As Good as Lemon

The proprietor of a large temperance hotel in Scotland—probably at Dundee—much frequented by travelers on account of its comfort and good catering, was struck by the very numerous demands for "shaving water" just about bedtime. Encountering one of the principal waiters bearing a large tray full of jugs of hot water, the proprietor stopped and enquired: "What's all this hot water for, John?" "Shavin' sir", came the reply. "Just wait a wee, then till I put a bit of soap into the jugs." And he did.

WEEPING ECZEMA SOON RELIEVED

A Perfect Treatment For This Distressing Complaint

WASING, ONT.

"I had an attack of Weeping Eczema; so bad that my clothes would be wet through at times.

For four months, I suffered terribly. I could get no relief until I tried 'Fruit-a-tives and 'Sootha Salva' The first treatment gave me relief.

Altogether, I have used three boxes of 'Sootha Salva' and two of 'Fruit-a-tives', and am entirely well"

G. W. HALL.

Both these sterling remedies are sold by dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

"Fruit-a-tives" is also put up in a trial size which sells for 25c.

Ottawa Winter Fair

The Ottawa Winter Fair have announced a Pure Bred Stallion sale in connection with the show which opens in Ottawa, Jan. 14th. Owing to the fact that the Ontario Stallion Enrollment has eliminated Grade Stallions the Provincial Dept. of Agriculture requested that a stallion sale be put on at Ottawa Winter Fair to supply the demand of pure bred sires in Eastern Ontairo. On looking into the question very closely an auction sale of stallions does not seem to be feasible. The sale will therefore necessarily have to be of private nature and the Winter Fair is arranging to provide stabling, at a normal fee of $2.50 per head, for stallions brought to the Show for the purpose of being sold. These animals do not have to be entered for competition in the regular calsses.

Early indications, since the entries have started to come in, are that the Ottawa Winter Fair will be a record one this year. Great enthusiasm is being shown by horse Breeders in the Harness Horse classes and the night performance of horses in harness and under the saddle will rival any previous harness horse show.

The poultry show will also be a record one as shown by the great demand for prize lists and the information on the part of Poultry Breeders. The prize list classification is one of the most complete and the prizes offered are, without doubt, the best of any poultry show in Canada.

Visitors to the Winter Fair will have an opportunity of seeing the finest display of all classes of Live Stock and poultry ever shown in Ottawa and intending exhibitors should bear in mind the necessity of making their entries early so as to ensure accomodation in case limitations should have to be resorted to.

Homing Instinct of Dogs

When the original Gambsy family moved in sleighs from near Sherbrooke in Quebec, to Clark township, in Durham county (this was over 80 years ago), the family dog followed as far as Kingston, and, on losing sight of the family there, returned alone to the original home in Quebec. Equally monderful stories of a dog's instinct for finding people or places are told in connection with the late war. Yankee soldiers in France have picked up a lot of stray dogs and the way in which some of these have kept the connection with the new found friends is extraordinary. Found under such circumstances, dogs were very grateful and affectionate to the men who rescued and adopted them. And they soon accommodated themselves to the movements and vicissitudes of their new masters. They might lie around and enjoy themselves when the sun shines or cuddle upon blankets and snooze when it was raining. But there was a great difference when the orders came to move. The dogs knew as soon as the men that action was coming, ank the chorus of yelps and barks that went up was distracting to persons not familiar with military life in the field If an infantry unit was moving the dogs of the doughboys tramped along with them as long as they were afoot. When a dog got tired he was carried or put on a truck or supply wagon. How the dogs managed to find their masters after hours and sometimes days of separation was one of the wonders of army life, but soldiers said they got their pets back more often than they lost them. A regiment is a large body of men, but dogs were lost and found regularly, and it was the most remarkable because in the clean shaven army all soldiers look pretty much alike.—Carleton Place C. C.

"Who Am I?"

Last Leap year I did not wish to embarrass mybest girl by letting her propose to me so I asked her to be my wife but she said she would rather be excused, so I foolishly excused her but I got even with her, because I married her mother and then my father married the girl. When I married the girl's mother the girl became my daughter and when my father married my daughter, he became my son. When my father married her she became my mother. If my father is my son and my daughter is my mother, then who am I?

My mother's mother, which is my wife must be my grandmother, I being my grandmother's husband, I must be my own grandfather.

Marriage is a raffle instead of a lottery. One man gets the prize while the other gets the shake.

A Renfrew soldier tells of a coincidence he had come across while in Scotland. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Durant were very much pleased last week on receiving an enlarged photo of their son Lieut. W. E. Durant who, lost his life when flying over the enemy's lines last summer. The photo is about fifteen by twenty inches and a master piece of the photographic art. A copy of it displayed in London attracted the attention of a lady there who wrote Mr. Durant of the fact with the result that he has been able to secure it.

An obituary notice out of the ordinary appears in the Marquette, Kansas Tribune which says: "Frank Walters was a unique character. An honest comment on his life is difficult to make in a newspaper. We do not want to say an unkind word about him. He put nothing into his life and got nothing out of it. His hoarded wealth brought him an early grave, and he could take none of it with him. He was honest as he saw honesty, obeyed the laws of the land when it cost him nothing; neighbored with no one; trusted no one; got all he could; and kept all he got".

John Fyke Passes Away

On Friday last after several months illness Mr. John Fyke passed away at his home here, at the early age of fifty years. He was well known by the people of this place and surrounding vicinity where he was highly esteemed. Besides the widow a grown up family of three sons and one daughter survive him being Orland of Calgary, Walter and John of Chesterville and Mrs. Hummel of Morrisburg.

The funeral took place at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, when Rev. C. A. Mullin, taking his text from the twenty-first chapter of Revelations delivered a sermon of much comfort to those who mourn.

Tien Up The C. P. R.

A practical joker tied up the C. P. R. at Chesterville on Friday evening about the the time the season's first big storm was raging. Some one, whose identity is not revealed, announced at the station that Tom Valley had been run over down at the bridge. Of course every one was off like a shot to see if anything could be done for Tom. An engine was quickly cut off of a train in the yard and sent east to render assistance and find out the circumstances of the accident. When the party reached the pump house, they were surprised to find the genial Tom sitting comfortably reading the paper. The joker had not taken time to announce that Tom was under the bridge when the train passed over him.

He also leaves two sisters, and three brothers, Mrs. Wm. Collins of Grantley, Mrs. Samuel Merkley of Matilda, Mr. Allen Merkley of Winchester, Mr. James Merkley of Dunbar and Mr. Jacob Merkley of Cornwall.

The Late Alva Coulthart

A very much esteemed and highly respected young man, in the person of the late Alaa Coulthart died at his home at Dunbar, Friday January, 3rd. He had not been well for the last four years but became seriously ill with influenza and died after a brief illness. The deceased was the eldest son of the late Mr. John Coulthart and Mrs. B. Coulthart. Besides his mother, he is survived by an only sister Miss Ida Coulthart and one brother Willie both at home.

DEPOSITS OF UNION BANK OF CANADA HAVE INCREASED TO ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SEVEN MILLION

General Growth of Assets Continues & Profits for 1918 were extremely Satisfactory

The Union Bank of Canada added a further nine and three quarter million dollars to its assets during its fiscal year ending November 30th, for which the report is just issued and this notwithstanding that the balance-sheet was made up just after the Victory Loan payment date with its heavy drafts upon the savings deposits; indeed the amount of money in the savings accounts of this bank at November 30th last was five millions less than the year before, a condition which is entirely due to the temporary effects of the loan subscription. The loss on savings was more than made up by the gain in non-interest-bearing deposits, which rose 14½ million dollars, to $58,805,200.

While the growth in the volume of assets was less striking than in recent years, the busines was of a much more profitable character. It is noteworthy that the Union Bank is now finding itself free to make a very considerable expansion of its commercial loan business and that there is evidently a plentful demand for this kind of accommodation. Current loans in Canada are now 74 millions of dollars an increase of 50 p. c. in two years and an increase of over 15 millions since 1917. In spite of this loosening of the purse-strings toward general business there is still a very strong reserve of liquid assets, totalling $72,368,327 against public liabilities of $141,553,137 or over 51 p. c. — a very ample ratio, though considerably below what was maintained during the later years of the war.

As a natural consequence of this more active state of the Bank's funds profits were materially larger than in 1917. Before deduction for taxes and donations they amounted to $824.175 as compared with $763.464 in 1917 and $651.164 in 1916. But the profits in 1917 and 1916 both were subject to a deduction of $150.000 for contingencies or depreciation, while no such appropriation is necessary in 1916, so that it has been possible this year to transfer $200,000 from profits to the Rest Account bringing that account up to $5,600,000 as well as writing off $75,000 from bank premises. This is the first addition to Rest Account made since the war began, and as a striking evidence of the earning power of the Bank under more normal conditions with its present enlarged volume of assets. The earings this year, after deducting war tax, pension fund and $19,500 of donations are $746,675 which is at the rate of 6.6 p. c. on the combined capital and Rest Account, a result which abundantly justifies the aggressive and enterprising policy of the directorate and management in the last few years.

(Burlington News Jan. 9th).

Silas E. Tracy of Ogdensburg, N. Y.- formerely of this city and his bride, who was Miss Mildred Rose Ouderkirk of Malone N. Y., arrived in Burlington last night from Malone where their marriage took place vesterday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage, the officiating clergyman being Rev. C M. Gearhart, the pastor. Mr. and Mrs. Tracy will spend a week in this vicinity on their honeymoon and will visit Mr. Tracy's relatives in Shelburne, Addison and in this city.

The couple upon arriving at the station last evening at 9.40 were met by a gathering of Mr. Tracy's business associates and escorted to the New Sherwood where an informal reception was accorded them. Access to the bridal room had been secured through arrangement with the clerk and when the couple were ushered in they found it decorated with all sorts of things suggestive of a honeymoon.

Mr. Tracy, who is a Shelburne boy, has been in the employ of the International Harvester Company for several years and has been advanced during the last year to the important position of blockman at Ogdensburg, the headquarters for this section of the country for the concern. He had previously had charge of the block in this district, was later moved to Montpeller and subsequently had charge at Malone, in which city he met his future bride.

Mrs. Tracy was graduated on Tuesday from the Alice Hyde Hospital Training school with the best wishes of faculty and of all her associates.

At the ceremony yesterday afternoon at Malone, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Violet Ouderkirk, formerly of Cornwall, Ont., now on duty at the military hospital at St. Anne's P. Q.

W. S. McMillan of Chateauguy, N. Y., a close friend of the groom and also employed with the Harvester company, was best man.

Mrs. Tracey wore a becoming travelling costume of navy blue, with black hat and black fox furs. In attendance at the marriage was a group of the faculty and graduates of the hospital training school.

The couple received a choice collection of pretty and serviceable wedding gifts from their numerous friends. They will reside at No. 61 Knox street, Ogdensburg, in appartments which are being fitted up for them.

(Rose Ouderkirk is a daughter of the late Mrs. E. E. Ouderkirk of Cornwall, and graduated as a trained nurse from the Alice Hyde Hospital, at Burlington, a day or two before her marriage).

Death of Mrs. Dan Thompson

We regret to announce the death of Mrs Dan Thompson which occurred on Dec. 30th. The deceased who was in her 46th year was a daughter of the late Alexander Lafleur and was born at Finch. She also leaves three brothers, William and Robert Lafleur, Ottawa; Dan., of Wabeno, Wis; and three sisters, Mrs. John Surrel of Chesterville; Mrs. Wm. King, Lakewood, Wis., and Mrs. L. May, Marinette, Wisconsin. The funeral took place on Jan. 1st. from her husband's residence, Marlborough St., to Woodlawn Cemetery, the service being conducted by the Rev. T. W. Cosens. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Gordon Ross, Joseph Grey, R. J. McGillis, Geo. E. West, F. Paradise and M. Fuller. Among the relatives present from a distance were Mr. Wm. Lafleur, Mr. Robert Lafleur Ottawa; Mr and Mrs. John Sorrel, Chesterville; and Mrs. John Liscumb, Newington. The deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.—Cornwall Standard.

AUTO-INTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Absolutely Prevents This Dangerous Condition.

The chief cause of poor health is our neglect of the bowels. Waste matter, instead of passing from the lower intestine regularly every day, is allowed to remain there, generating poisons which are absorbed by the blood.

In other words, a person who is habitually constipated, is poisoning himself. We know now that Auto-intoxication, due to non-action of the bowels, is directly responsible for serious Kidney and Bladder Troubles; that it upsets the Stomach, causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Sleeplessness; that chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Pain In The Back, are relieved as soon as the bowels become regular; and that Pimples, Rashes, Eczema and other Skin Affections disappear when "Fruit-a-tives" are taken to correct Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" will protect you against Auto-intoxication because this wonderful fruit medicine acts directly on all the eliminating organs.

Mr. Bradt Thanks the People of Dundas.

To the Editor of The Record.

Upon the eve of my departure from Dundas County, I wish to take this opportunity of expressing to all, with whom I have had the pleasure of associating, my deep appreciation of the co-operation, support, and encouragement which I have received on all sides in the carrying on of my work. The people generally have been generous and sympathetic toward any movement which has had for its object the advancement of the community. I have had the privilege of spending six years in the County and can truly say that I never met a more sympathetic and friendly people.

It is with feelings of regret that I sever my connections with agricultural work in Dundas. These connections are only severed in so far as my official work is concerned. I will always remember with the highest regard the people of the County. Their future achievements and success individually and as a County will be watched by me with greatest interest. It is a County rich in the possession of fertile land, rich in the possession of progressive, happy and contented citizens. The future of any such County is assured.

I feel highly honored by the banquet and presentation tendered to me, by the citizens of the County, in Morrisburg on January the tenth This event will alwaysbe remembered with kindest of thoughts toward the people who, out of the generosity of their hearts, saw fit to pay me that tribute. Mrs. Bradt and myself will associate the gifts presented at that time with the six happy years spent in Dundas. These gifts will be a daily reminder, if such were needed, of the pleasant associations with the people of the County. Their kindness will long be remmebered. We thank one and all most sincerely.

Mr. F. A. Wiggins has already taken up the work in Dundas. He has had two years of successful experience as Agricultural Representative in Simcoe Country. He comes here highly recommended. Might I ask for him, the same loyal support and co-operation in the carrying on of agricultural work in the County, as has been so generously given to me.

I wish to take this opportunity of thanking you personally for your co-operation and assistance in carrying on the agricultural work in Dundas. The Record has a big influence in giving publicity to the more important features of our work This makes it possible for a large number of people to keep tab on any new propaganda work that is started. I realize that the assistance you have given has helped materially in Dundas County.

E. P. Bradt.

Found Guilty of Murder

The most important case at the assizes in Cornwall last week was that of the King vs. John Vegrynuick, an Austrian, who was charged with murdering a fellow workman, Thomas Zweski, at Winchester on Dec. 11. His trial opened in the morning and was completed at 4.40 the same afternoon when the jury brought in a verdict of "Guilty." The only witnesses called were on behalf of the Crown, and were Mike Alysuik and Frank Sarda, Austrian laborers on the C. P. R. gang at Winchester, who described events on the night of the murder, telling how the prisoner admitted killing the man and asking them, with other members of the gang, to swear to a story to the effect that deceased had killed himself, the prisoner first placing the shot gun with which he had done the shooting, beside the dead man. Witnesses said that there was some liquor in evidence about the car, but that there had been no excessive drinking, and when asked by the Judge if prisoner had appeared to be drunk on the evening in question, replied in the negative. The evidence of Adelard Dubois, foreman of the gang, was to the effect that Vegrenuick came to his car in the morning and said that he had killed a man and that they had had a row. William Steinburg and Louis Hitsman, described conditions at the scene of the murder on their arrival shortly after the crime. Dr. McLaughlin gave medical testimony, in which he stated that death was due to gunshot wounds in the abdomen.

The defence called no witnesses. Counsel for the defence, in his address to the Jury, endeavored to secure the reduction of the charge to manslaughter, or acquittal, on the lack of any motive for the crime and attributing it to a drunken quarrel.

When the Jury announced the verdict, the prisoner did not show the least emotion, although all through the trial his eyes appeared as if he had been crying considerably.

In passing sentence His Lordship stated that the counsel for the defence had used their best endeavors to secure acquittal, but that there was a preponderence of evidence against the prisoner. The fact, also, that he did not give evidence, in his own behalf, weakened the case. Vegrynuick was sentenced to be hanged on March 29, 1918.—Freeholder.

The Courier's Exit

Journalism in Canada and the United States is receiving many jolts these days, and none more rude than the one made by the announcement that the Courier, of Brantford had ceased publication. For more than half a century that stalwart advocate of the Conservative party has been issued, and with all its vigor, it was invariably fair and courteous in discussion. Apparantly it had one of the very best fields in Canada. The city of Brantford, with a population approaching thirty thousand, is one of the most enterprising burgs, in the whole Dominion and its industries are most successful in supplying both the home and foreign markets. There is no better agricultural country lying out doors than that which surrounds that city.

Yet with all these advantages the old reliable Courier has found it impossibe to continue publication. Why? Simply because the management decided, in the light, of experience, that it would not pay.

The cost of conducting a real newspaper these days has now reached a point never dreamed of a few years ago, and this peak load of expense has compelled many papers in Canada and the United States to withdraw from the field. If the people could get a peep at the weekly cost sheets of a modern newspaper there would be widespread wonderment.

Yet the price of this necessity to the consumer has not been increased at all proportionately. A pair of boots that a few years ago cost $5 to $7 now cost from $10 $15. A suit of clothes that could be purchased for $18 now cost $30 and the former $30 suit now costs $50. Every commodity of life has soared in price. Still the newspaper with an increased cost of production. greater than the majority of commodities, remains nearly at old figure of cheaper days. The attempt to perform the impossible of making a living where, to put it mildly, there was no profit, has caused the downfall of many a newspaper.

The only solution of the problem is, as in other business, to concentrate and thus reduce th number of newspapers, which is being done very rapidly. Newspapers have to be wholesaled if the public is to get them at anything like old prices. The greater the volume of production the cheaper can the article be delivered to the consumer. One establishment can sell 20,000 papers more cheaply than can two establishments produce 10,000 papers each. That is the story, and concentration is the only possible way by which the public can be adequately and reasonably served with its news.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

Billy Fyke Writes Cheerful Letters After Christmas.

Unfortunately the wounds received by Pte. W. Fyke made it necessary to amputate his leg above the knee. The following letters were recently received by his mother Mrs. Rufus Fyke and his sister Mrs. Plantz.

My Dear Mother:—

As this is the day after Christmas I thought I would write you a few lines to let you know what kind of a dinner we had on Christmas. We had a jolly good time and nice roast turkey and plenty of every thing, the tables were beautifully set, all nicley decorated and we all had a splendid dinner and supper. After supper we all played games and spent the evening with a dandy good time. I enjoyed it fine and I guess all the rest did. We had all kind of candy and nuts. On Christmas eve you should see what Santa brought me. When I woke up in the morning I had two socks full of presents, and I had a nice piece of maple sugar. Well, Mother, I couldn't tell you what all I did get. Every bed patient in the ward got something for Christmas, the socks came through the Canadian Red Cross. Mine came from a Doctor in Toronto. I am going to bring the most of it home with me. I am getting along fine now, my leg is very nearly healed over. I expect to be home some time in January if every thing goes well. I hope you all had a good day on Christmas and all enjoyed yourselves. Was the weather very cold on Christmas? Christmas day over here was a beautiful day and to day the sun is shining nice and bright and the grass is nice and green. We have had no snow yet I haven't had any mail in 8 weeks, I don't know where it is going to. Well I will say good by for this time. Answer soon. Bill.

My Dear Sister:—

I thought I would write you a few lines to-night to let you know I am getting along fine now, I get up a little while every day and I think it does me good to be up around. I am getting stronger all the time, and can eat like a horse and we get plenty of it and it is just what I need. My leg is very nearly healed over, I will soon be able to walk on crutches. It will seem funny to you to see me coming home on crutches, but nevertheless I will be glad to get home alive. I am not the only one with a leg off. We have all kinds of wounded men in this hospital. It will seem funny to me to have to wear a cork leg, but I am glad I have my two hands, I will be able to work alright any way. Well sister how did you all spend Christmas? I hope you all had a good time and enjoyed the day. I suppose Mother was down to your place for dinner. The children, I supppose, had a good time with their presents. Well, Sister, we had a dandy day on Christmas the Sisters all worked to make things as comfortable as possible for the bed patients, and we had a beautiful dinner and supper, lots of candy and nuts of all kinds, and I got some very useful presents from the Red Cross and I am going to bring some of them home. Is Dob in the factory yet I hope he has work there all winter. By-By Bill.

Morewood High School Notes

I. We are at work again for which we are truly grateful.

2. The schools contribution to Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto was $5.00.

3. Our concert was much better in every way than that of last year. The net proceeds were over fifty per cent better.

4. About skating. We are in favour of our pupils enjoying that very pleasurable exercise. It helps to develope the physical side of the human economy and, if not over done, tends to fit pupils for mental and spiritual growth. Will the parents and others who have student boarders kindly offer any necessary advice when pupils have a tendancy to take a large proportion of physical exercise.

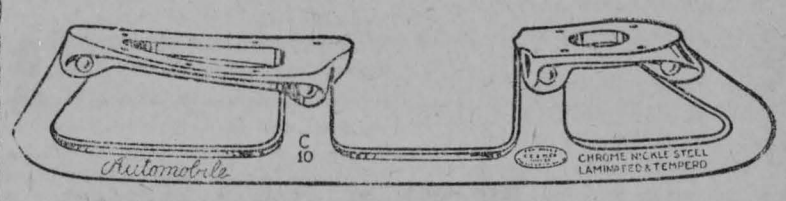

Here is an interesting quotation in favor of education—"Of 9643 of the most prominent people in the United States only 849 ended their formal education with the public school. So far as money is concerned, a course at High School has an estimated value of $18000, and Dean Holmes, of the Pennsylvania State College, declares that statistics show that four years spent in College have a cash value of $20,000. An old instructor in a famous Military College in England was asked whether the best students there had proved the best officers. He replied—"Much the best three students I ever had were Haig, Robertson and Rawlinson". The victories Marshal Foch has won have been the results of a lifelong study of the intricate problems of warfare.

Pupils are urged to bring their difficulties to the teachers.

Though much time has been lost much remains. We will do all we can to make the work a marked success.

Settling Soldiers in Ontario

(Mail & Empire)

The Ontario Government was the first to hold out special inducements to returned soldiers of an agricultural turn to take up land. It set apart a tract of fertile land to be colonized by soldiers who should be assisted by Government loans to clear and bring their free grant parcels to productivity. The soldier Settlement at Kapuskasing, in Northern Ontario, was established on these lines. The men who have holdings there appear to have made a very good start. Between the Ontario Government and the Dominion Government an arrangement has been made that will greatly facilitate the settling of soldiers on Ontario lands. That arrangement was described in our issue of Saturday. When this arrangement receives the sanction of the Legislature it will give the Dominion Government authority to expropriate agricultural land lying uncultivated in this Province and to make grant of such lands to soldiers by whom it is to be settled and worked. The private owners of such land will receive a fair price for it, the land will be brought into utility as a source of food supply, the Province will have a desirable element added to its farming population, and it will get the benefit of the money advances the Dominion Government makes to the soldier settlers placed on the land. Moreover, it will have the satisfaction of feeling that it is helping to promote the civil re-establishment of the returned men. The arrangement also puts the Dominion Government on a footing to settle returned men on Ontario Crown lands that are suitable for agriculture. Further, the Kapuskasing Soldiers' Settlement is to be transferred to the Dominion Government, and such locations there as are not yet taken up will be at the Dominion Government's disposal for returned soldiers.

Providing for returned soldiers is a responsibility, however in which the several Provincial Governments should gladly be sharers. Such of them as control their own natural resources should put large land areas at the service of the men. But the direction of the work should be in the hands of the Dominion Government. It has the machinery for handling the soldiers who desire to go on the land, and it alone can distribute them in provinces according to their wishes. Its Soldiers Settlement Board has made a thorough study of the problem, and has the business at its fingers' ends. In Ontario the soldier settlers will find opportunities that cannot be excelled, and on their part the men will be a splendid asset to the province.

A New Year Resolution

Canada, in common with the rest of the world, must husband her resources. The stupendous material wastage caused by the world war must be made good by the world at large. Moreover history proves that war-time prosperity never lasts much longer than the war. True, the great domestic loans floated in Canada should make for the avoidance of financial crises, but personal and national thrift are none the less of prime importance.

The Government is seeking to inculcate habits of thrift by its War-savings plan. It it a plea, as well as a plan, for the investment of small savings with the Government. The idea is a worthy one Its success will depend in large measure on whether or not individual citizens will cultivate the art of saving.

New Year's resolutions generally consist of an attempt at sloughing off old, out-worn, more or less evil habits. Why not celebrate this year, by taking on a nice, shiny new one and buy a war savings stamp every day or week, or month, according to the measure of your ability? Your nearest banker or postmaster will tell you how you can do it.

Salvation Army Has Big Reconstruction Programme

Though the Salvation Army has been, since the commencement of the war, one of the most active agencies dealing with the comforts and welfare of the men who have been fighting the nation's battles, it has not made a general appeal to the Canadian public. The war work of the Army has been supported largely by occasional tag days and self-denial funds; but the problems of reconstruction are so great, and the Army's program to help the men get back to civil life is so extensive, that it is compelled to appeal to the generosity of the Canadian people for financial assistance.

The Salvation Army supplies for every kind of social need; it is doing a wonderful work in providing homes for fallen women, in rescuing the drunkard, and in caring for the fatherless and neglected children, and it now proposes to very extensively increase the scope of its operations in Canada to make it easy for the returned soldier to begin the new life.

Canadian soldiers are returning from overseas as fast as steamship accommodation can be found. Many of these soldiers will not have their old situations to go back to; many of them will not have friends to appeal to. While efforts are being made to provide work for these men, it is not unlikely that there will be some unemployment and some cases of hardship. It is here that the Salvation Army is able to do some extensive relief work. It meets the soldier on his return; it welcomes him to its comfortable hostels, situated in our large centres of population; it gives him good meals at a nominal figure; befriends him in a hundred and one different ways, and finally makes some effort at least to help him find satisfactory employment and proper home living conditions.

The Salvation Army spent two million dollars on war activities and three hundred thousand soldiers were accommodated daily in the Salvation Army huts in the war area. One hundred thousand parcels of food and clothing were distributed among soldiers and sailors. War widows and orphans are being taken care of, and in many other ways, the Salvation Army has done a great deal to soften the lives of both the boys at the front and their dependents at home.

An elaborate program for the reconstruction campaign is contemplated by Salvation Army. While there are hostels in large centres of population, these are not numerous enough to satisfy all the needs in that direction, so it is intended to take over large buildings convenient for the purpose and establish more hostels in large distributing centres from coast to coast. That is the first object of the campaign to raise one million dollars.

The second object is to provide emergency receiving and maternity homes for soldiers' wives, widows, and dependent children in need. Still another object is to continue during demobilization, both in England and France, the accommodations and the equipment that have made the Salvation Army huts the popular institutions that they are among the soldier boys.

It is felt that the Salvation Army is in a position, with its war experience and its peace time work, to render valuable aid to the official Government bodies that are tackling the new peace problems. For this reason the prominent political chiefs of the country have endorsed the campaign, and have consented to act on the general committee. Sir Edmund Walker is the Honorary Treasurer, and among the prominent members of the general committee are: Hon. I. B. Lucas, Hon. H. J. Cody, Hon. R. F. Preston, Hon. G. H. Ferguson, Hon. T. W. McGarry, Hon. W. D. McPherson, Bishop O'Leary, and many others. Colonel W. S. Dinnick is Chairman of the campaign executive committee, Arthur Hewitt, first vice-president, and H. M. Cowan, chairman of the publicity committee.

"Man is a tyrant," declared Mrs. Flubdub. "Is'nt he, John?" "Really, my dear, I hardly—" "Is he or is he not?" "He is."

Tenderfoot—Pa, are trousers plural or singular?

Father—Well, if you had a pair I'd say they were plural, but if you didn't have a pair I'd call that singular.

Small Sums of Money Saved Daily Increase Rapidly.

The Canadian War Savings plan, which makes saving both easy and profitable, is doing much to teach the public what can be done by putting away small sums of money.

On this subject the Saturday Evening Post says: "Take ten cents a day, which means a deposit of three dollars every month. In ten years you will have saved $365, which will have earned $80.36 interest making a total of $445.36. This is the result of simply saving a single ten-cent piece per day. As you increase the sum saved each day the value of the steady saving is only stronger impressed. Fifteen cents a day, or four dollars and a half saved each and compounded will amount to $668.18 in ten years. Of this sum $120.68 is interest earned. Twenty cents a day or six dollars a month will amount to $890.99 of which $160.99 is interest. These sums saved would scarcely be missed from the purse of the average man. If you are able to put aside twenty-five cents a day or seven dollars and a half a month, at the end of ten years you will find $1,113.75 to your credit. If you are able to make the daily saving thirty cents or nine dollars a month you will be worth $1,336.59 to your credit. Forty cents a day or twelve dollars a month will roll up the tidy sum of $1,782.16, of which $322.16 is interest; while fifty cents a day or fifteen dollars a month will amount to $2,227.73, of which $400.73 is interest. Hence it is much to your profit to "despise not" the saving of small sums.

Now let us see what the systematic or rather progressive saving of one dollar a week can do. In one year the fifty-two dollars saved will earn, at four per cent, seventy-eight cents in interest, making a working principal of $52.78 at the start of the second year. At the close of the second year you will have $107.67; at the end of the fifth year $285.86; at the close of the tenth year $633.65. In fifteen years this steady saving of a dollar a week would show a total result of $1,056.70. At four per cent. this alone would yield a return of $42.27. At the end of twenty years this kind of saving would total $1,573.59, while the first quarter-century would find you worth $2,197.92. This sum, if you then stopped saving, at four per cent. would earn $87 91 a year. If you kept up the saving of a dollar each week for fifty years you would accumulate $8,057.16.

We MUST provide for the need of the Soldier and his family!

It is absolutely necessary to ensure certain safeguards and comforts to our boys over there and over here, so that they may be re-established in Canada, strong in body and soul, contented that we at home have stood by them to the finish. What sacrifice can we make for the boys who were prepared to sacrifice everything for us?

What the Salvation Army Has Done

It has provided comforts for fighting men since the twelfth day of the War.
Hundreds of thousands of parcels of food and clothing for the boys.
Tens of thousands of beds in Hostels in daily use in France, England and Canada.
197 Huts for Soldiers.
1,200 uniformed workers.
45 ambulances.
Thousands of War widows cared for.
Looked after soldiers' families.
Labored for the Master.
Helped to preserve the home ties.
Given the MOTHER touch to lonely men.

What Remains to be Done

Keep the Hostels open and open more, so that every returning soldier can get a clean bed and wholesome meals at a price he can afford to pay.

Provide comforts and safeguards for our boys, advancing into Germany, as well as those coming home and needing a place to eat and sleep, in Halifax, St. John, Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, London, Chatham, Winnipeg or Vancouver.

Guide and assist soldiers' families, especially the widows and orphans.

Soldiers Home January — Coming Campaign 19th to 25th

The Salvation Army is equipped and organized to take care of the soldiers' URGENT AND PERSONAL needs—needs that are imperative. It has never made a general appeal for funds to carry on this work until now. Give and give liberally. If you are not certain that your contribution will be taken up by a canvasser, send it direct to the Hon. Treasurer, Sir Edmund Walker, Toronto—subscriptions will be acknowledged.
