Café Théâtre enchants Benson parents

The parents of Benson Public School students were treated to a Parisienne style café luncheon and entertainment on Monday, June 16.

After last year's sold out performance, Michelle Peters, the Benson Public School French teacher was excited about this year's café théâtre. "All the junior and intermediate students took part in preparing for the program. They were able to decide if they wanted to participate in a rap, a dance, or a play. The primary students prepared a play and a song."

The students enjoyed preparing for the event and helped not only with the entertainment, but with creating the sets and decorating the gymnasium, as well as designing the program. Hand made tissue paper flowers decorated each table in the café which boasted the red, white and blue colours of the French flag. Grade 7 student Spencer Disheau was proud of the work he and fellow classmates did preparing the scenery for 'Louis la Greniouille'. "While the grade 6 students were doing testing we got to make the props. We made ponds and trees and genie lamps as well as cattails and a barn. It was really fun."

These Grade 6-7-8 students at Benson were performing their song, Le Rap d'entree to a receptive audience on Monday afternoon.

Jessica Beckstead commented on the amount of work that went into preparing for the big event. "It was difficult to learn everything. We had to practice a lot but it was worth it." The primary students staged 'La Poule Maboule', a French version of 'Chicken Little' playing their parts in masks they made themselves.

While parents and guests were treated to the songs, dances and plays performed by the Benson student they enjoyed sandwiches donated by the 730 Truck Stop and desserts prepared by staff and parent volunteers. The café théâtre was also an opportunity for the students to teach their guest some French words and gestures.

"The café théâtre is a celebration of French and the AIM program," stated Benson Public School Principal Sarita Anderson. "It allows the students to showcase their love of French. You can hear them speaking French in the hallways." The AIM program is an innovative approach to language learning that reinforces vocabulary with easy to remember and meaningful gestures.

Michelle Peters was pleased with the success of the show and the positive reception of French education in Cardinal. She thanked all those who made the event possible, including the staff and parents of Benson, the 730 Truck Stop, and the Iroquois Legion for the use its of tables.

Bird Sanctuary Opens new trail, holds Spirit Walk

On Friday, July 4, at 4:30 p.m., the Friends of the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary will be opening up their newest nature trail.

The new path, entitled the Memory Lane Trail, is built so that people of all ages and abilities will be able to enjoy it; the trail is wheelchair accessible, and four benches have been set along the length of the path so that those who are tired of hiking can take some time to rest. A new parking lot has also been constructed to accompany the trail. The path circles around two of the Bird Sanctuary's goose ponds on the north side of the St. Lawrence River.

The Memory Lane Trail was built to honour past Friends of the Sanctuary. Plaques in their honour have been placed on the four benches which accompany the trail, so that passers-by and tired hikers can see to whom the path is dedicated. This year, the group of past Friends of the Sanctuary who will be honoured includes Art Buckmaster, Lennie Buckmaster, Ralph Flintoff, Rod Hummel, Hilda Norton, and Rob Saunders.

After the grand opening of the Memory Lane Trail, an informal barbecue will be held at the Sanctuary Interpretive Centre. Following the barbecue, the Spirit Walk will be held, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

The Spirit Walk is an annual guided tour that is held by the Friends of the Sanctuary. Attendees are guided through a trail in which actors masquerade as the spirits of historic characters, and events from the past are re-enacted. The Spirit Walk will also be held on Saturday, July 5, at 6:30 p.m.

The Spirit Walk costs $6 per adult, and $1 per child under twelve years of age; however, there are a limited amount of spots available for the event, and those wishing to attend must reserve in advance. Registrations can be done by telephoning 936-2381.

The Friends of the Sanctuary are also continuing to hold their meetings on the second Thursday of every month, at 7 p.m. These meetings are free to attend for anyone, and they showcase the upcoming events and activities that the Friends have planned for the Bird Sanctuary. The next Friends meeting will be held on July 10.

More information about the Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary and the Friends of the Sanctuary can be found by visiting the Friends' web site at www.friendsofthesanctuary.org.

Seaway Referral Network holds annual dinner

Members of the Seaway Referral Network held their annual dinner with invited guests at the McIntosh Inn, on Wednesday, June 4. Guest speaker Pat Macdonald, CEO and General Manager of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, inspired everyone with a wide-ranging talk on the wealth of possibilities and opportunities for tourism and development waiting to be tapped here in the Upper Canada Region, within the 'golden triangle' of Kingston-Cornwall-Ottawa.

The Parks of the St. Lawrence has become one of the largest tourism destinations in Eastern Ontario, extending 200 kilometers from Kingston to near the Quebec border. Facilities include thousands of hectares of park land and attractions on the St. Lawrence Heritage Corridor that provide a major source of recreational opportunities for residents and visitors to the Eastern Ontario Gateway to Ontario.

Parks of the St. Lawrence attractions

include Upper Canada Village, Fort Henry, Queen Elizabeth Gardens, Chrysler Park Marina, Upper Canada Golf Course, Upper Canada Migratory Bird Sanctuary, Long Sault Parkway and 1000 Islands Parkway, a series of 12 riverside day-use area parks and campgrounds, recreational trails and several restaurants and gift stores. The purpose of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission is to generate lasting visitor growth, drive economic prosperity and build community partnerships in Eastern Ontario. The Seaway Referral Network was founded in 1997 by JP Robertson and Jacques Asselin. The purpose of the network is to promote entrepreneurship and economic growth. The members refer their fellow members in order to promote business in the community. Bi-monthly meetings, which are conducted in a friendly, collegial yet professional manner, allow the membership to keep in touch with each other and remain knowledgeable about the business activities of all members. The Seaway Referral Network has become an integral part of the community, supporting a bursary at Seaway District High School in the past, and more recently, promoting public speaking in youth by sponsoring a speech contest.

At present, Don Graham of the D.I.A.M.O.N.D.S. Conservation Land Trust is Chair of the network. For more information about the Seaway Referral Network visit www.seawayreferralnetwork.ca.

Great idea in the wrong hands

The annual debate over the use of pesticides for cosmetic use is on the table again.

Despite all of the information available to anyone who wants to do a bit of research about pesticides, the debate still rages on.

The provincial government wants to come up with a cosmetic pesticide law that all municipalities would have to follow. The only problem being that in doing what it thinks is the correct thing government is taking away another opportunity for municipalities to get on with job of governing themselves.

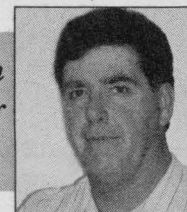

Banning certain pesticides and their use is a great idea however you have to be careful how you go about doing it.

The Bill is called Bill 64. Critics of the Bill suggest that it may do more harm than good as more than likely it will take away the ability of a municipality to pass home grown by-laws regarding cosmetic pesticide use.

A thought...

by Joseph Morin

From me to you

A spokesperson for just about any ancient civilization would be laughing his or her head off at us modern day residents of the planet.

Ironically, what the hippies of the 60's and 70's were railing about has indeed come to pass. Or so the pundits would have you believe.

We have the best quality of life factor than any previous generation or for that matter any other civilized society, but the prevailing feeling out there on the street is that we have lost our way. We also have the best form of democratic government that you will find anywhere in the world but to many our system of governance is failing.

I have to disagree. Stories about global warming, the price of gas and our overall health always make for good reading especially if you can find a bad guy to point the finger at.

Government will do exactly what you want it to do, within the parameters that they have to work with, but you have to let them know what you want. It is ironic that the same people that will lay down their life in Afganistan for their concept of truth and justice will never ever go to a council meeting and ask a few questions.

Twenty or so years ago the pop band Super Tramp came up with a cd entitled "The Crime of the Century" the particular song that they wrote as representative of the cd title basically pointed out that we all were responsible for taking part in the "rape of the universe".

This was pretty amazing stuff to think about. Once accepted, it was a perfect opportunity for all of us to blame ourselves for every single calamity taking place on the planet. Almost a quarter of a century later our various government continue the message of how we are all responsible for whatever happens next. They must have just recently heard the song.

Before the sense of guilt sets in about causing global warming and the rest of the ills of the planet, stop and think for a second.

You never have to believe what someone is telling you unless you want to. I do not remember when I was supposed to have threatened a polar bear nor do I remember deciding that the gasoline engine was the only way to go. I always hang my washing on the line and I even brake for turtles.

This past week I had to slow down and stop for a turtle that was trying to cross the Brinston Road. The turtle made it across on the first day but on the second decided, for whatever reason, that the South Nation River was not where he wanted to go and this morning decided to make his or her way back. I stopped for a second time and watched the turtle lumber, without a care in the world, back the way he came across the Brinston Road.

I chose to allow for the turtle's particular mission whatever it was. I exercised my right to stop my car and wait for the crossing to be complete.

How is that for freedom of choice. We all have to remember that we as voters, neighbours and citizens of a fractured planet have the real control over events.

The real crime of the century to me is that we seem to have bought into the notion that even though we have little control over the reality outside of ourselves, we are expected to be responsible for it.

Anniversary celebrations of Saunders Generating Station

The R.H. Saunders Generating Station – the hydroelectric generating station that forever changed the landscape of south-eastern Ontario will proudly celebrate its 50th anniversary with special celebrations organized by Ontario Power Generation (OPG) in Cornwall, Ontario on Saturday, June 28th, 2008.

The Open House and station tour will run from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Festivities at the generating station include activities for children as well as videos, photographic displays, artifacts, plant tours and refreshments. There will also be an unveiling of a commemorative plaque at 11:30 a.m. officiated by OPG representatives and local dignitaries. Closed-toe shoes and flat heels must be worn on the plant tour. Directions to the R.H. Saunders plant can be found at www.opg.com.

To commemorate the 50th anniversary of the generating station, Howard Cable, one of Canada's great composers, has been commissioned by OPG to compose an original musical composition. "The Dream of Power – the St. Lawrence Project Suite" will be performed at the open house by the Seaway Winds Concert Band.

The Robert H. Saunders

Generating Station's 50th anniversary activities coincide with the 50th anniversary of the Lost Villages Historical Society and kicks-off with year-long celebrations leading to the St. Lawrence Seaway's 50th anniversary in 2009.

Ontario Power Generation Inc. is an Ontario-based electricity generation company whose principal business is the generation and sale of electricity in Ontario. The final meeting of the Healers was one of jubilation as the results of the 19 member team's fundraising efforts were calculated - the $60,000 goal was reached and surpassed! The goal was set in honour of Winchester District Memorial Hospital's 60th anniversary, and the efforts of the team were relentless in pursuit of that goal.

The Weekend to End Breast Cancer was held on Saturday June 7 and Sunday June 8, and began at Rockcliffe Base in Ottawa at 7:00 am with coffee, stretches and high excitement among the nearly 800 walkers.

An inspirational and emotional ceremony kicked off the 60 km walk, in which 5 survivors - two of them from the Winchester Hospital Healers - carried empty running shoes to the stage, and spoke to the reason they were participating. Healer Sue Keeler, holding one pair of shoes, was visibly moved as everyone thought of their own special reasons for participating in this challenging yet powerful event.

"I'm very proud of our team," said Co-

Administrator Christina Enright. "The thought of walking 60 km was a challenge; the need to raise $2,000 each was a challenge; finding the time to train was a challenge - but the end result was a life-altering experience that will make a difference in the treatment and research of cancer."

Winchester District Memorial Hospital is an active partner with the Ottawa Regional Cancer Foundation (ORCF) in this major event, which has seen nearly $100,000 return to WDMH for our own cancer programs.

Linda Eagen, President and CEO of ORCF states: "Soon, one in two people will be diagnosed with cancer in their lifetime. The Ottawa Regional Cancer Foundation is very proud to partner with the Winchester District Memorial Hospital and Foundation to provide access to world class treatment close to home. Events like the Weekend to End Breast Cancer are a wonderful demonstration of what can be achieved through teamwork and collaboration." Over $2.1 million was raised during the event.

UCDSB enters into Building 2020 phase

THERESA ROACH

METROLAND STAFF

The Upper Canada District School Board (UCDSB) has started the next phase in the Boundary 2020 process called Building 2020.

The process, which includes the closure of 13 elementary schools between 2008-2012 and sending Grade 7 and 8 students to high school, has been ongoing since last Sept. Co-chair of Boundary 2020 Phil Dawes says the board is currently in the process of organizing regional working teams to help make the transition smoothly.

These teams will include school principals, parents, staff and students who will work with the regional superintendents to implement the changes.

"We are trying to get this up and running. The teams will be organized when the new school year starts in Sept. They will make sure the students make a smooth transition and that there is a welcoming environment for them," said Dawes.

Some of the things the teams will help with are school layout and the movement of furniture. Dawes added that if a parent wanted to get involved they should let the principal know and stressed that even if they aren't part of a team they always have the opportunity to get involved through their school council.

"The school councils will have a role to play in this process," said Dawes.

Part of Building 2020 includes long-time Seaway District High School Principal Roy Lalonde taking on a new role as Principal of Transition and Implementation of Grades 7 to 12 in Sept. He will help prepare both Seaway and South Grenville District High School for this configuration in time for the 2009 school year.

"It is going to be a challenging and interesting role. I am looking forward to laying the groundwork for the implementation of Grades 7 to 12," said Lalonde.

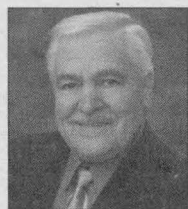

He added that he plans to visit as many institutions in the province that already have the 7 to 12 model as possible to see how they work and what plans are in place for them. Lalonde said that the blueprint for these schools (Seaway and South Grenville) will be used at other schools as they move to this configuration.

"One of the parents' concerns is having their Grade 7 or 8 child with high school students. We have to find out why and work to make the parents and kids feel safe in the high school environment," said Lalonde.

Highland Games this Saturday

The Spencerville Fairgrounds will be invaded by the sights and sounds of Scotland on the third Saturday in June.

The fairgrounds will play host to the fifth annual Veterans' Memorial Highland Games and Celtic Festival on June 21st. The event is dedicated to the men and women who have served in the Canadian Forces. The Games celebrate the traditions of piping and drumming that are part of Canada's military heritage.

The Highland Games will include traditional piping, drumming, dancing, and heavyweight events. The massed bands will open and close the ceremonies, and piping and drumming competitions will take place throughout the day. More than 15 pipe bands will participate, including the Glengarry Pipe Band, which will serve as the duty band for the day.

Scottish dancing will also be part of the festivities, with both Highland dance competitions, and Scottish country dancing demonstrations. Kilted competitors from across Canada and the U.S. will participate in sports that include sheaf, stone, and caber tossing. Celtic music, Highland cattle and children's games are also on the agenda for day.

Antique military vehicles will also be on display. A unit of the Canadian Army Veterans Motorcycle Units is expected to attend the games as well.

New to this year's games will be a tug of war competition, featuring the Cameron Highlanders, S.D. & G Highlanders and the Brockville Rifles tug of war teams.

As well a "Skirls and Birls" event has been added to the entertainment schedule. During this event, makeshift bands will compete for audience applause and a $50 first prize. This event will start at about 6:30 p.m.

Wally's Café heralds new Playhouse season

The Upper Canada Playhouse opened its 25th season with a brilliant production of the Broadway Hit, Wally's Café. This three person play follows the trials and tribulations of a New Jersey couple as they attempt to earn a living in their hamburger shaped restaurant set in the Nevada desert. Too far from the highway and competing with arch rival Bernie's, the business is doomed from the start, but Wally (Doug Tangney) and Louise (Susan Greenfield) struggle through 41 years of false hope and loving forgiveness.

The first customer to visit the diner in the summer of 1940, the day before the grand opening, is

Janet Chester (AnnaMarie Lea) on her way from Illinois to Hollywood to realize her dream of stardom. Her rendition of Red Red Robin is perhaps the funniest scene in the play, and convinces Wally and Louise that Janet would be better off as a sales girl at Woolworth's than attending auditions in Hollywood. Janet refuses to be diverted from pursuing her goal, and we see her next in Scene 2, which is set in the summer of 1958. Janet is working with Wally and Louise as a waitress in the café after her marriage to a Hollywood stuntman ends in scandal. (According to Janet, she didn't mean to fire the gun). The audience learns that Wally's Café has struggled through the past 18 years, and a number of personal secrets are hilariously revealed by the three characters.

The final Act of the play is set in the summer of 1981. Wally and Louise are packing it in and heading for life in an old folks home. Despite their struggles and Wally's failing memory, the love between the two is very apparent. Susan Greenfield portrays an elderly Louise with remarkable verisimilitude and Wally's faulty recall has the audience in stitches. As they pack their final boxes, Janet enters, delivered by limousine and decked out in jewels, ready to reward her two best friends for past kindnesses.

There are many funny and touching moments in the play, and the characters grow and change over the years, revealing a few important truths about life. The set is fantastic with a realistic desert visible through the café windows. This is a well-produced, well-acted and fast-paced comedy. A perfect choice to herald in a new season at the Playhouse.

Ask a Master Gardener

BY PATRICIA STACHON
UNITED COUNTIES
MASTER GARDENER

Q. I would like to plant an obedient plant in my garden. What does it look like?

A. Obedient Plant, Pysostigia virginiana is a late summer blooming perennial, shoots about 4 feet or more, very easy to grow and spreads like wildfire. The flowers are similar to small snapdragons.

The colours are white or purple and flowers can be repositioned at any angle that you desire.

From the bottom of the stem they can be positioned at any angle and will stay as you put them. Hence the name obedient plant. This plant is related to mint and if you know how it spreads you know what I mean by running. The excess roots can be sliced and thrown away. Like mint, obedient plant will do well along the banks of a stream or a pond. It has wandering ways so be careful. It is easily pulled.

Q. How can you tell a female winterberry from a male winterberry?

A. This is difficult unless you are an expert. Male and female flowers appear on separate plants and both must be present for the female to set fruit. One male plant can adequately pollinate 2-3 female plants. If placed within an acre this is an adequate distance for successful pollination. Always buy a male and female to ensure pollination. Winterberry-ILEX bears fruit in November and can be seen along wet ditches and country roads. This is a fabulous plant for late winter decorations. Outside, the berries do not last longer than Christmas. Late autumn last year I picked a small branch for the house and it lasted the winter. I did not add water. The berries will fall, if you move the branch. My arrangement of ILEX lasted until Easter.

Q. Are cotoneaster berries poisonous? I have young children and I am afraid they will eat the berries.

A. The berries are not poisonous, but one could have a stomach upset if too many berries are consumed. The leaves are toxic.

Q. I would like to grow Joe-Pye Weed in my garden. Is it possible? I have very dry soil.

A. Joe-Pye Weed, EUPATORIUM is extremely hardy and grows in boggy soil alongside water. It is a hefty plant growing 6 feet or more. It is very hardy in this area and you will see it along ditches and boggy areas. The butterflies love it and the flowers are smoky pink, lilac and bloom in August

DEATHS

OBITUARY

Joyce R. (Pratt) Graham

Joyce Graham, of Merrickville and Bishop's Mills, died peacefully at home with family at her side, on her birthday, June 4th. She was 81.

Daughter of Albert Williamson Pratt and Lilian Margaret Shearer. Devoted wife of the late Robert (Bob) Graham and loving mother of Tom (Jeanne Lambert), Jane (Jim Hunter), Vicki (Holly Dopson) and James (Maria Doef). Beloved Grandmother of Arlo, Merika, Batina, Joey, Leigh (Angie Fodey), Carey, Theodore, Christo and Theresa. Great-grandmother to Courage, Avorie, Kaden and Quinnlan. Survived by her brother-in-law David (Marty) Graham of Inglewood. Predeceased by her only sister Heather S. Pratt.

Joyce grew up in Toronto where her father ran a manufacturers' agent business. During her childhood, she took dance lessons, an interest she maintained her whole life. She attended Bishop Strachan School, becoming head girl in her final year. She enjoyed many summers at her family cottage near Point-au-Baril on Georgian Bay.

She received her Bachelor of Arts in Psychology at the University of Toronto, and attended U of T Graduate School in the Psychology Department. After preparing her thesis on the Study of Laughter, she received her Master's Degree in 1951.

On Sept. 9th, 1950, Joyce married Bob Graham in Toronto, and they started their family in Hamilton. Bob was an executive in the sales department of Westinghouse Canada. In 1958 the family moved to Ottawa where Mr. Graham became District Manager dealing with the Federal Government.

Between 1951 and 1960 Joyce raised her 4 children, while working as a psychologist and owning and operating Tom Thumb Nursery School. After moving to Ottawa, she worked as a psychologist for the Children's Aid Society, the Rehabilitation Society and the Ottawa Crippled Children's Treatment Centre. In the 1970s, she helped set up the Guidance Counseling Centre at Carleton University.

In 1975 Joyce and Bob moved to Bishop's Mills, took up amateur farming, opened their home as a bed & breakfast, and became involved in the local community. She regularly participated in her husband's Rotary Club events, and was named a Paul Harris Fellow. Several times she accompanied Bob to Central America to visit Rotary-sponsored projects. On one of these trips, a library project was named in her honour.

From 1979 to 1995 she was the consulting psychologist for the county-wide Infant Development Program, based in Brockville.

Joyce was active in the Bishop's Mills United Church as a Sunday School teacher for many years, as an elder and as a member of the Fellowship Group. She was a long-time member and former president of the Bishop's Mills Women's Institute.

Following her husband's death in 2000, she moved to Merrickville and became involved in that community's health centre and historical society. In recent years she coordinated the annual Cancer Society drive in Merrickville. She enjoyed attending Merrickville United Church.

Those that knew Joyce will always remember her grace and generosity, her cheerful smile and sense of humour, her marmalade and her shortbread, and her love. Joyce's final legacy is her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren who brought her great joy, and whose hearts will always carry the joy she brought them.

Visitation was held at Grant Brown Funeral Home Rolston Chapel, Kemptville on Sunday, June 8, 2008. A Memorial Service was held at Merrickville United Church on Monday, June 9 at 11am officiated by Reverend Christine Lowson.

IN MEMORIAM

In-Memoriam
Carl Mindle - June 17, 2007

I often wake and think, "what a bad dream." After a year of losing you it doesn't get any easier. Our camping, ski and road trips, bbq's, get togethers and holidays are memories I have to treasure. They say everything happens for a reason.

How fortunate we were that day to have spent it joking, laughing. Who knew you would have ever got that "To Do List" done, but you did. Thank you for sharing your love with Josh and Jessica. We all miss you terribly. My brother I love you.

Your sister Vicky and Steve

Uncle Carl
Your presence we miss
Your memory we treasure
Loving you always Forgetting you never.

Iroquois fire fighters train for Saturday's games

The 12 fire fighting member team has been practicing as hard as they could last week.

Their goal is to win the Iroquois Fire Department Memorial Trophy on Saturday.

The weekend will be a special one as the Eastern Ontario Fire Fighters Association comes to town bringing with them firefighters from Cardinal, Prescott, Kemptville, Augusta, Athens, Mississippi Mills, Carleton Place and Spencerville.

The Iroquois fire department was in line to host the annual event this year and they would like to take top honours if they could.

The event features the firefighter races, which is an opportunity for firefighters from fire departments in the association to claim bragging rights for the most efficient fire fighting team.

The games get under way in front of the Iroquois Fire Department on Dundas Street at 9 a.m. The day-long sporting event features exciting games but also entertainment food and refreshments. The Iroquois-Matilda

Lions Club steak barbecue as well as breakfast and brunch courtesy of Scouts Canada and the appearance of an as yet unannounced special firefighter team from the United States.

Each and every team has one goal in mind and that is to capture the Iroquois Fire Department Memorial trophy. The trophy dates back to 1986. The Iroquois Team members are: Trevor Riopelle, Jay Merkley, Shawn Markell, Rick Gogdale, Jamie Vanderspank, Brad Thompson, Chris McDermid, Craig Hodgson, Scott Speer, Andy Major, Wayne Mason and Andre Paquette.

Fire fighter Trevor Riopelle is helping with the organizing of the events on game day. "it is very interesting to watch," he says as he describes each of the events. Riopelle points out that the events are not all about endurance as are some at other firefighter contests. These games, he says are about how efficient a team is and how quickly they can complete the various tasks they are given. Each event, in many ways, mirrors real life situations that fire fighters have to be prepared to excel at when they are at their job. "All of the team members train so that they can take each other place," said Riopelle adding that from the beginning, the team selection was based on what each team members was best at.

The Iroquois Fire Department has a long and proud record of coming away with the title. Over the past twenty-two years the team put together by Iroquois has won the cup nineteen times. A remarkable feat considering that all of those wins were consecutive. Their last victory was in 1997. Kemptville took the top spot in 2006 and in 2005. Last year the Augusta Fire Department took the honors.

The winning tradition has not been the result of luck. The Iroquois team has been practicing for each of the various competitions for the past few months. Twice a week Iroquois firefighters block off a section on Dundas Street in front of their fire house and run through the drills that they have to do very well in.

Team members take off on one of their training sessions. In this photo the firefighters will race to the end of Dundas Street, couple and uncouple hoses along the way.

The events are broken down into wet and dry competitions. There is an 8 man dry completion involving how fast a team can uncouple and then couple up a length of hose. The same event is also held but this time with wet hoses.

There are four man wet and dry hose replacement events and an eight man event that involves preparing the hose, hooking it up to a fire hydrant and then hitting a target with the water. There are a host of other times events including a three man and five man ladder toss. One popular event is the bucket brigade. Teams of firefighters use cloth buckets to fill a 40 gallon drum at the end of a ladder. Speed, precision and staying calm while transferring bucket after bucket to a firefighter at the top of a ladder is the key in this event. There are boot races featuring the deputy chiefs from each competing fire station and bunker races where teams have to dress up in firefighter gear then strip down at the other end of the track.

Iroquois fire chief Philip Thompson says that the races are truly a community event. "The next two weeks will be hard for us," he said. He points out that fire fighters from all of the participating communities do an awful lot for their neighbours. Because of that he is expecting a great turnout of fans on race day.

After the races a finished and a winner declared the firefighters will take a few hours off and then take part in a parade. The parade is planned for around 7 p.m. and will start in front of the Iroquois United Church, work its way down and along Elizabeth Drive, turning right on Bay Street and then turning right a final time on Dundas Street ending up at the Iroquois Civic Centre. The Ottawa Fire Department Band will be in the parade as well as the Iroquois Legion's colour guard. Iroquois fire chief philp Thompson hopes that the entire South Dundas community will want to come by and support them. In the case of a fire call the Morrisburg and Willimaburg fire department have offered to cover for Iroquois.
