Mrs. R. L. Suffel Died On Monday

Following a lengthy illness, which had confined her to bed for several weeks, Mrs. R. L. Suffel, of Ottawa, formerly of Winchester, passed away in the District Memorial Hospital on Monday afternoon. The late Mrs. Suffel had not enjoyed good health for many years, but following her usual custom, had spent most of the summer at Point Iroquois before being moved to the local hospital.

Born 82 years ago, she was the former Winnifred Brown, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, of Winchester. She received her education in local schools and in her younger days had been an active member of the Women's Institute and all church organizations. She was also a life member of the Women's Missionary Society. Of a quiet and kindly disposition, the late Mrs. Suffel gained, in her lifetime, a wide circle of friends, who will silently mourn with Mrs. L. A. Porteous, Ottawa, a daughter and the lone survivor.

Mr. R. L Suffel predeceased his wife in February of 1934. Since 1946 Mrs. Suffel had been living with her daughter, Mrs. L. A. Porteous, and Mr. Porteous, Ottawa.

The Rev. T. N. Mitchell conducted the quiet funeral service from the Vice & Craig Funeral Home on Wednesday to Maple Ridge Cemetery, where interment was made. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Harold Keyes, David Melvin, George Elliott, Gerald Helmer, Melvin Scott and Harry Holmes.

Many beautiful floral tributes testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

More BIG Potatoes!

There may be a new brand of potatoes, at least that's the thought of Milton Barkley, of the Dundela district, who displayed as fine a looking basket of giant spuds at the Press Office on Saturday afternoon as will ever be found.

The Irish Cobbler "Goliaths", as they may rightly be termed, were the largest group ever exhibited here, with every potato measuring at least 16¼ by 17 inches, and weighing between 1½ and 2½ pounds.

Proof of the weight is verified by Mr. Ralph Allison, well-known Winchester Springs' merchant who weighed them. Mr. Barkley believes that good fertilizer, good ground and ideal weather conditions contributed to his bumper crop of big potatoes this year.

With potatoes being dug all over now, it's not uncommon to run into the odd large one. But when the digger digs up one that glares right back at him, he's found himself a rare speciment. Such was the case of Fred Osler, of Farran's Point, last week, when he unearthed a hill that housed a potato that sported a smiling face, including nose, two eyes, a couple of moles and a slightly crooked mouth. Fred gave the "Smiling Spud" to Walter Johnston, local Bell Telephone employee, who, in turn, placed it on display at the Press Office early Monday morning.

MOUNTAIN TWP. FARMER HAS RECORD POTATO CROP

Potato Inspector Mike Loughlin, of Hallville, appointed by the Dept. of Agriculture, announced this week that the largest potato crop he has inspected this year is located on the farm of Stanley Wallace, of Mountain Township, where the yield, according to sale, is 760 bushels per acre. Mr. Loughlin said the potato crop this year was the best he had ever seen. Typical of the hills shown by Mr. Wallace are the potatoes he brought to the Press Office this week, weighing 15 pounds, all from the one hill. Many of them were of the two-tone variety, and all were large, solid and clean. They are from Green Mountains.

100 Club Meeting Postponed One Week

The regular September meeting of Winchester 100 Club, scheduled for to-morrow (Friday) evening, has been postponed and will now be held one week later on Friday night, September 24th. The reason for the delay was attributed to a previous arrangement to have Mr. C. O. Coon, president of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Association, speak. Mr. Coon will speak at the September meeting, therefore, and what he has to say should prove interesting, as it is the Cheese Producers' Association which is erecting the huge refrigeration storage plant here.

A large attendance is expected at this meeting, the first following the two-month summer recess.

Metcalfe Fall Fair Starts Today

The biggest little fair in all of Rural Ontario gets under way at Metcalfe today when the Agricultural Society of that village swings open its gates for the 98th time. And for the 98th time the fair's formidable slogan, "Competition Open to the World" has attracted a record number of entries and exhibits, and exhibition officials are looking forward to a bumper year.

A three-day show, it was stepped up a few years ago from two to three days for accommodation purposes, Thursday's (today) program will be taken up chiefly by exhibitors moving in and setting up. Judging will commence at 12 noon the same day, on Domestic Manufacturers, Ladies' Work, Grain and Roots, Canned Goods and Baking, Flowers and Plants.

Friday, the Fair really swings into action, with judging commencing on Heavy Horses, Light Horses, Black & White Show, and Sheep. One of the feature attractions on the second day will be a fine program of harness racing, including a 2.22 class and a Free-For-All, with purses of $150.00 each.

Saturday's judging will include heavy horses, light horses, swine and cattle, with a grand parade of all prize-winning cattle and horses slated for four o'clock in the afternoon.

King Brothers Midway Shows will be on hand with their big midway on the final two days, and there'll be lots of rides, shows and games for everyone. The wind-up will be held in the form of a dance at the Agricultural Grounds on Saturday night.

Metcalfe Fair features: Carleton-Russell Black & White Day, the Ottawa Valley Ayrshire Breeders' Club Red & White Show, the Guernsey Club Show, and Eastern Ontario 4H Club Competition.

There are classes in just about every department for just about every person interested. President of the Agricultural Society is C. O. Dow, and the secretary-treasurer is J. Eldon Craig, both of whom, along with the various committees, will be glad to furnish more information concerning the fair.

Local and District Weddings

CHAMBERLAIN—CRUMMY

Artistic decorations and an altar array of white gladioli formed the pretty setting in Winchester United Church on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock for the wedding of Miss Marjorie Jean Crummy and Mr. Clarence Leslie Chamberlain. Miss Crummy is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Crummy, of Winchester, and Mr. Chamberlain is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Chamberlain, of Peterborough. The Rev. T. N. Mitchell solemnized the double ring ceremony, assisted by Mrs. Howard Fetterly, the organist, who played the wedding music. Mrs. Fetterly also accompanied the guest soloist, Mr. Ronald G. Workman, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" while the bridal party stood before the altar, and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charmingly dressed in a floor-length gown of white alencon lace and nylon tulle over satin. The strapless bodice was fashioned of lace, with stand-up collar, and the short fitted jacket of alencon lace was designed with long fitted sleeves coming to points which fell over the hands. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle illusion was held in place by a headdress of ruffled nylon, and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of American beauty roses and stephanotis.

Miss Alice Rice, as maid-of-honor, was attired in a pale green ballerina length gown, which was fashioned with a strapless bodice,lace jacket, full net skirt over taffeta and matching headdress. She carried a crescent-shape bouquet of roses and mums.

The bridesmaids were Miss Lois Chamberlain, sister of the groom, and Miss Enola Gibson, cousin of the bride, who were similarly dressed in pale yellow gowns featured on the same lines as that of the maid-of-honor. They carried nosegays of yellow roses and mauve mums.

Tall pink and white tapers, and a three-tier wedding cake adorned the bride's table, and the reception hall was appropriately decorated with white streamers and pale mums in pastel shades. Champion Holstein Breeders At South Mountain Fair

Dundas County Holstein breeders staged a first class exhibition of black and white at their annual show, held September 10th in connection with Mountain Fair. This was a larger and stronger exhibition than a year ago, with 116 head shown by 20 exhibitors. The Premier Exhibitor was W. J. & Allison Fawcett, Winchester.

Ormsby Echo Supreme Tena repeated her win of two years ago by taking the grand championship for females, after heading the class for dry aged cows. She is owned by Ernest Munroe & Son, Winchester, and is an outstanding producer as well as a great show cow, having completed a yearly record on twice-a-day milking of 20,356 lbs. milk containing 807 lbs. of fat, average test 3.96% butterfat. Standing next to her in class and following through to the reserve Senior and Reserve Grand Championship was Peggy R. A. Empress Colantha, owned by W. J. and Allison Fawcett, who won a similar honor a year ago.

Jay-Dee Fond Fair,owned by J. Dwight Dawley, Winchester, confirmed the promise she showed a year ago when she headed the Senior Calf Class by winning again as a Senior Yearling and going on to take the Junior Championship. The reserve Junior award went to a calf club entry, owned by W. J. McVey, Winchester, and shown by his daughter. This animal is named Joyce Rag Apple Pathfinder Ann.

In the bull classes, Spring Farm Supreme Hope and Willola Sir Fond Hope, both sons of the noted three times All-Canadian Spring Farm Fond Hope, repeated their battle of a year ago for first place in the 3-year-old and over class. The honors this time were reversed, with Spring Farm Supreme Hope, owned jointly by Basil Dawley and Eldon Davidson, Winchester, on top, and Willola Sir Fond Hope, owned by W. J. and Allison Fawcett, in second place. These two bulls then went on to take the Senior and Grand and Reserve Senior and Grand Champinoships.

J. and Allison Fawcett.

Kenmore Baptists Observe Anniversary

The 79th Anniversary of the Kenmore Baptist Church was celebrated by special services on Sunday and Monday, Sept. 5th and 6th.

The church has recently been re-decorated, and was re-opened for worship on its anniversary day. The services were conducted by the minister,, Rev. James Taylor, and the guest speaker was Rev. Leslie Wilton, who has spent 27 years in India.

Mr. Wilton preached two very helpful and encouraging sermons on Sunday, which he illustrated most effectively with stories drawn from his rich experience in India. The choir, directed by Mrs. W. D. Carkner, rendered special music at both services, and in the evening Mr. Ralph MacDonald sang two appropriate solos. Rev. Thos. McNaught, of Russell United Church, brought greetings from his congregations.

Monday evening was devoted to mission work, and Mr. Wilton gave an illustrated lecture on India, which was both interesting and instructive. Rev. J. W. Bee, of Vernon Baptist Church, led a short devotional period, and Dr. Thompson, Moderator of the Ottawa Association, brought greetings from the Association. The male choir from Winchester, under the direction of Mrs. H. Fetterly, was in attendance and sang four numbers, which were greatly appreciated. Rev. Mr. Carr, of the Kenmore United Church, pronounced the Benediction.

It was a most successful anniversary, and Mr. Taylor expressed thanks to all who had helped to make it so successful.

Kenmore Baptist Church is one of the most beautiful churches in this area, and is a tribute to the devotion of the present membership of the church.—Contributed.

"Rawhide" Takes The Road

Why is Max Ferguson hitch-hiking from Toronto to Halifax? Simple—because "The Rawhide Show" will be back for another season on the CBC Trans-Canada network and it will originate from Halifax instead of Toronto this year. It's no secret, of course, that Ferguson has a lot to do with Rawhide and his boys; all the different voices on the show are done by Max. With old Rawhide himself and Rawhide's "boys" as he calls them, Ferguson uses as many as a dozen different voices on one program, though he has not yet managed to have them all talking at once. The little gaffer, above, is not one of Rawhide's "boys." He is Ferguson's son, Scott. The rest of the family has also moved to Halifax, but, we are told, they took a train.

Rev. W. S. Atchison Passes At Ottawa

A former well-known minister of Winchester United Church, the Rev. William Stewart Atchison passed away on Saturday at his home, 173 Fifth Avenue, Ottawa, following a lengthy illness. Although he had been in ill health since retiring from his final pastorate in Cornwall last June, 1953, his death was sudden and was learned with regret by a host of friends and relatives. He was 69 years of age.

Gaining respect and friends through his daily radio broadcasts during his 12 years in Cornwall, the late Rev. Atchison was a son of the late William Atchison and his wife, Sarah Ann Duncan, of Greely,, Ontario.

A veteran of World War I, he was educated at Albert College, Belleville, Wesley College at the University of Manitoba. He was ordained in 1919 and had preached at Foam Lake, Sask., Winnipeg Suburbs, Morris Place, Sturgeon Creek,, Manitou and later in Winchester where he was minister of the local United Church for 7 years.

He married the former Fannie Bell Wallace at Yorkton in 1919, who survives. Also surviving are a son, Rev. S. Wendell Atchison, of Ottawa; two brothers, Lloyd and Wesley, living in Western Canada; and a sister, Mrs. John Purves, of Cornwall; also a grandson.

The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon from Hulse and Playfair Limited, 315 McLeod Street, to St. James' United Church, where service was conducted by Rev. Robert McLauchlin. Interment was made in Springhill Cemetery.

One Tomato, One Squash, And Six Pies!

This is the story of a big ripe tomato, a big old squash, and six big pies.

Mrs. E. N. Holmes, who lives a couple of miles south of Winchester, relates the tale. While picking tomatoes in her garden of abundant growth, last Friday, she came across the largest and reddest specimen she had ever grown—a juicy, ripe tomato that tipped the scales at an even two pounds. The plants came from Merkley Gardens, Winchester.

To celebrate the record find, Mrs. Holmes tripped down to the cellar, and came across a huge squash she had plucked from the vines last fall, about one year ago. Looking it over, she found it to be in good shape—and before the day was over the Holmes family was eating squash pie—not one, not two, but six delicious pies, all from the same year-old squash.

Some Tomato! Some Squash! And, oh those pies!

Carl Laushway and Don. Casselman were named delegates to attend a District Meeting in Gananoque on September 26th. A unanimous decision will send a $25.00 donation to the 100 Club for the use of the Park during the summer.

GROWING, GROWING, GROWN

So far, the Popcorn of Fred Hutt's that we reported in the Press 3 or 4 weeks ago, is still growing. Up to and including Saturday, the Chinese variety of popcorn growing in the Hutt garden on St. Lawrence Street had reached the 11-foot mark, and it may not have reached its peak yet. The ears are all developed and it looks like a bumper crop.

If the corn pops as fast and well as it grows, it will take a good popper to hold it down.

4000 Attend Fair At South Mountain

Mountain Township Agricultural Society's 62nd annual fall fair at South Mountain last Thursday and Friday was another success, according to exhibition officials. Blessed with fine weather for most of the two-day show, an estimated crowd of 4000 persons went through the turnstiles, slightly smaller than last year.

Final day attractions included a softball tournament, which was won by Hallville; a grandstand performance at night by Sonny Morin and his talented group; a band concert by Prescott girls' band, and harness racing which featured a 2.20, 2.18 and a Free-for-all with purses of $200.00 each. Cliff. Wilkes and his orchestra supplied the music for the round-up dance on Friday night in the I.O.O.F. Hall. Throughout the day a big midway was in operation, and the games, rides and concessions were all well patronized.

Always a highlight at the Friendly Fair are the cattle classes, and once again this year in the Red and White Show the famous Ayrshire herds of S. S. Rose and Sons and Wm. McRoberts and Sons led the way in every class. In the Jersey parish show the only local winner was Roy Holmes, of Winchester, who won the Reserve Junior Champion, the junior heifer calf class, and third in the 2-year-old bull class. The Dundas Black and White show is published elsewhere in this issue.

Ernest Burton won all the prizes in the sheep class, and Gerald Cross had 13 firsts in the poultry class; Don Sullivan, of South Mountain, three firsts, and Arnold Gilroy, South Mountain, one first.

Principal winners in the domestic science class were Mrs. Edward Lanoue, of Osgoode, with 10 first prizes; Mrs. A. K. Wylie, 7 firsts; Chesterville W. I. and Mrs. W. D. Rose with 3 firsts each. Flower division: Mrs. Auldon Ennis and Mrs. Lorne Boyd, South Mountain, six firsts; Ladies' Clothing: Mrs. A. K.Wylie, eight firsts; Mrs. Edward Lanoue, five firsts; Fruits. FILLING THOSE SENATE VACANCIES

We don't envy Mr. St. Laurent his task of having to fill 18 vacancies in the Senate. Here are 18 of the cushiest jobs in Canada, all in the gift of one man, and the whole world knows it.

We don't know how many applicants there are for each of these jobs, but it is dollars to doughnuts that there are far more than there would have been if the remuneration had not been increased as it was a year or two ago.

It would be a statesmanlike act for the Prime Minister to select men for these vacancies purely on the strength of their characters and abilities, without regard for their politics. But if he did this he would offend many of his own friends who feel that the party owes them something; and nobody likes to disappoint his friends.

If he delays much longer in making appointments the effect will be the same; and if he appoints good Liberals to all the vacancies he will still leave probably hundreds of his friends out in the cold.

We believe it was Arthur Meighen who said that for every appointment a Prime Minister makes he makes 20 enemies and one ingrate.

Canada can afford to pay her lawmakers enough to enable them to live in dignity commensurate with their positions; but she can't afford to have her laws made by men who are attracted to the job only by the cushiness of it.

We suggest that the best way to reform the Senate is to give it more to do—not more time-filling jobs but jobs of such importance that they cannot be left unfinished, and the doing of which will tax the abilities of the members.

GAS IS CHEAP

"No other essential commodity has held the price line like gasoline. Today's gasoline takes you farther and costs you less in terms of pay and work. The secret—competition!" So says the August issue of the Imperial Review as written in an interesting story captioned "The Bargain at the Pump." From the retail price of gas, roughly forty cents per gallon, up to fifteen cents is provincial tax, depending on the province. Compared to the cost of other commodities, gas remains in a category by itself, not only because of its cost, but its importance to our way of life. For instance: Milk costs upwards of eighty cents per gallon; distilled water rates at sixty cents for the same quantity; coffee sells at eighty cents for the four-quart measure if it is home-made, and a gallon of Canada's leading soft drink sells at one dollar and eighty-nine cents.

So, when a little thought is given the matter, gasoline is cheap. Just ask the motorist who has run out of this precious fluid. As a sidelight, it is interesting to note that the price of a gallon of alcoholic beverage ranges upwards from two dollars and twenty cents.

EDITORIAL NOTES!

T. D. F. writing in the Ottawa Citizen, says it used to be that different sports fell into different seasons. To-day the Ottawa columnist notes that with the overlapping of sports there is a "terrific saving in seasons." And, we might add, a terriffic drain on the pocket book.

The Winchester Arena will be a busy place for the next two weeks. Next Wednesday evening the local Legion Branch presents the second of its semi-annual Monster nights, and the following week the Winchester Business Men's Association takes over when it will sponsor Winchester and district's first Trade Fair. Both events are worthy of your patronage. Both will be entertaining, both will offer several hundred dollars in prizes, and both will benefit the Winchester Arena, this town's fine community centre which was extensively renovated last year, and which is still undergoing improvements.

Sixteen-year-old Marilyn Bell, of New Toronto, not only conquered Lake Ontario in her tremendous 32-mile swim, she won the hearts of thousands and thousands of admirers, and to-day rates as the leading long distance swimmer in the world. Overshadowing her world famous opponent, Florence Chadwick, in the Swim of the Century, Miss Bell surged ahead right at the start and continued her gallant stroke through the choppy and cool waters of Lake Ontario until she was hauled up on the shore in front of the Canadian National Exhibition. The tenseness of this mighty accomplishment caught everyone in its grip last Thursday, and with each report the hopes and prayers of more and more people went with this young Canadian.

As we have reiterated so many times, the installation of a water and sewerage system in this village is inevitable if the future years are to be measured in terms of advanced prosperity. Without these two important utilities we cannot hope to attract much in the way of industry or new citizens. For a small town we are, otherwise, fairly well off. We have two good schools, several churches, a modern hospital, a community park, theatre and other up-to-date places of business. Winchester is located near the junction of two increasingly important highways; it is on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and it is well serviced with transportation facilities. Strategically located as far as the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power projects are concerned, this town stands to benefit quite a lot, if the right kind of preparations are made—not next year, or the year after that, but now!

"Something Far Better"

Walking through the streets of a French town, a Christian asked a lady if she could direct him to the post office. "I am going past it, and will gladly guide you there," was the cheerful reply; then in a quizzing way she said, "Monsieur is a stranger?" "Yes, Madam, yet I was born in these parts.' 'Indeed; of what family?" Upon the name being mentioned, she exclaimed, "Oh, it is an old Protestant family. Is Monsieur a Protestant?" "Something far better than that, Madam." "A Catholic, then?" "Something far better than that, Madam." "And what may that be?" she said in surprise. "A Christian, Madam—a follower of Christ. Many Protestants will miss heaven; many Catholics, too, but not one Christian will miss that blessed place. A Christian is one who is born of God."—John 3:3-7.

Jelly Bag Holder

A good jelly bag holder can be made by sawing off the back of an old kitchen chair, inverting the chair, then placing the vessel inside and tying the bag to the four inverted legs.

If thread is to be used for drawn work and one desires to shrink it, place the skein of thread, or spool, in a vessel of boiling water for about an hour. It will not destroy any of the gloss.

Letter To The Editor

THE QUESTION OF THE SOUTH MOUNTAIN RINK

South Mountain,
September 10, 1954.

Editor, Winchester Press:—

Dear Sir—A committee has been formed consisting of the president of the Rink Association, Dr. Stirtan, together with a few other interested parties, having as its objective the reorganization of this association and particularly the reconstruction of the rink house. It is well known that this building is in a very bad state of disrepair and quite out of keeping with the dignity of a place of the calibre of South Mountain. In fact, its present condition may be described as nothing less than a disgrace. Since the Rink House is the only community building in the village where small meetings might be held, and without the expense of renting a large hall, it is felt that this building should be put in shape for such meetings, as well as to serve as a rink house proper when the rink is in operation.

It appears that the Rink Association was formed a good many years ago. At this time it was placed on a very business-like foundation. It had a proper constitution, which was drawn up in a legal manner. A board of directors was also provided for, and the members were, apparently, elected at each annual meeting. It appears, however, that the Rink Association is purely a community affair. That is, everyone in the community of South Mountain has an equal right to come to the meetings and to have his voice heard. During the last number of years the association has, apparently, lost both financial and moral support from the village and the surrounding country. This is a most unfortunate state of conditions, and is reflected in the present state of the rink house.

A number of meetings have, from time to time, been held in order to remedy this condition. For example, it has been suggested that a new rink be built on the fair grounds, in which case a government grant might be obtained. Various other, rather gradiose, schemes have been suggested. However, these meetings have invariably ended with no definite decision having been arrived at, and so, up to the present, nothing has been done. The committee working on this proposition now feel that definite action should now be taken, and for this purpose, have made out a blue print. It is hoped that this will have the support of the village and the surrounding country. It is felt that South Mountain should, at long last, in a sense, be put on the map.

There are various organizations about the village, such, for example, as the Women's Institute. These bodies have no place whatever to meet, unless they rent a large hall, and they cannot always afford to do this. Since a rink house, which could be put into proper shape, would not require any rent, being owned by the community as a whole, it might well serve as a place for such meetings. Moreover, the building would be small and would not be difficult to heat, and it might well serve such a purpose during the summer months, when there would be no expense to any one. There is no doubt but that a building of this nature would serve a long-felt need so far as South Mountain is concerned.

It must also be noted that there is no Board of Trade or such organization in South Mountain. That is, there is no organization in the village which might act as a spearhead making for civic improvement. In fact, there is no civic organization whatever in this village, for the obvious reason there is no place to meet. In fact, ever since the last hotel was swept down the Nation river, and that is a good many years ago, there has never been a common meeting place in South Mountain, except possibly on the street corners. One sees occasionally small groups meeting in such places, provided the weather is suitable, in order to discuss the problems of the day.

The particular blueprint which the committee has in mind calls for the immediate reconstruction of the present rink house. For this purpose, the small building to the south of the rink house proper would be pulled down, and some of the lumber could be salvaged from this for the new building. Another building would then be constructed in its place and joined on to the north building. The whole building as rebuilt would be 36 feet long and 16 feet wide. The whole building would be placed on cement footings. There would be two rooms, each 12 by 16, one for the boys and the other for the girls, while between the rooms there would be a small kitchen with counters, by which refreshments could be served to either side. A woodshed would also be constructed on the south side of the building, while windows would be put on the side facing the rink and also on the street side of the building. It is proposed that this building should be put up in the rough at present, for financial reasons, but some organizations might later be asked to improve the building by way of painting or finishing the inside.

The cost of putting up this building, which should not be large for a community the size of South Mountain, would be mainly financed by small contributions. The practice of asking a few people who may be generous and public-spirited, to pay almost entirely the cost of these community efforts, is wrong in principle. There are very few people who could not afford to pay a few dollars towards a proposition of this nature, and even if they do not skate, or have any children who skate, they might use the building as a place to sit around and talk with their neighbours, or perhaps have a game of cards. Provided not sufficient funds could be raised by small donations, then we should ask the village of South Mountain to underwrite the remaining amount. It is quite likely that this amount would not be large. Since this proposition would benefit the village as a whole and every one in it, including the business men, we feel that financial support from this should be forthcoming. It must be remembered that the rink is the only community effort that the village is supporting at the present time. So let us all pull together and put South Mountain on the map.—Interested.

AUNT AMANTHA'S BIBLE

By Garry Montgomery

PROMPTLY at 10 o'clock, as usual, Aunt Amantha, who was 78, sat down to read a chapter in her big family Bible before she went to bed.

She lived alone in her old ancestral house and, when she'd finish a Bible chapter, closed the big book and locked windows and doors. But tonight she forgot these two things, because of a phone call.

It was her daughter-in-law to relate some of the latest gossip,

The conversation had irritated her, for it was so late. That is perhaps why Aunt Amantha left the Bible open, turned off the lights, and walked to her bedroom.

The other thing she forgot was to check and see if windows and doors were locked.

She fell asleep minutes after hitting the pillow.

A shadowy figure of a man slunk across her lawn, hesitating only at the double front windows. It was fairly dark here, for a street lamp was down aways, and the moon a mere slit of reflected light.

He pushed at the double windows, and smiled as they gave in. Carefully, being the expert he was, he pushed at them again, and they opened easily and without a squeeking.

This would be a cinch, he thought. The easiest job he'd ever done! The house, too, was dark, and he imagined no one would stand in his way, now!

The shadowy figure climbed stealthily into the house. His hand in a suitcoat pocket he brought out a long, slender flashlight that would give off a needle-like beam. In a moment the light pinpointed across the room, hit the table.

The light showed the opened Bible, a lamp on one side, a squat vase on the other. He pushed the light about the vase, saw the peculiar Jap figures, then pointed the beam into the vase opening and leaning over, peered inside.

His heart skipped a beat as he saw a roll of bills, done together by a thick rubberband. Eagerly he tipped the vase upside down and the roll fell out.

Nervously he ripped off the band and counted the bills. There were eight $20 bills there! Hastily he shoved them into a suitcoat pocket and turned the vase upright again.

Then he pointed the light at the opened Bible, saw the page headed Psalm 37. He saw marks on the margin pointing to Verse 17. Maybe it was a coincidence; but he was curious, and bent his head to read the verse marked by pencil.

It was curious that Aunt Amantha had marked this verse, tonight.

He read: "A little that a righteous man hath is better than the riches of many wicked."

Suddenly a curious feeling overcame him. His spine tingled, a little. The verse seemed to strike him directly between the eyes! Somehow, he remembred his boyhood, his own mother, and dimly thought he recalled her Bible.

As suddenly, he grabbed at the bills in his pocket and, without bothering to put the rubber band around them again, stuffed them into the squat vase.

He found a drawer in the table, and in it a pencil and scratch pad. Beaming his light on the pad, he wrote: "Lock your windows at night."

He laid the scribbled note over the opened Bible, then hurried back to the front windows which he locked securely.

Shortly he was creeping toward the front door, his beam of light showing the way so that he would not stumble. Finding the front door, he tested the lock, and then went out. He closed the door securely.

Better than the riches of many wicked . . . and the shadowy form of the man vanished into the blackness of the night.

1000 BABIES A DAY BORN IN CANADA

A new baby is born every 73 seconds in Canada today. Never before has there been such a prolonged baby boom in this country or any other. A population surge such as this can not be treated lightly. Its effect on our future economy requires our immediate attention.

This week Star Weekly's feature writer, Ross Harkness, reports the effects of this surprising population trend and he predicts how "Canada's Boom In Babies" will change our Canadian way of living.

FEED NEWS

CROP CONDITIONS IN THE WEST

The following "Weekly News Letter" received this week from James Richardson & Sons, gives a picture of crop conditions in Western Canada:—

"Really shocking is the report issued last week by the government of the Province of Saskatchewan advising that only twenty per cent. of the wheat crop in that province will grade 3 Northern or higher. This means that only about 40,000,000 bushels of high grade wheat will be harvested compared with last year's production of 375,000,000 bushels. It alslo means that there will be upwards of 150,000,000 bushels of low grade wheat. Much of this will go in the special grades of 4 Northern, 5 and 6 wheat which cover rusted wheat. The bulk of this wheat, however, will have to be used for feed and this, when it becomes available and can be moved into forward positions, will compete with offerings of other Canadian feed grains.

"We hesitate to emphasize too much the preset crop situation in Western Canada, but probably few people outside of those engaged in the production and merchandising of the crop realize just how seriously the crop picture has deteriorated. Further heavy rains over last week-end again delayed harvesting operations, and the lack of warm sunny weather has further retarded crop development. Rust infection has been expanding into new territories and now covers a sizeable acreage in the Province of Alberta. Fortunately the weather during the past few days has been more favorable and there has as yet been little or no frost damage. Current estimates on the wheat crops for the three Western provinces range from 340,000,000 to 365,000,000 bushels compared with last year's production of 584,000,000.

"It can now be assumed that the peak of the burdensome world's wheat surplus has now been passed. This could not have been said a month ago. Canadian production is obviously going to be drastically reduced. It may almost be said that the time is now in sight when these surpluses may be reduced to normal proportions.

"During the past week trade at Winnipeg has been quite active with a general advance in price. There has been a fairly good export business in oats, barley and rye and there has been a good deal of buying encouraged by the continuiing crop deterioration in Western Canada and parts of the American northwest. As a result, all deliveries of oats, barley and rye have repeatedly moved into new high levels. The cash market for barley is somewhat easier as the Wheat Board now have most of the grade available for sale in store at the lakehead. Cash oats are still scarce and there has been disappointment expressed over the small volume of oats which have been marketed in the country in spite of their top priority in delivery quotas.

"The United States Tariff Commission today recommended to the President import quotas of 40,000,000 bushels for oats and 16.4 million bushels for barley to include not more than 2.1 million bushels of malt. While Canadians do not like these import quotas, the quantities recommended are considered as quite satisfactory and it is expected that the recommendations will be accpeted by the President.

"Both domestic and overseas disappearance of Canadian grain during the month of August were disappointing, but a sharp improvement is indicated for September, particularly overseas."

Williamsburg United Church Observes 88th Birthday

Overflowing crowds attended both services commemorating the 88th anniversary of Williamsburg United Church on Sunday. The Rev.A. C. Adey, a former Williamsburg minister from 1933 to 1940, was the guest preacher, speaking at both morning and evening services.

Rev. G. H. Dunlop, the church pastor, presided at both services and extended a welcome to Rev. and Mrs. Adey. Rev. Adey's morning text was taken from Ezek. 4:7, entitled: "The Influence of the Church." In the evening his topic was: "Are you missing the best in Life?", basing his text on John 14:9.

Mrs. Maefred Merkley, the organist and choir leader, was in charge of all special singing, which included the choir anthems, "The Church Marches On," and "Bless The Lord"; a solo, "O Saviour Hear My Plea," —Gluck, by Mrs. Grenville Newlands, Ottawa, and a duet by Mrs. Lorne Hogaboam and Mrs. Gerald Adams, "Lead Me Saviour."

The following evening, the church hall was again packed to capacity for the Anniversary Supper, catered to by the ladies of the church. An entertaining program of music and speaking followed the sumptuous dinner, and included solos by Mrs. Mahlon Gow and Mr. Don. Kyle; a trio, composed of Mesdames Geo. Dunlop, Mahlon Gow and Ken. Gallinger, and a quartette that was made up of the trio voice and Mr. Don. Kyle.

Ladies' Legion Auxiliary

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, Williamsburg Branch, was held at the home of the president, Comrade Ellen Norval. All members present were wecomed by the president after the summer recess. A membership drive was advocated for the coming year.

Correspondence regarding the coming Provincial Convention was read, and it was decided that this Auxiliary would not send a delegate this year.

It was voted to secure a number of get-well and sympathy cards with the Legion Crest, for the Hospitalization Committee.

It was proposed to start the Birthday box at the next meeting. The meeting closed in the usual manner and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Celebrate Birthdays.

On Sunday, September 12th, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Wingard were, Mr. and Mrs. G. Ross Wingard and Carole Ann, of town; Mr. and Mrs. Graham R. Smith, Barbara and Robert, of Chesterville. The family gathering was to celebrate birthdays of Mr. Wingard and little grandson, Robert G. Smith. The dinner table was centred with a two-tier birthday cake, which was made and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Graham R. Smith.

Public School Opens With Smaller Enrolment

Williamsburg Public School opened on September 7th but with fewer pupils than in the last few years. Sixty-four youngsters registered on opening day, thirty-seven in the Junior room and 27 in the Senior classes.

Reason for the smaller number this year is attributed to the re-opening of a rural school just west of Williamsburg. Pupils from that district formerly came to the village school to attend classes.

Mrs. Hilda McMillan has been retained as principal, and the new teacher replacing Mrs. Lloyd Whitteker is Mrs. Helen Smith, of Elma. Mhs. Whitteker has taken over duties in the other rural school.

We often sit and think of you,
The things you used to say and do;
We wonder why you had to die
Without a chance to say goodbye.

Question Box

A Public Education Service of
THE HEALTH LEAGUE OF CANADA
111 Avenue Road; Toronto 5;
In co-operation with this newspaper.

All questions submitted are answered anonymously by members of the medical advisory board or special technical sections of the HEALTH LEAGUE.

BREAKING THE FAST

With the children back at school, their morning meal should be a good substantial one that will carry them through their studies and other activities. An adequate breakfast consists of fruit juice, wholegrain cereal, egg and toast and milk or hot coca. The lunch they carry to school must be just as nourishing—preferably including sandwiches which should have a nourishing filling such as meat, egg, fish or cheese, with, of course, milk as a drink.

LET'S DECLARE WAR

A ruthless war carried on against the dangerous housefly would help to lower its numbers and reduce the amount of disease it could spread. Flies carry disease germs which they deposit on uncovered food. The only way to protect the home from these pests is to use fly spray and to screen windows and doors efficiently. The campaign against flies should be carried on from early spring to late fall—they do occasionally survive in warm houses from season to season.

CINDERELLA'S OUT OF STYLE

When buying shoes, it is not wise to ask for them by the size number of a previous purchase. Many manufacturers do not follow a uniform shape, length or width so it is best to have each foot measured, in order to get the correct size. Ill-fitted shoes can cause pain and fatigue or actual injury to the foot.

IMPORTANT EQUIPMENT

One piece of equipment that should be kept in every home, car, office or other place where people work, is the first-aid kit. This should be checked periodically to ensure that the contents are adequate and that any liquids, such as antiseptics, are in good condition. Those containing alcohol, such as iodine, may evaporate and leave the liquid in a state of greater and less-safe potency. The kit may be the means of saving life—accidents happen in a matter of seconds, so the contents of the first-aid kit should be kept in good condition and quite handy.

FRUGAL COOK

Most people enjoy economy—there's one simple one which any good cook can practice. When vegetables are boiled, it is wise to use the minimum amount of water in order to preserve the minerals and vitamins which might be drawn out by the cooking water. Then, if there is any liquid left when the vegetables are boiled, use it in soups, gravy or vegetable juices—it will be a rich source of those missing vitamins and minerals.

HULBERT W. M. S. MEETING

The meeting of the Hulbert W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. Donald Sullivan on September 1st at two o'clock, and was in charge of Miss Florence Roode. The theme of the meeting was "A Nation Before God." Prayer was offered by Mrs. Herbert McQuaig, and the minutes, roll call and business were attended to. Readings were given by Mrs Percy Ellis, Mrs. Ira Ellis and Mrs. H. McQuaig. The meeting closed with the Benediction, and lunch was served.

HOME HINTS

Paint

The use of vinegar is a very effective method for removing paint spots from window glass.

Windows

A rag dipped in paraffin will clean windows perfectly and gives a brightness impossible to obtain with water. Never use soap on window glass.

The Coffee Pot

If the coffee or tea pot has a defective spout, rub a little butter around the tip of it, and the liquid will pour easily without running down the side of the pot.

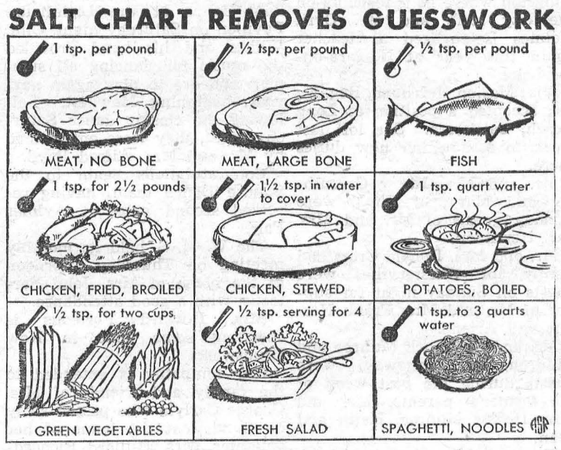
Mending Screens

If the hole in the screen is small, trim the edges until it is roughly square. Cut a new piece of screening about an inch larger each way than the hole. Pull out several of the wires on each side of the patch and bend so that they stick out at right angles. Place the patch over the hole, push the loose wires through the screen and bend back through the screening until the new piece is firmly in place.

Shoe Polish

If the shoepolish has become dry and hard, because of leaving the lid off, moisten it with a few drops of kerosene.

SALT CHART REMOVES GUESSWORK



The "pinch" and "dash" of salt our grandmothers used have been brought down to exact measurements for the cook puzzled by such uncertain directions. Today's homemaker can salt with assurance by following this simple guide. Slightly larger amounts of salt should be used during hot summer days as a health measure to prevent heat fag which results when excessive perspiration depletes the body of necessary salt.

Chick Developer

We carry Developer both in Crumble and Pellet forms. The chickens are all assured of getting the same feed when fed in these forms, whereas when fed in mash, the boss or strong chicks get the cream and the weak ones have to take what is left.

The Lunch Pail Gang Are Off To School Again

It's back-to-school time again for thousands of happy, carefree youngsters. And it's back to a familiar schoolday routine for many mothers too. Mothers of children who carry lunch boxes to school are silently planning their schedules to include this important task. Some are dreading their duties, and anxious to simplify them. Others look forward to having school-age children out from under their feet. Let's look forward too. For mother, there are suggestions, shortcuts, and time-savers. For her children there are lunches good to look at, good to eat and good for health.

Good Nutrition Under Cover

What kind of nutrition goes under cover of your child's lunch box?

Many mothers forget the real reason for packing that gaily painted box each morning. They forget that good marks in the classroom, good scores on the play field, and good health all day long, depend on foods that supply good nutrition three times a day, every day.

Don't take your child's lunch for granted. Every noon lunch is a meal, not a mid-day snack between breakfast and supper. And every noon lunch should provide one third of your child's daily food needs, whether it's eaten off a plate or out from under the cover of a lunch pail. The planning is easy. The pattern is simple. Just four groups of foods to remember for a Grade A lunch:

MILK—To drink or eat (puddings, soups, etc.)

BREAD—Enriched white or whole wheat, with butter or margarine.

FRUIT or VEGETABLES—Raw or cooked.

Take one or more foods from each group, put them together in any variety of ways, and your child can look forward to a tasty, well balanced lunch every day.

Sandwiches That Satisfy

Most lunch box meals are planned around sandwiches—and rightly so! What easier way to carry the meat, fish, eggs, poultry, cheese or peanut butter necessary in a Grade A lunch than between nutritious slices of enriched white or whole wheat bread. For your lunches you'll want sandwiches that satisfy, to satisfy growing appetites as well as health needs. Let your baker help by providing a variety of ready sliced sandwich loaves. He'll let you choose from enriched white, whole wheat, cracked wheat, brown, rye or raisin. Fill the carefully buttered or margarined slices with hearty tasty fillings and your lunch box meal is well on its way.

Fillings That Fill The Bill:

Hawaiian Ham Special

For 6 full slice sandwiches combine:

1 cup ground cooked ham, 1-2 cup drained crushed pineapple, 1 tablespoon brown sugar, 1-8 teaspoon ground cloves.

Spread generously on slices of whole wheat bread for a real Hawaiian hit!

Very Vegetarian

For 4 full slice sandwiches combine:

1-4 cup grated raw carrot, 1-4 cup finely chopped celery, 1-4 cup grated cabbage, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 tsps. chili sauce,, 2 tsps. salad dressing.

Toss together lightly and pile between well buttered or margarined slices of enriched white bread—a sure cure for those vitamin blues.

O'Hara's Meal-in-One

For 6 full slice sandwiches combine:

1 cup chopped cooked corned beef, 1-4 cup chopped onion, 1-4 cup chopped dill pickle, 1-4 cup tomato juice.

Savoury rye bread slices the the perfect "wrap around" for this new taste treat.

Cheese Carousal

For 4 full slice sandwiches combine:

1 1-2 cups shredded Canadian Cheddar Cheese, 1-4 cup chopped salted peanuts, 2 tsps. finely chopped onion, 1-4 cup salad dressing.

Spread on slices of sweet raisin bread for fine festival fare.

* * * *

Shopping Hints

Choose enriched white wiener rolls or hamburger buns occasionally to hold your lunch-time sandwich fillings. Buy sliced bread, in any variety, for convenient handling and stardard size sandwiches.

* * * *

Cardboard salt and pepper shakers with non-spill plastic tops, each with two teaspoons capacity, are now available in packs of six—a welcome addition to any lunch box.

* * * *

Plan lunch box menus in advance, just as you do other meals. Avoid the monotony of repetition and assure good nutrition for your child every day by varying the bread and rolls, and the sandwich fillings. Shop with your menus in hand for economical and sensible buying.

* * * *

"Making" Notes

Pair the two slices of bread that lie next to each other in the loaf so that sandwiches will have even edges and be easier to cut and wrap.

* * * *

Leave the crusts on the bread for lunch box sandwiches to save food value and make sandwiches easier to handle.

* * * *

Your sandwich loaf will slice more easily and more smoothly if you use a sharp knife and a fresh loaf of bread, thoroughly chilled in the refrigerator.

* * * *

Most kinds of sandwiches can be made well ahead of time, carefully wrapped and frozen in your home freezer or the freezing compartment of your refrigerator. When it's time to pack the daily lunch box, transfer the frozen sandwiches into the lunch box and they'll just be nicely thawed and appetizing by noontime.

* * * *

Packing Points

When packing the daily lunch box, wrap like sandwiches together to prevent mingling of flavours. Lettuce and other fresh vegetables should not be included in the sandwiches, but wrapped separately to ensure crispness and freshness.

* * * *

Especially for children, a daily surprise package tucked into the corner of the lunch box will be an appetite tempter. A favourite cookie, several juicy dates stuffed wtih peanut butter, neatly wrapped packages of raisins or nuts, or a tiny puzzle, will make lunchtime a happy time, when the daily mystery package can be opened and enjoyed.

* * * *

Pack heavy items on the bottom of the lunch box to prevent crushing and make handling easier.

A Nutritional Disease

Sprue, a nutritional disease very similar to a type of anemia, develops slowly and inconspicuously until loss of energy and general weakness begin to prevent sufferers from doing their daily work. Diarrhea, indigestion, loss of weight and some nervous symptoms also often develop.

The disease results from a lack of essential vitamins and proteins in the body, because the person doesn't receive the proper nourishment or the digestive system is unable to utilize the food it takes in. As in anemia, this condition produces a deficiency of red corpuscles and there is difficulty in building new blood.

Sprue can often be controlled by prescribing a special diet and by treating the body to bring about proper absorption of vitamins. Folic acid and B_{12}, two vitamins which play a role in the production of red blood cells, are usually given. In stubborn cases, however, the body still can't utilize these essential nutrients.

Now, an aid to this absorption has been found—a form of hydrocortisone, a hormone produced in the body by the adrenal glands. The laboratories have developed a new process using fermentation to make synthetic hydrocortisone drugs like Cortril.

This hormone was administered to 17 cases with sprue during a study conducted in a Chicago hospital. A small dose of the drug produced an excellent response in every case.

Once the body is treated and is able to use the vitamins it receives, the symptoms begin to disappear and the patient is on the way to complete recovery.
