Modern Equipment Modern Methods

Gone are the crude, harsh methods of conducting funerals used in the past. Modern methods and equipment have taken away much of the coldness. The funeral is conducted by us in such a way that the last memory is always a beautiful one. Those whom we serve are invariably impressed with with the calm, quiet dignity of the funerals—a fitting way to pay a last respect to a lovedone.

HENRY'S Shorthand School Ottawa, Ont.

No school in Eastern Ontario offers a better training, or ensures a more successful future. It leads all others, and ranks among employers as "THE SCHOOL OF HIGHER EFFICIENCY"—a fact borne out by 580 pupils who have, since January, 1913, left other Ottawa schools to come to HENRY'S.

It is not surprising then that business men, in advertising for stenographers, specially say, "Graduates of Henry's Shorthand School preferred."

UNITED CHURCH LADIES' AID

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the United church was held at the home of Mrs. W. O. Dixon on Wednesday afternoon with twenty-five members present..

After a number of items of business were discussed a short program was given, a reading by Mrs. Geo. Hummel and a quartette by Misses Addie Campderros, Willa Ellis, Rachel Colquhoun and Rae Dixon were very much enjoyed by all, after which refreshments were served.

Mrs. C. F. Robinson, Detroit

This community was shocked to learn that on Tuesday, January 24th, the silent reaper had again thrust his sickle deep in our midst and laid low the beloved wife of C. F. Robinson, (nee Maude Merkley) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Merkley of Chesterville. Mrs. Robinson was a sufferer for the past three months but everything that medical skill and loving hands could do was done, but it was not to be, and she passed triumphantly through the portals to her home beyond, there to be forever with the Lord.

The funeral was held on Friday, January 27th, from her father's residence, to the United church, Chesterville, where service was conducted by Rev. R. E. Newman, burial being made at Maple Ridge cemetery. In addition to the many friends and relatives at the funeral numerous floral offerings, cards, telegrams and letters of condolence were received by the bereaved family bearing testimony of the high esteem in which the deceased was held, both in Chesterville, Detroit and elsewhere. The chief mourners were her husband, father and mother, one brother, Delbert of Detroit; four sisters, Mrs. Geo. Strader, Williamsburg; Mrs. H. Black, Winchester; Mrs. A. Steinburg, Morewood, and Mrs. J. M. Jarvis, North Bay. Among those attending the funeral from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Robinson, of Lansing, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jarvis, North Bay. The pallbearers were Dr. H. H. Casselman, Wesley Fulton, Clement McCloskey and Frank Merkley.

Among the many floral offerings were the following: Gates-a-jar, husband and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Merkley and family; wreaths—Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. A. Fogan, Miss I. Pendergast, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. R. Curran, Mr. and Mrs. P. Lasca, Harry Laing, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. J. Nollar and Miss Irene Ford, Altadena, Cal., Miss Evelyn Needem, Ottawa; Mr . and Mrs. C. I. Allen, Ottawa; Eastern Star Chapter No. 99, North Bay, Ont. Sprays—Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Merkley, Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Robinson, Lansing, Mich.; Mrs. Bessie Wagar, Port Huron; Mr. and Mrs. W. Washburn, Mr. and Mrs. A. Reesor, North Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Campbell, Windsor; Ford Motor Company, Fordson, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Quork, Detroit; Mr. Howard Baish, Detroit: Miss Viola Armstrong, Ottawa; Mr. Eugene McMillan and family of Chesterville. Telegrams of condolence were received from Mrs. Nicholson and Miss Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Cannochon, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thompson, Watertown, N. Y.; letters from Mrs. (Dr.) Judson and Mrs. Geo. Jarvis, Lyn, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Dillon, Brockville.

In silence she suffered,
In patience she bore,
Till God called her home
To suffer no more.

Mr. and Mrs. Aden C. Casselman Honored

On Friday evening a large number of friends and neighbors gathered to greet Mr .and Mrs. Aden C. Casselman in their new home at Berwick.

The evening was enjoyably spent in games and dancing. After lunch was served Mr. and Mrs. Casselman were asked to take chairs placed beside a table of gifts. Mr. Frank Galvin moved a vote of thanks for the splendid evening spent at the young couple's home. Mr. Douglas McQuitty seconded the motion and at the same time said a few kind words in reference to the new bride. Mr. and Mrs. Casselman replied in a very pleasing manner thanking the people for their kind remarks and beautiful gifts and inviting them to their home again.

The music, which was furnished by the Ashburn orchestra, continued and the young people danced to their heart's content.

IRENA CITIZEN DIES OF HEART FAILURE

Sometime during Tuesday night there passed away at Irena a well-known resident of Matilda township in the person of William Locke who succumbed to heart failure. He was a brother-in-law of Mr. George Smith M. L. A.

Chester Merkley Passes Away In His Sleep

At the noon hour yesterday our village was greatly shocked to learn that J. C. Merkley had passed away during the night at his own home where he was for the time being alone. He was on the street the previous evening and while it was remarked that he was particularly quiet in his demeanor it was not known that he did not feel fit. After going to his home a light was seen there as late as ten o'clock. Mr. Merkley had retired in his usual manner and when found yesterday was in bed in a posture of peaceful sleep. Nothing untoward was thought until his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Steinberg of Morewood, called at the home about noon and found it locked. She inquired of neighbors if her father had been seen around during the morning, and as none had seen him, and the morning's milk was standing at the door, it was decided to enter the house forcibly and investigate with the result as stated.

A particularly sad feautre of Mr. Merkly being alone is that following the burial from the family home last Friday of his daughter, Mrs. C. F. Robinson, who passed away in Detroit, Mrs. Merkley accompanied Mr. Robinson to Detroit to assist in the breaking up of the home as there were no children, and all others who had come home for the funeral had departed.

Chesterville Rideaus Step Into League Leadership

Friday night last when Perth took a fall out of Smiths Falls who have been leaders in the race all season and Chesterville won from Finch in Finch by a score of 4 to 3 our boys stepped into the lead with a margin of one point, where they will be going into the game tomorrow night on local ice against Smiths Falls . This is bound to be one of the very best games of the season no matter what may happen in the play downs. If Chesterville wins there will be no doubt of who will enter the play-off while Smiths Falls' chance will be mighty slim if they cannot land a winner.

The game in Finch was a fine display by both teams with Chesterville's younger players coming through without the services of Jarvis, their crack left winger ,who was ill and could not play.

The only goal of the first period was scored by Leslie by a nice shot from just inside the blue line, which Finch could not get back before the whistle blew.

Honeyborne got the second two minutes after the start of the middle session. Finch was playing a brilliant game with Henry Ouderkirk in particularly good form who scored the first for his team on a long shot that struck Hamilton's stick and glanced into the net, repeating on a lone rush from end to end for another tally putting them on an even footing two all.

Billy Ouderkirk broke into the scoring and put his team in the lead a minute after the face off when he secured and shot and picked up Hamilton's pass out and beat him to it. Casselman with a rifle shot soon brought the score back to even and Bill Gamble came through with the winner when he came down, shot between the defence men to the boards and went in fast for his own rebound and swiped it in.

MRS. LOUGH, HARMONY

Mrs. Lough passed away early last Thursday morning at her late home just east of Harmony church, where she lived with her son Emerson. She was 76 years of age had been in poor health for some time but not seriously ill until a few days before her death. She was a sister of Mr. John F. Campbell of Ormond, and was highly respected in her community as was shown by the large attendance at her funeral service on Saturday afternoon which was conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. A. Waddell, after which interment was made in Ormond cemetery.

Michael Miller, Elma

The death occurred suddenly on Tuesday morning, January 24th, of Michael Miller. The late Mr. Miller was in his 59th year and had been a life long resident of this district, following the occupation of a farmer. He was a son of the late Ira Miller and his wife Lavina Miller. He is survived by his brother, Ezra Miller, with whom he resided. Three brothers and two sisters predeceased him.

The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon. After a short service the body was taken to the Dunbar Lutheran church where a public funeral service was held. The pastor of the church, the Rev. C. R. Cronmiller, chose as his text I Samuel, xx, part of the third verse: "There is but a step between me and death." The body was taken to the Williamsburg cemetery for interment.

Chesterville and Morewood Juniors in Scoreless Tie

In a Junior hockey game in the Central Ottawa Valley league here Tuesday night Chesterville and Morewood battled for ninety minutes without either scoring, each adding one point to their standing which puts Chesterville and Winchester on even terms in the race. The game was fast and good hockey was played by each squad with the goalers turning aside all shots pelted in on them. With the finish of the game "Sam" Campderros hung up something of a record when he completed 182 minutes in the nets in league fixtures without the rubber being allow to sag the twine in a score against Chesterville.

Chesterville 4 : Smiths Falls 2

Last Friday night in Smiths Falls in a great game of hockey Chesterville stepped up to within hailing distance of the leaders when they handed them a stinging defeat by the score of 4 to 2 on their own ice. Gamble was the big noise for the winners playing his best game of the season and trimming Gilligan in the Smiths Falls nets for two counters. Leslie and Jarvis accounted for the other two. Smiths Falls cut quite a dash when their games were played on slushy ice which was never to the liking of Chesterville, but Friday night on hard going the Falls never appeared in front at any stage. Cookman scored the first at the close of the second period when the score was 2 to 1 for Chesterville. In the third after Gamble had scored Cookman came through with another but Gamble stepped game for game with him and immediately gave Gilligan another he could not handle doubling the score for the final count.

Finch Leads Perth Through Sixty Minutes

One of the fastest games played on Finch Arena this season was witnessed last night by a large crowd, when Finch defeated Perth 3-2. The ice was in first class condition and both teams started with lightning-fast rushes for the first go off. Play became interesting when Preston, the star centre man, took a pass from Harvey Ouderkirk and placed the rubber behind Dickson for the first counter. W. Ouderkirk followed suit 10 minutes later and placed Finch two up. Perth came back strong while Tommy Brady made the first count for the visitors and the first period ended with the locals leading two goals to one.

The second period was of the same kind of hockey with Finch still keeping up the good work when W. Ouderkirk tallied with a pass from Harvey Ouderkirk. Perth came back again when Furlong netted the second for the visitors. Both goalies were keeping in good form. There was no scoring in the third session.

Starring for the visitors were Brady, Furlong, Howie and Dickson, while for Finch were Preston, W. Ouderkirk, Brownlee and Dickie, while Dickson and McDonald were both good in the nets.

At no time throughout the game was Finch in danger, while they were lacking their speedster, H. Robillard, who was unable to play while H. Ouderkirk was hurt at the beginning of the first period.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. C. F. Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. J .C. Merkley wish to extend their sincere thanks to their friends and neighbors for kindness, sympathy and floral offerings received in their recent sad bereavement.

Pruning The Tree Fruits

(Experimental Farms Note.)

During the winter months, when weather permits, pruning operations can be conducted so that by early Spring this part of the orchard program may be completed. Inexperienced growers frequently fear the use of the pruning knife during winter, but all fears on this score may be laid aside and the work proceeded with as soon as the trees are in a perfectly dormant condition.

As pruning is pretty much a matter of judgment it is rather difficult to tell in a few words just what to do. In the bearing orchard, which usually presents the heaviest task, growth is pretty much the deciding factor. I have before me now some propagating wood sent in by an orchardist, which consists of twigs only one inch long. This tree is in need of a pretty severe heading back if it is expected to continue to fruit. A full bearing tree should be producing at least six inches of good, stout growth each year on a large part of its surface. If it is not doing that it needs a little stimulating with heading back or fertilizer.

Then as I look out of the window I see several trees that made a little too much growth this last year and these will have to be thinned out—probably one-half of the new wood taken out and some of the more ran-

A certain amount of pruning is required practically every year and a tree that gets a severe pruning this season will need some attention next, but if the grower watches them yearly he will not be required at any time to give a tree such a shock that it will be thrown out of bearing. If it is remembered that there is no magic in pruning, but that it is performed to keep trees within bounds, to admit light and to enable the formation of some new fruiting wood the pruner with a little judgment will not go far astray.

The young tree is quite a different proposition. Here the grower is really training for the future, to avoid future trouble and loss by the breaking down of the trees. Probably the best form to aim at is a modified central leader, which is obtained by allowing the original central leader or whip to grow to a height of four or five feet, with lateral branches radiating from it. Then instead of permitting the leader to grow indefinitely it is cut off at that point and the five or six branches permitted to form the head of the tree.

Further information on pruning of the apple tree may be had by applying for Bulletin No. 18 from the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, or on plums by getting Bulletin No. 45 from the same source.

Musical Note

"The 'orn of the 'unhter is 'eard on the 'ill," sang the little boy at the Ragged School treat. But somehow his version of that line in "Kathleen Mavourneen" jarred on the nerves of the teacher.

"My little man," she said kindly, "why don't you put a few more aitches in your song?"

"Garn," advised the little man, politely, "don't you know there ain't no 'h' in music? It only goes up to G."

Chesterville Wo's. Institute

The Chesterville Women's Institute held two meetings this January. There was a good deal of business discussed at both meetings. The following paper was given which speaks for itself:

Essentials in Institute Work.

In order to have a successful Institute we must try to avoid some stumbling blocks over which we may fall aimlessly or carelessly and we must recognise the fact that talent in the Institute consists not only in knowledge or efficiency but in the willingness to give to each other the very best that we have. As Institute members we must not confine ourselves to enducational and social features, but if we are to fulfil our mission, our society must be a service organization, as far as community needs and ambitions are concerned, and every individual member should feel that she is a part of the organization and has a contribution to make to her community. There is no reason whatever why the Women's Institute should not be the educator, the administrator, the advisor and the safeguarder of the best interests of the people of every community. Loyalty is one essential. Let us be loyal to our Society. In this day of organization there is danger of us becoming sidetracked and scattering our forces.

The stream of woman's power has been likened to the great Niagara and it is for us to say how it shall be used. Are we going to allow it to be churned up into a frothy foam, or a dashing spray? Are we going to allow it to find one hundred channels, and lose its potentcy at last in the open sea, or are we going to focus all our efforts and so control and direct?

Interest is another essential. We must be interested in our society and in its work, and instead of asking the question, "What is the Women's Institute doing for the community?" let us make it a personal question, "What am I doing for the community through the Institute?" Do we attend the meetings regularly? Do we encourage the officers and other members by giving practical demonstration of our faith in our motto for "Home and Country."?

What we need in our Institute is the class of people who can discern the real problems of the hour and pierce the future with its arising need. People who are not idle dreamers but doers. Members who consider and put into practice this motto—"It is a good thing to remember and a better thing to do, to work with the construction gang and not the wreckin' crew."

To have a successful Institute members must begin their work in their home, for the Home is the pivot upon which the success of the Nation depends.

"It takes a lot of livin' in a Home to make a Home;
A lot of sun and shadder, and sometimes you have to roam,
Before you really 'preciate the things you left behind,
And sort of hunger for them sometimes,
With them allus on your mind.
It don't make any difference how rich you get to be,
How much your chairs and tables cost,
How great their luxury,
It isn't home, tho' it be the Palace of a King,
Until your soul is sort of wrapped round everything.
And the only reason a road looks good as every traveller knows,
Is just because of the Homes, the Homes, the Homes to which it goes."

Let us follow like Tennyson's Ulysses, an ideal, whose margin fades forever and forever as we move.

"It is to fighting we are called. It is to building we are sent," and let no one call herself a good Institute worker who is neither fighting or building. Service is the great essential in the work. The giving of the best we have to each other.

We may well take for our motto the words on the crest of the Prince of Wales, "I serve."

Service is the Insurance policy for Happiness. It matters little how many serve us; It matters greatly how many we serve.

Offensive Signs

In keeping with what is becoming a world-wide protest against billboards and offensive signs, the authorities of Paris have decreed that no signs shall be displayed on its famous thoroughfare. the Champs Elysees, which advertise any goods not actually sold on the premises.

Recent protests were heard in Spain concerning objectional American billboards which mar the landscape. In this country the women's clubs and other organizations are waging a campaign against the billboard nuisance.

By their erection of signboards which spoil the natural scenery along the highways, and by their encroachments in residential sections of our cities, the billboard people have brought upon themselves the resentment of that section of the public which has regard for appearances.

When we become more civilized the billboard will go the way of the town crier. As an advertising medium it is an anachronism already.

Mixing It On the Radio.

Here's a story of a young bride who asked her husband to copy off a radio recipe she wanted. He did his best, but got two stations at once, one broadcasting the morning physical exercises, the other the household recipe. Here is what he took down:

"Hands at hips. Place one cup of flour on shoulders. Raise knees and depress toes, and mix thoroughly in one half cup of milk. Repeat six times. "Inhale quickly one-half teaspoonful of baking powder; lower the legs, and mash two hard-boiled eggs in a sieve. Exhale; breathe naturally and sift in a bowl.

"Attention! ! ! Lie flat on the floor and roll the white of an egg backwards and forward until it comes to a boil.

"In ten minutes remove from the fire and rub smartly with a rough towel. Breathe naturally. Dress in warm flannels and serve with fish soup."

Pathetic Handicap.

Rich little girl (seeing some poorly cared for children go by): "Poor little things! They can have no nurses —only mothers."

AN EARLY BANK OF MONTREAL "TOKEN"

FOUNDED before Canada had any currency of its own, the Bank of Montreal early obtained authorization from the Government to issue copper tokens for small change.

Reproduced herewith are the two sides of the "Bouquet" token, one of the earliest coins issued by the Bank. The intermingling of the rose, shamrock and thistle indicates the three branches of the British people—the English, Scotch and Irish—while the use of English on one side of the coin and French on the other is significant of the mingling of the two races in this country.

"Trade and Agriculture" indicates the early connection of the Bank with both urban and rural life in Canada.

Throughout its long history the Bank of Montreal has always been active in serving the financial needs of all the people.

Counties' Council

The January Session of the Counties' Council of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry opened at the Council Chambers, Counties' Building, Cornwall, on Tuesday night, January 24th.

Mr. A. K. McMillan, Clerk, welcomed the members to their duties. He said he was glad to see so many old members back, as it showed their services were appreciated by the ratepayers, as many had been returned by acclamation. He extended a warm greeting to the new members and felt they would prove worthy successors to those who preceeded them in office.

Mr. MacMillan stated he had received the certificates from the Clerks of the various municipalities relative to the election of the members of Council. The list is as follows:—

Stormont.

Cornwall Town—Henry Williams Reeve; W. H. Gallinger, First Deputy Reeve; Arthur Dextras, Second Deputy Reeve.

Cornwall Township—Vincent McDonald, Reeve; Wm. A. Murray, First Deputy Reeve; John A. Lafave, Second Deputy Reeve.

Roxborough Township — John A. Morrison and James Blair.

Finch Township—G. D. Pollock and Henry C. Nugent.

Osnabruck Township — Glenn A. Shaver and Wallace Gallinger.

Finch Village—D. A. McIntosh.

Dundas

Williamsburg Township—Chas. F. Marselis and Roy Schell.

Winchester Township—Geo. Beattie and Howard Nesbitt.

Mountain Township—John E. Crowder and Robert Bryan.

Matilda Township—Thos. Johnston and Dr. Alex. Clarke.

Morrisburg Village—G. L. Brown.

Iroquois Village—Ed. Strader.

Winchester Village—N. W. Beach.

Chesterville Village—J. H. Brownlee.

Glengarry

Charlottenburg Township— A. A. MacDonell and D. S. McIntosh.

Lancaster Township—John D. McDonald and Rod A. McLeod.

Lochiel Township—J. A. McCrimmon and Horace Robertson.

Kenyon Township—Fred McLeod and Hugh E. Raymond.

Alexandria Town—M. Fitzgerald.

Maxville Village—Dr. Howard Munro.

Lancaster Village—J. R. McLachlan.

The Clerk said the first duty of the members would be to elect one of their number to preside over the deliberations as Warden during the year 1928, the honor for which went to Glengarry County this year.

Messrs. Vincent McDonald and W. A. Murray moved that the election of Warden be held by open vote, as laid down by the standing rules of Council. Carried.

The Clerk said five minutes would be allowed for the nomination of Warden.

Mr. J. R. McLachlan, Reeve of Lancaster Village, and Mr. Chas. F. Marselis, Reeve of Williamsburg Township, moved that Mr. Angus A. Macdonell, Reeve of Charlottenburgh Township, Warden for 1928.

At the expiration of the allotted time, there being no further nominations, the Clerk declared Mr. MacDonell elected Warden by acclamation and the new Warden was escorted to his seat by his mover and seconder, amid great applause.

Warden MacDonell thanked the members most sincerely for the honor conferred on him in being elected to the highest position in the gift of the Counties. He assured them that the present moment would never be forgotten. He also wished to thank the members on behalf of the people of the Township of Charlottenburgh, for he felt they would appreciate the honor fully as much as he did himself. He was conscious that his shortcomings were many, but he hoped they would be patient with him and give him every co-operation in the conduct of the business of the year. Their duties were important and he asked that they be given every consideration.

The Warden was applauded as he resumed his seat.

On motion of Messrs. Bryan and Crowder, the Council adjourned for five minutes to allow the Warden-elect to take the oath of office.

The Clerk read a list of thirty-eight communications received since the last session, and on motion of Messrs. Johnston and Strader these were referred to the several committees to which they belong, when appointed.

Notices of motion were given by several members of their intention of introducing by-laws for various purposes during the present session.

What advantage is gained by wondering and pondering over the old query, "Do people read advertising?" They must--- or how could it be responsible for so many successes.

Then along comes the other doubt, "Does advertising pay?" To which the above reply fits.

What is advertising? Now we are getting closer. Surely advertising is selling---and as generally considered, selling by the principal of multiplication of effort by means of the written or printed word and---that's where The Chesterville Record comes in when seeking business in Eastern Dundas and Western Stormont.

Come and bring your friends..

It does not seem quite so bad when thieves confine themselves to housebreaking but our brave ones here have gone a step farther and have taken to church work now. One night last week some person or persons broke into the Anglican church here and stole the communion wine. There was nothing else in the church that they could turn into money without being found out so nothing else was stolen. It seems these thieves have come down pretty low when they will steal the Lord's Supper, so to speak. Where will they end up? We wonder.

Canadian Roses for Paris Ladies

A gesture of courtesy that used as its means of expression the fragile flowers of the heart of summer conveyed by railway, steamship and airplane, over three thousand miles of land and sea, in the depth of winter, to two ladies in France, was chronicled in the information given out by the Canadian Pacific Express Company.

The flowers were two boxes of roses, grown in the huge greenhouses of the Dale Estate, Brampton, Ontario, and sent by Lieutenant-Colonel J. B. Maclean, president of the Maclean Publishing Company, of Toronto, to Princess Carolyn de Faucigny-Lucinge, who was a patient in the American Hospital in Paris, and to the Countess Odon de Lubersac. They were sent as a Christmas present to those ladies, but the weather intervened, and they did not reach their destination until some three days' later. When they did reach their objectives, however, it was found that they were as fragrant and fresh as if they had been plucked a few minutes earlier from their bushes.

The Canadian Pacific Express Company was responsible for the handling of the roses from Brampton via Saint John and overseas on board the SS. "Montcalm" to Liverpool. They arrived at the latter city December 23, and were then shipped to the Croydon airdrome, to be carried by airship to Paris. Their despatch from this country had been timed to the minute to decorate the ladies' breakfast tables on Christmas morning in Paris.

But the storm that struck Great Britain around the Christmas season had a say in the matter. The airdrome was snowed under, and it was found impossible to send out an airship. The roses were held up and did not finally reach Paris until December 28, when they were delivered promptly. The disappointment was more to the sender and the express company who had strained every resource to get the flowers to their destination on time and who were only defeated by weather that was unprecedented in Great Britain, and that could not be foreseen and guarded against. What the recipients' reactions to the gifts were, are not chronicled, but it is fairly sure that they were delighted with these Canadian flowers from a Canadian gentleman, and impressed by the tour de force of their despatch, which disproved the words of their great national poet, who mourns in one of his best-known poems that the rose "endures but the space of a morning."

Regulating The Egg Trade

A very marked improvement in the egg trade of Canada has been made during the past seven years. The annual production of eggs in Canada in 1920 was 144 million dozen. According to a statement that appears in the report of the Honorable Mr. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, for the past fiscal year, Canada is now producing annually more than 260 million dozens. This increase in production has all been required to meet the home demand, which, it is pointed out, is a direct result of the application of egg standards and efforts of the egg inspection service. Dealers throughout the country, it is pointed out by the Minister, are now practically unanimous in ascribing improvements in the egg trade to the adoption of the standards and regulations for marketing. Farmers have become interested in the production of a better product. Dealers find transactions profitable where previously there was a loss. The urban retailers have a better product to sell to the consuming public, resulting in more and better business to all parties engaged in egg production and marketing. Much credit must be given for this great improvement in the egg industry to the inspection service, that besides to dealers and the public the benefits of trading in a standardized product, also give lectures before student bodies, women's clubs, etc., and candling and grading demonstrations at the principal exhibitions throughout Canada, school fairs, boys' and girls' clubs, and other organized bodies interested in eggs.

The Canadian egg regulations require approval inspection on interprovincial shipments in carlots and on export and import shipments. During the fiscal year reported by the Minister more than a half million dozen cases went through the hands of the inspectors, an increase of about 80,000 cases over the previous year. Of the shipments inspected in 1925-26 practically 4,000 shipments were approved, while 300 failed to justify a clear bill for shipment. The regulations also require that all eggs sold in a domestic way be graded according to the Canadian legal standards. The officers of the egg inspection staff are constantly checking up the grading of eggs in the premises of wholesale and retail dealers and during 1927 made approximately 30,000 such calls, inspecting eggs, checking up methods of doing business and correcting abuses and irregularities. While for the most part the business was found to be conducted in harmony with the regulations, it was necessary during the year to conduct 64 prosecutions for illegal practices. Of these all but six, which were dismissed on technicalities, were sustained.

Oil Famine Remote

Last week the second report of the Oil Conservation Board, somposed of the Secretaries of the Interior, War, Navy and Commerce, was made to President Coolidge, and discussed the problem of meeting the ever-increasing demand for gasoline and other petroleum products.

The report stated that "an oil famine is not imminent, but prudence must always envisage the possibility of an oil shortage." Looking forward to the time when natural supplies of crude oil will be depleted, it is stated that the production of liquid fuel from shales, coal and even corn are among the possibilities, whenever the demand is sufficient to warrant the expense of converting these raw materials for such use.

Commendation is given to the oil industry, not only for its cooperation with the board, but for its constructive efforts toward conservation, both by the adoption of better methods of production and by improvements in refining processes, whereby much more gasoline and other useful products are obtained from each barrel of crude oil than formerly.

During the last week in June, 1927, a daily production of 2,587,105 barrels of crude oil in the United States broke all records. Daily production at present is approximately 2,400,000 barrels, which is considerably above current requirements.

This enormous production can hardly be maintained indefinitely, however, and it is well that government agencies, as well as the oil industry, are looking many years ahead with a view to developing new sources of gasoline supply.

New Calendar Plan

Another effort to revise the calendar so as to make each month contain exactly four weeks, is being considered by a committee of the League of Nations. Several plans have been suggested, but one proposed by Mr. M. B. Cotsworth, director of the International Fixed Calendar League, appears to meet with most favor.

Briefly, his proposal is to divide the year into 13 months of 28 days each, every week and month to begin on a Sunday, with the extra month inserted between June and July. It would be necessary to have an additional day at the end of December, and an extra day in Leap years, but these would not take the name of any day of the week.

Thurs each day of every month would always come on the same day of the week—Sundays on the 1st, 8th, 15th, and 22; Mondays on the 2nd, 9th, 16th and 23rd, and so on.

From a practical standpoint the proposed calendar would have many advantages and would greatly simplify the keeping of accounts, computing payrolls, calculating interest, recording statistical data and the like.

Sentimentally, it would play havoc with anniversaries and church feasts by requiring other days to be substituted for those now observed. Those who were born on the 29th to 31st, inclusive, of any months would be legislated out of their birthdays.

Still, the same thing has happened many times in the past when calendar changes have been made, and no one appears to have been harmed by the process.

Doctors Wanted

An urgent need of physicians is said to exist in dozens of rural communities in Maine, where the situation has become so serious that a law was enacted in 1925 authorizing towns to subsidize doctors with public funds where necessary.

It is reported that several towns are offering as much as $1,000 a year to induce doctors to locate, but in many cases without success. The old family doctors of these small communities are either dying off or becoming incapacitated, and the young medical graduates "do not choose" to settle in these small towns. They prefer taking their chances in cities, in spite of strong competition they must face.

The situation reported from Maine exists in hundreds of towns and villages throughout the country, in consequence of which thousands of families find themselves many miles from a doctor upon whom they may call in an emergency.

This condition will probably be relieved to a large extent when good roads and rural telephone lines become more extended, but for the present it presents one of the most serious handicaps of rural life in many sections.

A Cotton Queen

For many years we have heard of King Cotton, a sovereign who has at various times nearly ruined his subjects, who by raising enormous crops have been forced to sell them at less than the cost of production. The periods of depression which have resulted throughout the cotton belt on this account have led to movements for less cotton acerage and more production per acre, the idea being to devote a larger portion of the land to other crops, so that the farmer would not be dependent on cotton alone.

In connection with this movement prizes have been offered from time to time to encourage more intensive and effective cultivation of the soil, and these competitions have been open to club boys and girls, as well as adults.

During 1927 the champion cotton raiser was Miss Ruby Lee Williams, 17-year-old daughter of a tenant farmer of Nacogdoches, Texas, who raised three bales of cotton on her one-acre plot of ground. In company with a number of state champions she will be given a trip to Florida and Cuba next month as the guest of a fertilizer concern.

Her accomplishment in cotton production has seldom if ever been equalled and she is justly entitled to the title of America's Cotton Queen.

Sidney Horler, an English writer, who made a brief visit to this continent recently, writes of his impressions, one of which is that "Amercan women are beautiful, but cold." Which leads us to suspect that Sidney is not so hot, either.

Among the many inquiries being made by the Trade Commission is an investigation of trade practices of mop manufacturers, who have been called upon to explain how they conduct their business. Won't it be grand when we can be assured that there is no mop trust?

Otis L. Wiese has been made editor-in-chief of McCall's Magazine at the age of 22, but will not accept the increased salary due to his promotion from assistant editor until he has demonstrated that he can make good. Which is a fair indication that he will make good.

Big league baseball teams are said to be paying $100,000 and more for single players purchased from other teams in addition to salaries. And it was not so many years ago that "Rube" Marquard was the sensation of the game and dubbed "the $11,000 beauty," when sold for that amount.

More than 500 Masons were assembled recently at Wheaton, Ill., to witness the conferring of the Master Mason degree on "Red" Grange, famed football star. It is said that "Red" didn't try any forward passes or line bucks on the Masonic "goat".

Among those bits of more or less useless information which we find interesting for the moment is one to the effect that Americans spent $300,000 for Santa Claus whiskers last December. Quite a sum to blow in for something even the kids don't believe in any more.

It is said that a former clerk has paid $310,000 for a seat on the New York Stock Exchange. Some of them are like that, while others save up a little more and go after a seat in the United States Senate.

Dr. William McAndrew has recently been delivering an interesting lecture entitled "Life Among the Bone-Heads." The learned doctor was recently ousted from the superintendency of Chicago's schools at the instigation of Mayor "Big Bill" Thompson, therefore should be well qualified to dicuss his subject.

According to a recent writer the war between the French and the Druse tribesmen of Syria in 1925 was caused by a lost cat, whose disappearance in turn resulted in some lost whiskers—but not the cat's whiskers.

As the story goes, a favorite cat, belonging to the French governor of Damascus was missing and he accused the tribesmen of stealing the animal. He a rrested six sheiks and warned them that unless the cat was returned within 24 hours he would cut off their whiskers. They pleaded innocence but at the time limit the beards were snipped off.

Failing to get satisfaction for this indignity from General Sarrail, the French commander, the Druses went on the warpath in a campaign that cost many lives on both sides.

Whether this was the real cause of the revolt we cannot vouch, but it is no more ridiculous than some other incidents which have led to war.

Where the King and Queen Live.

Two little girls made friends while playing on the sands.

Said one: "Where do you live?"

"In London," replied the other.

"Thats' where the King and Queen live, isn't it?"

"Yes," said the little Londoner. And then, with becoming modesty, she added: "But not on our street."

Oddities in the Week's News

Inmates of the West Ham poorhouse in London will no longer be supplied with beer on Sunday, as has been the custom.

After causing Frank Curran to be sent to jail for assault, Joseph Riordan of Belfast, sent him a Bible to read in prison.

Questioned concerning why her husband had left her, Mrs. Hannah Corsin of Chicago, admitted that she had thrown her out of their home.

Miss Charlotte Leitch of Dundee, Scotland, was given a jail sentence of two months because she told a falsehood in court.

Before being admitted to the almshouse in Manchester, Eng., for lodging, tramps must agree to take a bath.

Mrs. Cecilia Cichicki of Chichago, suing for divorce, was charged with throwing hot potatoes at her husband, but she declared she would not waste potatoes on him.

While each was attempting to rob a London jewelry store without the knowledge of the other, two burglars met in the dark and had a fight, the noise causing the arrest of both.

Members of a church in Bristol, Eng., who struck against a new pastor, two years ago, have decided to resume services.

Five Paris nurses were discharged for giving patients ink instead of beef tea by mistake.

Edwin Cake, a Birmingham, Eng., baker, won a cake offered in a baking contest.

When she slipped on an icy railroad track, Miss Ruth Cazen of Evanston, Ill., lay flat between the rails while a train passed over without injuring her.

When arraigned for failure to procure a dog license Charles Kilburn of Chicago showed a doctor's certificate that he was a sufferer from rheumatism.

Miss Phyllis Seal of Brighton, Eng., won $2,250 in a breach of promise suit but refused the money, saying she wanted only vindication.

James C. McGarren of St. Louis had his wife arrested for breaking his false teeth, but they later made up.

Rev. R. B. Disney of Leicester, Eng., resigned his pastorate because his congregation objected to his teaching the young people about sex matters.

Hiding in a coffin from which he had removed the dead body, Michael Gralmar of Moscow shot the priest who approached to perform the funeral rites.

Standing up in court when fined $50 for speeding, Robert W. Galsen, of Chicago kissed each of the five $10 bills goodby as he handed them to the clerk.

Barriers.

She had just succeeded in getting their four noisy youngsters off to bed and she was feeling tired and pensive.

"Robert," she said with a sigh, "would you marry again if I should die?"

"I don't think so," responded her husband—"not if the woman saw those kids first."
