Got The Lash.

A special meeting of the Board of Education was called about a month ago to report that the High School had been broken into and a great deal of damage done to it. It was decided at that meeting to employ a special man to look into the case and ferrit out the culprits if possible His efforts proved successsul as last evening two boys Fred Catchpole and Herb. Simpson were brought before Magistrate Sparham and it was proved that they were the ones who committed the depradations. The Magistrate severely lectured the boys and fined Simpson $20.00 and $20.00 damages and $3.95 cost or else go to goal for thirty days. The other boy Catchpole was to be taken by his father to the town hall this morning where he was to receive 7 lashes given him by the Chief. The boy Simpson was left in the lock-up over night and his mother paid the fine this morning when he was released. The members of the Board of Education have decided to have this kind of thing stopped and have gone about the matter this time the right way. We understand that it will cost over $150 to have the repairs made—Smith's Falls Record.

LIBERALS AND TEMPERANCE

Hon. Mr. McKay Declares Against Any Advanced Step.

Toronto September 9.—A straightforward pronouncement as to the Liberal policy as regards temperance was the feature of the address of Hon. A. C. McKay leader of the Opposition in the legislature at the annual meeting of the General Reform Association of Ontario. Over a hundred prominent Liberals from all over the province were present among them Hon. Mr. Graham and Senators Cox, Ross and Jaffray.

Not a sound of dissent was heard when Mr. MacKay declared that the executive had in his opinion acted wisely in deciding against a convention of provincial Liberals.

Not a dissenting voice was raised as he put the quietus upon an advanced temperence plank for the Liberal party in this province. He put the question of temperance bluntly before them as one policy. In the South the average temperance man had come to the conclusion that instead of making it a national issue much better work could be done by going on increasing the dry area.

"The temperance party in Ontario is united on local option," said the Opposition leader. "If you go one step further there is a division. I venture to say that the bulk of temperance opinion in Ontario desires to be united and not divided Temperance men—and I have consulted them all over the province—say that local option is the best temperance measure yet adopted. They would like the three-fifths clause removed and on this we have forced six divisions in the House. On that issue the Liberal candidate is on safe ground for 99 out of 100 say local option is the strongest measure. That was a liberal measure and they realize it.

Mr Mackay concluded his address by stating that in his opiuion the Liberal party could do no better than pursue the policy taken by the Opposition during the last session of the House. There was something lacking in their mental make-up said he if candidates could not make large issues before the next election—on the scarcity of public school teachers, the disregard of civic rights industrial education, etc. Mr. Mackay was enthusiastically cheered on closing.

Hon. G. P. Graham who had hurried back from the Western tour to attend the meeting, spoke in a cheerful manner Sir. Wilfred Laurier's western tour had been most satisfactory. The Premier had not been afraid to tackle all the issues set before him even when he did not agree with the views expressed nor had he made a single mistake during the whole two months.

President Mowat, who was persuaded to withdraw his resignation, spoke in favor of more frequent meetings of leaders and members of Parliament with assemblies of the people.

Officers were elected as follows:—President, H. M. Mowat, K. C.; vice-presidents, F. F. Pardee, M. P., Sarnia; Col. A. T. Thompson, Ottawa; Dr. M. James, Mattawa; Senator Belcourt; treasurer, P. C. Larkin, Toronto; secretary, F. G. Inwood Toronto. Executive —The officers and C. M. Bowman, M. L. A., Southampton; James Chisholm, Hamilton; T. A. Low, M. P., Renfrew; Hugh Guthrie, M. P., Guelph, and Hon. J. R. Stratton M. P., Peterborough; auditor, Hugh Blain, Toronto.

Boat Upset At Moose Jaw.

Moose Jaw, Sask., Sept. 9.—Joseph Lang, aged 23, a boiler maker in the C. P. R. shops, and John Montgomery, fireman, were drowned in the river there last night when the rowboat in which they were out for a pleasure trip upset as they were changing seats. Bert Knox an other C. P. R. fireman, had a narrow escape, being the only member of the party who could swim. All three got hold of the upturned boat and began paddling it toward shore, but Lang and Montgomery let go in deep water and sank.

The Dominion revenue for August shows a large increase, and it is estimated that the total for the year will amount to about $120,000,000.

THE SAFETY OF "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

May Be Taken For Years

The Ideal Remedy For Young and Old

Nature's gifts do us good, if used judiciously. We eat bread from babyhood to old age without ever tiring of it. We drink water, year in and year out, with the greatest benefit to our health. So too, we eat fruit in season and are better for the change of diet. This is true, because such things are the natural foods and drink of mankind. It is for this reason that "Fruit-a-tives" may be used for years in correcting some ill of the body. As is well known, "Fruit-a-tives" is made of the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes.

Just as fresh fruit may be eaten at every meal, so "Fruit-a-tives" may be taken every night for 20 years or more with the greatest benefit.

The absolute safety of "Fruit-a-tives" has been a great factor in its success. Those who suffered with chronic troubles such as Constipation, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, etc., naturally took a number of boxes of "Fruit-a-tives".

As they became better, they found that instead of being compelled to increase the dose as in most medicines, they were decreasing it, and gradually taking fewer doses.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c. At dealers, or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

The Winchester Fair.

The 53rd annual exhibition, Winchester, opened on the Fair Grounds Tuesday, Sept. 6th and continued Wednesday Sept 7th. The opening day proved to be wet and these conditions somewhat marred the prospects of an otherwise very successful fair. On Wednesday, however, the weather was more promising and exhibits came in very rapidly.

Two thousand dollars was offered in prize money and the well-known district around Winchester would ensure close competition, more especially in cattle and horses. Quite a number of entries on the list of cattle were made. Speeding is always a prominent feature of the Winchester fair, but the rain of Tuesday made the track very heavy. But in spite of the weather and weather conditions there was some very good races.

The main building was devoted to the usual exhibits, consisting of vegetables, fruits, grain and seeds, dairy products, agricultural implements and general manufactures.

Amongst other attractive exhibits was a very fine one of furs, shown by A. Sweet and Company.

Wednesday afternoon proved to be perfect and the Winchester Show Grounds gave an exhibition of what the district can do at an emergency notice. The grounds soon became well filled, and things were humming.

It was extremely difficult to keep track of everything, but everything had a way of looking after itself.

If it had not been for the wet weather of Tuesday, the Winchester Fair would easily have counted amongst the best on record.

The exhibition on the whole was a success, the people rallying to the different departments, but if weather conditions had only been favorable, Winchester 1910 would have easily have counted first.

The show of horses was perhaps the best in the histosy of the Exhibition. It was particularly strong in heavy draft horses. Among those showing in Clydesdales were such names as Wm. Gordon, Wyatt Bros., and Slewart and Sons, of Dalmeny.

The classes of horses shown would have done credit to the Central Canada Exhibition. The show of roadsters was also extremely good.

Amongst the Ayrshire men were Mr. J. Eastman, Russell; W. Walker, Winchester; Ezra Summers, Winchester. In Jerseys might be mentioned, Thos. Irving: in Holsteins, Jas. Scott, and Sidney J. Carlyle.

The afternoon on Wednesday proved to to be very fine and the turn-out in all the horse departments was very good. The heavy draft horses collected and held a big crowd spectators, whilst the roadsters drew an equally large attendance.

Presbytery Makes Reply.

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—Moved by the Eucharistic Congress in Montreal, the presbytery of Ottawa in connection with the Presbyterian Church in Canada made a deliverance for presentation to its own constituency, and in the belief that it may be an aid to others, whose connection is not with the Presbyterian Church. It says that Protestantism has the one and great sacrifice, the one and only meditator between God and man. " As in the Old Testament the Passover lamb and the serpent in the wilderness, representing Christ, were not to be bowed down to so we never adore the bread and wine of the Lord's Supper as is done in connection with the mass; for all especially for children and uneducated people, there is in this adoraiion great danger of the evils of narrowness and superstition even of idolatry. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was not by Christ's ordinance reserved, carried out, lifted up, on worshipped." Every sentence of this article with its simple beauty is worthy of careful weighing. We make this deliverance we trust in the spirit of Christian sympathy for all men, that truth may be known, men aided and God glorified.

Father Vaughan's Attack.

Toronto, September 9.—That Father Vaughan's attack on Protestantism during an address in Montreal several days ago does not meet with general approval among Catholics in this province is evidenced by an editorial which will appear next week in the Register-Extension, the leading organ of the English-speaking Catholics in Canada. In part it reads as follows:

"We feel somehow that Father Vaughan's denunciation of Protestantism as "A soulless religion" was a serious mistake. It is an offensive phrase, and we have been objecting to offensive phrases. The expression means nothing, and has merely served to stir up bad feeling and to create sentiments of resentment in the breasts of kindly and well-intentioned Protestants. Abuse never made a convert and we feel that Catholic truth can be unfolded without inflaming the prejudices of those who hold opposite views.

"The kindly tactful words of His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi and the equally kindly, urbane and diplomatic message of His Eminence Cardinal Vannutelli were more in keeping with the true spirit of the great Eucharistsc celebration."

Boy Shot Dead At St. John, N. B.

St. John, N. B., September 8.—The gaiety of the "Pike" at the Dominion Exhibition was dispelled this afternoon by a fatal shooting accident. Harry M. Brundage, aged 11 years, was shot through the heart by a stray bullet from a shooting gallery, and died a few minutes later. He was working in a booth adjoining. In the shooting gallery a man was trying his skill. The rifle worked badly and he handed it to Wm. Humphries, a lad of 12 employed in the gallery. As Humphries tried to fix it, the rifle was discharged and the bullet sped across to the adjoining booth, finding lodgement in young Brundage's heart. Brundage's mother is seriously ill with tuberculosis; there are four small children, and the boy's father, Joseph Brundage, is working in Portland, Maine, where the family once resided. Humphries and the shooting gallery proprietor, Patrick Walsh, are held by the police pending Coroner Berryman's action.

Robbed Of $2,500.

Moncton, N. B. September 9.—K. Bezanson jeweller, informed Chief of police Rideout today that he had been robbed of $2,500 last night Bezanson stated that he had cashed a certified cheque on Thursday and put the money in his pocket. During the evening he went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newman, Main street where he spent the night. This morning when he awoke his money was missing and Mr. and Mrs. Newman could not be found. He communicated his suspicions to Chief Rideout who upon enquiry found that Newman and his wife had left on the early morning express for St. John, and he immediately wired to have them apprehended; After the arrest of the couple at St. John Chief Rideout secured a warrant and left this afternoon. Newman who is well known bears a good reputation and his friends here are inclined to believe that the affair is capable of explanation. The couple were arrested in St. John.

Dr. Andrew Smith Dead.

The late Dr. Andrew Smith, former President of the Ontario Veterinary College, Toronto, left property valued at $622,219.46, of which $194,500 is represented by real estate in the city. He had $301,465.16 in bank and other securities, and about $90,000 in cash.

The widow and family are all provided for amply under the will, and he left also quite a number of charitable bequests, the chief of which are: The pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, $1,000; Protestants Orphans' Home, $1,000; the Boys' Home, Toronto, $1,000; the Girls' Home, Toronto, $1,000; the Home for incurables, $1,000; Hospital for Sick Children, $1,000; St. Andrew's Society $1,500.

The Toronto General Trusts Corporation and Dr. D. King Smith, a son of the deceased are the administrators.

Essex County Tobacco.

Leamington Ont. September 11—Farmers within the Essex County tobacco belt will reap a rich harvest this year from a war between two rival companies which are trying to buy in the crop and have forced prices up to the highest mark known in years. The price has gone up to 17 and 18 cents while some of the growers believe it will eventually go as high as 20 cents.

Last year the growers sold their crops at the rate of 15 cents and this was unusually high. In former years the price has been as low as six cents. The crop this year is considered quite as good as last; growers will receive more than half million dollars for it.

USES FOR THE SUNFLOWER.

It Yields Valuable Oil, Fodder and Beautiful Fabric.

Canadians do not regard the sunflower, which is said to be one of our own native plants, as being of much practical service, but in Russia it is utilized in many ways.

There the seeds are eaten in immense quantities, raw or roasted, as peanuts are in this country, and the oil obtained by pressing the seeds is an important article of food. The frequent religious feast days in Russia restrict the use of meat and lead to a large consumption of vegetable oil, and the manufacture of sunflower oil has consequently grown to considerable dimensions in that country. The best seeds yield an oil that compares favorably with olive oil for table purposes.

Even the upper classes in Russia, it is said, eat the seeds, the larger and finer ones being quite equal to most nuts in respect to palatability and wholesomeness. The stalks and dried leaves are highly prized for fuel, being in some parts of the Empire almost the only available substitute for wood. An acre of sunflowers will yield many cords of good fuel.

The oil appears to have more of the general properties of olive oil than has any other known vegetable oil. It takes about a bushel of seeds to make a gallon of oil, and 50 bushels of seeds can be grown on one acre of land. As the oil sells at about $1 a gallon the profit is large.

At one time putrified sunflower oil was used quite extensively to adulterate pure olive oil. It is of a pale yellowish color and decidedly palatable. In a crude state it is used by painters to some extent, but it is inferior to linseed oil for use in paint.

In addition to the oil from the seeds the stalks when green and the oil cake make excellent fodder. The fiber of the stalks, which is fine, silky and strong, also has value. In China it is woven into beautiful fabrics, and it is believed that by the use of proper machinery it might be used most profitably in this country.

Like Master, Like Man.

In 1814 Baron Stieglitz in St. Petersburg, went to great expense to have the news of the treaty of peace conveyed to him by a private courier a few hours before it came to the knowledge of the Government. He therefore gain a few hundred thousand rubles. But his porter, to whom he communicated the news, tried his hand at a little speculation of his own. In an hour or two he bought up all the lamps he could find in St. Petersburg, so that in the evening, when the whole city was making ready for the illumination, not a single lamp was to be found in any of the shops. The crafty porter now sold out his stock at a price which left him a nice little profit of 25,000 rubles.

The Volcano Circle.

Volcanoes would seem to be arranged with more or less symmetry in belts circling the great oceans. A ring of fire surrounds the Pacific. Starting at the South Shetland Islands, several hundred miles south of Cape Horn, a belt of volcanoes extends up the west coast of South America, Central America and North America; from Alaska it crosses the Pacific along the Aleutian islands to Kamchatka; thence it follows the east edge of the Pacific through the Kurile Islands, Japan, Formosa, the Philippines, the Moluccas, the Solomon Islands, the North Hebrides, New Zealand and finally ends in Mounts Terror and Erebus, on the Antarctic continent.

Have Animals a Prophetic Sense?

One of the puzzling questions now claiming the attention of scientists and which, so far, has defied all explanation, is the premonitory sense of animals in regard to earthquakes. Horses snort, throw up their heads, and gaze about in affright; cattle put their snouts to the ground and moan; sheep huddle together and bleat; birds flock to the trees and set up a prodigious clamor. The only plausible explanation yet offered is that animals possess a more delicate organism than that of man, which enables them to feel preliminary shocks which, to us, are imperceptible.

How to Clean Varnished Wall Paper.

Varnished wall paper should never be cleaned by rubbing with a flannel or cloth. Procure a good soft whitewash brush, which can be bought at any oil store; then have a bucket of clean soft warm water in which yellow soap has been lathered. Dip your brush into the water, slightly squeeze it and commence rubbing gently from the bottom of the paper, working upward. You will thus have your paper free from smears and the varnish uninjured.

Miser's Hoard Dug Up.

A hoard of sovereigns was discovered one day lately by workmen engaged in clearing the Great Western Canal between Crickhowell and Brecon. A pick struck a hard substance, which was found to be a bag full of sovereigns bearing the image of George III. They had been placed in a jug, which in turn had been placed in a bag.

Wronged.

"I am sorry to hear, Mrs. Newcomb," said the minister, "that your husband gambles by buying grain and stocks on margins."

"He doesn't do anything of the kind. I've just been looking up the definition of the word gambling, and, according to the dictionary, one who gambles has a chance to win.

Man Deported After Many Years.

Ottawa, September 13—Andrew Levigne landed in Ottawa yesterday and was taken in by the police for shelter. He was born in St. Pierre, near St. Hyacinthe, Que. and 38 years ago, when at the age of 14 years, he went with his parents to Massachusetts. At the age of 22 he enlisted in Springfield in 6 company 17th Infantry, and went with the regiment to New Mexico, where the Indians were giving trouble at that time. He served three years in New Mexico with that regiment and afterwards returned to Springfield. The United States authorities fearing that eventually he might become a charge upon the country, sent him back to the place of his birth. He trudged to the capital, taking over a week to cover the distance. The trip was a hard one, but he said he could not rest before he had presented his case here. Mr John Keane, city charity officer, will lay the matter before the immigration authorities.

$7,000 Fire.

Carleton Place Sept. 13—Fire started shortly before one o'clock Thursday morning from an unknown cause in the stables owned by Mr. Andrew Armour C. P. R. yardmen on Frank street near Lake avenue caused the destruction of the Armour residence with contents and also that of Mr. Theodore McFadden C. P. R. Conductor next door. The dwellings of Messrs. John R. Galvin and James Sanders were considerably damaged and some of the outbuildings connected therewith were destroyed but by hard work the brigade had the fire under control before it spread further in the block.

The loss of the Armour property is about $3,500 insurance $2,300 McFadden loss $2,300 insurance $1,000. The damaged properties which are insured will bring the total loss by the fire to about $7,000.

The strong wind blowing from the north-west carried embers a great distance and compelled an army of watchers with water pails to cover a large area and for some time it was feared that many homes might come to destruction.

Mine Manager Killed.

Cobalt Sept. 9.—As he was personally supervising the erection of a new mill at the Temiskaming & Hudson Bay mine R. J. Kinler slipped and fell on the concrete floor below. His skull was fractured and he died within an hour. He was standing on the stamp blocks about 25 feet from the ground when he fell. Mr. Kinler was a pioneer of the camp. He was one of the first men of Cobalt camp and had been manager of the Temiskaming & Hudson Bay mine ever since the company was formed seven or eight years ago. He also helped stake the Fisher-Epiett Company which now belongs to the La Rose ground. He lived in New Liskeard and was unmarried.

Missionary Movement.

Mr. Herbert K. Caskey, secretary of the Canadian Laymen's Missionary Movement, announced yesterday that the International Sunday School Association had appointed Rev. Mr. Brown a returned missionary from the Phillippines, missionary secretary of Sabbath schools. The international association has offered the Canadian movement the services of Mr. Brown and that of its committees in promoting the movement in Canada wherever possible.

Convention will be held in the West during November at the following points:--Vancouver and Vernon, in British Columbia; Regina, in Saskatchewan, and Calgary, in Alberta. Requests have come from the organizations in charge of these meetings for assistance in the way of speakers.

Mr. Caskey said that some of the honorary secretaries and laymen of the movement would be in the West during November and would probably respond to these calls.

Found In River With Head Gashed.

Windsor Ont. Sept. 13.—With a deep gash in the skull as though made by some blunt instrument possibly by the screw of a passing steamer the body of a well-dressed man was taken from the river opposite Amherstburg to-day.

The remains which had apparently been in the water for a week or more were those of a man five feet ten inches in height dressed in a striped grey suit and weighing probably 175 to 180 pounds. In appearance he was about 38 or 40 years of age. No papers were found which might aid in establishing the unkuown's identity. The body is in a morgue in Amherstburg.

Flying Meet Ends.

He took altogether four first places and three seconds, winning $22,100 in prize money.

Silver Recovered And Six Men Under Arrest.

Cobalt Ont. Sept. 12—All the bullion stolen from the Nova Scotia mill last week has been recovered, and six arrests have been made. The first bar was discovered late Saturday night by Inspector Blackwell, and sicce then the remaining silver has been located. Working by electric light the 27 bars were found distributed over five and a half acres of the Victoria property.

James Conelly, a Cobalt hotelkeeper, and Patrick Ryan were arrested on Saturday by the Thiel Detective Agency, acting in conjunction with Chief Calbeck.

The four new prisoners are Thos. Ballantyne, master mechanic of the mine; Ralph Ballantyne his brother assistant mechanic, and Thomas and Patrick Reilly. The former was night shift boss at the mine, and was on duty the night of the robbery.

Thomas Reilly turned King's evidence, telling where part of the silver was hidden, and later, Ryan supplemented this by revealing the hiding place of the rest. According to their story the two Ballantynes brought the drills and gave them to Ryan and Connelly who were armed and masked. The concrete wall of the vault was shoved in, and the treasure handed out.

Reilly it is alleged before going to the police with his story tried to hold up Conelly for $2,000. The money was refused and he then went to the police to claim the reward.

12—'It is tement made p's Palace this rning when asked to confirm the transfer of Archbishop Gauthier from Kingston to Ottawa. 'The Archbishop secretary and the rector are all in Montreal,' it was stated. The rumor and which is now likely confirmed has been afloat here for some time. Archbishop Gauthier has no desire for the change but the orders from Rome will be obeyed. The Archbishop is greatly beloved here. He has been a liberal courteous man and all classes will deplore his removal. He has been archbishop here since 1898. It is thought the archbishopric here will be filled either by Bishop Macdonell of Alexandria or Bishop O'Connor of Peterborough.

Born at Alexandria Ont., on November 13 1843 Mgr. Charles Hugh Gauthier the new Archbishop of Ottawa is the son of Cabriel Gauthier and Mary McKinnon. He was educated in Regiopolis College Kingston and was consecrated Archbishop of the Kingston diocese on October 18, 1898.

Toronto Fair Closes.

Toronto September 10.—The Canadian National Exhibition of 1910 was brought to a close after a most successful two weeks. With an estimated attendance today of 85,000 the total increase over last year is 85,000 people which considering the two wet days and the cool weather of the last two or three days is considered a wonderfully good showing. In his address at the directors' luncheon President G. H. Gooderham stated that the average daily attendance increase over last year had been about 15 per cent and that the million mark would undoubtedly be reached next year.

Many Canidates Passed.

In pursuance of the order of the Minister of Education 180 entrance canidates who failed on one subject but obtained 60 per cent on the total have been passed by the board of Examiners. Dr. Embree chairman of the board declined to give out the list of students passed for publication as he could not see that any good purpose would be served thereby. The pupils who have thus been passed have been notified either by telephone or card and many of them are already in attendance at the High schools.

One Fatality At Big Congress.

Montreal Sept. 12.—The only fatality in connection with the Eucharistic demonstration so far reported is that of Abbe Verrett cure of St. Sylvester Que., who was crushed by a team while getting off a car on St. Lawrence street Saturday and died yesterday at the Hotel Dieu. The Abbe told one of the nursing Sisters he had had a presentment that death would overtake him and prevent him taking part in yesterday's demonstrations. Some sixty women fainted from fatigue at the pressure of the crowd on Fletcher's field yesterday but fortunately they were removed without causing trouble. There was a terrific stampede at Windsor street station last night and one of the station hands were seriously hurt.

"BACK TO THE FARM"

I.—The Growth of the Cities and the Increased Cost of Living.

By C. V. GREGORY,

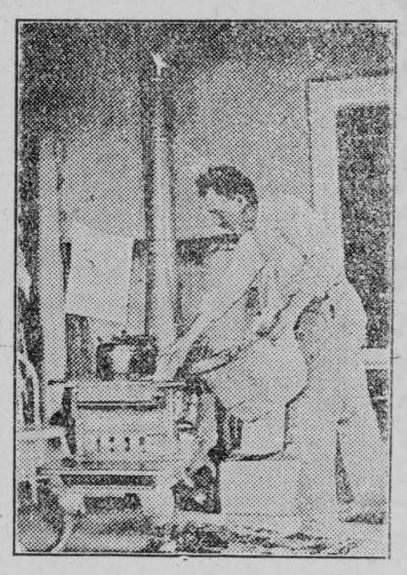

Author of "Home Course In Live Stock Farming," "Making Money on the Farm," "Home Course In Modern Agriculture," Etc.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

THE high cost of living, or the "cost of high living," as James J. Hill puts it, is a subject which just now is engrossing the attention of the entire nation. The cost of the necessaries of life has been steadily increasing since 1896. The symptoms have been viewed with increasing alarm by nearly all classes. Within the last year the matter has reached an acute stage. The average increase in the cost of necessities from Jan. 1, 1909, to Jan. 1, 1910, was 11.7 per cent. The increase over July 1, 1896, was 61 per cent.

The wage and salary earners in the cities have seen the "bread line" gradually drawing closer. The margin between income and expenses, narrow at best, has shrunk to the vanishing point. All this while newspapers have been shouting prosperity, forgetful of the old maxim that "the real prosperity of a nation is the citizen's margin of saving."

Whatever the cause of this increase in the cost of necessities and comforts, there are but two ways in which the citizen as an individual can meet it. The first is to increase his income, and the second is to lower his standard of living. The wage earner, banded together with his fellows in a union, has been able to increase his scale of wages to some extent, though not nearly enough to fill the gap between income and expenses. The wage earner who does not belong to a union has profited to some extent by the general rise in wages, though not so much as the union man.

USING CORN FOR FUEL IN 1896.

The salaried man has borne the hardest brunt of the rising prices. He belongs to no union, and his demands for increased pay have brought little response.

All classes that are compelled to work for a living have had to turn to the other alternative in a greater or less degree. They have been forced to lower their standard of living. The first item to be attacked is the food supply. Russell Sage once said. "As the cost of living increases the use of meat decreases, the proportion of dark rooms increases and child labor becomes plentiful." Less meat means poorer nourishment, less resistance to disease and a higher death rate. Other foods of cheaper quality are used. Oleomargarine takes the place of butter. Cold storage eggs are a luxury and fresh eggs unknown, and cheaper brands of canned goods are used.

Aside from food, the big item of expense in the city is rent. In order to keep up with the increased cost of things property owners have been forced to raise rents. The frenzied crowding of the people to the cities has enabled landlords to make these increased rents effective. The result is that a house with a porch and a bit of lawn has become a luxury, and more and more the middle classes, the classes on whom prosperity should react most favorably, have been forced into flats and apartment houses. The poorer classes have moved into tenements. The high cost of room has made crowding inevitable. Human beings have been forced to herd together like cattle or worse. The modern dairy barn is a palace beside some of the tenements that pass muster as human habitations.

Many causes have been advanced by economists and others to account for the rise in prices. Many blame the tariff, but that will not explain why prices are rising nearly as rapidly in England as in the United States. The economist's favorite reason is in the increase in the supply of gold. Money is becoming cheaper, he says, and therefore it takes more of it to buy a given amount of any commodity.

This explanation sounds very plausible, but it does not explain the fact that prices have at other times gone down in the face of increased gold production. The gold supply is unquestionably a factor influencing rising prices. That it is the fundamental factor may well be doubted.

Other writers try to lay the whole trouble to the growing extravagance of the American people and to the increased standard of living. It is true that at the present time we regard as necessaries what yesterday were luxuries. This increase in the standard of living is but the product of civilization, however, and is something to be encouraged rather than discouraged. Furthermore, it is responsible in but a small degree for the increase in the cost of living. The increase in the standard of living has manifested itself most strongly in better houses, better clothing and more conveniences. Yet the great increase in cost has been not in these materials, but in food. Between July 1, 1896, and Jan. 1, 1910, breadstuffs and live stock increased in price 108 per cent. During the same period the increase in the textiles was 73 per cent, in metals 65 per cent and in building materials only 15 per cent. That luxurious living has had much to do with the increased prices cannot be denied. That it is wholly responsible is far from the truth.

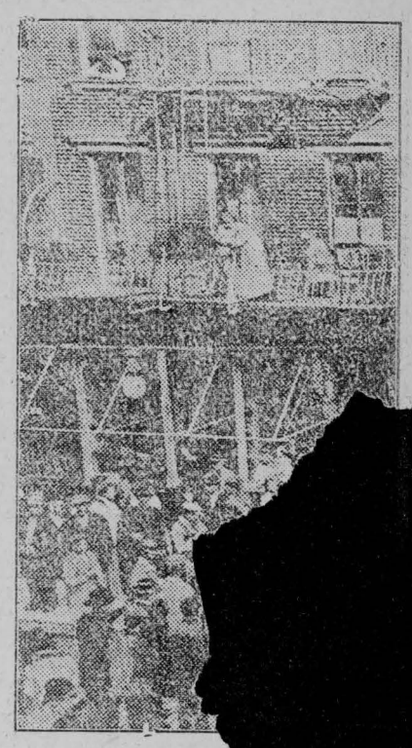

If we are to seek the real cause of this crisis that confronts our country we must go back to the old cause of supply and demand, coupled with other factors that have grown out of this. The period from 1870 to 1895 was the period of development of the middle west, the bread basket of the world. Here were lands of unparalleled fertility that had merely to be scratched to give forth their bountiful supplies. The result was that the markets of the world were flooded with foodstuffs.

By 1896 the middle west was pretty well settled. The bloom of its virgin fertility had been removed. Soon the days of using corn for fuel and wheat to feed the hogs were past. Prices of farm products began to rise. If there had been no other factor entering in they would soon have reached a normal level, and the readjustment would have come with little trouble. Unfortunately the tide of population toward the cities had become too strong to be turned in a day.

From 1880 to 1900 the percentage of farmers decreased from 44.3 to 35.6, a decrease of 8.7 per cent. During the same period the percentage of persons engaged in manufacturing increased from 21.8 to 24.3. This increase of 2.5 per cent is no more than normal and may be accounted for by the increase in the standard of living and the consequent demand for manufactured articles. The increase in professional lines during this time was eight-tenths of 1 per cent, while the number of persons engaged in domestic and personal service decreased one-tenth of 1 per cent.

The great increase came in the number of persons engaged in trade and transportation, an increase of 5.5 per cent. Of the 16.3 per cent of the working people engaged in trade and transportation in 1900 only nine-tenths were engaged in transportation proper. The others, 15.4 per cent of all the people of the United States who work, were simply middlemen. Complete figures since 1900 are not available, but the cityward trend has increased rather than diminished.

Here is the true explanation of the high cost of living. There are more than one-third as many men engaged in distributing food as there are in producing it. The consumer's dollar is worn thin before it gets to the producer. The 10,000,000 men who farm must supply food to the 7,000,000 people who are working in the factories, to the 12,000,000 … nonproductive wo… 000 people who … And because th… ply and dema… er to make … worked at … over the … cry will … Neither … cieties …

OVERCROWDED TENEM… GREAT…

If you … honey tak… bees.

Don't imagine … it all and cannot learn … by reading a bee journal.

In the production of extracted honey give seven frames in the eight frame super and nine frames in the ten frame.

Don't put on your supers before the bees are ready for them, as you gain nothing by doing so, but only render it harder for the bees to keep up the necessary heat.

The necessity of having a neat and attractive label with the name and address of the producer on every package of honey put upon the market is well understood by the enterprising beekeeper.

The long top bar is better for use in old homemade hives, as the staple spaced frames require accurate inside dimensions.

Fruit culture cannot be carried on successfully without bees to effect fertilization through carrying pollen from one blossom to another.

The disposition of an unprofitable colony to store honey may be materially increased by giving them several combs of hatching brood from an industrious hive.

Toronto Ont. Sept. 8.—Miss Mary R. McCormick millionairess daughter of the Chicago manufacturer of harvesting machinery has forwarded to the board of education here a check for ten thousand dollars for the equipment of the playgrounds at Cottingham street school.

Miss McCormick recently came here to live at her beautiful place on Avenue road hill overlooking the Cottingham school. She has taken a great interest in the supervised playgrounds movement and her donation is regarded with great gratitude. Plans for the equipment of the playgrounds will be devised by a Chicago man who has had to do with the best equipped playgrounds there.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

THE reason reform is so slow is because by the nature of it it seems to be a thing that is so manifestly designed for the other fellow.

Trying to hold untenable positions causes more trouble than half a lifetime of explaining will make right.

It is nearly time for the average person to begin his yearly collection of mosquito bites, tan, poison ivy and trouble.

The way to keep from having corrupt legislators is to cut down the supply of corruption funds.

CABBAGE DISEASES.

Susceptibility to Rot and Infection Due to Soil Conditions.

In a bulletin on "Cabbage Experiments and Culture" issued by the Maryland agricultural experiment station it is asserted that the susceptibility to rot and disease of cabbage growing on very rich, highly cultivated land seemed to be due more to something unsuitable in the soil rather than to the direct attacks of bacteria or fungi. During very rainy weather in the heat of summer young and apparently vigorous cabbage plants will wilt and die. If the weather is moderately dry and the soil loose and well cultivated, cabbage will grow vigorously and seemingly resist disease even if the soil is known to be infected with germs. It was noticed that a patch of cabbage planted on a piece of land that had been used to grow celery for several years grew very well until heavy rains began to fall in

PATCH OF CULTIVATED CABBAGE.

August. In the bright sunshine which followed the plants wilted and died.

The crop was a failure except a portion of the lower corner, which was on a poor clay knob, and there a few good heads matured.

Due consideration was given to the fact of poor drainage and also to excessive amounts of water about the roots, to which might be attributed much of the failure. Still it seemed a plausible conjecture that there might be extraordinary amounts of soluble salts in the soil and that they would have a poisonous effect on the roots.

A piece of rather stiff clay land, one-eighth of an acre in size, that had been manured and planted to truck crops for many years and upon which cabbage had rotted badly the preceding year was again treated with ten tons per acre of rotted manure. This was plowed down and the land was prepared for the crop.

Plots were marked off and treated as follows:

Plot 1—Complete fertilizer, 1,000 pounds per acre.
Plot 2—Check, no fertilizer.
Plot 3—Lime, sixty bushels per acre.
Plot 4—Sulphate of potash, 300 pounds per acre.
Plot 5—Muriate of potash, 300 pounds per acre.

It had been noticed in some other work under similar conditions that muriate of potash seemed to have the effect of promoting the vigor of the plants. Fifteen varieties of cabbage were planted across the plots, nine varieties of French and six of American origin. The plants were set June 23. They started off nicely and grew well until the first week of August, at which time there were incessant rains, followed by bright sunshine.

All the plants on all the plots wilted down and only a few recovered. Most of those wilted died in a short time with black rot. A few lingered on, but did not make satisfactory heads.

SCOUTING IN AIR.

Army Sleuths Use Ingenious Battery of Kites to Lift Them Up.

The armies of France, England, Russia and Italy have been experimenting with kites as a means of making military observations, kites from which a basket similar to that of a balloon is suspended and in which the observer is lifted to a great height.

The kite has this advantage over the balloon or aeroplane, that it can go up in the greatest storm; in fact, the higher the wind the easier it is to ascend by means of the kite. Furthermore, the stronger the wind the smaller is the lifting surface required.

The operator employs from eight to ten kites and a heavy anchored winch with two barrels each bearing about 1,000 yards of line. A pilot kite is sent up first at the end of the principal line. At intervals of about 50 yards, one, two, three, four or five kites are attached tandem wise to the line, the number varying according to the strength of the wind. This first battery is the sustaining power and it is sent up to a height of about 1,500 feet. A second battery, attached to the secondary line and threaded by rings upon the principal line, is then sent up. It supports a framework rolling upon the principal line, and from this framework is hung the basket in which the aeronaut sits.

The first battery holds the principal cable tight and the second battery drags the aeronaut in his basket up this aerial railway.

By this means a man may rise with safety several hundred yards above the earth and communicate with his friends below by telephone (using the primary cords) or by messages, sent up as boys send messages up a kite string or down by means of a small weight.

Cellular box kites with automatic rudders, made of a bamboo frame covered with fine oiled silk, is one form in use. They weigh very little, are collapsible into small space and can be unpacked and sent up so easily that the aeronaut may be up in the air within 20 minutes of reaching the scene. It is claimed for this system that it is safer and more convenient than ascensions by balloons or aeroplanes.

Greeting the New Moon In Fiji.

In Colo, the mountainous interior of Viti Levu, the largest island of the Fiji group, the natives have a very curious method of greeting the new moon. On seeing the thin crescent rising above the hills they salute it with a prolonged "Ah!" at the same time quickly rapping on their open mouths with their left hands, thus producing a rapid, vibratory sound. An old chief, when asked regarding the meaning and origin of this curious custom, said: "We always look and hunt for the moon in the sky, and when it comes we do as you see to show our pleasure at finding it again. We don't know the meaning of what we do. Our fathers always did so."

Comes That Way.

A young minister who was naturally of a shy disposition was rather embarrassed at his first marriage ceremony, and unwittingly reversed the usual order of the service, thus making the bridegroom promise to live and obey his blushing bride. The error passed unnoticed at the time, but shortly afterward it dawned upon the father of the bride that a mistake had occurred, and he said to the minister:

"I believe, Mr. ——, you have made John promise to love and obey my daughter. Ah, well," he added after a pause and with a sly look at his better half, "I suppose it won't matter much. It generally comes to that anyway."—Pearson's.

The Spectroscope.

Originally the spectroscope was applied only to chemistry and in that limited field proved itself an invaluable aid in accurate analysis. By holding in a bunsen flame a platinum wire moistened by contact with the skin the presence of a few grains of salt swallowed a few minutes previously can be detected with the spectroscope. Indeed, so wonderfully refined is the work of the spectroscope chemist that he can discover in a substance the presence of one three-millionth of a grain of metal.

Cause of His Sorrow.

"Why do ye look so sorryful, Dennis?" asked one man of another.

"I just hear-r-rd wan man call another a liar. And the man that was called a liar said the other man would have to apologize or there would be a fight."

"And why should that make you look sad?"

"The other man apologized."

How to Boil Ham In Cider.

Wash well a fine ham. Soak overnight in water and in the morning set it to boil in a kettle of hot cider to cover. The kettle must be porcelain on account of the acid. Boil slowly five to eight hours, or until thoroughly cooked, and set to cool in the liquid. A small bag of spice—cloves, mace, cinnamon—thrown in the boiling cider gives flavor.

Why Canadian Cheese Is Losing The English Mkt.

Senator Derbyshire in an address before the cheese board at Brockville said he considered 10 1-2 cents a fair price in dull market. Some friends of his who had recently arrived from Manchester and London could not understand why such high prices were paid for Canadian cheese. The Senator had a word of praise for the quality of the cheese generaliy. Poor cheese was usually traceable to the source of the milk supply. "Produce milk for less money give the cow healthy food and you will shut out the New Zealand trade," said the Senator Some few years ago Canada controlled 87 per cent of the British trade but now New Zealand has stepped in and is producing as fine cheese as Canada at a less cost with the result that they are increasing their business in England. Mr. Weegar of Montreal also spoke briefly touching on the strides New Zealand made in the English cheese market.
