Village Council sets 1970 mill rate

Landowners face 5-mill increase

Chesterville Council met Monday night to set the 1970 mill rate. When the hour was late and the pencils dull approximately a five mill increase was in store for taxpayers.

The increase over last year is accounted for with a rise coming in the County rate, High School and Elementary School rates. The school rate acconnts for over 50 percent of the tax dollar. The County assessment, against the village, is up $5000 from last year and causes an increase of over two mills.

The only rate not showing an increase is the village rate. General government will operate on the same budget as last year.

With the five mill increase, a man with a $3000 residential assessment, supporting the Public School, will pay $360.45; a Separate School supporter, with the same assessment will pay $367.35 in taxes.

The Province of Ontario Residential tax reduction will again be paid and will come out about $5.00 less than last year. Actual figures have not been released.

A lengthy discussion was held at the Monday meeting in regard to tardy tax payers, with Council's firm resolve to take maximum action.

Following are the 1970 Mill Rates with the 1969 rates below for comparison:

Bits and Pieces

Found by the right person

Tuesday morning of this week Mrs Werry Schutte, Queen St., Chesterville, fulfilled the role of the 'good samaritan'.

Mrs Hubert Labre stopped at the 'Record' office inquiring if we had had a report of someone finding a sum of money. We advised Jean that no one had reported the find.

A short time later Mrs Schutte dropped in with a bag of money in hand.

Mrs Schutte caught up with Mrs Labre in front of the Bank of Nova Scotia and the wayward money was returned. Jean told us there was aproximately $180.00 involved.

Mrs Labre returned home feeling grateful, Mrs Schutte must have felt elated.

Still short

Eric Casselman, Easter Seal Campaign Chairman, reports he only needs slightly over $100.00 to match last year's figures.

At this writing $2700 has been received in contributions which have been received from 180 less contributors than last year.

Eric states that you are still not too late to send your pink envelope in.

Let's not let a worthy cause fall short.

Progress report

The new park Pavilion progresses at a steady rate. This week the brick is being placed over the cement block under structure.

Before and after

Our correspondence this week contained a story and pictures of No. 24-28 Gloucester and Osgoode School, better known as the Quaile School built in 1904, for a contract price of $1,000.

The school was closed in 1965 and later sold to Dave Mackie of Edwards, Ontario.

On demolition by Mackie and a neighbour many old souvenirs were found. When the modern blackboards were removed it was found the original ones were still in place. They were made of basswood and painted black, of course they bore the signatures of many former students.

On the school site was built a new modern bungalow which is now occupied by Mr and Mrs Doug Thompson. Doug is the son of Mr and Mrs Lorne Thompson, Chesterville.

Enclosed with Dave's story were two pictures, showing the before and after, which we regret were unsuitable for reproduction.

Mystery solved Sat. morning, Dunbar man finds body

The mystery of the disappearance of Walter Allen, R. R. 1, Chesterville, which has hung over the area for some time, was solved last Saturday morning.

Lorne Taylor, Dunbar, accompanied by his small dog, Black, decided to participate in the planned search organized by the O.P.P. Arriving early at the scene Lorne, accompanied by others, proceeded to search. The barking of Taylor's dog brought an answer from Allen's dog, which it seemed had been guarding his dead master's body. Lorne found the body lying behind a clump of brush.

Allen is survived by two brothers, Hillary of Ingleside and John of Osnabruck Township and two sisters Mrs Mary McCadden of Ottawa and Mrs Katherine McIntyre of Springfield, Mass.

The first persons to notice that Allen was missing was the Chesterville Post Office staff. They reported to police that he hadn't been picking up his mail for some time.

A police dog's search around the Allen farm produced no results. Neither did a search by helicopter.

A post mortem, held at Cornwall General Hospital on Saturday, revealed no evidence of foul play.

Hillary Allen, the dead man's brother, identified his brothers body. O.P.P. officers worked several hours at the scene before releasing the body.

Mr Lorne Taylor, Dunbar, and his dog discovered the body of Walter Allen, R.R. 1, Chesterville, about 350 yards from his home on Saturday. Pictured in the background are some of the early morning searchers. In front, Lorne Taylor, Dunbar, and the two dogs that found each other in the thick brush.—Record Staff Photo.

Rotary coffer swells $500 annual Auction best ever

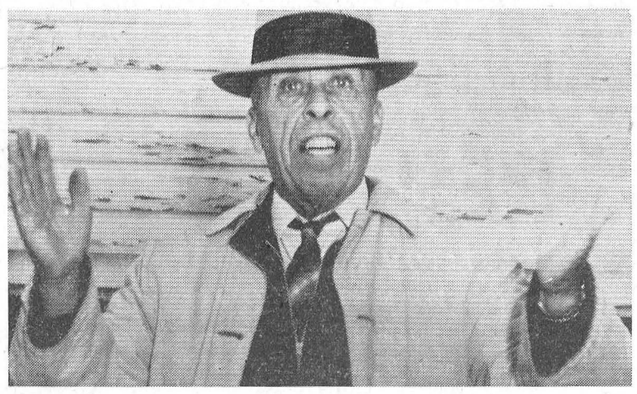
After spending many hours and covering many miles in canvassing the Chesterville area, the Rotarians were justly rewarded with one of their most successful auctions ever.

Even the weatherman was agreeable by sprinkling the dust down before the auction.

Shortly after 1 p.m. on Saturday, May 9, auctioneer Delbert Hummel got things underway by starting to sell the many items which were so generously given by the people of the area. There were floor lamps, dishes, clothes, shoes, washing machines, kitchen stoves, lawn mowers, beds, chairs, kitchen utensils, toys, radios, televisions. You name it, it was there, if you didn't see it, its because you didn't look hard enough.

After a good spell on the stand Deb was relieved by Rotarian G. Droppo who did very well on his first try as an auctioneer. Later in the afternoon, Dwight Tupper arrived to assist Deb and Glen in selling the items to the large crowd.

Rotary Club president Armand Charlebois and Ways and Means Committee Chairman Norman Harris were very happy with the affair. In terms of dollars the auction brought in nearly $500 and slightly over $100 was received in cash donations.



No! No! He's not talking about a big fish! Delbert Hummel, auctioneer, was just making a point at the Rotary auction last Saturday. Deb was assisted by auctioneer H. Dwight Tupper and novice auctioneer Rotarian Glen Droppo.—Record Staff Photo.

The long line of cars are those of the numerous volunteers who were on hand to help search for Walter Allen on Saturday. In the centre of the group is Hillary Allen, of Ingleside, who later identified his brother's body.—Record Staff Photo.

Canadian fish are safe fish

Canadian consumers can continue to enjoy freshwater and saltwater fish and shellfish with every assurance that the fish being served in restaurants and sold in stores has passed scrupulous inspection.

In November, 1969, tests on fish in the Saskatchewan River revealed abnormally high mercury levels. As a result, all of the fish caught by commercial fishermen there were seized by inspectors of the federal Department of Fisheries and Forestry and destroyed. The source of the pollution was traced to two chlor-alkali plants which were discharging their wastes into the river.

Subsequently, all the industrial plants using mercury were pinpointed and fish in suspect waters were tested. Where there was even a suspicion that the fish might contain excessive mercury (some is natural in certain areas) the fishery was closed pending results of tests. If the fish proved alright, the fishery was re-opened and subsequent catches tested. However, if the mercury content was too high, the fishery remained closed and fish stocks on hand from the polluted area were destroyed.

The mercury testing program is still continuing and the man at the head of it is Dr Graham Bligh, assistant director of the Freshwater Research Institute located in Winnipeg. With the aid of an atomic absorption spectrophotometer 100 to 200 fish samples a day are being analyzed in the Institute's laboratories. Several other Canadian laboratories having the special equipment required are assisting in the work.

The Department's Resource Development Service is collecting fish samples from suspect areas and bringing them to the laboratories for analysis. The Inspection Service is assisting with the analyses of the fish samples in its Winnipeg laboratory. Empowered by the Fish Inspection Act, fisheries inspectors hold all suspect catches until samples have been cleared.

Over the years, the Fish Inspection Service has played a vital role in protecting the Canadian consumer from hazardous domestic and imported fishery products. Its field staff of over 300 workers is responsible for examining fish at dockside, in fish processing plants and at railway depots. They are required to check fish products for acceptability, see that container markings and labels meet requirements, and maintain a constant check on sanitary conditions in fish canneries and fresh and frozen fish processing plants. In its laboratories, bacteriologists, chemists and technicians keep a continual check on fresh, frozen, and canned fishery products. It is no misstatement that this Service is regarded as tops the world over insofar as fish quality and public health are concerned.

Additional to existing food safeguards, the Department of Fisheries and Forestry has initiated new legislation which if passed by Parliament will give it greater powers to deal with industrial firms and others who pollute our waters.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: This is for "Bunioned Ear", the woman who is sick and tired of her mother's voice.

I stopped hearing my mother's voice when I was 18. She was only 44 years old when she died. I recall, with a fair amount of guilt, that I was tired of her voice, too — especially when she told me to do things I didn't want to do, or reprimanded me for behaving in an unkind or inconsiderate manner.

I've thought hundreds of times these past thirty years that I would give anything under the sun if I could hear my mother's voice again. Please print this, Ann, for the benefit of the sons and daughters who are still lucky enough to hear a mother's voice. Tell them to listen — to appreciate — and be thankful. — Midland, Mich.

Dear Midland: Here's your letter. And on a most appropriate day. Thank yo u for writing.

* * * *

Dear Ann Landers: I have been seeing a psychiatrist for the past nine years. My problem is one which I'm sure you have heard of before — a compulsion to wash my hands. On days when I am nervous I wash my hands as frequently as 20 times. If I shake hands with someone I must immediately excuse myself and go to the washroom. This is often embarrassing but I am powerless to do anything about it.

I am no better today than when I started to see this doctor nine years ago. I'm becoming discouraged and am writing to learn if you have an suggestions. —Cleveland Reader.

Dear Reader: Your obsessive compulsion neurosis is, unfortunately, one of the most difficult to cure. Patients who have been cured were able to learn, through therapy, the root causes for the guilt feelings which compels them to "cleanse" themselves.

Nine years is a long time to sit with one doctor. The chemistry of a different doctor might conceivably unlock new doors. Sometimes a change in wallpaper helps. Ask your doctor if an evaluation by another therapist might be advisable. The fact that your present therapist has not cured you does not mean he has failed. He has undoubtedly helped you cope with other problems, and kept you functional, which in itself, is an achievement.

Dear Ann Landers: I get a kick out of the people who write and use such words as "obscene" and "pornographic." These words can have different meanings, according to the individual who uses them. It's often difficult to decide where art leaves off and pornography begins. Dirt as well as beauty can be in the eye of the beholder.

I remember a little story told to us by a teacher who was everybody's favourite. When she was a college student during World War I the co-eds all wore dark skirts and white starched shirtwaists. Every morning the girls inspected their white shirtwaists to see if they were clean enough to wear one more day. Some of the gals had a hard time deciding. The house mother gave them this rule of thumb, which is a s good today as it was then—"If there's any doubt in your mind, it's dirty.—Grand Forks, N.D.

Dear Grand — Beautiful. Thanks for sharing.

Mrs D. P. Shaw

Relatives and friends throughout the district were saddened by the announcement of the death of Mrs Dalton Percival Shaw, who passed away last Friday, May 8th, at the Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge, Cornwall, where she and her husband had been residents for the past two years.

Mrs Shaw, a lifelong resident of the Avonmore district, was born in the Township of Roxborough, 87 years ago last May 28th. She was the former Minnie Gertrude Shaw, a daughter of the late Robert Alvin Armstrong and his wife, Phoebe Waldroff.

As a child she received her education at Sugar Stick Public School and S. S. 10, Roxborough.

On Sept. 17, 1902, she married Mr Shaw in a ceremony at her parent's home. Following their marriage Mr and Mrs Shaw took up residence in the Second Concession of Roxborough where they farmed until their retirement in 1945, at which time they moved to the village of Avonmore.

Mrs Shaw was a member of St. James United Church, Avonmore, a charter member of the Avonmore Women's Institute and the UCW of St. James Church.

Left to mourn her passing are one son, Lawrence P. Shaw, of Cornwall; one daughter, Mrs D. MacDiarmid, Ottawa; four grandchildren, Selwyn W. MacDiarmid and Marion MacDiarmid, Ottawa; Donald P.MacDiarmid and Douglas H. Shaw, Cornwall; two great grandchildren and one sister Mrs Agnes Bender, Glen-Stor-Dun Lodge, Cornwall.

Mrs Shaw was predeceased by one sister, Mrs Reta Cobaine, formerly of Avonmore.

The funeral service was held at the McArthur and MacNeil Funeral Chapel, Second Street East, Cornwall, Monday afternoon, May 11th. The service, largely attended by sorrowing relatives, neighbours and friends, was conducted by Rev. H. A. Funge, minister of St James United Church, Avonmore, who brought a comforting message. Rev. Funge was assisted by Rev. G. E. Clifford, minister of St. Paul's United Church, Cornwall.

Pall bearers were Clifford McElheran, Rupert Pollock, W. M. Campbell, Fred Barkley, R. W. Dillabough and Ray Wert. Interment was made in the family plot in Paul's Hill Cemetery, Avonmore. Rev. and Mrs H. Cook, Seeleys Bay, were among the many who attended the service.

Many beautiful floral tributes surrounded the casket as silent tributes to the memory of one who had always played such an active part in her home and in the life of her church and the community.

Something's cheaper!

The Ontario Safety League quotes an interesting comparison with the past. In 1922 tires cost about $1.67 a pound, and today (when the purchasing power of the dollar is very much lower) a pound of tire costs about $1.20. Mileage from tires today is about ten times as great as in 1922.

Bell Canada to reduce long distance surcharge on coin operated phones

Bell Canada will reduce its surcharge on some long distance calls from its coin telephones from 25 to 10 cents on May 17.

The reduced surcharge, approved by the Canadian Transport Commission, will apply to station-to-station calls paid at the time the call is placed. The reduction will apply on calls to points within the area served by Bell: Ottawa, Quebec and some Northern Regions.

The 25 cents surcharge was introduced in January on station-to-station long distance calls involving the use of an operator, to help cover the increasing cost of providing operator services.

A Bell spokesman said that the impact of the surcharge on customers was felt particularly in the case of coin telephone calls, in which the use of an operator in placing a long distance call is unavoidable, since the customer does not have the oportunity of dialing direct.

The spokeman added that the reduced surchage will, in effect, make 10 cents the basic charge for using a coin phone, both for a local call and a normal long distance call — one which the customer could dial direct if he were at his own telephone. The existing 25 cents surchage will apply on station-to-station long distance calls within Ontario and Quebec where the customer desires the additional services of an operator to bill the call subsequently. Such calls include collect calls, calls billed to a third number and credit card calls.

YOUR LEGISLATURE

REPORT...

Government legislation again fills the Legislature's Order Paper — or agenda, as Ministers were busy introducing new Bills to update existing laws administered by their Departments or to bring new legal concepts into law. Considerable debate centered around Bills to provide a grant of $25.00 per university student at all provincially assisted universities to the coffers of the municipality in which each such university is situated; another somewhat similar Bill provides for increased per capita provincial grants to the new regional municipalities of Ottawa-Carleton and Niagara and some changes in methods of apportionment of similar grants to Metro Toronto. The first Bill indicates a change in long standing policy whereby university property, being non-taxable for municipal purposes, provided no income to the local authorities responsible for providing services such as streets, water, sewage, etc. The Minister indicated this to be but the first step towards making all educational institutions and properties available for some degree of municipal taxation, or payments in lieu of taxes.

Outside the House there were announcements of great interest to all of us. The Minister of Municipal Affairs announced the creation of the new Regional Municipality of Muskoka and followed the announcement by introducing on the following day in the House the Bill required to erect this new municipal two tier structure. And on the Wednesday, Prime Minister Robarts unveiled the Government's plans for the development of Metro Toronto hinterland from Oshawa on the east as far west as Kitchener-Waterloo and north to the area of Barrie and Owen Sound. This new concept provides for development of large park and recreation areas within easy reach of the dense population now (and ever increasing) along the north shore of Lake Ontario and for satellite cities to be developed around some of the existing municipalities surrounding Metro.

There was also introduced a Bill to preserve the Niagara Escarpment stretching from Niagara Falls past Hamilton and up to the Bruce Peninsula. The new law provides for the cessation, except under Ministerial permit, of all industrial and mining activities along the several hundred miles of the Escarpment and strict control of commercial undertakings in an area stretching for two miles on either side of the Escarpment.

The Departmental Estimates of Public Works were examined, debated and accepted without any great problems being met nor unusual items discovered. This Department being the housekeeping department for government, is responsible for the housing of all Government offices and workers, provision of all supplies and equipment, and operation of all Government institutions.

Think of all the cool things about a frost-free refrigerator freezer.

Every housewife should have one. Frost never forms. Not in the big refrigerator section. Not in the big freezer section. So there's no defrosting. Ever. And you know what that means.

No more dripping water to mop up. No more waiting for frost to melt. Your ice cube trays won't stick any more. No more re-freezing frozen foods.

You'll have more storage space, because you'll be free of all frost accumulation. And your frozen foods won't stick together.

Think about it.

Think of all the extra space you'll have for stocking up on food bargains.

And besides all that, think how much more attractive your kitchen will look with a sleek new frost-free refrigerator freezer.

NOW is the time to buy. See your local appliance dealer today.

Education trends outlined at Canadian Club

"Education is Canada's number one enterprise" Doctor J. Glenn Scott, Associate Professor of Education at Ontario Institute for Studies and Education, told members of the Morrisburg Civic Centre.

The speaker said, "The two major educational concerns of every individual are cost and the quality of today's programs."

Discussing the cost of education he said "Investment in education on the national level will remain the largest item of expenditure until 1975. The total cost of combined levels is in excess of five billion dollars per year and will be in excess of eight billion in 1975." This, he said, is attributable to the number of pupils in public school having doubled, in secondary schools having tripled and in universities quadrupled. "This population explosion is beginning to taper off," the speaker said, but total expenditure will not taper off because of increasing expense and the need for expanded facilities.

"Teaching-force costs have increased with emphasis on upgrading the quality of education to the place where it has become big business i n our western society," the speaker said. "Expansion of the school system aims to give every person an opportunity to develop to his full potential, which is the most precious possession of our society."

Speaking of the field of secondary education, he added, "Eighty per cent of the sixteen to eighteen age group is attending school. The rest are in the labour group."

'Future historians will look back on the sixties and seventies as the age of wholesale shift from the horse and buggy age of education to that of the high powered motor," was Doctor Scott's opinion as he continued. "The Reyerson system worked well for Ontario's first one hundred years but the time for dramatic change has arrived. There has been an information explosion — this was doubled in the sixties and will double again in the seventies. One fantastic example of this changing situation is the advance in communication, travel, speed and space.

Today's new look at education is actually an updating of the three R's. Old ideas are put in perspective and the emphasis is away from the teaching doing the telling. Schols have become concerned with helping youth solve the problems of today and there is more emphasis on involvement. Teachers, board committees and students take a look at the need of the individual pupil. This is one of the major changes for the future.

Doctor Scott concluded, "Children are curious people and should develop at their own rate of speed. Every child eight years of age should not be expected to be at exactly the same stage of education and knowledge. The role of the teacher is becoming less one of teaching than one of helping the child to find himself."

Emerson M. Johnston, president, chaired the meeting. William Marshall, chairman of the nominating committee, introduced members of the 1970 executive: Emerson Johnston, Chesterville, President; George Fisher, Kemptville, vice-president; Douglas Renkie, Morrisburg, secretary; Glen Keyes, Morrisburg, treasurer.

It was announced that the annual membership fee for five Canadian Club banquets will be raised from eight dollars to ten dollars.

The manager of Nestlé (Canada) Ltd.'s second Canadian factory, at Ingersoll, Ontario, visited the plant here recently. Mr Gordon Henry, who has been with the Ingersoll Cheese Company for 31 years, has also held the office of mayor for 2½ years. Shown above examining a can of Quik are, left to right: Frank Cox; Mr Henry, and Norm Harris, assistant manager.

KITCHEN CORNER

Menu of the Week

Peachy Tomato Chicken
Baked Potatoes
Molded Cucumber Salad
Maple Syrup - Apple Pudding

An inviting way to welcome Spring into family meals is with a colourful, gay menu of Ontario products. Canned peaches and fresh hothouse tomatoes are a delicious combination with chicken pieces; add to this a cool molded salad and baked potatoes and what more could a family ask for!

Peachy Tomato Chicken

6 chicken pieces
½ cup flour
½ tsp. salt
Dash of pepper
¼ cup butter
1 large onion, sliced
2 stalk celery, cut in thick diagonal strips
1 19-oz. can peaches
1 tbsp. cornstarch
1 tbsp. soy sauce
3 tbsps. vinegar
2 tomatoes, cut in wedges

Shake chicken in flour and spices. Brown in butter in frypan. Cover and simmer until tender. Drain excess fat. Add onion and celery; cook until onion is transparent. Drain peaches. Blend peach syrup, cornstarch, soy sauce and vinegar. Add to chicken and cook until clear and thickened. Add peaches and tomatoes. Heat through. Serves six.

Maple Syrup - Apple Pudding

1 cup biscuit mix
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup milk
1 cup maple syrup
½ cup brown sugar
2 tbsps. butter
¼ tsp. cinnamon
1 cup chopped apple

Heat maple syrup, sugar, butter, cinnamon and apples to boiling; simmer for about 10 minutes. Combine biscuit mix and milk lightly with a fork. Drop by heaping teaspoonfuls into 1½ quart casserole. Pour maple syrup mixture over dough. Bake at 375° F. for 30 minutes. Serve warm with whipped cream.

Master Mix

May be used as a commercial biscuit mix to make pancakes, muffins, puddings or cookies.

8 cups sifted all-purpose flour
4 tbsps. baking powder
1½ tsps. salt
1 cup powdered skim milk
1 cup shortening

In a large bowl, combine the flour, baking powder, salt and skimmed milk powder. Using a pastry blender or two knives, cut in the shortening until the mixture is the consistency of fine cornmeal. Store in an airtight container until ready for use.

Indian affairs subject for speaker at Hi-C banquet

"The Federal Government will gradually withdraw in favour of Provincial and Municipal administration for our Reserves" said Dene de la Roche, Finch, Ontario, with the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development, at the Ingleside-Newington Hi-C banquet, held in the United Church hall, Newington, on the eve of Family Day, May 10.

In relating the background of the Indian people, Mr de la Roche remarked that we have been living among Indians since the White man came to this country. It is a good thing for us that the problem is becoming more obvious for it shows that we are educating them.

We, the white men, have divider the St. Regis Reserve right through the centre by the International boundary between Canada and the United States and also laterally by the Ontario-Quebec boundary. The Indians are very affleunt, he said, they have high incomes.

In answer to a question from the floor, Mr de la Roche said they pay no taxation on their land or wages earned on the Reserve but if employed off the Reserve they are subject to income tax.

When introducing the guest speaker, Linda Ross, Ingleside, informed the gathering that Mr de la Roche was born in England in 1930, educated in Canada, attended the University of Geneva, Switzerland and the University of British Columbia, majoring in Forestry. He spent many years in commercial underwater and wildlife photography; he has been superintendent of the Simcoe and Kenora Agencies and is presently superintendent of St. Regis. The guest speaker was thanked by LeRoy Russell, Newington.

Seated at the head table and introduced by Marvyn Waldroff, president Hi-C group were: J. Webber, clerk of the session, and Mrs Webber, Newington; Frank Dafoe, clerk of the Session and Mrs Dafoe, Ingleside; Mr and Mrs Keith Brownell, chairman of Christian Education Committee, Ingleside; Rev. Harold Giffin, pastor of the Ingleside-Newington charge and Mrs Giffin, who is also chairman of the Christian Education Committee; Rene de la Roche; Mr and Mrs Edwin Waldroff, Newington and Marvyn Waldroff, chairman.

A toast to the parents was proposed by Nancy Ezard, Ingleside and the reply and toast to the Hi-C members was performed by Lawrence Steele, Newington. Dieter Mulitze, Ingleside, replied to this toast.

Cathy Lynn Young, Inglside, expressed the thanks and appreciation for the work and fellowship shared with their leaders of the H.-C group, Rev. and Mrs Howard Giffin and she proposed a toast to them.

The worship service was under the direction of Mrs Harold Giffin, assisted by Ricky Tait of Newington, who read the passage of scripture from 1 Corinthians in which Paul describes the most important and gratest word in our language "Love". Holly Cooper, Newington, led in prayer and the youth choir was accompanied by Shirley Presley at the piano.

Rev. Giffin pronounced the benediction which brought a lovely evening to a close.

And Along Came . . ?

N.D.D.H.S. held their Navy and White Revue on Friday night in the gymnasium. One of the highlights of the program was "And Along Came . . ." Hubert Casselman, on the left, portrayed the villain while the victim was Trudy Holmes. Ed Norton in the middle was the hero of the skit. In the background on the right is David Thompson who was M.C. for the evening.—Record Staff Photo.
