Mrs. Keys Presented with an Address.

At a meeting of the Inkerman Auxiliary of the W. M. S. held at the home of Mrs Geo. Ennis, on Tuesday, Nov. 12th, the following address was read:—

To Mrs. T. O. Keys:

Dear sister and fellow worker of our W. M. S., it is with much regret that circumstances have come about which have caused you and your little family to decide to change your place of abode and that this is the last auxiliary meeting we shall have you with us as a member of our Society and our Recording Secretary. You have lived amongst us for so many years and have always shown yourself to be interested in the work of the W. M. S. in many ways but particularly by your regular attendance at the monthly meetings. The work of the W. M. S. being a labor of Love. The tie which binds us as sisters together always becomes stronger the longer we are associated in work together. And a feeling of lonliness hovers over us this afternoon as we realize that this tie which has bonnd us together as members of the Inkerman Auxiliary must soon be severed But the memory of the pleasant associations of the past shall linger with us and we shall ask you to accept this cut glass water set as a slight token of our esteem and we trust that each time we use it the water may appear to you all the purer and all the sweeter and more refreshing because the gift has come from the Inkerman W. M. S. Hoping that you may be very useful as a Christian worker and also very happy in your new home.

Signed on behalf of the Inkerman Women's Missionary Society.

MRS. A. L. CONLEY, President.

Inkerman, Nov. 12th, 1912.

Mrs. Keys made a feeling reply.

Death of Mrs. Malcolm Maclennan.

The death of Mrs. Malcolm Maclennan, which occurred on Nov. 8th, removes from Avonmore, a highly esteemed friend and neighbor.. The deceased, who was in her 36th year, was a daughter of the late Uriah Shaver, of Avonmore, her maiden name being Edith Shaver. She is survived by her husband and five children. The deceased was an active member of the Presbyterian Church. She leaves an only brother, Mr. Clarence Shaver, who is at present in Western Canada, and he is the last member of a once happy family, the father having died in 1909 and the mother in 1911. The funeral service was held on Monday last at the homestead, where the remains were interred to remain until the brother arrives home, when they will be removed to the Presbyterian cemetery. The service was conducted by Rev. S. D. McPhee, assisted by Rev. Jas. Hastie, of Moulinette. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Lloyd Hough, John MacLennan, James Majerrison, Alex. McDonald and D. McNeil. Among the relatives present from a distance were: Mr. Fraser and Mr. MacNeil of Lochiel; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bush, of Lunenburg; Miss Minnie Shaver, of Osnabruck Centre, and others. The deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

The Nation Valley Farmer's Club will hold a meeting in the School House on Thursday evening next, Nov. 28th. A programme will be given and everybody is invited to attend. The election of officers will take place for the current year.

Must Be Placarded.

Under the new amendments to the Public Health Act measels is a communicable disease and the house in which there is a case is to be placarded. The family is not quarantined, however, and the regulations are not as strict as for diptheria and other diseases. The children in a house where there are measels are not allowed to go to school but the men are allowed to go to work.

Sir James Whitney off to England.

Sir James Whitney left Toronto Thursday afternoon for New York from whence he sailed on Saturday for Liverpool. The Prime Minister expects to be absent a month. Sir James has not been able take a holiday during the past summer, and will take a brief rest before the work of the Legislature commences. The Hon. R. A. Pyne, Minister of Education, will accompany Sir James.

Christmas Holidays.

This will be a joyous Christmas season for the school children. From the fact that the regular closing day falls on Sunday and the regular opening date on Friday the children will have from December 20th, to Jan. 6th, holidays.

According to regulations, the close of the term is on December 22nd, which is Sunday. That necessitates closing on Friday. The opening by regulation of the new term is on January 3rd, which is Friday, and, therefore, the opening has to be set forward to Monday, the 6th.

Commercial Travelers' Banquet.

The complimentary banquet tendered to Mr. Gus Harries by a few of his more intimate travelling friends at the McCloskey House, Chesterville, Ont., on Friday evening, Nov. 15th, 1912, was a function that cannot easily be forgotten by those who were fortunate enough to be present.

Mr. Harries is a well known and well liked personage in this vicinity, having represented the firm of Greenshields Ltd., Montreal, for upwards of a period of 27 years. "Gus," as he popularly known, is retiring from the road and entering into business on his own account. This banquet, given in his honor, was gladly welcomed by all his associates and the business men of Chesterville, for it gave them an opportunity to tell him farewell and to express their good wishes for his success in his new business venture.

The commodious dining hall was completely occupied by the guests of the evening and during the serving of the dinner Valentine's Orchestra of Ottawa, rendered appropriate selections. The decorations of the banquet hall were a work of art and the menu cards very handsome, having a lithograph photo of the guest of honor.

Mr. Jack Adams of Prescott, acted as toast master to the pleasure of everyone present.

"The Knights of the Grip" presented Mr. Harries with a magnificent sold gold watch; also a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty Roses to be given to his mother, Mrs. Harries. "Mine Host," Mr. McCloskey, was also presented with a Cameo stick pin as a token of the regards of the "Commercialmen," to whom he has catered so long and so faithfully.

Mr. G. Howard Ferguson, M. P. P., very ably responded to the toast "Our Country," and Mr. Andrew Broder, M. P., to "Parliament of Canada." Mr. O. D. Casselman and Mr. W. B. Lawson, K. C., responded to "Our Guests." Our Angus Orr, Mr. Harry Pilgrim and Mr. Geo. Smith, were bright stars in song and story, the latter particularly shining in his response to the toast of "The Ladies."

Mr. Harold Albery of Brockville, was the accompanist of the evening and acquitted himself admirably.

The Commercial Travellers take this opportunity to express to Mr. McCloskey their sincere thanks and deep appreciation of his efforts so well and ably executed.

Regarding Positions.

Reports reach us from the leading educational institutions of this district that there is a great dearth of trained young people to transact office work. The Brockville Business College reports to us this week that they have had to refuse more calls since Sept. 1st than in any previous complete year. This school announces its new term opening Jan. 6th, 1913.

Unanimous Verdict.

Newspaper publishers and citizens generally throughout the Dominion are unanimous in their opinion that the picture entitled "Mother's Treasures," given with The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, this season, is a most delightful and beautiful subject. Here is the opinion of one publisher; "Mother's Treasures,' is a marvel of beauty. The subject is one that will have a tendency to strengthen home ties. We, in the same business, wonder how you can afford to give such value in pictures besides the vast amount of good things in The Family Herald and Weekly Star." Signed E. W. Richards, The Mirror, Millbrook. No home in Canada should be without this beautiful picture. One dollar pays a full year's subscription to The Family Herald and Weekly Star, including the picture, which is ready for framing, sixe 23 by 29 inches. It is a big dollar's worth indeed.

G. W. Bogart invites the public to his store to see and hear the Beautiful Mozart-Heintzmon & Co. Piano, which he is giving away. Now on exbibition at the store. All Pink Piano Votes must be registered on Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 26th and 27th. Will not count after that date. G. W. Bogart.

New Contracts Now Are Signed.

The hydro-electric wili soon girdle all Ontario. A few days ago Hon. Adam Beck signed contracts with five municipalities for the supply of the "people's power." The new towns that will be illuminated by the government's power system are Brantford, Paris, Port Dalhousie, Brockville and Prescott The signed contracts were returned to the mayors of these places a few days ago.

It will be a very simple matter to supply Brantford, Paris and Port Dalhousie' as at the present time transmission lines are strung thru that section of western Ontario. It will, however, be some time before Brockville will get its power. The transmission line has been erected from Morrisburg to Prescott, which is about 20 miles from Brockville. A large gang of men began work at Prescott a few days ago to complete the construction of the line to Brockville.

Old Soldier Dead At Cornwall Home

Mr. William H. Gallinger, one of the oldest and most respected residents of the Township of Cornwall, passed away at his home, east of the G.T. R. station, a few days ago. He was sixty-five years of age, and a veteran of 1870, receiving a medal and grant of land. He served in the mounted patrol under the late C. J. Mattice. He is survived by his widow, one son and two daughters--Mr. Ambrose Gallinger, and Miss Ada C. Gallinger, at home; Mrs. Benjamin Tinkees, of Central Butte, Sask.

Caught In Shafting; Man Hurled To Death.

Oliver Poirier, aged about sixty-two, met a horrible death in the basement of the weave shed of the Canada Mill at Cornwall on Thursday when he was in the act of oiling the shafting. His clothing caught in the shafting, and before the speed could be shut off he was dead. Both arms, both legs, his neck and every rib were broken, while his body was a mass of bruises. The Coroner, Dr. Hamilton, was notified but decided that it was not necessary to hold an inquest. Portier was born near Coteau, Que. and is survived by his mother, his wife, two sisters and two brothers.

Found A $2,000 Pearl.

The Brooklyn Daily Times says; While at dinner with Father Cottello, of the Church of the Holy Innocents, Brooklyn, Dr. D. M. McCarty, of Brooklyn, brother of Dr. William McCarty, Kingston, found a pearl valued at 2,000 in an oyster. He was eating the oysters with no very good relish when the pearl dropped into his mouth. He thought he had lost a tooth at first, but the little round ball was appraised by a Maiden Lane jeweller and vavued at $2,000. Dr. McCarty made the pearl a present to the church fair of the Church of the Holy innocents"

Dr. McCarty is a native of Richmond and formerly practised at Prescott.

TALES OF GHOSTS

Lord Brougham's Curious Experience With a "Spook."

A COMPACT AND ITS SEQUEL.

The Creepy Story as It Was Told In the English Statesman's Autobiography—Goethe Once Saw a Specter of Himself—A "Ghost" Cuvier Saw.

There was a certain Pisander whose name has been preserved in one of the proverbial sayings of the Greeks because he lived in continual fear of seeing his own ghost. Just that thing happened to the German poet Goethe. One day, when he was out riding in a spot somewhat removed from the usual haunts of men, he saw a horseman approaching him, and as it drew near he saw that the rider was no less a person than himself—his other self—though dressed differently. Twenty years after he found himself quite without forethought of the matter in the same place on horseback and dressed just as was the apparition of himself which he had met there two decades before.

Lord Brougham (pronounced Broom), the English statesman, orator and author, after whom the well known species of vehicles was named, had a remarkable experience with a "spook." He tells the story in his autobiography published in 1871.

"A most remarkable thing happened to me," he says, "so remarkable that I must tell the story from the beginning. After I left the high school (in Edinburgh) I went with G., my most intimate friend, to attend the classes in the university. We frequently in our walks discussed and speculated upon man's grave subjects, among others on the immortality of the soul and a future state. This question and the possibility, I will not say of ghosts walking, but of the dead appearing to the living, were subjects of much speculation, and we actually committed the folly of drawing up an agreement, written with our blood, to the effect that whichever of us died first should appear to the other and thus solve any doubt we had entertained of the 'life after death.'

"After we had finished classes at college G. went to India, having got an appointment there in the civil service. He seldom wrote me, and after a lapse of a few years I had almost forgotten him. Moreover, his family having little connection with Edinburgh, I seldom saw or heard anything of them, so that all the old schoolboy intimacy had died out and I had nearly forgotten his existence. I had taken, as I have said, a warm bath, and while in it and enjoying the comfort of the heat after the late freezing I had undergone I turned my head round toward the chair on which I had deposited my clothes as I was about to get out of the bath. On the chair sat G. calmly looking at me. How I got out of the bath I know not, but on recovering my senses I found myself sprawling on the floor. The apparition or whatever it was that had taken the likeness of G. had disappeared.' It was afterward ascertained that G had died in India on the very day his apparition was seen by Lord Brougham.

Very similar is an incident related by Sir Walter Scott under date of 1818. A certain Mr. Bullock had been employed by Sir Walter to make improvements at Abbotsford. Mr. Bullock was called to London, and during his absence the incident narrated in the following letter took place. Scott, writing to a Mr. Terry, says:

"The night before last we were awakened by a violent noise like the drawing of new boards along the new part of the house. I fancied something had fallen and thought no more of it. This was about 2 in the morning. Last night at the same witching hour the same noise ocurred. Mrs. S., as you know, is rather timersome, so I got up with Beardy's broadsword under my arm—

"Sat bolt upright
And ready to fight.

"But nothing was out of order. Neither could I discover what occasioned the disturbance." The strange thing about this is that Bullock died in London on the very day and as near as could be ascertained at the very hour that Sir Walter heard the "spooks" at Abbotsford. In writing later to the same correspondent he said: "Were you not struck with the fantastical coincidence of our nocturnal disturbance at Abbotsford with the melancholy event that followed? I protest to you that the noise resembled half a dozen men hard at work pulling up boards and furniture, and nothing could be more certain than that nobody was on the premises at the time."

These are instances of what may be termed successful ghosts. The ghosts that have failed are perhaps entitled to a brief notice. A "ghost" once undertook to frighten the great naturalist, Cuvier. This ghost appeared with an ox's head. Cuvier awoke and found the fearful thing glaring and grinning at his bedside.

"IMPOSSIBLE TO HELP MY KIDNEYS"

Until I Used "Fruit-a-tives" Worlds Greatest Kidney Cure

Practically everybody in Toronto knows Professor J. F. Davis. For years, the elite of that city has taken lessons from Prof. Davis in the art of Dancing and Deportment.

His constant activity gradually weakened his Kidneys, which calamity threatened to make him an invalid.

But read Prof. Davis' letter—

563 CHURCH ST., TORONTO, ONT.
DECEMBER 29th. 1911

"I want to say that "Fruit-a-tives" is my only medicine, and has been for the past five years. Previous to that, I had been troubled with Rheumatism and Kidney Disease, and had taken many remedies without satisfactory results. Noticing the advertisements of "Fruit-a-tives" I adopted this treatment altogether, and as everyone knows, I am now—and have been since taking "Fruit-a-tives"—enjoying the best of health".

J. F. DAVIS.

If Rheumatism or Kidney Trouble is making you miserable, take "Fruit-a-tives" and get well.

50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

"What do you want?"

"To devour you," growled the ghost.

"Devour me," quoth the great Frenchman, "hoofs, horns, graminivorous? You can't do it. Clear out!"

And clear out the discomfited ghost did.—Kansas City Star.

No man is so tall that he need never stretch and none so small that he need never stoop.—From the Danish.

It is well for one to know more than he says.—Plautus.

A BOX OF SARDINES.

How to Test It and How to Tell the Kind of Fish It Holds.

Francis Marre gives the following instructions for purchasing a can of sardines:

The two sides of the can should be flat or concave. If they bulge out there is a likelihood that the can contains gases resulting from decomposition.

No can should be bought that has been resoldered.

The lettering on the can should be clear and distinct.

If there is a choice between soldered cans and cans sealed by crimping, the latter should always be preferred.

If the cans are soldered select those that have bright solder, which is less likely to contain lead and less likely to be bad.

After the box of sardines is taken home the can should be opened under water. If any bubbles of gas escape the stuff should be destroyed. The kind of oil used in preparing the sardines is of no great importance. The fish used are not, however, always true "sardines."

In the true sardine the dorsal fin is forward of the ventral fins and there is no wrinkled crest on the ventral line. The skin is smooth and bluish on the back. In the herring the dorsal is only slightly in front of the ventral fin and there is a wrinkled ridge behind the latter. The skin is brownish on the back, with a delicate network.

In the sprat the dorsal fin is in a line with the ventrals, and the crest behind as well as in front of the ventral fins can be easily felt by passing the thumb backward from the base of the head. The flesh of the sprat is rather hard.

In the anchovy the ventral crest is absent, as in the sardines, but the dorsal fins are behind the ventrals. The "chinchard," a small variety of mackerel, may be distinguished by its grayish color and the presence of two fins on the back extending nearly the whole length of the body. The forward fin has a spiny point.—Harper's Weekly.

No Chesterfield.

"Muggins has made a pile of money, and now he's trying to get into society, but the question of manners comes up. Has he got any?" queried Bolivar.

"Muggins? Manners? Well I should say not," retorted Slithere. "Why, that man wouldn't give up his seat in a dentist's chair to a lady."—Harper's.

Impractical.

"He has a lot of good ideas, of course, but then some of them are utterly impractical."

"For instance?"

"Well, one of his schemes is to reform politics so that those who hold public offices will have to work."—Detroit Free Press.

Look Beyond the Frames.

We should laugh if a man said he went to an art gallery to see the picture frames. Yet that is how many go through life and it is little wonder that they are soon tired.

Time appears long only to those who don't know how to use it.

SHIPS AS THEY SINK.

Their Trip to the Bottom and What Happens Afterward.

What becomes of the ship that sinks in midocean? If it is of wood it takes, in the first place, considerable time for it to reach the bottom. In a hundred or more fathoms of water a quarter of an hour will elapse before the ship reaches bottom. It sinks slowly, and when the bottom is reached it falls gently into the soft, oozy bed, with no crash or breaking.

Of course if it is laden with pig iron or corresponding substances or if it is an iron ship it sinks rapidly and sometimes strikes the bottom with such force as to smash in pieces. Once sunken a ship becomes the prey of the countless inhabitants of the ocean.

They swarm over and through the great boat and make it their home. Besides this they cover every inch of the boat with a thick layer of lime. This takes time, of course, and when one generation dies another continues the work until finally the ship is so laden with heavy incrustations, corals, sponges and barnacles that if wood the creaking timbers fall apart and slowly but surely are absorbed in the waste at the sea bottom.

Iron vessels are demolished more quickly than those of wood, which may last for centuries. The only metals that withstand the chemical action of the waves are gold and platinum, and glass also seems unaffected. No matter how long gold may be hidden in the ocean, it will always be gold when recovered, and this fact explains the many romantic and adventurous searches after hidden submarine treasures lost in shipwrecks.

EARLY COLONIAL HOUSES.

Some Had Inner Stone Walls to Resist the Indian Raiders.

In America the early colonists had little use for the mason's art, except in the construction of the huge chimney stacks which in any dwelling of considerable size and any pretensions to comfort formed a very considerable part of the structure. The great kitchen fireplace and oven, with smaller hearths in from two to four rooms on each floor, required a very considerable part of the material and skilled labor bestowed upon a colonial homestead in the more northern colonies.

In some sections where the dangers of an attack by Indian raiders were imminent, the wooden walls of the lower story inclosed a stout wall of brick or a kind of rubble masonry. Some of these buildings are still standing and inhabited, although dating back (at least so far as the lower stories are concerned) over two centuries. A very few brick buildings have wholly or in part come down to us from the first years of colonization, and until within the last half century some that preserved the peculiar features of Elizabethan and Stuart types of dwelling and business structures. Much of the brick and about all the great flooring tiles and ornamental tiling were at first imported from Europe, but lime and brick of good quality were soon produced in almost every community.—Charles Winslow Hall in National Magazine.

Love Will Find a Way.

The young couple hastened into the union station. It was very patent that they were not married. They were altogether too chummy for that. They went out onto the platform and stood and talked for a minute, when he took her in his arms and kissed her fondly and again hurried away toward a train.

"What do you think of that?" inquired one of the attaches of the station.

"That looks all right. Why?"

"They do that three or four times a week. They think that everybody else will think that he is going away on a long journey, but he has never got on a train yet. He simply walks around back of the train and disappears. He gets his kiss all right, though."—Louisville Times.

Minuteness of an Atom.

Sir Oliver Lodge once gave a striking illustration of the minuteness of the atom. The amount of gold in sea water, although very small, seems considerable when stated in atoms, for a single drop of sea water contains 50,000,000 atoms of gold. That figure, however, indicates merely one-fiftieth of a grain in a ton of sea water, and it would take 100,000,000 atoms to be visible under a microscope of the highest power.

A Bad Spill.

"Here's a young woman left $500,000 merely for spilling a little sunshine into an old man's life."

"Her experience is more fortunate than mine. I once spilled a cup of coffee into an old man's lap and he cut me out of his will altogether."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

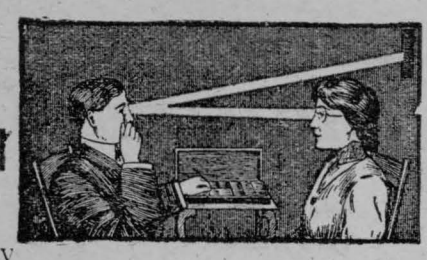

Satisfied With Sound.

"The man has a wonderful flow of language," said the impressionable girl.

"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne. "He is one of the people who would rather talk than be listened to."—Washington Star.

HUGE POWER SCHEMES

Two Companies Propose to Dam St. Lawrence between Montreal and Prescott.

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—Two immense power schemes, both of which contemplate the damming of the St. Lawrece River at two points between Montreal and Prescott, and both of which are backed by powerful interests, are now before the Government for consideration. The scemes in question are: That of the Long Sault Developement Company, backed by the Aluminum Company of America, and that of the Eastern Canada Power Company, backed by Sir Max Aitken and D. Lorne McGibbon, together with prominent Montreal, English and American capitalists.

The first contemplates the damming of the St. Lawrence River above the Long Sault Rapids, from the American to the Canadian side, and the developing of from 60,0000 to 800,000 horse-power of electrical energy; while the second is even more gigantic in its scope. It has for its purpose no less a project than the bringing of the level of the St. Lawrence, in the vicinity of the Coteau, Cedar Split Rock and Cascade Rapids, to the level of the water in Lake St. Francis, a head of 84 feet, and virtually damming the water from Cascade Rapids, to the Cornwall Canal. Its retaining dams would connect the various islands down the river for a distance of nearly 14 miles. The entire rapids division would be wiped out and a portion of the Soulanges Canal would be flooded. The amount of electrical energy to be generated is estimated at one million horse-power.

The scheme of the Long Sault Development Company was turned down by the late Government two years ago principally at the instigation of the Conservation Commission of Canada and of the various shipping interests of Montreal. It has also been opposed in the United States, it is still pending before Congress.

The latter scheme has not been considered by the Government in its entirety, though a tentative approval of plans was granted to D. Lorne McGibbon by Hon. F. D. Monk, shortly after the latter came iuto office, for the right to dam the Cedar Rapids.

The Long Sault Company has been bnsy on both sides of the line, and it is believed is hopeful of victory both in Canada and the United States Representations are being made to the Canadian Government, and it is contended by the Company that the project does not involve any damage to navigation. On the contrary, it contends that the construction of a single lock on the American side will do away with the complicated series of locks in the Cornwall Canal and benefit navigation. The same contention is made on behalf of the other Company, and it is further contended that an immense amount of power for industrial purposes will be developed which is now going to waste.

Both schemes, involving as they do a development of power far outrivalling that of Niagara Falls, and completely altering industrial conditions in eastern Ontario and Montreal, as well as changing the whole navigation system of the St. Lawrence from Prescott to Montreal, will doubtless come up in Parliament this session for debate.

On behalf of the applying companies it is claimed that the benefits of cheap power, with the investment of hundreds of millions of dollars, should not be delayed. It is further claimed that the damming of the St. Lawrence as proposed and the substitution of two locks, one at Cornwall and one at the Cedars with big depth, for the present series of small locks, would be in the interests of navigation and would be the most feasible means of carrying through the Government's plan of deepening the St. Lawrence channel to Montreal to the same depth as will obtain on the new Welland Canal.

On the other hand, the proposals may be opposed on the same grounds which Mr. Borden himself when in Opposition advanced. When opposing the Long Sault development project Mr. Borden, with many other members of Parliament strongly urged that no such huge power monopolies should be allowed, and that the development of Canada's water powers should be undertaken for the benefit of the people, and not for the gain of private corporations. The opinions of Mr. Borden at that time were in accord with those of the Conservation Commission of Canada, which body still emphatically maintains the same stand.

It may be noted however, that since then there has been a change of Government, and the financial interests behind the projects are among the Government's strongest supporters. One of the most generous contributors to the Conservative campaign fund at the last election was D. Lorne McGibbon. Sir Rodolphe Forget and other prominent Montreal Conservative Capitalists are behind applications, and their influence with the Cabinet is very powerful.

Much interest will therefore be manifested by the champions of Canadian conservation in the question as to whether Mr. Borden will stand by the principles which he enunciated two years ago, or whether he will be induced by the influences which will be Brought to bear upon him to grant the requests of the power interests.

Seed Grain And Potatoes

By instructions of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture a distribution of superior sorts of grain and potatoes will be made during the coming winter and spring to Canadian farmers. The samples for general distribution will consist of spring wheat (5lbs) white oats (4lbs) barley (5lbs) and field peas (5 lbs). These will be sent out from Ottawa. A distribution of potatoes (in 3 lb. samples) will be carried on from several of the experimental farms, the Central Farms at Ottawa supplying only the provinces of Ontario and Quebec. All samples will be sent free, by mail.

Applicants must give particulars in regard to soil on their farms, and some account of their experience with such kind of grain (or potatoes) as they have grown, so that a promising sort for their couditions may be selected.

Each application must be separate and must be signed by the applicant. Only one sample of grain and one of potatoes can be sent to each farm. Applications on any kind of printed form cannot be accepted. If two or more samples are asked for in the same letter only one will be sent.

As the supply of seed is limited, the farmers are advised to apply early; but the applications will not necessarily be filled in the exact order in which they are received. Preference will always be given to the most thoughtful and explicit requests. Applications received after the end of January will probably be too late.

All applications for grain (and applications from the provinces of Ontario and Quebec for potatoes) should be addressed to the Dominion Cerealist, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Such applications require no postage. If otherwise addressed delay and disappoinotm may occur.

Applications, for potatoes, from farmers in any other province should be addressed (postage prepaid) to the Superintendent of the uearest Branch Experimental Farm in that province.

Director, Dominion Experimental Farm.

THE BOY PROBLEM.

To be Discussed by Experts—Five Hundred Workers with Boys to Assemble at Galt.

While we are constantly hearing of conferences of men interested in the develepement of our agricultural, mineral power and timber resources, it is gratifying to learn that a body of men are also coming together to devise ways and means for raising the standard of the Canadian Youth.

The Provincial Young Men's Christian Association, and the Ontario Sunday School Association have united to conduct the greatest gathering of Workers with Boys ever held in this country, at Galt, on Friday evening, Saturday and Sunday, November 22nd, 23rd and 24th.

Among the twenty-four experts in this unique line of work who are to appear on the program, we note the following:—Prof. G. Walter Fiske, Oberlin College, author of "Boy Life and Self Government". Chas. W. Bishop, Toronto, Secretary Canadian National Council of the Y. M. C. A.; Rev. W. A. Cameron, Toronto, Pastor Bloor Street Baptist Church; E. W. Halyenny, Toronto, Secretary Ontario Sunday School Association; Frank Yeigh, Toronto; Geo. A. Smith, Supervisor Public Playgrounds; W. H. Wood, Brockville, Community Boys' Work Secretary; Preston G. Orwig, late of Richmond, Va., and formerly Boys' Work Secretary of the Philadelphia Y. M. C. A. and Secretary of The Boy Scouts of America in New York, now doing special work among the older boys for the Ontario Sunday School Association; A. W. Forgie, Boys' Work Secretary Toronto Central Y. M. C. A.; Harry H. Johnson, Supervisor McCormick Recreation Centre. A. J. Atkinson, Superintendent Toronto Boys' Dominion; R. G. Dingman, Chairman Boys' Work Committee, Provincial Y. M. C. A.

The limit of of accomodation in Galt is 500. Mr. Taylor Statten, 15 Toronto Street, who is the Conference Direator, says that if the interest shown in Toronto is any indication of the attitude of the Sunday School and Y. M. C. A man throughout the country, it will be impossible to accept all the applications. The men who are interested in boys' work as Sunday School Teachers, Scout Masters Pastors or School Teachers, should communicate with Mr. Statten at once.

Roosevelt's Assailant Found To Be Insane

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 19.—That John Schrank, who shot Col. Theodore Roosevelt on the night of October 14 last, is insane will be the substance of an unanimous report of the five alienists appointed by Judge A. C. Backus to examine into the prisoner's mental condition, was the statement of a court official this afternoon.

Presuming that Schrank will be found insane, it will be impossible to try him on the charge of attempting to kill Col. Roosevelt The only alternative is confinen e.t in the hospital for criminal insane at Oshkosh.

Make Equal Famous Sire.

Attwood, Nov. 18—Mr. Dan McEwen, of London, the driver of the late lamented Eel—the horse with a continental reputation—was in Motherwell last week to see Mr. Bert Ross, the owner of Eel Jr. As a result of the interview Mr. McEwen has taken The Eel to London to train. It is quite among the possibilities that The Eel may rival or even eclipse the speed of his far-famed sire, in which case Mr. Ross will be the proud possessor of a very valuable piece of horseflesh.

A petition has been filed against the return of Alex. Morrison in Mcdonald for the House of Commons

A resident of Maberly, was fined $25 and $13.35 costs in the Brockville police court on Friday for furnishing a resident of that town who was on the prohibited list with liquor. The money was paid.

Mr. J. C. Williams, agent of the G. N. W. at Arnprior, started out with another man, a few nights ago to deliver a message to a C. N. R. contractor across the river. They were making the trip in a motor boat and without warning they found themselves in a jam of logs in the Chats Rapids with the wind blowing a gale. For four hours the men yelled for help and swung a candle lantern. At last cries were heard on the Quebec shore and some men put off in boats and rescued them from their perilous position.

Toronto Pacer Sold for $7500.

There was deal consummated at Dufferin track at Toronto on Saturday last which will be news and no doubt a surprise to many of the patrons of rhe light harness horse. Grand Opera, owned by John Moore, was sold to two Toronto gentlemen, who are among the most enthusiastic harness horsemen of this city, viz., J. H. Smith, the genial C. P. R. land department's head agent, who has offices at 61 Yonge street, and S. A. Procter, the well-known proprietor of the Wilson House. These two gentlemen have been for some days negotiating for the purchase, but the deal was not finally put thru till Saturday, Price $7500.

Grand Opera is a son of Claude Forrester, dam Little Belle.

Grand Opera's performances the past year are so well known to all those interested in harness races that it is needless to repeat them. Mr. Moore, his former owner, has been jogging him ever since the trip down the Grand Circuit and says he is better than ever and he looks the part.

The many friends of Messrs. Smith and Proctor will wish them every success with their new purchase. Billie Simms (2.13¼), by Guy Rex, is also owned by the same gentleman, who will have a good pair to draw to down the ice this winter.

Grand Opera is well known in this district, having been sired at Merrickville and owned and trained by Mr. Jas. Mills until she sold him to Mr. Moore of Ottawa, a couple of years ago.

A telegram has aince been received stating that yesterday he had died. The remains are expected here to-morrow evening.

Pool Hustler Kills Pursuer.

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 16—Victor Ross, a young pool hustler, entered Lewis, Brothers' crowded cafe at an early hour this morning and tried to hold up a number of customers at the point of a revolver He began shooting up the place, and then ran into the street and started toward Howard avenue. Among several men who started in pursuit was Samuel Law, an em ployee of the Canadian Northern, who outstripped the other pursuers. Ross turned and fired at Law, the bullet enterieg the left ear and passing thru the base of the brain.

Ross is still at large. Before coming to Edmonton he was well known around the Calgary poolrooms. The chief of police says the shooting was about some woman over whom the men had quarreled, but this story does not seem of much value, as Law has been in town only a short time, and as far as can be learned does not know his assailant. There may possibly be something in the explanation, however, as both men formerly resided in Vancouver, and there may have been a quarrel there.

Samuel Salt, fireman, was killed and Geo. Cook, engineer, badly bruised and scalded, when a locomotive boiler exploded at Hamilton Junction.

Imperial Limited Narrowly Escapes Being Wrecked.

Calgary, Alta., Nov. 16—The Imperial Limited, at three o'clock on Thursday morning, on its way to Calgary from the east, was derailed at a point two miles east of Cluny.

The attempt to wreck the train was the work of some desperado or desperadoes.

Only the keen vision of Engineer Fitzgerald prevented an accident that would have been perhaps more disastrous than any that has occurred for a long time. He put on the brakes and got the train down to a low speed before the engine collided with the obstruction, with the result that the front truck only jumped the rails, and the train came to a stop with a sudden jerk.

The workmen soon had the track repaired and the engine trnck back on the rails and the train arrived in Calgary three hours late.

Make Criminal Code Cover Ne Temere.

Ottawa, Nov. 15—It is understood that E. A. Lancaster, the father of the famous Lancaster marriage bill, which received its death-blow at the hands of the British Privy Council last summer, has evolved a new method to insure that the ne temere or similar decrees shall have no effect in Canada.

Mr. Lancaster has been unwillingly convinced by the ruling of the Privy Council that it is not within the power ot Parliament under the British North America Act, to enact a universal marriage law. He is further convinced that any attempt upon his part to have the constitution changed would have little hope of success in the face of opposition from one of the Provinces of Confederation.

The scheme which it is said Mr. Lancaster has determlned upon, is one which contemplates no change in the constitution. In brief, it is to amend the criminal code, so as to declare that anyone promulgating or seeking to make operative the ne temere, motu proprio or any other ecclesiastical decree of any kind purporting to override civil law, shall be guilty of an indictable offence.

There are many in Ontario, it is said, who would prefer such an amendment to the criminal code to a Federal marriage law, and it is stated that if Mr. Lancaster does not undertake to submit such a bill there are several other Ontario members who are ready and anxious to do so.

Mr. Lancaster belives that there is an Imperial precedent for such a measure in the home rule bfll which is now before the British Parliament.

Two huge power schemes are before the Government, the Long Sault and Eastern Canada Conpanies both wanting permission to dam the St. Lawrence above Montreal.

Bold Burglars.

Thieves entered the store of Sheets Bros., at Farran's Point, in the early hours of Thursday morning during the heavy east wind and rain storm, by smashing a pane of glass in the east side of the new addition recently built, and made their exit through a back door. They helped themselves to $100 worth of goods, including two good overcoats, two suits of clothes, sweaters, underwear, two leather-topped caps, shoes, rubber, ladies' stockings of which they cut off the tops at the depot, also about $15 dollars worth of jack knives, the most valuable ones, eatables and many other articles. There only remained about 50 cents in the till which they broke and rifled. A light was seen at the G. T. R. depot at about 2 a. m., where they disposed of their old clothes and put on the new. By all appearances it looks as if this were not the only little town they had visited, as they left behind them a pair of socks with Rev. J. S. McPhee's name on them. Two men, a tall and shorter one, have visited the concessions for several days also have been seen around the depot. Every effort will be put forth to catch the thieves. They worked their way with matches, and places where they were dropped in boxes were pretty well burned. Sheets Bros., escaped luckily that their establishment were not burned to the ground. There has been considerable petty thieving going on around here lately and left unpunished. It is time now to take the matter in hand.

North Bay Votes for Public Power.

North Bay, Nov. 18—The North Bay electors approved the policy of municipal ownership of the electric light plant, the Hydro by-law being carried by a majority of 873, while the ten-year franchise asked by the Nipissing Power Company was defeated by a majority of 537. The success of the Hydro-Electric by-law was largely due to the efforts of Gordon Wilson, M. P., Wentworth, who spent last week here at the request of Hon. Adam Beck, chairman of the Provincial Power Commission. Mr. Beck himself, Mayor Scott, of Galt, and Messrs. Yates and Leacock, of the Hydro-Electric staff, also made speeches here.

Charlottetown, P. E. The fact that Russia is to start fox breeding should give great impetus to the industry here.

FOUGHT WITH KNIVES.

Sensational Duel In Arkansas' First State Legislature.

During the session of the first legislature that convened after Arkansa became a state, the new capitol, then still in an uncompleted condition, received a baptism of blood when, in 1837, J. J. Anthony, representative from Randolph county, was slain in a knife duel by John Wilson, speaker of the house of representatives, during an open session of the house.

In the course of a debate on a trivial matter Anthony offered a resolution, which was construed as a thrust at Speaker Wilson. The speaker became enraged and ordered Anthony to take his seat. Anthony refused to do so. This enraged Wilson still more, and, leaving the chair, he advanced down the aisle toward Anthony, drawing a knife as he did so. Anthony stated he had acted in jest, but Wilson refused to be pacified.

Anthony then also drew a knife and stepped from behind his desk to await Wilson's onslaught. Grandison D. Royston, who sat near by, thrust a chair between the combatants, but the latter struck at each other over the obstacle. Suddenly Anthony's knife was struck from his hand, and he was left defenseless. Wilson raised the chair and plunged his knife into Anthony's body, Anthony expiring almost instantly.

Speaker Wilson was immediately expelled from the house and Grandison D. Royston was elected speaker in his place. Wilson was indicted, but when tried in Saline county on a change of venue he was acquitted on the ground of excusable homicide. The killing and the subsequent acquittal of Wilson caused a tremendous sensation throughout the state.—Farm and Ranch.

DEFIED THE KAISER.

A Pilot Who Knew His Business and Had Lots of Nerve.

In a fit of impatience because the speed of his yacht was slowed down on entering a certain harbor, the German emperor on one occasion tried to assert his authority and rang the bell for "Full speed ahead." To his great surprise, the pilot, an old Norwegian named Nordhuns, who knew the dangerous character of the channel, placed himself in the way and, leaning over the wheel, called down the tube to the engine room, "Half speed ahead—never mind the bell!"

"What! You dare to countermand my orders?" cried the impetuous monarch, again ringing the bell.

"Disregard the bell," calmly repeated Nordhuns through the tube.

For a moment the kaiser glared at the intrepid pilot, and then, drawing himself up to his full height, said majestically, "Go below, sir, and report yourself under arrest."

"Leave the bridge!" thundered the Norwegian grimly, as he grasped the wheel more firmly. "This ship is in my charge, and I'll have no interference with my orders from emperor or seaman!"

The officers on deck hurried silently aft, wishing luck to the sturdy old sea dog, who, knowing that he had the law as well as common sense on his side, stood at his post unshaken by threats, unheeding commands, and steered the Hohenzollern safely into port.

The next day the emperor came to his senses and decorated the pilot—the king at the wheel—with one grade of the Order of the Black Eagle and also appointed him his life pilot in Norwegian waters.—Pearson's Weekly.

Oily Petrels.

Various sea birds, especially the petrels, contain a large amount of oil in their tissues, and for this reason are greatly valued by the inhabitants of the Scottish coasts, who obtain from them "oil for their lamps, down for their beds, a delicacy for their table, a balm for their wounds and a medicine for their distemper." On the island of St. Kilda as many as 20,000 birds are killed in the one week of the year when this killing is legal. So rich in oil are some of these birds that their bodies can be used as lamps if wicks are passed through them.—London Live Stock Journal.

Early Welfare Work.

The "sick fund" among factory employees was known as far back as the first quarter of the nineteenth century, a manufacturing company at Dover having established it for the benefit of employees. A hospital for factory operatives was established in Lowell in 1839. The charges were $4 a week for the men and $3 for the women. If they were not able to pay, the employing corporation became responsible.—New York Evening Post.

ODD COURTS MARTIAL.

Solemn Farces That Have Been Enacted In the British Navy.

It is a rule in the British navy that when a ship is cast away or otherwise lost a court martial must sit in order to apportion the blame. Sometimes these courts really try and condemn those that are held to be responsible. At other times their duties are, from the very nature of the catastrophe, more or less nominal.

Thus, when the Serpent was lost off the Spanish coast, a court martial assembled and solemnly "tried" three ordinary bluejackets, the sole survivors, although they of course had no more to do with the error in navigation which led up to the catastrophe than the man in the moon.

A similar solemn farce was enacted after the loss of the Captain in the bay of Biscay, when 483 officers and men lost their lives. In this case a gunner named James May, one of the eighteen who escaped from the wreck, was the nominal "culprit." The verdict was that the loss of the ship was due to instability and faulty construction. This really amounted to a vote of censure on Cowper Coles, the designer, but as he went down with the ungainly monster he had created he was beyond the reach of either blame or praise.

On another occasion a small "middy" of thirteen years of age was put upon trial, and once, it is said, a court martial assembled on a cat, which chanced to be the sole living thing found aboard a derelict frigate.

Omit Soap.

Do not use soap in cleaning paint. Soapsuds usually fog the polish and make the furniture look dingy. One tablespoonful of coal oil to a washpan of water applied sparingly with a moistened cloth will usually take the fog from any fine piece of furniture, even the piano. Do not use too much water on any painted, stained or varnished surface. Coal oil used alone will fog the wood, and too much of it used and left on will make the finest polish dull and sticky. Every particle of the oil should be either rubbed in or wiped off.

Princess Seeks a Divorce.

Vienna, Nov. 5.—Princess George of Bavaria yesterday filed a petition for the annulment of her marriage, according to the Frem Denblat.

Princess George, whose maiden name was Archduchess Isabella Maria of Austria, and who is a daughter of Archduke Frederick, was married only in February last, and ever since the ceremony quarrels between her and her husband are reported to have been frequent.

Prince George is a grandson of the Prince Regent of Bavaria. He is 32 years of age, and the archduchess is 23 years old.

Wireless Messages.

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—The new combined land rates for wireless messages which were decided upon during the National Wireless Conference last June will go into effect on December 1. By means of this new arrangement a message to a ship on the high seas can be handed in at any office in Canada on the C. P. R. and G. N. W. telegraph office could not be compelled to take such a message and only would do so after much trouble, especially in smaller towns. While there will not be much reduction in rates, the convenience to the people will be of estimable value.

It is believed that the same system will very shortly go into effect also in the United States, when like arraneements will be made with the Western Union and Postal Service. J. G. Debratis, deputy minister of naval service, represented Canada at the Conference.

Deanery of Stormont.

The annual Deanery meeting and Bishop's Conference of Stormont was held at Crysler on Nov. 5 and 6. His Grace, the Archbishop of Ottawa, presided. There was a very good attendance of both clergy and laity. The meetings were held in one of the public halls of the village. On the first afternoon, Tuesday, there was a gathering of the members of the Woman's Auxiliary, when helpful addresses were given by some of the clergy present. That evening at 7.30 o'clock there was an open meeting to which the public were invited. The hall was filled to the doors. Rev. Rural Dean Carson, M. A., gave a interesting address on "The Position of the Church of England, and the Privilege of belonging to it." He emphasized the fact that the church neither added to, nor took away from "The Faith once for all delivered to the Saints."

Other helpful addresses were given on various subjects, one dealing with the Prayer Book, being perhaps the most interesting. It was entitled. "The Advantages of Having a Prayer Book," and the following points were brought out. 1—It provides for the congregational worship as well as congregational singing. 2—We know beforehand what petitions we are going to offer to the King of Kings and Lord of Lords. 3—It is a bond of union between church people all over the world—on the same Sunday, using the same psalms, lessons, collects, epistles, gospels, etc. 4—It provides a most reverent form of worship. 5—It is a safeguard against heresay. 6—The beautiful prayers memorized from the Prayer Book, have been a great comfort to people lying on a bed of sickness and in old age.

On Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock the Holy Eucharist was celebrated by His Grace, the Archbishop of Ottawa, assisted by Rural Dean Carson and Rev. R. H. Archer Matins was said in the church at 9.30 and at 10 a. m. the clergy met for their business session at the rectory and the ladies of the hall.

At 1 p. m, a fine luncheon was served to all the delegates at the home of Mrs. John Wright.

In the afternoon at the open meeting four valuable papers were read. The subjects were: Missionary Work in the Sunday School," by Rev. G. Jones; "The Vestry," by Rev. R. H. Archer; "Systematic Giving," by Rev. G. S. Anderson; and "The Necessity of Strong Leadership on the Part of the Episcopate and Priesthood," by D. P. Wagner, B. A. The last paper was an exceptionally good one and received hearty applause.

The Provincial Treasurer of Quebec announced a sulprus of more than 680,000, and a reductiod of debt.

The drydock Duke of Connaught, at Montreal, was formally inaugurated by his Royal Highness the Governor-General.

Echoes From Horses' Skulls.

Those curious twists and turns superstitions take are to be found in the introduction of horses' skulls in or about the church buildings in England and Scotland, the reason alleged being to help the sound in church. This habit is unquestionably a relic of heathenism where an animal was sacrificed. Some years ago, when an old meeting house in Edinburgh was pulled down, the sounding board space above the pulpit was found to be filled with horses' skulls. In some parts of England there still exists the idea that if a horse's head is buried in a field there will be an echo.

Quite Frank About It.

"So you are going to marry Tom?"

"You saw the announcement, didn't you?"

"Yes, but"—

"It wasn't a fake."

"But, dearie—I never thought that Tom would be your choice."

"Tom ain't my choice. He's my chance. Have you any other questions to ask, darling?"

Darling decided she hadn't.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Shaping a Nose.

Massage will help very largely to improve the shape of the nose. This is done with the thumb and forefinger applied to each side of the nose. Begin at the bridge and work down to the end of the nose with gentle pressure and a rotary motion. Let the finger work carefully into the seams formed where the nose joins the face. In this way the wings of the nose can be shaped by the fingers and wonderfully narrowed if persisted in every day for some months.

BULL RING TACTICS

Spain's Great National "Sport" and the Shame of It.

IT IS NOT A TEST OF BRAVERY

The Game of Blind Man's Buff Requires More Courage Than Does the Work of the Toreador—The Poor Hack Horses Are the Real Victims.

The great majority of the spectators were Spanish. Here were young dandies in faultless suits and boots of the most brilliant patent leather. Now enters a woman in the famous mantilla of white lace, reserved solely for the bullfight. There one saw father, mother and little children of quite tender years. A special box, immediately over the door by which the bulls would enter, was reserved for the president of the fight and his friends.

In the ring stood half a dozen policemen. They remained in the arena all through the proceedings, but there were wooden shelters at intervals behind which they discreetly retired when the bull approached. Half a dozen red buckets filled with water stood in a row on the sanded floor. A band, just below our seats, played lively airs.

The audience being now complete, the first matador marched round the arena with his little troupe of picadors (on horseback), toreadors (with red cloaks to wave in front of the bull) and banderilleros, the last named carrying darts which were presently to be planted in the back of the bull.

The toreador is quite a minor personage. The star performer, after the bull, is the matador, who deals the deathblow with his sword. All the other people that I have mentioned are under the control of the matador.

The weapons were now inspected by the president, the men and horses retired and the first bull trotted into the arena. He was a big fellow, rather slow moving, and he stood for some little time in the center of the arena gazing about him at the general scene. The band was playing gayly all this time. A couple of toreadors advanced and set the bull in motion by waving their cloaks just in front of his horns.

It is commonly supposed in this country that the toreador is a magnificently brave person who risks his life for the pleasure of the excited populace. That is quite a mistake. The bull never goes for the man, but always for the cloak. So long as the toreador holds the cloak to one side instead of in front of him and has the usual amount of common sense and ability there is no reason at all why he should receive a scratch, and I believe that he very rarely receives even a scratch. If he is fool enough to get drunk before he enters the arena, that is another matter. Under ordinary conditions anybody who is pretty good at "blind man's buff" could do the work of the toreador. The bull, as a matter of fact, cannot turn so quickly as the "blind man."

After a little of this teasing from the toreadors a picador advanced, lance ready poised. Here is the really cruel part of bullfighting, the part that makes it hideously revolting to all decent people. The horse ridden by the picador is a poor old hack, and it is brought into the arena for no other purpose than to be killed by the bull in the sight of the populace. There is a bandage over one eye so that the horse cannot see the deadly approaching horn of the bull. The picador rides his horse right up to the bull, and the bull is allowed plenty of time to gore the horse to death. Not the slightest attempt is made to save the horse. I want to emphasize this because one had always understood that the horses were killed more or less by accident.

Why are the horses brought in to be killed? Champions of bullfighting will tell you that the death of the horse saves the life of the matador, that it gives the picador an opportunity of inflicting the first wound and that the mere act of goring the horse robs the bull of his natural strength. Twaddle! What the picador does could be done just as well by men on foot or by a man on a trapeze or in fifty ways. The horses are killed to make a slaughter for the crowd, who are angry if they do not see enough blood.

The death of the poor horse I will leave you to imagine. It is altogether too horrible and too pitiful for detailed description.

Now comes the turn of the banderilleros. Each has two little darts. These darts must be placed in the back of the bull, just about the end of the neck, from in front of the animal. This requires skill and speed. It is the only part of the whole proceeding which reflects the slightest credit for bravery or agility upon the men in the arena.

The bull, after being wounded by the picador, is now carrying the darts of the banderilleros in his back. Naturally he is bleeding profusely and is nearly dead. It is the proud work of the matador to finish him off with one thrust of his sword. He stands in front of the bull, who waits for the thrust with lowered head. The wretched business is quickly over, and the carcass is drawn from the arena by four horses.

That is the story of the Spanish bullfight, told in cold, bald prose. Considered as a test for bravery, I cannot find a better comparison than the one I have already used, "blind man's buff." Considered as a national sport, it would be incredible if one had not witnessed it with one's own eyes.—Kebt Howard in London Mail.

HIS BAPTISM OF FIRE.

The Sensation Was Different From What He Expected.

A curious story of a Lieutenant Harford of the Ninety-ninth regiment, who served in a Zulu campaign, is told by Colonel Hamilton Browne in "A Lost Legionary In South Africa."

"He was a charming companion, one of the very best, but he was a crazy motha nd beetle hunter and would run about on the hottest days with a landing net to catch butterflies and other insects. He, moreover, collected and treasured snakes, scorpions and loathsome beasts of all sorts. He had never been under fire before and had on two or three occasions talked to me about a man's feelings while undergoing his baptism of fire.

"Well, we were in rather a hot corner, and he was standing to my right rear when I heard an exclamation, and, turning round, saw him lying on the ground, having dropped his sword and revolver.

"'Good heavens, Harford,' I said, 'you are hit!'

"'No, sir,' he replied, 'not hit, but I have caught such a beauty!'

"And there the lunatic, in his first action and under a heavy fire, his qualms of nervousness all forgotten, had captured some microbe or other and was blowing its wings out, as unconscious of the bullets striking the rocks all round him as if he had been in his garden at home!"

A PLEA THAT WON THE JURY.

How an Eloquent Kentucky Lawyer Freed a Guilty Man.

John J. Crittenden, the eloquent Kentucky lawyer of a past generation, was once defending a murderer. Every one knew the man was guilty, but the eloquence of Crittenden saved him.

"Gentlemen," said Crittenden at the end of his great plea, "'to err is human, to forgive divine.' When God conceived the thought of man's creation he called to him three ministering virtues, who wait constantly upon the throne—justice, truth and mercy—and thus addressed them:

"'Shall we make this man?'

"'O God, make him not,' said Justice sternly, 'for he will surely trample upon thy laws.'

"'And Truth, what sayest thou?'

"'O God, make him not, for none but God is perfect, and he will surely sin against thee.'

"'And Mercy, what sayest thou?'

"Then Mercy, dropping upon her knees and looking up through her tears, exclaimed:

"'O God, make him! I will watch over him with my care through all the dark paths he may have to tread.'

"Then, brothers, God made man and said to him: 'O man, thou art the child of Mercy. Go and deal mercifully with all thy brothers.'"—Denver Republican.

The Carpet Cure.

Matrimony reduced the Smith household until there was nothing left of it but the old couple, neither of whom looks old enough to be in the father and mother in law class. When Bessie got married Papa Smith took possession of her room, and it has been his study, library, smoking room and growlery since then, and its condition made the life of his otherwise happy wife a burden. "Since he has his room," she complained, "John has developed a passion for disorder which would break a housekeeper's heart." "Is there a carpet on the floor?" she was asked. "No." "Is there a rug?" "No; he wouldn't have one." "Well, surprise him and have a carpet put down," was her friend's advice, and it was followed. "He was a little surprised to find it," said the woman, "but from that day the floor has not been littered, there's more order on the desk and the place looks tidy. John doesn't know it, but he could serve as a living specimen of the carpet cure."—New York Tribune.

Birds Big Eaters.

Baby robins have been observed to eat half their own weight of beef scraps, digest all this within three hours and then be ready for another meal.

A pair of red eyed vireos were noted by a naturalist to feed their offspring over a hundred times in ten hours. Grosbeaks, sworn enemies of the Colorado potato beetle, have been seen to assimilate almost a hundred caterpillars or larvae an hour. Over 3,000 aphids have perished by the bills of the insect loving yellow throats in the same period of time.—Suburban Life Magazine.

In any soil, on any farm, the CLIMAX earns money for you every minute you use it

Very Strong

You can rip sod land with the CLIMAX and a 3-horse team—so it MUST be built strong! Yet the teeth won't smash if they strike a stone—their joints unlock and fly back to pass over unharmed.

Manitoba College used a CLIMAX on land rank with wild mustard; got rid of that bad weed; and grew oats 71 inches in the straw without a weed in the whole crop! The CLIMAX certainly does destroy weeds!

Easy Handled

Each pole has a tilting lever; and these, with the pressure lever — all in easy reach of operator — exactly regulate depth of cut. Teeth go right for the roots of the weeds, and rip them out of the soil.

This is the stiff-tooth cultivator that gets the weeds OUT of the soil—not merely cuts off their tops or just tickles the roots a little. On dirty land you surely need the

Frost & Wood Climax Cultivator

You can have your choice of points—2, 4, 7 or 10 inch. You ought to learn all the merits of this money-making weed-banisher. May we send you Catalogue ?

BUSY MEN AID GREAT WORK.

Influential Deputation Urge Large Grant Toward Tuberculosis Fund.

No more influential assemblage of business men has ever been seen at Toronto City Hall than the deputation which recently waited upon the Board of Control, to ask that the ratepayers be allowed to vote upon a By-law granting $200,000 as Toronto's contribntion to the million-dollar King Edward Memorial Fund for Consumptives. The chief spokesman, Sir John Gibson, Lieutenant-Governor, presented a petition signed by himself, Sir Edmund Walker, Sir Edmund Osler, Z. A. Lash, Duncan Coulsan, D. R. Wilkie, W. G. Gooderham, C. D. Massey, A. E. Ames, S. J. Moore, W. K. McNaught, John Northway, Dr. Robert Falconer, and James Kerr Osborne. The leaders of affairs in Queen City, supported by fifty others of equal prominence, endorsed the proposed grant unreservedly, on the ground that Toronto shared with the rest of the province in the incalculable benefits resulting from the magnificent work carried on by the National Sanitarium Association. Mayor Hocken and the Board of Control gave the deputation a most gratifying reception, and promised that the By-law asked for would be favorably recommended to the City Council. This promise the Board has fulfilled. The standing of the men who so enthusiastically endorsed the grant leaves little doubt as to the verdict of the citizens at large when the By-law is submitted.

Toronto To Vote On Tax Reform

"Are you in favor of applying for legislation to assess improvements on a lower basis than land?" This question will be submitted to the electors of Toronto on January 1 next, and a by-law for this purpose will be introduced at the next meeting of the City Council. The Board of Control decided this yesterday, when Controller Church brought the question up. He stated that by "improvements," buildings, business tax and income were meant.

J. P. Fox Dead.

News reached our town on Saturday of the sudden death at Winchester that day of Mr. J. P. Fox, who is well known throughout the County of Dundas, he having been for years Secretary of the Farmers' Institute, and also contested this county at one election for Parliamentary Honors. It seems that he and his wife were out spending the evening on Friday and he returned home in advance of his wife. When Mrs. Fox returned she found him unconscious, and in that state he remained until about nine o'clock Saturday morning, when life ebbed away. The funeral took place on Monday.

Six Hunered Trainloads Came In Seven Months.

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—During the seven months, April 1 to November 1, of the current fiscal year, 300,851 immigrants arrived in Canada. Of this number 200,701 arrived at ocean ports, and 100,-140 from the United States. These figures show an increase of 13 per cent. as compared with the nnmber of araivrls for the corresponding months of last fiscal year which were 172,260 at ocean ports, and 93,578 from the United States, moking a total for the seven months, April 1 to November 1 1911, of 265,833 perrsons.

During the month of October, this year, there were 27,192 arrivals, 16,711 of them having been at ocean ports, and 10,481 from the Unietd States, as against 23,902 for October last year, 13,646 of whom were at ocean ports, and 10256 fron the States.

The immigration to Canada for the last seven months is three times as great as the population of the Province of Prince Edward Island or thirty-five times that of Yukon. It would take six hundand one passenger trains of ten coaches each, averaging fifty persons to a coach, to accomodate this number of immigrants.

Byron Lane, who has published The Winchester Press for a quarter of a century, and the dean of the Dundas press, has disposed of his business to Geo. Lacey, of Hillsburg, brother-in-law of O. D. Casselman, Chesterville, at one time President of the Dundas Conservative Association. It is rumored that The Press will flop over to the Tory column, as if it was anything else but a Tory paper, and toot the claims of O. D. as successor to Andrew Broder in the Dominion parliament. The News is sorry to hear of Bro. Lane's intended removal from the County with an idea of going West, for he is a good newspaper man and enjoys the confidence and respect of the people of Dundas. Our prayers go with you, Byron, to the wooly West.—Iroquois News.

Murger's Last Words.

In the diary of Baron d'Ambes, published as "The Intimate Memoirs of Napoleon III.," is this entry for January, 1861:

"I was with Aime Millet (the sculptor), who was the last that spoke to him (Murger, the writer). And what do you think he said to Millet? 'Mind you * * * there are only three things in life—friendship, love and'— He could not finish, he was choking * * * The man fell silent awhile, then went on again, fascinated, 'Friendship—love' — I wish I knew what the third thing was."

One Universal Symbol.

"Scientists at work on a universal language have one symbol to start with that already has the same meaning the world over," a traveler said. "That is the skull and crossbones. Its speech is even more universal than music or money. Musical values differ in different countries, as does money, but from one end of the earth to the other a skull and crossbones means poison."—New York Times.
