$603,000 village sewage system officially opened Tuesday afternoon

Chesterville's new $603,000 water pollution control system was officially declared open in a public ceremony on Tuesday November 24, in the Community Hall. D. A. Moodie, OWRC commisioner; former reeve of Nepean Township, officiated along with representatives of various levels of government including the Hon. F. M. Cass, Q. C., MPP forGrenville, Dundas and Speaker of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario.

In his welcome Reeve J. Brannen said he hopes other municipalities along the Nation River would follow Chesterville's example and help to clean the river up.

The Hon. F. M. Cass told the audience that although the system would not be free it would be a healthier place for children.

"No one, he said, "will regret what fromer Reeve George Barkley initiated 24 years ago." "It is a very happy and important occasion for the town," he said.

Dr R. B. Peters of the St Lawrence and Ottawa Valleys Health Unit mentioned that in his visits he had noticed the condition of the river and was pleased to know that the people were doing something about cleaning it up.

Mr Moodie told the people that the OWRC had been flooded with requests for assistance from small municipalities across the province. They have had $32,000,000. alloted to assist the smaller municipalities since the beginning of the year and Chesterville received about $275,000. to help them install the sewers.

The system consists of a 14.5 acre lagoon, which is located east of town on the north side of the South Nation River, pumping station and a sewer collector system which services the entire village. With a treatment capacity of 81,600 imperial gallons per day the lagoon, linked with some five miles of main in the sewage network, provides Chesterville with an efficient up-to-date sewage service.

The waste treatment system waas financed under a provincial plan which will require payment for the service on a use-basis only. The facilities will be owned and operated by the OWRC on behalf of the Village.

The official opening of Chesterville's new water pollution control system took place last Tuesday afternoon. Officiating at the opening ceremonies were, from left to right, Hon. F. M. Cass, Q.C. M. P. P. for Grenville, Dundas and speaker of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario; Reeve J. Brannen, cutting the ribbon to mark the official opening; former Reeve George Barkley and D. A. "Unidentified Floating Object"

"Tie my kangaroo down, boy! Tie my kangaroo down!" Last Friday evening Ken Merkley, Nation Valley, should have tied his Chevrolet down." The car decided to go on without Ken, as he was shopping in Labre's, it ended up floating down the Nation River.

The car had been parked in front of Chesterville Community Hall. It is assumed it entered the river at the mark on the far right and travelled along on its maiden voyage, coming to rest on the river bottom at the second mark to the far left. The vehicle was pulled out of the river from the opposite side as the dotted line indicates.

Two tow trucks were required to remove the vehicle. The operation took well over two hours. An estimate of damage has been arrived at and it is assumed Ken's soggy car will be back on the road.

North Stormont ratepayers debate for area school

Ratepayers of North Stormont decided last Wednesday night to form a committee and campaign for approval of a new secondary school in the Avonmore-Monkland area.

The committee, to be selected by the Tri-County Board of Education area supervisor, L. F. Lawson,will include ratepayers from all sectors of the affected area.

Some goals of the committee are to gain public support for the proposed school and also the endorsement of area municipal councils.

A major objective is an audience with Education Minister William Davis.

To this end, Glengarry M.P.P. O. F. Villeneuve will be asked to arrange for Mr Davis to meet with the committee or the Tri-County board officials, or both.

Mr Villeneuve appeared to be the villain in the eyes of many of the 150 ratepayers who attended the public meeting held in the Roxmore Public School auditorium.

While the board officials and four trustees in attendence stressed the great need for a new secondary school this year, and disapproved of the department's refusal to authorize construction of the proposed school. Mr Villeneuve supplied numerous statistics which indcated the cost of educaton had multiplied many times in recent years.

M. O. Beauchemn, superintendent of curriculum and planning with the Tri-County board, said

The plant managed by Arnold Smith, son of the late Robert Smith, had not been producing cheese for the past two weeks.

Rotary Club seeks support student exchange program

Chesterville Rotary president Tom Rance is seeking support for the Rotary Student Exchange Program. Two students from Australia will soon be in the district and they will need accomodation for a minimum of three months.

The exchange program is a going concern in the world-wide servce club. Over 10,000 students have spent a year away from their own countries, going to school and living within the communities that surround the schools. The students are under the control and direction of the Rotary Club sponsoring the exchange but receive their day-to-day direction from the family providing accomodation. In every case the family is either a Rotary family or one recommended by the local club.

Two young men from Australia, Andrew David Burggess and Mark Robert Goedecke, aged 15 and 16 respectively, are now in Canada under the plan and in the local Rotary District. If accomodation can be arranged, Chesterville Rotary Club would like them to attend North Dundas District High School for the next half year. Any family in the village or immediate area with an interest inthe project is asked to get in touch with club president Tom Rance. Full details can be made known and responsibilities outlined.

Editorial Comment . . .

Number One

With the publication of this issue, the Chesterville Record rounds out its first year under its new ownership. We, the editors and staff of the Record, hope that we have, in some measure, fulfilled an inherited trust in maintaining the integrity with which previous owners have endowed this small town weekly newspaper.

We are rewarded in our efforts to serve when we note that during the past year our circulation has increased by 300 copies. This substantial growth seems to indicate that the contribution of the Record to community service is enjoying increasing acceptance. News of our area is going farther afield and your advertisements are being read by a greater number of prospective customers.

We owe much of this growth in readership to your generous support and constructive criticism. While many of your comments brought us considerable pleasure, quite a few carried their sting. Upon reflection, we can honestly say that we have appreciated them all. We need your comments and suggestions. As yet, no one has arrived in our office to carry out the traditional custom of horsewhipping the editor!

We trust that you will look kindly upon this as pardonable pride in our first year of successful newspaper publishing.

Again, our special thanks!

Support Safe Driving Week

Safe Driving Week enjoys the support of prominent Canadians as well as a great many safety conscious people at the community level.

Governor-General Roland Michener, Patron of the Canada Safety Council which sponsors the campaign, will sign certificates of good merit for cities with a population of more than 40,000 which go through Safe Driving Week Dec, 1 - 7 without a traffic death.

Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau said in his 1970 Safe Driving Week campaign message that the campaign deserves the support of all Canadians. He also urged that the new technology permitting safe manned moon landings and long underwater voyages be applied vigorously to improving automobile and highway safety.

James C. Thackray, president of the Canada Safety Council, said the success of the campaign and its goal of reducing the traffic accident toll significantly depends on the personal contribution of all motorists and pedestrians.

"Governments and industry can do only so much to lower the huge cost to the country in lives, health and property damage because of the big part played by individual responsibility," he said.

The Council requests support for the campaign from newspapers, radio and television, all levels of government, business, industry, unions and community groups and organizations.

Canadian motorists can show their support for the campaign by driving on undivided highways with their lights on during the daytime — a practice ensuring the other drivers can better see their vehicles.

Canadian Lungs in Bad Shape

Between 15 and 20 per cent of Canadians may be suffering from some form of bronchitis according to the early results of a survey presently being conducted in Manitoba. The survey, being carried out jointly by the University of Manitoba and the Sanatoriam Board of Manitoba, is intended to promote the early discovery of airway obstruction (bronchitis) and to learn more about the incidence, natural history and factors that influence it.

By means of a breathing test that measures lung capacity, and a respiratory questionnaire to determine symptoms, information was gathered on 30,000 Manitobans. The findings to date indicate that between 15 and 20 percent of the people tested have evidence of obstruction to air flow in the bronchi. About one-half of them have no symptoms and according to Dr. R. M. Cherniak, co-ordinator of the survey, are probably early bronchitis. The other half have more advanced disease.

Since air pollution is not a problem in Manitoba Dr. Cherniak believes that a similar study should be undertaken in Montreal or Toronto to determine the situation in an area where air pollution is a problem.

The Canadian Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, through its Christmas Seal Campaign supports year-round research into chronic respiratory diseases. Several provincial associations are presently undertaking projects to determine the increase of respiratory disease in their province. Unlike tuberculosis, repiratory diseases are not reported to the government and only the number of deaths not the incidence are known. Although the death rates from emphysema and chronic bronchitis increase yearly it is the incrasing prevalence that is most disturbing.

Letter to the Editors

Chesterville, Ontario.
November 21st, 1970

To the Editors,
The Chesterville Record,

In your Nov. 19th, issue a letter regarding the proposed senior elementary school at the site of the present Maple Ridge Public School was printed. It is hoped the following points of clarification will merit consideration:

1. As requested by the Ontario Department of Education, the county boards of education were asked to submit a 5 year forecast of capital expenditures, with priorities listed. In the case of the S. D. & G. County Board, priorities 1 to 34 were listed totalling seventeen (17) million dollars.
The clause "which will" if implemented, close some existing schools, open new ones, add to others and change others to senior elementary," needs some clarification.

2. It is expected that a fourth secondary school will be built in Cornwall and that approval will eventually be given for a secondary school in Central Stormont, but until the Ontario Department of Education places their stamp of approval on the two aforementioned projects, no one can state with any degree of accuracy, what the outcome will be. In the case of the Central Stormont Secondary, if and when it becomes a reality, the present High School in Finch will close. It is the only school that will close. This is not news, years before the formation of County boards, this was a topic of conversation.

3. It might be noted that in a school jurisdiction as large as S. D. & G. and having some older schools, replacements of or additions to might be anticipated. Indeed there is presently under construction at South Mountain, a new elementary school, which will replace a one-roomed school, a two roomed school (one of 1890 vintage), and the former consolidated, now Hallville Public School, built in the early twenties. It is understandable that schools are built with an eye to the future. It is planned that schol plants built now will be functionable for at least fifty years, and no doubt longer.

4. It would appear that the greatest concern is regarding the proposed change to a senior elementary from the conventional grade one to eight Public Elementary School at Maple Ridge. This proposed change is not something that occurred overnight nor is it an untried method. Indeed, at least some members of the former Township Area Board had sound reasoning for its location, adjacent to N. D. D. H. S. It has been referred to in newspaper accounts, has been frequently discussed and generally accepted as a step in the right direction.

5. Statements such as "school taxes are bound to increase," are no doubt correct to a point, but it would be hoped that at least some consideration would be given, that with maturing debenture payments being payed off, the total debenture debt will not be allowed to exceed an amount which can be comfortably handled. There is in Ontario a very efficient Department of Municipal Affairs to guard against such an eventuality.

6. Transportation time need not necessarily be longer. With good planning, feeder and trunk line bus routes, indeed, time may in some cases be shortened.

7. As with every major change in school boundaries and curriculum, some persons may feel adversely affected, but before such change is made, consultations will be held and questions answered.

8. Regarding the fate of the lower grades at Morewood and Elma, tthere is no mystery here, in common with Winchester and Chesterville, these schools will become Kindergarten to grade six, with the added features of special education and library facilities so sorely needed.

In conclusion, several statements point out that the writer has either been misinformed, or is not applying his reasoning correctly. While it may be true, that the so called experts are not always right, the old adage "of everyone being out of step except Johnny" may well be applied here.

L. Thompson, Zone 2 Representative, S. D. & G. Board of Education

Mainly About People

The Reverend and Mrs E. E. Eaton attended a church dinner at Williamsburg on Tuesday evening.

Several Chesterville residents attended a prayer breakfast at Winchester on Saturday. The Reverend E. Earle Eaton, moderator of Brockville Presbytery, gave the opening prayer at the devotional meeting following.

Recent visitors at the Presbyterian manse in Chesterville, home of the Reverend and Mrs E. Earle Eaton, included Mrs Jans Jensen and daughters, Lisa and Heather of Oxford Mills.

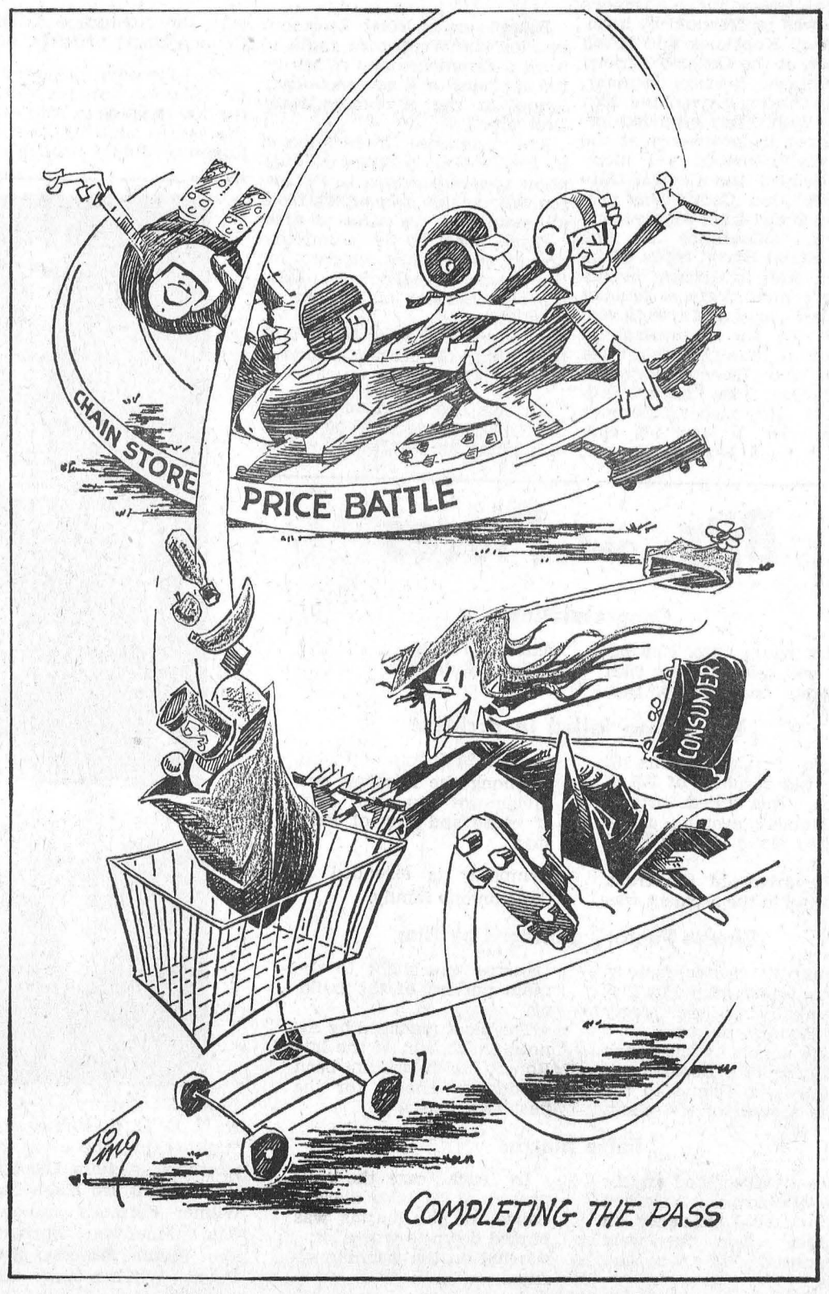
RECENT BIRTHS

November 11, 1970 — Mr and Mrs Dale Richmire, Morrisburg, RR 1, a daughter; Mr and Mrs Dennis Whitteker Williamsburg, RR 3, a son.

November 13 — Mr and Mrs John Fawcett, Chesterville, RR 4, a daughter.



Ann Landers . . .

Dear Ann Landers: I am 16 and a high school junior. I get asked to my friends' homes to dinner quite often and I enjoy going, but I'm ashamed to invite anyone over here. I'm embarrassed by my father and mother and grandmother. The three of them line up all their medicines in front of their dinner plates to impress one another with how sick they are. It's like they are in a contest. The table looks like a bargain counter in a drug store.

Last night I counted 12 bottles of pills, two tubes of ointment, a jar of salve and two bottles of cough syrup. Then there's the ritual of taking the stuff. It's enough to spoil a person's appetite. You wouldn't believe the gulping, tossing back of heads to get pills down, leaning back of heads to get pills down, leaning back in chairs to put in eye drops, ear drops and what have you.

What game are they playing? What can I do about it? — Happy to Be An Observer And Not A Player.

Dear Happy: The game is called, "Don't make any demands on me because I am also sick."

Invite your friends and don't worry. They know you aren't responsible for the kooky conduct of your relatives. No one will hold it against you.

Dear Ann Landers: I was raised by good parents who were so poor we never had enough to eat in the house. I remember many nights when I went to bed hungry. I had to quit school and go to work so I am not educated — but that doesn't mean I am stupid.

I married the first man who asked me because it was a chance to get away from poverty and hunger. He was much older than I — domineering and demanding. He made it clear that a wife should remember her place, keep her mouth shut and do as she is told.

Now I look back at 30 years of marriage and see my mistakes. We have a beautiful family, five children (three happily married and two honor students in college). Our home is lovely. We have nice friends and my husband thinks he has made me very happy. It is only fair to say he has been good to me. But I am unfulfilled and bitter. Where have I failed? — Nameless.

Dear Nameless: You haven't failed. You have succeeded. Although you married for the wrong reasons, you've lived up to your responsibilities, raised a fine family and have been a giver as well as a taker. In my book this is success. Many women who married for the right reasons didn't do as well — and they are also unfulfilled.

Dear Ann Landers: You must live in a candy-cane house with a popcorn roof. Times have changed since you went to Morningside College, Granny. Today premarital sex is perfectly o.k. if two people like each other. Furthermore, the girl who gets the running around out of her system before marriage will probably be a better wife. Don't give me a naughty ? naughty, spank-spank reply. Just change your tune. You're off key. — Madison Male.

Dear Mad: So it's o.k. if two people like each other, is it? Well I've heard that before. When you get ready to marry will you settle for one of those likeable types who doesn't have an enemy in the world? Funny how a guy on the make suddenly elevates his sites when he's playing for keeps. If you don't believe it, clip this column and read it on your wedding day.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents . . . if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged by Parents? How to get More Freedom." Send 50c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs Melvin Waldroff. There were twenty members present.

Ontario.
Is there any place you'd rather be?
Ontarians are the kind of people who wouldn't be here if there was any place better. We are people who came from a hundred lands and stayed to build. People with backbone and brawn and a hunger to succeed. Men and women who've created a standard of living in decades that other lands worked centuries to build. If we have a flaw it's our chronic modesty. Ontarians may be proud to be Ontarians and Canadians . . . they just seldom tell anyone. From an economic point of view that's wrong. The more people we have boosting Ontario and Canada the better it is. And we've got a lot to boost with. At a time when the dollar is having many demands made on it, Ontarians can note that provincial taxes have held the line in 1970. And we had a surplus to boot. Yet, needed programs have not been neglected. The Ontario Housing Corporation for example, has housed 120,000 people to date and currently has almost a billion dollars worth of programs active in nearly 200 Ontario Communities. We need a vigorous economy of course, to support these important programs. And, that's where you come in. Though our productivity has doubled in ten years and our incomes in twelve, Ontarians don't sit on their successes. There's a demanding decade ahead full of challenges and opportunities to make the quality of our lives better yet. To meet these challenges we've got to believe in ourselves. Which, when you think about it, isn't such a bad idea.
Everytime you boost Ontario . . . Ontario and Canada get a little stronger.
Government of Ontario John Robarts, Prime Minister.

Teachers win 6.65%

For the first time, secondary school teachers in the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education will be placed on the same salary scale.

This was part of an agreement reached between the board and the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation, Thursday, which gives teachers an increase in salary of 6.65% over last year.

The agreement also provides an increase of 9% for teachers staying on staff from the 1969-70 school year.

The new salary schedule is divided into four categories with a yearly minimum of $7,100 and a yearly maximum of $15,050.

Lorne George Harris

Friends and relatives throughout the area were saddened by the announcement of the sudden death of Lorne George Harris, a lifelong and highly respected resident of the Avonmore district. Mr Harris who was in his 78th year, suffered the fatal seizure as he sat with his wife in the family pew just prior to the morning service of worship in St. James United Church on Sunday, Nov. 8th.

Born in the First Concession of Roxborough, about four miles south of Avonmore, on June 29, 1893, Mr Harris was a son of the late George William Harris and his wife, Minnie Alguire. He attended Duff's Corners Public School. Mr Harris spent his entire life on the farm where he was born and where later he farmed until ill health necessitated his retirement about two years ago.

Mr and Mrs Harris on July 9th of last year celebrated the Golden Anniversary of their marriage which was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents in the Ninth Concession of Cornwall Township. Mrs Harris was the former Irene Adams.

Mr Harris was a member of St. James United Church, Avonmore, and of the Loyal Orange Lodge, Monkland.

His only sister, Lula (Mrs Orval Stephenson) passed away on Sept. 8th last.

The body rested at the Brownlee Funeral Home, Finch, where many friends and neighbours called to pay their respects. The funeral was held last Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 11th, from the funeral home for service in St. James United Church, conducted by the minister, Rev. H. A. Funge.

Edwin Waldroff brought a comforting message in song "Good Night and Good Morning" The hymn "Unto the Hills" was sung. Ken Dunlop presided at the console.

Palf bearers were Eldon Thompson, Leslie Eamer, Fred Marquette, Lawrence Steele, Ellis Bomhower and Clair Markell.

Interment was made in the family plot in Paul's Hill Cemetery, Avonmore.

Many beautiful floral tributes surrounded the casket as silent tributes to the memory of the deceased. Members of the sorrowing family received messages of sympathy.

Among the relatives and friends attending from a distance were Mrs Bertha Whittaker, Gouverneur, N.Y., and Floyd Warner, Massena. Others attended from Toronto, Kingston, Cornwall, Finch, Long Sault, Ingleside, Lunenburg, Maxville, Newington, Glen Walter, Monkland and surrounding communities.

"Super Suppers" hold interesting meeting

The fifth meeting of the "Super Suppers" was opened with the 4-H pledge. Due to the absence of the president, the vice-president had charge of the meeting. The roll call was answered by eight members.

Following the reading of the minutes of the last meeting a discussion was held re the pot luck supper the group will be catering to on December 1st.

Names were drawn from a hat to decide who would do the demonstration at Achievement Day.

A discussion was held on "the carried lunch".

The sandwiches, which each person had brought, were sampled.

The meeting was then adjourned.

On Saturday, Nov. 7, 1970, the Rev. E. Earle Eaton solemnized the marriage vows exchanged between Norma Jean Garlough and Stephen Elmer McMillan, in Dunbar Presbyterian Church at 2 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Dwaine Shaver of Iroquois and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs Keith McMillan of Dunbar.

Mrs Shaver wore a gold bonded crimpset dress and matching accessories and a corsage of mauve tinted roses.

Following the ceremony, wedding guests from Iroquois, Winchester, Chesterville, Winchester Sprngs, Dunbar and Kingston

If you are proud of your car and keep it in top shape you may have the feeling that, in an emergency, you could "stop on a dime". The truth is, says the Ontario safety League, at 60 mph on good dry roads, a motorist can only stop at the end of a string of 5,856 dimes, stretching the length of a football field.

A part-time group of Seven ...

The following seven artists have always had a desire to paint. Some started later as the opportunity and time were not available to them. All paint for pleasure and feel a sense of satisfaction when their work is appreciated by others. The "Group of Seven" were listed high when they mentioned their favourite artists.

Mrs Virginia Ferguson's talent appeared early. A friend of the family, seeing her work, felt that she had talent. While in High School, in Toronto, Mrs Ferguson attended Grange House Saturday mornings. After receiving a commercial arts degree from the Ontario College of Art, she worked with Copp-Clark and the University of Toronto Press. One of her teachers was one of the Canadian 'Group of Seven'.

Mrs Ferguson, who prefers painting portraits, (children are harder to paint than adults) teaches night classes at North Dundas District High School.

One seascape that she painted in 11 hours took her three weeks to copy.

Mrs Ferguson aims for balance, line and colour, while painting and avoids painting trees as they require too much detail. Landscapes will take her three and one-half days to complete, but portraits will take from 8 to 10 sittings.

PHOTO FEATURE
BY GEORGE COOKE

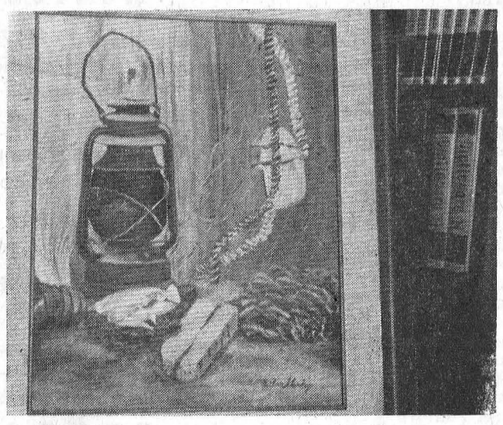
Mrs Eileen Sharkey paints as a hobby and the challenge presented by the colours and mixtures make it interesting to her. Along with attending night classes she has been to a summer regional course in Kemptville.

Interested in sketching since her school days, she has many vivid recollections of the East coast and Newfoundland, where she was stationed when she was in the navy.



Preferring still life, historic buildings and river scenes, she feels that an artist sees more in a scene than the average person. In painting her object is convey her interpretation of an impression.

Mrs Sharkey, who's painting won first prize at the Chesterville Fair this year, plans to travel to Moosenee and Manitoulin Island in the near future to paint scenes in that area.

Mrs Francis Hummel was told in High School that she should pursue art as a career. Her hopes were thwarted by the advent of World War II, and instead trained as a stenographer.

Concentrating whiles she paints, she becomes absorbed in her work to the point that it relaxes her.

Mrs Hummel has completed two outside scenes, in the Morrisburg area this year, while on her lunch hour.

Her favourite subjects are old buildings and portraits, of which she hopes to learn more. Green, gold and autumn colours are her favourites.

Traditional art has more to offer her than the modernistic trend that is the fashion of today.

A member of the Ottawa Art Association, she hopes some day to visit England, the Rockies and the Louvre to expand her knowledge of art.

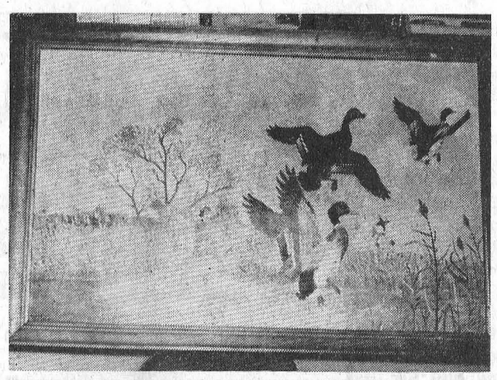
Mr Hill Shaver, started sketching in school and every since has been learning as much as he can about the arts. In art there is always someway to improve yourself, he feels.

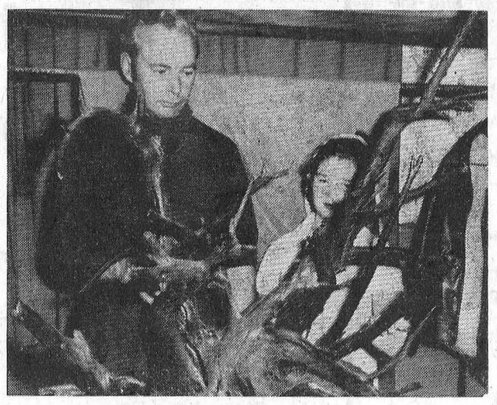
Books are not the only medium he uses to learn. No matter where he is or what he is doing there is always something that adds to his knowledge of painting. He has completed a three year art course through correspondence and finds that a persons' eyes are a challenge. You most use their reflection to pick up the highlights and to accomplish this he uses a mirror to enable him to do it properly.

Mr Shaver spent a lot of time researching when he painted the Finch Hotel, that was located on Main St. in Finch, after it had burnt down. He attempted to show the hotel as it was in 1920.

Wishing that people would become more aware of the subjects he paints ,rather than the overall scene, he painted, a winter scene that had two people gathering wood. Most people looking at it don't bother about why those people are gathering wood or how far they travelled and where they have to go with it, just the surrounding landscape catches their eyes.

His favourite artist is 'Kreighoff' and Mr. Shaver noted that one of Kreighoff's works sold recently in Ottawa for over $16,000.





Mrs Anne Patenaude prefers to paint people as subjects and not as portraits. A painting is original. The artist has put something of himself into the work and that can never be duplicated.

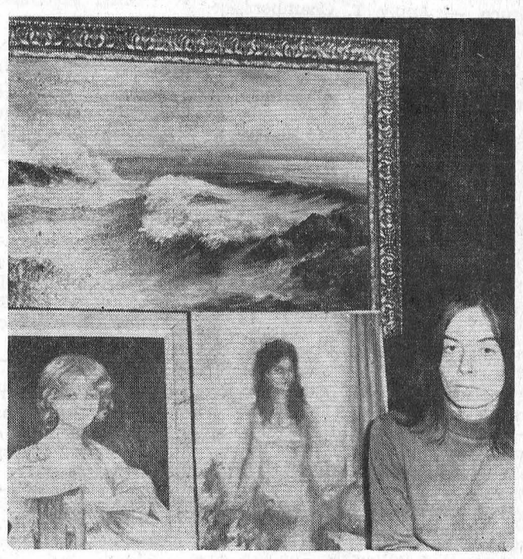
Painting during the day because of the light, she can complete a painting in two days. It will take her longer if she is trying to obtain a special effect. Although she uses a brush she likes the effect given by using the palette knife.

Rembrant she admires for using one light source to bring out the highlights in his work.

Mrs Patenaude feels there is a lot to be learnt from other artists works, and that the people are fooled by Op and Pop art which to her is a bit ridiculous.

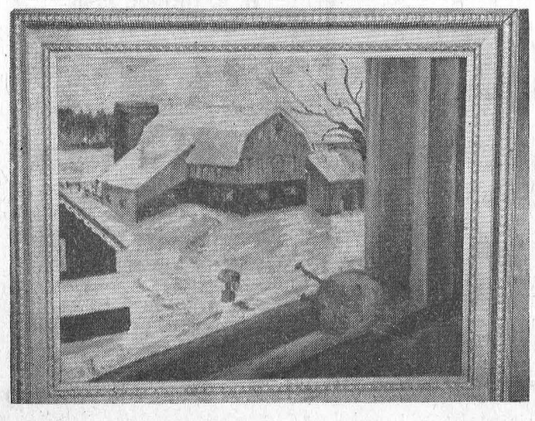
People in the area are able to appreciate art but they are not that well informed, in her opinion.

Most people buy paintings to suit the background and not for the impression the artist is trying to convey. Painting for pleasure, she likes to recover the cost of the oils and other materials she has had to invest in her work.



Although there is not much market for paintings in small towns, she feels that the competition in the large cities is too keen.

The most frustrating comment that she hears is the question, "is that a paint by number?



Mrs Doris Ennis, is very community minded and does't aspire to be a great artist. There are, she feels too many more important things in the world to do.

Although she likes painting she is primarily interested in giving her children an understanding and appreciation of art.

Painting helps to keep her mind active and due to her increased knowledge and experience she is not as pleased now with her earlier works.

Mrs Ennis, whose favourite subjects are old buildings and still life, hopes to continue to learn about art.

Able to paint with the family around she is sensitive to other people looking on while she works.

Her interests which include photography, poetry and books, are not of immediate concern to her.

As secretary - treasurer of the Seaway Community Services, she is very concerned about the pollution, poverty and unhappiness in the world, and finds she devotes much of her free time to these problems.

Mrs Winnie Johnston has had the opportunity to paint only in the last few years, and finds it a wonderful pastime.

Daubing and experimenting, she feels she has learnt a lot about art through accidents and mistakes.

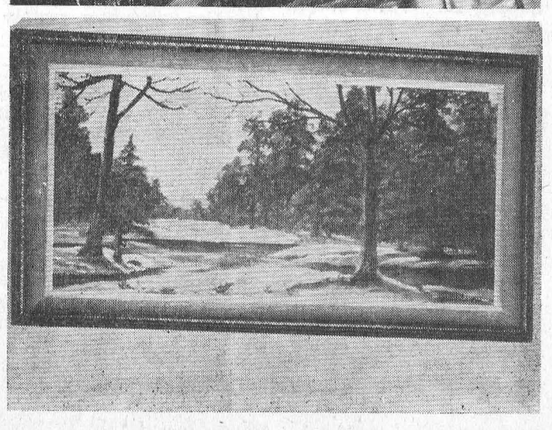
Mrs Johnston, who has visited the Sistine Chapel, in Rome, and seen Churchill's work at his home in Chartwell, England, has her oils hanging in private homes as far away as Wisconsin and Florida.

The joy of having people admire her work is exhilarating but she paints to please herself. Water, trees, hills and flowers are her favourite subjects. She studies the colours of the leaves on the trees in the various seasons to make her work more true to life.

In her travels Mrs Johnston has taken many photographs including the Swiss Alps which she hopes to paint someday.

One of her favourite scenes is in such demand that although she has painted it twice she still does not have a painting of it for herself.

Mood, she feels has a lot to do with creating and she can paint all day if she is by herself.



Mrs. W. McLean addresses Opening Session --

Seminar and conference held at Ingleside

Pointing to the need for the church to extend its horizons and to recognize its mission in terms of today's society. Mrs William McLean, a mother and a teacher at the Eamers Corners Public School, Cornwall, delivered the key note address at the opening session at a Renewal-Action Seminar Study and Conference at St Matthew's Presbyterian Church, Ingleside, last Saturday.

The Conference, sponsored jointly by the Presbyteries of Brockville and Glengarry, brought together representatives from many of the congregations in the area.

Mr McLean, referring to a basic need, said, "People in the congregations need more encouragement and help to study social issues so as to deepen their understanding and enable them to have a growing knowledge of other peoples. It may then be possible for them to understand other peoples' feelings, beliefs and why they think as they do — and equip them for a more informed Christian participation in the life of the community, the nation and the world."

"The missionary frontier today is in every community. Christians who worship and work in traditional Church structures need both vision and incentives to recognize how urgent are the tasks at hand and how inadequate some of the structures and practices are to cope with the new situations and new missionary needs", Mrs McLean added.

Mrs McLean's address was a practical application of some of the major recommendations the LAMP report, published some months ago by The Committee on Life and Mission of tthe Presbyterian Church in Canada.

The guest speaker was introduced and thanked by Rev Wallace MacKinnon, Ingleside, convenor of the Presbytery of Glengarry's Evangelism and Social Action Committee, and general chairman for the committee responcible for planning last Saturday's Conference.

The Conference was honored in having one of the writers of the LAMP report, Rev Robert P. Carter, Director for the Organization and Planning Committee of the Church's General Assembly, present at the Conference and to give leadership in the seminar.

John R. Fourney, Lancaster, president of the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa's Presbyterian Men's Council, conducted the opening period of worship.

Saturday morning's session was spent in discussing two major recommendations of the LAMP Report and formulating practical applications for their implementation within the local churches. The recommendations under the study related to the church's involvement in the community and a more meaningful outreach by its members.

Group leaders included William Fleming, Mrs Helen Graham and Mrs Frank Stewart, Ingleside; Rev W. E. Sayers, Avonmore, and Clifford MacRae, Cornwall, Reports at the plenary session were given by Mrs Arthur Smith, Lancaster; William Fleming and Mrs Graham; Miss Mary Duffin and Mrs Clifford MacRae, Cornwall.

The afternoon session was given over to a seminar on techniques in the "Programming for Christian Action" and was under the direction of Rev Robert Carter. Mr Carter set forth guidelines for planning and delegates from area churches met in groups to discuss possible practical applications in their own congregational life and outreach.

The ladies of St Matthew's Church, Ingleside, served a turkey dinner at noon and a frugal type of meal in the evening.

Among the special guests who brought greetings to the Conference members was George Hickey, president of the Ingleside Citizens' Association.

Chesterville Rotary --

District Governor inducts new members

Dr Arnold Lee, District Governor, inducted two new members, Bill Giles and Bill Conley into Chesterville Rotary Club, Monday night.

Dr Lee, who is a practising physician, in the State of New York, told the members their projects and attendance were good. "Rotary is peace with yourself and peace with others," he said. Use the four-way test as a guideline and recognize the rights of human dignity. In choosing projects look to posterity, for Rotary cannot flourish under dictorial or militarist governments."

"We haven't listened," Dr Lee said, "we don't want to listen, we have tolerated lawlessness and listened to demigogues. We will not parish from a foreign invader, but from apathy and indifference to the world. If these are not overcome mankind is doomed. Send your youth to foreign countries to dispel the impressions created by the communications media, for the world today is in your office and living-room."

O.P.P. REPORT

You would think that checking guns for safe, useable condition would be the first thing a person would do when planning a hunting trip, yet every year hunters are killed and maimed for life because they were using defective firearms.

Before using a gun be sure the action closes properly and that the barrell is clean and unobstructed. Never put the muzzle of a gun in soft earth or snow; the result could be a burst barrel on your next shot.

One situation where imagination and wishful thinking has no place is in the bush with a gun in your hand. Never release the safety catch until you make positive identification and can see the complete outline of the game you are hunting.

"I thought it looked like a deer," is a mighty poor excuse for killing a human being or maiming him for life.

Ontario Provincial Police in Dundas County patrolled 11,480 miles while working 974 hours. During this time officers laid 61 charges while issuing 63 warnings.

Officers from Morrisburg Detachment investigated 1 theft and 32 miscellaneous complaints. Eight persons were charged under the Liquor Control Act of Ontario while 5 others were charged with "Willfull Damage". Three persons were arrested and charged with impaired driving.

Area highways were busy with officers investigating 7 property damage accidents and 1 personal injury accident in which 2 persons received minor injuries. Three of the property damage accidents were as a result of deer being struck by cars.

Provincial Court was busy last week with officers spending 18 hours in court while registering 127 convictions.

Soaring Costs Force Rate Raise

Ontario Hydro raise municipal utility system rates

Increases in the costs of supplying electricity to municipal utility system and a group of 88 large industrial customers served directly by Ontario Hydro were announced recently.

Hydro Chairman George Cathercole said interim wholesale rates to municipal commissions will be increased by an average of 7 per cent for 1971. The increase for industrial comsumers served directly by Ontario Hydro will be 8 per cent. These rates come into effect January 1, 1971.

"Although this will increase the cost of power to municipal Hydro commissions, it does not mean immediately and automatically consumers will pay higher rates," he said. "Some of the municipal Hydro Commissions will be able to absorb all or a portion of the increase under their existing rate structures. Others will be forced to pass it along. In the long run these higher costs will affect municipal rate structures.

"Ontario Hydro, like every other utility in North America is experiencing a strong upward thrust in operating costs, which must be passed along to its users.

"As large as the increases appear, they compare favourably with those of other Canadian and American utilities," Mr Gathercole said. "In the last year, Canadian Utilities in Alberta increased its rates by 10 per cent and British Columbia Hydro by 13 to 15 per cent. Manitoba Hydro may be forced to increase its rates by 14.5 per cent. In the United States, the Tennessee Valley Authority raised rates 23 per cent, and Consolidated Edison, which serves New York City, increased rates by 16 per cent. Most other electrical utilities have found it necessary to raise their rates by 10 to 25 per cent."

Mr Gathercole said costs continue to escalate for equipment and supplies,wages and salaries, fuel and interest rates.

"If the Province is to expand, Hydro itself must expand and new plants are being financed at interest rates that are nearly double those of a few years ago," he said.

Measures to control air pollution have beccome a significant budget consideration. Not only for abatement equipment but also Hydro must now burn low sulphur fuel which is more expensive.

"For instance, we are spending about $13 million at the R. L. Hearn generating station in Torontoas an anti-pollution measure. The use of natural gas in place of coal also adds significantly to our costs," he said

As a result of increased consumption and higher prices, Ontario Hydro's expenditure on fuel has jumped in the last four years from $35 million to $86 million, an increase of 148 per cent.

Other rising costs cited by Mr Gathercole include property taxes and training of staff for nuclear plant operation.

Last month, Ontario Hydro announced an increase in rates for 600,000 rural customers, which also comes into effect January 1 and raises revenue from that sector by 9 per cent. It was the third general increase in the last 17 years. The previous one was two and a quarter years ago.

The mother of the groom wore a green velvet dress with beige and brown accessories. Complimenting her ensemble was a corsage of green baby mums.

The mother of the grom wore a matching dress and three-quarter length coat of turquoise lace. She choose turquoise and navy accessories. A corsage of baby pink mums completed her ensemble.

Dress restrictions for students at North Dundas District High School were removed on the recomendation of the Grooming Committee. This committee, which consists of the Head Girl, Joan Allison, the Head Boy, Tom Simpson plus student and teacher representatives, felt that fashion trends and popular opinion favoured more casual dress. It was stressed that cleanliness, respectability and safety standards will be compulsory.

School dress standards for field trips will be left to the discretion of the teacher in charge. School dance dress will be decided for each dance by the Student Council and the principal. Some dances will be casual and some dress-up occasions.

North Dundas is the first school in the area to remove the restriction on student dress.

that a statistical survey in 1969 had convinced board officials of the need for a bilingual, bicultural composite secondary school in central Stormont.

Trustees later approved the proposed new school, he said and it was included in the board's five-year building forecast submitted to the department of education early in 1970.

Following a great deal of communication with the department the board received verbal notification in August that they would not receive approval for the central Stormont school at this time,he explained.

The reasons, he said, were the department's belief that the projected population was not sufficient and also a tight money policy exists and there is not enough money to go around.

Director of education, H. D. Shaw said that our society has the money to create educational oppotunities equal to any.

"I think the government has to find a way to get the money without raising taxes," he stressed to an applauding audience.

He said that the maximum capacity of the central Stormont school would be 1,000 and the realistic capacity would be 800 students.

"This project has been established as our number one priority and remains in that position," Mr Shaw emphasized.

He revealed that the central Stormont school was number one in a package of four priorities sent by the board to the department.

However the department felt that the number two priority, a fourth secondary school in Cornwall, was more important and since they would approve only one project at a time, it was the school in Cornwall that was approved.

The opinion of the ratepayers could be summed up by the statement of one man in attendance "equal opportunities means equal facilities, but I'll be darned if I can see anything equal about General Vanier Secondary School and Finch High School."
