Trauma tactics

Winchester Fire Department firefighters helped kick off Ontario Students Against Impaired Driving (OSAID) week at North Dundas District High School on Mon., April 24 with a jaws of life extrication demonstration. The purple Plymouth Neon, which served as a learning and training tool for the firefighters as well as the students, ended up as a convertible when the demo was over. Fire Chief Dan Kelly along with Tony Fraser, Brad Holmes, Kevin Goodwin, Basil Pemberton, Chris Helmer, Mike Lovely, and Sandy Johnston took part in the exercise, which was organized by OSAID president Megan Lummiss. The demonstration took place during White Out Day, when OSAID members pretend they've been killed as a result of impaired driving. Other events throughout the week include a mocktails (non-alcoholic punch) day, BYOB (bring your own banana) ice-cream sundaes, impaired-goggle volleyball, and PARRTY (Prevent Alcohol Risk Related Trauma in Youth) demonstrations.

Hospital gets PACS

by Meghan Duncan
Press staff

CHESTERVILLE — Winchester District Memorial Hospital is in the initial stages of implementing a Picture Archiving and Communication System (PACS), the latest in diagnostic imaging technology. WDMH Foundation chair Terry MacLellan announced the news to supporters from throughout Dundas County at the Chesterville Legion Hall on Wed., April 19 during a donor appreciation evening.

The $500,000 foundation purchase was made possible by the $385,000 donation from the Crowder Estate.

PACS takes diagnostic images and makes them digital. Not only will the system help alter and enhance images — similar to functions capable with Photoshop — but will make it easier to diagnose a patient or get a second opinion. No longer will a patient have to be shipped off to another hospital if a second opinion is needed; a physician can view the image remotely and diagnose the problem immediately.

"It makes it easier to share the images with other consultants," explained Sean O'Brien, the chief technology officer at WDMH.

"As an emergency physician, that's a great boon to my ability to deliver care to my patients," agreed Dr. Brian Devin, chief of emergency room staff. "It will be quite the benefit."

The PACS machine not only takes digital images, but can also convert older x-rays and other documents into digital documents.

Along with the hardware of the system, a large network environment is needed to store and back up the images, as well as security features.

"PACS has become the standard of care," Devin explained, noting, however, that WDMH is still ahead of the curve for a hospital of its size. Currently in the United States, most hospitals are equipped with PACS.

"One of our goals was to develop a wish list of equipment," explained MacLellan. "Number one on that list was a PACS machine."

Devin went on to speak about the importance of technology in health care.

"It really is one of the areas in health care that has changed greatly over the last few years and continues to do so," he said, noting that only about 10.5 per cent of government health-care funding is in the technology sector.

New technology means more efficiency, better communication, and ultimately better access to better health care, Devin said.

Residents upset, could be asked to pay for sewer now

by Bonnie James
Press staff

WINCHESTER — North Dundas Township extended Winchester's sanitary sewer system with a boost of capital supplied by Tim Hortons, and is now taking steps to recoup some of the remaining cost from residents and property owners along the west end of Main Street. The township hosted an information session for those affected at Monday's (April 24) council meeting.

"We didn't ask for the service," said one angry resident.

Water and sewer manager Angela Rutley outlined a proposal that would see all existing residents connect to the sewer system by July 1, 2026 or pay the required capital connection fee and monthly sewer expenses. While homeowners don't need to connect to the system right away, under the proposal presented at the meeting they would need to pay their portion of the cost this July to avoid interest charges.

"We're not willing to pay interest," said another disgruntled resident. "It's unacceptable." Another pointed out that his septic system was only three years old.

When the sewer construction was underway, the township asked all property owners to specify where they would like a lateral connection for future use, in order to minimize the number of times the road would need to be torn up. Property owners at the meeting said that the township representative told them they would not have to connect until their current septic systems needed replacing and they would not have to pay anything until they did connect.

"It was misrepresentation as far as I'm concerned," said Ray Holmes, a Main Street resident.

Rutley outlined four possible payment options. A lump sum payment July 1 would avoid all interest charges. Homeowners could also choose a lump sum payment when they connect to the system, but that payment would include interest from July 1, 2006. A third option would be to connect now and debenture the cost over 10 or 20 years, starting in 2006. The fourth option is to debenture at the time of connection, with the debenture running from the time of connection until Dec. 31, 2025. Interest for this option would also accrue from 2006 on. All debenture payments would be annual payments that would appear on the property owner's tax bill.

"What we're using here are preliminary numbers," emphasized Rutley about the allocation of expenses to each property owner and the suggested interest rate of six per cent. "Those numbers could change."

Tim Hortons prepaid $130,000 to get the sewer extension, but the total cost for the project was over $670,000. According to the proposed cost recovery plan, some property owners would be hit with big bills. The cost for a single home would be $9,266, but the price tag for the Country Kitchen Restaurant would be $56,808, for example.

"Six per cent over 20 years is a lot of money," said one resident.

Rutley explained four different customer categories: existing home or business connections, future connections on vacant land, future connections on occupied land where there is currently no pipe, and future connections on vacant land where there is currently no pipe. The township plans to eventually extend the sewer system further to include Dawley Drive and a portion of County Road 31.

"One of the purposes of tonight's meeting is to hear your feedback," said Deputy-Mayor Bill Smirle.

Residents are welcome to present additional feedback and written comments to council before the next meeting, on Mon., May 8. Council must draft a bylaw and hold a public meeting before proceeding with fund collection.

Engineering report complete for South Mountain Library

Fifth location possibility to consider

by Bonnie James
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The Eastern Engineering Group examined four potential sites for the new South Mountain Library in a report that the Township of North Dundas council received at a council meeting on Mon., April 24. However, council members spent much of their time on the issue, discussing another new location possibility.

The engineering firm looked at the existing library site on Lough Road, the firehall site on Lough Road, the municipal park on Main Street, and the Nationview Public School property. The report rated the municipal park location as the preferred building spot because it would be the least costly to develop, it is close to the main village, it is already owned by the municipality, and it has room for future expansion.

The report explained that the library could be constructed without disturbing the existing facilities in the park. The site already has a drilled well, and there is room for a parking area to accommodate about 20 vehicles.

"We've had a new wrinkle in the scheme of things," said Mayor Alvin Runnalls, about a recent suggestion by some St. Peter's Anglican Church parishoners that the church might be able to house the library. The engineer report did not consider the church location.

PACS

WDMH's current emergency room space is congested and out of date. In the plans for the expanded hospital, larger spaces, better lighting, and easy access to equipment are top priorities.

"[To run a hospital], you need good physicians, good nurses, and good equipment," Devin said. "Good equipment is expensive."

It was on March 17, 2005 that WDMH announced that Renewing the Vision Campaign for the hospital's expansion had reached its goal of $15 million. The foundation is currently fundraising for upgraded equipment for the renovated hospital.

Foundation chair Terry MacLellan noted that the hospital will likely lose about $100,000 on money pledged that will not be collected. However, the interest gained on the funds already collected will make up for any loss.

ARCHITECT UPDATE

No significant changes have been made to the design and plans for the expansion, and Kim Kennedy of Parkin Group said that feedback from the community and hospital officials has been nothing but positive.

"Everyone is really pleased with what we are doing — they loved it," she said, noting that the courtyard seems to be a favorite. "But the whole building is going to look so nice."

Kennedy explained that this doesn't have to be the last hospital expansion. "We've made sure to accommodate for future growth," she said. "We've left soft spaces if the hospital needs to expand quickly."

Though the plans for the newer section of the hospital are quite different than what Winchester residents are used to, Kennedy said everything is designed to make people feel comfortable — not intimidated.

"It's quite a major impact for the community, but it fits in," she said.

Robert Boraks, principal architect with the Parkin Group, said that he has enjoyed working on WDMH.

"Of all the projects I've done, this one ranks in the top five," he said. "It's been a lot of fun."

Aside from fun, Boraks explained that WDMH is a trendsetter in the health care industry.

"This project has broken ground in so many ways," he explained. "The ministry [of health and long-tem care] is using this as an example of how hospital expansions should be processed."

Library

The church is not in full time use, as the services rotate between South Mountain, Winchester, and Chesterville.

The church suggestion has appeal. Parishioners would like to see it remain a community building rather than be sold for a private residence in the future. It also has a convenient central location.

"It would certainly be a cheaper option," said Runnalls.

Councillor Estella Rose said the church is about the right size to house the library.

"It has a new roof and a new furnace," she added.

The well would need some improvement, cautioned the mayor.

Not all council members were excited about the St. Peter's option.

"I think it's going to be a money glut," said Deputy-Mayor Bill Smirle. "I'm more in favor of combining it (the library) with the school."

Smirle pointed to the fact that there are 25 or 30 new houses slated to be built near the school.

He also expressed his wish that the township work toward establishing an educational facility that can be used by people of all ages and serve as a model for the future integration of schools and communities.

As a next step, the Friends of the South Mountain Library will meet with township staff and representatives of council to go over the report.

The Friends group hopes to begin library construction this year or at the very least nail down the location and construction start and end dates so it can pursue an Ontario Trillium Foundation grant.

Winning smiles

Eight-year-old Thomas Puenter (left) of Chesterville was awarded first prize in this year's Winchester Press Easter coloring contest. Second prize went to Lunenburg resident Alexandra MacDonald, 7, and third prize was awarded to Isabella St-Marseille (right), 4, of Morewood. Honorable mentions go out to the youngest competitors: Connor Toonen-Godda, 20 months, of Winchester; Zena Bowman, 20 months, of Winchester; and one-year-old Brenna Brooks of Mountain.

Welcome Wagon honors local representative

WINCHESTER — Pat Warren of Winchester was recognized as the Ontario Representative of the Year last weekend (April 22) at the Welcome Wagon spring conference held in Ottawa.

"It was very nice," said Warren about the award, which is for the population category of 8,000 to 15,000. "It was a surprise."

She has been with Welcome Wagon since January 2001 and this is her first Representative of the Year award.

"Pat is honored for her community and sponsor service, her overall co-operation with all Welcome Wagon programs provided within her community, her sales ability, enthusiasm, dedication, and her personal performance," said a company press release.

In addition to the award that Warren brought home for herself, the Winchester and Chesterville area was recognized as an Ontario Region Community of the Year in the population category of 8,000 to 15,000.

To be eligible, a community must have Welcome Wagon's three basic programs in place. These are visits to families who move, expectant or new parents, and couples planning a wedding. There must be excellent participation by the business community, a high ratio of families visited, and good civic involvement with Welcome Wagon service. The basket contents must be varied and interesting, including appropriate gifts from all businesses and professionally printed invitation cards. Local visibility should be high and enhanced by good local publicity.

"You get to meet a lot of really nice people," said Warren about her job with Welcome Wagon last fall when the organization was celebrating its 75th anniversary. "Most people are really receptive."

Seaway smashing

IROQUOIS — On the evening of April 21, police began an investigation into an incident of vandalism — windows were smashed at Seaway District High School in Iroquois. A 19-year-old Iroquois man was arrested and faces a charge of mischief under $5,000. He will appear in provincial court in Morrisburg on June 6.

Conditions charge

WINCHESTER — Police were called to a residence in Winchester on the evening of April 23, and as a result, a 42-year-old Winchester man was arrested on charges of failing to comply with the conditions of an undertaking — alcohol and keep the peace conditions — as well as breach of recognizance. A show-cause hearing was held on April 24 in Cornwall.

Fairground offense

CHESTERVILLE — Police are investigating a break and enter that took place at the Chesterville fairgrounds in North Dundas Township between April 1 and 22. A forced entry was made into a winter storage building on the property, which led to the theft of a CD-radio unit and speakers from a boat, along with damage to approximately 10 other recreational vehicles. Const. L. Craig is investigating.

Vehicle violation

IROQUOIS — A vehicle parked at Mac's in the Iroquois plaza was entered on April 22. Two Nintendo games and cigarettes were taken. Const. D. Bissonnette is investigating.

Moose Creek marijuana catch

MOOSE CREEK — Members of the OPP Drug Enforcement Section, Project Paragon, assisted by officers from the SD&G detachment, executed a C.D.S.A. search warrant at a private Moose Creek residence in North Stormont Township on April 18. A total of 82 marijuana plants, quantities of marijuana oil, marijuana shake, and mushrooms were seized. Charges are pending in this investigation.

Failure to comply

SOUTH DUNDAS — A routine traffic stop along Highway 401 on the morning of April 18 resulted in the arrest of a 34-year-old Mount Royal man on three counts of failing to comply with release conditions (keep the peace, and non-association conditions). A provincial court date will be scheduled for provincial court in Morrisburg.

Machinery damaged

NORTH STORMONT — Police began an investigation on April 19 into damage sustained at a Sandringham Road property in North Stormont Township. Damage of approximately $1,000 was sustained to a topsoil-screening machine at the location.

Wire acquired

IROQUOIS — Police received a report of theft on April 18. Sixteen metres of hydro copper wire was taken from a Carman Road property in South Dundas Township; the theft is believed to have taken place between April 11 and April 13. Const. A. Burtch is investigating.

Barn break-in

MOUNTAIN — Police received a report involving the theft of a generator from a barn located in the Lough Road area of North Dundas Township on April 16. No details on the stolen property are available at this time. Const. L. Craig is investigating.

Tools taken

WINCHESTER — Police began an investigation into a break and enter at the Boyne Road Landfill Site on April 16. Overnight, thieves gained entry to the municipally-owned property, which resulted in the theft of tools and a water cooler. Const. A. Burtch is investigating this incident.

Ticks pass on diseases, pet screening available

by Dr. Devin Hunt

WINCHESTER — Spring. A time when many dog owners are getting ready for the annual trip to their veterinarian for heartworm testing and prevention.

Heartworm is a potentially deadly parasitic disease spread by mosquitoes.

"An annual screening blood test and preventative medication are the cornerstone of preventing dogs from getting this serious condition," is a familiar refrain from veterinarians.

While these recommendations are still relevant, spring is not necessarily just about heartworm anymore. Ticks and tick-borne diseases have become the focus of research in the past few years.

The deer tick and the american dog tick are the most common types seen in our area. They can be found anywhere outdoors but are most likely found in areas of long grass and brush. Once the tick finds an animal host, it feeds by biting, and in doing so, can pass diseases on to the host animal. Two such diseases that are of particular importance in canine health are Lyme disease and ehrlichiosis.

Lyme disease is caused by a spirochete bacteria called borrelia burgdorferi. Many people have probably heard of it as a human health concern, but dogs are actually 50 per cent more susceptible to Lyme Disease than people. In dogs, it can cause fever, weight loss, lymph node infections, chronic arthritis, kidney problems, and heart disease.

Ehrlichiosis, caused by a rickettsial organism ehrlichia canis, can cause arthritis, seizures, weight loss, and bleeding problems. It is estimated to be the second most common canine infectious disease in the United States.

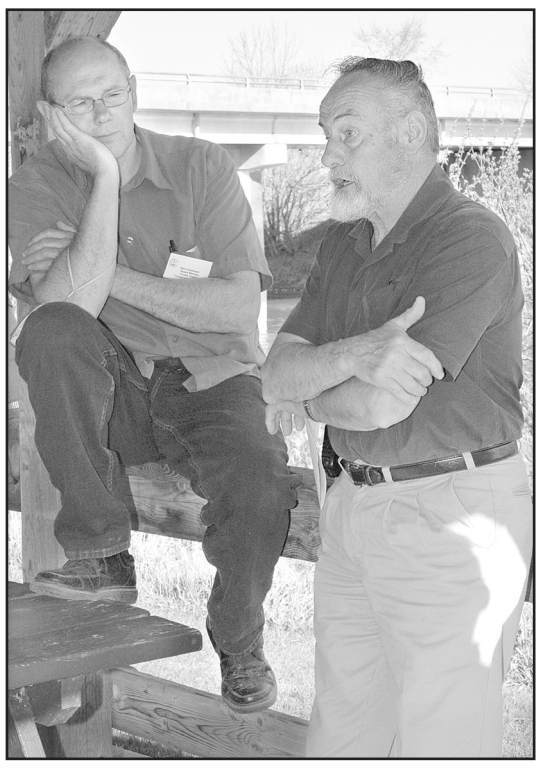
Unfortunately, both of these diseases can be present and not show clinical signs for up to two years. Identifying these diseases in the early stages allows for easier and much more effective treatment.

Currently, the prevalence of these diseases in dogs in Canada is unknown, but with the Feb. 26 government approval of a new screening test for heartworm, Lyme disease, and ehrlichia, Canadian veterinarians can now easily test for these diseases and are taking part in groundbreaking research to establish the prevalence of both Lyme disease and ehrlichiosis.

In the United States, where the test has been available for the past few years, we know there is a large prevalence of both diseases in the northeastern United States, especially New York State, which has over 1,000 reported cases of both diseases.

As usual, prevention, screening, early diagnosis, and treatment are the best policy. If you wish to find out more about ticks, their prevention and control, and about these emerging diseases, please contact your veterinary care team.

Dr. Hunt has been a practising veterinarian for 16 years. He currently practises out of both Dundas Veterinary Services in Winchester and Morrisburg Animal Hospital in Morrisburg.



Conservation conversation

Mayor Alvin Runnalls, right, welcomed 34 Manitobans to the Cass Bridge Conservation Area on Thurs., April 20. Cass Bridge was one of the stops the members of various conservation districts across Manitoba have visited, when they toured the South Nation watershed. Glenn Kedback (left) a board member of Cooks Creek Conservation District looks on as the mayor gives his speech. The delegations are seeking information on best practices when establishing and operating watershed management authorities.

South Dundas drinking water systems not up to regulations

WILLIAMSBURG — The completion of the new Morrisburg-Iroquois water plant can't come soon enough. At the Township of South Dundas council meeting on April 18, council members received the less than stellar 2005-2006 inspection reports of the current Iroquois and Morrisburg drinking water systems that were completed by the Ministry of the Environment.

The inspection revealed that the current treatment equipment does not comply with the treatment requirements specified in provincial regulations. Treatment plants that obtain water from a surface water source are required to provide chemically assisted filtration and disinfection, or another treatment that is capable of producing water of equal or better quality.

The new membrane filtration plant that is under construction should resolve these issues. After significant delays and the dismissal of the company originally contracted to build the plant, the deadline for completion of the project is now Sept. 30.

The inspection reports also included some other recommendations. To ensure that sufficient pressure is being maintained throughout the distribution systems, documented routine distribution system pressure readings were recommended. The report also stated that the township should develop a hydrant use bylaw to prevent the unauthorized taking of water from the distribution systems and to ensure that proper backflow procedures are implemented during authorized hydrant usage.

Records reviewed during the inspection indicated that the drinking water system does not provide the required minimum level of treatment at all times.

'Church supper' rule on the table

WILLIAMSBURG — Church suppers may be facing an end because of legislation brought in 16 years ago that is now being enforced.

During the Tues., April 18 South Dundas council meeting, councillor Johnny Whitteker brought this to the council's attention.

According to the provincial legislation, all public meals have to be cooked in the facilities where they are to be served, which is an impossibility, said Whitteker.

Churches may not be the only organizations that could be affected. Lions Clubs and Legions also host community dinners.

Even though this legislation has been in effect for 16 years, it's been overlooked by the health units, which are in charge of enforcement.

"The only thing that we can do now is change the regulations," said Whitteker.

Council passed a resolution supporting a resolution that was passed at the last meeting of the Eastern Ontario Health Unit board, that petitioned the province to change the legislation to allow the continuance of church suppers as well as other related social functions.

Mayor Lyle Van Allen spoke about how the regulations only apply to events that are publicly advertised and where people pay for their meal.

"To me the ludicrous thing about this is that they want to protect the people, so if you charge [for your meal] they'll fine you or do something to you, but if you don't charge they won't do anything," said Van Allen about the Ministry of Health and local health units.

Whitteker said he would like to see a resolution go to the Ministry of Health. He also said he would also like to see the churches in Morrisburg and surrounding areas send similar resolutions. The United Counties council is currently preparing a resolution that will be forwarded to the Ministry of Health and the Association of Local Public Health Agencies (ALPHA) — an organization in which all the boards of health are involved.

"The more resolutions that we can get going in the better, so we can get this legislation changed," said Whitteker.

Mayor Van Allen encouraged everyone to write to the Ministry of Health. "Get a letter writing campaign going and send [the letters] to the Ministry of Health and the MPP," he said.

Broadband network details wrapped up: project comes in on budget

by Jessica Rawluk

WILLIAMSBURG — Township of South Dundas residents now have broadband Internet. The work on the network concluded around April 8, and a final report on how the network was built, and financial details has been submitted to Industry Canada.

The original business plan that was submitted to Industry Canada and accepted, outlined a budget of $1.8 million. The cost for the broadband project ended up being approximately $1.14 million.

"The project came in on budget so the community is eligible for all of the funding that was approved," explained consultant Barrie Crampton, of Lanark Network Associates, in an update to South Dundas Township council at the April 18 meeting.

According to Crampton, Industry Canada has inspected the network and it is one of the best that they've seen, having examined many from all across Ontario.

"You are probably now one of the most connected rural counties in all of Ontario," said Crampton. "You rank one of the highest, so I would encourage you and your economic [development office] to promote the fact that the community has reached the objective that it set out some time ago."

Those who live behind hills, near a forest, or in the valley where there may not be line of sight to a broadband tower, have the option to put up a cell extender. Surveys were done to check the signals and it was found out that coverage along the St. Lawrence River was weaker even where there was a tower, so it was extended, to accommodate residents living in that area.

Attorney General to attend Trillium dinner

CORNWALL — Attorney General Michael Bryant will be the guest of honor at the Stormont-Dundas-Charlottenburgh Provincial Liberal Association's annual Trillium Dinner hosted by local MPP Jim Brownell. The event will be held at the Best Western Parkway Inn, 1515 Vincent Massey Drive in Cornwall on Thurs., April 27.

"We are delighted that the attorney general has accepted our invitation to the Trillium Dinner and we look forward to a great visit to our community," said Susan Carter, fundraising co-ordinator of the SD&C Liberal Association.

The social event will begin with cocktails at 6 pm, followed by dinner at 7 pm. Tickets are $100 per person, and the contribution portion of the ticket will qualify for a tax credit. Tickets may be purchased by contacting Carter at 613-932-0231.

"Minister Bryant is looking forward to returning to Cornwall, and we invite him to experience the magic of Eastern Ontario and the hospitality of the friendly seaway city," said MPP Brownell.

Studied to death

We don't need another study. We're tired of being buried in bureaucracy, plastered with plans, and run over with reports. In many cases, the duplication of work is enough to make you sick. In many cases, the duplication of work is enough to make you sick.

While many studies and reports have value, you seem to need to conduct a study before you can blow your nose these days. And so many just sit on shelves gathering dust, only serving to line the pockets of whatever consulting firm has been hired to conduct them.

The last North Dundas council meeting (April 24) had two prime examples.

Noel Vaillancourt, a fire protection advisor with the Ontario Fire Marshall's office, was at the meeting to talk to council about creating a Master Fire Plan that would look at administration, risks in the community, and capabilities of the current fire departments. To complete the plan, a committee must be struck, and Vaillancourt estimated the timeline to be eight or nine months, so as not to tax the volunteers and members of council or township staff that might be involved.

"A Master Fire Plan is a blueprint of how to get your fire department to where it needs to be in 10 or 15 years," he said.

To their credit, council members were reluctant to entertain the idea of a Master Fire Plan because the township already has a Fire Chiefs Steering Committee. That committee was formed at the time of amalgamation, has a representative from council (fire commissioner Al Armstrong), and is doing most of the same planning that a Master Fire Plan would require.

"We can rest assured that this committee is active and is working splendidly," said Armstrong.

A Master Fire Plan would duplicate the work that is already being done. A Master Fire Plan would duplicate the work that is already being done.

The other example was brought to council's attention by Michael Lalonde of Cornwall and Seaway Valley Tourism. That group is starting work on a Premier-Ranked Tourist Destination Framework for the 1000 Islands and St. Lawrence Seaway area — of which North Dundas is a part.

The study will look at products (attractions, accommodation), performance (visitation numbers, occupancy rates, critical acclaim), and futurity (marketing, managing tourism growth). The end result will be a comprehensive audit of tourism resources and assets, as well as recommendations for moving forward.

It sounds like a noble pursuit and we're certainly not going to turn away any tourism dollars that happen to come our way, but it sounds like it will duplicate some work already done by our own chamber of commerce with their Business Retention and Expansion study.

This study is part of a tourist destination development push mandated by the 2004 Ontario Tourism Strategy. It is being funded to the tune of hundreds of thousands of dollars from the federal government — through Service Canada — the Ontario Ministry of Tourism and Recreation, and local destination management organizations. But it also requires some local resources. For example, North Dundas Township's director of recreation and culture, Mark Guy, is serving on an advisory committee to assist with the study process.

It sounds like another study we don't really need here in North Dundas — especially for the amount of tax dollars that are being invested. It sounds like another study we don't really need here in North Dundas — especially for the amount of tax dollars that are being invested.

It could just be that the township has been overloaded with studies in recent months. We just completed a Recreation Master Plan. We've just begun a wastewater study. We've got a Strategic Master Plan at the United Counties level, and a study being launched on groundwater sources by South Nation Conservation. We're sick of studies and reports and plans.

While many reports and studies serve a purpose and are useful tools for planning the township's future, we caution council to make sure that all these studies are balanced out with concrete action. Let's only engage in studies and plans that are truly necessary.

Pray for the soul of Betty, that's exactly what I do

From the Other Side
by Jeffrey Morris

I thought of my old friend and co-worker Betty last Thursday.

It was a big day for me. I went to work. I didn't think I could do it. I looked down the barrel of my biggest fear's gun and just did it. I let my kids go to school that day, too. I was scared all day. I sat at my desk, listening to CFRA, thinking about them and hoping they were okay and that nothing would happen.

It was my first day at work on an April 20 since the day my fear was born seven years earlier.

Like everyone, I have normal fears and some quirky or strange fears. I'm terrified of sharks and I'm not really a big fan of snakes, and I have anxiety attacks around clowns and dentists. But people seem to find it unusual that my biggest fear is actually a date. April 20. Adolph Hitler's birthday.

I was kind of in limbo on April 20, 1999. I was working in Denver and we still lived in Frisco, TX at the time but were planning our move to Colorado. I was commuting back and forth, flying home every Thursday night.

Our Denver office was in an industrial park near Mile High Stadium and the new Pepsi Centre, and it would be an understatement to say it was a rough area. Sneakers flung over hydro wires marked the crack dens on the side streets. A few weeks earlier, we got to work and found a body in the dumpster outside our loading dock.

Then there was Steve. He seemed like a great guy — we only had 15 people in the office so we thought we all knew each other quite well. Steve joined my boss and I for Thai or Vietnamese food at lunch every day.

"If you need someone to watch your kids while you house hunt, I'll be glad to help you out," he would continually offer. I never considered that an option, and it was just as well. In March that year, Steve stuck a gun in his mouth and blew his brains out. He had even gone to the trouble to mail out letters to his co-workers and timed his suicide with the mail delivery. We soon found out that he was a big time pedophile and he had been caught. Taking his own life, he must have thought, was a better option than going to prison as a child molester.

We were still trying to hold things together when April 20 came. My boss had a stream of people who would randomly sit in his office, pour their hearts out and cry. Occasionally, he would close the door and cry himself. He cursed Steve for it. I left the office that April 20 at about 11 am. Our real estate agent picked me up.

"I've got some homes I want you to see," she said. "If you like any of them, you can see them again when your wife comes up. It's a suburb called Littleton. I think you'll like the area."

You may have heard of Littleton. South Park, made famous by the raunchy cartoon series, is in Littleton. So is Columbine.

So off we went. As we looked at two houses, we started to see some strange things. Groups of young people were crying and hugging. We saw helicopters buzzing around overhead, and more people hugging and crying and just wandering around. We didn't even think of turning on the radio. Something was going on, we had houses to see. Let's go to Columbine.

After an hour, we went back into the office and I walked in and saw Betty. The look of pain in her face is burned in my memory. She just clung to one of the other women, unable to hold herself up, heaving moans and gasping for air as tears flowed from her eyes. Betty had just learned, moments before we walked in the door, that her niece had been shot and killed at Columbine High School. We would learn later in the day that one of our vendors who was in the office regularly had a son killed.

The sickening reality of that day is that the Columbine Massacre could have and should have been much worse. Eric Harris and Dylan Klebold killed 12 classmates and a teacher and wounded dozens before killing themselves that day. Had two timers on bombs planted in the cafeteria not malfunctioned, there would have been more than 500 dead.

It was a tribute to the fuhrer. Some would call it a sacrifice.

Last year, in a story that was kept remarkably quiet, three teenagers were thwarted in their plan to allegedly take over and kill students and teachers at St. John High School in New Brunswick. The attack was to take place on April 20. The plan was stopped ahead of time, but the story went under the radar in Canada.

We never did end up moving to Denver. We stayed put for a while, and I started alternating weeks between Denver and Nashville. Eventually, we would head to Seattle.

I haven't been in Denver since 2000 and I have no plans to ever go back.

But from time to time I will think about Betty. I'll think of that day and I'll think of her numbing pain. I'm sure she still wonders why this happened and why it was her niece that was killed. God bless her.

Former American Idol contestant Constantine Maroulis fronts a band called Pray for the Soul of Betty. Every April 20, that's exactly what I do.

Major motorcoach companies in Eastern Canada announced that they would show all schedules in Daylight Savings Time from April 28 to Sept. 29. Before the war, Daylight Savings Time effected only those municipalities that chose to enforce it, and the bus companies had accommodated the variations. This was just one change that went along with the more uniform observance that had begun during the Second World War.

1956

Jack Anderson, son of Mr. And Mrs. Stuart Anderson of Winchester, was heading up to Canada's north where he and two other Royal Canadian Air Force comrades would set up an air force outpost. The post was to be located about 3,000 miles — 6,600 kilometres — north of Winchester, along the 79th parallel in the area of the much talked about "Distant Early Warning" (DEW) line. Anderson was the radio man, responsible for the trio's only link with civilization. The closest post was still 250 miles away. The group would arrive at their destination by ski-plane and spend five months living in tents and having provisions flown in once a week, weather permitting.

1966

Plans were being made for a boys' club in Winchester. Members had to be attending school and between the ages of 10 and 19. Winchester Legion Branch 108 offered its facilities to the group of boys, whose parents had helped with the club's formation and planning.

1976

Six people were left homeless when their St. Lawrence Street residence was damaged by fire. Former Winchester Fire Chief Gilbert Raistrick awoke at about 6 am to flames climbing up the wall at the head of his bed. Raistrick then ran to warn the tenants in the other half of the building, and all managed to escape without injury.

Also, a 19-year-old area man was arrested for stealing $418 in Easter offerings from a safe at Winchester United Church.

A seven-member panel set up to inspect buildings in the area found the provincial courthouse in Winchester to be unfit for use. The OPP station — on the ground floor of the same building — was judged to be satisfactory. The panel's reasoning was that the only fire extinguisher in the courtroom was not properly mounted on the wall and had no inspection tag. The reviewers also stated that the fire escape stairs were rusty and shaky, and that open wires hanging from each corner of the ceiling were dangerous and needed to be removed, and the door leading to the attic would have to be kept locked at all times. The village council agreed to make improvements to the courtroom.

The six-member all-rookie Reach for the Top team from North Dundas District High School – made up of Wesley Ross, Gordon Dean, Tyler Patterson, Heather McGuire, Miles Hanscomb, and Nathan Svenson – won the regional competition in Brockville and was headed to the provincial contest in early May at the University of Toronto, where 32 teams from across Ontario would test their knowledge of subjects such as geography, history, math, and music, in a fast-paced game show.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Pray for support; agriculture is being sacrificed

The Editor:

"God keep our land." Doesn't it feel good to have stood up for what is right?

People came from all different segments of the agriculture industry to show their support for the rally on Parliament Hill that took place on Wed., April 5 and Thurs., April 6. People stood shoulder to shoulder to hear our clear message: "agriculture is being sacrificed by the excessive subsidies of other countries." The blind eyes and deaf ears of our own government do not seem to be responding to the increased deficits hitting our farms.

The organizers were top notch and very well spoken — one might say they were outstanding in their field.

The rally on Thursday was much smaller, but very effectual. North Gower resident Dwight Foster, who has worked relentlessly these past few months, walked to the top of the stairs at Parliament Hill and announced that we were going to have prayer — just like the generations before us did.

Rev. Thurland Brown of Winchester Wesleyan Church and Rev. Bruce North of Harmony Community Church came into the gathering to show their support, and their presence was certainly appreciated.

Rev. Rob and Fran Parker, who own and operate the House of Prayer just a 20-minute walk from the Hill, hold an honorable reputation for their prayer vigils. They have received tremendous response from the members on the house floor — members who come from all parties. Politicians even request Rob and Fran to pray with them privately.

Rob and Fran reported to us that on Wednesday, inside that huge stone fortress, there were 40 MPs praying for the farmers and for the government to have the vision to solve this situation; praying that God would release this confused mind-set that seemed to be unable to do what was in their hearts.

We attended the emergency debate on April 6 at the House of Commons along with over 150 other farmers, and were amazed that this fresh new topic was under discussion for over three hours. The one member couldn't understand why when all the parties agreed there isn't action being taken.

The plan to block the food terminals was the right action. Tractors rolled in and trucks were delayed from coming and going at the National Grocers and Loeb (three separate outlets). The police were so supportive in keeping everything under control. Many farmers stayed with their equipment and were committed to see the protest through.

On Easter Sunday morning, word came through that negotiations had taken place on Saturday evening and the farmers agreed to park their tractors as an "act of good faith." Minister of Agriculture Chuck Strahl was on a CTV debate on Easter Sunday at noon.

We will not know exactly what the outcome is until the budget is announced. Hats off to all those dedicated farm families, agri-businesses, and concerned persons who realized the impact and top-priority of this long overdue effort.

There are lessons to be learned. We can't be so negligent to think that we don't need to protect our food supply. This is a case of national security.

Our forefathers came to this great country and carved out a living from the land, and they thanked God for their blessings. We should be reaping the rewards that they fought so hard to achieve. Our government needs our continued prayer support for the good of all Canadians. We are the second largest industry in Canada and hold a responsibility to this great land to protect it for the future generations. We as Canadians have a responsibility to each other to protect this great nation, take a stand for what is right, and show that farmers will not be ignored.

It was a memorable Easter weekend. Prayers have been answered and hearts have been given new strength. Those scriptures written on the inside of the parliament walls were inscribed for the benefit of all Canadians. Each one of us has an important role in fulfilling the destiny of our nation. Ask God "where will we go today?" Feel the difference He makes in our daily living.

Much talent at museum's multi-artist show

The Editor:

Re: "Tiny details spell success for art show," April 12.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Winchester Press and its reporter Matthew Barbour for the wonderful coverage I received in your April 12 issue.

However, I feel that Matthew was somewhat remiss in his article. The art show at the Osgoode Township Historical Society Museum was a multi-artist show and I feel that the other artisans, who were generous enough to allow the museum to display their artwork were ignored in the article. I would therefore like to take this opportunity to mention their names and applaud their talents: Bob Baillargeon, Greely — retouched photography; Gary Briggs of Leyton Studios, Dalmeny — sculptures and artwork in metal; David Gray, Metcalfe — watercolors and oils on canvas; Phyllis and Wally Fisher, Metcalfe — tole painting on everyday objects; John Fuller — wood sculptures; Anne Leighton-Kyle, Vernon — watercolors; Wendy Meldrum, Metcalfe; Phil Potter photography, Greely — restored photograph; Cecil Reaney — pencil sketch; Margaret Rivard — watercolors; Vera Rivard — oils on canvas; Bill Robertson, Metcalfe — watercolors and pencil sketches; students from Doug Robertson's art classes at Osgoode Township High School: Kaily Anthony, Katti Delanty, Lydia Haywood-Munn, Kendra Mangione, Emma Martin, Amy Quinn, Loreen Scobie and Jenna Tennant; Alice Savage, Metcalfe — tole painting; Frank Toonen, Winchester — oils on canvas; William "Bill" Zandbelt, Vernon — wooden trains; and Vicki Vanderlinden — quilt wall hangings.

This letter is to ensure that their diverse talents are recognized and acknowledged. I would also like to thank all the volunteers and staff of the Osgoode Township Historical Society Museum, for all their work in putting on another successful art show and tea.

Fundraiser a show-stopper, more on horizon

NDDHS Notes
by Nathalie Gillen

MAPLE RIDGE — Hey there! Thursday (April 20) was the North Dundas District High School/CountryBoy fashion show. It was a great success. Many students came out to enjoy the new spring fashions and the night show was just wonderful. I hope that any interesting, beautiful clothing that was enjoyed at the fashion show flies out of the store thanks to our great models.

Next week at North Dundas is the Hoops for Heart competition. Students raise funds for the Heart and Stroke Foundation by getting people to sponsor them to play in a basketball tournament! It's sure to be great fun! If anyone is interested in joining — everyone is welcome of course — get a form from Chad Kennedy to sign up a team.

I-flurtz will be on sale for only one more week, so if you don't get it this week, you'll be too late! Who wouldn't want to see all the crazy or awesome matches they have in the school! If you want to know, you'll have to buy your printout for $2 during lunch.

There are some other things to look forward to this spring. First, there is the spring clothing line, which will go on sale very soon. Along with the clothing line there are also school rings for seniors. There are many designs for every kind of person so keep your ears open for clothing and ring sales!

Also, in a few weeks North Dundas is having a very special guests in to the school. These guests will make you laugh so hard you'll pee your pants — it's Yuk Yuks. Like the fashion show, Yuk Yuks will be during school hours and some real Canadian comedians will entertain all the students interested in attending. Make sure to get your ticket before the show.

Those are only a few of the things that are coming this spring, so get ready for a rocking two months!

Telling secrets theme of Christian Education Week

Notes from Timothy Christian
by Gary Postma

WILLIAMSBURG — We have just finished our annual Christian Education Week, with the theme being "telling secrets." It had to do with God retaining for Himself much that we don't know or understand (secrets) but yet much has been revealed to us (what we are to tell our children).

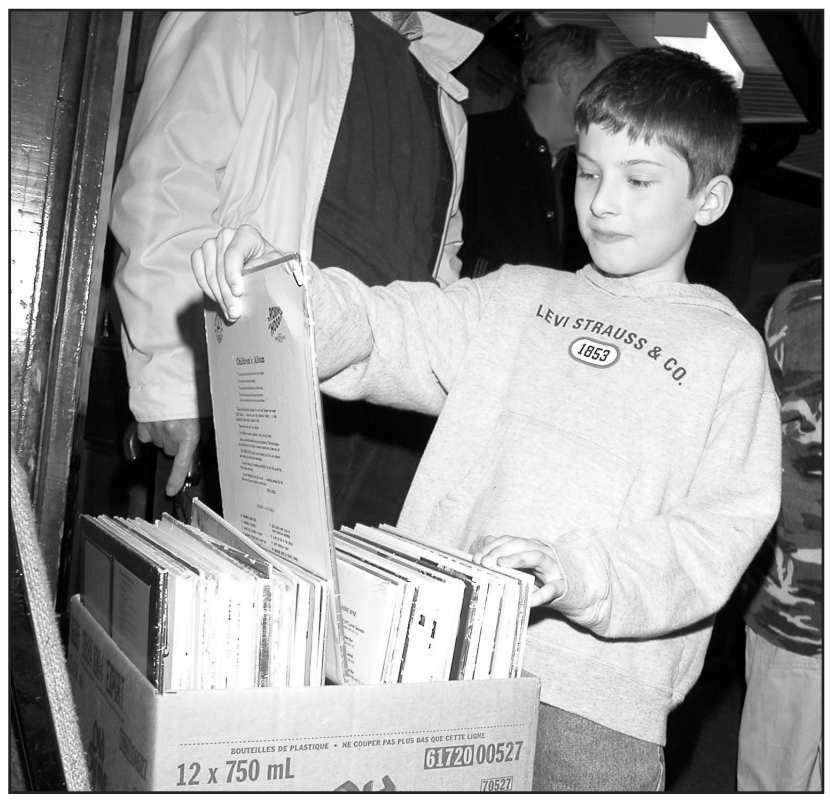
The much that has been revealed is a big part of the curriculum at Timothy Christian School. We are given the opportunity to study God's world in all its diversity and wonder. There were lots of fun activities throughout the week, and enjoyable visits from parents, prospective parents, and grandparents.

The TCS board organized a financial forum meeting this past month. This was an evening set aside for all of the parents to clearly explain the income and expenses of the school.

We had two interesting visitors recently. Captain Greg Poehlmann, on leave from his duties in Afghanistan, spoke to the Grade 7 and 8 class about the important work being done by soldiers from Canada and other countries in this dangerous part of the world. Siebren DeJong, a graduate of TCS, spoke to us about his work in Vietnam designing and installing water purification systems.

All of the students spent an hour cleaning up the neighborhood as part of Earth/Creation Awareness Day. Much garbage was picked up and we feel that we did a bit to help clean up some of our nearby streets in Williamsburg.

Our Strategic Plan keeps humming along. Much has been accomplished and next month the Strategic Plan Committee will be meeting with a consultant to plan extensively year two and generally year six.



Auction raises church funds

Prior to the fundraising auction at Winchester United Church on Sat., April 22, Justin Fling looked over these vinyl albums that were included in the sale and made sure his mother was aware of his interest in the record collection. He and others in attendance were entertained by the South Mountain Gospel Singers before Hugh Fawcett began taking bids. Photo — Barbour

Cancer research fundraiser

Seaway District High School to host Relay for Life fun run

IROQUOIS — Get out your running and walking shoes. Seaway District High School (SDHS) is hosting a Relay for Life on Fri., May 5 to raise money for cancer research.

Relay for Life is a non-competitive overnight relay in which teams of 10 participants walk or run around the track at the school to raise funds for the Canadian Cancer Society. It will bring together students from SDHS, North Dundas District High School, and Rothwell-Osnabruck High School, as well as teachers, family members, and community members.

On May 5, at dusk, SDHS's track will become a sea of lights. Luminaries — tiny candles in white bags — will be lit and placed around the track. These lights will help guide the participants as they continue to walk throughout the night.

Luminaries can be purchased for $5 and can be dedicated to honor someone who has survived cancer, who is currently battling cancer, or who has been lost to the disease. Names and messages are written directly on the luminary.

Luminaries are being sold at SDHS on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 12:30 to 1 pm. They can also be purchased outside of Mustard's Variety in Iroquois or Mike's Valu-Mart in Morrisburg on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3:30 to 5 pm. Luminaries will also be on sale the night of the relay.

Organizers are looking for teams of 10 to take part in the relay. They are also looking for cancer survivors to take part in a special victory lap.

Two years ago, Relay for Life at Seaway raised $45,000 for cancer research.

To confirm your attendance or to get more information, call Lori Roberts at the Morrisburg Leader at 543-2987, Candace Menges at 652-4230, or SDHS at 652-4878.

Assess alfalfa stands for winterkill by April's end

by Gilles Quesnel, field crop IPM specialist, OMAF

KEMPTVILLE — Ice sheeting in January and February was damaging to alfalfa fields across eastern Ontario. While not as severe as in 2005, alfalfa winterkill is prevalent in numerous fields again this year. Overall, fields suffering the worst damage are the fields that were harvested late last fall, going into the winter with no regrowth stubble. At this point, evaluating winter injury early is quite helpful in making crop rotation or overseeding decisions.

By the end of April, healthy alfalfa plants will show two to five inches of growth. If new growth is not obvious, dig out a few alfalfa roots and slice them in half. Healthy roots will be firm with a white to cream color interior. Damaged roots will be soft or spongy with discolored or brownish interior and have a rotting smell.

For optimal yield potential, alfalfa established last year should have eight to 12 plants per square foot. For new alfalfa fields with a few bare spots, one option is to disk and reseed or no-till alfalfa/grass mixture possibly with a cereal into the bare locations. As for older alfalfa stands that have been thinned-out, they can be reseeded with a drill as soon as the ground firms up using either red clover (four to six pounds per acre), white clover (two to four pounds per acre), orchardgrass (four to six pounds per acre), or perennial ryegrass (five to six pounds per acre) — depending on the anticipated future life of the stand. If reseeded early, red clover, orchardgrass, and perennial ryegrass will all produce vigorous seedlings and be able to compete with established alfalfa. Perennial ryegrass is much less likely to survive the winter.

Older alfalfa stands with less than four plants of alfalfa per square foot should either be rotated to a new crop or overseeded with a forage other than alfalfa. If perennial weeds are not abundant in an older alfalfa stand, the stand can be overseeded with the species mentioned above. Visual estimates of the ground cover of desirable forage plants can also be used to assess forage stands. This should be done when there is about six inches of growth. Stands with more than 80 per cent ground cover will produce excellent yields. Stands with 60 to 80 per cent ground cover should produce fairly normal yields.

If winterkill of alfalfa results in a predominately grassy field, treat it as a grass stand. When 50 per cent or more of the area in the field is predominantly grass, the stand should receive nitrogen fertilizer to increase yield. Fertilizing thin grass stands with nitrogen normally produces higher forage yields than any attempt to interseed legumes into the stand. It is critical to initiate a grass fertilization program early in the spring season. Applying 60 to 90 pounds per acre of actual nitrogen fertilizer applied at green-up will stimulate grass development in the spring and maximize grass production during the entire season. When ground moisture is adequate, apply an additional 30 to 40 pounds per acre of actual nitrogen fertilizer after each cutting, except after the final harvest.

A winterkilled first year alfalfa stand rotated to corn will provide the equivalent of 65 pounds per acre of nitrogen to the corn crop. Similarly, a winterkilled established forage stand which contained 50 per cent or more legumes will provide the equivalent of 90 pounds per acre of nitrogen to the corn crop.

Clowns begin with balloon art

By Karen Edwards

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — The Dundas 4-H Clown Club had its first meeting on Thurs., April 13 and elected an executive. Serving as president is Alana Matthies. Vice-president is Jannah Vanderlaan. Secretary is Kirstie Burrows. Press reporter is Karen Edwards.

The group talked about three different types of clowns. Members now have the fun of putting their clown costumes together. It was a lot of fun trying to make our first balloon art. We started out by making a sword. The meeting closed and we had snacks and juice.

Trade show in Osgoode ready to roll

by Steph Willems

OSGOODE — Businesses and organizations from across the region will be on display at the 17th annual Osgoode Trade and Home Show, being held at the Osgoode Community Centre April 28 and 29. The event will be held on behalf of the Osgoode District Lions Club, and will feature over 50 contributors, exhibiting everything from hot tubs to garden equipment to RVs and boats.

Dwayne Acres is a founding member of the trade show, and will be overseeing this year's event.

"This year we made an effort to expand the number of people coming to our show, extending our advertising," he explained.

Besides local businesses in the Osgoode area, exhibitors will be coming from Embrun, Williamsburg, and Kemptville.

"The waiting list we have shows that businesses consider the show an important thing," said Acres. "Word must be getting around… It's good to get outside contributors — our country gets smaller all the time through modern communications — it means people will get to see things they haven't before."

The show is an important one for the community — it gives businesses the opportunity to advertise themselves and pick up new customers and clients.

It's also one of the last trade shows left in the rural Ottawa area. Manotick and Winchester stopped holding similar events.

People attending the show will have the opportunity to walk away with one of 60 door prizes donated by the show's contributors. Ballots can also be filled out for some of the major prizes, including $300 worth of home heating oil from Dewan Fuels.

This year's trade show will feature a new demonstration area at the south end of the community centre, Acres said.

The curtained-off seating area features a P.A. system that will allow various exhibitors to explain and publicize their businesses in 20-minute intervals.

Lunch will be available at the show, and the Craig Alexander room will function as a craft area, featuring the work of seven local crafters.

The appeal of the trade show, said Acres, is having the Lions Club host it. "Any money we make goes right back to the community," he said. "We've always had good support from the community."

Some of the money raised will go towards a retrofit for the community centre. The Osgoode Trade and Home Show runs on Fri., April 28 from 5 to 9 pm and on Sat., April 29 from 10 am to 4 pm.

Metcalfe Chapter BNI president Rob Howell presents a cheque for $1,000 to Township of Osgoode Care Centre board of directors member Clare O'Brien.

Metcalfe BNI donates $1,000 to Care Centre

METCALFE — The Metcalfe chapter of Business Networking International (BNI) recently donated $1,000 to the Township of Osgoode Care Centre. The donation was provided from a combination of chapter revenues and money raised during the BNI curling bonspiel held in March.

The money will be used to sponsor the woodworking club and photofinishing at the care centre throughout 2006.

Clare O'Brien, a member of the care centre board of directors received the cheque at a recent Metcalfe Chapter BNI meeting and thanked the group for the donation.

"This woodworking club allows residents to work on wood working projects such as bird houses throughout the year," she explained. "It provides great enjoyment to the residents."

Business Network International (BNI) is a business and professional networking organization whose primary purpose is to exchange business referrals. The Metcalfe chapter is a group of 32 business people who meet at 7 am Thursday mornings at the Metcalfe Golf and Country Club.

In & around Osgoode Ward 20
by Doug Thompson

METCALFE — People have focussed their attention on festival funding by the City of Ottawa. Unfortunately the Tulip Festival, the Franco-Ontarien Festival, and Gay Pride Parade have simply had poor financial accounting practices. The City of Ottawa must require higher accountability from these groups before reviewing the funding requests.

OSGOODE WARD ROADS

I will be holding a second series of meetings this week with the deputy city manager of transportation requesting emergency funding for immediate repair of dangerous road conditions in our road network.

SPRING CLEANING

I am overwhelmed by the tremendous outpouring of community spirit in spring cleaning our streets. Last Saturday (April 22 — Earth Day) in the Village of Osgoode, Richard Fisher teamed up with community association president Joe Banks, O-Ya secretary Carol Nixon, and about 15 youths, who collected approximately 15 bags of garbage along Osgoode Main Street. I was able to join the group for a couple of hours — what a thrill to see the true spirit of our community in action. Kim Bates, Sharon Baird, and small army of volunteers will give Vernon a spring cleaning on Sat., April 29. School classes will be out this week to help beautify our villages. Please ensure your litter is put in its appropriate place.

SWEET PEAS BREAKFAST

Last Friday morning (April 21) I joined the Grade 4 and 5 class at Osgoode Public School and their teacher, Erin Meek, for breakfast at Sweet Peas Pantry. Mary Louise Purdy and her fine staff served the entire class breakfast as a result of a class project on business and community involvement. Sweet Peas Pantry is a remarkable café and an outstanding supporter of so many community projects. This was just an extraordinary event for all involved.

DOYLEY'S DANCE

Liam McGuire, along with a large contingent of friends, have organized a huge dance this weekend in memory of Mike Doyle. This Saturday night at the Manotick Arena, the band Sticks 'n' Stones will rock the house with over 700 people expected to attend. Tickets are $10 and are available at Jim and Sheila Stewart's Office Pro Shop in Manotick. All proceeds will go to the Conor Doyle Education Fund.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

I was honored to be a judge at the Intermediate Public Speaking Finals at Metcalfe Public School last Wednesday. The top three speakers were as follows: First place — Mack Jamieson, runner up — Jaclyn King, third place — Shelley Acres.

RINGETTE BANQUET

Special thanks to Donna Meloy and her team of organizers for the invite to last Sunday afternoon's banquet in honor of the Metcalfe and District Ringette Association. What an exciting group of young girls and ladies who truly enjoy the great game of ringette! Thanks for your contribution to recreation in our community.

LANDOWNERS THANKED

Last Sunday evening (April 23) at the Vernon Community Centre, over 300 landowners were treated to a great thank you dinner. Osgoode Snowmobile Association president Frances Beatty, vice-president John Kamps, secretary Linda Thomas, treasurer Pat Diak, trail permit co-ordinator Dave Thomas, trail co-ordinator Ross Beatty, head warden Stan Hadden, public relations co-ordinator Wayne Swales, driver training co-ordinator Greg Scrivens, and directors Brian Harrison and Brandon Woodford are so thankful for the support of landowners who provide permission for the trails to cross their lands. Without their continued support, snowmobiling in the area could not exist. I know many snowmobilers can't wait for the first snowfall, but a lot of us just want our warm weather for a few months.

MUSSELL AND ELLIOTT

An evening with comedian Paul Mussell and special guest Lorne Elliott will take place on Sat., April 29 at Emerald Links Golf Course at 7:30 pm. Tickets are $20. For reservations, call Cathy Clement at 822-6353.

Magnificent Sevens rugby tournament a hit

MAPLE RIDGE — Bad weather, injuries and last-minute cancellations weren't enough to keep 15 teams from five area high schools from playing 40 games of rugby.

North Dundas District High School rugby coach Scott Reaney deemed Saturday's (April 22) first-ever, seven-man tournament a success.

Dubbed the "Magnificent Sevens," the tournament was the first of what Reaney and co-coach Andrew Whitton hope will become an annual pre-season competition.

"We are doing it for the first time but I think everything is going quite well," noted Whitton midway through the day-long event.

"There were some snags — three schools cancelled at the last minute, the weather was bad in the afternoon and there were some injuries — but it was still a good day for rugby," added Reaney. "I would do it again but make changes."

The CCVS Golden Raiders claimed both the boys' "A" and "B" division titles while CCVS and Tagwi's "A" Warriors topped the girls standings.

NDDHS and Tagwi each fielded two girls and two boys teams. CCVS entered three, Glengarry two and St. Thomas Aquinas two.

Nik Paas named Hawks MVP, junior career finished

Top Hawks

The Winchester Junior "B" Hawks gathered for the final time on Saturday (April 22) to put the finishing touches on the 2005-06 Rideau - St. Lawrence season and present the team's individual awards. On hand for the proceedings were; Front (left) - Bobby Little, Chris "Cookie" Thompson; Back (left) - Todd Marcellus - head coach, Dereck Holmes - ass't coach, Trent McBain, Kyle Neville, Steve Cameron, Craig Smith - general manager.

WINCHESTER — Captain Nik Paas was writing an examination while his teammates marked the end of their 2005-06 Rideau - St. Lawrence Junior "B" Hockey League campaign.

Because of his university commitment, Paas was unable to attend the final function of his junior hockey career as the Winchester Junior "B" Hawks gathered Saturday (April 22) at the Country Kitchen Restaurant to present their team awards.

Paas, along with Darren Trenholm, Jon Thornton and Bruce Hamelin, the Hawks four overage players, have graduated from the junior ranks.

Winchester head coach Todd Marcellus paid tribute to Paas — who earned the team's Most Valuable Player award for a second consecutive season by saying, "Nik Paas contributed every night. He never took a game or a shift off."

Marcellus also thanked Thornton, Winchester's veteran goaltender, for his work. "Jon had a solid year for us. He was a second team all-star and gave us a great effort."

The coach, who is still considering his options as far as returning for a second season on the Hawks' bench, congratulated the overage players on their junior careers.

"Overall I would say it was a good year for the team. It was certainly a learning experience for myself as a head coach. I had to adapt a lot during the year. I hope you (players) were able to learn from the experience and take it on to your jobs and life outside of hockey. Thanks, guys. Be in shape for training camp, keep in contact and enjoy your summer," added Marcellus.

The Hawks composed almost identical records in the last two seasons going 21-18-4 (48 pts) in 2004-05 and 22-18-4 (49 pts) this season. Both years they made the playoffs (after a three-year absence) only to be eliminated in the first round.

LOOKING FOR ASSISTANCE

Hawks hockey club president John Douma addressed the gathering and said that it had been a pleasure working with the players and the coaches.

"We did alright this year, considering we had 11 new players and two new coaches. We wanted to make the playoffs and we did that. Of course we would have liked to have played a few more games," said the president.

Douma also thanked the team's sponsors, the Winchester Lions Club, the fans for their support, parents for working the door on game night, Robert "Pip" Davies-Lyon, Jason Wagner, Aaron Douma, Kerry Irven, the executive and general manager Craig Smith for their efforts and support.

But I want to say that we just can't keep doing this every year with just four guys on the executive. We need a lot more help, so hopefully we can get some more people involved," he added.

He also thanked assistant coach Dereck Holmes for his contribution and reported Holmes is leaving the area for a job in Pickering and will not be back with the team next season.

HAWKS AWARDS

Defenceman Trent McBain accepted the Coaches Award from head coach Marcellus who said, "Trent was always positive, had a great attitude and was approachable — never complained."

Rookie Bobby Little received the Most Improved Player award. "Bobby worked his way into our top four 'D'", said the coach.

Rookie of the Year honors went to goaltender Kyle Neville who posted a record of 8-8-3 and a GAA of 3.89. "Kyle had a great rookie year and was named to the St. Lawrence Division all-star team," commented the coach.

Defensive coach Holmes selected Denis Gauthier as this year's Top Defenceman (Terry Carkner Trophy) award. "We had a good group of 'D' this year. I wish everyone could have an award," he said.

Steve Cameron, a second team all-star, is the Hawks' Top Scorer. "Cammy scored 39 goals (43 GP, 39-40-79, seventh in division and 14 PPG) according to the league but said he scored 40. Great season anyway Cammy," offered the coach.

"Our Hawks Hero Award goes to a guy who competed every night. He showed up for every game ready to play and showed a great work ethic — congratulations Chris "Cookie" Thompson," said Marcellus.

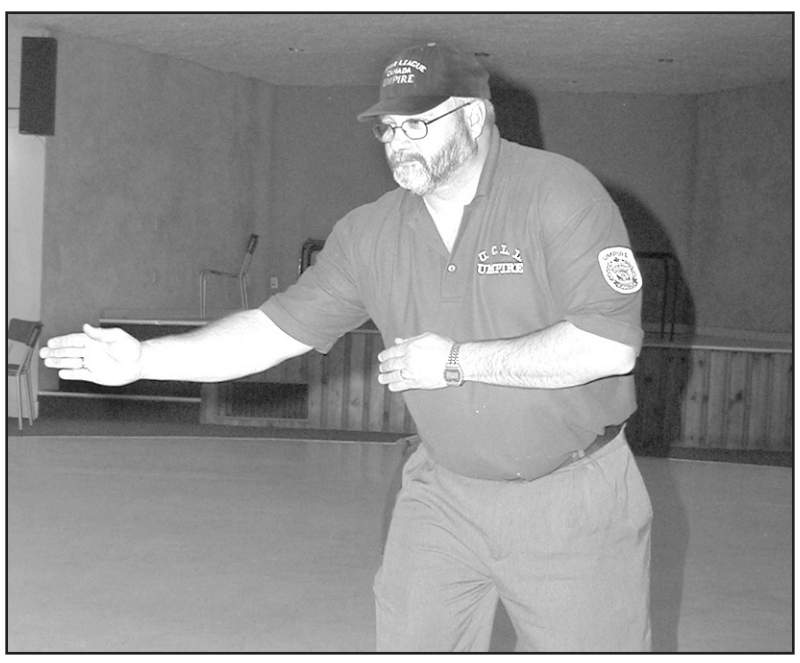
The Hawks MVP, Paas, finished ninth in the divisional scoring race with 29 goals, 47 assists and 76 points in 43 games. He took 59 minutes in penalties, scored nine PPGs, one SHG and six game-winning goals. He was also selected as the St. Lawrence Division's first all-star team's centre.

Umpires learning new rules

by Matthew Barbour

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — It won't be long before kids in little league hit the region's baseball diamonds, but the umpires who will be officiating their games took in some coaching of their own over the weekend.

For the second year in a row, the annual Upper Canada Little League (UCLL) umpire clinic was held at the South Mountain Agricultural Hall. Sessions were to be conducted by Albert Smith, umpire consultant for Ontario District 8 and umpire-in-chief with the Mississippi League, but Smith was unable to attend because of health concerns. Philip Labossiere stood in for Smith and the clinic ran for one day only, on Sat., April 22. It was originally planned to continue on Sunday. Labossiere is UCLL's assistant umpire-in-chief and the Mountain Minor Ball Association's umpire-in-chief.



Philip Labossiere conducted classes at the annual UCLL umpire clinic in the South Mountain Agricultural Hall on Sat., April 22. The clinic covered rules and regulations of play, the umpire dress code, and which hand signals to give when making calls during a game.

Photo — Barbour

The clinic served as a refresher course for experienced umpires, while new recruits received an introduction to the rules and regulations of play.

"This year, we are looking at ten rules that are either new or modified," said Labossiere. "Four of them are in the Little League Canada rule book and six are related to play in the UCLL."

Two of the most notable new rules deal with a double first base bag and the use of helmets.

"While a double bag at first base is still optional, UCLL has spelled out regulations for play when the double bag is used," said Labossiere. He explained that the double bag was introduced to prevent collisions between runners and the first base player.

"The new helmet rule states that unless an umpire has called 'time,' all offensive players must wear helmets when they are outside of the dugout," he said. He also noted that the league now requires all players to remain in their dugouts during the game if they are not playing. The helmet and dugout rules are related to safety.

There were 39 umpires from six different minor ball associations at the clinic. In addition to rules and regulations, they learned details of the umpire dress code and which hand signals to give when making calls during a game. The clinic was hosted by the Mountain Minor Ball Association.

Hilborn garners first place finish

OTTAWA — Seniors Kelsey Hilborn, Tyler Fawcett and Chad Kennedy recorded first-place finishes as a contingent of 24 athletes from North Dundas District High School took part in another Brooks high school indoor track series meet.

Hilborn had to share her red ribbon when she tied for top spot in the high jump with a height of 1.40 metres. She was also second in her heat and sixth in the final of the 110-metre hurdles with a time of 20:05.

Ainsley Glassford picked up a second-place ribbon clocking a 5:43 over 1,500 metres. Amanda Pinch was third in the same race in a time of 6:15. Lindsay Feeley finished fifth in the 100-metre sprint in 14:52 seconds.

Erik Bequette was fourth in the 100-metre hurdles (17:23) and 10th in the 100-metre sprint (13:07). Jenna Simms registered a fifth-place time of 5:53 over 1,500 metres. Nic Lewis placed eighth in the 1,500 metre run in 5:15. Jason Lombardo ran the 100 metres in 13:21 seconds and placed 13th.

MIDGET DEVILS

North Dundas entered 11 Devils in the midget division including Teal Gove who competed in three events. She was fifth in the high jump (1.35 metres), seventh in the 1,500 metres (6:09) and eighth in the 80-metre hurdles (16:82).

Brooke Cousineau finished fourth in the 80-metre hurdles (third in heat) in 15:54. Whitnie VanBreugel was fourth in her heat and fifth in the 80-metre hurdles in 16:40 seconds. Dara Bowie was second in her 80-metre hurdle heat and sixth overall in 16:54. Natalie Gibson clocked an eighth-place time of 6:09 in the 1,500 metres. Brittany McMillan was sixth in the 80-metre hurdle heats and 11th overall in a time of 18:25. Alyssa Ball registered a 21st-place time of 16:85 in the 100-metre sprint.

Tom Henbest (5:16), Nolan Lachapelle (5:25) and Chris Embury (5:27) ran in the 1,500 metre event. Kyle Sobering posted a time of 15:39 seconds in the 100-metre sprint (fourth in heat - 22nd overall).

This week the Devils are slated to take part in another Ottawa meet on Friday (April 28) and the Queen's Invitational in Kingston on Saturday (April 29).

Dundas roller hockey coming to Winchester

WINCHESTER — The Dundas Men's Roller Hockey League will open the 2006 season in a new venue.

Jamie McIntosh, league president, told the Press on Tuesday (April 25) that play will begin on Thurs., May 18 — at the Winchester Arena.

For several seasons the organization has played its games at the Morrisburg Arena but McIntosh said following last year's title match that he wanted to split the games between Morrisburg and Winchester to even up travel time for the players.

"We have confirmed floor time in Winchester and will start there on May 18. I haven't been able to confirm a booking in Morrisburg, but it is my hope to finish the season there," he explained.

McIntosh said he will call all of last year's players but urges new players to call him at 613-535-1754 (leave a message) for more information or to register. The fee remains at $100 per player and the season will be made up of 15 games.

Novice C1 Hornets edge Nepean 4-3 in ringette gold-medal match

Ringette rocks

A last-minute goal broke up a 3-3 tie and lifted the Metcalfe Hornets to a 4-3 win over the Nepean Ravens in the gold-medal game of the 2005-06 NCRRL Novice "C1" championship tournament on April 9. Celebrating their championship are: Front - goalie Riane Munro; Middle (left) - Donna Warren -manager, Alex MacLaurin, Stephanie Stolk, Kira Burton, Heather Kirby, Nicole Beggs, Jake Van Koppen; Back (left) - Peter Lorenz - coach, Karly Hope, Zoe Lorenz, Cassidy Reaney, Kathleen Nooyen, Charolette Green, Erika Green, Sarena Coppens, Dave Warren - coach, Nicole MacLaurin - coach.

METCALFE — Heather Kirby converted a feed sent her way by Nicole Beggs and Stephanie Stolk into a gold-medal goal when she scored with 30 second left on the clock.

Kirkby's marker snapped a 3-3 tie and gave the Metcalfe Novice "C1" Hornets the a 4-3 victory over the Nepean Ravens and the 2005-06 National Capital Region Ringette League title in the championship tournament in Gatineau (April 7 to 9).

After a very successful tournament year, Metcalfe Novice "C1" Hornets coaches Peter Lorenz, Dave Warren and Nicole MacLaurin were worried that the team may have peaked too early. Two lacklustre losses to arch rivals Nepean and Ottawa in the last weeks before the championship tournament did little to put those fears to rest. The players, however, seemed to have things under control.

TOURNEY TALES

Metcalfe started the tournament on April 7 with a game against the Nepean Ravens. The Hornets started slow and at half-time were down 4-1 with only Serena Coppens being able to beat the Nepean goalie. In the second half, Metcalfe's defensive play and a goal by Heather Kirby and two by Karly Hope tied the game at 4-4. With only 37 seconds left on the clock, Kirby fired in the winning goal and in the dying seconds, goalie Riane Munro stopped a breakaway to ensure Metcalfe's 5-4 win.

On day two, the Hornets faced the Ottawa Ice— the NCRRL regular-season champions and a team that Metcalfe had not beaten since early September.

It was a hard fought game with the lead changing hands several times. A pair of goals off Hope's stick and singles by Kirby and Erika Green had the game tied 4-4 with five minutes left on the clock. Kathleen Nooyen cracked in the decision shot for Metcalfe and the Hornets strong defense locked up another 5-4 win.

That afternoon the Hornets took on the Gloucester Devils. Metcalfe dominated the game thanks to a three-goal effort from Jake Van Koppen and singles from Kirby, Cassidy Reaney and Green on their way to a 6-3 victory and a trip to the gold medal match against Nepean.

Sunday's title was a very close game with both teams playing strong defense. Metcalfe's defense — Kira Burton, Charlotte Warren, Green, Alex MacLaurin, Zoe Lorenz and goalie Munro — kept the score tied 3-3 until the final minute of the match. With 30 seconds left on the clock, Kirby scored on a play set up by Beggs and Stolk to seal a 4-3 championship win for Metcalfe.

The Hornets and their parents would like to thank the coaches and manager Donna Warren for all their hard work with the team this year.

Registration is now on

Remarks

by Mark Guy, Director of Recreation & Culture

WINCHESTER — A few program notes: Registration for all programs, including swimming programs, is now ongoing. Summer camp registration starts May 15. Come and sign up for a program that interests you.

We are looking for a Tai Chi instructor for the spring session. Please call Ashley at 774-2105.

Dundas County Players' production of Who's in Bed with the Butler begins this weekend. There are shows April 27, 28, and 29 (as well as May 5, 6, and 7) at the Old Town Hall. Contact Caroline Roberts at 448-3534 for tickets.

We are currently preparing the baseball and soccer fields for the upcoming season. Things were going along very well, but with some wet weather in the forecast for this week, it would be great if no one attempts to play on the fields — they are still a little soft and the turf could be damaged.

Planning for Dairyfest 2006 is now underway. The committee is meeting regularly to come up with a schedule. A new idea was to purchase wrist bands and sell them to the public as a fundraiser to help offset costs and to contribute to ongoing upkeep of the Winchester Arena and 100 Club Park. In the past, Dairyfest has paid for the new addition to the arena, new curtains in the upstairs hall, and a new arena lobby floor. Last year, the event paid for repairs to the hall's air conditioner. The committee is now turning its attention to raising funds for the park. If you're approached to buy a Dairyfest wrist band, the dollars raised are going back to the recreation infrastructure.

Have a great week!

C/WLBHL reorganizes, resumes play this week

CHESTERVILLE — After a year's absence, the Chesterville/Winchester Ladies Ball Hockey League is back in business.

Lack of manpower and dwindling interest forced the long-established organization to fold in the spring of 2005. A drive to revive the C/WLBHL was instigated in March and successfully recruited enough players to form a four-team league that opens this week (April 27) with a Thursday night twin bill at the Chesterville Arena.

"We were really pleased with the response," noted Janice Casselman, one of the organizers. "There are plenty of new names on the teams and a lot of younger players."

Opening night (April 27) will pit Jenny VanGurp's Green team against Kerry Kennedy's Yellow squad at 7 pm. At 8 pm, Monique Rutley's Reds will challenge Carrie McCadden's Blues.

The regular season consists of 15 games and ends on Aug. 3. The final date on the schedule on Aug. 24 will be used to decide the "A" and "B" champions.

Metcalfe Hornets present ringette awards

GREELY — Grace Valentine, Tom Facette and Donna Warren were recognized for their contributions and commitment to the Metcalfe and District Ringette Association during its annual year-end awards banquet.

The association executive was also able to report to the audience during Sunday's (April 23) proceedings of the success two of its teams enjoyed winning 2005-06 National Capital Region Ringette League championships. The champions were the Tween "B1" Hornets who blanked Upper Ottawa Valley 6-0 in their gold medal match and the Novice "C1" Hornets who edged the Nepean Ravens 4-3 in their championship game.

The Irene Corkill Award — to a current player who contributes to the sport in various ways — went to Grace Valentine, who started playing ringette in Metcalfe at 11 years of age. She acted as the captain of the Junior "B" Hornets this season and for the past three years has helped coaches of the bunnies and novice teams at their practices and has earned the reputation as someone who can be counted on. She also gave back to ringette by serving as a referee.

Tom Facette was honored as this year's recipient of the Coach of the Year award. The award is presented to the coach, not just for a winning record, but also for moulding a team, developing rapport, providing fair ice time and displaying exemplary bench conduct (to name a few). Facette coached the Tween "B1" squad to their championship. He was honored for his coaching style that both parents and players appreciated. The Tween "B1" team not only claimed the championship banner but also won all of their games since the Christmas break and placed well in tournaments. Facette also is the MDRA's new coaching director.

Donna Warren was this year's President's Award winner — for dedication and hard work usually presented to an member of the executive. Warren, who is retiring from the executive, was recognized for her tremendous contributions in many different roles. She has been involved with ringette in Metcalfe since she was a player. He contribution to the MDRA has been part of her lifestyle for many years. The incoming president, Mike Donohue, made the presentation to Warren.

EARLY REGISTRATION

Early registration for the 2006-07 MDRA season will be held on Mon., May 19 from 6 to 9 pm at the Metcalfe Public School. Register by June 30 and save $25 per child. Girls and boys four years and older are welcome. For more information, visit www.metcalfe.ringette.org.

Neil Bowles, coach of the Metcalfe Novice Rec Hornets, presented trophies to the members of his ringette team, including Kalina Coppens of Kenmore. The presentations were part of the Metcalfe and District Ringette Association annual awards banquet on Sunday (April 23) at the Greely Community Centre.

Two years, two Division I titles for Osgoode Outlaws

OTTAWA — Twice to the Minto Adult Hockey League's first division title match and twice the Osgoode Outlaws have ridden off with the championship silverware.

Brian Downey pegged a pair of pucks as the Outlaws successfully defended their Division I crown, defeating the Alpines 3-0 in the final game on April 13. It was last spring that the Outlaws, in their first season in the city circuit, grabbed the regular-season pennant and then the championship. This time around they wound up second with an 12-4-5 record only two points behind the Alpines.

Downey cashed in a well-timed feed from Marty Johnston for a 1-0 lead and the winning goal in the "A" showdown. Bruce Buckland ripped a big slapper into the string to make it 2-0. Downey iced the issue cracking in his second of the match after gathering in a Grant Anderson feed.

George Dorion played perfectly in the Outlaws cage for the shut-out victory. It was his second consecutive goose egg after he blanked the Irregulators 1-0 in the semi-final round. Kevin Collins netted the game-winner.

Two-time champs

Sandy Row men hit outdoors

Action at the South Mountain nine-hole layout moved from the indoor Golf 'O Max format to the real thing on last Wednesday (April 19) when Brad Mayhew and Chris Williams copped the closet-to-the-pin prizes.

Rodney Stitt cranked out the longest drive while Greg Workman and Brian Quinlan also picked up prizes.

Tom VanDellen carded the low net score edging out Reg Gilmer, Rick Cauvier and Jeff LeClair.

Ice Dogs rated fifth in national broomball standings

CARLETON PLACE – This year, the Ice Dogs were rebuilding. After losing seven players through graduation the young squad included 11 boys attending the Canadian Juvenile Men's Broomball Championships for the first time. But in spite of having to go up against more experienced players, the eastern representatives defeated Le Frost 3-1 and secured the gold medal on the "B" side of the 15th edition of the nationals — a competition they helped host in Carleton Place (April 5 to 8).

By earning the "B" Division gold medal, the Ice Dogs earned a national ranking of number five, identical to last year's standing.

The sixth and final game for the Ice Dogs was a rematch with Le Frost and would result in either the consolation silver or gold medal.

In the final game Brett Elliott started the scoring for the Ice Dogs with an unassisted goal at 9:08 of the first period. On a powerplay, the Ice Dogs' Landon James was able to score, assisted by Wyatt Irven and Justin Marion, with 1:25 left in the period to make it 2-0. Le Frost scored on a powerplay at 7:56 of the second period, and cut their deficit to 2-1.

The Ice Dogs had 10 minutes to keep Le Frost off the scoreboard. Le Frost pulled their goaltender in favor of an extra attacker, but Dogs' keeper Jason Chabot held them at bay. Meanwhile the Dogs were able to score, as Marion passed to Elliott, who directed an accurate shot from just inside the red line into the empty net.

The 3-1 win secured the win and a consi gold medal.

The only two teams the Ice Dogs lost to in the tournament ended up with the "A" division gold medal (Le Sphinx de L'Assomption) and the silver (the Bruno Axemen).

The Seaforth Hitmen won the bronze, and the Odessa Bandits came fourth.

Brett Elliott was named to the Second All-Star Line and also picked as the team's MVP for the tournament. Adam Armstrong of Russell has been chosen to receive the award for the Eastern Ontario Top Junior Male Player for the 2005-2006 season by playing outstanding both in and in front of the net.

The Ice Dogs thanked their coaches, parents, relatives and friends who have supported and helped them experience the 2006 national championships.

Number five

The Eastern Ontario Ice Dogs finished the 2006 Canadian Juvenile Men's Broomball championships (April 5 to 8) with a 4-2-0 record and ranked fifth in the nation. The Ice Dogs are: Front (left) - MVP Brett Elliott, Chris Paquette, captain Bryan Hillis, Adam Armstrong, Jason Chabot (front), Justin Marion; Middle (left) - Jeremy Vallance, Justin Leblanc, Paul Norman, Wyatt Irven, Brent Shirley, Ian Helmes, Bruce Armstrong - head coach; Back (left) - Cheryl Irven — ass't coach/manager, Pat Beehler, Alderic Lafleche, Julien Dodier, Simon James, Joel Larocque, Landon James, David Menard, Theo Hoogeveen, Jacque Lafleche - trainer.

TOURNEY TALES

The men's division at the 15th national tournament featured 11 teams, divided into two pools. The Ice Dogs were in the Blue pool, which included the champions (Sphinx de L'Assomption College), New Brunswick (Les Kings de Neguac), Quebec 2 (Le Frost de St-Hyacinthe) and Saskatchewan 2 (Bruno Axemen). The Red pool included Saskatchewan 1 (Odessa Bandits), Ontario 1 (Seaforth Hitmen), Quebec 1 (Les Chevaliers du Collège Stanislas), Newfoundland/Labrador (Bishops Falls Shopper), Manitoba (Team Manitoba) and Ontario 2 (Windsor Riot).

Each team played the others in their pool in the opening round. Then the top two from each played for the "A" medals. The third and fourth-place teams competed for the "B" medals.

ICE DOGS 4 – LE FROST 0

The first game for the host Ice Dogs was played on April 5. Elliott (assisted by Aldéric Laflèche) started the Ice Dogs' scoring at 9:26 of the first half. The Ice Dogs then made it 2-0 scoring on the powerplay, as Irven passed to Elliott. In the second, Le Frost drew six penalties, and the Ice Dogs drew five but were able to defend their lead with great penalty-killing, and marked goal number three when Irven assisted Elliott on a powerplay marker.

Within one minute, Marion scored the fourth goal, assisted by Laflèche.

Elliott was named the Dogs' MVP, and Adam Armstrong recorded the shutout.

AXEMEN 3 – ICE DOGS 0

The Ice Dogs' second game was against the Bruno Axemen on April 6. The Axemen, who would go on to win the "A" silver, cracked in three goals, one on the powerplay, in behind rookie Dog keeper Chabot on their way to a 3-0 win.

Dog defenceman Irven was able to break through the Axemen and get two shots on net, earning the MVP award.

SPHINX 5 – DOGS 1

The Dogs drew the champion Sphinx L'Assomption College in their second game of the day. They were able to keep Le Sphinx off the board, even with killing three penalties, until 2:19 of the first period. The second period saw the remaining four Sphinx goals scored within four minutes of play. Dogs' captain Bryan Hillis, assisted Laflèche, blasted a shot from the blue line to score with 1:27 left in the game.

Goaltender Chabot was named MVP. To the Ice Dogs' credit, their's was the only goal scored against Le Sphinx for the entire 2006 championships. But the loss knocked the Dogs out of the hunt for the "A" gold.

DOGS 7 – LES KINGS 0

The Dogs started game four with Elliott scoring at 11:18 of the first period. Landon James of Carleton Place earned the assist.

Marion assisted Laflèche for the second goal at 7:27. Joel Larocque and Elliott set up Paul Norman for the third at 6:35. In a repeat performance, Elliott helped Norman make it 4-0 on a powerplay at 4:21. They recorded their fifth goal when James assisted Elliott. With 8:28 remaining in the second period, goalie Theo Hoogeveen replaced Chabot and finished the game. The Dogs were able to score on a powerplay, as Larocque and Elliott engineered a goal by Landon James at 5:48. The seventh goal was scored by Chris Paquette, assisted by game MVP Paul Norman.

The Ice Dogs finished with four points in the Blue pool and needed Le Frost to beat the Bruno Axemen by two goals for them to proceed into the top medal round. Unfortunately the Axemen beat Le Frost 3-1, and knocked them into the consolation round.

PLAY OFFS

The "B" semi-finals pitted the Windsor Riot against Le Frost and the Ice Dogs against Les Chevaliers du Collège Stanislas on April 7. Le Frost and the Dogs would prevail and meet in the consolation final.

DOGS 2 – CHEVALIERS 1 (2OT)

The game went into a five-minute overtime period (total goals scored, played four-on-four with no goalies). Les Chevaliers scored 31 seconds into OT and put the pressure on the Dogs who responded when Hillis scored from Irven at 2:32 to tie it up 1-1. The game advanced to the fourth period, 18 minutes of sudden-death overtime. The Dogs were able break the tie when Hillis fed the ball to Paquette who used his speed to outrun the Chevaliers defenders and score with 13:58 on the clock.

In Memoriam

MY APOLOGIES
The following two In Memoriams were scheduled to run on Wednesday, April 19, 2006. Due to a set of very unusual circumstances, which I don't ever expect to happen again, I missed going through the "Hold" file. My sincere apologies to the families affected.
– Connie Hart

SCOTT – In loving memory of a husband and father, Eugene, who passed away April 22, 2005.
Those we love don't go away,
They walk beside us every day.
– Remembered forever by

GUY – In memory of our dear son and little brother, Mitchell, who passed away April 30, 2005.
A year ago
A golden heart stopped beating
Busy hands to rest
God broke our hearts to prove to us
He only takes the best.
You filled our hearts with sunshine
A bright and shining light
A precious little boy in our arms
We know you put up your best fight.
God saw you were getting tired
And a cure was not meant to be
So He put His arms around you
And whispered "Come with Me".
A full life with you we will never know
But we will always have a love so rich and deep in our hearts
We hold on tight to our memories
Of a life so short ...
barely a chance to start...
– We miss you every day and you are forever in our hearts, Mommy, Daddy and Mikyla

OBITUARIES

Benjamin 'Langton' Sweet Carr

Benjamin "Langton" Sweet Carr of Morrisburg passed away peacefully after a brief illness on April 12, 2006 at Woodland Villa Nursing Home in Long Sault. He was 86.

He was born on April 9, 1920 in Winchester to the late Langton Benjamin "Ben" Carr and the late Mabel Sweet. He was the loving father of Judith Johnson of Bradford, NH, Peter of Whitehorse, YK, David of Morrisburg, Charles, and Laurie, both of Toronto. He was the dear grandfather of Amber, Amy, Changa "Shawn", Ben, Julia, Naomi, Dylan, and great-grandfather of Jeynaba and Sahjo. He is survived by his former spouse Elma Youngs of Toronto. He is also survived by step-children, Christine (Brian) Baldwin, Ricki (Elaine) Froats, and Gary (Connie) Froats; step-grandchildren Stephanie, Dennis, Mark, Barry, and Wayne; step-great-grandchildren, Randy, Kurt, Cole, Ethan, Brody, and Brett; by sister-in-law Colleen Carr; nieces Janet (Brian) McKay, and Linda (Richard) Brown. He was predeceased by his long time companion Bea Froats, son John, brother John, and niece Debby Carr.

His father "Ben" came from Commanda, near Parry Sound. He was an engineer who came to this area in the early 1900s to help with construction of Highway 31. He met Mabel Sweet, the only daughter of Aaron and Mary Sweet, the owners of a successful general store in Winchester. Aaron Sweet was also a one-time conservative Member of Parliament for the region.

"Langton" received a bachelor degree at the University of Guelph Agricultural College. He learned his manners from his mother and they stood him in good stead his whole life. His love and competence at all outdoor sports and recreations he got from his father, and his politics from his grandfather. He was a retired accounting clerk and worked for 24 years at CIL/Dupont.

Like many in Morrisburg, he loved the river, and it was a great loss to him when he could no longer climb into a boat. He was very happy living in his home "The Ship's Mate" and hoped to die there as his mother had done. One sensed when he left his home at the end of last year that he would not want to live too long away from this beloved place. He died peacefully in his sleep at Woodland Villa and the family are grateful for the loving care he received while living there.

Friends were received at the Parker Funeral Home in Morrisburg on April 18. The memorial service was held in the chapel of the funeral home on April 19 with Rev. Jean Udall officiating. Inurnment will be held at a later date.

William 'Bill' Crummy

William Crummy of Winchester passed away on April 21, 2006 at Ottawa Hospital General Campus. He was 77.

He was born on May 1, 1928 in Jasper, Ontario to the late James Charles Crummy and the late Emma Jane Gibson. He was husband to Shirley E. George whom he married on Nov. 29, 1947 in Winchester. He was father of Robert (Diane), Sandra Robertson (Lynn), Janice Veley, James (Betty), and Heather. He was grandfather of Wendy (Paul), Shari (Shawn), Krista, Kathryn, Tyler (Theresa), Tracie (John), and Christopher. He was the brother of Marjorie Chamberlain.

He worked for Bell Telephone as a repairman and was recognized as a Bell Canada pioneer. He was a member of the Winchester United Church.

The visitation was held at the Byers Funeral Home in South Mountain April 25 until time of service. The funeral service was held in the chapel of the funeral home with Rev. Bob Williams officiating.

Michael Vernon Duffy

Michael Duffy, born in 1933 in Verdun, Que., died at home on April 19, 2006 after many years of fighting the good fight against heart and kidney failure.

He was the son of the late Florence-Marie Champagne and Arnold Nelson Duffy. He is survived and will be sorely missed by his dear sister Jean, brothers Jim and Pat of St. Thomas, Ont., and numerous nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by three brothers: Bob, Bill, and Jack. His adopted family with whom he shared his life for over thirty years, Zsolt and Angela Sumegi, their children, Ildiko, Matthew, Livia, and grandson named after Michael, cannot express how much his presence will be missed in their lives. He will also be sadly missed by their extended family in Winchester, great-great grandmamma Rose, and Celi and Leslie Myers.

"Duff" as he was known to many residents of Winchester as well as to hundreds of Carleton University students where he ran the food services program for years, will be remembered as a warm, friendly guy who had a smile and a joke and a word of advice for everyone he met (and an extra sandwich for hungry students during his Carleton years).

His dearest wish was to continue to help others for as long as possible, so according to his instructions, his body was bequeathed to the University of Ottawa's Faculty of Medicine.

There will be no formal wake, but the University monument commemorating those who have given their bodies to the advancement of medical education and research can be seen in the Memorial Garden of Pinecrest Cemetery. The annual non-denominational memorial service will take place this year on Tues., June 7 at 2 pm at Pinecrest Cemetery and Crematorium, 2500 Baseline Road in Ottawa.

Memorial donations may be sent to the Winchester District Memorial Hospital, the University of Ottawa Heart Institute, or any animal shelter agency. Duff loved nature and all animals, especially his dog, Heidi, who also misses him very much.

Today it rains like yesterday.
And I'm glad,
I prefer it that way.
I want the solemn skies to cry
Until every cloud is dry,
And every waking eye mourns the sun.

But today it rains like yesterday
Not because I wish it that way
No, not because of tears or prayers,
Not because of empty shoes and chairs.
No, today it rains like yesterday
Because the flowers need to grow,
It's nature's way.

Livia Sumegi

Wilfred McIntosh

Wilfred McIntosh of Park Drive Villa in Williamsburg passed away following an illness of almost nine years, on April 21, 2006 at Winchester District Memorial Hospital. He was 87.

He was born on Feb. 9, 1919 in Williamsburg Township to the late Isaac McIntosh and the late Zella McIntosh (nee Merkley). He was the husband of Pearl McIntosh (nee Robinson) whom he married in Ottawa on Sept. 24, 1941. He was predeceased by brother Aden and sisters Jessie Beckstead and Kathleen Garlough. He is survived by his brother-in-law Ted Beckstead of Cardinal and will be fondly remembered by several nieces and nephews.

A retired farmer, he was a lifetime resident of the area. He was a member of the Williamsburg United Church. He enjoyed fishing and spending time in the bush, whether he was working or just taking a leisurely stroll.

Friends called at Marsden and McLaughlin Funeral Home in Williamsburg April 23 and 24. The funeral was held on April 24 at the funeral home with Rev. Isabel Black officiating, followed by interment at Spruce Haven Cemetery in Brinston. Pallbearers were Francis Henderson, John Byvelds, Steven Byvelds, Alex Scott, Ed Hanson, and Don Garlough. Honorary pallbearers were Carmen McIntosh, Ken Beckstead, Ferneley Johnston, and Gerry McPherson.

Donations to Winchester District Memorial Hospital or Williamsburg United Church would be appreciated by the family.

Jean Isabel McConnell

Jean Isabel McConnell (nee Rorison) formerly of Morewood, passed away peacefully at the Bayfield Manor Nursing Home in Kemptville on April 23, 2006. She was 94.

She was the beloved wife and very best friend of the late Charles "Hume" McConnell who passed away in 2005. She was the loving mother of Marion (Joe) Goncalves of Morewood. She was the cherished grandmother of Patricia (Tim) Bilmer of Morrisburg, Tom (Shannon) Goncalves of Cornwall, and Heather (Shane Mark) Goncalves of Morewood. She was the dear great-grandmother of Victor and Vincent Bilmer of Morrisburg; Brooke Goncalves of Cornwall; and Austin Goncalves of Morewood. She is survived by her niece Diane Monteith of London. She was predeceased by her son Blair McConnell and stepbrother Thomas McCord.

Friends and family will gather for a memorial service at Morewood United Church on April 26 at 1 pm with Rev. Mary Lou Shortill and Rev. Bert de Bruijn officiating, followed by inurnment at Morewood United Cemetery.

Memorial donations to the charity of your choice gratefully acknowledged.

Arrangements were entrusted to Parker Funeral Home in Morrisburg. Condolences and donations may be made at parkerfh@personainternet.com.

Lions help Hawks

The Winchester Lions Club operates the canteen at the Winchester Arena during each Winchester Junior "B" Hawks home game. Business is brisk while the Hawks are playing so the Lions showed their appreciation by donating $1,500 of the profit raised at the food booth back to the Junior "B" Hawks. Lion Phil Garby (left), Hawks president John Douma and Lion Guy Belliveau show off the ceremonial cheque at Saturday's (April 22) presentation.
