Schools Re-open.

The High, Separate and Public Schools opened on Tuesday for the fall and winter terms. Two changes have taken place on the Public School staff, where Mr. W. E. Bowen of Iroquois, takes the principalship and Miss Thurston of Dunsford has been engaged for room "C". In the High School, Miss O'Neil takes the place vacated by Mr. Smith and Miss Currie of Wingham joins the staff.

Shoulder Dislocated

Mr. G. F. Beckstead of Melvin, met with a very unfortunate mishap on Monday which will bother him for some time. He was moving some plank in his barn when one flew up or fell and hit him on the left shoulder, putting it badly out of joint. Dr. Brown was called and replaced the dislocation and although Mr. Beckstead is up and about, owing to the difficulty of keeping the shoulder in place it will be some time before he can use it.

Good Crop of Wheat

Mr. J. C. Hummel who has threshed his fall wheat had over four hundred bushels of Dawson's Golden Chaff variety from seven acres and as will be seen in our advertising columns is offering some of it for seed purposes. This is an opportunity which should be taken advantage of by every farmer who has an acre or more suitable for seeding and put in some to boost 1918's production of food which it is said will be even more necessary than it has been this year.

Pte. G. W. Whittaker victim of German Gas

Mr. Henry Whittaker was officially notified on Friday that his son William George Whittaker had been admitted on August 19th to the 27th General Hospital suffering from gas poisoning. Pte. Whittaker enlisted with the 154th Batt. shortly before it left Barriefield, in fact his parents never had the satisfaction of seeing their boy in the King's uniform, although since going overseas they have received photos of him.

Who is The Youngest Ontario Soldier?

The reference in last week's Record to Private Lester Shields being the youngest Ontario soldier at the front in France has brought out the fact that two others, at least, from the Morewood district must run him a close race for the distinction of being the youngest. Pte. W. B. Carlyle who also went overseas with the 154th Batt. was only seventeen years old on the 12th of April last and with Pte. Walter Carr has been a member of the Machine Gun Section and has been in France since the first of March. Pte. Gordon Countryman, son of Mr. Ezra Countryman is the other, who only reached his seventeenth birthday about the first of June. He also went "over there" with the 154th and is attached to the Signal Corps.

Pte. Milford Steinburg Pays Supreme Sacrifice

The despatch which has carried sadness into a good many homes throughout this section was repeated last week when Mrs. Harry Steinburg of Morewood was officially advised of the death in action of her son Pte. Milford Steinburg, "somewhere in France" on Aug. 17th. Pte. Steinburg enlisted with the 154th Batt. and went to Barriefield Camp on Sept 3rd last year and in the following month left Halifax for overseas. He was at Bramshott Camp until April when he left for France. His brother is also in France but had not seen Milford for seven years, when two days before the latter's death he made an attempt to visit him, making a bicycle trip of twenty-one miles only to be too late to see him alive. The following lines written by Milford were recently received by his Mother.

Take me back to old Ontario,
Take me to my mother's side.
Take me back to old Ontario
Where the sun forever shines
Where the tall and stately maples
With their branches reach the sky
Take me back to old Ontario
To my dear old mother's side.

Three Children Burned to Death

The three children of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Helmer of Sandtown were burned to death in their home just east of Sandtown Church Tuesday morning about six o'clock. It appears that the parents, before going to the barn to do the milking, started the fire in the back kitchen stove so as to prepare the breakfast when they came in. While at the barn sparks from the stove pipe which passed through the roof evidently set fire under the eaves of the main part of the house and when it was discovered all efforts were unavailing to save the little ones, although the eldest, about five years old could be heard calling to his mother to come and get him. The youngest child was about two months old and all three had been left in the one bed when the parents went out. The main building was built of logs, with a lean-to summer kitchen and so fiercely did it burn that only a portion of the remains of one of the children has been found. The shock of the catastrophe has been so severe to the mother that she is in a very serious condition.

1800 Pairs of Socks Knitted

There was a splendid attendance at the meeting of the Women's Institute held on the lawn of Mrs. A. E. Bolster on Aug. 29th. The result of the Knitting Contest, just closed was announced. The prize, a $5 gold piece, was won by the ladies on the south side of the river. Both sides did good work as shown by the 439 pairs of socks the work of three months' knitting. The Society is most grateful to Mr. Hughes for his kindly thought in providing the prize which suggested the contest, for without something of this kind it is doubtful if so many pairs of socks would have been knitted during the hot weather. The prize has been turned over to the Soldiers Comforts Committee to use as they deem advisable. We wish to make special mention of a few of the splendid knitters in this community, Mrs. Becker, Mrs. Emma Merkley, Miss B. Rae, Mrs. Katherine McDonald, Mrs. Jas. Kearns, Mrs. Mary Marcellus have knitted constantly since the beginning of the war and have turned in the greatest number of pairs of socks. That we have scores of others who are working is shown by the fact that eighteen hundred pairs have been knitted in the last year. The Knitting Circle will meet each Friday night and as in spite of all we have done the need is still tremendous, let every woman and girl in the community give at least one evening a week to knitting or sewing for our brave boys. If you cannot come to the circle work at home. A list of the knitters in the last contest will be published in The Record at an early date.

A Welcome Visitor

A visitor in town this week who has received a more than ordinarily hearty welcome is Mr. H. G. Carter of Detroit, who arrived the first of the week. Almost everyone feels that had it not been for Mr. Carter's foresight and determination to carry the project through, regardless of considerable opposition, the Condensery would not have been located in Chesterville. He has been receiving the glad hand from the farmers who are perhaps the greatest gainers through Mr. Carter's work and their only regret is that the latter is not sharing in the profit from the large quantities of milk which are being condensed here now.

Corp. H. Shaver Visited in Hospital

The following letter was sent to Mr. S. Shaver, Morewood, from the Canadian Red Cross Society in London, Eng.

Dear Sir:

I beg to inform you that Corporal H. Shaver, 300170 C.F.A. who is now at the 3rd Southern General Hospital, Oxford, Eng., has been seen there since his admission on Aug. 9th, by our authorized visitor who tells us Corporal Shaver is suffering from a fistula, but that he feels very well.

He will be visited regularly and reports sent to you from time to time as to his progress. Should he be in need of anything other than the comforts supplied him in the hospital, our visitor will let us know and we will gladly send it to him from our parcels office. With best wishes, yours truly, E. Bovey.

LAST MESSAGES OF CANADIANS IN HUN'S POCKET

Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Sept. 2.—This is the story of two letters that will reach Canada on the next mail steamer. They have each two bullet holes in them, unspoken evidence of one of the war's tragedies, and they contain the last messages of a soldier of an Ontario battalion to two women, believed to be his mother and his sweetheart. This soldier, with others, was sent out a few days ago to make a sortie from our trenches in the St. Laurent sector of the line. It may be because of a premonition, that strange clairvoyance so often encountered here at the front, or in pursuance of a custom before going out, that this soldier wrote two letters. Leaving them unsealed for submission later to the censor he carried them with him into action. He never returned. He has a soldier's grave out somewhere behind the German front line.

A few days after he was reported missing it was decided to extend one of our posts in that region, two hundred yards along the trench in which the enemy's posts were located. This dangerous task was given to two young officers of an Ontario battalion and twenty-eight men. This little party found the enemy trench strongly held, but in daylight, without any artillery help, they tackled a greatly superior force and bombed their way down the trench for a greater distance than the two hundred yards required. In the course of the action, and of several counter-attacks, both officers were wounded, while one of their men was killed and six others were wounded.

The enemy sustained casualties remarkably high, even in bombing warfare. The official record shows that the bodies of thirty dead Germans were removed from that part of the trench retained by us, while many others were seen in a portion of the trench bombed but not occupied. In the captured trench were found a severely wounded German officer and two men. When the officer's clothing was searched as the custom is, the two letters written by the soldier of the new Ontario battalion the night before he was killed were found among his papers. A bullet had gone through the envelopes, near the center. Another had clipped off a bit, but the addresses were still legible. The letters were sealed, and have been forwarded to the persons to whom they were addressed, with a statement telling of how they passed into the hands of the enemy and now were recovered, after the writer had been laid in an unknown grave. That he survived two bullet wounds in the breast is not considered possible. These letters will be read to the soldiers' homefolk across the Atlantic.

Saved by Co-operation.

Canadians will help harvest the potato crop in Maine under an international arrangement like that providing for the entry of American harvesters into western Canada to harvest the wheat crop. This form of reciprocity is the best kind of mutual aid and both countries will be greatly benefited by it. Canada wants 40,000 harvest hands to handle a 13,000,000-acre wheat field. The war has much depleted the ranks of farmers' help in the Dominion and the thousands of American workers will be heartily welcomed there. This welcome will be substantially manifested in high wages, good food, comfortable lodgings and reduced railroad fares. Canadians going into the Maine potato fields will be welcomed in the same way. The farm labor problem, which seemed so formidable in the spring is being solved partly by these unprecedented co-operative methods, and the general situation is now so much improved that the Agricultural Department at Washington reports the country as a whole as having passed the crisis.

Cartridges for U. S. are Tampered with

Washington, Sept. 3.—Steps looking to the investigation of the supplying of defective cartridges to American forces in France were taken today by Brig.-Gen. Crozier, chief of ordnance, and by the Senate Military Committee.

Gen. Crozier asked that a board of inquiry be named. He said a small quantity of bromide, which retards fire for a fraction of a second had been found in about two per cent, of the army's cartridges.

The danger attached to the use of this ammunition is that if a cartridge does not explode promptly, and a soldier opens the magazine to ascertain the trouble, it may explode in his face.

The Sound of a Trumpet.

An old inhabitant of Kilmarnock had taken more whisky than was good for him. On his way home, feeling very tired, he lay down in the churchyard for a rest, with his head against a tombstone. He was suddenly aroused from his sleep by the blast of a trumpet. He awoke in a fright, thinking the end of the world had come, but when he found himself alone, exclaimed, "Well, this is a poor show for Kilmarnock."

Rural Mail Only.

"Have you got any letters for Mike Howe?" asked the farmer.
"For whom?" snapped the prespiring official.

"Mike Howe," bawled the farmer, louder than ever. "Don't you know your job, or can't you talk English? Have you any letters for Mike Howe? Now do you understand?"

The postmaster took off his glasses.
"No, I have not," he snorted. "Neither have I for your cow nor any one else's."

Pie Social at Boucks Hill

On Tuesday evening last the ladies of the Boucks Hill knitting circle held a pie social in Mr. M. A. Barkley's grove. The evening was beautiful and the social was a success. The program consisted of addresses by Rev. Mr. Maurer and Rev. Mr. Ferguson of Williamsburg and Deputy Reeve McMartin of Spruce Grove. A vocal solo by Miss Ruth Maurer accompanied by Miss Mayfred Phifer of Williamsburg and an instrumental solo by Miss Marion Beckstead of Montreal. The evening's entertainment was brought to a close by all singing "God Save the King."

The ladies wish to thank every one who in anyway assisted in this worthy cause. The net amount received was $27.80.

Melody in Your Heart

Singing in the storms of life,
Singing in the calm,
Singing in the howling winds,
Still a joyful psalm.

Singing when the waves beat high
Round my little boat,
Singing when adown they lie,
Still a cheerful note.

Singing when the fog is thick,
Singing when its clear,
Singing when the sky is grey
Always of good cheer.

Singing in the noonday heat,
Singing in the drought
Singing always—for I know
I am in God's thought.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constant failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. School Shoes
& School Clothes

The boy who is clothed and shod satisfactorily at this store today will shortly be a man and it is the man's trade we want eventually. School Shoes require to be of the best material to stand the wear and tear that they get, but the makers are tempted and some of them fall to making them of the spongy, scrappy stock. But not for us, thank you. We know these shoes and know they will give the most wear for the least money, not only for the boys but the School Girls as well. Boys' Clothes get the same attention and we are well fixed to fit your boy for either High or Public School.

OBITUARY

Mrs. J. Harvey Loughridge

On Saturday evening August 18th there passed away in the village of Morewood an estimable lady in the person of Mrs. J. Harvey Loughridge. Her maiden name was Agnes M. Marcellus and she was born where she died a little over 59 years ago. Over 41 years ago she was united in marriage to her now sorrowing husband. From this union were born 12 children, one son dying early, eleven survive 5 sons and 6 daughters, all of whom, save one, were in attendance at the funeral which was conducted on Monday August 20th, at the home of the deceased by Rev. Dr. Philp assisted by the Rev. Mr. Gollan.

The large attendance at the funeral showed the esteem in which the departed was held. She leaves to mourn her loss besides her family a brother and a sister, both of whom live in Oakland, California. Mrs. Loughridge was for many years a member of the Methodist Church—"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord."

Mrs. Walter Loughridge, Morewood

Very suddenly at noon on Aug. 20th, 1917 there departed this life one comparatively young when Mrs. Walter Loughridge crossed the bar at the early age of thirty-eight years and seven months. Her maiden name was Ellen Elizabeth Bogart and she was the only daughter of Eli and Mary Jane Bogart. A little over 15 years ago she became the wife of Walter Loughridge and proved an help-mate indeed. For about twenty years she was a consistent member of the Methodist Church. There was left to mourn their loss an aged mother, a loving husband and two children. The funeral service was conducted on Thursday Aug 22nd by Revs. Philp and Gollan and her remains now lie in the Morewood Methodist Cemetery awaiting the resurrection of the just.

Winchester Township Council

Pursuant to adjournment the Winchester Township Council met at Morewood on Monday, Sep. 3rd. Members all being present.

By-law No. 284 to provide the funds necessary for the repair of the Henderson Creek drain was provisionally adopted.

No tenders having been received for the complete work on any of the drains advertised for, S. R. Fulton was appointed to arrange for the work being done in connection with the Parker and Quart drains and M. J. Hess for the Barkley Creek.

The tender of Geo. H. Stearns was accepted for the construction of the piers for the Glasgow bridge and of J. E. Faulkner for the bridges on the Russell boundary.

It was decided to grade headline between Cons. 3 and 4 across lots 8, 9, 10, 11 and part of 12.

The following accounts were ordered paid:

What You Eat in Apples

Do you know what you are eating when you eat an apple? You are eating malic acid, the property that makes butter-milk so healthful. You are eating gallic acid, one of the most necessary elements in human economy. You are eating sugar in the most assimilable form, combined carbon, hydrogen and oxygen caught and imprisoned from the sunshine. You are eating albumen in its most available state. You are eating a gum allied of "the fragrant medicinal gums of Araby." You are eating phosphorus in the only form in which it is available as a source of all brain and nerve energy. In addition to all these, you are drinking the purest water and eating the most healthful and desirable fiber for the required "roughness" in food elements.

A Dangerous Climate.

—In certain parts of the West Indies the negroes speak English with a broad tongue. They are probably descended from the slaves of the Irish adventures who accompanied the Spanish settlers.

A man from Dublin upon arriving at a West Indian port was accosted by a burly negro fruit vendor with, "Th' top uv th' mornin' to ye, an' would be afther wantin' to buy a bit o' fruit sorr?"

The Irishman stared at him in amazement.

"An' how long have ye been here?" he finally asked.

"Goin' on three months, yer honor," said the vendor, thinking of the time he had left his inland home.

"Three months, is it? Only three months an' as black as thot? Faith I'll not land!"

The Compulsion Act, And Laurier.

(From Toronto Star, Liberal.)

The Military Service Act is in force. It has passed both Houses of Parliament, has been signed and sealed, and is now in operation.

This being so, it would be well for all concerned to loyally accept it as the law of the land. The political agitations that have been carried on for the purpose of retarding or preventing the passage of the Act have failed of their object, ought to be dropped, since, once law gets in to operation it will proceed by its own momentum and can neither be dropped nor stayed.

There would have been a Coalition Government to sponsor the Act and carry on the war, but for the fact Sir Wilfred Laurier would not give his personal support to compulsory service. He is unprepared to say that even if, after an extended further trial of voluntarism, it should fail, he would be prepared to support the raising of reinforcements by selective draft.

This, of course, puts Sir Wilfred Laurier wholly out of touch with the people of Canada from whose homes men have gone to risk life and all they have and are in this war.

They cannot support him in this attitude. And because of the kind of support that this attitude will draw to him, they must oppose him and compass the defeat of the forces that will gather behind him.

Sir Wilfred Laurier, like many others, appears to have the view that this is a private war in which anybody may quite properly decide for himself whether he will take part or remain neutral. It will scarcely do to entrust the Government of the country in the midst of a war to men committed to such a view as this. Those who do not regard this as a private war in which only those need engage who choose to do so, but who maintain that Canada is at war and that the call upon all men to preform their duty what ever it may be, must say so and vote so, and elect representatives that will carry out policy.

Morale in War

Russian troops fleeing like sheep before Teuton attacks illustrate what is meant by morale in war. These troops are well-fed and well-armed and well-munitioned, as General Alexieff stated in the Moscow conference this week. The same troops half-armed and half-starved, fought the German advance like tigers 2 years ago. They are the same men, but not the same minds. Two years ago, unquestioning soldiers, they thought they knew what their business was, and they believed they were all going to do it together; and so they were ready to do it even unto death. That was morale. Perhaps it wasn't very intelligent. But it existed. Now it doesn't. Now the Russian soldier is not sure that he knows what his business is. But particularly he is not sure whether they are all going to do it together. So he no longer feels determined. Why sacrifice himself if the rest are likely to scuttle? He will scuttle first.

Morale is the advantage which discipline has over confusion, which civilized troops have over savages, which soldiers have over mobs, which enthusiasts have over slackers. Discipline is a great factor in it, but principle and intelligence may serve instead of discipline; and even mere courage sometimes supplies it. But the greater factor in war is discipline. Superiority not only in arms but in discipline has rendered the white man successful against the superb physical courage of often overwhelming numbers of the Zulu, the Afghan or the Soudanese. The Sepoys were as well armed as the British in the Indian mutiny, and indeed as well disciplined; but they lacked the confidence and their numbers availed nothing.

The very finest soldier is the peaceable citizen who goes into war from intelligence and a sense of duty, for his morale is unshakable.

New Voters' List to be Compiled

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—The new Federal Franchise Act will be before Parliament on Tuesday or Wednesday, and this will be the last important legislation of the present Parliament. It is not expected that in its disfranchisement of aliens it will be as drastic as desired by many. Nor will it confer an unlimited women's franchise.

Those certain to be disfranchised during the war and for a period following the declaration of peace will be those who by treaty or conscientious objection are exempt from military service. In these classes are the Mennonites, the Doukhobors, "conscientious objectors," and those of alien enemy birth. It is quite probable that under the new election law any of the above who vote will forfeit their right of exemption from military service. A certain measure of women's franchise will be granted, but will be restricted to those nearest of kin to members of the Canadian expeditionary force.

Owing to these changes in the Federal franchise, provincial lists cannot be used at the coming election, and new lists must be compiled. For this purpose it is probable the enumerator system, now in use in Alberta and Saskatchewan, will be adopted. By this system an elector in each polling subdivision will be designated to compile a list of qualified voters; but to be named on such list will not be the final qualification. An elector whose name is omitted may "swear" his vote, but this will not be counted until passed upon by a competent court after the election.

As the returns from overseas will not be available until thirty days after the contest here there will be ample time to pass upon the challenged votes at home.

Bravo Us!

(St. Louis Star.)

No troops have gained more honor, nor won more glory on the field of battle, than have the troops from Canada. In no action in which they have taken part have they failed to distinguish themselves by singular valor. The healthful climate of Canada is in a measure responsible for this wonderful showing but there is another reason why Canadians have excelled. The first Canadians to take up arms for the mother country were hailed as heroes by their British cousins. England realized that men from a country that was not directly menaced by the war must be animated by the highest motives of loyalty and patriotism to risk their lives for the right.

England's estimate of Canadian worth proved just. In the first terrible days of the German rush, as soon as Canadians appeared in the trenches, they won honors of war. The Canadians who followed these pioneers were duty bound to live up to the high standards set by their fore-runners, and in this they did nobly. What has been said of the Canadians must also be true of Americans. The first Americans who fought the enemy have set a high standard for our troops to follow. Not only have we the American ideals of former wars to guide us, but we have the personal exploits of our own men in this greatest of all wars. Territorial neighbors of Canada, it should not be long before we are her neighbors in the field of American glory.

A Tribute to Canada

(Baltimore Sun.)

Kipling called Canada "Our Lady of the Snows" but the story which correspondents tell of her war record prove that when her pride, her loyalty, her affection are engaged Canada is the Vesuvius of the nations. Every American should read the recital of the sacrifices and the heroism of the Canadians. Before the war certain brainless Americans talked of annexing Canada and of making it share in the benefits of a republican Government. Until we can lift ourselves to the same level as this high-minded people the best thing that we could do would be to get ourselves annexed to Canada. We hope that the letters of our correspondent will cause our hearts to beat with admiration and will stimulate us to a generous emulation. For the next generation at least to be a Canadian will be equivalent to being one of the elect of the earth.

To Fight For States or Else For Canada.

Canadians of draft age in the United States face the alternative of returning to the Dominion when summoned by the draft boards or of taking out papers for naturalization there. There are hundreds of men in the northern part of New York State who have escaped service on the ground that they are aliens. The draft boards on that side are ready to certify to Ottawa the claims of these men. It is a question of fighting for one country or the other now.

Raising Rabbits for Food and Fur

Breeding rabbits in Canada for their fur and flesh has not yet been considered an industry and has never been done on a large scale, but the soaring prices of all meats and poultry, together with the ever increasing scarcity of fur-bearing animals is certain to increase the value of every animal and bird that is fit for food, and already the rabbit is being considered in many quarters as a commercial proposition.

Within the last year or so a farm on the outskirts of Hamilton has been taken over by some business men of that city and is being utilized for the purpose of breeding commercial rabbits. A recent visit to this farm disclosed the fact that from a few selected animals used as foundation stock there are now hundreds, most of them being now ready to be used as breeders. In this instance a special breed has been used—namely the Black Siberian Hare, a rabbit comparatively new to Canada, and said to have been originally brought here from Siberia. It is large, some specimens reaching the weight of fourteen pounds. It is very prolific and grows quickly, and its color is solid black. As a meat proposition, Dr. McGillivray, who is one of those chiefly interested in the farm, says that they are far superior in quality of flesh to ordinary rabbits, and he also points out that they can be produced for five cents a pound. In addition to this they have pelts that are larger, heavier and richer looking than anything that ever went by the name of rabbit skin.

The Black Siberians are kept in cold quarters to ensure the richness of their Winter coat. Some are run in warrens on a hill at the rear of the farm, but the best results so far are being obtained from the three or four hundred breeders which are kept in hutches in a big airy barn, exposed to every caprice of the thermometer in the Winter, and protected only from draughts and wet weather. The brood are housed in hutches about 30 by 48 inches, with a little nesting compartment at one end. By removing the young from the nest the day they are born, and giving them to foster mothers, the does are immediately mated again, and in this way one doe produced 100 young from January to August and was finishing up by nursing her last litter of ten herself, when the writer saw her.

The best argument in favor of breeding rabbits to help increase the food supply is that they are so easily raised. Any boy knows that. They are not in general demand for food in Canada, it is true, but England and France have both taken them up and in those countries they are a staple commodity. It is merely a case of getting used to them. They resemble plump young chicken when cooked, and are as nutritious. With the present scarcity of our regular meats and the ever-increasing prices, it is more than likely that the time is not far distant when the great mass of the people who feel these high prices most will begin to realize that the table rabbit is a welcome reinforcement to the regular bill-of-fare.

Soldiers May Work Pending Discharge.

To facilitate the return to civil life of men whose discharge is awaiting the decision of the Pension Board, some change has been made in the method of granting temporary discharge certificates. Formerly a man was allowed to go home with a temporary certificate, pending decision on his case and the issue of a permanent discharge, but he was not allowed to undertake civilian occupation. In the new form of the temporary discharge, in view of the intention to discharge the soldier, there will be no objection to his accepting general employment.

"No he cries when I sing to him."

Cornwall Livery Barns Destroyed.

The large livery barns of Hugh Leitch in rear of the Standard Block, Second street, were almost completely destroyed by a fire of mysterious origin about 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

In the barns at the time were seventeen horses, six pigs, a cow and over seventy fowls. All the stock but two horses were removed. One of these a valuable Hackeny stallion Gay Falconer, was suffocated in his stall.

Two of the horses taken out were also badly burned one so severely about the head that it had to be shot and the cow had to be similarly disposed. Besides the three horses and cow Mr. Leitch lost his supply of hay and straw, a quantity of harness, cutters and sleighs. His loss will be about $3,000 partially covered by insurance. The barns were owned by the estate of late Col. R. R. McLennan and were valued at about $2,500. They too are partially insured.

Aged Morrisburg Lady Passes Away.

An old and highly esteemed lady in the person of Mrs. Ira Sullivan, died at her home in Morrisburg on Wednesday, Aug. 29th., after an illness of several months duration. The deceased lady, whose maiden name was Mary Ann McDonald, was 85 years of age, a daughter of the late Angus McDonald, and the widow of the late Ira Sullivan who predeceased her some thirteen years ago. She is survived by one son, Wellington of Mille Roches; and four daughters, Miss Robena and Miss Libbie of Morrisburg; Mrs. Henry Taylor of Brockville and Mrs. Elgin Herriman of Boucks Hill. She is also survived by one brother of Madrid, N.Y.

About two months ago deceased had the misfortune of falling and breaking her arm, and the shock, owing to her advanced age, proved a strain from which she never recovered. She was emphatically a good woman, patient, loving, and above all self-sacrificing.

The funeral took place last Friday at 10 o'clock a.m. from her late residence to the Lutheran Church, Rev. Dr. Little officiating. Interment in Mount Pleasant cemetery.—Leader.

What a Live Agricultural Leader Could Do Now.

Use the discharged munition workers in operating the tractors already in the country, many standing idle.

Make every available engine draw a gang of plows, preparing for fall and spring crops.

Pay the wages to the men that will induce hundreds to apply at once. Run the tractors in double shifts, night and day, with acetylene headlights.

Speed up the manufacture of tractors and get deliveries faster.

Establish short course tractor-driving schools at every experiment station, college and county town.

Carry the necessary phosphates to the country points where fall wheat is sown and finance them as low as possible.

Plow the land as never before. Farmers are calling for this assistance.

Give a bounty, if necessary, to cover labor costs of men breaking or guarantee a price for 1918 wheat.

Walk into the situation as a competent general with a big proposition, if the need of food is not a myth. Do the thing.

Sweep aside a great deal of this official duplication, red tape and cumbersome departmental machinery.

God has given us a soil unequalled anywhere, a climate and natural advantages almost Utopian. Man is the weak spot in the link. O ye agricultural leaders of little faith, wherefore doubt!

It is just three years ago since the great war broke out. Canada realized at once the need for her troops overseas. Everybody, also, turned their eyes to the wheat granary, for it was realized by all that there would be a terrific strain on the food resources of the world, as millions of producers continued to drop the arts of peaceful production, the fact of the depleted ranks of the world's food supplies burned into the minds of the agricultural departments, provincial, federal and national.

That officialdom did awaken to the fact is evidenced by the mass of exhortatory literature that has flown farmwards ever since. Duplication and reproduction mattered not. Organizations of many kinds, commissions, farm bureaus, and the various divisions of the minutely organized departments of agricultural, were feverishly busy—advising.

What has been done? How have we shown up at the end of the third year in our total returns of field crops and animal produce? Had a kind Providence not showered on us, in 1915, one of the greatest harvests in recent times, even to the extent almost of the miraculous, and have kept up the normal in each succeeding year, where would all our urgent exhortations have been? And what about 1918 the year that will see the world nearest to the starving point since the time of the Ptolemies.

Practically there is nothing done. Incapacity, bustling from one proclamation to another, draws nothing big but its salary. The excuse for inaction cannot be hidden under the creation of new offices to handle the situation. Farmers and everybody are sick to nausea of advice. Producers have done wonderfully well this year. No one knows what is going on in the big open spaces of the whole country can question the patriotism of the farmers.

Talk is cheap and plans are as numerous as the sands, but it takes man power, horse power, up-to-date machinery, mechanical power, soil fertility, good seasons and markets, that are not here to-day and gone to-morrow, to greatly increase the nation's food supply. Foremost of all what is wanted is leadership in this agricultural wilderness. Something ought to be done, in a big statesman-like way to markedly increase the production of the chief food crops, such as wheat, oats, rye and beans. And be done now.

It is criminal to expect these extra supplies to come out of a soil that needs the fertility of phosphates and potash in many cases; out of a depleted man-power on the farm, out of low equipment of mechanical power, with the ever hovering bogey of uncertain prices before the producer, without the active intervention of the state in the controlling of transportation, in the marshalling of power machinery into the fields, or the turning of skilled labor into the work. A state justifies itself only by serving all its people.

The getting of food supplies is as amenable to the laws of cause and effect as is the over-supplying of shells. We get what we go after—in the right way. Lloyd George is getting it. And that, without the farmers standing to lose out. In Canada, we have as every student of agriculture knows, an enormous capacity for production of a variety of human food of the highest quality. Millions of acres of the finest fertility out-of-doors are scattered, in big stretches, all over this great country. We very much doubt whether there is a land under heaven that surpasses or even equals its unfailing annual output. For any department not to consider the problem of such importance, as to putting business acumen, and energetic accomplishment at the task is nothing short of criminal. Surely it is not too late yet for the Dominion Department of Agriculture to shake itself free and to get something done.

Senator Richardson before the Senate Committee urged that the Government do something at once, as it was almost criminal, he said, for good Canadian wheat land to lie idle, when we considered the needs of Great Britain and the Allies, together with our shortened tonnage for shipping.

He said:

The war had increased the demand for grain from Canada and the United States and that increased demand would continue for the period of the war and for many years after the close of the war. Owing to shortage of shipping tonnage and their distance from Europe, neither South America nor Australia could now be drawn upon for a supply of grain for Europe. North America had to meet this demand. Therefore, it was necessary to bring all the land possible under cultivation and to plant and take crops off an area much larger than was being cultivated now. The Government would ascertain the best means of increasing, by the use of mechanical appliances, the power of the men who were cultivating the lands. He believed that with proper study and Government encouragement the production of wheat from the Canadian Northwest could be doubled in three or four years.

Ontario has been doing a little towards getting more land under the plow, by placing a few tractors at those points in the province where there has come a call for them. With 65 at present set up, and saving the situation with the likelihood that there will be a hundred or more at work inside of a few weeks, a few thousand acres of fall ploughing may be done that otherwise would not be. The unusual conditions that have confronted us this year whereby the haying and the harvest both delayed, have been carried over into September, the usual amount of fall ploughing is not going to be done. The acreage of fall wheat, will also likely be no more than normal, while a poorly plowed field or an unplowed stubble, is likely to lessen the next year's yield considerably. This is the situation all over the East. In the West, while there has been a fair amount of summer fallowing done, there has not been any concerted action to bring new areas under the breaking plow.

It is useless to say that more could not be done. Leaders do things. If we had a wide-awake leader of the Agricultural Department at Ottawa the whole plan of crop production could have been drafted long ago and all the forces mobilized to that end, in a way that would have amazed the Empire. He could have carried the tractor into every part of the country. He could have had tractor plants producing the engines just as the munition plants are turning out a surplus of shells. Engineering schools for teaching their operation would have been provided at every experiment station and agricultural college. Tractor drivers would have thus been ready for the fields in plenty and the main difficulties of the operating of the machines overcome.

Greater use could be made of the few tractors we have in the country. Many are lying idle half the time. Others are resting in fence corners for the lack of competent operators. Let the Government establish training schools, get the men out riding these iron horses to food victories and assist the farmers in their call for help. Hundreds of farmers want to buy light tractors. They find the price too high. Why not pay the duty for them? Thousands of acres have called for power plows and the answer is not forthcoming. Why is it? What are our exhorters waiting for? Why don't they do it?

Some advocate a bounty on the production of next year's crop. Such a thing might be feasible if the bounty were high enough to cover the labor costs of the transaction. Others say the only way to get the maximum of returns is to guarantee a minimum price for the wheat and it will be forthcoming. With this feature, we confess that we are much in sympathy. Assure the farmers that they will get, say, $2 a bushel for the next crop and self-interest will see to it, as in the case of the shell makers and the packing concerns, that the spout is kept flowing to Europe.

Munition workers are being let out by the thousands in Canada. These could be induced by a good wage paid by the Government to go into traction plowing now. It would not be impossible to put in a million acres of fall wheat in Ontario and another million in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Quebec and the Maritimes could increase their acreage. Following this, the acreage of fall rye a splendid and sure crop should be largely increased in October. While the preparation by fall

Five Large Phonographs Given as First District Prizes in

Bread-Making Contests At Rural School Fairs in Ontario

More than $2,000 worth of prizes for bread making will be offered at the Rural School Fairs this fall. Among the prizes are five large cabinet phonographs, fifteen Canuck bread mixers, and many attractive books. These splendid prizes will make the contest the most stirring ever held at rural school fairs. Every girl between the ages of 12 and 18 should read all about this fine opportunity, and should begin now to prepare for it. The prizes, under the conditions explained below, will be awarded for the best loaves baked with the hard wheat flour that is guaranteed for bread

—the flour that you will want to use always, once you have given it a good trial. We want you to know for yourself that it makes splendid big loaves of the lightest, most wholesome bread that good flour can bake. That is why we make it well worth your while to try it, by offering these attractive and costly prizes.

For this contest we have divided the Province into five districts, each with several counties. In each district we will give a large cabinet phonograph, a set of Dickens' Works and three bread mixers. These are called the District prizes and they are to be given in addition to the prizes offered at the local rural school fairs. (See list of districts below.) Be sure to compete at your local rural school fair. If you win first prize there, you will then automatically become a competitor for the phonograph and other district prizes.

The Prizes, remember, are offered for the best loaf of bread baked with Cream of the West Flour. No other flour will do. For local prizes we offer a number of valuable books. By local prizes we mean those given at the fair.

1st Local Prize.—"Girl's Own Annual," a great big beautifully bound, illustrated book with 800 pages of stories and articles about people, art, animals, gardens, sewing, crocheting—everything that particularly interests young girls, older girls and their mothers. This is a wonderful prize that you can treasure for years.

2nd Local Prize.—"Stories of Famous Men and Women," heavily cloth bound with gold titles, many beautiful pictures in colors, containing the stories of Florence Nightingale, Grace Darling, Flora MacDonald, Jenny Lind, the late Queen Victoria and others.

3rd Local Prize.—"Britain Overseas," a big handsomely bound book with many colored pictures, interesting stories and descriptions of the countries and the peoples of Britain's world-wide Empire.

4th Local Prize.—"The Queen's Gift Book," a book of stories, pictures and special articles by Britain's best writers; the proceeds from the sale of this book are for the benefit of disabled soldiers in England.

NOTE.—Unless the entries number six or more only first and second prizes will be awarded. Unless the entries number ten or more no fourth prize will be awarded.

The District Prizes.—The winner of the first prize at each local fair automatically becomes a competitor for the following District prizes. One-half of the first prize loaf will be sent to the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, to compete in the District Contests. (See conditions below.)

1st District Prize.—"The Pathophone" is the name given to the fine big mahogany phonograph we offer as first prize. It will give you endless pleasure and entertainment for a lifetime. It has special reproducer attachments and needles, enabling you to play all kinds of flat disc records of no matter what make. The Pathophone reproduces band music, orchestra music, songs and funny pieces perfectly; with it goes a dozen of the famous Pathé records. Total value, $150.00.

2nd District Prize.—Set of Dickens' Works, 13 splendidly bound volumes with many illustrations. Among the books in the set are "Oliver Twist" and "Old Curiosity Shop." These are two of the most entrancing stories ever written.

3rd, 4th and 5th Prizes.—"Canuck" Bread mixers. This simple, yet well-made, machine takes the hard work out of bread making. Instead of laborious kneading of the old method, you just put in the ingredients, turn the handle and the dough is thoroughly and more evenly mixed.

FIRST PRIZE AT LOCAL RURAL SCHOOL FAIRS

CONDITIONS OF THE CONTEST

Every girl may compete at the rural school fair in her district, whether or not she attends school, providing that her 12th birthday occurs before November 1st, 1917, or her 18th birthday does not occur before Nov. 1, 1917. One loaf of bread must be submitted baked in pan about 7 x 5 inches and 3 inches deep, and divided into two loaves so that they may be separated at the fair. The loaf must be baked with Cream of the West Flour. One-half will be judged at the fair. The other half of the prize loaf will be sent to Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, to compete in the District Contests. The judging will be done by Miss M. A. Purdy, of the Department of Breadmaking and Flour Testing. The local contest at the fair will be conducted under the same rules as all the other regular contests at your fairs.

The Standard by which bread will be judged will be as follows:

1. Appearance of Loaf..... 15 marks
 - (a) Color..... 5 marks
 - (b) Texture of crust..... 5 marks
 - (c) Shape of loaf..... 5 marks
2. Texture of Crumb..... 40 marks
 - (a) Evenness..... 15 marks
 - (b) Softness..... 20 marks
 - (c) Color..... 5 marks
3. Flavor of Bread..... 45 marks
 - (a) Taste..... 25 marks
 - (b) Odor..... 20 marks

Important.—Each loaf must be accompanied by the part of the flour bag containing the face of the Old Miller, and an entry form must be signed by the girl and parents or guardian stating date of birth, P.O. address, and giving name of dealer from whom Cream of the West Flour was purchased. The form will state that the girl actually baked the loaf entered in the competition. The forms will be provided at the time of the fair. The decision of the judges is final. Not more than one entry may be made by each girl and not more than one local prize will be awarded to the same family.

Which District is yours? This list shows you which counties you compete against if you become a competitor for the District prizes:

District No. 1.—Counties of Glengarry, Stormont, Dundas, Grenville, Leeds, Frontenac, Lennox and Addington, Carleton, Lanark, Renfrew.

District No. 2.—Counties of Hastings, Prince Edward, Peterboro, Northumberland, Victoria, Durham.

District No. 3.—Counties of York, Ontario, Peel, Halton, Wentworth, Oxford, Brant, Waterloo.

District No. 4.—Counties of Welland, Haldimand, Norfolk, Elgin, Kent, Essex, Lambton, Middlesex.

District No. 5.—Counties of Bruce, Grey, Dufferin, Simcoe, Districts of Muskoka, Parry Sound, Timiskaming, Algoma, Sudbury, Manitoulin.

THE RESULTS of the contests at the fair will be made known in the usual way as in the case of all the other regular contests. The District results will be announced as soon as possible after the conclusion of the Rural School Fairs in the Province.

DO NOT MISS THIS GREAT OPPORTUNITY. Every girl between 12 and 18 years should compete. What a splendid way to stir up increased interest in breadmaking! Get a supply of Cream of the West Flour at your dealers and practice using it as often as possible to increase the chances of winning. If your dealer cannot sell it to you, write to the Campbell Flour Mills Co., Ltd., Toronto, and we will promptly tell you the nearest place to get it.

NO COMPETITIONS IN COUNTIES NAMED BELOW: The competition is open to all parts of the Province where Rural School Fairs are held, except the Districts of Rainy River, Kenora and Thunder Bay. These districts are the only parts of the Province where school fairs are held by the Department of Agriculture in which this competition will not be a feature. There are no district representatives of the Department of Agriculture in the Counties of Huron, Perth, Wellington, Haliburton, Prescott, Russell or Lincoln, and no rural school fairs are held in these Counties by the Department of Agriculture. There are, however, a few local school fairs held in these seven counties, and we are opening the competition to these fairs. We will announce later the districts in which each of these Counties will be included.

Sweney, Iroquois; Stone & Fisher, Iroquois.

plowing of all farm lands in Ontario as never before, would ensure as nothing else, a bumper yield in 1918.

Moreover our Eastern soils need phosphates. These could be rushed into all the District Representative centres and distributed to farmers sowing wheat this fall. The charges could thus be reduced considerably and a better crop assured.

With the Federal Department of Agriculture alive to this work, it could infuse into the provincial organizations the needed help and inspiration. The harmonious team work of these big organized units, would assure a doubling of Canada's wheat production in every province in a short time. To sleep on is criminal.—Farmer's Magazine.

Taking Time to Think It Over.

A Tragedy in Real Life

A Mutual Life insurance agent urged a certain man to sign an application for $5000 insurance protection. The man replied—"Give me Sunday to think it over." Instead of thinking it over on Sunday, the young man went away on a motorcycle trip and, meeting with an accident, lost his life.

Leaving the signing of the application 48 hours cost his dependent relatives $5000, a sum which would have been a wonderful blessing to them.

Life is just as uncertain during the days of procrastination as later. Insure now, and do not make your family take chances for another day.

Mutual Life Policies afford protection at minimum cost. Nearly fifty thousand Canadian homes are protected by means of Mutual Policies.
