Make Entries Now for the Eastern Show

Exhibitors who intend to show at the Eastern Ontario Live Stock and Poultry Show are reminded that entries should be made as early as possible. The closing date for poultry entries is Monday, Jan. 2nd, and live stock Saturday, Jan. 7th. Those who have not received their entry forms may secure them on application to D. T. Elderkin, Secretary, Ottawa.

Reports received from all over Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec indicate that there will be a record attendance at this great educational show. Breeders who wish to advertise their stock among these people should not fail to have representatives of their flocks and herds on exhibition. The show building is admirably adapted for showing stock to advantage and every opportunity is given the public to become acquainted with the merits of exhibits. Do not fail to make entries before the closing date.

Business College Course For $20.

The Brockville Business College has arranged a cheap winter course for which the tuition fee is only $20. This college is now entering upon its 33rd year and thousands of students give the credit of their success to this institution.

It certainly should be impressed upon all young people that whether their bent be to learn a trade, enter a profession, run a store, own a farm, manage a factory or even manage the affairs of a home, they should not consider their education complete without a short course at a Business College.

Our New Year Term opens Jan. 3rd. 1911. Get full particulars from Principal Rogers Brockville.

Methodist Sunday School Entertainment a Success

An audience of upwards of 600 assembled in the Music Hall on Monday evening last, in attendance upon the annual Sunday School entertainment of Trinity Methodist Church.

The verdict of all was that the program was one of rare merit. Of the 24 numbers rendered not one failed in securing the closest attention and interest. The choruses by the school were rendered in good tune, were most inspiring, and gave evidence of faithful rehearsing. The recitations by "wee folk" were most pleasing. When a child recites, generally speaking, he or she, as the case may be, scores with the audience.

So faithfully had the teachers and parents done their part that a marked clearness of enunciation was very noticeable in dialogues, recitations and songs. The cane and parasol drill by 10 or 12 boys and girls, carried the audience away, and a most enthusiastic encore was given. Possibly among many good items this came in just a lap ahead of the rest. The wand drill showed careful practicing and presented fascinating situations, while the costumes and young ladies taking part looked charming. "From Down East" was the title of a dialogue that burlesqued in splendid style that false social standard which measures men by clothes and trappings rather than real worth. The participants rendered their parts admirably.

The minister, Rev. W. H. Stevens, presided, and in the course of the evening made a plea for parents adult members of the congregation to display a more constant and practical interest in this important department of the Church's work.

The program took about two hours, and it speaks volumes for the participants to have held with interest unabated, such a large audience to the last number. The officiary of the Sunday School are to be most heartily commended and congratulated upon the school concert of Christmas 1910. The proceeds were in the vicinity of $90.

The exercises concluded with the "National Anthem."

We thank our friends and patrons for past favors, and wish one and all a happy and prosperous New Year. G.W. Bogart.

Nation Valley Entertainment.

The Gray School House, in the Nation Valley, was packed to the doors at the Christmas Tree Entertainment, under the auspices of the Day and Sunday School, given last Saturday evening.

A program of 46 numbers was carried out, dialogues, drills, duets solos. vocal and instrumental, with recitations was the order, "The Flag Drill" by a group of boys was a noticable feature. The "Ring Drill and Tableau" by the young ladies made a pretty setting, costumed in red and white the young women presented a picturesque sight. The Nation Valley produces as healthy and numerous a crowd of lads and lasses to be seen anywhere in the County of Dundas. They were present in large numbers Saturday night and took their various parts on the program most creditably.

During the evening Mr. Shennette, the teacher, presented diplomas to upwards of 15 boys and girls. At the juncture Miss Olive Merkley read an address and presented Mr. Shennette with a suit case, on behalf of the scholars.

Rev. W. H. Stevens, presided, and with him on the platform was Rev. S. A. Woods. Both gentleman delivered brief addresses. At the close "Santa Claus" appeared and distributed gifts and candies in a most lavish manner to the boys and girls.

It is our intention to begin the new year with a mammoth white goods sale which will begin on January 3rd. Watch for our advt. next week. G. W. Bogart.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS
Willis College Leads

In the November Civil Service Examinations, as shown by the results which have just been published, Willis College, Ottawa, again proved its superior merit. In the Stenographers' exam., twenty-nine were successful. Of these, twelve were Willis candidates, the remaining seventeen being supplied by all other colleges in Canada combined. Considering the large number of colleges throughout Canada which sent up candidates in competition, the showing made by Willis College is a most remarkable one. It is also interesting to note that in the lady stenographers' class, a Willis candidate headed the list. Willis College is certainly making a reputation that is a credit to the Capital city. The College re-opens for the next term on Jan. 3rd.

Crysler Team Victorious.

The first hockey match of the season played on the Chesterville skating rink on Monday, Dec. 26th, was witnessed by a large crowd of enthusiastic spectators, when the home team were defeated by the Crysler septette by a score of 3—2. Notwithstanding the light falling snow the ice was in first class condition and a fine exhibition of hockey was played by both teams.

The score first quarter was 1—0 in favor of the visiting team, but by a sudden burst of speed a local man made another score, and that with Crysler scoring again made it 2—2 at half time. Crysler scored one more in the second quarter, making the score 3—2 in their favor and thus it stood throughout the rest of the game. The home team did remarkably well, they having had little or no practice, while the visiting team have been no doubt been practising for some time.

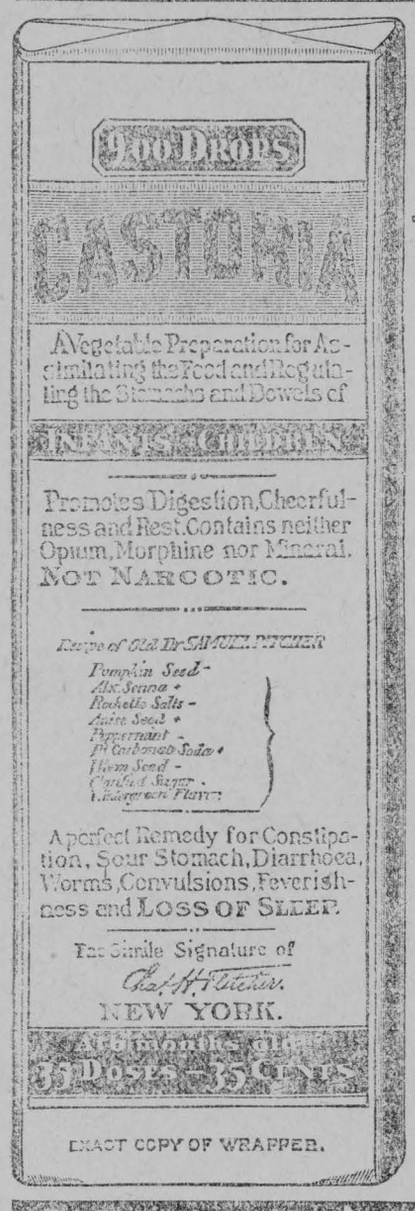

Much credit is due to refree T. A. Cauley, who kept the game well at hand and dealt out penalties whenever necessary. We hope that when the next match is played that the boys will be in better shape and will be able to give their opponents a good run for their money.

The line up was as follows:—

BANK CHECKS.

The Part They Play In the Payment of a Debt.

A young man had kept in his possession for several days a check from his uncle. His uncle died, and he hastened to the bank to cash the check. When he found the bank would not pay the check until it had orders from the heirs or from the courts he was surprised and observed to his father that he thought of a check as being so much money if the signature was good.

As a matter of fact, however, a check is merely an order from A. to B., who holds some of A.'s money, to pay a certain amount thereof to C. It is not money, even if the names on the check are good and well known and the bank is solid as the government. Although checks are given in payment of debt and a receipt usually is signed on the spot, yet the passing of a check does not constitute payment of indebtedness until it is paid by the bank.

Nor will the concurrent receipting of the debt for which it is given change this. If the check is not paid on presentation to the bank the original claim stands against the drawer or giver of the check. But a certified check constitutes payment on the part of the person who draws it.

Checks may be antedated or postdated—that is, dated before or after the date of delivery. If postdated checks are paid before the day specified the drawer can recover the money, for the bank has acted not in accordance with any order from him, but on its own responsibility.

If a blank is left for the date the holder is authorized to insert the true date of delivery, but no other date. The insertion of any other date or changing the date without the consent of the drawer makes the check void.—New York Herald.

BIBLICAL TROUBLES.

Knotty Language Problems Translators Have to Solve.

Some of the riddles that have to be solved before the Bible can be translated into remote and barbaric tongues are cited in that annual wonder book, the popular illustrated report of the British and Foreign Bible society. How, for example, can you find a name for "lamb" among the inhabitants of some island where the only quadrupeds are pigs and rats? How can you render "whiter than snow" in the dialects of West Africa, where snow is utterly unknown?

Occasionally the difficulty is one of sheer space. Lengua, the speech of an Indian tribe in Paraguay, which has been furnished with the gospel according to St. Mark, is so unwieldy that the word eighteen can only be represented thus: "Sohogemek-wakthlamok-eminik-antanthlama." Literally translated, that means "finished my hands, pass to my other foot—three," for fingers and toes serve as units. The word for butter in Lengua is "waitky-anathlankthlangninik-ikpithmuk," which means literally "the grease of the juice of the udder of the cow."

In New Guinea the translator wanted the proper idiom for "far be it from me to do this thing," so he consulted an intelligent catechumen. "Yes," replied the catechumen, "I understand exactly. We have the precise idiom. We say, 'May I speak to my mother-in-law before I will do this thing?'" for in that land of strange taboos one of the unpardonable sins is for a man to open his lips to his wife's mother.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Justifiable Deception.

The talk had gone back, and fro and the youthful Socialist had been announcing that no man ought to get his living by cheating, and we all listened to him and agreed that it was dreadful when men and women did not tell the truth, but tried to make their living by deceiving people. Millionaires, landowners, financiers, we scarified all of them who cheat the public.

"No one should make a living by deception," said the young man.

Then a quiet voice from a woman came from the corner of the sofa. "What about the conjurer?"

HOME SONG.

By Duncan Campbell Scott.

[Duncan Campbell Scott has been Chief Accountant and Superintendent of Indian Education in the Indian Department at Ottawa since 1893. He was born in 1862, and married Miss Belle W. Botsford, the prominent American violinist. He was one of the editors of "Makers of Canada," and has issued three volumes of verse, "The Magic House," "Labor and the Angel," and "New World Lyrics and Ballads," and a novel, "In the Village of Viger."]

There is rain upon the window,
There is wind upon the tree;
The rain is slowly sobbing,
The wind is blowing free:
It bears my weary heart
To my own country.

I hear the whitethroat calling,
Hid in the hazel ring;
Deep in the misty hollows
I hear the sparrows sing;
I see the bloodroot starting,
All silvered with the spring.

I skirt the buried reed-beds,
In the starry solitude:
My snowshoes creak and whisper,
I have my ready blood.
I hear the lynx-cub yelling
In the gaunt and shaggy wood.

I hear the wolf-tongued rapid
Howl in the rocky break;
Beyond the pines at the portage
I hear the trapper wake
His "En roulant ma boule,"
From the clear gloom of the lake.

O, take me back to the homestead,
To the great rooms warm and low,
Where the frost creeps on the casement,
When the year comes in with snow.
Give me, give me the old folk
Of the dear long ago.

Oh, land of the dusky balsam,
And the darling maple tree,
Where the cedar buds and berries,
And the pine grows strong and free!
My heart is weary and weary
For my own country.

Won His Wager.

Mrs. Somerville, the great methematician and scientific writer, had to a great extent the power of concentration and became so absorbed in her task as to be unconscious of what was going on around her. Dr. Somerville told Harriet Martineau that he once laid a wager with a friend that he would abuse Mrs. Somerville in a loud voice to her face and she would take no notice, and he did so. Sitting close to her, he confided to his friend the most injurious things—that she rouged, that she wore a wig and other such nonsense, uttered in a very loud voice. Her daughters were in a roar of laughter, while the slandered lady sat placidly writing. At last her husband made a dead pause after her name, on which she looked up with an innocent "Did you speak to me?"

Earthquakes Bar Progress.

Japan has a great number of waterfalls which would be of material value in the development of the country, but the reason these valuable sources of power are not being developed is because of the danger of earthquakes which is constantly confronting the people. More than once within recent years have steps been taken with the view of constructing dams in order that these falls might be utilized when some demonstration of the earth has given warning of the danger of such a step and the promoters have been forced to abandon or greatly modify the proposed improvement.—New York Press.

His One Regret.

"There's no use trying to deny it," remarked Mrs. DeFlatt, "this is the worst cook we've had yet. There positively isn't a decent thing to eat on the table."

"That's right," rejoined DeFlatt.

"But," continued his wife, "there's one thing in her favor. She can't be beat when it comes to washing."

"Pity we can't eat the washing," sighed the hungry husband.—Chicago News.

A Judicial Reproof.

A justice once reproved a would be suicide thus: "Young man, you have been found guilty of attempting to drown yourself in the river. Only consider what your feelings would have been had you succeeded."—Green Bag.

Wise Rosalind!

Reginald—Darling, I see by the papers that a food expert says that it is possible for a family to live on $4 a week. Do you think it possible?

Rosalind—No, dearest, but I'll be a sister to you!—Cleveland Leader.

One Man's Theory.

"No, I don't think women will ever succeed as railroad engineers."

"Why not?"

"They would lose too much time holding up their trains at crossing."—Boston Transcript.

It is not what we take up, but what we give up, that makes us rich.—Beecher.

IF YOU CAN, AT THE GREAT

LIVE STOCK, POULTRY and HORSE SHOW

Ottawa, Jan. 16-20'11

The purpose of the show is to give to the farmers of Eastern Ontario the results of the practical experience of those who have made a close study of the breeding, feeding, rearing and marketing of the classes of live stock and poultry most profitable to the farmers. This is accomplished by having at the show high class exhibits of Horses, Beef Cattle, Dairy Cattle, Sheep, Swine, Poultry and Seeds, and by supplementing these object lessons with addresses by experts in which they tell how the best can be produced profitably.

Many who have attended past Shows say they got pointers worth many times the money and time expended in attending.
