Confirm for Legion

[IROQUOIS] - Confirmation has been received from several embassies to Canada for diplomats to attend the dedication ceremonies honoring Iroquois and Matilda Township war veterans on June 9.

Honor Roll Committee chairman Wytze Douma said 10 countries where local veterans lost their lives were asked to attend the ceremonies and seven have confirmed.

Both Great Britain and The Netherlands have indicated their chief ambassadors will attend while other countries have only confirmed a member of the diplomatic mission will be on hand.

Mr. Douma said the Minister of Defence, Jean-Jacques Blais will not attend but noted there will be an honor guard of 50 servicemen sent to the dedication. In addition, the Canadian Forces Central Band will be on hand to entertain and join in the parade.

To date about $6,000 has been raised to offset costs of the project with a target of $25,000. Mr. Douma said the legion and municipalities have been given a number for applications for grants as a bicentennial project and feels this is an indication it will be received favorably.

How much funding the province will grant to the project is another question altogether and can't be estimated.

Meanwhile, the committee is meeting regularly to iron out the final itinerary for the day's events and a complete listing will be published in The Chieftain as June 9 approaches.

Tabitha Judson rocks on during the air-band competition held at Seaway District High School last Friday which saw $200 raised for the cancer society campaign. Tabitha, Kendra Adair, background, Nancy Johnston and Cathy

All eyes on trade show

[IROQUOIS] - All eyes will be turned to the second annual Merchants Association trade show being held this weekend, Friday from 7 to 10 p.m. and Saturday from 7 to 9 p.m.

The show will be held in the Seaway District High School gymnasium and organizers are hoping for an even better turnout than the 900 persons who passed through the doors last year.

Thirty-six businesses will participate in the show and association president Lorraine Fader has her fingers crossed that they will be swamped by visitors eager to look over the newest lines of merchandise.

Last year's show was such a success that many visitors and businesses sought confirmation on the 1984 show immediately after it was over, Mrs. Fader said.

Because of last year's success, several conveniences have been brought back for a second try. There will be clowns on hand to entertain the children and hand out balloons and if the children get too tired the Iroquois Pathfinders are operating a babysitting service complete with crayons and coloring books to distract the youngsters.

Fawcett's Organs will provide musical entertainment and food booths will be set up to satisfy the cravings of hunger.

One major attraction will be the appearance of Max Keeping at 9 p.m. Friday. Mr. Keeping, producer of CJOH Television News, will assist in Friday evening's draws and offer his personal remarks.

Draws for a total of $200 will be held each night with individual prizes of $100, $50 and two $25 prizes awarded each evening.

Merchants hope to upgrade plaza

[IROQUOIS] - About 10 members of the Merchants Association turned out to a meeting at the council chambers last Tuesday and gave approval to plans for a sidewalk sale.

The sale will be held in conjunction with dedication ceremonies planned by the Royal Canadian Legion branch 370 on June 9.

Discussion then turned to long-range plans to improve the appearance of the shopping plaza.

Reeve Frank Rooney revived talk of designating the plaza as a Business Improvement Area to obtain provincial funding for upgrading the mall. He pointed out there are many municipalities that have already taken advantage of such funding and the result is increased traffic and business.

The reeve said he would like to see the plaza sidewalks enclosed to provide for a better shopping environment.

Rosemary Crawford said there is support among plaza merchants for an enclosed mall. The amount of traffic in the stores decreases markedly when the weather turns to rain or cold, she noted.

Other merchants said they, too, were interested in the proposal and Mr. Rooney said he would look further into the matter to see what is feasible. He noted, however, that even if there was full support it would take some time before such a plan could be implemented.

An artist's conception, drafting plans and such incidentals as how the enclosed sidewalk would be heated and cooled would all have to be considered, he commented.

Merchants' president wants parks equipment bettered

[IROQUOIS] - Lorraine Fader wants to see new playground equipment installed in the east and west-end village parks and is asking other interested parents to contact her with their opinions.

Speaking at the tail end of the Merchants Association meeting held in the council chambers last Tuesday night, Mrs. Fader said the state of the present equipment is not up to standard.

Although the situation may not be of specific concern to the merchants, it was raised as the meeting opened up to general discussion. Mrs. Fader said the persons interested would make up a parents' committee and check into what equipment and resources are available.

brought forward to recreation committee chairman Rick Leroy for input from village council.

Mrs. Fader said only the most basic playground equipment is available for children such as swings, slides and teeter-totters and some of these are not installed correctly or are in need of repair. Some kind of apparatus such as that put up at the Cardinal playground would be desirable, she said.

Amateur fun auction planned

[IROQUOIS] - The Royal Canadian Legion Branch 370 is holding an auction on Saturday May 26 from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m.

We are looking to you the community to assist us by donating any items you find around the house during your spring cleaning that are not needed. All proceeds of the auction will be donated to the Memorial Fund, said Legion representative Phyllis Leckie. "The monument being erected is and will be part of the community's history. Also it will be a small token of appreciation to the men and women who gave their lives for the freedom we now enjoy. We ask you to support us in any way possible" she added.

Arrangements will be made to pick up donations. Please call Mrs. Leckie at 652-4866.

Air-bands net $200 for cancer society

[IROQUOIS] - They were all there, just like at the Grammy Awards. Van Halen, Boy George and Culture Club, Cyndi Lauper, Def Leopard and many more.

Where were they? Well, if not exactly in body, then in spirit these top-flight entertainers were at Seaway District High School last Friday afternoon to witness the students take to the stage and do their best imitations of their heroes.

With the sound-system cranked to full volume and the student body sitting attentively in the gymnasium, the air-bands took to the stage in the costumes of the rockers and displayed limitless energy dancing about and mimicking the stars.

Guitars flailed about the empty air and drums crashed thunderously while the lead singers writhed and contorted in imitation of the latest rock videos while lights flashed brilliant colours across the stage.

And it was all for a good cause - to raise funds for the Iroquois cancer society branch. So when student council representative Nancy Beavers presented cancer campaign chairman Anna Stacey with a $200 cheque, there was good reason for smiles all around.

Horticultural society has white pine for Iroquois [MORRISBURG] - The Morrisburg and District Horticultural Society will plant five white pines, Ontario's official arboreal emblem, at five municipalities including Iroquois on May 19.

John Corbett, chairman of the society's beautification committee, contacted village Reeve Frank Rooney last week and council is to select a site for the planting. Mr. Corbett said the Iroquois tree will be planted in a morning ceremony and a list of dignitaries to attend and the precise time will be released at a later date.

Other morning tree plantings will be in Morrisburg and Mariatown with afternoon ceremonies planned for Williamsburg and Riverside Heights. Mr. Corbett said the plantings are part of the society's bicentennial celebrations and also show appreciation to the municipalities from which the society draws its members.

The Iroquois white pine will be dedicated to Jane Graham, immediate past president of the society and a long-standing member.

Mr. Corbett said local horticultural societies across the province have been urged to take part in ceremonies to plant white pines by the provincial horticultural association to honor the 200th anniversary of Ontario.

The local society will hold its annual spring flower show at the Morrisburg civic centre on May 22 at 7:30 p.m. and this, too, will be a bicentennial event. A third bicentennial project by the society, the flower and vegetable show on August 25, is also planned.

He added that the society will soon plant the Iroquois flower bed along Hwy. 2 in front of the shopping plaza. The flowers will be arranged to spell welcome for the second year in a row. They formerly spelled the village's name but when the Iroquois Lock sign was put up at the same location, it was decided to change the flower bed, he noted.

Mr. Corbett said the planting of the flowers will depend on the weather. This is the seventh year the society has offered its services to arrange the attraction. Since its formation 35 years ago, the society has done a similar job at the flower bed in Morrisburg.

"The society covers these communities around here and this is one of its chief works - this and the flower shows," Mr. Corbett concluded.

The students had been entertained, the staff was well-pleased and the cancer branch was the big winner, although not the only winner.

Van Halen and The Headpins also won. They received the top two marks from the six judges for their performances and won the right to compete in the SD & G air-band competition slated for Cornwall.

Van Halen's performance was highlighted by Kevin Drennan's imitation of lead singer David Lee Roth's role in the video of the band's latest hit, Jump. Other band members added their enthusiastic movements to make it the most popular of the student bands with the judges.

Other members of the band were Pepe Parisien, Andy Cummins and Bobby Jack Hart.

Second place went to an all-girl version of The Headpins, a Vancouver rock band. Tabitha Judson portrayed the lead singer with exciting panache and was aptly backed by Nancy Johnston and Kendra Adair on guitars and Cathy Gibson on drums.

Other featured bands were Kiss and Motley Crue, which tied for third in judging, Oingo Boingo, The Chipmunks, Minipops and The Purple People Eaters.

The teachers got into the act as well and showed they weren't all raised during the big-band era with the stirring renditions of the Stray Cat Strut and Leader of the Laundromat.

A former Iroquois resident and the son of Ron and Joyce Fader, Corporal Kevin Fader, top row left corner, was one of seven airforce personnel who received visits last month by Canada's first crew of astronauts. Cpl. Fader is an instructor at the Canadian Forces School of Aerospace Medicine at Toronto and the astronauts were there for a one-day course which they required to fly as a passenger in a fighter jet. Among the instructions given by Cpl. Fader were ejecting from the jets and the effects of changes in barometric pressure. Cpl. Fader was selected to accompany Dr. Ken Money, bottom fourth from left, on a week-long aeromedical display in San Diego this May. Also pictured are, front from left, Canada's astronauts - Roberta Bondar, Steve MacLean, Marc Garneau, Ken Money, Bjarni Tryggvason and Bob Thirsk. In back are Cpl. Fader, Cpl. H. Donald, MCpl. S. Chaisson, Col. R.C. Hicks, Lt. B. Lyle, Cpl. D. Smion-eau and Cpl. D. Beaudry.

Members of the Iroquois Girl Guides and their leaders visited the senior citizens apartments on Dundas Street last week.

and entertained their hosts with a series of Easter and spring songs.

Harbour Lites hold 10th anniversary reunion

Friday, April 13th did not deter the spirits for former and present members of the Harbour Lites modern square dance club who met for an evening dancing at the South Edwardsburg Community Centre (Johnstown).

The beautiful decorated hall along with posters and albums brought back many happy and fun memories of this activity "Friendship set to music" over the ten years.

President, Jack Charbot welcomed the dancers and the evening got under way with Caller Al Logan, who faithfully instructed and called for the club, since it originated. During the evening recognition was made to several members. Pat and Al Gillis who instigated the first class, Winnie and Ken Wells who designed the Club Badge with the colours blue and white and to Luella and Jack Charbot who over the years have held the presidency several times.

The evening was highlighted by the presence of the oldest, but young in heart member, John Grey. He was among the first to graduate and as he joined in a square he demonstrated he is still very much an active dancer and the gathering showed their appreciation. For the Irvings of Cardinal, it was an evening of dancing for the family.

Delicious refreshments along with a beautifully decorated cake depicting the Club Badge - the lighthouse at Windmill Point brought the evening to a close. The Club thanks all who returned for the evening to renew friendship and to once again dance and to make ten years of Club activity a memorable one.

St. Lawrence Scout leaders plan for summer activities

[IROQUOIS] - Scout leaders from St. Lawrence District attended a district council meeting here at the United Church on April 12th.

John McAuley, Council president, welcomed everyone and offered congratulations to nine Boy Scouts who recently received their Chief Scout Awards at a ceremony in Ottawa.

The Scouts include Sheldon Hoogwerf, 7th Prescott; Henry Gardell, Kemptville; from Chesterville, Peter VanderLind, Allan Whetter and George Armstrong; and from Winchester, Kevin Bell; Mark McKinley, Tom Wilson and Richard Rodney.

Mr. McAuley reported on the provincial water activities policy and procedures that will be in effect on Jan. 1, 1985. Included in the policy is the directive that all districts must form committees to oversee the water activities and to issue charger certificates to leaders that fulfill the necessary requirements.

St. Lawrence Districts' Committee includes George Fowler, Scout Master in Iroquois; Wayne Tuck, 7th Prescott's scout leader; and Terry Smart, Scout leader in Kemptville. Fred Stretton, Group Committee chairman from 7th Prescott will act as a resource person.

The district is currently holding discussions on leasing property to use as a camp and other activities.

regarding the land. Sitting on this committee will be Chester-ville Scoutmaster Rudi Derst- roff, Fred Rodney and Jim Cinnamon from Winchester and Roger Duchesne from 9th Pres- cott-Johnstown.

A third committee was formed to organize the 1985 regional conference to be hosted by the district for the first time. Mr. McAuley will be chairman with members Chris Slater and Sandie MacKay from 7th Pres- cott, Eddie Vanschie, 2nd Pres- cott and Etta Strong from Iro- quois.

The various sections held individual discussions with the Beaver leaders making plans for the Beaveree to be held in Iroquois on May 26.

The Cub section led by John Connell, A.D.C. of Cubs, began reorganising the Cub Camp. Original plans to camp at Fort Wellington in Prescott had to be scrapped as final approval to make use of the property was denied by the federal depart- ment that oversees the opera- tion of the fort. The camp will now be held on the week-end of June 8 at the K.O.A. site north of Cardinal.

Ron McLean A.D.C. of Scouts was in charge of the troop section when discussion took place on the water activities policy, the regional scout camp in Petawawa on June 1, 2 and 3 and the Pennsylvania trip in October.

Business donates part of sales to Festival

[IROQUOIS] - Windmill Gardens of Spencerville will donate to the Summer Festival committee a portion of the sales it makes during a visit to the village May 21.

Fifteen per cent of all the business's bedding plant sales made during a one-day stop at Fader's Floral Designs will go toward the festival. Windmill Gardens will be here from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Advance orders will be taken by phoning 652-4420 and pick-up will be the day of the sale.

Advance orders must be in by May 18.

Summer Festival committee chairperson Lorraine Fader said the donations will help to make the event more enjoyable for everyone.

A Worthwhile Cause

Letters and appeals have gone out in our area of Iroquois-Matilda and from Cardinal area and canvassers are knocking on doors seeking donations to this year's Cancer Society's campaign. It's not easy work, it's time consuming and many repeat calls have to be made, but the effort is worthwhile. There is hardly a home that hasn't been touched by cancer.

If you have someone who has cancer or someone who died from this disease, it isn't easy to come up with a donation because you know what devastation it can cause. There is plenty of time left to get your donation in but don't delay.

Please!

HORSES! CARS AND THOUGHTLESS DRIVERS

Every so often someone reminds us to pass along a message to people who drive cars around the countryside where others are out riding their horses. Many a driver, thoughtless or otherwise, often speed pass horse-back riders, toot their horn, and startle the horse. Many horses are nervous creatures and the toot of a horn coming up behind them is often enough to send them rushing down the road.

Out of control, a horse can be more than a handful for a rider to bring under control and many people have been thrown from their horse and badly hurt.

Please! Please! When coming up behind or in front of a horse and rider, please slow down, do not honk your horn, and give the rider a better chance at enjoying his or her sport. The person you save from being hurt could be one of your friends or one of your friends' children.

Every year we read of someone being thrown from a horse that was startled by a careless driver... we'd rather not have to print a similar story in The Chieftain.

SWEET DELICIOUS MUDPOUT

There are some who look at mudpout as being ugly, horny, slippery, slimy things better buried in the back of the garden for fertilizer. But for those who grew up on eating those small tasty little creatures, fried in butter or a bit of batter, there isn't anything like them.

It's a bit early for them but reports keep filtering in that they are biting. Once we can find dew worms we figure it's time to start fishing. What we need is a nice warm rain to bring out the worms, clean up the banks of the bays and we'll be ready. Don't mind catching them but after cleaning thousands of them over the years, we don't mind giving them away.

Next batch we get goes to a friend who doesn't mind cleaning them and we'll be invited to the feed.

See you down river!

SMALL CHILDREN SHOULDN'T FISH ALONE

Too often we've seen some pretty young fry down river fishing by themselves or even when with a young friend, isn't a wise thing to do. Considering the consequences of a youngster slipping into a deep spot along the shore, cutting himself badly with a knife or whatever the circumstance, parents should be more aware of the dangers of letting their children fish alone or without the guidance of an adult.

And that adult shouldn't be someone else. Any father or mother for that matter, who hasn't spent half a day fishing with is or her kid, has missed something worthwhile. Might even get them talking together!

Ken Kirkby

One of the main aggravations of a child growing up in the 50's and 60's was being commandeered to help out in the kitchen by washing dishes. There was nothing too appealing about being up to your elbows in soapy water with a stack of dishes that stretched farther than last week's allowance. For our kids, one of the aggravations of growing up in the 80's is not being able to play in the sink with soap and water and dishes because the dishwasher takes all the fun out of that job. Son number one lamented the other day that he wished we could wash some dishes in the sink instead of having to always put them in the dishwasher. Always eager to oblige, we arranged for a few dishes (plastic of course) to be left behind for hand washing and let them go at it. We can only hope that the interest in household chores doesn't fade before they're old enough to make life easier for the old folks.

With an introduction to the world of washing dishes, son number two quietly eased into the bathroom the next day and climbed up on his stool to fill the basin with water. Then all the bathtub toys went in, along with the toothpaste, combs and soap. Using a towel as his washrag and his father's toothbrush as a scrub brush he was wet to the elbows doing his own dishes. We can only be thankful that he seems to have passed the stage of using the toilet as his source of water for boat-sailing and washing.

We went shopping on the weekend for a few new clothes and it was like touring the markets of the world without having to leave home. Without getting up on a soapbox let me just say that I've always at least attempted to buy Canadian products if they were available and the price was competitive. We did a lot of looking and only a very little buying as it turned out, but most of what we looked at was from every corner of the world. Along with the usual array of things from Korea, Poland and Hong Kong, there were even entries from such places as Macau and the People's Republic of China. Finding Canadian products was somewhere between difficult and impossible. Perhaps the clothing people need to make as much noise as the automakers did to limit foreign competition. Or better still, they could try to make a quality product and sell it at a fair price, with some back-up promotion to buy Canadian.

This weekend will see the second trade show in Iroquois, organized by the born-again business association. It promises to be even better than last year's (which was a fine effort) and all indications are that there will be plenty for crowds to see. One display to stop at will be the booth operated by the Iroquois-Matilda Lions. Plan on picking up your tickets there for the play "The Haunted House", to be performed the following weekend. You can save a dollar by buying advanced tickets at $3. and all proceeds will be going to the Legion cenotaph project.

The bottom line: a compromise is a deal in which two people get what neither of them wanted.

THE HONOURABLE NORMAN STERLING, M.P.P.

CARLETON-GRENVILLE

Provincial Secretary for Justice

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

Preserving our Architectural Heritage

In Carleton-Grenville, we are fortunate to live in an area that is so rich in Ontario's history. In my duties as provincial representative, it is a real pleasure to travel throughout the riding and see so many of the beautiful old buildings which create such an important link with our past.

The Ontario Ministry of Citizenship and Culture has established the Building Rehabilitation and Improvement Campaign to help finance the cost of preserving and restoring heritage buildings. The funding for BRIC programs is made available under the Board of Industrial Leadership and Development.

Through BRIC, $8.5 million is available in grants over a five-year period. This complements the work of the Ontario Heritage Foundation and various Ontario programs that provide assistance for the conservation of structures considered to be of particular importance to the province.

Many communities across the province have taken an active role in heritage conservation. Since the proclamation of the Ontario Heritage Act in 1974, municipal councils have established more than 130 local architectural conservation advisory committees whose job is to advise local councils on conservation-related matters.

In addition, the interest shown by business in an area's local history has resulted in many interesting and valuable retail, office, and residential properties. The benefits are twofold: not only has a part of our history been preserved, but the overall appearance of an area has been improved, which may in turn lead to increased tourist spending.

Under the BRIC program, corporate sector grants are available for the conservation of privately-owned commercial or industrial properties which have been designated under the Ontario Heritage Act.

The Ministry of Citizenship and Culture administers these grants which can cover up to a maximum of 50 per cent of the eligible costs of a project. To be eligible for a grant, a building must have been constructed for commercial or industrial, at least in part. A residential building may qualify if it contains at least three dwelling units.

Further information on the corporate sector grants may be obtained from the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture, Architecture and Planning Unit, Heritage Branch, 77 Bloor Street, 2nd Floor, Toronto, Ontario M7A 2R9.

Another type of grant available through BRIC is the designated property grant, which was established to enable municipalities to assist the private owner to restore a heritage home.

Grants to a maximum of $2,000 are available through the municipality, but must be matched on a 50-50 basis with the owner. Upon satisfactory completion of the work, the municipality reimburses the owner.

The province in turn reimburses the municipality. Further information and application forms are available from participating municipalities.

Bird Notes

by E. G. AVERY

Easter, with all its promises, both fulfilled and yet to be, is a beautiful season. We watch the countryside renew itself, changing from the quiet tones of winter to the bright colours of Spring. Beginning with the grass which is doing nicely now, to the three and shrubs, some already sprouting tiny leaf-buds, to the first crocuses popping up like small jewels on the lawns; even the sky seems bluer.

Most birds are changing to their summer plumage now, and the House Sparrows, usually on the dull side, are looking quite smart in their basic brown, with accents which are almost a peach colour.

We rushed to the window at the sound of what we suspected was some shorebird slightly off-course, but it turned out to be a very handsome Blue Jay "singing" his Spring Song.

Speaking of shorebirds, this promises to be a good year for Great Blue Herons; they can be spotted nearly every day coming and going from the river to the various ponds near the village. Large flocks of Geese are still making their way Norin, we saw them on Easter Monday, a fascinating sight as they continually change the formations.

Our Song Sparrow sings sweetly from the Hydro wire, but when he comes down to feed, he chases all comers, whether they be Blackbirds or other Sparrows.

Two Purple Finches and a Tree Sparrow, and the ever-faithful Woodpeckers provided the entertainment over the weekend. Robins too, of course, and a few Swallows round out a good variety of birds, in spite of a few days of strong winds and showers.

Some fat's good for you

(NC) — March is Nutrition Month. We should think "Choose Nutrition Now".

Many people have questions on nutrition, some of which we will try to answer during nutrition month.

QUESTION: Are animal fats bad for one's health?

ANSWER: No, animal fats are important in the diet of the normal healthy individual. Animal fats found in meat, butter and eggs are an important source of energy and are carriers of fat soluble vitamins.

Health and Welfare Canada notes that 35% of our energy needs come from fat. Foods such as butter, eggs and meat can be enjoyed in reasonable amounts.

QUESTION: Because meat is so expensive, how can I get the best value for my money?

ANSWER: When shopping for meat, it is wise to think of cost per serving rather than cost per pound. For example, a kilogram of ground meat or a boned roast will give 7 to 8 servings. A kilogram of chops will provide 4 to 6 servings.

Less-expensive cuts provide the same nutrients as more-expensive cuts. Slower cooking is required with the less-expensive cuts.

Liver, eggs, poultry and pork are often good buys. They supply protein and are excellent substitutes for meat.

QUESTION: Why is cheese included in the meat group as well as in the milk group?

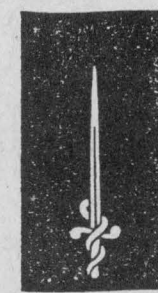

ANSWER: Cheese is a good source of protein. In fact, 45 g (1½ ounces) of cheddar has about the same amount of protein as 2 eggs.

Cheese, however, is low in iron. That is why other sources of iron should be included — such as organ meats, eggs, spinach, dried fruit, or whole-grain cereals and breads.

Dye: the bureaucrats' party pooper

By W. Roger Worth

In this age of ever-rising government deficits, one is forced to wonder about the spending habits and management ability of the country's bureaucrats, mandarins and senior civil servants.

Indeed, it was no less an authority than Kenneth Dye, Canada's Auditor General, who brought the matter to mind when he admitted to a Commons Committee that his department was conducting an investigation into the "use-or-lose" theory of government spending.

For the uninitiated, that's the process through which the nation's bureaucrats spend massive amounts of money in the final month of the government's fiscal year.

The apparent reason for the excessive spending: if the cash that was budgeted to be spent hasn't been used up, the mandarins go on a spending binge to see that it is. It is a lot like a taxpayer happily finding that he or she didn't have as many expenses as planned, so the extra money can be blown on a trip to Las Vegas or the sunny south rather than paying down a loan.

For upwardly-mobile civil servants, though, the practice is much more important to individual careers, and the country's sales people have a field day during these end-of-fiscal-year rites.

Indeed, some knowing companies place senior executives in Ottawa and some provincial capitals only for the big buying period.

New computers replace the old. Offices are redecorated and new furniture sales take on added glamour. Spending plans that had long simmered on the back burner are miraculously discovered overnight.

If the bureaucrats don't spend their entire allotments, it seems, there is real concern their peers will view them as bad managers who can't budget correctly.

What's worse, from the mandarins' point of view, is that next year's cash allotment for the department or agency may be reduced. This, of course, is not acceptable to the bureaucrats. There is an inherent belief that a larger department, and greater spending, will result in more power and influence for the bureaucrat involved.

The problem, of course, is that there is little or no incentive for our bureaucrats to save money. So instead of putting a few billion dollars of the planned spending aside to reduce the overall deficit, the extra cash is spent in one final free-for-all.

Nor is the difficulty all at the federal level. Indeed, there seems to be a spending mentality among bureaucrats that affects every government body in the country.

The solution may be to offer bonuses to frugal bureaucrats who don't follow the "use-or-lose" theory and have money left at year-end.

On the other hand, a simpler and less expensive idea would be a salary cut for bureaucrats who do waste taxpayers' cash by taking advantage of this many-times pernicious system.

The farm machinery report Plante Farm Equipment is a record-setter

Editor's Note: Meeting the increasingly specialized demands of the modern farmer is a challenge being met by Dundas County farm equipment dealers. The success of the dealerships reflects upon the determination of the individual farmer who, despite the worst continuing economic climate since the dirty thirties, manages to thrive through adversity.

In the coming weeks, The Chieftain will profile some of the farm equipment suppliers in south Dundas and look at the hopes and aspirations of the owners.

[BRINSTON] - Coming off one of the quietest sales months in the history of Plante Farm Equipment Ltd. in March, owner Herve Plante says April sales are up substantially and he is looking forward to another year of sales in the $600,000 range.

As with anything, there are peaks and valleys in farm equipment sales but during Mr. Plante's 12 years in the business there have been more high points than low.

Dealing mainly in barn and silos equipment from such brand names as Houle, Mueller, Wic and Silomatic, Plante's has set a number of sales records. In each of the past three years, for example, the business has topped Houle equipment sales for Ontario and in 1982, Plante's set an all-Canada record by ordering more than $450,000 worth of Houle products.

Mr. Plante, 46, makes no bones about the fact Houle is his most popular line and he remains proud of his association with the supplier. When he first started selling farm equipment in 1972, Mr. Plante was the second Ontario dealer for Houle products. Now, he notes, there are 23 Ontario dealers and Houle has expanded into western Canada and the United States.

"Houle was unknown in the area at the time," Mr. Plante explained. The fact, however, that it is a Canadian company located in Drummondville, P.Q. means it is quick and relatively inexpensive to get replacement parts and this, he pointed out, is one of the major selling points.

Mr. Plante says he laughs off polite ribbing from his other suppliers that he pushes Houle products more than theirs. "I go where the demand is," he explains. "I don't push one more than the other."

Demand for Houle products jumped from $75,000 of orders in 1977, Plante's fifth year of operation, to more than $300,000 in 1980 and about $450,000 in 1982. That was also the best year for business as Plante's sold about $850,000 of equipment in spite of the fact the recession had reached its peak.

"I'm not bragging," Mr. Plante said, "but the recession hardly touched us at all." Modern farm equipment is in a constant state of being upgraded, he noted, and farmers are cutting expenses by installing more efficient equipment.

Born on a dairy farm in Ottawa to French-speaking parents in 1938 Mr. Plante moved to Casselman after the death of his father 10 years later. He returned to Ottawa in 1958 and three years later he took over as manager of a 170-head dairy farm near Hulbert.

For more than 10 years he remained on the farm (it is now owned by the Thurler family) and in late 1972 he began selling equipment from his home.

On July 1, 1973 Mr. Plante began dealing equipment from Brinston. "Brinston is well known for farm business," Mr. Plante said. "After I came here I never looked back."

While there's a lot of competition in the small Matilda Township community, Mr. Plante said he wouldn't have it any other way. With all the farm equipment facilities available, Brinston attracts a flow of customers from throughout the Ottawa Valley and Quebec.

Its one of the major farm centres in Eastern Ontario, Mr. Plante said, and local farmers are better off for it. "If they don't like my service or prices all they have to do is walk down the street. They don't have to drive another 30 miles."

Mr. Plante's regular customers come from either side of Ottawa, Richmond and Hull, P.Q., Casselman and St. Albert. From east to west, Mr. Plante said, his business territory extends mainly from Hwy. 138 north of Cornwall to Hwy. 16.

He said the business has about 200 regular customers who keep coming back because of the quality of the equipment and the service behind it. Repairs and maintenance are done by Ernie Serviss and Kevin Baldwin who have been with Plante's for 10 and six years respectively. A third worker, Dennis Fulton, was laid off in February but is expected to be recalled before the summer.

In the front office Kathy Baldwin is the bookkeeper and Mr. Plante handles the sales. He also said he expects to hire two more workers for the coming summer months.

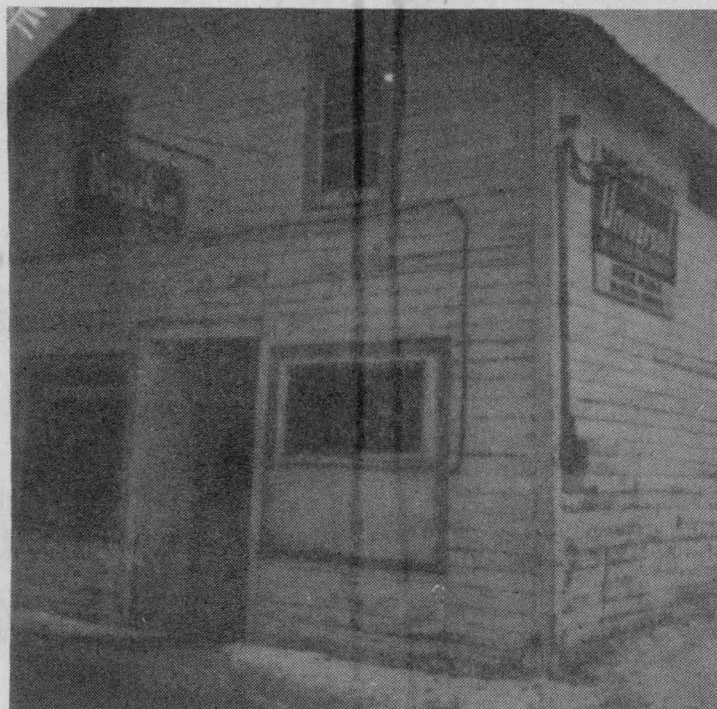

Mr. Plante and Anita, his wife, are parents of four children. Carol, 22, recently married Woodrow Casselman of Iroquois and they now live in Ottawa. Gerard, 20, goes to community college in Barrie and Paul, 17, and Jacqueline, 13, live at home.

After 12 years of selling, health concerns are forcing Mr. Plante to rely on his regular customers for a steady flow of business. He still retains his enthusiasm for selling but says there are no plans to push hard for continued expansion.

The business has a sound reputation and by word-of-mouth more farmers come into the fold each year. Getting out and meeting the farmers on a one-to-one basis and making sales calls are Mr. Plante's first loves and go a long way to explain his success.

He noted that the business has supplied most of the local farmers with one product or another and said it is satisfying to drive along a country road and count the number of farms for which Plante's has been a major dealer.

"When I was young my goal was always to be a salesman," Mr. Plante remarked. "I just love it at."

The original building taken over in 1983 by Herve Plante. It was subsequently torn down and a new front built.

New head at agronomy section

[KEMPTVILLE] - Bill Curnoe has been appointed head of the Agronomy Section at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology.

A graduate of both the diploma and degree programs at the University of Guelph, Mr. Curnoe was awarded an M.Sc. at the University of Guelph in 1975 for his work on the effects of sewage sludge on soils.

Though conducted in a lab, the experiments showed sludge worked well on clay soil low in phosphorus.

Over the next few years, research in the Section will maintain its strong commitment to corn and forages. But Mr. Curnoe says the section will also emphasize soybean production, crop rotation, and intensive cereal management.

In the past, Mr. Curnoe's research has shown that nitrogen from plowed down legumes can affect succeeding corn crops into the second year. At present, he is developing a system which will better show the potassium and phosphorus needs of the higher yielding alfalfas.

Before coming to the college in 1975, he taught soil courses to diploma and degree students at Guelph. At Kemptville, he combined theory with practice, teaching junior students among other things to make a fertilizer plan for a farm and at the same time protect and conserve the soil. In addition, he introduced an in-depth soil management course for second-year students.

At present, Mr. Curnoe is chairman of the Ontario Soil Management Research Committee and sits as a member on another six research committees.

Cards Of Thanks

No words could ever express our deep appreciation for the thoughtfulness of our families, friends and neighbours for the Surprise 25th Anniversary party held in our honour Saturday April 14 at Iroquois Civic Centre. A Special Thank You to Norma and Harold Steinberg, Floyd and Shirley Gibson, Marge and Casey Velkamp, Rita Gibson and Earl Jordan and our daughter Cathy who organized this party and did a terrific job and to all our friends and relatives who helped in any way to make this party such a success. They are numerous from what we have heard. To Hans and Joanne for their help in so many ways and for the beautiful cake they made for us. To Eileen Wyatt for the many hours she and Shirley spent doing Our Book - Its just fantastic. Also for the beautiful gifts, cards, money and phone messages and the folks that came to celebrate this very special occasion with us. Now to two very important people in our lives, our good friends Cecil and Carole McDermott who helped in so many ways and also celebrated their 25th last Wednesday April 18th. Thanks again for making our silver anniversary such a special event we will always remember. Sandy and Verna Gibson 46-1p

I wish to convey my deepest appreciation to one and all for the love and friendship expressed to me in the many cards, letters, calls and in all your prayers during my recent illness. A special thank you to Rev. Tysick for his trips to Ottawa. Beverley Derby. 47-1c

I wish to thank all those who sent cards, treats, telephoned and visited me while I was a patient in the Ottawa Civic Hospital. Your kindness will always be remembered. Len Scott 47-1p

Public Meeting

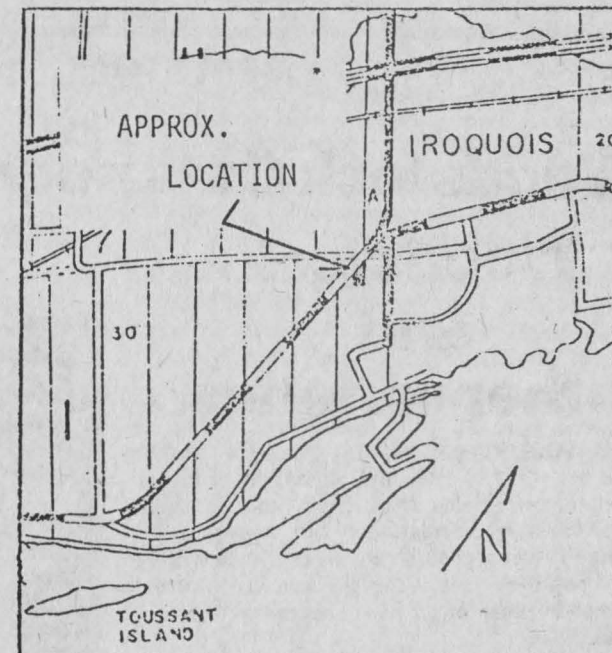

Concerning A Proposed Official Plan Amendment

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Matilda will hold a public meeting on Thursday May 24th, 1984 at 8:00 p.m. at the Township Municipal Building, Brinston, Ontario, to consider a proposed Official Plan Amendment under Section 17 of the Planning Act.

The proposed Official Plan Amendment would change the designation of approximately 1.6 ha. (4 acres) of land from "Highway Commercial" to "Highway Commercial-Special". The subject lands are located in part Lot 25, Concession 1, Range 1, on the south side of Provincial Highway No. 2 west of the Village of Iroquois. (as shown below). There is an existing service station and dwelling on the subject lands. The proposed Official Plan Amendment is intended to permit the "fabrication, processing, assembling and warehousing of metals" on the site in addition to the currently permitted "Highway Commercial" uses. The Official Plan Amendment entails the same proposal which is currently subject to a proposed Zoning By-law Amendment for which a separate public meeting is scheduled on Thursday, April 26, 1984.

ANY PERSON may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed official plan amendment.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION relating to the proposed amendment is available for inspection at my office during regular office hours.

DATED at the Township of Matilda this 16th day of April,

Tips for the bicyclist

[TORONTO] - With the advent of spring and warmer weather, old and young enthusiasts will be thinking of getting out their bicycles.

The Ontario Safety League suggests a few preliminary steps you should take to make biking safer and more fun.

Drive a bicycle that fits you. The size of your bike affects your balance and ability to reach the steering and braking controls and pedals. You should be able to reach the ground comfortably with the ball of your foot while sitting upright on the seat.

Parents should supervise the selection of a bicycle for a child and periodically they should inspect the bike to see that it is in good working order.

Check the tires for wear and tear. Also check the wheel spokes, chain, lights and horn. Make sure the bike is well oiled, and tighten any loose nuts and bolts.

Check braking ability on both wet and dry surfaces before taking the bike onto the street. Your bicycle should also be in good alignment. If it veers to one side when pushed forward, it is out of line and needs adjusting.

No child should be permitted to drive on roadways until he or she has mastered all aspects of the bicycle and demonstrated this mastery for his or her parents. Bicycle skills that must be taught to children include safe starting, the ability to drive in a straight line near the curb, rules about right-of-way, turning corners, and rapid stopping.

Remember that bicyclists are considered drivers under the law and that traffic rules, signs and signals apply to the cyclist just as they do to the motorists.

Mudpout derby

[CARDINAL] - The Cardinal Fish and Game Club will hold a junior and senior mudpout derby this Sunday.

The derby is free to junior and senior members and for non-members $2.

The junior winners will be in three categories: eight and under, nine to 13, and 13 to 16. The prizes for each category will be $5, $3 and $2. Refreshments will be served to the juniors.

The senior derby prizes will be $50, $30 and $20. The weigh-in will be from 9:30 to 10 p.m. at the boat ramp east of the legion.

Safety council conducts summer campaign

[OTTAWA] - The Canada Safety Council want to remind us of its summer safety campaign, May 1-7, which has for its theme, Safety is Always in Season.

On family outings in the country this summer, the motorist should expect increased and slower traffic on the highways. Be patient and courteous and get where you want safely.

Motorists taking in the surrounding scenery sometimes forget to concentrate on driving and the on-coming traffic. This makes for a potentially dangerous situation. Prevent it by stopping on the side of the road or pulling off somewhere to enjoy the view.

Motorists on vacation may be unsure which road to take and be reading a map while driving. The council emphasizes that studying an itinerary before the trip enables motorists to concentrate their attention on driving and the road ahead.

Preventive maintenance of the vehicle is important. Check for tire condition and pressure, the fluid levels and all other preventable maintenance procedures as recommended by a mechanic or the owner's manual. Trailers should be checked for signal lights, tire condition and pressure and proper hitch security. Never let anyone stay in the trailer while you are driving.

The influx of tourists to popular vacation spots means a greater concentration of vehicles making driving in those areas more hazardous. The motorist should reduce speed and be fully alert and cautious.

The council wishes to point out that thousands of Canadians will take to the road this summer.

Scenes from Seaway

Seaway congratulates Pam Gowanlock and Karen Locke, who recently competed in the S.D.G. Typing Contest at Tagwi.

Pam placed second in the senior division, with a speed of 64 words per minute. Karen placed third with a speed of 61 words per minute. With their combined speeds, Karen and Pam earned first place and will receive a team trophy in June.

Badminton is the next intramural sport on schedule for this year. Students who were interested in playing girls or boys doubles and singles, were encouraged to sign up.

Seaway's annual magazine subscription campaign is now in full swing. Every year Seaway students sell a variety of magazines to family and friends.

These magazines are reduced from their original price and are featured from their original price and are featured at a special offer. Magazines from Reader's Digest the world's most popular magazine, to Macleans, Country Guide and Sound Canada are just a few of the magazines available.

Some of the money earned from this campaign will be put towards the Seaway Band and Athletic Association.

Seaway's second annual air band concert was held in the afternoon of April 19. The admission was fifty cents per person and all earnings went to the Canadian Cancer Society.

The concert consisted of eleven student groups and two groups consisting of teachers.

All bands, except those made up of teachers, were judged by a selected number of students and teachers.

Throughout the afternoon, the audience viewed such groups as Kiss, the Headpins, Motley Crue, Culture Club, Def Lepiord, and Van Halen. More comical groups also performed such as, the Mini Pops, Chipmunks, and the Purple People Eater.

One group of teachers performed the Stray Cat Strut, while the other teachers, called the Detergents, sang Leader of the Laundramat.

It was certainly very interesting to see a math or English teacher dressed in a cat costume.

After all groups had performed, the judges presented a plaque to the winning groups. In first place was Van Halen. Second place was held by the Headpins while Motley Crue and Kiss were runners up. The first and second place groups will be going to Cornwall to compete in the S.D.G. Air Band Competition.

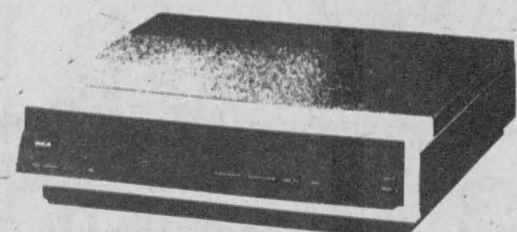

Shelley Bentley and Wendy Gibb, two teachers at Seaway, who were chiefly responsible for the organization of the contest, received a small token of thanks for their efforts.

Anna Stacey receives a cheque for $200 for the cancer society raised during the Seaway District High School air-band competition last Friday. On behalf of the students' council, Nancy Beavers made the presentation.

Life on the FARM

by John and Monica Ladell

MacDonell Farm, Williamstown

Glengarry County commemorates a family - one of the most famous and largest in the province - the MacDonells.

It was from Glen Garry in western Scotland that the MacDonells and MacDonalds (and all the variants of those names) came to settle in North America in the 1700s. They were members of the great Scottish Clan Donald and among them were the forebears of Archibald MacDonell who, with his wife, Isabel, and his family, farms on the Summerstown Road, east of Cornwall. Beaverview Farm, as it is called, is one of the most historic farms in Ontario.

In 1773, because of worsening economic conditions in the highlands, more than 600 clansmen from the Scottish Glen Garry sailed in the Pearl for the colony of New York. They made their home in Mohawk Valley but had hardly settled in before the American War of Independence broke out.

Many of the clansmen remained loyal to the British Crown, enlisting in one or other of the many loyalist regiments.

When the war ended and members of those regiments were re-settled in what is now Ontario, they were among the loyalists whose arrival is not being celebrated by the province's bicentennial.

Among those early settlers were John MacDonell (or Mac Donald) and his brother, Alex, both discharged loyalist soldiers. They took up land in Glengarry County on the south side of the Raisin River. And it is here, on Beaverview Farm, that John's descendants still live.

The white house with the long verandah facing the road was built in 1879 with money Archibald MacDonell's great-grandmother earned from railway contracts out west. It was the third house on the farm. The first was made of logs. The second, in which the family recalls a priest used to say mass was moved in 1911 and became a carriage house and grainary. Visitors to the farm can see it still.

The first barns on the farm were across the road from the houses. Then in 1886 the timbers for a new barn were cut and carefully laid down in a field, piece by piece - today we would call it prefabrication. By summer, all the pieces were ready and neighbours gathered for a raising bee.

"There was such a crowd arrived that by nightfall the skeleton of the barn was up and every last rafter in place," wrote Florence MacDonell (Archibald MacDonell's mother) in her excellent farm history. Neighbourhood women helped with the cooking, refreshments flowed freely, and afterwards there was a big dance to celebrate a job so well done that the barn has lasted for almost a century.

It is interesting to note how much thought and care went into the design of this barn.

Some of its features included stabling on the main floor and trap doors so that manure could be shovelled into a manure shed below. The wooden troughs were carefully lined with tin, and water was pumped into them through pipes from a well outside. (Later, the pump was moved into a corner of the stable for greater warmth in winter.)

The stables were completely renovated in 1917. The floor in the basement was cemented. The old manure shed was converted to a stable fitted with wooden stanchions. Water bowls and a litter carrier were installed.

The first milking machine was bought in 1919. The farm also acquired a cream separator - U.S. was its brand name. Later a DeLaval separator was bought. It was easier to turn by hand. Eventually, a motor was added.

In 1913, a milkhouse was built with water tanks for cooking the milk. Ice for the cooler was stored in an icehouse during the summers. The milkhouse was later converted to a welding shed.

When sheep were kept on the farm, special attention was paid to the design of their feeding racks. These were of triangular shape with slats just far enough apart for the sheep to get its head through. The hay and feed were let down through an opening in the barn floor sliding down each side of the rack. In this way, the sheep could easily reach the feed but were prevented from getting hay and chaff in their wool.

Today, hogs are kept on the farm and the maple bush is tapped for sugar. But the main Beaverview operation centres on its Holstein herd. It is thought to be the oldest registered herd in the county, registered well before the outbreak of World War I. Now under the management of Archibald MacDonell and his son, Jerome, the herd numbers some 75 head and from it animals have been shipped to places as far away as Cuba and Spain.

Archibald MacDonell has played a considerable part in the public life of Charlottetown and the management of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry. In 1967, Canada's confederation year, he was warden of the United Counties.

In his public role, he has followed in the footsteps of many members of his family. His grandfather, Alan P. McDonald, was a former reeve of Charlottetown Township; his grand-uncle, B.R. McDonald, a former MLA for Glengarry County.

Further back, some of the family had hardly set foot in Glengarry when they were off again in search of excitement and riches in the fur trade. John McDonald, known as McDonald Le Borgne, was a fur trader born in Scotland in 1770. He became a partner in the X.Y. Company - the forerunner of the North West Company. When the North West Company and the Hudson Bay Company amalgamated in 1821, he became chief factor in charge of the Upper Red River.

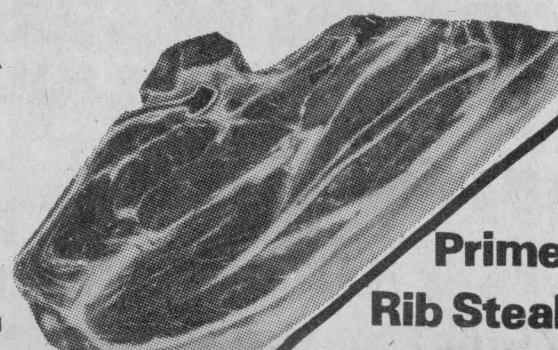

McDonald Le Borgne's brother, Finan McDonald, nicknamed Buffalo, was with David Thompson on the Columbia River between 1807 and 1812.
