Appointed on Commission

W. H. Casselman, M. L. A. has been appointed by the Drury Government, a member of the Commission to investigate the labor trouble on the Hydro Works at Niagara.

Met With Accident

Mr. C. H. Johnston who had intended leaving for the West on Tuesday has been detained from making the trip as the result of an accident. In order to drive a stake into the ground he mounted the seat of a buggy to get in better position, lost his balance and fell, striking the wheel on his side sustaining painful injuries.

Great Crowd Attends Funeral

Very seldom has there been a greater outpouring of the citizens of the community at a funeral than that which paid its last respects to a departed citizen on Sunday when the remains of the late Calvin M. Fyke were laid to rest in Maple Ridge cemetery. The deceased was widely known throughout Dundas and highly respected by the citizens of Chesterville and vicinity where he had spent practically his whole life. His straightforward business dealings and his exemplary conduct as a good citizen leaves an impression on this community which is a worthy legacy for any one to leave. The funeral under the direction of the I.O.O.F. assisted by the Canadian Foresters was held in the Presbyterian church, where the deceased had for many years been an honored elder. The church held only a small portion of the crowd desirous of entering but those who did received much comfort from the sermon by Rev. C. A. Mullin.

Four past Chief Rangers of the Foresters were among the pallbearers who were H. Hummel, G. W. Bogart, D. Allison, E. McMillan, H. Johnston and W. G. Bolster.

A great many floral tributes were placed on the casket including a wreath from the Presbyterian congregation.

Prominent Resident of Nation Valley Passes Away

After eight months of ill health, the last two and a half months in bed, Mr. John Jamieson passed away on Thursday evening, May 13th, at his home, Oakdale Farm, Nation Valley, at the age of seventy-one years, after a residence there of fifty-one years. He was born in Ireland, coming to Quebec city when but one year old, reaching Winchester township five years later where he spent the remainder of his life.

The deceased was a man of sterling worth and respected by a wide circle of friends who feel keenly his death.

The funeral on Sunday afternoon was one of the largest attended in this section of the country, comprising almost a hundred automobiles and half as many carriages, showing the esteem in which the deceased was held by the many people who knew him. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Mullin, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Hall, Williamsburg. The burial was conducted by the Order of L.O.L. being a loyal member of that society for fifty-four years.

The bearers chosen by himself were Messrs. A. Sweet, G. Hart, J. Weir, M. Bailey, A. Beach and P. Darling, old friends of deceased. Friends attended from Aultsville, Crysler, Iroquois and Morewood.

He leaves to mourn his loss a wife, three daughters and five sons —Mrs. J. A. Shaver, Strathroy, Ont; Agnes of Montreal and Helen at home: Messrs. John, Chas. and Ernest of Saskatchewan, James of Vancouver, B.C. and David of Montreal: Six sisters—Mrs. J. F. Cass, Mrs. Geo. Quart, Mrs. D. McKercher, Mrs. Ellen Rae, Mrs. H. Jackson of Winchester and Mrs. E. Blanchard of Potsdam, N.Y.

Mrs. D. C. Taylor of Montreal, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. W. VanDusen.

Cannamore L.O.L. church parade will take place on Sunday next May 23rd, to the Methodist church Morewood at 2.30 p.m.

Want Whole Cost of Education Paid

W. H. Casselman, M.L.A. was one of a large deputation of representatives from the trustees of the different High Schools of the province which waited on the Minister of Education last week seeking to have provision made for the full payment of the cost of education of pupils attending schools from outside of the school district. Heretofore only 65% of this cost has been borne by the municipality from which the student comes the difference being a burden imposed on the municipality in which the school is situated. It was too late to do anything this year but consideration of the matter was promised by the minister.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. Rich Girl—Poor Girl
As Amy Burke, Miss Pickford depicts the part of a girl whose chief life problem is how to spend money. Amy's day begins with a lesson from a high-priced tutor who is awed by her vast wealth and consequently quite indifferent as to her education. Her other diversion is a high-priced roadster which she pilots around with the speed of a race track marvel. Her wealthy but unscrupulous grandfather has also employed a groom who accompanies her on all auto excursions and whose advice she does not heed.

All of this luxury suddenly fades away showing Amy as a tenement girl whose real character is brought out when her devoted but poor father returns to town after a long absence. She prefers to live in a tenement with her father than to continue living at her grandfather's house without him. How a discovery made by Amy while living in the tenements aids her in restoring to respectability a man whom she loves and whom her grandfather had unjustly sent to the penitentiary makes a pleasing and interesting ending to this second of Miss Pickford's releases under the banner of First National.—Music Hall, Chesterville, May 24th 75c, 50c. 35c.

John Calvin Merkley
The community of Nation Valley and surrounding country received a shock of deep regret on learning of the sudden death of Calvin Merkley on May 10th. Just recovering from a severe attack of lagrippe and thinking it would be benificial to him he took his milk to Chesterville Condensery in the morning, returning he did not complain of feeling any worse for the trip. In the afternoon he went to do some light work in adjoining fields when about four o'clock he was seen to fall and the hired man on hurrying to his side found him breathing his last. Medical assistance was quickly summoned but proved of no avail, an apopletic stroke having caused the sudden death.

Born in Williamsburg in 1860 and coming to Winchester in 1888 he cleared his farm and built the now beautiful country home. In 1891 he married Florence Barkley who predeceased him but six months. To them were born a family of nine children of which six survive viz.—Mrs. Andrew Droppo, Winchester Springs, and Misses Ella, Dorothy, Flossie, Pearl and Delbert at home. He also leaves to mourn his loss four brothers—George, Jas., Frank and Walter also four sisters—Mrs. Jas. Pruner, Mrs. Wm. Beckstead Mrs. P. Zeron and Mrs. Wm. Ferguson.

The funeral service which was very largely attended was conducted at the home by Rev. Hicks, who spoke very feelingly and with great comfort to the bereaved ones. Mr. T. J. Ellis sang in his very appropriate style "Some time we'll understand." The pall bearers were N. G. Moodie, J. A. Munroe, G. C. Merkley, J. E. Grey, G. A. Merkley, and J. B. Merkley.

Interment was made at Maple Ridge cemetry. The deepest sympathy of the entire neighborhood is extended to the bereaved orphan family.

Called from the ones on earth so dear,
Called to his home above
Leaving alone his brood of six
To join the ones he loved.

Called at a moment's notice
To enter the gates ajar,
Thus proving the words of holy writ
How frail we mortals are.

Be willing and waiting to answer
The summons which comes from on high
Be ready to join your loved ones
In realms beyond the sky.

CARD OF THANKS
The family of the late J. C. Merkley wishes to express their gratitude to the friends and neighbors for their many kind thoughtf and acts in their recent bereavement.

Miss Ella V. Merkley.

Shinn-Flat

Lightning Rods
Prevent Lightning Losses

WHEN your buildings are protected with Shinn-Flat Lightning Rods, you may be absolutely sure that they're safe from Lightning damage Shinn-Flat Lightning Rods are the only kind made in the form of a flat cable—which has 36% more conducting surface for electricity than the same amount of material made into a round cable.

Lightning Can't Strike if Shinn Gets There First!

Shinn-Flat prevents the accumulation of electricity in the building, by permitting it to gradually pass from the heavily charged ground and building into the atmosphere above.

Bonded to Protect

A large Bonding Company issues a Surety Bond to the owner of every building we protect, guaranteeing that Lightning will not damage.

Miss Sarah O'Grady, Deceased

The heartfelt sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. M. S. O'Grady of Connaught, on the death of their beloved daughter Sarah twenty years of age. She was a clever student of High School here in which she greatly advanced in learning, then attended Cornwall Commercial College where illness compelled her to give up last Fall. During the past six months, she had been failing in health and although best of medical attendance and nursing were given her, was of no avail and on Sunday at 4 p. m. May 9th, her spirit took its flight to the Heavenly home awaiting her. A modest, dutiful child whose soul was filled with piety. She had a wonderful affection for her parents and sisters who keenly feel their loss. We hope that our dear Lord as he has promised will not leave them comfortless but will return again and visit them with Divine consolation. The funeral to St. Mary's Church on Tuesday last was the largest seen in years. Rev. Fr. Corrigan had Funeral Mass. The body was interred in the lower R. C. cemetery. She leaves to mourn, her parents and two sisters Misses Francis, teacher of Connaught and Miss Rose to whom we again extend our sincerest sympathy.

An Endless Chain of Strikes

(St. John Standard.)

When a union man with the strike habit kicks about the price and scarcity of sugar it would be well if the grocer could show him a chart which appears in the latest issue of the American Sugar Bulletin

This chart shows that from the first of January to the present there has not been a day when the manufacture or shipment of sugar has not been impeded by strikes.

Plantation workers went out in Hawaii and Porto Rico. Refinery employes struck in Chalmette and Revere. Dock workers struck in Havana, Jamaica, New Orleans and Boston. Boatmen struck in New York and Philadelphia. The railroad strike added to the agony.

Sugar of course is but one of many important industries. All the others could be charted in the same way. Business is completely interlocked and a strike in one line affects practically all the other lines.

The striking switchman who growls because there is no sugar in the bowl must remember that he was one of the causes. And he is being blamed by the Havana dock laborer who has no flour in the biu.

"The Boy and the Cigarette"

As tobacco is a narcotic, the pleasant sensations it gives to the practised smoker are due to the benumbing influence it has upon the nerves. This means that the nerves lose some of their power and cannot do their work well. Dr. Carver, the famous rifle shot, created a sensation in England by his marvellous quickness and accuracy in shooting. He would take a handful of glass marbels throw them up into the air, and then shoot and smash each one before any of them reached the ground. This required the utmost quickness of eye and sureness of touch. To continue his feats he found it necessary to abstain from tobacco as well as alcohol. Tobacco deadens the power of the nerves and the man loses the full control of his muscles and cannot have them do their utmost at crisis of game or race.

If this is true in a full grown man what of growing and undeveloped boys. In the boy's case the nerves and brain are hindered in growing and if the habit is persisted in, he will become mentally dwarfed. Some distinguished men are smokers but the habit was not formed till they reached manhood.

Tobacco has an injurious effect on the blood. It makes blood thinner and weaker. Notice boys who smoke. They are pale, the face is bloodless, and they are disinclined for real fun and hearty play.

Tobacco affects the heart in two ways. First, by narcotizing the nerves of the heart, some control is lost and the heart beats faster. Second, it makes the heart soft and flabby. Excessive tobacco produces in some men what is known as "smokers heart." In boys the evil is greatly increased. The effect of tobacco on stomach is indigestion. The boy who indulges in cigarettes even if he escapes the more terrible consequences of the practice is only too likely to lay up for himself a manhood cursed with indigestion and a more miserable condition can scarcely be imagined.

Tobacco also injures the eyesight. Perhaps the most common question an oculist puts to one who consults him is; "How much do you smoke?" Tobacco effects all the senses but seems to have a peculiar dislike for the eyes.

Has Human Touch says London Telegraph

The place which the Salvation Army now holds in public estimation it has won not as one of the innumerable religious sects which flourish—or languish—but as an Organization for the Social uplifting of the poorest classes of the people. That is the great work which The Salvation Army has accomplished. Long since we have all grown accustomed to The Army and its Bands and Flags and processions. Its methods no longer startle and shock. Its "enthusiasm" is no longer questioned as to whether it is diabolic or inspired.

The Army is now an established Church with branches all over the world, doing a work which not even the most bigoted sceptics can challenge. Its dogmas are few, but staunchly held, and the one that makes the most universal appeal is that no man ever falls so low as to be not worth picking out of the gutter.

This is the glowing core, as we understand it, of Salvationism. Its special sphere of social work is among the outcast, and it holds religion to be the strongest regenerating force in the world.

The Salvation Army is bold in experiment, and not all its social experiments have fulfilled the high hopes which led to their inception. But it works its hardest wherever there is suffering; it hates vice but pities the vicious, and it has the human touch without condescension or disdain. The human touch! That is what so many of the Churches seem to have lost in the opinion of the very poor, who surely must be held to be the best judges of their own feelings.

We hope this Appeal will be generously answered. The Salvation Army is one of the most living forces of our time in its care for the bodies and the souls of men.

BIBLE SCHOOL LESSON
Sunday May 23--1 Samuel 9;15--10:24

Golden Text;—Only fear Jehovah and serve Him in truth with all your heart—I Sam. 12:24.

Topic—Israel's First King.

The elders of Israel gave Samuel four reasons for their desire to have Israel changed from a theocracy to a monarchy.

(1) Chap. 8;5 Samuel was growing old.

(2) His sons were not fit to succeed him.

(3)—The nations around them had kings.

(4) Verse 20—Their ruler would be able to lead them in war and not be merely a priest or a judge.

Samuel did not approve of such a change but took the matter to the Lord, who told him the people had not rejected him but Jehovah. God told him also to grant their request after warning them of the fate they would bring upon themselves in having a king. The warning was given in no uncertain words but the people, as God had foreseen, persisted in their wilful request, so Samuel, putting aside his personal feelings, prepared to welcome his successor.

The Israelites had had many able leaders such as Moses, Joshua and Samuel, who made known God's will as it was revealed to them by Jehovah. But not content with being "a peculiar people" with leaders under divine guidance they desired to be governed like the heathen nations around them, by a king who would lead them in battle. As God yielded to the wishes of the Israelites, even so does he sometimes permit us to have our own way, to show us that where we might have had real treasure we were content with troubles.

You will notice it was not a group of irresponsible people who made this request for a king but the elders of Israel, the heads of families, virtually the Congress of the Hebrews. They had reason for dissatisfaction with the state of Israel, but evidently it was only with the wordly state, not the spiritual. Had they strengthened their allegiance to their Heavenly King, victory and success would have been theirs in a far greater measure than could possibly come to them through an earthly ruler.

Many of our churches to-day are conscious of their failure but, like Irsael, of old, they seek to strengthen their cause by conforming to the ways of the world forgetting the Master's command "Come ye out from among them and be ye separate". God's people must always be "a peculiar people" living in this world as Christ would live, winning not the praise and commendation of the world nor what the world counts success; but the "Well done, good and faithful servant" of the Master, and the "crown of life which fadeth not away.

Since Israel would not be guided by Jehovah in the best way, God did the best He could for them in their own way and directed Samuel in the selection of a king whom they might be proud. The study of Saul's character, of the many noble qualities he possessed at the beginning of his career as king of Israel, and of the ignoble qualities that developed or were afterwards apparent, forms one of the most instructive lessons in the Old Testament. In the first place "there was not among the children of Israel a goodlier person than he; from his shoulders and upward he was higher than any of the people". He was gifted with a splendid physique, an important matter in one whose chief duty was to lead his soldiers into battle. As to moral qualities Saul was also richly endowed. He was trustworthy, having been sent by his father on an important errand. His consideration for others was shown by his wish to return home after some days' absence lest his father should be anxious about him. These may seem minor virtues but they stand out in sharp contrast to the frivolity and arrogance often seen in youth. Other qualities which specially fitted Saul to be a ruler were his modesty self restraint and enthusiasm. Saul had been living quietly at home, his family "the least of all the families of the tribe of Benjamin, the smallest of the tribes of Israel". Yet God singled him out of all Israel to be their first king. "If we are prepared to shine, God will find the candlestick; if we are prepared to work, God will find us something to do. Only be ready and willing for anything".

We have recently had an example of the truth of this statement. Many of the men who are now serving their country in the Legislature of Ontario were a few short months ago, quietly performing their daily tasks with no thought or expectation of the public office and power so soon to be conferred upon them.

Saul showed self-control and forbearance in taking no notice of those who did not welcome him as their king or bring him gifts in token of their allegiance. The ability to control oneself when treated with indignity or offence is a noble quality, usually the result of faith in a Higher Power.

Formerly Saul had shown no religious zeal but at the time of his annointing it became the ruling power in his life. Had this "conversion" only lasted as did that of Saul of Larsus he might have become the Paul of the Old Testament.

Widow (tearfully): "John was such a man to worry when things didn't go right. He simply wore himself out doing it. Why, the very last day he lived he was fretting because the price of coal had gone up half a crown a ton". Minister (trying to say something consoling) "Is that so, Mrs. Brown? Well, well, you must console yourself that your husband is beyond trouble at last. He won't have to worry over the price of coal where he is now".

Yes He's Some Man

He may wear a last year's straw hat; his finger nails may need manicuring; his vest may hang a little loose, and his pants may bag at the knees; his face may show signs of a second-day's growth, and the tin dinner bucket he carries may be full of dents and doughnuts; but don't you call him "the old man." He's your father.

For years and years he has been rustling around to get things together. Never once has he failed to do the right thing by you. He thinks you are the greatest boy on earth, bar none, even though you plaster your hair back, wear smart clothes, smoke cigarettes, and fail to bring home a cent. He is the man who won the love and life partnership of the greatest woman on earth—your mother. He is "some" man and not "the old man."

Dodge Bros.' Motor Cars

Touring and Roadster $2050 F.O.B. Brockville

As long as they build motor cars they will be the best motor cars Dodge Brothers can build.

As long as the name is attached to their motor car, Dodge Brothers may be depended upon to safeguard and protect it.

The name has come to suggest integrity—integrity in the car, and integrity in manufacturing and business methods of the men who buiid it.

The first thought that follows, wherever it is seen, is the thought of a car that is reliable.

They call up a picture of a particular kind of a motor car.

Or, to be exact, a particular kind of motor car workmanship, which people have come to associate with the name Dodge Brothers.

It has grown because the users of these cars have given Dodge Brothers a good name as careful, conscientious manufacturers.

The result is that wherever these two words—Dodge Brothers—are seen, they stand as a symbol of exceptional motor car value.

Your Child's Future

WHAT ?

Educational endowment policies. The main object of these policies is to provide a fund for the Education of children on arriving at adult ages.

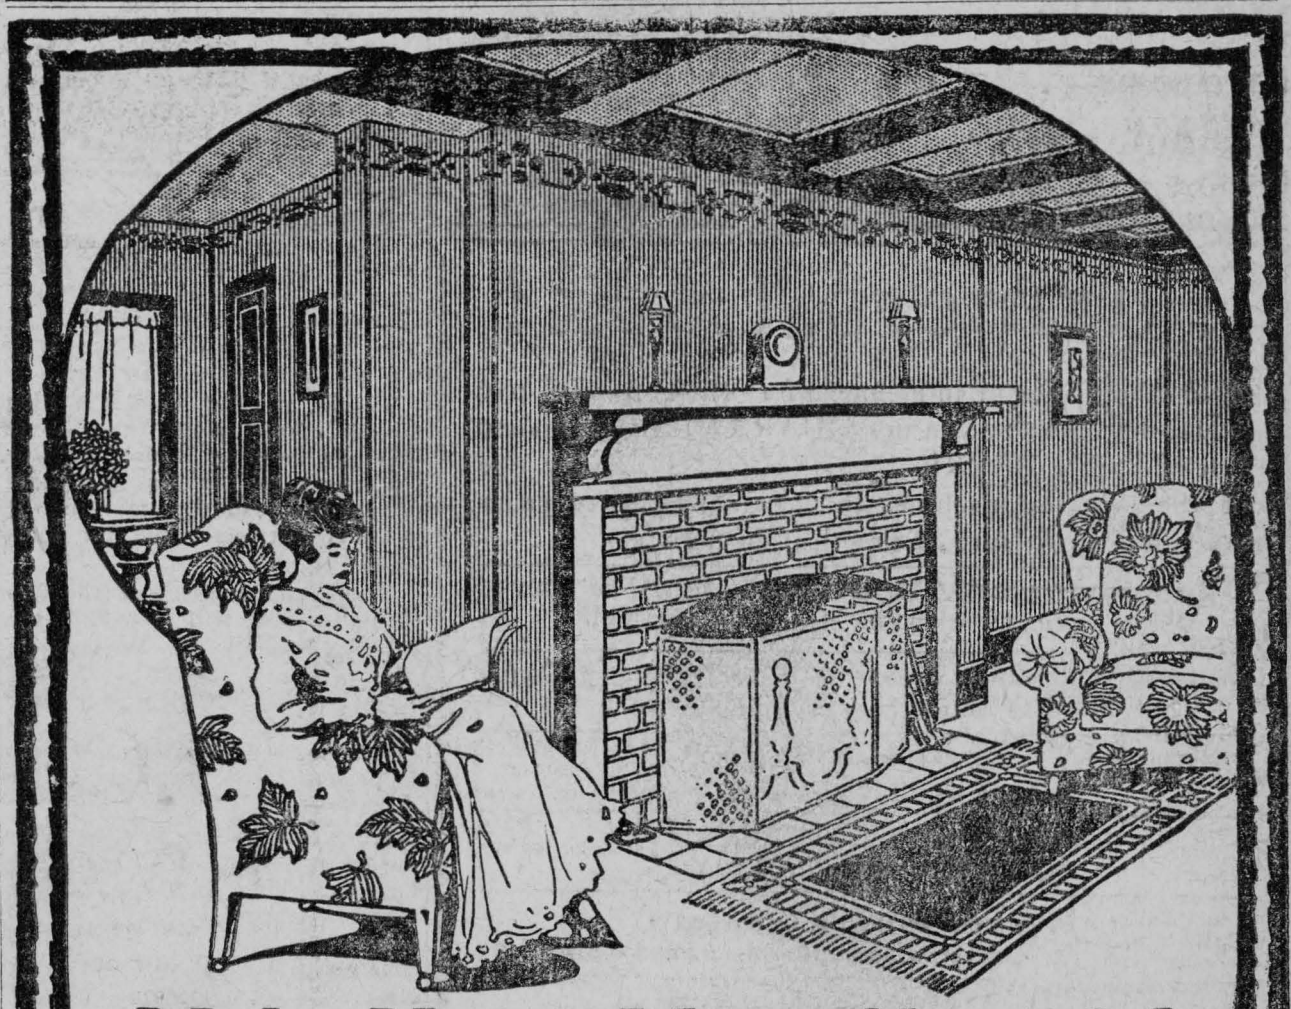

The usual form of children's Endowment has been found to possess one great disadvantage, namely, that in the event of the parent, or it is often impossible to continue the payment of premiums, and the policy is thus allowed to lapse.

The present plan completely overcomes this objection by providing that in the event of the death of the parent or guardian before the policy matures, no further premiums will be required, but the policy will become automatically paid up, and the sum assured will nevertheless be payable in full if the child survives the Endowment term.

Should the child die during the Endowment period, all premiums will be returned.

Further particulars will be furnished on request. Mail a card to-day.
