United Counties War Loan Objective Is $3,100,000

It was announced officially that the objective for the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry for the Fourth Victory Loan Campaign has been set at $3,100,000. This is $1,200,000 higher than the $1,900,000 quota for the second and third loan drives and one-third more than the $2,352,400 total subscribed during the last campaign. The fourth Victory Loan campaign will get under way across the Dominion on April 26.

Announcement of the counties' objective was made by F. B. Brownridge, MLA, and general campaign chairman for the United Counties unit of the National War Finance committee, who declared the substantially increased quota would call for a "determined effort", on the part of citizens in order to make the drive successful.

S. W. Harris, unit organizer, stated that quotas of the 13 canvassing districts have been increased substantially in order to give an equitable distribution over the three counties.

The Literary Society at C.H.S. met in the assembly room Friday afternoon to decide the winners of the H. S. McMurray trophy for Junior Oratory. There were five speakers taking part, three of whom entered the contest from grade IX. It was a most successful exhibition of talent and good evidence that willingness to work and ability to speak in public is still a part of our student character. The speakers were Arnold Barrett (senior) Don McDonald, Marjorie McMillan, Keith Bryce, Neil Kelly (Juniors). Arnold Barrett and Neil Kelly were the winners and will represent our school in the Ker trophy contest to be held in the High School Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. will be in attendance, the Judges will be the principal of the Ottawa Normal school, Mr. S. F. Rivers, and two members of his staff, Mr. J. K. Evans and Mr. G. R. Smith. This will be the second time the event has been held in Chesterville, and it is hoped that our representatives will retain the trophy, for 1943.

Other high lights of the Literary Society program, were piano duets by Marjorie Summers and Florence McMillan, and a piano solo by Doreen McLean. The president of the Society, Ron McMillan, presided. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Opal Renwick. Mention was made of the activities of the society for the year, and more recently of donations to the Red Cross, and to the High school which benefited by a gift of nine very fine record albums to protect our growing Phonograph record library.

The public is invited and indeed urged to attend the Thursday evening Oratory Contest. You will be proud of your school representatives.

Blood Donors Requested For Red Cross Clinic

Because of the difficulties of transportation the Red Cross of Canada is organizing Mobile Blood Clinics to travel from place to place and gather blood, which will later go to save lives on all the fighting fronts.

One such unit will call at Chesterville in about ten days and it is hoped to have a very large number of blood donors available. The President of the Chesterville and District Red Cross asks that the Secretaries of each unit will gather the names of all those willing to donate and to forward the list at the earliest possible date—to Mr. Leo Gallagher, who continues in charge of the work. Any person who is interested should contact either the Secretary of their Red Cross Branch—or Mr. Leo Gallagher, as soon as possible.

A staff of Registered Nurses is needed to work with Dr. Dunming and Mrs. W. O. Dixon will be pleased to hear from any R.N. who is willing to serve.

FROM INDUSTRY TO FARM LABOUR

There is every assurance that the labor shortage on farms will be fully met this year. Selective Service offices have been instructed that experienced farm help at present in industry are to be reassigned to farms just as soon as the farm work starts. This is virtually a compulsory order irrespective of the disparity between factory and farm wages. Once the work permits are cancelled the men slated for the farms cannot get other factory jobs unless they apply to Selective Service and if they do apply they won't get the permits. Finally unless they do go back to the farms they lose their classification as farmers and are subject to army call. It is estimated that the new regulations will see the return of approximately 175,000 farm trained men to the land during the current crop year. While many of the number are working in war industries under temporary permits a still larger number left the farms last fall to take work in the lumber camps with the understanding that they would return to the farm in the spring. Men and boys were more numerous than women and girls in Canada's farm population at the time of the 1941 census, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported. The total farm population was 3,163,288. Of these 497,545 were boys and 478,766 were girls less than 14 years of age, while 1,208,344 were males and 978,533 were females of 14 years and upwards. There were 313,396 persons more than 9 years of age living on farms in 1941 who were not on farms in 1931. A total of 268,285 farms reported the employment of hired labor in 1940, and the total number of weeke of hired labor was 7,226,381. Total wages paid were $61,517,750 and the value of room and board for hired labor was $23,391,390. Quebec had the largest farm population of any of the provinces, 846,248, with Ontario second with 704,016.

BEER RATION BOOKS EARLY IN MAY

Throughout Canada the agitation in respect to the curtailment in the supply of beer continues and all sorts of expedients are suggested to meet the situation. In Ontario the Chairman of the Liquor Control Board intimates that early in May beer will be rationed in book form. Mr. Gordon states that because of restrictions on wine and liquor people are drifting to beer and there isn't enough of that commodity for all who desire it and there will be a shortage. The Chairman declares that absenteeism in war plants was caused by men quitting work to line up at beer warehouses. He would not say that the present beer warehouse distribution system would be changed and taken over by the Government but some scheme would be devised to correct matters. Mr. Gordon announced that with the Federally ordered reduction in alcoholic strength of all liquor in Canada Liquor Board stocks on hand had not been tampered with. He was convinced that where water was used to weaken spirits he did not think the price should be lowered as where the alcoholic content had been reduced the duties were increased. He said a $2.00 bottle of rye whisky cost 72 cents to manufacture or $8.60 a dozen on which there was $11.65 Dominion Government Tax.

CARDS, DICE, STRAWS, SETTLE ASSESSMENTS

The pressing question of the urgent need for a thorough revision of the Assessment Act has again been revived in the Legislature. Politics does not enter into the matter as both Liberals and Conservatives seem agreed in view of the steadily changing situation as regards real estate that some measure of reform is long overdue. It is probable that a special sub-committee of the Legislature may shortly be appointed to study the Act and bring it up to date. Mr. Leopold Macauley contends that the Act as it stands needs adjustment and clarification. Time and money were wasted in complicated legal discussions on municipal assessments which sometimes had to be settled by the turn of a card. To which Premier Conant added "And even dice." To which Mr. Macauley said "And even with straws after $30,000 had been spent in litigation in one case." Which would go to show that both these leading legislators regard the whole matter as a good bit of a gamble at present.

VOLUME OF PRODUCTION RATHER THAN STRIKES

One looks with wonder and amazement at the strikes that break out here and there.

Labor seems to be under the impression that strikes can increase wages.

They may, of course, in some instances, but an increase of wage rates, if generally applied, would not increase, would almost certainly decrease the real income of the workers! Wages are costs, costs are a part of prices. Price, not infrequently, affects the volume of demand, total wage payments may fall even while wage rates rise.

This happened very clearly in the United States in 1937. In that year business started to move ahead. Wage rates rose sharply. There was a business relapse. Total wages and salaries were $3.8 billion less in 1938 than in 1937—did not recover the 1937 level until 1940. The same thing happened, though in milder degree, in Canada.

Consider the situation in the ten years 1929-38, the period immediately preceding the war.

Total wages paid in Canadian manufacturing varied from $602 million in 1929 to $297 million in 1933. Labor received a slightly higher percentage of the net value of products in 1929 but not much.

If the percentage paid in 1933 had been exactly equal to that paid in 1929, labor would have had almost six million dollars more but it would still have had $299 million less than it received in 1929.

The vital interest of labor is in the volume of production rather than in the rate of pay. Strange though that may seem to some who have not given the question much consideration.

PRICES, WAGES FROZEN IN U.S.

Just when the stock markets were gaining their old aplomb and hitting new peaks President Roosevelt intervenes with his hold-the-line order and the bears reap a harvest. He directs that virtually all prices be frozen and wage increases restricted. A price ceiling has been placed on all cost of living items and any unfair prices are to be reduced. No general increases in wages will be granted, except under the War Labor Boards "Little Steel" formula or to "correct substandards of living."

FIGHTING CANCER FORWARD STEP

With the approval of both sides of the House a bill setting up a $500,000 cancer treatment and research foundation has been given second Reading in the Legislature. The Minister of Health explains that the bill provides for an advisory Medical Board representing branches of the Medical Profession. The foundation will be a corporation of seven to ten members appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council. Ontario already stands in the forefront in the fight against Tuberculosis and this departure will start an equally effective battle against another dread scourage.

CONSUMPTION OF CIGARETTES

When sending parcels of comforts to the boys overseas, along with a variety of good things to eat, we invariably include a few packages of cigarettes. Our boys appreciate these smokes according to letters received by friends and relatives, as well as occasional suggestions from the boys themselves by way of overseas radio broadcasts to 'keep them coming.' Athough the Bureau has no record of the number of smokes actually sent abroad to the boys in uniform, the quantity must be tremendous.

The smoking of cigarettes has had a spectacular growth in Canada during the past twenty-odd years. In 1919 for instance, the year following the end of the last war, there were approximately 1,553,000,000 factory-made cigarettes released for consumption in Canada. By 1934 this total had grown to 4,822,000,000 and by 1942 to 10,240,000,000. The figure for 1942, is of course, an all time high record. This huge advance is due to some considerable extent to the increased use of cigarettes by the ladies, but the general upswing in the earning power of the average Canadian has also had much to do with it.

Although these figures are really very impressive, they by no means represent the total amount of tobacco consumed by Canadians in a year. There are thousands who prefer to "roll their own," many who prefer the pipe to the cigarette, and still more who prefer the cigar or "stogie" as they are sometimes called.

A large part of the tobacco used by Canadians is grown in this country, although some is still being imported for blending and other purposes. In 1942 the commercial production of leaf tobacco in Canada amounted to 83,192,900 pounds as compared with the 1941 production of 91,160,600 pounds. Most of the decrease occurred in the Ontario flue-cured crop where heavy frost destroyed six million pounds. In Quebec approximately one million pounds of flue-cured, cigar and pipe varieties were lost through frost.

The acreage planted to tobacco in 1942 was 75,200 an increase of 4,600 over that of 1941. The average yield per acre was lower for all types and particularly for flue-cured which occupied the greatest acreage.

POTATOES

With the war demand for more good potatoes in 1943 comes the need for planning and action by potato growers. Time, labor, machinery, fertilizer and spray materials must now be conserved as never before to avoid lost motion and waste of chemicals. Eleven per cent more potatoes is the goal in 1943, and this can be readily attained with approximately the same amount of labor and materials as was required for the 1942 crop, if proven sound practices are more generally followed.

All good potato growers will agree that the average yield in 1942 of 140 bushels per acre is not good enough. Many growers average more than double this yield, which means that many other growers are producing far below average yields. The most frequent cause of low yields is poor seed. Next is low fertility and poor methods of pest control. It is fundamental to start off a crop with good seed. Otherwise the fertilizers and spraying materials used are wasted. The country simply cannot now afford to waste any materials, time and labour on fields planted with cull seed, especially when good certified seed has been made available in quantity to the country for the express purpose of aiding the industry in that respect.

A survey has shown that in some provinces less than 10 percent of the seed planted would qualify to certification standards, and that many fields are planted with a quality of seed which could not possibly produce a good crop, no matter how much fertilizer was used. If every grower planted certified seed, either the crop could be doubled, or the present quantity produced annually could be harvested from about half the present acreage.

This gives food for thought especially when it is realized that most of the certified seed produced in Canada has to be exported to find a market, and that another million bushels are sold annually as high grade table potatoes because of the lack of home demand for high quality seed. Countries, thousands of miles away are paying high transportation charges to obtain Canadian certified seed by the shipload every year. About two million bushels are exported annually, while only about half a million bushels are sold in Canada each year as seed. Much of the acreage at present is planted with inferior seed, the bulk of which might be used for starch purposes or fed to stock.

A doting aunt and uncle were taking a very small but very lively boy for a walk. They kept him between them in order to protect him against any danger.

"Hullo, Bobby!" an acquaintance hailed the little fellow. "Is that your daddy and mamma?"

"No," reported Bobby, "they're my convoys!"

..—V...—

The colored soldier had been peeling potatoes until his hands ached. Turning to a fellow K.P., he said: "What dat sergeant mean when he calls us K.P.?"

"Ah dunno," replied his co-worker. "But from de look on his face, Ah think he meant 'Keep Peeling'."

Yes, "we have a big job to do yet"

WHEN they come home—those boys who are fighting now—make them want to stay home. Make them happy and contented on the farm. They will have new ideas they want to try out. They may want to go in for new breeding stock; new crops; work out a drainage or irrigation project; do a big job of fertilizing. You are wearing out implements and equipment which cannot be replaced now. You may want to erect new buildings, or to add to present buildings. You may wish to modernize your farm with water or electricity. You may want a new motor car—new conveniences and comforts for your home. These things cost money. Save money now and invest your savings in Victory Bonds. They will provide cash for things you will need when the war ends.

• • • •

You can buy Victory Bonds for cash in a lump sum; or you can arrange to pay for them in convenient instalments over a period of six months.

Your Victory Bond salesman will be glad to tell you full particulars.

WHAT IS A VICTORY BOND?

A VICTORY BOND is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the full face value of the Bond at the time stipulated, with half-yearly interest at the rate of 3% per annum until maturity.

A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada. The entire resources of the Dominion stand behind it. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest.

A Victory Bond is an asset more readily converted into cash than any other security.

THE BIRD TRAP

Harry built a trap with bricks to try to catch the birds;
He did it to annoy me, 'cause him and me had words.
I thought about my Robin-bird, that sings to me all day,
And I worried and worried 'till I thought I'd better pray
And ask the Lord if He would send a big bright Angel here,
To knock the bird-trap over so my
Robin needn't fear.
I said that it was on the shelf beneath the apple-tree,
And please would He be quick because the birds would want their tea.
But when I pointed out the trap upon the dickies' shelf,
He said: 'Why worry an Angel? Knock it down yourself.'
So I did!

Out of the FRYING PAN and into the FIRING LINE

Save ALL WASTE fats & bones

Canada needs and must have every spoonful of fat drippings, every piece of scrap fat and every bone from every kitchen in Canada.

Fats make glycerine and glycerine makes high explosives. Bones produce fat. Also glue for war industry.

Don't throw away a single drop of used fat—bacon grease, meat drippings, frying fats—every kind you use. They are urgently needed to win this war.

Strain all drippings through an ordinary strainer into a clean wide-mouthed can. Save your scrap fat (cooked or uncooked) and all types of bones—cooked, uncooked or dry.

When you have collected a pound or more of fat dripping, take it to your meat dealer who will pay you the established price for the dripping and the scrap fat. Or you can dispose of them through any Municipal or Salvage Committee collection system IN EFFECT in your community.

Be a munition maker right in your own kitchen. For instance, there is enough explosive power hidden in ten pounds of fat to fire 49 anti-aircraft shells. So—every day, this easy way, keep working for Victory for the duration of the war.

Passed Away At Morristown Centre, N.Y.

(Ogdensburg N.Y. Journel)

Our community was deeply saddened and shocked on Tuesday, March 30, 1943, when it was learned of the sudden call that had come to one of our best loved children Joan D. Durant, eldest daugther of Mr. and Mrs. Ross C. Durant of Morristown Centre.

Although but at the tender age of 12 years, she had made a host of friends both old and young who knew and loved her.

Joan was a very bright and active 7th Grade student at Morristown Centre school, also Sunday School and church at Galilee Methodist church.

Taken ill on Friday, March 26th, with a cold, and failing to respond to medical care virus pneumonia developed and she rapidly became worse, and on Sunday was removed to A. Barton Hepburn Hospital by Nichols Ambulance Service. All that medical care, special nursing and loving hands could do failed and dear Joan passed peacefully into rest on Tuesday, at 10.15 a.m.

The funeral was held Friday from the home of her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Orren Durant 513 King St. Ogdensburg, N.Y., with Rev. Geo. E. Dands conducting the prayer service at the home, after which the remains were removed to Galilee Methodist church.

The church was crowded with friends and relatives who had come to pay final tribute to a beautiful and cherished memory.

A very comforting and inspiring service was conducted by Rev. Mrs. O. E. Raymond assisted by Rev. G. E. Dands.

A solo, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus", was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Lawrence Havens a former school teacher of the deceased.

There were a profusion of beautiful flowers and tokens of respect too numerous to mention.

The pall bearers were four young friends: Alton Wright, Ivan Fulford, Keith Van Hyning and Glenn Carr.

The remains were laid to rest in Pine Hill Cemetery Eel Weir.

Those left to mourn her loss are, parents Mr. and Mrs. Ross C. Durant (nee Verna McLean, formerly of Chesterville), one brother Gerald Clark, one sister Dawn Loraine, maternal grandfather John A. McLean, Hallville, paternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Orren Durant of Ogdensburg, N.Y., besides many aunts, uncles and cousins. Relatives attending funeral from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Durant of Winchester, Mrs. Dan Shaver, Mountain: Mr. and Mrs. Ross Beckstead and son Barton of Aultsville; Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Beckstead and son Wilson of Aultsville: Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Black, Morrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Durant, Prescott; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Greer, Prescott: Mr. and Mrs. Murray McLean and Joyce of Massena, N .Y.. Mr. and Mrs. Keith McLean of Massena, N. Y., and Mrs. Earl Darling, Poughkeepsie, N .Y.

7TH AVE OSNA

Mr. Willis Warner spent Monday with his mother Mrs. Ellen Warner and her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. J. Blackadder, Mille Roches.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Flegg and Arlene were Sunday tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hollister and Mr. and Mrs. B.J. Hollister, North Valley.

The farm house and large adjoining shed of Mrs. Jas. Green was completely destroyed by fire about four Saturday afternoon. The fire, starting round the kitchen chimney, was fanned by a high north wind and neighbours coming to help were unable to get out any of the contents of the bazing building. There was no insurance. Mrs. Green and her young grand-daughter Joyce Stata were alone when the fire was discovered.

Mrs. Walter Gallinger was a recent guest of her grand-daughter Mrs. Mac Otto and Mr. Otto and family.

The Women's Association of North Valley United church, held an all-day quilting and the regular monthly meeting at the home of Ellard Zummach on Wednesday last. There were 8 members and 2 visitors. The roll call was answered by Easter Bible verse. The next meeting will be at the home of the secretary Mrs. Clifton Gallinger.

"How's business?" asked one business man of another in a Berlin street.

"Better," said No. 2.

"Really?" queried the surprised No. 1.

"Yes, better than tomorrow."

Husband—What! Two new hats! Doesn't that wreck our budget?

Wife—Of course not, darling. Don't you recall that we made a liberal allowance for overhead expenses?

The latest Chinese sign story is the one about the theatre marquee in Canton, China, announcing the arrival of a vaudeville troupe. It said: "Amazing! Colossal! Terrific! Each act is better than the next!"

CLEAN CROPS FOR SUCCESS
(Experimental Farm News)

To be successful in any enterprise it is necessary to apply the most up-to-date methods. A clean field of vegetable crops is like a well managed house where the least amount of dust, moths, and salvage are to be found. Careful management of the soil, disposal of waste materials, use of manure and fertilizer, control of weeds and the protection of the plants against insects and diseases, are all comparable to good house keeping, states T. F. Ritchie, Division of Horticulture, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Clean fields are an indication of prosperity in the offing and it is much better to have the crops making use of all the plant food and moisture than to have them competing with weeds. Just as soon as the plants are large enough so that the rows can be seen, cultivation should be started, using the wheel hoe close to the rows and the mower or horse drawn cultivator where the rows are wide enough. Frequent scuttling will keep the weeds down. Hoeing and thinning should be done promptly so as to encourage the plants to make rapid unchecked growth. Where the plants have been transplanted, cultivation should be given as soon as possible. It is not necessary to give deep cultivation in the fore part of the season. Less injury will be done to the roots where shallow scuttling is given and just as good results will be obtained.

Keep all weeds from going to seed no matter how small they are, as the seeds from these plants will insure a good stand of weeds the next season. Prevention is better than cure. Be prompt with all disease and insect control measures. Obtain a spray calendar and other publications on vegetable growing from the Publications and Extension division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. The materials needed for the disease and insect control work should be on hand for immediate use. The way to be successful in vegetable crop production is to be ready to cope with any emergency

WE CAN'T FIGHT IF WE DON'T EAT!!

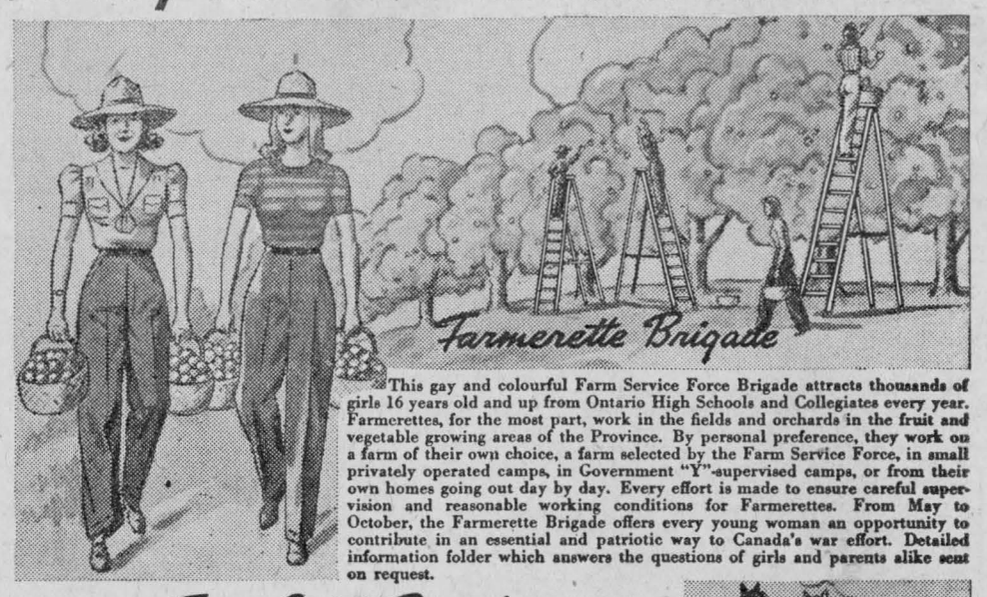

..We won't Eat if YOU don't help Ontario Farmers THIS SUMMER!

No longer can anyone sit back calmly with the knowledge that Canada is a great storehouse of food—that our fighting forces and we at home are sure of ample food supplies. The beef shortage and the rationing of foods are evidence that supplies are growing scarce.

There are two reasons for present and threatened food shortages. First, our nation is exporting more food than ever before in her history. Second, our farmers are short-handed. They need help because agricultural workers have left them to join the armed forces and to work in munitions plants at wages higher than the farmer can pay.

Because of the nature of his work, the farmer's greatest need for help comes with seeding in the spring and ends with late harvesting in September. There are two very difficult peaks to get over with haying and harvesting in the Summer when the demand for manpower on the farm is tremendous.

Experience or no experience, YOU CAN HELP. There's an Ontario Farm Service Force Brigade in which you can serve regardless of age, sex or occupation. Five of the Brigades are outlined here. Study them now and fill in the coupon below for further information today!

Farmerette Brigade

This gay and colourful Farm Service Force Brigade attracts thousands of girls 16 years old and up from Ontario High Schools and Collegiates every year. Farmerettes, for the most part, work in the fields and orchards in the fruit and vegetable growing areas of the Province. By personal preference, they work on a farm of their own choice, a farm selected by the Farm Service Force, in small privately operated camps, in Government "Y"-supervised camps, or from their own homes going out day by day. Every effort is made to ensure careful supervision and reasonable working conditions for Farmerettes. From May to October, the Farmerette Brigade offers every young woman an opportunity to contribute in an essential and patriotic way to Canada's war effort. Detailed information folder which answers the questions of girls and parents alike sent on request.

Farm Commandos Brigade

Members of the Farm Commando Brigade are men (or women) who are regularly engaged in urban occupations, but who will give evening time, a half day or a day a week to help local farmers with seeding, hoeing, haying, harvesting, threshing, silo filling and other types of farm operations which require substantial but brief increases in manpower. Over 12,000 people in Ontario actually undertook this work as spare-time farm hands last summer—merchants, clerks, professional men, mechanics, salesmen and others from all walks of life and of all ages! More will be needed this year. Minimum pay is twenty-five cents an hour and those who feel charitably inclined turn their earnings over to their favourite charities. Write for information.

Holiday Service Brigade

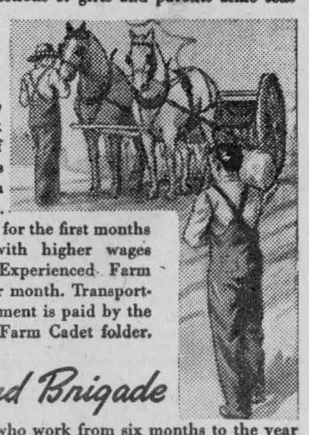

Here's a brigade for salaried persons who have a week to a month of holidays with pay. Most members of this Brigade will arrange with relatives or friends in the country to spend their holidays working with them during the peaks of haying, harvesting and threshing. If you want to help and have no farmer relatives or friends, the Ontario Farm Service Force will undertake to assign you to a congenial farmer. Thousands of Ontario citizens spent their holidays working on farms last summer, but more than ever will be needed this year. Why not join them? Write for full information today.

FARM SERVICE FORCE — ONTARIO — WE LEND A HAND

Farm Cadet Brigade

Young men from 15 years of age upward are needed on Ontario farms to help with sowing, planting and harvesting of farm crops; feeding and care of livestock including the care and handling of horses; feeding and care of poultry, hoeing of roots, corn, vegetable crops, etc. . . . Farm Cadets commence working as early as April 23rd and are required by individual farmers as late as October 1st. The Farm Service Force places them on selected farms with every regard for their welfare. Wages for inexperienced help are $25 for the first months plus board, room and laundry with higher wages arranged by mutual agreement. Experienced Farm Cadets commence at $30 per month. Transportation to the place of employment is paid by the force. Write for descriptive Farm Cadet folder.

Tune in "HELP WANTED" A C.B.C. Presentation produced with the co-operation of the Ontario Farm Service Force. EVERY WEDNESDAY 7.30 P.M.

Womens Land Brigade

These are the women who work from six months to the year 'round on poultry, dairy or mixed farms. From 20 years of age upward, they undertake milking, feeding and care of stock, field work, haying, stooking grain, threshing, working with horses and tractors. Girls or women who are willing to engage in this type of work should write for full information to the Director of the Farm Service Force. Extreme care is taken to see that members of the Woman's Land Brigade are placed in congenial situations with maximum opportunity to learn the job and where due consideration will be given for health and physical limitations.

PIE IN THE SKY HAS A PRICE TAG

BY SIDNEY MORTON

You'll be hearing a great deal about Pie in the Sky from now on. If you have not already listened to this phrase, you will. Pie in the Sky is going to be the new national dish. It will be the staple diet of all who have both feet planted firmly in the air.

What do we mean by Pie in the Sky? Well, if it means what some people think it means it means that the Government is going to look after you from your mother's pre-natal symptoms till they send a cheque for the headstone. All, naturally, at somebody else's expense. And without work.

The Pie of course refers to the social security, state medicine, and the other fine things that people are dreaming up. The word dreaming is used advisedly, for some of the Pie does not seem to be more real, nor eatable, nor practical than what you devour in dreams.

Let it be said at once that there is nothing wrong with this kind of Pie at the right time, and in the right place. But hungry as a man is, if he is being chased by a bear, would you arrest his flight, and try to stuff some foamy lemon pie in his hands? Would you rather not try to shoot the bear first? There would be time enough, would there not, after the man cooled down, and remembered he was hungry, to start giving him food? But some of our etherially minded brethren seem to think that Rommel is in his grave instead of being well entrenched in Tunisia. Many of our Sky Pie devotees, you would think, regarded the Germans as being hemmed in on the outskirts of Berlin, and that the French were still running their own republic from Paris. In other words, the Sky Pie coterie in some instances forget there's a war on, a war to be won. And they forget that we are far from winning it yet. We have only barely stopped losing, and then only in spots.

Nobody is against social security. We all want it; we all need it. But it is a question if now is the time to expect every last syllable of it to be invoked. Now, certainly, is a time when we might make a start. Let us never forget that when we talk social security, we are giving ourselves the luxury of social introspection behind the protection of the United Nations guns. Our ability even to discuss social security as being underwritten, is being paid for by the lives of young airmen over the Rhine of dying seamen off Iceland.

Therefore, it must never be forgotten that we cannot venture much beyond the speculative stage till victory is almost in the bag.

The second point is this: a lot of the talk about social security is predicted on the assumption that somebody else pays the shot. Many do not realize that they themselves are going to buy the ticket to Social Security, and not somebody else. This is no free lunch. Glorious as the tomorrow of living is going to be, we are going to have to underwrite that day with our own savings. Indeed, it may well be that we shall have to pay for it as we now do much of our income tax. It will be taken from us before we ever see it. Whether the toll will be high or low will depend on how much is included.

There is no doubt that many of us have lived wretchedly enough in the past. People today have no teeth because they could not afford preventive dentistry in the thirties. Women have rhumatism because they froze when on relief. Men can't hit the ball because they never did get back the vitality they lost sleeping half frozen around the radiators in building vestibules; women are prematurely aged with the worry of it all. The terrible thirties took a fearful toll. That kind of life must not return, and that kind of life was not worth fighting for. At least many of those who went through it think so, anyway.

But a man who wants to avoid that kind of life must also realize that it is worth paying something—in fact worth paying a great deal—to escape in future. Any man worth his salt wants to pay his way as far as he is able. Therefore, supposing security does cost a couple of extra dollars a week, it will be well worth while. If a man in this way avoids his major doctor bills, escapes dental charges, has no deluge of debt after his children are born; if he escapes having to pay the costs of supporting his aged parents, surely he has no kick coming.

This thing is worth paying for, if it is worth having. Pie in the Sky connotes, to many, something for nothing. It cannotes a life in which somebody else pays the shot. This is precisely like two people taking in each other's washing. It leads quickly to the same place that a dog goes when he chases his own tail.

Pie in the Sky is the thesis that the Lord will provide, or if He won't then the neighbours will. This world we live in was never that way before and it will not be that way now. The best kind of pie is the kind you pay for yourself.

In one of the truly great humorous books this world has seen, Don Quixote, that lovable absurd knight, sits down to a meal. But just as his nose in anticipation already relishes the meal his stomach is about to receive, and his mouth in turn waters with anticipation, that fragrant course is whisked away, and another replaces it. So it goes on, with the diner getting hungrier and hungrier and the food never getting any closer. This meal, so called, has become a classic and is known as "A Barmecide Feast." A Barmecide Feast is where you feast with your eyes only. Similarly Pie in the Sky will be that way for some of our dreamers who don't want to pay the price. They are going to find out that they are sitting down to a Barmecide feast. They will have to pay the shot. No one is going to look after them if they do not pay their share.

Social security is a great thing, and it must come. How and when are our brightest brains to decide. But Pie in the Sky is a mirage. No one is going to spoon-feed the lazy and the world owes-me-a-living crowd. They'll have to be content with living on air, or else going to work and doing their share. This is not written to scold, to condemn, but to warn that when social security does come they will get a bill for it just as sure as if they had ordered a ton of coal. This wonderful, bountiful tomorrow is going to have a price tag.

ANNOUNCER

Kay MacIntosh of Halifax is one of the latest additions to CBC's announcer staff. A Maritimer by birth and preference, Kay became interested in acting and dramatic production at college, and turned to radio because it appealed as something unusual and different. She has been with the CBC since November, 1942, and is heard on a constantly increasing number of local and network programmes originating in Halifax.

"Darling, how can I ever leave you?" pleaded the young man—at midnight.

Father (shouting downstairs): "Hurry along—take bus, train, or taxi."

Prisoners Of War Try Own Cooking

Men in captivity in prison camps have found a new hobby—through Red Cross food parcels—it's cooking! Judging from prisoners' letters, supper is the big meal of the day. Men out on work parties return in the evening tired and hungry; they want a good, tasty meal, so out come Red Cross food parcels.

Although much of the food is already prepared for eating, like salmon or kippers, and only needs heating, the men try their skill at serving things in a variety of ways—mixing the contents of food parcels with camp rations and making provisions go further. This gives variety to the diet and varies the monotony of rather unappetizing vegetables, which form the bulk of supplies distributed by the enemy. It makes an interesting break in the day, too, and thus becomes an important morale builder.

The men show their ingenuity in a hundred ways. If there is no stove in their billet, they make one from bricks and earth or biscuit-tins. Cooking utensils are tins from Red Cross parcels.

Prisoners take turns being "chef"—but anyone who shows a natural flair for cooking often finds himself permanent cook!

Sometimes there is a party to celebrate a twenty-first birthday or a wedding anniversary. Each guest contributes something from his parcel toward the feast.

Some of the prisoners are becoming first-class cooks. One wrote home to his wife, "Just wait 'till I come home. Then you'll be able to go out on Sunday mornings and I'll stay at home and cook the dinner—I'll show you a thing or two!"

Hashed biscuit pudding—soups—stews—are concocted with tremendous rivalry and the new recipes are amazingly varied when you consider that many of the ordinary ingredients used in cooking can not be sent to prison camps—they wouldn't "keep".

In the five packing depots in Canada, in Toronto, Hamilton, Windsor, Montreal and Winnipeg, 100,000 food parcels a week is the objective this year. To keep our men supplied with these necessities, it will take $5,000,000 for British and Canadian prisoners of war in Europe and $500,000 for food parcels for Canadian prisoners of war in the Far East. More than half of the total campaign fund of $10,000,000 will go this year to feed our prisoners. They look to their homeland to keep them alive and cheerful.

When you give your donation to the Canadian Red Cross—remember our prisoners in enemy hands. There are more ——this year! Give what you INTENDED to—and then some!

George was reading to his wife an exciting newspaper report of a fire. "And my dear!" he cried, "one poor woman had to escape down a waterpipe at the back of the house."

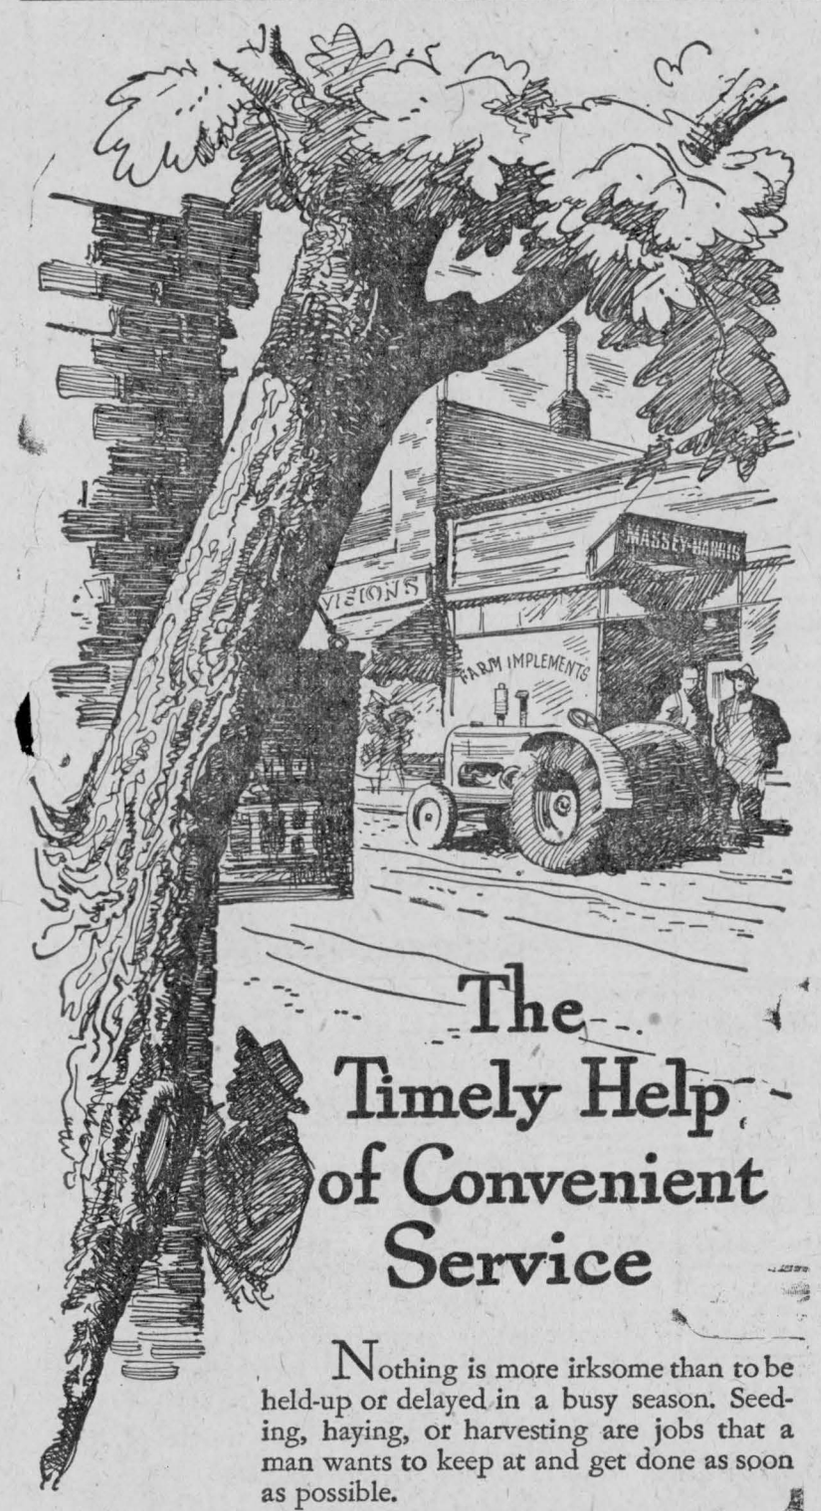

"Oh," sighed his wife, "how splendid to be as thin as that!"

"Do you know, Uncle," said little Jane, "that a baby that was fed on elephant's milk gained twenty pounds in a week?"

"Nonsense," said uncle James. "Whose baby was it?"

"The elephant's," said the little girl.

The Timely Help of Convenient Service

Nothing is more irksome than to be held-up or delayed in a busy season. Seeding, haying, or harvesting are jobs that a man wants to keep at and get done as soon as possible.

The timely help of convenient service is a mighty important factor in cutting down lost time when spare parts or machine service is required. In these days when farmers are being called upon to do more with less help it means a great deal to be able to telephone or call upon a local dealer and get what is wanted quickly and surely.

Established and organized to meet this ever-present need of agriculture for quick service contact, the Massey-Harris organization of branches, distributing centres, and local dealers has been geared to wartime needs. For complete machine overhauls and for prompt parts service, get in touch with your local Massey-Harris dealer.

Provide Now for Future Buying

Some day you will be able to make those improvements you are planning, buy new household appliances, and get the latest and best in equipment. In the meantime build up your capital by buying Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates — it's the best way to help your country and help yourself.

Wheat Germ and Your Cereals

Hello Homemakers! Do you use wheat germ in your home? Too few people seem to know about it. Wheat germ is taken out of the wheat at all milling companies where wheat flour is made. It's a valuable cereal food and fortunately it's cheap. Don't expect it to be a "cure-all"—since no one food is—but it does promote tissue building, stimulate the appetite and maintain digestive tone. The amount necessary is one tablespoon daily served on top of your cereal just as it comes from the package. It's an easy way to make sure of your Vitamin B1.

Wheat germ is excellent in Vitamin B1 value—one of the vitamins Canadian diets are most often deficient in. 100 grams (about ¾ cup) contains 700 international units of B1, our daily requirement. As a source of Riboflavin, it is high in potency and it also contains Vitamin E and Nicotinic Acid. Scientists tell us that the body absorbs twice as much iron and phosphorus from wheat germ as from an equal amount of white bread.

It is a good idea to buy your wheat germ in small quantities as it is not easily stored for long periods. If you seal it tightly in a glass jar, it will keep for at least a month. Be sure to store it in a cool, dry place—the electric refrigerator is just the spot.

And now, with cereals in mind, we present a few new recipes.

RECIPES

Bran Buttermilk Biscuits

½ cup entire bran cereal, ¾ cup buttermilk, 1½ cups flour, ½ tsp. soda, 1 tsp. baking powder, ½ tsp. salt, 1-3 cup baking fat.

Soak bran in buttermilk. Sift flour, soda, baking powder and salt together. Cut in baking fat. Add soaked bran. Stir until dough follows fork around bowl. Roll out on a lightly floured board to ½ inch thickness. Cut with floured knife or cutter. Bake on greased pan in electric oven at 450 degrees for 12 minutes.

Ginger Muffins

2 cups flour, sifted, 2 tsp. baking powder, ¾ tsp. ginger, ½ tsp. cinnamon, ½ tsp. salt, ¼ cup molasses, 1 egg, beaten, ¾ cup milk, 4 tbs. melted fat.

Add liquids to dry ingredients; stir only until flour disappears. Pour into greased muffin tins. Bake in electric oven at 425 degrees for 12 minutes.

Oatmeal Raisin Bread

1¼ cups flour, 1 tsp. salt, 2½ tsps. baking powder, 1-3 cup sugar, ¼ tsp. soda, 1 cup seedless raisins, 1¼ cups oatmeal, 1 tb. butter, 1 egg, 1 cup buttermilk.

Mix and sift the flour, salt, baking powder, sugar and soda. Add the raisins and oatmeal and mix well. Add the melted butter to the slightly beaten egg and add the buttermilk. Pour into the dry ingredients and mix quickly just enough to moisten. Pour into a greased loaf pan (about 4 x 9 inches) and bake in an electric oven at 350 degrees for 45 to 50 minutes.

TAKE A TIP ON WHEAT GERM

1. A tablespoon of wheat germ sprinkled over the cereal is the most excellent food in Vitamin B1 content.
2. Heat tends to destroy Vitamin B1—do not cook wheat germ.
3. Alkalis kill this vitamin—do not use wheat germ in muffin or soda mixtures.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. D. E. B. asks: How do you make Applesauce Pie?

Answer:

3 cups thick sieved applesauce, 1½ tbs. flour, 1 tsp. nutmeg, 2 egg yolks, beaten, 2 tbs. soft butter.

Combine ingredients and blend well. Pour into lined deep pie dish. Criss-cross top with pastry and bake in electric oven with oven near or at 350 degrees F. for 40 minutes.

Mrs. C. M. B. suggests: "Add diced sweet cucumber pickle to thick scalloped tomatoes and use as a tasty sandwich filling."
