Daylight Saving Will Be Resumed April 26th

Several items of interest were discussed and passed upon at the meeting of the local council with councillors Flynn, Turner, McMillan and Merkley in attendance, under the leadership of Reeve Boyd.

Waiting on the council was a deputation of Legion members to seek relief in the matter of back taxes on the Legion Memorial Rink. The matter was left for the consideration of the Council.

With the reading and passing of the accounts, it was decided to call for tenders for the construction of the Church Street sewer, a move that will be heartily approved by the residents of that street. Further business saw the granting of a taxi license to Bert Colquhoun, adoption of the Assessment roll for 1947, approving the by-law that will bring day-light saving time in force on April 26, and the tethering of dogs from May 1.

It was also decided to publish the Financial Statement of the Village of Chesterville for 1946 in the Chesterville Record.

Anniversary Supper Honors Institutes' Fiftieth Year

Chesterville Branch of the Women's Institute entertained their husbands and friends at an anniversary dinner in the diningroom of the Trinity United Church, last Thursday night, to mark the fiftieth year of the Institute's existence.

About fifty members and guests enjoyed the bountiful fare provided for their taste and enjoyment.

After dinner, the President, Mrs. George Merkley, called attention of the gathering to several of the original charter members. These included Mrs. A. E. Bolster, Mrs. C. W. Casselman, and Miss Abbie Bogart. Mrs. Casselman, as the first secretary, was presented with a corsage of American Beauty roses. With the cutting of a birthday cake, the meeting adjourned upstairs to be addressed by Mr. W. B. George, of Kemptville.

"The Life of the Soil", was the subject of Mr. George's address. "A handful of earth is not an inert, dead thing as so many people believe, but a mass of living, working organisms, that form the foundation of most of our economy," said Mr. George. The fruits of the soil are many and varied, the speaker pointed out, but for every growth harvested, something is taken from the growing ability of the soil and must be replaced. It is this fact that the farmers and gardners must recognize more and more, if they are to continue to reap the benefits of a bountiful Nature.

To illustrate his address, Mr. George showed an excellent sound and colour film, "The Life of the Soil".

The speaker, who was introduced by Mrs. P. J. Gilroy, was thanked by Mrs. A. B. Clayton.

WHY THE STAKES?

A mysterious line of stakes starting near the white crossing a mile and a half west of Chesterville has recently appeared, perhaps out of the latest snow banks. Curiosity has been aroused as to how they got there and for what purpose. They stretch on the north side of the railway right of way eastward through McElroy's triangular field and on down through the Hummel farm. There has been considerable speculation as to the routing of No. 7 highway eastward from Smiths Falls to Montreal. It was brought up when Hon. George Doucett visited Chesterville in company with Hon. G. H. Challies some time ago. The information gleaned at that time from any remarks by the Minister of Highways was practically nil.

If the stakes now planted north of the railway tracks have any bearing on highway matters they do not point to anything favorable in connection with a new bridge over the Nation in Chesterville.

JOHN Q. PUBLIC FOOTING THE BILL

About every day and a half the public is regaled with the announcement that prices have advanced on one thing or another. The latest is an advance of one cent a pound on the price of sugar in any quantity. Then comes gasoline up a cent a gallon. That's not too bad because most motorists expected at least three cents a gallon increase and are pleased to find it less than expected.

The point is that the public always has to foot the bill following an increase in costs of production whether by a raise in wages or cost of material. When that time comes the cheers of victory have died away and there is nothing else to do but pay for the fun.

A heading in a daily paper announces "Liquor by glass back today but only Toronto benefits". Benefits from what?

A THIRD OF YOUR EARNINGS IN TAXES

The federal government's practice of taxing citizens on their taxes has been carried to such an extreme it is no longer possible for any breadwinner to do more than estimate the extent to which he labours for the state.

Below is an "average" tax bill, based on collections for the tax year 1945, of an Ontario wage earner in the $3,000 income group, who is buying his home and driving a car.

Income tax, 95 per cent of which is collected from his pay envelope, $500.

Sales tax, non-deductible from income taxes, $137.

Excise taxes and duties (non-deductible) $151.

Customs duties (non-deductible) $54.

Property tax (non-deductible) $135.

Motor license and gasoline tax (non-deductible) $45.

A total of one thousand and twenty-two dollars or more than a third of his earnings.

And this makes no allowance for radio licenses and the incidental fees and taxes, collected by one or the other of the three taxing powers, all of them non-deductible.

TEXTILE TOWN GROWS

World War II marked a turning point in Canada's industrial career, for prior to that time a larger percentage of the gainfully employed population were engaged in agriculture than were engaged in manufacturing. Today manufacturing leads agriculture as an employer.

An example of industrial growth in the heart of an agricultural district is the City of Drummondville in the Province of Quebec. Before the first Great War Drummondville was a small town of less than 2,000 population. Due almost entirely to the development of the textile industry in this district its population increased to 6,521 by 1931 and today stands at approximately 27,000.

Although the city now supports numerous other small industries, the spinning, weaving, knitting and dyeing of various textiles employs over 6,000 of Drummondville's gainfully employed workers.

LIFE

By William Wordsworth

Our birth is but a sleep and a forgetting;
The Soul that rises with us, our life's Star,
Hath had elsewhere its setting
And cometh from afar;
Not in entire forgetfulness,
And not in utter nakedness,
But trailing clouds of glory do we come
From God who is our home:
Heaven lies about us in our infancy!
Shades of the prison-house begin to close
Upon the growing Boy,
But he beholds the light, and whence it flows,
He sees it win his joy;
The Youth, who daily farther from the east
Must travel, still in Nature's priest,
And by the vision splendid
Is on his way attended.
At length the Man perceives it die away,
And fade into the light of common day.

HOW TO OBTAIN BETTER CORN

(Experimental Farm News)

Better corn can be grown if proper recognition and attention is given to a few basic principles of crop production. These include the choice of hybrid or variety, the soil and its fertility and preparation, the time and rate of planting, cultivation and the time of harvest, says Dr. F. Dimmock, Forage Crops Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Irrespective of whether the crop is to be grown for silage or husking the hybrid or variety selected should be adapted to the area of production. The soil type should be suitable for corn growing. Usually loam soils are satisfactory, providing they are well drained and fertile, with the principle nutritive elements, nitrogen, phosphorus and potash present in sufficient amounts and in the right proportions. If any of these elements are lacking yields will suffer. Thorough soil preparation is necessary. Weed control may be largely accomplished before the crop is planted. Good results cannot be expected unless planting is done at the proper time. Corn for silage in Eastern Canada is frequently planted too late. Unless the season is very favourable the crop hasn't sufficient time to reach the stage of maturity necessary for the best quality silage. The practice of allowing corn to become frosted to reduce its moisture because of immaturity is a poor one and results in lowering the quality and reducing the feed value of the silage. Rate of planting is just as important as time of planting. Corn that is spaced 10 to 12 inches apart in the rows will yield equally as well or better than closer spacing and will result in the production of better quality silage, because of satisfactory maturity. The effect of cultivation upon the crop is obvious. Weeds are robbers and should be destroyed.

Choice of the right hybrid or variety, planting on good soil, well prepared and properly fertilized, together with the right time and rate of planting will result in better corn, irrespective of whether the crop is to be used for silage or for husking.

Further information on the growing of corn may be obtained from the Division of Forage Plants, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

The Pathway Of Progress

by R.J.Deachman

Once back home I stood with an old friend of mine on a farm to which his father came almost a hundred years ago. My friend pointed to a combine working in a field 40 rods away from where we stood. "Look", he said, "the first year my father came to this farm he cleared a litttle corner and sowed wheat among the stumps. It was cut with a sickle threshed over split logs, ground in an old fashioned, hand turned coffee mill—now see the combine, it cuts and threshes the grain. In that period, almost in the span of one human life we have moved from the sickle to the cradle, from the cradle to the reaper, from the reaper to the binder, and now the combine. There is the picture of agriculture in Canada, a century of magnificent progress—where next, where do we go from here?"

In the first census of industry in Canada in 1870 the average factory worker received $220 per year. By 1944 the scene had changed, the Canadian worker was now receiving $1650 a year. How was the change brought about? The fingers of our forefathers were as deft as ours. Within the limitations of their lives their minds were as keen, they worked much longer hours.

What brought about this increased capacity for production, the shorter hours of toil? The answer is that today man's effort to produce is increased by the power of the mighty machines he has summoned to his aid. For every factory worker in Canada, in 1870, there was a capital investment of $420. In 1943 the capital investment per worker was $5,000, more than 12 times as much. In the old days, hand power was a factor in production. Now man has called to his aid these great machines driven mainly by electric power and used, to lighten the burden of toil to increase his capacity to produce.

Now all this would be quite impossible of accomplishment by any other means. Progress, in the future, will come from the use of still more invested capital. The higher the investment, the greater will be the volume of production, the higher will be the earnings of labour. But much capital has been destroyed by war. The world is hungry for more capital. An increase in invested capital will raise the standard of living throughout the world, make this and every other country happier, richer, more prosperous.

Boy Seriously Injured When Hit By Falling Tree

Kenneth Timmins, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Timmins, who reside one mile east of Inkerman, was seriously injured at 2.30 Monday afternoon when he was pinned beneath the limb of a large tree, felled on his father's farm.

He is a patient in Ottawa Civic Hospital where authorities describe his condition as serious. He is suffering from severe chest injuries.

Eye-witnesses, Alfred Baker and Peter Meehan, both of Inkerman, who were working with the youth, said the three had felled and trimmed the tree and young Timmins was picking branches up off the ground when the large crutch of the tree fell over him.

The limb hit the boy on his back and pinned his chest to his knees.

Both Mr. Baker and Mr. Meehan tried to lift the huge tree and free the boy but it was not until the aid of his father was enlisted that he was freed.

He was immediately examined by Dr. W. M. Byers who ordered his removal to hospital by ambulance.

These chicks are an accumulation of chick orders cancelled on account of the feed scare.

Feed scarcity is a temporary situation caused by a shortage of box cars to bring feed from the West. Navigation will open in April and we should see the end of feed shortages by May. We will guarantee feed until June from our own feed store for all chicks purchased from us. Ceiling prices on eggs are removed and eggs should go high in the fall months. We can take orders for May and June chicks in White Leghorns, Barred Rock and Leghorn-Rock Cross.

NOTICE
TO ALL CREAM PRODUCERS IN ONTARIO

A proposed Cream Marketing Scheme for Ontario, under the Farm Products Marketing Act, has been submitted to the Farm Products Marketing Board for consideration, by the Ontario Cream Producers Association.

Before the Board can consider recommending the scheme, it must be satisfied that a fair representation of the Cream Producers are in favour of its adoption. In order to obtain the recorded views of the Producers, a vote by ballot is being taken on the question:—

"ARE YOU IN FAVOUR OF THE PROPOSED ONTARIO CREAM PRODUCERS' MARKETING SCHEME BEING BROUGHT INTO FORCE IN ONTARIO?"

ALL PRODUCERS MUST REGISTER

All producers must register to vote. Two alternative methods of voting are provided to Cream Producers, as follows:—

(1) By personal registration and voting in each Agricultural Representative's office between March 31 and April 30, 1947, or

(2) By personal registration and voting with the Deputy Returning Officer in charge at each local meeting.

PUBLIC MEETINGS TO BE HELD

The Ontario Cream Producers Association is arranging for a Public Meeting or Meetings in each County and District in Ontario during the period from April 1 to April 19. Watch your weekly newspapers for notice of the time and place of your local meeting, or call your Agricultural Representative.

Copies of the proposed scheme may be secured at the Agricultural Representative's Office or at the public meetings.

All ballots must be returned to the Agricultural Representative before April 30, 1947. Any ballots received after that date will not be recorded.

PEP FROM POP

Youngsters crave pops, sodas, and sundaes because rapid growth requires lots of energy. They need these extras to meet demands of growth and development.

National Health nutrition experts suggest that parents can steer the eating habits of children and 'teenagers to healthful channels by providing in-between snacks. These could consist of a glass of milk, with some biscuits or fruit, when the kids come home from school, and in mid-morning, when convenient.

FORESIGHT VERSUS HINDSIGHT

To prove that safety goggles have saved many workers from permanent blindness, the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations cite actual eye cases from records of Ontario plants.

In a memorandum issued this week to industrial executives, an Associations' executive says, "It is known that recently in one Ontario plant nine eyes were saved by safety goggles, apart from other cases in which lenses were so pitted that they needed replacement."

Using the two stories to prove that foresight is better than hindsight, the memo points out, "One is the story of nine eyes saved, the other of five eyes lost. One is the story of perhaps twenty-five or thirty-five dollars worth of goggles. The other is the story of pension awards totalling more than $30,000."

The memo concludes, "There are old sayings to the effect that prevention is better than cure and foresight is better than hindsight. Here is proof."

GARDEN CHATS

By Mrs. Harry Allison

Hello Neighbour!—Well, here we are again. We've Spring in our veins—but there's snow on the ground. Anyway the time is here. My Mother always said that Good Friday is "the day".

Remember one of those long winter nights a few weeks ago? For hours you worried over those gaily illustrated seed catalogues. You picked the tomato seeds that grow absolutely super plants with gorgeous tomatoes by the bushel, guaranteed to resist drought and flood and so on. Then you chose the longest beans and the slimest carrots and the greenest cucumbers and after signing your name to neat little check, you relax. But according to Mother only until Friday.

Every Good Friday for years back, Mother has sowed her tomato seeds. She heats the ground under the stove for several days until it feels just right. This is placed in boxes made by my Dad to fit the windows exactly, and the seeds sowed with the utmost care. Then she waters them with the clothes sprinkler, puts them in a sunny window, and gives them her blessing.

In a few days they are up and what rugged little plants they are. She continues to water them religiously and they reward her by growing like weeds. It isn't long until they are large enough to transplant. In perfect geometric design she places them in larger boxes and they proceed with the growing process. About this time, I always seem to visit her and come home thoroughly disgusted with my futile efforts.

The first nice day early in May she decides they should get some fresh air, so out they go on the porch. Sometimes during the day a lusty spring gale whips up leaving her beautiful plants looking a little haggard. However, after recuperating in the window for about a week they are carefully placed outside again.

By this time those pesky little black flies are on the loose, and succeed in ruining at least half of her cherished seedlings. Not to be defeated, she transplants the remainder into the garden at the first opportunity and it's an even bet that within three days they are finished. If more starving black flies don't succeed in chewing them up, a cut-wom goes to work on them quite methodically or Jack Frost puts forth his final effort.

The next thing she does is to write to me to see if I have any more plants than I need. (This gesture, of course, puffs me up so that I offer her my best.) With the patience of Job, she nurtures, coaxes and dusts these, her last hope of tomatoes. July finds her with several puny plants—the results of long hours of toil and worry. Soon her eyes brighten as she spies the first green fruit. Maybe it was worth the work.

Weeks go by. The tomatoes get bigger but remain the original green. This is the time for the neighbour's hens to enter the scene and even green tomatoes look good to them. The September frosts are coming but for some curious reason the ones that are still left are not ripening. Her spirits sink until she gets a call from me that she can get a bushel hamper or more of ripe tomatoes if she needs them.

With that she vows that never again will she bother her head with tomatoes. But, come Friday, Mother will sow her precious seeds and start the vicious cycle again.

Have you sowed yours yet? It's really time you know. Good luck to you.

Did you send in the Horticultural Membership Certificate to Mrs. Eric Casselman yet? Don't forget. It is important to you—and to us.

So long, neighbour. See you soon.

Guard Those You Love Enrol to Fight Cancer

"A new war is being waged by Canadians everywhere — the war against cancer", says R. F. Bruce Taylor, chairman of the Ontario Cancer Society's Ontario membership drive which takes place during April.

"Our objective is to have a member of the Society in every Ontario home," he adds, pointing out that from April 1st to 30th no effort will be spared by the volunteer campaign committee to spread as much information about cancer—its symptoms and treatment as possible.

"Few people realize," says Mr. Taylor, "that one out of every three people with cancer can be saved—provided they see their doctor in time. Trouble with most people is, they refuse to face the fact that cancer can happen to them. They always think it's the other fellow who's unlucky. The Society's job is to make people conscious that cancer needs immediate medical attention—that an examination can't be postponed to a more convenient time. There are danger signals to watch for—and they are likely to occur at any time to anyone. Children aren't by any means immune, either."

Membership in the Society costs one dollar a person. Members receive up-to-date information regularly about cancer signals and facts about research and treatment.

The Ontario campaign committee includes: R. F. Bruce Taylor, chairman; Mrs. David McLaren, women's chairman; Mrs. C. C. Goldring, G. C. Deeks, M. A. Starkman, D. F. Wilson, Dr. Douglas Tanner, Dr. H. S. Ounham and Dr. A. H. Sellers. Send your dollar to your local Cancer Society committee or mail it to the Ontorio Headquarters, Canadian Cancer Society, 280 Bloor St. West, Toronto. A membership card will be mailed immediately.

ROVING DOGS KILLING MANY DEER

Roving dogs are taking a terrific toll of our deer, the finest game animals found in this part of Ontario, so that all the sportsmen, hunters and conservationists are demanding action against the dogs. Dog owners are reminded that it is an offence under the Game and Fisheries Act (Sect. 3-4) to allow a dog to run at large during the closed season for deer in a locality where they are commonly found, and that officers are authorized to kill such dogs. Officers seldom have to use this authority as the owners usually take the necessary action themselves, but the situation is so serious now that offenders should not be surprised if they are prosecuted.

Instances of dogs running deer are being reported from all sections. Two deer were driven into Kemptville of which one had to be killed and the other was rescued; Overseer J. Alford and L. N. Walsh, Game Overseer of Gananoque found an exhausted three year old buck badly mangled by two hounds and two collies; several have been killed and reported in Lanark County; and in Mountain Township the collies have been making the deer miserable.

Dog owners should tie up their dogs, but if they do not comply, neighbours might well advise them to do so and report anyone who persists in offending.

Why Certified Seed Potatoes Are Good

Canada is so jealous of the unparalleled quality of the country's certified seed potatoes that their sale is strictly regulated. The result of this strictness is that when a farmer buys a bag of seed potatoes certified by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, he does so confident that he is buying the best seed potatoes possible.

Each 75-pound bag of Canadian Certified Seed potatoes is required to carry a tag showing that the contents have been certified by the government. And should this certified seed be re-packaged, the re-packaging can be carried out only under authority of the Plant Protection Division of the Department.

At one time it was possible for an unscrupulous dealer to fill a small package with potatoes of any description and to palm them off as certified seed. Not so to-day. Now, the Plant Protection Division prohibits re-packaging except with its special permission. It grants a permit only when the re-packager undertakes specified precautions.

As for re-packaging certified seed potatoes from a standard 75-pound bag, in which container Prince Edward Island potatoes are frequently shipped to the British West Indies, this can be done only under the supervision of a Plant Protection Division inspector.

Then, too, if a shipment of certified seed has been injured by frost a part of which can be salvaged, the reconditioning can be done only under permit granted by the local inspector and under his supervision.

These precautions may sound elaborate, but they do protect the buyer of certified seed potatoes. At the same time, they ensure the producer maintenance of the good reputation he deserves.

Hello Homemakers! This week you will be starting out to shop for the special Easter meals. To simplify your shopping expedition why not have your marketing planned in advance. It will save you time at the market and money too. Look over the grocer's advertisements in the paper before making up your menu.

I am suggesting some simple but festive meals for Easter Sunday. At the time of writing there is a limited supply of pork products but there is hope of a quantity for next week-end. It is too early yet for spring lamb but the yearling lamb now on the market will make a suitable and appropriate Easter roast, providing you cook it in a slow oven to make it tender. Allow 35 mins. per pound for a leg of lamb and have the oven temperature at 350 degs.

EASTER BREAKFAST MENU

Sliced oranges, poached eggs in brown rice nests, coffee cake and marmalade, milk for children, coffee.

EASTER DINNERS

IN MEMORIAM

Parker—In sad and loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Thomas A. Parker, who passed away April 4th, 1946.

Memories are treasures no one can steal,
Death leaves a heartache no one can heal,
Life is eternal, life will remain,
In God's own time we'll meet again.

Ever remembered by daughters, Willa and Gladys.
