or service line.

(b) Low growing trees such as Cherries, Crabapple, Dogwood, Cedar Juniper, etc. can be planted in confined areas adjacent to buildings and service lines.

3) Prepare area where new tree is to be planted well in advance of the planting.

(a) Replace deficient soil with good top-soil.

(b) Prepare hole to receive new tree thus saving time when transplanting.

Womens Institute 53rd Annual Convention

Eastern Ontario Women's Institutes of the Ottawa Area are holding their 53rd annual convention on November 12-13, 1968 in the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa. Mrs. John Craig, Manotick RR3, will preside at the official opening at 9:15 a.m.

Tuesday with Mrs. Charles Wallace, Metcalfe, as secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Everett Small, Essex, FWIO president and Miss Helen McKencher, Home Economics Branch, Toronto, will give guidance during all sessions on WI administration.

Distinguished guest at the luncheon on Wednesday will be Mrs. Roland Mitchener, wife of Canada's Governor-General. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Beatrice Norman Hock, counsellor, lecturer, writer and radio personality.

Resolutions will be passed; reports heard from conveners of standing committees; the five home economists of Eastern Ontario will present an Entertainment Variety program on Tuesday evening; the Area Scholarship will be presented by Board Director, Mrs. Archie Bennett, Amprior and a tea and coffee party will conclude the first day's activities. Election of officers will be held Wednesday morning.

As usual a bazaar table will be in charge of Provincial Board Directors, each Branch sending two bazaar articles to be on sale.

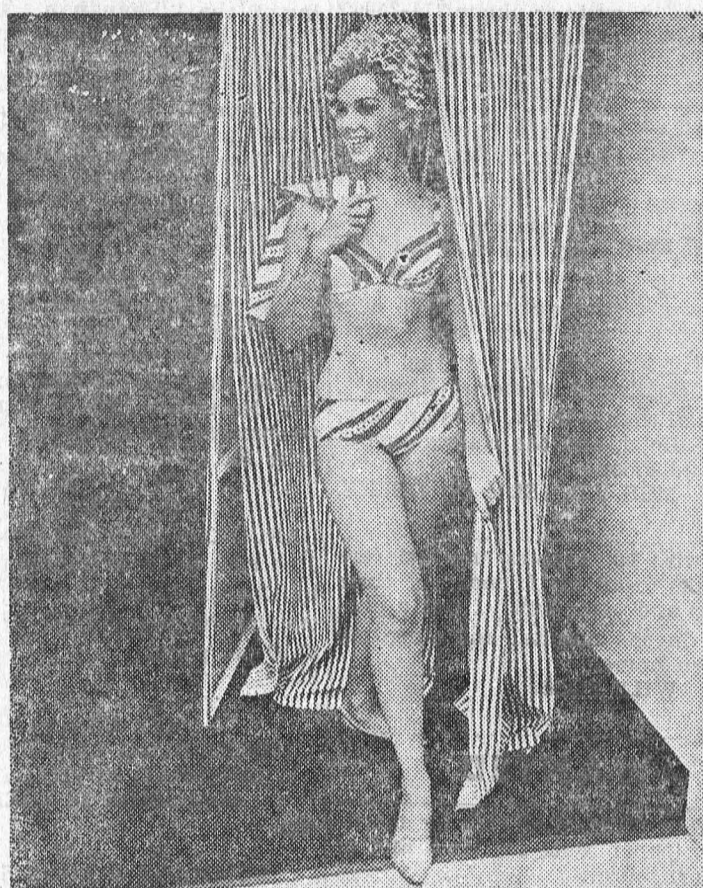

Registration will be in charge of Mrs. T. H. Jones, White Lake; Mrs. R. M. McGregor, Lochwinnoch; Mrs. Mary Colton, Kinburn; Mrs. William Proudfoot, Riceville; Mrs. J. H. Steele, Newington.

Luncheon tickets: Mrs. Donald Hess, Williamsburg, Mrs. Joseph McCleverty, Ingleside.

Press, radio and TV: Mrs. Carl Price, RR2, Pembroke.

Pianist: Mrs. R. A. D. McTavish, Balderson.

Song leaders, Mrs. Audrey Stewart, Vernon; Mrs. Carl Strike, Kars.

SLEEK SWIMWEAR. A stylish bikini and matching cap in patriotic red, white and blue is modelled by Miss Dominion of Canada, Nancy Wilson. This is just one of the many new styles for the coming summer months which were recently displayed by the Canadian Swimwear Institute. TNS Photo

$250
with
Canada Savings Bonds

$250 for each $100. That's what you can get with this year's Canada Savings Bonds. Here's how.

The new Bonds have fourteen regular annual interest coupons which can be cashed each year as they come due. The first pays 5.75%; the second, 6.50%; the next three, 6.75% each, and the last nine a big 7.00% each. Total regular annual interest amounts to $95.50 on each $100 Bond.

If you choose you may hold all these regular annual interest coupons uncashed until your Bond matures. If you do, you will then get interest on your interest totalling an additional $54.50 on each $100 Bond.

At maturity, therefore, you can get back total interest of $150 plus your original $100 investment. This way each $100 Canada Savings Bond becomes worth $250. Other denominations can grow at the same exciting rate.

Adults, children, businesses and institutions—all may buy Canada Savings Bonds. They are available in convenient amounts of $50 up to $50,000 for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. And, as always, Canada Savings Bonds are cashable any time at full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None builds more surely for the future. Buy Canada Savings Bonds and make your savings really grow.

IN MEMORIAM

BECKSTEAD — In loving memory of a dear father, Howard, (Bud) who passed away Nov. 5, 1967. The blow as great, the shock severe. We little thought the end was near. And only those who have lost can tell. The pain of parting without fare-well. More each day we miss you, Father, friends may think the wound is healed. But they little know the sorrow that lies within our hearts concealed. —Ever remembered by THE FAMILY.

BECKSTEAD — In loving memory of a dear husband, Howard (Bud) who passed away Nov. 5, 1967. What would I give to clasp his hand, His happy face to see; To hear his voice and see his smile, That meant so much to me. —Ever remembered by HIS WIFE, EVA.

REID — In loving memory of a dear father, Merck Reid, who passed away, November 7th, 1964. Four years have passed since that sad day, The Dad we loved was called away. Our hearts still ache with sorrow, No one will ever know How much we loved and miss him. To know you never said goodbye Will always bring regrets, For the the ones who dearly loved you Are the ones who never forget. —Lovingly remembered by daughter and son-in-law, TIM and FLOSSIE LAPIERRE

FIRE - A FIERCE FOE

When you check your home for fire hazards the basement is a good place to start. The furnace and water heater should be cleaned and checked regularly.

Don't let old newspapers or other trash accumulate - especially close to the furnace. Keep oily rags used for cleaning in closed metal containers.

For fire insurance on your home, contact your CIAG representative and ask about a home protection policy.
