MWIC set tentative January date

Appreciation night coming

MORRISBURG — The Morrisburg-Williamsburg Industrial Commission held its third meeting here Tuesday morning with discussions about an industry appreciation night and the possibility of hosting an Eastern Ontario industry workshop.

Present at the meeting were chairman Blake Noon, secretary-treasurer Mike Waddell and members Peter McCooeye, Glen Cunningham, Ed Hanson and Mart Prost. Also present was Daphne Hope, a representative of the Ministry of Municipal Affairs, community and planning division.

Members discussed having an appreciation night for local industries but questions surrounding who, and how many to invite were debated.

A tentative date for January was set with possibly another appreciation night later on for the smaller businesses.

Glen Cunningham said he would hope everybody would be invited.

"What we need now more than anything is support from the community," he said. "The more people involved, the better. Those who pay industrial taxes appreciate knowing what's going on."

But Peter McCooeye warned, "you'll have a horrendous amount of people if you add the service sector and industrial."

Mike Waddell said thought had been given to having one appreciation night for the industries and another one for small businesses. He told the committee he had counted in Williamsburg 102 and in Morrisburg 66 people who pay business assessments.

The committee had hoped for a November date for the appreciation night but it was agreed it would be a little premature.

"We should make it a light, sociable evening," said McCooeye. "It's an appreciation night. We're saying 'thank you', to the industries, for being here."

But Cunningham was persistent in his argument.

"I hope we don't have a situation where 20 people are invited," he said, "and another 50 ask themselves 'why wasn't I invited'. We need the support of all industry to improve the community."

But it was agreed to start small and pick certain industries for the January appreciation night.

As well McCooeye told members he received a phone call from Bill Jamieson, a representative of the ministry of industry trade and technology in Ottawa to see if the committee would be interested to host an Eastern Ontario industry workshop.

Jamieson, who attended the committee's second meeting, said he'd like to have the workshop in late November.

Jamieson, along with John Wylie, a MITT rep from Brockville, gave recommendations and advice on how this area could attract more industries such as attending the trade show in Toronto, luring European investors, attending an Eastern Ontario workshop, having an appreciation night for local industries, setting up local trade fairs for industries and retailers and the possibility of joining the Industrial Development Association of Canada.

The committee is also looking at making a promotional brochure for the area as well as a video.

New elevator dedicated at St. Peter's Lutheran church

Judith O'Brien
Leader staff

WILLIAMSBURG — Renovations have just been completed at St. Peter's Lutheran Church, but the roof wasn't leaking and the walls weren't cracking. St. Peter's is the home of a newly installed elevator, the first church in the area to have one.

Church councillor Lyle Van Allen said the elevator has been needed for a long time, because of the unusual construction of the church. The basement is ground level and the church is upstairs, which makes it difficult to carry caskets up to the church, and some members of the congregation find it difficult to climb the stairs each week.

The idea was originated by Carl Geggie who offered to install an elevator if the church congregation determined they could afford it. Last Christmas, Geggie donated a substantial amount of money towards the purchase of an elevator to the Church council. The cost of the installed elevator was approximately $30,000, which was slightly higher than the original budget, but Van Allen said many people in the congregation made up the difference.

"We needed someone to install it so I went to the Yellow Pages and looked up elevators," said Van Allen. "There are two groups of elevator companies. One group like Otis installs elevators in high rises, hospitals, and hotels and they are operated by cables. Those types are very expensive about $50,000 to $75,000 per unit. It was way beyond the money we had to spend."

Church council members eventually settled on a handicap lift, which requires a key to be operated and uses a hydraulic cylinder. The lift is enclosed on three sides, with a one-quarter inch clearance on the remaining wall. The doors at the top and bottom floor, as well as the door to the pump room are made of steel.

Van Allen said he could not find a company that would do the required shaft work and no one locally had experience in building shafts. The job eventually went to Ralph Buter Construction Services in Williamsburg.

The church must comply with several government regulations regarding the operation of an elevator. The church must have a maintenance contract with a licensed elevator company, in this case Nepean Capital Elevator at a cost of $600 per year, and the motor must be the correct size to correspond to the number of square inches in the lift. The lift is larger than usual because it is also meant to accommodate caskets.

The installation of the elevator required some changes to the architecture of the church and Van Allen said the congregation had some misgivings about it. "In the end we only lost two church pews in the back, so we have stored them in the balcony in case we ever need them," said Van Allen.

The elevator was dedicated by Rev. Ross Thomson on Sunday, Oct. 12 during the service. A ribbon cutting ceremony was held at noon following the service.

"Some people might feel they are losing their pride if they use the elevator but I hope that won't happen," said Van Allen. "I'm planning to use it. I hope the members of the congregation don't wait until they have to be carried up in the elevator to use it."

Train hits car

IROQUOIS — A VIA Rail passenger train sliced off the front end of a 1985 Dodge Aries on Brinston Road last Saturday afternoon.

The driver of the vehicle, 68-year-old May Serviss of Ingleside and her elderly passengers, Nellie Stillson, also of Ingleside and Agnes Casselman of Dixons Corners escaped uninjured.

The trio were heading north, returning from Iroquois where they had gone to see the senior citizens' home where Caselman will soon be moving.

The car became trapped between the two railroad barriers and within seconds of being crushed, Serviss put the car into reverse and the train ripped the bumper, lights and grille.

Serviss had slowed down when she approached the crossing because it was rough and did not trust that section of the tracks.

There were no flashing signal lights when the gates came down and trapped her.

Morrisburg OPP estimate that $1000 damage was done to the train.

Open air burning by-law debated by Osnabruck township council

Louis Daignault
Leader staff

OSNABRUCK CTR —The 'open air burning' debate continued here at Township council last Tuesday as a bylaw was drafted. But members decided continued discussion was necessary, before passing it.

Ingleside fire chief Ernie Gillard was not convinced the bylaw would solve the problem.

"I'm not against the fires," he said. "I just want to know how we can control it, and tell people what should be done."

The bylaw states that no fire should be set in an open area with the exception of fires in barbeques and fires for making food for human consumption in an open container.

Council member Carson Elliott replied, "how can we enforce such a stupid thing, someone could have an open fire in a garbage can and say he was cooking hot dogs."

Two periods of the year were also mentioned in the bylaw when open fires would be legal. Between April 15—May 1 and Oct 1—31.

Clerk Warren Bethune explained the first period was mainly for grass burning and the second period for leave burning.

But Gillard says one solution would be to issue a permit to anyone who wants to set an open fire.

"If they get a permit we can put restrictions on it," he said. "And they'll know what to do."

Basically Gillard wants the permit in the bylaw. "I don't want to enforce anything," he said, "I just want to tell people where we stand."

Gillard adds the permit would give the fire department control over the situation. Many complaints about fires inside and outside the Ingleside area, have forced the department to go and investigate situations needlessly.

With the permit system, the department would simply check the name and address to see if a permit had been issued.

Gillard contacted the Ministry of Environment last month to determine the legality of an open fire and was told if the amount of smoke from a fire is no greater than 10 burning houses it is legal.

Provincial legislation states as well that if a person earns his or her wages through farming it is permissible for them to make a fire but any other resident must apply for a burning permit.

Some of the conditions imposed in fires are that they must be 500 feet away from buildings or structures, must be kept under control and be done in a metallic or brick container.

Deputy-reeve Peter Zeran asked Gillard what does a farmer do if it's a nice day and wants to burn some old corn crops?

"I know agriculturalists are exempt," said Gillard. "But with a permit we would like to have control over it and know what they're doing. We're running all over the place for nothing because of brush fires, we need something substantial."

One matter that concerns council is enforcing the bylaw.

"I agree we should have more control," said Elliott. "But are you ready, Ernie, to enforce it. It means more work for you guys."

"If they cause problems to neighbors, the bylaw can be enforced," replied Gillard.

Reeve Stewart Hart said he would like to see a provision in the bylaw that anyone who burns between the allowed dates in the bylaw draft, must have a permit.

"I'm not happy over the way it's worded," continued Gillard, about the suggested bylaw. "It says in the fire code 'there is no open fire unless there is approval'."

DCAMR employees call off study session

Louis Daignault
Leader staff

MORRISBURG — A planned five hour study session was cancelled Friday morning when unionized employees at the Dundas County Association for the Mentally Retarded received news of a contract offer.

The employees who have been in a position to strike since Sept. 14 had planned to walk out between 7:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. Friday for the second time. On Oct. 1 employees staged a three hour study session.

Dave Stewart, the president of the association's 39 counsellors, said nothing has been done in writing yet but the offer should contain an extra $27,000 which is close to the $30,000 they want.

He adds the study session was cancelled in order to show their goodwill on the basis of being informed about the offer.

Back on June 12 the unionized employees represented by the Canadian Union of Public Employees and the association's board agreed to a contract which stipulated a nine per cent raise.

But the Ministry of Community and Social Services said their budget called for a four per cent hike which was $60,000 short of what the board and the union agreed upon.

Then after several meetings, the ministry found an extra $30,000 last month, which would have given the DCAMR workers a 7.5 per cent increase. But it was rejected.

The nine per cent increase would raise starting salaries from $13,500 to $16,661 and the maximum salary from $18,400 to $20,050 a year.

That amount would put them at the same level as the Kingston workers who are the second lowest paid employees in Ontario in that sector.

Stewart says the offer should include the $1000 signing bonus they want and be retroactive to June 20th, a week after the June 12 agreement between the board and the union.

By-law tested

Judith O'Brien
Leader staff

MORRISBURG — The validity of Morrisburg's new by-law 26-86, the infamous "poop and scoop" law was challenged in court here Tuesday.

Isabelle Donaldson, of Orchard Way was accused of failing to clean up after her canine friend on Sept. 20. According to evidence presented by Morrisburg councillor Dr. Gerry Rosenquist, the dog defecated in Waterfront Park, and his gift to the Village of Morrisburg was not picked up.

Rosenquist said Donaldson was watching her dog the entire time and knew what he was up to. "I pointed out to her that the dog defecated in the park but she didn't do anything about it," said Rosenquist.

Donaldson, who acted in her own defence, pleaded not guilty to the charge and said the by-law is discriminatory against dog owners.

Judge Bruce Hunter asked Rosenquist why the by-law concerned only dogs and not other animals. "You mean to tell me that a horse could ride through the park and there's no by-law against it?" he said. "Surely horses do more damage than dogs do. And what about cats?"

Village lawyer Doug Grenkie said not too many horses walk across Waterfront Park, except for a few years ago when the RCMP presented their musical ride, "and I'm sure they were wearing diapers."

Judge Hunter mentioned to Grenkie that the by-law may violate section 15 of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, which guarantees every individual equality under the law regardless of race, religion, color, sex, mental capacity, etc. Grenkie said owning a dog does not fall under any of the categories. Judge Hunter will announce his decision in two weeks.

As for the dog who started all the fuss, he's not talking to the press.

A night to remember

Beckstead big winner at R-O graduation

INGLESIDE — Valedictorian Darcy Beckstead warned the audience that he would not repeat the antics of his predecessor last year.

"I'm not going to drop my pants," he said to the amused crowd Friday night, during graduation ceremonies at Rothwell-Osnabruck High School.

The first year Carleton University student mentioned he is already missing the closeness between the students that graced R-O and the personalized attention from the teachers.

"At Carleton, I have some classes where there are 100 people," he said, "And if you don't understand it the first time, that's too bad."

For Beckstead it was an unforgettable night as he resembled Wayne Gretzky during the NHL awards.

Apart from the Valedictorian award, he received a five-year honor award, the first place grade 13 proficiency award, the G.S. Hickey Senior History and English trophy, the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus Canadian History trophy and bursary, a Rotary Club bursary, the Anne Baird Eadie Memorial scholarship and an Ontario scholarship.

Shawn Dafoe and Martha Jeacle were also big winners with Dafoe taking the second place grade 13 proficiency award, a student council bursary, the Norman Warner M.P. award and an Ontario scholarship.

Jeacle won the S.D. Wells and Sons Ltd. music award, a teaching staff bursary, an Ingleside Ladies' Bridge Club bursary and an Ontario scholarship.

Other five year honour awards went to Brent Donnelly, Peter Pontbriand and Kim Thompson.

Four year honour awards were distributed to Holly Armstrong, Kelly Dafoe, Kristie Fetterly, Jennifer Gillard, Karen Gillespie, Owen Hollister, Heidi MacLean, Sarina Ritorto and Cheryl Yakamovich.

The grade nine proficiency awards went to Michael Colebrook (first place) and Laurie Bosch (second place.)

Tammy Cooper took the first place grade 10 proficiency award while Leornado Ritorto finished second.

In grade 11 the first place proficiency award was given to Sally Dewey with Rodney Cryderman taking second prize.

Grade 12 proficiency awards went to Kelly Dafoe (first) and Holly Armstrong (second).

In the improvement awards category, Shelly Bancroft and Don Devine were most deserving from grade nine to grade 10, Kathy Sullivan and Michael Bird from grade 10 to grade 11 and Sarina Ritorto and Kevin Hess from grade 11 to grade 12.

Grade 10 history awards went to Andrew TerHorst at the general level and Erica Thompson at the advanced level.

Sally Dewey was the Donna Schwerdtfeger Memorial Award winner, Holly Armstrong and Kelly Dafoe were given the Osnabruck Centre Women's Institute award, Danny Froats took the Ingleside Independent Order of Oddfellows' Co-operative Education award, and Helen Ware and Daniel Pidgeon were the Cedarbrae Newington Women's Institute Co-operative Education award winners.

In the bursaries and scholarships department, Shawn Dafoe and Jamie Murray won student council bursaries and Belinda Armstrong, Alicia Elliott and Martha Jeacle took the teaching staff bursary.

The District 21 Ontario Secondary School Teacher's Federation bursary was awarded to Karen Roberts and the Ingleside Ladie's Bridge club gave bursaries to Penny Arbuthnot, Karen Dell, Martha Jeacle and Barbara Johnson.

Brent Donnelly won the Rohm and Haas Canada Limited scholarship, Kim Thompson the University Women's Club scholarship, Glenn Stewart the Kraft Food Limited bursary, Joanne Horil the Bank of Montreal scholarship and Darrin Cryderman the Douglas Grenkie scholarship.

Rotary Club bursaries were distributed to Darcy Beckstead and Kathy Blair, Julia Plumadore won the ODHS 25th Reunion Committee bursary, Kathy Blair took the St. Lawrence College bursary, Kim Thompson won the Osnabruck Education Fund bursary, Joanne Horil took the Rothwell-Osnabruck Alumni award and Gregory D'Cruz won the Wales Lodge (#458) Masonic Order bursary.

Ontario scholarships went to Darcy Beckstead, Shawn Dafoe, Martha Jeacle and Kimberley Thompson.

Overall 55 diplomas were handed out including 15 Ontario Secondary School Honour Graduation Diplomas to Belinda Armstrong, Darcy Beckstead, Jane Beckstead, Darrin Cryderman, Gregory D'Cruz, Shawn Dafoe, Karen Dell, Brent Donnelly, Joanne Horil, Martha Jeacle, Barbara Johnson, Jamie Murray, Peter Pontbriand, Karen Roberts and Kim Thompson.

Ontario Secondary School Graduation Diplomas were awarded to Monique Andre, Marsha Antoine, Penny Arbuthnot, Holly Armstrong, Pamela Barry, Karen Bilmer, Kathy Blair, Kelly Dafoe, Alanna Duncan, Shelly DeBoer, Lydia Dekker, Natasha Dekker, Caroline DeRooy, Linda Disotell, Sherry Ezard, Kristie Fetterly, Danny Froats, Randy Gaylord, Jennifer Gillard, Karen Gillespie, Beth Heagle, Kevin Hess, Owen Hollister, Tracey Lantz, Kelly MacDonald, Heidi MacLean, George Michaud, Christine O'Duffy, Daniel Pidgeon, William Poirier, Julia Plumadore, Sarina Ritorto, Lee Scott, Glenn Stewart, Charlotte Thompson, Jacqueline Vande Glind, Helen Ware and Cheryl Yakamovich.

A certificate of education was presented to Patrick D'Cruz.

The 79 honor students at R-O were Marsha Antoine, Penny Arbuthnot, Holly Armstrong, Lori Armstrong, Darcy Beckstead, Penny Beckstead, Michael Bird, Laurie Bosch, Susan Bosch, Brenda Branchard, Daniel Cardinal, Joseph Choate, Michael Colebrook, Becky Collins, Tammy Cooper, Rodney Cryderman, Kelly Dafoe, Shawn Dafoe, Shannon Dalton, Brent Daye, Tammy Delorme, Sally Dewey, Lori Disotell, Cameron Dixon, Mark Donnelly, Craig Doyle, Murray Dunbar, Shannon Duncan, Sherry Ezard, Kristie Fetterley, Lorna Forsythe, Jennifer Gillard, Colleen Gillespie, Karen Gillespie, Robin Guitterez, Beth Heagle, Kevin Hess, Owen Hollister, Martha Jeacle, Darryl Kielec, James Kroeze, Andrew Labonte, Paul Laplante, Tanis Light, Kelly MacDonald, Heidi MacLean, Sherry McMahon, Patricial MacMillan, Barbara Mitschke, Kelly Neville, Trevor Nickerson, Angela Otto, Dan Pidgeon, Julia Plumadore, Peter Pontbriand, Karen Prieur, David Rees, Kim Renaud, Leornardo Ritorto, Sarina Ritorto, Cheryl Servais, Bonnie Stewart, Kathy Sullivan, Stephen Taylor, Andrew Ter Horst, Charlotte Thompson, Gale Thompson, Kimberley Thompson, Tina Van Allen, Tammy Ware, Christine Watson, Tammy Webb, Dana Wells, Krista Wells, Stephanie Wells, Jennifer Wilson, William Woodside and Cheryl Yakamovich.

Legion News

MORRISBURG — All members of Branch 48 of the Royal Canadian Legion here are reminded the regular meeting schedules are back in force, that is, the regular meetings will be held every third Wednesday of the month at 7:30 p.m. sharp.

All regulars and associate members are invited to attend, beginning with tonight's meeting (October 15) at 7:30.

A special thanks to all those who helped organize Legion Week. Although many of the members did not take advantage of what was offered we appreciated the support we did receive.

A reminder that November 11th is fast approaching and a Remembrance Day Service is planned for the Civic Centre.

Also, a church parade is being organized for the proceeding Sunday, November 9th so watch next week's paper for the completed details. We look forward to a good turn out.

Remember also, that along with Remembrance Day comes one of the most important events on the Legion calendar. That is the remembrance of our fallen by wearing a poppy.

We look forward to new volunteers to help canvass the village, not for the sake of collecting money, but to ensure all are given a poppy to wear in remembrance of the supreme sacrifice of our friends and loved ones.

Police Report

WILLIAMSBURG TOWNSHIP—Morrisburg OPP charged Barbara Ann Merkley of Cornwall with impaired driving as her car went off County Road 41 into the north ditch and struck a telephone pole Saturday night.

Merkley was driving a 1981 chevy and was headed eastbound .3 km east of County Road 8.

She suffered minor injuries and police estimate the damage to her car at $1500. The accident occurred at about 9:30 p.m.

WILLIAMSBURG TOWNSHIP—Morrisburg OPP are investigating two break-ins which occurred overnight, on Oct. 5 at the Boucks Hill Legion and the Cedar Glen golf course.

Entrance to the Boucks Hill Legion was gained through a window on the south side of the building. Approximately two boxes of Nevada tickets, four cartons of cigarettes, three or four part bottles of liquor and $72 in cash were stolen.

The same night entrance was gained to the Cedar Glen golf clubhouse through the northeast window of the lounge.

Money was taken from the cash register as well as three bottles of liquor. The case is still under investigation.

SDGBE holds meeting

CORNWALL — The Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry County Board of Education held its regular meeting Oct. 14, and approved capital expenditures for 1987.

Rothwell-Osnabruck School received $373,416 to complete the K-13 concept at Osnabruck District High School and a cafeteria, family studies art room and computer studies room at Rothwell Public School. Rothwell-Osnabruck School will also receive $50,000 for a new boiler and roof.

Seaway District High School was allocated $144,375 for the installation of an elevator to provide assistance to handicapped students in southern Dundas County. The same amount was given to North Dundas High School for an elevator for handicapped students in northern Dundas County.

Achieved 1986 level of operation

Beaver's export sales better than ever

Judith O'Brien
Leader staff

MORRISBURG — October is Canada Export Trade Month, and one local firm, Beavers Dental, is enjoying the benefits of export trade.

Beavers Dental, a division of Sybron Canada Ltd., has already achieved its forecasted 1986 level of operation. "This has been largely due to increased sales in our foreign markets," said R.L. Leroux, general manager.

The company manufacturers Tungsten Carbine Dental Burs, or drills, used in restorative and aesthetic dentistry. Leroux said the biggest increase in sales has been in the United States, although the forecasted level of sales is not made public to guard against competitors. The increase in export trades has led to the creation of 10 new jobs at Beavers Dental, in addition to the 160 people presently employed, and the factory is open 24 hours a day, five days a week, "with at least one shift of overtime every weekend," said Leroux.

Beavers Dental has been exporting internationally for 30 years, to distributors in all major countries. Dalton Smith, Manager of Product quality and Development has travelled overseas many times to visit with clients, and in turn Beavers Dental has hosted many visitors from around the world.

Leroux said the main reason the company is doing so well is because of its high quality product, the competitive pricing, and reliable delivery. "We try to remain very responsive to our customers' needs. It's a tradition established by George Beavers when he owned the place," he said.

The Beavers Dental building, originally the Odonto Toothbrush Factory, started making dental burs in 1947. The company was acquired by American Hospital Supply Corporation (AHSC) in 1974, and in 1982 all dental divisions of AHSC were sold to Sybron, an American corporation.

"We were already established by then so the acquisition didn't affect us," said Leroux. "We have really been helped by the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce. They were instrumental in helping us establish contacts, and introducing our product to Cuba three years ago."

Leroux said there are always problems exporting goods. As a subsidiary of an American company, Beavers Dental needed permission from the United States government to sell to Cuba, and the company must comply with the rules and regulations of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

"The biggest thing to remember when dealing with foreign governments is to respect the people and culture you're dealing with," he said.

The United States is Beavers Dental number one customer followed by Canada, Japan, Scandinavian countries and the United Kingdom.

"We even sell to Iceland," said Leroux. "We were there long before Gorbachev and Reagan heard of it."

Leroux said the only large countries Beavers Dental is not selling to are Inda and China, but there are no plans at the present time to begin selling to these countries, because the company is too busy keeping up with present orders.

"Business has been good over the past few years but this year has been exceptional," said Leroux. He credits part of the success to the difficulties experienced by one of their major competitors in the United States. Leroux said the company was out of production for a short period of time, and since Beavers Dental had the capacity and the workforce to fill the orders, they helped fill a gap that developed in the marketplace.

Beavers Dental is one of an estimated 20,000 Canadian firms involved in exporting goods and services. Canada is ranked seventh among the trading nations of the world in total trade, and an estimated three million jobs in Canada are directly connected to exports.

Amendment for BIA

MORRISBURG — Village council will be holding a public meeting Nov. 12 to consider a proposed Official Plan Amendment under Section 17 of the Planning Act.

The amendment will enable the village Business Improvement Area (BIA) to receive grants from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs (MMA), said village clerk Lloyd Barkley.

"You can't embrace any principles of the BIA if the policies aren't in place under the Official Plan," he said.

The amendment will add a new section to the Official Plan entitled Community Improvements. The policies will set out short and long term goals for upgrading sidewalks, roads, parks and recreation.

"The plan will put us in a position to be able to apply for grants under the Neighborhood Improvements Program (NIP)," said Barkley. "We have already been promised a grant under NIP but we cannot receive any grants for improvements without policies for an official plan in place."

A property standards by-law amendment has already been passed by council this year, but Barkley said the new amendment may be applicable to homeowners as well as the BIA.

MS society to hold meeting

CORNWALL — The annual meeting of the Cornwall chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis society will be held Tuesday, Oct. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at St. Joseph's Villa, 14 York Street in Cornwall.

The guest speakers will be Dr. Robert Nelson, a neurologist and director of the MS clinic at the Ottawa General Hospital and Danielle Wagner a registered nurse and, as well, coordinator of the MS clinic at OGH.

The topics discussed will be the diagnosis, treatment and research for MS as well as the role of the MS clinic in Ottawa.

A question and answer period will follow and the general public is invited. There will also be a lunch served.

MS is a disease of the central nervous system (brain and spinal cord) and interrupts the brain's ability to control walking, talking, seeing and other important functions.

More than 50,000 Canadians have MS. It strikes usually during the career and family building years (between 20-40) but it has afflicted people as young as 13 and as old as 65.

There is no known cause, or cure and very little is known about the treatment.

So you're writing a book

There seems to be an exaggerated idea abroad in the land, of the number of Canadians who are waiting breathlessly for untrained, uninformed, politically biased, or highly-imaginative people to "write a book". Senators, elected politicians, defeated politicians, venerable oldsters and fuzzy-cheeked youngsters, reformed addicts and reformed criminals are convinced that they can come up with a hot-selling item, and all they will have to do is preside at autograph-signing parties, in order to have a best-seller, and the awards in cash and prestige that will subsequently accrue.

A few weeks ago, a phone caller informed us that his wife is "writing a book. She knows a lot of things, and needs someone to help her write them down on paper". He enquired if we could supply, or recommend a "ghost writer".

Over the years, we have been asked to read quite a number of manuscripts by amateur authors, some of whom had little formal education, some with impressive degrees indicated after their names. The vast majority of these manuscripts, we are convinced, would cause no line-ups at any book store. It is highly improbable that their authors would be hailed as a small-town Burton or Hemingway. Neither the recognition nor the riches would be accorded to those efforts which looked so promising in the imagination, but so unimpressive on the printed page.

Untold millions of aspiring writers have spent countless weary hours in composing, copying, editing and typing millions of tons of manuscripts which never got past the publisher's reception desk. The possibility of coming up with an even modestly successful book is remote indeed for most amateur writers.

Lung damage is for life

There is increasing evidence that lung infection in some children may inflict undetected damage that lasts for an indefinite time — perhaps for life.

According to the Ontario Lung Association, new research suggests that one of the most common diseases in babies and very young children, called croup, may have effects that last longer than has previously been suspected. The disease, usually caused by a virus, affects the voice box, windpipe, and sometimes, the air passages of the lungs.

Because the voice box is constricted, youngsters with this infection develop a harsh, barking cry that sounds like a puppy's. Breathing is a terrible chore. When fever is present, the situation requires immediate medical attention.

The illness is usually brief. Until a few years ago, it had been assumed that the effects seemed to disappear.

A few years back, however, a study at the Hospital for Sick Children and the University of Toronto raised the distinct probability that those children who have croup may constitute a special group susceptible to developing chronic lung disease as adults. They may be also more affected by air pollution and smoking. The study was reported in The American Review of Respiratory Disease, a most prestigious journal.

Typical of the disease pattern, there were many more boys than girls in the study. All the children had been hospitalized for croup eight years earlier, but had shown no apparent ill effects since then. However, in a follow-up study, their group performance in tests of lung infection, were markedly different from those of a normal population; and there was evidence of dysfunction of the small airways, which can be the beginning of long-term lung disease.

Your local Lung Association is always happy to provide information about lung disease, how to prevent it and how to treat it. The continued operation of this and other services is made possible in large part by your generous response to the annual Christmas Seals Campaign. Your Lung Association will be contacting you shortly, with an envelope of Christmas Seals for this year's campaign. You can contribute to the continued good health of yourself, your family and your neighbour by keeping this association near the top of your Christmas Gift List.

Abraham ate it for years

A revolution in the snacking habits of millions of North Americans, has been working its way through Canada for the past few years, to the joy of the nutritionists and the dismay of the junk-food salesmen.

Heightened awareness of health and fitness and the human body's nutritional needs, and the growing concern about the dangers of overweight have all played a part in changing the country's eating habits.

For many, doughnuts are out, and nutritious snacks, led by yogurt, are in. You'll find it now not only in health food stores and supermarkets, but in schools and universities, factory and office cafeterias, and take-out food establishments.

Yogurt has been around for more than 6000 years. Abraham thrived on it until he was 175 (according to legend, an angel gave him the recipe), and it was eaten by the ancient Greeks, Egyptians and Romans, all of whom had a high regard for its taste and health-giving properties.

While the Middle East and Eastern Europe continue to use yogurt as a staple food, it was not until the turn of the century that Western Europeans took to eating it in vast quantities.

That was when Metnikoff, head of the world-famed Pasteur Institute in Paris, researched the eating habits of people in the Balkans, and named yogurt as one of the key reasons for their longevity.

Today, scientists are still studying the therapeutic aspects of yogurt, especially the ability of certain bacteria used to ferment the milk when making yogurt, to fight off toxic substances found in the human intestine. Yogurt, too, is recommended by many doctors as a post-operative food and in formulating diets for people with digestive problems. Strangely enough, it was not until about 1930 that the product first reached North America, but with little success.

Then in 1933 fruit yogurt was introduced in Prague, and by the 1940s, the habit had spread to North America.

Most people see yogurt as a convenient, nutritious and flavorful food, and for most dieters it has gained popularity in weight-reducing programs. This is not due to any miraculous qualities, or the relatively low calorie count. One of the greatest problems with any reducing diet is "hunger pangs" and the temptation to "sneak just a little snack". Yogurt provides an excellent way of controlling hunger pangs while ensuring an adequate intake of protein and essential vitamins. Many office workers in Canada and United States are now following the example of their European counterparts, and the yogurt break is on the way to becoming a tradition here too.

This Week In Morrisburg's History

Compiled from The Leader's fyles by Bonnie McNairn

1966

Headlines in the October 14th, 1966 issue of The Leader read: M.H.S. Track Team Places Second in Area Meet. The track team made a better showing this year in Metcalfe than it had in the past ten years, finishing second behind Osgoode. Paul Hill placed second in the junior boys division, and Bryan Dawley and Jack Notman placed second and third respectively for the senior boys. A highlight of the day was the sweep of the first two places in the senior mile by Jim Scott and Andy Henophy. Top junior boys included Paul Hill, Tom Whelan, Brian McIntosh and Roger Barnhart, and leading the junior girls were Patty Farrell, Bonnie Casselman, Carol Hart, Debbie Scott and Jane Meyer. Lee Tuttle and Don Mabo led the intermediate boys and the intermediate girls included Terri Wells, Sandy Scott, Anne Marie Young, Sylvia Casselman, Sybil Adams and Jane Meyer. Bryan Dawley and Jack Notman set the pace for the senior boys, and for the senior girls it was Brenda Whittaker, Kathy Rice, Carole Johnston, Kathy Edgerton and Ruth Ann Garlough.

Williamsburg United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on October 8th, when Frances Arlene Harper became the bride of Orval Rowland Millward.

The return of "Nigger", the black cocker spaniel who accompanied Fred Babcock on the day of his disappearance almost two weeks earlier, triggered another extensive search of the bush surrounding his farm home, but no sign of the 85-year-old man was to be found.

At the Dominion, a half-pound box of Walker's saltine crackers was 33 cents, and a two-roll pack of Kleenex paper towels was 49 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Whitteker of Williamsburg were preparing to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on October 18th, and on October 5th, Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Garlough had observed their 62nd anniversary.

The October 12th, 1956 edition of The Leader reported Gary Gillespie had been elected president of the newly-formed Morrisburg Model Kings Plane Club.

Installation of dial telephones in Morrisburg homes had started, but the new instruments would not work well until the actual cutover. The change to dial operation was not to take place until the spring.

A well-known Brinston district merchant, Ernest Styles died suddenly at his home following a brief illness.

New officers had been installed in the Zeta 311 IOOF and St. Lawrence Rebekah 373 of Morrisburg. They included J.P.N.G. Hulda Hummell; N.G. Reatha Riddell; V.G. Marguerite Clark.

1936

The October 16th, 1936 issue of The Leader reported that, having been appointed to Trinity Lutheran Church in Hamilton, Rev. Mehlenbacher was to preach his farewell sermon in St. Paul's, Morrisburg, on October 25th.

At a well attended meeting held in the Town Hall on October 14th, the Morrisburg Golf Club elected officers for the ensuing year. Honorary presidents were Dr. M.W. Locke, Mr. George H. Challies, M.L.A., Col. A.C. Casselman, M.P. and Arthur Flynn. Mr. J.H. Meikle became president and Grace D. Merkley vice president. Several suitable sites were discussed as a location for a golf course, and the executive committee was to meet with the town council, to see if suitable arrangements could be made with regard to securing a site. As soon as this was accomplished, another meeting was to be called and plans were to be laid for the preparation of suitable grounds. A great deal of enthusiasm was shown by the attendance at the meeting.

Shirley Temple was starring in Poor Little Rich Girl at the Cameo Theatre.

The car of vegetables and fruit to be shipped to the Canadian West was being filled. Trucks were gathering donations in the Township of Williamsburg and the Village of Morrisburg. It required a great deal of organization to cover such a wide area, and if anyone had been missed, they were asked to get in touch with their minister. It was not the intention that anyone be missed in this goodwill offering to those in need.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bowman, Williamsburg, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary October 5th, and on October 11th, Mr. and Mrs. A. Sweet celebrated their 55th anniversary at the home of their daughter, Mrs. B.L. Carr.

Following the regular dance on Saturday night at Casselman's Hall, the orchestra which had become popular throughout the district under the name of Spark Dukelow's Orchestra, and which for the past few months had been under the leadership of Bud Utman, would be dissolved. This orchestra had played in Morrisburg every Saturday night for several years.

At Barkley's Meat Market, parsnips, carrots, beets and turnips were selling for 75 cents a bushel.

Headlines in the October 15th, 1926 issue of The Leader read: Former Morrisburg Boy Adds New Invention to his Radio Record. Associated with Dr. Lee DeForest, Roy A. Weagant had contributed a number of improvements in the radio field, and his most recent invention, a method of eliminating static interference was perhaps his most important and interesting patented idea. Born in Morrisburg in 1881, he was a graduate of McGill University in 1905. He entered the service of the Marconi Company in 1912, and in 1920 was appointed chief engineer of the Radio Corporation of America.

Stewart Ford, D.C., Ph.T.D., Morrisburg Chiropractor, announced that he had installed new Electro-Magnetic Baths.

W. Marsh & Son had a Davenport Suite, consisting of three pieces, listed for sale at $135. The suite included a large davenport, which opened into a comfortable bed, a large arm rocker and a chair to match. It was upholstered in English tapestry, and had polished walnut frames.

A Question of Balance

Leafy green plants need a number of things to grow: light, food and water. At this time of year, as our light levels diminish, we notice the effect on the flowers that flourished all summer. Plants don't grow without light.

The green weeds in the aquarium became sparse and pale when their light was reduced. Where there was once an underwater forest there are now only a few poor branches with tufts of chewed leaves. We had found that algae growing on the sides of the glass was becoming a problem, the fuzzy green slime that covered the glass was so thick that the fish became shadows in the water. We asked the folks at the local pet store if they had a solution; daily cleaning and reduced light was their suggestion — "The fish don't need 60 watts to swim in". True, the fish didn't seem to mind when we turned their light off and the algae stopped growing. Terrific! But the plants stopped growing too. Without the plants to hide in, the little fish were discovered by the big fish and the chase was on.

In our house BAD animals generally meet a sticky end; we once had a nasty rabbit that snarled; he soon became rabbit sandwiches. In the chicken run there were a pair of feisty roosters who were done in — very tasty too. The cat keeps the dogs in place by reminding them who's boss with a smart cuff every now and then, but the fish were a problem. The culprits were a pair of pearly Beta fish that had been introduced over the summer, they were particularly aggressive. Only the big black Angel Fish remained unscathed. the Rosy Barbs who race back and forth had their fins shredded by the newcomers, the smallest of the tropical fish became supper for these big Beta fish. Something had to be done. Obviously panfrying a two-inch fish was out, the fish in question was isolated in a large fishbowl — then one weekend he vanished, perhaps it was the cat.

With one problem out of the way, we decided to turn the light back on and tackle the algae. We are encouraged to report a minor success, we found a net covered sponge, the sort of thing you'd use to clean the bugs off car windshields — they work on algae too. Hopefully the other underwater plants will start growing and peace will return to the aquarium.

The geraniums we want to bring in for the winter are another story, success in this case is more difficult — we have only one window for plants. Like the problem of too many seedlings in the spring, we find ourselves with too many plants in the fall. Such is the life of a gardener.

School Safety Week, Oct. 17 - 23 has advice for "latchkey kids"

It is estimated that one-third of children aged 6 to 13 begin or end their school day without a parent or guardian at home. Most "latchkey kids", as they have been nicknamed, are left alone for only two or three hours but that can be enough time to face some real difficulties. This is why the Canada Safety Council has chosen "Latchkey Logic" as the theme for this year's School Safety Week campaign, held from October 17-23. The campaign emphasizes that children should know how to deal with emergencies that might arise while parents are away.

Here are some tips from the Canada Safety Council to improve the safety of latchkey children:

Write out all emergency telephone numbers (i.e. police, fire, doctor, poison control centre, ambulance), plus parents' work numbers, a neighbor who is at home during the day, and instructions on how emergency services can reach the home. Keep this information by the telephone. Since children learn best by "doing", provide opportunities for them to practice placing emergency calls with the phone unplugged.

For incoming calls, children should keep their answers short and never advertise that they are staying alone. Answer with something like, "My father is taking a nap. Can I take a message?" or "I'm sorry, my mother can't come to the phone right now. Can I have her return your call?"

If the doorbell rings, instruct children to look out a window or peephole where they will not be seen by the caller. If the child doesn't recognize the person at the door, he should not answer it.

Instruct children to call you when they arrive home. They should also call if they have had a sudden change of plan that will bring them home later than usual.

Encourage children to stick with a buddy on their way to and from school, on errands or at play.

Point out the places children can go for help if they are approached by a stranger or get into some other difficulty on their way from school e.g. a Block Parent home, a neighbor's, or a store.

Child-proof your home. Lock up poisonous products (e.g. cleaning supplies, pesticides, medicines) and store them in their original containers — never in food or beverage containers where they may be ingested by mistake. Look for loose mats, trailing cords and other tripping hazards, falls are the leading cause of home accidents. Clear out fire hazards such as rubbish in the attic or basement, frayed electrical cords or oily rags, and keep lighters and matches out of children's reach. Place furniture so it does not block exits or obstruct normal traffic patterns. Keep ammunition and unloaded guns locked up separately. Involve your children in the home hazard hunt.

Review with children all the emergency escape routes and alternate escape routes in your home. Children should know which situations require them to leave the home immediately, before calling for help i.e. fire or gas leak.

Set limitations. Generally, it is better to focus on what is permitted rather than what is not and to involve children in setting rules.

Enroll children in a basic first aid course. The St. John Ambulance offers a short course for school-aged children called "We Can Help".

Hire babysitters who have been certified from a recognized agency. The Canada Safety Council offers a comprehensive Babysitters' Training Course for youth 12 years and over which covers: rights and responsibilities, child development and behavioural problems, child care, nutrition, child safety, basic first aid, handling emergencies, care of sick children, games and play activities for children, and babysitting children with special needs.

If Shoe Fits...

Here is an open letter to any homeowner who has been trying to sell his own home or has thoughts in that direction:

"Dear Sir:

Welcome to the real estate business! Now, would you like to get out of it?

It does take a lot of your time, doesn't it? We know because we've been in it for some time now. It always amazes us how our "business day" stretches out, with the so-called rush-hour common to most businesses sometimes never occurring at any set time.

That's why our office puts in what we call a "9 to 5-and-then-someday". Owners who list with a Real Estate Agent save a lot of aggravation and annoyance, they never have to pass up meals or weekend trips, since there's no need for them to be around to make sure a prospect sees the property. And that means faster sales as well as easier selling because your Agent can show your house to a dozen prospects while you're at the regular job you're supposed to be doing.

Why not discuss the situation with a Real Estate Agent? They'll be happy to go over your situation in the strictest confidence. Perhaps you have the house listed too high or too low, they may also point out small things you can do to make the property more saleable."

Our time is your time, so why not give us a call or come in and see us, we're sure we can help.

Couple exchange vows in beautiful wedding

On Saturday, June 28, 1986, June Ann Furlotte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Furlotte of Jaquet River, New Brunswick was joined in marriage to Bradley Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Robertson of Iroquois.

The ceremony was conducted by Fr. Jim MacGillivray and Rev. Herb Klaehn.

The organist and soloist for the ceremony was Margaret Merkley.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a floor length gown of pure white satin with beaded pearl bodice and sequins. Bands of ruffled satin trimmed the bottom of her dress and extended along her chapel length train. Her veil was held in place by a wreath headpiece adorned with sequins and pearls. A ruffle of satin around the back of the headpiece was a lovely finishing touch. She carried a bouquet of pink baby roses, white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Colleen Irvine of Montreal was the matron of honour. The bridesmaids were Robin and Alyson Robertson, sisters of the groom and Sandra Salmon, friend of the bride.

The attendants were beautiful in their floor length satin gowns of aqua with pleated front and balloon sleeves. They carried bouquets of aqua roses and pink carnations with coordinating ribbons flowing down from the bouquets.

Mark McIntosh, friend of the groom, served as best man. The ushers were Gary Tompkins and Chris Richer, friends of the groom and Warren Robertson, brother of the groom.

The groom and his attendants wore traditional black pinstriped tuxedos with satin lapels, and matching black bow ties and cummerbunds. This was complemented by pink rose boutonnieres.

Laura Lee Cholette of Morrisburg served as flower girl and Ryan Irvine of Montreal served as ringbearer.

After the ceremony, the dinner and reception was held at the Royal Canadian Legion in Morrisburg.

The couple honeymooned at a private cottage in central Ontario.

Mr. & Mrs. Bradley Robertson

OBITUARIES

William Joseph Dillabough

A native of Chesterville, Ontario, William Joseph Dillabough of Ottawa died at the Ottawa Veteran's Hospital, October 10, 1986 after an illness of two years. He was 83 years of age.

Born at Chesterville, Ontario, August 28, 1903 he was a son of Mahlon Dillabough and his wife the former Lydia Alguire. He was married at the Chesterville United Church January 30, 1924 to Margaret Maud Hayes who predeceased him in 1979.

The couple lived in Morrisburg before taking up residence in Ottawa where Mr. Dillabough was a Rockcliffe City employee. He was a World War II veteran.

Mr. Dillabough is survived by a sister Emma Fawcett of Winchester and sons Gilbert of Renfrew, William of Morrisburg and Tommy, Wayne and Ron of Ottawa, and one daughter Sheila of Ottawa. He is also survived by 38 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Besides his wife he was predeceased by sons George, Frank, Robert and Edward and daughters Margaret and Lillian.

Funeral service was held Monday, October 13 at the Hulse and Playfair Funeral Home, Ottawa. Interment followed at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Pall bearers were sons Gilbert, William, Tom, Wayne and Ron and son-in-law Ed Kekanovich.

Ruby James

A lifelong resident of R.R.2, Brinston, Ruby James died at Winchester District Memorial Hospital on Tuesday, October 7th. She was 65 years of age.

Born in Matilda Township, April 30th, 1921, she was a daughter of the late Sandfield Lapier and his wife Violet Markell. She attended local schools and was married at Iroquois on November 3rd, 1936, to Earl James, who survives. Also surviving are a son John James of R.R.2, Brinston, a daughter Freda (Mrs. Ron Whitteker) of R.R.1 Iroquois; five grandchildren, Crystal and Ricky James, and Jamie, Jeffrey and Kevin Whitteker.

Other survivors are three brothers; Duane Lapier of Ottawa, Arthur and Acil Lapier, both of Morrisburg; two sisters; Beatrice Lapier of Dixons Corners and Evelyn (Mrs. C. Jackson) of Dixons Corners. She was predeceased by a brother Sanfield Lapier.

Funeral service was held at the C.W. Marsden Funeral Home, Iroquois, on Thursday, October 9th at 11:00 a.m., with Rev. Allan Tysick officiating. Interment followed at Dundela Cemetery.

Pall bearers were: Charles Barkley, Donald Barkley, Dale Hutt, Joe Daoust, Lorne Johnston, Merle Quinn.

George Perault

A retired barber and dry cleaner, and well-known area personage, George Perault died at the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, Brockville, on Friday, October 3rd. He was 77 years of age.

Born at Williamsburg, January 20th, 1909, he was a son of the late Harry Perault and his wife, the former Maude Love. He received his education at the local schools, and conducted a barber business for many years. Later he carried on a dry cleaning business in Morrisburg. For the past few years he resided in Brinston.

He is survived by his wife, the former Alice Thompson; a son George Perault Jr. of Morrisburg; two daughters: Marie (Mrs. Richard Wheeler) of Garden City, S.C. and Mrs. Dawn Bowman of St. Catharines, Ontario.

A private family funeral service was held at the C.W. Marsden Funeral Home, Iroquois, on Tuesday, October 7th at 11:00 a.m., with Rev. Allan Tysick officiating. Service was followed by cremation.

Lera Belle Mattice

Lera Belle Mattice, who had been a resident of Morrisburg for most of her life, but lived in Brockville for the past 19 years, died at the Brockville General Hospital on Saturday, October 4th, following an illness extending over several years. She was 87 years of age.

Born in Williamsburg Township, May 1st, 1899, she was a daughter of the late Amos and Elizabeth Duvall. She was educated at the local schools, and on December 23rd, 1919, was married at Morrisburg to Lorne E. Mattice, who predeceased her in 1959.

While she was in Morrisburg Mrs. Mattice was an active member and supporter of Lakeshore Drive United Church. She was a keen curler, and also enjoyed golf and travel, but with advancing years, her chief interests had been her children and grandchildren.

Mrs. Mattice is survived by a daughter Ruth (Mrs. George Tindal) of Brockville; a son Ryerson (Tim) Mattice of Ottawa; two grandchildren and six great-grandchildren; two sisters; Audrey (Mrs. Victor Ruttle) and Vernie (Mrs. Ernest Norgate) both of Kingston. She was predeceased by three brothers; Harry, Kenneth and Hubert, and a sister Rita.

Friends were received at the Fairbairn Funeral Home, Morrisburg, where funeral service was held on Tuesday, October 7th at 2:00 p.m., with Rev. R.R.W. McGregor officiating. Interment followed at Fairview Cemetery.

Pall bearers were; Richard Tindal, Douglas Tindal, Thomas Tindal, Martin Kaldeway, Ernest Shaffer and Howard Heath.

CARD OF THANKS

Please accept my long over due expressions of appreciation for all the kindness extended to me during illness this year. To Rev. Stewart, Rev. Kempt and Rev. Don Smith for their several calls while I was in Ottawa Civic, Winchester Hospital and Melrose Lodge. Also to nurses and doctors for their good care. To my Cancer drivers who got me to my treatment appointments on time. To the VON and Homemakers who continue to look after my needs. It is all greatly appreciated. Finally to my own family, neighbors and friends for cards, flowers, treats and visits. May God bless you all.

IN MEMORIAM

JOHNSTON—In loving memory of a dear sister and sister-in-law, Anne, who passed away accidentally on October 16, 1984.
Two years since the sad day,
The one we loved was called away;
God took her home, it was His will,
But in our hearts she liveth still.
Always remembered by,
Eleanor, Linda, Laura,
Susan, Danny and Ron.
42pd

STRADER — In loving memory of a dear husband, Lyell who passed away October 16, 1984.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear,
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps his near.
Always remembered with much love, Gertrude
42pd

STRADER — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather Lyell, who passed away Oct. 16, 1984.
Time may heal the broken-hearted,
Time may make the wound less sore;
But it cannot fill the longing,
For the loved one gone before.
Who shall say the grief has lessened,
Though smiles hide the tears
Memories keep the wound still open,
With the passing of the years.

Ottawa fair begins Oct. 15

From October 15 to 19 you can forget Ottawa the Nation's capital and experience Ottawa the agricultural centre by visiting Ottawa's annual Winter Fair.

Every night famous riders and their famous horses will leap one fence after another in a race against time and other competitors. Huge draft horses will haul thousand pound loads across the arena. Hitched to wagons, these big creatures will also run an obstacle course as exciting as the chuck wagon race at the Calgary Stampede.

Canada's famous Holsteins will be there, peacocks, pheasants, poultry and every sort of rabbit can be seen. Champion Guernesy, Jersey and Ayrshire, Simmental, Hereford, Aberdeen Angus and Shorthorn will be shown and judged.

Over 300 young men and women will show the calves and lambs they've raised and that have already won prizes at other fairs. Later you can catch the auction of this stock by the team of Hill and James.

Quilts, grains, vegetables, cooking and a special competition involving every cheese produced in eastern Ontario will be shown.

You can learn how to milk a cow, shoe a horse, or shear a sheep. You can shop at over 50 boutiques selling every sort of craft; eat the Fair's famous homemade apple pie and cheese or tea and cookies at the Women's Institute tea room.

Over a hundred fiddlers will fill the air with jigs and reels. And sixty step dancers will dazzle both judges and audience with their speed and dexterity.

Four dollars a day covers every activity and show from 8 a.m. to midnight even the Friday night dance with Joe Teevens and the Good Tyme Country band. Wintario will be there and you can join that show too.

The Ottawa Winter Fair is designed to give country people an opportunity to show their skills and achievements. It gives city people a chance to see it all. It's probably educational but its bound to be fun.

Mac's Milk robbed

MORRISBURG — The OPP detachment here has apprehended one man in connection with a robbery which occurred last Wednesday night at the Mac's Milk Convenience Store on the corner of Fifth and Ottawa Streets.

Investigating officer, Const. Lee McCaslin, said no charges have been laid yet and possibly two people were involved in the robbery.

"Whether two of them were in it together I don't know," said McCaslin.

Approximately $60 was taken from the cash register. McCaslin said the adult male entered the store at 11 p.m., grabbed the clerk by the arm, held her down as he took the money, ripped the phone out and left.

OTTAWA CRIME STOPPERS
ECHEC AU CRIME-OTTAWA

CALL APPELEZ 233 TIPS

The Ontario Provincial Police have joined Crime Stoppers. It is apparent that the robber of a gas bar in the Metcalfe area was intending to execute his victim.

On February 12, 1984, around 9 p.m., the attendant of Mr. Gas on Regional Rd. #16, east of Highway 31 went about closing for the day. He placed the receipts in a blue Royal Bank deposit bag, locked the shop, and got into his car which was parked nearby. Just as he was starting it, he heard an explosion and felt pain in his right arm. He got out of the car to investigate the cause however found nothing out of the ordinary. He again sat in the car and heard two other gunshots. He again got out and crouched beside the vehicle. A fourth shot struck him in the neck.

The wounded man was able to make his way back inside the gas bar, and was in the process of making a telephone call when another shot shattered a nearby window. The youth was able to call his parents, however as he was attempting to make another call the phone went dead, the stalker had torn wires from an exterior fixture. As the youth hid behind a desk, he was able to hear someone open his car door, then close it, after which silence pervaded. Investigators found that the money bag had been stolen.

Investigation revealed that the shooter had parked his car on the 7th Concession, and they are looking for a vehicle similar to a 1980 Buick Regal or Pontiac Grand Prix, black or dark blue, in good shape, and having blackwall snow tires, with no hub cap on the left rear.

Crime Stoppers will pay $1000 for information, that if received this week, leads to the arrest of the person responsible for this attempted murder and robbery. If you have information about this, or any other serious crime, call Crime Stoppers at 233-TIPS, that's 233-8477. You do not have to reveal your identity, and should your tip lead to an arrest, you qualify for an award.

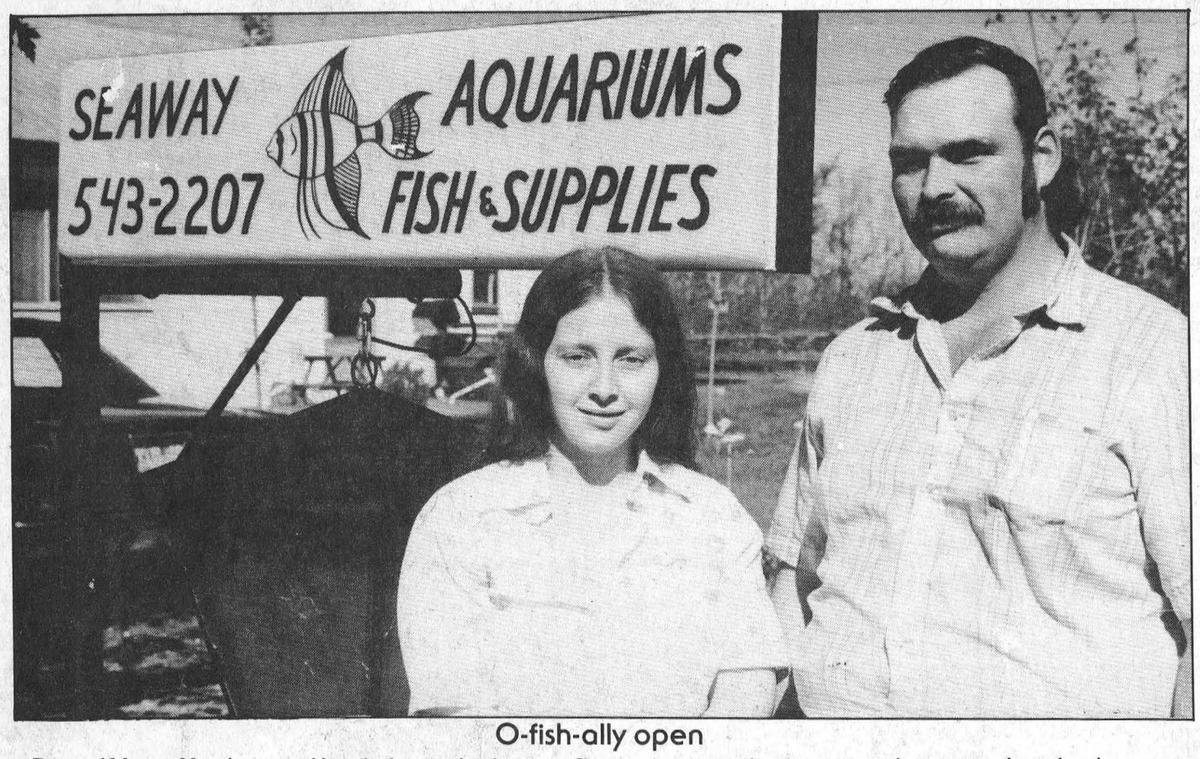
Fish also need love and affection



O-fish-ally open

Ray and Monica Hamilton stand beside the sign for their new Seaway Aquariums business presently operating from their home at R.R. 1 Morrisburg. "They're a pet that doesn't make any noise . . . they're cheap to feed and they're not as much hassle as a dog or a cat," says Ray.

Fish are Ray and Monica Hamilton's business.

The walk, talk, breath and eat fish. Well, maybe not eat them.

To them fish are much more than just fish — they're living art forms. The need food and oxygen, just like us humans, they need space to swim around and be "their own" type of fish, they get sick like humans and sometimes need medicine, and some may even wail like a newborn baby when removed from the safe and pleasant confines of the aquarium.

Fish can be emotional too. A fish put into a new, unfamiliar tank, may at first hide during the day, only leaving its place of refuge under the cover of night. In some cases it may take up to a month for the little aquatic adventurer to finally get into the swim of things.

As one walks through the Hamilton, home, he or she will see uncountable types of tropical fish in aquariums lining the walls ranging from the quite common and hardy goldfish, to the exotic and exquisitely colored angel fish, to the small but fierce peranha.

Ray and Monica Hamilton are the owners of Seaway Aquariums, a fish and supplies store located on the service road running east of the Highway 401 — Upper Canada Road interchange. The business was "O-Fish-ally" (officially) opened last Monday and stocks everything a person needs to begin his or her personal marineland.

The beginning

What is now a full-fledged fish business started off as just a hobby, Ray Hamilton said. "I bought a used tank, and that was years ago, and I just got interested in it. After that, it just "expanded out," he said.

Hamilton and his wife have been to a lot of pet stores and "they just got tired of getting sick or diseased fish", bringing them home, and having the disease spread to other fish in the tank. Also, they realized there's a large area around them without a fish store, so they decided to open their own.

Buying sick fish is "a very big problem", Hamilton claimed. One lady customer bought fish and an aquarium from them and they were doing quite nicely in their new home. Later on, her daughter brought home four fish from a store in Cornwall as a present and put them in with the other fish. The next morning the fish bought from Cornwall were found belly-up in the aquarium. Fortunately, the other fish were given a liquid medicine and were saved in time. Either liquid or powder medicine can be added to water to rememdy various ailments, he said.

"You can lose a lot of money (through disease) if you have expensive fish."

If a sick fish is found in a tank, it must be removed and the whole tank must be drained, cleaned out, and sterilized to prevent spreading of the disease. Any sick fish found, are put in a "sick tank" with other sick fish so they can't pass the ailment on to healthy ones," he said.

Hamilton guarantees his fish to be healthy or he'll replace them. "We check every fish as we put them in. We'd sooner lose one $7 fish than the whole tank."

Fish, dog or cat?

"Fish aren't a hassle anymore," Hamilton claimed. Automatic feeders are now available, water filters are much better, and even maintenance-free filters can be bought, leaving little work for an aquatic buff to do.

"They're a pet that doesn't make any noise, they're cheap to feed, and they're not as much hassle as a dog or cat. At least you don't have to take them for walks," he joked. Also, people say watching tropical fish in an aquarium is "very relaxing", he added.

Life expectancies of tropical fish range from about a year for a guppie to up to five years for an angel fish if the environment's right, but fish with shorter life spans breed faster than ones with longer life spans. "Therefore a person will get more young from a short-life-span fish," Hamilton said.

Fish prices range from two goldfish for 69 cents, to an angel fish for $20, and up to $100 for a salt-water fish. They also stock freshwater sharks, Hamilton said.

WDMH bazaar

The International Bazaar and Festival sponsored by the Winchester District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, Saturday, October 18, at North Dundas High School, Chesterville, will be officially opened at 1:30 p.m. by Dr. Gerry Rosenquist. Co-host for the afternoon will be Clare Brown, Morrisburg.

In addition to the fine baked products and crafts which will be available for sale, there is also entertainment from 2:15 through to 4:15.

The program will start with the Klompen Dans, representing the Dutch people of the community. Mrs. Laura Wong will present a Chinese solo, and a Polynesian dance by Mrs. Penny Arnold will follow. Irish songs are scheduled at 3:30 and Scottish dances, performed by Katline Wells and Michelle, will be presented at 4:00. A choral group, The Belles of St. Mary's, will complete the program, at which time the lucky holders of draw tickets will receive their prizes.

All proceeds will be used by the Auxiliary for their ongoing commitment to the purchase of much needed hospital equipment and to the provision of additional services to patients.

R-O teams battle Spartans

INGLESIDE — The Rothwell-Osnabruck Lancers, led by the 36-point performance of Kelly Dafoe, scraped past the Seaway District High School Spartans 50-48 in S.D.&G. A school league play here Thursday afternoon to claim sole possession of first place with an undefeated four-game record.

It was the first loss for the Spartans, who led 28-27 lead at the half thanks to a successful penalty shot by Hali Adair after the buzzer.

Dafoe, who has been averaging better than 30 points per game, sank 15 baskets in the winning effort and she was backed by an 11-point performance from Shelley Woodrow. Leading the way for the Spartans was Hali Adair with 24 points. Brenda Thompson added 11, Krista Duncan six, Cindy Warren five and Lisa VanHoof two.

Neither team was able to pull very far ahead throughout the game, R-O moving out front at the quarter 13-11. The Spartans played a strong second quarter, leading throughout most of it by four points, but the Lancers came back in the final minute to tie it 27-27.

Seaway carried their 28-27 lead into the second half but it didn't last long, the Lancers striking early and working their way to a 43-35 lead with 5:15 left in the game. Seaway came back closing the gap to 50-44 with three minutes left. Hali Adair then stole an R-O pass to make it 50-46 and a Brenda Thompson shot with 1:17 left put them two points away from the tie. Attempts to score by both teams were unsuccessful in the final minute and with nine seconds left Kelly Dafoe intercepted a Spartan pass and proceeded to kill off time.

In junior action an 18 point performance from Stephanie Wells helped the Lancers to a 41-31 win over the Spartains, their fourth consecutive victory of the season. The Spartans hold a 2W-2L record.

The junior matchup was again close until the final quarter when the Lancers pulled into a strong lead. R-O led 18-16 at halftime but the Spartans came charging back in the third quarter to at one time hold a three point lead.

Peggy Antoine backed Wells' performance with eight points and Cheryl Servais and Judy Plumadore added six each. Kim Bucking topped the Seaway effort with 15 points and Kathy Byvelds added six. Laura Dawley dropped four points and Kelly Tryon, Jennifer McNairn and Stephanie Fisher were all good for one basket.

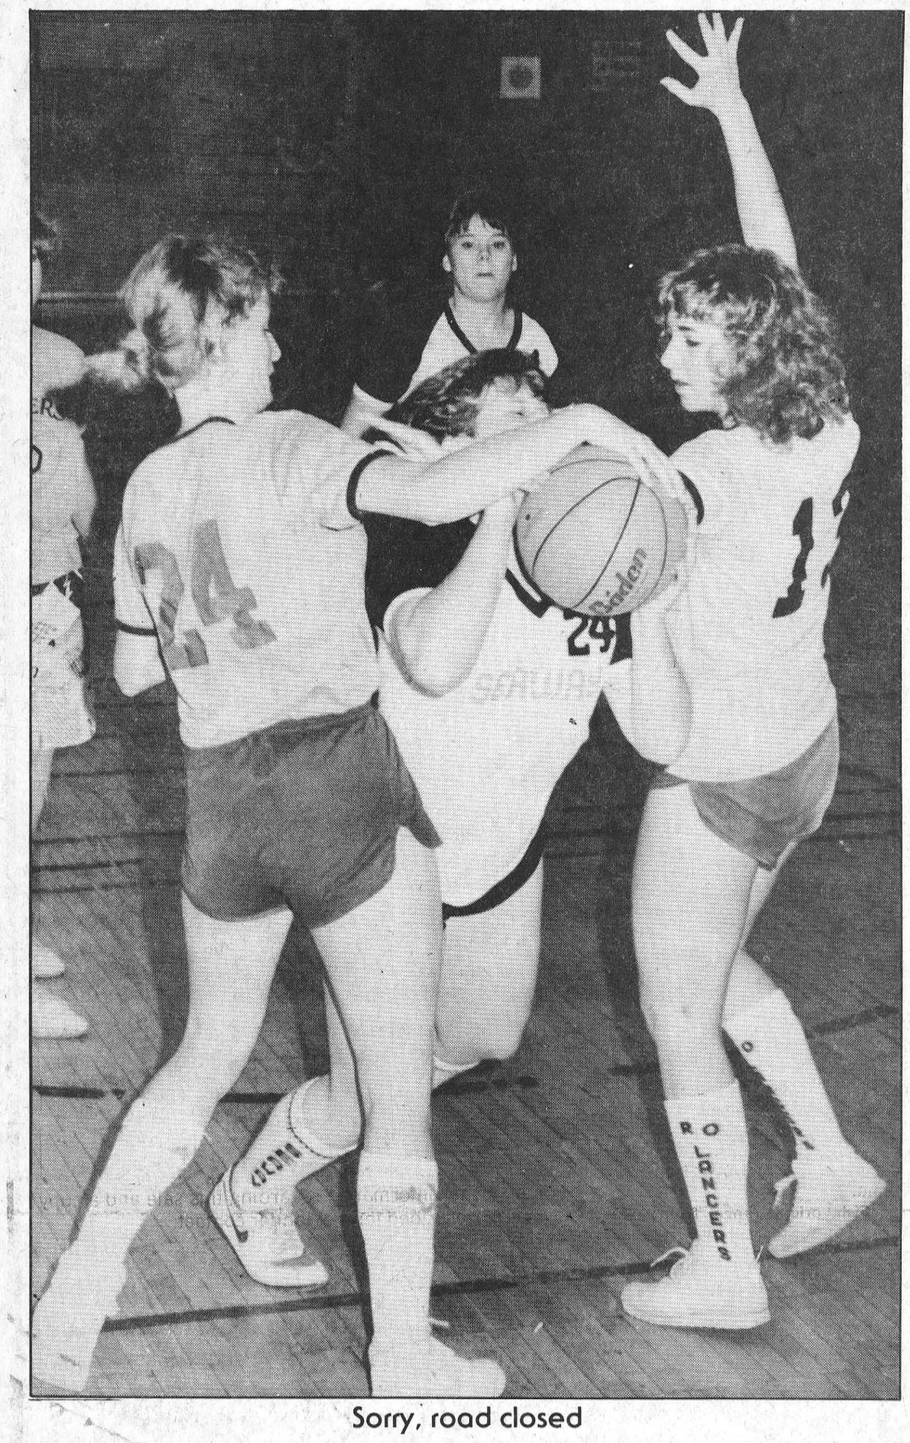
In other action last week both the junior and senior Spartans picked up home court victories against Glengarry District High School.

The Seniors downed their opponents 37-26 and the Juniors came out on top 39-32.

Hali Adair provided 25 of the senior points and Kim Bucking added six. Brenda Thompson was good for three and Laura Dawley and Krista Duncan had single baskets. Answering for Glengarry was Tracey Clinger with eight points.

Kim Bucking topped the Seaway junior effort with 18 points, Kelly Tryon provided eight, Laura Dawley six, Jennifer McNairn five and Stephanie Fisher two.

Next action for the Spartans is Thursday, October 16.



Sorry, road closed

"Little Rock Curlers" needed

MORRISBURG—An encouraging start for Little Rock Curling here last year has led to a geared-up program for youngsters this season, which officially begins Sunday, October 26th.

Open to boys and girls, 6-12 years old, a Little Rock Curling Club has been formed within the Morrisburg Curling Club with registration dates set for Sunday, October 26 from 2-4 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 1 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Although the registration dates have been set the junior memberships fees are not due until November 30th says Alan Brunt who has been instrumental in setting up "little rock curling" within the local club.

"Hopefully the youngsters will register on the two days and the ice will be in so they try it out," says Brunt. "That way they'll have a chance to see if they like the game before their parents sink money into memberships."

The children will be using kid-size rocks weighing approximately 17 pounds each. Although the Morrisburg club has only one set of these rocks available now, two others have been ordered and are expected to arrive in early November.

The Little Rock Program will consist of instruction as well as some fun and competitive curling. The club activities will begin November 9th and run every Sunday afternoon from 2-4 p.m. for approximately 18 weeks. The fees are $10 for one child and $15 for family.

Brunt said he was encouraged last year when 33 youngsters showed interest in curling mainly at the Family Fun Day hosted by the club.

"I was pleased with the number and if we can get 30 kids out this year it would be great," he said. "The senior club members have accepted the Little Rock Program realizing it is the future of our club and the game."

Brunt says four trophies are available to the Little Rock Program and organizers are hoping to run club bonspiels at the end of each month. As well, it is possible there will be interclub competitions with Winchester and there are several area bonspiels for children. Last year two rinks travelled to the Santa Claus Bonspiel at Smiths Falls.

As well as the regular Little Rock activities Morrisburg has been selected to host a bonspiel sponsored by the Canadian Branch of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club. This will include teams from clubs throughout Eastern Ontario and Quebec and will take place November 15 and 16th. The same weekend the Winchester Curling Club will host a bonspiel for curlers ages 12-15 and the finals of the two will be held at Winchester Sunday.

Children between the ages of 6 and 12 years interested in curling are invited to the Morrisburg Curling Club on either of the two registration dates.

There was plenty of action at Iroquois Public School Thursday when 21 junior and senior boys soccer teams showed up for the annual Dundas County championship tournament. In the above photo, the Morrisburg Public School junior boys B team defends against St. Mary's kicker. For story, see page 11. —McNairn photo

County competition

Dixons, Nationview lead

IROQUOIS — Gail Beckstead and her squad of cheerleaders from Dixons Corners Public School have done it again.

Thursday, at the annual Dundas County Cheerleading Competition in Iroquois, the 10-member Dixons team claimed the V. Speer championship trophy for the fifth consecutive year.

Dressed in gold and navy the team showed plenty of pep and performed an excellent version of the compulsory "Hey Now" cheer. The girls met all the judging criteria with style.

Members of the championship entry included Rhonda Beckstead, Amy Valiquette, Marguerite Lafaver, Karen Froats, Jennifer Harper, Melanie Warren, Rebecca Comfort, Julie Ault, Donna Fawcett, Jackie Keeler, Tina Carbino, Joanne Larocque and Nicole Daoust.

It was Dixons seventh win in 10 years. Last year they broke a three-year record held by Winchester from 1979-1981.

Other teams competing at the junior level were from Inkerman, Morrisburg, Winchester and Iroquois. The junior runner-up was Winchester.

The eight-member Inkerman squad, dressed in yellow and navy, opened the competition with the cheer, "Victory, Victory is Our Cry" and they were followed by the seven Morrisburg girls in green and white, who greeted the crowd with a peppy HELLO.

Members of the Morrisburg team included, Leanne McNairn, Andrea Stitt, Tara Hill, Crystal Hummell, Laurel Brister, Jennifer Saunders and Shannon Brown.

The 10-member Winchester team, dressed in navy and white, featured several well-executed formations and Iroquois with six girls in royal and white gave a "Hidi, Hidi, Hi and a Hidi, Hidi Ho".

At the senior level the eight-member Nationview entry, dressed in red and white, broke an Iroquois-Morrisburg hold on the Myrna Michilicka trophy. For the last few years the trophy has gone back and forth between Iroquois and Morrisburg but Thursday Nationview stepped in to take over.

Members of the Nationview championship squad included Teresa Sherrer, Karen Dalrymple, Liane Smail, Tamara Bond, Michelle Ault, Kim Kerr, Julie Devries, Hazel Booth, Karen Fossitt and Kim Fossitt.

Only three schools competed at the senior level this year, making the judging all that much more difficult said Donna Notman, a teacher at Seaway District High School.

"We had a hard time and as a result we decided to give the honorable mention to both Iroquois and Morrisburg," she said after congratulating all the girls who competed.

Notman was assisted in the judging by S.D.H.S. cheerleaders Isabella Farlinger and Nancy Byers.

Each team performed several cheers of their choice and the compulsory "Hey Now" cheer. Marks were awarded for performance and appearance with the majority of marks up for grabs under the performance category. Performance was broken down into voice, content of cheer, co-ordination, timing and variety of jumps and moves.

The seven-member Iroquis squad, in navy and white, performed to "Sitting on a Grand Stand" and they were followed by Morrisburg, in green and white, doing "We're On Top".

Members of the Morrisburg team included Kristy Morin, Julie Wells, Angela Bowers, Gigi Briggs, Laura Neild, Janet Martel and Dana Andrews.

For the fifth consecutive year the Dixons Corners Public School junior cheerleading squad turned in the top performance at the competition held in Iroquois. Rhonda Beckstead is seated and behind her, left to right are: Amy Valiquette, Marguerite Lafaver, Karen Froats and Jennifer Harper. Second row: left, Melanie Warren, Rebecca Comfort, Julie Ault and Donna Fawcett. Back row, left: Jackie Keeler, Tina Carbino, Jo Anne Laroque and Nicole Daoust. —McNairn photo

Local league play

Legion darts

MORRISBURG — The No-Names moved into an eight point early season lead in Legion mixed dart play here Tuesday night — Sandra Julien the top thrower with three wins.

Defeating the One Eyed Rileys 5-2, the No-Names now find themselves on top of the league standings with 24 points, eight points up on the Two Plus Twos, the Rileys and the Red Devils — all tied for second at 16.

Orval Delage and Jim Schultz backed Julien with single wins and answering for the Rileys were Phil Tinker and Terry Laurin.

The Two Plus Twos also had a strong night defeating the Red Devils 5-2. Carol Law led their effort with two wins and Tom McMullen (spare), Gerry Roberts and Mary Ann Whittaker added singles. Bonnie McNairn (spare) provided the Devils' outs.

The Red Hots worked their way to a 4-3 win against the Gamblers, Tom McCutcheon hitting for two outs and Edith Baker and Louis Delisle supplying singles. Lee Kelly (spare) had two wins for the Gamblers and Alec Whittaker one.

Brian McNairn and Gail Kelly had two wins each for the Go Gos as they defeated the Tail Enders 4-3. Rita Boyd struck twice for the Tail Enders and George Baker had a single win.

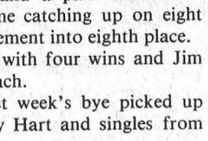
Riverside darts



RIVERSIDE HEIGHTS — Led by the five-out performance of Guy Hart the Dream Team put together an eight-win night here Wednesday to hold on to first place in Riverside Mixed Dart League play.

Hart was backed by single wins from Kim Grey, Sarah Merkley and Kathy Beckstead.

The Dart Busters continued to chase the league leaders, an eight-win night holding them just one point away from a tie. Mike Lortie had a big night for the Busters planting six winning shots and Keith Johnston and Kenny Baker had one each.

The Hindenders, Wereley's Warriors and The Dipsticks settled into a tie for third place, all at 14 points. The Hindenders and Dipsticks had seven wins each Wednesday and the Warriors picked up six.

Sharon Wereley (spare) led the Hindenders with four outs and William Casselman backed her with three. Top throwers for the Dipsticks were Terry Fawcett and Cecil Lewis (spare) with three wins each and Carl Robinson added a single. Keith Wereley led the Warriors with three outs and Darlene Lortie, Brian McNairn and Ted Seymour had one each.

The Spoilers landed themselves five points on three winning throws by Sandra Baker and a pair from Chris Casselman and the Classics did some catching up on eight points to move out of the league basement into eighth place.

John Gummeson led the Classics with four wins and Jim Scott and Rob Casselman had two each.

The Off the Boards who had last week's bye picked up seven wins, five on throws by Gary Hart and singles from Gary Bradford and Nelson Julien.

Team nine did not see action Wednesday night. High scores: Gary Bradford 120; William Casselman 120-100; Mary Gummeson 106; Keith Johnston 103; Ron Bradford 103; Mike Lortie 100-100; Jim Scott 100; Brian McNairn 100; Cecil Lewis 100; Chris Casselman 100.

Ferrets stretch town league football lead

MORRISBURG — The White Ferrets stretched their undefeated streak to eight games in town league football action here Sunday morning when they downed the second place Blue Meanies 18-6.

Quarterbacked by Russell Cameron, who threw two touchdowns to Sam Laurin, the Ferrets counted their other six points when Jeff Byvelds intercepted and ran back for a 110 yard TD.

In total the Ferrets intercepted five of quarterback Tom Dawley's passes.

Tom Peppers accounted for the lone Meanies TD.

In other action the basement dwelling Reds, led by quarterback Steven Casselman who has not seen action in several weeks. downed the third place Greens 31-19. The Red's win forces a tie for third place at six points.

Mike Casselman provided two Red TDs and Bill Mullin, Robert Jordan and Todd Barnhart had one each. Quarterback Leo Lafortune ran one for the Greens and Harry Peppers and Cam Dillabough supplied the others.

Still no ice here

MORRISBURG — Although there is still no ice at the Morrisburg arena, manager Don Smithson says he and his staff are slowly getting there.

"We have ice but not enough that we can use it, said Smithson Tuesday morning. "In fact although we have some ice it's not thick enough to be measured."

Smithson says he hopes to have an abbreviated ice schedule in effect by early next week but there's no guarantee.

"We've really just barely started to flood," he said. "The temperatures were so warm over the weekend that we were unable to start flooding until Monday night."

And with the warm weather still holding Tuesday Smithson said it would only be possible to flood at night. Each flood takes about two hours to freeze.

Morrisburg, Nationview win soccer championships

IROQUOIS — Led by Albert Chan, who was named top junior goalkeeper at the Dundas County soccer championships here Thursday, the Morrisburg A team, coached by Gary O'Neil, came home the 1986 champs.

Morrisburg claimed the trophy in the final game with a 3-2 win over the Winchester As after defeating Inkerman 3-1, and the Winchester Bs 4-0 in earlier play.

The final was a seesaw battle, the two settling into a 2-2 tie late in the game. With five minutes left Chris Hanes broke down the left side and deposited what turned out to be the winner. Other goals went to Sean Hummell and J.J. Smith.

Winchester worked its way to the final with wins over St. Mary's 7-4, the Chesterville Bs 4-0 and Nationview 4-1.

The Morrisburg win ended a three-year Chesterville hold on the championship.

In other action the Morrisburg B team was eliminated after two losses, the first to the Chesterville Bs 2-0 and the next to St. Mary's 8-0. St. Mary's went on to defeat Dixons 2-1 in the B semi-final to earn entry into the final against the Chesterville As. They lost that one 3-2.

Chesterville, after losing to Nationview 1-0 in their opener, downed Morrisburg 4-0 and Inkerman 3-2.

Individual awards went to Chan of Morrisburg, Jeff Hyndman of Nationview as best back and Tyler Johansen of Winchester as best forward.

Senior competition

At the senior level the Nationview As went to work to blank the Iroquois As 2-0 to win the 1986 county championship.

Nationview had earlier wins over Maple Ridge Bs 2-1 and Morrisburg 2-0. Iroquois worked its way to the final with wins over the Nationview Bs 2-1 and the Maple Ridge As 3-2.

The B championship was won by the Nationview Bs with a 2-1 victory over the Maple Ridge Bs.

Best goalkeep at the senior level was Craig Belanger of Nationview and best back was Sean Backes, also of Nationview. Jason Fisher of Iroquois was named top forward.

Iroquois tops in girls soccer

MORRISBURG — The Iroquois senior girls soccer team dropped its name into the records book here Tuesday afternoon defeating the defending 1985 championship Nationview As in overtime for the county title.

The two worked their way to the tournament final with first place finishes in division play. Iroquois, undefeated in preliminary round play, trimmed Maple Ridge 3-1 in the semi-final and the Nationview As downed the Nationview Bs 1-0 in their semi-final.

Iroquois led 1-0 at the half in the championship but Nationview came back to tie it and force overtime. Iroquois then scored early in the 10 minute overtime stanza and made sure of the title with a second counter to complete the scoring in their favor 3-1.

In division one play Iroquois defeated Morrisburg 3-1 and the Nationview Bs 7-0. The Bs picked up a 1-0 overtime victory against Morrisburg.

Division two wins went to Maple Ridge 2-0 over Riverside Heights and to the Nationview As 1-0 over the Ridge. Riverside and Nationview played to a scoreless tie.

Playoff matchups for the semi-finals had first place Iroquois take on second place Maple Ridge and the first place Nationview As against the Nationview Bs.

There are a lot of people who make High School special but the most important of these are the friends you make. Years from now when we think back to our days at Seaway we probably won't remember exactly what we did but will remember who we did it with. There are a lot of special people here I am proud to call my friends and I'm sure everyone graduating has people who fit into that category.

Tonight most of us are saying good-bye to Seaway District High School. We've spent some of the best years of our lives here, learned a lot, grew up a little and have memories that will last a lifetime.

Upper Canada course closes

MORRISBURG—Upper Canada Golf Course, opposite Upper Canada Village, 11 kilometres east of here, operated by The St. Lawrence Parks Commission, will close to the public on October 15 at 5:00 p.m.

The course is closing two weeks early this year because of the extremely wet conditions. Commission officials feel that further play would be detrimental to the course.

The course's Canada West Lounge and Restaurant will remain open October 17, 18, 19, 24, 25 and 26. On Fridays it will operate from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and on Saturdays and Sundays from 11:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Special weekend buffets will highlight the remainder of the restaurant's season.
