Counties probe Morewood Industries options

All I want....

MOREWOOD— The stakes are high for the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry if Morewood Industries goes under.

"Some 150-200 jobs could be lost if Morewood goes down or is sold in so many pieces," says the new director of economic development for SD&G.

But Terry O'Reilly also says, "it's in everybody's interest to see that this thing gets going."

Bankruptcy trustees Ernst & Young are within days of closing a deal that could determine the future in this one-industry town.

Since mid-November, when all tenders were rejected, secret negotiations have been going on with potential buyers, and the counties are playing a role of intervenor in the process.

"The counties are talking to government departments to see if there is some way of bridging the gap," O'Reilly explains.

While "bridging the gap" falls somewhere short of an outright Chrysler Motors-type bail-out, he points out that "the counties would help any private interest" get a better deal.

Most of the county legwork is being done at the provincial level by O'Reilly himself, although he points out that he is not yet officially on the counties' payroll.

Hired just two weeks ago to head SD&G's first economic development office, O'Reilly should officially assume his new job by Jan. 1 at the latest. But he says, "The situation at Morewood is too important right now."

The present options for the industry are sale as a going concern, piecemeal sale, or liquidation.

"There is a possibility that the window enterprise (Dutch Windows) could be sold off or a separation of Morewood Industries take place," he says.

Taxes step into the '90s

by Andy McLeister
Press staff reporter

WINCHESTER — The village took a step into the 1990's Monday when council resolved to update assessments for Winchester properties.

The move followed a presentation from the regional assessment commissioner, who told council updating assessments to reflect realistic market values would make property taxes more equitable throughout the village.

Winchester, according to Denis Gagnon, was one of only five of 39 municipalities in his area to still assess taxes under the old system. His region includes the counties of Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Russell and Prescott.

In delivering an impact report on Winchester assessements, Gagnon noted the village follows a system that is "roughly 50 years old."

Assessments in the village reflect property values from the 1940s, he said.

Under the updated assessment system, ratepayers can relate to the taxes levied against their properties and compare them to their neighbors', Gagnon said. He explained that similarly valued properties will pay the same taxes, under the new system.

Under the old system, properties tend to be assessed for things they shouldn't be, while taxable items escape the assessors' notice, he indicated. A new roof, for ex-

Christmas cheer to the needy

by Shana Saper

DIXONS CORNERS- Nothing says Christmas like the spirit of goodwill and giving at this time of year, and the traditional Christmas Basket campaign is the ultimate expression of it all.

This year it's taking on new dimensions.

For the first time, organizers are getting together, pooling and cross-checking lists, co- ordinating the mammoth collection and distribution of food, clothing, and toys on a county-wide basis.

Dozens of groups and organizations across Dundas and the tri-county area are involved and as one of the organizers, Rev. Allen Tysick, says the co-ordinated effort seems to be paying off.

"It's rather exciting with all the area churches, the Lions and other service clubs, and businesses all heavily involved this year," says the United Church chaplain and director of a local anti- poverty project, Lazarus House.

"In the past, we've all worked separately and the baskets were not equivalent, some got more and better food than others," he points out.

Donations of food and money will ensure that each family gets a complete Christmas dinner this year including a ham, eggs, butter, milk, bread, sugar, and canned goods. In addition, families with children will get toys in their baskets.

Mountain demands tougher garbage laws

MOUNTAIN—Canadians produce almost 20 million tons of garbage per year—an average of 3.9 lbs a day for each person— making them the most prolific producers of garbage in the world.

That statistic opens a letter from the northern Ontario Township of North Himsworth to the Township of Mountain asking them to support a bid for tighter provincial regulations on throw-aways and non-recylables.

The recent letter contains a resolution urging the Ministry of the Environment to enact more stringent regulations to:

-increase the deposits on refillables and raising the target from 30 to 50 per cent within the next six months;

-reduce or ban the sale of beverages in non-refundable containers;

-Provide incentives to service stations to dispense bulk washer fluid and radiator antifreeze;

-abolish shrink-wrap;

-and encourage manufacturers to drastically reduce packaging.

The resolution, addressed to the Honorable Ruth Grier, Minister of the Environment, was unanimously endorsed by council last Monday night at their monthly meeting.

According to councillor Dwaine Berry, the resolution is an "excellent initiative" but he isn't sure how far it will go. "We have a supposedly green party at Queen's Park and now's the time to see how much they're going to do for us," he said.

Berry admits the environment is a motherhood issue so much so that even the soft drink companies are getting into the act. But he warned, "they're duping the consumer".

"It used to be you bought a drink in a bottle and the bottle was 100 per cent recyclable. The companies put a lot of bottling plants out of business(when they switched to aluminum cans)," he said. "Now, they want to start recycling cans!

Berry thinks we'd be better off going back

Hospital board approves bed closure compromise

by Andy McLeister
Press staff reporter

WINCHESTER — The hospital board has approved a medical staff proposal that limits the length of time beds will be closed while the facilities undergo renovations and upgrading.

Winchester District Memorial Hospital's board of governors last Thursday agreed to a compromise put forth last month by doctors who objected to plans to close 15 beds from December to April while the first stage of an extensive $7 million renewal and upgrading project proceeds.

James Egan, the hospital's executive director, said Tuesday the new plan calls for bed closures that will affect "the equivalent of about 10 patients" on the hospital's ground floor during the month of December. The beds will be re- activated in January and closed again for six to eight weeks beginning in March, he said.

The board's action was taken in response to complaints by doctors that the original closure plan would limit space at the hospital during the normal peak season for admissions: January and February.

Egan said the new plan has required transferring six adult patients to other rooms in the hospital. Four more patients have been or will be moved from the floor.

The administrator said the closure during December is routine, a practise that has been followed for the past five to eight years. This has been due to low utilization in an area of the hospital that is designated primarily for pediatric services, but has in fact been used for longterm patient care.

In March, hospital officials hope to begin electrical and fire safety upgrading on the ground floor. Asbestos packed around pipe joints will also have to be removed, Egan said. The rooms will also be redecorated.

Egan said the hospital would like to have started renovations in January, but the project's Ottawa architect, Helmer, Stranks and Cole, are still submitting documents and specifications to the Ministry of Health for approval.

The administrator offered assurances that the temporary closures at the 118-bed hospital will not affect emergency cases. These will not be subject to transfers to other hospitals, but elective cases may experience delays in admissions.

Meanwhile, the hospital is awaiting allocation of almost $2 million in provincial funding needed to proceed with the first $3 million stage of the two-stage reconstruction program. At this time, officials are seeking assurance that the new government will honor commitments made by its Liberal predecessor. One huge question mark is whether new NDP Health Minister Evelyn Gigantes will agree to roll $109,000 in emergency repairs already effected at the hospital into the first phase of the renewal project. Former Health Minister Elinor Caplin was receptive to the proposal.

Morewood

But he adds, "Unless an offer for breakup were significantly better, the preference is to keep it together."

At Morewood Industries, director David Poupore is still "on the job" but he doesn't know for how long. A skeleton staff of 78 remained this week with several houses to complete and windows to deliver.

Poupore says most of the layoffs have occurred in the factory but that should be no cause for alarm.

"I think it's important to say the plant has always had a winter layoff, it's a normal seasonal slowdown."

O'Reilly says, however, it is also the time of year when sales are usually made prior to the spring production start-up and that is not happening this winter.

"The difficulty the company is having is not just a reflection of the recession," O'Reilly says, "but the recession is making it difficult to get the kind of bids Morewood is worth."

Taxes

ample, would cause a tax increase as a building improvement while, in fact, this is simply repairing something "that's already there," he said.

Conversely, improvements to buildings that would increase their value would often not be added to tax levies.

Council was given three options in reviewing its taxation practices. The old system could have been retained or one of two others could be adopted. Under the one selected, commercial, industrial and residential classifications will remain much as they have been.

The other new system would have lumped all properties under one grouping. Council rejected this option primarily because it would shift much of the tax burden to residences. Furthermore, within the next couple of years the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry will be adopting a new system for equalizing municipal assessments that will probably be based on the one Winchester chose, called the Section 63 Reassessment Program.

The majority of municipalities in SD&G have chosen the Section 63 option, Gagnon said.

Some municipalities, such as Winchester Township, though, have adopted this second option, the Section 70 Reassessment Program. Gagnon said some municipalities opted for Section 70 because it makes it is easier to attract new business and industry.

Gagnon's impact report shows that under the new system, 84 per cent of the village's 766 "rateable" properties (including apartment units) will experience little or no change in their tax levies. The remaining 16 per cent will increase or decrease relative to how distorted their antiquated assessments have been.

Among these distortions are vacant properties. Gagnon suggested the new system, in assigning a higher market value to empty lots, will encourage their owners to develop them.

The new assessment system does not open the door to tax grabs by municipal politicians, Gagnon said.

"For whoever goes up someone goes down because (the new system) is not an exercise to raise taxes," he explained.

Municipalities who adopted the new system have gotten a positive result, from a political point of view, especially under Section 63, Gagnon indicated.

Open houses explaining the new assessment will be held sometime after the new year. As Gagnon pointed out, those ratepayers who object to their new taxation levels can appeal to the Assessment Review Board. If not satisfied with the answers received there, they can appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board.

Tougher

to the reusable bottle. He also points to the need to recycle other types of garbage, for example, used tires.

"The government has collected $45 million since it brought in the tire tax, but it's just sitting there in a general fund."

Strong initiatives like a power plant in California that safely and efficiently burns old tires need to be implemented here, Berry says, because "we've got another Hagersville in the making somewhere."

But are Mountain and other townships pushing hard enough for urgent reforms? "It's dragging locally, I'm disappointed," admitted Berry.

But signs of movement are visible he says, for example, a petition to get a blue box program in Mountain township and a dump bylaw is in the works (modelled after South Gower's, it will stop outside dumping).

The resolution passed by council will be circulated to other Ontario municpalities for their support.

"There's no two ways about it," added Berry. "It's going to cost money and we've got to find the political will to do something about it now."

Needy

Tysick, who is co-ordinating the South Dundas food and toy drive, says he anticipates about 200 Christmas baskets will be distributed in the Matilda Township area, alone.

"A lot of them are senior citizens and the working poor—"people who've been hit by massive layoffs here," he emphasizes.

North Dundas is also co-ordinating its resources with Chesterville, Winchester village and township, and Mountain township divvying up the territory. Between 180 and 200 Christmas baskets are expected to go to needy families in North Dundas.

According to Mark Hart of SD&G Social Services, the central co-ordinator of the tri-county effort, the organization seems to be running smoothly.

"Mountain Township is being looked after by the Mountain Lions Club, the Rotary Club and churches are organizing part of the township and the village, and in Winchester it's the Lions, the 100 Club, churches, North Dundas District High School, local businesses, and the firemen," he says, ticking off the participating groups.

Winchester village's volunteer fire department is collecting good used or new toys for needy children. They'll be gift-wrapped and included in food baskets along with gifts of clothing.

According to Linda Fawcett, who is heading up the annual toy and clothing drive, the business community is being tapped for donations of money and new children's clothing.

With the help of the local schools, names of needy families with children will be co-ordinated with specific clothing requests.

"We'll buy the clothing with the money collected and the gifts will be distributed through the Ladies' Lions Clubs of Mountain Township and Winchester," she said.

Donations of canned goods, unwrapped gifts of clothing, toys, or money may be given to any of the groups mentioned involved in this year's Christmas drive. Packing and distribution are scheduled for Dec. 21 and 22.

Hospital

Egan feels it is crucial that the first part of the project gets underway before the end of March, before the beginning of the hospital's next fiscal year.

SD&G MPP Noble Villeneuve will be meeting with Gigantes to determine the status of grants for the renewal project. Officials also expect Villeneuve to make presentations on their behalf for approval of the second stage of the project.

Recycling program urged to extend dump's lifespan

MAPLE RIDGE — A committee representing the three partners in the Boyne Road dump is urging Winchester village and township and Chesterville to start recycling programs.

This was one of ten recommendations issued last Wednesday by the committee that consists of councillors from the three municipalities.

Winchester Township Reeve Claude Cousineau gave his blessing to the recycling recommendation, saying Tuesday he would "like to see the recycling go as soon as possible."

He said the landfill partners have to take action soon to reduce the amount of waste going to the Boyne Road dump.

"I suppose we have to do something," he said. "The (Ministry of the Environment) is not happy with the way it's going."

Some of the recommendations call for urgent action. Arden Carruthers, the township's roads superintendent, re-submitted his resignation as dump operator last Wednesday, effective Dec. 31. He tendered his resignation a year ago, but the township asked him to remain until a replacement could be found.

Township council agreed Monday to convene a joint meeting of the three partners in the landfill. It is scheduled for next Monday.

The three councils will decide whether to replace Carruthers with one or more persons to operate the landfill. He suggested one person is needed to oversee recycling collection at the dump, another is needed to plow snow, while a third would be required to manage the dump.

The landfill committee recommended that Carruthers' job be let to a private contractor. But whether the new operator will be a contractor or a township employee remains to be seen.

"There are pros and cons both ways," said Cousineau. Either way, he estimated it will cost the landfill partners $60,000 to hire three people.

The committee also recommended the township hire a contractor for curbside garbage collection, and that an identification system for residents of the three municipalities be introduced.

Winchester Village Reeve Larry Gray told his council Monday that a schedule of tipping fees is being considered for the dump. Users would be charged up to $250 to dump a "packer" truckload of refuse at the landfill, he said, referring to the type of vehicle that collects garbage in the village.

Non-residents would be charged double the local rate.

Gray also noted that the landfill committee must formulate a plan to close the dump at the end of its projected lifespan, about seven years from now. This exercise would cost about $80,000, he said, half of which would be borne by the provincial government.

"Another problem is, of course, the ministry (of the Environment) keeps changing the rules," the reeve remarked.

Also recommended was that the three municipalities set up a hazardous waste collection day for May or June, 1991.

Villeneuve given postings

TORONTO — MPP Noble Villeneuve (PC- Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry and East Grenville) has been named to the Legislative Committee of the Ontario Legislature.

He has also been second deputy chair of the Committee of the Whole House. This appointment was unanimously endorsed by all parties.

As the PC representative on the Legislative Committee, the MPP will review issues referred to the committee by the House and act in an advisory capacity to the Speaker on issues affecting the House.

"Being a member of the committee will provide me with the opportunity to examine the workings of the House more thoroughly and where necessary, suggest changes as to how the Legislative Assembly of Ontario should operate," Villeneuve said.

As second deputy chair, Villeneuve will share in the job of chairing sessions of the Legislature with the speaker, deputy speaker and speaker.

According to the announcement from his Queen's Park office, the appointment does not affect Villeneuve's existing duties as PC critic for agriculture and francophone affairs.

"When I am not in the chair, I'll still be on my feet demanding action and voicing the concerns of farmers across Ontario and of the people who elected me," Villeneuve said. "I'm certainly grateful for the confidence that my colleagues from all parties have expressed in me, and I hope that I will be able to adjust quickly to the extra workload at Queen's Park."

Mountain Musings

by Shirley Mills

Santa Claus is pretty busy these days but everyone wants to see him at least once. If you missed him last week in Winchester (or even if you didn't), there is another chance to see him next Saturday. On Dec. 8, there will be a Santa Claus parade in Mountain, starting at 1pm. It will travel to South Mountain for 2:15pm where Santa will join the parade. Sponsored by the Mountain Lions and the IOOF Lodge 428, we have heard that candy will be given out.

We all know people who plan ahead. (I'm not one, but I have heard of them.) Last summer, a co-worker amazed me with her planning. With a new house being built, she insisted on an electrical outlet being placed behind an opening in the soffit, with a switch inside the house. Now while the rest of us are wondering where to plug in Christmas lights or dashing out in a blizzard to turn them off, Louise douses the lights with a flick of the switch.

Mountain fire chief steps down

MOUNTAIN—Township fire chief Jim Scott announced his resignation Monday night after 11 years as head of the municipality's volunteer fire department.

Scott informed council at its regular monthly meeting that he would be stepping down as soon as a replacement is chosen.

"That will probably be in the next couple of weeks," he said, adding the new chief would be selected from the current volunteer firefighters.

"It's time for a change," Scott reasoned in a telephone interview Tuesday. According to him, the job is getting busier and more complicated all the time and he doesn't have time to do it all.

"There are more meetings with the Mutual Aid Association, more paperwork, and more fires," he stated bluntly.

Meanwhile, Scott confirmed he will stay on as fire chief until someone else is chosen. And after that, "I'll stay on as a fireman," he said.

EDITORIALS

In the dark

They spend over half of your property tax dollar. They are responsible in large part for the intellectual and moral development of our most precious resource: children.

They are the ones who decide what children should be taught in the interests of providing society with the tools it needs to prosper, culturally and economically.

Yet, despite the fact that their actions and decisions have such a profound effect on children in particular and the longterm health of society in general, public school trustees in Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry seem hell-bent on keeping their constituents in the dark about matters of which they have not just a consitutional right, but a vital need to be aware.

Several weeks ago, a couple of weekly newspaper editors in SD&G tried to respond to a concern voiced by some board members, that their meetings were not receiving the coverage they felt they deserve. The editors agreed without reservation. Education is one of the most important components of our extended community. As such, the public has an inalienable right to be kept abreast of school matters.

The reason — and there is only one — for marginal coverage of school board matters is simple: trustees meet on Tuesday nights, a factor which makes it absolutely impossible for weekly newspaper reporters to attend. It isn't the inconvenience of driving to Cornwall that makes reporters' attendance infeasible. It's the fact that weekly newspapers in SD&G publish on Wednesdays— Tuesdays are reserved for production, a procedure that involves the entire staff.

Unless it's an unscheduled event, like a major fire or traffic accident, the news staff at all weekly papers are stuck in the office all day Tuesday and well into the evening. This schedule is dictated by simple rules of economics: the cost of hiring extra hands to replace news staff who help develop film, print photos, lay-out pages and so forth, would bankrupt the average weekly journal. Also, staff reporters set Tuesday aside to write up much of the news they have gathered during preceding week.

Most individuals and organizations who rely on their local papers to get their messages out to the public are aware of this immutable fact of life. They tend to schedule their regular meetings and special events to accommodate the press. For some inexplicable and inexcusable reason, this accommodating (and appreciated) attitude is not shared by public school trustees.

As it stands, weekly papers for the most part have demonstrated their sensitivity towards schools, their problems and achievements. In this paper, for example, rare is an issue that does not contain at least one article about schools. Most of these celebrate the initiative of students and teachers who experiment with innovative educational, intramural and extracurricular activites, and the academic and sporting achievements of students.

And there is nothing we like better than to give a figurative pat on the back to those who venture outside the strict parameters of academic study to enhance the community at large. We speak of fundraising, volunteer work etc. for which students and teachers in these parts are famous.

However, the half-dozen weekly papers in SD&G (none of which have the resources to send reporters to Cornwall on a Tuesday night for board meetings) would like to do a more comprehensive job. We want to observe and report on education's political arena. It is our pleasure to report the positive side of education, but it is our duty to probe the often negative, political side, as well.

Trustees, as elected officials, must be accountable to their constituents. Without adequate press coverage of their meetings, what yardstick can the electorate use to judge trustees' performance?

In this regard, we are hamstrung. We have to rely on news releases from the board for the information we pass on to our readers. Or, we have to get our story leads from the daily, Cornwall- based media. And most of their reports focus on school issues relevant to their city audience.

Rural folk, and denizens of smaller urban centres, are kept in the dark.

There is a solution to our and our readers' dilemma. Trustees can reschedule their meetings. And they likely will, if enough public pressure is brought to bear.

Another view on the Quebec question

Okay, John, it's my turn. Last week Press columnist John Drewery wrote about what he considers to be the inevitablity of Quebec's leaving the Canadian fold, and he put forth some pretty compelling arguments to support his case.

Of course I, being an intractable federalist and incurable optimist, begged to differ. In fact, we engaged in a pretty lively discussion about the past, present and future of Confederation over several cups of java at one of the local coffee rows. He suggested I respond in writing to his column and, given recent, related developments, I'm feeling so inclined.

Right now, it is all these commissions and forums cropping up across the land that have me a bit worried about the future of the country. How the Belanger-Campeau Commission in Quebec and Keith Spicer's roadshow in English Canada expect to find some sort of national consensus when they are operating in isolation of each other is curious. Each group is focusing on separate components of Canada's "two solitudes", when what is really needed is to reconcile both sides wherever possible.

Even if the B-C Commission concludes that Quebecers want out of Canada, and La Belle Province embarks on another referendum, the rest of the country reserves the right to become involved in the process. Irrespective of whether Quebec opts to remain in Canada, declare independence or seek a sovereign status while joining in an economic association with the other nine provinces, negotiations will have to take place involving all parts of the country.

The problem, as I see it — and, please excuse me for repeating myself — is that we Canadians can't seem to put politics aside long enough to debate the state of our union candidly. There are too many hidden and narrow agendas among the members of these commissions. There has been too much emphasis placed on drafting the commissions' panelists from various special interest groups, whose goals are often mutually exclusive.

Add to the situation, Prime Minister Mulroney's comments on the constitution, offered over the weekend. He is calling for revisions to the constitution's amending formula. He says the three-year deadline for provinces to ratify a constitutional amendment is too long. Governments can change during this period of grace, he correctly points out. As happened in Newfoundland's case during the Meech Lake fiasco, a newly-elected government can reverse the decisions of its predecessor.

Mulroney wants to fast-track constitutional change. He feels speeding things up will hold the country together, that in this way our constitution will become a living document that can be revised to suit the changing times.

His heart is in the right place, I grudgingly concede, but his and my view of what a constitution should be are miles apart. To me, a country's constitution should never be amended in such a frivolous manner. Look at the United States, where the slightest change to its constitution takes years to effect. The U.S. constitution is a timeless document that was written to serve countless, successive generations. More than two hundred years after it was adopted, most of it is still relevant.

Until Canadians go through the same exercise in which the Americans engaged two centuries ago, we will never surmount the impasse that was painfully reached during the Meech Lake debate.

Until we sit down together at the negotiating table, the historical perceptions that John talked about will persist. Quebec nationalists will continue to insist that their history is one long chronicle of ruthless repression by English Canadian exploitation. Extremists in English Canada will continue to complain about bilingualism being shoved down their throats. Neither view is entirely correct.

Sure, we should not bury our heads in the sand, and must be prepared for the eventuality that Quebec might go its own way. We will have to address such matters as who owns what (airports, harbors, government buildings etc.), and how to split both the national wealth and its debt.

However, shame on us if we don't try to snatch victory from the jaws of defeat. That we have arrived at a point in history where intelligent people have become resigned to the imminence of Quebec's separation is in itself regrettable. For a people with the wherewithal to carve one of the greatest countries on earth out of inhospitable wilderness to consider dissolving their nation is ludicrous.

Seventh Column

by Joe Rowan

Some 15 or 16 years ago we shared a table (at Alexander's Lunch) with a gentleman who might best be described as a modern-day "Circuit Rider". He explained he was a clergyman whose task it was to offer encouragement and guidance where congregations showed signs of spiritual weakness. Since we were approximately the same age we spoke of boyhood days in our respective communities and how, back then, our churches (his Baptist, ours Roman Catholic) were bulging at the seams for all services. "Why", we asked him, "are so many people apparently drifting away?" He paused momentarily and then reminded us that, in our youth, the world was plagued by a terrible depression (recession if you prefer) and he suggested people, striving for survival, were on their knees praying for help. "Their prayers", he mused, "were answered and now a world, enjoying prosperity, is neglecting to say "Thanks". That, as we said was more than 15 years ago, and perhaps because people are again flocking back to their respective places of worship, the man's observation seems to take on a new meaning. Dark clouds of doom are again threatening... recession combined with fear of another world war. Think our friend the "Circuit Rider", if he were in town today, might be tempted to say: "Well, here we go again!"

The above observation might lead some to believe churches were almost abandoned during those years of plenty. Not so... for many their church always provided stability and strength. This was much in evidence at St. Paul's Anglican Church, Osgoode, last Sunday. During morning Holy Eucharist service the pastor, Rev. Susan Churchill-Lackey, asked the faithful to pause and relect on the immeasurable contribution to the church by a lady whose leadership and unselfish dedication stretched across more than six decades from Sunday school to the present day. Unfortunately we were not able to personally extend congratulations to our good friend as she humbly accepted well-deserved tributes. But we are indeed proud of the fact our family was represented. Son-in-law Barry made sure his family (wife Jo-Anne, Angela, Jaret, Amanda and Bradley) were all there to embrace his "Aunt Mary". She was registered at Sunday school as "Mary Nixon", but the lass who has never been too busy to respond when church or community called, has been Mrs. Ervin Hunt for more than 40 years. Now, dear readers, if you happen to be in Osgoode (and it's not Sunday), and you don't know the lady but wish to extend congratulations, maybe we can help. Try the "Drop-In Centre"; Anglican Church Women's group; the hospital auxiliary; Royal Canadian Legion; Women's Institute; Township of Osgoode Care Centre Auxiliary; Home Support Unit; LOBA; Cancer Society; or a quilting party. Just ask for "Mary". - they'll know who you mean.

Since we seem to be stealing the thunder of Ministerial Associations this week perhaps readers might tolerate just a touch of church-oriented commercialism. During summer months we worked with brother Jim and other family members in compiling a brief historical review of our church entitled "150 Years, St. Catherine's". Thanks to the kind co-operation of Winchester Print, the 52-page books were printed in time for the impressive 150th anniversary service, Sun., Nov. 4. Readers will find it interesting to note St. Catherine's Cemetery is the last resting place of one of Osgoode Township's first settlers... Col. Archibald McDonell. We say "one of the first", because, according to early historians, Mr. McDonell and his good friend William York may have left Cornwall with their families, on the same day and settled within a mile of each other (on the banks of the Castor River) in the month of March, 1827. It is also recorded they may not have learned for more than a year that they were such close neighbors. There's another touch of irony here. The bodies of both courageous pioneers lie within a few rods of each other on the same rocky hill. Mr. York's weathered grave marker is in what is now Union Cemetery (then Methodist). By the way copies of "our" books are available at Hawley's Corners and Rocking Chair Yarns, both at Metcalfe, and also at the Township Museum, Vernon. All revenue will be used for church and cemetery maintenance.

Reflections: Job interfered with calling

by Andy McLeister
Press staff reporter

WINCHESTER — If one were pressed to describe Nancy Hyndman in a nutshell, the word "organized" would surely leap to mind.

When a reporter visited her in her suite at the Victoria Apartments last week, he was presented with a neatly-penned autobiography that distilled 87 years of living into a two-page synopsis. After chatting amiably for a couple of hours — using the autobiography as reference — she apologized for letting her correspondence lapse of late with her many friends and relatives on both sides of the Atlantic.

But then she showed her precise record of letters sent and received over the past year, and her natural ability to keep things in tidy order returned to the fore. It is no wonder she is the Hyndman family's historian. It takes an ordered mind to research a family's history and get all the facts down in a book.

"It took a long time to write that," she said of the book published in 1983, The Hyndmans of Mountain Township. "Why I did it, I don't know."

She chuckled quietly when she said that, incidentally, and explained that in the years after marrying the late Fenton Hyndman in 1928, she picked up bits and pieces about his family's history down through the decades. The book was primarily the result of the enquiries she made of other family members.

One could be forgiven for surmising that Hyndman's life has been an ordered one, that all her plans have always fallen neatly into place. She strikes one that way with her genteel manners and soft- spoken ways.

Yet in Nancy Hyndman, we find an adventuresome soul, perhaps inherited from her South African- born father of Danish-Irish ancestory, a captain in the Royal Garrison Artillery. Or maybe it's her Nova Scotian-born mother she takes after.

However she came by it, hers is the type of spirit that's required of a 19-year-old woman who quits her comfortable English lifestyle in 1922 and, under the auspices of the Anglican Church, journeys with a group of equally-young women to the Saskatchewan Prairies to accept a teaching position. She had already taken training in England in the Montessori method of teaching Kindergarten (a form that stresses a practical, hands-on approach to learning). A brief period of rudimentary training at the Saskatoon Normal School followed before she received her first assignment.

In Saskatchewan, she taught Grades one to eight with a couple of students studying high school courses under her guidance instead of going to the nearest secondary school, which often was far enough away form their home to necessitate finding room and board.

And then, it was a figurative toss of the coin that made her choose her mother, Gwendolyn Francklyn's native land over her father, Ernest Castens'.

And it was pure fate that posted her to a school not far from the one where Fenton Hyndman was teaching.

In Saskatchewan, teachers like the Hyndman's lived an isolated existence. "Our closest town was North Battleford and that was 40 miles away," Hyndman remembers.

The pay for teachers, $1,000 annually, was alright by 1920's standards. "No, it wasn't bad, but it was very expensive to live on the Prairies," she told a reporter.

She and Fenton married in North Battleford, Sask., in 1928, and soon drove cross-country to Mountain Township where they were intent on farming.

There were a few interruptions along the way — a disastrous barn fire persuaded Fenton to take a job in an apple orchard at Markham for a few years. But, eventually, they settled on the family farm and stayed there (except for the winter of 1946-47 when they sojourned in British Columbia while a new barn was erected on the farmstead) until moving to Winchester in 1983. (Fenton passed away three years ago.)

The years on the farm provided Hyndman with some of her fondest memories. In farming, it seems, she found her true calling, and embraced rural life wholeheartedly.

Although raised in the Anglican Church, Hyndman became active in the Hallville United Church. She taught Sunday School off and on, and was the Hallville UCW's first president. She was also a member of the Mountain-Hallville Women's Institute, and was president when the group began focussing on Red Cross work. She later joined the Mountain WI, and remains a member to this day.

She remembers Monday nights before the advent of television as being the most enjoyable for the farming community. That's when the Farm Radio Forum aired, and neighbors would gather to listen to the broadcast. This was audience participation at its finest, with listeners sending in their comments on each show, and the results of these surveys being announced in the next broadcast.

Her farming — doing the books and tending her flower garden — had to take a backseat for a while during the 1950's when she taught at Acton's Corner's, Van Camp and Kirkwood Road schools.

"It wasn't the happiest time in my life,

Hyndman has tasted adventure as a young teacher on the Canadian Prairies and on innumerable journeys across Canada and abroad. Below, Nancy Hyndman photographed prior to emmigrating from England; inset, Hyndman today.

teaching in Ontario schools," she volunteered. "Teaching interfered with my farming."

She found the time to farm and garden when she accepted a position as treasurer of the Eastern Ontario Milk Producers Co-operative.

She also found the time to raise a son, William, a systems manager for Marconi Canada who now resides in Kanata with his wife, Margaret (Bell).

Today her grandchildren are her pride and joy. "I have two grandchildren and I'm extremely proud of them because they are just about ready for their doctor's degrees," she beamed. Jennifer is studying for her PhD in mathematics at the University of Colorado, while David is working towards a doctorate in biochemistry at Queen's University, Kingston.

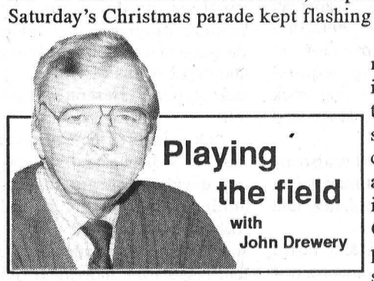
Then to occupy her are her studies of family history — a copy of the Francklyn family tree, produced by the Somerset House of England is among her treasured possessions — and correspondence with friends and relatives in Canada and overseas.

Despite the prohibitive distances involved, Hyndman remained close through the years to her family of two brothers and three sisters, especially her two younger sisters who were closer to her age. Indeed, several siblings emigrated to Canada at different times, settling on the West Coast. She is the last surviving member of the siblings, but maintains correspondence with other family members.

She has returned to the old country on several occasions and would need a calculator to count the number of times she has traversed this continent.

Yet, despite the comforts of middle-class England she was born to, the exposure to wealth she has experienced (one sister married a man who would make a fortune in British Columbia, where sister Nancy was an occasional guest), and extensive travel, country life and farming have gotten into her blood ... to stay.

Christmas spirit



During the weekend when I was mulling over subjects to write about in this column, snapshots of Saturday's Christmas parade kept flashing across my mind.

For some reason those images obscured the list of subjects I was considering. For a while I thought it strange that a Christmas parade should seem more important to me than other events happening in our country and abroad.

Then the light turned on. It was because on Saturday, here in Winchester, the Christmas spirit began to walk along our streets again and to suspend some of our everyday worries and concerns.

Most of the crises that affect us and our country are transitory. They come and go in a variety of shapes and sizes, but the core of the Christmas message "Goodwill Toward Men" is unchanging and irresistible.

Each year at this time it appears, as immutable as the movement of the planets and the rotation of the seasons. The fact that the message does not affect all of us the same way is irrelevant. It is there, whether in our hearts or only flickering on the edges of our consciousness. It was there at Saturday's parade. The music, color and excitement were expressions of the Christmas spirit. It was present in the smiles of the faces in the crowds, in the waves and the handshakes, in the exchanges of greeting between people who were suddenly no longer strangers.

The bonds that spring up between members of a community and pull them closer as Christmas approaches is one of the blessings of the season. The feeling of tolerance and understanding and the new friendships do not always survive beyond the holiday. But those that do represent a Christmas gift, beyond value.

There was something else, beside the Christmas spirit, among the crowd who watched and applauded the Saturday event. There was a great sense of pride in being part of a community which has people with the kind of kind of creative talent and organizational ability that produced an extraordinary Christmas parade. Among many other reasons it will be remembered is that it was as much fun to watch, for adults, as it was for the kids.

A Collingwood man who used vile and abusive language toward a neighbor was sentenced to three months in prison by a local magistrate. The sentence seems severe but the offence is only too common and a few such examples might have a good effect on such people.

School board joins protest against violent rock videos

CORNWALL - The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry public school board has lent its support to a Renfrew board's resolution protesting certain rock videos.

The Renfrew public school board has asked the Canadian Radio-Television and Telecommunications Commission to review the licencing requirements of networks using rock videos containing violence and sexual stereotyping.

The Renfrew board is also asking that stations voluntarily ban videos containing violence and sexual stereotyping.

Roy Hastings, SD&G board chairman, said he is uncertain if banning videos nets positive results. But he said it would not hurt to err on the safe side and keep the videos from children.

"They serve no purpose. I can't understand people enjoying that sort of thing," Hastings said last week in a telephone interview.

The SD&G board decided at a meeting last Tuesday to send a letter to the Renfrew board stating its support for the board's anti-video campaign.

Hastings feels the board's cause is a worthy one and he sees no redeeming value in rock videos containing violence or sexual stereotyping.

Peter Hiscott, director of education with the Renfrew board, sent a letter to the CRTC Oct. 18 asking it to review the licences of television stations that broadcast the offending videos, and that such programming be discontinued.

"The Renfrew County Board of Education has been actively involved in developing curriculum programs that address the issue of wife and family abuse and other forms of violence and stereotyping," Hescott said in the letter.

"Our aim is to increase awareness of violence and stereotyping, develop strategies that assist students to change attitudes towards violence and women in society, and to inculcate values that respect the individual rights and dignity of all members of society."

Rock videos depicting violence and stereotyping are making negative impressions on students in elementary and secondary schools, a fact oblivious to the parents of many children, Hiscott stated.

"It is sincerely hoped that such programming will be discontinued. Music videos could be used to portray more positive attitudes and actions towards all members of society."

Hiscott also wrote to MacLean Hunter Cable TV in Pembroke, asking the station to stop broadcasting videos with violence or stereotyping.

"It is sincerely hoped that you will remove such programs from your network and replace it, if necessary, with other forms of music videos that portray much more positive attitudes and actions toward all members of society."

Hastings said he would like to see the decision to decide which videos are offensive to rest with the CRTC.

"According to the letter, we understand they would have some control over that," he said. But he added: "I think their power is more of attempted persuasion."

Hastings said the board's support of the Renfrew resolution does not amount to support for censorship.

"We're not in the business of censorship. We're simply supporting, by letter, another board's concerns.

"We're writing a letter to support the board in their protest about the violence on videos. We're not researching it. We're doing nothing more than writing a letter."

He admitted that board members are far from experts on the issue.

Bill Fleming, board trustee for Osnabruck Township, thinks the move to eliminate violence and sexual stereotyping in rock videos is a good one. He believes they have a negative influence on youth.

"There's a lot of negative stuff out and around in everyday life," he said.

NDDHS sells fruit by truckload

MAPLE RIDGE — North Dundas District High School was filled to the rafters this month as its Christmas citrus fruit campaign reached its climax.

A whole tractor trailer full of oranges and grapefruit from Florida was sold, teacher Gerry Jean reported this week. Students sold 1,400 crates of fruit, and collected $31,000 in the process.

After paying for the fruit, transportation, and prizes for top-selling students, Jean expects a net profit of about $7,000 will be divided evenly between the school, for student activities, and the Winchester District Memorial Hospital's renewal drive.

Metcalfe Auxiliary active

The November meeting of the Metcalfe Auxiliary of the Township of Osgoode Care Centre was held at the home of Margaret Laroche. The president, Jean Wade, presided over the meeting. Irene Wallace gave the treasurer's report and it was noted that the quilt raffle, over the past few months, was highly successful. The winning ticket was drawn by the president, and Richard Brady, RR2, Osgoode, was the lucky winner of a beautiful quilt.

The president reported on her attendance at the annual meeting of the Township of Osgoode Care Centre Board on Nov. 12, at which time she gave a summary of the auxiliary's activities during the past year. She stated in her report that the auxiliary, besides raising money, also contributes to various projects at the care centre, such as bazaars, Valentine teas, Memorial Day, etc. A number of auxiliary members also assist as volunteers at the care centre on a regular basis. At the conclusion of her report she presented a cheque for $2,000 to the Township of Osgoode Care Centre Board. The auxiliary has contributed a total of $26,000 to date to the care centre.

Storyteller at Morewood

by Shirley Mills

MOREWOOD — Storytelling is an art which has been around for a long time. In olden days, storytellers travelled to outlying areas bringing news of major events, relating myths and legends and providing entertainment.

Today we don't rely on wandering storytellers to bring us the news, but there is still great entertainment to be had in listening to stories told by an artist.

A storytelling event will take place on Thurs., Dec. 13 at the Morewood Public Library, when Itah Sady, who hails from the Caribbean, will entertain youngsters with a variety of stories.

Itah has been listening to and telling stories since she was a young girl in her grandparents' home in Barbados. A resident of Toronto, she has travelled extensively through Canada and the United States enchanting audiences with her performances, and has taken part in storytelling conferences. She adapts her material to the age of her audience using many accents and dialects and enhances her stories with music, song or 'rap'.

Don't let your children miss this chance to hear a real storyteller in action. This show, sponsored by the Southern Ontario Library Service, is a program of the ministry of Culture and Communications and is held at your public library. Everyone is invited.

It will be held at the Morewood library, which is located behind the firehall in Morewood, at 7pm on Thurs., Dec. 13 and admission is free.

New official plan attempts to redistribute growth areas

OSGOODE — As many as 3,600 additional lots and a population in the neighborhood of 22,000 is projected for this township over the next 20 years, according to Osgoode Township's proposed official plan.

There are about 4,200 existing households in the township and today's population is in the range of 13,000 to 14,000 residents.

The plan was presented to a group of about 80 township residents at a meeting held last week in the Osgoode Centennial Community Centre.

Provincial guidelines say that each municipality must review its official plan every five years, at which time the plan can be left as it is or changed, township councillor Blaine Ball explained in a recent interview.

Most of the actual lots being approved this time around will be in the Greely area, where an attempt is being made to bridge the homes now situated in Greely and Greely West, he said.

Considerable growth is expected in the villages of Osgoode and Metcalfe. Deferrals are being lifted on lots to the south and north of Osgoode, lots which had been included in the last official plan, but deferred at higher levels. Metcalfe will be permitted to grow primarily to the south and east.

Vernon and Kenmore will be encouraged to almost double in size over the next 20 years, Vernon to the west and Kenmore to the north. Marionville may see an additional 60 lots on the north side.

An attempt is being made to distribute growth more evenly over the whole township, Ball clarified.

"The growth in Manotick is overtaxing the hydrology of their area," he said, "and we want to avoid that problem in Osgoode."

One problem being faced with the expansion of Osgoode Village, he noted, is that it is surrounded by farmland. The Ministry of Agriculture and Food is concerned about taking farmland for village growth. They do not consider the land's present use but its capability, he explained.

Although Osgoode and Greely are about the same size now, Ball said Greely will probably become bigger. In spite of this, the commercial viability is greater in Osgoode because of its further distance from Ottawa.

A 20 to 25 acre site has been set aside west of the old Parkway Road in Greely for future commercial development, Ball said.

Long-range plans also call for 2nd Line Road to be extended from Osgoode to Dozois Road and connected to Limebank Road, thereby taking some of the traffic burden off River Road.

The success of this plan would probably see the approval of additional estate lots in the resulting developed areas, Ball said.

On the north-south transportation corridor, regional government has recommended that they designate the 8th Line Road, which runs from Metcalfe north to Regional Road 8, a regional road.

Ball said that although there were a few questions, the public seemed very positive.

"It was a more efficient process this time, with meetings spread over a year," he explained.

"Holy Family" rides llamas in parade

Members of the Armstrong family from Crysler won 1st prize for the best non-commercial float in Winchester's Santa Claus parade. This was the first time they had entered the Winchester parade, although, they had participated in Ottawa's Santa parade a week earlier. Above are family members dressed in biblical costumes. In real life, they breed llamas for their fine wool and for sale.

Little Devils take Tip Off cup

Coach praises unselfish attitude and team spirit of junior basketball squad

MAPLE RIDGE—Ryan Buske poured in 40 points (in three games) here Saturday, including four three pointers, helping the host North Dundas Devils win their own 1990 Tip Off Tournament.

North Dundas out-scored their oppostion 134-84 streaking to victory. They also threw in a an exciting, last minute, 50-48 exhibition game victory over the Renfrew Collegiate Raiders Friday evening and completed the event with four wins.

The weekend's four wins improved Deanna Corbett- White's squad record to eight wins and no losses.

"The team is playing very well right now. I think we are going to be a power to be reckoned with," exclaimed an elated Corbett-White following Saturday evening's 44-36 championship win over the St. Joseph's Panthers.

"The boys are very unselfish. They are always looking for the better shot, for the open man who has the better chance to score. Points for the team mean more than for the individual," she explained.

"Overall maybe last year's team had more individual skills but this year's it is more of a team concept. We have size and desire coming off the bench and a great team spirit and attitude."

The coach couldn't say enough about her team's tournament victory and had words of praise for the support given the event by both students and parents.

"There was good support today. It was great to see so many people here watching. That means a lot to the team."

Devils 3 - Opposition 0

North Dundas ran their 2-3 zone against A.Y. Jackson in Friday's opening round and breezed to a decisive 50-13 victory.

Following that match they returned to the court and played an exhibition game with the Renfrew Collegiate Raiders and won it 50-48.

Saturday, in their semi-final test the Devils eliminated that same Renfrew squad 40-35.

Saturday evening the Devils doubled St. Joe's half-time output 26-13 and grabbed the championship silverware with a 44-36 decision.

Guard Ryan Buske clipped off a game-high 14 points in the title decision over the Panthers nailing a three pointer in the process.

Center Rod Merkley nailed nine points. Phil Burns poured in a six pack. Cory VanDelst and big Danny McLeod hit four each. Sean Salter (3) and Sean Hackey (2) completed the scoring.

Marc Poirier swished two and Dave Klennavie one three pointer for the Panthers.

It was Buske again leading the way in the Devils' semi-final 40-35 win over the Renfrew Collegiate Raiders. He dropped in two long range (three pointers) in the second quarter and finished the game with a dozen points.

North Dundas was down 9-8 after a quarter but comfortably ahead 21-11 at the half. It was 33-19 at three-quarter time but the Raiders rambled for 16 fourth period points (to the Devils' 7) and made a game of it.

Guard Phil Burns swished twine for 10 points. Sean Hackey, Jamie Kennedy and Sean Salter all sunk four points. Jason Ball (2), Rod Merkley (2), Jason Steven and Mike Singh all hit the score sheet.

It was all North Dundas as they trimmed A.Y. Jackson 50-13 in Friday night's opener.

Buske was good for 14 and one three pointer. Forward Sean Salter was the number two shooter with 10 points.

Rod Merkley (5), Cory VanDelst (4), Danny McLeod (4), Mike Singh (3 - three point range), Jason Ball (3), Jamie Kennedy (3), Sean Hachey (2) and Jason Steven all pierced the ring.

Powered by Buske's 12 points North Dundas led A.Y. Jackson 21-3 at the quarter and were up 25-13 at the half. They outscored their opposition by 14-4 and 11-2 margins in the final two quarters.

Ryan Buske hooped the winning basket in the final minute of Friday's 50-48 exhibition win over Renfrew.

Sean Salter (14), Buske (11), Rodney Merkley (11), Phil Burns (6), Jamie Kennedy (4), Danny McLeod (2) and Jason Steven (2) recorded North Dundas' points.

Rutley sweeps Labatt's bonspiel

CORNWALL—Winchester Curlers made their presence felt here over the weekend.

One WCC contingent, skipped by Ron Rutley, curled five games, won all five and emerged as the winners of the fourth annual Labatt Blue Men's Bonspiel.

A second squad skipped by Dave Levere curled their way into the semi-final round before losing its only game.

Curling with Rutley were Glen Vasey, Brent Copeland and Lester McInnis.

Rutley defeated 1989-90 Ontario Senior champion Bill Dickie 7-4 in the "A" championship final. Winchester's win was sweet revenge after the Dickie rink had taken last year's first prize from them.

Winchester's other rink was skipped by Dave Levere and composed of Dan MacMartin, Brian Clement and Al Donaldson. They lost a Sunday semi- final match to Dickey and were eliminated after posting a record of three wins and one loss.

Cash 'spiel here

This coming weekend marks the playing of the annual Winchester Curling Clubs Men's Cash Bonspiel.

32 top teams from the area will battle for a champion's share of the $3,100 being offered.

Action begins later this week and runs through Saturday. The championship match will be curled Sunday afternoon.

Bonspiel chairman Dave Levere and his committee invite everyone to catch some of the top flite action.

Graham leads 73s' attack, dropping Hawks into second

WINCHESTER—Kemptville captain Brian Graham figured in on six goals here Friday night as he sparked the visiting 73's to an 11-8, come-from- behind victory over the home town Winchester Hawks.

The loss, just their third in 16 games, was a costly one for the St. Lawrence (Jr. B) Division Hawks. It dropped them to second place behind the red-hot Alexandria Glens. Their loss and Kemptville's two wins also left the Hawks just three points ahead of third-ranked Kemptville.

Kemptville knocked-off the determined Morrisburg Lions by a 5-2 count Sunday night to improve their record to 11 (wins), 4 (losses) and one (tie).

The St. Lawrence Division standings show Alexandria in front with 28 points, Winchester with 26, Kemptville with 23, Char-Lan with 14 and Morrisburg with 10.

In their lone bout this weekend (Friday Dec. 7) the Hawks will host the Rideau Division's second place Westport Rideaus (9W, 7L, 0T) in an 8:15pm tilt.

Jason Quensel gave Kemptville a 1-0 first period lead in last Friday's encounter when he scored on a powerplay at 15:27. Winchester pulled even at 14:55 on John Cutler's unassisted marker.

Kemptville newcomer Andrew Meth hit from Kevin Tallman and Kevin Leeder at the 14:00 mark for a 2-1 lead but the Hawks pulled even at two when Derek Brannan scored from Chris Williams and Jeff Holmes at 10:08.

Scot "Midnight Skulker" Bell made it 3-2 at 9:40, John Cutler upped it to 4-2 scoring at 7:46 and Jeff Holmes gave Winchester a big 5-2 lead when he scored from Scott Barkley and Derek Brannan 56 seconds before the end of the first period.

But by the time the buzzer sounded Kemptville had closed the gap to 5-4. Brian Graham cashed in both goals scoring at 45 seconds and 18 seconds to turn the tide in the 73's favour.

Kevin Holmes tied it 5-5 scoring at 17:26 of the second frame but Todd Marcellus (assisted by Jeff Egan and Doug Armstrong) at 13:42 and Dean Wilson (Scot Bell and Dominic Menard) at 13:10 gave the Hawks new life (7-5).

But three consecutive goals by Kemptville - Kevin Holmes at 12:16, Kevin Leeder at 8:55 and Dave Figetomat at 58 seconds - put the visitors up 8-7 after 40 minutes.

Figetomat scored again with 16:52 on the third period clock and opened up a 9-7 lead. Brian Graham's third goal made it 10-7 at 14:35.

Scott Barkley cut the deficit to 10-8 scoring from Jason Doucette with 2:11 left but Kevin Tallman made it an 11-8 final with an empty net goal at the 42 second mark.

Greg Bodlay and Peter Spezile split the 73s' goaltending while Josh French absorbed the loss.

Kemptville's Jason Quensel as well as Hawks' Dominic Menard and Dave Boyd were tossed from the game.

Dundas Devils sweep Spartans in home opener

MAPLE RIDGE—North Dundas Junior Devils made it look easy here last Thursday as they manhandled the Seaway District High Spartans 82-22 in their SD&G Boys High School Basketball League home opener.

In the second half of the doubleheader coach Gerry Jean's Senior Devils battled back from three deficits before putting away the Spartans 47-35.

Junior coach Deanna Corbett-White has been grooming her talented squad since September and if Thursday's opening game is any indication of what the Devils can do they could challenge for the 1990-91 SD&G championship.

She had indicated earlier that her team has a lot of talent and offensive skill. Thursday's 82 points certainly backs her thinking.

"Things were going very well for us so I taught them a 2-3 zone at half time. It was the first time they had played zone and they picked it up right away and ran it very effectively."

Senior coach Gerry Jean felt his squad's finishing touch was a little rusty but was pleased with the way the team stuck to the game plan.

"They ran every play we had worked on. I couldn't believe it. They pulled them off perfectly but couldn't finish it off," he said.

"I think that three times we pulled the ball down (rebounds) five times on the same play but couldn't put it through, didn't get a point," he explained.

Coach Jean says the shooting and scoring touch is rusty because many of his players are concentrating on their marks, "Getting into university is more important to them than practicing seriously. We are just trying to make it fun."

Jean noted that facing powerhouses like CCVS (who defeated R/O 98-55) and St. Joseph's (who thumped General Vanier 101-43) may not be that much "fun".

Dave Harper drained six points while Darren Hutt, Chris Van Bridger and Chad Simpson dunked deuces as the senior Devils took a 12-9 first quarter lead.

Seaway turned it around and were up by two, 23-21, at the half.

After stumbling early in period three the Devils pulled ahead by a 35-29 margin. Ashley Byers worked the paint for eight of those points while Hutt, Van Bridger and Simpson pushed in the other field goals.

North Dundas' offence outscored Seaway 12-6 in the final period as Harper, Van Bridger and Simpson supplied six of Dundas' 12 points from the line. Their foul shooting sharpened dramatically in the second half, after missing their first 10 free throws, the Devils nailed all six chances in the final period.

Dave Harper led the Devils to victory with a dozen points. Ashley Byers and Chad Simpson each hooped 10. Chris Van Bridger supplied eight and Darren Hutt seven points to the win.

Trevor Plumb, Scot Bell, Jason Kennedy, Trent Antille and Rob Pollock make up rest of the roster.

Juniors 82 - Seaway 22

North Dundas Junior Devils were impressive in their win.

The most impressive performance belonged to Phil Burns who poured through 26 points. His effort included three three-point shots. He hit one in the opening period and then threw up two more in the final eight minutes.

Burns also pumped in seven two-point shots and was good on three of four free throw opportunities.

North Dundas led 22-2 at the quarter and 45-10 at the half. It was 55-20 at three-quarter time and finished 82-22.

Ryan Buske was number two Devil shooter with 13 points, including a three pointer.

Sean Salter and Rod Merkley both hit double digits (10). Jamie Kennedy hit for nine, Jason Steven four, Cory VanDelst four, Sean Hache, Jason Ball, and Mike Singh two points each.

Danny McLeod and Chris Macdonald were the only Devils unable to twist the twine.

Shane Gillard was the Spartans top gunner with six points.

This week North Dundas travels to Cornwall tomorrow (Thursday Dec. 6) to challenge the St. Lawrence Saints.

Carter paces Jets with four

METCALFE—Veteran Scott Carter inspired the Metcalfe Jets to a 9-5 Metro (Jr.B) Division over the Kings in Carleton Place Friday scoring four times and drawing an assist.

The big right winger added another pair of goals and one assist to his totals here at home Sunday afternoon but it wasn't enough to light a fire under the Jets as they were defeated 9-4 by the Vanier Voyageurs.

Coach Greg McLaren was concerned with his club's inconsistency following the loss to Vanier.

"When we forechecked we controlled the play but we failed to do so continuously," McLaren stated.

"Hockey is a 60 minute game and we've paid the price for our letdowns," he added.

Vanier led the Jets 5-3 after a period of Sunday's match and were up 7-3 after two.

Matt Gordon, Jamie Miller and Scott Carter with two connected for the goals. Carter, Chris Wynn, Scott Ricci and Ken Tricker earned assists.

Rusty Vachon allowed seven goals in 36 minutes of play while Shawn Bradley gave up two in 24 minutes.

Dan Bertrand was the only two goal gunner for Vanier.

On the road in Carleton Place last Friday, high- scoring Scott Carter pegged four goals and drew an assist in Metcalfe's 9-5 win.

Ken Tricker also earned five points on two goals and three assists. Metcalfe native Scott Reaney enjoyed his best game as a junior scoring twice and helping out on a third goal.

The Jets outshot Carleton Place 44-38 with Rusty Vachon posting the win.

Metcalfe led 5-2 after a period and 7-3 after 40 minutes.

Dan Vajcovec netted the other goal. Blayne Behnue (2), Chris Wynn, Matt Gordon (2), Stephane Barjolin and Darrell Warren collected the assists.

The Jets are expected to add veteran Steve Leeks (Arnprior Packers) to their line-up in the near future.

Additions to the Jets Alumni Night are - Brian Robinson and Gaye Ford of the 60's, Jeff and Dean "Dino" Holmes of the 70's as well as Murray Toll and Darcy Provost of the 80's.

Metcalfe travels to Vanier this Friday (Dec. 7) and will host the first place South Ottawa Canadians this Sunday afternoon (Dec. 9).

Bantams double Royals, lose to Kings

CHESTERVILLE—The North Dundas (D&D Performance) Bantam "A" Demons split a pair of exhibition results last week.

Here Friday night they dropped a 5-3 decision to the "AA" Rideau-St. Lawrence Kings and last Tuesday the Demons doubled the Royals 6-3 in Kemptville.

The Kings led North Dundas 3-1 after two periods and won it by a 5-3 difference. Period one was scoreless.

Rideau-St. Lawrence got three consecutive goals from Eric Rylands to turn the game in their favour.

North Dundas Minor Hockey Association product Clint Holmes (of Winchester) scored a goal and one assist for the Rideau-St.Lawrence squad.

Jason Desormeaux had a goal and two assists for the Demons. Jamie Francis and Dave Sears netted the others.

In Tuesday's test in Kemptville the Royals were up 1-0 after a period but down 3-2 after two as North Dundas rolled on to a 6-3 victory.

Paul Kelly's first period marker gave the Royals their 1-0 edge. Eric Jansen upped it to 2-0 when he scored at 9:41 of period two.

North Dundas got back into the game 19 seconds later when Glen Meeks cut Kemptville's lead to 2-1 scoring from Wally Cinnamon and Brent Barkley.

Craig Halpenny tied it up 2-2 connecting from Cinnamon and Shawn Steinburg at 6:39.

Andrew Holmes gave the Demons their first lead (3-2) when he finished off a play started by Philip Brisebois at 6:20.

Wally Cinnamon made it 4-3 for the Demons firing home a Steinburg-Meeks relay with 8:44 left in the game.

Steinburg hit from Brisebois and Jason Desormeaux with 2:39 left and made it 5-3. Jamie Francis finished it off with his goal which came 23 seconds before the end of the game.

Atoms lose

CHESTERVILLE - The North Dundas Atom "A" Demons were brought down by Brockville last Friday in Upper Canada Minor Hockey League action.

Tylor Copeland connected for the Demons' only goal of the game, putting a stop to what might have been a shutout for the Brockville club.

After the first period of play, Brockville counted a 3-0 advantage. The visiting team went on to tally their fourth marker during the second period, before allowing the Demons to make the single.

Copeland capitalized on a play set up by Chris Mann and Mike Casselman.

A scoreless third period granted Brockville a 4-1 victory over the Demons.

Arsenault hat trick not enough

CHESTERVILLE - The North Dundas Atom C Demons blew a slim advantage in the final period, to give Embrun the two Upper Canada Minor Hockey League points here last Sunday.

Nathan Arsenault counted a hat-trick perfomance in the first period to grant the Demons an early lead, which would later be destroyed by the Embrun club.

Arsenault started rounding up markers at 8:37, with assistance from Jason Blackburn. A 2-0 advantage was taken when Morgan Dillabough put the puck on Arsenaults' stick at 6:03.

Arsenault worked alone for his third marker of the evening. He netted the goal with 2:29 remaining in the opening frame.

Embrun scored 1:33 before the game's first intermission, closing first period action with a 3-1 lead for the home team.

The contest was even at three-goals apiece before the Demons netted their fourth marker. With just 50 seconds left in the second, Dillabough tallied an unassisted marker.

Embrun ran away with the game in the last period. The visiting team hit for five goals to win the contest with a 8-5 goal total. They started the frame off with a goal at the 9:23 mark.

The Demons counted their final goal with 7:14 left in the contest. At this time, the home team had a 5-4 advantage.

The Embrun hockey club scored four more times after the Demons ended their scoring.

Boyd Rams knock off Canadiens

WINCHESTER—Jim Pennock keyed Boyd Chrysler Ramchargers' 7-1 Winchester Town Hockey league victory over the Country Kitchen Canadiens here last Tuesday.

Pennock snapped in three goals and drew two assists in the Rams' third victory in nine starts. The result enabled Boyds to move into a third- place tie with Country Kitchen at seven points.

In the second game of the evening the pace-setting Aqua Fun Flyers got goals from five different shooters en route to a 5-2 decision over the Country-Boy Kings.

Kevin Baldwin held the Kings at bay until the third period.

Jamie Utman then shattered Baldwin's goose egg, scoring twice for the Kings. Steve Plummer and Mike "Goose" Guy set him up at 17:43 of the third and then Lloyd Fawcett assisted the shooter with 2:08 left on the clock as the deficit shrank to 4-2.

But the Flyers iced their win (5-2) when Rick Grisel found the empty net with a Dave Coleman relay at the 56 second mark.

Keith Moore's 13th goal, assisted by Mike Armstrong and Dave Coleman at 13:56 of period one, gave the Flyers a 1-0 lead. Barry Fawcett upped it to 2-0 when he scored from Dave Coleman and Eric Winters at the 10:52 mark. Winters pushed it to 3- 0.

Dave Coleman created a 4-0 gap at 8:40 of period two, converting a Doug Coleman pass into his eighth goal of the year.

RAMS 7 - CANADIENS 1

Jim Pennock netted three and Marty Little banged in two, leading the Boyd Rams to a convincing 7-1 win over the Country Kitchen Canadiens.

Ram goalie Dave Hutt preserved his shutout until Canadiens' Mark Guy beat him on a play engineered by Geoff Summers with 5:34 left to play in the game.

The marker made it a 6-1 contest.

Boyds led 2-0 after the first period. Jim Pennock opened the scoring finishing off a play started for him by Marty Little and John Marquette at 12:33. Little then netted the winning goal when he made it 2-0 with a feed from Brent Theede and Jim Pennock 33 seconds before the end of the stanza.

Second-period goals by Ken Quaile, Marty Little and Keith McGrisken opened up a 5-0 gap.

Jim Pennock completed the scoring, wrapping in two third-period markers. He hit at 8:12 and again at 1:37.

Brent Theede assisted on four Ram goals. Doug Duncan, Ken Quaile, Keith McGrisken, John Marquette, Jim Pennock (2) and Fern Gauvreau all collected points.

CHRISTMAS SAFETY TIPS
Brought To You By
BRISTER INSURANCE BROKERS LTD.

FIRE:

Christmas tree fires cause a number of tragedies each year. The following precautions are suggested:

— Cute the tree at an angle, well above the original cut.
— Select a tree that is green(!) and moist, that does not have falling needles.
— Use a secure base to avoid tipping.
— Ensure that the base of the tree is placed in a basin filled with water. Check this daily, and add more water as required. This practice will help to keep the tree "fresh".
— Use only CSA approved lighting. Avoid direct contact between the lamps and the tree.
— Keep all candles and flames from the tree. The use candles is a tradition at this holiday time: use them with care!
— Keep the tree away from all sources of heat (base heaters, fireplaces, etc.)
— Artificial trees should be made from fire resistant materials.
— Trees should be removed as soon as the holiday season is over. Remember — the risk of fire increases as the trees dry out!

What every tenant and landlord should know about Ontario's rent control plans.

The Ontario government plans to replace the current rent review system with rent control.

This is a temporary measure. It will limit most rent increases to the guideline of 4.6% for 1990 and 5.4% for 1991. It will apply from October 1, 1990.

The changes are not yet law in Ontario and further information will be publicized as it becomes available.

Canucks rebound into first

METCALFE—Ron Flanagan banged in his 12th and 13th goals here Sunday leading the first place Shields Mechanical Canucks to a 7-5 win over the Dewan Painting Red Wings.

The win was a big one for the Canucks. It enabled them to retain sole possession of first place in the Metcalfe Town Hockey League.

A loss and the number two ranked Howison Amusement Leafs would've been sharing space with them atop the ladder. The Leafs stayed within two points when they canceled the Hicks Insurance Canadiens 5-2.

Sunday's other encounter produced a solid 5-0 win by the Wichers Construction Bruins over the Prestige Collison North Stars.

The third place Bruins remained three points off the pace thanks to Wayne Widenmaier's perfect goaltending. Widenmaier also figured in the offence drawing an assist on Mike Stanley's third goal of the game which came with 7:23 left in the second half.

Stanley sparked the win scoring three times. His first two tallies came in the first half. Jeff Crerar and Leo Campbell set up what would stand as the winning goal at 2:54. Rick Bloom and Pat Lloyd then helped Stanley make it 2-0, Bruins, 1:12 before the half.

Stanley led the winners with three goals and one assist. Rick Bloom fired in one goal and helped out on three others. Leo Campbell supplied a goal and one assist while Widenmaier, Crerar, Dana Morrison and Pat Lloyd all drew assists.

The Canucks jumped into a 5-3, first half, lead on the Red Wings and then pumped in two more in the early stages of the second half as they went on to register a 7-5 verdict.

Ron Flanagan's second goal of the game which was set up by Paul Nooyen at 20:33 of the second half proved to be the winner. It gave the Canucks a 6-3 lead and set the stage for Ed Chiarotto's goal at 18:08 which made it a comfortable 7-3 gap.

Roger Kargus posted the victory. Ron Flanagan scored twice and added one assist. Jeff Stanley, Rudy Grisel and Ed Chiarotto all potted a goal and helped out on two more. John Melenhorst and Pierre Carriere netted one each. Murray Parsons (2) and Paul Nooyen earned assists.

Peter Nooyen was the top Wings' point-getter with a goal and three assists. Neil Quinn was on the sheet for a goal and two helpers. Barry Scott fired in a pair and Sean Franey one goal. Scott Patterson and Ken Quaile each drew an assist.

It was a tight game for a half of play as the Howison Leafs out-scored the Hicks' Canadiens 5-2.

Leafs led it 3-2 at the half and widened their margin of victory by two in the final stanza.

Jim Kerfoot and Bill O'Brien each pegged two goals for the Leafs. Rob Renaud slapped in the other and picked up two assists. Doug Hicks (2), Dan Crerar, O'Brien and Blake Morrison earned the assists.

Bill O'Brien scored from Rob Renaud and Blake Morrison 10 seconds before the intermission and recorded what would be the winning goal.

Kevin Cochrane and Dan Morris scored for the Canadiens.

Panthers lose on court, win on ice

METCALFE—The Osgoode Township High School Panthers battled Lester B. Pearson to a 4-4 draw on the ice last week but on the hardwood the Panthers suffered a 52-41 loss to the St. Mark's Lions.

It might have been the first game of the season, but the St. Mark's Lions and Osgoode Panthers battled it out like a playoff game for the better part of three quarters.

Both senior basketball teams committed plenty of mental errors getting their feet wet in the season opener, but it stayed a one-point game until the last two minutes of the fourth frame.

Sean Hay paced the Panthers' attack pouring in 17 points. Jermey Harriosn broke through the point for 13.

In spite of the loss Osgoode coach Dave Buckingham was pleased with the first game.

"I thought my guys played really good defence," he said.

Buckingham was also impressed with the effort of starting guard Harrison and center Hay.

"Sean had a really good game on the boards. He must have pulled down at least 20 rebounds," he said. "And Jermey is a very intense player. If I had five guys like him, I'd have a championship team."

Hockey Panthers tie

Lester B. Pearson scored a goal with 19 seconds left in the game to earn a 4-4 tie with the OTHS Panthers.

"We let them back in," said Panther coach John Ross.

Kevin Collins led the Panthers' offence scoring a pair of goals and assisted on another by Jermey House. Charles Docherty notched the other Panther goal.

Midget A's hold on for win

CHESTERVILLE - The North Dundas Demons were victorious over the visiting Kemptville team in Midget "A" action on Tuesday, November 27.

The home team took the better half of a low scoring 2-1 contest to claim two more points in the Upper Canada Minor Hockey League.

The Demons held on to a 2-0 advantage that was marked in the opening period. The club was unable to add to the goal total in the following two periods.

However, thanks to the superb goaltending performance of Allen Sheldrick, Kemptville was unable to fight back for a win.

Mike Singh was the first skater to hit the scoreboard. He connected on a pass from Darrell Bloom at the 6:26 mark of the first frame, giving the Demons a slight advantage.

With only 47 second left in the first, the Demons' Aaron Sherrer netted the 2-0 lead for the home team. Peter Decooman put the puck on Sherrers' stick.

A scoreless period two allowed the Demons to have control of the contest going into the final frame.

Kemptville's Brent O'Reilly gave his team son hope by slapping the goal in with 10:28 still to play in the game. He allowed plenty of time for Kemptville to even it up, but the inability to get past Sheldrick and his defenders cost them the game.

Debs move above 500 mark

RUSSELL— Michelle Gaydamack whipped home a pair of goals here and led Metcalfe to an impressive 5-2 National Capital Region Ringette Deb B victory.

The encounter was dead even at 1-1 at the half but Metcalfe broke away for the 5-2 win. That decision pushed the Debs' record to one game above the 500 mark at three wins and two losses.

The winners combined determined forechecking and good defensive play to hold the strong Rockcliffe team to just two goals.

Michelle Gaydamack gave Metcalfe their 1-0 lead when scored from Virginia McCooeye and Barb Dewan 5:50 before the half. Rockcliffe got that one back at the 1:33 mark.

Debbie Winch snapped the 1-1 tie scoring on a Gaydamack relay at 10:33 of the second half. Donna Meloy made it 3-1 on an unassisted play at the 9:07 mark. Rockcliffe responded for their second, and final, goal with 7:13 showing on the clock as they closed the gap to 3-2.

Barb Dewan opened up some breathing room (4-2) scoring unassisted with 5:15 left in the encounter. Gaydamack's second tally came off a play started by Kim Buckland and Stephanie Smyth and made it 5-2 with 3:30 left in the game.

Ormond hands Vikings first loss

WINCHESTER —Dan McDiarmid scored a pair of goals here Sunday night, one the winner, as the Ormond Cloverdales dealt the Winchester and District Broomball League leading Morewood Vikings their first loss, a 4-2 decision.

Ormond's win enabled them to pull into first place in the WDBL "A" Pool standings with the Vikings. Both teams have 16 points but Ormond has won one more game than the Vikes.

In Sunday's other encounters the Voyageurs skinned the Winchester Raiders 6-2, Toyes Hill Roadrunners beeped the Newington Knights 5-1 and the Manotick Merchants upset Prescott Road Knights 3-2.

The "A" Pool standings show Ormond and Morewood with 16 points each. Voyageurs have 14 and Prescott Road 12.

In the "B" Pool parade Winchester and Manotick have nine each, Toyes Hill seven and Newington no points.

Manotick nipped Prescott Road 3-2 after holding a 2-1 lead at the half.

Downey, O'Connor and Nolan scored the 'Tick's goals. Brent Payne, O'Connor and Nolan (2) picked up the assists.

Invaders win another pair

RUSSELL - Russell's Ladies Invaders have added another two games onto their winning streak posting recent wins over Nepean (4-1) and Vanier (4-2).

Nepean began their Nov. 21 game with a goal just 8 seconds into the period as they scored off of a miscue from one of the Invaders' defense.

Undaunted, the Invaders shot back six minutes later and tied the score on a goal by Judy Backes (assisted by Nancy McDiarmid and Francine Brisson).

Russell then took the lead with Judy Backes' second goal of the game (assists went to Danielle Poirier and Sylvie Piche).

With 10 seconds left on the clock in the first period Judy Backes scored her third straight goal on a breakaway.

The game went scoreless during the second period, and the last goal for the Invaders was scored midway through the third period by Andre Bourgie who scored from the slot completing a three way passing play involving Sylvie Piche and Cathy Champion-Demers.

In their game against Vanier (Nov. 22), Russell began with a goal by Andre Bourgie who scored from the right side of the net after receiving an across ice pass from Judy Backes.

Still in the first period, Cathy Champion-Demers scored the second goal of the game on a high wrist shot over the Vanier goalie's shoulder. She was assisted by Francine Brisson and Judy Backes.

Vanier scored their first goal from a scramble in front of the net with just 14 second left in the period.

Going into the third period, Danielle Poirier scored Russell's third goal on a blistering slapshot after being set up by Cathy Champion-Demers and Francine Brisson.

Less than one minute later the Invaders added to their lead with the fourth point by Christine Bartoszewicz, assisted by Danielle Poirier. Vanier closed out the scoring with their second goal with just over two minutes left.

According to Invaders coach Don Empey, the Vanier goaltending was superb, though Vanier was heavily outplayed.

Invaders remain undefeated and in first place and will be home on Sun., Dec. 2, at 5pm in the Russell Arena to Canterbury.

Foley nets two markers in Pee Wee Demons' win

WINCHESTER—Matt Foley scored a pair of third period goals here last Friday helping the North Dundas (Mountain Lions Club) Demons to a 5-3 Upper Canada Minor Hockey League Pee Wee C victory over the South Grenville No One Rangers.

The first period of Friday's contest was scoreless and South Grenville was up 2-1 after two frames.

Jeremy Heerkens' unassisted marker with 5:40 left in period two pulled North Dundas into a 1-1 tie but the Rangers went up 2-1 when J. Lawrence beat Myles Hanscomb at the 2:25 mark.

The Demons tied it up at 4:15 when Matt Foley connected on a feed from Denis Mayer.

Ten seconds later Shawn Lynch drilled home a Dave Hilson rebound and gave North Dundas a 3-2 edge.

Two more quick goals gave the Demons a 5-2 edge. Captain Mike Francis opened up a 4-2 gap when he scored from Andrew Roach at 8:00. 25. seconds later Foley snapped in an unassisted goal and upped his squad's lead to 5-2.

South Grenville closed the gap to a 5-3 final when M. Arnott scored at the 9:10 mark.

HAWKS GO DOWN AGAIN

After a fast start last Friday night in front of the big home-town crowd the Winchester Hawks suffered the fate of many front runners and let complacency set in. Some bad defensive errors and when the dust had settled, Kemptville 73's walked away with the points and Hawks were left with a 11 to 8 defeat. One must rmember that this is Junior B hockey and anything can and does happen, but let me assure you that the Hawks will finish well in the Boxing Day tournament and if the Alexandria Glenns move ahead into first place it will be because they have played more games. Hawks will have had only three encounters in three weekends in a crazy schedule allotment, so we have not thrown in the towel as yet. Both the Glenns and Kemptville have hot streaks going for them and it will be a race to the wire which only can mean better and closer competition as the season turns the corner. What matters is who will be on top at year end and for your information I for one believe that this might well be the year of the Hawks. Westport will be here this Friday for the only game of the weekend.

CARKNER FINDING NITCH WITH FLYERS

Just in case you had not noticed, the Philadelphia Flyers are only one point out of first place and as a matter of fact they put it to the first-place Rangers last week five to one. A good deal of the Flyers success is being attributed to the consistent play of Terry Carkner by coach Paul Holmgren and General Manager Russ Farwell. Terry played hurt for a good deal of last season, but injuries to teammates have brought him much more ice time and Terry has thrived on it with his plus-minus factor moving up well into the plus side. Terry is adding points in almost every game recently and is distinguishing himself as a take- over-guy when he is on the ice. Carkner always showed with lots of ice time and tough going. We see nothing but good times ahead for the big fellow and we wish our local hero nothing but the best from here on in. Keep up the good work Terr. Oh by the way, I hear that they are having trouble with the ice down in the Tampa, Florida area, keep in mind the great ice at the Winchester Arena and don't forget to mention your old boss when the subject comes up

PAT ON THE BACK FOR PARADE EFFORT

The old weatherman sure co-operated with a beautiful mild sunny day for last Saturday's Santa Claus parade, but that was not all that went well. As usual Winchester merchants and the many local groups who find the time to build their floats invested that extra effort which makes our parade the leader in excellence when it comes to quality. While it is fresh in our minds may we suggest that your floats be well marked with up-front signage so we can tell just who you are before your float passes. This caused some confusion for the commentator which we apologize for and also made it very difficult for the judges. We also suggest that those who did not find time to enter a float reconsider the excuses before next year. The CountryBoy and Country Sole proved that you are never too busy with their two entries as did many more of the busiest places. To all who did their part, congratulations, another first-rate job well done.

FRIDAY DANCE AND HYDRO CHRISTMAS PARTY

Running out of space, so just a quick reminder that the Mountain Bootleggers will host this Friday's dance in the upstairs hall and that the Winchester Hydro staff will be holding their Christmas party.

Junior, Novice squads suffer ringette losses

METCALFE—The Junior girls held the visiting Nepean squad to a 3-3 half-time tie but had to absorb an 8-5 National Capital Region Ringette defeat here recently.

On Saturday the host Novice girls dropped an 11-2 verdict to Hull, Que.

Amanda Ford scored both Metcalfe goals with Allison Quinn picking up both of her team's assists.

In the Junior encounter Nepean and Metcalfe were knotted 3-3 at the half.

Karen Moore potted all three Nepean markers. Tammy Godwin replied with two for Metcalfe. Kerry Fearnehough scored the other goal and earned assists on both Godwin goals. Krista Stolk and Kim Ellerton also picked up assists.

Tammy Godwin gave Metcalfe a 4-3 lead when she finished off a play started for her by Ellerton and Sarah Ferguson at 14:02 of the second half but Nepean surged into a 6-4 lead before Kristina Ziegler connected from Ellerton (third assist) for Metcalfe's fifth and final goal with 5:43 left in the game.

Nepean slapped in their seventh and eighth goals at 5:09 and 36 seconds and secured an 8-5 win.

Russell Legion bids farewell to its last WWI veteran

by Joyce MacGregor

RUSSELL - November 6, 1990 saw many relatives, friends and Legionnaires saying a fond farewell to Comrade Rob (Bob) Morrice at St. Andrew's and St. Paul's United Church in Russell.

Robert E. Morrice

It was a cold, blustery damp day, like many Remembrance Days are, making us ever more conscious of what the soldiers, during the war, put up with for our sake. The sacrifices made by our veterans can probably never be fully appreciated by those of us who only heard about the Great Wars.

Comrade Morrice, one of three brothers who enlisted in WWI, joined the army in 1917, and spent 22 months in France, delivering supplies by mule and wagon, behind enemy lines. "Sunny France" was not so sunny while he was there, the rain and mud, ever present enemy aircraft and stubborn mules, all made the going difficult. Remembrances like these, along with others, his service with the Legion, "well beyond what is expected", earning him one of the Legion's highest honors, "The Order of Merit," his family's arrival in Canada from Brechin, Scotland in October 1912 for their farm "Braehead" in North Russell, which Rob farmed until he retired to Russell village; his love and helping of family, friends and neighbors, and his gift for reading and writing, although his formal education finished when he was 12, all were part of Rev. Keith Brown's remarks.

The service was a fitting tribute to this quiet, loving, kindly gentleman: the United Church choir with Leila Twiname at the organ for the service, lead the singing of his favorite hymns; family friend Joe Kerivan sang "Just a Closer Walk With Thee"; the Legion Honor Guard of 26 pinned their poppies to the flag draping his casket; and MWO Martyn Hodgsons of the Central Band of the Canadian Forces, gave a flawless, emotional rendition of the Last Post and Reveille.

At the graveside in North Russell, Rob was further honored by his affliation with the Cameron Highlander's Reserve during WWII, as the president of the Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa. Jack Coghill piped him to his final resting place, and played "The Lament" after Rev. Brown's words, "we thank God for how he touched many of us and for what he accomplished throughout his life."

Pandamonium

There were two winners at a Panda bear draw held by the First Chesterville Scouts, at the Legion Hall Sunday. The first winner was six-year-old Terry Schoch, who won the Panda bear. His brother, Peter Schoch (left), accepted the prize on his behalf from Jason Forward (right), a scout. The second winner was Winchester District Memorial Hospital. By selling tickets for the draw the scouts raised $527.50 for the hospital for its renovation plans.

25-year service awards

WINCHESTER—Moira MacLeod and Beverly MacMartin were honored for 25 years' service last Saturday at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Christmas party. MacLeod, who retired this year from active service as head nurse and administrative supervisor, received an engraved gold watch. MacMartin, who is still employed as recovery room nurse, was presented with a silver tray. Presentations were made by hospital board of governors members Bob Wegeant and Herman Devries.

Making history

The Press's Seventh Columnist, Joe Rowan has found a new calling, that of historian. In collaboration with his brother, Jim, he compiled the 150-year history of St. Catherines Catholic Church, Metcalfe. Copies of 150 Years-St. Catherine's were added on the weekend to the collection in Osgoode Township libraries (Metcalfe, Vernon, Osgoode Village and Greely). Pictured above, from left, are: Jim Rowan, Metcalfe librarian Violet Rowan, library board chairman Mary Cooper, and Joe Rowan.

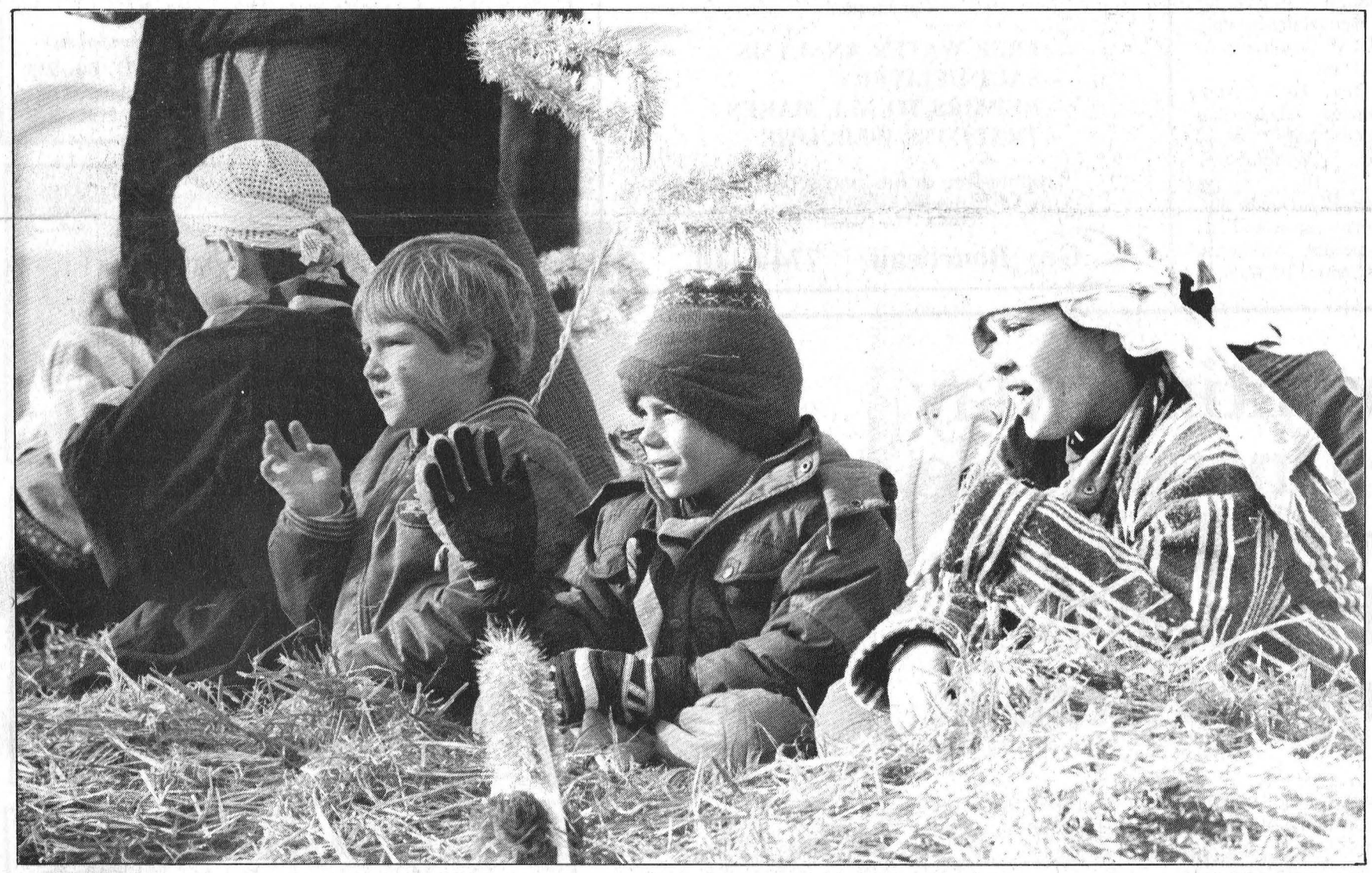
Giant parade welcomes Santa



Santa's welcome was never so merry

This year's Santa parade will go down in history as the "biggest one ever". Forty-five floats decked out in all manner of theme and folly made a grand show for thousands of spectators, young and old, along the route. According to Brian Mann of the Winchester & District Chamber of Commerce parade committee, for the first time, entries came from as far afield as Russell, Crysler, and Kemptville. Clockwise (from top left): Santa Claus; "Visions of Sugar Plums"; Garfield; Dwight's Enterprises (Mountain); Country-Boy (Winchester); Frosty Hydro float (Winchester); and (centre) "Little Angels". Farm update

Licence soon needed to buy pesticides, enrolment limited in mandatory courses

by Phyllis MacMaster
Dundas County Ag Rep

April 1, 1991 is the deadline date for farmer certification for buying and applying agricultural pesticides in Ontario.

The Ministry of Environment's draft legislation includes the following points:

1. Until 1996 each farm needs one certificate holder to buy and oversee pesticide use.

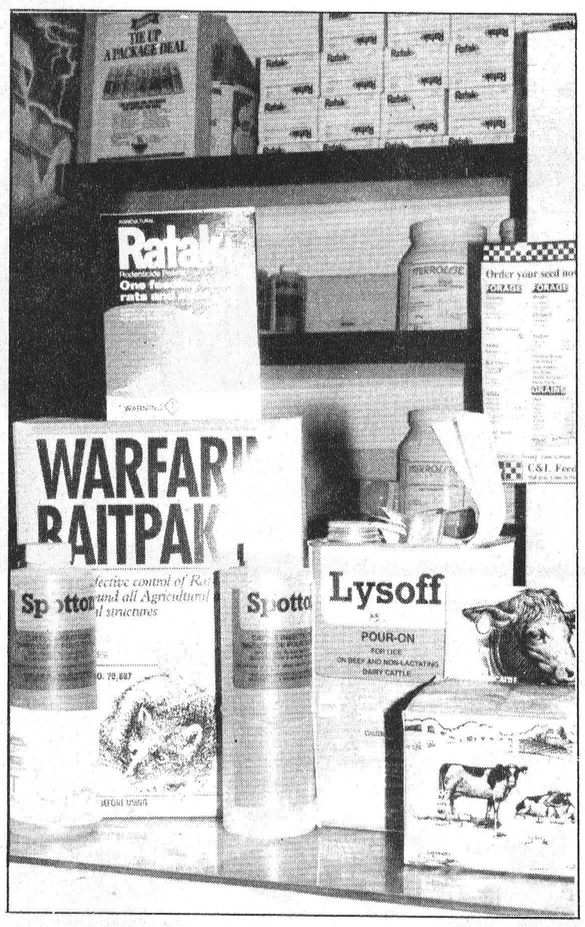
2. After 1996 everyone who handles agricultural pesticides on the farm must be certified (both crop and livestock products).

3. Farmers who are not certified will have to hire someone who is certified to buy and apply their sprays.

4. Re-certification will occur every five years.

To receive a certificate farmers must attend a Grower Pesticide Education Program.

This course stresses the safe handling of pesticide products to lower the risk of personal injury as well as introducing management practices to reduce contamination and damage to the environment. The course concludes with an open book examination. Participants must obtain a minimum of 75 per cent to receive a certificate.



Farmers may not be aware that completion of the pesticide safety certificate may be required by April 1, 1991 in order to purchase some insecticides commonly used on livestock like lice powder and products used to control rats and other pests. Press Photo — Fetterly

PAYMENTS FOR CORN AND SOYBEANS

With low corn and soybean prices this fall, producers may be interested in the corn and soybean advance payment plans. Producers can take advantage of stronger prices expected for these crops in the spring months by storing the crop and applying for an advance payment on corn — $67 per tonne and soybeans — $125 per tonne to help cover operating costs this fall. The maximum advance payment for all crops is $250,000 and the first $50,000 is available interest free to producers.

The maximum advance is the number of tonnes in storage times the advance payment price per crop. More information and application forms are available from the OMAF office in Winchester, 613- 774-2313 or 1-800-267-7603.

SWINE WORKSHOP

The Ministry of Agriculture and Food will be presenting a "Maximizing Meat Yield and Quality" swine workshop on Dec. 10 from 11:15am-4pm. It will be held in the OMAF Boardroom, Winchester. Cost is $15 per person; this includes lunch, coffee and donuts.

This workshop is designed for producers in Dundas, Stormont, Glengarry, Prescott, Russell, Carleton and Grenville.

Topics include: A Packers Perspective of the Grading System; Trimmable Demerits and Condemnations; and Feed Additive Residues.

Pre-registration is required. Phone 613-774-2313 or 1-800-267-7603 or write to Howard Giles, OMAF, Box 488, Winchester, Ont., K0C 2K0.

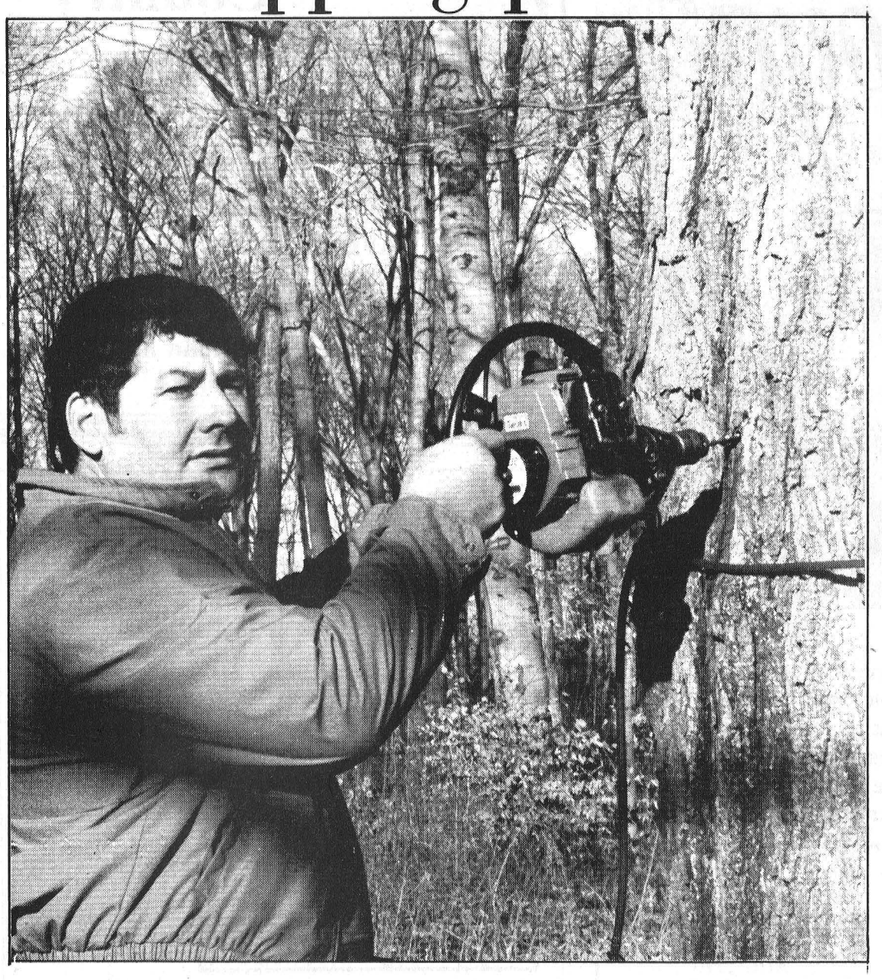
Fall tapping profitable for Finch maple syrup producers



Tapping into fall market

Albert Sanders drills one of 3,200 taps at his Finch-area maple bush.

Press Photo — Fetterly

by Dianne Fetterly
Press Staff Reporter

FINCH — Now into the third year of fall tapping, Albert Sanders says the experimental procedure has proven profitable for the family's maple syrup business.

Sanders, who manages the popular Pancake House and sugar bush just west of Finch Village with his wife Rosemary and their four children, says although some people feel the fall method of tapping is not worth it, new technology has provided a potential for profit.

He says the reverse osmosis method with vaccuum lines like he uses is the only technique he knows of that makes fall tapping worthwhile.

Old methods of tapping trees would be just too time-consuming to make it profitable, since the sugar content of fall tapping is only half that of spring tapping, says Sanders.

As well, fall tapping provides lots of syrup for the Pancake House when it first opens in the spring that the Sanders would not have otherwise. It may even allow the Sanders to open the Pancake House earlier in the season, says Sanders. (The house is open from the first week of February to the last week of April, and from the beginning of September to the last weekend of October.)

Ideal weather conditions for fall tapping are virtually the same as for spring tapping — frosty cool nights with temperatures hovering around minus seven to minus five degrees Celsius, and sunny daytime conditions of about plus seven degrees.

Sanders says he normally starts tapping around the first week of November, (after the leaves are gone) and finishes up when the days are too chilly to allow the sap to run. Although it takes twice the amount of fall sap to produce the syrup, the quality is excellent, he adds.

Sanders attributes much of his success with fall tapping so far to the fact that about 75 per cent of his trees are Black Maple, a rarer variety of tree that he believes may be higher in sugar content than the Sugar Maple.

And although some people may think the trees are being harmed by fall tapping, Sanders says he hasn't seen any evidence of damage so far and wouldn't be doing it if he felt it was harming his trees.

"I would only be hurting myself," he adds.

Sanders says tapping trees in the fall is still experimental and will probably take approximately 10 years to determine any longterm effects to the trees.

"If we don't experiment how can we better ourselves... If we see it (fall tapping) is not beneficial we'll quit."

So far, the only drawback Sanders says he sees with tapping his trees in the fall is having enough time to do it.

This fall tapping was delayed a couple of weeks because Sanders was busy harvesting his corn, which ran later than usual.

And although he lost a considerable amount of sap this fall, it was a case of having to choose the more timely job, and as he puts it, he "couldn't leave the corn in the field."

The family grows about 350 acres of cash-crop corn and soyabeans, besides tending the 35 acres of maple trees and operating the pancake house.

Besides keeping the six family members busy, the maple syrup business, which Sanders has operated since 1983, also employs two extra people plus three or four more in peak season.

Although they have only been fall tapping for the past three years, Sanders said he first became interested in the concept about 10 years ago, after reading an article about a Wisconsin farmer who experimented with the idea.

However, the Wisconsin farmer didn't have very good luck with the venture, encountering a problem with dirt in the lines and low sugar content in his sap.

Sanders says he has not experienced the Wisconsin farmer's dirt in the lines problem and still maintains a fairly high sugar content with his Black Maples.

Considered pioneers in fall tapping, the Sanders family's success with the venture has generated a lot of interest and inspired some other maple syrup producers to try the concept.

And Sanders has a word of advice for people interested in maple syrup production: "It's a lot of manual work...if you don't want to do hard work, don't get into it."

Rosemary Sanders checks a spile on one of the trees at the family's 35 acre maple bush.

New 115,000 volt (115 kV) Greely Distributing Station Class Environmental Assessment

To meet the additional electrical power requirements of Greely and the surrounding area, Ontario Hydro proposes to build a new 115 kV distributing station in the vicinity of Greely, Township of Osgoode. The new station is needed by the fall of 1991.

The study area shown on the map has been identified for detailed evaluation. Within this study area, alternative sites will be identified and, by early next year, a preferred site will be selected.

The station will be supplied from the existing 115 kV transmission line and will be approximately 90 metres by 90 metres.

The new station will reduce incoming high voltage power to voltages suitable for distribution to local customers. The station will include transformers, switchgear and buswork within a secure fenced area.

Projects of this type are subject to the Environmental Assessment Act, and follow the study process approved under the Class Environmental Assessment for minor transmission facilities.

Party politics put aside in push for stable funding

TORONTO - The province's NDP government has come under fire from two local MPPs for its lack of commitment to a stable funding proposal for the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

Both Noble Villeneuve, MPP for Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, and John Cleary, Cornwall MPP, tried to corner the government on the stable funding proposal last week. They both came up empty-handed.

The OFA has tried for years to get a proposal approved which would provide a stable funding base for the organization.

It has proposed that farmers pay a $130 fee to the organization, $100 of which can be diverted to another farm organization if the farmer chooses not to support the OFA. Thirty dollars of the fee will "fast-track" government programs for farmers who register.

If the proposal is approved, the 22,000-member organization will have a much larger funding base to draw on in its work for farmers across Ontario.

According to Cleary, Agriculture Minister Elmer Buchanan has told the OFA he supports the stable funding proposal. But Buchanan has since told reporters that he does not support the OFA as the farm community's sole source, Cleary said in a statement to the provincial legislature Wednesday.

When asked by Villeneuve last Tuesday to explain his position on the stable funding proposal, Cleary said Buchanan would only say: "We intend to pursue the concept of giving farmers a voice."

Villeneuve said Thursday, neither the NDP nor the Liberals know where they stand on the issue.

"The previous government didn't know what to do and this government knows even less."

Villeneuve believes the NDP wants the National Farmers Union —although it only has about 1,000 members —to become the general representative farm organization in Ontario.

The government is stalling on the stable funding issue because it wants to boost NFU numbers first, he said.

"What I find very difficult to accept is that it won't cost the government anything. All they have to say is...put it in place."

Cleary told the legislature that Buchanan has been "as slippery as a newborn calf" on the stable funding issue. But Villeneuve said Cleary has little reason to be critical of the NDP.

"They had the power to do it for a year and a half," he said Thursday.

"I opened the door for them (last Tuesday). I don't think they even knew what was happening."

The Liberals do not have a lot of credibility on the issue, he said. The opposition had pressured the Liberals' agriculture minister David Ramsay, when the party was in power, on stable funding, but were unsuccessful, he said.

"He (Cleary) was parliamentary agriculture. I wonder what he was doing then?"

"If he was that concerned, I would have thought that maybe he could have put out some statements (saying), look, I'm pushing, I'm trying to, we're going to do it."

"But he was very silent on it, when indeed they had the power to do it."

Cleary did not agree with Villeneuve's assessment of the Liberals' performance on the stable funding issue. He said the government "kind of supported it previously."

"I guess what we're trying to do is flush out where they (NDP) stand. When you get different stories each day, it's pretty hard to know," he said.

The Liberals were making progress on the issue. And had the party been re-elected, it likely would have implemented the proposal, he said. "And I think that was going to happen."

But he doesn't mind working with Villeneuve on the issue. "I'll work with anybody that will benefit, on this particular issue, the farmers of Ontario. I want things to move ahead."

He and Villeneuve do agree on one thing: with the increasing pressures facing the farm community, it is essential farmers be consolidated under one strong voice in the 1990s.

"I think in the '90s, you would almost need one voice formula. I fully support it," Villeneuve summed up.

Champion exhibitor

South Mountain farmer Theresa VanGrunsven dominated the Angora goat competition at this year's Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. Besides placing first for breeders herd and get-of-sire, VanGrunsven was also named premier breeder and premier exhibitor. In accompanying photo VanGrunsven is pictured with her first place winning and reserve champion yearling doe. Also pictured is Angora judge and president of the Mohair Council of America Joe David Ross.

Greenspace 2000 dies

Greenspace 2000 is officially dead, thanks to a unanimous vote by the Ottawa-Carleton regional planning committee.

Eight members of the committee — including Osgoode Township Mayor Al Bouwers — were present at the Nov. 27 meeting. Three other members were on vacation.

The decision followed about four hours of public presentations. A representative of the regional clerk's office estimates about 200 people came to make their views heard.

The committee endorsed a resolution sponsored by Bouwers which reads, in part: "...that the Greenspace 2000 proposal as presented by staff at various public meetings and open houses and proposed official plan amendments 19 and 20 to the regional official plan be rejected. And furthermore, that any maps or plans referring to this be clearly marked, cancelled."

Plan retirement advises Sabey

by Jean Casselman

WILLIAMSBURG — Fifty-eight members and two visitors attended the November meeting of the Williamsburg Senior Citizens on Tues., Nov. 20.

Following the dinner, president Ruth Casselman opened the meeting with everyone singing 'O, Canada'.

Hilda Garlough was program convenor and introduced her guest speaker, Max Sabey, and his wife Phyllis. Sabey is a regional director of the Dundas Federation of Agriculture for North Dundas, lives in Mountain Township, and is a retired farmer and teacher. He gave a very interesting talk on farming and some of his experiences, and said that younger people should ask for and take advice from older people who have already had a lifetime to learn things that they are now learning. He also said that people should plan for their retirement. Sabey was thanked by Ed Thompson.

The business part of the meeting followed with the treasurer reporting a larger amount was raised at this year's bazaar than last year. A motion was passed to pay outstanding bills.

Plans were made for the Christmas dinner, after which the meeting adjourned. Cards were played after the meeting.

Fire chief settling in OSGOODE TOWNSHIP - Gerald Bennett, pictured here, is the new Osgoode Township fire chief, directing activities at all three stations—Metcalfe, Osgoode and Greely. Bennet replaces Peter Griffin, who retired earlier this year.

Bennett brings a wealth of experience to his new post, having served twelve years with the Lanark Village department, ten as a firefighter and two as chief.

Born and raised at Burritt's Rapids, he is a graduate of South Carleton High School. He also saw service as plant and maintenance foreman with the Lanark, Leeds, and Grenville County Roman Catholic School Board.

Chief Bennett is keenly interested in sports and all types of community-betterment programs. He, and his wife Marilyn are the parents of one daughter, Jennifer, 14, and one son, Jeremy, 11.

The family plans to take up residence in Osgoode Township early in the New Year.

In Memoriam

STANLEY — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Edythe, who passed away Dec. 9, 1989.
God saw you getting tired
When a cure was not to be
So He closed his arms around you
And whispered "come to Me".
You didn't deserve what you went through
And so He gave you rest.
God's garden must be beautiful
As He only takes the best.
—Sadly missed by Noreen, Doreen, Debbie and families. 35

McLAREN — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Freddie, who passed away Dec. 8, 1983.
Memories grow dearer as time travels on,
When we long for a face and a voice that is gone
No words we speak could ever say
How much we miss you every day.
A treasured smile, a special face,
And in our hearts a special place.
—Sadly missed by Audrey, Carl, Marlene and Bill. 35

BARKLEY — In loving memory of a dear brother, Dwight, who passed away Dec. 7, 1986.
The world changes year to year
And friends from day to day.
But never will the one we loved
From memory pass away.
—Ever remembered by Brock-Milton family. 35

PARSONS — In loving memory of my dear husband, Kenneth, who passed away Dec. 5, 1988.
Gone dear husband
Gone forever
How we miss your smiling face
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed
How sweet the memory still
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
Lovingly remembered by Annie and family. 35

The Corporation of the Township of Osgoode

Notice of the Passing of a Zoning Bylaw by the Township of Osgoode

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Township of Osgoode passed Bylaw No. 103-90 on the 20th day of November, 1990 under section 34 of the The Planning Act, 1983.

AND TAKE NOTICE that any person or agency may appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board in respect of the bylaw by filing with the clerk of the Township of Osgoode not later than the 27th day of December, 1990 a notice of appeal setting out the objection to the bylaw and the reasons in support of the objection.

AN EXPLANATORY NOTE of the purpose and effect of the bylaw, describing the lands to which the bylaw applies (or, alternatively, an explanation as to why a key map is not provided) is below. The complete bylaw is available for inspection in my office during regular office hours.

Dated at the Township of Osgoode this 5th day of December, 1990.

Wayne Robinson
Clerk
Township of Osgoode

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Purpose and Effect of Bylaw
The purpose of this amendment is threefold:

1. The zoning bylaw amendment deletes the Open Space (1) zone from the zoning bylaw and replaces it with two new Open Space (01 and 02) zones.

The new Public Open Space (01) zone is created for all parkland and recreation uses (such as parks, playgrounds, campgrounds, ball fields, museums, arenas, etc.) which are owned by the Township, Regional Municipality, or the Provincial and Federal Governments and which are intended for public use. In addition, certain institutional or quasi-institutional uses such as schools and cemeteries are also permitted uses.

The new Private Open Space (02) zone is created for all private recreational uses (such as golf courses, campgrounds, trailer parks, driving ranges, amusement parks, fish and game clubs, etc.) which are privately owned and which are operated as businesses or private/exclusive clubs.

Both the 01 and 02 zones would permit accessory uses such as refreshment stands, restaurants, pavilions, and retail stores.

The zone provisions for minimum lot area, minimum lot frontage and minimum yards for both the 01 and 02 zones are the same as for the existing Open Space (0) zone.

This amendment is a general text amendment which applies to the entire township.

2. In addition, this amendment:

i) rezones all of the presently zoned Open Space (0) lands to either Public Open Space (01) or Private Open Space (02) depending on whether the land is a "public" or "private" open space use.

ii) rezones all "public" open space uses which are presently zoned residential (R), village (V), rural (RU) or Hazard (HAZ) to the new Public Open Space (01) zone.

3. Finally, this amendment would clarify the intent of the general provisions governing "public uses". At present, the zoning bylaw permits public uses in all zones throughout the township. Since the permitted uses in the Public Open Space (01) zone are also "public uses", the amendment would clarify the intent of the zoning bylaw by providing that "public uses" are specifically listed in some zones (such as the Public Open Space (01) zone) but not in other zones.

4. There is no Key Map. The bylaw applies to all the publicly owned parks in the township. Please contact the clerk for a list of the parks affected.

Mr. W. Robinson, clerk, may be contacted for further information at 821-1107.
