Here and There

by Kay Kay

We often overhear little remarks that are made, and file them away in a back corner of our memory bank for later use. This week we will bring one of them out with the hope that some one will answer the column before Christmas.

A family in town have a tom cat that is getting up in years, physically that is, and it looks like the end is not far off. Poppa, momma and the two little ones in the family, are not happy at the prospect but have come to realize that the nine lives must run out some day. They have enjoyed the company of that feline to a great extent for some years and when the day arrives, it will be a sad event.

Now we just happened to overhear them say that they wouldn't mind having a couple of kittens; one for each of the youngsters with momma and poppa sharing the two as well. They are looking for kittens that don't mind riding in a car because they are a family that stays together. In other words, no scrawny, timid animals will do. Male or female, they could care less.

Now hold on, there! Before you get any wild ideas of palming off a bunch of kittens on this columnist for later disposal, nothing doing. Just give us a call at 652-4806 and we'll pass the word along to the village family of cat lovers. With two cats of our own we're not very apt to want to add to the troubles we already have. So there you have it . . if you want to help make someone's Christmas just a bit better dingle the telephone.

SANTA WAS HERE

Santa Claus made it to Iroquois last Saturday afternoon, much to the delight of close to 600 youngsters and from the looks of it, came dressed in a brand new suit. Santa must have had a fairly prosperous year in 1968, with the help of the Iroquois Lions Club, the Ladies Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion and the Iroquois Legion Branch. All three organizations helped Santa handle the crowd and distribute bags of candy and fruit to them all.

The big event was held at the Civic Centre, taking close to two hours to give every youngster a chance to see the welcome visitor.

WINS $50

Mr. Peter Zeran won the $50. Draw sponsored by the Matilda Women's Institute.

YOUR USED STAMPS PLEASE

Last year in Iroquois alone some two hundred dollars was raised for the Bible Society by thoughtful folks who tore off the stamps from the hundreds of envelopes that brought Christmas greetings to our homes. Please do the same again this year, and bring them to your Minister. Better than that, he will probably appoint someone in his congregation to look after this little detail; and by such a simple means an excellent good deed can be accomplished.

Leave about one quarter to one half inch of the paper around the stamp so that the indentations on same will not be damaged. The stamp must be totally intact to be useful to the stamp collector. During the year too, this thoughtful practise could be usefully employed if we spent that little moment in the service of others. Thank you for this help, as indeed for your general support of the work of the Iroquois Branch of the Bible Society. It is wonderful to tell that over four hundred dollars was received in this year's annual canvass. Thank you.

ROW WARREN HOSTESS TO DECEMBER MEETING

After enjoying a 6:30 dinner Thursday, December 12th, thirteen members of the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary, gathered at the home of Row Warren for their regular meeting and Christmas Party.

One new member was initiated and an application received. The accounts and correspondence were dealt with and all reports were given. Preparations for the Lion's Club dinner, December 30th and the New Year's Eve catering were made. The Iroquois Auxiliary will hold the Zone Rally in May, 1969. Mrs. Ellen Fader, Zone Commander will make her official visit February 13th and the members are all asked to attend this meeting. Due to a new bookkeeping system introduced at the Sept. Convention in Ottawa, all the conveners were asked to have all accounts in so the secretarys and treasurers books would be closed December 31st for auditing.

Membership fees are due in January and since there was a motion passed at the convention, all members must attend a meet ing and pay her dues.

After adjournment, there was an exchange of gifts and a social evening spent. All the ladies are grateful to Row for such a nice time spent with her.

MRS. J. R. MILLER HONOURED BY KNOX CHURCH

A surprise highlight of the annual Church School Pageant presentation, "The Christmas Message", in Knox Presbyterian Church, Sunday evening, Decem ber 15th, was the honouring of Mrs. John R. Miller, retiring Church School Superintendent and Senior Class Teacher. Having served over nine years as Supt., and many more as a teacher, gifts were presented to Mrs. Miller by Mr. Stewart A. Thomp son, on behalf of the Kirk Session, and by Mr. William Barnhardt, Jr., on behalf of the teach ing staff.

ST. MARYS and ST. CECILIA'S

Form Catholic Parent-Teacher Association

Mr. Wilfred J. Wilkinson, C.A., was featured speaker at Sunday Masses in Morrisburg and Iroquois on December 8th on the subject of the formation of a Catholic Parent-Teacher Association. Following the Sunday morning church services, a general parochial meeting was held in Saint Cecilia's Parish School of which Rev. D.W. MacDonald was chairman of the meeting.

He formerly introduced Mr. Wilkinson of Trenton to the meeting. The guest speaker delivered an informative address to parents on forming a C.P.T.A. in the two parishes. Upon completion of his topic Mr. Wilkinson recommended that an executive be appointed.

At this stage Father MacDonald chaired a nominating committee and presented a slate of officers to the meeting of which by motion of the meeting were accepted to serve for the 1968-69 season.

The St. Mary's Parish, Morrisburg and St. Cecilia's Parish Iroquois C.P.T.A. executive were installed by Mr. Wilkinson as follows.

Honorary Presidents were the principals of each school, namely Mrs. Omer Pigeon and Mrs. Margaret White.

President, Mr. Leo DeBellefeuille, Iroquois; Vice Presidnt, Mrs. Bernard Brunt, Williamsburg; Secretary, Mrs. Eileen Merkley, Iroquois; Treasurer, Mr Tom Coligan, Morrisburg; Parents Committee: Mr. Joe Smit, Iroquois; Mrs. John Valcour, Iroquois; Mr. Peter Van Moorsel, Morrisburg; Mrs. Rene Bouberice Morrisburg; Teacher Committee: Mr. Carl Rines, Iroquois; Mrs. Doris A. Riley, of Morrisburg.

Mr. DeBellefeuille in his acceptance speech urged all parents and teachers to unite together in an effort to assist and do everything possible to work toward the betterment of the student body academically and also in Catholic action.

KNOX CHURCH SCHOOL

Christmas Pageant

Despite very inclement weather, the Presbyterian family and their friends, of Knox Church, Iroquois, turned out for the annual Church School Pageant presentation in the sanctuary, Sunday, December 15th, and overflowed the church-hall for the Christmas Tree occasion, when gifts were presented to all the children and staff, and Santa made his usual visit.

Snow, and more snow didn't deter parents and friends who shared with the children in their presentation, in costume and verse of the events surrounding the birth of the Lord Jesus Christ, as recorded in the Gospel — St. Luke 2: 1-20; St. Matthew 2: 1-12. The sanctuary was in candlelight for the manger setting, the Minister, the Rev. John Hibbs, conducting the opening sentences, and the Knox Senior Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Arthur E. Bell, leading in the ministry of music that "backgrounded" the pantomine actions of the young people.

Readers during the pageant were Miss Rene Barnhardt, Miss Janis Thompson, Miss Gail Smollett, and Mr. David Johnson. The Church School choir, under the leadership of Mrs. H. B. Bradley and Mrs. J. Johnston, sang two selections during the presentation, "Away in a Manger" and "Silent Night"; and the Senior Choir sang the beautiful coventry carol, harmonized by J. Stainer. "Lullay, Thou Little Tiny Child". Children of the Church School represented the various character parts throughout the pageant, and admirably played-out their roles. Teachers of the Church School, Miss Ruth Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. William Barnhardt, Jr., and Miss Lorraine Pope, were prompters, with Miss Rose Marie Lavallie arranging makeup.

Following the presentation, the congregation and children adjourned to the church-hall for the Christmas Tree gifts and candy treats, complimented by the appearance of Santa Claus.

A highlight of the Church-hall occasion was the surprise presentation of Mrs. J. R. Miller, retired Church School Superintendent and Senior Class teacher of gifts from the Kirk Session and the Teaching Staff. Mr. Stewart A. Thompson, Clerk of the Session and Mr. William Barnhardt, Jr., the new Superintendent, made the presentations, noting the faithful service of Mrs. Miller over the years in the field of Christian Education, and reading appropriate Christmas verses. A unanimous round of applause greeted the honouring of Mrs. Miller, who responded very graciously to these remembrances.

The cutting of a special cake, in honour of Mrs. Miller, and the distributing of same to all in attendance, brought a very memorable evening to a close; everybody hoping they would get home before the snowfall closed in the roads.

HELD OVER— Several items are held over and will appear in next Monday's paper.

NO, IT'S NOT SANTA CLAUS!

Richard Fraser took unto himself a bride recently and his fellow teachers at Seaway District decided to hold a party in his honor. They decided to really "cage" Dick and after making sure he couldn't get away took him on a trip around the countryside. The Super Dick Special is one of the funniest pieces of transpotration we've seen in many a year. Congratulations Dick!

Lions Annual Party

WHITE GIFTS PRESENTED AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCHES

On Sunday, December 8th, special "white gifts" were presented by the Church Schools and adults of Knox Presbyterian Church, Iroquois, and St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, South Mountain, in support of Christmas Food Hampers and the Clothing Room of Tyndale Neighbourhood House, Montreal, a mission-outreach centre of the Presbyterian Church in Canada the Rev. Robert W. Johnson, Director.

Children and adults contributed very worthily to this pre-Christmas act of sharing with others less fortunate than themselves. The combined food and clothing gifts, including gifts from Cardinal and Morrisburg, filled the Tyndale Van on Monday, December 16th, when these gifts were loaded for delivery to Montreal.

Special acknowledgements will be made by the Tyndale Staff, but an advance appreciation has been expressed by the Director, the Rev. Robert Johnson, for the sincerity and the abundance of these contributions for the twenty-five families under the care of the mission-centre this Christmas.

Still Time To Shop At Home Stores

Every time we stop to think about how few days are left until Christmas we get wrinkles up the back of the neck. Like the odd other person, we still don't have all our Christmas shopping done and while there is less than a week to go, we would point out that right in your home-town stores there are gifts of all kinds just waiting to be picked out. Sure you can get more variety in the city stores and you can drive all day and get tired out fighting the traffic and the crowds to find what you are looking for. But who in the world wants to spend the last few days before the holidays wearing themselves out?

Right here in Iroquois are found some of the best gifts you could find anywhere and back at places like Chas. Coons', Fairbairn's and Chas. Shaver's. Up the street to Seely's, English's, Savers, the Beamish, or over at the TV store and so on. Even the garages could come up with a gift certificate for you for that hard to buy for gent.

Shopping and parking is more of a pleasure in the small town or country store and when we think back to the many times when they were darned convenient to have right near us, perhaps we owe it to them to at least pay them a visit to see what they have to offer.

See you around the local stores.

Joy, To The World

It is a sad fact that the fuss and feathers of the Christmas season all too often leave us unprepared for the real event of Christmas, the birth of Jesus Christ.

While the "Christmas spirit" knows no bounds and excludes no man, it is really only the Christian segment of humanity who are concerned about the birth of Jesus Christ.

With the diversity of thinking that religious freedom is bound to provide, there are almost as many views of the person of Jesus Christ, as there are Christians. Add to this the fact that each of us as individuals can only grasp knowledge as he himself comes to understand it, it is a wonder that Christian people retain any unified and significant faith at all. But there is a guide line. The Catholic or Universal Faith retains for us the orthodox position: that Jesus is the Son of God, born of the Virgin Mary. This has been the teaching of the Church throughout the brief period of her ministry. Oh, there is much more teaching than this of course, but in essence . . . the crux of it is centred in the person of Jesus Christ, and it is He whom we meet this Christmas.

Consider an anolgy. Though he may have read all about the art of swimming, until the novice swimmer leaves off standing uncertainly and self consciously on the river bank, he gets no where. Swimming requires of him that he get into the water, and it also invites some basic instruction about the movement of his arms and legs, his breathing, and so on. All of this may have been within his intellectual knowledge previously, but he has to get into the water and into action, if he is to achieve the goal of swimming. And only as he practices will he be able to develop success and real pleasure as a swimmer. Somehow, it looks pretty silly for a grown man to paddle around in shallow waters. Is there any analogy here to our practise of the Christian faith?

Some four or five thousand years ago, God began to reveal Himself to man through the Jewish people. The book of Hebrews has an utterly charming, true, and accurate introduction: "God, who in sundry times and in diverse manners spake in times past unto the father by the prohets, that in these last days spoken unto us by his Son" And now, these two thousand years later, He would speak to you and me. Here is how St. John expresses it:" He came unto his own, and his own received him not. But as many as received him, to them gave He power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his Name; which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God". Reader, how is that for exciting reading!

The question still remains: "What think ye of Jesus?" You may not be able to accept Him by your reasoned understanding; and science will not provide you with a formula. But you can accept Him in faith. How strange it is that we should have problems about the birth of Jesus Christ, when all about us incomprehensible mysteries quietly knit the patterns of life. Your hands hold this page, your eyes focus to read this article, your brain picks up the message, your mind weighs it; while at your feet a lesser species lies unconcerned.

We do not deny the miracle of life that surrounds us daily, so why are we riddled with doubts about another miracle of life: The perfect man; perfect in his manhood, because he was born of the Virgin Mary; perfect in his Godhood, because He was conceived not by man, but by the Holy Spirit of God.

Our imperfection meets His perfection, and rather than gazing in humility and awe, we draw back — uncertain because we try to limit to our little understanding the incomprehensible mystery of God.

But look again.
A little hand is outstretched to you;
As later, both arms were outstretched for you.
May Love come down to you at Christmas,
And claim you for His own.

Joy to the world, for here is something we must tell!

GORDON BLAIR, M.P., REPORTS

Best Wishes

My wife, myself and our sons extend our best wishes for a Happy Christmas to everyone in Grenville- - Carleton. Our thoughts at Christmas will be with the many friends we have been privileged to make in the last years in all parts and among all parties in our constituency.

As Christmas approaches, the House of Commons is engaged in its most serious debate of the session — on the new rules proposed by the Procedures Committee. I feel that I must try to resist the temptation to discuss procedure too much in this column, brought on perhaps by the fact that I have lived so long with it as chairman of the special committee during the session. However, I believe that the committee's proposals, if adopted, will make the House a much improved place for the transaction of the people's business under modern conditions.

The adoption of the new rules is part of the essential work which the government considered had to be done early this session to "clear the decks" for future action. Most of the session's time has been spent on business for which a prescribed number of days were set aside in the rules, such as the passage of estimates, the budget debate and the Speech from the Throne. With the proposed new rules permitting rational planning of time in advance, your House of Commons will be better able to tackle the large problems facing the nation. All Members realize that the Speech from the Throne was accurate when it stated, "Across the land there are great expectations of what this parliament will produce". There is obvious impatience in the country to get ahead with the real business of parliament and I expect that when it reconvenes in January it will be in a much better position to do so.

SUGAR AND SPICE
by Bill Smiley

A Club You Can Join

Well, is that old Christmas spirit just bubbling inside you? Do you chuckle away with sheer, brimming love of your fellow man as you do your shopping? Are your eyes gleaming with glee as you look at your Christmas card list.

What? It isn't? You don't? They're not? What's the matter with you, anyway?

Have you organized your door-to-door carol singing group for Christmas Eve? Have you made plans for a family of eight, on welfare, to share your Christmas dinner?

You haven't? You say you grunt and bunt and sweat and curse as you stagger through the stores? Your eyes are shinning with pure hatred as you look over your Christmas card list?

Welcome to the group. We're growing with increasing rapidity. One of these years, we'll have a majority, and will rise up with one mighty shout: "Christmas? Bah! Humbug!"

And if the current Tiny Tim, that creature one sees these days on television, shakes back his long, curly locks, opens his made up mounth and starts warbling, "God bless us, everyone", he'll probably get it right between the eyes with one of those cast-iron Christmas tree stands that never work.

But we mustn't Carp. The great day will arrive when Christmas is torn out of the grasp of the hucksters and returned to the people.

After all, Christmas is a time of good cheer. Even though much of it comes out of a crock. And after all, 'tis a season to be jolly. And most of us are jolly well sick of the whole business by the time the sacred day itself arrives.

One of the founding members of ACSA, the Anti-Christmas-Spirit - Association, was King Wenceslaus, The "good" was tacked on by the court minstrel on the explicit orders of Wenceslaus himself, who was trying to improve his image for the history books.

He looked out one night and shuddered within his ermine robes. The snow lay round about deep and crisp and even. A great night for skiers and snow-mobile friends. But Wenceslaus was neither; and he had the gout. He saw a poor man gathering fuel, though the frost was cruel. And what he actually said was, "Get that lousy bum off my property. He's stealing Christmas trees." And so a legend was born.

Another prominent member of ACSA was Charles Dickens. Dickens really hated Christmas, because he always had a wretched struggle getting the tree up. And when he did, his wife invariably said sweetly, "It's crooked dear. It's leaning over."

So he wrote a sardonic parody of the whole starry-eyed Christmas mush. He cast himself as Scrooge, a jolly old gent but one who didn't believe in Santa Claus. Bob Cratchit, Scrooge's semi-literate clerk, was stealing from the petty cash so that he could get bombed on Christmas Eve and go and watch his son, Tiny Tim, the one with the phoney limp, play his ukelele and sing for pennies at the Slap and Tickle, a sordid London pub.

In the original version, kindly old Mr. Scrooge said, "Forget it Bob," gave him a Christmas goose, and added, realist that he was, "but the fuzz will be around for you on Boxing Day".

Dickens' editor, however, a grasping, flint - hearted old skinflint, knew his Victorian readers would never accept such realism. He made the author re-write the story into the sloppily sentimental "A Christmas Carol," which has nauseated all ACSA members from that day to this.

Dickens got his revenge. He re-wrote the character of Scrooge as a caricature of his editor. Then he hit the punchbowl, the editor and the road. He was bitter. He disappeared until after New Year's. They found him dragging a Yule log, soaked in kerosene, into the basement of his publishers' plant.

Just a couple of examples out of thousands to show you that you are not alone. Join ACSA. No membership fee, no annual meeting. Nothing required except a resounding "HUMBUG!" when the signal goes out.

The Ontario House

by F.M. CASS, M.P.P.

As the fourth week of the Session found Members of the House casually wending their way through the Throne Speech Debate, the Government, in hopes of finishing the Debate before the Christmas recess, introduced night Sessions of the House from 8 - 11 p.m. Except for one day spent debating some Government Bills, the whole week's sittings were spent by Members participating in the Throne Speech Debate; some apparently with no regard for other Members desiring to speak, going on and on for four and five hours, spread over several days; others with more experience making excellent speeches of less than one hour's duration. One wonders if perhaps these latter were not more effective.

The Standing Committees of the House have now all met, elected a Chairman and organized for their duties. That Committee considering private Bills submitted to the Legislature has been busy as has been the Committee considering the new Expropriation Act. In fact, the latter has found so many areas of Expropriation law to be discussed and so many people and organizations wishing to present their views that the Members availed themselves of a rather unusual procedure. The Committee requested, and of course the House agreed, permission for the Committee to sit while the Legislature itself was in Session. This is a procedure which in the Ontario House is used only in most exceptional circumstances.

The news reports of the week have shown just how great a strain is the responsibility of public office with Premier Bertrand of Quebec hospitalized and Robarts of Ontario confined to his home. The resulting postponement of Federal-Provincial top-level talks on constitutional and fiscal problems will affect the programs of every Parliament in Canada and will further delay the reasonable settlement of these problems for which every Canadian is hoping.

And finally, I would draw to my readers' attention the CBC-TV broadcast on "This Business of Farming" produced by our Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food. These two programs will be broadcast at 10:30 a.m. on January 7th and January 8th next and are respectively entitled "Grain from Field to Feed" and "Money Matters".

Mrs. Cass joins me in extending to all our sincere wish that your Christmastide may be happy and the New Year will bring you and yours good health, happiness and prosperity.

Christmas Reverie

Christmas—and we crunch along the rutted lane to the house where Grandpa waits, white hair shining in the candlelight, to throw open the door before the biggest tree a child has ever seen.

Christmas—and I cry as I unpack the cardboard manger scene I made as a child, that Mother had set up every year 'till now.

Christmas—and our little girl kneels tenderly beside a homemade manger. Two brothers flank her, their shepherd hats askew, as Daddy reads by firelight, "And there were in the same country shepherds..."

Christmas—and in a world that knows war, bitterness, and pain, I praise God for the Babe who "grew in grace" and demonstrated perfect Love.

Christmas—and candlelight gleams on the altar of your church and mine as we thank God for the birthday of a King.

Queen's Park Comment

by Donald C. MacDonald

Last week, the Ontario Legislature commemorated the 20th anniversary of the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights.

MPP's from all parties recognised the progress Ontario had made in the last generation towards reducing discrimination. We paid tribute to the work of the Human Rights Commission in acting as a watchdog on behalf of Ontario citizens.

At the same time, we admitted the job was far from being completed in our province. Speaking for my party, I pointed out that, while individual cases of abuse were being removed, there was at least one area of collective discrimination which should give us all deep concern.

I was referring to our treatment of our native Indian population.

I reminded the Legislature that I had, one year ago, detailed the appalling conditions under which these people exist and work. Our record in dealing with Canada's original inhabitants has been so shameful that we have escaped the consequences of our action for longer than we deserve.

Now time is running out. Either we change completely our attitude and policies towards Indians, or we will be faced with a racial conflict, with all its irrationality and violence, like that now bringing anguish to the United States.

Red Power, born of years of frustration and neglect, is taking shape among the Indian population. It is a symptom of mass discrimination, and we ignore the problem at our peril.

I urged that Ontario has a real responsibility to act, not just leave it to the federal government. Indians are our citizens here; there is no legitimate excuse for delay.

I stressed that a whole new series of policies has to be worked out, in which the Indians themselves are involved from the start.

I suggested the setting up of regional Crown corporations, with full Indian involvement in their direction, to work out and implement programs: in education, retraining, welfare, economic development. In my view, northwestern Ontario is ready for such a regional development council right now.

Indians, I underlined, are by no means a favoured class in terms of assistance. The total government expenditure per Indian is $300. This is less than half the national average of $740 per Canadian citizen.

There must be an effective committee of the Cabinet to direct the development of our Indian policy, answerable directly to the Prime Minister.

Surely, if we are going to lick discrimination and elevate true human rights, we can no longer pretend our treatment of Indians is adequate. All our progress and achievements in the past on an individual basis will look insignificant alongside what history will record if we do not act now.

Indians are people. It's time we accepted that fact as a principle of our policy here in Ontario.

PLEASE, BE CAREFUL. If the pattern remains the same the symbol of the festive season — the Christmas tree — will remain a top fire hazard in homes across Canada. Please be careful and don't leave on your lights when you go out, and please, make sure the wires are not frayed when you decorate your tree. And please, don't forget to keep your tree watered. — TNS Photo

Notes From Our Country Correspondents

Seek One Group

The Ontario Federation of Agriculture today took another firm step towards the formation of a General Farm Organization in the province. The members also voted to keep open the necessary channels employed in importing tractors.

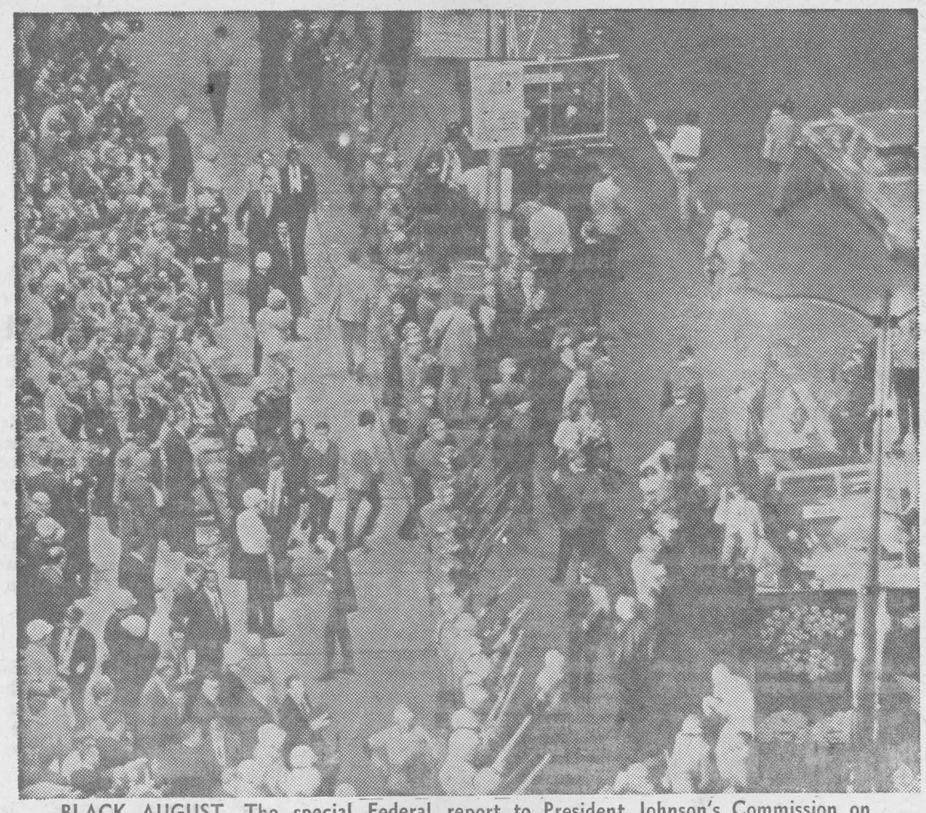
The moves came during a regular monthly Members' Meeting at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto. Much of the agenda was carried over from the annual convention in November.

In an amended resolution the OFA chose to confirm "its position as being in favour of a General Farm Organization in Ontario, based on the principles of financing by a check-off from all agricultural commodities plus a voluntary membership where desired."

The members further invested the executive with the power to work out any details in the complex action.

The last portion of the resolution states that the executive of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture "requests the Minister of Agriculture to provide the necessary legislation to conduct a farmer vote to form a General Farm Organization and collect the necessary funds to adequately finance the same via a commodity check-off."

Concerning the further importation of tractors, the members voted to allow the executive to take any necessary steps to continue the importation if deemed necessary by demand. The OFA recently imported seven tractors from Britain at a saving of about $20,000 to the purchasing farmers. The input prices on the Canadian markets make the same tractors twice the price of those imported from the United Kingdom.



BLACK AUGUST. The special Federal report to President Johnson's Commission on Violence has found that the dozens of newsmen covering the Democratic Convention in Chicago last August were deliberately attacked and beaten by police. The attempt by police to keep the lid on Chicago exploded when demonstrators broke through the police cordons and National Guard lines to reach the convention site. — TNS Photo

Elected Co-op President

At a meeting held at the Co-op office Sam Smolkin of Cornwall was elected President of Stor-Dun-Glen Co-operative Medical Services.

With Mr. Smolkin is Frst Vice President Herbert Hill, Monkland, Ont. and Second Vice-President Wm. Wilkinson of Maxville, Ontario.

Directors are Eric Casselman, Chesterville, Aldebert Thauvette St. Anne de Prescott; Omer Boileau, Cornwall; Hubert Cameron Cornwall; Aime Brabant, Casselman; Harry Williams, Mountain, Ont.

Wm. Legault in his Manager's report cited heavy utilization of the Insurance Plan, a 20 per cent increase in claims over the same period last year and The Board of Directors approved an increase of benefits effective February 1 1969 by including a Drug Plan in lieu of Major Medical which drugs will be paid by the Co-operative on a first dollar basis. Lab tests which were formerly a part of a major medical claim will now be included as a benefit in the surgical plan.

Authorization was given to pay the 1969 Ontario Medical Association Tariff of fees when enacted.

This new drug plan will also be available to all Employee Groups in Eastern Ontario who are not now participating in the Co-op Plan.

O.P.P. REPORT

Now that this the last week of school for our children, and they will soon be enjoying their Christmas Holidays, I wonder what we, as adults, will be doing. Will we be decorating the Christmas tree, or preparing the Christmas turkey, or will be going out to a friend's house for a party and enjoying the festive season, with a heart full of brotherly love and Christmas cheer. Well, no matter what it is that we are going to do, let us not forget what the real mean ing of Christmas is, and who it is for. Christmas, of course, is for our children. This is the time of year when we see our children trying out a new pair of skates, or a new sleigh or toboggan, or playing with all the new toys that Santa Claus has left them. Now we begin to think, how can we as parents ensure that our children and all other children will always be able to enjoy, not only the Christmas Holidays, but all the other holidays as well. There is a simple answer to all these questions and it is two of the biggest and most meaningful words that you as drivers will ever know — TRAFFIC SAFETY.

These words mean so much to day, especially in the rapidly advancing age that we live in. Automation has brought us so many better ways of living, and it has also brought us the way of breaking one of the most sacred commandments — "Thou Shalt Not Kill". Many drivers today never think of this when they get behind the wheel and start to drive their families and friends in their car. Only after there has been a tragic mishap does this fact register with them. And then it is too late to say, "If Only I Had . . ."

Remember, life is precious, and especially at this time of year when we all have so much to be thankful for. We should all drive carefully and alertly, so that there will be many more years when we can again enjoy the Christmas Season.

"Peace on Earth and Good Will to all People".

Jingle of the Week

Don't be rash in the Christmas Rush,
Don't get caught in the New Year crush,
Make Highway Safety really pay,
And Death won't take your holiday.

Ontario Provincial Police in Dundas County last week patrolled 13,969 miles in 1,055 hours. During this time, there were 36 charges laid under the Highway Traffic Act, along with 70 warnings being issued. Officers investigated six infractions of the Liquor Control Act, which resulted in six persons being charged. There was also three thefts, one disturbance, and 15 miscellaneous complaints, investigated by the Ontario Provincial Police. On our area highways there were eleven property damage accidents and no personal injury accidents.

Morrisburg School Patrol Member of the Week — Judy Sheldrick.

GATEWAY TO PARADISE. The new fallen snow covers the trees and gateway turning the scene into a land of white fantasy. Although Canadians from coast to coast shiver and complain about winter's coldness, we often sit back and marvel at the creations of beauty which are woven before our eyes. — TNS Photo

White Gift Annual Service

The Sunday Church School of Iroquois United Church joined the Congregation last Sunday for the annual White Gift Service. The Superintendent, Clifton Davis, conducted the first part of the Service and received the Church School offering. Anne Summers read the Scripture, the Christmas Story from Luke's Gospel, and Vicky Merkley presented the Story, "A Small Gift With A Big Meaning". The Senior Choir sang the Anthems, "What Child Is This?" and "The Carol of the Drums". The Minister gave a short address on the subject, "Jesus Comes As Friend". During the Service also the Congregation responded generously to the Moderator's appeal for "One Day's Pay" to help alleviate hunger and want in the world. All of this offering will be given directly to Overseas Relief.

All questions submitted to the above address will be answered, in print or by return mail Names will not be used in print. Dear Sir:

Please settle a family argument of long standing. My wife says that she should handle the money in our family because most of the expenses are related to running the house and she knows more about running the house than I do. (And she's got a million more versions of the same argument.) I say I make the money so I should be responsible for spending it and making sure that we stick inside my take-home pay. Now, once and for all, who's right?

W. C. L.

Yours is an uncommon twist on this family argument. Usually neither of the partners wants to be responsible for the money; they just want to spend it. In my judgment, the "all or nothing" philosophy is wrong, no matter which partner it favors, husband or wife. Family financial planning and execution impose an obligation on both husband and wife and should be carried out by both husband and wife. You have a valid point. There is no reason why you should work your head off from payday to payday for an adequate family income, then have nothing in this world to say about its disposition. By the same token, a large number (if not a large part) of family spending is for expenses that are incurred in connection with the operation of the home, and your wife is more competent in this area. Let me suggest not only a compromise and a more practical way of settling this family argument, but a course of action which has proven to be the most effective way to handle family finances. When you plan your budget — you do have a budget, don't you? — divide spending responsibilities between you and your wife according to which has primary concern. Let your wife handle expenditures such as food, clothing, and operation of the house; you be responsible for shelter, transportation, insurance, recreation and so on. In this way, you will both participate, both have responsibilities and hopefully, both contribute to the settlement of your long-standing family argument.
