CELEBRATES 100TH BIRTHDAY

MRS. ELLEN BUSH

Mrs. Ellen Bush celebrated her 100th birthday on Sunday, March 12, at her home in Buffalo, N.Y.

Born in Finch on March 12, 1844, Mrs Bush was the former Ellen Manion.

At the early age of sixteen, she began teaching school and continued in that profession for twenty-one years.

She then married C. J. Bush who died many years later. After the death of her husband she continued as a housewife and caring for children for many years.

Mrs. Bush is smart and enjoying good health with wonderful eyesight, an asset which she very much appreciates. She can read and write without the use of glasses and just recently wrote a long letter to her niece Mrs. R.B. Clement.

It is hoped by her many friends throughout this district, that Mrs. Bush lives to enjoy many more birthday anniversaries.

Radio Forum News

S.S. No. 10 held its last meeting of the 1943-44 series at the home of Hugh Smith; Graham Durant, convenor; 32 present. This meeting was intended to give each Forum in Ontario an opportunity to express its views on the topics of discussion to be chosen for the 1944-45 Series. A lengthy questionaire was prepared which the forum members were asked to fill in, expressing their views on the different phase of the set-up and administration of the Forum broadcast. Our Forum hopes that some of its suggestions might be of some benefit to the Ontario Office.

The members all expressed their appreciation of the pleasant and educational hours spent during the season's 21 forum meetings and they decided that Farm Radio Forum is a very successful, economical and enjoyable opportunity in the advancement of Adult Education.

Members of two neighbouring sections were present and it is to be hoped that these as well as other enterprising school sections will take advantage, supplied in part by the Federation of Agriculture, of these Farm Forum meetings next fall and instead of 7 forums in Dundas county the number will be raised to 40 or 50.

At a community gathering of the Forums in Mountain Township, held on March 20th, plans were made to hold a Farm Forum picnic during the summer to stimulate interest in the work. It is planned to have Ralph Staples, Ontario Secretary, as guest speaker, and while farmers do not need the extra exercise during the busy summer season, each Forum is expected to have a Softball team composed of its members, ready for competition for the picnic.

JUST A LITTLE DIFFERENCE

McLean, the Merrickville millionaire is again in the rampage with his checkbook and pockets wide open, scattering wealth in all directions up around Windsor. The big difference between McLean and other benefactors is that he is using his own money. The others are mostly planning to give away some one else's bank roll.

Deaf and Dumb Beggar Arrested in Kemptville

Alertness on the part of Chief of Police D. Sayeau, Kemptville, on Tuesday morning stopped the begging of a man who gave his address as 191 St. Catherine St., Ottawa, and who according to a very badly written letter he carried, was deaf and dumb and an orphan as well.

Becoming suspicious when the man held out his money asking letter in a local store the Chief followed him into another store where he had offered the letter. Standing behind the man the chief asked the man quietly if he had a registration card and was at once given the answer "Yes" by the deaf and dumb man. The Chief requested the man to produce the card and the request evidently was well heard as it was at once produced with an address of 191 St. Catherine St., Ottawa.

The man told the Chief he had but 85 cents and the chief ordered him find the quickest way back to where he had come from which order was promptly obeyed.

Nation Valley Woman Celebrates 84th Birthday

On March 26th, 1944, Mrs. Wm. Coughler, a resident of this vicinity celebrated her 84th birthday. She was born in Williamsburg township, in 1860. Her father was the late Markus Beckstead and her mother the late Phoebe Brown Beckstead.

Agnes Beckstead was married to Mr. Wm. Coughler on November 28, 1877 by Wesleyan minister at Chesterville. To that marriage were born eleven children. Chas. lost his life falling through an air hole in the ice of the Nation, the eldest son, Wm., died 3 years ago, Thomas was killed at Inkerman by a train accident and Henry made the supreme sacrifice in the Great War and lies in Flanders Fields. The remaining four daughters and three sons tried in different ways to make the day a happy one for their aged mother, but owing to distance and gas shortage some were not able to be present.

Mrs. Coughler has spent most of her married life in this locality, Mr. Coughler passing away a few years ago. Mrs. Coughler has 24 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren. At the age of 84 she still has all her faculties and enjoyed her birthday cake and many letters and cards of congratulations. One of her grandsons Pte George Fling is in Italy. She has other grandsons overseas.

Chesterville District Exceeds $3000

It is something for this district to be proud of when with an allotment of $2300 to be raised in the Red Cross drive, the figure is now well over $3000, with small sums still coming in. It must be remembered that three hundred dollars, the proceeds of the "Lifebuoy Follies" show staged a couple of weeks ago, is not included in the above amount. It was a separate undertaking with the benefits accruing to the local organization.

Correction.

We have been asked to state that the canvassing in the Red Cross drive in the Elma section was done by Mrs. Weldon Beckstead instead of Messrs. Andrew McMillan and Weldon Beckstead, whose names were published in the first official list.

SLOT MACHINES PUT UNDER BAN

There have been various rulings in respect to slot machines and while some municipalities went so far as to outlaw them altogether; others more acquisitive gathered in a little easy money by licensing them. In the meantime the Government's Mobile Squad has been swooping down on the operators and in many cases confiscating the machines. In an effort to throttle the racket effectively a bill has been introduced in the Legislature putting the insidious slot machine under the ban altogether. The new regulation makes it illegal to possess these gambling devices and provides for their seizure. Under the present law procedure could be taken only against the person on whose premises they were operated and not the owner of them or his agent. The Attorney General of Ontario in introducing the measure sought to salve the feelings of that great body who like to take a little flyer at chance. He explained the Act was aimed very definitely at slot machines and not at pinball machines which, though sometimes used for gambling, were more generally used for amusement.

UNPALATABILITY CURBS USE

"Me no drinkee for drinkee, me drinkee for drunkee" was the reply of a chinese when a friend remonstrated with him for drinking a particularly vile decoction called "bootleg whiskey". It was found in the very arid prohibition days that many old toners imbibed for the same reason. There were quite a number of patent nostrums on the market which were discovered on analysis to bulk large in cooking brandy. It is, perhaps, idle to say these cure-alls enjoyed an enormous sale. The authorities solved the problem by passing a law that all such mixtures should be properly medicated and when rendered thus unpalatable many of them lost their appeal. Reports of a heavy demand for face lotions and similar compounds containing a large percentage of alcohol in recent months has induced the Government to take a leaf out of the restrictive book of prohibition days in an effort to prevent their use as spirits for internal consumption which has already resulted in one death. Under an amendment to the Liquor Control Act it is provided that in future such compounds as perfumes, lotions, toilet water or other similar preparations must contain enough medication to make them unpalatable for internal use.

THE PUPIL FIRST CONSIDERATION

In the opinion of Dr. J. D. Althouse, the new Chief Director of Education for Ontario, the pupils is of more importance than the curriculum. Careful selection of what is to be taught and insistence on honest effort in every phase of schoolwork will be found the answer to the question of training the desired type of citizen. The real product of the school is the pupil, not the examination paper or the essay or the project. Dr. Althouse maintains that our answer to the question is incomplete until we draw the child into a bit of vivid living: an integrated kind of life which grips his whole being and gives to him the most significant experience he has known. In simple words no school is really a school until it presents to the child the realization that there in the school something important is going on, something to which he can and would like to contribute. This is the beginning of real development. Dr. Althouse scored rigid courses of teaching as the "way of safety when teachers are ignorant and unintelligent." He urged that the curriculum be free enough so that teachers may select that which is most revelent to the youngster and to the teacher.

DEFENCE CONVINCING AND HONEST

A case rather out of the ordinary which may yet be aired before the Appellate Court, came up before a Division Court Judge, in Toronto last week. An engineer, employed by the RCAF at Downsville, brought a civil action against Detective Herbert White and P.C. John Murray for illegal arrest, malicious prosecution and assault. Detective White testified he had arrested Blair for refusing to produce his registration card when accosted in a parked car near a bootlegger's residence. P. C. Murray denied he had beaten Blair in the Police Station as claimed. When Blair was brought before Magistrate Browne on a charge of obstructing the police the case was dismissed and a complaint of refusing to produce his registration card withdrawn. Subsequently Blair brought his damage before a judge and jury. After hearing evidence in which a Dr. Williams testified as to bruises on Blair's jaw and nose the Judge withdrew the case from the jury stating he had discretion under the law to do so. He found the evidence for the defence convincing and honest.

COMPASSIONATE FARM LEAVE INCREASED TO TWO MONTHS

W. C. Macdonald, Parliamentary Assistant to Defense Minister Ralston, announced Monday in the Commons that the period for which compassionate farm leave may be granted to soldiers has been increased from six weeks to two months.

He added that with the exception of general service personnel "who by age and pulhems profile" are suitable for overseas service, farm leave may be granted not only to those on strength of the home war establishments of district depots but also to those on the home war establishment of any unit.

Other personnel on the strength of district depots, except those awaiting despatch to training centres or schools, will be eligible for leave, as well as personnel of the veterans guard and personnel on strength of operational units which was heretofore restricted to only 5 percent of strength.

Leave is granted to soldiers to return to their farms or to the farms of immediate families and also to special details of soldiers "for farm duty in circumstances of emergency". Leave is subject to the "exigencies of the service, and can be granted by general and district officers commanding only if, in their opinion, essential army activities will not be substantially interfered with."

Mr. Macdonald said the soldier must pay his own transportation and he presumed that if a soldier could show just cause an extension would be granted to his leave.

THE WINNER.
By Grantland Rice

THE cove who never kids himself,
Who looks at facts without a frown,
Who knows that life is full of knots,
And not a bed of eiderdown—
Who does his stuff against the breaks
Unmindful of the yapping throng,
With little time for alibis—
Will get along.

The bloke who knows the world is rough,
And not a clover bed of rest;
Who takes his fortune as it comes
And promptly counters with his best
Who slogs along through fogs of doubt,
Fear, pain and envy and despair,
With clear eyes fixed upon the goal—
Will get somewhere.

The bloke who chucks aside pretense
And stands four-square with what he has,
Who still can take a sock or two,,
Nor crumble up before the razz—
Who doesn't sour on the scrap
Because his luck is badly frayed,
But plays the game out to the turn—
Will make the grade.

GUM FROM MILKWEED.
(Science Service News).

Nearly 71,000 pounds of wild milkweed was collected in 1942 in Ontario and Quebec, it was stated by Dr. H. A. Senn of the Division of Botany and Plant Pathology, Science Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

This large quantity of milkweed is made up of over 60,000 pounds of leaves and over 10,000 pounds of whole plants. The effort involved in the undertaking may be appreciated when it is realized that all these leaves were picked by hand. Over 2,000 separate purchases of milkweed were made. A few of these came from private individuals but the great majority were from rural schools in Ontario. Ontario school inspectors, teachers and pupils are to be congratulated on this major contribution to research on supplementary sources of natural rubber.

The milkweed was purchased by the Agricultural Supplies Board of the Dominion Department of Agriculture and has been turned over to the National Research Council where it is being processed. Preliminary laboratory experiments have indicated that the gum obtained from milkweed may be useful for blending with synthetic rubber. It is hoped, says Dr. Senn that the large scale experiments now being carried out on milkweed collected by the rural schools will confirm earlier findings.

Ontario Hog Producers Complete Organization

The Ontario Hog Producers Association convening on March 17, at the King Edward hotel, Toronto, took a strong stand on the use of the Farm Products Control Act as a means of establishing a hog Scheme, completing the organization of all producers.

The President, Mr. Chas. McInnis, of Iroquois, reviewed the activities of the Association during the past year including the efforts made to persuade the Dominion Government that it was necessary to provide hog producers with better returns either through higher prices or bonuses. More recently the Association had asked the Provincial government to reconsider its decision to do away with the Provincial subsidy. There is every indication that producer problems will be more acute in the post-war period and preparation must be made to meet them.

The Secretary, Mr. W.L. Bishop, Norwich, reported a substantial increase in the number of local organizations during the past year until the stage has been reached where all the counties in Old Ontario have, with the exception of six, either local county associations or committees.

The scheme was discussed in some detail and it was emphasized that it is essential to our democratic way of life that producers be given a share in the management of their own industry.

Officers of the Association are as follows: President, Chas. McInnis, Iroquois: Vice-Pres.: Wellington W. Weber, Elmira; Sec.-Treas.: W.L. Bishop, Norwich.

The Executive committee are Messrs. Chas. Milton, Princeton; R. J. Scott, Toronto; W. E. Tummon, Foxboro; J.L. McDonald, Harrison's Corners; Geo. A. Wilkinson, Allistion.

Local representatives attending the meeting were: Herb Gibson, Winchester; Geo. Hill, Williamsburg.

Ottawa, the Fourth Internationale

Reprinted from The Statesman, Bowmanville, Ontario.

Do Canadians wish to impose their politics and economics upon other nations? Wasn't it that kind of activity on the part of Russia before the war which caused most of the misunderstandings between Russia and other countries? Comparatively recently, Stalin has seen fit to disband the Comintern. (Comintern is a composite word made up from the syllables of the Communist Internationale—the Third Internationale). Does Canada want to start a Fourth Internationale with headquarters in Ottawa? Do we want to become embroiled in the affairs of other nations? Is it any of our business how they run their affairs, provided they do not interfere with us?

Professor Scott and Mr. Lewis—with the blessing of Mr. Coldwell—in a foreword to the book, "Make This Your Canada" apparently subscribe to the doctrine of interference in the domestic affairs of other countries. In this latest gem of Canadian socialist literature they say: ". . . the CCF will promote democracy and economic planning abroad as they will promote them inside Canada." Just like pre-war Russia!

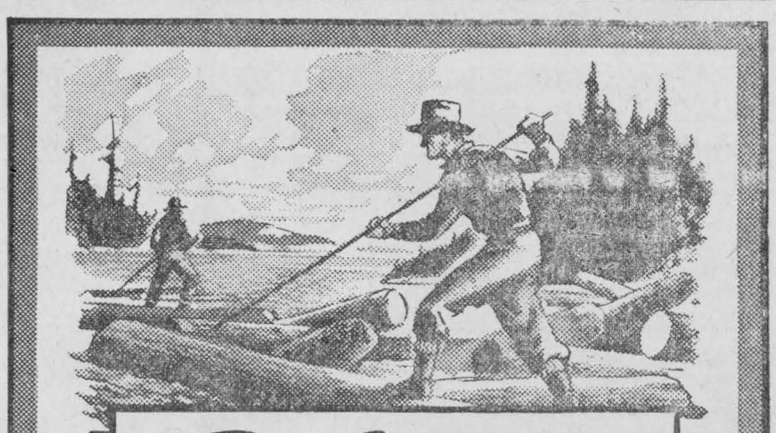

We have seen throughout this book which we are now reviewing, that the CCF consistently gives a spurious meaning to the word "democracy". Their idea of democracy is a centralized government at Ottawa wielding all power, with provinces and municipalities merely serving as branch offices and taking orders. Actually this concept of government is the opposite of democracy—it is really autocracy, in absolute control of all the resources of the country. It is this control of all the resources that is the very basis of the CCF Regina Manifesto—but to call it democracy is to prostitute the word. Nevertheless, it is this "democracy" that the CCF in their latest book say that they will promote "abroad as inside Canada." So we are to embark upon an Ottawa Internationale, with all the evils of intrusion into the affairs of other lands.

And the CCF almost takes one's breath away in this connection with the following declaration: "Full collaboration with the United States is also presupposed." How on earth is it to be "presupposed" that we shall gain the collaboration of the United States by butting into their politics and their economy? Especially at a time when the United States is undergoing a pronounced swing to the right and toward the preservation of a free initiative.

Do Canadians really want a government pledged to butt into the affairs of other people and other nations?

Frequently the critics of the long-standing political parties suggest that their differences are merely shadow-boxing. The Editor knows of no greater approach to shadow-boxing than the periodical applications of the Communist Party—known as the "Porgressive-Labour Party" under Tim Buck—for CCF collaboration. These requests turn up at the most opportune moments, that is, opportune for the CCF to turn down. The most conspicuous instance was about the time that the CCF was negotiating with the Catholic hierarchy. Mr. Buck's importunings must have been very gratifying at that moment to Mr. Scott. Mr. Lewis and Mr. Coldwell. Recently Mr. Buck has been at it again and has been turned down as usual. He insists that there is no difference in aim between his Party and the CCF. The Editor is inclined to believe him.

But you don't have to take this Editor's word alone, for it. Listen to what S. Israels, of Mr. Buck's Party said at Regina recently: "Comrades help the CCF, work with them, place them in power, because the CCF-ers of today are the Communists of tomorrow."

Free Enterprise
IS THE DRIVING FORCE!

LUMBERING is one of Canada's greatest industries. It creates employment for thousands of men.

But lumbering didn't just happen. It took enterprising men . . . men who had courage, initiative and vision to turn our forests into lumber, prepared for its journey to the markets of Canada and the world. Funeral Late Willie Servage

It was with sincere regret we chronicled the departure of a highly respected resident of Ogdensburg, in the person of Mr. Willie Servage, who passed suddenly away at his home, 6 Ogden St., Ogdensburg, N. Y. on March 15th, 1944. His death came as a great shock to his wife and wide circle of friends by whom he will be greatly missed. Mr. Servage had been employed for the past twelve years for the North Eastern Milk Plant at Ogdensburg, N.Y. Mr. Servage was an only son of Mr. Geo. Sevrage and the late Mrs. Servage of Berwick, Ont. and was born on April 11th,. 1897. On September 12th, 1917, he married Miss Bertha Carr, of Grantley. He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, one sister Mrs. Alex McGlashen of Monteith, Ont.. and his aged father, Geo. Servage of Berwick.

A short service was held at his home on Friday evening at 8 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Geo. Dando of the Methodist church. The remains were conveyed on Saturday to St. Paul's church at Bewick, where the funeral was held at 2 p.m. The service was conducted by the Rev. Hector Beach of Berwick and the Rev. George Dando of Ogdensburg, N.Y.. Rev. Dando sang by special request, "Good Night Here, But Good Morning up There."

The Masonic Brethern held a short service at the church, before the remains were taken to the Finch vault, to await burial in Grantley cemetery.

Testifying to the high esteem in which the late Mr. W. Servage was held were the following tributes.

Pillow: his wife; Spray: Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carr and Mr. and Mrs. Will Carr: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Servage and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Servage: Mrs. Christie Carr, Mrs. Wesley Moke, Mrs. Jim Winters, Harold and Pansy, The North Eastern Milk Plant, Mr. Finnie and the employes of the North Eastern Milk Plant: Wreath: Masonic Finch Lodge: Cut Flowers: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hammil. Mr. and Mrs. E. Billings, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Merkley, Mrs. Franklin, Jean Oliver, Marie Bover, Mattie Stephens. Mr. and Mrs. Glen Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Weegar, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Shaver and E.., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Prunner.

New Telephone Directory

To save paper and type metal in wartime, important changes have been made in the arrangement of the new telephone directory for Chesterville and vicinity, which is now being distributed.

The list of long distance rates to points most frequently called is now to be found on the inside front cover and instructions on how to use long distance service are on the back cover All marginal advertisements are being removed from the top and bottom of pages in the alphabetical section.

By means of changes such as these, applied to telephone directories for all the exchanges, the Bell Telephone Company expects to save 360 tons of paper a year for war purposes.

To provide for growth in this area a number of exchanges formerly listed have been eliminated from this edition of the directory. The Bell Telephone exchanges still included are Brockville, Cardinal, Chesterville, Iroquois, Morrisburg, Prescott, and Winchester.

In view of the large number of new and changed listings in the new directory, it is important to discard the old book promptly on receipt of the new one. Subscribers are being asked to contribute their old directories to the regular salvage collection?. for paper has now returned to the list of badly-needed salvage articles.

Consulting the new directory carefully before placing calls will help to eliminate unnecessary calls and will reduce the "wrong number" nuisance considerably.

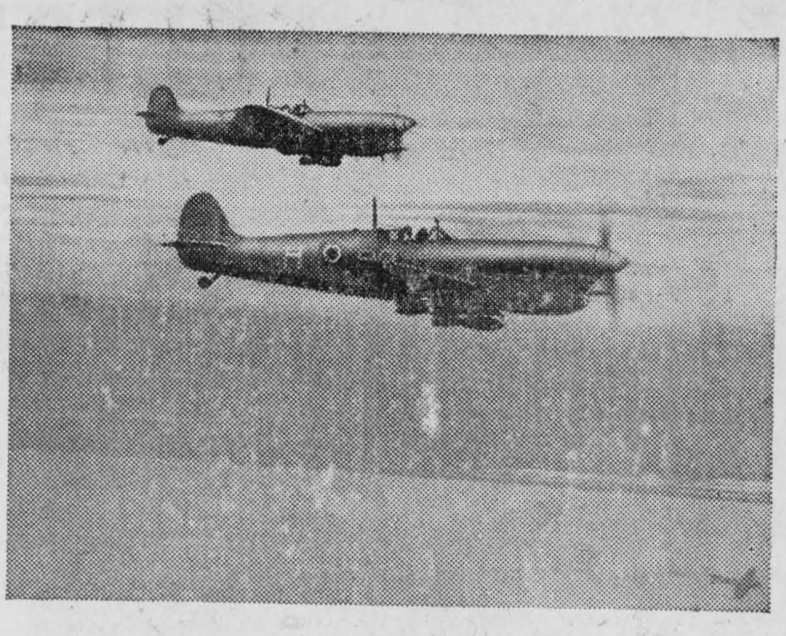

Another request which is being emphasized because of war conditions is that subscribers who are moving take their telephone books with them instead of asking for another at the new residence.

SPROUT SOME POTATOES FOR EARLY USE

The sprouting of potatoes for a few weeks before planting time has been found helpful to obtain extra-early mature potatoes. An early variety, such as Irish Cobbler, should be chosen for this treatment. The tubers selected for sprouting are first disinfected, then placed in shallow boxes, with the bud ends up, (hotbed flats will serve the purpose) and when placed in a room with a temperature of from 55 to 60 degrees F., green healthy sprouts will have developed in four to five weeks. Seed treated in this manner, when planted in shallow drills as soon as the ground is warm enough will produce strong, vigorous tops and new potatoes in less time than seed that is not sprouted. Too high a temperature in direct sunlight under glass may spoil the sets.

In regions where frost often forestalls maturity presprouting may considerably increase the main crop. C. J. Fast, of the Dominion Experimental Station at Beaverlodge, Alberta, in reviewing a date-of-planting experiment conducted for six years up to 1926 finds that potatoes put in trays at the time the first outdoor planting was possible and then planted at successive weekly intervals, decidedly outyielded sets taken direct from the root cellar. This was especially true with the later plantings, which averaged 30 per cent more yield from sprouted than from unsprouted sets.

Sprouted potatoes are sometimes withered and the loss of moisture from the tubers may occasionally result in lower yields. To avoid this, where only small lots of seeds are sprouted for early use, dry sand can be used to fill in around the tubers so as to cover them slightly. The sand is then moistened and kept moist until the seed is planted. An advantage of the sand sprouting is that a strong root growth is also started simultaneously with the sprouting. Great care is to be exercised, however, at planting time on account of the danger of injuring the roots.

First Objective

IN these decisive months all Canada's effort is concentrated on one great objective—the attack that is to destroy the Nazi menace and all that it represents. Years of work have gone into its preparation. The best of our young men are staking their lives on its success.

We in Canada must support and strengthen this attack with all our effort. This one purpose must command our work, our minds and our hearts.

We must not permit any scramble for private gain or individual selfish ends, to distract us from our main task. If we concentrate on seeking, individually or jointly, higher prices, higher pay or higher profits, we shall be diverting our attention from the main task at this critical time. We shall also endanger the stability of prices which we in Canada have achieved after great difficulties—a stability that is essential to efficiency and fairness in war, and to peacetime prosperity afterward.

Our young men are fighting for a Canada and a world in which all men can have faith, hope and security. Each of them wants to come back to a job—or a farm—with a future. We at home must keep secure for them a strong and stable foundation on which alone a post-war period of promise and achievement can be built.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and deflation later.

FARMERS GIVEN ASSURANCE OF INCREASED HELP

Farmers in Ontario can plan their 1944 crop production with reassurance that there will be farm help available for them during the crucial haying and harvesting season, according to Aex MacLaren, Director of the Ontario Farm Service Force. Activities of the Field Placement officers of the Farm Service Force have been started at an earlier date than in former years, and there are definite indications that more volunteer farm workers than ever before will be available when the busy farm season rolls around. Based on the slogan "We can't win if we don't eat" the campaign to enroll farm workers this year will be the most intensive yet undertaken, because of the grave necessity for increasing production of foodstocks to meet the higher objectives that have been fixed for 1944 This additional food will be urgently required to supply the needs of the armed forces of the United Nations and the requirements of civilians at home and abroad.

Every possible avenue of farm help is being thoroughly explored and canvassed. The farm duty leaves which were inaugurated last fall by the armed services will be in operation this year during the whole farming season and greater help is expected from that source. The compassionate leave plan, by which members of farmers' families now in the armed forces can be released for periods up to six months will also be in effect, and should bring an increased amount of experienced help back to the farms. Both of these sources should be productive of large numbers of farm workers.

The Ontario Farm Service Force will concentrate its attention on enlisting tens of thousands of high school students—for farm work, and the department of Education is ready to release students for that purpose after Apir 2t8h, providing they have 50 percent standing on their year's work It is expected that as many as 50 Farm Service Camps for boys and girls will be set up around the Province, to serve the needs of special areas.

The Farm Commando Service and the Farm Holiday Brigade will be organized on a larger scale than ever, and are expected to produce many thousands of volunteers for work on farms during the busy season.

Farmers can therefore plan their crops in anticipation of having help available when required, but they can co-operate by making their help needs made known as soon as possible. Requests for help for the busy season can be made now to the Ontario Farm Service Force, Parliament Buildings, ,Toronto, or to the County Agricultural Representative while requests for year-round experienced help should be filed at once with the nearest office of the National Selective Service.

STUDENTS ASKED TO REGISTER NOW FOR FARM WORK.

Under the urgent necessity of greater food production as an essential to victory in the war, the Ontario Farm Service Force is issuing a strong appeal to high school students boys and girls, to volunteer for farm work this summer. The volunteer workers are needed to take the place of thousands of young farmers who, as members of the army, navy and air force, are producing victories instead of crops. The need for more food to prevent shortages is more urgent than at any previous period of the war because of the greater needs of the invasion armies and the starving liberated people of Europe. Ontario farmers can produce the necessary food but they cannot do it unless tens of thousands of high school students volunteer to spend their holidays as part of the student army of the land.

To fill up the farm camps operated by the Ontario Farm Service Force in conjunction with the YMCA and YWCA, over 4000 boys and 4000 girls will be needed. In addition many thousands more will be required for work on individual selected farms, where good homes, the best of food, and attractive rate osf pay will be provided.

The Department of Education has issued an order permitting students to leave school after April 28th to work on farms. These students must have a 50 percent standing on the year's work, must have a farm job to go to either on their own home farm or any other Ontario farm, and must undertake to work at least a minimum of 13 weeks.

Last year boys and girls in the Farm Service Camps earned over half a million dollars, in spite of the bad season, and this year more students than ever will be required. Most of those who were in the camps last year are expected to go there this year and they are urged to bring along with them as many of their friends as possible, so that they will have congenial friends in their camp life. The camps will again be under the supervision of trained YMCA and YWCA workers who will not only look after the comfort and feeding of the campers, but will organize enjoyable and healthful spare time recreational and entertainment activities.

Applications for farm workers from students, either for the camps or for individual farms, are now being received and all boys and girls wishing to volunteer for this necessary patriotic service are urged to apply at once to the Ontario Farm Service Force, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

STUDENTS ASKED TO REGISTER NOW FOR FARM WORK.

Under the urgent necessity of greater food production as an essential to victory in the war, the Ontario Farm Service Force is issuing a strong appeal to high school students boys and girls, to volunteer for farm work this summer. The volunteer workers are needed to take the place of thousands of young farmers who, as members of the army, navy and air force, are producing victories instead of crops. The need for more food to prevent shortages is more urgent than at any previous period of the war because of the greater needs of the invasion armies and the starving liberated people of Europe. Ontario farmers can produce the necessary food but they cannot do it unless tens of thousands of high school students volunteer to spend their holidays as part of the student army of the land.

To fill up the farm camps operated by the Ontario Farm Service Force in conjunction with the YMCA and YWCA, over 4000 boys and 4000 girls will be needed. In addition many thousands more will be required for work on individual selected farms, where good homes, the best of food, and attractive rate osf pay will be provided.

The Department of Education has issued an order permitting students to leave school after April 28th to work on farms. These students must have a 50 percent standing on the year's work, must have a farm job to go to either on their own home farm or any other Ontario farm, and must undertake to work at least a minimum of 13 weeks.

Last year boys and girls in the Farm Service Camps earned over half a million dollars, in spite of the bad season, and this year more students than ever will be required. Most of those who were in the camps last year are expected to go there this year and they are urged to bring along with them as many of their friends as possible, so that they will have congenial friends in their camp life. The camps will again be under the supervision of trained YMCA and YWCA workers who will not only look after the comfort and feeding of the campers, but will organize enjoyable and healthful spare time recreational and entertainment activities.

Applications for farm workers from students, either for the camps or for individual farms, are now being received and all boys and girls wishing to volunteer for this necessary patriotic service are urged to apply at once to the Ontario Farm Service Force, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

Children's Welfare

This is the Third in a series of Seven Articles to be continued in these columns.

History tells us that in France people became interested in children born out of wedlock owing to their decomposed bodies polluting the water supply from the River Seine."

Let us turn from this almost incredible paragraph in the social history of mankind to the feelings and motives that inspired the implementing of the finest piece of legislation anywhere in the world to protect the child.

The last article told something of the compassion that touched the heart of a reporter on the old Toronto Globe at the suffering and depravity to be found among little children begging, selling newspapers and shoe laces in Toronto. No one could have been in a better position to see this agonizing, sordid side of life than a newspaperman! These children often sought shelter at night around the stove in the reporter's room; they lived in the side streets and alleyways of downtown Toronto; they were to be found daily in the police courts.

What do we find this newspaperman, Mr. J. J. Kelso, saying when, attempting to found the first Children's Aid Society in Canada in 1891, he was asked: "Why Another Society?"

"Because" replied Mr. Kelso, "up to the present we have no society to look after neglected children!"

Three years before, Mr. Kelso and a little group he had gathered around him had succeeded in obtaining from the Ontario Government a piece of legislation—very meagre in its scope but the seed of what was to follow. It stated that neglected children under fourteen (please note that!) could be committed to any society or institution willing to receive them and authorized by government, and for a special commisssion to try youthful offenders apart from adults.

A shelter was established as a temporary refuge for destitute and neglected children in 1890. The following year the Toronto's Children's Aid Society was founded. In 1893 the foundation stone of all that we have today in Ontario for child protection was laid when Hon. John Gibson, later Sir John Gibson, Provincial Secretary, introduced the children's Protection Act.

From this Act, with subsequent amendments and additions over the past half century, has stemmed in vigorous and beautiful growth the whole effort and undertaking—governed by statute, but given its life and spirit by communities of people—familiarly known as "Children's Aid!" Let us never forget J.J. Kelso and Sir John Gibson. From an acorn of individual compassion and pertinacity grew a great oak tree that shelters the children who have no normal roof-tree of their own!

Let us see with what vision these foundations were laid! It is especially interesting to note that the original intentions embodied in Sir John Gibson's Act corresponds exactly with the most enlightened attitude today in regard to what is the best, the most normal and most successful way of caring for boys and girls deprived of their own homes.

The highest concept today all over the world is to provide the child with the nearest possible approach to what should be a normal home life. Not to institutionalize him, but to place him in a natural family setting, sharing both the privileges and the disciplines of the normal child.

There will be something to say later about boarding or foster home care and what thousands of foster homes in this province have done for Children's Aid Society wards; how these homes are selected and supervised; how foster parents are assisted and made part of the great family of Children's Aid. You will be told something about the magnificent, often selfless service of thousands of foster parents.

But listen to what Mr. Adam Brown, Hamilton's "grand old man" had to say about his friend Hon. John Gibson's Act at the founding of Hamilton's Children's Aid Society in 1894:

"The first principle of the Children's Protection Act is the improvement of the home and the second to place homeless children in good foster homes. . ."

Every day throughout Ontario, trained, experienced, humane social service workers of Children's Aid are striving first to rehabilitate the home; to introduce into it, by kindly patient understanding service, higher standards and more intelligent concepts of homemaking. Never lose sight of this big part of Children's Aid Work!

"It has always been my view," continued Mr. Adam Brown, "that the voluntary administration, the voluntary working in local communities should be a principle to be adopted. I have always felt that this should not be allowed to become an ordinary governmental department of administration—that it should be the result of philanthropic effort in localities; that the work should be carried on for the love of the work by the good men and women in the various communities where the act is being applied."

Yes, this was designed to be and has steadily become a unique service to the children—legislated for and protected by Government, but kept a living, breathing, human organization by the people in the community—your Children's Aid Society!

"OF THINGS TO COME"

John Fisher, (left) and Morley Callaghan, Canadian author, talk things over just before a broadcast in the CBC discussion series, "Of Things To Come."

Mr. Fisher is producer and Mr. Callaghan chairman, of the nation-wide forum in which Canadians from every walk of life debate the kind of post-war world the people want. This week producer and chairman are in Winnipeg, where the broadcast will be produced for CBC's Eastern Network, on Tuesday, March 28, at 8.30 p.m. EDT.

The speakers will be Professor H. N. Fieldhouse, University of Manitoba, Alistair Stewart, chartered accountant and student of international affairs, and the Rev. H.K. Johnson, former missionary to Manchuria, who was recently repatriated to Canada.

DRIED EGGS HAVE UPHELD U.K. MORALE SAYS J. A. PEACOCK

John A. Peacock, London, England. Director of Egg Imports, British Ministry of Food, told the Special Products Board and those who attended a luncheon given by the Canadian Produce Association in Ottawa on March 17th, some interesting facts about the significant contribution of the war. In canteens for wartime industrial workers meals could not have been maintained with nourishment without dried eggs. They have been a real factor in overcoming industrial fatigue, and to do this has been a definite contribution to the national morale. The midday meal often was difficult to obtain, and dried eggs had made possible the provision of a slice of cake to be eaten with tea at noon. Cake was standardized but it is popular and in demand. "We couldn't afford to neglect it. Imagine what would have been the effect on the public morale if there had been thousands of baker's shops with nothing in them" said Mr. Peacock. The manufacturing and bakery trades are now entirely dependent on dried eggs. When dried eggs were first introduced into canteens, hotels and restaurants some guidance in how best to use them was necessary. But now the British people have succeeded in serving eggs in a variety of ways. They not only make omelettes, scrambled eggs but even fry and boil them. Dried eggs have become a staple standby when other foods have run out.

While Canadian dried eggs have proved to be an amazingly good product, it is not to be understood that the ultimate has been reached. There are still possibilities to be explored. The domestic 5-ounce package of dried eggs, which contains the equivalent of one dozen eggs, is being sold in tens of millions a month at a price of one shilling and three pence. The consumer demand has increased since dried eggs were first introduced to the domestic trade in 1942. Every grocery shop displays the packages prominently and every woman is buying them. A recent consumer survey disclosed that 70 percent of the people of Britain are buying dried eggs. They have brought colour and light into what would have been a dull diet and the national morale is very directly linked with proper feeding.

Mr. Peacock said that it was a great satisfaction to the British public to know that when they made a good sized omelette from dried eggs that only about half an ounce of shipping space was required.

Canadian dried eggs are sent to Britain in 5-ounce packages for sale in grocery stores to consumers and in 14 lb. cartons for the bakery, hotel and restaurant trade. Shipments of dried eggs from Canada to Britain began in the early part of 1942, principally because of the urgent need to save shipping space. Prior to then shell eggs were shipped in cases of 30 dozen to a case. In 1942 a total of 4,133,000 dozen shell eggs was shipped from Canada to Britain and 11½ million pounds of dried egg powder the equivalent of 33½ million dozen shell eggs.

Last year shipments of dried eggs totalled about 12 million pounds, the equivalent of 36 million dozen shell eggs.

BRAY CHICKS

PROMPT SHIPMENT

UNUSUALLY heavy hatches allow us to say, definitely, that if you order your Bray Chicks (either day-old or started) right away for prompt shipment, we can probably fill your order without delay.

That is more than we can prophesy for later in the season. Advance orders have been extremely heavy for later delivery.

But we can supply a lot of good Bray Chicks right now. And right now is a mighty good time to start chicks. Experience tells us that the highest egg prices of 1944 will be realized in September, October, November. Good Bray Chicks, started now, and raised right, should be in nice production just when prices are soaring. (If you take started chicks, of course, they will be laying that much larger eggs, and cashing in on the wide fall premiums for egg size.)

Just to make sure, in ordering, name a second choice on breed, grade and date of shipment. (We'll do our level best, of course, to give you first choice.)

Manuel Millhausen, Lion's Head, Ont.—"Bray Chicks are the best I have ever had. I was very fortunate to be able to get them."

Pat Dapello, South Porcupine, Ont.—"Your Chicks last year were really something to brag about. I lost but a few and what were left were wonderful."

Mrs J.L. Smith, Waltham Station, P. Q.—"Out of the 439 chicks I received, I raised 417 good healthy chickens. They have turned out very profitable birds."

Mrs. Amy Flendley, Pleasant Hills, N.S.—"These chicks were the best I ever raised. I am very pleased with them."

James N. Jones, South Nelson, N.B.—"I think there is one other name you should have added, and that is 'Victory Chicks'. You have the best laying birds I have ever purchased."

"Is anyone here called Donovan" he roared.

No one spoke. A few customers began to edge their way uneasily towards the door.

"Is there anyone here called Donovan?" he demanded again.

A very timid man rose from a table in one corner and said: "Yes, my name is Donovan. Who wants me?"

"Oh, so you're Donovan are you?" growled the man-mountain. "I've a debt to settle with you."

He strode across the room, picked up the little man with one hand and battered him senseless with the other. Then he dropped him on the floor and left the cafe.

Twenty minutes later the little man recovered consciousness, got up painfully smiled and said: "I thought I could fool him. My name's not Donovan."

THE MIXING BOWL

Hello Homemakers! Some girls wear smart print dresses all day, some war service uniforms, others business plaids, and others denim jeans. Their problem is shared by every woman—how can they keep their clothes in order. They want an answer to, "Which one of my dresses is clean, pressed and ready to wear?"

It's true that regular care makes the problem easier. That is: always use a hanger for your clothes, turn inside out and air them frequently, brush daily and keep fasteners sewn on securely.

But to be well-groomed send them to the dry cleaners regularly—never let pressing take the place of laundering or dry-cleaning. Keeping clothes clean and fresh is one of the first rules for looking well dressed, as well as for making clothes last longer.

Then press often to keep looking well groomed. Begin with the sleeves. It is easier to press them on the right side; but, of course, you should use a pressing cloth to prevent shine. If you have a sleeve board or an ironing board with a narrow end, you can easily press the thick cap of the sleeve over it. Otherwise, roll up a small Turkish towel and slip it inside the shoulder and the cap of the sleeve, and press these sections. Then move the towel down and press the sleeve. This will avoid creasing. Turn the dress inside out. Now press the fabric itself. In pressing woollens or crepe weaves, use an up-and-down stamping motion to prevent stretching; but with smooth fabrics press with an ironing motion. Never forget to press the seams flat, for this is what gives your dress a trim, well-tailored look. Now turn to the right side and finish pockets, double thickness, and trimmings, using the pressing cloth to avoid shine.

Keeping trimmings trim. Collars and cuffs and dickeys make us trim and spruce-looking when they are crisp and immaculate. Use starch to keep them perky. Put about 2 tbsps. in a gallon of water and dip in after rinsing—and iron the pieces while still damp.

To keep that original, snowy look with white accessories, use a bleach. (Do not use bleach on silk or wool.) Follow directions on the bottle of bleach for the right amount. Soak the pieces for 15 minutes and rinse several times.

Before you wear a new dress or coat, go over all the buttons with strong thread. Another tip on good grooming is to keep hat veils pressed belts clean and uncrushed. Take a tip:

1. Don't drop your iron.
2. Don't chafe the cord.
3. Don't use a cord with a loose plug.
4. Don't let starch or soil collect on sole plate.
5. Don't let cord touch hot iron.
6. Don't leave connected when not in use.
7. Don't iron over buttons and fasteners.

THE QUESTION BOX

Oatmeal Bars

(Requested by Mrs. C.R.)

½ cup shortening, ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup corn syrup, 1 cup rolled oats, 1 cup sifted flour, ½ tsp. baking powder, salt, ¾ cup milk, ¾ cup chopped raisins.

Cream shortening, blend in sugar and syrup. Add rolled oats. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt and add alternately with the milk. Stir in the raisins. Spread on greased baking sheet. Bake in an electric oven at 350 degrees for 45 mins. Cool and cut in bars.

Apple Graham Fluff

(Requested by Mrs. N.B.)

1 cup Graham cracker crumbs, 2 tbs. melted butter, 1-3 cup brown sugar (sifted), 1 egg white (stiffly beaten), 3 cups slightly sweetened applesauce, ½ tsp. cinnamon.

Mix crumbs, butter and brown sugar. Pile on a pie plate and bake in a slow electric oven at 275 deg. for about 10 mins. Cool. Fold beaten egg white into the sweetened applesauce. Put a spoonful of the graham cracker crumbs on the bottom of serving dishes, fill up with the applesauce mixture, sprinkle with cinnamon and top with more crumbs. Chill in electric refrigerator.

Mrs. C. asks: "Why are apple pies soggy in the lower crust?"

Answer: Pastry requires a high temperature (425-450 deg.) for 15 min., then lowered to 350 deg. for 30 mins. The pastry should be well cooked and chilled quickly when taken from the oven.

ALMOST A RECORD

We have read and heard warnings innumerable to take good care of Ration Books lest they be stolen or lost. We thought most of it unnecessary and were probably wrong. Monday afternoon about four o'clock Ration Books were issued to a woman at the local distributing office and before six o'clock they had been lost and an appeal made for new ones.
