CRUMBS from Graham's Loaf

Got around to checking out the summer Castle last weekend. We long ago joined the family of humans who believe in spending their summer leisure away from the regular den. Up at Little Chesterville, a number of congenial souls get the same idea just about now. There the rushing waters of the mighty Rideau sooth the savage breast and calm the harried beast.

About 12 years ago, the location was pointed out as being an ideal spot for a summer cottage. One look and we were not convinced. The land was out of sight under a thick stand of black alders, the water was not exactly rushing on account of a luscious weed gowth and the trail laughingly called a road left something to be desired. But the price was right, crumbs were scarce and we took it.

The land has appeared long since from the buckbrush. The river front has been corseted by cement and a patch or two of grass struggles to stay green. We have enlarged the tent into a frame dwelling that keeps out most of the rain, installed a large refrigerator, cut holes in the veranda floor to let out the heavy dew that seeps in. The river looks just the same. Weeds are as plentiful as ever in spite of the noble efforts of weed cutters; but then without weeds, one would have trouble catching fish. And a while back the road suddenly blossomed out with a whole new look, cased in asphalt and gravel.

The winter had been fairly kind to the Castle. It had only sunk another couple of inches into the rather weak topsoil, the doors stuck at exactly the same places and only two dead starlings offered a mute monument to a deadly curiosity on their part. We were thankful that thieves had decided our denuded condition was not worth another visit this year. As a result, our meagre possessions there seem to be intact.

All in all, the summer cottage is rather a nice haven to flee to at the end of a busy week. The telephone there is non-existent, the canoe is getting less and less tiresome now that the SC is big and strong and can paddle stern. And on top of that Sandy Claws left us a small new boat and engine to replace the one the thieves borrowed. It promises to be just the thing to get around in, even though the size is just a little less than the Queen Mary and the horse power not quite equal to a torpedo boat. We can hardly wait to see what happens to the Rideau when all that machinery churns away from the dock, cutting swaths through the Rideau underwater lawns.

Government Branch starts housing survey

Response to questionnaire may decide

Response to a survey now being conducted here by the Housing Branch of the Department of Economics and Development, will determine whether Chesterville is to get low rental homes. This was disclosed by Mr Clare McElroy, representative of the Housing Branch, when he said results largely depend on the interest shown by people desiring low rental homes.

The survey follows a request made to the department by Town Council last January. If it reveals a need then the municipality may enter into a housing scheme with the Federal and Provincial Goverments. Under the scheme the federal Government contributes 75 per cent of the cost, the Provincial Government 17½ per cent and the municipality 7½ per cent.

Mr McElroy will contact industrial heads, clergy, building inspectors and other municipal personnel while in Chesterville. He adds, however, that a major factor in determining whether or not the town can qualify for a low-rental housing scheme will be the public response to a questionnaire.

Get Own Copy

Copies of this questionnaire may be obtained at the office of reeve Carl Merkley, any industrial plant or at The "Record." Mr McElroy emphasizes that the onus is on the person interested in low rental housing to obtain a questionnaire. "We only make them available," he said.

Elaborating, Mr McElroy said this point is important in determining the survey results. "There must be an interest shown by people in a renting proposition." He told of cases where the need for such housing was obvious but a lack of response in filling out questionnaires was taken to mean the people weren't interestd and so no homes were built.

Mr McElroy feared the questionnaire might be interpreted as a "gimmick" by some people. "This is not so," he said. "The questionnaire is Government-sponsored and the information provided is for survey purposes only. It does not involve commitments of any sort." He added that the information is kept "strictly" confidential.

The branch representative said the questionnaire not only determines the results of the survey but also would indicate the size of homes needed. The questionnaires are now available and must be completed before Friday, May 25, he said.

For Two Groups

These Government - sponsored low rental housing schemes actually cater to two groups, explained Mr McElroy. He designates these as families with at least one child and whose gross income (husband or husband and wife) does not exceed $4,200 a year; and individuals or couples 60 years old or over.

According to him rents are based on 20 per cent of the family income. For the limited salary bracket this works out to families earning about $357 a month maximium. On the other hand a family which earns only $200 would pay but $40 a month.

Where husbands and wives both work their salaries are totalled to represent the gross income.

And the rent paid does not determine the size of a house allotted for a family, explains Mr McElroy. This is done according to the number in a family. "It is possible that a couple with three children but lower income would be living in a home larger than their neighbour who has only one child but pays more rent."

Homes under this subsidized scheme range from one to five bedroom types, said Mr McElroy. A couple with one child likely would be given a two-bedroom home while a family with four children (two boys and two girls) would get a three bedroom house.

Mr McElroy said a report of the survey would be completed within a month. Three months however may lapse before the Governments reach a decision on the need for such a scheme in Chesterville.

Dr. Bob Watters chosen standard bearer for Grenville - Dundas Liberal Assoc.

Tuesday night Liberals of Grenville-Dundas riding chose a candidate for the forthcoming June 18th election. He is Dr Robert Watters, a young family doctor of Prescott. He is 40 years old.

Spencerville Town Hall was the scene of the meeting. It was crammed to the walls with standing room at a premium. It was estimated over 300 persons were on hand.

Featured speaker was William Henderson, a past president of the Ontario Liberal Federation. He was most optimistic about Liberal chances on the 18th of June. Across the province, the enthusiasm has been "tremendous." It was his claim that Prime Minister John Diefenbaker has been a muddler in leadership. The speaker called attention to the CBC affair, the Coyne affair, interference in B.C. provincial affairs, and a growing reputation of arrogance in power. This in spite of repeated claims that the rights of Parliament would be respected.

Mr Henderson said the present Conservative government has been against the Common Market program of Europe, in spite of almost complete agreement with its principals among the other countries of the Western world.

He closed with a claim that the Pearson team is just as strong if not stronger than the former good Liberal administrations. The Liberal leader, he said, is a famous economist, an excellent leader and a first-rate politician.

Dr Watters was nominated by C. F. McInnis, Morrisburg lawyer. In his remarks, Mr McInnis stressed the need to get away from "the family compact" of Grenville-Dundas. He felt the change that was welling up in Canada was going to be felt strongly in the riding. In introducing his nomination, the lawyer said the candidate needed to be experienced in his profession, youthful enough to add strength to the Pearson team, have a dedicated ambition to serve and above all to be a confirmed Grit. He felt his nominee had these attributes.

Dr Watters was chosen unanimously after another nomination, that of George Beavers, of Morrisburg, was withdrawn.

Other speakers included Earl Lindsay, regional campaign manager for the party, Mark Salmon, former candidate, and Mrs Lillian Allison, former provincial candidate.

Margaret Dillabough chosen for "Adventure in Citizenship"

Margaret Dillabough

Margaret Dillabough, a student of Chesterville High School, will soon be starting on an "Adventure in Citizenship" which will take the form of a four-day, event-filled visit to the nation's capital. Margaret is being sponsored by the Rotary Club of Chetserville to participate in this 12th annual project of the Rotary Club of Ottawa.

Along with 220 other boys and girls from every Canadian province, the Northwest Territories and the Yukon, each one sponsored by a Rotary Club, Miss Dillabough will tour the Parliament Buildings, visit the National Gallery, Rideau Hall, the residence of the Governor-General, the RCMP Training Centre at Rockciffe Park, Ottawa's City Hall and other points of interest.

Under the guidance of the National Capital Commission the young visitors will be shown sights of present day Ottawa and a preview of the national capital is it is planned for the future. They will take part in group discussions at Carleton University bearing on the subjects of government and political science. A feature of the trip will be the ceremony on the last day of the visit during which each boy and girl will receive a Canadian Citizenship Certificiate from the Hon. Ellen Fairclough, Minister of Citizenship and Immigration.

The 221 students who are taking part in the 1962 Ottawa visit were selected on the basis of scholastic standing, participation in school activities and ability in public speaking. After their "Adventure in Citizenship" is over each student is scheduled to describe his or her experiences and impressions to home-town audiences.

Construction underway for new bowling lanes in Finch

Six modern bowling lanes for Finch and surrounding area became a reality when construction of the new building began on May 7th.

The new bowling lanes located on Front St., next to Shaver's Restaurant will be fitted with the most modern line of bowling equipment designed to provide the utmost in comfort and convenience for the bowlers.

Helms Bowling Lanes announced recently that the 100' by 35½' building will be of cement block construction and that the contract for the erection of the building had been awarded to Wiseman and Thompson of Finch.

Since 1947 the Canadian Cancer Society has provided $9,688,966 for research and research facilities.

Council asked to raise $122,000 for new C. P. S.

Members of Chesterville Public School met with village council last Thursday night. The chairman, Lorne Thompson, had on hand a notice of tentative approval from the Department of Education for the construction of a new six-room school. The cost would be in the neighbourhood of $122,000. Council was asked to forward a money resolution to the Department of Municipal Affairs, asking for permission to raise the money. This was done with a minimum of discussion and the memorandum has gone forward.

Water system extensions are under consideration. It is planned to cross the highway north of the White Rose station with a six-inch pipe to service the new Nestlé properties. Two new houses are planned there in the near future.

At Cornwallis--

Newington bowlers hold final banquet

The bowlers of Newington Bowling Lanes held their fourth annual banquet at the Cornwallis Hotel, Cornwall, Wednesday evening.

Invocation was asked by Arthur Zeran and the toast to the Queen was proposed by Bowling Lanes president Doug Zeran.

A sumptuous dinner of turkey and all the trimmings was enjoyed by the more than 200 persons present. During the dinner each lady was presented with a cup and saucer, compliments of Newington Bowling Lanes.

Head table members besides Bowling Lanes president Doug Zeran and Mrs Zeran, vice-president James Webber and Mrs Webber were Keith Graham, editor and publisher of the Chesterville Record, and Mrs Graham and the president of each league and their wives: President Eldon Thompson of the Newington Mixed League and Mrs Thompson, president Burns Hutt of the Finch Mixed League and Mrs Hutt, president Irvie Cutt of the Industrial League and Mrs Cutt, president John Simpson of the Goodyear League and Mrs Simpson, president John Gove of the Newington West Mixed League and Mrs Gove, president Mildred Ross of the Ladies' League and Gordon Ross, president Hamie Summers of the Osnabruck Mixed League and Mrs Summers, and president Garnet Droppo of the Chesterville Mixed League and Mrs Droppo

After a delicious dinner the bowlers were thanked for their attendance over the past season by Doug Zeran who reminded them that this was their banquet, made possible by their co-operation, and expressed the hope that they would enjoy themselves fully.

Doug Zeran was chairman of trophy presentation ceremonies, ably assisted by Jim Webber, Cliff Rombough and Dutch Thompson. Each winning team member was presented with a gold plaque with their league, season and name engraved upon it by the Newington Bowling Lanes.

We offer our sincere congratulations to her. Mrs Fyke is active and well, lives alone and does all her own work.

Crysler Mixed Bowling League holds wind-up banquet

The Crysler Mixed Bowling League ended a season of very successful bowling with a banquet held at the Bruce MacDonald Motor Hotel on May 2nd, 1962. The evening was presided over by the President, Lois Ouderkirk and the trophies were presented by Dr. D. G. McMillan.

A trophy donated by C. R. Wert, Crysler, Ont., was presented to team captain Jack Armstrong and his team for winning the play-offs. Members of the team were: Delburn Baker, Raymond Beehler, Marilyn Ouderkirk and Miranda McRae. Each received a small individual trophy.

A season trophy donated by Townlanes Bowlerama of Cornwall, Ont., was presented to team captain Jack McRae and his team for placing first during the season. Members of the team were: George Cockburn, Lillian Johnstone, Shirley Ouderkirk and Gladys Carruthers. Each member was also presented with a small individual trophy.

Trophies were also given for Ladies High Triple, Jacqueline Meilleur with 740; Men's high triple, Jack Armstrong with 766; Ladies high single, Shirley Oud-

Newington Bowling Lanes annual banquet and prize night saw a turnout of over 200. Everyone had a fine time and the lavish display and handout of prizes was most interesting. Pictured above are the captains of the winning teams of the season. They are: Eric Rice, Junior Farmers' Borden's Trophy; Dutch Thompson, Industrial League Kraft Foods Trophy; Leona Sloan, Ladies' League Harry Gove Shield; Bryce Swerdfeger, Osnabruck Mixed League Cornwall Cycle Shop Trophy; Norma Hehir, Newington West Mixed League Mrs Alberta Zeran Trophy; Lyle Forsythe, Goodyear League Hodgin's Lumber Trophy; Rose Rutley, Finch Mixed League Ken MacMillan Trophy; Blake Feeley, Chesterville Mixed League Sullivan Bros. Trophy; George Anderson, Bogart Motor Sales Trophy. Absent when the picture was taken was Les McGinn, of the Newington Mixed League, winner of the McEwan and Webber Trophy.—Record Photo.

Central school approvals closer

Last week we mentioned that central school planning seemed to be awaiting approval of Toronto authorities. It was our information the plans had been approved by Ottawa and the delay at the Toronto end.

Minister of Municipal Affairs the Hon. F. M. Cass, reached by phone Monday to clear point of contention. He said it was not the Department of Education in Toronto that had been slow in getting out the approvals. Upon investigation, he found the necessary approval from the Department of Labour of the Federal government had only reached Toronto last Friday afternoon by the last mail. As the school is a Dominion-Provincial unit, both approvals must be on hand.

The minister assured this newspaper every effort would be expended to rush the plans and approvals forward now. He was confident the building program for a central school would soon be full steam ahead.

In 1961 a total of 84 cancer research projects were supported by the Canadian Cancer Society in 21 Canadian universities and research institutes.

OURS AND OTHERS

Public school progress rapid

Matters seem to be proceeding at a good rate with the local public school board members. They received their preliminary approval to build a new school in jig time from the Department of Education. Then they came in a body to Chesterville council to ask that the necessary money be forthcoming to raise the edifice.

Chesterville council members had little hesitation in doing their part. They were the ones in the first place who wondered out loud what the school board was doing about plans for a new school. The city fathers had budgets in mind, and any new school buildings in the offing might make some difference in their planning. The school board was prompt and needed little urging to explain their dilemmas and proposals to remedy them.

A resolution was framed and forwarded to the Department of Municipal Affairs asking that Chesterville village be allowed to raise a sum up to $122,000 in debentures. The money would be used to build a new 6-room public school to replace the present school.

The town credit picture has never been better. Except for the water system debt that is not classed as a debt in the matter of credit to build schools, the debenture debt of Chesterville is one of the best in all Eastern Ontario. A couple of payments of $1,500-$1,600 on the fire truck ,and that is all.

Clean-up Day comes once a year

We take a modest bow to our neighbours back of the office. We finally cleaned up the terrible eyesore there and wonder why we didn't do it long ago. Our friends said "thank you."

It suddenly occurred to us that we would have difficulty mentioning Clean-up Day in the village on Wednesday, May 16, unless we started at our own end of the premises.

For a couple of generations we have melted and burned rubbish out back of the shop. So have a lot of other business people. Our piles of ashes finally got out of hand and something had to be done to control the mess. Our blowing papers and flying, burning shreds were polluting the neighbourhood.

We called in the garbage collector, made a deal, crossed his palm with a weekly bit of silver, and lo, no more ashes, etc.

Next Wednesday will be Clean-up Day in the village. Dig around a bit and you are sure to find some useless stuff that can best be added to the village dump. The Heagle trucks will be picking it up all that day if you pile it at the roadside.

One of the ways to have clean streets is to have reasonably tidy back yards. Can Clean-up Day help get rid of the surplus litter?

That mutual aid fire thing

A few weeks ago we outlined some of our objections to the system of mutual aid for fire protection as it was then in being. We had some doubts as to the efficiency and plain horse sense of the route cards ad the second-call details.

A meeting a week ago in Winchester cleared up some of the points of protest. As a result the system appears to be off to a new and better lease of life.

This village is to be served first call by Winchester as always. Second call now will be Finch village equipment, not Crysler village as formerly. A most important change too, is the guarantee of responsibility when a second call for a bad fire goes to Cornwall headquarters for additional equipment. From now on, the caller must make the call authentic by using the proper code; unauthorized persons will not be able to order out equipment as has sometimes happened in the past.

It is good to see action taken on such an important matter as fire protection. Mutual aid for the Eastern Ontario district depends on close harmony of the many parts. If the parts can work with the oil of agreement, friction does not gum up the works.

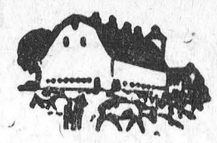
FRENDLEE FARM CHATS

By Lillian Allison



I didn't really spend the weekend in Upper Canada Village. It just seemed like that.

About six weeks ago Rita asked me to stay over at her house in Westport after the meeting on Saturday. She was planning a sort of hen party for six or eight of us. I was delighted. I'd never been to Westport let alone to her house so it was doubly exciting. All I knew was that Westport was on one of the Rideau Lakes; It was a tourist centre; and Rita had an antique shop there.

"There's Westport," our navigator pointed out as we began to circle the lake late Saturday afternoon. The little village was sitting on the water's edge three or four miles away snuggled against the foot of a very high hill. (I found out the hill is called "The Mountain.") "Do you see that road going up the Mountain?" my guide continued. "Well Rita lives on that road."

We drove through Westport (Pop. 710) crossed a small bridge in a sort of causeway and stopped. "Here we are," she said. The road continued on the level for a couple of hundred feet, curved to make a steep, winding ascent up the Mountain then disappeared into the trees. I was a bit disappointed that Rita didn't live away up there. But she couldn't have found a more beautiful location than she has. Her house was on the narrow neck of land between two lakes. In front, across the road, was water stretching on into the sunset and at the back her lawn ran down to the lake's edge.

The house sat behind a low, white picket fence. It was the old solid stone type with a centre door and yellow shuttered windows on either side. There are lots of them in the country and I always admire them when we drive past.

What I wasn't prepared for was the surprise I got inside. Rita had restored the house to its original state and furnished it completely with antiques. It was delightful.

The floors throughout had been scraped, sanded and waxed until the 10 - 12" pine boards just gleamed. Years of stain and varnish had been removed from most of the woodwork and the two-foot window sills held vases and relics of the past.

The front window in the living room was flanked on either side by two huge high-backed arm chairs upholstered in creamy plush. Between then an antique table held an oil lamp converted to an electric one. There were two sofas with high cushioned backs and seats and other chairs from earlier days. In the corner was a beautiful large round dining table of coffee table height with other antique chairs behind it.

In the dining room heavy leather-seated chairs surrounded the oval dropped-leaf table. A huge sideboard held the old silver service. Even the dishes seemed to match the furnishings.

The kitchen was fore modern with some white paint, an electric stove and 'frig' and a gay linoleum floor. But the huge cupboard in the back hall where she kept her china must have been well past its hundredth birthday.

But this wasn't just one house, it was two. In the beginning the logs, with a side kitchen and pioneers had built a house of logs, with a side kitchen and stairs. Then when they got more wealthy they had built the stone house in front of it. The original house is Rita's Antique Shop.

Now I'm not getting any commission for advertising for her. Besides I know almost as little about antiques as I do about space travel. But it seemed to me she had a tremendous stock of lovely articles for sale and being arranged throughout the three rooms of the old house they seemed to be so perfectly at home.

Three of us slept in the stairs of the old house where four small bedrooms were also furnished appropriately. I slept in a spool bed, hung my clothes in an ancient wardrobe, powdered my nose in a swinging mirror on an old dressing table and sat on three cane-bottomed chairs (not all at once, of course.)

Our bathroom was at the foot of the very steep stairs which we negotiated in a sideways position. It was naturally rather modern except for the wash-basin which was an oval one set into a huge marble top.

On Saturday evening all seven of us were invited out. I'd better tell you about that house next week.

THE OUTLOOK

With clear gains being made by two-thirds of all indicators highly sensitive to ups and downs in the business cycle, most firms can count on operating in a climate of rising business activity for at least another several months, writes Dalton Robertson in The Financial Post.

Recovery has come with a burst to Canada's manufacturing industries, judging by the rapid rise of shipments. When the current expansion was just beginning last March, shipments were at a low of $1,888 million. By year end, they were running at a monthly rate of $2,178 million, seasonal factors discounted. The promise of a continued rise in shipments can be seen in this fact: Unfilled orders on the books of the manufacturers are starting to rise, despite the substantially higher shipments. As 1962 got underway, unfilled orders were running about $100 million ahead of year-earlier totals. By contrast: At the comparable point in the 1958-59 expansion, orders were down by $200 million from a year before end and the trend was firmly lownward.

The gains in manuracturing are major assists in expanding total industrial production, in cutting down unemployment and in bringing about a switch-around in freight car loading trends. Industrial production, which moves very much in step with over-all business activity, chalked up another two points in November and indications are that a repeat gain was made in December. Mining set the pace with a 12% production increase between the begining of the expansion last February and year end. But manufacturing, which is the main contributor to the total index, moved up by a solid 7% or more. Non durable manufacturing output was up only 5% or so — but durables advanced by 10% with increases in individual industres running up to transportation equipment's 17%.

Dun.-Gren. Presbytery discusses amalgamation

The Dundas-Grenville Presbytery of the United Church of Canada met in St. John's United Church, Prescott, on May 1, with the chairman, Rev Angus J. MacDonald, in charge of the meeting. Worship was conducted by Rev D. J. Carnegie. New members introduced to the Court included Mrs David Baker, Mrs John McCargar, Arthur Adams and Arthur Virtue.

Correspondence included application from the following ministers to be received into the ministry of the United Church of Canada: Rev D. D. Davidson, Rev N. I. Powell and Rev John Roberts.

Officers elected for the coming year are: Chairman, Rev L. M. Ferguson; secretary-treasurer and statistical secretary, Rev J. L. Dean; lay representative to Conference executive, W. L. Matthie. Nominations for delegates to General Council were: Rev Angus J. MacDonald, alternate, Rev L. M. Ferguson; lay delegate, Stanley Rennick, alternate, Russell Brown.

The Presbytery United Church Men will hold a weekend conference at Rideau Hill Camp June 22-24, with Rev William J. March as theme speaker. Rev L. M. Ferguson, reporting for Christian Education, stated that the camping season at Rideau Hill will open with intermediate boys' camp from June 29 to July 6. Following in order will be junior boys' and three girls' camps. The fees this year will be $14 for a seven-day camp, plus $2 for registration. In view of the fact that some vacancies existed last year, especially in the boys' camps, consideration is being given to extending the invitation for campers beyond the bounds of the Presbytery. It was urged that camping be promoted in every congregation. A set of coloured slides are available from Allan VanAllen, Kemptville, showing to fine effect the lovely camp grounds.

Reporting for Evangelism and Social Service, Rev W. H. Baugh recommended the annual report of the Board entitled "Close the Chasm," also the new book "The Word and the Way" as especially suitable for group study. Presbytery agreed to send delegates to the conference on Evangelism to be held at Ontario Ladies' College in August.

Rev Mary Dougherty reported for Missionary and Maintenance. Givings are down somewhat from last year, which can be accounted for by the fact that Easter offerings are not yet recorded. She recommended the use of the filmstrip "Beyond the Bell" and the "Turn-over-Chart as a means of making known the wider work of the church.

Rev C. A. Adey, reporting for Home Missions, announced a School for Rural Clergy at Ontario Agricultural College, from July 23-27. He then introduced to the Court Rev Kenneth G. MacMillan, superintendent of Home Missions for the Montreal-Ottawa Conference.

Mr MacMillan noted that, while all pastoral charges in the Presbytery are self-supporting, there is still a vital stake in Home Mission work. New work is opening up in many places—Lac Jeanine, Gagnon, Labrador City, Wabush and others in the Iron Ore area alone. French Protestant work is growing in both Ontario and Quebec. Inner City Mission work is becoming more vital all the time. In rural areas one may need to take a new look towards amalgamation of pastoral charges in view of the serious shortage of ministers. There is a danger of worshipping a church building, or a locality, instead of entering into the full fellowship of the Kingdom of God. Rev Wellwood Adam thanked the speaker for his inspiring address.

A call from the Kemptville pastoral charge in favour of Rev R. G. Percival, B.A., presently of Lachine, Que., was approved and sent on to the Settlement Committee. Rev D. J. Carnegie announced a special service in Algonquin United Church on May 16 at 8 p.m. to license James B. Gibson, B.A., to preach the Gospel. Mr Gibson will be ordained at the forthcoming meeting of Conference.

Rev John M. Cook, reporting for Information and Stewardship, announced that a skillshop on visual aids and communications will be held at Alpine Lodge in Quebec May 11-13. Four delegates will go from the Presbytery and will make information available to groups across the Presbytery.

The question of amalgamation of the Dundas-Grenville Presbytery and Glengarry Presbytery were discussed. The executive was instructed to meet with the executive of Glengarry Presbytery for further discussion. An invitation was received from Winchester Springs to hold the September meeting or Presbytery in the church there. The Courtesy Committee expressed appreciation of Presbytery to the minister and Official Board of St. John's United Church for their hospitality, to Revs D. J. Carnegie, Wm. J. March and Robert A. Crooks for leading in worship and music, to Rev K. G. MacMillan, superintendent of Home Missions, for his excellent address, and to the chairman and secretary of Presbytery for efficiency in conducting an inspiring meeting of Presbytery.

ODD THINGS HAPPEN AT THIS HOUSE

The superstitious shudder when they walk past the Victor Lincoln family's house in Jackson, Mich. Even scoffers have been known to cross to the other side of the street.

The Lincolns try their best to ignore the eerie happenings that have kept their home jumping since last September.

According to them, dishes and bottles suddenly jump from shelves and hurtle through the air. Ghostly footsteps echo on the basement stairs. Water taps and gas burners turn themselves on. Carefully made beds get turned down.

Dr William Rowl, of Durham, N.C., and an associate spent many hours in the house. They refused to offer an explanation for the strange doing other than to comment: "The foundation is interested in the case."

Some Jackson residents believe that abandoned tunnels under the house have caused it to settle. Some think the tunnels could contain air pockets which send currents through the building.

Others blame a mischievious child or neighbour. And a few half-believe the house is just plain haunted.

Every year 2,000 members of the U.S. Armed Forces are killed in traffic accidents, the Ontario Safety League reports. This is equivalent to wiping out a modernized army division every 7½ years.

BECKSTEAD

Tea guests at MacKenzie home

Mrs Emma MacKenze, Mr Ross MacKenzie and Mr Glenn MacKenzie of Smith Falls, and Mr and Mrs Jack Chalmers were tea guests of Mr and Mrs Allan MacKenzie on Sunday.

Mr and Mrs Herman Strader called on Mr and Mrs Frank Whittaker on Sunday afternoon.

Mr and Mrs Glenn Barkley and Mr and Mrs Lloyd Dingwall, Mr and Mrs Glenn Pemberton were week-end callers of Mr and Mrs Bernice Barkley.

Mr Gordon Beckstead of Ottawa, spent the week-end with his parents Mr and Mrs Burton Beckstead (Sr).

Mr and Mrs Frank Darling, Mr and Mrs Earl Darling and son Dean of Pleasant Valley, N.Y., visited recently with Mr and Mrs Burton Beckstead.

Little Margaret Ruth Kirkwood is spending some time with her grandparents Mr and Mrs Burton Beckstead, as her mother is a patient in the Ottawa Hospital.

Mr and Mrs Darcy Beckstead and Ian, Ottawa, visited on Sunday with Mr Chas Beckstead and family.

Mrs Robert Colquhoun and Mr Earl Colquhoun were callers on Friday night and Mr and Mrs Allan Armstrong and Barry were Saturday night callers at the home of Mr Chas Beckstead.

At one spot in England driving while drinking is actively encouraged, the Ontario Safety League reports. A practice-rive net for golfers has been installed in a cocktail lounge at Barnsley.

CROW SCARE

Ernest Leeds, custodian of the York Township dog pound, has a crow scare on his hands and isn't sure what to do with it.

He was called to a public school recently following reports that school children were being terrorized by a large crow which was lurching onto the youngsters' heads and shoulders.

Now that he has the bird—which is apparently semi-trained—Mr Leeds doesn't know what the next step is.

Ecuador is the chief source of balsa wood.

High School News

Final exam dates have been posted. The dates are June 6 for grades 11 and 12 and June 11 for grades 9 and 10 and first Departmentals for Grade 13 begin June 11. Time is going fast, only three weeks left.

May 25th is the night of the Formal Dance. The invitations have been printed and an orchestra secured. Decoration committees are hard at work. This should be a wonderful last C.H.S. Prom.

There are more notices on the bulletin boards this week concerning jobs for students leaving school. One is from the Metropolitan Police Force and another concerning scholarships for St. Patrick'c College in Ottawa.

The majorette squad practised on Thursday at noon outside the school for their May concert with the C.H.S. band.

Saturday morning Mrs Smith our Commercial teacher took Linda Styles and Lyall Simpson from Grade Ten and Margaret Dillabough and Rita Elliott to Ottawa, where they participated in a typing contest.

One of our Grade Twelve students, Margaret Dillabough, was chosen by Chesterville Rotary Club to spend 4 days in Ottawa on "An Adventure in Citizenship." There she will meet students from all of Canada.

Grade 9A and B girls will be marked this Tuesday in their Physical Education Period, on the first four steps in the "Cha Cha". The Senior Class will be marked on the "Charleston." The value for these dances is ten marks each.

High Individual Trophy winners saw some familiar faces back in the line. Here they are with their scores: Berla Gallinger, the Eldon Thompson Trophy, ladies' high average, 201; Sterling Zeran, the Peter Manley Trophy, men's high average, 215; Hazel Winters, ladies' high cross, 786; Peter Zeran, men's high cross, 972; Inez Simpson, ladies' high single, 342. Absent when the picture was taken was Ken MacMillan with the high single, 382.—Record Photo.

Planning Board of area holds meeting with John Pearson

John Pearson of Community Planning Branch of the Department of Municipal Affairs met with the area Planning Board last week. He furthered the affairs of the Board with explanations and suggestions, based on his long experience in the field.

The local area includes representatives from Chesterville and Winchester villages and Winchester township. Chesterville representatives are Harold Sharkey and Blake Feeley.

Officers were appointed at the meeting. They are Garnet Reynolds, reeve of Winchester, chairman; Harold Sharkey and Cecil McNabb, as vice chairmen.

Chesterville members outlined the need for a sub-division and control by-law for this town. Solicitor Wm. Gorrell was directed to draw one up as soon as possible for approval by the village council.

Building by-laws came under discussion, but the mater was said to be a municipal function and outside the field of the Planning Board.

The North Dundas Planning Area Board is the matter suggested for the unit. Considerable discussion closed out the meeting.

Mr and Mrs H. Greer have narrow escape

Harold and Wilma Greer were heading for Seaforth last Friday afternoon. They planned a visit with the Sev and Mrs Doug Fry and in the process deliver some household effects the Greers had stored. The materials were in the car trunk, a Mercury Monterey, with the lid partly open but tied down.

Near Trenton on Highway 401 at the Wooler exchange, Mrs Greer heard a funny sound. Harold looked in the mirror and saw a mass of flame streaming from the back of the car.

Both passengers leaped from the car in time to not be scorched but the car and all its contents was a total loss. The loss included the overnight suitcases of the Greers with considerable clothing.

The Greers got a lift to a service station they knew their son Harry would call at on his down trip with a transport from Toronto. There they made contact and early Saturday morning arrived home slightly shaken by their narrow escape.

The car was covered with the usual insurance.

Finch Township Junior Farmer Assoc. holds regular meeting

The Finch Township Junior Farmer Association held their regular May meeting on Thursday, May 3rd, 1962, in Berwick Public School, Berwick, commencing at 8.15 p.m.

Gerald Meldrum, president, presided over the business meeting. The meeting opened by the secretary, Joyce Jackson giving the roll call and reading the minutes of the last meeting.

The business discussed included the final arrangements for the Junior Farmer Dance to be held on Saturday night, May 19, 1962.

Other business discussed included the appointment of a temporary dance committee, and the possibility of the organization visiting Nestle's plant, Chesterville, at some time in the future. Evan Henry. vice-president, was nominated chairman of a committee to investigate the possibility of having a car "Roadeo."

Following the business section of the meeting, the guest speaker, Mrs Beebakee, an excellent High School teacher at North Stormont District High School, Finch, spoke on "The Life and Outlook of the Teenager in Trinidad." Everyone enjoyed her interesting and educational speech.

The meeting terminated after the Junior Farmer girls served lunch.

The next meeting will be heeld in Brwick Public School, Berwick, on Thursday evening, May 17, commencing at 8.30 sharp.

97th birthday

Mr James McAvoy will celebrate his 97th birthday on Wednesday, May 16, next week.

We join his many friends in offering him our congratulations. He is visiting his daughter and son-in-law at present, Mr and Mrs Thomas Allan, at Smiths Falls.

Miss Pamela Rutley awarded second prize Ottawa Music Festival

Miss Pamela Rutley, daughter of Mr and Mrs Tom Rutley of Finch, was awarded second prize in the soprano class at the Ottawa Music Festival, held in Ottawa last week.

Miss Rutley, a pupil of Mr Everitt Rush, of Cornwall, had 86 marks and tied for first place in the first round. The adjudicator described her voice as "thrilling" and greatly encouraged her singing career.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my friends, neighbours and relatives for the many cards and flowers I received while a patient in Winchester Memorial Hospital. Special thanks to Dr Lambert, the clergymen, nurses and staff. The many acts of kindness were deeply appreciated.

Percy Gallinger.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to express my sincere thanks to all who remembered me with cards, flowers and personal visits while I was a patient in Winchester Hospital. Special thanks to Dr H. G. Barton, Dr Wm. Byers and the nursing staff. All was greatly appreciated.

Joan Scott.

INTERESTING ROTARY MEETINGS

Two meetings of interest have been held recently at the local Rotary Club.

Lieut.-Commander Donald Fulton spoke a week ago on his 22 months recently spent at sea with the RCN. During that time his ship was across to Ireland, down to the Mediterranean and back up to Holland. He illustrated his talk with excellent coloured movies.

This past Monday Harvey Forden, of Metcalfe High School, spoke on the need for a guidance program in our high schools. He was listened to with interest and concluded his talk with a remarkable recording of a speech by an American psychiatrist, Dr Murray Banks.

Elma Women's Institute holds May meeting Mrs M. Beckstead, pres.

On Tuesday, May 1, Mrs Maurice Beckstead, Elma W.I's new president for the coming year took charge and before opning the meeting voiced her thanks for being elected and hoped that each member would co-operate with her.

The meeting opened with the Ode and Mary Stewart Collect. The minutes were read by the secretary Mrs Harold Feeley and approved. The correspondence was dealt with and Penny Round up bags handed out. Several ladies paid their dues. A decision to hold a short course was held over until another meeting to be decided on then.

A committee was named with Mrs Bernice Froats as convenor to be responsible for the food, also to help with the lunch on Saturday, May 12, Achievement Day, which will be held in Chesterville at the Community Hall.

The District Annual is to be held on May 17th at Matilda. Delegates for this are the president, District director (Mrs Burril Beckstead), Mrs Hubert Shaw and Mrs Harold Pemberton with Mrs Melvin Dillabough as an alternative.

After the business part of the meeting it was turned over to the making of cancer bandages. There is quite a number made and material left to be made again when needed.

Lunch was then served by the committee and the meeting closed with the Queen.

Mainly About People

Mrs Beryl Carley and Karen, of Wellington, plan to spend part of this week with the former's father, Mr P. G. Hewitt.

CHRISTIAN FAMILY DAY TO BE OBSERVED AT MOREWOOD UNITED

Christian Family Day will be observed in Morewood United Church next Sunday, May 13th, at 10.30 a.m., with a combined service of the adult congregation and Sunday Schools.

Holy Baptism will be administered and awards for Sunday School attendance will be presented.

The service will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. D. L. Gordon, who will preach the sermon in the subject "The elements of a True Home." A special offering for the Christian Education Council will be received.

Miss Stella Thompson feted at shower

Miss Stella Thompson whose marriage to Mr Sam Gilbert takes place in June, was guest of honour at a community shower in the Orange hall here on Saturday evening.

Over 100 guests were present from Ottawa, Berwick, Crysler, Newington, Avonmore, Chesterville and Cornwall.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs A. B. Graham, Mrs Harold Brownell, Miss Marilyn Brownell. The hall was tastefully decorated by Miss Brownell assisted by Misses Marjorie Waldroff, Gloria Graham, Mavis St. Pierre and Carol Mac Dougal.

Miss Thompson was escorted to the front by Miss Brownell who read a very fitting address. Mrs E. Thompson, mother of the bride was escorted by Mrs Harold Brownell and Mrs V. Rombough, acting mother of the groom was escorted by Mrs A. B. Graham. The wedding March was played by Mrs B. Carr.

Miss Thompson was the recipient of many varied and beautiful gifts for which she gracefully thanked all present.

The remainder of the evening was spent in a sing song led by Mrs L. Hough assisted by Mrs Carr at the piano and Miss Norma Bullock on accordian.

Several games were played and accordian selections by Miss Bullock were enjoyed. All present signed a beautifully designed bridesbook made by Miss Brownell and Mrs Graham.

A delightful lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by Mesdames E. St. Pierre, D'Arcy St. Pierre, Donnie St. Pierre, Darwin Ouderkirk, Fred Heasley and Glenn Thompson.

Don't stray away at farrowing time, reminds Garnet Norrish, O. A. C. swine researcher. Clip needle teeth and pait navels with tincture of iodine. If there aren's enough teats for all the pigs, move some of the pigs to another sow that farrowed within the previous 2 days.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my friends and relatives who so kindly remembered me with cards, flowers, and visited me while I was a patient in Winchester Memorial Hospital and after returning home. Special thanks to Dr Howard Justus, Dr J. G. MacLeod, Rev Mr Williamson, Rev A. Casselman, Rev Mr Greene, nursing staff, aides and orderlies, also the Drug Store Club at Finch. These acts of kindness will always be remembered.

Alex MacDougall.

CARD OF THANKS

After thirty-five years in business in Newington, we wish to express our appreciation to you, the people of the district, for your good-will and continuing patronage.

The Loverin Store, Mr and Mrs Arnold Loverin.

IN MEMORIAM

HELMER—In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Andrew Helmer, who passed away May 11, 1956.

Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vain;
To have, to love and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

Ever remembered by wife Pearl, son Harold, daughter Mabel, Lloyd and family, son Earl, Eileen and family.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my gratitude to Chesterville Fire Brigade, Red Cross and all those kind people who helped by donating to the collection following the fire at my farm, Morewood.

Joe Roy.

IN MEMORIAM

BOGART—In loving memory of John W. Bogart who so suddenly passed away May 4, 1958.

There is no parting from those we love,
No distance can divide,
For today in memory's garden
We still walk side by side.

Ruth and Clifton.

cil to consider the location of a trailer park in the town. The clerk was instructed to make inquiries in the matter. Leonard Moriarty was the applicant.

John Maxwell was on hand for the Fair Board asking for the annual grant. The $200 was voted.

Fire Chief John Hehir explained some of the revisions made in mutual aid services. He pointed out the system has been altered to make Finch Chesterville's second-call unit, with Winchester still the first-call outfit. He also noted that more and sterner rules are to be enforced in the matter of calling for additional equipment.

Wednesday, May 16, has been set as Clean-up Day in the village. A notice was ordered in the "Record" to that effect.

Bills were ordered paid.

Sewing Bees hold seventh meeting

The seventh meeting of Chesterville Sewing Bees was held at the home of Barbara Smith. Eight girls answered roll call with "Something I learned on making a garment."

Mrs Dwayne Munro and Mrs Durning, leaders, were on hand.

A discussion was held regarding the preparation of the 4-H book. Garment preparations were made for Achievement Day to be held May 12 in Chesterville Community Hall.

Lunch was served and enjoyed by all.

Preparedness increases perception, says the Ontario Safety League. A driver with normal vision perceives an expected obstacle twice as far away as he can see an unexpected obstacle.

ORCHARDSIDE

Sunday visitors at Beckstead home

Mr and Mrs Lloyd Morris and children and Mrs William Morris, Cardinal, visited on Sunday with Mr and Mrs Ernest Beckstead.

TIPS ON PROTECTING EGG QUALITY TO IMPROVE YOUR EGG GRADES

1. Provide 1 nest for every 4 laying hens. Use thin nest rails that won't collect droppings. Keep litter dry.
2. Collect eggs at least 3 times a day in summer, twice a day in winter. Collect every 2 hours when temperature is over 90°.
3. Don't let eggs stand outside in sun, or in heated area. 2 or 3 hours of warm air will lower grades.
4. Wash eggs immediately after gathering in water 110° to 120°. Leave in water less than 3 minutes. Dry immediately.
5. Place eggs in cooler. Ideal temperature 50 to 55°. Ideal humidity 70%.
6. Precool egg cases and flats before packing eggs.
7. Spray eggs with Purina Egg Spray.

They'll hold top quality many days longer than eggs not sprayed. Eggs must be sprayed when they are fresh.

8. Feed Purina Laying Chows. I'd like to tell you how some of your neighbours are consistently getting top quality eggs, and making big profits by feeding Purina Chows. Why not call me, or drop in today and I'll help you to prove to yourself that Purina feeding costs less.

BUCKLE ON AND STAY ALIVE

Seat belts save lives. This bare fact has been known for a long time. But it has also been largely ignored by the general public. The average driver has not been interested in providing himself with this extra protection against death or injury.

But the picture is changing, says the Ontario Safety League. The trickle of seat belt installations has become a stream. Safety organizations look forward to it becoming a saturation flood.

Acceptance of seat belts is growing fast in Canada, and around the world. Car manufacturers are now installing belt anchorages in all new cars. New York has already taken the next step: a new bill, to take effect by 1965, will make seat belts compulsory equipment throughout the State.

"Success stories" from all over the continent attest to the value of belts. The Ontario Safety League quotes this from Shell News, March 1962:

Last December 22, Mrs Jean Zwicky and her two daughters, Janine 6, and Lynn 4, left Calgary in their 1961 Buick, en route to Edmonton. Traffic was light and road conditions normal, so she settled comfortably behind the wheel, anticipating an uneventful 4 -hour drive.

About 45 miles north of Calgary a shallow ditch separates the northbound and southbound lanes. Suddenly a car heading in the opposite direction swerved out of control, bound across the ditch and rammed almost head-on into the Zwicky car. Striking at an angle, it literally hurled the Buick off the highway.

A tragedy? Not quite.

Three weeks earlier, influenced by the company's campaign to promote the use of belts, Bob Zwicky had purchased four sets. Getting the children to use them had presented no problem; Bob made a game out of putting them on. The end result was that the youngsters reminded their parents to fasten heir own belts.

Children should be seen and not hurt.

The BIBLE TODAY . . .

How many languages do men on this earth speak? It is variously estimated somewhere between 2,500 and 3,000 languages or dialects.

The whole Bible is available in 226 of these languages, which represents some 90% of the world population. The New Testament has been translated into 281 additional languages and some books of the Bible into another 674 tongues. This means that at least some portion of the Bible is now available in 1,181 languages.

One of the more recent publications is entitled "Mattiu" with a full colour picture on the front cover of "Najaret." This Gospel of Matthey in the Sora tongue has been translated by the Rev Perry V. Allaby of the Canadian Baptist Mission in Orissa Province, South India. Sora is spoken by 250,000 people of which about 1,500 are described as Christian, and of this only about 500 are literate.

Mr Allaby is a Canadian, being a graduate of Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S. He is now on furlough in Canada after a term of service among the Sora people of Orissa, India.

Suggested Bible Readings

Sunday, May 13: Song of Soloman 2:1-17.

Monday, May 14: 2nd Corinthians 1:1-24.

Tuesday, May 15: 2nd Corinthians 3: 1-18.

Wednesday, May 16: 2nd Corinthians 4: 1-18

Thursday, May 17: 8nd Corinthians 5: 1-21.

Friday, May 18: 2nd Corinthians 6: 1-18.

Saturday, May 19: 2nd Corinthians 9: 1-15.

A new winter barley will soon be available to growers in Ontario. It has been tested during the past three years and has been found to be over half-again as strong in the straw as Hudson and has outyielded it by almost 10 bushels per acre. This variety will be called Dover and is the result of a cross between Wong and Kenate varieties, both of which have been grown to a limited extent in Haldimand. It is two to three inches shorter in the straw than Hudson, two days earlier in maturity and carried 1.3 per cent mildew as compared with Hudson's 7.2. It also has slightly more winter hardiness than Hudson. Its one drawback is that it has rough awn. No seed will be available this coming fall but there should be limited supplies for seeding in the fall of 1963.

EVERYBODY EATS - TRY THESE

By Helen Graham

A WELCOME VEGETABLE

I ALWAYS WELCOME FRESH ASPARAGUS because by the time it appears I am beginning to tire of all the old stand-bys. Of course there is always frozen asparagus which is good I know, but it is rather expensive. And canned asparagus just tastes like another vegetable, and one which I don't particularly like.

Buttered Asparagus

This is the simplest way to serve asparagus but to my mind it is also the nicest way.

Wash stalks thoroughly and cut off hard ends. If you feel you are wasting a lot of asparagus when you do this, you may peel the thicker ends as it is the outside that is apt to be tough. Either tie stalks in a bunch or cut in pieces. Boil till tender in salted water, about 10 minutes. Do not over cook. Drain and sprinkle with salt and serve with melted butter or hollandaise sauce.

Hollandaise Sauce

3 tbsps. butter
2 egg yolks
¼ tsp. salt
Few grains cayenne
1/3 cup boiling water
1 tbsp. lemon juice

Cream the butter; add beaten yolks of eggs. Add seasonings and water. Cook over very gently boiling water until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; add lemon juice. Pour over asparagus and serve at once.

This sauce is a delicious addition to asparagus or broccoli but must be made carefully to prevent curdling.

Egg and Asparagus Casserole

From the Food Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph, comes a suggestion for serving asparagus in a colourful casserole.

½ can condensed mushroom soup
¼ cup milk
8 hard cooked eggs
½ cup mushrooms
½ tsp. salt
Pepper
1 cup cut, cooked asparagus

Cut eggs in lengthwise wedges. Heat mushroom soup and milk. Add seasonings, mushrooms, asparagus and 7 of the eggs. Turn into greased baking dish; garnish with the remaining egg wedges. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.

Freezing Asparagus

If you own an asparagus bed you wil likely have some to freeze and just in case you don't remember exactly how to proceed, here are the directions:

Freezing Asparagus

Wash; trim; cut in lengths to fit container or 2-inch pieces. To blanch vegetable, use a large kettle of briskly boiling water. Lower not more than a pound of vegetable into the boiling water using a wire mesh basket. Cover; start timing at once, three minutes for average size stalks. Remove promptly. Chill quickly by putting basket of vegetables into pan of very cold water. Water must be changed frequently so place under running water if possible. When thoroughly washed, drain and pack in airtight containers. Freeze at once for best results.

FINDING SMALL PARTS

To find a needed small nut, bolt or screw in a box or drawer of odds and ends, simply spread contents on a cardboard or newspaper. When you have what you need, shape paper into a "trough" and pour the rest back into the drawer.

Local News?
You can't beat your local newspaper for news of your own locality . . . it knows you and your area better than any outsider can.
But, for news of the national and international scene, for the day-to-day picture of the wider world around you, you need a large metropolitan daily as well.
The Ottawa Citizen and your local newspaper make an unbeatable team when it comes to keeping you fully in the picture.
The Ottawa Citizen - chosen by most!

erkirk with 401; Men's high single, Arnott Empey with 307; Ladies high pinfall, Lilian Johnstone and Men's high pinfall, Delburn Baker.

Each team captain, Jack Armstrong, Jack McRae, Barry Armstrong, Hubert Fleming, Garnet Johnstone and John Ouderkirk spoke a few words thanking the members of their teams for their co-operation during the year.

To All Our Customers & Friends

We, McMillan Bros., wish to thank each and everyone who in any way assisted in making our Massey-Harris and Massey-Ferguson dealership a success over the years, which has been very gratifying indeed. It has been a pleasure doing business with such a fine group of people, and especially farmers in the area, since our beginning in the year 1942.

This is to serve as our official notice to the public that we have severed our business relations with Massey-Ferguson and that as of this date will not be selling their farm machinery or supplies.

However, we wish to announce that we are in the automobile business and are in a position to supply you with the best quality cars on the market. Please watch our weekly advertisement for further details.

Once again may we say a very sincere "Thank you" and look forward to doing business with you in the same manner as we have in the past.
