Seaway News, Student Exchange

This past summer, the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews (CCCJ) sponsored an English-French Student Exchange, which was open to any Canadian student between the ages of 14 and 18 years studying French.

The following Seaway students participated in the Exchange: Sheree Barclay, with Monic Cyr from Newport, Gaspe; Cathy Smail, with Helene Melnick from Mistassini, Lac St. Jean; Jo-anne Zandbergen, with Johanne Becu from Newport, Gaspe; Bill Byker, with Andre Lavasseur from Mauterive, Quebec.

Our students lived at the homes of their French couterparts for two weeks, following which the French students returned home with them for two weeks in our area.

Some of the comments we have heard are: "Even though my partner and I were poorly matched, I had a lot of fun."

"I learned a lot of French and also their way of living."

"This was also a vacation for me, as well as a time to learn French."

"Two weeks was a long time to be in a French community with only French people."

"My French improved a great deal. The family I stayed with was very nice in helping me with any problems in understanding the language. I would like to participate again next Year."

All in all, this proved to be a very good Exchange.

"Helping Hands" Receive Grant

The programme introduced in 1972 by Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde and and designed to assist with projects undertaken by retired men and women, is being utilized by an energetic group of Brinston and surrounding citizens.

An interesting day-long programme is being prepared beginning at 11 a.m. and including a free lunch and plenty of entertainment.

Grant for this Senior Citizens programme this year total $1, 215, 993. and the projects undertaken involve 28,900 people.

Lions First Meeting

The Iroquois Lions Club began the twenty-seventh year of their life in our area, by gathering on Monday night at the Legion Hall for the first regular meeting of the 1973-74 season. There was a 94% attendance and several of the Past Presidents of the Club sat at the head table. The meeting was chaired by our new President, Lion Allan Rogers.

It was a "house keeping" meeting, with several issues to be aired, in order to collect the thoughts of the members and get us into the swing of a new year's activities.

We were honoured that our immediate Past President Peter Swank was commended by the former Lions International President George Frederichs with a "100% President's Award" which was accompanied by a beautiful gold pin.

Looking over the summer, we noted that there were several events that involved many of the members: the Beer Garden, and work in the food booth at both Cardinal and at the Spencerville Fair. It was a good summer financially, as these activities netted us over $1600.

Plan CNIB Canvass in Iroquois Shortly

"September is back to school month for blind children too," said Mrs. Belle Rabb, CNIB fund raising convener for Iroquois Village.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind has on its staff trained counsellors, who, in a friendly way, get to know the parents of blind children and the children themselves, and give the best guidance and counselling available from the CNIB's long experience in this field.

"Perhaps the most difficult task," Mrs. Rabb said, "is to convince parents and teachers that children without sight can progress through the school system, get good marks, and accept higher education. The CNIB works directly with the children before they enter school and provides assistance with University and sometimes with high school education, otherwise blind children attend either the Ontario School for the Blind or go to the ordinary schools with children who can see."

The CNIB has 3 staff members working in the three United Counties: Miss Felicity Harrison who works directly with blind children and their parents and with school authorities; Mrs. Berthe Morel, R.N., P.H.N., who works with the children and school authorities on problems arising because of low vision, but not necessarily blindness; and George Patrick, District Administrator for the Cornwall district (Dundas, Stormont, Glengarry, Prescott and Russell) who is available for immediate contact and coordinates the work of various CNIB departments with the parents and local agencies.

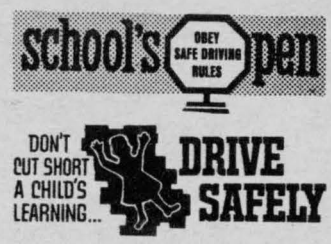

"Blind children of today can be happy, self-supporting citizens of tomorrow, and can contribute to the general well being of their community and country if they are given a chance now. Your financial support of the CNIB will greatly help this cause," Mrs. Rabb said. Under the sponsorship of the Iroquois Women's Institute and the Matilda Women's Institute, the canvass for funds will be made in Iroquois and district in the near future. Mrs. Rabb expressed the hope that when the canvassers call they would receive a generous welcome.

Are we losing control?

The economy of the western world now seems to have reached a point of crisis that must be of major concern to us all. Here at home in Canada we have been saying for years that the cost of living in all its aspects could go no higher, that rents and utilities and all the purchases we make in everyday living must show a slowing down of its upwards spiral.

We've heard too from economists that not many years from now our western society will be enjoying a four or even three-day workweek with increased pay to allow us money to look after our leisure hours expenses.

From the looks of things at the moment we are far from that utopian dream envisioned by some of these people.

Here we are reading of starvation in Africa, disaster in Mexico, terrorism in many of the countries of the world, crop shortages at home, strikes disrupting the already overburdened economy, high taxation, a charging cost of living, and still we hear that things are going to be rosy in the future.

Certainly they can be great years ahead - but with reservations. Until mankind learns to solve the problems he faces in the present society, it seems impossible to believe mankind will be swimming and fishing three days of each week in the coming years.

We've felt for some time that there is a growing spread between the "haves" and Have-Nots in this world and more than anything else this seems to be bringing about the collapse of our way of life.

Why then do we fight making the change? Is it because we enjoy such a good share of the best in the world that we don't want to share it? Could greed be making our decisions?

According to world resources we're wealthy and well fed. Some people might disagree and certainly there is a growing feeling that our government should be cutting down on assistance to other countries. The world has become so complex that it now seems that no individual can provide the answers we all seek..and that is to the question: How can we make the world a better place in which to live?

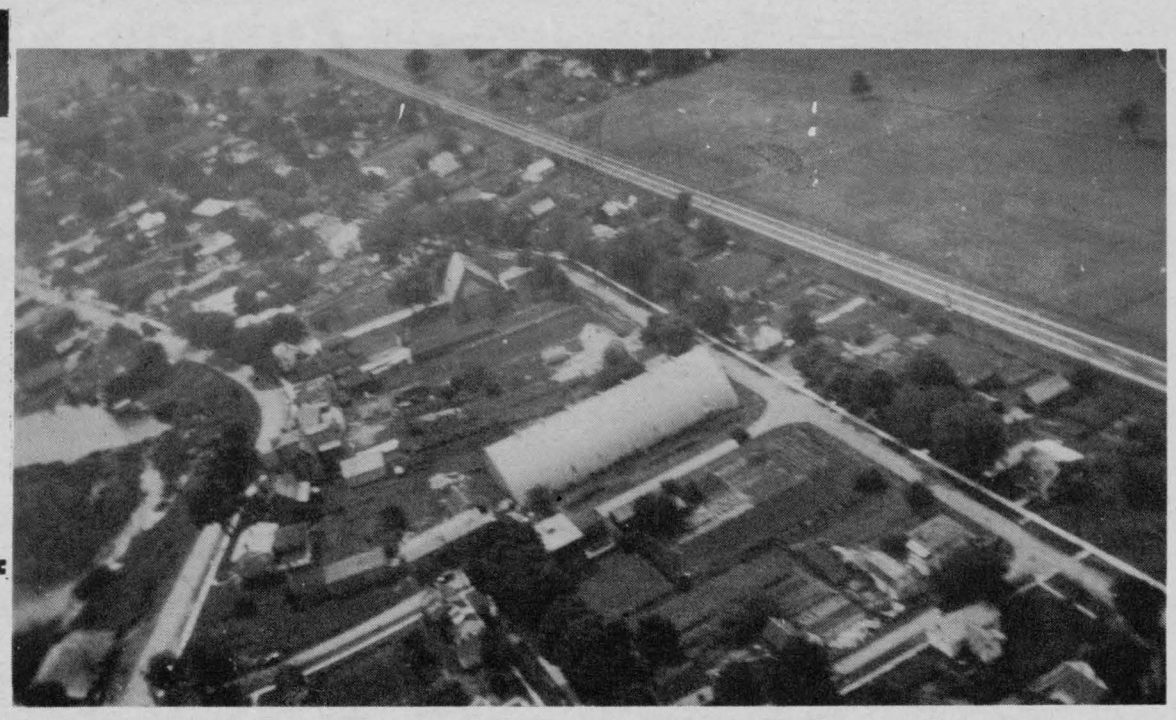

Maybe starting in our own backyard might help bring the right answers.

PICTURES ARE A PLEASANT REMINDER

The series of pictures we have been running each week on the old Iroquois have brought a great deal of pleasant memories to many a resident. And those who were not familiar with the setting in the old village may gradually get a better idea of what life was like in the former community.

The people who make up this community now are also gradually forgetting just what the old village looked like and it helps bring the buildings into a renewed focus when seen in print.

If you have some old pictures you think we could use, bring them along and let others enjoy some of those old scenes.

The Old Iroquois

ANOTHER AERIAL VIEW OF OLD IROQUOIS

This aerial view of a portion of the old Iroquois was taken well before the Seaway and Hydro projects and in the upper part of the picture can be seen the CNR mainline from Toronto to Montreal with the rails glittering. In the bottom left may be seen the old No. 2 highway running along the river bays and the outstanding barn in the foreground. Aerial photos are not always as clear as we would like and we apologize for this.

Any of our readers who have old pictures of Iroquois who would wish to see them in print are welcome to bring them in. If we can possibly use them we will.

WE'RE HOME BUT LOCKED OUT!

by Bill Smiley

Yep. We're home. Met a chap yesterday and he said, "Hey, I thought you were going to England. Better get a hustle on. You go back to work in a week."

Perhaps I should explain that this column is written about two weeks in advance usually or sometimes or occasionally or when the situation calls for it.

The last two, for example were written in London and Chester. I swear I had the only possible typewriter in Chester. My wife went out to get some dry-cleaning, spotted this office supplies place, and finagled a typewriter, an old beat-up one, on loan.

Therefore, by the time you read about me and the Old Lady living it up on the Strand, we're actually sitting in the back yard, swatting mosquitoes.

Which we did. We had left the key to the house with the neighbours. Neither they nor we knew when we'd be home.

You can guess the rest. We pulled in, absolutely pooped. Neighbours out for the evening. I tried every window any self-respecting burglar would have a crack at. Nothing doing.

We sat in the backyard, surrounded by luggage, looking and feeling like two melting ice cream cones, exchanging quips like, "Weren't none of these mosquitoes in Edinburgh."

Boy, it's something to be an international traveller. Those mosquitoes bow gracefully before they sink the needle.

It didn't bother me much. But it was almost the last straw for my wife. She was in a state of deep depression anyway, because she'd had to leave the U.K.

Bill Smiley

You may recall that she fought the idea of the trip and used every crafty feminine wile to avoid it.

From the moment I threw her onto the plane, bodily, she forgot her rotten kids, her kitchen floor, the woodwork that needed cleaning, the rugs and all the rest of it.

Right now, she's planning next year's tour of England. Between you and me, there are a few places in England where she will be banned, because she had so much fun.

This is the kid who couldn't understand why anyone wanted to travel.

Perhaps you read about those bomb scares in London. They are blamed on the Irish Republican Army.

IRA my foot. I planted those bomb scares in the English papers because it was the only way I could get my wife to leave the country.

And I don't blame her. She was asked to a champagne luncheon, whatever that is, at the Savoy. Without me.

She kissed, or was kissed by, a Welshman in Llangollen. Without me.

She walked in Hyde Park with a Dublin lawyer. Without me.

She had breakfast in bed every morning. She didn't wash a dish, scrub a floor, cook a meal for three weeks.

With the help of four bobbies I managed to get her on the plane.

From there on it wasn't so bad. It was a matter of jumping out over the ocean or landing at the so-called International Airport, Terminal 2, Toronto.

It's about even-steven. Personally, I'd jump. If I were flying again, I'd go through to Winnipeg and take a bus back to Toronto. That's how bad No. 2 is.

Anyway, the Old Lady is hooked. Already she's sending cards to Heather, The Tudor Bar, Westminster Hotel, Chester, reminding her that we want some ice in it this time.

Next year we go back for sure. So says Suse. It's a long swim, but I'll be at Halifax, cheering her as she takes off.

MARSH WORLD

by ANGUS SHORTT
Ducks Unlimited

WIDGEON — Commonly called baldpate (from the white crown feathers of the male) the widgeon is a common dabbling duck found on marshes across the west. Ranging north into the Northwest Territories, Yukon and Alaska, it is rare east of Manitoba. The widgeon is an early spring migrant, arriving with the vanguard of pintail and mallard. The male is readily identified by his white crown and large white shoulder wing patches. Females are dull brown and grey with a much reduced, dull white wing patch. The nest is built in grasses or other cover on dry land usually, but not always, near water.

Autumn Showcase at Kemptville College

Autumn Showcase at Kemptville College on Sunday, Sept. 23, promises something for everyone.

Exhibit chairman Don MacDonald says this year the Showcase will attempt to dramatize the whole spectrum of agriculture in Eastern Ont., from food pricing to the herbicide and pesticide testing.

Of special interest to animal owners will be a tour of the Regional Veterinary Laboratory which deals with between 60 and 70 species of animals each year. One display will show various types of fetus, including a deer, beaver, skunk and calf.

The Home Economics Section in addition to displays in clothing, meal management and nutrition will feature a demonstration titled, "Enjoy Ontario Food".

The visitor will be able to see how cheese and milk are tested. Again, the College will be making maple candy.

A new twist will be the display of a crop diary, a simplified method of recording crop production problems.

The Agronomy Section says this type of record can be useful to farmers in solving future production problems.

As well, the visitor will be able to see dairy and beef cattle, pigs, ducks and pheasants used in the College's research programmes. The main thrust of animal research over the past year has been in nutrition, health and feeding.

Besides tours of the crop area (about 290 acres have been planted this year) the Agronomy Section will be featuring the research story on rapeseed and faba beans. The latter is a high protein source, as yet unproven as a viable crop for Eastern Ontario. It is especially suitable for dairy cattle.

The College has a large campus ideal for family picnicking. Refreshments will be available.

The grounds and buildings will be open between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m.

ANNOUNCEMENT

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS:

As of October 1st, 1973, the yearly subscription rate for The Iroquois Post will be $6.00 per year in Canada, $7.00 per year in the United States and 15c per copy over the counter in stores selling this newspaper.

Increased costs of newsprint and wages, as well as related printing materials amounting to about 40% since our last rate increase, coupled with increased postal costs have forced us to take this price increase.

These costs have been mounting steadily in the past few years and increases are forecast for the immediate future as well. We find it impossible to keep producing at the same subscription rate under these circumstances.

By making changes in our processes in printing over the years we have tried to keep these costs in line but some costs, such as materials, are far beyond our control.

Subscriptions will be taken at the old rate until September 30th, 1973.

Thanking you for your support over the years and looking forward to a continuance of that support in the years to come.

Yours sincerely

Knox P.Y.P.S. Hold Bowling Outing

The opening fall meeting of the Knox P.Y.P.S. was held in the form of a bowling outing at the Ingleside Bowling Lanes Monday evening, Sept. 10th, with 13 members and leaders participating. High singles went to Harry and Lorraine Norton who were awarded a "funny prize" each.

Upon returning to the church-hall, opening worship was conducted by Norman Ladouceur, the group spirit-song being "Called to Walk in the Way", followed by the Scripture reading St. John 15: 5-16 by Miss Anne Yee and the Rev. Hibbs leading the members in a responsive prayer. The Offering was collected by John Dewit and dedicated by group prayer.

The Rev. Hibbs conducted the election of a new President and Vice-President, with Margaret Dewit receiving the majority of votes for the presidency and Joan Ladouceur the vice-presidency. The complete slate of officers include Gwenn Smollett, Secretary and Norman Ladouceur, Treasurer.

Following roll call, the minutes of the June meeting were read and approved, and the treasurer's report given, the latter showing a good balance following the summer car wash projects, strawberry social and the present Crab-apple Jelly-Jam sales now in progress. It was agreed to have another car wash at the church parking lot Saturday, Sept. 29th, from 1-5 p.m.

Coming plans include a fall outing to Toronto the weekend of Nov. 2-4 as guests of a former member, Miss Gail Smollett; decoring the church sanctuary on Oct. 4th for the Thanksgiving Sunday Service; sale of 1974 Presbyterian Church date calendars; entering a church banner competition being conducted by the Presbyterian Church in Canada for young people to celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the Church in Canada, 1974-75; and the sale of Recipe books, jelly and calendars at the Ladies' Aid annual Food Bazaar in the Civic Centre, Oct. 26th.

The food and recreation committees were appointed for the next meeting, Oct. 15th, with the Minister and Margaret Dewit having the study. On a motion of adjournment, refreshments were enjoyed, followed by the Mizpah Benediction.

Old Timers Organize

At a meeting well attended Sunday, Sept. 9th in the Morrisburg Civic Centre, officers for the 1973-74 season were elected as follows:

President - Alex English
Secretary-Treasurer - Murray A. Ball
Manager, Trainer - Junior Perrault
Coach - Herbie Delage

It was decided that all players must be 30 years of age or over to participate. Entrance fee of $5 per player to be paid to Mr. Delage, Mr. Ball or Mr. Perrault on or before Oct. 1st in order that they be eligible to play.

Ice is now being booked every Sunday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. for games as well as Thursday from 9 to 10 p.m. for practice.

Old Timer Hockey Clubs from many centres will be entering the rink to contest the strength of the Morrisburg Club. Efforts are now being made to have Montreal Canadians Old Timers here, as well as the Flying Fathers.

Mr. English of the Clothing Barn has been kind enough to supply 10 feet of his space at the Morrisburg Trade Show to the hockey club to publicize this winter's activities.

As we look to the fall season, the Trade Fair is slated for October 19 and 20, on Friday and Saturday evenings, again in the Seaway District High School. We also heard about the progress of the plans for the new Medical Building, which is to be started as soon as possible. Lions are vitally interested in it, as we are pledged to raise a total of $10,000 toward its cost. We already have a start in the amount of over $1100, from a Walk-a-thon last year.

The primary purpose of any business is to make a profit. Without a profit, there is no business. That's the free enterprise system.

RCA recently compiled some interesting statistics on the time in which a typical manufacturing company has to make a profit.

About $12,000 investment in tools and supplies is usually required for each employee, and most of the average business day is spent just paying off the normal costs of doing business.

In fact, only about 19 minutes are left in the day to make a profit. The eight hours breaks down like this:

3 hours, 55 minutes will be needed to pay for materials and supplies.

2 hours, 19 minutes for wages and salaries.

43 minutes go for taxes.

14½ minutes pay for research and promotion.

29 minutes are spent for repairs and facility replacement.

19½ minutes are left to make a profit to stay in business and half of this time is spent for stockholders' earnings.

In other words, if you, as an employee, waste only 10 minutes a day, you're jeopardizing your security and steady income, and if more than 10 minutes of unscheduled production time is lost during a day, the day's profits are lost.

It's something to think about the next time your mind begins to wander away from the job.

Readers' questions are welcome and should be sent to Box 5875 London, Ontario.

THIS WEEK from Ottawa

FIGHTING INFLATION

Prime Minister Trudeau outlined in the House of Commons a series of measures to combat inflation – some will require legislation to be put into effect.

- The expected five cent increase for bread has been halted by a subsidy for wheat consumed by Canadians.

- The government will subsidize the cost of milk up to five cents a quart in those provinces where prices to consumers are held down for a year.

- A freeze has been placed on the price of gasoline and heating oils to last until January 30, 1974. Steps will also be taken to ensure that Canadian prices are protected against international increases.

- A new pipeline is proposed to ship Canadian oil into the Montreal market.

- Family Allowances will be increased to $12 per child in October and the increase will not be taxable. In January, the federal government plans to increase Family Allowances to $20 per child.

- Basic old age pensions will increase from $100 to $105.30 and the total pension, with guaranteed income supplement will go from $170.14 to $179.16, effective October 1.

- The 2% ceiling on the annual increase in pensions paid under the Canada Pension Plan is to be removed.

TRADE TALKS IN JAPAN

External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp met in Tokyo last week, with Japanese Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira and other Japanese officials for two days of talks on Canada-Japan trade and economic relations.

RAIL STRIKE ENDED

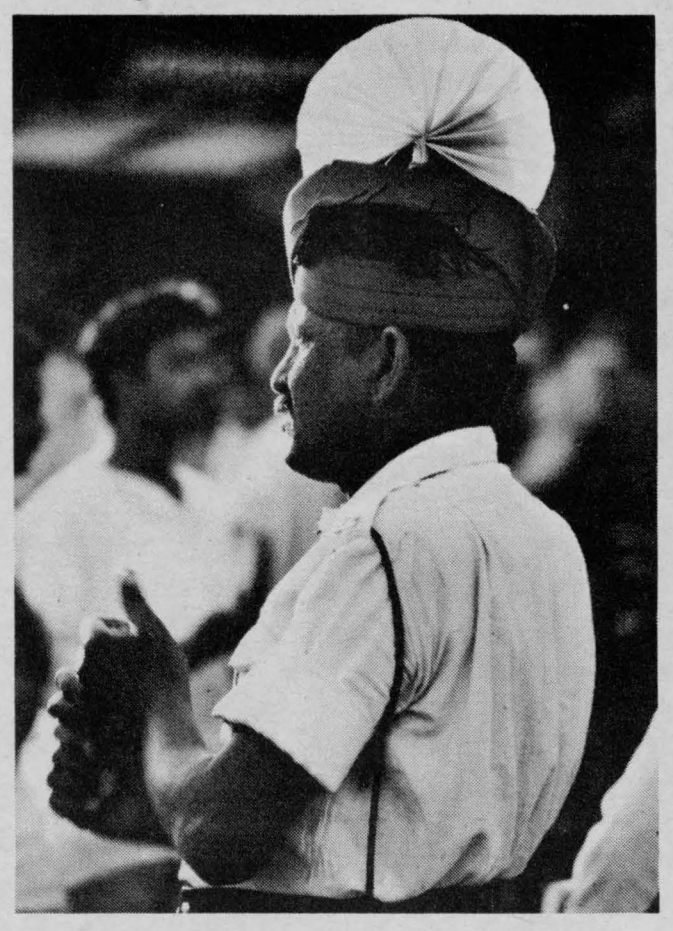

Legislation ending the nation-wide rail strike was approved by Parliament last week. The legislation ordered 56,000 striking railway employees back to work after having disrupted rail and ferry service since July 26 by a series of rotating regional strikes which eventually took on country-wide proportions.

The legislation increased the basic average hourly wage for the Non-Operating Railway Unions to $4.19 by July 1, 1974 from the current rate of $3.54.

Train and ferry service started back into operation again after the Labour Day weekend.

EXPORTS UP

Canadian exports rose to $2.07 billion in July as compared with $1.99 billion in June – an increase of $8 million.

Policemen of India Popular Attraction

DELHI, India — Canadians usually think of policemen only in terms of law enforcement.

Police officers are regarded as someone to turn to in time of need or trouble — but are classified as tourist attractions in few countries throughout the world.

However, India can boast of more than just a fine police force. The country's officers are also a tourist attraction. In addition to being helpful when it comes to directions and other information, India's policemen are among the most colourfully dressed in the world.

A white uniform is set off by a brilliant red turban with red and white plumes. Thus, tourists who bring their cameras to India take almost as many pictures of the policemen as they do of historic landmarks, temples, monuments and art work.

Tourists will find that the officers are quite willing to pose for pictures — unless, of course, they happen to be busy chasing a traffic violater or other offender!

DOLLARS & GOOD SENSE

by WILLIAM J. MARTIN
Special Consultant to Avco Financial Services

Finding the right home to fit both lifestyle and budget is one of the biggest undertakings of most families. As they grow up, their interests and needs change, of course, and by retirement age, a couple is looking for quite a different home than when they were first married.

A report from Continental Investment Corp. lists the preferences of older home buyers. It indicates that the single level house is much more popular and that if a multi-level home is purchased, ramps are usually preferred to steps.

Such safety devices as railings in the bathroom and kitchen are also preferred, and wall light fixtures are much better than the ceiling variety when it comes to changing a light bulb.

Electrical outlets are another item that older home owners would like modified, according to the report. Placed at waist or hip level, the outlets eliminate a lot of stooping.

Other popular features include central air conditioning, since many doctors report that the summer heat is worse for older folks than the winter cold, and room-to-room intercom systems.

After a couple retires, they deserve the special comforts of such a home. It's just another item to be taken into account when planning for an enjoyable retirement.

Readers' questions are welcome and should be sent to Box 5875 London, Ontario.

Beavers Bur Trophy Comes Home

The Beavers' Bur Trophy, donated by Beavers' Dental Products Ltd., came home to Morrisburg after a 3 year absence and will now occupy a space in a Morrisburg bank window, thanks to the Morrisburg Jets' 27-1 victory over Hulbert Monday night.

The Jets won the first game of the best of 3 final series 12-10 with good pitching by Wilma Vrieswyk. The 2nd game took only 5 innings with Gloria Holmes pitching her first full game of the season, adding a 2 run homer to her own cause, along with a 2 run homer by Carol Devaul and a 3 run homer by Sandra Scott.

Keith Casselman, on behalf of the executive, presented the trophy to the team captain, Sandra Scott.

Iroquois Gets $2766.00 Extra From "Bell"

Some 825 Communities in Ontario will receive increases of varying degree through the new Ontario Government Formula which increases Bell Canada's Gross receipt taxes by 52% to 31.6 million dollars in 1973.

Barry Mason, Bell Canada Manager advised today that 32 Iroquois and District Municipalities will receive increases totalling $376,045.00 under the new formula. Municipal Officials in the communities involved have been informed of their respective increases.

Some examples of the increases are:

Iroquois - $2,766.00
Cardinal - $3,815.00
Prescott - $7,419.00
Township of Matilda - $4,471.00.

Gross receipts taxes are a unique form of Municipal Tax levied against Telephone and Telegraph companies in Ontario communities. These utilities pay the tax in addition to real estate and business taxes paid by all businesses.

Under the former system, Bell paid to each community in which it operated a tax calculated by applying the local mill rate to the gross receipts taken in by the Company.

The new legislation calls for the tax to be computed by calculating the number of phones Bell has in service in a community at each year's end, multiplying the total by 5% of the company's gross receipts in Ontario, and then dividing this by the total number of phones Bell has in Ontario.

Safety Tips From Prov. Police

Once again the school term has arrived. Although thousands of children throughout Ontario will be going back to school, thousands more will be attending school for the first time.

It is these younger children that we, the driver, should be most aware of. The elder students have received previous instructions in safety by teachers and by the police officers who visit their schools. Many of the younger children starting school are not aware of the safety rules which govern their travelling to and from school. These same children, possibly through the lack of knowledge in safety or anxiety in going to school, could risk serious injury if you the driver are not alert.

The following rules may assist you while driving in built up areas where children may be present.

- Keep a watchful eye for the blue and white "School Ahead" and "School Crossing" signs. When you observe these sighns, slow down and drive with caution.
- Be alert for young children playing near or walking on the road. They just might run out into the path of your vehicle.
- Slow down when you observe members of the School Safety Patrol. Theirs is a hard enough job without some driver complicating it by his bad driving habits.
- It is illegal to pass a school bus on a highway from either direction while the red lights on the bus are flashing.

By driving defensively at all times we can assist our children in the important task of growing up and living. Remember - children are not careless - just carefree.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

Robby is a plump little fellow, 16 months old, who looks like a healthy boy.

In general he is — but Robby has cerebral palsy, which is lack of muscle control He does not walk yet nor sit up alone, though he is now doing his version of crawling — putting his elbows on the floor and pulling himself along while beginning to propel himself with his legs.

Robby is having physiotherapy three times a week and his foster mother has exercises to do with him daily.

Robby is a very responsive child in a quiet way. He almost always has a smile and he loves attention and cuddling. He is used to plenty of both with three older children in his foster home.

In all areas, Robby is behind the average for his age. It is not known what his physical capabilities will be but he is more alert and observant than he used to be.

Since happy, lovable Robby adjusts readily to new situations, a move to an adoption home should not be difficult. He needs parents who will have learned about his condition and who will help him develop to the limit of his capacities, and love him.

To inquire about adopting Robby, please write to Today's Child, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, please contact your local Children's Aid Society.

NEEDS SPECIAL UNDERSTANDING

Wildlife Rustlers

"There's no such thing as a free lunch," said some bar-room sage once.

But according to natural resources wildlife conservation officers, that's exactly what increasing numbers of people are after -after dark - these days in Eastern Ontario.

A free wildlife lunch is okay, except for one thing: the open seasons for big and small game and migratory birds are still weeks away.

Last week near Ottawa district "CO's", or Conservation Officers, answered reports from citizens in Gloucester township who were hearing what sounded like shotgun blasts from nearby forest-field areas.

Sure enough, two hunters, one with an unplugged pump action gun, were turned up. A search of their homes with two police constables uncovered the remains of five migratory birds. Charges have been laid in that case.

Jack-lighting of deer also seems to be on the increase. In the Tweed, Brockville, Ottawa-Carleton, Lanark and Cornwall areas, CO's are finding evidence the poachers are out and about. The back roads and fields are being driven regularly at night.

With jack-lighting, the idea is to suddenly catch a deer in the beam from one or more powerful hand-held lights and while it is transfixed and partially blinded..... shoot.

With the price of food the way it is these days, the increase in poaching was expected and all natural resources districts in Eastern Ontario have put on extra patrols after dusk and early in the morning to stop what is really a case of rustling everyone's property - Ontario's Wildlife.

Has 52 Children

"Cindy" a three foot eastern garter snake at outlet beach Sandbanks Provincial Park in Prince Edward County is pleased to announce the birth of 52 children, August 22.

Marilyn Armstrong, the seasonal naturalist at Outlet, and mid wife to the proud mother said "Cindy" was discovered July 15th by campers who thought she was rather thickfor a garter snake. Miss Armstrong, 20 a third year student at the University of Toronto, kept Cindy undre obsrevation in one of her glass cages in her park office.

A few days before the blessed event Cindy started forming a small nest of cedar branches. Within this she started her day long job of giving birth. Garter snakes bear live young, the eggs being retained inside until they are hatched. Each snak elet was born coiled in a tight circle inside a clear elastic sack. The snaklets burst these fluid-filled sacks . immediately to prevent their own drowing. Following this the maternity operation was completed.

Young garter snakes are given no parental care. The eastern garter snake usually has from 20-30 young in August or September, but as many as 78 has been recorded in one litter.

Cindy, just may break that record in a few years.

In the meantime mother and children are doing fine.

Morrisburg's Third Annual Trade and Home Show

Area residents attending Morrisburg's third annual Trade and Home Show on Thursday, Friday and Sat., Sept. 27, 28 and 29 will be viewing the latest models in merchandise ranging from cars to clothing. This annual event, sponsored by the Morrisburg Chamber of Commerce will have the Hon. Claude F. Bennett, Minister of Industry and Tourism, officially open the show on Thursday evening.

Highlighting the programme this year will be Ken "The General" Grant of CFRA, Ottawa, assisted by Miss Ottawa Roughrider, Lynne Lawson. A presentation of fall fashions will be given by Edie's House of Fashion and Casselman's Shoe Store each evening with background music by Roy Fawcett of Fawcett's Organs and Pianos, Winchester.

A grand total of $300 in cash will be drawn for during the three evenings with three draws each night of $25, $35 and $40 at approximately 8:30 p.m., 9 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. The winners must be present to be awarded the prizes. Many exhibitors will have draws for valuable gifts and these will take place from the individual booths.

Dale Barkley, booth contract chairman, reports that all exhibit spaces have been filled by local merchants and area exhibitors coming from Iroquois, Winchester, Williamsburg and Ingleside. Also working with him are Fred Hill and Steve Casselman.

Mrs. Milly Jones of the ticket and programme committee, reports that advance tickets will be on sale at Morrisburg stores starting Sept. 15 until the first day of the show. Prices remain the same as in other years at three tickets for $1.00 advance or 50¢ each at the door. Allan Bain, chairman of this committee, reports that the fashion show will be staged nightly at 8:30 p.m. to 8:50 p.m. with "General" Grant appearing each evening from 9 to 9:20 p.m. Others working with Mr. Bain are Mrs. Diana Burd, Mrs. Ruth Edge and Ron Hall.

In charge of advertising for the show are Alex English and Owen Alguire, assisted by Mrs. Erol Welton and Al Belanger. Booth construction committee members Les Cruickshank, Bob Bailey and Gordon Mulholland report the Centre aisle booths this year will be limited to a height of six feet to facilitate viewing from all areas of the arena.

Plans for decorating are being finalized with the assistance of other Morrisburg organizations under the direction of Fred Hill. General committee members are Bill Marshall and Earl Baker with Glenn Keyes, treasurer of the Chamber in charge of finance and Mrs. Edie Sprague, president, assisting in various capacities.

During the week of Sept. 23-29, the Rothman's Caravan from Ottawa with Chuck Collins as M.C. will be in the area publicizing the show as well as distributing free tickets and small gifts to lucky persons.

Increased Expenditure

The Ministry of Education will increase expenditure ceilings by an average of 7.9 per cent next year, Education Minister Thomas Wells announced last week.

The 1974 ceiling for elementary schools will be increased by $53 to $683 per pupil while the secondary school ceiling will be raised to $1,210 per pupil, an increase of $80 over last year. The amounts represent an increase of 8.41 and 7.08 per cent respectively.

Mr. Wells said the new expenditure ceilings reflect the inflationary factors now present in the economy and will achieve an even greater degree of equity among the school boards of Ontario.

He siad that the ceilings were proving effective in controlling the rate of increase in the cost of education. Between 1967 and 1970, prior to the establishment of the ceilings, the per pupil expenditures for elementary and secondary students increased by 13.1 per cent per year. Since the ceilings came into effect in 1970, the annual rate of increase has been held to 7.5 per cent.

Mr. Wells stated that the ceilings have required school boards to make hard decisions and that the vast majority of the boards have made such decisions without any disruption or without adversely affecting the quality of education. He said that there has been almost universal support for the principle of keeping the rate of growth of educational spending under control.

During 1974, special consideration will again be given to school boards faced with declining enrolments. Mr. Wells said this recognizes that boards face certain fixed costs which do not decrease in proportion to a drop in enrolment.

Stretching along the historic St. Lawrence River from the Bay of Quinte to the Quebec border, are more than six thousand acres of riverside greenspace. 2500 campsites scattered through fourteen major and dozens of smaller areas offer a wide choice of location and scenery. The campsites are well-maintained — most are fully serviced, with modern lavatory buildings, electrical outlets and trailer dumping stations. You can swim, boat, golf, ride, birdwatch (Morrison Island Waterfowl Sanctuary) or just relax and enjoy the autumn colour. Camping fee per day: $3.50 per campsite; electricity where available $.50. The fall scenery is free.

Upper Canada Village shows you fall the way it was in early Canada. See demonstrations of farming, butter churning, bread baking, dyeing, spinning, looming, quilting, candle-dipping, broom-making, log-sawing, timber squaring, carpentry, blacksmithing, all performed as they were in 1867. Ride an ox-cart, a stage coach, or a horse-drawn bateau. The Village is open every day from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Admission: Adults $2.50; Children $.50. Dundas County 4 - H Achievement Day

On a beautiful day at South Mountain Fair, all the time, labour, sweat and hard work came to a final few minutes in the ring. It was our 1973 County 4-H Achievement Day.

One doesn't realize how much time and patience our young members put into their projects until you watch and appreciate that one animal and one young exhibitor working as a unit. The hours of training and grooming, now start to pay off and the smiles of satisfaction are on the faces of all. The important part of 4-H Achievement Day is that no one is a loser. They have all won in theri their own right. They were the ones who decided to attempt a project and then to complete it. All those who showed at achievement day were winners as they have mastered what they set out to do. Unfortunately not everyone can be placed first and the task of placing one showman over another or one calf over another, fell on the shoulders of three very capable men. The official judges for the day were: Showmanship: Mr. Ralph MacKenzie Calves: Mr. Ralph Thompson; Dairy Beef: Mr. Dwight Karren
