Aden M. Durant, 62, Died Unexpectedly Late Last Evening

Aden Moses Durant, mail courier for Rural Route No. 2, died unexpectedly at his home in Chesterville last night about 11 o'clock in his 63rd year as the result of a heart attack The funeral will be held from the home on Albert Street at 2.00 p.m., Saturday, conducted by Rev. A. E. Martineau.

Mr. Durant had retired and. complaining of a feeling of smothering sat up on the edge of his bed but before his wife could do anything to assist him he fell over on the bed, dead. He had not been in the best of health for some time, suffering rather badly since last winter with a heart condition.

The late Mr. Durant was 62 years old on June 18th. He was the son of Edward Durant and his wife Sarah Sargent. Members of the family surviving are his widow, the former Agnes Colquhoun; three daughters, Mrs. Charles Black (Beatrice) of Morrisburg; Mrs. Claude Carr (Edna) of Grantley, and Mrs. Glenn E. Merkley (Wilda) of Chesterville, and one brother, Elmer Durant of Mountain. A sister, Mrs. Leslie Armstrong, died some years ago.

Following his marriage the late Mr. Durant farmed in the Beckstead Settlement for many years, moving to Chesterville about five years ago. For the last three years he has been driving the mail on R. R. No. 2.

Two Chesterville Men In Hospital as Result Sunday Night Accident

Harry M. Henderson, Chesterville undertaker, and Edward McDonald, local farmer, are patients in the General and Hotel Dieu hospitals in Cornwall as a result of injuries received Sunday evening when their automobile ran off the highway east of Cornwall as Mr. Henderson avoided another automobile coming around a curve from the west.

Mr. Henderson's condition is reported to be satisfactory with the possibility of internal injuries ruled out. He is suffering from lacerations on the head, left arm, back and both legs, and it is feared one knee may have to be tapped. Edward McDonald's injuries were not so serious but he is still in hospital.

The two men were returning from Valleyfield, Que., where they had taken Mr. McDonald's sister, Mrs. Leo Dupuis, and her young twins to her home in one of Mr. Henderson's ambulances. They are reported to have been driving west on Highway No. 2 about 7 p.m., Sunday, when an eastbound car came around a curve. The other driver was taking up too much of the road, said Mr. Henderson, so he was forced to pull over.

The ambulance went into the ditch, struck a culvert and turned over. It is reported to be a total loss, without insurance coverage.

Chesterville Welcomes Her War Veterans

Scrolls Presented to Next-of-Kin of Deceased, Men and Women Veterans, and Cheque to Legion by Reeve Barkley on Behalf of Municipality

Chesterville citizens paid honour to their veterans of both World Wars and to the memory of four young men who paid their sacrifice for freedom, at a banquet in the Community Hall, on the evening of the Civic Holiday, Monday, August 5th, when illuminated, framed scrolls were presented to the more than 170 men and women of World War II and a cheque of $500 was presented to The Chesterville Post 434 of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., by Reeve G. H. Barkley on behalf of the municipality. A dance, open to the public, was held following the banquet at which more than 400 persons were in attendance.

Culminating almost five months of organization and work by a committee of 16, composed of representatives of each church and lay organization of the village, headed by Walter J. Carr as chairman and Mrs. George G. Merkley, secretary, the event was the finest of the many outstanding functions held in Chesterville. Red, white and blue streamers were used in abundance to decorate the hall, and large flags graced the stage to make a fitting background for the presentation ceremonies. The long tables were decorated with summer bloom.

As the guests gathered, music was played by an orchestra composed of Mrs. Geo. G. Merkley, Mrs. Allison Graham and Mr. P. G. Hewitt. The singing of O Canada opened the programme, and Rev. W. H. Heustin of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church said the grace. The toast to The King was proposed by Chairman W. J. Carr, and was answered with the singing of the National Anthem. Following the welcome by the chairman, Rev. R. C. Tait of Sherbrooke, Que., former pastor of Trinity United Church, presented lovely corsage bouquets to four war brides, Mrs. E. Johnston, Mrs. Leonard Moran, Mrs. Wendall Harper and Mrs. Freeman Beckstead.

L. H. Doering introduced the guest speaker, Lt.-Col. Donald R. Dick, of Cornwall, Officer Commanding the 2nd Battalion, Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, who was thanked by Mr. Carr. A sing song was led by Miss Addie Campderros, with Jack Morris at the piano, which included songs of both wars.

Reeve George H. Barkley read the list of veterans who formed three lines across the hall, and then presented scrolls honouring Hubert MacMillan, John O'Grady, Hubert Moriarty and Bertram Smith to their next-of-kin. This was followed by a minute's silence broken by the sounding of the Last Post by Charles T. Hart. The scrolls were presented to the veterans by Reeve Barkley and at the conclusion Harold Williamson expressed the appreciation of the veterans for the presentation and splendid evening.

Reeve Barkley explained that the scrolls were not so expensive as gifts presented by some municipalities, but that the Municipal Council had not planned on this alone, and he asked Lyle E. Alford, president of Chesterville Post 434 of the Canadian Legion, to accept a cheque for $500 from the people of the village as a gift to the Legion Post on behalf of all Chesterville's veterans. Mr. Alford said in thanking Reeve Barkley that this money would in all probability be used in repairs to the rink as a memorial which would be utilized by everyone of the village and district.

In closing the first part of the evening's programme, Chairman Carr thanked the members of his committee, Rev. Mr. Tait, who penned the names of the veterans on all the scrolls and arranged for the framing; all others who had assisted with the function, and invited everyone to return for the dance as guests of the corporation after the hall had been cleared of the tables and chairs.

Council Hears Details Proposed Police Plan From Prov. Police Supt.

Members of the Municipal Council spent considerable time at the August meeting held Tuesday evening learning the details of the new policy of policing villages which like Chesterville have been designated as areas requiring a full-time policeman. Inspector Cousens of the Ontario Provincial Police, of Peterborough, explained the set-up of the plan whereby his department would station a constable in the village, and then discussed the question with Council members.

The Police Act, 1946, lays down the regulations governing policing and will come into effect when proclaimed by the Lieutenant Governor. Chesterville, Winchester, Iroquois and Morrisburg have been designated as municipalities with population and area sufficient to warrant a full-time policeman, and are given until September 1st to make representations to the Commissioner of Police for Ontario.

Under section 39, sub-section 2, if an agreement is entered into by the municipality for policing of the village by the Ontario Provincial Police, the member assigned for duty is charged with preserving the peace, preventing crime and other offences, including offences against the by-laws of the municipality, and shall perform other such duties as may be specified in the agreement.

Cost to the municipality includes salary of $1750 per year, paid to the Ontario Provincial Police in monthly instalments, and an office, telephone and typewriter must be provided. A police auto is provided to be used only in emergencies for which the corporation would pay six cents per mile. Upkeep of the car and radio would be the responsibility of the Provincial Police.

The constable would not be responsible for collection of local taxes, but as in other municipalities he could assist in the collection of dog taxes.

Under section 139 of the Liquor Control Act of Ontario, all fines would be returned to the municipality as well as other fines and costs imposed by a magistrate who would sit in Chesterville.

Duties of such a constable would include patrols by night and day, checking of doors of business places after closing hours.

Inspector Cousens impressed on Council that the Ontario Provincial Police was essentially a preventive force and did not wait for a crime to occur before taking action.

The Chesterville and District Co-Operative Limited made a belated request through its president, J. Frank Casselman, for permission to erect a cinder block building and move several frame buildings on King street, which was granted by Council providing the provisions of the by-law were carried out to the satisfaction of the Building Inspector.

Petition From Church Street

A petition from residents of Church street, signed by 100 per cent of the ratepayers, was presented to Council requesting construction of a sewer along the present Award Ditch. The Clerk was instructed to have Cass and Cass prepare the necessary pap-

IDEAL WEATHER PREVAILS FOR GRAIN HARVESTING

The hot dry weather this section has been experiencing for some time is reported ideal for harvesting the grain which is now well under way. A number of farmers have completed threshing and report the yield fairly good in spite of lack of moisture during the growing season. Many farmers have been able to bind and thresh their grain without a drop of rain to hinder them or spoil the grain or straw.

Having is completed, and the yield is good even though clover was badly killed by frost in some areas last spring.

40 Men Start Big Work Surveying South Nation

This week the survey of the South Nation watershed may be said to be underway. A gang of forty men are encamped between Cardinal and Prescott making ready to commence operations. The main party is made ly of four smaller groups, one representing the Hydro-Electric Commission, another of Land surveyors, a party from the Forestry Division as well as one from the Wild Life division. It is expected that only about half of the necessary data will be secured this year on which a decision will be made. The work will start in Leeds county where a portion of Elizabethtown is affected and proceed easterly to the junction of the Nation River and the Little Castore north of St. Albert.

Calfhood Vaccination To Eradicate Abortion Commences in Dundas

During the week a campaign is being started by the county Federation of Agriculture to vaccinate calves, in the first organized attempt to free the County of Bang's disease. Calves vaccinated at the proper age 5 to 7 months, should go negative before the first freshening. Calves under five months are apt to lose their immunity at an early age but should be negative before calves vaccinated over seven months. There is a possibility that American buyers will, in a few years, be in a market only for cows which have been vaccinated in calfhood. Several states have already passed legislation making calfhood vaccination compulsory, while others, including New York State, are contemplating similar action. This means that only cattle which have been vaccinated in calfhood will be allowed to be imported. The sale of cattle to the American market is one of Dundas farmers' principal cash markets and it is the duty of each farmer to make every effort to retain this market.

Men to organize this vaccination have been or will be appointed to cover as much of the county as is possible with the money the Federation has available. These organizers will call on each farmer, have the farmer sign a paper agreeing to have his calves vaccinated, and ascertain the number of calves to be vaccinated.

When a school section or concession is organized, one of the four county veterinarians will call on an appointed day to vaccinate all the calves. The usual fee for vaccination is $1.00 per calf, but by an agreement with the Federation, the veterinarians have agreed to a 75c basis on all calves signed up by the organizer. Any calves not signed will continue to be $1.00 per calf. The veterinarians will provide ear tags and certificates supplied by the Ontario veterinary College. The College will also supply the serum which will be of the highest quality possible.

Cephus Smythe of Dundela has agreed to organize Matilda Township. R. C. Dillabough of Chesterville, will organize Winchester township. Negotiations for an organizer for Mountain and Williamsburg have broken down but the Federation officials hope to have some capable man in these townships in time to have the calves vaccinated in August or early September. The co-operation of every farmer in the county is urgently requested.

CARD OF THANKS

The Veterans of Connaught wish to thank the Committees, Winchester Twp. Council and Mr. H. E. Durant for the "Welcome Home" party and presentations accorded them last week. 43

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my friends and neighbors for their kindness to me during my stay in the Hotel Dieu hospital, Cornwall, and also for their letters and cards.—Mrs. W. G. McPhail.

HAVE STARTED WORK PUBLIC SCHOOL BASEMENT

Work has been commenced tearing out the old board flooring in the Public school basement in preparation to laying cement, by S. Sullivan and Sons.

Chamber to Seek Views Proposed High School Areas

Following a lengthy discussion by The Chesterville Chamber of Commerce on the proposed change-over to High School areas in the United Counties, the views of other Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade and High School Boards will be sought so that representatives to the October meetings of Counties Council will have what is hoped to be a representative view of those most vitally concerned.

Other business at the meeting held in the Community Theatre, Thursday evening, consisted of discussion of plans for improving the street lighting of the village, which were drawn up by engineers of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission; village beautification, and removal of ashes during the winter months.

Reports of a co-operative interview with Mr. Marhoffke of Nestle's head office, New York, with reference to road signs was given by W. O. Dixon and the secretary reported the Legion's progress with plans for repairing the Chesterville Rink.

WELCOME HOME TO OUR VETERANS

Culminating six long years of war, and several months of planning by committee members, Chesterville has paid tribute to its war veterans, men and women, and honoured the sacred memory of four young men who gave their lives for freedom.

Veterans of World War I were guests at the banquet and dance and they share equally in the presentation of the generous cheque to the Legion's building fund presented by Reeve Barkley on behalf of the citizens of the municipality.

Organization of such an event is living evidence of that spirit of tolerance which Lt.-Col. Dick spoke of in his address to the ex-service men and women. The committee responsible was made up of a representative of each of the 16 church and lay organizations in the village and with a will-to-win Chairman Walter Carr and his workers put the event over with such a success that it has been spoken of many times since as the finest ever held in the village.

So often we have heard where the veterans are being welcomed home, that all the returned man wants is a pob and an even break to show that he can carry on from where he left off two, three or six years ago, to live an entirely different life, a life to fit him for the business of killing, the throw back the enemy of democracy.

When that job was completed there was no tapering-off period. One moment death and destruction were flying about, and the next there was peace. The thoughts could really feel secure about returning home. But to what? Glowing promises were held out by D.V.A., and to those who took them too literally they appeared as Utopia. These vets have been badly disappointed, we are afraid.

But to the veteran who realizes that very considerable assistance is available to those who will display enough initiative to win a living now that peace has been won, success in remaking his life is assured.

On every side one reads or hears that the world is relying on the veterans to make a new and lasting peace. And, boys and girls, you cannot do that taking a back seat and watching the parade go by. You have got to adapt that initiative which won Canada's battles to a peacetime role, buckle on a new set of webb which doesn't carry bullets, and get down to work. Canada needs you and Canadians will help you.

We recall those closing remarks of Lt.-Col Dick: "A Canada worth dying for is a Canada worth living for."

Excessive sun can cause sunstroke. It is well to wear some sort of head covering while exposed to the direct rays of the sun for any length of time, particularly those who are thinly thatched on top.

Worry thrives on concealment of its cause, It usually happens that when the cause is discussed frankly with some trusted person, the load of worry grows much lighter, if it does not disappear altogether.

In any weight-reducing program it is essential that the diet be based on normal food habits, but that it be below normal requirements in energy-producing foods. Protein should not be reduced, however.

Liver, preferably pork liver, once a week is essential in any normal diet.

Watch your posture. Poor posture is ugly, fatiguing and damaging to health.

Sunlight is one of the best disinfectants. It kills germs as surely as the strongest of man-made solutions.

Corsages to War Brides

After expressing his pleasure of assisting with the presentation to the veterans through lettering of the scrolls, Rev. Mr. Tait said it was a very great pleasure for him to return to Chesterville for this event, one of the finest ever held in the Community Hall. Addressing the War Brides, he said that coming from the old country himself, "you have come to a fine people whom you will learn to love in this land of your adoption . . . its vastness will thrill you, as will its resources and potential wealth, but far greater than all this are the great and true hearts you will meet here." The young women were called to the stage where Mrs. Geo. Merkley, herself a bride of World War 1, pinned on the corsages.

Lt.-Col. D. R. Dick

Introducing the guest speaker, L. H. Doering said he was born in Scotland, was a member of the 24th Victoria Rifles in the last war, going overseas as a private and returning as a sergeant, and in this war rose to command the 2nd Battalion of the Counties' regiment. In civilian life, Lt.-Col. Dick is general superintendent of Howard Smith Paper Mills in Cornwall.

The speaker spoke on the record the S. D. & G.'s had built in this war from the Normandy landings to Germany through every engagement of the Canadian forces as members of the 9th Canadian Infantry Brigade and the Third Canadian Infantry Division. The United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry displayed the same spirit in this war as their forefathers in the battle of 1812-14 and World War 1, he said, producing more fighting men in proportion to area than any other section of His Majesty's Dominion.

Speaking directly to the veterans, the guests of honour, Lt.-Col. Dick told them they had acquitted themselves nobly in the conflict, but if they were as willing to live for Canada their greatest job was only beginning. The mistakes of 1919 should not be repeated, he said. Should Canada's list of 101,538 in this war be in vain? The world is looking to the veterans to build a lasting peace, and he cautioned that while the world could live without the individual, no veteran could live without the world.

If our children are not taught tolerance which each veteran learned to appreciate by experience in living day to day with men of other nationalities and creeds, all willing to die for their way of living, then the waste and the heartbreak of war will remain into the next generations. "You may remember the ballyhoo of enlisting programmes with all its promises, and you may feel letdown when you think of the fellows who stayed behind and enjoyed good jobs, but you must hold your heads and rise over any obstacles that may confront you."

Lt.-Col. Dick said he had first-hand experience in labour problems as 350 had enlisted from his plant and most of them were now back on their jobs. All these men ask for is an equal opportunity and a job and they will do as well as they did in the fighting overseas.

Presentation of Framed Scrolls

Following is the address of Reeve George Barkley when he presented the illuminated, framed scrolls to the men and women veterans of World War 11.

Mr. Chairman, Honored Guests,

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

To me, as Reeve of this village, falls a very pleasant and, I also realize, a very responsible duty to perform this evening.

Several months ago the idea was conceived that, in spite of, and in addition to, the many private welcomes that were being extended to the returning veterans of this community, the village itself as a corporation should extend an official welcome home to these men and women, and should express to one and all the deep appreciation we all feel towards them and for what they have done.

I think it is unnecessary for me to dwell at great length on the official welcome to our veterans. The joy that we all have felt in seeing our boys and girls returned to "Home Sweet Home", the genuine admiration we all hold for them, not only for their devotion to duty but for the part that each has played, whether in mortal combat with the enemy or in other important line of service—all these speak more eloquently than any official welcome that I can tender to them. And yet, I do here and now say, on behalf of our village: "Welcome Home, Men and Women, we are proud of you and glad indeed to see you back."

Then, there is a second pleasant duty for me to perform, namely that of making a presentation to our guests whom we are so glad to unite in honoring. Before I do this, however, there is one point I wish to make abundantly clear. The committee in charge of this Civic Welcome together with the village Council have given long and serious consideration to the kind and value of such presentations as were to be made. They fully realize that, in many communities, much more elaborate and expensive gifts have been made to their veterans. They also realize that private presentations have been made to many of our returned men and women.

Much more however, do we appreciate that, no matter how elaborate or expensive might be the gift, all gifts are perishable—and I submit, Ladies and Gentlemen, that no matter how great the gift, this whole village nor any of its citizens could never hope to present a gift that could begin to measure the deep debt of gratitude and admiration we have for our veterans. The best gift we could present would fall far short of what we should like to do.

In order then, to give these men and women a lasting and appropriate scroll, beautifully inscribed by our good friend Rev. Mr. Tait, bearing the seal of this village and my signature on behalf of the whole corporation, and all framed ready to hang in home, office or wherever the veteran may choose as most desirable.

In itself the scroll is not an expensive gift, but we do hope that, as the months and years pass, the symbolic value will be enhanced by the memory of this civic occasion and by the realization that Chesterville, the old home town, will never forget the unselfishness, the effort and the sacrifice of the veterans whom we are gathered here to-night to do honor.

One final word, before I ask chairman Walter Carr to assist me in the presentation. Some of these scrolls to-night will be presented to the next of kin of those who paid the supreme sacrifice. To them I can only say that in paying this tribute to those whose memory we cherish, we hope and pray that it will be accepted in the spirit in which it is given—the spirit of deepest sympathy, greatest pride and a determination that the principles for which they gave their lives must ever be our guide towards a better village, a better country and a better world.

Mastitis Cure In Australia

Research workers and farmers in Canada may be interested in a report by the Australian News which tells of Australian efforts to stamp out mastitis. In the opinion of Dr. A. W. Turner, in charge of the Animal Health and Products Division of the Council for Scientific and Industrial Research, penicillin, when supplies are sufficient, is expected to cure mastitis completely in dairy herds in Australia. The Division has been carrying out research work at the Parkville Laboratories (Victoria) and at field stations, with spectacular results. It is reported that the effect of penicillin on "Carrier" animals has been outstanding. In one instance a heifer which had given only a small amount of milk of a yellowish colour delivered a normal supply of milk, free of the germ, four days after the drug had been administered.

It has been demonstrated that mastitis germ can be transmitted in an infected shed, on the hands of milkers, and on milking machines. Sodium hypochloride in suitable concentration readily controls these sources of infection, says the report. Sometimes, within a few days of invasion, the germ has done sufficient injury to the udder to cause some loss of function, irreparable until the next lactation. Hence the importance of early treatment.

First Export Shipments Of Export Cattle By Air

The first export shipment of Canadian cattle ever made by air left Malton airport, near Toronto, on August 1st for Cuba and Puerto Rico. It consisted of eight purebred Holstein bulls, seven of them purchased by the Cuban Minister of Agriculture and the eighth by a private breeder in Puerto Rico. The bulls are all high-class individuals around nine months old.

The success of this flight, which resulted in the bulls being in the hands of their new owners twelve hours after the take-off, points the way to the elimination of one of the bugaboos that has beset the export trade in Canadian livestock with Latin America. Instead of a long slow journey by ship through stifling tropical heat that is extremely hard on the stock, the air method of transit reduces travelling time to a matter of hours and ensures arrival in good shape. Costs are about the same. On the return flight the cargo planes are expected to carry tropical fruits, etc.

Hays Limited of Calgary and Brampton are the firm experimenting with the air method of shipment. The cargo line is operated by a group of ex-combat pilots headed by Terry Goodwin, a veteran of 350 operational flights. He served in the Spanish Civil War, the R.A.F. and the R.C.A.F.

Gift to Chesterville Legion Post

On behalf of the Village of Chesterville, Reeve Barkley, presented a cheque for $500.00 to Lyle E. Alford, President of the Chesterville Post No. 434 of the Canadian Legion, B.E. S.L., to be used as the members see fit in providing a memorial to the war dead and the services of the veterans of both wars. Following is the address:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen

Before making the following presentation may I say that it is more or less a sequel to those already made to the individual veterans, on behalf of this village.

As I said previously, while we realize and admit that our presentations to the veterans were not as costly as those presented by some other communities, it was not the intention of the Council to stop at that.

Late last year, or very early this year it became almost certain that the local veterans were to organize a Post of the Canadian Legion here in Chesterville. At that time Council promised that as, and when this Post received its charter, we would supplement our gifts to the individual veteran by a substantial grant to the new Post.

Until late Saturday evening the officers of the new Post had every assurance that the charter would be ready for the presentation this evening. However a last minute telegram advises that, although the charter is completed, it would be impossible for it to arrive in time for to-night. Nevertheless on such assurance it is therefore now my great pleasure on behalf of the Corporation of Chesterville to implement Council's promise and present to the Charter President a cheque from this village in the amount $500.00.

In making this presentation I feel it may be added that Chesterville extends its heartiest congratulations to our new Chesterville Post No. 434, of the Canadian Legion. May it grow and prosper as a living, active organization commanding the highest respect and most energetic support of the village and district it will serve.

May Post No. 434 prove to be one of our strongest and worthiest organizations, dedicated to the welfare of all veterans and ever ready to encourage and assist in the upbuilding of our community and in the development of the best interests of its citizens.

BEST TIME TO FATTEN POULTRY

The question as to when poultry of different classes should be fattened depends for a satisfactory answer upon several factors, states the Dominion Department of Agriculture publication "Fattening Poultry for Market". Of these factors, the price paid is one of the most important. Broilers should be fattened as early as is consistent with their being large enough, because prices for early broilers are much the best. Fryers, being considered as light chickens, command a relatively low price.

With heavy roasters, fall prices are relatively stable and the time to fatten for market depends largely on the relationship between the amount of feed consumed and the gain being made. The time will arrive, usually at from 24 to 26 weeks of age, when gain has slowed down to a negligible amount but feed consumption will remain high. Economy demands that when this condition is reached, the bird should be fattened for market. This class of bird should not be left too late, because, as they reach maturity, they develop heavy muscles and are classed as stags, for which a lower price is paid regardless of whether they are fattened or not.

Types of poultry stock that require fattening are cockerels of all ages, whether marketed as broilers, fryers, or roasters. Capons require little if any fattening, being usually sufficiently fat and soft fleshed, if killed off range. The labour and cost of fattening roosters, pullets and hens is rarely justified. Cockerels of the light breeds, such as Leghorns, are uneconomical if fattened after broiler age and are discriminated against on most markets.

Further information, including methods of pen and crate fattening, equipment, selection of birds, fattening feeds, management and handling the birds after fattening, will be found in the publication (No. 745) Fattening Poultry for Market, a copy of which may be obtained on request from the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

IN MEMORIAM

SMITH—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, James Ward Smith, who departed this life August 11th, 1945.

We are sad within our memory,
Lonely are our hearts today,
For the one we loved so dearly
Has forever been called away.

We think of him in silence,
No eye shall see us weep,
But many silent tears are shed,
When others are asleep.

Young Marvelville Orator Addresses Rotary Club

Members of the Rotary Club of Chesterville had the pleasure of listening to 14-year-old Eldon Hay, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hay of Marvelville, when he spoke before the Monday evening meeting on "The Type of Secondary School I Would Like to Attend". The young orator was the runner-up in the Ontario championships held in Toronto last April.

In a clear, forceful young voice, the young speaker detailed the subjects he would like to learn on his entry into High School. He said a system of vocational guidance is very necessary, the ability to speak French readily is a definite aid in a bi-lingual country and would assist him to know his French neighbours better. The duties and responsibilities of citizenship, a course in typewriting, musical appreciation, a good course in English and a good library, school plays and debates, and the opportunity to learn to live through a course in human relations were the requisites for a well-rounded education, in his estimation.

Dr. D. Docksteader introduced the speaker, and Don Hutton thanked him on behalf of the club. Guests present were Geo. Hay of Marvelville and E. B. McMillan.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Scott took dinner on Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller of Newington.

Mr. Lyall Miller of Cornwall visited Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Crump on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Stuart called on Mr. and Mrs. A. Gainer on Sunday evening.

Visitors last week at R. Scott's were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Poole and children of Bowmanville and Mrs. P. Poole and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Coons and daughters Elsie and Edna.

Mrs. J. Morris and Jackie of Chesterville, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker a few days last week and we were sorry to hear that Mrs. Baker was on the sick list. Hope she will soon be well again.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Don Poole and Mr. P. Poole were in Ottawa on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham St. Pierre and family visited Miss Selenia St. Pierre at a convent in Ottawa last week.

Mr and Mrs. Florian Amyott visited Mr and Mrs. A. St. Pierre recently.

Mrs. Abe St. Pierre is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Albert St. Pierre at Vernon.

Mrs. J. Scott returned home on Saturday, having spent a week with her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Coons and Mr. Coons and family.

Miss Verna Miller of Belleville called on Mrs. R. Scott a short while on Monday afternoon.

The manse was tastefully decorated for the occasion with lilies and other summer flowers.

Hugh McMillan was groomsman.

RACINE—BROWN

The marriage was solemnized of Mary Elizabeth Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of Morewood, and Frank Henry Racine, son of Mrs. Nora Racine of Chesterville, at the United Church Manse, Winchester, at 8.00 o'clock on Tuesday evening, by Rev. G. A. McIntosh.

The bride was dressed in a navy blue suit with blue shoes, and gloves and hat to match. The witnesses were Mrs. Hazel Thompson and Mr. Lawrence Racine, sister and brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson in Chesterville.

Mr. Racine is employed on the Hydro development at Stewartville, but for the time being they will take up residence in Chesterville.

MONTGOMERY—MARCELLUS

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Marcellus of Morewood, at two o'clock on Saturday, July 20, Miss Sadie Evelyn Marcellus, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Marcellus, became the bride of Harry Alfred Montgomery, son of Mrs. Montgomery of Toronto. Sweet peas, snapdragons and ferns were used to decorate the room, where Rev. E. A. Martineau performed the ceremony. Mrs. Dwight Marcellus, sister-in-law of the bride, played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her brother, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Greta Marcellus.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of pink sheer over taffeta and carried a pretty nosegay of sweet peas, roses and maiden hair fern.

A reception was held at the home, after which Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery left for Montreal. The bride travelled in a lime green suit with black accessories. They will take up residence in Toronto.

McNAUGHT—MARCELLUS

In the United Church, Russell, at three o'clock Saturday afternoon, the marriage was solemnized of Margaret Ethel Isabelle, daughter of Cpl. and Mrs. C. Marcellus, to Thomas Earle McNaught, son of Rev. and Mrs. Thomas McNaught. Rev. Thos. McNaught, father of the bridegroom, officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of shell pink lace and sheer. Her fingertip veil of matching net fell from a halo headdress of lace. She carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses. Miss Winnifred MacRae was the bride's only attendant. Mr. James McNaught was his brother's best man and the ushers were Mr. Herbert McNaught and Mr. Chesley Marcellus. During the signing of the register, Rev. R. J. McNaught, brother of the bridegroom sang "Because". The wedding music was played by Mrs. J. Twiname, Jr.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors.

MISS ALICE EDGERTON HONOURED BY FRIENDS

Mrs. Hilda Belsher, Mrs. Donald Graves and Miss Dolores Johnston were hostesses recently at a shower held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Johnston, in honour of Miss Alice Edgerton. About 30 friends and neighbours enjoyed an evening of contests and music. The climax came when a beautifully decorated wagon, loaded with gifts, was presented to the bride-to-be, by little Miss Gail Belsher. Miss Edgerton expressed her sincere appreciation for the kindness shown her.

BEES SIGNAL CORPS ALWAYS ON ALERT

Bees have a highly developed code of signals by which they communicate quickly to one another, as for instance in passing the word that the way is clear for plundering a certain hive. During July and August, a shortage of nectar secretion in flowers causes the field bees to stay around the apiary. Should the beekeeper in a careless examination of his colonies leave the supers or hives exposed for some time, the bees from the strong hives will steal the nectar. These robber bees at once pass the information to the field bees in their own hive. Then the reinforced troop go on a robbing spree and, if the robber bees can overpower the guards of a weak colony, they will remove 30 to 50 pounds of honey in two or three hours, leaving the inmates of the hive and their queens to starve to death.

A desultory honeyflow in any year has a tendency to cause robbing, and says the bee expert at the Dominion Experimental Farm at Brandon, Man. beekeepers should exercise care to keep the supers covered as much as possible when examining colonies and avoid scattering honey from shaken frames on the grass. When robbing has started in an apiary, all colonies should have their entrances contracted to allow passage for only one bee at a time, and it is sometimes wise to put out a solution of sugar syrup a short distance from the apiary to attract the robber bees. The sugar solution is gradually reduced in strength until conditions in the apiary return to normal.

Whooping cough causes more deaths among infants under one year of age than diphtheria, smallpox and scarlet fever combined. However, there is an effective vaccine which protects children against this disease.

Every child should have one quart of pasteurized milk every day—every adult one pint.

Dundas Calf Clubs Educational Tour

Under the auspices of the Chesterville and Mountain Calf Clubs of Dundas County and under the direction of H. W. Graham, Agricultural Representative, an educational tour was held on July 31st, to Ottawa in a chartered Colonial Coach bus which left Winchester at 9.30 A.M.

The places of interest visited were the Experimental Farm, Ottawa Journal and the Canadian Packing Co. plant at Hull. The weather was ideal for the occasion and the forty-five members and their club leaders Messrs. Gerald Kittle and Harold McMenomy were welcomed at the Experimental Farm by Dr. MacKenzie of the Animal Husbandry Branch at 10.30 A.M. After touring the farm barns and fields, a class of mature dairy cows were judged.

A basket lunch at 12.30 P.M. was eagerly consumed by a thrilled and happy party of young folks.

All aboard the party proceeded to the Ottawa Journal Building arriving at 2 P.M. where they were welcomed by Mr. Brian White of the Ottawa Farm Journal. Parties of seven to nine were organized for the tour of the plant. All were highly pleased with what they saw and learned about a modern newspaper plant.

Proceeding to the Canadian Packing Plant at Hull the party was welcomed by Mr. Herbert Knox who detailed several of his assistants to conduct several groups through the different departments. Instructions on meat quality and carcass appraisal were quite interesting as well as observing the processing of meat into all the different commodites.

Hearty votes of thanks were extended to all those who assisted in making the day a most interesting one by the two club presidents, Messrs. Arnold Kittle and Keith Fawcett.

Following supper at a prominent Ottawa restaurant the party in charge of their club leaders went to a show, following which they left for home after a very pleasant day at 8 P.M.

"STORY TIME"

Thousands of young Canadians gather at their radios on Monday afternoons, because that's when Jo Barrington, the once-upon-a-time lady, tells them stories from the magic Book. Most of the time Miss Barrington's stories come from Vancouver but right now she is in Toronto, so she brought her book with her and you may hear her "Story Time" next, on Monday, August 12 at 5.30 p.m. EDT, over stations of the CBC Trans-Canada network.

Arrange Now For Planting Bulbs To Bloom In Spring

September and October are the months in which spring flowering bulbs should be planted to bring best results.

During the war bulb production in British Columbia increased substantially and the Netherlands are again in a bulb exporting position for the first time since 1939, says R. W. Oliver, Division of Horticulture, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Contrary to expectation, the Dutch bulb industry was not completely ruined during the war. In order to cut down acreage many old varieties were discontinued, but many beautiful new varieties have been originated or increased. Early singles are being superseded by later flowering varieties. This means that, for most gardeners, tulips move from the annual flower beds to the middle or back of the perennial border, where their untidy foliage in June can be hidden by the leafy growth of later flowering perennials.

Cottage, Triumph, Darwin and Breeder tulips, daffodils and other varieties of Narcissus create gay patches of colour in the border in May and early June, when colour is a welcome break after winter's monotony. The bulbs should be planted in clumps of a dozen or more of one variety, with the bulbs spaced 6 to 9 inches apart and covered to a depth of 4 to 5 inches. All bulbs require good drainage and will rot under waterlogged conditions. In heavy clay soil it is advisable to place an inch or two of sand beneath them, but this is not necessary in average soils.

The later flowering tulips multiply more rapidly than the early singles. It is necessary to dig them up every second year about the end of June to keep them from crowding and the flowers from becoming smaller. There is also danger from the disease known as "fire", if they remain year after year in the same soil. Bulbs should be stored in a dry darkened room at a temperature of 60 to 70 degrees until late July or August, then cleaned and graded. Any bulb over ⅞ of an inch in diameter will flower well and should be planted back in the border in September. Small bulbs may be sown in a furrow in the vegetable garden to increase in size so that they can be used in the garden the next year.

The smaller flowering bulbs. such as Crocus, Scilla, Chionodoxa, Leucojum, Galanthus and Muscari (grape hyacinth) are all useful in clumps at the front of the border. They should be planted close together, 3 to 4 inches apart, and covered to a depth of 2 to 3 inches, according to size of the bulbs. These little bulbs can be left in the same spot for several years to thicken and spread into ever increasing mats of welcome, spring colour.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Casselman and family, and Mr. W. C. Warner spent Friday in Cornwall.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hesson spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Casselman.

The Eleventh Annual Carlyle Reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Casselman and Mr. J. W. Casselman of Finch on Wednesday. Relatives were present from Ottawa, Hallville, Morewood, Kemptville, Winchester and other places.

After the dinner the president, George Carlyle of Hallville, held a business meeting. A few deaths were reported. The Secretary, Mrs. Lyall Hunter, read the minutes of last year's meeting. The President invited them to meet at his home next year.

Mrs. Sim Casselman was the oldest member and her grand-daughter Catherine, was the youngest present. A pleasant afternoon was spent in games and contests.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! Meals should be a challenge to your versatility. Use simple concoctions—cool, fresh, colorful as a fiesta, full-flavoured from the garden. One look at your attractive arrangements and the temperature drops by degrees. Sparkling glassware and colorful dishes will make every meal tasty and inspiring.

LUNCHEON IDEALS

1. Refreshing Consomme— Soften 1 tbsp. gelatine in ¼ cup cold water and add to 2 cups hot strained soup stock. Pour into a wet square pan. Chill in electric refrigerator. Cut in inch squares. Toss in minced pepper-cress and serve in chilled bowls.

   Complete the main course with creamed chicken and peas on tea biscuits.
2. A ring of tomato aspic filled with a mixture of crisp vegetables: scraped raw carrot, thin sliced celery, radishes and plenty of shredded lettuce, with salad dressing on the side.
3. Garden Mayonnaise — To ½ cup of mayonnaise add ½ cup finely minced parsley or watercress or finely chopped diced cucumber.
4. Consider chilled raw cauliflower pieces and fingers of raw beet dipped in French dressing salad accompaniments.
5. Modest Poached Eggs — Put a sealer ring for each serving in a greased baking dish. Drop an egg in each circle. Pour on a tablespoon of cheese sauce and sprinkle with crumbs. Bake in electric oven of 300 degs. for 10 mins.
6. Hot Vegetable Plate—Parsley potatoes, harvard beets and wedges of boiled cabbage.
7. Moulded Spaghetti—Use one envelope of gelatine soaked in ¼ cup cold water then dissolved in 2½ cups spiced (celery seed) tomato juice and pour into a wet mould. When partially set, stir in 1 cup of leftover tomato-spaghetti.
8. Corn-on-the-Cob — Use a little french dressing on corn boiled for exactly 10 minutes. It will be tasty and tender—saves butter.
9. Baked Whole Tomatoes— Scoop out the centres and fill with seasoned fine crumbs, grated cheese and pieces of tomato. Bake 20 mins. at 350 degs.
10. Quick Frozen Applesauce—Add a little mint to applesauce. Serve it half-frozen and you'll have a natural apple sherbet.
11. Party Brisque — Dissolve 1 pkg. lemon flavoured gelatine in 1¾ cups hots water; add 1|3 cup honey, ⅛ tsp. salt, 3 tbsps. lemon juice and 1 tsp. lemon rind. Mix and chill until partially set. Beat fluffy. Whip 1 cup of cold cream and fold into jelly. Spread 1 cup graham wafer crumbs in bottom of a freezing tray; fill with gelatine mix, sprinkle with 1 cup crumbs. Freeze firm in electric refrigerator.

TAKE A TIP

1. Put leftovers in the smallest container they'll fit. The food will not mould or sour as quickly as in a spacious jar.
2. If you require only two or three ice cubes, run water over one end of the freezing tray—lift or shake out these cubes; fill the end with water and re-freeze.
3. When you open a can of syrup or any jar with a screw top from which you will use the contents at intervals, rub a little cooking fat around the screw thread. The lid will open easily again.
4. Rub grass stains with a bit of cooking fat, then scrub in hot soapy suds. If traces remain, bleach with peroxide or lemon juice.
5. After each "eggy" meal—and don't we seem to have a lot of them in these days of meat shortages—drop the silverware into an aluminum pan filled with boiling water into which you've stirred a spoonful of salt and baking soda.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE-ELECT

A very pretty miscelaneous shower

A very pretty miscellaneous shower hall on Thursday evening in honour of the approaching marriage of Joye Dillabough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dillabough of Elma, when nearly 200 friends and neighbours were present for the occasion. A chair was placed at the head of the long table and on the arrival of the bride-elect she was seated, and was handed the gifts as they came in which were immediately opened and placed on the table.

At eleven o'clock the gathering was called to order by Mrs. Hugh MacMillan and the bride-elect called to the platform when an appropriate address, composed by Miss Jean Armstrong, was read by Mrs. Bernice Barkley and signed on behalf of those present by Jean Armstrong, Evelyn Barkley, Marion Bell and Roma McMillan.

Miss Dillabough responded with a few well-chosen words and all joined in singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" after which lunch was served and a happy evening brought to a close.

DOERING—MARCELLUS

In the United Church at Morewood at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, Miss Annie Kathleen Marcellus, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Marcellus, became the bride of Mr. Jack Homer Doering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Doering, of Chesterville. Summer flowers and ferns were used to decorate the church, where Rev. E. A. Martineau performed the ceremony. Mrs. Harry Montgomery, sister of the bride, played the wedding music and the soloist was Mr. Frank Casselman.

Given in marriage by her brother, the bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Jean Hamilton, as maid of honor; her two sisters, Miss Lois and Miss Greta Marcellus, and by the bridegroom's sister, Miss Jean Doering, as flower girl. Mr. Charles Doering was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Russell Marcellus and Mr. Lew Marcellus.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of nylon taffeta, designed with a train, and a sweetheart neckline. Her long veil was held in place by an Elizabethan headdress, and she carried a shower bouquet of Briarcliffe roses.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Marcellus, after which Mr. and Mrs. Doering left for Niagara Falls and Buffalo. The bride travelled in a navy blue dress, white topcoat and white accessories. They will take up residence in Guelph.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Joy LaVictoire, Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. Harry Montgomery, Toronto; Mr. Murray Holtby, Port Perry; Mr. Morley Munro, Mr. and Mrs. F. Alford, Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Myles C. Merkley and daughters Marjorie and Una are spending a week at the Stillson cottages on the St. Lawrence.

Mrs. H. A. Montgomery of Toronto spent a few days at the home of her brother, Mr. Dwight Marcellus, and attended the wedding of her sister, Miss Kay Marcellus on Saturday.

Miss Joy LaVictoire of Toledo, Ohio, attended the wedding of Miss Kathleen Marcellus on Saturday and spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Marcellus.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold MacDonald of Ottawa, spent a couple of days last week with the former's brother Ken MacDonald and Mrs. MacDonald of town.
