Here & There

by Kay Kay

We crowded in with the rest of the kids to get a bag of candy on Saturday (for our little girl, of course) and it renewed our faith in the bearded one. All those eager little faces pressed up against the back of the kid ahead made us recall that once we did the same thing. Noticed quite a few adults in there, carrying their own or someone else's youngster.. it wasn't safe for a kiddie alone, among all those pushing adults!

Nevertheless they all made it around the hall to see Santa and we must say he was in great shape and fine spirits. Actually, you know, he's quite a handsome fellow at that!

The only thing we didn't do, was take a pony ride . . but many a kiddie did and seemed to enjoy it.

We went over to see what the helicopter mechanic thought of the day's events and said to him "Well, how's it goin'?"

"Oh, it's running all right. . . there's nothing to be afraid of!"

That's what we get for asking such a stupid question, in the first place. The view of Iroquois from a few hundred feet up it quite startling. Never realized how messy our backyard looked until I peeked at it from the top side. One gets a good view of the village, though, and of the locks and such. When you look down at the water below you, it's comforting to keep in mind that the helicopter has pontoons!

Iroquois High School Champions

Iroquois High School football team, pictured above, has in the past two years, won many laurels for their school and the community. Having been undefeated for two years, the team amassed 539 points this season, with only 69 points scored against them. This in itself is a notable achievement. In addition to capturing the E.O.S.S.A. championship the team won the Kemptville Lions Club cup in tournament competition. $100 Draw Sat'day

Money is going to be literally flying around Iroquois shopping plaza this weekend — with two free draws scheduled for the last two days of the week.

On Friday night at 9 p.m. the regular Bonus Buck drawing will be held with the cash totalling $50.00, and on Saturday afternoon at 4.30 a further cash prize of $100.00 will be offered. The Saturday drawing is for one main prize only and the $100.00 will help someone do their Christmas shopping in Iroquois.

There is bound to be a winner for the Saturday drawing because names will be pulled until someone answers. You have to be in attendance to win at any of the draws.

This may be your last chance before Christmas to win yourself a "bundle"—the draw slips given out last Saturday (pink ones) are the only ones to be used in the Saturday draw.

The draws all will be held at the Iroquois shopping plaza.

Library News

At the Iroquois Public Library, readers will find eight more new books, four adult and four juvenile.

Those who enjoy non-fiction will appreciate "The Believer, The Life Story of Mrs. Henry Ford" written by Louise Clancy and Florence Davies. It is an informal biography of a modest woman, whose faith in her husband was the corner stone of an industrial empire.

For those who prefer fiction are three novels, "The Indicment", "Wainwright Inheritance" and "Glad Tidings".

A communist prison cell in Eastern Europe is the setting for "The Indictment", a suspense-laden story smuggled from behind the iron curtain. "Wainwright Inheritance" is Elizabeth Corbett's tender down-to-earth novel about a pretty, young, fun-loving widow with a problem—her austere, efficient step-daughter, just a few years her junior, who frowned on levity in any form. In "Glad Tidings", Joyce Warren has brilliantly pictured the film-making world, with its glamour and its unhappiness, a world she knows well.

"Promise of To-morrow", "Hold Fast To Your Dreams" and "Rocket to the Stars" would be of particular interest to those of high school age.

'Promise of To-morrow" is a poignant love story with a compelling theme, that you cannot hold on too tightly to any thing or any one just because you have a particular dream.

In "Hold Fast To Your Dreams", Catherine Blanton has written an exceptionally penetrating novel that faces squarely the issues involved in segregation. She tells of a young, talented girl, willing to suffer any hardship for her career, barred by the colour of her skin.

The setting for "Rocket To the Stars" is Sun Sand Missile Range, New Mexico. The heroine is a sixteen year old girl with a genius for getting into trouble, who learned that you can't have freedom without accepting the responsibility that goes with it.

In "Boyhoods of Great Composers", Catherine Gough has told the stories of six children, Handel, Mozart, Schubert, Mendelssohm, Grieg and Elgar. They had quite different back-grounds, and each had his own obstacle to overcome before he became a great composer whose music is played all over the world.

Santa Little Late, Greeted By Almost 800

The first real snowfall of the Season greeted Santa Claus as he dropped out of the sky Saturday morning. It was a "first" in many ways because in addition to this being the first time Santa Claus has made the trip to Iroquois by helicopter, it is also the first Christmas parade held.

Unfortunately, it was cold on Saturday and the helicopter crew ran into carburetor trouble before starting out with Santa. The carburetor had to be taken apart and cleaned before the trip could be made. Santa was almost an hour late in arriving and a few people decided to leave. Many saw the helicopter coming and came back to see the old gent step out of the craft and onto the back of a truck for the short trip to the Civic Centre.

A mob of youngsters flocked behind the truck on the way to the Centre and had it not been for the assistance of the local Fire Department and Girl Guides helping Santa Claus, he would have been mobbed. As it was the hundreds of kiddies flooded through the halls to get a bag of candy and a closer look at the guest from the North Pole.

Sponsored by the merchants of Iroquois, Santa's visit and parade will be remembered for quite a while by the youngsters who attended. While waiting for Santa to arrive, many kiddies took a ride on ponies which were brought here from the Horeshoe Corral near Crysler Farm. In the afternoon passengers were flown in the helicopter over the village and the Seaway locks and control dam.

The parade was started off from the west end of Dundas Street, came east to the shopping centre, up Elizabeth and in the north-east entrance to the parking lot. Parade chairman was George Jackson. While there weren't a large number of entries, due to the time of year and the weather ,those participating put on a good show.

Winners were:

First prize went to Jackson Builders Supply (the Wise Men float); second to the Stampville covered wagon, headed by Mrs. Jean Shaver; third to Lorne Merkley, river road west; Steven Shaver pulling stage coach, and Elva Merkley with her dog, dressed as a clown.

Takes First Plane Ride At 78 Years of Age

Mr. Henry Barkley age 78 and his little niece Miss Wendy Ellis age 3½ of Prescott, had their first plane ride Saturday afternoon in Santa's helicopter. They both extremely enjoyed it and are looking forward to taking to the sky again.

Parish Council

On Thursday, December 8, the regular monthly meeting of the Parish Council was held in the school, the President, Mrs. Lawrence Montpetit, presiding, and the Spritual Director, Rev. Fr. Macdonald, in charge of devotions. A gratifying report was given of the recent sale and tea, held in the Civic Centre. Further plans were discussed for the children's Christmas. Mrs. W. A. Gibbons was appointed to prepare remembrances for shut-ins. Members were in favor of installing a cupboard in the school for cups and saucers. It was decided to receive offerings for flowers for the Christmas altar on Sunday, December 18. After the prayers which closed the business session, the usual social hour was enjoyed by all.

Ladies' Guild St. John's Church Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Ladies Guild of the Church of St. John the Baptists was held on Thursday last with the President in the chair.

The Rector opened the meeting with prayers which included the Guild Prayer said in unison.

The roll was called and the minutes of the November meeting read and approved. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons expressed her pleasure at seeing such a splendid attendance of members. The Guild has had a wonderful year and is very appreciative of the support of not only our own Parishes but the members of the community and the surrounding districts.

During the month a further supply of banquet tables were purchased by the Guild and the last instalment of taxes paid, according to the Treasurer's report, leaving a substantial balance on hand.

Three Fire Calls On Friday

Heavy winds last Friday were responsible for Iroquois Fire Department being called out three times in less than 12 hours. An over heated oil stove and two chimney fires were called in from shortly afternoon Friday until 8o'clock Friday night.

First call was to the White School, two miles west of Iroquois on No. 2 Highway where Mrs. C. R. Bouck, teacher, reported an oil stove had exploded. Little damage, other than to the stove, resulted. The children were all removed from the school by the teacher.

The second call, coming in late afternoon, was to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Martin, Elizabeth Drive. The chimney had caught fire. Last call of the day was to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Roberts, Victoria Street, with another chimney causing the trouble.

Heavy winds, with drifting snow, made the day the worst of the season. Friday night the snow and wind combined to give a blizzard effect for a while.

The fast action of Mrs. Bouck in trying to control the fire and in making certain the children all reached safety is to be commended and would extend appreciation on behalf of the parents of children in the school.

Fire Chief Murray Storey told The Post that had it not been for the quick thinking of Mrs. Bouck in covering the stove with her coat the fire might have destroyed the school and possibly endangered the lives of the young people attending classes. He praised the teacher for her alertness and thoughfulness in a time of emergency.

Stores Open

Stores in the village of Iroquois will remain open evenings starting Monday, December 19th until Christmas eve at 6 p.m. The stores will also be open all day Wednesday.

Association Girl Guide Elects Officers

Local Association of Girl Guides and Brownies held a meeting on Nov. 29th, 1960.

Slate of officers for 1961:

Past President—Shirley Fisher; President—Edna Hagarty; 1st Vice President—Phyllis English; Sec-Treasurer—Bernie Sisty; Badge Secretary—Leona MacIntosh; Press Correspondent—Ruth Knox; Social Convener—Ann Cassentree.

Mrs. K. Knetchel spoke of the hardships of a refugee family in the Spencerville district. She told how they were aided by the Cardinal branch. The Iroquois branch deided to send a Christmas basket of canned food and supplies donated by the members.

The local association has only about 20 active members. More mothers of Guides and Brownies, as any one who is interested in this work are urged to join. Yearly dues are only 50c. There is also work that can be done for these young folks.

Meetings will be announced in the local paper. The first meeting of the new year will be held Jan. 17, 1961.

Mothers, Guides and Brownies will be going Carolling on Wednesday evening, Dec. 21st. All those who would like to go, will meet at the Civic Centre not later than 7o'clock.

Select Christmas Tree Carefully

When you select your Christmas tree this year, choose a freshly-cut tree, with firmly-attached needles.

Keep the tree outdoors until just before Christmas. It will stay fresher in the cold air, and once you have it up, it will stay green longer. And keep it standing in a pail of water.

When putting up the tree, set it in the coolest part of the room, away from radiators, heaters, and the fireplace. This will not only reduce the possibilty of fire, but will keep the tree from drying out.

It is a good plan to use a tree holder which has a little bucket of water in which the trunk can rest during the holidays. A tree usually "drinks" more water than you realize, so keep water container filled at all times.

Fireproof Christmas tree decorations are the best. Use decorations made of either glass, metal, or a fire-resistant material.

Set up electric trains away from the tree. A spark from the train could set the tree on fire.

Always use electric lights on the tree—never candles. Lighting sets should be checked before being with frayed wiring should be displaced on the tree, and those carded. When buying new sets, look for the tag or label showing listing by Underwriters' Laboraries. A switch some distance from the tree should be provided for turning the tree lights on and off.

On Christmas morning, fold and put away any gift wrapping you intend to keep. Other gift wrappings should be gathered up and thrown away promptly after presents are opened.

Christmas tree lights should be turned off when the family is away from home.

Inspect the Christmas tree from time to time to see how dry it is. If needles near the lights have started to turn brown, change the position of the lights.

When the needles start falling, take the tree down and discard it outdoors.

Even if the tree remains fresh, make plans now to dismantle it the day after New Year's, and restore the room to its normal setting.

Whose Responsibility?

(The Printed Word)

There seems to be a fairly general belief that Canada has entered a period of business recession. Unemployment figures are high, particularly in the more industrialized communities. Sales of many products have declined well below the levels of one or two years ago. Payments for relief in the large cities are likely to be heavier this winter than ever before.

At the moment there seems to be no general agreement about what might be done to improve conditions, except that there apparently is a widespread belief that action is someone else's responsibility. Labor union leaders are unanimous in opposing any reduction in wage rates. Many of them are even promoting strikes for higher wages in the face of unemployment statistics that reflect the dangers of a high-cost economy. Farmers continue to complain about the prices of things they buy in relation to what they are getting for their produce, but they seem quite unwilling to examine the burden placed on all consumers by the subsidizing of agricultural products. Governments at any level show a strange reluctance to decrease their spending and lessen their demands on the taxpayer. Businessmen, squeezed by labor unions, governments and consumers, may be in the worst position of all. They are blamed for not improving the economy and severely criticized when they try to cut their costs and have to lay off workers in the process.

Perhaps responsibility for getting things moving should be shared by the taxpayers and their representatives, the municipal, provincial and federal governments. If the tax payers cease demanding more from their governments, taxes can be lowered. They can be lowered substantially if governments do away with some of the schemes on which they now waste the taxpayers' contribution. If taxes are lowered, unions can afford to drop their demands for higher wages, because the reductions would be equivalent to wage increases. Consumers would benefit from lower prices and higher purchasing power.

In general it may be remarked that governments do not lead, but can be led. If the taxpayers really wish to improve their lot, they ought to be doing some leading.

WATCH THOSE FIRES!

Iroquois Fire Department had to answer three fire calls last Friday — the most in many years. With Christmas coming on and trees being erected it is to be expected that many lights will be used. Be sure the lights are safe and that the tree is well watered each day. Check all wires and make certain YOU have a happy and safe Yuletide.

Just in case, however, keep your fire number near the telephone—Iroquois and district, dial OL 2-4444.

Be careful when dialing — haste may mean the loss of precious minutes.

Mrs. J. Casselman Reports From The Capital

Interesting to observe the new personality of the Government this Session. Many elements go into the making of personality. One of the most obvious stimulants has been the changed face. New blood in the Cabinet has already shown results.

Walter Dinsdale, former Professor at Brandon College, Manitoba, practising Salvation Army leader, is highly respected and warmly liked. An honest and inveterate worker Walter would be an asset on any job.

The super salesman George Hees, bouncing with energy and enthusiasm, gives the vital Trade and Commerce Department just what it needs.

George Hees' successful years on the athletic fields of Canada taught him the value of teamplay, the strength in all working together. It is typical of him that in introducing Canadian business men to Canada's Overseas Trade Commissioners he did not leave the benefits to be obtained all on one side. With clear understandable directness he told them what he wanted and the rewards he would give. "I will be watching with interest during the months ahead the increase in sales which takes place in each of your areas. Such sales increase will have a direct bearing on your advancement in the future." George Hees' own life seems to prove his philosophy that rewards go to those who help themselves.

While too many people were crying the blues instead of thinking out a solution, Hees strode into Trade and Commerce without an ounce of pessimism. Lo and behold almost simultaneously the Dominion Bureau of Statistics produce Trade figures for the last ten months and they are the brightests since 1952. Last year's deficit of 427,400,000 for the same period has been whittled down to a neat 79,100,000. Even more encouraging is the diversigication of Trade which Prime Minister Diefenbaker promised. Last year's January to October surplus with the United Kingdom was a saving feature to the extent of $152,000,000. That healthy figure is almost doubled this year. Doubled too is Canada's surplus with all other Commonwealth Countries, and the trend is still strong in the right direction. Latest month recorded, October 1960 surplus with all other Commonwealth Countries, almost tripled that month in 1959. We have reason to be optimistic. Nothing succeeds like success.

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

"You're a failure, Smiley," he told me. He said it casually, but I must admit that I quailed before the cold, knowing stare he gave me. It didn't matter that he was baggy-eyed, unshaven, and scratched himself like an ape. I knew he could see right through me.

"Yabbut . . ." I started to say. Whenever I'm put on the defensive, I find myself saying that "It's Old English or something for "Yes, but . . ." He brushed it aside: "Yabbut me no yabbuts. For years you've been trying to blame it on everybody but yourself. Face it. You're a failure and you know it."

With a vestige of my customary dignity, I drew myself up about an inch and asked him where the heck he got that idea. After all, I told him, there's meat on the table every day, nobody has holes in his shoes, and we have furniture, a car, an electric dryer. We even have a kitten that may, or may not, be pregnant.

He just looked at me and snorted. "You're such a failure you don't even know you're a failure," he continued in that disgusted way he affects. "Your furniture is junk, your car won't be paid for until 1962, and that's the cheapest dryer on the market. "He went on:" "What about the important things? Do you have a recreation room? No. Do you have a patio? No. You don't even have a television set! You're forty years old and you don't even have one lousy, little transitor radio."

Everything he said was right, of course, but he didn't have to look at me with such distaste. I began to get a little sore. "Now, just hold on there, Buster," I retorted. "You may think these are the important things in life. But we're not all like you, thank goodness. What about the real values, the solid achievements?"

"Yes?" he needled, hawking, spitting and scratching in a most disgusting fashion. I stood right up to him, and told him a thing or two: "How about that B.A. degree I earned? How about flying that fighter-bomber against the Germans? How about editing a newspaper for ten years? How about a wife and two children who are devoted to me? You think a fellow can do all those things and be a complete failure?"

He rubbed his bristly chin, looked at me with the enthusiasm of a farmer about to clean out the stalls and said flatly: "Yes it took you ten years to get that B.A., and they were sympathetic to veterans, or you'd never have got it. You were a second-rate pilot, responsible for the loss of an $80,000 aircraft. You edited that paper with more complaining than a ruptured hen laying eggs. And I can show you even bigger failures than you, who have a wife and eight children devoted to them."

"Maybe so," I shot back, "but I was snapped up pretty darn quick when I decided to become a teacher. Does that look like a failure?" He bared his tobacco-stained teeth at me in a grimace of scorn. He opend his mouth for the crushing rejoinder. I braced myself for it. And just then, like the bugles of the cavalry arriving in the nick of time, a piercing feminine call came up the laundry shoot: "Are you going to spend all day in there? Your eggs are hard and the tea is getting cold and it's 8.30."

So I shut up, rubbed in the lather, took a suck on that first fag of the day, gagged over the toilet, and when I started to shave he had disappeared. Self-confident, no longer a failure, I sped through the rest of the business and ran briskly down to breakfast, the picture of a well-groomed, keen dedicated teacher.

A man spends most of his time trying to impress somebody. At work, it's the boss. fellow-workers, and subordinates. At home, it's the wife and children. At any other time it's whoever happens to be around. We get ulcers, heart attacks. divorces, and the odd punch in the eye, trying to impress somebody.

But try as I might, I can't impress that hard old case who lives in behind the mirror in our bathroom. I know he'll be there again to morrow morning, bleary-eyed. rumpled, scratching, disillusioned. and cynical. Tomorrow morning he'll probably try to convince me there is no Santa Claus.

TODAY!

The Indonesian Government has passed a decree against the importation of foreign manufactured goods in an effort to encourage local industrial development. For a period of two years, however, they have given a dispensation to the Indonesian Bible Society to import Scriptures. The National Bible Society of Scotland has allocated the sum of $5,000.000 - $2,500.00 in 1960 and $2,500.00 in 1961 to the Indonesian Bible Society for the import of Scriptures while there is yet time.

A New Testament in Murat is being published by the National Scottish Bible Society for use in Borneo. This is the language of one of the hill tribes living in the forests of the central Highlands of the island, partly in Indonesian Borneo and partly in Sarawak. This is the first book to be published in Murat and has been made possible by the contribution of approximately $3,750.00 by friends of Otago and Southland Bible Society. This subsidy enables the Society to sell this New Testament at a price the people are able to pay.

Further publications in other tribal languages, such as Tagal will be produced.

Canada Needs Flexible Monetary Policy

MONTREAL—In an increasingly tough, competitive world, Canada needs a more flexible official monetary policy, so as to accelerate business while avoiding inflation, according to G. Arnold Hart, president of the Bank of Montreal.

Thus, he told B of M shareholders at their 143rd annual meeting, a reasonable enlargement of the nation's money supply and of bank loans should be allowed to continue so long as this can be done without risking a runaway boom.

Shareholders also heard R. D. Mulholland, the bank's general manager, present a statement showing establishment of new records in almost every phase of the B of M's operation for the year ended October 31.

New Highs Reached

Total resources approached a new record of $3.5 billion, including deposits of over $3.2 billion, while loans maintained the record level of $1.77 billion established last year.

Mr. Hart noted an "impressive improvement" in federal finances over the past 12 months, but warned that the present near-balance of federal finances may not continue. If, as a result of large new spending, government debt has to be expanded sizably, he said it should be remembered that there are 'definite practical limits" to how much new debt can be created in a short time.

Boost Borrowing

However, the B of M president believed that "What central bankers and commercial bankers should be worrying about now is ways and means of creating the conditions that will lead to an increase in bank borrowing rather than the reverse."

Too much emphasis at this time on the dangers of over-expansion and of over-borrowing, domestic or foreign, might be "conducive to a state of timorous apprhension in which all expansion, and all increase in indebtedness, become, as it were, suspect," he added.

Pointed to the need for a definitive lead from the Bank of Canada, Mr. Hart said the financial community should be given "some measure of assurance that official monetary policy, which has lately shown signs of greater flexibility, will continue in this direction as long as may be possible without giving rise to renewed inflationary dangers."

Concluding, the B of M president said, "Banking these days is a complex, competitive and often frustrating business. About the only thing one can expect is the unexpected - that with the passage of time new situations will arise and will test our capacity to adapt ourselves to them."

General Manager's Remarks

R. D. Mulholland, general manager of the B of M, presenting the bank's 143rd annual statement, said "notable progerss" had been made during the year.

At October 31, total deposits were more than $3,200 million, in increase of $202 million for the year. Personal savings deposits rose $44 million to $1,656 million, a year-end record for the B of M, he continued.

Help For Farmers

Pointing to the bank's 'consistent policy" of asisting agriculture, Mr. Mulholland said advances to farmers are higher than in 1959, while B of M farm improvement loans are the highest in history.

For the future, the general manager pledged cooperation "to the fullest possible extent" in the federal plan to provide government-guaranteed loans to small business men, as notified in the recent throne speech.

Mrs. Ogle Workman is spending sometime in Ottawa the guests of friends.

Few people appreciate the staggering economic loss involved in traffic accidents, comments the Ontario Eafety League. Indirect costs are many times greater than the collision repair bill. A survey by the U.S. Navy indicates that each accident in which a serviceman is injured or killed costs the taxpayers approximately $30,000.

Start Construction of Community Centre

By unanimous decision on Wednesday evening the members of the Community Centre Board approved of the use of the former Morrisburg Arena property for the site of the new Community Centre. This decision broke a long standing deadlock over the question of the site and has cleared the way for a start on immediate construction.

The use of this site was only made posible by the acquisition by the Board of the vacant land lying to the North of the old Arena property. Until recently it had been though imposible to acquire these extra lands and it was only through the personal efforts and negotiations of the Reeve, Gordon W. Thom, that it became posible to make this purchase and thus clear the way for a start on the project.

The question of a site for the centre has been the chief stumbling block for the Board up to the present time. Ideally a site should meet the following requirements:

1. It should be central and easy and safe of access for children;

2. It had to be poesibls to acquire it and at a price that was not too unreasonable;

3. It should be large enough to provide for parking and also for future development of recreational activities;

4. It should be properly zoned and in a position to be used without becoming entangled in the endless red tape of re-zoning applications or plebicites.

Although several pieces of land had been discussed during the past year it was found by the Board that is was impossible to make use of them as they failed to meet either requirements 1, 2, or 4. The old Arena property in its original size also failed to meet requirement number 3.

However by the purchase of the lots to the North of the old site a property has been obtained having dimensions of 230' by 273 feet andw hile this is not quite as large as the members of the Board might have desired, it was felt that the property so ideally met all of the other requirements of convenience, central location, safety and zoning that it should be adopted as the best location available for the centre. Engineers will be on the property this week end to provide the necessary information as to level and Mr. Dalton Merrill, Chairman of the Board, the Reeve Mr. Thom and other members and officials of the Board plan to spend this week end inspecting several community centres in Eastern Ontario so that plans may be completed at once and construction commenced. The munipal council hope to quailify the project for the 50 per cent winter work grant from the Federal and Provincial Government both in order to reduce costs and also to assist in providing winter work in the municipality.

Highest Road Expe'diture

MONTREAL—Canada's per capita expenditures on roads and streets is now the highest in the world and the same holds good for expenditures per registered vehicle, according to the Bank of Montreal's Business Review for November, just issued.

The review points out that between 1900 and 1928, the number of automibles, trucks and motorcycles in Canada increased from a tiny handful to more than 1,000,000. By 1948, the figure was 2,000,000. A million more were added in the next four year; a fourth million in the next three year; and by 1959, the figure had climbed to 5,000,000.

These swelling hordes of Canadian vehicles - plus millions more visitors' cars - all need roads, within cities and linking cities, the review points out.

70 Per Cent More

Towards this end, the completion of new surfaced roads has been given a high priority by all levels of government, with 70 per cent, or 120,000 miles, 40 times the breath of Canada, being added in the past decade.

Furthermore, the B of M says, mileage is not the only yardstick. For yesterday's narrow paved roads cannot compare with today's wide highways.

"In a very real sense, therefore," the review adds, "the increase in mileage in the past ten years has provided much more driving space than the figures of mileage alone would indicate."

But where to build new roads presents something of a dilema to those making the decisions, the bank says. "Ours is a relatively thinly populated country and the desire to link together centres of population, often widely scattered, has to compete for priority with the adequate servicing of the more populous centres."

By and large, local governments have paid for local streets and roads - the byways of the nation, the B of M says, while the much more expensive inter-urban highways have been paid for largely by the provinces.

Ever since Confederation, the federal government has come into the picture, too, although federally-financed construction was on a comparatively small scale prior to the Trans-Canada Highway Act of 1949, the review continues.

Open Coast to Coast

Now, a decade later, the Trans-Canada Highway is open to traffic over its entire length from St. John's Nfld., to Victoria, on Vancouver Island, with the single exception of a 90-mile gap in the Rockies, and this gap probably will be closed within a year. Normally, Ottawa pays for half the cost.

In addition, in 1957, the federal authorities launched the Roads to Resources program, a cost-sharing arrangement to help provinces build roads that otherwise would probably not be built at this time.

Thus, in ten years, road expenditures has multiplied three times over, to the point where we now spend more per person on roads than any other people in the world the B of M review concludes.

Most voters under a demoncratic system, notes the Ontario Safety League, are fiercely jealous of their right to elect the representatives who will make the traffic laws that the voters intend to break whenever they find it convenient.

"Canada has many national campaigns each year asking for our dollars to help preserve life and health. Safe Driving Week, December -7, is one that asks only for our sense" says Ira G. Needles of Kitchener, acting President of the Ontario Safety League.

Fred Cass Reports 3rd Week of Legislature

The Fall session at Toronto really got into full swing in its third week. Debate on the Speech from the Throne continued and during the week the debate on the so-called unemployment problem went into high gear. Many members made thoughful suggestions which they hoped would help government and business meet the problem.

The organization of the House for the new Session having been completed, several House committees began their consideration of the business referred to them. This Session, as in the last, Wednesday each week has been set aside for Committee meetings with no sitting of the House. The Committees on Private Bills, Legal Bills, and Highways and Highway Safety all met and appeared to have agendas calculated to keep their members very busy for some weeks.

Although the Budget is not expected to be brought down until February, there have already been presented to the House for consideration, debate and approval estimates for the coming year of several departments of government. This, for the Ontario Legislature where introduction of departmental estimates always followed the Budget, is an innovation. However, it seems to be working satisfactorily and will undoubtedly speed the business of the House.

During this week also Mr. Phillip Hoffman, M.P.P. for Temiskaming and the winner for the Conservative government of the recent by-election there, was introduced to, and seated in, the House bringing it up to its full complement of 98 members of whom no less than 71 are Frost government supporters.

Again and again during this session Prime Minister Frost has demonstrated his mastery of the art of government and of House leadership. With an almost unbelievable knowledge of persons, departmental procedures and life generally in Ontario, he alone is a match for the opposition parties. Indeed the optimism, vision and accomplishments of Ontario's government reflects the genius of its leadership and in its benefits we all share.

SHANLY

The pupils of Shanly School under supervision of their teacher, Mrs. Stanley Sloan, presented an excellent evening's entertainment on Monday evening, Dec. 8. Mr. Gordon Gilmer presided at the piano and contributed greatly towards the programme. Mr. Lyall Riddell ably acted as chairman and also assisted Santa to distribute the gifts at the close of the entertainment.

The annual W. M. S. meeting was held in the Sunday School room on Thursday afternoon with the president, Mrs. F. Riddell, in the chair. Reports were received from all departments showing a very profitable year. As all officers were for two years, there was no election of officers this year.

Group leaders for 1961 are: Mrs Arnold Pitt, Mrs. J. S. Wallace, Mrs. Earl Pitt and Mrs. Walter Froom.

Group four then presented a beautiful candle light service and lunch was served by Mrs. Joe Moulton, Mrs. W. Froom and Mrs. F. Bud.

On Friday evening the members of Dufferin Orange Lodge with their wives enjoyed a Turkey Supper in the Lodge room. Following this, Past County Master, installed the following officers for 1961: Worshipful Master, Stuart Irving; Deputy Master, Clarence Levere; Chaplain, Don Burner; Recy-Secy, J. Stanley Wallace; Financial Secy., Cecil Bennett; Treasurer, Rose Sommerville; Tyler, James York; Committee-nien, Lyall Brown, Charlie Gilmer, Charlie Thorpe and M. McGuire.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Giles, Carleton Place and Mr. and Mrs. Arnott Conley and Darlene, of Brockville, were Sunday tea guests at the Lattimore home.

Mrs. Jean Henderson, of Toronto, and brother, Mr. Will Perry, of Cardinal, were Saturday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robt Conley.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Francis and boys visited Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Crowder, of Silver City, one evening last week.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. Roy McCarley is very poorly in the District Hospital, Kemptville.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Baker and boys, Iroquois, were Sunday afternoon visitors of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Francis.

HANESVILLE

Mr. Johnson Fader and Gayle, of Brockville, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Fader.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Coughler and Roy, of Cardinal, spent Saturday afternoon with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Fader.

Quite a number of children spent Saturday in Iroquois where they had the pleasure of meeting Santa Claus in person, receiving their treats and enjoying a helicopter ride and the parade.

Mr. Gordon Leizert received the sad news last week that his brother-in-law, George Hutchcroft had passed away. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved families.

Miss Jean Munro spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Munro.

Personal items of news about the people in our district are always welcome—weddings, graduations, engagements, etc., all interest our readers.

Between You and Me

PAY ONE WAY AND VOTE ANOTHER?

(By Margaret Aitken)

One subject that always sparks discussion in political circles is money. Come to think of it, I guess money sparks interest in any circle.

Check-off Collection

But it is of special interest just now among politicians because of the new political party about to emerge. It plans to get its money through collections among union members.

How will the check-off work in regard to political donations?

Take myself, for instance. I am a member of the Newspaper Guild. I have not heard of a political check-off proposed for this particular union but if it is, what about me?

It would be a travesty to pay my money into a political party I am devoting my personal time and energies to defeat.

Not Necessarily So

There must be many other newspaper people who do not want socialism. Indeed, there must be thousands of union members who feel the same way.

Ask a CCFer about this point and he says it will be a voluntary check-off. If the individual union members do not want to contribute, all they have to do is say so.

Under those circumstances, what price the secret ballot?

It woudn't bother me because my party affiliation is pretty well established publicly.

Politics Personal

But there must be many union members, as well as non-union members, who consider their politics a personal matter. To have to declare yourself for or against a one-party political check-off would be to tell your union leader and your employer how you mean to vote.

Of course it would always be possible to pay one way and vote another but I must confess it would be impossible to me.

Then too, what about the employer? In the check-off he does the colecting of dues for the union.

Why should an employer do the bookkeeping for a political party that plans, if victorious, to nationalize the employer's business?

Forced To Contribute

Let's look at the CPR, for instance. Why should the CPR assist a political party that makes no secret of the fact it would nationalize the railway company?

Also, why should union members, who do not want amalgamation with the CNR, which is what nationalization would bring about be forced to contribute their money to such a party?

There is no doubt that the sinews of war in politics have to be paid for by contribution to political parties. This is part of our democratic way of life.

But once the freedom of choice, versus loss of the secret ballot, is taken away something is wrong with our democratic way of life.

Christmas Cantata At United Church

Next Sunday morning Iroquois United Church Sunday School will join in the morning worship service for the annual White Gift Service. On Sunday evening the joint choirs of Cardinal and Iroquois United Churches will present their Christmas Cantata in Iroquois United Church at 7.30. The C.G.I.T. will join in the Service with their annual candlelighting service.

The Sunday School will hold a Christmas concert in the church hall on Tuesday night, December 20th, at 7.30.

WHERE THERE'S A Wish
THERE'S A Way

and the B of M way is sometimes the best way to say "Merry Christmas"

Sometimes money is the only logical gift for three or four of the more "difficult" names on your gift list . . . but to some of us cold cash and Christmas-giving just don't seem to go together. Well, the B of M has the way to take the chill off cold cash and make your gift of money a warm, personal one, fully in keeping with the spirit of the season.

Look over the B of M's three ways to make your gift of money arrive to the tune of "Jinglebells".

1. STUDENTS' AND BABIES' PASSBOOKS make a delightful extra for some youngsters on your list. Your gift of money is entered in a special passbook and enclosed in a Christmas cover guaranteed to make young eyes pop with glee.

2. MONEY ORDERS purchased for Christmas-giving come in gaily-decorated envelopes or folders that clearly spell out your Yuletide wish. Ideal for those "hard-to-buy-for" people on your out-of-town gift list.

3. SPECIAL CHRISTMAS CHEQUES are available in two colourful holiday designs — one for personal and one for business bonus-giving. They are "gift-wrapped" in a bright cover that glows with the spirit of the season.

CFRA Happy Wanderers
Salute To The Rough Riders

(Tune of "Little Brown Jug")

Chorus:
Ha, Ha Ha, - Ho, Ho, Ho, Ottawa drowned the Eskimos
Ho, Ho, Ho, - Ha, Ha, Ha, The Grey Cup's here in Ottawa.

We've waited now since fifty-one
For the biggest prize to be won.
We love our Riders thru' and thru'
And know they're thrilled and so are you.

Garry Schreider on defense
Could kick the ball over the outfield fence
He said "Let's worry those boys a bit -
A field goal should do the trick."

Well worth the wait for 14 years
Kay Vaughan's touchdown brought Eskimo tears
Joe Smith he fumbled on the one yard line
Kay grabbed the ball and dove over the line.

Two tough nuts that are hard to crack
Are Jim Conroy and Jerry Nesbitt
Along with guard Fred Robinson
They helped keep the Eskimos on the run.

Ron Steward has a new cigar
To go with his new sports car
Voted the top man of the game
His name will go down in football fame.

Just pass the ball over my way
Dave Thelen was heard to say
Then turn me around and head me right
And we'll take the Grey Cup home tonight,

Poor Eskimos one referee cried
Come take my whistle and I'll try
Or the crowd down there will all go home.
To get the ball in the Rider's zone

Knowing his figures forwards and back
Is Russ Jackson the quarterback
Number two top man of the year
He called some plays the Eskimos feared.

Joe Poirier was Parker's Waterloo
When he said this pass is not for you
And Emperor Jones towering in the sky
Looked down on the Eskies as they tried.

Now here's a man who has twice
Drank a toast from two Grey Cups
He'll have the third one in '61
Ah! Bob Simpson you're a lucky one.

Bill Sowalski on the run
Caught a pass for the big touchdown
And all the while the end Lou Bruce
Kept Jackie Parker from getting loose.

Reynolds, Mosca and Lancaster
Archambault, Kelly and Koes too
All proved to the West what they could do
Brancato, Scoccia and Daigneault

Now the head coach Professor Clair
And his side-kick Smith were everywhere
Three Grey Cups three years he did seek
And got the third one just last week.,

There is more we'd like to say
About our boys who went all the way
So instead of carrying on this song
Let's sing these words to help them along.

Lions Christmas Party Draws Large Number

Iroquois Lions Club members and guests, nearly 100 strong, took part in the annual Lions Club Christmas party in the Iroquois Civic Centre on Monday night. The ladies of St. John the Baptist Church Guild served a delicious turkey supper for the occasion and decorated the tables in a festive spirit.

The greater part of the evening was spent in having fun — based principally on the presentation of gifts which had jokes attached, followed later in the evening by a formal presentation of gifts from Santa Claus to everyone present.

The president, Ken. Kirkby, first called on Rev. Douglas Fry for the blessing and the attendance stood for a moment's silence in memory of departed Lions.

The head table was introduced, consisting of the executive of the club. As well as local guests, also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Goldhammer, Lions zone chairman, Cornwall; Mr. Louis Lecompte, Morrisburg Lions Club, and Jim James, Maple Lions Club. Other Lions members introduced guests from their own community.

The toast to the ladies was admirably presented by veteran toastmaster Ross Playfair, with Mrs. Ken. Kirkby replying.

The first part of the group entertainment was the singing of Christmas carols.

Later in the evening a "turkey shoot" was held, with members and guests taking a shot at a bullseye in hopes of winning a large turkey. Clifton Davis succeeded in getting the closest shot on target.

Men's draw winners were Clifford Greaves, Mike Davis, Arthur Bowden, Ronald Seely, Ronald Fader, Thos. Millar and John Seely. Ladies' draw wiuners included Mrs. L. C. Davis, Mrs. Rowena Coulter, Mrs. Keith Beaupre, Mrs. J. L. Dean and Mrs. George Perault.

The singing of Old Lang Syne and O Canada closed the meeting.

Knox Ladies' Aid Met Last Monday

The December meeting of Knox Church Ladies' Aid was held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the church hall.

Mrs. H. G. Clark, president, presided. After opening Christmas Carol Mrs. Clark offered a prayer. The scripture lesson from St. Luke, chapter 2, was read by Mrs. Fenton.

The secretary, Mrs. W. Moke, read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll. The treasurer's report was submitted by Mrs. Wm. Pollock, the treasurer. The books for the past year were closed with a gratifying balance. The correspondence consisted of several "thank you" cards and a letter from the local Red Cross society, asking for volunteers to do quilting or sewing in the coming year. Several members consented to do some of this work.

Several Sunshine bags were turned in, completing the collection of bags. Members were asked to save used stamps for the Bible Society, the stamps to be brought to the next meeting.

The treasurer was asked to pay certain bills. A list of shutins was made out and the secretary commissioned to send Christmas cards to all on the list. A Carol and the Benediction brought the meeting to a close.

Mrs. M. Hyslop and Mrs. G. McCaslin were hostesses at the social half hour which followed.

Knox W.M.S. Held Its Annual Meeting

The W. M. S. of Knox Church held their Annual meeting at the Manse on Monday afternoon, Dec. 5. The Chirstmas service of worship from Glad Tidings and the service of worship from the study leaflet were used. These consisted of scripture passages, Christmas Carols, meditations and prayers in which all members and visitors participated.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Treasurer's report and Welcome and Welfare reports were given and accepted on motion of Mrs. H. G. Clark, seconded by Mrs. Moke. The offering was received and dedicated and a few items of business discussed. It was decided to bring to the church hall on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 15, all articles of clothing to be packed for the Scott Mission in Toronto. Used clothing in good condition, for men, women, children and babies is badly needed.

The annual reports were then submitted. The Secretary-Treasurer, Welcome and Welfare, Home Helpers, Glad Tidings and the Literature all showed encouraging results. Election of officers for 1961 followed and the names of officers are as follows:

President, Mrs. W. J. Armstrong; Vice-President, Mrs. W. Moke; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Miller; Welcome and Welfare and Home Helpers, Mrs. J. B. Fenton; Glad Tidings, Mrs. M. Hyslop, and Literature, Mrs. J. R. Miller.

The Mizpah benediction closed the meeting.

Lunch was served by Mrs. D. Fry and a pleasant social time enjoyed. January meeting to be at the home of Mrs. J. R. Miller.

Telegram Blank Brings Back Fond Memories

by Dorothy Barker

Sometimes I have the darnest experiences. I pulled a telegram blank from the desk in the parlour car, intending to dash off ten words announcing my arrival in Drumheller, Alta. Instead, the lined blank conjured up a memory. Mentally I was hundreds of miles away, in the Communications Department of the Canadian National Railways in Toronto.

I suppose it is because women are, for the most part, completely oblivious of mechanical operations, that we are usually fascinated with anything more complicated than an ironing cord, or a carpet sweeper.

The day I was given the "tour treatment" was, according to heads of the various operations, just an ordinary one as far as rush of business was concerned. As I watched the pattern of traffic, I thought perhaps Russia had launched a man into space, the stock market had let loose a flood of bears ,or the world was about to come to an end and everyone's friends and relations were being notified of the distaster by wire. If this was "just an average day" what would this "Barney Google" jungle of machines and operators look like in a national emergency.

We started our tour de force in the telephone room. Literally dozens of girls sat at long tables with head phones fastened on their fancy coiffures, their fingers flying over the keys of their typewriters. In much less time than it takes me to write it, these messages were on a conveyor belt travelling into another room.

Here they were sorted into electrically-operated slots which caried them up wire cages and dropped them within inches of the transmitting operator. Seconds had elapsed and somebody's message was being received far, far away.

This room was divided into areas, Canada, United States and cable to points abroad. For the most part, the operators were out in the open. Row upon row of them, operating machines that were as simple as a typewriter and as complex, at least to me, as a robot. Only persons glassed in were the operators of switchboards receiving quotations from the stock market. I shivered at their responsibility. I visioned how a fraction of a mistake might alter the trading trend of a nation, even cause a panic! These operators are the fastest and most experienced in the business of transmission, I was told. In less than a minute London knows what a stock is selling at on the Toronto Exchange.

The railway communications section was fascinating to me. Beyond the layman's imagination is the control over traffic these huge panels, that look like overgrown telephone switchboards, provide for the safety of passenger travel and freight rerouting. Even more impressive, was the enthusiasm and dedication of men, who sit hour after hour, watching for little red, green and white lights to pop on and off and the decisions they make to keep the line clear.

The romance of industry and invention was evident in the Telax machines that are being used more and more in the transmission of messages. In 1957, there were only 40 sets in use in Canada. Two years later, 200 sets had been installed. Today the CNR cannot keep up with the demand for this equipment by industry and newspapers alike.

But if you really want to be thrilled and confused, you want to visit the radio and TV control room. It was all a maze to me. I know I admired beyond measure, the lad with the snappy blue eyes, who had the courage to be alone with the monster boards and machines that lined the room and to know in an instant how to switch CBC from one program to another. I know why commercials are a godsend to such an operation, for while the local station is blurbing about "the best detergent to give the whitest wash", this young man is manipulating plugs and switches that bring in one network program on top of another without an instant's hitch.

I thought such phrases as "The Jungle" and "The Merry-go-Round" were apt descriptions for the areas controlling the nation's business, news and domestic messages by wire.

I knew almost as soon as I finished writing, "Will arrive Drumheller 9.30 p.m. Tuesday, confirm reservations", the room clerk at the Waldorf Hotel was replying, " O.K." Tuesday". The army of operators, always on the job, is taken pretty much for granted by the populace. So is the equipment that involves an investment of millions. We ordinary people could only possibly assess its worth to our every day living, if tomorrow it was knocked out of existence.

CARDS OF THANKS

I wish to convey my sincere thanks to those who offered assistance at the scene of the accident; to Doctors and Nursing staff of the Winchester Memorial Hospital who made my stay as pleasant as possible, to my many friends who called, sent cards and treats, both at the Hospital and since my return home. All this was deeply appreciated.

I wish in this way to extend grateful thanks to all who sent me gifts, letters and cards and flowers during my stay in the Kingston General Hospital. These kindly acts were greatly appreciated.

IN MEMORIAMS

SUMMERS—In loving memory of Glenn Robert Summers, who passed away on Dec. 15, 1958.
The midnight stars are shining,
Upon your silent grave.
Beneath it sleeps the one we love
And the one we could not save.
Dad, Mother, brothers and sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. C. White, of Toronto, spent the week end with Mr. White's mother, Mrs. Catherine White, who was celebrating her eighty-sixth birthday on Saturday, Dec. 10th.

LADIES GUILD

Committee consisted of a complete inventory of the equipment on hand in the kitchen and shortages noted.

The Rector took the chair for the election of officers and addressed the meeting briefly, congratulating the ladies on a successful year's work.

All offices were declared vacant. The report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. Carl Banford. The only change in the slate reported being that of the 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Frank Beuley, who was unable to continue for another year, and Mrs. E. W. Newman had consented to accept nomination. It was moved and carried unanimously that Mrs. Newman be elected 1st. Vice-President and the other officers remain at their posts for another year.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons thanked the members for re-election and hoped she would receive the loyal support from all the members which she had this year in the coming year.

A few items of business in connection with catering for the Lions Christmas party were discussed and the Holiday cards taken in.

It was moved that a letter be sent to the Iroquois Post for their kindness in printing our reports and notices during the year.

This year St. John's Guild whose specific purpose is to help the church in anyway possible agreed to give the church wardens the sum of $800.00. The Guild paid the taxes on the Rectory, amounting to $397.00, and the Treasurer was instructed to issue a cheque for the balance.

At the close of the meeting by the Rector, a pleasant social hour was spent in exchanging Christmas gifts after which refreshments were served.

The new slate of officers for the year 1961 stands at:

President—Mrs. W. E. Fitzsimmons; 1st Vice-President—Mrs. E. W. Newman; 2nd Vice-President—Mrs. T. A. McCaffrey; Secretary—Mrs. William Robertson; Treasurer—Mrs. Ed Cassantree. Committees are to be appointed at January meeting.
