Iroquois Driving Club Revived Frank Sisty Heads Executive

The long dormant Iroquois Driving Club is off to a flying revival. Last Friday night a group of enthusiastic racing fans gathered at the Iroquois Civic Centre to revive the club, elect a new executive and make plans to revitalize the old race track located to the west of the Carman Road.

Iroquois Reeve Lloyd Davis, having approached the Ontario Hydro, owners of the land, on the subject of local use of the field containing the track, said he felt the Hydro Commission would be receptive to worthwhile suggestions. It appeared the field could be obtained on a possible five-year lease basis, at a reasonable rental figure.

First President

Frank Sisty was elected to head the executive for the first year. Mr. Sisty, active in the local sports world over the years, was instrumental in bringing the racing fans together. Other members of the executive are: Vice-President, Ford McCaslin; Secretary, Jack Saver; Directors, Dwight Merkley, Mahlon Zeron, L. C. Davis, Kurt Baker, Wm. Cameron.

Mahlon Zeron and L. C. Davis were appointed to approach Ontario Hydro regarding actual terms of an agreement on the land containing the track.

Mr. Sisty reported that a number of area people owning tractors and other equipment had offered their services to put the track and adjacent property in shape once again. He said all work would be on a voluntary basis and hoped that much of the work could be finished this fall.

Mr. Sisty cautioned the new organization to go slowly in their plans and thanked Mr. Davis for chairing the meeting.

The executive will meet on Friday, October 5th in the Council Chambers at 8 p.m.

Five Breakins

Five break-ins in Iroquois and district over the week-end netted thieves only an electric shaver and a transistor radio. Broken into on Sunday night were Fetterly's quarry office two miles west of the village; S. A. Thompson and Son Ltd., L. J. Gibbons, St. Lawrence Valley Co-Op Cold Storage, and a pay telephone at Fetterly's Garage.

Entry was made through windows and doors and little other damage was reported. The radio and shaver were taken from the L. J. Gibbons' premises on Dundas Street.

6c-an-hour Raise Included In Caldwell-Union Contract

Lions Report On Money Spent In Service Work

The Iroquois Lions Club executive this week released figures showing where hundreds of dollars, raised by various projects, is spent in the community and district. A large portion of the money, $1081.07, was spent on health and welfare, including $168.92 for food and milk, $11.20 medical, $75.00 for hospital donations and equipment and $784.75 on crippled children donations and Easter Seals disbursements.

Under boys and girls activities the club spent $2750 on sports, $103.84 on a bicycle rodeo; $108.31 for last year's Halloween party and $486.61 for playground equipment in the village.

Eye examinations and glasses prescribed cost $123.50. There were many miscellaneous items such as Christmas parcels, etc., running into several hundred dollars not covered in the release.

A two-year agreement has been scheduled to be signed on October 9th between Caldwell Linen Mills Ltd. and Local 14080, District 50, United Mine Workers of America, bringing employees at Caldwell's a 6c an hour increase over the period of the contract. The employees will receive a 3-cent an hour raise starting Monday, October 1st, and the second 3c raise will take effect October 1st, 1963.

The writer estimates the pay increase will amount to close to $72,000 each year, taking into consideration fringe benefits as well as the overall 6c raise.

In addition to the 6 cents, the new contract will call for a retroactive bonus of $35.00 for those employed prior to March 1st, 1962 and still in the Caldwell employ as of October 1st, and a pro-rata basis for those employed and still employed since March 1st of this year. Starting on October 1st, 1963, a 5c-an-hour bonus will be paid to those working the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shift. There are 15 employees presently on the old mill bonus rate who will receive only a 2c-an-hour increase, to bring them closer in line with the other hourly employees.

Welfare improvements call for a weekly indemnity of $10 more per week for sickness, anesthetic benefits $10 to $35 per schedule and a change in the group insurance costs as follows: married, with dependents pay $2.65 per month as compared with $3.18; widows, $2.32 (previous $2.74); single male up to $1.71 from $1.58; single female $1.39 from $1.14. Jack McEwen Killed Instantly, Hit By Car Walking Across 401

Jack McEwen, aged 54, of R.R. 1, Iroquois, was fatally injured early Friday evening in a traffic accident at the intersection of 401 Highway and the Gravel Road.

Mr. McEwen was instantly killed when struck by a car driven by Albert Harper, 62, of 367 First Avenue, Brockville. Mr. Harper's wife, Irene, suffered cuts on her hand and leg in the accident and is recovering at St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, Brockville. Surgery was required on one hand to connect severed tendons.

The accident occurred during a rain and wind storm. Visibility was poor, OPP reported. Mr. McEwen was walking across the highway proceeding south down the county road when struck by the car proceeding west.

The impact lifted the man into the air and his body demolished the car's windshield before it fell to the north shoulder of the road. He was dead when occupants of the car reached him.

Constable Donald Grant of the OPP, Morrisburg detachment, investigated.

The body rested at the W. E. Fitzsimmons Funeral Home in Iroquois until Monday at 2 o'clock when funeral services were held at the funeral home. The remains were interred in Reid Mills Cemetery.

Mr. McEwen is survived by a brother Norman, Ottawa.

Scenes Like This May Be Seen Here Next Year

HORSE RACING HERE? Scenes like the above may once again be seen in the area if plans of the newly-organized Iroquois Driving Club materialize. The revitalized organization hope to be active enough by next season to be able to hold at least one race meet at the old racing track on the outskirts of the village just west of the Carman Road. Every wish of success is extended the group. Many hours' volunteer labor will be needed to get the track and grounds in shape. If you're interested, contact any of the executive listed in an article in this issue.

LETTERS TO EDITOR: EXPRESSION OF OPINIONS

(This is the sixth in a series of editorials explaining how a weekly newspaper functions.)

Like all newspapers, the Iroquois Post publishes communications or letters to the editor, when we receive them. They are expressions of the opinions our readers hold upon matters of public interest.

Often conditions arise in every community that make certain phases of community welfare appear unsatisfactory. They can often be rectified simply by voicing a complaint in the local newspaper. Such action arouses interest, creates arguments, and sometimes right the real or imaginary wrongs.

The Iroquois Post has always held to the policy that the full name of the author should be published along with his letter. If a man has an opinion he should be willing to back it with his name. However, many people will not have a letter published over their signature and we do allow pen names provided the author's real name is known to the editor.

The letters-to-the-editor column should be the editorial comment of the subscribers. It allows everyone an effective voice in the affairs of the community. Thus, if you have something constructive to say on a public matter or something you want the community to know about, write a letter to the editor. If it is not libelous and doesn't offend good taste, it will be published.

Fire Prevention Week

Many who read this will not remember for long that Fire Prevention Week is Sunday, October 7th until Saturday, October 13th. If, during this particular week, your house burns down - - - you will remember it the rest of your life.

Human nature being what it is, we are all apt to lose sight of the importance that should be attached to particular weeks such as Fire Prevention Weeks. It very well may be that due to some small act during next week, your home or business would be spared from fire.

Generally speaking, we attach little importance to the fact that we have a volunteer fire brigade. When the siren calls them out, most other residents don't even bother to go to the front door to see where the fire might be. It could someday be their own home.

Nevertheless, the fire brigade does its job, standing ready day and night, to guard this community against fire. Once a year a special week is set aside by the federal government as Fire Prevention Week. The local fire department makes an inspection of the village and makes recommendations to home owners and shop keepers. They have the authority to enter your home or place of business and will show identification if you so request it.

There are many thousands we could say about fire—the hundreds of dollars' loss incurred yearly even in our own County, the inconveniences that are caused, the tragic feeling one has when they lose their home or business, but the one other main point is this: material things can be replaced. Houses and stores and factories can be rebuilt but the loss of one life can never be replaced.

If, in the lifetime of this community, one life is spared due to the preventive action taken by our volunteer fire brigade, then their life's work has been worthwhile. When they call at your home or place of business, give them your time and understanding, and follow the recommendations they may make so that your property may be as "fire-safe" as possible.

It has been stated by competent authority that nine out of ten homes that burn, could be spared. But only if the occupants have practised fire prevention every day of the year.

The incidence of fires in this community and in the Township of Matilda which in part is served by the Iroquois Fire Department, has been small. That doesn't mean that this winter we could not have a dozen serious fires if we let our surveillance and caution slip for a moment.

The only comforting thought we might then have is that our fire department is on its toes—ready and willing to serve. Our hats are off to them during this week.

SUGAR and SPICE

By Bill Smiley

Once in a while, I lose heart. Most of the time, I roll with the punches, smile wryly, admit that Rome wasn't built in a day, and go right on trying to instill in youngsters some knowledge of their native tongue.

But occasionally, I stride from the classroom, go barreling into the men teachers' washroom, fiercely suck on a cigarette, and stare morosely into the toilet bowl, wondering how I was ever flung into the teaching of English.

It's a crazy language. Oh, I'll admit it's strong, virile, colorful, flexible and often beautiful. But it's also inconsistent, irregular, insane and intimidating.

Compared to the soldierly march, the regular formations of Latin, English is a disorderly stream of refugees. Compared to the lucidity, logic and precision of French, English is the flight of a bat.

What other language would pronounce read, said and led exactly alike? Or would pronounce two words of totally different appearance, "you" and "ewe", identically? Or would have four utterly useless and unpronounced k's in such a word as knieckknack?

However, that's enough of that stuff. I'm too busy trying to teach the language to have any time for reforming it. I don't really demand much. All I ask is that kids in high school stop saying things like, "I wooda if I cooda"; eliminate the "thisherers" and the "that-theres" from their vocabulary; and refrain from writing things like, "I seen in a book were theirs no people on the moon, like."

In addition, I try, gently but persistently, to lead them away from such gruesome slips as, "If babies don't like raw vegetables, they should be boiled" and that old favourite, the dangling participle, which calmly states, "Sitting on the veranda, 40 cows were seen."

I don't blame the youngsters. Many of them are exposed to sparse vocabularies and anything-goes grammar not only at home, but on television, and in the movies they see and junk they read. They can scarcely be expected to acquire impeccable spoken and written English in a few hours at school each week.

They try, though. They try, bless them. Their forehead knot with strain as they tell you that the three principal parts of the verb "cling" are cling, clang, clung. Their eyes roll in their heads as they spell with a dash and daring worthy of more heroic feats. And every year some kid tries to throw the teacher by asking him to spell "antidisestablishmentar-ianism" and explain what it means.

On second thought, English is a fascinating language, with a bold, vivid coloring all its own, and I reckon I'd rather teach it than anything else. Occasionally, one comes across a student with those rare twin gifts — an ear for language and a joy in the manipulation of words. When that happens it makes up for a host of headaches.

And where else could one come across such delightful misuses as that of the boy who wrote, "They came within a hare's breath of success?"

And where else could you find a language that could conceivably spell "fish" as "pho-ti"? Just pronounce it: ph as in physics, o as in women, and ti as in nation. Fish.

It's a grand old tongue, and I think that if I just put my shoulder to the wheel, carry the ball with my nose to the grindstone, and hit the odd home run, I should be able to go down with my flags flying.

FOOT AND MOUTH PAINTINGS NOW IN CANADA

Association of Foot and Mouth Artists is the unusual name of an organization which has become an important factor in international art and publishing.

Its story is still more unusual. Canadians will hear a great deal more about it in the coming months. For the first time, reproductions from the works of the world's most unique group of artists will be made available in Canada. The project has been a booming success in every country of Europe this side of the Iron Curtain, as well as in South America, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, India, Brazil and Argentina.

The Association was formed after the war in a tiny Principality of Liechtenstein as a means of drawing attention to a group of painters from many nations who all produce important works of art under a terrifying handicap: they are deprived of the artist's most valuable tool — their hands. Some were born crippled, some are victims of polio, some of war and accidents. All have trained themselves to wield a paint brush with either their mouth or their feet.

It is not a charity organization. It is a business — fully owned by its members, the foot and mouth artists themselves.

This is how it works: Each artist gets a monthly retainer fee which is sufficient for his livelihood. In return he delivers one painting a month which becomes the property of the Association, including all reproduction rights. The Association sells the paintings, arranges exhibitions, publishes them as greeting cards or permits other publishers to use them on a royalty basis. At the end of the year, the artist receives a bonus based on the number of his works selected for

The BIBLE Today

Assuming "outstanding significance for Christian witness in the Communist sphere of influence" is how Poland and Yugoslavia are described in the recent Popular Report of the Bible Society. A sign on the Society's Depot in the heart of Warsaw reads "The British and Foreign Bible Society".

Mr. Enholm the Agency Secretary in Poland reports "satisfactory" work being accomplished from that centre, where in the last year, nearly 80,000 copies of the Scriptures were circulated, 12,636 of these being whole Bibles.

It is envisaged that an additional outlet for Scripture distribution will be arranged at Cracow. This is a very busy city and would be a strategic centre of Christian Witness.

A small but steady supply of Scriptures continues to enter Yugoslavia with the permission of the authorities there. This meets to a limited extent the needs of the Orthodox Church in Croatia, Serbian, Slovenian and Macedonian. The Reformed Church receives copies of the Hungarian Scriptures. A few copies of other languages are allowed to enter for minority Protestants in Yugoslavia, who are quite vital, the Society's recent Report "Heirs and Successors" states.

IROQUOIS PUBLIC LIBRARY

On The Book Shelves

(Mrs. O. Pigeon)

'Rudolf Hess' the Uninvited Guest', 'There Goes MacGill', 'The Lonely Life', 'Uhuru' and 'Passages to Danger' are the new books to look for at the Iroquois Public Library this week.

From British and German sources not previously available to any author, James Leasor has told the story of one of the most dramatic and puzzling episodes of the last war in his book 'Rudolf Hess, the Uninvited Envoy'. For the first time answers are provided for the question: how did he come? what was the bargain he brought with him? what did he say to members of the British Cabinet when in strict secrecy they talked to their strange and haughty captive?

'There Goes MacGill' by Ronald Hambleton is the story of a roughneck old Irishman, battered, semi-literate, devout and alone, on a ship bound for Ireland after having spent several years in Canada.

'The Lonely Life' proves conclusively the legendary image of Bette Davis is not a fable but a marvellous reality as she tells of her early life, shares the hard-earned knowledge of her craft and shows that it is possible to have a career and remain honest if one is willing to pay the price of personal loneliness.

Kenya is the setting for Robert Ruark's novel 'Uhuru'. It is the story of a white hunter, born and bred in the country, a man who had taken full and savage part in the suppression of Mau-Mau. It is also the story of those other whites, British or American whose interest in Africa is either lasting or ephemeral, bold or courageous. It is finally the story of the blacks themselves, gallant of erasing, intriguing of vile.

'Passage To Danger' by Edwin Lanham is a suspenseful thriller of murder and mayhem on a plush Florida yacht.

FAVOURITE "RECIPES" AROUND OUR HOME

We enjoyed a pumpkin pie the other day but the chef who prepared it was too shy to give us the recipe. Since she controls the quality and quantity of food we eat each day, it wasn't in our favor to press the issue. Maybe one of our readers will come forward with a pumpkin pie recipe for next week.

Mrs. Edith Markell, R. R. 2, Brinston, gave us a salad recipe which looks delicious. A salad goes good with any meal anytime of the year.

Line a plate with lettuce leaves. Over this slice tomatoes (as many as is required). Then sliced bananas over the tomatoes. Cover with your favorite salad dressing and sprinkle with chopped nuts. (walnuts preferred).

Speaking of bananas we will pass along a little favorite of our own—it can't very well be called a recipe but it makes a tasty bite! It's called a toasted banana sandwich. Make toast, slice on bananas and cover with a layer of your favorite jam. Eat.

This week we seem to be featuring desserts and here's one from a subscriber who wishes to remain anonymous to all but us. It's called

Pineapple Dessert

1 box of vanilla wafers
5 t. soft butter
Crush wafers and mix with butter. Save half cup of mixture for topping. Line bottom of large long dish with the remaining mixture.

Filling: Cream half cup of butter and one cup powdered sugar. Add 2 well-beaten eggs. Spread over the crumb mixture. Spread over this layer half cup chopped nuts. Drain a small can of crushed pineapple and add to the other layers. Whip half pint of whipping cream, add sugar and flavoring. Spread on the pineapple layer and sprinkle the remaining crumb mixture on top. Refrigerate 24 hours.

Boy! That doesn't sound as if it's meant for women who are watching their calories or what have you! It's meant for people like the writer of this column who could eat half of that and not have to worry about his weight.

Sounds like the kind of stuff mother used to make.

Christmas Cake Recipes

Many people make up their Christmas cake well in advance of the Yule season and perhaps those who do this wouldn't mind sending along their favorite cake recipe for one of our forthcoming columns.

publication and the amount his paintings earned for the Association. Member artists may sell additional paintings privately but may not have published except through the Association.

Many applications for membership are received each year from all over the world, but only very few are granted after a panel of art experts decide that the applicant is, in fact, a professional artist of high standing.

At present, the Association has one Canadian member, Earl Bailly of Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, one of Canada's outstanding landscape painters who lost the use of both hands in early childhood through polio and whose work is now on permanent display in the National Gallery in Ottawa.

Other Association members are Swedish, French, Austrian, Italian, Finnish, German, Spanish, Swiss, Belgian, Dutch, Danish, British, New Zealanders, South Africans and Argentinians.

Their styles range from romantic realism to abstraction, from still life in the classic manner to impressionist portraits. The paintings have been exhibited in all corners of the world and have earned high praise

Parliament Hill Report

The assembling of Parliament has many of the qualities of the commencement of a school term. My arrival in the House of Commons in January 1959 was really the renewal of old friendships. September 27, 1962, brought to me the new and confusing experience of a vast number of completely strange faces taking their rightful places in a most familiar setting.

Lost in the electoral war of last June were many good friends, the tolerant, objective Margaret Aitken; the crippled, gallant former Postmaster General, Bill Hamilton; the gay and witty former star of the Navy Show, John Pratt; the dignified and impressive former Speaker, Roland Michener; the breezy, gregarious Dr. George Fairfield; the strikingly handsome, hard-working Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Defence, Egan Chambers. Against the loss of such tried and true friends, one felt inclined to greet their replacement with a rather cool appraisal. Soon the day-to-day flood of events will smooth over this initial shock of change, and new characters will emerge to build their particular influence in the hearts and minds of their colleagues.

The First Question Period on Friday, September 28th, was long, with keen incisive questions, giving an immediate aggressive workmanlike atmosphere. The Ministers in turn, showed their usual characteristics, a long careful answer from the Hon. Donald Fleming, a witty conclusive parry from the Hon. George Nowlan—"I am neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet", and so the shape of the session appeared immediately.

Mr. Gordon Chaplin representing Waterloo-South, moved the reply to the Speech from the Throne and did a splendid, well-balanced review of the Government's past efforts. In beginning he referred to his pleasure in taking a seat in the House where his father had served for so many years, and acknowledged the one Member still here to welcome him, the Hon. Earl Rowe from Dufferin-Simcoe, who, many years ago, had been a young and admiring friend of the Hon. J. D. Chaplin when he was Minister of Trade and Commerce in the Bennett Government. Being a businessman and manufacturer, Gordon Chaplin praised warmly the work of the Hon. George Hees in his Department, calling it the fin-by critics and connoisseurs, not because of unusual method by which they were painted but as the true works of art, judged by the same standards as any other painting.

Yet, aside from their artistic merits, these paintings are above all an outstanding example of what the determined human spirit can do in the face of overwhelming obstacles, a symbol of courage and faith, an inspiration to all who feel, from time to time, that fate has burdened them beyond their strength.

The backgrounds and personal stories of the member artists are as varied as their styles of painting, but in one respect they are all alike: they want neither pity nor charity, they want to contribute to the enjoyment of their fellow men and to live in self-respect and independence by working in the field they know best.

A series of original paintings by the world's leading foot and mouth artists have now been reproduced in Canada in the form of greeting cards and are being distributed from coast to coast.

As in a score of other countries, where branches of the Association have been established previously, distribution is made exclusively by direct mail. Small assortments of cards are sent to Canadian households and recipients are asked to mail back the money or return the cards. Order forms for additional cards are enclosed with each package. Offices of the Canadian branch are located in Toronto.

About nine-tenths of the profits of this project are distributed among the member artists. The balance is retained by the association to cover marketing and expansion costs.

Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holmes were Mrs. Joe Bannan and Douglas, of Garry Owen; Mr. and Mrs. George Montgomery and Leslie Huchcroft.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Leizert were Sunday dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. Will Lindsay, Domville.

Mr. Wallace Wilkins and Miss Myrtle Wilkins of North Augusta were Saturday evening visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Willis Montgomery.

Stephen Bannan, Garry Owen, spent Sunday afternoon with the Hendriks children.

Mrs. Clarence Marlatt is spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Knechtel of Iroquois.

Miss Ruby Levere, Johnstown, spent the weekend at her home here.

Sunday dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Marlatt were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bickerton, Ronnie and Connie, of Edwards; supper guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sayeau, of Ventnor, and evening guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Berry and family, Cardinal.

est foreign service in the world today. He said this can be attested to by all businessmen who had any relations with this Department.

Seconding the reply to the speech from the Throne was young Clement Vincent, newly elected from Nicolet-Yamaska, an excellent speaker who warmed to his opportunity with enthusiasm, equally at ease in French and English. He mentioned the pride he felt in being a Canadian and the pleasure with which he found so many English Canadians endeavouring to speak his native language. He expressed the hope that in the years to come all Canadians would be able to speak, not only their first language with pride and fluency, but would be able to make themselves understood in the other official language of Canada.

LIMERICK THE LOVELY

A. J. Campbell

R.P.F., Zone Forester

Time and again County Forest plantation areas have been described by our biological staff as "Biological Deserts". The timber staff usually retaliate by pointing out the ever increasing volumes of timber being produced by these plantations.

Not so with Limerick, a name well known locally to the hunter, nature lover, and the wood cutter. This forest, owned by the United Counties of Leeds and Grenville, can boast some real multiple land use. This is brought to mind again at this time of year, when the sound of the shotgun has returned to the Forest.

Though the beaver have caused concern, they have created some excellent duck shooting by flooding wet lands that could not be reforested economically. People come for 25 miles and more, to hunt ducks in Limerick. Throughout the autumn days, grouse hunters can be seen frequently. The variety of cover afforded by Limerick Forest is the primary reason for many large coveys being produced.

Soon the deer hunters will break out the buckshot and the rifle slugs and head for Limerick. Despite the deplorable "sport" of jacklighting, a very inviting deer herd has been maintained over the past five years, at least.

The non-hunter may wonder why the above makes Limerick lovely. Only a hunter can understand this. Limerick is, however, lovely to look at, as well. Fall colours of maple, birch and poplar blend into a background of cedar and planted pine. The yellowing tamarack mingled with the green-blue spruce stand as sentinels at the edge of the mysterious marsh.

Though Limerick cannot boast of high timber production on every acre, it can boast of a great recreational and aesthetic value on which no man has ever been able to place a price tag.

WHEN IT HAPPENS TO YOU

H. Rae Grilleen, R.P.F.
Timber Supervisor

Dutch Elm Disease strikes Ottawa area. Manotick elms show disease symptoms! The writer, a resident of Long Island, has an infected elm. Immediately the question arises, are there well-established trees which will replace it? Beyond this, we must consider a long range programme to replace all our elms. Now is the time to make your planting plans.

Autumn planting is generally not as successful as spring planting and with no advantage in growth. Unless you find the spring season too busy, plan now and plant as early as possible next year. Remember, your elms have a very questionable life span. Prepare for their replacement immediately.

HUN HUNTING SUCCESS

J. B. Dawsons, Biologist

Hun hunters have done quite well during the first six days of the season. Hunters have been blessed with cool, humid weather which is much more conducive to good dog work than the blistering 90 degrees plus heat which we experienced during the first few days of the season in 1961.

To date hunters have averaged 5.1 Huns for each day's hunting; 426 Hungarian partridge having been shot during 84 man-days of hunting effort. This compares to season-long average of 3.9 birds per gun-day in 1961. During the first six days of the season sex and age data were obtained from 411 partridge.

Coveys seem to be slightly more numerous in certain areas although more small coveys of late hatched birds have been noted this year. This puzzles us somewhat, since nesting conditions were ideal this past spring and we expected most coveys would be well matured.

Certain areas appear to have a greater proportion of young birds than others, and a larger sample may indicate a more normal distribution of early and late hatched birds; time will tell.

Much field corn is still standing and Huns are most adept at disappearing into, over or around, this cover. Hunters (especially those carrying binoculars) should relocate birds more easily during the next few weeks after the corn is harvested.

The best partridge populations are still found on the clay plains along the Nation River and its tributaries in Dundas, Stormont and Russell Counties. Huns are spreading, however, and some gunners are getting good shooting in the less popular "fringe" areas. As always, good mixed grain stubble undersown with clover and close to corn seems to produce coveys more consistently than any other cover.

A dog is almost a necessity, not only to locate coveys but to retrieve downed birds.

DUCK HUNTING SUCCESS

D. J. Gawley

AAst. Sr. Conservation Officer
Opening day shoot varied throughout the district and those that hunted on beaver ponds and inland marshes seem to have fared the best.

The overall success for the complete district of 240 hunters checked, was an average of 1.4 ducks per hunter; this was slightly higher than the average take of 1.1 ducks per hunter, the 1961 season.

Success on the Rideau River was slightly down, 1.0 ducks per hunter compared to 1.7 opening day 1961.

The Ottawa River was quite windy and reports were that success was very low and that most ducks in that area were in Shirley's Bay Sanctuary.

The St. Lawrence River compared with the shoot on the Rideau River and of 48 hunters checked, the average take was 1.2 ducks per hunter.

Leeds County was slightly higher than the rest of the district. Fifty-two hunters checked had an average of 1.7 ducks per hunter.

Blacks, Mallards, Wood-ducks and Teal were most predominant in the bag. Several Golden-eye were taken on the Rideau River which is quite unusual on opening morning.

The crippling loss, especially in beaver ponds, was again far too high. Hunters make great preparations for the opening day shoot, but few hunters have a good retriever to bring in that crippled duck. Now is the time to obtain a good retriever and have it trained for next year's hunt.

Smoking in the woods can be as dangerous as smoking in bed. If you must smoke—Sit down in a clearing. Roll your own. Use a lighter. Kill your butt.

Forest fire prevention is in your hands. It should also be in our hearts and our minds when we travel in forested areas. Remember: we CAN prevent forest fires.

Note To Sportsmen:

Don't cook your game before you shoot it. Don't kill game illegally by starting a forest fire; be careful.

Hot weather usually brings more of a problem with mites and lice in poultry. These pests can mean the difference between profits and loss unless they are kept under control. Sanitation and proper use of pesticides can be of great help in controlling these pests say the experts with the Ontario Agricultural College.

TAKE FIRM STAND

Members of the Ontario of Agriculture took a firm stand Sept. 24 of ways and means of controlling hog cholera in Ontario. On the heels of a costly programme of hog slaughter in Canada resulting from the second cholera outbreak in Canada in recent years, O.F.A. Members passed a resolution calling for three decisive moves (1) That the Canada Department of Agriculture be requested to work closely with the U.S. Department of Agriculture in devising methods of controlling and eventually eliminating hog cholera. (2) That the penalties for feeding uncooked garbage to hogs in Canada be made more severe than is now the case and that they be more rigidly enforced. (3) That steps be taken that will ensure that the feeding of garbage to hogs be discouraged and over a long term be eliminated altogether. This resolution resulted largely from the recent outbreak of hog cholera in Ontario and Quebec which has seen several thousand hogs slaughtered and $400,000 in compensation already paid to the owners by the Federal Government. The outbreak has been traced to feeding uncooked garbage containing scraps of raw U.S. pork to Canadian hogs.

Swine "hogged" the headlines of the second leading resolution at the Sept. 24 meeting when O.F.A. Members called for the early restoration of the $3.00 Federal premium on Grade A hogs. This was recently re-

First Fall Meeting U.C.W.

The first general fall meeting of the U.C.W. was held in the United Church hall on Tuesday evening, September 25th, with the President, Mrs. Clarence Carter, presiding.

The worship service was in charge of Mrs. Mack Fetterly, the theme being "Serenity". Several quotations from the Bible and famous writers were read. The Scripture reading taken from Mathew, Chapter 6, 25 to 34th verse was read in unison. Members of Harmony Unit sang "Peace, Perfect Peace". Mrs. Fetterly closed devotions with prayer.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Clint Stewart, the minutes of the last general meeting were read by Mrs. Ambert Brown, and the roll call taken by Units was answered with 29 members present. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Doris McQuaig. Mrs. E. R. Norton read the correspondence in the absence of the corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. J. Serviss. A letter of thanks had been received from Overseas Relief Centre, in Toronto, for bale of clothing sent in the early summer. An appeal letter from Dr. Lotta Hitchmanova, Executive Director of Unitarian Service Committee to help support their new campaign, Operation Bountiful, was also read. The need is still very great.

The important item discussduced to $2.00 as a result of the Federal Government's austerity program. Ben Steers, Bradford, (President of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association) stated that this move comes at a time when we need to take every possible step to improve quality. During the year that the $3.00 premium has been paid, the number of Grade A hogs has increased by 4 per cent.

The OFA Members also approved a resolution asking that the name of either the producer or the consignee of livestock be made known to community auction sales or perspective buyers. The meeting, presided over by OFA President Wm. Tilden, Harrison, considered plans and appointed a committee for the Federation's 26th Annual Meeting scheduled for Toronto's Royal York Hotel, Nov. 12, 13, 14th.

Well, electioneering, campaigning and promises of the campaigners for the various positions within the Student's Council and Athletic Society, are now a thing of the past. On Friday morning, September 1st, the student body voted in its Council for the '62-'63 term.

The Council elections were clear-cut with Betty Millar winning by an unquestionable majority. Betty is our new President. The offices of Vice-President and Sec'y-treasurer went to Lyle Barkley and Nan Perry respectively. When election time rolled around, Nan hadn't any competition, although at least six students were nominated for the position. Could they have heard of the difficult nature of the job?

After the nominees for the executive had their 'say' in the gym, the students returned to their classes and elected a class representative.

The result of Friday's elections are: Executive — President, Betty Millar; Vice-President, Lyle Barkley; Secretary-Treasurer, Nan Perry. Representatives — 9A, Jane Archibald; 9B, William Beckstead; 9C, Jerry Secord; 10A, Jackie Rushton; 10B, Karel Hodgert; 11A, Sandra Empey; 11B, Dean McCurdy; 12, Nancy McGinn; 13, Lois Bouck.

On Friday the 27th, the students chose representatives for the Athletic Society. The executive will come out of the class representatives. The 'Class Reps' are as follows:

9A, Randy Thompson; 9B, Paulette Jacobs; 9C, Heather Disheau; 10A, Henriette Stohler; 10B, Winston Baker; 11A, Joan Sisty; 11B, Garry Hall; 12, Andy Langford; 13, Barbara Fetterly.

Morrisburg at Iroquois

It was a dirty, damp and windy Friday 27th. It was also an unlucky day for our football team was defeated by Morrisburg with a score of 28-6.

Iroquois kicked and had the wind in the first quarter of the game. The ball, after being received and put into play by Morrisburg was fumbled, and Paul Judson successfully

1962 OTTAWA WINTER FAIR SLATED FOR OCTOBER 22 TO 27

The Ottawa Winter Fair observes its Diamond Jubilee this autumn with a top-rated Horse Show and Agriculture scheduled for the Lansdowne Park Coliseum October 22 to 27.

Prize Lists have been mailed out to exhibitors who are reminded that the closing date for entries in all departments, horses, Horse Show, cattle, sheep, swine, seeds and junior agriculture is September 28.

The Horse Show is expected to be an outstanding event with some of the finest stables in Canada and the United States being represented. Prizes have been increased and in the stake classes these now amount to $500.00 each.

A new section in the show will be the Parade Classes, a colourful event with riders and mounts attired in parade tack.

An interesting aspect of the Horse Show is that for the first time, it will be handled entirely by women judges. These are Mrs. W. C. Cox, Cohasset, Mass., and Mrs. Hall-Holland of London, Ontario. Both are eminently qualified for these tasks.

A heavy entry list is anticipated in the cattle department. Judging of Ayrshires and Jerseys will take place at 9:00 a.m., October 22. Holsteins will be judged October 23 at 1:00 p.m. and again at 9:00 a.m. on October 24.

The Guernsey show will take place on October 24th at 9:00 a.m. and market cattle will be shown on October 25 at 1:00 p.m. Calves will be judged Friday, October 26 at 8:00 a.m.

Heavy horses will be judged October 23 starting at 1:00 p.m. while Sheep classes will be viewed by the judges October 24 and 25 starting at 9:00 a.m.

A full programme has been arranged for the Junior Agriculture division which, at this Winter Fair, will have an attendance of over 550 boys and girls.

Exhibits of seeds, cheese and beautiful flowers will give the Winter Fair a colourful touch of autumn bounty.

The activities of the women's organizations will be of particular interest as the ladies plan a colourful observance of the Winter Fair Diamond Jubilee.

For patrons of the Fair, there will be the opportunity to gain a lovely diamond ring valued at $750.00. In addition, the Winter Fair will be giving to some fortunate patron, a 1963 Dodge car.

Mr. N. P. Baker, Trenton, is spending a few days with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Fetterly.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Toye, of London, and Mrs. Addie Toye, Hanesville, spent one day last week with the latter's niece, Mr. and Mrs. George Wright, of Ogden, N.Y.

Mrs. Toye remained for a week and Miss Ann, Carol and Arlene Wright accompanied her home, staying for the weekend with their cousin, Miss Sharon Cook, and their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cook. Mrs. Toye took them home on Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. George Wright's at Ogden, N.Y.

Miss Mary Sweeney, Spencerville, spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Murray.

Mrs. Ed. Lewis attended an Avon convention at Point Claire one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Thompson and Ed. have sold their farm and moved into the E. Collison home.

We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Miles and family to our midst.

Miss Freda Fawcett, Kemptville, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fawcett.

recovered the pigskin.

The ball now in possession of Iroquois snapped and Alan McQuigge ran the few remaining yards to score the first touchdown of the game.

Iroquois' failure to win the single point seemingly marked the beginning of its unlucky streak. Morrisburg, from the second quarter on, out-ran Iroquois and finally amassed a total 28 points!

Our players were trying their hardest and only their lack of experience prevented them from being victorious.

After several triumphant seasons, our hardened teams have lost some of their members and experience. This year we are busily trying to build up our steadily decreasing ranks. Having only two experienced men on our team has greatly reduced our ability to function as we have in the past but this weakness is only temporary. Quite a number of new members show signs of becoming valuable assets to the team in the near future.

COMMENCEMENT

The most awaited and most honoured event of our school year will take place on October 12th. This year's Commencement Exercises promises to be a very great success for all involved, even for those not receiving awards. Guest speaker will be Mr. Patrick Rudden, QC, Cornwall. His topic is very suitable for this occasion as it deals with the students' approach on life after graduation.

Iroquois' most honored boy, Bill Millar, who is presently attending Queen's University as an Ontario Scholar will be our Valedictorian. I am sure Bill will deliver a very interesting speech. Who knows, Bill may even disclose the formula which made him one of our most valued students and good friend.

It would be a crime if this event is poorly attended. Surely the parents of the students can take one night in three hundred and sixty-five days to show some interest in their son or daughter's school life.

Saturday Morning Football
After suffering the humiliation of losing a game by one point, Roy Lapier's "Blue" team came back to give the "Golds" a touch of defeat. The "touch" took the form of a 13-6 victory for the Blues.

Once on their feet Roy's Blue team is hard to beat; for they won the game on Saturday also. The score was 24-6. Roy score dthree touchdowns and Dan McCurdy one. The Golds' single touchdown was scored by Pere Archibald.

This year it will be Iroquois' honor to sponsor the inter-school track meet. Numerous schools from the area will be entering their track stars in the various competitions.

Here's hoping that we fare alright.

Some young blighter used a can of paint to change the color of a door and window at the public school. It may be possible to trace the spray-type paint back to the purchaser—that ought to make for interesting thinking for some young fellow!

We've heard some pretty nasty things said this past week about hunters abusing their privileges.

It seems that some hunters working this area have left behind hard feelings after they left gates open, bent down the odd fence and let dogs chase cattle and in one case at least a flock of hens.

The cases may be isolated, but all hunters will be tarred with the same stick by any farmer who suffers from the lack of consideration by even one hunter.

Most farmers don't raise too much of a holler when hunters cross his land, as long as they behave in a mannerly way.

Hunters should keep in mind that they are "guests" on the land and act accordingly.

Cars driven over fields and left to block laneways aren't apt to help a disgruntled farmer's attitude!

They tell us that fishing in the St. Lawrence has really been good lately. One fellow came home recently with half a dozen bass ranging from 2 1/2 lbs. up! He didn't catch 'em where we fish!

Looks like we're going to have horse races here next season—the sport of kings it has been called.

Look out Connaught and Rideau Carleton—we're after your hide!

Special note to Frank Ryan: keep the date of the first race in Iroquois open on your calendar.

a dear husband and father, Alfred Hutt who passed away October 4th, 1960.

Beneath it sleeps the one we love

SCORCHER!

On a scorching hot day on the French Riviera recently an attractive girl was amazed when a young man dashed up to her—and snatched off her hat.

It was a new hat and she promptly smacked his face. Then she asked him for an explanation of his apparent rudeness. He pointed to her hat. It was smouldering.

The sun had acted through a glass ornament in the hat as it would on a magnifying glass and set it alight.

MUSCLE and COURAGE and STEAM

A FEW WORDS ON BEHALF OF GOOD MEN OF IROQUOIS' VOLUNTEER
FIRE DEPARTMENT

The days of the belching steamer and the gallant fire horses are no more (and to many an oldster 'tis a pity). But the fire fighter himself hasn't changed. He still needs muscle and courage.

In the great expanse of Canada, it's the volunteer brigade on which many a community depends for answer to the urgent call of FIRE.

To these men of muscle and courage (and much more) such a community owes grateful thanks.

No better way to express it than by helping them to keep the dreaded summonses to a minimum.

Here in Iroquois and Matilda, you can do your part by not giving fire a place to start.
