"Night Of Plays" Well Staged

Here & There

by Kay Kay

It was a pleasure to get back to the grind Monday after a solid weekend rest. You know the kind. Where you get up Saturday morning with nothing to do and a little woman just bursting with ideas. That's where the bubble got a 20 pound overfeeding of air . . .and went sailing.

Somewhere over the years we had become accustomed to the idea that some people just lived for the weekend to come. . .work hard all week, then take it easy for a couple of days, refreshed for the next week. Boy what a life!

Well, like we said, we got out of bed Saturdayl morning al ready to do nothing. . . absolutely and positively. It was a lovely day. . . the sun was shining. We were looking out the front window, noticing how high in the sky the sun seemed to be so early in the a. m. . . .it was 9 o'clock at least. "Bring in the milk dear", we did. "Give the children their breakfast while I get ready". Ready? Ready for what, I thought?

That's the way is started. . . . another weekend going to the dogs just like the last one and the one before that. But, we were determined .not to let it happen Nosiree, this was a weekend of rest. With no ands, ifs or buts at that!

After bringing in the milk, getting the breakfast ready and all that happens around any house Saturday a. m., we were ready. We were off to Ottawa. . .a Girl Guide convention or something. Went visiting relatives after an hour's round (hectic) trip from one end of Ottawa to the other. Ran into (not over) Lawrence Kluke and Jack Beamish, chewed the fat for a while and headed back to pick up the over-sized Gundes.

Sunday was going to be diffirent. We put our foot down. Right after church and lunch a siesta was the order of the day. Seems though the female species had promised the youngsters daddy would go tobagganing. . .a sport where you ride down a short hill and climb up a long one. The older you get the more you enjoy the ride down and the harder to keep coming back up for more.

Yesiree, it was a pleasure to get back to work Monday.

Reeve L. C. Davis Throws Switch Starting Iroquois Cleaners Plant

Members of Iroquois Council, headed by Reeve L. C. Davis, and merchants of the community attended a "switching-on" ceremony at Iroquois Cleaners Monday morning. The newest addition to Iroquois' businesses went into operation Monday amid the blessings of the attendance and the watchful eyes of representatives of the firm from which the equipment was purchased.

Reeve Davis said it was a pleasure for Council and the merchants to be on hand with Mr. and Mrs. George Perault as their new plant went into operation. "We hope that it prospers", he said, adding he was sorry his new restaurant was not ready to welcome the assembled merchants at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. Perault served coffee and doughnuts after the opening ceremony.

From the time the clothes are placed in the cleaning machine, until they are ready for delivery, takes about one hour, Mr. Perault said.

Handling 35 lbs. of dry clothing at a time, the cleaning machine takes about 20 minutes per run. From this machine, they go into a deodorizer, then on to a spotting machine to take out any hard-to-clean spots. If necessary the clothes are then sent back through the same process to make certain they are absolutely cleaned. Special solvents are used, a representative of the machinery firm told The Post, so that the clothes are not harmed in any way.

The cleaned garments then go on to other equipment for pressing and folding ready for delivery in garment bags.

Several hundred feet of piping and a dozen pieces of equipment were needed to put the plant in operation. Mr. and Mrs. George Perault and their son Junior, will operate the industry.

46th Annual Meeting of WMS Presbyterial

The 46th Annual meeting of the Presbyterial of the Womens Missionary Society (WD) of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was held in Knox Presbyterian Church, Morrisburg on January 27th. The President, Mrs. C. Brown, Cardinal, presided over a well-attended and highly successful Presbyterial. The Constitution was read and the theme "Light" was followed throughout both sessions.

Mrs. L. Kincaid welcomed the guests and Mrs. A. Shaver replied, expressing thanks on behalf of all present for the cordial welcome. The devotions were very ably conducted in the morning by Miss L. Feeley and Mrs. C. MacCregor of Morewood and in the afternoon by Mrs. J. R. Millar and Mrs. A. D. McLellan of Iroquois. A letter of greeting from the Presbytery, written by Mr. Merilles, was read by Mrs. G. Forrester in his absence. Mrs. T. R. Gates brought greetings from Synodical with best wishes for the continued progress and growth of the Presbyterial.

"Original" Acts Amuse Attendance At High School Event

A four couple troupe almost stole the show with an exhibition of the Charleston at the annual variety night program held in the High School auditorium Thursday night. A large number of parents and friends attended the show produced by the students.

The program was divided into two main parts, starting with a minstrel show and carrying into a series of vaudeville acts and group acts. The entertainment ranged, with wide variety, from singing to modelling as the acts moved swiftly along.

One of the highlights of the evening, the Charleston, brought back fond memories among some of the parents attending. Taking part in this fine exhibition were P. Bray, L. Bates, S. Smith, P. Linnen, M. Knox, W. Barkley, G. Marcellus and M. Dean. Throwing all the energy and imagination they had into their act, the Skunk Hollow Boys (with stringed instruments and appropriate costumes) went down swinging to a rock and roll imitation of modern-day "music". A. Scott, D. Roberts, W. Duncan and B. Perry were the boys from "Skunk Hollow".

A leather jacket-and jeans- trio, with guitar accompaniment, completed the productions on a modern theme, with Linda Bates, June Gibson and Gwen Barkley singing.

The boys' and girls' gym teams provided a splendid part of the program with an assortment of acrobatics; the final pyramid leaving one youngster literally "hanging" from the rafters. Wendy Leckie and Karel Hodgert took a swing at duet singing; Cheryl Smith and Nancy McGinn did a tap dance number; Nancy McGinn played two piano selections, and Ray Carty portrayed TV's "Charlie Weaver".

Jean Barkley teamed with Lyle Barkley and Gary Hall, the latter two playing guitars, and after their first appearance on stage, were later called back for an encore of songs.

Eight students, well trained in square dancing, went through two fast "squares" in artistic fashion, but not as artistic as the ballet (boys) W. Shaver, E. Fader, R. Secord, G. Fairbairn, and D. Roberts. The square dance team was composed of S. Johnston, C. Fisher J. Gibson, H. Payne, L. McCaslin, J. Tousaw, W. Disheau and G. Marcellus.

A most enthusiastic applause was given the male models of a fashion show, R. Johnston, W. Shaver, A. Foster, L. McCaslin, A. Cummins, G. Parmeter and P. Anderson. who were dressed in appropriate girls costumes.

Minstrel Show

The minsrtel show, which took up more time than any of the individual acts, showed the results of many hours' practice and was carried out wonedrfully by the large cast. Acting as "Mr. Middleman" or "Mr. Interlocutor" was Brian Hodgert.

At the end of the first half of the program, Linda Barkley, Marlene Barkley and Carol Buckland did a soft show dance.

Acting as announcer throughout the evening were Eleanor Murphy and Gary Parmeter.

Patrick Sayeau was producer-director and committee heads were: costumes, Jean McGinn; choreography, June Gibson; make-up, Linda Bates; scenery, Ernie Fader; choir director, Miss B. Disher.

OPINIONS

Ours and Yours . . .

The Hare And The Tortoise

Iroquois welcomes its newest business, with the opening on Monday of Iroquois Cleaners, to be operated by Mr. and Mrs. George Perault and their son Junior. The business is a fine addition to the village and makes for a more diversified community, as well as providing present employment for three people and future possibilities.

Last week a new restaurant, The Continental, opened just west of Iroquois; The Davis Station will open shortly and is already partially in business; Styles and McIntosh have moved to larger premises in the shopping plaza; the barber shop and the beauty salon in the plaza have changed hands.

This, added to the fact that we already have several small industries and growing businesses, is a true sign that we are growing steadily. S. A. Thompson and Son employ seven, Fetterly's employ 11, Caldwell Linen Mills Ltd. close to 400; Jackson Builders' Supply upwards of six during peak periods, and Capital Concrete Products Ltd. forty.

All of these firms have had a steady increase in employment over the past few years and while the total number may not exceed 100 . . . this in a community of 1,000 plus Matilda's population, is gratifying.

Helping to suport and promote each business in the community, from the smallest to the largest, is one way of ensuring the continued growth of the village. As each business grows and employs more people, more money is returned into the community.

Many towns and villages have experienced boom expansion and have had to go heavily into debt to keep up with the expansion. We may be fortunate that we're like the Hare. . . slow and steady.

Short, Short Topics

You know, that big pile of earth and rock on Point Iroquois doesn't look so bad when it's all covered with snow . . but Spring isn't far off.

With the snow ploughed back on village streets, we are reminded again that the streets were built for two-way traffic after all.

It's good to see the youngsters skating and playing hockey on the outdoor rink.

Hon. F. M. Cass Writes

from Queen's Park

HON. F. M. CASS

The first Session of the 26th. Ontario Legislature commenced on Tuesday, January 26th., 1960, with the accustomed colourful opening by the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario followed by the usual formal reception in the State Apartment by His Honour and Mrs. J. Keiller MacKay - a charming couple.

The new Legislature finds the Conservative Government under Prime Minister Leslie M. Frost with 71 out of the 98 seats. The rejuvenated Liberal party now has twenty-one members and the C. C. F. five. Except for George H. Dunbar, who retired, and Tom Kennedy, who also retired shortly before his death last year, all the familiar faces appear again in the House, with the addition of a good leavening of young, energetic and experienced new members on both sides of the House. The Speaker, elected by the new Legislature, is William Murdoch, Conservative Member since 1943 for Essex South and in whom all parties have the greatest confidence which was well stated by each party leader on his election. The Government's Cabinet ranks remain the same as a year ago except that the Hon. John Robarts, Q. C., M. P. P. has replaced the Hon. W. J. Dunlop, LLD.,M. P. P. as Minister of Education.

Among other interesting items announced in the Speech from the Throne was an indication that Sessions of the Legislature might be held twice a year with Fall and mid-Winter sittings. The enumeration of legislation to be brought in by the Goverment was most extensive and it would appaer that the present Session will be long, loud and very busy. The opposition parties are expected to attack the Government and its policies on every possible occasion although it would seem to be a difficult and thankless task in view of the Conservative Government's record of the past fifteen years and the prosperity and social wellbeing of our people engendered by the foresight and policies of the Forst Government.

During the next ten weeks, or longer that the Session is expected to last, your Member for Grenville-Dundas will endeovour, by kindness of your Editor, to keep you abreast of happenings and law-making in our Ontario Legislature.

Mrs. Jean Casselman, MP, Reports

Parliament Topics

The first 2 weeks of the 3rd Session of Canada's 24th Parliament are just completed.

The pageantry of the Opening of Parliament on January 14th was ably led by our new Governor General. He and Madane Vanier both have the handsome presence for state occasions, but their unusual dignity has no haughty coldness. They are friendly Canadians grateful for the honour their country has bestowed upon them and prepared to work hard at the heavy schedule the job imposes. The qualities, liked by Canadians are already earning popularity for the Vaniers.

The Prime Minister's choice of Grenville-Dundas' representative for the best speaking position of the session should be encouraging to us all. It is recognition of government interest in our area and the wealth of good wishes for our success and development.

The recommendation in the Speach from the throne for a new Forestry Department of Federal Government is welcome. Forest products now contribute most to our national economy and may well increase in value rapidly. For example underdeveloped countries will need limitless paper as they expand education programs, business and industry and their newspapers and magazines.

Those closely connected with the lumber and pulp and paper industries have long pressed the need for wise farming of our timber resources. Rich as they may be we have a duty to Canadians a hundred years hence and proper study and research should guarantee for centuries.
continuous undiminished wealth

The Prime Minister, the Leader of the Opposition and Cabinet Ministers have made adequate and well prepared speeches.

The question periods have been only impressive for length and attempts to circumvent the rules. We have had several lectures from Speaker Michener on the fact that questions must be timely and urgent, must be answered efficiently and the answers not debated. All sides have been at fault. The opposition asking questions on past subjects such as the Suez question, the Minister expanding answers into long presentations and explanations of policy which of course leads to immediate criticism.

Speaker Michener has a most uneviable job but manages to hold the Commons to the rules with wisdom and charm. There was a prickly flash of temper when Labour Minister Starr accused the Hon. Paul Martin of manipulating unemployment figures. Mr. Martin is constantly accused of operating his own Bureau of statistics but Mr. Starr's terminology annoyed the Liberals. The Speaker calmed the confusion by picking up a dictionary reading from it that manipulating meant skilful handling. As everyone recognizes Mr. Martin to be a skilful politician tempers dissolved in laughter. Mr. Michener has a happy faculty for protecting the letters of the rules.

I must agree with the compliments paid Douglas Fisher, CCF from Port Arthur. His was the kind of speech that holds members in their seats. His sincerity and honest mental effort obviously surmounted party lines and jockeying for political position. He dealth with principle and we felt that here was a man to be proud of. He shows the poise to change some opinions since last session and with a spirit of fair play criticizes his own party as well as the government.

Another speech which exhibited the same characteristics came from popular Liberal W. L. Houck of Niagara Falls. He expressed concern for the mechanics of our system and no one knowing him doubted his honesty when he said "I would far rather be defeated by a 95 per cent vote cast election day than be elected with only a 30 or 40 per cent vote". Most M. P's agreed well, said Mr. Houck.

The attention of drivers is drawn to Article 48 of the highway regulations prescribing penalties for over-turning a car in motion, or causing collision with another vehicle. If it is proved that the accident arises from bad driving, or neglect in detecting mechanical deficiencies in the car, for the first offence the driver is liable to: (a) suspension of driving privileges for one year; (b) fifty lashes in front of a large group of other drivers. The Ontario Safety League believes that many drivers here will be glad to be reassured that these official regulations apply only in Saudi Arabia.

Snow tires give extra security, and ease of mind, points out the Ontario Safety League. They can also avoid the expense and exasperation of getting towed out of a snow drift. The real cost of snow tires is only a fraction of th initial outlay ,since their use for three or four months a year, materially extends the life of the regular tires.

It has been stated that a house could be heated for 24 hours on a cold winter day with the brake heat generated during a day of city driving. The Ontario Safety League quotes this fact to emphasize that brakes are subject to great stresses, and cannot last for ever; when were your brakes checked last?

A good driver's foot frequently hovers over the brake pedal without applying it, says the Ontario Safety League.

Aid C-D Set-up

In order to implement at the Provincial level the Civil Defence reorganization announced at Ottawa by Prime Minister John Diefen baker, the Ontario Government has now taken steps to set up a parallel Provincial Organization, the Honourable W. M. Nickle, Q. C., Minister of Planning and Development, announced today. An Order-in-Council has been passed, the Honourable Mr. Nickle stated, naming Ontario Fire Marshall W. J. Scott, O.B. E., Q. C., as Chairman of the Provincial Emergency Measures Organization for Ontario.

The Organization will be composed of the Deputy Minister or their reprensentatives from the Departments of Agriculture, Energy Resources, Health, Highways Public Works, Transport, Treasury, Welfare and Attorney General, the Commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Police, the Ontario Fire Marchall and the Civil Defence Co-ordinator of Ontario and their representatives.

Mr. Scott has had wide varied experience in Civil Defence, Mr. Nickle said in making the announcement. During World War 2 he was in charge of the organization of the C. D. fire service in this Province, and was also loaned to the Dominion Government for work across Canada and in Great Britain in 1944.

Mr. Nickle said the Committee will formulate and carry out plans relating to survival operations, continuity of civil government, civil defence and natural disasters, will co-ordinate the functions of the various departments and agencies of the Ontario Government relating to these matters and to maintain a liaison and working relation with other agencies and ofganizations of the Government of Canada, of the other Provinces of Canada and of the nearby States of the United States of America, engaged in like matters.

Mr. Nickle stated that he is grateful to the Fire Marshall for his acceptance of the responsibility, and thanked the Attorney-General, The Honourable A. Kelso Roberts, Q.C., for consenting to make Mr. Scott's services available.

In the first glow of untried love, some 133,000 Canadian couples in this leap year of 1960 will declare their solemn intention of uniting their lives together, sure that their marriage will be perfect.

The trouble is that many young moderns, raised by indulgent parents in good times, have an utterly cockeyed view of married life. Their ideas are formed by wide-screen movies, song hits, best-sellers and advertisements.

In the current issue of The Star Weekly, Eileen Morris discusses this interesting new trend and tells what the experts are saying about compulsory pre-marital counselling.

When a young boy he came to Canada with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Workman. They settled on a farm west of South Mountain.

They resided in the district over 80 years ago.

He was married to the former Mary Louis Campbell, who died in 1940, also of South Mountain district. They had three of a family two of whom are living, Mrs. Hugh Clark (Olive) of Biggar, Saskatchewan, and Mrs. Eli Montgomery (Annie) of South Mountain. One son Wallace Workman, died very suddenly five years ago. He also has nine grandchildren and seventeen great grandchildren several nieces and nephews.

When a young boy he started the carpenter work, his talent came to him easily as his father and grandfather were both carpenters.

He framed his first barn at the age of 16, and was rather excited and nervous for fear he might make a mess but everything went along fine. He later patented a cow stanchion over 60 years ago, which is still in good mechanical condition and working. He built a barn for Mr. Robert Purcell, Pelton's Corner, and in 40 years was back putting on a new roof.

In 1917 Mr. Workman and two of his helpers went to Biggar, Saskatchewan, where they built a new house, barn, machine shed, garage, and hen house, (during the summer) for his son-in-law Hugh Clark.

Mr. Workman was also honoured at the Lodge where a banquet was held for all those whose birthdays were in January, as he being the eldest he was seated at the head of the table, where it was his duty to perform the cutting of the beautifully decorated birthday cake.

He received many beautifully gifts cards and messages of congratulations. On the 27th the exact birthday he received many gifts which included a cake lighted with candles also other gifts from his daughter, Maud, Mrs. Eli Montgomery. Stanley Wallace of Mountain was also present.

The board of management at the Lodge, claims that few people can match him for correspondence He not only receives a large number of letters, but answers them all. He writes an average of 10 or 12 letters a week, and can read without the use of glasses. His memory is clear and he is very smart on his feet.

He was presented with a bouttonierre from one of the nurses of the staff on his birthday.

He later in the day received a beautiful bouquet of flowers from his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clark and family, Biggar Saskatchewan.

FIRST MEETING NEW YEAR FOR ST. JOHN'S W.A.

The first meeting of the New Year of St. John's W.A. was held in the parish room with eight members present. Rev. Weegar opened the meeting with Missionary prayers. The roll was called and the board report read. Mrs. Ross Playfair gave an account of the year's work and said all the pledges were met and a nice balance on hand to start the new year. She thanked the members for their co-operation in making 1959 such a successful year.

The reports of the different departments were read and all showed a nice increase in both work and money. It was decided to quilt one of the tops, donated by Mrs. Hogg and put together by Mrs. Wm. Roberts, in the near future. No further business, Rev. W. F. Weegar closed the meeting and Mrs. Chas. Fisher served a delicious lunch, followed by a social hour.

Partying Can Create Fun

by Dorothy Barker

In a small town such as the one in which I reside, any excuse for a party is always welcome. Babies and brides-to-be are well showered and visitors royally entertained. However, especially right after the holiday season when party giving has been in high gear for weeks, there comes a lull.

It is at this time a hostess will seize with glee almost any good reason for trying out a new recipe or showing off her gift coffee table. I didn't realize, when I mentioned that it had been just a year since I hung up my editorial cap and dreamed up the Diary of a Vagabond, that I would be an excuse for a celebration. During the course of the conversation at a previous party that set off a minor display of gastronomic delights, I happened to mention that the one thing I really missed was my old swivel chair. My stenographer's bulge had become considerably flattened, I complained, by being parked on the hard seat of an ordinary straight backed chair, as I typed the weekly entry in this diary.

I love surprises and when I was blindfolded during the course of an evening affair, I had a premonition something very unexpected was about to happen. It did. I was seated on a plastic cushion that felt like a greatly enlarged mixmaster and propelled from one end of my hostess's living room to the other. Amid shouts of "Now you'll really have to produce" the blindfold was removed and I found a huge card hung over the back of a brand new swivel chair. 'To the Vagabond, may she travel far. From her envious home-bound friends."

Have you ever noticed, there's one at every party. You know, the type of person who wears her diplomacy near the zero mark most of the time. In the midst of the hilarity as my new, coral plastic, foam rubber and chrome chariot was being pushed about on its brand new ballbearing casters a squeaky little voice piped up, "I can't see why we don't give Canada's railroad to the Indians. What good is it? I never use it." She knew my travels had been largely by rail and that I waxed enthusiastic most of the time about the service and the ground I cover in each year in search of the material for this column.She was smart enough to know she would probably cause a fully by her remark, but obviously she was not ready for the information I fired at her.

"Ah but you do use the railroad. Every hour of every day, of every week in every year," I replied.

Starting with her shoes, I asked her where she thought the dyes and chemicals came from that cured the hide of the calf that had produced the leather. This, I said went for her stockings, lingerie, dress, hat bag and coat. How did she think the steel in her car she drove arrived at the manufacturer's factory, or the groceries she consumed could finally be served at her table. Somewhere along the line, the railroad had been responsible for the safe shipping and arrival of goods that contribute to most of our creature comforts, either in their raw state or the completed form. If it weren't for the railroad, I contended, our standard of living could be greatly curtailed. I also maintained that costs would soar if the only mode of shipment was limited to vehicular or air transportation.

This set off a clater of conversation that sounded like a travellogue. The generous little lady who would present the Indians with the CNR, after offering me a lift home, ended up by carrying the chair to her car. As we rolled along on rubber (or could be nylon) that had probably coasted in its raw state many a mile on steel, she asked about the comforts of rail travel, its costs and relative advantages. I know one thing, she'll never slip her toes into those blue shoes that could poke

Reorganize Ontario Department Of Agriculture

Designed to meet the rapidly changing technological and economic conditions faced by modern agriculture, a major reorganization of the Ontario Department of Agriculture has been announced by the Ontario goverment.

Following a complete study of various services offered by the various branches of the department, Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Agriculture, has instituted a realignment of depart mental activities which will increase efficiency and provide wider service to the farm people of the Province.

Under the reorganization the fuctions of the Department are being separated into a Division of Marketing and a Division of Production which will provide for a more efficient co-ordinated program.

The two Divisions will be administered by two Assistant Deputy Ministers.

"With our greatly increased population and thereby more consumers, and with fewer farmers on the land, it is increasingly important that every possible step be taken to safeguard our basic industry, " said Mr. Goodfellow. "The reorganization has been planned to meet the demands of the population who are faced with many difficulties both in the field of marketing and production."

The Minister said that the reorganization would eliminate any possibility of overlapping or duplication of effort.

"In view of the evolution taking place on the farms of Ontario today, particularly in the marketing of farm produce, it is necessary to have strong leadership in order that we might assist farm marketing groups in their marketing problems. That will be accomplished through the creation of the Division of Marketing which will co-ordinate all marketing activities. Similarly the placing of all branches of the service concerned with matters of production and extension under one administrator will provide for more efficient service."

Administration of the Marketing Division will include supervision of the activities and services of of the present Markets Branch; the Ontario Food Terminal Board; Ontario Stock Yards Board; Milk Industry Board of Ontario; the Farm products Inspection Service and the Farm Products Marketing Board.

The following branches and programs of the Department will be under the direction of the Division of Production,-Live Stock Branch; Fleld Crops Branch; Agriculture and Horticulture Societies Branch; Extension Branch; Home Economics Service, and the Farm Economics and Statistics Branch. Other branches and internal administration will come under the supervision of R. G. Bennett, Chief Agricultural Officer.

Evertt M. Biggs, Ontario Dairy Commissioner, has been appointed Assistant Deputy Minister of Marketing and T. R. Hilliard, Director of the Extension Service, as Assistant Deputy Minister of Production.

Mr. Biggs, a graduate of the Ontario Agriculture College, is well known to the dairy industry of the Province having been appointed Dairy Commissioner some 12 years ago after having seen service as an Agricultural Representative. He is a young man well qualified to deal with marketing problems. He will have the benefit of the experience of G. Frank Perkin, who will remain as Commissioner of Marketing for the Province, and who has been identified with marketing procedures for the past 30 years. Mr. Perkin, with George McCague who was recently appointed Chairman of the Farm Products Marketing Board, will form the nucleus of a strong team to administer and advise on Ontario's farm marketing plans.

Mr. Hilliard entered the service of the Department in 1940 on graduation from the Ontario Agricultural College, as an Assistant Agricultural Representative. His ability as an admintrator moving him up rapidly in the ranks of the Service. As head of the Production Division he will correlate the work of branches assigned to his Division.

Commenting on the reorganization Mr. Goodfellow said that the reorganization would relieve the Deputy Minister, Dr. C. D. Graham, of much administrative detail and would permit him to give more time and attention to the important work being carried out by the Colleges, Agricultural Schools and experiment stations.

"I am confident that the creation of these two Divisions will prove to be a real benefit to agriculture," said Mr. Goodfellow. "Agriculture today is making unprecedented advances and it is obvious that we have to develop the most efficient organization possible to keep in advance of the constantly changing trends and scientific developments. I am confident that the farmers of Ontario will derive much benefit as a result of the reorganization."

HUCKLEBERRY POINT

At the beginning of this century some farm land on Hamilton Bay was called Huckleberry Point. This land became the site of part of The Steel Company of Canada, Limited.

Instead of farm land supporting a few families there is now at Huckleberry Point Canada's largest steel-making plant employing 11,000 of the Company's 16,000 employees. This year Stelco marks its 50th year of supplying steel for Canadians.

What happened at Huckleberry Point has happened in hundreds of towns and cities across the country. Canadian manufacturing now employs nearly 1,400,000 persons. These turn out the materials for a growing economy while their families provide markets for the products of Canadian farms, forests and mines.

Charter Three Buses

Chartering three buses one hundred and twenty-five K. A. S. students invaded Ottawa to give it their annual inspection. While the girls were being shown through the National Research Laboratories and the famous Chateau Laurier kichens the boys visited points of male interest.

.Dr. J. Woodward welcomed the junior students to the Experimental Farm. The boys were conducted on their tour by four graduates from K. A. S. who are now employed on the farm.

The senior students went on to Canada Packers where they were appalled by the bloodshed of a modern packing plant. Then they went to the Gatineau Pulp and Paper plant which bewildered them with its din and bustle. On their way back to Ottawa they visited the Animal Diseases Research Institute. There they were a little awed by the calm discussion about and handling of animals infected with rabies.

All students were allowed the late afternoon hours to roam the streets at their leisure, to window-shop, to make purchases, or to visit any place of personal interest.

Being civic minded they spent the evening on a tour of the Parliament Buildings, where they enjoyed the evening session of parliament as a lively debate was taking place on Prairie Farm Assistance.

HOG REGISTRATION

OTTAWA, January 19, 1960—Failure to provide registration numbers with hog shipments could disqualify Canadian farmers from participating in the Federal government's deficiency payment scheme, Homer J. Maybee, Associate Director of the Livestock Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, warned today.

He said a number of producers have marketed hogs without registration numbers since the new price support program went into effect January 11.

Registration of hog producers has been proceeding since last November, said Mr. Maybee, and over 100,000 registrations have been processed. Farmers who have applied for registration but have not yet received their registration numbers are being provided for through instructions sent to them with the settlements.

All producers who have numbers should be certain that a record of the number is sent with the hogs. This means that the trucker or shipper should record the number along with the farmer,s name address and tattoo identification of the hogs on the manifest which he delivers with the hogs.

Mr. Maybee said the Agriculture Stabilization Board is urging the co-operation of producers, shippers, sales agencies, and processors in making the registration number a regular part of the information that normally accompanies hogs to market.

THE RECORD WORLD

PICK OF THE WEEK

Undoubtedly BROOK BENTON and DINAH WASHINGTON are two of the hottest names around today. Taking advantage of this, Mercury records have come up with a new platter by both of them (not each of them.) For the first time, the pair have dueted, and it's a real good offering called"Baby (You've Got What It Takes)". It's a well-performed, light rythm tune. "I Do" is the coupler, and it's pretty good too.

SURE SHOTS

Ahhh! At last PAT BOONE has another good record. PAT hasn't been faring too well in the hit department lately, (his last one didn't even hit the top hundred), but this new one will put him right up there again. "(Welcome) New Lovers" is the new entry and it receives a four star treatment by PAT and a swingin' calypso treatment by the MORT LINDSAY orch. A fine ballad entitled "Words" is the other end, and it too could move. The words on "Words" are new but the melody is that of "Silver Threads Among The Gold".

* * * *

A JOHNNY MATHIS-sounding fellow who calls himself ADAM WADE, has a big beautiful ballad called "Tell Her For Me" that has big hit written all over it. It's a fine record by an equally fine singer.

* * * *

The popular PLATTERS have adapted the oldie "Harbour lights" on their latest Mercury release. Lead TONY WILLIAMS does his usual fine job, but the rest of the PLATTERS must have been singing into a dead mike because you just can't hear 'em. "Sleepy Lagoon" is the second item.

* * * *

A group called the LITTLE DIPPERS have a charming item coming up called "Forever". It's a very pretty tune and it should be out in Canada shortly, if it isn't already.

SPOTLIGHT ALBUMS

"SO MUCH"—JACKIE WILSON—Bruswick BL 54050. That jumpin' JACK swings out on the title tune, "I'll Always Be In Love With You", "The Magic Of Love", "Only You - Only Me", and his recent "Talk That Talk".

"I HEAR THE WORD"—KAY STARR—RCA LPM 2055. My favourite gal singer has a set of spirituals which includes "Joshua", "Down By The Riverside", "Shadrack", and "Sometimes I feel Like A Motherless Child". A great album.

"BROOK BENTON"—RCA Camden CAL 564. A new low price ($1.98) album of songs that the great artist recorded three years ago before he joined the Mercury label. He croons "Only Your Love", "ADoor That Is Open", "If Only I had Known", and "Devoted".

PLATTER CHATTER

SAM COOKE, hit parading vocalist for Keen records, has been signed by the hitmaking team of HUGO and LUIGI to a long term RCA Victor recording contract. HUGO and LUIGI have been after SAM for some time now and had offered him a $100,000 guartantee. He had also received tempting offers from other labels but he wanted to go with HUGO and LUIGI. Several months ago they signed DELLA REESE and came up with a home run on the first pitch with "Don't You Know". The famous pair should do things for deserving SAM COOKE now. When announcing this new deal with SAM, HUGO and LUIGI said "With both SAM and DELLA on the label, we now have two of the country's greatest individual song stylists. 1960 will see them rise to greater heights than ever before."

* * * *

I hope that listening to the WILLIE AFTER DARK "Night Train" show is a regular habit of yours and I hope especially that you'll be tuned in at CJSS 1220 tomorrow night (Fri.) 'cause I'll be sitting in once again BILL will be doing the first half hour from 6:30 to 7:00 and I'll be doing the 7:00 to 8:00 bit.

* * * *

Ottawa born PAUL ANKA (who is all of 18) will be sharing equal billing with showbiz veteran SOPHIE TUCKER (who is 70 plus) at the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas beginning Febhruary 23.

* * * *

Rock 'n' roll pioneers BILL HALEY and THE COMETS have been signed by Warner Bros. thus ending a seven year partnership with Decca. The group now has two records out: "Skokiaan" on Decca, and "Tamiami" on Warner Bros. BILL and the group were one of the first non-Negro acts to make it in the rock 'n roll field with hits like "Rock Around The Clock" and "Shake, Rattle, And Roll". As a matter of fact, BILL claims to be the "inventor of rock 'n'roll".

* * * *

Billboard's Discourse column last week ran an article on JOHNNY BURNETTE and his Liberty x waxing of "Settin' The Woods On Fire" b-w "Kentucky Waltz". JOHNNY, who was born in Memphis, Tennessee, now makes his home in California, where he writes songs for people like RICKY NELSON and MARGIE RAYBURN.

* * * *

End Music has announced the signing of basketball star WILT "THE STILT" CHAMBERLAIN to a long term recording contract. When recording his first disk last week, "That's Easy To Say" b-w "By The River", they had to place the music stand on a chair to accommodate 7' 2" WILT. His voice is reportedly a cross between FATS DOMINO and LLOYD PRICE, and brother, that ain't bad.

* * * *

BOBBY DARIN, recently named "King Of Hearts" for 1960 by the NATIONAL HEART FUND, will have a follow up album to his "That's All" set in a week or two. The album, "This Is Darin", has already racked up 200,000 orders from distributors.

Some wonder if THE BIG L (that's what they're calling ELVIS these days) will be able to regain his popularity as he had it before he went into the army. Here is BOBBY DARIN's view "If you put ELVIS on one side of the street and all of us Johnny-Come-Latelies on the other side, the kids would be mobbing ELVIS. THE BIG L is still the utmost."

* * * *

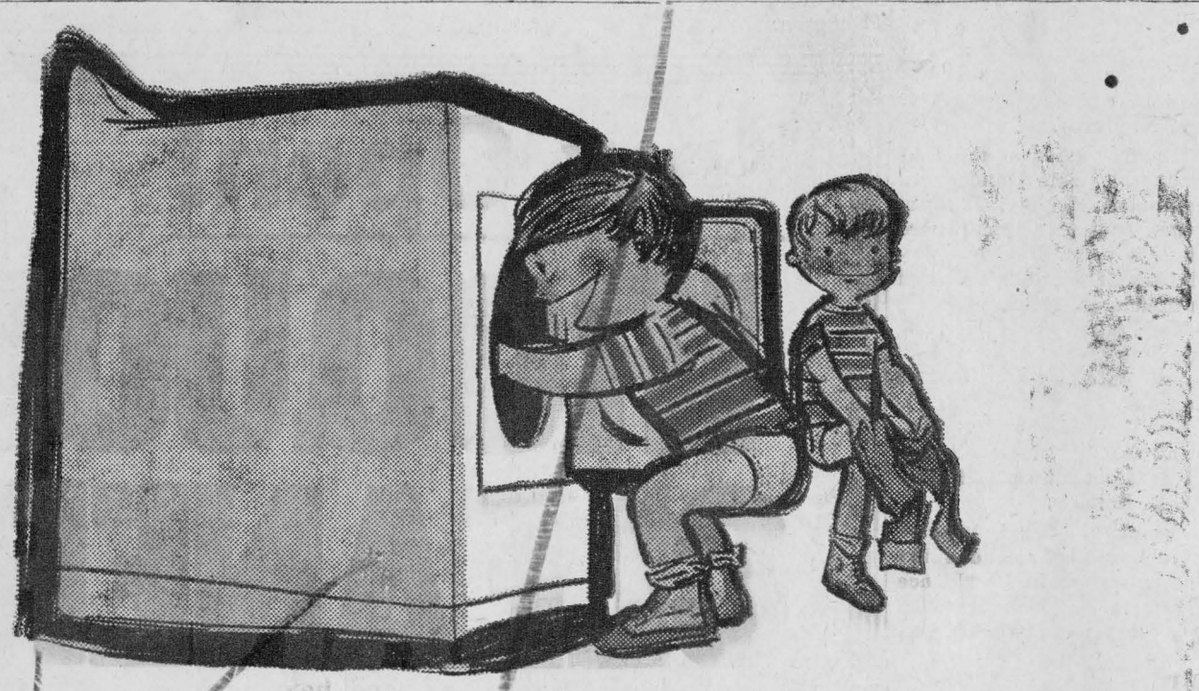

Deejay-recording artist JIM ("Green Door") LOWE must like JIM REEVES'S taste when it comes to picking material. Lowe covered REEVES'S recording of "Four Walls" a few seasons back, and now he's done a cover of "He'll Have To Go". (A cover in simple terms is a copy version that comes out after the original.)

* * * *

In Eureka, California, a copy of MARTY ROBBINS'S "El Paso", along with other historical documents, was sealed in the cornerstone of their new City Hall. The disk passed the 800,00 sales mark a couple of weeks ago.

* * * *

It was exactly one year ago this past Tuesday when tragedy struck the record world, claiming the lives of three of its top record stars. J. P. (BIG BOPPER) RICHARDSON, BUDDY HOLLY, and RITCHIE VALENS were all killed in a tragic plane crash at Mason City, Iowa that shocked the music business and teenagers everywhere. As I said then in my writeup on the tragedy "All three victims were guitarists and composers as well as singers, and were three of the greatest and most promising talents on today's musical scene." DION and THE BELMONTS, currently riding high with "Where Or When", were scheduled to go on the plane but fortunately changed their minds at the last minute.

The service around here is terrific!

Two pair of jeans come out of the puddles and fun of wet weather—go into the careful heat of an automatic electric dryer. And before you can say "terrific" they're ready to be worn again.

This gentle speed and efficient service are just two of the dozens of benefits you get when you put electricity to work in your home.

More and more people every day discover the value of electricity's low-cost versatility. In the past few decades it has helped us take charge of our chores . . . reduced housework to something that's almost enjoyable and helped raise our living standards to a new high.

In the 60's it will do even more to help fill our working days with pleasure and turn spare hours to leisure.

Plan For Girl Guide Jubilee

The Local Association of Guides and Brownies met Monday evening, February 1 1960.

Officers present were, President, Shirley Fisher; Vice President, Edna Hagerty; Secretary-Treasurer, Bernie Sisty; Badge Secretary, Florence Hodgert; Social Covener, Doreen Thompson, Press Reporter, Phyl Leckie. The meeting was called to order at 8:30. Minutes of the previous meeting and treasurer's report were read by B. Sisty.

Plans were discussed for the forthcoming Jubilee commemorating the 50th Birthday of Guides in Canada. It is to be held in the Civic Centre, Iroquois, February 16, at 8 p. m. Districts participating in this event will be Cardinal, Morrisburg and Iroquois. Admission fee, it was decided, will be an article or articles of clothing destined for babies in Korea. Clothing for this very worthy cause may be outgrown but not outworn. Anything a baby might wear.

Mrs. Knechtel was appointed District Commissioner. There were no changes made for the coming year in leaders for Guides and Brownies.

Plans were also discussed to hold an auction sale in March, a date to be decided on in the near future.

After the meeting was brought to a close, refreshments were served by our Social Convener, Doreen Thompson.

Keen Interest Is Shown In Seaway Forum

On Monday night the St. Lawrence Seaway Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Armstrong and spent a most enjoyable evening, also a most interesting discussion on the topic—"Farm Advertising-Does it Pay". There is little or no doubt in our minds, when we look at our large chain stores, both food markets, and department stores, and see the success they have achieved in the past fifty years that we can answer the question with a great big ',Yes".

But yet another question, Who should advertise our farm products, the producer or the processor?

Today in the majority of farm products we have the processor buying our products at his own price, then dressing it up in cellophane and coloured paperand selling over the counter at his price, and a good high one too, one that almost staggers the consumer when you know the price that has been paid the producer.

It is true we do have some advertising, the dairy farmers of Canada started an adevrtising campaign in 1950 and have realized fine results but let us compare the dairy farmers campaign with a few other industries in Canada. The soap industry spends 11 per cent of its total sales on advertising, the breakfast food industry, 12 per cent and the makers of toilet preparations 16 per cent. All dairy advertising combined except those handling processed cheese spent less than ¾ of 1 per cent of revenue on advertising in the 1954 year survey.

After looking at these figures surly there is no doubt in the producers mind that advertising does pay and that we should have a national food advertising program embracing all commodities to increase the farmers share of the consumers dollar.

Next week the forum willbe at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Landon McInnis and an invitation is extended to anyone intested to attend.

What's Going On At Legion Branch 370?

A general meeting was held in the legion Hall on Sunday, January 31st, with Comrade R. MacDonald in the chair.

Two new members were welcomed into the branch being, G. Pulfer and Wm. Wallace.

The Dominion convention to be held in London, Ontario, in May was discussed but it was decided not to send a delegate, However Comrade Marshall voluntered to go and this was approved.

It was with disapproval and regret that we had to accept the resignation of Comrade Sisty as House Chairman and also as caretaker as we all know that "Cooki" has been doing a wonderful job. Comrade S. Webb was appointed House Chairman and a new caretaker will be hired by the executive committee.

Comrade MacDonald gave a very encouraging report on the hockey teams and we would like to draw your attention to the fact that we are now looking for boys between the ages of 9 and 11 to form other teams. We are asking all boys of these ages who are interested in hockey to report to the Legion Hall on Thursday night, February 4th, to register. The time in 6:30 p. m. Any boy in this age group who is unable to be there at this time is asked to report to R. MacDonald at the ice on Saturday, February 6th, at 1:00 p. m..

At this time we are going to ask anyone who has hockey equipment that is not being used and who would like to donate it to a worthy cause to contact either R. MacDonald or S. Leckie and arrangements will be made to pick it up. The Branch does have some equipment but more is needed and any donations will be appreciated.
