OBITUARY

THE LATE ALLEN JEFFREY

The sad death occurred on Tuesday, Nov. 27th, of a prominent and highly respected citizen of Mountain township, in the person of Allan Jeffrey in his 71st year. Although not enjoying the best of health for a week prior to his passing Mr. Jeffrey had been able to go about his ordinary duties as usual. On Tuesday afternoon he had gone to one of the outbuildings about 3 o'clock, and when he failed to return to the house after some time had elapsed, a member of his family went in search of him. He was found lying in the building. Dr. Geo. C. Ferrier of South Mountain, was hastily summoned but Mr. Jeffrey was beyond medical aid, having apparently died instantly, following a sudden heart attack.

The late Mr. Jeffrey was born in Winchester Springs, the son of the late William Jeffrey and his wife, Marianne Ball, and spent his boyhood in that district. Forty-two years ago he was married to Anna Johnston of Toyes Hill and after three years, moved to Mountain township where he took up residence on the farm that he occupied until his untimely death.

The deceased was a member of the session of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, South Mountain, and was always interested in any movement that would be for the advancement of its work. Quiet and reserved in disposition, Mr. Jeffrey possessed those qualities which cause a wide circle of friends to mourn his passing.

The funeral was held this afternoon from his late residence to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, where Rev. W. D. Turner of St. Paul's, Winchester, conducted the service. Interment was made in South Mountain cemetery.

The late Mr. Jeffrey is survived by his widow; one daughter, Mrs. D. F. Gilmer, Pleasant Valley; two sons, Ross and Fred at home, and two sisters, Mrs. A. G. Fawcett, Mountain, and Mrs. Norah Merkley, Winchester Springs.

THE LATE AUSTIN J. KAHALA

The sudden death occurred this morning of a highly esteemed and well-known citizen of Mountain Township in the person of Austin J. Kahala, in his 70th year.

The late Mr. Kahala had been in delicate health for some little time, being troubled with a severe heart ailment. He was ambitious, however, and contrary to medical advise, continued his activities as a farmer. Yesterday he had gone about his duties as usual and had retired at the customary hour last evening. When his wife rose at seven o'clock this morning she noticed that her husband was strangely quiet. A brief examination led to the discovery that he was dead. Dr. P. McLaughlin, coroner for Dundas County, was summoned, as is customary in cases of sudden death, who gave his warrant to bury the remains.

The deceased was the son of John Kahala and his wife, Letitia Kelly, and was born on the farm where he died. His wife was formerly Miss Jane Derrick of Agenteuil, Que., who survives, along with two children, Ernest, of the Royal Air Force, Camp Borden, and Helen, who is attending high school in Winchester. Two brothers also survive, Dr. Arthur Kahala, of Minnesota and John Kahala, of Montreal.

Active in his occupation of farming, the late Mr. Kahala spent little time in developing other interests. His quiet, sincere manner and kindly disposition endeared him to those who knew him and he leaves a wide circle of friends to mourn his passing. He was a good neighbour and friend, and those who were associated with him through the years will remember him for his honesty and integrity.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon from his late residence, interment being made at South Mountain.

SOLD FINE HOLSTEIN

Mr. William Higginson, of Inkerman, sold one of his pure bred Holstein heifers to the Kemptville Agricultural College recently. He had the satisfaction of learning that the animal had won first prize as the best two-year-old heifer at the Ottawa Winter Fair this year.

Public School Board Adopts Resolution

At a meeting of the Public School Board held in the Council Chambers on Tuesday night, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, the Public Schools of this Province are, as their name implies, open to and available for every child of school age, without any discrimination, and, as such are entitled to and require for their efficient operation the fullest measure of public support;

Therefore, be it resolved: That this Board of Education, on behalf of the Public School Supporters of Winchester protests against any legislation or regulation which will impair their revenues, or which will in any way divert government grants or local taxes for school purposes, to which they are now legally entitled, towards the maintenance of Roman Catholic Separate Schools, or of any system of sectarian or denominational schools, and;

That copies of this resolution be sent to the Honourable the Prime Minister of Ontario, the Honourable the Minister of Education of Ontario, and the Member of the Ontario Legislature representing of the electoral district of Grenville-Dundas."

The meeting was presided over by Thos. Annable with all members present.

WOMAN HAD BEEN DEAD TWO WEEKS

MISS AGNES MOORE, CHESTERVILLE, THOUGHT TO HAVE GONE AWAY FOR TREATMENT, DEAD TWO WEEKS

The tragic death of Miss Agnes Moore, 43, of Chesterville, was brought to light yesterday when her brother, becoming alarmed at receiving no word from her, forced an entrance to her small apartment and discovered her remains lying in the bed. She had been dead for approximately two weeks according to Dr. P. McLaughlin, of Winchester, coroner for Dundas County, who was immediately summoned.

Miss Moore, it is reported, had been suffering for some time past from a stomach ailment and had been advised to go to a hospital for X-ray and treatment. The woman had expressed her intention of doing so to several of her friends, so that, when she did not appear for a few days it was concluded that she had gone to a hospital.

Mr. Edward Moore, a brother of the deceased, was also informed of her intention to visit a hospital and he, in turn, notified his sister, Mrs. John Young, residing in Old Chesley, Que., asking her to get in touch with the hospital authorities and find out her condition. Yesterday morning Mr. Moore received a reply that no trace of the woman was to be found in Ottawa and that she was not a patient in any hospital there.

Mr. Moore promptly began an investigation which led to the discovery of her remains. Rev. Mr. McRoberts, who occupies with his family the apartment across the hall, stated that he also believed Miss Moore to be in the hospital taking treatments and as a result gave no thought to her continued absence. Neither he nor his family could recall having seen the stricken woman after Nov. 9th when a light was burning in the apartment.

After learning the details surrounding the case, Dr. McLaughlin declared her death to have been from natural causes and no inquest would be necessary.

Nominations Held In Several Municipalities

Nominations were held in many of the municipalities throughout the county last week and in some places, keen contests are looming ahead. In Williamsburg township every office will be contested. The following candidates qualified: for reeve, Ed. VanAllen, who holds the office at present, and Bert Garlough; deputy reeve, E. M. Beckstead and John McMillan; councillors, Edgar Whittaker, Ross Hess, George McKenzie and Oscar Couglan.

In Iroquois village the electors returned the present council by acclamation for the fifth time. Since 1930 the same group of officials have controlled affairs in that municipality. Reeve W. M. Barclay heads a council composed of Ed. Strader, C. S. Fisher, R. J. Ellis and J. S. Everett, with E. A. McInnis as clerk and treasurer.

Reeve Arthur Flynn was given an acclamation for the third consecutive time, at the nomination meeting held at Morrisburg. There will be a contest for councillors, however, and enthusiasm is working overtime. Wilfred Coligan and William Roach of the present council are standing for re-election while Howard O. Hessell, Fred H. Broder and Arnold Jarvis also qualified. Dr. D. A. Currie, Howard B. Tindal and James L. Casselman were elected as the board of education by acclamation.

In Cornwall W. A. Parisien was elected Mayor by acclamation, J. L. John, Reeve, and there will be a contest for deputy between J. E. Gallanger, former deputy, and Garnet Alguire. There will be a contest in each ward for councillors.

In Cornwall Township there will be a contest for reeveship between John A. Lafave and John L. McDonald, and for deputy reeve between C. T. Johnston and Arthur Tessier. There will also be a contest for the council, there being six candidates.

In Osgoode Township the Council was elected by acclamation, George S. Lewis being reeve, and John W. James, deputy, with four councillors.

A year ago this month was a below zero month. This year November has been like an old fashioned Indian summer.

LOCAL MAGISTRATE HEARS MANY CASES

MONDAY WAS A BUSY DAY IN POLICE COURT. SEVERAL FINES IMPOSED. TWO MEN SENT TO JAIL

The past week was a decidedly busy one insofar as the local court was concerned. Numerous cases were up for trial before Magistrate John McCormick on Monday last, occupying the whole day.

Harry Edgerton, of Chesterville, appeared on a charge of being intoxicated in a public place. Entering a plea of not guilty, much evidence was heard by the magistrate who found the accused guilty and sentenced him to pay a fine of $10 and costs, amounting to $16.50.

Charles Steinbrunner, of Williamsburg Township, was charged with illegally having in his possession one racoon skin. He pleaded not guilty and the evidence was taken. After receiving the evidence given, Magistrate McCormick ruled the man guilty and imposed a fine of $1.00 and costs, amounting to $11.10

Abraham St. Pierre, of Winchester Tp., appeared on a charge of illegally having in his posession the pelts of fur-bearing animals; one fox skin and one mink. A second charge of having in his possession illegally the skin of a deer was also read to the accused. He pleaded not guilty to both charges and much evidence was heard. Magistrate McCormick reserved his decision pending further study of the law and the evidence.

Bruce Markell, of Brinstons, was apprehended by Provincial Constable Frank Rose, of Morrisburg, and appeared in court, charged with breaking, entering and stealing a bicycle, the property of Harry Johnston, of Williamsburg. He was also charged with the theft of a set of dishes, the property of D'Arcy Patrick, of Williamsburg township. He entered a plea of guilty to both charges and was sentenced to serve 6 months definite and 6 months indefinite in the Guelph Reformatory.

James Sipes, of Wiliamsburg, also came before the cadi, charged with the theft of a set of dishes, the property of D'Arcy Patrick. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to three months in the common jail at Cornwall.

CELEBRATES 86th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. W. J. Steele, one of Winchester's prominent citizens, celebrated her 86th birthday on Wednesday, Nov. 28th, when a delightful supper in honour of the occasion was staged at her home. Her three daughters, Mrs. Karl Helmer, Mrs. Fred Parker, Winchester, and Mrs. F. J. Barlow, of Morrisburg, were present, as was also her grand-daughter, Miss Agnes Parker.

Mrs. Steele is hale and hearty in spite of her years, and her many friends offer hearty congratulations and best wishes for her continued health and happiness.

Fire Destroys Barn And Stock at Ormond

Fire of an unknown origin completely destroyed the barns and contents on the farm of Mr. Foster Haines at Ormond on Sunday evening last. Seven head of cattle, one horse, several pigs and a number of hens also perished in the flames which caused damage estimated at $3,000.

The fire started about eight o'clock in the evening and was first noticed by Mr. Orton Rodney, a neighbour, who resides immediately across the road. He at once spread the alarm and in a few minutes a bucket brigade was formed and an effort made to check the progress of the flames but their work proved futile. The fire had gained such headway that no effort could be made to rescue the stock. The attention of the volunteers was directed on preventing the spread of the flames to other nearby buildings.

No explanation of the blaze could be given as Mr. Haines was absent at the time of the outbreak, having left his home early in the afternoon. Mr. Rodney, the first man to reach the scene, stated that the top part of the barn seemed to suddenly burst into flames.

Besides the buildings and the stock mentioned above, Mr. Haines will suffer the loss of the season's hay and grain crops. It was partly covered by insurance.

Just Think It Over!

If some of our business men and citizens were faced with the fact that there is a strong probability of six or eight heads of families being thrown out of work, and they having to move out of town, or go on relief, because of the practice of too many of our citizens buying goods made at Ottawa or some other nearby town, and sold in preference to the home-made products, they would be inclined to scoff at the idea and shake their heads in doubt. Yet such is a possibility, and a possibility that should not only cause concern, but serious thought. Six or eight empty houses, forty or fifty citizens gone from our midst, would mean not only loss of business, but depreciation in land value and higher taxes.

The Winchester Press will deal more specifically and fully with this important question next week. In the meantime, we would remind all property owners that every cent they spend out of town is like putting a mortgage on their own property, and increasing the local tax rate. Think it over!

H. S. COMMENCEMENT

The Annual High School Commencement will be held in Lannin's Hall on Friday evening, November 30th, 1934, at 8 p. m. Included in this year's program are two plays, one put on by the Upper School Students and one by the Lower School Students; as well as many special features. Plan now to attend. Tickets 25 Cents.

GAS THIEVES BUSY

That there are those who will stoop to go to a local garage and drain a gas tank is too true as some of our citizens have learned to their loss. Last night Mr. Alex Duncan's garage was entered and not only was his gas tank drained, but two cushions out of his car were stolen. Other citizens have complained that they believed that gas had been stolen out of their car at night, but they had no actual proof that a sneak thief had visited their premises, and so let it go. But when it comes to stealing cushions, there is no telling what it may lead to. We advise all car owners to lock their garages at night, and no doubt our municipal authorities will put a night watchman at work to parole the village.

TOWN LEAGUE HOCKEY PLANS

Following an adjournment of the reorganization meeting of the Town Hockey League on Wednesday, Nov. 21st, the executive met last night and furthered the plans for the coming winter. In the absence of the president, Chester Timmins, the meeting was presided over by the 1st Vice President, Harold Singleton, while Kenneth Ault acted as Secretary.

On motion of John Fader and Ernest Kellogg it was decided to ask for tenders on 100 hockey sticks and 25 pucks. Carried. The appointment of a referee for the season was left in the hands of the president and Ernest Kellogg.

It was reported at the meeting that Dr. Dougall McLean was willing to manage the fourth team in the league on condition that a sufficient number of players was available to form a team. On motion of Howard Fetterly and W. F. Workman it was decided to pool the players and draw for the teams. Carried.

The draw was conducted by Harold Singleton and Kenneth Ault, and as a result the Chevrolets and Ford V-8 teams, under the management of Howard Fetterly and Harold Lannin respectively, which were all set to go as far as players are concerned, will undergo a decided change in the personell. Arn. Barkley, star defence man for the V-8's will wear a Chev. sweater under the new arrangement, while George Currie, the Chev. goalie, will be in the Ford nets. Ran. Wylie, the leading scorer last year, will be chasing the puck for Dr. McLean's Vets., while Bob Hitsman and Lloyd Kenney will both be on the High School team. These are only a few of the changes, as a result of the draw. The strongest team as it stands is Doug. McLean's Vets., and weakest team is the Chevs. In order to balance the teams as evenly as possible it was decided to make some shifts from the original draw, but this was not done last night as the full executive was not present. All business at last night's meeting was done subject to the approval of the president.

On motion of John Fader and Ernest Kellogg, it was decided that the names of the teams be changed to "Roughriders, Senators, Maple Leafs and Maroons." Howard Fetterly objected for some unknown reason, and on a vote the motion was defeated.

Ken. Ault presented a code of rules governing the managers of the different teams. These were adopted and will be made known later. The meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the president.

WOMAN SAVES COMPANION'S LIFE

What might easily have been a fatal accident occurred a short distance south of Winchester Springs on Saturday morning last, when the automobile driven by Ray Hallor, of Hollywood, Cal., careened off the highway after leaving the concrete and overturned in the ditch. Mr. Hallor and his companion, Mrs. Caroline D. Jackson, of Fort Smith, Arkansas, were both pinned beneath the vehicle in a ditch which was partly filled with water owing to the recent heavy rains.

Unable to free himself, Hallor was pinned in such a position that it was impossible for him to keep his head above water without assistance. Fortunately Mrs. Jackson, who was also firmly wedged beneath the car, was able to reach the man and keep his head above water until assistance came. Mr. Harvey Grieve, of Morrisburg, on his way home from Ottawa, was the first motorist to arrive and he succeeded in releasing the victims. Both were immediately taken to the office of Dr. W. M. Locke at Williamsburg, where they were treated for shock and exposure. Provincial Officer Eugene Rose investigated the accident.

HEALTH SELDOM COMES BY CHANCE TO PERSONS OVER THIRTY

Good health cannot be taken for granted any more than a good income can. So for persons over thirty it is just as smart and business-like to plan to enjoy good health as it is to plan to enjoy a good income. And it's just as much a matter of plain common sense to check up on yourself.

In health, your shortcomings are, at first, likely to be those annoying, not-exactly-well feelings. At such times, if your blood were tested, it would most likely be found "low in count". This means a shortage of red corpuscles and the corpuscles themselves short of haemoglobin. Make up this double shortage, and you'll come up to normal health again. Neglect it and serious results may follow.

Observing, in his practice, the importance of keeping the vitality of the blood up to normal, a Canadian authority originated a blood-building preparation which has been helping run-down people back to health for nearly half a century. This preparation, now known the world over as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, definitely increases the blood "count" in the majority of cases, thereby restoring vitality, steadying nerves, imparting strength and toning up the whole system. So the person over thirty who finds good health slipping, is well advised to take at least a 30-day treatment of this excellent remedy. The element of chance has been practically eliminated in such a treatment, because tests recently made by an authority in a clinic of 40 people, proved conclusively by individual blood "count" that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills certainly improve the health by enriching the blood. Full size box 50c.

ABOUT RELIEF

Granting relief is a voluntary act, says "The Municipal World," in an article which goes on to say: "Municipalities are not under any legal compulsion to grant relief to indigents, and any assistance is a privilege and not a right so far as the recipient is concerned.

RAMBLING 'ROUND NEW YORK with HUGH KENNY

Tax assessments in New York City are something to behold: Empire State Building, $30,000,000; Rockefeller Center, $26,000,000; Chrysler Building, $10,500,000. And the Music Hall in Rockefeller Center leads the list of theatres at $11,500,000.

A large number of Chinese have moved from New York's Chinatown to New Jersey. And that is where seventeen smuggled Chinese were uncovered recently, guarded by a huge Trinidad Negro. They had been sewed in sacks and hauled as potatoes, and were to be "sold" for $1,000 to $1,500 each by a smuggling ring.

Forty-seven profane African grey parrots and James E. Abbott are keeping company on Hoffman Island, waiting the end of a quarantine period. He was a passenger on the Zarembo, and the sailors taught the birds some choice bits of profane vocabulary. "I can't leave," says Abbott, "because the government wants someone watching the birds all the time. But if it wasn't for a little radio and Lucy, my pet monkey, I think I'd go crazy." And the screaming din of the parrots emphasized his remarks.

Little fishes started leaping out of Bronx faucets last month. Harmless, yes. But rather unpleasant company for your bath, these inch to inch and a half fish. And to the hue and cry that went up about it, the water department replied that they were installing finer screens.

They tried out the leader of a large department store's annual Thanksgiving Day parade in New York the other day. He's a giant designed by Tony Sarg. He's forty feet high and 23 feet wide and he's filled with 2,664 cubic feet of helium that will make him float in mid-air. And his name is Mickey Mouse . . . More than twenty-five men will be required to handle the enormous figure in the parade that ushers in the Christmas buying season each year.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S RALLY AT WINCHESTER SPRINGS

A young people's rally was held in the United Church, Winchester Springs, on Friday evening last, when members from thirteen young people's societies throughout the Grenville-Dundas Presbytery was present to enjoy a splendid program, presented by the Y. P. S. of Winchester Springs. The visitors were welcomed by Harry Potter, the president. Miss Florence Waddell, of Brinstons, responded on behalf of the visitors and, as president of the Young People's Union of the Grenville-Dundas Presbytery, gave a short address on the work of young people. Her subject was "Finding Ourselves." She then introduced Rev. Donald Morrison, of St. Andrew's United Church, Hallville, who was the chief speaker for the occasion. Mr. Morrison's subject was "Advancement in Self-Realization," and his address was very educational and listened to with keen interest by the large audience of young people.

At the conclusion of the devotional part of the meeting a social hour was held in the Sunday School hall, during which games and contests were indulged in under the direction of Charles Christie and Allen VanAllen, of Mountain.

Refreshments were served by the following committee, Mrs. Cecil McIntosh, Mrs. Aden Casselman, Mrs. Thos. Cunningham, Mrs. Orren Casselman, Mrs. Joseph Steele and Miss Mary Bailey.

Before the meeting closed it was announced that a winter school was being held in Ottawa during Christmas week for officers of Young People's Societies, under the direction of Mr. W. H. Scrivens, president of the Young People's Union of the Ottawa-Montreal Conference.

THE DISCOUNT ON AMERICAN MONEY

The United States dollar has sunk below par in Canada and is now discounted to the extent of five per cent. when ever American cash funds are tendered. Last summer in Cobourg we witnessed the aroused anger of an American tourist when he was docked five per cent. for each dollar he tendered. In fact we were so bold as to remind the man that a few years ago when the United States discounted our money twenty per cent. and even as high as thirty per cent. on occasion Canadians had to grin and bear the loss. But the average American seems to be a poor loser. We were recently told by the proprietor of a popular hotel on No. 2 highway that scarcely one in a score of Americans will submit to the discount of their money without protest more or less violent. Uncle Sam's money is good anywhere, they say. Asked if the discount has had any appreciable affect on the American tourist business on No. 2 highway this hotel man said that so far as he was able to judge it had not. He stated that he had in common with others pointed out to the American dissatisfied with the money discount that he would save it in gasoline due to the difference between the wine and the imperial gallons used across the line and in Canada respectively. This however failed to have much effect.—Alliston Herald.

MOREWOOD W. M. S.

The November meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Morewood was held last week at the home of Mrs. T. E. Coulthart. The society celebrated the seventieth anniversary of the founding of the Presbyterian W. M. S. in Canada by presenting a special program.

Papers were given by Mrs. W. S. Feeley and Mrs. Hazel Countryman, tracing the splendid work of the society from its humble beginning in 1864 until the present date. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess. A pleasing feature was a beautiful birthday cake with seven candles, each representing ten years. Mrs. Steinburg, the eldest member present, cut the cake. The tea table was presided over by Mrs. W. S. Feeley and Mrs. Robert Rainey, with Miss Lil. Feeley, Miss Ina Mackenzie and little Miss Margaret Nimmo assisting with the serving.

A vote of thanks was tendered the hostess on behalf of the guests by Mrs. Colin McGregor.

THIMBLE AN ANCIENT DEVICE

Thimbles did not come into general use in England until the latter part of the seventeenth century. The little device was known to the Egyptians and Romans, for articles of a similar pattern have been found among Egyptian ruins, and the Romans, according to Seneca, performed the "find the little pea" trick with the brass or bronze ancestor of the modern thimble. The first machine-made thimbles were turned out in Holland in 1693, by John Lofting, a Dutch inventor, to whom the patent was granted. Silver and gold were the materials first employed and only well-to-do could afford to buy them. Later when they were made of cheaper metal, practically everybody used them. The name which the Dutch first gave them, translated, literally meant "finger-hood." The English, however, soon supplied their own name of "thumb-bell," derived from the bell-like shape of the little article and from the early practice of wearing it on the thumb to ward off the point of the needle. About 250 years ago the quaint custom sprang up of inscribing posies and forget-me-nots inside the thimble and it is said that in those days the thimble served the same tender purpose as the engagement ring of today. Leather thimbles were at one time introduced but soon proved themselves unsatisfactory.

CONSERVATIVES GATHER AT MOUNTAIN

A meeting held in the I.O.O.F. Hall Mountain Station, recently, for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Mountain Township Conservative Association in each municipality was attended by a large number of enthusiastic Conservative supporters. Robert Mulholland of South Mountain, was chairman.

The chief speakers of the evening were: A. C. Casselman, K.C., M.P. for Dundas-Grenville, and Mr. Geo. H. Challies, M.L.A., for Dundas-Grenville.

They gave an outline of the ways and means for better and stronger organizing. Lyle Ferrier of South Mountain moved a motion, which was discussed and carried, to form a Young Conservatives' Association. This was pointed out to be a profitable way of educating the younger people in politics.

With an association in each locality there will be the advantage of selecting a chairman by each municipality instead of the election being made from the general association, thus giving the parties concerned a more personal selection. The officers elected were as follows: Hon. presidents, Messrs. G. H. Challies and A. C. Casselman; president, Douglas Beggs; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Lee Merkley; chairman of the various polling divisions: Robert Beggs, Fred Mulloy Byron Allen, Ira Ennis, Dr. A. Hoy, Robt. Mulholland.

Plans were made for further meetings to be held in the near future for the deciding on different subjects under discussion.

ST. CATHERINES' C. W. L. SUPPER-CARD PARTY

Under the auspices of the C.W.L. of St. Catherine's Church, Metcalfe, a largely attended card party and supper was held in the town hall on Wednesday evening last. Eucher, bridge and forty-five were enjoyed. The prize for the forty-five went to Mr. Dan Devlin; the bridge prize was won by Mrs. R. Donovan; the eucher prizes were won by Mr. John Conlin, of Ottawa. Other winners were Bill Morrison, Marguerite Rowan, Alice Casserley, Mrs. J. C. Byers, Mrs. E. Morris, C. Scharf, Mrs. L. Latour, Lloyd Graham, Mrs. C. Clark.

A bean supper was served by the members of the league, after which the gathering was entertained with music and songs. Arrangements were looked after by a committee composed of the president, Mrs. A. Mullins, and Mrs. Patrick Conlin, Mrs. John Rowan and Miss Mary Grant.

EUCHRE AND DANCE AT HALLVILLE

A euchre and dance was held Friday evening by the Athletic Club of Hallville in aid fo the skating rink. Over five hundred participated in the evening's entertainment of progressive euchre and dancing.

Euchre was played at fifty-two tables. While the card game was in progress hundreds gathered in the vestibule and hall to await the dancing program. The arrangements for the party were looked after by a committee. The card game was in charge of W. L. Brown, assisted by Ernest Hyndman, Delbert Wylie, Albert Blaine, Charles Hyndman and Jack Shaver. The ladies tying for the highest number of games were: Miss Kathleen Kerr, Miss Donnella Latourell and Mrs. William Coleman. Mrs. Coleman won the decision by cut and was awarded the lady's prize. The gentlemen also tied the score with Messrs. Arcand and Anderson cutting. Mr. A. Anderson received the gentleman's prize. The door prizes were won by Dr. Patterson of Kemptville, and Mr. McIntosh, of Ormond, Dr. Patterson winning first prize.

Lunch was served by the gentlemen on the committee after which dancing was enjoyed for several hours to music provided by an orchestra.

Much enthusiasm was shown by all connected with the arrangements for the party, as the proceeds are for the re-establishment of a skating rink at Hallville. The party was a success financially as well as socially. The door receipts were in charge of George Martin, William Ellis and Fred Cassidy. The committee in charge of the arrangements were: Misses Lois Beggs, Marjorie Young, Ruth Weston, Lillian Dougall and Goldie Cummings and Messrs. W. L. Brown, George Martin, William Ellis, Fred Cassidy, Broder Scarlett, Delbert Wylie, Ernest Hyndman, Charles Christie, James Troy and Albert Blaine.

PREMIER WILL RUN IN CALGARY

Prime Minister R. B. Bennet will be in the running in West Calgary, his home constituency, when the federal election campaign gets under way.

"I came to Calgary when I was a young man. I think I can give a successful account of my stewardship and if nominated I propose to be a candidate in West Calgary at the next federal election," the Prime Minister told an interviewer on Monday.

REV. W. CRAWFORD GUEST SPEAKER AT ST. ANDREW'S

Rev. Donald Morrison was in charge of the morning service held in St. Andrew's United Church on Sunday, with Rev. W. Crawford, secretary of the Bible Society, as the guest speaker. A large congregation was in attendance. Miss Carrie Stewart presided at the organ. Rev. Mr. Crawford gave an address on the work which is being done by the Bible Society in local districts, Canada and foreign countries.

The full choir, under the direction of Mrs. Andrew Logan, A.C.C.M., was in attendance and led in the singing of the hymns. A duet was sung by Miss Carrie Stewart, soprano, and Mr. W. L. Brown, tenor, with Mrs. Andrew Logan accompanist.

A special young people's service was held in the evening. Charles Christie, president of the Young People's Society, conducted the service, assisted by Wilfred Allen, mentor of the Tuxis Group. Rev. Mr. Morrison was the guest speaker, and gave an address on "Self Realization." Miss Laura Hyndman presided at the organ.

THE OTHER FELLOW'S JOB

A Minnesota editor moralizes thusly:—"If we could all switch businesses all the way around for just one week we'd be a lot more sympathetic of the other fellow's problems and know a lot more than we do at present about the cause of his shortcomings and of his apparent failures. Let the banker sell prunes, the grocer pull teeth, the dentist run a garage, the garage man edit the paper, the editor run the bank (that's the biggest jump of any of them!) for just six little work days and we'd all have our eyes so wide open to what the others are up against that we would never have the courage to criticize, nor would we be unsympathetic again. Then if the whole caboodle of us were on various farms and operate them for another six days each, we'd all be so wise and understanding that the peace and harmony prevailing would make this little old community just about the best place in the world to live in. It can't be done, of course, but we could take the thought to ourselves that we don't know anything about the other man's job, and concede that for all we know, he is handling it in good shape."

Some men smile in the evening,
Some men smile at dawn,
But the man worth while
Is the man who can smile
When his two front teeth are gone.

BAZAAR HELD AT VERNON

The annual bazaar sponsored by the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid, in the Orange Hall, Vernon, on Saturday evening, Nov. 24th, was well attended, and many useful and attractive articles were sold. A very dainty hot supper was served to over 125 people under the management of Mrs. W. Bowman. Other convenors were as follows: linen and fancy work, Mrs. Irvin Dalgleish dress and apron, Mrs. W. G. Porteous; knitting table, Mrs. Ed. Anderson; home cooking, Mrs. W. Comrie and Mrs. R. S. Hill; Mission Band, Misses Isobel Kennedy and Mima Campbell. Mrs. Edward Kennedy's table of 10-cent articles was an attraction and was well patronized by all.

The door prize was won by Mr. S. A. Kinniard, the prize being a quilt. Other lucky numbers winners were Mrs. Lorne Campbell, Mr. R. Bilow, Miss Kathleen Kennedy, J. C. Campbell and Miss Helen McCrostie. Visitors from Ottawa, Winchester and other outside points were welcomed by Rev. and Mrs. Kellock. Total receipts after all expenses were paid amounted to over $110.

GARDENERS' INSECT FRIENDS

All garden insects are not injurious. In fact many of them are beneficial, continually doing good by destroying those species which are harmful. Foremost among the insects that help the gardener are the different kinds of ladybird beetles. Both in their larval and adult stages, they feed almost exclusively upon plant lice and scale insects. Another kind of beetle, the fiery ground beetle, is a particularly useful insect. This beetle and its voracious grub, which is called the cut worm lion, destroy enormous numbers of cut worms. The beetle is brownish-black, with the wing-cases spotted with coppery red—hence its name. The large harpulas beetle, which is very common, destroys cut worms. The different kinds of lace-wing, and other two and four winged parasitic flies are also friends of the gardener.

FIRST NEWSPAPER PRINTED

A printing press 300 years old and an exact reproduction of what is believed to be the first newspaper in existence, are on show at the exhibition of post-war type revivals in the Technical Library at St. Bride Institute. W. T. Berry, the librarian, who has arranged the exhibition, says this old press is undoubtedly the oldest example of the original form of hand printing press in existence in England with the exception of one, a slighty earlier pattern that can be seen in the South Kensington Museum. "It is practically identical in design with the hand press used by Caxton, but it is the only one of its kind found in Great Britain in which both horn and wood have been extensively used." Mr. Berry places the probable date of the machine's construction somewhere about the year 1625. It was found in a Fleet Street cellar about thirty years ago. Fastened to the lid of the press is a replica of what is thought to be the first newspaper ever printed, the "Nieuwe Tidinghen" ("New Tidings.") It was published in Antwerp in 1616, and, with the possible exception of the "Frankfurter Journal" (1615), is the first newspaper in the modern sense of the term. The first English newspaper, the "Weekly News," appeared in 1622.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Rev Charles E. Dunn

The Christian as Witness.
Lesson for December 2nd. 1 Thess. 1:1-10.
Golden Text: Acts 1:8.

God, in His infinite wisdom, has bestowed many gifts upon His children. Among these is that supreme power of influence. Each of us is a witness, a light, a herald of whatever truth the Creator has implanted within us. Our witness-bearing may be weak and wavering, but it is an inescapable activity we cannot dodge.

Rev. Chas. E. Dunn

It is a favorite idea of Jesus that His followers possess in themselves lights that they must not hide under bushels or beds, but placed upon candlesticks. Now a light, from the point of view of chemical analysis, is a mere pocket of glowing heat. But think of its amazing effect upon our lives! It is the warmth that cheers us from sun or hearth, the power that cooks our food, the energy that generates steam

So it is with man! Some one has figured that the average person contains fat sufficient for seven bars of soap; enough iron to make a medium sized nail; enough sugar to fill a shaker; lime adequate to whitewash a chicken coop; and a little phosphorus, magnesium, potassium, and sulphur. These, mark you, are all worth but 98 cents! And yet what a gigantic influence is radiated from this cheap bundle of life! "A great man," says Carlyle, "is the living light-fountain, the light which enlightens the darkness of the world."

Much of this influence is conscious, direct, and is largely expressed through an institution, which Emerson well called the lengthened shadow of a great man. But the finest brand of influence is unconscious. St. Paul, in our lesson, reveals his Christian witness in the proud declaration, "You know the sort of men we became among you, as examples for your sakes." Now the apostle's example was in part deliberate, forthright, for he was a positive, flaming evangel not ashamed to openly proclaim Christ. But it is safe to say that his best influence was exerted indirectly as the unconscious expression of his spirit.

ESSENTIAL TO HAPPINESS

Most young people have an idea that they would be happy if they had money enough. As a matter of fact, the percentage of suicides among the wealthy class is large. Any number of discontented young people imagine their cup of joy would be full if they could get away from their cramped environment and see the world. Every traveller knows better, however, for no matter where one journeys, one finds forlorn bits of human flotsam who would exchange the freedom of the seven seas for a hearth fire of their own.

Next to faith in God and a conscience at peace with itself, the essential to happiness is friendship. Luckily we do not buy friends with money. Indeed one of the tragedies of the wealthy is uncertainty as to the motives of those who seek their friendship. We do not have to travel to come across worthy friends. Every hamlet has its fair proportion, and no one who wants friends need be without them. The factors necessary for happiness are not reserved for the few.

FIRST MENTION OF SPOONS

Of all the articles and utensils that are used in the modern household there is none which can be traced to earlier beginnings than the spoon, says a writer in the Washington Post. Besides having a fascinating history, a spoon is one of the loveliest, most graceful pieces used on the table. Going back to its origin, the first reference made to spoons is in the Bible, where Moses was commanded to make gold spoons for the tabernacle. During medieval times spoons were made of silver, horn or wood. Even though England is so closely associated with lovely silver designs, it was on the continent that silver spoons were first used—probably Italy. After the silver spoons became popular in England, about the time of the Tudor and Stuart reigns, it became fashionable to give apostle spoons as christening gifts. They were called apostle spoons because of the figure of an apostle at the end of the spoon. A complete set of these was very valuable and were owned only by the wealthy families. This gave rise to the saying of "being born with a silver spoon in his mouth."

THE UNITED CHURCH

Rev. H. L. Morrison, of Kemptville, had charge of Sunday's services. His messages were very much appreciated. Speaking in the morning from Matt. 22: 37-40 on the subject "Two Pegs," or "Our Love to God and Our Love to Man," in the text given, Jesus challenged every one as to their willingness to devote themselves to the service of God, and of man. It is tragically insufficient to hang all on one peg. God's will cannot be fully done by any partial devotion. The speaker said that nothing more helpful could be done in our morning devotions than to ask God "How can I apply these principles through the day?" and at night search our hearts as to how we have measured up to these.

"If I were an Atheist," was the evening subject, the 27th Psalm being read and reference made to it. Two types of atheists are the man who takes a delight in it and the reluctant one. Mr. Morrison said if he were an atheist he would back religion by encouraging every man and woman to accept it. He would back the Church just out of love for humanity. He would back foreign missions as one of the great hopes of peace in the world. He stated the fact that the atheists send their missionaries to all parts of the world and pronounce shame on the Christian who sits at ease with his hands folded refusing to support the missionaries of the Christian Church.

The choir contributed an anthem at each service, also the male quartette sang: "I ask not why?"

4-H CLUB NEWS

TO BAKE HER WAY

It's an old way for a boy or girl to work their way through college, and usually none too interesting. A new way and what promises to be much more interesting is the plan of a Minnesota girl to "bake her way through." She is Miss Blanche Palmer of Excelsior and she struck on the idea while attending college at Sioux Falls, S. D. during her freshman year. Miss Palmer had been a 4-H club member for several years before going to college, and had made a very nice record in baking. The fact was known to some of the college folks and when the regular baker of the college cafeteria happened to be absent on an occasion the girl was called in to substitute.

Diners at the cafeteria spoke so well of her work that the position was assigned her regularly for her sophomore year. In return for her baking work the girl will receive her room, board and tuition. She is required to bake bread, coffee cake, biscuits and shortcake.

Many cases are to be found where 4-H club girls, and boys too, are putting their training to work in this and other ways while preparing themselves for life. There is the case of some Michigan boys who decided to batch, but in a somewhat more elegant way. They actually lived in what might be called lavish style by bringing canned foods of all kinds from their homes and supplementing them with vegetables and fruits which they gathered from their garden and orchard projects and otherwise.

Another case is a family in Alabama which has had three children in college and expects to put all of them through by being able to "feed them" with home canned and prepared foods largely the result of 4-H projects. And in this case also the so-called "batchers" were able to live elegantly, even better than the students living in good boarding houses.

A trip to the world's fair in Chicago and sojourn there of a week was made possible by the canning and food hustling talent of a party of club members living in a state some 800 miles distant. Knowing that their hotel bills for food would be a main item of expense they took enough provisions to supply them practically the entire trip.

FUN TO THEM—DEATH TO HIM

Last fall a student in a mid-western university killed himself and left a letter to explain the reason. He was a plain youth with an unusually long nose, and while he was still a little lad, his playmates had made fun of him. His self-confidence was destroyed. He brooded over his ugliness, and finally, after completing several years of his college course, he killed himself. In his letter he admitted that while he was not afraid to die, he was afraid to face the world. He wrote: "God forgive everyone for this."

Of course this young fellow was a weakling, but that does not excuse those who drove him to take his own life. The playmates of his boyhood who made fun of him, and then perceiving his sensitiveness, joyously kept up their teasing, had no idea that what was fun to them would be death to him. Again we are reminded of the harm that can be wrought by thoughtless cruelty. Of all forms of amusement, teasing is the most unkind.

"DEPRESSION"

The following verses were written for the Stirling News-Argus by Reeve L. Burke of Sidney Township:

Despite the views that differ
Depression does dismay,
Denies attempts to prosper,
Defeats the prosperous jay,
Delights in man's ill humour,
Deludes the small and great,
Debates the right to conquer,
Deceives us while we wait.
Defers our time of profit,
Decrees when we emerge,
Decreases all our savings,
Deletes our every urge;
Denotes the willing fighter,
Decoys the indolent,
Defends the warrior valiant,
Destroys the pleasure bent—
Decides our share of worry,
Declares our share of mirth,
Deliberates our actions,
Despoils the whole of earth;
Desposes men of station,
Depreciates their rank,
Deprives their ready credit,
Derails them at the bank;
Deranges all our system,
Derides the human scheme,
Defies man's puny effort,
Deludes our every dream,
"Depression," says the preacher,
"Draws lessons from on high;"
Don't trouble this dear declaimer,
Decline the reason why,
Don't damp the pilot's ardor,
Decry prophetic gift,
Delve deeper, doughty Domine,
Does depression ever lift?
Discard Old Man Depression,
Disdain his gloomy mood,
Disperse his power to hinder,
Disown his dotard brood.
Decide to fight with courage,
Delay not, now begin,
Don't frown and scold until you're old,
Deplore the frown—just grin.
Dispel Old Man Depression
Drive all his woes to rout,
Discard your fears, look through the tears—
There's Heaven all about.

EGG ECONOMY

Eggs as eggs have been eaten from time immemorial. It is also an old, old usage to add something for seasoning or flavor, or to make them go further. But the use of eggs for thickening liquids or making cakes, breads and sauces light and fluffy is comparatively modern. This stage in our history marks the beginning of fine cookery. In fact, the French tell us that all good cooking rests upon an egg.

But eggs have not always been plentiful and frugal cooks have been lavish with them only upon special occasions. Until very recently, there was no real justification in economical cookery for the extravagance of using plenty of eggs just to make food more delicious. But now science comes to the rescue with the reasons why we need them in our diet.

Knowing that each child may well have an egg a day and each adult three or four a week and that a few more might be even better, the frugal cook can use eggs generously and with a clear conscience. It is real economy to supply in food the essentials for building and maintaining a strong healthy body. Eggs are rich in minerals, especially iron; vitamins A, B and G, at least; protein of high grade and some fat. The yolk contains most of the minerals, vitamins and fat, while the white is nearly pure protein.

In the truest sense of the phrase, eggs are a precious food. They supply dietary essentials, make food more delicious and fine cookery possible. Store and cook them with much care. Follow recipes carefully, keeping in mind these facts:

When used in thickening, in sauces, custards, puddings, meat loaves, and the like, beat eggs but slightly.

To make a mixture light by incorporating air, beat eggs thoroughly—until thick and a light lemon color for the yolk or whole egg and, for the whites, until they will form peaks.

For meringues, souffles, and other light mixtures, stop beating while the whites are moist and shiny. Do not beat until dry.

Eggs are delicate in flavor. Salt in moderation develops the flavor; spices and most condiments cover it.

Eggs should be cooked at low temperatures. This rule includes meringues and frying, as well as custards. Slow cooking with low heat gives firm, tender texture.

Pumpkin Custard

1 cup pumpkin, (cooked and sieved), 2 eggs, slightly beaten; 1-4 tsp. salt, 1-4 cup sugar, 2 tbsps. molasses, 1-8 tsp. cloves, 1-2 tsp. cinnamon, 1-8 tsp. ginger, 2 cups milk ,scalded.

Combine pumpkin, eggs, salt, sugar, molasses and spices. Mix thoroughly. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly. Pour into buttered baking dish. Set in pan of warm water. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until an inserted knife comes out clean.

Vegetable Souffle

1 tbsp. butter or fat (melted), 2 tbsps. flour, 1-2 tsp. salt, 1-2 cup milk, 3 eggs, (separated); 2 cups mixed vegetables (cooked, seasoned and diced).

Combine fat, flour and salt. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and add the egg yolks, slightly beaten. Add vegetables and cool. Fold in stiffly beaten eggs white. Pour into a buttered baking dish. Set into a pan of warm water and bake in a moderate oven until an inserted knife comes out clean.

Rice Krispie Macaroons

2 egg whites, 1 cup sugar, 2 cups rice krispies, 1-2 cup nut meats, 1 cup cocoanut, 1-2 tsp. vanilla extract.

Beat egg whites until they are still enough to hold their shape but not until they lose their shiny appearance. Fold in sugar carefully. Fold in rice krispies, nut meats and cocoanut. Add vanilla. Drop on a well-greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven. about 15 to 20 minntes. Remove pans from oven, place on damp towel and remove macaroons immediately with a spatula or sharp knife. If macaroons become hardened to pan, they may be put in the oven for a few minutes to soften.

Yield: 1 1-2 dozen.

Baked Eggs in Tomato Cups

Scoop out the centres of large, firm, ripe tomatoes. Sprinkle slightly on the inside with salt. Break an egg into each tomato, sprinkle with salt, pepper, and fine corn flake crumbs, and dot with butter. Bake in a moderate oven until the tomato skins are slightly wrinkled.

QUICK WITTED

Two men in a car went past the automatic signals and were stopped by a constable. "I'm sorry, said the driver, quick-witted, "but I happen to be a doctor and I'm taking a patient to the asylum in a hurry."

The officer was suspicious and he looked penetratingly at the passenger. But the latter was also quick witted and looking up at the constable with a seraphic smile, whispered: Kiss me, sergeant!"

The secret of success lies in the man and not in the stuff he works on.—Bradford Torrey.

ADVANTAGES OF CHEESE AS A FOOD

One pre-eminent characteristic of Canadian cheese is that its manufacture does not impair the nutrients in the milk from which it is made. Almost all of the protein of the milk, the body building element, is present in the cheese, and, if the cheese is made from whole-milk, almost all the butter-fat, with the associated fat soluble vitamine which is indispensable to growth and mental development. Cheese also contains some of the water soluble vitamine and most of the mineral matter so necessary for building bones and teeth. One pound of cheese contains nearly all the protein and fat in one gallon of milk. By weight, its composition is approximately one-third protein, one-third fat and one-third water.

Cheese is a very concentrated form of food and, compared with other protein foods, is economical. Its small bulk makes it convenient to handle or to store. With proper care, cheese will keep a long time in good condition and the many ways in which it can be served give variety to the diet which includes a great deal of this food. From the standpoint of the housekeeper, one of the greatest advantages is that it can be served in its natural state without any time, labor or expense required for heating, cooking or preparing it for the table.

In many European countries, cheese is one of the most important foods. A laborer at hard manual work finds a noonday meal of bread and cheese sufficient to maintain health and strength for his work and it provides a high percentage of body building substance needed by the growing girl or boy. In Canada, cheese is used more for its flavor than as a main dish of a meal, but it could very advantageously be given a place more important in Canadian dietaries. It can be procured almost anywhere and at all seasons of the year.

NO DEPRESSION FOR CIGARETTES

(Almonte Gazette)

No, there's no depression in the cigarette industry. For the first eight months of 1934 the consumption was a third of a billion more cigarettes than for the first eight months in 1933.

What passes for courage is sometimes only successful effrontery.

HOW FAR CAN YOU WALK?

"Walk for health!" is the slogan today and it was recently suggested that, in spite of the amazing development in hiking, there were still too many young people who didn't walk enough. It has been calculated that, in walking a mile the average person takes 2,262 steps. In cycling a mile, the exercise taken is equivalent to 627 steps, which means that the syclict has to cover about three and a half miles to get the same amount of exercise that the walker gets in one. This is an interesting comparison, which sets a new standard for walkers. Many people, who would think nothing of cycling seventy miles in a day, would be appalled if they were asked to walk twenty in the same period. But the exercise obtained is equivalent. There are hikers, of course, who do twenty-five or thirty miles a day, but there are quite a number who think that, if they walk ten, or even less, it is time to catch a bus or train home. Walking is good exercise, but it is necessary if we are to rely on it for that purpose, to make sure we get enough of it.

EDITOR SOLVES PROBLEM

(Timmins Press)

One of the problems an editor has to contend with is that of persons arraigned in police court wanting their names kept out of the paper. It is a daily problem, and one that adds many a grey hair to the editorial cranium.

The Reporter, a newspaper published at Independence, Kansas, has a way of its own in dealing with requests for consideration by auto drivers whose weaknesses gets them into police court. In that city when an offender asks the editor to suppress the news of his arrest for driving while intoxicated, a temperance pledge is "pulled on him" and if he signs it the Reporter will suppress the news.

According to Charles Spence, the editor, more than 100 have signed, and only three have broken the pledge—at least have repeated the offense and been caught. Here is the pledge form:

"The undersigned, having been arrested for drunkenness and fined in the police court of Independence, wishes to have no mention made of the incident in the Daily Reporter.

"In case no mention is made of this incident we promise to do our best to leave liquor alone, and in event that we do not and we get into police court again for reason of 'breaking over,' then the Reporter has our consent in advance to publish a news story concerning the same, as well as to mention the particulars of the case which caused us to sign this pledge, and likewise the fact that we signed it."

In the three cases of pledge violation the Reporter published all the facts, as per agreement. One of the pledge signers was a prominent local advertiser.

Such a system might well be instituted by the daily and weekly press of the Province of Ontario, and accomplish excellent results.

WHY BURN STRAW STACKS?

When with the use of suitable chemicals they can be converted into manure the question "Why burn straw stacks?" is really pertinent. Straw is worth something more than as a bedding material, and not the least valuable is its use for the making of artificial manure. The use of 100 pounds of ammonium sulphate and 100 lbs. of lime to each ton of straw, and this thoroughly soaked with water produces a manure of distinct fertilizer value. From three to six months are required for the organic changes to become effective and the resultant substance has much of the appearance and practically the same value as barnyard manure.

TEMPERANCE CAUSE TO ADVANCE

Can good come out of evil? Will good result from the years of world-wide trade depression? Will the cause of temperance, or prohibition, be advanced by the present orgy of intemperance? When Premier Hepburn designated the wine and beer bill a temperance measure, he spoke prophetically, although he did not realize the fact. Since the beer and wine bill has come into effect, and under the administration of the present Ontario Government, there has been such a disgusting and flagrant demonstration or exhibition of what the license system means, that not only have the temperance enthusiasts been stirred to action, but all decent people are registering their protests against a system that is so wide open that it puts the old time bar-room into the shade, and actually is encouraging and enticing the younger generation to drink. The revenue coming to the Government has mounted to such proportions that the Government is now proposing to make all municipalities partners in the dispensing of liquor by offering to share with them the profits.

The pulpits of all denominations are taking up the cause in a manner that shows that the moral sense of the province has been stirred as never before, and in all quarters new temperance forces are being organized to fight the evil.

As pointed out in an editorial in the Toronto Globe of Tuesday last, the present Government at Toronto seem blind to the gigantic force it is creating for its downfall in its administration of the present Beer and Wine Bill.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

In many places in Ontario the nomination of municipal candidates took place on Friday last, and the elections will be held on Monday next. This year Winchester reverted back to the old dates that bring nominations and elections during the Christmas season, and when there are contests they must of necessity interfere with the Christmas spirit of very many who take an active part in public affairs. We notice that in many places the Mayor, Reeve and Councillors have been elected by acclamation, an evidence of faithful service by men who sacrifice much of personal comfort on behalf of their community. In Winchester there is practically no noticeable stir, and it now looks as though Mr. T. O. Keyes will be elected to the Reeveship by acclamation. The names of several good men have been mentioned as possible councillors, and there is no doubt but that Winchester will be well represented by its municipal council for 1935. We quote the following from an exchange which is very much to the point:

"But, however capable have been the men who have served municipally, the ratepayers should not grow indifferent. They should show a lively interest in public affairs, and bring out good candidates to contend for public office. It is the duty of citizens not only to exercise their franchise but to take a keen interest in every phase of civic life. The tendency everywhere of late years has been to let a few citizens do all the work and get all the blame. This is not fair to either these men or the town.. A keener interest in civic matters on the part of a greater number of citizens will benefit the town."

FOOLING THE PEOPLE

The members of the Hepburn Government have a great time trying to fool the people. Every day brings out some (promised) scheme by which the people of Ontario, and especially the farmers, are to be helped, released of their tax burdens, given bigger prices for their products, and helped in various ways. Among the members of the cabinet there evidently is no clear understanding or planned policy. Each Minister speaks for himself, and enunciates his own policy. Premier Hepburn then comes along and throws a monkey wrench in the machinery, and for a time all is confusion, explanation and readjustment. Recently, the Hon. Mr. Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, speaking, of course, to farmers, made the bold and promising statement: "At the next legislature we are going to get the power to set the price of milk. There will be some squealing, but they'll just have to squeal because we're going to do it. The city man is paying a high price and the farmer isn't getting a fair share of it." That sounds very hopeful and no doubt many farmers who voted for the new Government will smile and say: "I told you so; we are going to get something out of this new Government at Toronto."

Then comes along Premier Hepburn, and speaking at the Royal Winter Fair held at Toronto last week, as quoted in the Toronto papers, said that there was far too much paternalism on the part of the Governments, and gave as an instance the efforts of the Ontario Milk Board in its efforts to control prices.

Thus we have the Minister of Agriculture promising one thing, and the Premier practically contradicting him and saying that the farmers were being pampered, or mothered, too much for their own good.

There is an old saying that "a house divided cannot stand," and so far as the public utterances are concerned, the Hepburn Government seems to be at anything but a unit.

GOSSIP KILLS A MOTHER

The unfortunate death by poisoning of Mr. Wilson, editor of the Port Hope Guide, a few weeks ago, and the fact that his death was caused by strychnine, has been a case of unusual interest because of the fact that the source of the poison, and a sufficient motive for the murder, if it was murder, has not as yet been discovered. Such incidents, however, stir the public mind, and unfortunately, the public tongue, the young widow of the unfortunate editor being the victim. There are incidents in the lives of the very best of us, if brought to public criticism and the tongues of evil-minded persons, that are sufficient to condemn us, if not to the gallows, to imprisonment. It appears in this case the young couple had not gotten along well together in the first years of their married life, his parents apparently not approving of the union. Then a separation for a few years. Something over a year ago there was a reconciliation, and a child born to them, and so far as we know, the young couple were living in happiness. His sudden and tragic death demanded an inquest and investigation, and it was then that the usual gossip started. The young widow was subjected to a very severe gruelling by the police authorities, but they could learn nothing to implicate her. But what the authorities could not find the tongue of the gossipers manufactured, and the young woman, no doubt driven to distraction and knowing that she was suspected, in her desperation took her young child and jumping into the waters of Lake Ontario, ended the life of both. She left a note saying that she could no longer endure the suspicions and the gossiping with reference to herself.

Whether the young wife was guilty or not has not been shown, and people base their judgment on simply what they think. The fact remains, nevertheless, that the young widow was driven to her untimely end by the tongue of gossip, or as Shakespeare says: "done to death by slanderous tongues." It is a very sad case, and the public verdict will probably be that the young wife poisoned her husband, notwithstanding her dying protest that she was guiltless. We guess that so long as people are born with the power of articulation so long will there be evil, vile, poisonous and death-dealing gossip. We have plenty of evidence of this truth right in our own midst.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING

Only four weeks more and Christmas will have come and gone. A season of joy and gladness, especially to the younger folk, and to the older there will be reminiscing, reflecting and home gatherings. This year the prospects are that it will be a happier season for a great many more than it was last year. While there is yet much unemployment, and many who are still struggling under the burdens imposed by the years of depression, on the whole there is a brighter and more hopeful spirit, and the promise is that the coming Christmas season will bring with it blessings to many more than a year ago. Let us all try during the coming few weeks to plan to make it the most joyful and blessed Christmas in our life.

RUMOURS OF WAR

Just what all the rumours of another great European war mean we doubt if any can rightly explain, other than those engaged in the manufacture of munitions of war, and they evidently know what they are about. It is hard for a Canadian-born citizen to visualize the situation in Europe, or understand the minds of those who are apparently directing the affairs, not only in Europe, but in Japan and China. But that the nations of Europe, and especially France and Germany, are at dagger points, there is no room for doubt, and while it is yet possible to avert a conflict, it seems that for the two nations to fight it out, and possibly destroy each other, is the only solution. The only trouble is that other nations may be drawn into the conflict, and it is now reported that even Soviet Russia is prepared to lend a hand to France to destroy Germany. The whole problem of the nations with reference to peace and disarmament is beyond ordinary people to understand, and in fact is beyond the powers of the League of Nations and Peace Conferences to either regulate or control. Let us hope that Canada will not become involved if another war starts in Europe or in the Orient.

STIRRING THINGS UP

How far Hon. H. H. Stevens will go in Canadian public life is hard to foretell, but if he keeps on the way he has started, and is able to establish what he has set out to do, there can be little doubt as to his receiving the approval and acclaim of the great majority of the people. What has already been revealed is astounding enough, and when the public are warned to weigh the packages they purchase when they get home, it looks very much as though a very comprehensive and well understood system of short weights has long been practiced by the big departmental and chain stores. The revelations of low wages caused by mass production, long hours of labor at starvation pay, and the fleecing of the public by shoddy goods and deceptive values, has aroused a feeling among the purchasing public that cannot be ignored. Not only that, but if we had a few more men in parliament of the calibre and force of Hon. Mr. Stevens, big financial interests would have a second place, and the common people would be receiving their just dues. If Mr. Stevens would add, or could add to his splendid work, a campaign for the reduction of representatives in the House of Commons by at least one third he would find many to back him in that work.

CONSERVATIVES ARE ORGANIZING

According to a circular issued by the Liberal-Conservative Association of Eastern Ontario, there is to be a big rally at their annual meeting to be held at Brockville on Wednesday, Dec. 5th, when the chief speaker will be Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, P.C., L.L.D., K.C., M.P, Prime Minister of Canada There will be an all day business session and a big banquet at night. It ought to attract a large assembly, and no doubt will. Nevertheless, had it been announced that Hon. H. H. Stevens was to be one of the speakers, no two halls in Brockville would be large enough to hold the crowd. If the present Conservative Government appeals to the country on its present policy, and without re-organization and something real and substantial in the way of assistance and relief to the farmer, they will go down to sure defeat, and it needs no far-seeing politician to see this. There is just as little hope or encouragement from the present opposition. There is a silent, subtle force at work in the direction of a third party or National party. At present it is sponsored by no one in particular, and no leader has been suggested. But there is an undercurrent of political influence at work that is reflected more particularly in the weekly newspapers of Canada, but also by some outstanding daily newspapers, and that influence will have to be recognized when the next election comes along. Premier Bennett is undoubtedly the most talented and influential man in our public life, but he will not rally the people nor enthuse the party as he did five years ago. The fault may not be his, but the unfavourable economic conditions have dogged his career since he took office, and they are, in the public mind, greater than the personality, eloquence and political sagacity of the present Prime Minister of Canada.

REPENTS HIS VOTE

Rev. Dr. Shields, pastor of the Jarvis St. Baptist Church, Toronto, on Sunday took politics into the pulpit with a vengeance. He not only said that he repented the vote he had cast for Hepburn last June, but he spoke of the Premier as "Hepburn the Lawless," and said he was a man of five per cent. ability and ninety-five per cent. conceit. The unusual outburst was caused directly by the suspension of Mr. Sorsoleil, deputy minister of Hon. Mr. Croll, Minister of Public Welfare. Mr. Sorsoleil was asked to speak at a special gathering of the Presbytery of the United Church at Toronto, on some phases of social welfare. He spoke of conditions that, he had reason to believe existed in Toronto and elsewhere, were threatening the moral well-being of the youth of Ontario. His address was supposed to be for the ears of the clergymen present only, and to help them in their work. But a report of the address leaked out and was given prominence by the Toronto newspapers. Premier Hepburn evidently has great faith in newspaper reports, especially when they concern one of a political faith opposite to his own, and without further inquiry or without first ascertaining if the report of the address was correct, he suspended Mr. Sorsoleil, the Deputy Minister, without explanation—to the press the Premier said until the matter was more fully investigated. In his zeal to "discharge" his duty, because it seems that the chief duty of Premier Hepburn is to "discharge," the Premier went out of his way to condemn, without a hearing, and went so far as to say that the school children and teachers of Toronto would be justified in "riding Mr. Sorsoleil on a rail" for making statements that he (The Premier) did not know had been made, and statements that, so far as he is concerned, Mr. Sorsoleil is prepared to back up and prove. Of course, incidentally, Mr. Sorsoleil is reported to have hit at the increase in drunkenness everywhere apparent, a subject that is very touchy so far as Premier Hepburn is concerned.

Anyway, the incident, or incidents, have stirred the province as no other since the new government came into power. It has been the cause of very rash and unnecessary statements being made on both sides. But more than ever, it has shown that Mitchell Hepburn, whatever his good qualities, is not a fit and proper person to be Prime Minister of Ontario.

Newspapers some time ago held quite a controversy over the selection of the ten most beautiful words in the English language. Try these: "roast beef, mashed potatoes, brown gravy, deep dish apple pie."—Smiths Falls Record-News

The above words are delightful for sure, but to us nothing can compare with the beautiful sound of "Please find enclosed cheque covering my subscription for another year."

L. O. B. A. ANNUAL

RECEPTION FOR MR. AND MRS. HALLIDAY

A delightful reception was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Manley Halliday on Monday evening last at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. James Brown, Main St. East. Nearly 75 friends and neighbors were present for the occasion. The hostesses were Mrs. Ward Summers and the Misses Dorothy Thom, Helen and Pearl Walker.

Rev. D. W. Summers, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, welcomed the guests after which the evening was spent in music and games. During the social hour, Mr. and Mrs. Halliday were asked to come forward, when an address was read by Miss Dorothy Thom, after which the bride was presented with a beautifully appointed bride's book by Miss Vivian Brown. At the same time, Misses Pearl and Helen Walker presented the happy couple with two beautiful occasional chairs. Mr. Halliday replied on behalf of himself and Mrs. Halliday, thanking those present for their kind thoughts.

Following is the address:

Winchester, November 26, 1934.

Dear Ruth and Manley—

We, your friends and neighbours, are met here to-night in honour of the happy event of your recent marriage, to extend our greetings and welcome, and also to extend our congratulations and best wishes for a happy journey through life.

Of course it will be happy for you, Ruth, because you will have a continuous "Holiday," and Manley, we are sure that while Ruth is enjoying her long "Holiday," you will continue to provide the good bread and cakes, which add greatly to the pleasure of a Holiday.

We welcome you both as citizens in our midst and trust that you will find the sea of matrimony one of smooth sailing and that you will finally enter the haven of Eternal Happiness. To assure you of our good will for a prosperous life we ask you to accept this gift as a remembrance of this happy occasion.

Signed on behalf of the neighbours of Mountain and the young people of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Winchester.

Helen Walker and Dorothy Thoms.

Celebrates Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

On November 23rd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Francis, a few of the friends and neighbours gathered together to celebrate with them their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The evening was spent in card-playing and dancing, which was enjoyed by all. About ten o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Francis were called to the floor where the following address was read by Mrs. Robt. Grant and the presentation of a case of silverware was made by Mrs. Robt. Conley.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis thanked all those present for their kindness and invited them back again. All joined in singing: "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Following is the address:

Dear Ethel and Alex:

Your friends and neighbours gathered here to-night for an enjoyable evening, together join in extending congratulations on this your twenty-fifth anniversary. We feel that the silver has shown through most of the clouds that have appeared during these years, and you have reason to be proud of your three splendid sons and your comely young daughter.

We have ever found you ready to take an active interest in our community life and willing to lend a helping hand to anyone in need of it. As a remembrance of this happy occasion, we wish you to accept this gift of silverware.

We feel that you have surely had twenty-five years well spiced with success and happiness and heartily wish that you may enjoy many more. We are all having a very pleasant time on this, your silver anniversary, and hope to be able to join in celebrating your golden and diamond ones.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbours of Hyndman Community.

MORE CHECKING UP

Yesterday I came in contact with a poor fellow suffering acutely with sciatic neuritis. I am writing this letter to verify what I have so often said before, that sciatic neuritis is NOT RHEUMATISM, and, does not require rheumatic treatment.

This sufferer for six months, this disabled man, had applied for help at the beginning of his trouble, "like a severe toothache in his left hip and thigh and on down to the ankle." There was no swelling in any joint or other evidence of any form of arthritis. The pain followed the path of the great sciatic nerve, the longest nerve-trunk in the human being.

Nevertheless, the patient was easily persuaded that he ought to have his tonsils out. He had heard of "rheumatism" being cured by the somewhat heroic measure. The tonsils were removed. No improvement could be detected.

Then, somebody suggested that the TEETH were the chief cause of "rheumatism," and, since it was not relieved by the tonsil operation, it must be the teeth causing it! Queer way of reasoning, but it prevailed. Some thirty very good teeth were sacrificed.

All to no benefit. In great disappointment over the expense and suffering, he sought anybody willing to promise anything. He averaged a change of "treatment" every week or two. No visible improvement.

Nobody thought of this poor fellow's rectum; he had a mild case of hemorrhoids! A reflex neuritis. . . . Rest in bed is the absolute requirement. Recovery will follow.

THE PLUGGER

He is'nt very brilliant, aad his pace is often slow,
There's nothing very flashy in his style,
He has to dig and labor for the things he wants to know
And he's busy learning something all the while.

The clever men go by him in a hurry day by day,
And the "stars" get all the mention and the fame
But the steady patient plugger—in a thorough sort of way—
Keeps on going and he gets there just the same.

He's a quiet sort of fellow, and he's backward in his speech;
You'll never find him clamouring for applause,
He will listen to another who has anything to teach,
And he never wearies working for a cause.

He may take a little longer with the task he has to do
Than the genius—whose talents seem to run,
But you'll find the patient plugger at the finish coming through,
And there's merit in his labor when it's done.

He is slow in getting started, he must know the reasons why
Certain things occur and in a certain way;
There is nothing in his method to attract the passerby,
And at times you'd think he's wasted many a day.

But when brilliant men have faded, and the "stars" have lost their light;
When the clever men have stumbled in despair—
When the great have come to failure with the goal they sought in sight,
You'll find the patient plugger getting there.

OPPORTUNITY

They do me wrong who say I come no more
When once I knocked and failed to find you in;
For every day I stand outside your door
And bid you wake and rise to fight and win.

Wait not, for precious chances passed away,
Weep not, for golden ages on the wane,
Each night I turn the records of the day;
At sunrise every soul is born again.

Laugh like a boy, at splendors that have sped;
To vanish joy be blind and deaf and dumb.
My judgments seal the dead past with its dead,
And never bind a moment yet to come.

Though deep in mire, wring not your hands and weep,
I lend my arm to all who say "I can,"
No shamefaced outcast ever sank so deep
But he might rise, and be a man again.

THE MAKING OF FRIENDS

If nobody smiled and nobody cheered
and nobody helped us along,
If each every minute looked after himself and good things all went to the strong
If nobody cared just a little for you,
and nobody thought about me,
And we stood all alone to the battle of life
What a dreary old world it would be.

If there were no such a thing as a flag in the sky,
As a symbol of comradeship here,
If we lived as the animals lived in the woods,
With nothing held sacred or dear.
And selfishness ruled us from birth to the end
And never a neighbour had we,
And never we gave to a neighbor in need
What a dreary old world it would be.

Oh! If we were rich as the richest on earth, and strong as the strongest that lives
Yet never we knew the delight and the charm of the smile which the other one gives

WATCH YOUR WORDS

Keep a watch on your words, my brother,
For words are wonderful things;
They are sweet like the bees' fresh honey
Like the bees, they have terrible stings;
They can bless, like the warm glad sunshine,
And brighten a lonely life;
Like an open two-edge knife,
They can cut in the strife of anger,
Let them pass through your lips unchallenged,
If their errand is true and kind—
If they come to support the weary
To comfort and help the blind;
If a bitter, revengeful spirit
Prompt the words, let them pass unsaid;
They may flash through a brain like lightning,
Or fall on a hearth like lead,
Keep them back, if they're cold and cruel,
Under bar and lock and seal
The wounds that they make, my brother,
Are always slow to heal,
May peace guard your life, and ever
From the time of your early youth
May the words that you daily utter
Be the words of beautiful truth.
If kindness were never a part of ourselves tho' we owned all the land we could see,
And friendship meant nothing to all of us here,
What a dreary old world it would be.

Life is sweet just because of the friends we have made and the things which in common we share,
We want to live on not because of our selves, but because of the people who care,
It's giving and doing for somebody else—on that all life's splendor depends.
And the joy of this world when you have summed it all up, is found in the making of friends.

TROUBLES

Tell your troubles, one and all,
Count them over, great and small,
Pile your burden high and then
Look among your fellowmen.
Here's a crippled form and wan,
Here's a youth with both legs gone,
Here's a blindman, holding up
For your kindly coins, a cup.
Walk one block of any street
And along the way you'll meet
Always one, and sometimes two,
Who've the right to envy you.
Be your troubles what they may,
You can bear them anyway.
You have strength and you have might
You can stand and you can fight,
Trouble cannot knock you flat,
You're not handicapped like that!

THE ART OF LIVING

Anonymous

To touch the cup with eager lips and taste—not drain it;
To woo and tempt and court a bliss—and not attain it;
To fondle and caress a joy—yet hold it lightly,
Lest it become necessity and cling too tightly.
To watch the sun set in the West without regretting;
To hail its advent in the East—the night forgetting;
To smother care in happiness and grief in laughter;
To hold the present close—not questioning hereafter ;
To have enough to share—to know the joy of giving;
To thrill with all the sweets of life— is living.

THE PAPERS OVERLOOKED HIM

The papers overlooked him, for he never beat his wife,
He never tried to rob a bank or take another's life.
And he wasn't very brilliant and he didn't try for fame,
So there was no real reason for the press to print his name.
The papers overlooked him—he was never deep in debt,
He never slipped away from town with with all that he could get,
He never made a million, never wrote a modern play,
So there wasn't much about him that the editor could say.
And the more I think about him, it's the ordinary man
Who's the glory of the nation and the strength of every clan,
So I pay this tribute to him—not the genius or the crook,
But the honest, normal, average man the papers overlook.

KEEPING FIT

Some young people take considerable credit to themselves for going to work when they are really not fit for it, when they are suffering from bad colds or from indigestion, or when their eyes are red from lack of sleep. If their employers show no especial gratitude, they are inclined to be resentful. Of course employers are not keen about workers who have to have a few days in bed every few weeks, but the worker who comes to the office half sick every now and then does not stir them to enthusiasm either.

The fact of the matter is that business men want healthy employers. Most colds and practically all attacks of indigestion are due to carelessness. In very few cases is there any excuse for not getting enough sleep. If you want to be a valued worker, focus your attention on keeping fit. You can do it if you wish.

NEVER CLIMBED THAT ONE

Mrs. Newrich was describing her travels to an audience.

"And have you been in South America?" somebody enquired.

"Many times!" said Mrs. Newrich, rather bored. "I know it from end to end."

"Then, of course, you went up the Amazon?"

"No! As a matter of fact, I didn't," said Mrs. Newrich. "But my husband went to the top. You know I never did care for climbing."

THE BOOK

. . . . . the first line of which reads, "The Holy Bible," and which contains Four Great Treasures . . . . . .

by BRUCE BARTON

PAUL IN IRONS

SPAIN was a long way off and was bounded by the Pillars of Hercules, which we now call the Straits of Gibraltar. They were supposed to bear a banner in the sky above them, saying, "Ne plus ultra," nothing more beyond. Paul was going the limit.

Bruce Barton

He set forth on his journey, and it was while he was on the road, at Cenchrea, that an incident happened which gave us the greatest of all his epistles. A woman named Phebe, "who had been a helper of many and of Paul also," was going to Rome and asked Paul for a letter of introduction, which he, never having been to Rome, agreed to write. Phebe suggested that it would be well for Paul to tell the Roman Christians some of his teachings, as she was afraid she might not be able to answer their questions. He agreed to do it if she could find him a stenographer, and Phebe produced a young man named Tertius. He proved a good helper, and so Paul expanded his teachings into a more fully developed system than anywhere else in his writings. He was not sidetracked by questions concerning local matters and he swung out free into his orbit.

Phebe took the letter with her and delivered it safely to the Romans. It is a great achievement and was written just before Paul, with his committee of provincial Christians and his goodly collection for the mother church, went up to Jerusalem for what proved to be his last visit.

He had been warned. A certain prophet, Agabus, who had come down from Judea, met him at Cæsarea, took Paul's girdle and bound his hands and feet, saying:

> Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.
> And when we heard these things [says Doctor Luke] both we, and they of that place, besought him not to go up to Jerusalem.
> Then Paul answered, What mean ye to weep and to break mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.

So, seeing that they could not dissuade him, they went with him. He took the large collection, as he had expected, and was well received by the apostles, though still looked at a little askance because of his free doctrines. Only a few days had passed, however, when he was seized by the local authorities as "the man that teacheth all men everywhere against the people, and the law," and was thrown into jail. There, weary of delays in the local courts, he finally exercised his right as a Roman citizen and appealed to Cæsar, who at that time was Nero.

YOU HAVE WHAT YOU WANT

The first essential in conquering a weakness is to want to do it, and that is exactly the trouble with a great many people. They speak regretfully of their bad tempers, or of their tendency to have the blues, and give the impression that the strongest desire of their lives is to conquer their faults. Just the opposite is true, however. They really enjoy giving away to a fit of temper, that everybody around them miserable, or indulging in a mood of gloom in which the value of life seems questionable.

Now the proof of this is that, generally speaking, bad temper and depression both work gradually up to the culminating point. Perhaps you wake some morning feeling out of sorts. You are irritated with your alarm clock for going off, though you yourself set it the night before. You feel distinctly grouchy.

Now if you really wanted to conquer this disagreealbe mood, you would begin at once. Your unreasonable irritability is warning enough. Instead you indulge in your bad temper. You dress yourself in gloomy silence when you should sing or whistle to get the poison out of your system. When you go downstairs, you respond testily to every casual remark. Of course when you are looking for trouble it arrives as soon or sooner than you expected.

Do not tell yourself that you are the victim of an ungovernable temper. Not at all. You have a bad temper because you choose to have it, because you will not give it up.

PREPARING TURKEYS

Turkey growers are now beginning to finish or fatten their birds for the Christmas holidays. It is customary to begin the process of preparing the luscious turkeys for the nation's festive dinner tables by feeding them small amounts of grain which gradually are increased until the birds are on full feed. Due to the large supply of wheat available, this grain should be used to advantage in the fattening ration. Wheat has nearly the same fattening qualities as corn, but does not produce the rich yellow color of flesh that yellow corn does. It is important, however, that all grains be free from moldiness and they should be fed in hoppers to counteract certain diseases that cause heavy loss. Do not confine turkeys for fattening especially if they have been run on a range, for range birds cannot stand confinement.

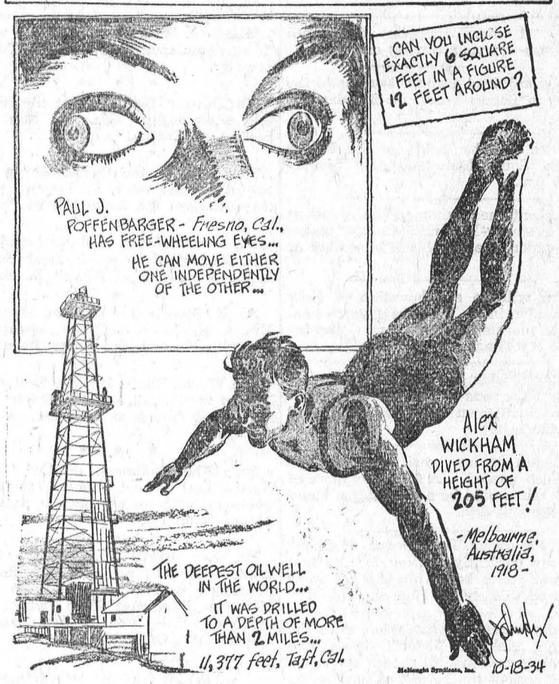
STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—By John Hix

For further proof address the author, inclosing a stamped envelope for reply. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.



Paul J. Poffenbarger has perfect control over each of his eyes, and can move them independently of each other. He can look straight at you with one eye, and casually glance about the room with the other. He can also make his eyes, one or both of them, literally dance.

On the other hand, Poffenbarger's eyes normally move together without conscious effort, so that he does not have to direct each eye independently when he focuses them on the same object.

Scores of eye specialists have examined his eyes without being able to give the reason for this strange ability.

Less than a century ago the petroleum industry consisted of taking oil from ditches and open well where oil seeped out of the ground and, often as not, was an unwelcome and unwanted product. To-day man drills into the earth to a depth of more than two miles for crude petroleum.

Crude oil was first used as a medicine, then it was discovered that it could be used instead of whale oil for lamps. This brought about the first important increase in demand, and led to the sinking of the first well—a well at Titusville, Pa., where oil was struck at 69 feet in 1859.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

To Keep Cake Moist.

Half an apple placed in the cake box will keep cake fresh and moist.

Cleaning Bed Springs.

A wooden handled dish mop is an excellent utensil to use for cleaning coiled bed springs and other spiral springs.

Shining Brass

Varnish remover combined with brass polish will make like new the most hopelessly soiled and marred brass articles.

Evaporated Milk

Evaporated milk will pour more freely if two holes are punctured directly opposite each other on the top of the can.

Asparagus Note

If cans containing asparagus tips are opened from the bottom instead of the top, the tender tips will not be broken when the asparagus is slipped from the can.

The Sink Drain

Hot grease should not be poured down the drain pipe of the sink. It will congeal as soon as it strikes the cold pipe and tend to clog it.

Baking Cake

If a cake browns before it is done, reduce the heat, then cover the cake with a piece of brown paper. The cake will not brown any more.

Celery Leaves

Use the light colored celery leaves dried on the warming shelf and crushed as seasoning for meat dressing, casserole cookery and soups.

Spilled Water

If water has been spilled on the pages of a book, place a blotter on each side of the wet page, then press with a medium hot iron until dry. The leaves will not crinkle.

Cloth Window Polishers

Muslin sheets and pillowcases, too old to use, cut in squares and hemmed, make splendid window polishers to be used after windows have been cleaned with ammonia water.

Remedy For Scorching

If you scorch an article when ironing, you can remove the discoloration by placing the article between the folds of a wet turkish towel and steaming it for a minute or so. If not removed the first time, repeat the process.

Cleaning The Piano Keys

To clean piano keys you can use a soft cloth dampened with a solution of warm water and a little common vinegar. Take care that the moisture does not get beyond the finished surface as dampness may affect the unfinished wood.

Cleaning The Floor Mop.

You can use your vacuum cleaner to clean the floor mop. Place vacuum cleaner on a piece of newspaper with the suction side up, and as you take the dust off the floor, hold the mop over the vacuum, which sucks the dust and dirt from the mop.

Holding Clothes Pole

On windy days the clothes-line pole will do better duty if, in addition to the conventional notch in the top of the pole a large nail is driven into the lower end. The nail stuck in the ground will help to hold the pole and line in place, and avoid trailing sheets and toblecloths.

WEEPING GOOD FOR SORE EYES

Normal tears are "hundreds of times" more effective in protecting the eye than are solutions of drugs. This statement is made by a leading American Ophthalmalogist, Dr. W. L. Benedict. "Tears," Dr. Benedict says "are supplied in amounts thet are properly regulated, and and they counteract the effect of most air-borne-bacteria." Because the general public has learned that many eye lotions are put up in a solution of boric acid, the better-inforned immediately turn to it as the one safe substance that can be used for any disorder of the eye. "The healing properties of boric acid are infinitesmal." "It is used chiefly by physicians as a vehicle to carry small dilutions of more potent drugs; because it retards the growth of fungi or contaminating bacteria, it forms a convenient way to dispense medicines for the eye. The faith our grandmothers had in goat's milk, snake oil, or tobacco juice has been largely dissipated. But the price the public had to pay for its experience has been the loss of sight for thousands of people."

HONEY

Although the mineral content of honey is very small, it is worth noting, says the Dominion Apiarist, that such elements as lime and iron, necessary to the well-being of the human body, are present.

The brain is an extraordinary organ. When you wake up in the morning it works efficiently, but as soon as you get to the office it stalls.

POTATOES FOR POULTRY

Farming increases in value as an occupation just in proportion to the extent to which incidental by-products can be marketed at a profit. Not only must the farmer sell all his good quality products at a fair price, but he must also find a market for as much as he can of the unsaleable product. It has been found that greater net profits per bird can be made and a finished bird of finer quality and flavor produced through crate-feeding on a ration of equal parts of middlings, rolled oats, boiled potatoes and skim-milk than is the case where cornmeal is fed. Potatoes, finely ground or boiled, are proving exceptionally good for finishing poultry, particularly when fed in conjunction with the "white" grains and milk. Crate-fed poultry offers a really attractive market outlet for cull potatoes.

THE STUFF OF LIFE

All men are born unequal.

The equality of humans is limited to one thing—time. The Prince of Wales and the tramp asleep on the park bench both have twenty-four hours to use each day, no more and no less.

Every man has so many years to live—some a few more than others—but when the end approaches, the machine wears out, and neither power, fame nor wealth can add a year.

The only equality is equality of time—time to work, time to struggle, time to achieve.

No one will be held accountable for not becoming a millionaire, but he is accountable for not making the best use possible of his time.

Benjamin Franklin used the years of his life so well that from a humble beginning he rose to be one of the wealthiest and wisest men of his age.

He aptly defined time as "the stuff of life."

A man's fortune depends on how he invests his money; his character on how he invests his time.—Dr. Frank Crane.

GETTING YOUR WISH

"I really want to be good, only—"

As a rule, the young people who get as far as this, stop with the only. If they completed the sentence, it would not have quite the effect they are after. For finished, it would sound something like this, "Only there are other things I want more. I want to be good, but given the choice between goodness and certain unworthy excitements, I prefer the latter. I want to be good, but I want more to be free to yield to the mood of the moment.

The great psychologist, William James, said that if you only care enough for any result, you can almost certainly attain it. To gain your end, however, you must not only wish it, but wish it exclusively. Almost all of you can be successful if you really wish to be, but if at the time you wish for an easy life, the two desires clash. If ambition is strong enough to conquer laziness, you will get your first wish. If laziness is strong enough to conquer ambition, you will not get your wish to be a good Christian if there are opposing desires you want as much or more.

STRICKEN

This is certainly a stricken country. On Sunday afternoons ther are some boulevards on which it would be possible to crowd a few extra automobiles. The colleges have not enough facilities to take care of applicants. There are some families on relief that cannot go to the movies more than two nights a week. The standard of living is only twice as high as it is anywhere else. Many houses have only one bathroom, and some farmers have to milk their own cows or do without cream.

All they have in the cities are fresh vegetables every day of the year, brought from the ends of the earth, and fruits as may suit their tastes, and automatic heat. The people cannot get fresh water without turning a tap, and must press a button for a light. It is all very trying and goes to show how technological progress has brought the population to the depths of despair. Away with an economic system which has produced such conditons! Mr. Edison could not do it, but there must be some statesman who can put the nation to bed and make it prosperous by staying there. They also serve who only lie and snore for they help to produce the scarcity which is the secret of wealth.—Sphere, Washington, D. C.

A gossip is one who talks to you about others; a bore is one who talks to you about himself, and a brilliant conversationalist is one who talks to you about yourself.

Our Column

Have you paid your taxes?

A silent fool often gets credit for wisdom.

Consult the label on your Press and come over and see us.

After all, we're easily satisfied here below; all we want is our own way all the time.

Never blame others for something that has happened as a result of your own stupidity.

Everybody owes the world something, and high budgets are keeping them back in their payments.

A man will never acquire a fortune unless he is proof against buying useless things because they are cheap.

At 20 we don't care what the world thinks of us; at 30 we worry about what it thinks of us; at 40 we discover it does not think of us.

ATTENTION!

We call your attention to the special advertisement of Mr. C. R. Robinson on Page 5, in which is introduced a novel prize contest which it will pay you to investigate further.

SPECIAL SERVICES

A special service will be held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Winchester, on Sunday evening, Dec. 2nd, at 7.30, when the Choir of Chesterville Presbyterian Church, will render the sacred Cantata: "The Challenge of the Cross." The message through this appealing service of song is one that will touch the hearts of all.

LETTERS OF APPRECIATION

Many letters of appreciation and thanks have been received by parties in town and district for the donations sent to Saskatchewan recently by car, from here and Chesterville. A couple of the letters were read at a recent meeting of on of the church societies, but none have been handed the Press for publication.

NOVEL BUSINESS RUN BY CONVICT

Man may rise to remarkable heights when faced with an emergency, but here is a case that is worthy of special mention. Dan. Beggs, 30, a lifer at Ohio penitentiary, in eight years has built up an advertising solicitation business behind the bars, which he says has netted him enough to buy his mother a home and to help educate three sisters. Merely an example of determination and what it can accomplish.

RIGHT KIND OF SYMPATHY

Immediately learning of the distress of the widow who was a wheel-chair patient at the clinic at Williamsburg, and two daughters of Sampson D. McGregor, of South Branch, B. C., who was fatally injured walking on the road into Wiliamsburg last Sunday evening, it was suggesterd at the clinic of Dr. Locke on Monday that a bit of assistance would be a token of sympathy felt by the other patients for them. The patients and others rallied to the cause and a very generous sum was collected and given to the widow before they left for Belleville where the remains of deceased were taken for burial.

DEFINITE SIGNS OF RECOVERY

Figures issued last week by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show that for the first seven months of the fiscal year, April to October, Dominion revenues show a gain over the same period last year of $26,000,000. Sales tax and excise taxes are up $8,000,000, customs sales $9,000,000 and the income tax $1,000,000. Figures such as these cannot be ignored. The most skeptical about recovery must admit that if sales, excise, customs and income tax are putting all of this extra money into the Dominion treasury, then there must be a lot more sales than last year, and a lot more imports, and slightly higher incomes. Most people must be handling more money, and there must be more business.

DEPUTATION TO TORONTO

A deputation consisting of John D. McDonald, ex-warden, W. H. Casselman, of Chesterville, Arthur Flynn of Morrisburg, and the Counties' Clerk, A. K. McMillan, went to Toronto last week to interview the Government on the question of reduced rate the municipality have to pay hospitals for inmates unable to pay their own way, the present rate being $1.75 per day; also questions relating to the franchise and assessments. The petitioners asked for a better understanding between County Councils and the Government, and urged on the Government the importance of County Councils as a part of our democratic system of Government. The report says they received an attentive and sympathetic hearing.

KINDLY WORDS

The following from the pen of "R. A. J.," in his Rambling Reflections in the Ottawa Daily Citizen, is a very kindly reference from an outside but much appreciated source. We are sure that the Reeve of Winchester will not object to its publication. Under the heading: "Two Able Men of the District," Mr. R. A. J. says:

"Whether county councils do or do not constitute the most efficacious form of local administration is still a debatable subject. There have been many trenchant arguments on both sides of the controversy, and the discussion is likely to continue long before there is any definite change. But on one point there appears to be general agreement. When Warden John J. Foran, of Renfrew county and Reeve James H. Ross of Dundas step down and out of municipal activities at the end of this year, as they have both definitely announced they will do, this district will lose the services of men who have given a great deal of constructive leadership, initiative and progressive ideals throughout the most trying period in our history. Reeve Ross declares county councils as at present constituted have outlived their effectiveness; Warden Foran isn't quite so specific on the subject."

LOCAL AND PERSONAL NEWS

Service will be held in St. Peter's Church, South Mountain, next Sunday at 2.30 p.m.

The continued summer-like weather, with a spring-like rain to-day, makes one wonder whether this is November or April.

There will be a celebration of Holy Communion in St. Matthias' Church next Sunday morning at 10.30 a.m. Sunday School at 9.45 a.m.

Walter Shields, a prominent citizen of Smiths Falls, was struck by an automobile in that town yesterday, and died from the injury.

The rain of last week was welcome and much needed. A few days more of steady rain would be a good thing. Many wells are still dry.

The Provincial Department of Highways are evidently waiting for the first big snow storm before placing the snow fences on this end of Highway No. 31.

Good progress is being made with the new fire tank on Victoria Street, and weather permitting, it should be ready for the cement by the end of next week.

Rev. Walter T. Beattie, who was to be inducted pastor of Kenyon Presbyterian Church on November 29th, died suddenly on Monday at Toronto. The call they had extended to him in British Columbia was presented by representatives of the Kenyon church to the Glengarry presbytery at its session on Tuesday and arrangements for the induction service were completed. On his arrival home from the meeting, Rev. E. E. Preston, of Vankleek Hill, interim moderator at Kenyon, received word of Mr. Beattie's death. It will be necessary now for Kenyon church to seek another pastor.

Rev. Mr. Beattie who was in his 53rd year, is survived by his widow and one daughter. The funeral service will be held in Toronto on Thursday, the day he was to have been inducted at Kenyon. Interment will be made at Winnipeg.

ABLE TO BE OUT

We are delighted to see Miss Mabel Suffel once more about town, following her recent serious operation. For a time fears were entertained that Miss Suffel would not be able to withstand the effects of the illness, but she is now almost completely restored to health, which fact is very gratifying to her numerous friends

FORMAL RECEPTION HELD

Mrs. Harold Lannin received formally for the first time following her marriage, on Saturday last from 3 to 6 p.m., at her residence, Main St., West.

The guests were ushered to the tea-room by Miss Jean Melvin, where the tea table, beautifully laid with lace cloth, centre of yellow 'mums and tall yellow tapers was presided over by Mrs. William N. Lannin. Mrs. Chester Robinson cut the ices. The Misses Eileen and Eleanor Melvin assisted in the serving.

OXFORD GROUP NOTES

On Saturday afternoon last, six men of the Ottawa Oxford Group met in the Public Library here with the ministers of this town and of the surrounding country. A very helpful spiritual conference was held and many problems discussed.

Next Saturday, Dec. 1st, a School of Life will be conducted in the Town Hall here during the afternoon and evening. This will be under the direction of Ottawa Groupers. Following this on Sunday there will be public meetings held to which all are welcome.

HALLIDAY—BROWN

The home of Mrs. James Brown, Main street, was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding on Wednesday afternoon last when her second daughter, Ruth Idella Brown, was united in marriage to Manley Halliday, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Halliday, of Delta, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. W. Summers, pastor of Wesleyan Methodist Church, while the wedding march was played by Mrs. George Brown.

The bride's wedding gown was made of navy blue wool crepe, trimmed with silver lace. The maid of honour was Miss Ida Brown, sister of the bride, who wore a gown of navy blue silk crepe. The groomsman was Frank Cross.

Immediately after the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served to a number of guests, including Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Summers. The tables were decorated with autumn flowers, with a wedding cake being used as a centrepiece. Those who assisted in serving were Miss Tena Brown, Miss Muriel Deeks and Mrs. George Brown and Mrs. Leonard Bell. On their return from a brief honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Halliday will reside in Winchester.

YOUNG COUPLE HONOURED

A delightful reception in honour of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Watson, whose marriage took place recently, was held on Friday evening last at the Wesleyan Methodist Parsonage. A large number of neighbours and friends were present for the occasion, including the members of the Young People's Society of the church.

Rev. D. W. Summers welcomed those present after which a most enjoyable program of games and music was engaged in by the guests. As the evening progressed, Mr. and Mrs. Watson were asked to accept a purse of money on behalf of those present. The address was read by Mr. Gordon Gibson while the presentation was made by Mr. Fred Jackson. Mr. Watson expressed the gratitude of himself and Mrs. Watson to those who had honoured them and indicated his pleasure at being given such a hearty welcome.

Following the presentation, dainty refreshments were served by Misses Bessie Rennick, Myrtle Derby, Dorothy Thom and Helen Walker, assisted by Messrs. Gordon Gibson and Fred Jackson.

Messrs. J. W. Ault, J. L. Dixon and J. E. Singleton spent a few days in Toronto recently.

* * *

Mr. Dawson Beattie spent the first of this week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Beattie, of Cornwall.

* * *

Messrs. T. O. and Harold Keyes spent two days this week in Toronto where they attended the Royal Winter Fair.

* * *

Mr. Russell Hayes, of Russell, and Miss Lyn Harper, of Leonard, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Eveard Barclay.

* * *

Mr. A. Stoodley, of Miniota, Man., and Mrs. A. M. Cooke, of Ottawa, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stoodley.

* * *

The Misses Eileen Durant, Evelyn and Marion McDougall and Mr. Robert Durant visited friends at Inkerman on Sunday last.

* * *

Mr. Ollie Summers, of the Ontario Agricultural School, Guelph, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Almon Summers.

* * *

Mr. Roy Baker attended the Royal Winter Fair last week at Toronto and purchased a very fine Holstein Bull, Mercedes Abegiweit Echo, which was exhibited at the Fair by Wm. Jones, of Mount Elgin, Ont.

EASTERN ONTARIO CONSERVATIVES TO MEET

The annual meeting of the Eastern Ontario Conservative Association will be held at Brockville on the evening of Wednesday, December 5th.

Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, prime minister of Canada, will be the guest speaker at a banquet to be staged at the Hotel Manitonna, and also at the Opera House later in the evening. Tickets are obtainable from Mr. J. W. Ault.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CURLING CLUB

The annual meeting of the Winchester Curling Club was held at the club-house on the evening of Friday, Nov. 23rd, There was a large representation of members. Correspondence was read from the Royal Canadian Curling Club in which the by-laws of the club were thoroughly outlined. A letter from Mr. F. H. Burkholder of Ottawa, was listened to with interest, in which he announced the presentation of a cup for competition at mixed bonspiels.

The question of rent for the coming year was thoroughly discussed by the members, it being finally decided to meet with the directors of the Rink company in this connection. The committee was authorized to remove the surface clay from the foundations of the rinks and substitute sand in its place. They were also authorized to proceed with the work of sheeting the south end of the rink and thus provide the building with better insulation. It was also decided that the club affiliate with the Royal Caledonia Curling Association.

The fees for 1935 were set at $5.00 for the season and a drive for members is to be undertaken immediately, with the aim of doubling the membership if possible this year.

The officers elected for this season are:
President, Walter Moffatt
Vice President, W. J. Stewart.
Sec. Treas., A. H. Hawkins.
Executive Committee, Messrs. L. Goodfellow, J. D. Stewart, G. Johnston and Len Mills.

It was decided that the club open the season with a local bonspiel in which as many members as possible will take part. The 'spiel will be followed by a luncheon in the Club-house.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

A very interesting meeting of the Ministerial Association of Dundas-Grenville Counties was held at the Presbyterian Manse, Winchester, on Monday afternoon.

The president, Rev. Donald Morrison, of Hallville, was assisted in devotional exercises by Rev. R. C. McConnell, of Inkerman, who led in prayer. In the election of Officers the whole executive was re-elected as follows: President, Rev. Donald Morrison, Hallville; Vice President, Rev. W. D. Turner, Winchester; Secretary, Rev. Kenneth Woodwark, Elma; Treasurer, Rev. A. W. R. Mackenzie, Spencerville.

A particularly brilliant and illuminating lecture on the subject: "The Minister and Literature," was given by Rev. John Kellock of Vernon Presbyterian Church. The lecturer is a Gold Medalist in English of Queen's University, and has during a busy life in the pastorate kept himself well-informed on his favourite subject. His contributions to magazines are becoming more numerous all the time, and his ready humour is so cleverly interspersed throughout deeply intellectual treatises as to make them uniformly interesting. Mr. Kellock contends that a minister must be familiar with the best in literature for the following reasons: (1) Because of the genuine happiness and satisfaction personally derived therefrom; (2) For the purpose of clarifying and enriching one's style of writing or speaking; (3) To avail oneself of the information that good books convey and the inspiration they furnish; (4) To provide telling illustrations which will make sermons bright and interesting. Each one of these points was amply illustrated from the English Classics, and the whole lecture was particularly helpful and satisfactory.

Mrs. Turner assisted by Miss Margaret Holmes served delightful refreshments to all present, and the best meeting of the association was closed by the President.

BAPTIST CHURCH

On Sunday next in the Baptist Church a Group Meeting will be held both morning and evening. Witnesses to the Power of Christ will speak, comprising a delegation from Ottawa.

BIG LIBERAL GATHERING

The first Liberal caucus in thirty years was held at the Parliament buildings, Toronto, this week, when all the Liberal members-elect met. The report of the meeting is that Premier Hepburn was given a great ovation, and all seemed to be harmony in the ranks. The new labor law, sponsored by Hon. A. W. Roebuck, Attorney-General, was approved by the caucus.

BAZAAR AND SUPPER

The Women's Auxiliary of the Church of England at Gallingertown met at the home of Mrs. Alexander, Pleasant Valley, on Thursday last. Lunch was served by the hostess. This being the annual meeting, officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Mrs. Hubert Gallinger, president; Mrs. Wm. Alexander, secretary; Mrs. F. Lennox, Dorcas secretary; Mrs. Andrew Collins, treasurer; Miss Nellie Neill, secretary-treasurer "Little Helpers."

As the ladies are planning on selling tickets on a quilt in the near future the rest of the afternoon was spent in piecing quilt blocks.

THE ROYAL WEDDING

Thousands throughout Canada rose bright and early this morning in order to listen to the radio broadcast of the wedding of the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina of Greece which was solemnized at Westminister Abbey, London, Eng. At 3 a.m. the streets were beginning to fill with spectators who brought food and wraps in preparation for their long wait. Hawkers were doing a brisk trade in camp stools at two shillings each.

The ceremony was a most colorful one, and the vivid description of proceedings given by the announcers was listened to with keen interest.

The Canadian Radio Commission is re-broadcasting the ceremony this evening at 7.30 p.m.

Install A New Bath, Repair The Old!

How would you feel about your bath room if you were a guest in your own home? Have you one of those ancient bathtubs supported by lion's paws that collect the dust? Or a corner basin that trickles the water drop by drop?

They can be replaced and improved so easily and so inexpensively. Let us make an estimate without obligation. Ask about our Deferred Payment Plan.
