WEDNESDAY MORNING

FLASH!

Both Winchester Community Centre and the proposed Chesterville Community Centre will receive assistance from Winchester Township.

This was the decision reached at Tuesday night's township council meeting when, following thorough discussion, it was agreed to grant $15,000 to each village project.

This, combined with a possible $7,500 additional government grant split two ways, would mean that each village receive a total of $18,500.

Township Clerk Glenn MacGregor, in conversation with the press on Wednesday morning, estimated assistance to both villages would cost taxpayers less than a one-mill increase. Such a debenture, however, must receive O.M.B. approval.

THE NEWS in Brief

Weather Has Its Ups And Downs

Thermometers have been sliding up and down like yo-yos for the past eight days with temperatures ranging from well above the 40 degree mark a week ago to nearly 30 degrees below zero within a period of two days.

Needless to say the mild spring-like weather played havoc with snow and natural-ice rinks also suffered but a northern blast over the weekend changed the entire scene.

By Sunday evening the trend had reversed itself once more and the mercury began the long climb back to normal accompanied by brisk winds from the south-west which eventually dropped some six inches of snow.

Dull mild weather returned on Tuesday and the mercury reading once more climed far above the freezing mark.

The bewildered weatherman, is predicting another sudden drop in the next few days. Oh, well, Mrs. Moore at Metcalfe claims to have spotted a robin last week indicating spring is just 'around that corner'.

Centurians Choose Officers Tonight

Winchester 100 Club will install the new slate of officers at to-night's regular meeting at Henderson Hall.

Those in charge of the meeting anticipate a full attendance at this important ceremony.

Minor Hockey Needs Coaches, Players

Winchester's new Community Centre is a hive of activity. Puck boards are up, a fine ice surface glitters under the newly installed lights; and the lobby is warm and comfortable.

Saturday morning, between the hours of 10:00 and 12 all boys in Winchester and surrounding area will have an opportunity to register for regular play.

According to those in charge there is only one problem - shortage of coaches.

Little fellows eager to take advantage of the proposed hockey program are urged to have a 'man-to-man' chat with Dad, and earnestly request that he offer his services.

High school students could also be very helpful and hopefully many of them will welcome the opportunity to don skates and help little fellows.

Voice Of Experience

Kent Raistrick, the youngest member of Mountain Agricultural Society, listens intently to sage advice from Gordon Cleland who has been an active member since 1925, longer than any of his associates.

Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Raistrick, joined the fair board when he was only three months old. Now at seven months, it appears obvious he has some definite plans and wisely chooses to discuss the issues with a man of experience.

Mr. Cleland has assisted with the auditing chores since as far back as 1920 and only last fall was signally honoured when he was the recipient of the Agricultural Service Diploma. This coveted award was presented by the Ontario Association of Fairs 'for Meritous Service to Agriculture'.

Understandably Kent's plans may not go into effect immediately but meanwhile no harm in getting 'involved'.

Esteemed Citizen Hart Melvin Dies

Hart Melvin, a man whose business acumen and promotional skill played a major role in the industrial growth of the Winchester community, died January 12th following a long illness. He was in his 84th year.

Born in the township he was a son of the late David Melvin and his wife, the former Zella Sharp. At Ottawa, in 1912, he married the former Hattie Leila Rennick who predeceased him last November.

A keen businessman he realized the potential of the automobile industry when he was a young man and the thriving enterprise known as 'Melvin Motors' grew to one of the largest in the province.

Always a dedicated promotor of his 'home town' he played a major role in convincing authorities that Winchester was the ideal location for a district hospital. His foresight and ability to garner community support resulted in the fine hospital the town boasts at the present time.

Hart Melvin

Although not an active sportsman he generously supported all ventures he felt were beneficial. A member of Henderson Lodge 383 he was also a devout member of Winchester United Church.

The late Mr. Melvin is survived by one son, David R. of Mississauga and three daughters: Eileen (Mrs. Gordon Elliott), Ottawa; Jean (Mrs. Hugh Slater) and Betty (Mrs. Robert Vice), both of Winchester.

Also surviving are three sisters and one brother: Bessie (Mrs. Ira Bower); Belle (Mrs. Stan Shaver); Mrs. Ruth MacLean all of Ottawa and Carl of Vancouver, B.C.

A special Masonic service was conducted at the funeral home on Wednesday night at 9:00 and funeral service the following day at 2:00 p.m. was conducted by Rev. A. MacDonald and Rev. D. L. Gordon.

Pall bearers were Ronald Workman, Howard Fetterly, Douglas Angus, Reginald Freeland, Melvin Scott, and Sheldon Robinson.

Interment was at Maple Ridge Cemetery.

Lorne Thompson Heads Board Of Education

For the first time since the Tri-County Board of Education was formed in 1969 a rural trustee has been elected chairman for the coming term.

Lorne Thompson of Chesterville has been an active board member since that time and his election to the top post was welcomed by rural supporters in all parts of the district.

Trustee Fraser Campbell of Maxville was elected to succeed Mr. Thompson as vice-chairman.

Tuesday the trustees approved the borrowing of $17 million to meet board expenses until tax revenues come in.

They also voted to eliminate the requirement at some schools that students make a cash deposit when they are loaned texts for the year to ensure they take good care of the books. This decision makes the policy uniform throughout the three counties.

Trustee Yves Marleau questioned ratification of the hiring of secondary school teachers. He said it seemed some persons are being hired not for what they know but who they know.

After superintendant of personnel Arnold Kelly explained the board's hiring policies to Mr. Marleau's satisfaction, Mr. Thompson said that in future teacher-hiring ratifications would be held in private.

NDDEA Meeting Features Panel Discussion

"The Value of High School Education" proved an interesting and timely topic for discussion during a recent meeting of North Dundas District Educational Association.

It was the first meeting of 1972 and the business portion was cut short to enable panelist as much time as possible.

The final report from the committee set up to study the merits of joining the Home and School Association was heard, however, and it was soon apparent to those present that the few benefits that could be derived would result in the loss of local autonomy and it was agreed the local association should remain independent.

Carl Ward, History Department Head at N.D.D.H.S. capably moderated the panel which was made up of three senior students: Wendy Earl, James Larocque and John Duncan; Mrs. J. Farmer of BellCanada, W. Rewes representing Canada Man Power and H.S. Craig of School Guidance Department Head.

It was generally agreed that High School gives a general education a first stage in the preparation for a career. Job training is done in post-secondary institutions, such as trade schools and Community colleges, or in the case of the professions, at Universities.

Mr. Reeves from Canada Man Power saw High School graduates as having difficulty in finding jobs as qualifications for many jobs continue to rise. He explained the role of Man Power in matching job opportunities with those people looking for work.

The students saw much value in the extra curriculum aspects of High School life. Although they are not listed on the diploma, clubs, organizations and sports activities increase the value of a high school education.

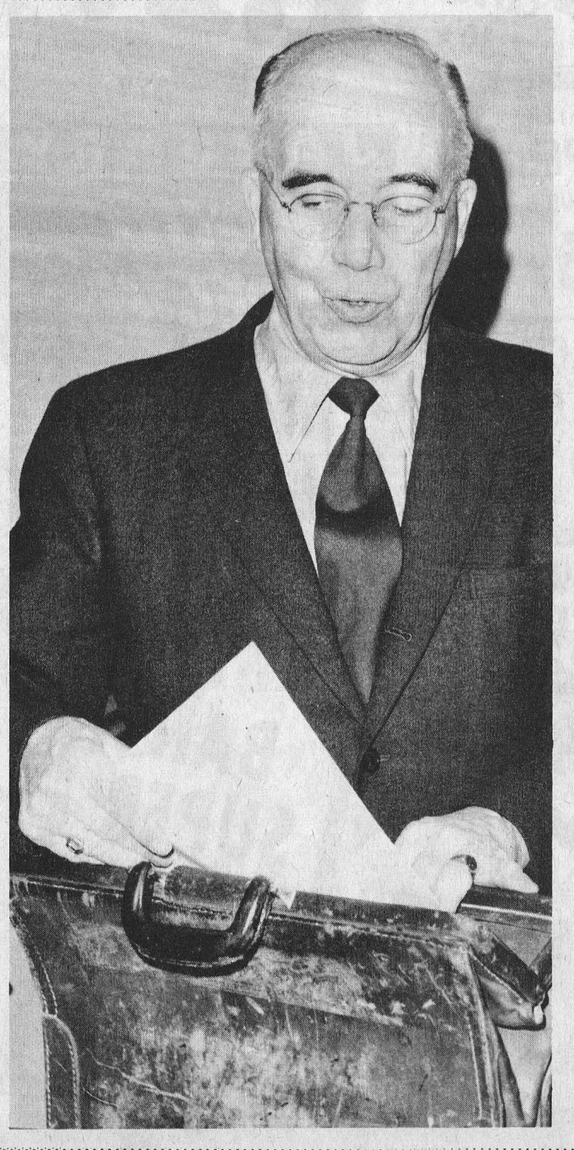
Mrs. Farmer explained that business skills such as typing and shorthand would help High School graduates obtain employment with the Bell Canada.

For those wishing to attend community college and become Technicians and Technologists, the high school offers training in the technical subjects.

An active question period followed as members questioned the panel members.

The evening pointed up clearly the need for a strong general High School education since higher qualifications are needed as jobs become more complex. The wide variety of courses offered by the schools allows the students to investigate their interests and also to become educated for life rather than merely trained for a job. Education was also seen as a continuous process where citizens can leave school, work and then return for further education.

The members of the panel were thanked by Mr. M.N. Hutchison, superintendent, of education for Dundas County. He remarked on how capably the three students had expressed themselves and at their logical thinking.



LLOYD RETIRES...

Former Rocket Boss Ends Third Career

When Lloyd LaPorte leaves his office at Ault Milk Products, Winchester this Friday and descends the stairs leading to Gordon street he will have written finis to his third interesting, active and successful career. Lloyd's friends know full well this does not mean he plans to spend the evening of his life rocking contentedly by the fireplace.

The agile little man who guided the Inkerman 'Rockets' to hockey fame some twenty-five years ago will spend the next two months in the sunny south, with his wife, enjoying the tropical breezes and ebbing tides. After that who knows?

It's an almost safe bet he'll come back brimming with ideas that may well launch him into a 'fourth' career which like the other three, will benefit everyone with whom he comes in contact.

Lloyd (and practically everyone calls him by his first name), was born in Collingwood, Ontario, but following the untimely death of his mother he came to live with his uncle and aunt on their Iroquois farm, in 1919.

He was thirteen at that time and while helping with the farm work he attended and graduated from Iroquois High School. Undecided concerning his future he spent a few years working the land before choosing a teaching career.

Graduating from Ottawa Normal School with the class of 1926-27 he immediately stepped into the schoolmaster role at 'Chateauguy School' three miles west of Inkerman, and three years later moved over to Inkerman where he was destined to spend the next 18 years of his life.

"I loved hockey as long as I can remember," he says with a fiery twinkle in his eye, and it was during his teaching career that rural youngsters in the area west of Winchester learned the rudiments of the game while Lloyd directed operations either on the 'Nation' river or open-air rinks.

Many who would later star with the famous 'Rockets' had their first pair of skates 'tightened' and tied by their beloved school teacher.

"Trouble with young boys today", says the man who served as O.D.H.A. Director, and was for five consecutive years, the association's president, "is their inability to skate."

"Organized hockey with twelve 'kids' playing and twenty watching will never develop skating talent", Lloyd emphasizes and then, reminiscing for a brief moment, he recalls the days when, "Grant and Denzil came to school with their skates on and never removed them till their parents insisted it was supper time."

"They skated before school, at recesses, at noon and from 'four' till forced to go home."

The bespectacled ice 'General' who watched his team fill arenas in all parts of Eastern Canada appears gravely concerned at present methods of training minor players.

His mind drifts back again as he tells of watching fifty or more boys on an open air rink attempting to take the puck from 'Denzil'.

"As a result," he says with an obvious feeling of satisfaction, "Denzil developed into a spectacular stick-handler and every other kid learned to skate."

It's difficult to take Mr. Laporte's mind off hockey and hopefully, with time on his hands, he may decide to write a book and record for future generations the story of his beloved 'Rockets'.

HOW ROCKETS GOT THEIR NAME

One question still remained in the writer's mind, and because interviewing such a friendly gentleman was an extremely pleasing chore we ventured to ask: "Why Rockets"?

Flashing the familiar smile he immediately remembers the first year 'his' Inkerman team played in the old Winchester Town League and no two players had similar sweaters.

He's laughing now as he vividly recalls his boys receiving their share of the money at the end of the season - $47.00 and deciding to use the money to buy a set of hockey sweaters.

"Only one set could be bought for that amount of money", he says, "and each had a huge letter 'R' on the front. Since no more cash was available there seemed only one solution, take the colourful new sweaters and find a name beginning with the proper letter."

Mr. LaPorte remembers that several names were considered before finally deciding on 'Rockets', the name that is now gloriously inked in the annals of Canadian hockey.

Having spent the first twenty-one years of his life on the farm and the next twenty-one in the school room Mr. LaPorte embarked on a brand new career in 1948 when he accepted a position as Office Manager at Ault's in the village of Winchester.

That was twenty-three years ago and since that time he has proved himself a valuable member on the staff of what is now one of the largest milk processing plants in America. Following a tenure as office manager, he was promoted to Comptroller and has for the past five years been the General Manager.

Recently, on the eve of his retirement he was honoured by both management and staff and presented with a beautifully engraved watch. From the female members of the staff he received sterling silver cuff-links.

He and his wife, the former Hilda Ennis, are the proud parents of two sons and one daughter, all Winchester residents. They are equally proud of their grandchildren. Devout members of the United Church, there is scarcely a segment of community life that has not benefited by having been associated with 'the LaPortes'.

When asked what the future holds in store he answers without a moment's hesitation. "There's much to be done, and now I'll have more time to do it".

Our community is a better place to live because Lloyd LaPorte chose to be a part of it.

"Bon Voyage, Lloyd and may your future years be as happy as those that are now history."

Carnival Badges On Sale Now

Badges promoting "WINCHESTER CARNIVAL WEEK" go on sale this week and already a highly interesting tentative schedule has been released for the busy week.

It looks like continuous activity from the 'Kick Off' parade at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, February 5th till the 'moment of truth' when some lucky ticket holder will win a Dream Vacation on Saturday night, February 12th.

Next week a complete schedule of events will be published but for the present suffice to outline just a few of the highlights.

The list is tremendous and includes a snowmobile rally; log sawing and barrell rolling contests; toboggan sliding, skating, an organ concert ice sculptures, broomball game (grudge game between local Centurians and Lions); hopefully Hawks will tangle with the 'Old' Winchester Juniors; another broomball contest when Ottawa Rough Riders tangle with the Lions; teen dance; skating parties; not to mention breakfasts, luncheons, dinners, and a host of other entertaining features.

The 'Count-Down' has begun and, it appears nothing but success can result from such a meticulously-planned extravaganza.

Watch next week for details.

Doug Parks Hosts Canada Farm Show

Nova Scotia's Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Mr. D. L. (Doug) Parks will officially greet you at the Canada Farm and Industrial Equipment Show, January 26-29, 1972 at Exhibition Park, Toronto, Ontario. Mrs. Park will accompany and this will be a time for renewing acquaintances for most Ontario agriculturalists. The Parks, native Ontarians, are known and esteemed by practically every Agricultural Organization and Community in this Province.

Doug, to his students (now farmers etc.) at Kemptville and Soil and Crop members where he served as Director, to a multitude of farm people whom he counselled and to all who heeded the advice contained in his book "Successful Crop Production" would find any other designation unrecognizable her e in his home Province. He is however, also renowned for his abilities and devotion to all things agricultural throughout North America and abroad.

The Canada Farm Show '72 including more than 40 completely new exhibitors will again display the largest assembly of agricultural innovations and services from round-the-world yet to be provided. Country estate items will occupy one entire building and you will find all kinds of special take-home small wares.

Secure your registration (admission) cards from your local farm equipment dealer or from the registration desk in the main lobby when you arrive.

Hi-C Group Hears Barbara Burton

The Hi-C of the Winchester United Church opened the January meeting with a sing-song, using the book which they are compiling of the new popular songs and hymns. One of their favourites has words that say, "I'd like to see the world for once standing hand in hand", which is a way of saying "Thou Shalt Love Thy Neighbour As Thyself".

Bruce Cowell, President, proceeded with the business of election of officers. The new slate is as follows: President, Lois Francis; Secretary, Colleen Ennis, Treasurer, Bruce Gray.

Since Miss Barbara Burton, blind physiotherapist at the Winchester and District Memorial Hospital, was to talk to the Hi-C group, a simulation of blindness was provided for the 20 members present by blindfolding them, leading them to groups, and giving them specific tasks to perform. Belts, shirts, rings, watches and so on were removed and put in a pile. Each youngster then identified his own articles and, with the additional handicap of silence, indicated to his neighbour that he was to replace the article. After a brief talk about her back ground, Miss Burton answered the questions of the group in an entertaining and humorous way, leaving the group with a keen appreciation of Miss Burton's accomplishments.

Lunch was provided by Bonnie McConnell, Judy MacDonald, Bruce Cowell and Sharon Hutchison.

The Big Mail-out has begun.

Tax reform legislation has been approved by Parliament and is now law.

What does tax reform mean to you? How will it affect you?

To answer these questions, the Department is conducting a massive national mailing program. Booklets are now being printed and mailed to all taxpayers as quickly as they come off the press.

The complete mailing will be finished in about four weeks.

All taxpayers will receive at least two booklets—"Highlights for Individuals" and "Valuation Day". These should provide answers to most of your questions.

Some taxpayers will receive additional information, according to their specific needs.

Read your booklets. Afterwards, if you have questions, ask us. We'll be glad to help.

You will find that your booklets will make it easier to file your income tax return in 1973, because they will help you to prepare now.

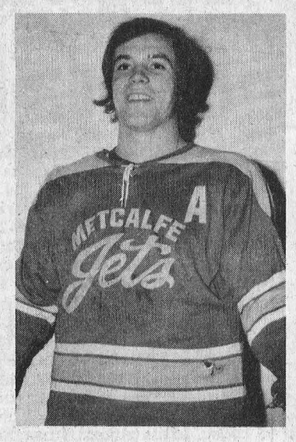
Jets Increase Lead - Maxville Quits

Metcalfe Jets extended their first place lead to four points when they trimmed Maxville 9 to 0 on Friday night and then picked up an additional two points when the Maxville team failed to put in an appearance for Sunday's game at Embrun.

Latest reports indicate Maxville, a team that has picked up only a single point to date in regular play, has thrown in the sponge and it is understood some of their players will have an opportunity to transfer to other clubs.



FRIDAY

On Friday night at Maxville the Jets scored almost at will to pile up a 9 to 0 victory.

Dennis Ouellette, with a 'hat trick' and also an assist, led the winners. Dennis scored the opening marker when the game was only one-minuate old on a neat combination play set up by Dean Holmes and Earl Davidson.

A minute later Hugh Doyle combined with Greg Holmes and Don Phillips to make the score 2 to 0. Ouellette picked up two more before the first frame ended, one with the help of Dennis Lamadelaine and the other on a play set up by Jacques Regnier.

Hugh Doyle picked up his second of the night early in the second period and as the game progressed it became more and more apparent the Maxville team was completely at the mercy of the high-flying Jets.

Bob Woods, Dean Holmes and Doug Harten each scored before the period ended and Bob Woods added still another in the final period.

RUSH-END NOTES:

Although this desk has no official confirmation it is understood Carl Casselman has been appointed league president replacing Keith Carkner. Mr. Carkner who successfully guided the organization for several years is now a resident of Trenton. Rumours have also trickled in concerning the possibility of a league meeting this week to determine what steps should be taken since the number of clubs has been reduced to seven. Should be an interesting gathering.

Winchester Fails In Bid To Capture Christie Cups

The Christie Cups are still 'resting comfortably' at the Russell Curling Club despite a gallant effort by two strong Winchester rinks earlier this week.

Although there was some doubt until the final shot was made 'Large Jim' Gamble made no mistake and with deadly accuracy scattered four Winchester counters and added one more to his own side of the score-board.

Gamble's last shot kept the trophies in Russell but the scoreboard showed a win for Winchester's Doug Keys who was in command all the way. The two-point advantage enjoyed by Keys, however, was not enough to salvage the loss suffered by the Ran Wylie 'four' on the other ice. Wylie was drawn against the younger of the Gamble brothers and encountered nothing but trouble eventually dropping a 9 to 4 decision. Final score across the board showed Russell with a combined score of 15 as compared with Winchester's 12.

Personel of the challenging rinks were as follows: Bill Johnston, Jack Hume, Glen Vasey, Doug Keys, Skip. Dave Hollingshead, Keith Henry, Denzil Crowder, Ran Wylie Skip.

The boys successfully defending the coveted trophies were: M. Coughlar, J. Graham, B. Cochrane, J. Gamble, Skip. A. Cousineau, J. Sullivan, F. Brewer, B. Gamble, Skip.

With interest in the 'Christies' being revived there are 'rumblings' from Morrisburg that veteran skip Bruce MacDonald will head up a contingent bent on bringing the silverware to the Front town.

Frank Boucher Will Drop Puck At Osgoode Bantam Tournament

The highlight of the 1972 Osgoode Bantam Hockey Tournament being held in the Osgoode Centennial Community centre on Saturday, 22nd, January will be the ceremonial dropping of the puck of the Championship game scheduled for 7:30 p.m. by Frank Boucher.

Hockey buffs among the players or spectators with an eye for the NHL record book will remember that Frank Boucher won the Lady Byng Trophy an unprecedented seven times and was awarded permanent possession of this trophy for "Gentlemanly and effective play". Today's recipients must be satisfied with a replica of the original. Frank was associated with the New York Rangers for some 29 years and was "Coach Of the Year" the last time the Rangers won the Stanley Cup in 1940.

This eight team invitational tournament will get underway at 8 a.m. when Mr. Ken Pettigrew, the chairman of the sponsoring body, the Osgoode District Sports Association drops the first puck. As play progresses the teams will be split into two divisions. The "B" championship game will also have a ceremonial start conducted by Mr. Orr Unsworth, the sponsor of the host team. The game is scheduled for 6 p.m.

The winners of each division will receive individual crests and a team trophy. The tournament champions will win the Bank of Nova Scotia Trophy which will be presented by Mr. Larry Cobus. The "B" division teams will compete for the H & B Foodliner Trophy, donated and presented by Mr. Keith Beverage.

The defending champions from Rockcliffe will return to defend their title. Other teams will represent Carleton Place, Kemptville, Metcalfe, Richmond, and Spencerville. This should be a most interesting day for both competitors and spectators. Note the date!

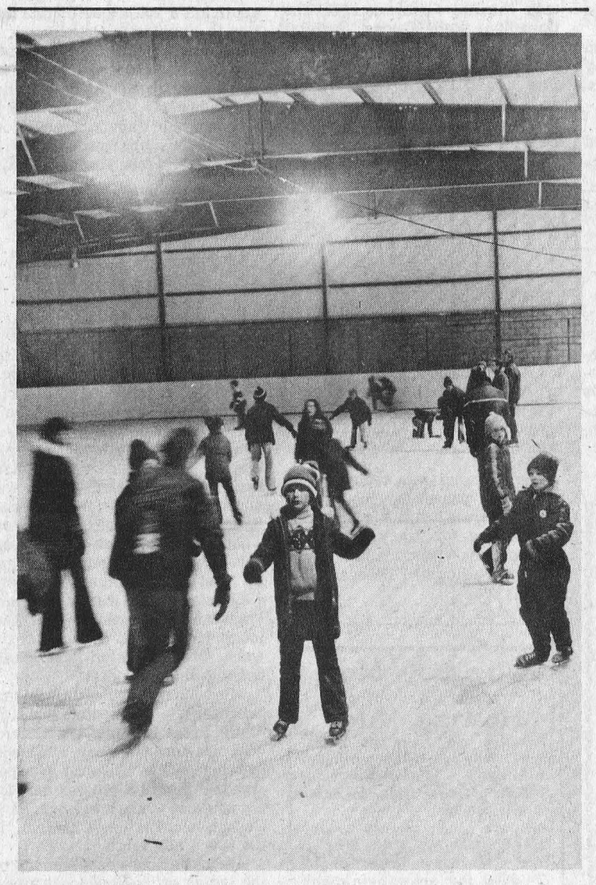
South Mountain Bowler Rolls 718

Jim Scott earned the 'bowler of the week' title when he tolled strings of 227, 242 and 249 for a grand total of 718, 18 more than his closest rival Murray Hyndman.

Only four others reached the 'publicity mark' of 600. They were Denzil Allen, 679; Marion Graham, 678; Gord Richardson, 674; and Lyle Simzer with 660.



Skating At Last

Young and old alike are taking advantage of the fine ice surface at Winchester's new Community Centre. When the accompanying photo was taken last Saturday night the lights were only partly installed. Since that time, however, the other strings have been completed and the modern lighting system has to rank with the best in the area.

Despite temperatures that dropped far below zero a large crowd was on hand to enjoy one of the major winter sports.

Work is proceeding rapidly on the lobby and the spacious parking area is a welcome sight.

It is understood a schedule is being prepared for the balance of the season allotting time for hockey and other activities.

IN MEMORIAMS

WEAVER—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, John Weaver, who passed away January 19th, 1969, and of a precious daughter and sister, Allannah Weaver, who passed away October 19th, 1971.

We often think of bygone days
When we were all together,
The family chain is broken now,
But memories will live forever.
To us they are not gone away,
Nor have they travelled far,
Just entered God's eternal home

—Lovingly remembered by Alice, Daphne, Shannon and Shelley. 38p

WEAVER—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, John Weaver, who passed away on December 19th, 1969.

God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still;
His memory is as dear today
As in the time he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we were all at home,
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.

—Lovingly remembered by Father, Mother, Catherine and Joan. 38p

STEWART — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. A. C. Stewart, who passed away three years ago, January 18th.

It is sweet to know we can meet again,
For our loved one has just gone on before.

38c —The Family

HANES—In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grandmother, Jessie M. Hanes, who passed away so suddenly on January 20th, 1968.

The depths of sorrow we cannot tell
Of the loss of one we loved so well,
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.

—Ever remembered and sadly missed by husband and family. 38p

WEAVER—In sad and loving memory of a dear son-in-law, John Weaver, who passed away January 19th, 1969.

We who love you sadly miss you
As it dawns another year;
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of you are ever near.
Sadly missed along life's way,
Quietly remembered every day.
No longer here, a life to share,
But in our hearts you are always there.

—Harvey and Verna Derby 38c

Cathy Keys Takes Fetterly Trophy

Cathy Keys skipped her rink to victory to capture the Fetterly Trophy at Winchester Curling Club last week.

It was a spiel of special significance since it was the 25th anniversary of the first playing of the highly competitive contest.

Play got under way at 9:30 in the morning with eight rinks entered and it was twelve hours later, after many thrilling games, that the Keys rink emerged with the big win.

Mrs. Keys, with Bea Eadie playing third stone, Jean Cameron at second and Rose Beeman leading, reached the finals with victories over Norma Fisher and Kathy Fluke.

Skip Amy Holmes with Jessie Summers, Cathy Durst and Ethel Hollingshead also reached the final stage of play with victories over Sybil Curtis and Stella MacGregor.

CONSOLATION EVENT

Stella MacGregor captured the Consolation event when she downed Jessie Fetterly in the final game. Eleanor Toop, Doris Holmes and Rose Derry made up the MacGregor rink while Weedena Jennings, Betty Sullivan and Dorothy Hatcher completed the Fetterly 'four'.

Marg Anderson Wins Club Draw

Winchester lady curlers operate in a similar fashion to the system adopted by both the men and the mixed divisions. With the first round-robin draw completed a rink skipped by Marg Anderson edged the Cathy Keys four by a half point to win the honours.

The draw commenced on November 16th with ten rinks competing and when the final tabulation was announced Mrs. Anderson was declared the winner.

Jessie Summers, Cathy Durst and Wilma Ganter completed the winning four while Jean LaRose, Gertrude Willard and Dora Smith ably supported skip Keys.

The second schedule is already under way with 12 rinks competing and a club official has noted this is a record number of rinks for the Winchester club.

Winchester Hawks Tie Weekend Games

Winchester Hawks had to settle for a couple of ties in St. Lawrence Junior B hockey action, this past weekend. A late third period goal by Lester Carkner, salvaged a point for the Hawks in their Friday night encounter with Cardinal Broncos at the Kemptville Community Centre. Saturday night Winchester saw a 7-5 lead disappear late in the final stanza at Spencerville and ended up with a 7-7 tie at the Edwardsburg Centre.

Approximately 300 fans witnessed the Hawks and Broncos hook up in one of the finest games of the season on Friday night. Seven penalties were handed out to each team in a fast, hard hitting game.

Bruce Trewartha gave Cardinal the lead at 5.05 of the opening frame, but Jacques Landry and Dave VanBridger replied for Winchester beofre period ended and the Hawks led 2-1.

The visitors went ahead again early in the second period with goals by Al Bailey and Mike William with less than four minutes late, big Bob McClintock evened the count at 3-3 and he scored again at the 17:00 mark to give Winchester a 4-3 lead.

Midway through the final period Cardinal applied the pressure and it paid off in two quick goals by Al Bailey and Alan Hare to put the Broncos out in front 5-4. Les Carkner rapped in an unassisted goal at 15:24 to give the Hawks a tie.

Cardinal continue their dominance of the Hawks as they had beat the Winchester squad twice, prior to Friday night's encounter.

TIE AT SPENCERVILLE

Saturday's 7-7 tie in Spencerville was the usual roughhouse display these two teams put on every time they meet. Officials called twenty-four penalties, including four majors and the teams split this total down the middle.

Winchester goalgetters were Tom Patterson and Tom Kirkwood with a pair each, and Dave MacDonald, Bob McClintock, and Dave Vanbridger scored singles. McClintock added three assists and Van Bridger two. A more complete report of this game would have been possible had someone pressed harder on the pencil, but as it is the names and numbers of the Spencerville players are not readable, therefore it was impossible to tell who their goalscorers were.

BLUELINE BITS:

Dave MacDonald continues his steady play . . . if you ever heard of an unsung hero . . . this blue line stalwart is one . . . not a falshy or spectacular player . . . but an honest to goodness workman. . . . he puts out every game.

Another rearguard who has steadily improved is Tom Kirkwood . . . this guy has the weight and he's learning how to throw it around. . . besides his fine defensive work, Tom leads the blueline corp in scoring . . . in fact he is fifth or sixth in team scoring and he added two goals and an assist on Saturday.

Coaches gloat over a defenseman with Kirkwood's qualities and rightly so . . . he still has some things to learn, but this comes with experience and in the meantime opposing teams know that Mr. Kirkwood can put that puck in the net as well as belt you at the blueline.

The JANUARY THAW is coming up on Saturday, January 29 at the Kemptville District Community Centre and it promises to be a gala event. This is a mixed affair put on by the Kemptville Lions Ball Team and The Winchester Hawks Hockey Club.

The evening starts off with the Hawks entertaining the first place Metcalfe Jets in a regualr schedule game. . . then there will be dancing to Frank Morgan's orchestra in the Community Hall along with a midnite buffet . . It will be a come as you are evening and promises to be a barrel of fun . . . get your tickets early.

Bill Moran won the 50-50 draw last week . . . winner's share $53.75.

Midgets Hold Second Place

James Duncan, with an impressive 7-point spree, led Winchester Midgets last Friday night when they shallacked South Mountain 10-0 at the Spencerville arena.

Duncan notched four goals and was credited with three assists as well. Other Winchester marksmen were Carman Carruthers and Keith McRoberts with two each and singles by Hanes and Timmins.

The Winchester squad, by virture of the win, moved to within two points of first-place Kemptville and the two teams will meet to-night (Thursday) with game time scheduled for 7:30 at Kemptville arena.

TOURNAMENT BOUND

Coach Jim Helmer has his team entered in a Midget Tournament at Clinton this weekend and the boys will be leaving Winchester on Friday. Teams from both sides of the border will be participating and the Winchester pucksters will not return till Sunday.

Does Your Babysitter Know?

Children are fascinating creatures. They play with matches and start fires. They pull scalding liquids over on themselves and chew on electrical cords. They choke on food such as popcorn and peanuts. They are fascinated by medicine bottles and sharp scissors. They can drown in a few inches of water.

You know all these things — but does your baby-sitter? Is she responible enough to cope with the unexpected?

The Ontario Safety League has a course that would make sure she is. The course is an ideal community project designed to prevent accidents to children under the care of baby-sitters; improve child care; and emphasize responsible attitudes necessary to care for your child.

Too often we read of tragic accidents claiming the lives of children left with well-meaning but poorly-trained baby-sitters.

Service Clubs searching for worthwhile projects may have overlooked the most obvious — a baby-sitting training course.

Such a course has been carefully prepared by the Ontario Safety League and complete information on how to establish such a course in the area is readily available. A letter addressed to "Ontario Safety League, 490 King Street West, Toronto 2B, Ontario" will bring the desired information.

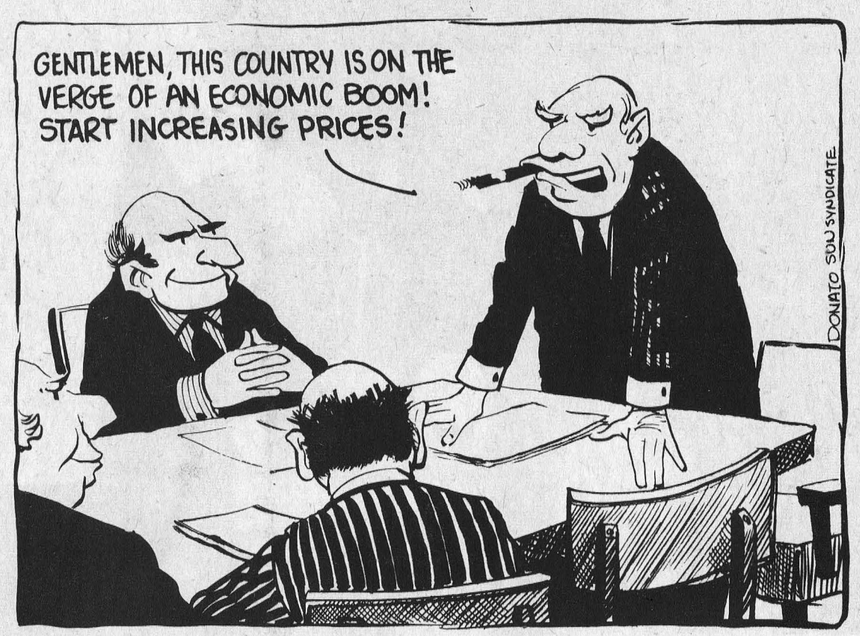
Area service clubs should give serious consideration to such a project. Children's lives may be saved — and they may be your own.

Look For More Troubles

Be thankful for the troubles of your job. They provide about half your income. Because if it were not for the things that go wrong, the difficult people you have to deal with, and the problems and unpleasantnesses of your working day, someone could be found to handle your job for half of what you are being paid.

It takes intelligence, resourcefulness, patience, tact and courage to meet the troubles of any job. That is why you hold your present job, and it may be the reason you aren't holding down an even bigger one.

If all of us would start to look for more troubles, and learn to handle them cheerfully and with good judgment, as opportunities rather than irritations, we would find ourselves getting ahead at a surprising rate. For it is a fact that there are plenty of big jobs waiting for men and women who aren't afraid of the troubles connected with them.



junk good for a capital gain

by Bill Smiley

Either I'm slowing down or life is speeding up. Probably both, which is one reason I'm so confused these days. The other reason is that I've always been confused.

For one thing, the new tax legislation. It may be manna to lawyers and accountants, but to the ordinary, rather stupid Canadian, like me, it's like wandering around in a bog in a fog, blind-folded.

What did I do before Valuation Days were announced? Nothing. I didn't have a clue where to start, and besides, the whole thing had about as much fascination for me as a January sale.

Now I discover that I should have valued some of my precious antiques and stuff, so that I could pay taxes on them when they increase in value.

Well, I haven't any stamp collections or coin collections or paintings that are going to increase in price steadily. I don't have a summer cottage, which seems to be a bad thing to have, according to the papers.

But I do have some antiques. There's the violin, for example. It's an authentic hand-made instrument. My Uncle Tom made it about forty years ago, and somehow it came into my possession. No one in the family has played it, because there is only one string, the bridge is broken, and the frame is slightly warped. Therefore, it's not just junk, but almost pristine, and surely is increasing in value daily. The case in which it is enclosed is equally antique, (I'd say about 1850 vintage). I definitely slipped up there. That thing could be worth as much as $38 in ten or twelve years, and I got it for nothing. How much will a rapacious government snatch from me in capital gains for that?

And the beds, of course. They are genuine antiques. My mother bought them at an auction sale, and they must have been 100 years old then. We inherited them, and they're probably priceless by now.

How about my hip waders? If they're not antiques, I'll eat your hip waders. They're so old I can't remember when I bought them, and they are full of genuine holes, just like old furniture.

And where does my wood-pile come in? One of my oaks blew down last summer, and I had it cut into firewood. Now I didn't pay for the oak when I bought the property, and I have about $35 worth of wood there. Do I pay capital gains tax on it?

Enough of that. I'm becoming steadily more worried. I can see my entire estate going down the drain to the greedy tax collector.

Something else has me just about as puzzled. It's the educational system. It's different in every province, so that you can learn as much in twelve years in Manitoba as you can in thirteen years in Ontario. That is understandable, because of the difference in climate (the only reason I can think of.)

But a whole new, frightening aspect of the blackboard jungle is being introduced in my province. It's probably something the Yanks tried out ten years ago and found unworkable and have since abandoned. That's the way Canadian education, at its worst, seems to operate.

Beginning next September, the kids and their parents choose what subjects the kid will take in high school. So far, so good. I've always been opposed to the old, rigid system under which you had to take math or French or something you were hopelessly inept at. I think there should be lots of options.

But surely, this is going a bit far. The provincial government, with the aid of federal help, has spent millions and millions of dollars setting up schools with all manner of equipment, especially in the technical departments.

Different subjects, let's say English and History, will be vying for students so that teachers won't lose jobs. The History department will make its ploy by showing pictures of nude statues of Rome and Greece and the Renaissance. But I've laid my plans too. We're going to lay in a supply of dirty modern novels, and also give everybody at least 75 per cent.

Don't tell me that a 13 or 14 year old will choose anything except what he thinks are the "easiest" subjects. This could lead to courses in basket weaving, archery, or mope and gawkery.

And what do I do if the principal informs me that nobody wants to take English next year? I'm not a bit worried. I am convinced I can cook better than some of the Home Economics teachers, and could fit in nicely there. I know the first four letters of the Greek alphabet, and could teach Greek in a pinch.

The Argyle Syndicate

cheated young people

by Rev. Gordon C. Smyth

The writer -- novelist, playwrights, scenarie hack -- is a focus of the modern sexual revolution. It is the writer who projects and molds current sexual attitudes.

Armed with success in debunking Victorian myths of general righteousness in private life and universal matrimonial bliss, he boldly creates on paper the brave new world. He marches forward under banners of "realism", "honesty," and "freedom".

However, by and large the modern writer can be charged with cheating. The talent of his pen has been creating a mythical new sexual aristocracy. He usually limits his detailing of the desirable sexual encounter to imaginary participants. They are characteristically youthful, attractive, relatively well-to-do, coolly sophisticated and, above all, not married to each other.

What of the married: The writer delights in committing to paper the story of the terrible error in choice and of inevitable incompatibility set in a legalized trap. If the marriage is not exposed as a case of slow death, the sexual relationship of the pair is shunted to the sidelines and their lives appear in terms of quiet, sexless tolerance.

But when the attempt is made to pin down the writer's realism it should become clear that there are jarring inconsistence between this "reality" and reality as we know it. Among the people we know, members of the new sexual aristocracy are a minority and less sure of themselves than meets the casual eye. This is true on the university campus as well as on collegiate grounds. Youthful escapades are reported because they are unusual rather than typical.

Moreover, what is the literary artist to do with "deviates" from his aristocracy -- the married couple? Those persons whose ordinary lives were joined in wedlock, normally display their love physically for years. How can they do so without looking dull or like decadent animals? How do the plain and heretofore inexperienced fit into the world of literary sex? Yet these comprise the majority of real folk on our horizon.

Meanwhile, dazzled by romantic fantasies of fiction, many a "commoner" looks for a magic transfer to ranks of the "nobility". After the wand has been waved and disappears. he usually finds his adventures squalid, overcast with suspicion and gossip.

The youthful would-be sophisticate visualizes the perfect affair, only to discover unexpected aspects in his partner's personality, often including a developing passion to make the union permanent. He begins to lose interest. In the course of it all he may find himself hooked. "Free love" is not so free.

Thus the modern writer's portrayal of freedom is defective. When sex is elevated to the position of a mysterious redemptive force, the stage is set for continual premarital sex as normal and needful. The really normal is regarded as unsatisfactory and impotent. Then do not be short-changed by the artist's psychology of cashing in on human emotions, his opposition to the "establishment", or his pride in creating fairyland.

One girl who as yet had not been swayed by what she had read and discussed about sex thrills before marriage told her father that sometimes she wondered what she was waiting for.

He wisely replied, "I think I can tell you in six words what you are waiting for. You are waiting to be free. Free from the nagging voice of conscience and the gray shadow of guilt. Free to give all of yourself, not a panicky fraction. Tell your open-minded friends not to be so open-minded that their brains fall out."

Letters to the Editor

The Editor,
The Winchester Press
Winchester, Ontario

To The Editor:

This brief note is nothing but a thank-you. During our Annual Appeal, which is just now ending, your newspaper carried one or more of our news releases explaining the need, and asking for funds.

Unlike many agencies, CANSAVE does no paid advertising. Because of that fact, it is quite simply vital to us that the media do respond with publicity at Appeal time. I know we are far from being the only agency to request your generosity at this time of year, and we are most grateful for your support.

Yours sincerely,
(Miss) Penelope Williams
Information Officer.

The Seventh Column

The "Local Principal" who has been assisting us with the simple relationship questionnaire that appeared in last week's column is showing signs of fatigue. Fearing the worst we advised him to shelve the issue for the time being and reminded him what had happened to a man under very similar circumstances. Seems he was confined in a mental hospital and when asked why he was there he replied in this manner: "Well, sir, you see I married a widow with a grown daughter; then my father married my wife's daughter; that made my wife the mother-in-law of her father-in-law, and my father became my step-son. Then, my step-mother, the daughter of my wife, had a son, and that boy of course was my brother because he was my father's son. But, he was also my wife's step-son and therefore his grandson and that made me the grandfather of my step-brother. Then, my wife had a son so my mother-in-law, the step-sister of my son, is also his grandmother because his step-sister is my wife. I am the brother of my own son who is also the son of my step-mother. I am my mother's brother-in-law, my wife is her own child's aunt, my son is my father's nephew and I am my own grandfather. That's why I'm here." Because good principals are scarce we advised the lay-off.

Christians of various faiths have in recent years been promoting services that we feel are long overdue. We refer to the annual inter-faith ceremonies that attract faithful from many denominations to pray together. We think this is Christianity as it should be with the teachings of the Bible being put into practice. It seems rather difficult to explain how one can "love" his neighbour and at the same time be severely critical of his Christian beliefs.

Clergymen, we have always felt, can do much to tear down barriers that have for many generations created needless bigotry. One such Reverend gentleman, an old school pal of ours, has only recently been appointed rector of a Cornwall parish. Canon Philip Sidney Irwin (Sid, as we best remember him), has been for several years serving at St. John's Anglican Church, Smiths Falls, but during his school days he was a Metcalfe boy and his father was rector of Holy Trinity Church in the village. The Canon and this writer often discussed religious issues at length during the long summer evenings of our school days. We understand now why we usually came out second best.

Dropped in at the Community Centre last Saturday night and we can assure you the youngsters were having a ball. Had our fingers lightly rapped recently for a statement that appeared in this newspaper a couple of weeks ago. If memory serves us well it was reported that workmen were taking advantage of holidays to hasten the "opening day." Apparently we goofed and have been advised, with emphasis, that the building has already been officially opened. We apologize, but add a postscript. We are of the opinion that when the building is indeed "completed" the official ribbon-cutting ceremonies should be performed by some high-ranking dignitary. Why not Premier Davis — or maybe Prime Minister Trudeau — or both? Let's open our new complex with a flourish that will not soon be forgotten.

Note the newest fashion for men include high heels in Technicolor. Tony Iammateo, president and designer, Christine Shoes Ltd., Montreal, says young people already wear them and he expects that men of 50 will wear them in the future. Platform soles almost an inch thick are coming, and Mr. Iammateo says we can expect colours of every known hue: reds, prunes, light navies, and two-tone combinations of such shades as red and blue, beige and brown, lilac and navy. The shoe store president claims the newspaper business has a "swinging crowd" so don't be too surprised this spring if you note a group of 'colourful tall' men emerging from the Press office.

Winchester lost one of its most esteemed citizens when Hart Melvin passed away at the Memorial Hospital last week following a lengthy illness. Mr. Melvin, who was 83, had played a major role in having the district hospital located in the village where his drive and initiative have always been contributing factors in promoting the best interests of our thriving community. A business genius, he built and directed one of the largest automobile sales outlets in the province before going into retirement. Hart loved Winchester and he served it faithfully and well.

Yes, trading stamps can be valuable if you have the patience to save enough. Consider the little old lady in England, who staggered into an automobile show room toting five large sacks bulging with stamp books. She dumped them on the counter saying "I'd like a Ford Escort, please." Such a premium is usually considered the collector's unattainable ideal but the little lady enlisted the help of her family and after ten years proved it was no longer "unattainable." Matter of fact she had 1,500,000 stamps, more than enough for the car.

Readers considering the idea of saving enough stamps for a "Dream Vacation" might be better advised to buy a ticket from Winchester Lions Club. The draw is in February and you "could" be enjoying warm sunshine while the rest of us continue to shovel the March storms. Anyway, lickin' a million stamps isn't healthy.

RURAL YOUTH MOVEMENT

-By T.W. Clapp, Associate Agric. Representative, Dundas County-

For those who have not heard or are not aware there is a new movement on across Dundas County and its called "Join the Junior Farmers".

Junior Farmers you say - who are they? They are young people between the ages of 16 and thirty and live in the rural community. The aims of the Junior Farmer Program are developing programs that young people can participate in and building a better community. Its an association where young people meet and have fun.

It is a rural youth program which is province wide. Its a club where you can meet other people of your community.

Well, what do Junior Farmers do? The best way to answer this is to invite you out to the Junior Sleigh Ride on Saturday, January 22nd, 7:30 p.m. at Mrs. Barbara Woods farm, one mile north of Hallville.

Junior Farmers also get involved in other programs - sports, talent festivals, square dancing, camps, trips, etc., etc.

So if this organization sounds like fun - now is the time, Hallville is the place. So, lets put Dundas on the Junior Farmer Map.

Holstein Breeders Hold Barn Meeting

Rotary Shares In Unique International Project

-By Mel Thomas, Director of Promotion, Eastern Breeders

For the first time semen from Canadian Holstein sires crossed the Pacific to India. The shipment arrived in India January 6, 1972.

The good will shipment of five hundred vials and two storage containers was made possible by an unusual cost sharing program of the Rotary Club of Kemptville Ontario; Eastern Breeders Inc., Kemptville, Ontario; United Breeders Inc., Guelph, Ontario; Western Ontario Breeders Inc., Woodstock, Ontario and the coordinating organization of Ontario Association of Animal Breeders, Guelph, Ontario.

The arrangements in India are being taken care of by Action for Food Production, Livestock Specialist, Liam O'Dea, and Dr. Harbhajan Singh, Director of Animal Husbandry in Punjab State. A local Rotary Club in India will participate in receiving the shipment.

This unique international project would not be possible without to-day's modern technique of storing and shipping semen in the magic chemical liquid nitrogen at three hundred and twenty degrees below zero. Fast world wide air service is also a necessary facility.

Canada will be sharing with India in her agricultural changing and developing program. The Canadian semen will be used to inseminate two hundred and fifty Holstein Friesian heifers imported from England. The heifers will be housed and inseminated at a goverment farm at Nabha in Punjab State. After insemination one hundred and fifty of the animals will be distributed to fifty selected farmers in the area. The others will be kept on the government property and their progeny will be placed on farms in the Rupar area in Punjab State.

The resulting stock from the hand picked parents is expected to provide seed stock for future generations of high milk producing desirable dairy cattle that will blend into the livestock improvement program in India.

The Rotary Club and Ontario Semen Producing organizations look on this as a "Good Will" project that will stimulate the international ties between the two countries as well as assist the individual farmer to produce more milk per cow from the high producing genetic ability of Canadian Holsteins.

The continuing result will be "more milk for more people."

Watching the India semen shipment being put into the liquid nitrogen containers are: Mr. Roy Snyder, O.A.A.B. Manager, Guelph Ontario; Jack Gillespi, Galt, Ontario, President of O.A.A.B. and representing the Ontario Units, United, and Western Ontario; Mr. Harold Hamilton, Director of International Service, Kemptville Rotary Club, and owner of Kemptville Home Hardware Store; Mel Thomas, Director of Promotion, Eastern Breeders, and Chairman of Kemptville Rotary Rural Urban Committee (also carried out the preliminary arrangements with India); Owen Irvine, President of Kemptville, Rotary and in charge of the Dairy Branch at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology; Don Moorhouse, Lab Supervisor, Eastern Breeders Inc.;

Missing: Rick McRonald, O.A.A.B. Guelph, Ontario who prepared the health papers and completed the air shipping.

Expect Price Specials For McIntosh

Consumers can expect attractive prices for McIntosh apples in the next few weeks, say food specialists at the Ontario Food Council, Department of Agriculture and Food.

Over one million bushels of McIntosh apples were placed in cold storage after harvest, and ample supplies are still available. The 3-pound bag, and 4-quart and 6-quart baskets will be featured.

Apples purchased in small bags or baskets generally show fewer bruises than large quantity purchases. The smaller amounts can also be used up within a relatively short time. Ten days in a refrigerator crisper, or a cool basement or garage is the recommended storage time for apples purchased at this time of the year.

APPOINTMENTS

Milk Marketing Board Elects Executives For Current Year

At a special Board meeting, held immediately following its Annual Meeting, The Ontario Milk Marketing Board re-elected Mr. George R. McLaughlin as Chairman of the Board and elected Mr. Kenneth G. McKinnon to the position of Vice-Chairman.

Mr. McLaughlin has been Chairman since the Board's inception in 1965. He is a dairy farmer from Beaverton, Ontario, and represents the milk producers in the Counties of Northumberland, Peterborough, Durham, Ontario, Victoria, Haliburton and Muskoka.

Mr. McKinnon replaces Mr. Orvil W. Guy, who has served as Vice-Chairman for the past six years. Mr. Guy declined nomination this year principally because of the pressure of work which the position entails. He also feels it will afford him the opportunity to devote more time to the milk producers he represents in the Counties of Dundas, Grenville, Leeds and Frontenac.

A dairy farmer from Port Elgin, Mr. McKinnon operates a farm with 60 milking cows and is the elected representative of milk producers in the counties of Grey, Bruce and Huron.

Prior to the formation of The Ontario Milk Marketing Board in 1965, Mr. Guy served as Chairman of The Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers' Marketing Board and Mr. McKinnon served as Vice-Chairman of that body.

Sports Celebrity Dinner To Kick Off Easter Seal Campaign

Both Fergie Jenkins, the Chicago Cubs ace pitcher, and the Sports Celebrity Dinner on February 3rd at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto are looking for better financial things in 1972.

Fergie, the Chatham, Ontario native, who is the Canadian and Provincial Athelete of 1971, and winner of the Cy Young Award as the premier pitcher in the National League, has just achieved his objective by receiving a $250,000 two-year contract with the Chicago Cubs.

The Dinner will launch the Ontario Society for Crippled Children on its way to its 1972 Easter Seal objective of $1,627,500 by aiming to add substantially to the half million dollars already raised in twenty previous dinners. The ticket price this year is $25 per plate . . . lowered from the $50 tab of the past few years with the hope that even greater income can be derived from increased attendance.

Both Jenkins and the Dinner have strong credentials as winners. Fergie, for the fifth consecutive season won 20 games or more in 1971 with a record of 24 wins and 13 losses. He sustained his average of 315 innings pitched and 261 strikeouts per season among other standards he established during the past campaign.

In keeping with the successful tradition of the Dinner . . . Timmy, who this year is Stephen Layton, will be in attendance along with a veteran of the past 20 occasions . . . Whipper Billy Watson.

The Whip will attend despite severe injuries suffered in an autumn auto accident.

Jenkins will receive the award as Ontario's Athlete of the Year at the Dinner on February 3rd when it is expected that over 1100 patrons will get the Easter Seal Campaign off to a good start for the Ontario Society's 50th Anniversary year.

An even stronger than usual team is staging the function this year with the Toronto Junior Board of Trade lending their support to the Ontario Society for Crippled Children and the Media Sports Reporters of the Province.

Several rural service clubs, including Chesterville Legion and Metcalfe and District Lions Club raise money for the Ontario Society for Crippled Children and will again this spring be conducting the annual Eastern Seal Campaign.

COMPLETELY NEW EDITION

Snowmobile "Play Safe" Booklet Now Available

A completely new edition of the popular booklet "Play Safe With Snowmobiles For More Winter Fun," prepared by the ski-doo Division of Bombardier Limited with assistance of the Canada Safety Council, is now available without charge.

The 16-page, two-color booklet portrays the vital "Do's" and "Dont's" of safe snowmobiling with 38 photographs and also includes the snowmobiler's code of ethics, a wind chill chart, and examples of some trail symbols and hand signals now being used in snowmobiling.

This winter Bombardier has launched an extensive program called Snoplan to foster safer, more considerate use of snowmobiles. The all new edition of "Play Safe" is part of that program. The new booklet is keyed closely to a 14-minute color sound snowmobile safety film, also called "Play Safe", which is available for showing to snowmobile groups. The film was produced in support of the Canada Safety Council's Accident prevention program.

"Play Safe" safety booklets are available at Ski-Doo snowmobile dealers, the Canada Safety Council, and provincial safety councils.

Booklets also are available by writing to: Public Relations Department, Ski-Doo Division, Bombardier Limited, 8600 Decarie Blvd., Montreal, Quebec, Canada.

Gordon Blair Reports

more opportunities for youth

The new summer employment program principally for students was announced last week. The target is to provide 75,000 jobs at an approximate cost of 85 million dollars. Last year's program created 69,154 jobs at a cost estimated at 67 million dollars. The principal job particulars include the following (number of projected jobs)

Federal Government Departments (18,472);

Special Militia Training (10,580);

Special Cadet Training (1000)

Special Civilian Training programs for community assistance such as anti-pollution activity (2,300);

Youth Hostels (800);

Studies of Drug Abuse (475)

Special Manpower Centers for Students (682);

Assistance to Outstanding Athletes (800);

Young people travel exchange programs (20,000);

Inter-regional Employment program in cooperation with private business to assist young people in disadvantaged areas (2000)

International summer exchange employment (3000);

LAST YEAR'S PROGRAM SUCCESSFUL

The major program, in addition to those listed above, will be Opportunities for Youth which is expected to provide 29,000 jobs. Despite criticisms offered about some of those programs elsewhere in Canada, there is no doubt that it was an immense success in Grenville-Carleton last year being helpful to communities as well as to the students who were employed in different projects. This year's program starts out with the advantage of experience learned last year. Also, it is announced approximately two months earlier so that there will be more time and a better opportunity to assess programs in advance.

INFORMATION AVAILABLE

Earlier I reported that the only criticism in our constituency of the Opportunities for Youth Program last year was from communities which were not able to organize them. I am going to send out full particulars and application forms about the programs to municipalities, service clubs, citizens' groups and public organizations in the constituency. I will be glad to send such information to anyone who requests it from my office and I will be available, along with my Executive Assistant Paul Marshall, to advise anyone interested in participating.

There are 5 main criteria for the projects:

1. Youth involvement in planning and management.
2. Innovation in the sense of new approaches to social, cultural, economic and recreational problems.
3. Community Benefit.
4. Feasibility in the sense of producing a demonstrative worthwhile result.
5. The number of jobs created and overall cost.

Applications and detailed instructions are available from "Opportunities for Youth", Ontario Desk, P.O. Box 2500, Ottawa, Canada , K1P V51. Applications must be submitted not later than March 8th, 1972, but in order to be sure of success they should be prepared well in advance of that date. Assistance in preparation and presentation of projects will be given by the Opportunities for Youth administration.

NOT EXCLUSIVELY YOUTH PROBLEM

A large amount of money will be committed to these projects, but the majority of people will think that it is right to do so if it is well spent and not frittered away on hare-brained and offensive activities. Most people realize there is a special problem of student employment, which is greatly exaggerated at the present time and will be so for some years to come, because of the high post war birth rate which has resulted in the explosive expansion of universities, community colleges and other educational institutions. However, concentration on providing worthwhile employment for students cannot exclude the fact that other Canadians have difficulty in finding work and all government policies must also be directed towards the correction of our fundamental employment problems affecting all age groups.

SHEEP REVIVAL

-By Carleton County Agricultural Extension Personnel -

From the number of enquiries we get, it is apparent there is an increased interest in sheep. Most of these contacts are part-time farmers, but most are sincerely interested in making a profit from sheep.

In most cases, they have been told about the problems facing sheep producers. Parasites and predators topped the list of items to be controlled. Fencing and the apathy in disease control were others about which they were warned. But, in the main, they seemed convinced there was money to be made with sheep providing these problems could be overcome -- and they were prepared to try.

Our job as Extension workers is to outline in detail the procedure in managing an enterprise such as this and to provide adequate information on the economics of it. Unfortunately the management of a sheep operation is often misjudged and people start the enterprise without adequate preparation. Perhaps the best examples of poor preparation is the lack of proper fencing and facilities and equipment for the lambing period and for handling sheep.

In recent years, there has been much written about confinement rearing of sheep. From the standpoint of predator control and fencing costs, this system offers a good deal. However, by confining livestock there is no doubt that the incidence of disease will increase and so treatment and loss will no doubt be higher.

The point we want to make here, is that the sheep business is not as easily managed as some people would have you believe. There are many problems which can be overcome only by very careful and skilful management. It is, therefore, important to "look carefully before you leap" just as you would enter any unfamiliar territory.

We are prepared to discuss this and other enterprise with anyone who is serious considering a new enterprise. As far as the sheep business is concerned, every sheep producer should receive the "Ontario Sheep Newsletter." This news bulletin is prepared by our Sheep Specialist, Don Stevenson, to keep producers informed on all aspects of this business. It is an excellent aid towards success in the production of lamb.
