Ready For Tourists

Open Beach, Parks, Information Booth, Carman House and Campsite

The travelling tourist can now find the local beach, campsite, Carman House, parks and information booth open for their pleasure and convenience, as well as for the pleasure of local and district residents. Opening day was Friday, July 2nd, and with the heat wave in progress the day proved to be an excellent time to start. Schools are out all over the country and tourists are roaming the countryside looking for something different to see and do.

There have already been campers in at the campsite, located along the Carman Road near the Carman House and now that the holiday season is in full swing it is anticipated that large numbers of tourists will be heading for this area to view the Seaway, the locks here at Iroquois, the Control Dam and all the sights running from Iroquois to Cornwall. This will, of course, include a day-long visit to Upper Canada Village a few miles below Morrisburg, or a stay at one of the several campsites operated by the St. Lawrence Parks Commission a drive over the Long Sault parkway and a visit to the power house just west of Cornwall.

Spread over the whole of the three United Counties are many other tourist attractions, with cairns and plaques commemorating important events in the lives of the Canadians who settled this historic part of Ontario. Area residents would do well to familiarize themselves with these important features of our district and be able to give any visitor a better look into our past history and the achievements of our forefathers, as well as to be able to point out the many features now predominant in our community.

The emphasis this year is more towards youth in the operation of the information booth, the Carman House and other aspects of summer life in the village. Employed for the summer these young people started on the job last Friday and will continue until school starts in early September. Most of them are girls attending high school here and will be expected to present the friendly and courteous attitude expected on any job dealing with the travelling public. It gives them a better opportunity to get acquainted with the district's tourist attractions, know better what visitors are looking for and help provide them with a summer's income to help them through school.

Iroquois residents are also requested to take time to visit the Carman House and see the vast improvements made, with the painting being done in several of the rooms and

Sending Out Questionnaire

A meeting of the Steering Committee for the proposed Community Arena was held on June 23/71 in the Civic Centre.

It was decided that before going any further with out studies a questionnaire for the families of our village should be prepared in order to obtain some pertinent facts. A copy of the questions to be asked appears below in this item. These questionnaires will be delivered to each family in town on Monday July 12 and picked up at the door on Thursday July 15. We ask that each family take the time to answer the questions carefully and please have it ready for July 15. We also wish to emphasize that it is not necessary to sign these forms. The questions which will appear on this form are as follows:

1. What is the total number of people in your household?
2. Of these how many are Senior Citizens _____, Boys _____ Girls _____ Adults _____.
3. How many members of your family are interest in using the facilities of a Community arena, summer & winter?
4. If so in what ways?
5. What your personal feelings on this project? Necessary _____ Unnecessary _____.

We urge each family to fill the questionnaire out carefully, honestly and promptly.

Safe Boating Week

In a country such as Canada its peoples are fortunate in living within easy distance of a body of water no matter where they live. We're a land of lakes and rivers and in some places in this land there may even be fresh, clean water.

During this week, designated as Safe Boating Week, we should become more aware of what our lakes and streams mean to us not only in the valuable use as a means of providing pleasure but for its most significant purpose...that of providing us with life's most precious means of survival...clean drinking water.

We have come to associate clean water as being pure water...when we really should think of water as it really is ... made pure by the use of additives.

By adding chlorine or such other similar substance we are able to purify water so that it is safe for human consumption. That is not the same thing as being clean and pure as we used to think of our streams.

So Safe Boating Week should be much more to us than just thinking in terms of safety on the water. We should also be thinking more of what we can do towards making the water itself clean and pure ... in the old sense.

Pollution is a matter of survival of the species known as Man. What matter if we save ourselves from drowning by observing safety on the water, if when we drink that water it brings an end to that life?

And that statement is not as far-fetched as some would want us to believe. The next time you have the opportunity of being along the river...any river; take time to look along its shores and in its waters. The filth that floats on top and grows underneath may some day reach such proportions as to truly be the downfall of the same people who made it so.

A Big Heart

Every time we hear there is another canvass for funds underway, we tend to think that this type of thing is being overdone and that there must someday be an end to this or at least a measure of relief. And perhaps we are right to a certain extent.

Last week, however, we sat in on a meeting of a service club where they were discussing financial assistance to a family in desperate need. The family, due to prolonged illness by at least two in the group and who have run out of hospital assistance or government assistance for various reasons, were going deeper and deeper in debt to keep up with the illness and treatments. The local service club voted funds to assist.

Funds also were allocated to helping Matilda Township provide better lighting at their ball diamonds. Bursaries to students, baskets to the needy at Christmas, donations to the C.N.I.B., the Cancer Society, the Salvation Army, and a host of others, all come within the sphere of assistance that just this one service club does during the course of its year.

It was a good time to reflect on our previous thoughts when it comes to giving to this type organization.

Do we think it all worthwhile? You bet we do.....

HERE'S A PROBLEM BILL CAN'T SOLVE

By Bill Smiley

We're in a terrible dilemma around our house these days. My wife is going off her nut worrying about the situation, my daughter is having bad dreams about it, and I, as usual, am being ground between the millstones of two hysterical women who expect me to come up smiling and with the right answers.

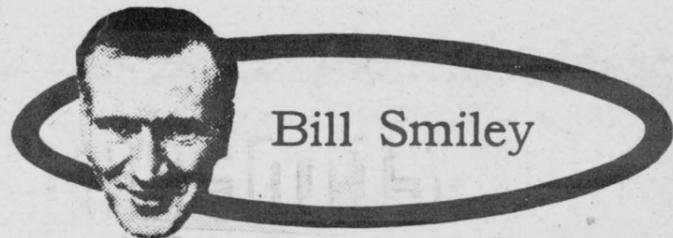

In this summer when there is so little employment for students, my daughter has two jobs available.

One, as I've mentioned, is at a hotel, waiting table in the dining-room. It's a pleasant place, over-looking the water. She likes the job and the people, chef, boss, and the other waitresses. The salary is well below the minimum wage, but the tips are good.

But there's the inevitable fly in the soup. There is no accommodation for the hired help, and the darn thing is ten miles out of town, in a small village.

As I have reported, this means that she must have transportation to and from the job, or get a room in the village. She doesn't have a car or driver's license. A taxi would be $2.50 each way and there goes a day's tips.

So I've been driving her to work in the mornings and her mother picking her up in the afternoons. Even the kid realizes that this is somewhat of an imposition, if we expect to have any holidays this summer.

Bill Smiley

An alternative would be to get a room in the village. As she puts it, this would be like going into a nunnery. Which, at age twenty, unless your tendencies are nunish, and hers are not, is not too appealing.

However, like most teapot tempests, something could probably be worked out. Now comes the dilemma. She has been offered another job as a waitress right here in town, five minutes walk from home.

The wages are better, the tips poorer. The work is just about as hard. It's right on the main street, and hotter than hades in summer. She doesn't know whether she likes the boss.

Up to now she's been working only part time at the hotel, usually weekends, but can be on full time during July and August. She has already worked two shifts at the restaurant, on a trial basis, and they've offered a full time job.

Isn't this a sad story? The poor kid doesn't know what to do. She likes the first one better, but the second has no transportation problem.

And of course a waitress hasn't much security these days, or ever. She could be fired from either job if business fell off or she got blisters and couldn't walk or she had a run-in with the chef or dropped a tray of food on the customers (which I did one time, though it wasn't food, it was beer).

The whole thing is complicated by the fact that her mother was a waitress for a couple of summers at the same age, and thinks she knows all about everything and keeps poking her nose in.

The irony of the situation is that if she diddles around and doesn't make up her mind, she could wind up without any job, and knowing my daughter for twenty years, I have a feeling this is exactly what will happen. This would give her a perfect excuse to go off hitchhiking to Vancouver or Charlottetown, which she'd much rather be doing than working, as who wouldn't.

As you can see, the whole thing is a tragedy in a teaspoon, but you've no idea how we burn the midnight oil, the three of us, turning over new leaves and unturned stones, building up one job and then knocking it down with the other, doing sums, calculating tips, considering the personalities

We make Sunday reservations

Thursday we breakfasted in Paris and then had a business lunch in New York. On Friday, we joined a conference in San Francisco. With the new space-age technology, we feel so free, as though we have conquered time and distance and everything.

Well, maybe not everything!

You know some things can't be answered by better machines. So, wherever we are, we go to church on Sunday. How about you?

WE WELCOME YOU TO COME AND WORSHIP WITH US

OFF THE CUFF

By Charles Edwards

Have you ever wondered what it takes to become a Hollywood writer? I succumbed to one of my many weaknesses the other night and watched the late movie and in so doing I stumbled on one of the tools of the writer's trade. By the end of the first hour, the hero had himself in a series of predicaments that would have stumped even the Man from Gkad. The police were closing in on him; the heroine was dying with a terminal disease; the stockmarket had collapsed; and the bank was about to foreclose on the family manison.

The fellow who wrote the story must have been a devoted fan of the Greek Theatre. The Greeks had a solution for any seemingly hopeless situation--one of their gods was lowered from the ceiling and then proceeded to right all the wrongs. Today's writers seem to realize that the viewing public won't buy the idea of a god floating in to solve all the problems, but that doesn't deter them. They have a modern day equivalent... the hero develops a convenient case of amnesia. In a situation so desperate that Custer's last stand pales by comparison, only amnesia could get our hero off the hook.

Take a moment and think of the number of soap operas you've seen which whittled away a couple of weeks on amnesia when the plot seemed to be dying a slow death. When the soap opera writer runs out of broken marriages, unwed mothers, meddling in-laws and financial ruin, there's always amnesia. It's the most common affliction in the entertainment world and even Lassie is not immune. You may remember that she wandered aimlessly for about three weeks last year in the video wasteland.

Now think again if you have ever heard of anyone in real life who has had any experience with amnesia. You can probably think of a lot of people you wish had it, but unfortunately things never happen the way they do in the movies. Imagine how convenient it would be to develop amnesia at the drop of a hat and recover as swiftly. Think of the potential for a night on the town knowing you could do almost anything under the guise of losing your memory. It could come in handy at other times too. If your boss developed a sudden case of amnesia when you asked for a raise, he couldn't recite the usual list of your shortcomings. Wives, unable to remember all the little jobs that need doing, couldn't nag and fathers couldn't bore their offspring, with stories of the way things were in "my days." At best it's an intriguing day dream but unless you're the star of a third rate movie, very unlikely to happen and probably just as well.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir I would like to relate some of the reasons for our contention that we need a withholding action of our products from the farm, and in this area mainly milk, as in other areas something else.

We are a commodity group that is very vulnerable to all the discrepancies handed out because of our diversification, and this seems to have come about because farmers are afraid of the cost of organization, which is absolutely necessary - keeping in mind the types. Many organizations and milk committees as well as, well informed farmers have spoken to government officials, milk boards etc, and have tried to convince them of our plight - yet how are we received - Prime Minister Mr. Trudeau said - Fuddle Duddle - Chairman of the O.M.M.B. George McLaughlin says "Nuts to you" our M.P. Gordon Blair said to me "Hog Wash" as I see this it means that they all are going to see at least 2/3 of the farmers are going from the farms.

According to statistics and this is not computed by farmers but by Government officials that farmers are the most efficient of all commodity groups, yet continuously they are goading us to become more so, without viable returns.

You know we have a quota system which is good if put in the hands of honest personal. These quotas are supposed and do control production when dealt with properly, but we are penalized for over production, and penalized for under production, and penalized if not a number one grade, yet they never dream of giving any incentive for adhering to all their suggestions or complying with their regulations. They just seem hell bent on driving us from the farm.

We don't blame the milk plants or our transporters, each of them must survive but it is entirely the Milk Marketing Board which is controlled by the Governments where the blame must be placed.

I am dismayed at the ineptitude of these people that have no more vision than they display - because first agriculture means the livelihood of at least forty percent of our population.

Then those taken off the farm are not trained for other work so many of them will have to go on welfare. Next we must realize that others are as clever as we are, and as soon as we become a market for other countries goods such as butter and cheese etc the prices will rise then consumer will pay or do without, I don't deem this much of a protection for the consumer.

Now it is on the context of this thinking that we deem it is necessary to support a withholding action. It seems the farmer is slow to make these moves but when they do they are just as determined to make somebody else do what they are voted in for and damn well paid to do.

It is very foolish to think people won't pay a fair price for necessities, yet pay extortionist prices for tobacco, liquor, and soft drinks.

Mr. Editor - I believe you realize that all the printing about the several discriminatory actions against the farmer and all the debating and protesting is to no avail, so we are going to take the bull by the horns and use him for a whip for those who may be in swinging distance.

We beseech all farmers to make sure that this effort does not fail because this is the preservation of our own vocation within our society.

I fail to see where we are sharing in a just society but they say that is only a typographical error, Mr. Trudeau meant just a society.

We wonder if the Liberals were a little more conservative and the Conservatives a little more liberal why it wouldn't work out to everybody's satisfaction.

Our milk board took a 30% raise in pay, our Government M.P.S. got a very healthy remuneration and we think most of these people were getting too much before the raise. How would they like to be in our shoes - work hard to produce then work hard to get paid for it.

Deb Fawcett.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY GO INTO PROCESSING CORN

When the shelled corn is received at the Canada Starch plant, it is weighed and stored in the elevator. When the corn is required, the dust and other foreign matter are removed by passing the corn over mechanical cleaners. It is then passed into steep tanks and soaked in warm water containing a small amount of sulphur dioxide.

This steeping process softens the hull and loosens the protein starch mixture. After steeping the corn is run with a stream of water through a mill which frees the germ and loosens the hull.

The wet mixture is then pumped through hydroclones to separate the germ, which is lighter than the other parts of the kernel. The germ contains the valuable corn oil. After further washing in a paddle screen, the germ is mechanically pressed to remove excess water, then dried in rotary kilns. The germ is then conveyed to the solvent extraction process to remove the oil. We refine this oil and sell it as Mazola Oil.

The balance of the mixture after removal of the germ, contains starch, gluten and hulls. This mixture is ground in mills, which free the starch from the hulls and fibres.

It is then passed through a series of paddle screens, and centrifugal screens where the gluten and starch are separated from the hulls. The hulls are conveyed to the feed house, dewatered and dried, becoming a component of gluten feed.

The starch and gluten are separated from each other by centrifugal machines that work on the same principle as a cream separator. The gluten is sent to the Feed House to be added to gluten meal. The starch is washed and made ready to be processed as starch, dextrine, glucose, syrup and other products.

Converting the starch to glucose, syrup, and other sugars is an interesting part of the process. By using hydrochloric acid, along with pressure and heat, the starch is converted to various sugars. About half of the starch at Cardinal is converted into glucose, dextrose, sugar and corn syrup.

These products from corn, the native grain of the North American Indian, enabled a small mill on the St. Lawrence to develop into the nationwide, diversified enterprise that is the Canada Starch Company Limited today.

The daily fuel consumption necessary to evaporate this amount of water is about 23,000 gallons of heavy fuel oil (residual #6) which is around four railroad tank cars. Natural gas can also be used as a fuel. Gas consumption is around four million cubic feet per day. This amount of natural gas would keep the Village of Cardinal warm for 10 days in the coldest winter season.

All Required Services POWER HOUSE DIVISION

The Power House Division is responsible for supplying the Plant with the required services, which can be divided in the following manner:

ELECTRICITY

A portion of our electrical requirements is generated within the plant, the remainder is purchased from Ontario Hydro. The portion generated is about 15,000 Kilo Watt hrs. per day, Ontario Hydro supply approximately 120,000 Kilo Watt hrs. per day. The total is equivalent to the requirements of the Village of Cardinal for a one-week period.

WATER

Total water pumped is used for both town and Plant consumption. Total water pumped throughout the summer months is around 9 million gallons per day. Town usage being around 1/4 million gallons per day. This means that the town supply tank has to be filled three times a day. The Plant usage is about 30 times that amount.

EMERGENCY PUMPS (FIRE)

Two emergency pumps are maintained on a standby basis, one is electrically driven, the other is driven by a diesel engine.

WASTEWATER DISPOSAL

All waste water, sewage, rain run off, etc. has to be collected and disposed of. The waste water and rain run off are pumped back into the St. Lawrence River. All sanitary sewage at present is pumped to Cardinal sewage treatment Plant. Present day planning is to install a Treatment Plant within the Plant site.

AIR

Air is compressed for both general Plant use and for instrument air use. Air compressed in a minute can be around 1600 cubic feet.

STEAM

Steam can be produced by four boilers. Two of these boilers evaporate 100,000 pounds of water per hour, the third, 50,000 pounds, per hour and the fourth, 25,000 per hour. Daily evaporation rates are around three million lbs. of water per day.

Merkley Get-together Cardinal Legion Hall

On Sunday June 27/71, the descendants of the late Jacob and Elizabeth Merkley together with other members of the Merkley Branch their friends and guests, gathered in happy re-union at the Legion Hall in Cardinal.

Some 70 persons from outlying districts and the United States of America--sat down to a sumptuous dinner. Grace was said by Mr. Dwight Merkley. Our hospitable host, Gilbert Merkley acted a M. C. again doing a most capable job. Mrs. Ernest Merkley of Winchester, our Secretary and Treasurer, gave a resume of last year's get together--motions were made and approved --that we meet again, same time, same place next year. The many young people, children and babies--together with many of the earlier generation made it a worth while time of fellowship. Relaxing games were enjoyed by a few of the keenly active persons. The spacious lawns and the ideal view of the St. Lawrence, lent a special attraction for all. Thanks were voiced to those who arranged this year's successful picnic and contributed special effort. Mr. Lennie Merkley of Ottawa expressed appreciation, on behalf of his wife and family to be invited guests for this re-union, being a first time visitor among us.

Brockville Speedway

Jim Marlowe of Kingston became the fifth driver to win a feature race at the season.

Marlowe grabbed the lead on the 12th lap and fought back challenges from Howard Shaw, Pat O'Brien and Walt Pennock to win the 20 lap event.

Pennock finished fourth but managed to hold onto first place in the points race. He has 67 points, eight more than O'Brien. Third spot is held down by Tony Blake with 48. Blake finished the feature in 11th place.

There were 45 cars in competition Saturday night. Accidents in the early part of the program put several cars out of commission for the night but none were really seriously damaged.

Tom Wilson, driving the "Hot Wagon" won the special demolition derby held at the conclusion of the regular racing program.

Bus Trip To Toronto For Dixon's Students

Over thirty students from the Grade Seven Class at Dixon's Corners Public School went on an expense paid trip to Toronto before school vacated for the summer recess. They left on Wednesday morning, travelling on one of Mr. Ken Strader's school buses, and returned Friday evening.

Included in their itinerary while in Toronto were tours of Ontario Place, Ontario Science Centre, McLaughlin Plantarium, Casa Loma and Riverdale zoo to name a few. Added to this was a subway riding experience, which for many was a first; sleeping in a 22-story college building and a two-hour shopping spree in some of Toronto's largest stores on Yonge Street.

The capable supervision who accompanied the students were unanimous in their expression that the trip had been a decided success. The supervisors were Mrs. Allan Waddell, Matilda Supply Teacher; Bill Murdock, the bus driver, Raymond Bellinger, a Walkathon winner, Heather Duncan, Tressa Markell and Larry Cooper, students of Seaway High, Mrs. Nelda M. Hanes, the Grade Seven Teacher; and Mr. Brooks Hanes.

Funds for the trip were earned by the students and teacher by means of a 16 mile route Walkathon held on a Saturday earlier in the month when Janice Keeler, Debbie Bellinger, Raymond Bellinger, and Ricky James were the Walkathon Prize Winners. Students and teacher are grateful to everyone who helped make this field trip possible.

The following week the students with Perry Morrell as Master of Ceremonies presented a "SHOW & TELL" period in the school's auditorium accompanied with coloured slides of their very informative and amusing happenings while in their province's capital city. This was followed with presentations by the Walkathon Treasurers Evonne Kolff and Karen Baird--of an unabridged Random House Dictionary for the school's new library as well as the prizes to the Walkathon winners.

Later in the year appropriate gifts purchased with the remaining funds will be presented to a group of Crippled Children and the new Nationalview Public School where this Grade Seven will be attending in the Fall Term.

All Estimates Have Been Passed

With July 1st falling on Thursday, last week was perforce a short one for Members of our Legislative Assembly. However, the House did manage to complete a very substantial amount of work in anticipation of adjournment or prorogation early in July.

All estimates, save those of the Departments of Justice, Education and Trade and Development, have been debated and passed so that there are funds available for government projects, pensions and other provincial responsibilities regardless of the timing of the general election. Some of the most interesting debates centred around the future operations of the new Department of Transportation and Communications (the former Highways and Transport Departments). A bill was introduced by the Prime Minister which changes the whole trend of spending for transportation--from roads, streets and highways to subways and rapid transit services. As mentioned in my previous report, Members representing rural areas are greatly concerned that this change in emphasis will not destroy or prevent development and improvement of highway and road services in those important parts of Ontario lying outside and indeed away from our metropolitan areas.

A very welcome amendment to the Workmen's Compensation Act was introduced to provide, as of August 1st next, an increase in benefits paid to injured workmen, to their widows and dependents. In the ever rising tide of inflation so many of our people on superannuation or pension are being financially squeezed that relief for any segment of this group is a welcome addition to provincial spending.

Tree Growers Field Day
 On Saturday, June 26th, approximately 90 persons met at the Christmas tree farm of R. G. Stevenson, near Oxford Mills for the 1971 Christmas Tree Growers Field Day. The field day was sponsored jointly by the Ontario Department of Lands & Forests and interested local growers.
 Following the welcome given by Phil Anslow, Timber Supervisor of the Kemptville District, Mr. Cal Kirby, Department Entomologist from Toronto, gave an execellent talk and slide presentation on protecting christmas trees plantations from damage caused by weevils and sawflies. This was followed by an enlightening talk on Christmas tree marketing
 by Ernie Danes, Special Crops Forester from Toronto.
 Next, three different methods of tree baling were demonstrated by Sam Manneta, Pontypool, E. Johnston, Iroquois, and R. G. Stevenson, Oxford Mills.
 Following lunch, the use of herbicides in Christmas trees plantations were discussed by C. Coons and M. Schaefer, Department Foresters from Kemptville.
 The tour of Mr. Stevenson's plantations and demonstrations took up the remainder of the day.
 E. F. Johnston, Timber
 Supervisor from Lake Erie District gave an interesting demonstration on training crews to trim scotch pine.

Sam Manneta and R. G. Stevenson also demonstrated t their approaches to scotch pine trimming. E. F. Johnston discussed balsam fir management for christmas tree production.
 Mr. Stevenson's tree nursery was visited and his experiments in growing Douglas Fir was most interesting.
 Finally on the program
 R. G. Stevenson's land clearing projects were visited. A brush cutter was demonstrated in a scotch pine plantation which was to be cleared and planted again next year.
 Following the brush cutting, a large breaker plough was used to tear out the stumps and plough the land.
 The excellent weather and the varied approaches to Christmas tree management on the Stevenson farm both contributed to a very enjoyable day for all in attendance.
