Game on!

The Metcalfe Jets and Winchester Hawks renewed their pre-season rivalry this month playing a two-game, total-goal series. The Metro Division Jets posted 4-0 and 8-4 decisions over the St. Lawrence Division Hawks and won the Joe Rowan Memorial Challenge Cup. Hawk prospect Cory "the Pocket Ski" Giczewski (No. 15) covered a Metcalfe attacker in front of Winchester goaltender Devon Armitage during Monday's (Sept. 15) 8-4 loss. See story on page 15.

Three more fires

MOREWOOD — A residence and barn on Thompson Road near Morwood burned on Sat., Sept. 13.

Fire departments from Morewood, Chesterville, Winchester, and South Mountain were on the scene at about 10 pm and extinguished the blaze.

The residence was unoccupied and there were no reported injuries, but OPP investigators along with the Ontario Fire Marshal's office continue the investigation into the fire.

While rumours suggested that a suspect had been arrested at the scene, OPP Const. Pete Robertson confirmed that it was simply "regular follow up on a vehicle and driver in the area."

The fire is the third in Dundas County in the last eight days.

Police are still probing a fire that took place at 13861 Limerick Rd. in North Dundas Township the morning of Sept. 10 at about 3:30 am. Chesterville and Winchester firefighters battled the blaze in which no one was injured.

South Dundas Mayor Charles Barkley's barn located at 3685 Marcellus Rd. near Dundela burned on Sept. 9 at about 2:15 am. Firefighters from Williamsburg were on the scene. No one was injured.

If anyone has information about these or any other incidents, they are asked to call the OPP at 613-534-2223 or Crimestoppers.

The Ontario Fire Marshal's office did not comment on any of the above fires because the investigations are ongoing.

Big names to attend Hawks home opener

WINCHESTER — The Winchester Hawks have invited a couple of Ottawa Senators to help them mark the opening of the 2008-09 Rideau - St. Lawrence Jr. "B" Hockey League campaign against the visiting Char-Lan Rebels Friday night (Sept. 19).

Former Hawks defenceman Matt Carkner, a Morewood native, will be at the Winchester Arena at 7:45 pm for an autograph session. Forward Jesse Winchester, another Hawk alumnus who grew up in Long Sault, has also been invited to take part in the official opening face off at 8:15 pm.

Winchester team officials will also be raffling a Senators jersey autographed by the former Hawks. Both Carkner and Winchester are currently attending Ottawa's training camp where they are competing for spots on the NHL club's roster.

Daycare dialogue

Incumbent SD&SG MP Guy Lauzon made a campaign stop last week at A Child's Secret Garden Daycare Centre in Cornwall along with federal Intergovernmental Affairs Minister and former opposition daycare critic Rona Ambrose. Ambrose has an undergraduate degree in women's studies and spoke proudly of the Conservatives' universal child-care benefit, suggesting that Canadian parents have an additional $3,800 in their pockets each year thanks to current federal program. "Families are impacted by so many issues in our country," said Lauzon. "Our ability to care for our children is vital and our government is focused on continuing to make that a priority in Ottawa." Pictured are: Judy Rose, owner of A Child's Secret Garden Day Care Centre, Lauzon, and Ambrose.

Editor's note:

Check out next week's Press for profiles of all candidates running the in 2008 federal election in the riding of Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry, as well as coverage of campaigns in neighbouring ridings. The Press will also give candidates the opportunity to respond to questions in coming issues. Anything you'd like to ask the candidates? Let us know.

Sabourin opens campaign office

CORNWALL — Stormont-Dundas-South Glengarry Liberal candidate Denis Sabourin opened his 141 Montreal Rd., Cornwall election campaign office on Mon., Sept. 15.

Sabourin has been involved in many key issues in the riding for a number of years. As executive assistant for former MP Bob Kilger, and more recently chief of staff for Larry Bagnell, MP for Yukon, Sabourin has tackled the concerns of constituents and facilitated first hand communication with ministers and senior government officials.

Marc Garneau, the first Canadian in space and Canada's first astronaut, was at the official opening ceremony. In November 2001, Garneau became the president of the Canadian Space Agency and is presently the Liberal candidate in the Montreal riding of Westmount Ville Marie.

NDPs launch campaign in Cornwall

CORNWALL — NDP candidate Darlene Jalbert officially opened her campaign office at 258 Pitt St. on Fri., Sept. 12.

Jalbert introduced herself to the crowd of supporters and outlined the NDP's election platform before watching Michael More's film Sicko.

Along with the economy and jobs, the New Democrats are campaigning on healthcare and climate change — "the status quo is not acceptable."

Green Party makes campaign stop

WINCHESTER — Residents of Winchester will be able to speak with Green Party candidate for Stormont, Dundas, and South Glengarry David Rawnsley every Monday morning at Mary's Restaurant.

"We met our first local green," said Rawnsley on Mon., Sept. 15 when he stopped by the Press office after his second week of campaigning, adding that he wants people to feel free to stop by to talk and ask questions.

Rawnsley and his chief campaign ambassador Roger Dando will be at Mary's Restaurant every Monday at 8 am to speak with locals about the Green Party and local issues.

"We don't get in your face," explained Dando, about Rawnsley's campaign style. "David just says 'this is who I am, this is what I'm about, and if you like it — great!'"

The "mobile campaign" makes its way through Dundas County every Monday. Rawnsley will be in Winchester from 8 until 10 am, then heads to Chesterville, Morrisburg, and ends the day in Iroquois.

"The neat thing is that residents don't have to invest the gas to contact us," said Rawnsley about his mobile campaign. "I have a low mileage, diesel vehicle, so the carbon footprint is less."

For information about Rawnsley visit www.davidrawnsley.ca or stop by Mary's Restaurant on Mondays at 513 St. Lawrence St., Winchester.

Gillard: service award

WILLIAMSBURG — Township of South Dundas Deputy-Mayor Robert Gillard is the latest recipient of a provincial long-standing service award.

Gillard, along with six other municipally elected officials from Eastern Ontario, was honoured for 25 years of service at the annual Ontario East Municipal Conference held recently in Kingston.

Long-standing service awards are given to municipal officials with at least 25 years of service. The program was introduced in 2004. As of 2006, those with 50 years of service are also recognized.

Gillard served as councillor and deputy-reeve for the former township of Williamsburg from 1977 to 1985, and 1989 to 1997. He was deputy-mayor for the Township of South Dundas from 1998 to 2003, a title he currently holds.

School-supply smiles

The school bus tickets campaign put forth by the Rural Food Bank Coalition in partnership with the House of Lazarus and the Township of North Dundas raised $1,105, which will go towards school supplies for area students in need. House of Lazarus executive director Pauline Pratt (left) and Mike Dean's Super Food Store employees June Picard, Glenda Lafortune, Laurie Lacombe, Gordon Dean, Michael Cox, and Lori Prevost were happy to show off a few of the bus tickets sold in-store. The superstore was the biggest seller during the school-supply campaign, selling 382 bus tickets at $1 a piece. "The community just jumped forward," said Pratt, adding that next year the campaign will start earlier so the kids will have their school supplies before school starts. The Dundas County Food Bank and the House of Lazarus Food Bank service 232 school-age children in the area.

Food bank issues hunger challenge

WINCHESTER — The Dundas County Food Bank is once again partnering with Kraft Canada and the Canadian Association of Food Banks (CAFB) to take part in the annual Kraft Hunger Challenge.

Donations collected through the challenge until Sept. 26 will be matched dollar-for-dollar up to a maximum of $150,000 by Kraft Canada. The goal this year is to raise more than $300,000 nationwide, but organizers are hoping that they repeat last year's performance of $700,000 raised across Canada.

The campaign began on Tues., Sept. 2 and DCFB administrator Donna Quesnel noted that time is running out for donations to count toward the total to be matched.

> Kraft Canada will match donations up to a maximum of $150,000

"This is a clear benefit to donors and participating food banks: they can double their donation over this period by participating in the campaign," Quesnel explained. "The Dundas County Food Bank invites you to participate in this campaign. Feel free to contact the food bank if you would like more information."

Donations can be made in person or by cheque to the Dundas County Food Bank. In order to receive the matching dollars, the memo line on cheques must read: Kraft Hunger Challenge and the dates on the cheques must be in between Sept. 2 and 26, 2008.

The campaign will take place in every province, and all donations received will support local food banks.

Funds and food

Scotiabank Chesterville matched the dollar amount of food and cash donations raised during Good Neighbour Day (Wed., Sept. 3) when Durant's Flowers partnered with local businesses to give away 2,200 roses free to those willing to distribute the roses to their friends and neighbours. Scotiabank representatives were on hand to present a cheque for $1,123 (almost double the amount of last year's matching donation) at the Dundas County Food Bank's Winchester location on Wed., Sept. 10. About $750 in food as well as $373 in cash donations were collecteed from those participating in Good Neighbour Day at both the Winchester and Chesterville Durant's locations. Pictured are: Scotiabank Chesterville small business account manager Ilona Grant-Riddell (left), branch manager Vicki Lefebvre, Durant's Flowers owner John VanBruinessen, food bank administrator Donna Quesnel, and food bank co-ordinator Judy Hilson.

Charlie hits the stage in Kemptville

KEMPTVILLE — The Kemptville Youth Musical Theatre Company will open its latest prouction, You're a Good Man Charlie Brown, tomorrow night (Sept. 18).

The small cast of seven — much different from other KMYTC shows that have featured over two-dozen youth — will perform the well known musical at the North Grenville Municipal Centre theatre through to Sept. 27.

KYMTC is a non-profit, volunteer based youth theatre group. The group's first production was Oklahoma! in March 2003 with a cast of 27 youth.

Tickets are available from Business Strategies in the Kemptville Mall and Kemptville Optician on Prescott Street, as well as at the door two hours prior to the show. For more information, call Barb Lacelle at 613-989-3759.

Terry Fox: forever an inspiration

Jim Baker of Winchester has been participating in the Terry Fox Run ever since he lost a friend to cancer four years ago. As an SD&G paramedic, he regularly sees what cancer patients go through. The Chesterville Rotary Club staged its 25th annual Terry Fox Run from North Dundas District High School on Sun., Sept. 14 and raised $5,404.

by Matthew Barbour

WINCHESTER — Almost everyone is inspired by the story of Terry Fox, who attempted to run across Canada in 1980 to raise funds for cancer research. Each year, countless thousands of Canadians, moved by that inspiration, take part in Terry Fox Runs throughout the country.

During those runs, it is not difficult to find individuals who have been touched by cancer in one way or another.

Jim Baker of Winchester participated in the Chesterville Rotary Club's Terry Fox Run on Sun., Sept. 14. He became involved after losing a family friend to breast cancer.

"It can be such a cruel disease," he said. "She received news of the diagnosis on the Friday of Mothers Day weekend in 2002 and passed away two years later."

He added that his wife was recently diagnosed with lung cancer, "but she is doing incredibly well with her treatment."

Photos — Barbour

As a paramedic, Baker also sees cancer patients regularly as he transports them to hospital for treatment and then back home again.

Ashley Orton said she has not missed a Terry Fox Run for the past 12 years — whether at home or while she was attending university in Sudbury. She was touched by cancer directly at a very young age.

"I had kidney cancer at the age of three, went through chemotherapy and I have been free of it ever since," she said. She walked the route on Sunday with her mother, Heather, and their two dogs.

Nationally, Terry Fox Runs have raised more than $300 million. Sunday's local event was the 25th annual run sponsored by the Rotary Club and it raised $5,404. A total of $171,202 has been raised through the local run since it began in 1983.

The Rotary Club run, which began at North Dundas District High School on Sun., Sept. 14, is the first of many Terry Fox inspired events coming up.

Upper Canada District School Board staffers will be running throughout the week of Sept. 22 to 26 in a continuous run that involves educators across the province. Locally those participating will hit the streets on Wed., Sept. 24.

North Dundas District High School students, and students across the Upper Canada District School Board, will take part in Terry Fox fundraising runs on Fri., Sept. 26.

The changing face of farming

What does a farmer look like? No longer should you think of men in coveralls and rubber boots — instead picture a group of young, urban, multicultural individuals. That's the new generation of Canadian farmers, according to the Agricultural Adaptation Council.

This new generation is important — currently in Ontario, the number of farmers under 35 years of age has declined by more than 50 per cent in the last 10 years. Right now the average age of farmers is 52.

At the same time, there is a need for more farmers to meet the growing demand for locally grown, ecologically produced, and culturally appropriate fresh produce in southern Ontario. How will those needs be met?

FarmStart, an organization based in Guelph, is currently working with future farmers, including both urban and rural youth, new Canadians, and people wishing to start a second career on the land.

According to Mike Shook, FarmStart's program manager, the organization encourages new farmers to be entrepreneurs, to creatively turn challenges into opportunities. Projects focus on developing different types of farms, including co-operatives, and farmers are encouraged to explore new market opportunities, ecological production methods, and value-added products.

In 2007, with $40,000 in funding support from the Agricultural Management Institute (AMI), FarmStart implemented a "Farm Business Planning and Management Training" pilot project to offer training for first-time farmers.

Seventeen prospective farmers completed the initial course, which examined issues around co-operative production and marketing approaches and the Canadian farming and food distribution system.

In Dundas County, where most school children help with the chores on their family's farm, or visit a neighbour's farm on a regular basis, it's hard to believe that a "how-to" course on farming is needed — what happened to grandpa's traditions being passed through the generations?

But if the stats are correct and farms are being sold rather than passed down to the next generation, this course is exactly what the industry needs.

The needs of new farmers are unique. This educational opportunity might just be the ticket to infuse new life into the agricultural industry.

Chivalry lives in Winchester

Odin (left) and Morag had a friendly spar on Monday (Sept. 15) evening at the 100 Club Park in Winchester. As members of the Society for Creative Anachronism (SCA), Nathaniel Millward (Odin) and Christine Brewer (Morag) adopt their medieval personas and practise battle techniques in Winchester every week. The local group within the SCA is Canton Harrowgate Heath and boasts roughly 20 members who take part in a number of medieval activities, from archery and fighting, to dance, garb making, and metal work. During the winter the fighters meet at the Winchester Masonic Hall every Monday, and always welcome new members. Brewer also noted that the group has regular meetings and events throughout the year. For information about the group or to get involved, visit www.harrowgateheath.com or www.sca.org. Press Photo — Kelford

Remember when...

Winchester residents and siblings Danielle (left), Alex, and Chantal Quesnel started training in fall of 1998 for a national Tae Kwon Do competition in Edmonton set to take place the following summer. The Quesnel trio were part of the Maple Ridge Tae Kwon Do Club and planned to train all winter to be part of the Canadian Tae Kwon Do demonstration team. Mike Lecuyer, a third degree black belt, said it was the first time in the 21-year-history of the club that any students were chosen for the team.

The Winchester District Memorial Hospital board hoped Mountain Township council would agree with its taxpayers and donate $20,000 to the hospital. Sixty per cent of Mountain taxpayers were in favour of the donation, which would be payable by debentures over a 20-year period. Council had the final decision, but the WDMH board was hoping for the grant because the hospital was in need of funds.

1958

The outbreak of rabies in Dundas County was still serious with two rabid fox being reported over one weekend. Williamsburg resident Harry Bowman was attacked by one fox while working on his farm. Bowman reported that his dog attacked the fox, allowing him to grab a club to "take care" of the rabid animal.

1968

Patricia Clark, a Mountain District High School graduate, won the Queen's University 125th anniversary scholarship. During her high school career, Clark had been awarded several other scholarships from area donors.

1978

The Canadian Pacific Railway station in Chesterville was demolished and replaced with a metal tool shed. The station's downfall began in the 1960s after Canadian Pacific decided it was "economically unfeasible" to offer passenger service through Chesterville. Prior to being demolished, the station had been used for various services throughout the years.

1988

A live Wintario draw was held at the Winchester Community Centre as part of the village's 100th anniversary. Along with the purchase of the Wintario tickets, residents received admission to the live broadcast.

1998

Students at Elma Public School found a surprise in the yard when they went back to school. Principal Peter MacGregor was excited to unveil the new play structure that cost $35,000. It was paid for by donations from area residents, businesses, and service groups, as well as various fundraising campaigns. Playground Express Inc. installed the structure prior to school starting.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Open letter to Mayor Runnalls, re: SM library

Mr. Mayor:

I am writing on behalf of the Friends of the South Mountain Library with three objectives in mind: to give you and council an update as to our fundraising initiative; to set straight certain misconceptions that continue to find a voice; and to clarify our understanding of three opportunities for municipal grants that have recently been announced.

We have made arrangements to attend council's meeting on Sept. 23 in order to discuss the most promising possibility of these three opportunities with respect to obtaining funds for the new South Mountain Library.

We are very pleased to announce that we are quickly approaching the goal which we committed to raising. We have raised almost $80,000 and have several more irons in the fire before our campaign wraps up. However, the Friends' funding in combination with Council's commitment for $130,000 from its budget still leaves over $100,000 to be found.

In spite of our efforts at communicating the realities of this project, some misconceptions are plaguing our campaign. It has been suggested that this project has grown since it was first introduced. In fact, the size of the building and its layout were initially suggested by the SD&G Library administration in accordance with standards — the size of the building has not changed since it was originally introduced more than two years ago.

In addition, there have been questions as to how much community support is behind this project. It would seem apparent by the amount of funds realized in such a short time and within such a small community that support is unqualifiedly present and should not be questioned.

Finally, the Friends are aware, through the media, of three separate sources of unanticipated government funding — none of which entails council's regular budget. Two of these — the federal-provincial initiative and the provincial infrastructure grants — require applications to be submitted by the municipalities and may lend themselves more to large projects. The third is the $747,000 allocated to North Dundas from the provincial surplus.

Not one of these three funding opportunities precludes libraries or recreational facilities. Spokespersons for each one have indicated that the funds could be applied to cultural, recreational, or 'quality of life' projects. We respectfully submit that the South Mountain Library would easily qualify for enough of the $747,000 funds to see it to completion.

We ask that you consider the contents of this letter. Someone from our fundraising committee will be in touch with each member of council to answer any concerns so that the meeting on Sept. 23 will yield a productive and positive outcome for this project.

The hack meets the prodigy

From the Other Side
by Jeffrey Morris

Theo Tams put his hand on the grand piano in the middle of the living room in "the mansion." It was a warm, humid night and just hours before, he had performed in the first "top 10" show of the 2008 Canadian Idol season.

"It's so beautiful," he said, patting it like a jockey would pat his favourite race horse. "When we got here, my jaw nearly dropped. You know, they only make a couple of these a year. When I saw it, I thought there was no way this thing is real. It must just be a decoration. But it's the real thing."

He looked at me and smiled. "I've been driving everyone here nuts. I stay up 'til, like, two or three in the morning playing it. I can't keep my hands off it."

In the 20 minutes that I talked to Theo Tams, he couldn't have cared who I was. He just wanted to share his love for the most expensive and exquisite musical instrument either of us would ever see in our lifetimes. If this piano was mustard, it would be Grey Poupon. Not just regular Grey Poupon, but, like, Grey Poupon System 10.

"Do you play anything?" he asked me, hoping I would be in his fraternity of the talented and gifted.

"CDs," I said. "I'm working my way up to MP3s."

I don't know if his attention span hung around long enough to hear what I thought was a charming answer. If Jerry Maguire had her at hello, that grand piano had Theo at Middle C.

We chatted for a bit. It was the typical "where are you from?" and "you must be pretty excited" kind of token exchange. What else would we talk about? He was a musical prodigy. I was the Zamboni Man, a self-proclaimed hack who was completely aware that my lack of talent defined me as much as Theo's God-given talent defined him.

I had managed to land a VIP trip to Toronto to compete in the Canadian Media Idol top 10. Don't get me wrong. I love music. I am a passionate music fan. I also had a lot of fun while I was there and being part of that world for a few days. But, when I was trying to make it as a football player, you would run into some guys that just seemed to be locked into another zone — a zone that you didn't have a key to. Theo Tams, musically, was about three zones beyond that one.

Theo is from Lethbridge, Alberta. He is a 22-year-old student at the University of Lethbridge with a double major in Psychology and Classical Music. While most musicians at his level have gone through the Royal Conservatory of Music, Theo is self-taught. He just started playing the piano and figured it out on his own, without lessons. He did not take guitar lessons either. Even though he did not play the guitar on the show, some of his fellow competitors were buzzing about how talented he was.

"We put him through as a singer because we saw him as very talented," Zach Werner told me after the first show. It was a bit disturbing talking to Werner, who plays the role of the tough and blunt judge. It was hard to have a serious conversation with him as he was wearing eye make-up for David Bowie night. "But when we put him through, we had never heard him play the piano and sing before. He is easily the best musician we have ever had on the show in all the years we have done this."

I guess, watching Theo on Canadian Idol week after week, I enjoyed cheering for him. I wanted him to win. He was a humble and gracious kid, very friendly, and very genuine. This is a kid who openly said his role model is Mother Teresa. Some may say that to try and create an image for himself.

Theo went a step further and backed it up by taking time off school to go to India and work as a volunteer at an orphanage. It was an experience that he said changed his life and gave him a completely fresh perspective on life.

It came down to Theo and Mitch MacDonald in the Canadian Idol final. Mitch was also a really nice guy and a huge hockey fan. He couldn't wait to rattle off the names of all the NHL players from the Port Hood area, where he is from, and the rest of Nova Scotia. He's so proud of where he's from that he got through about five names before even mentioning Sidney Crosby.

In the finale, Theo was announced as the winner. He cried. He was thrilled. If you watched it, you couldn't help but be thrilled for him. His first song hit the radio airwaves across Canada the next morning.

And now, the mansion that was so alive with young and talented aspiring musicians is empty. Mitch has gone home and Earl went back to Lloydminster and Mark Day is back in Newfoundland and Amberly went back to Seven Persons, Alberta. I wonder if they called the town Six Persons while she was in Toronto. I wonder if she only got seven tickets to the final show.

But in that empty mansion sits that piano. Alone. It will be played again, someday. But nobody will ever play it like Theo Tams did.

Glad corms 101

Ask a Master Gardener
by Frieda Deschamps

Q. I have planted and grown beautiful glads (gladiola) for many years. This spring, just when the spikes started to show colour, they either turned brown or seemed to rot at the root and I could just pull off the top. When I dug under to see what had happened, the bulbs were mostly hollow or dry with a white powder in them. Some of the bulbs that didn't rot had the dried bulb at the stem's end and a new-looking bulb on the bottom. Have you any idea what could have caused this to happen? I usually plant them in the same part of my flower beds each year. Could that have something to do with it? My sister shared the new bulbs with me and had some rot at the stems, but some were lovely. Thanks for anything you can tell me.

Betty P.

A. Gladioli are subject to aphids, bulb mites, or thrips. Those are the insect problems. Corms are also subject to several fungus diseases during storage. The problem with these gladioli could have started in storage or in the soil after planting.

Start by buying fresh glad corms and make sure they are not damaged in any way. Plant corms anywhere there is good drainage.

Planting is done in the spring at two-week intervals, making sure the last have time to bloom before killing frost. Glads normally flower in about 90 days.

Plant corms according to size. The larger the corm, the deeper you plant, anywhere from three to eight inches deep. Do not fill in hole completely, but as the corm sprouts, gradually fill in the hole.

Plant in rows six inches apart, making sure growing tips are pointed upward. Add compost or a slow release fertilizer when plants start peeking out of the soil and again when the flowers start showing colour.

Once the flower stalks have reached maturity they may need to be staked and tied. Be careful when driving in the stakes not to damage the corm.

After you have enjoyed your beautiful flowers, it is time to harvest corms before winter sets in. Dig up corms using a garden fork, there is less chance of damage than if you were to use a shovel.

Corms must be properly cured when harvested. Once corms are dug up, cut off foliage, clean off all soil, and inspect carefully. The corms will have produced new ones on top of the old ones which will eventually shrivel and die. Separate these and store with full size corms. Remember to cure the corms out of direct sunlight for one week at 85 to 90 F.

Cormels take one or two years to mature before they will bloom. After curing is complete, inspect corms and dust with copper based fungicide to kill fungi. Also dust corms with pyrethrum to destroy any thrips.

Store in a cool, dry, and well-ventilated place. Paper bags, mesh bags, or layering are all good methods of storage that can be used because air circulation is important.

One thing to remember is if diseased or damaged corms are found when they were dug up in the fall: throw them out — do not compost. Remove the infected soil and replace with fresh soil so you can use the same spot.

Village heralds first Gospelfest

by Matthew Barbour

WINCHESTER — Close to 600 people took in performances at various points throughout the first-ever Gospelfest, held over the weekend (Fri., Sept. 12 to Sun., Sept. 14) at Terrace Green Bed and Breakfast, which may become an annual event.

"We were really pleased with the turn out — for a first-time event, it went very well," said Annette Angus, owner of the bed and breakfast. "And it seems there was some historical significance to this event. We had several seniors tell us that it brought back memories of hearing spiritual music at services held in the area that is now a parking lot for Parmalat."

North Dundas Deputy-Mayor Estella Rose said she recalls attending what were called "camp meetings" with her parents in the 1970s. She and Mayor Alvin Runnalls welcomed visitors during the official opening of Gospelfest.

"From what I remember, the meeting hall was a wooden structure with just outer walls — I don't think it was used in the winter," Rose recollected. "There were fresh wood shavings covering the dirt floor. I guess the services were evangelistic in nature, but the part I remember most is the music — they always had such wonderful, spirited gospel music."

She said separate dormitory and dining hall buildings were also located on the site.

Reportedly, other Gospelfest visitors had memories of meetings being held in a tent before the wooden buildings were erected.

There was no charge for admission to Gospelfest, although free will offerings were accepted from time to time over the weekend. Angus said there was plenty of free parking nearby and that no-charge rough camping may be made available at future events.

The weekend featured performances by: Eternity, a gospel group formed in Kingston in 2006 by a couple who have been in the gospel music business on and off since 1972; Dorothy Ann Robbie, a lay pastor with the Free Methodist Church of Canada; local favourites the South Mountain Singers, a contemporary gospel group — made up of Bill Williams, Wayne Pitt, Alan Fawcett, Harry Castle, and Dale Williams — which has been singing throughout southeastern Ontario for the past 20 years; and other musical groups.

Evangelist Gene O'Donnell, who has travelled throughout Canada and the United States ministering and teaching for 25 years, preached during worship services at the event.

Identity theft hot topic

BISHOP'S MILLS — The Bishop's Mills United Church Women (UCW) hosted 33 ladies from Seaway Valley Presbyterial on Sept. 9.

A warm welcome was given from president Kim Baird with a reading from Joyce Rupps' book Circle of Light. Welcome was also extended by Wanda Tensen and Rev. Mary Lou Shorthill.

Mavis Elstone gave the history of the church hall through its many stages of being made into the lovely hall it is today — truly a "labour of love" by the community.

Worship was presented by the Kemptville UCW. The meditation was on guidance. Pat Reid's reading, "Dancing with God," gave affirmation to the scriptures along with hymns.

Business period followed. The secretary position was filled and reports from House of Lazarus, Christian Development, Church in Society, and Stewartship. House of Lazarus reported an increase of services to families.

Joan McEwen gave a report on a large number of new books for children and adults, also the new 2009 calendars are available.

House of Lazarus has a musical evening with The Malboreens at the South Mountain fairgrounds on Oct 18 and a huge sale coming on Oct. 24.

Fall Rally day for regions one and two takes place in Vankleek Hill on Oct. 7 while the regions three and four rally will be in Chesterville on Oct. 14. Family Fair Day will be held at the Chesterville fairgrounds and the Royal Canadian Legion on Oct. 5.

The business meeting closed with prayer. After lunch the group had the pleasure of listening to two gentlemen from the Ottawa South Rotary Club, as they presented on identity theft. They explained the ways some people have defrauded the public — it is unbelievable, especially for senior citizens. After a question-and-answer period members went home a lot wiser of the frauds out there.

Courtesies for the day were given by Pat Reid. Meeting closed with prayer from Kim Baird, who wished everyone a safe journey home.

Staal–Honey

The Honey residence in Russell was full of excitement July 26, 2008 for the marriage of Janice Honey, daughter of Peggy and Harry, and Luke Staal, son of Cora and Henry. Janice, glowing with happiness, entered on her father's arm. She was attended by her maid of honour Lauren Vanderveen, bridesmaids Ashleigh Craig and Rebecca Cole and flower girl Tiny. Nick Honey was best man for his new brother-in-law and was assisted by Ryan Staal, brother of the groom, and friend Brian Harrison. Janice and Luke want to thank everyone for making it such a memorable day. The newlyweds now reside in their new home in Russell.

19th century fall fair offers fun for all ages

MORRISBURG — From 25-cent treats and old-fashioned kids' games to agricultural displays, horse-drawn ploughing demonstrations, and heritage horse and cattle shows, there will be something for everyone to enjoy at this year's Fall Fair at Upper Canada Village.

The fairgrounds will be brought to life with an entertaining re-creation of a traditional 1860s agricultural exhibition on Sept. 20 and 21.

Traditional 1860s agricultural exhibition re-created

The Fall Fair is an opportunity to see the best of things made and grown at Upper Canada Village. Agricultural and dairy products, vegetables, flowers, handiwork, and fine art will all be on display in the Floral Hall. All entries are characteristic of the 1860s and meet guidelines set out by Upper Canada Village, giving the sense of a true 19th century fair.

This year, visitors to the fair will be entertained with traditional horse-drawn ploughing demonstrations taking place from 10 am to noon and 1 to 3 pm each day. A heritage horse and cattle show featuring the Canadian horse will again be part of the program.

One of the highlights of the event is the prices for treats served on the Village fairgrounds. Apples, village-baked bread, village cheese, cider, lemonade, and fudge will be available at only 25 cents per serving. The Village Store will also be open, offering fall specials on much of its merchandise.

Visitors can also catch the excitement when the Travelling Tiltons, a 19th century minstrel troupe, cause a ruckus as they roll into town on a horse-drawn wagon each day. These boisterous and rowdy entertainers will give the crowd a taste of their "stand-up" comedy, singing, and lively instrumental music played on the banjo, bodhran, flutes, harmonica, fiddle, horns, and accordion.

Steve Baker, snake oil salesman, slight of hand illusionist, mentalist, and all around entertainer, will be back with three different shows each day. His magic and acting talent, relaxed sense of humour, and audience interaction make his shows a hit for any crowd.

Children are invited to participate in several 19th century games taking place throughout the weekend. The ring toss, three-legged races, sack races, wheel barrow races, and more are being organized to provide young visitors a taste of some good old-fashioned fun.

Other fall festivities coming up at Upper Canada Village include the ever-popular quilt show on Sept. 27 and 28, and "Fall at the Farm" taking place from Sept. 29 to Oct. 5, when the Village's daily operations close for the season.

Special programming will be offered at the village on Thanksgiving Weekend (Oct. 10 to Oct. 13 from 10 am to 4 pm) and during its Flavours of Autumn weekends (Oct. 17 and 18 and Oct. 24 and 25 from 10 am to 4 pm).

Turning a page

The Friends of the South Mountain Library will hold a book sale fundraiser in the greenhouse at Mountain Orchards on weekend afternoons from Sept. 7 until Oct. 5. Pick your apples and pick up some good, and inexpensive, reading. All proceeds will go to the South Mountain Library and Community Resource Centre Building Fund. Some of the Friends who have volunteered to help run the sale are: Shelley Lyall (left), Diane Fox, Sandra Pym, Dave Scharf, Rachel Desrosiers, and Liz Earl.

Second-place pride

Sarah Kaldeway, a Grade 7 student at Timothy Christian School in Williamsburg, placed second in the recent Christian Reformed World Relief Committee's national poster contest. Hundreds of posters were submitted to the contest to support world missions. Kaldeway was the first student from TCS to place in the contest.

Williamsburg group holds euchre party

WILLIAMSBURG — The white card winners at the Williamsburg Seniors' euchre on Sept. 10 were Dianna Moffatt, Bertha Christie, and Louis Sweenie.

The yellow card winners were Bette Wheeler, Lorraine Tupper, and Muriel Miller.

Door prizes went to Jean Hutt and Audrey McLaren.

Bertha Christie, Dianna Moffatt, Harold Gallinger, and Lorraine Tupper were the draw winners.

The next euchre will be Wed., Sept. 24 at the J.W. MacIntosh Seniors' Support Centre in Williamsburg.

Jim's has solutions to get snowmobilers on the trails

by Matthew Barbour

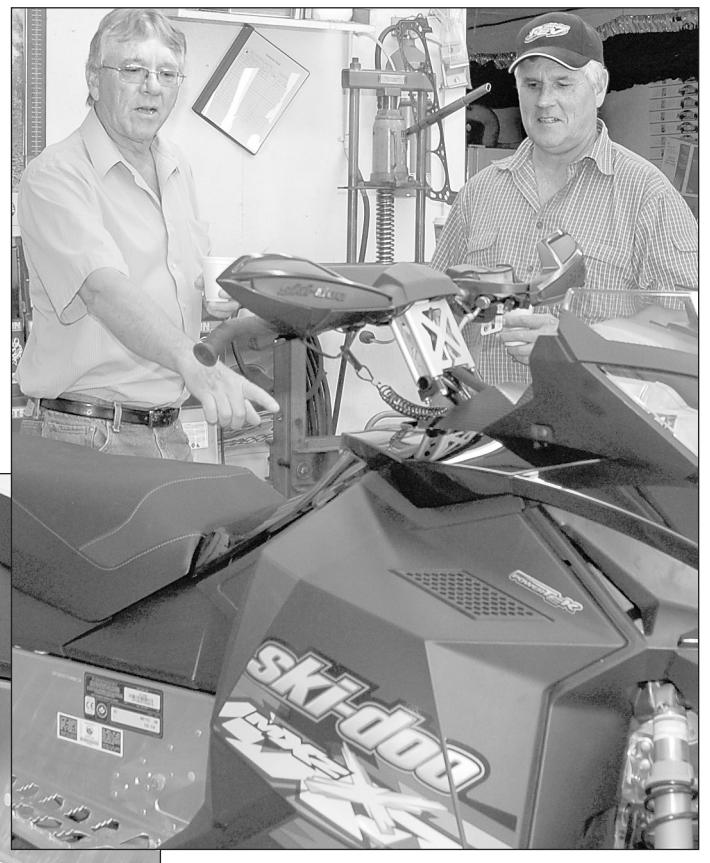
IROQUOIS — After last season's abundance of snow, some people are already thinking about this year's winter recreation plans.

"I sold my snowmobile two years ago and bought an ATV, but when I saw all that snow last year, that old yearning came back and I wanted to get out on the trails again," said Mike Moore of Kingston. He was one of several hundred people who dropped in for the annual open house at Jim's Performance Plus in Iroquois Sat., Sept. 13. "I'm still not sure, but I'm seriously thinking about buying another snowmobile," said Moore

Asked if the current high price of gasoline would be a deterrent to his enjoyment of snowmobiling, he replied, "Not really — they've been making huge improvements in the engines. They've increased the power ... but they're more fuel efficient at the same time. Newer machines use less than half the fuel over the same distance as the older ones."

Jim's Performance Plus owner Jim Primrose confirmed Moore's observation. "Whether it's a two-stroke or a four-stroke engine, they are easily three times more fuel efficient than they were just a few years ago," he said.

Jim's Performance Plus Ltd. is an ATV, snowmobile, and outdoor equipment dealer that sells the latest new products from BRP, Can-Am, and Ski-Doo, and performs maintenance on recreation vehicles.



Carl (left) and Brian McMahon of Crysler checked out the deals on some of the new and used snowmobiles during an open house at Jim's Performance Plus in Iroquois on Sat., Sept. 13. The brothers both agreed that better fuel efficiency on newer models is appealing.

Sea Cadets start new season

MORRISBURG — It is the start of a new school year and a new year for 338 Defiant Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps (RCSCC), based in Morrisburg.

"We wish to invite teens and parents, living within the boundaries of Morrisburg, Cardinal, Iroquois, Winchester, Chesterville, and Ingleside areas, to drop by our facility, which is located at the Old High School in Morrisburg," said Morrisburg Navy League president Don Fougere. "Our program is free and open to young ladies and gentlemen between 12 and 19 years of age."

The regular program runs Tuesday evenings from 6:30 to 9:30 pm and on Saturdays from 8:30 am to noon.

"Our Sea Cadet program offers a wide range of opportunities to gains skills related to sailing, range competitions, orienteering, safety, leadership, citizenship, and a variety of other areas," said Fougere, a Chestervile resident. Special trips and social events also take place during the course of the training year. Many cadets have also attended summer camps.

The group's number is 613-543-4505, or call Fougere at 613-448-1364 for more info.

D's Collision marks 20 years with party for the community

WINCHESTER — It was all smiles on Fri., Sept. 12 when friends and customers gathered at D's Collision Center on Dawley Drive to help the local business celebrate its 20th anniversary.

But if you'd asked Dennis and Kathy Carkner soon after they opened the business, the future didn't look very bright.

"One week after the original open house we had a break in — they took all the equipment," Kathy said, noting that there was only insurance on the tool box — nothing else.

But they didn't throw in the towel, and 20 years later are proud of the family-run operation.

"There's definitely been ups and downs, but every year's gotten better and better," Kathy said.

Dennis agreed.

"It wasn't easy at the start, but we got through it," he said, noting that when the business opened they invested in top-of-the-line equipment — something they're still investing in today.

"We need to satisfy the needs of our customers," said Dennis, explaining that the business moved to its current facility 17 years ago, and underwent a major expansion three years ago.

"It's been quite a run," he continued. "We're very happy and very fortunate to have a good community and a good customer base."

D's Collision is the first Fix Auto franchise in Ontario. Dennis and Kathy's son, Phil, now manages the business.

"I'm sure that Phil will carry it on stronger than what it is now," Dennis said. "I can't wait to see what he does with the business."

The family presented Bev Stewart, who has worked as a receptionist at the business for the last 20 years, with a plaque of appreciation.

But Phil explained that the open house was a great way to show appreciation for the customers, too.

"Thank you to all our customers and insurance partners and to all who attended," he said.

Partnerships give work-skills training

CORNWALL — The Tri-County Literacy Council recently received $9,845 through the Eastern Ontario Development Program (EODP) administered through the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry Community Futures Development Corporation to assist in the creation of an employment training program.

The literacy council has partnered with Beautyrock Incorporated to run the training program for persons often defined as "ineligible" for employment.

These persons are often without a Grade 12 diploma, may lack adequate computer skills, and have little or no work history. The training is based on essential skills — reading, document use, numeracy, writing, oral communication, working with others, thinking, computer use, and continuous learning.

These skills form the basis for Tri-County Literacy Council's Call Centre training that is intended to lead people into the more specialized training offered within a call centre.

MP Guy Lauzon officially launched the partnership and the new program at Tri-County Literacy Council in Cornwall on Mon., Sept. 15.

The EODP is a $10 million Government of Canada initiative that promotes socio-economic development in rural Eastern Ontario, encourages a competitive and diversified regional economy, and contributes to the successful development of business and job opportunities and sustainable, self-reliant communities.

OBE hosts 10-year reunion

OTTAWA — Morewood resident Bill Smirle is chair of the organizing committee for a reunion to mark the 10-year anniversary of the Ottawa Board of Education (OBE), which joined forces with the Carleton Board of Education in January 1998 to become the Ottawa-Carleton District School Board.

"The reunion will offer former OBE employees the opportunity to reconnect, reminisce, and renew friendships," Smirle said.

The reunion is set to take place Sat., Oct. 4, in Salons "A" and "B" at Algonquin College.

All retired and currently active former OBE employees, their guests, and friends of the OBE are invited to attend the reunion.

The social hour begins at 6 pm followed by a buffet dinner at 7 pm. The cost of the dinner is $40 per person. Tables of eight can be reserved.

Tickets are available by calling Joan Fulcher at 613-596-8211, extension 8829, and will be on sale until Wed., Sept. 24.

Installation of traffic lights will improve safety

GREELY — Construction begins this week on the installation of traffic lights at the intersection of Bank Street and Parkway Road. This project will be completed in early November and cost approximately $750,000. This is probably one of the most dangerous intersections in Osgoode Ward, so the traffic lights will be a major improvement for the community.

Curling Club is ready for action

Once again the Metcalfe Curling Club is gearing up for a fun season in a social atmosphere. Along with returning members, the club would love to see new faces. The season will start on Oct. 27.

The club offers a competitive (fixed teams) league, draw curling for men and women, and a Friday night social league as well as curling for Juniors (age 12 to 19) and Little Rocks (age seven to 12). There will be a free clinic for new curlers, so don't be intimidated if you have not yet tried this great sport.

For more information about the club and online registration, visit www.metcalfe.ovca.com or call Steve Hindle at 613-443-5861.

Girls' change room opens

The official opening of a new change room for female hockey players will take place Thurs., Sept. 18 at 6 pm at the Stuart Holmes Arena in Osgoode. Join us for the opening of this long awaited addition.

Church supper season

The St. Paul's Anglican Church harvest roast beef supper will be held at the Osgoode Legion (3284 Sunstrum St.) on Sat., Sept. 27 from 4:30 to 7 pm.

Adult tickets are $12, children ages five to 12 are $6, and children under five are free. Tickets are available at the door or call Barbara at 613-489-2881.

Frolick into fall

Live and Learn Resource Centre Frolicking Into Fall will take place at the Metcalfe Client Resource Centre on Sept. 24 from 6:30 until 8 pm. Learn new games, activities, and active songs and rhymes to do with your daycare children.

A free take home kit of leaves and the games and activities played will be given to all participants. Wear comfortable clothing.

The event is sponsored by Child Care Providers Resource Network, Ontario Early Years, and Live and Learn, targeted to home child care providers. To register, call 613-821-2899 or visit sbserver.ccprn.com/database.

Volunteers needed

If you are looking for a fun way to volunteer in the community of Osgoode, then check out O-YA. The association is currently looking for both youth and adult volunteers — visit www.volunteerottawa.ca to read the volunteer job descriptions.

O-YA is hiring a youth worker

Do you know someone who is 19 years or older, wants to work part-time in Osgoode, loves working with youth, is energetic, responsible, and fun? We want to hear from them. Contact O-YA's executive director Cheryl, at 613-826-4605 for details.

Metcalfe Fair approaching

The 2008 Metcalfe Fair will be Oct. 2 to 5 and is poised to be one of the best. I am always impressed by the wide variety of activities for all ages. Fri., Oct. 3 is the City of Ottawa-Osgoode Ward Day. I am very proud and honoured to support the Metcalfe Fair by sponsoring this part of it. On Friday, I will be seeking to repeat as "cow milking champ." Come on out to help me fend off the challengers.

Step Dancing lessons

Step Dancing lessons are being offered in Metcalfe. The Fall session runs Tuesday evenings until Dec. 9 at the Metcalfe Lions Den. Beginner classes are available for all ages. For more information or to register, contact Karen Warren at 613-821-3237 or dkwarren@rogers.com.

Nursery School open house

Looking for a half-day morning drop-off program for your toddler or preschooler that offers lots of fun and learning in a nurturing environment? Then check out the Metcalfe Co-operative Nursery School at its open house tonight (Wed., Sept. 17) from 6:30 to 8:30 pm. Bring your children to see the school. Space is available in both the toddler and preschool programs. For more information, call 613-821-3196 or visit www.mcnskids.org.

Just Kiddin' registration

Just Kiddin' Theatre is now accepting registrations for the 2008-09 session.

The next drama session will begin right after Thanksgiving for kids aged nine and up. Participants will develop their skills through a combination of games and exercises, as well as an authentic rehearsal and production process. The result will be a full-length play to be performed in May 2009. Registration closes Fri., Sept. 26, but don't wait as only a few spaces are left.

Visit www.justkiddintheatre.com for details and registration.

Skating Club registration

The Metcalfe Skating club registration will take from Thurs., Sept. 18, 5:30 - 7:30 pm at the arena and the Metcalfe Curling Rink.

Specialist skills program expands

RUSSELL — St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic High School in Russell is offering a Special High Skill Major (SHSMP) focussing on the enivronment. St. Thomas is one of eight schools in the Catholic District School Board of Eastern Ontario to offer a specialized program.

The SHSM is a community-partnered initiative supported by the local business sector and community partners. The SHSM program offers preparatory knowledge, skills, certifications, reach-ahead, and on-the-job learning opportunities.

Students will also receive training and certifications in several program and job-specific requirements, such as Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System (WHMIS), standard first aid and CPR, fall arrest, and customer service training.

"It's not only the students who are appreciating the wonderful opportunities they receive through the SHSM program, but our partners are so very pleased with the effort that the students are putting in to be successful," said Sheila Farris, CDSBEO supervising principal of student success.

Board chair Ronald Eamer said the partnerships are a key to the program's success.

"Our partners — the colleges, the universities, and the local businesses — do all they can do to help ensure students in our SHSM programs receive the best possible instruction and opportunities," he said. "For that we are so very grateful. Without them, the SHSM programs would not be possible."

St. Michael Catholic High School in Kemptville also offers the environment program, while other schools throughout the board offer majors in construction, transportation, arts and culture, as well as health and wellness.

"Thanks to the SHSM program, our students are experiencing success in school and the world of work," said director of education Bill Gartland. "For many, it has solidified their plans for future opportunities in work, college, or university."

The Catholic District School Board of Eastern Ontario operates 40 elementary and 10 secondary schools across eight counties serving 15,000 students.

Ag minister to speak in Manotick tonight

MANOTICK — For the second consecutive year, Eastern Ontario farmers will have access to the top agricultural policy maker in the country.

The second annual Carleton Farm Forum will take place Wed., Sept. 17 at 7 pm at St. Mark Catholic High School, east of Manotick.

Gerry Ritz, Canada's Minister of Food and Agriculture will speak on current issues effecting the industry.

"We're expecting a good turnout this year," said Nepean-Carleton incumbant MP Pierre Poilievre.

Frustrated farmers spoke their minds at last year's session with then-Food and Agriculture Minister Chuck Strahl. This year, Poilievre is expecting a more positive exchange.

"The agriculture sector is doing better this year, but there are still challenges," said Poilievre. "There are still some big challenges, but the level of anxiety is not as great as it was 18 months ago."

Large agricultural turnout expected

Poilievre said that since last year, the federal government has made it easier for local farmers to access aid and funding to which they are entitled. He also mentioned that there is an increase in commodity prices, triggered by an increase in demand for bio-fuels.

"We have made the farm programs less bureaucratic," said Poilievre. "The situation is not perfect, but there is progress being made.

With an election on the horizon, Poilievre and Ritz are expected to take the opportunity to talk about the Liberal party's proposed carbon tax.

"The carbon tax would apply to diesel fuel, and it would cripple farms in Canada," Poilievre said, adding that farmers across the country were hit hard when fuel prices skyrocketed in 2005. A carbon tax would eat directly into what little profit margin farmers currently have.

"The Conservatives will not bring in a carbon tax," said Poilievre.

Following addresses by Poilievre and Ritz, there will be an open mic question-and-answer session.

That's a ringer!

FCC program helps drive away hunger

REGINA, SASK. — Farm Credit Canada's (FCC) fifth annual Drive Away Hunger program began on Mon., Sept. 15. The goal is to collect over 500,000 pounds of food for the hungry in rural Canada.

Four years ago, an FCC employee from Ontario and his colleagues organized a local tractor tour to collect food donations from businesses. His motivation was to give back to his community and help food banks serve people in need.

His idea grew into Drive Away Hunger, the largest community event of the year for FCC. Since 2004, employees across the country have organized six provincial and four corporate office Drive Away Hunger tours that collected nearly one million pounds of food.

"Hunger is an issue right here in our own backyard and raising awareness about it is important to us," said FCC president and CEO Greg Stewart. "This program is a great opportunity for our employees to show they care about the communities where they live and work. It's truly amazing to see what communities can do when they come together to help citizens in need."

At the end of this year's tour, FCC will donate $25,000 to the Canadian Association of Food Banks to support the National Food Sharing System. Canada's food sharing system ensures equitable distribution of food among member food banks across the country.

"Fighting hunger is becoming a greater challenge for various reasons," Stewart added. "Drive Away Hunger is a great way for us to work with our customers, communities, local businesses, and food banks to put food on tables for those who need it most."

This year, FCC's Drive Away Hunger initiative is going national. Tours will take place the week of Oct. 13 in Alberta, Manitoba, Nova Scotia, and Regina, where FCC's head office is located. In addition, FCC will also be collecting food and cash donations in every field office across Canada. All food and cash donations go to Canadian food banks.

For more information about the tours or to make a cash donation, visit www.driveawayhunger.ca

There are more than 673 food banks and 2,867 related food service agencies in Canada. Every month, nearly 720,000 Canadians turn to a food bank for emergency food supplies, 39 per cent of which are children. Many of these people live in rural communities.

The Drive Away Hunger program aligns with World Food Day, which is held each year on Oct. 16. World Food Day helps raise awareness about world food issues and motivates the public to help address hunger, malnutrition, and poverty.

Orchard blossoms into all-day attraction

by Matthew Barbour

MOREWOOD — Claire and Dennis Taylor planted their first apple trees at Cannamore Orchard in 1982 and three years later, started selling their fruit to the public.

Today, their operation is much more than an orchard. In addition to offering pick-your-own and pre-picked apples, pumpkins, and gourds, Cannamore Orchard has activities that can keep families entertained for the better part of a day.

"We have a picnic area, the wagon ride, cow train ride, play structures, animal corral, museum, duck races, and ten mazes," said Dennis Taylor during a tour on Sun., Sept. 14. And he is not yet finished adding to the already impressive collection.

An eleventh maze will be ready next year and he said he is in the process of developing six green mazes, using shrubs and other plants, which will be opened to the public over the next two to three years.

Cannamore Orchard owners Dennis Taylor and his wife, Claire, welcome thousands of visitors to their operation each year. In addition to offering pick-your-own and pre-picked apples, pumpkins, and gourds, Cannamore Orchard has activities that can keep families entertained for the better part of a day.

"The neatest thing is to see parents working with their kids in the mazes — it's the main reason for continuing to do this," he explained. "It's great to see people having fun."

Then there are the Halloween attractions — the Spooky Wagon Ride, the Fog Maze, the Dark Maze, the Spooky Village, and the Kid's Spooky House.

"This is the 16th year for the Spooky Wagon Ride, the eighth year for the Fog Maze and the seventh year for the Haunted House," noted Taylor. He explained that those three attractions are staffed by students from three area high schools and in return, the schools receive a percentage of the admission fees to fund extracurricular activities.

Looking at the business today it's hard to believe there was a point in time when the future of Cannamore Orchard was in doubt.

"In 1992, we found ourselves sitting there with a stack of bills, wondering if we should continue," said Taylor. "We decided to give it another five years and, well, after those five years passed, we never looked back."

Cannamore Orchard was one of 13 stops on this year's Eastern Ontario Agri-Tour, which ran over the past two weekends. Dennis Taylor has been part of the Agri-Tour executive committee for 14 years.

Tierah Bereck, a staff member at Cannamore Orchard, tried her hand at the duck race during a rare quiet moment on Sun., Sept. 14. The duck race is one of a large number of activities that families can find at the orchard, where preparations have already started for the many Halloween attractions — including the Spooky Wagon Ride. Photos — Barbour

Metcalfe Jets retain Joe Rowan Memorial Cup

WINCHESTER — A five-goal outburst erased an early 2-0 Winchester lead and propelled the Metcalfe Jr. "B" Jets to an 8-4 over the home town Hawks.

Monday night's (Sept.15) victory gave the Jets a two-game, total goal (12-4) sweep of the home-and-home exhibition series and allowed them to retain possession of the Joe Rowan Memorial Challenge Cup.

The Jets now have 11 Rowan Cup wins to the three chalked up by the Hawks, who captured the silverware in 1997, 2000 and 2004.

Metcalfe blanked the Hawks 4-0 in game one in Osgoode on Sept. 6 and locked up the series doubling Winchester 8-4 in game two Monday night. In between the Metro Division squad was rung up for five straight losses. Metcalfe's pre-season sked ended last night (Tues., Sept. 16) with a game against the Rideau Division's Athens Aeros at Centre 76 in Athens.

Winchester went through its exhibition slate winless in five starts and outgunned 47-12. The Hawks staff including head coach Darren Stitt, assistant Marty Little and general manager Craig "JB" Smith will prepare their squad tonight (Wed., Sept. 17) in preparation for Friday's (Sept. 19) Rideau - St. Lawrence Junior "B" Hockey League regular season home opener against the Char-Lan Rebels. The Rebels won three of their five exhibition matches.

An unassisted goal by Richard Mulligan gave the Hawks a 1-0 lead at 17:36 of the first period. Cory "The Pocket Ski" Giczewski then made it 2-0 scoring from Mike Holwell and Oliver Smith at 15:41. From that point on it was all Jets.

Josh Shanbaum (SHG at 11:39), Brett Holmes (at 11:26), Zach Coakeley (PPG at 4:45), Chris Duncan (PPG at 3:08) and Brett Varrin (at 2:41) scored in that order to put Metcalfe up 5-2 after 20 minutes.

Scott Downey (at 18:31) and Alex Barr (PPG at 5:27) netted second period markers for the Jets while Mike Lemay ripped a long slapper home for the Hawks at the 7:34 mark. Chris "Ski" Giczewski and Ben Collins set up the play. Metcalfe led 7-3 after two sessions.

Collins closed the gap to 7-4 when he finished a rush set up by Matt Lee and Andrew Baker at 18:36 of the final frame. Metcalfe answered quickly when Coakeley buried his second shot behind Hawk starter Devon Armitage at 17:32.

Martial arts club kicks off new season

by Sarah Kelford
Press staff

WINCHESTER — The Winchester Martial Arts Club recently began its eighth season and welcomed 18 new and old members so far this year.

"This club is a number of things. It's learning a skill, it's learning discipline, and it's having fun," said Winchester Martial Arts Club owner Sensei Bill Pope.

Pope has been practising martial arts for almost 20 years and has been teaching for 12. He said his teaching style is to take a holistic approach to the martial arts, touching on meditation, spiritual aspects, discipline, technique, self defense, and the origination of the arts.

"I don't teach people to fight," he said.

Pope teaches along with three other Senseis: Mark Jackson, Joe Ward, and Thierry Martin.

Each session is structured the same to maintain discipline. The first 20 minutes is spent warming up, followed by 20 minutes of forms and techniques, and then the students break into groups based on skill (belt-colour) to spend time on their individual needs, focus, and self defense.

Registration costs $50 a month for youth ages seven to 16 or $60 a month for adults. The club runs from September until June and meets every Monday and Wednesday evening from 7 until 8 pm at the Winchester Community Centre. New members are welcome to join at any time.

"I do this because I like to teach and I love martial arts," said Pope.

To learn more about the club or join call Pope at 613-258-9826, e-mail wpope@appendix.ca, or visit www.wmac.ca.

Challenge cup champs

The Metcalfe Jets outscored the Winchester Hawks 12-4 in a Eastern Ontario Junior "B" Hockey League two-game exhibition series. The Jets won game one 4-0 on Sept. 6 and clinched the Joe Rowan Memorial Challenge Cup by doubling the Hawks 8-4 in Winchester. North Dundas Devils hit the hardwood this week

MAPLE RIDGE — Basketball and volleyball kick off the 2008 SD&G fall high school sports schedule this week.

The North Dundas District High School Devils hit the hardwood today (Wed., Sept. 17) as they play host to a pair of girls basketball games. The Senior Devils under the direction of coach Jevon Groves will take on the CCVS Golden Knights in an afternoon matinee that also pits Deanna Corbett-White and the Junior Devils against the General Vanier Vikings. Holly Setterington is working with the midget squad which begins play on Oct. 10.

The North Dundas boys volleyball teams also open their campaign on the road this afternoon playing a twin bill in Cornwall against CCVS and General Vanier. Ian Wilson is coaching the senior and midget teams while Cheryl Williams is mentoring the Junior Devils.

Cross country

Julie Green and Andrea McDonell have been training the Devils cross-country team in preparation for a pre-season run over the EOSSAA course in Kingston on Sept. 26. This year's EOSSAA event is set for the Limestone City on Oct. 23.

In their run up to EOSSAA the Devils will compete in the TISS invitational in Brockville on Oct. 1 and then a race hosted by St. Michael's in Kemptville on Oct. 9. The 2008 SD&G championship is scheduled for Cornwall (Grey's Creek) on Oct. 15.

Vasey and Porteous accurate shooters

WILLIAMSBURG — Winchester golfers Glen Vasey and Bob Porteous proved to be the most accurate shooters taking part in the weekly edition of Men's Night at Cedar Glen Golf Course.

They were the big winners of the Closest to the Pin contest on Sept. 11, Vasey dropping his shot next to the flag on No. 15 while Porteous rolled his ball closest to the hole on No. 12.

Billy DeJong belted the longest drive striking his shot from the No. 13 tee.

Mike McAllister (38) and Denis Villeneuve (38) turned in the best gross scores in "A" class. Grant McMillan (33) and Greg VanDellen (33) recorded the low net numbers.

Darrell Shelp (37) and Phil Douglas (42) finished in that order in "B" class. Gary Lefave (33) edged Joey Barkley (34) for the low net.

In "C" class Bob Porteous (41) posted a three shot win over Bert McIntosh (44). It was a close finish for low net honours as Bruce Kerr (31) nipped Tom Sloane (32) by a stroke.

Dale Casselman registered a low gross 46 in "D" class. Al Crowder carded a low net 29.

Gold sponsors

Gold Sponsors for Cedar Glen's annual "Thank the Members Night" (Aug. 28) were: Andy's Foodland, Bruce Kerr Insurance and Investments, Winchester Home Hardware, Woody's Krown Rust Control, Janice Casselman, RMT of Winchester Physio, Greg's Meats, Canadian Tire, Cedar Glen Golf Course, Whitteker's Meat Market, Williamsburg Garage and Hunterdale Outfitters, Pinkus Auto Parts, MT Advertising and Sports Ltd., Evolution Iron and Ingleside TimBR Mart.

Dancers hit the floor in Chesterville, Hawks hit the ice in Winchester

Remarks
by Mark Guy, director of recreation

WINCHESTER — The Township of North Dundas is still taking registrations for all fall programs. Space is still available in the ballroom dancing levels 1 and 2 classes (Tuesday nights), youth ballroom dancing (Thursday nights), cardio step aerobics (Monday nights), the babysitter's training course (Sat., Oct. 25), and yoga (Tuesday nights). Check the Fall and Winter Activity Guide or visit the township website (www.northdundas.com) for detailed information on these programs and more.

Preschool storytime at the Winchester library branch takes place every Tuesday morning at 11 am until Oct. 21 for ages three to five.

The South Mountain Recreation Association is hosting a Fun In The Park tennis day and barbecue on Sat., Sept. 27 from 10 am to 1 pm. Try your hand at the game of tennis and see the great improvements to the tennis courts.

The Winchester Junior "B" Hawks get their 2008-09 season underway this Friday night (Sept. 19) at home versus the Char-Lan Rebels. Game time is 8:15 pm.

Having summer weather in September makes it especially tough to make and maintain the ice at the Winchester arena. Although we have made some improvements to the arena such as a new ceiling and tin on the exterior, the building is not well insulated and therefore does not operate well under conditions like we experienced last Sunday. Making decisions to cancel ice time are not popular but necessary.

Old Timers finish seventh in OCSL

CHESTERVILLE — The North Dundas United Old Timers out-scored the visiting Korean WhiteCaps 4-1 on their home field at the Chesterville fairgrounds, put the brakes on a two-game losing skid and finished the 2008 Ottawa Carleton Soccer League season at the 500 level.

The victory over the WhiteCaps was posted on Sept. 5 and signalled the end of the United's OT5 season.

North Dundas compiled a record of 6-6-3 (21 points) and settled into seventh place in the 16-team division. The Aylmer Cousins and Falcons also posted 6-6-3 record by their goal differential were minus while the United's goals for and against average was a plus five (31-26).

North Dundas put together a string of four wins from July 25 to Aug. 15 defeating the Spitfires 3-2, the Goulbourn Jets 3-nil, Fitzroy United 5-nil and the Arnprior Blues 3-2.

Prior to that streak the locals were sporting a 1-4-3 mark.

McIntoshes win mixed two-ball

WILLIAMSBURG — Dean and Elaine McIntosh registered a low gross 40 to claim top spot in the rankings in a Mixed Two-Ball at Cedar Glen Golf Course.

Team McIntosh finished two shots up on Bill and Brenda Hogaboam who combined for a 42 on Sunday (Sept. 7).

Muriel and Dale Whitteker were the draw winners.

Two teams — Ann Cook - Gord McLaughlin and John - Collette Wrinn — posted an eight on No. Three and shared the hidden hole (high) prize.

District 8 squad skates to silver medal

DIEPPE, NB — A power play goal scored in the final 43 seconds of the game snapped a 3-3 tie and lifted Alberta to a gold-medal victory over the Ontario representative District 8 - SD&G squad.

Alberta iced its third consecutive Canada 55+ Senior Games gold-medal adding an empty-net goal for a 5-3 win over SD&G in the championship match played in Dieppe, New Brunswick last month (Aug. 26 to 31).

SD&G went into the medal round with a record of 2-0-1 having whitewashed the North West Territories 10-0, defeated Saskatchewan 4-1 and tied New Brunswick 3-3.

The District 8 squad, based in Morrisburg, previously won the gold in 2004 in Whitehorse. In 2006 the SD&G reps had to pull out of the tournament in Portage La Prairie when they lost all of their belongs in a fire that destroyed their hotel.

Backed by the solid play of 72-year-old goaltender Les McAllister the locals have also put together an impressive record competing in the Ontario games striking gold in London in 2004, gold in Barrie in 2006 and bronze in Brockville in 2008.

Travel costs for the District 8 athletes will be down in the next two years as Brockville will play host to the Ontario Senior Games in 2009 and the Canada 55+ Games in 2010.

Senior silver medallists

Castors sweep pair from Hawks

WINCHESTER — If four exhibition games are any indication, the Clarence Creek Castors look as if they will be a powerful contender in the Eastern Ontario Jr. "B" Hockey League this season.

The Metro - Valley Conference squad played four pre-season games in five days and destroyed the St. Lawrence Division opposition supplied by the Winchester Hawks and first-year Casselman Vikings. The Castors bombed the Hawks and Vikings by a combined margin of 39-7.

The Castors posted 7-4 (Sept. 10) and 12-2 (Sept. 12) victories over the Hawks and edged the Vikings 7-6 (Sept. 11) and thumped them 13-1 (Sept. 14).

In the Creek

Winchester took a 2-0 lead in the first period of the game in Clarence Creek on Sept. 10, but trailed 4-3 after 40 minutes and lost 7-4.

Chris Giczewski put the Hawks on the board scoring unassisted with 6:50 left in the opening stanza.

Chris Embury made it 2-0 when he converted a feed from Matt Lee 3:37 before the end of the same frame.

Veteran Ben Collins tied it up 3-3 when he buried a power-play pass provided by Parker Davies and Andrew Baker with 9:19 left in period two. But just 10 seconds later the Castors went up 4-3 when Scott Joseph netted the first of his three goals.

Joseph cracked in his next two markers at 9:59 (PPG) and 6:14 before Dave Ethier hit the empty Winchester cage 54 seconds before the final buzzer and iced a 7-4 win.

The Hawks final goal was recorded by Curtis Dunfield who finished a power play started by Collins and Alex Krumins with 3:20 left on the clock.

Ryan Hay (NDMHA) and Devon Armitage shared Winchester's goaltending chores.

Hawks roster

Castors 12 - Hawks 2

The Castors jumped out to a 6-1 first-period lead on the home town Hawks in Friday's (Sept. 12) rematch and chased rookie goaltender Devon Armitage in the process.

Sophomore stopper Michael Hitesman stepped in and gave up the final eight Clarence Creek goals.

The Castors led 6-1 after one period and 9-2 after two. Tyler Fredette (2), Dominic Godard (2), Pascal Brisson, Jason Talbot, Scott Joseph, Jeremy Gauthier, Jamie Begin, Sebastien Tremblay, Ryan Kraft and Eric Lortie rang up the Creek goals.

Bobby Little (from Chris Giczewski and A. Draper at 18:20) netted Winchester's first-period goal. Curtis Dunfield (unassisted at 11:20) added the other in period two.

Hawks roster

Third place

The team from the host Cedar Glen Golf Club finished third in the 2008 Ladies Valley League championship tournament. Prescott knocked off the perennial champions from Summerheights Golf Links on Aug. 17 while Cedar Glen placed third. The 2008 Cedar Glen Ladies Valley League team: front (left) - Loretta VanDellen, Darlene Marcellus, Marie Beckstead, Pat Reaney, Muriel Whitteker, Sheila Crowder; back (left) - Courtney Barkley, Jocelyn St. Pierre, Brenda Whitteker, Joan Findlay, Pat McKay, Denise Lafave, Shari Boyd and Janet Levere.

Barkley wins Men's Night by single shot

WILLIAMSBURG — Kurtis Barkley out-shot his father Rick and gained a bit of revenge after he had lost by a one-shot margin to his dad in the Cedar Glen Golf Club's 2008 Men's Open. The younger Barkley posted an emphatic six-shot win during Men's Night at the Bouck's Hill course on Sept. 4.

Barkley carded a low gross 30 and topped the "A" class standings, six shots ahead of the elder Barkley's 36. Kurtis also claimed a closest-to-the-pin prize for his placement on No. Six.

Merle "Ziggy" Reaney (31) took the "A" class low net prize over runner-up Jeff Whitteker.

Joey Barkley smashed the longest drive from the No. Five tee. Jamie Whitteker dropped his shot closest to the pin on No. Nine.

The battle in "B" class featured a one-shot win for Billy DeJong who fired a low gross 39. Darrell Shelp settled into second spot with a 40. Mahlon Locke (30) and Hubert Barkley (32) compiled the best net scores.

Bob Porteous turned in a low gross 39 and captured the "C" class award. Peter Romme finished two shots off the pace at 41. Jim Casselman and Dale Whitteker match low net 29s.

Hugh McKay took the low gross prize in "D" class with a 47. Don Findlay shot a low net 28.

Bill Collins, Tyler Longo, Bob Porteous and Glen vasey also picked up prizes.

Winchester Curling Club holding registration

WINCHESTER — It is time to register for the 2008-09 curling season. The Winchester Curling Club is inviting everyone to sign up for fun, fellowship and friendly competition this winter.

The club's second registration night is set for tomorrow — Thurs., Sept. 18. The sign-up session will begin in the lounge at 6:30 pm and club executives will accept memberships until 8 pm. The fall general meeting will then take place shortly after the conclusion of registration.

Free instruction for newcomers

New curlers are welcome and will be offered free instruction clinics.

The 2008-09 season is offering levels of play for all ages including Little Rockers (age seven to 11), bantam-juniors (age 12 to 20), daytime league, mixed, open fixed, ladies and men's leagues. The fees are $260 for adults, $75 for Little Rockers and $80 for bantams and juniors.

The first event on this year's curling calendar is the annual Swing and Sweep which is slated for Sat., Oct. 11.

The day will include nine holes of golf at Williamsburg's Cedar Glen Golf Course and eight ends of curling.

For more details call 613-774-9983. Membership is not required for this event.

WILLIAMSBURG — Winchester District Memorial Hospital held its 12th annual golf tournament at the Cedar Glen Golf Course on Sat., Sept. 13.

The 103 golfers in this year's "Diamond Jubilee" tourney helped raise about $12,000, up from last year's total of $11,000.

"We're on budget for the bricks and mortar and now we're targeting funds for new equipment — in particular a CT Scanner and a digital mammography system," said Peter Sorby, chair of the hospital's board of directors.

He and WDMH Foundation vice-chair Dianne Crummy were stationed at the first tee, welcoming players and inviting them to play "Pay-What-You-Pull" as an additional method of contributing to the event.

"We know this (equipment) is what people want and that is why we are continuing to raise money — we want to bring all these services closer to home," said Crummy.

Sorby noted that surveys continue to show patients are satisfied with the service they receive at the hospital, crediting WDMH staff for the high level of patient satisfaction.

"Plus, parking is still two bucks," he added, smiling.

He reported that construction of the hospital expansion is on schedule and the expanded portion is expected to open in late March of next year.

Prize winners

Closest to the Bedpan: Dr. Suru Chande won a fishing rod and organizer donated by Paddletales and Pat Lewis, while Dr. Marilyn Crabtree won a silver watch donated by Bruce Kerr Insurance and Investments.

Beat the Sponsor: Charles Catney won the iPod donated by major sponsor, Bell.

Long Distance Drive: Jordan Clouthie of PCL Constructors and Carol Bentivoglio each won an iPod Shuffle (donated by Bell).

Putting Contest: Larry Paquettte won a Sony Cyber-shot Digital Camera (donated by Winchester Home Hardware).

Low gross bragging rights went to the PCL Constructors team of Clouthier, David Coyle, John Stewart, and Colin VanRotselaar. "Most honest golfers" (rewarded with 18 holes of golf each from Cedar Glen) were Shelley Broad, Dianne Byers, Colleen Smith, and Rhonda Winter.

Kevin Whitteker (above, left), Jim and Wendy Casselman, and MW Locke joined 99 other golfers at Cedar Glen on Sat., Sept. 13 for the 12th annual WDMH golf tournament. Funds raised will purchase equipment for the expanded hospital.

Mets mark end of ball season

SOUTH MOUNTAIN — President Steve Crowder addressed a crowd of over 90 players, coaches, umpires and family members as the Mountain Minor Ball Association called the final out on its 2008 campaign.

The association convened for its annual pot luck banquet at the South Mountain agricultural hall on Sept. 8 and reviewed the exploits of the six teams it fielded for play in the Upper Canada Little League this summer. Crowder also noted that Mountain players were also assigned to teams in Winchester and Chesterville.

This year's coaching staff introduced their respective teams and presented each player with a medallion. The association's umpires were also introduced and received a certificate of appreciation.

Crowder thanked the umpiring crew and the executive for their work this season and then made a pitch to parents to volunteer for next year.

Past president Philip Labossiere then thanked Crowder for his dedication to the job and presented him with a MMBA president shirt.

The association's annual general meeting is being held tomorrow night (Thurs., Sept. 18) at the ag hall at 7 pm. The meeting is open and all Mountain Mets parents are encouraged to attend.

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS – Thank you to all those who visited, for gifts, cards, best wishes and prayers received while being in the hospital and at home. Your thoughtfulness makes my recovery so much easier.
– Pete Monast
27

CARD OF THANKS – The family of the late Bert Edward Woods, who passed away on September 5, 2008, would like to sincerely thank all friends, neighbours and relatives for their messages of condolence, sympathy cards, donations and their presence at the funeral. As many names and addresses are unknown please consider this a personal thanks. All your kindnesses will always be remembered.
– Myrtle and children
27

CARD OF THANKS – We would like to thank Joanne Toonen and all the other people present at the Metcalfe Curling Club on the afternoon of September 3, 2008, whose prompt action helped save the life of Martin Bongers. We would also like to thank Dr. Merrett and the emergency staff at the Winchester District Memorial Hospital; the Air Ambulance crew: Vascular Surgeon, Dr. Jetty and the emergency unit, operating room and Intensive Care Unit staff at the Ottawa Civic Hospital. Your efforts made a huge and significant difference. Martin is progressing well in his recovery. We will never be able to thank you enough. Your contribution will never be forgotten. God bless you all.
– Martina Ceelen-Bongers, the Bongers and Ceelen families

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS – I would like to thank all my friends and neighbours who were so kind while I was in the Heart Institute, and since coming home. Your cards and prayers were much appreciated. Special thanks to the nursing staff, and all those involved in my stay there. Special thanks also to the kind people who took Dorothy in to see me, and also to my family who were a tower of strength during my convalescence at home. God bless you all.
– Alex MacGregor

In Memoriam

BARKLEY – In loving memory of Trevor, dearly loved son, brother and uncle, who passed away September 19, 1997.
There will always be a heartache,
And often a silent tear,
But always precious memories
Of the days when you were here.
We hold you close within our hearts,
And there you will remain,
To walk with us throughout our lives,
Until we meet again.
– Always remembered and sadly missed, Dad, Mom, Scott, Tracey, Curtis, Adam, Brent and Jana 27

RAISTRICK - In loving memory of our dear dad, George, who passed away September 14, 1993.
The hardest thing in life to bear
Is to want you Dad,
And you're not there.
With a broken heart we whisper low
God bless you dad, we love you so.
As long as we live,
We will always be glad
That we were your children
And you were our dad.
– Always remembered, Elzeon, Judi, Darlene, Susan and families 27

REANEY – In loving memory of our dear wife, mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, Ruth, who passed away September 17, 2000.
Deep in our hearts there's a picture,
More precious than silver or gold,
Tis a picture of our dear wife and mother,
Whose memory will never grow old.
– Lovingly remembered,
– Emerson, Keith and Katherine, Dianna, Val and Greg, Cathy, Garry and families 27

DeCLAIRE – In loving memory of a dear mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, Ruby, who passed away September 17, 2005.
There are times of stony anguish,
When the tears refuse to fall.
But the parting time, dear mother,
Was the hardest time of all.
– Love always, Barb, Dale and family

Start being prepared

CHESTERVILLE — September is a month filled with activity. Farmers are in the fields preparing for harvest and gardeners are preparing their beds for winter.

I have been busy canning tomatoes, pickling beets, and being creative with cucumber recipes. I am a new gardener so I am excited about preparing for next year after learning from mistakes this year!

For example, I learned to plant beans and peas much deeper to keep them away from birds. I still have to prepare my apple trees for winter — they will be getting a lot of attention from my pruning clippers. It's also time to close the pool for the cold months approaching.

And I almost hate to say this, but it won't be too long before we have to think about changing the windshield fluid to -40 C liquid and checking out our snow tires.

Goodness, autumn is a busy time of preparation! Even the Government of Ontario has been diligent in making sure all residents are ready for any disaster that might come our way with Emergency Management Planning and promoting 72-hour emergency kits. If you don't have your kits you can find resources to help you at www.get-prepared.ca so your family will be prepared.

Last Sunday, Ina Poole from Morewood United Church led the children's time during worship and she described how the people in the U.S. are preparing for hurricane season with Gustav, Hannah, and Ike giving a taste of what is to come. If these areas want to survive they need to be in a state of preparedness.

Poole emphasized the importance of preparation and explained how important it is for us to also prepare our hearts for the time when we meet our Lord face-to-face. It seems to me that we are very good at preparing our gardens, trees, pools, homes, and cars, but the only things we take with us into eternity are our spirits and our relationship with God, which seem to be the last things on our preparation priority list.

This autumn is a wonderful time to get serious about preparing our hearts and souls for that glorious day when we meet our Lord. We can do this by feeding the spirit within through the gospel, and with prayer and praise.

Fall is a wonderful time to return to our places of worship and get prepared. Let us be ready for the day we meet our Lord by getting to know Him now.

There is no time better to prepare than today!

Sign of the times

Tom Savary (left) and North Dundas Mayor Alvin Runnalls installed a new sign on St. Matthias' Anglican Church on St. Lawrence Street in Winchester on Wed., Sept. 3. The church is home to the combined Anglican congregation of North Dundas. The sign was designed by Shadow Alley Designs in Elma.

UCW looks for beauty

by Norma Wylie

WINCHESTER — The Winchester United Church Women met on Mon., Sept. 1 in the church's library room. Clara Edwardson welcomed the ladies and had them repeat the group's purpose and vision.

Lillian Moore led the worship service with the theme "To See Beauty," which she described through scripture and prayer.

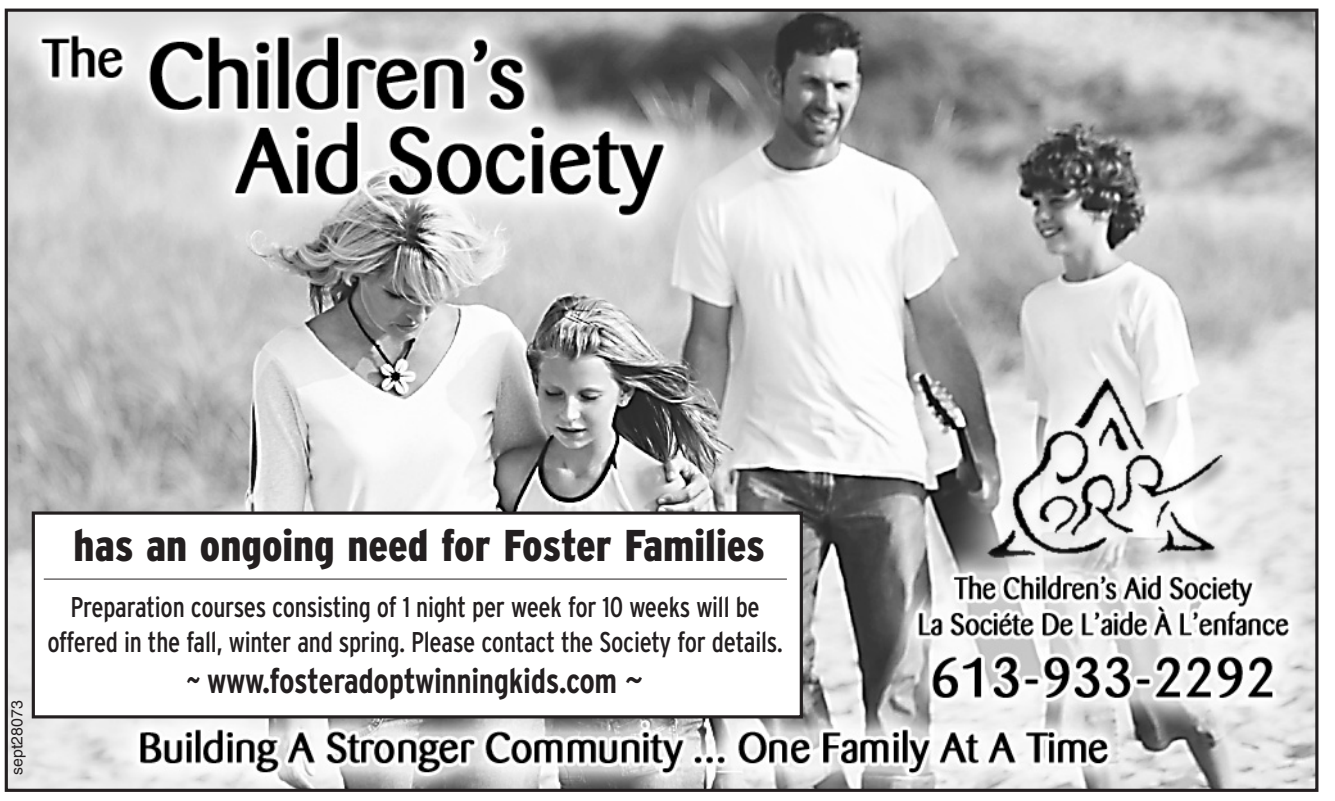
Various reports were read and showed that members had a very busy summer with a lot of catering. There was the birthday party for the 80-year-olds and over, the Dairyfest Sunday dinner, the Strawberry Social, and the funeral luncheon for Pearl Carkner. Everyone was thanked for their participation.

It was decided to host a social evening on Mon., Sept. 29 at the church. UCWs from Chesterville, Morewood, and Winchester Springs will be invited.

All units will meet on Sept. 22: unit two will meet at 1:30 pm at the home of Grace Errat; unit one will meet at 7:30 pm at the home of Sybel Curtis; and unit four will meet at 7:30 pm at the home of Janice Hyndmen.

World wide communion will take place on Oct. 5.

The meeting closed by the ladies singing "Go Now in Peace."



IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of a dear mother and aunt,

Edna Brown,

who passed away September 23, 2006

We seem to see in the soft dim light
A face we love the best;
Recalling her as the sun's last rays
Go down in the far off west.
We miss her more as time goes on,
We can never close our hearts;
And the lamp of our love still burns.
Her heart the truest in all the world,
Her love the best to recall;
None on earth could take her place,
She is still the dearest of all.

Always remembered,
Daughter Brenda & Basil and niece Aileen & Lyal

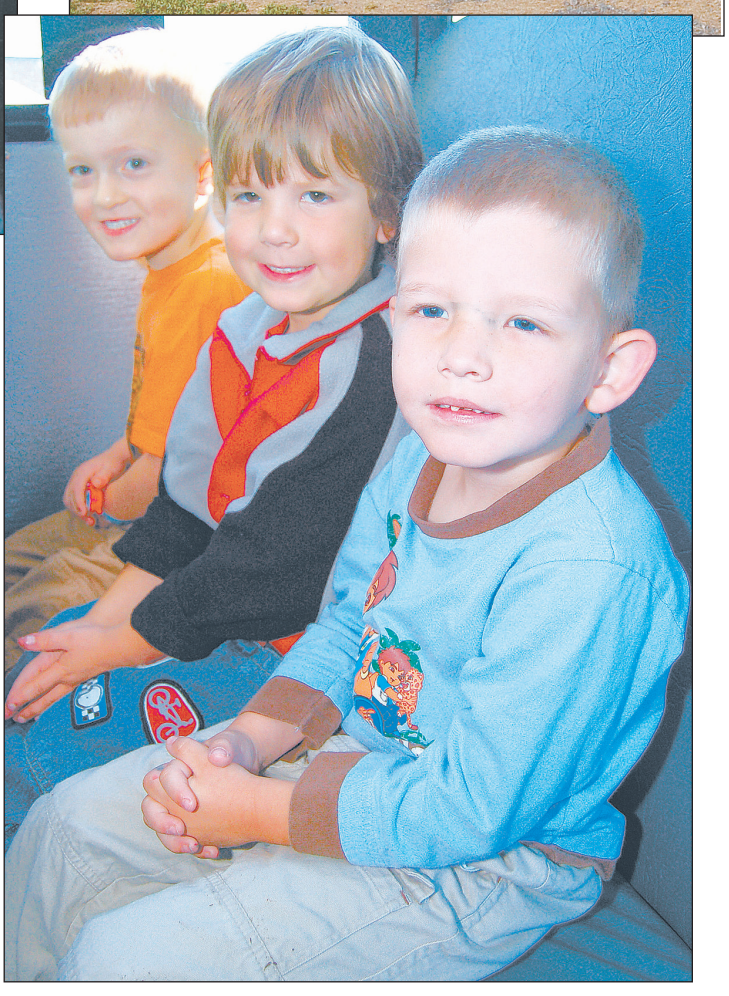
Hop on the bus!



Junior Kindergarten students at Nationview Public School in South Mountain learned the basics of riding the bus when they took part in Stock Transportation's first-time riders program on Thurs., Sept. 11. The children learned how to walk to the bus, board, ride, and leave the bus in the safest way possible.

Bus driver Barb Smail (far left) and teacher Corrie Kelly helped teach the kids the safest way to cross the street after getting off the bus — watch for the driver's signal!

"Stock is very concious about safety," Smail said about the company that transports most Upper Canada District School Board students on a daily basis. She and Rosanne Seabrook had already been to several schools to lead the program before heading to Nationview.
