CRUMBS from Graham's Loaf

A waiting world was finally relieved this week to know that the luscious French actress, Brigitte Bardot, finally gave birth to a much-heralded child. That particular bit of news was important enough to hit the front pages of some of our esteemed dailies and one Ottawa journal noted for its sensible approach to world affairs, gave La Bardot just 31 inches of its columns front and centre.

The little French bombshell deserves some space, no doubt. She has been offering her version of the clothed unclothed for the edification of the reading public until it was getting a little tiresome. At least now, there will be little doubt the manifestations of motherhood will have considerable authenticity. Ornamentation is nice, yes; but the dairymen will tell you the heifer is only a boarder until she starts to fill the milk pail.

We dedicate the following gem to a friend of the office cat:

Brigitte's baby boy is born,
And all the world is glad.
And now our girls can greet the morn
And know that lushness isn't bad.
But if your measures make poor tallying,
nd your profile's just not mammal-y-ian
Just remember this:
That there's many a Miss
Who started with much less than Brigitte and ended up with a mill-i-on.

We see the boss is warning the neighbours about the cold weather and the danger of nipping an ear. Of course by the time this family journal is in the post office, the weather will have turned to rain and slop. But the bit on sleighs reminds us of the passage of time and the days of riding to school in the jumper with the milk. Then it was easy to freeze an ear; and for many a year we nursed a tender fan that froze, split and dripped for days after a trip up behind old Nell. That morning the temperature read 38 degrees below zero on the pole of the tent when we crawled out of the sleeping robe. Had had a lovely night's sleep, then froze an ear going to school, and people still think it was dangerous to sleep outside in the winter.

Incidentally we intended to ote in our "things to remember" New Year's column to send up a smoke signal at different intervals all 1960. It will have to do with our dream unfulfilled, the new post office building. Spencerville has come into its own, Morrisburg is busting out with a Federal building, no less, a few other odds and ends are appearing throughout the riding but that post office of ours seems to have come to a halt. One of these clear days, surely the smoke will be seen as far away as Prescott or Ottawa.

I.O.O.F. MEETING HIGHLIGHTED BY FILMS

The first meeting of the New Year of Chesterville I.O.O.F. Lodge No. 288 was held January 7.

After a successful meeting, films of the Gaspe Peninsula and Maritime Provinces were shown by Harold O'Brien. An oyster supper was enjoyed at the conclusion.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to express my appreciation to those who sent me flowers, cards, letters and treats, and to those who visited me, while I was a patient in Ottawa Civic Hospital.

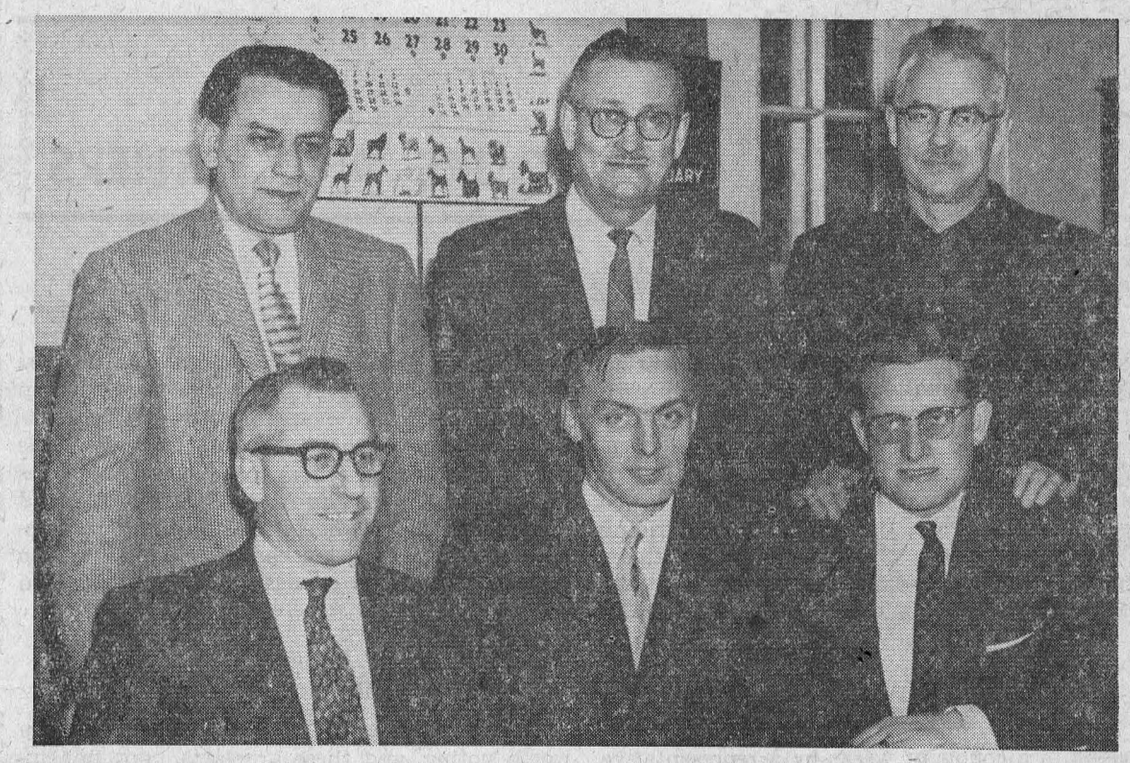
Mrs Ernest Arbuthnot.

Dyes to nab thief green face betrays

Richard Casselman, proprietor of Clover Farm Store here, was missing sums of money, and a few weeks ago the matter had reached the proportions of an epidemic. He called in police chief Shane in consultation.

The village chief enlisted the aid of OPP headquarters at Cornwall and a trap was set using an invisible green dye in powder form. It was sprinkled over some money bait, over the money container and in other locations.

Richard soon found the thief. An Ottawa man, George Zaine, 34, who was a weekly visitor to the store delivering goods for a wholesale house, evidently knew where to look for easy loot. This time he ended up with an amazing change of colour. Before he could get out of the store, after grabbing the money can, he was a brilliant green. Police were called immediately, the man was charged and last week, magistrate's court at Winchester found him guilty, and gave him three months' suspended sentence. He also made restitution of stolen money.



Chesterville council members were sworn in to office last week to begin the new municipal year. All members were present this year and our Record camera caught them just before the first long session began in the clerk's office. Front row from the left: Councillors George Laflamme, Harold Sharkey; reeve Carl Merkley. Back row: Councillor James Fyke, clerk Lorne Marcellus and councillor Keith Graham.—Record Photo.

Atchison, John McLaughlin, Leo Coyne, Mac Moffatt, Wm. Irven, W. J. Docksteader, Mike Lynch.

Fence viewers: J. C. MacGregor, Robert McLaughlin, Earl Munroe, Lloyd Merkley, Archie Coulthart, Otis McMillan, Reginald McCloskey, John Barrett, Burnis Short, Donald Rae, E. B. Moore, W. S. Gunn, Russell Froats, Walter Loughridge, Henry Elliott, Dwayne Munroe.

Recommended to Winchester village council as appointees to Winchester and Suburban Planning Board: Willis Robinson, one year; Gerald Holmes, two years; Orval Guy, three years.

Committees appointed: Finance: C. McNabb, G. Holmes, W. Robinson; roads and bridges, G. Baker, G. Holmes, C. McNabb; property, W. Robinson, G. Holmes, C. Smith; education, C. Smith, G. Holmes, G. Baker.

Council joined the Rural Municipalities Association, Ontario Good Roads Association and the Association of Assessing Officers.

Accounts amounting to $2,267.40 for roads and bridges and $1,552.15 for general accounts were paid.

COMMUNITY THEATRE

Beginning next week and continuing for the rest of the winter months, Community Theatre here will be open only the last three days of the week and Saturday afternoon. Rough weather and skating have curtailed attendance somewhat and caused the decision to be made.

Mr and Mrs Myles Marcellus, popular couple of the Dunbar district, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary recently at their home. They were hosts to a large number of friends on the occasion, in spite of the inclement weather. The honoured couple were married fifty years ago at Dunbar.—Photo by Lorne LaSalle.

50th anniversary

A large number of friends and well-wishers called at the home of Mr and Mrs Myles Marcellus when they celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary recently at their farm south of Chesterville.

Fifty years ago the Rev Mr Mason married the happy couple at Dunbar. Mrs Marcellus is the former Effie Kendrick, a daughter of the late Mr and Mrs S. O. Kendrick. Mr Marcellus is the son of the late Mr and Mrs Amos Marcellus. They have six children who were present for the occasion. Four sons are: Harold, of Finch, Roy, of Morrisburg, and Leon and William, of Chesterville. Daughters Gladys and Evelyn, Mrs Bert Gillard, live at Chesterville. There are seven grandchildren.

Mr and Mrs Marcellus are stalwart members of Dunbar Presbyterian Church and their minister, Rev D. O. Fry, and Mrs Fry were welcome guests. Mrs Fry also delighted everyone with her fine songs.

Guests were received by daughters Miss Gladys and Mrs Gillard. Pouring tea were Mrs Douglas Fry, Mrs George Gillard, Mrs William Johnston.

Letters and telegrams were received in large numbers, including messages from the premier of Ontario, the Hon. Leslie Frost, a letter and Provincial Scroll from the Minister of Highways, the Hon. F. M. Cass, a message from Opposition Leader Lester B. Pearson, a message and flowers from Peter Manley, MPP for Stormont, and, because of the rough winter weather, many phone calls were received expressing congratulations to the honoured couple.

Among the gifts presented was a family presentation to their parents by the children of a new electric wash dryer.

HOWARD IRVEN

The death occurred of Howard Irven, of Bateman, Sask., on Sunday, January 10. Mr Irven was in his 81st year.

He was a brother of Mrs Alvin Burd, St. Albert, and Mr Wm. Irven, Morewood.

Illness strikes hard throughout community

Chesterville has felt the heavy hand of illness this past week or more. Many of her citizens have been under the doctor's care and several are in Winchester Hospital.

W. O. Dixon

Last weekend W. O. Dixon suffered an attack that finally sent him to hospital for an examination. As a result he has been there since last Wednesday, in bed, recovering from a heart attack. At this writing, he is resting well, but will remain in the hospital for some time.

Howard Hough

At the first of this week, Howard Hough became unwell and was taken to the hospital. He has undergone tests to determine the extent of his illness, and it is reported has suffered a mild heart attack.

John McLean

John McLean, of Church St., had an accident some time ago, and was very severely burned about the chest and face. He is recovering very slowly in the hospital.

Also in hospital

Mrs Harold Durant and Mrs Graham Smith have also been patients at the hospital this past week and are reported doing well after surgery.

Mr and Mrs Charles L. Crump, esteemed residents of "The Ninth," near Chesterville, were "at home" from two to four p.m. and from seven to nine p.m. recently on the occasion of their 45th wedding anniversary. They received many callers and many congratulations and good wishes.

A buffet table, at which lunch and tea were served by their daughter and daughters-in-law, was centred with a beautifully decorated three - tiered anniversary cake.

Mr Crump is the son of the late Mr and Mrs John Crump, of Chesterville. Mrs Crump is the daughter of the late Mr and Mrs A. Eamon, of Wales, Ont., one of the villages flooded out by the construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

They were married at Wales on December 23, 1914, by Rev E. L. Gosling. With them to celebrate their anniversary were their wedding attendants, Mrs Cassie Elliott, of Orchardside, and Alvin Eamon, of Cornwall.

Mr and Mrs Crump have spent their entire married life at their present home. They are the parents of one daughter, Mrs Stanton Helmer, Winchester, and ten sons, Charles and Leslie, of Cornwall; Keith and Bert, of St. Catharines; Kenneth, Osgoode, and Halford, Garnet and Carl, of Chesterville. Two sons are deceased, James in 1954, and Earl, in 1951.

The couple were recipients of many useful and attractive gifts including a portable television set from the immediate family. An address was read by their daughter.

Guests were present from Osgoode, St. Catharines, Ottawa, Cornwall, and surrounding district.

Mrs Emerson Johnston elected president of Evening Auxiliary

The January meeting of the Evening Auxiliary of Trinity United Church was held in the church dining hall. The past president, Mrs Hilda Belsher, opened the meeting. Pianist was Mrs Bert Gillard.

The installation of officers for 1960 was conducted by Rev E. B. Bugden as follows: Past president, Mrs Hilda Belsher; president, Mrs Emerson Johnston; 1st vice president, Mrs G. W. Gilbert; 2nd vice president, Mrs Bev. Lapp; secretary, Mrs Carl G. Merkley; corresponding secretary, Mrs Willis Price; press secretary, Mrs Hugh Marcellus; pianist, Mrs Bert Gillard; assistant pianist, Mrs Allison Graham; treasurer, Mrs Douglas Hitsman.

Christian stewardship, Mrs Lloyd Cameron; community friendship, Mrs Lee Smith; Christian citizenship, Mrs Graham Smith; supply secretary, Mrs Donald Cross; Missionary Monthly, Mrs Oscar Olsen; literature secretary, Mrs Eric Casselman; birthday fund, Mrs Jack Smith; nominating committee, Mrs Harry Allison and Mrs Al Butcher.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs Emerson Johnston, assisted by Mrs Carl G. Merkley, secretary. Mrs Douglas Hitsman gave the treasurer's report.

It was moved by Mrs Bev. Lapp and seconded by Mrs Fay Shaver that Mrs Foster Bowman be on the nominating committee.

Lorraine Coyne home

We are glad to report Lorraine Coyne home at last from the Montreal hospital, where she has been undergoing treatment since her near-fatal auto accident at the beginning of November of last year.

She is the daughter of Mr and Mrs John Coyne, of College Street, and was seriously injured when a car in which she was riding came in collision with a hydro pole on King Street. She has been in the Neurological Institute at Montreal since.

OPINIONS . . . OURS AND OTHERS

Cold weather blues

The lengthy cold snap of the past week or more has caused a lot of blue noses to appear on the streets. January is running true to form with all kinds of weather, mostly cold.

The below-zero cold keeps the circulation going at a good rate, but it also should carry a few warnings. Frozen noses and ears are not too pleasant, and even if there is less sleigh riding than a few years ago, the danger is still there. Especially is it necessary to be careful at the rink when an ear can be nipped in a couple of rounds.

Furnaces and stoves pant and hiss to keeu

Furnaces and stoves pant and hiss to keep great temptation to overdo the fire business; before you heave in that extra coal, or turn up the oil, just remember when you cleaned the pipes last or scraped out the firepot. Bitter cold and chimney fires go hand in hand; so far the community has an excellent safety record. Let's keep it that way with the exercise of care and common sense.

Safety councils and driver education

Chesterville Rotary Club members will be addressed in a couple of weeks by a representative of the Department of Transport. He will be talking about Safety Councils and safety measures on the highway, on the water, in fire protection, industrial safety and like matters. One of the most interesting parts of the evening will have to do with high school driver education.

Some of the club members were wondering out loud one day what measures could be taken to educate rather than punish drivers; to reach the young drivers before, rather than after, the highway accident. Out of it has come the forthcoming meeting, and it is hoped something concrete can be worked out in the community that will include a driver safety program.

Just a few figures on driver education are worth noting, and these are facts, not imaginings: The city of Kitchener has had a driver education program in its high schools for the past nine years. During that time 1,200 students have passed the exams and graduated, and here is the part that is hard to believe. Out of that 1,200 teen-age drivers since then, only four have been involved in auto accidents and in each case they were not to blame. And again, in Ottawa schools where the program is being studied, 250 students have graduated in five years. None of these students have been involved in any accidents and one has received one parking ticket.

That is one phase of a Safety Council's work We think it would be well if Chesterville and district got into the matter fully.

Cass for premier? Certainly.

All our local weekly journals have endorsed the idea that Chesterville's native son and member for Grenville-Dundas is the logical choice for premier of this province when the Honourable Leslie Frost decides to let time dictate a course for his future years. We have abstained until now, not because we are against the idea but because as usual our neutral attitude precludes anything smacking of "me, tooism."

The Honourable Fred Cass is our one and only choice as a successor to Mr Frost. We think he is a hard working, competent minister of the Crown and in the past year or more has proven his worth in matters of great responsibility. It would be a proud day for Chesterville, the district and the riding if he is chosen when the time comes.

Politicians are made, not born, if we may turn the old bromide around to our use. We think it is a highly skilled profession, and one that either develops experts or dubs. Fred Cass has developed into a figure of political admiration, and we feel his is a voice at Toronto that can help Eastern Ontario, as well as the rest of the province, grow and prosper.

Other names will be in the hat when the choice is made for a new premier. Even the best candidates, though, can hardly point to a successful ministry with the pride that Cass can take in the Highways Department.

In the infighting to come for a chance to try on the crown worn so long by the Lindsay lawyer, we wish our neighbour complete success.

NO RUSSIAN

Brooke Johnston, Louisville, Ky., is having her own private war with the Russian language.

The University of Louisville coed dislocated her jaw while trying to pronounce a word in Russian class.

It happened when instructor John R. Broderius told the class they weren't putting enough effort into their exercises in articulation.

Brooke gave it all she had. Her jaw went crack! She couldn't close her mouth.

She's on the mend now after several sessions with an orthopedic surgeon, who said:

"She should get a good grade in that class for throwing herself into it so wholeheartedly."

Brooke, who couldn't remember the deadly word, had another idea.

She dropped the course.

The BIBLE TODAY . . .

The application of electronic computers to the transcription of books into Braille is likely to open exciting prospects for blind readers. With the aid of one of these machines, a 300-page book can now be transcribed into Braille in one hour — a task which would take almost a week for several skilled transcriptors to complete. Moreover, it takes two years to train specialists of Braille, whereas the new method does not demand a knowledge of Braille on the part of the operator.

The machine receives punch cards onto which the printed text has been transcribed and which feed every letter, number and punctuation mark into the magnetic store. Also stored are the complicated rules of Braille transcription.

The machine responds to as many as 600 instructions in less than one-fortieth of a second. The machine transcribes 4,000 words a minute whereas a human being only does 40.

This process is also being developed for the automatic translation of languages.

KEEPS CALM

Newell E. Foreman is a man who doesn't get upset easily.

Jacksonville, Fla., patrolmen C. M. Hopkins and D. A. McLeod said Foreman lost control of his car, plunged across the highway, hit a utility pole, smashed through a sign and bounced off a speeding train before his battered car finally stopped.

The patrolmen rushed to the car and pulled open a door.

Foreman was calmly peeling a tangerine.

FRENDLEE FARM CHATS

by Lillian Allison

Now let me assure you you're a lot more comfortable sitting there by the register reading about New York City in your favourite newspaper than you'd be seeing it for yourself in this weather. I would never recommend a ferry trip to the Statue of Liberty when the temperature is as low as it has been since Christmas.

So turn up the thermostat and I'll tell you about my trip to the famous Statue.

Our sightseeing bus dropped us off at a ferry dock on the Hudson River. The guide said we were on our own for the trip over. He bought our tickets—nice of him, wasn't it?—and told us to take the 12.30 ferry back.

We walked up the plank onto a sizeable boat with three decks and a refreshment booth. Once on board I began to wonder if we were on the Hudson or in mid-Atlantic. That little boat rocked and swayed and rolled until we were in stitches watching fellow passengers stagger around and staggering around ourselves. I had visions of being seasick before we reached the Statue for the boat and I seemed never to be going the same way at the same time.

Strangely, however, when the motors started and we pulled away from shore the decks levelled out and the boat slipped across the water like an ocean liner.

It had been a lovely mild day when we left the bus so I went out on the second deck to get some pictures. The wind outside was a real hat-lifter. I stood it for a few minutes—maybe three—then rushed back in and looked out the windows.

We were fast approaching the Liberty Lady. She is less than two miles from shore so the trip didn't take long. The nearer we got the more we were impressed with her size.

You see the Statue of Liberty is a bronze lady with her right hand holding high the light of freedom. She sits on a tiny island to welcome ships entering New York harbour. The base of the statue is twelve storeys high and made of marble. The lady herself is 151 feet tall with a circular stairway leading up to her head. She is an impressive sight.

For ten cents an elevator took us up the twelve storeys. From there we had to walk. I decided against climbing the 168 steps to her head and contented myself to roam around the outside gallery and see the view from there.

The view was splendid too. We could see the famous, familiar New York skyline, Ellis Island, the New Jersey shore and dozens of ships and tugs scuttling around the river below.

"You might see the Queen Elizabeth," our guide told us before we left the bus. "She is due to sail this morning. You'll know her by her big red funnels." I hoped so much that we would.

Suddenly I looked upstream. There was a huge ship coming toward us. I watched closely. Yes, it was the Elizabeth. A beautiful gleaming white ship with two red funnels. I rushed inside. Some others of our party were chicken too and were waiting for those who had climbed to the top. "The Queen Elizabeth is coming," I said excitedly.

We rushed outside. She was much closer. We watched with awe as the huge liner came opposite us—close enough that we could see the people standing on the upper deck. She was quite a sight. One young couple with an English accent were especially interested. They had arrived on the Elizabeth two days before. She was leaving them behind.

In a very short time she slipped out of sight. Three days later she would tie up in England.

We went in out of the biting wind. The ambitious were coming down from the Statue puffing and weary.

"What did you see?" we asked.

"Not much," one man replied. "There are holes in her head where you can look out, but the visibility was poor."

"We saw the Queen Elizabeth," we announced triumphantly.

"No-o-o-o!" the man said with evident disappointment.

And that was another time I found that it often pays to be lazy.

Teacher's Federation holds annual assembly

Mrs E. Slingerland, vice-president, and E. E. Forgues, district public relations officer, both from Eastern Ontario District No. 27, were among the 250 delegates from all parts of Ontario who attended the three-day annual assembly of the 11,000-member Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation in the last week in December. Both Mrs Slingerland and Mr Forgues are on the staff of Winchester High School.

Don Thomas, principal of Ingersoll District Collegiate Institute, was elected president of the Federation for 1960.

Greater independence for trustees was urged by Dr H. O. Barrett, the retiring president of OSSTF. In his presidential address he suggested the bickering between boards of education and municipal councils should be ended. One means of ending such disputes, he thought, would be legislation to give boards of education the right to fix their own mill rates.

"The financial responsibility of boards of education is well established by law," said Dr Barrett. "If most councils operated as quietly and efficiently as school boards, we might have fewer petty political struggles cluttering up the pages of our newspapers.

"The spectacle of municipal councillors lecturing trustees for alleged extravagance is a farce put on annually."

Dr Barrett also said secondary school teachers might usefully be given some freedom from supervision and inspection enjoyed by university professors.

Nearly half of Ontario's boards of trustees have accepted the four levels of professional certification established by the Federation following last year's assembly. Seventy-three per cent of Ontario's teachers are paid on the basis the four levels provide.

Dean B. C. Diltz, of Ontario College of Eudcation, predicted that Ontario secondary schools will need more than three times as many teachers in 1969 as they will need next year. Ontario will need 7,000 new secondary school teachers in 1969, compared with 2,000 next year.

Miss Margaret Robinson, reported on the activities of the salary committee. She said "We look forward to the day when the qualified classroom teacher will be in the five-figure bracket." Some 580 members of the Federation are presently earning over $10,000. Many of these, however, are principals, vice-principals and others with administrative responsibilities.

St. Mary's ratepayers holds annual meeting

The annual meeting of St. Mary's Separate School ratepayers was held in the school recenty. There was a small attendance.

Rev Father J. J. Collins acted as chairman. The annual financial report and minutes of the last annual meeting were read by the secretary-treasurer and adopted.

Much discussion was given to the building of the new school which is now in progress.

The following were elected to the board for 1960: Rev J. J. Collins, P.P., Francis Moriarty, Francis Lynch, Jack MacMillan, Melvin Baker and Richard Casselman.

At the first regular meeting held January 4, 1960, the following appointments were made: Chairman, Francis Moriarty; secretary-treasurer, Eric MacMillan; North Dundas District High School Board, Leonard Moriarty; school patrol representative, Francis Lynch; Public Library Board, Mrs John Davis.

Township council meets at Williamsburg

The initial meeting of the 1960 council of Williamsburg Township was held in Williamsburg I.O.O.F. Hall January 2. The following members took the oath of office: Reeve Donald Kyle, deputy reeve Johnny Whittaker and councillors Graham Hess, Harold Pemberton and Ritchie Warren.

Reeve Kyle welcomed the members to the meeting and asked for their consideration and support during 1960. Rev A. C. Blackwell, of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, conducted invocation services.

The clerk was instructed to join the Association of Rural Municipalities, the Ontario Good Roads Association and the Association of Assessing Officers.

Donald Kyle was appointed the township's representative on the South Nation River Conservation Authority for the year 1960.

By-law No. 1334, appointing the township officials for the year, was passed with the following receiving appointments: Keith Schell, clerk-treasurer and tax collector; L. A. Whittaker, road engineer; Graham Wells, assessor; G. W. Gorrell, solicitor; Fred Page, Higgins and Co., auditors, and Iden Whittaker, relief and truant officer.

By-law No. 1335, for the purpose of borrowing $50,000 to meet current expenditures, was passed.

The clerk was instructed to petition the Minister of Highways of Ontario for funds to complete the development road from Highway 31 east to county road No. 5 between the 6th and 7th concessions and for the continuation of the development road from county road 5 to county road 8.

Next meeting will be February 6.

Bowling news from Newington

Bowling got underway in the Newington West Mixed League Thursday night after a two-week layoff over the Christmas holidays. Those big turkey dinners instilled extra energy in some of the bowlers, but some others might better have fasted!

Captain Joyce Gove took 5 points from captain Irene Godard, despite a giant 778 cross by Gladstone Winters. Captain Hazel Winters swept 7 points from Captain Ellie Zeran with some good efforts by Bert Zeran, 768, and Lyle Forsythe, 717.

Verla Gallinger had a 320 single, but it was for a losing cause.

Ladies' high singles: Verla Gallinger, 320, 245; June Zeran, 233; Joyce Gove, 231; high triples: Verla Gallinger, 719; Joyce Gove, 584; June Zeran, 573.

Men's high singles: Lyle Forsythe, 325; Gladstone Winters, 314; Bert Peran, 291, 257; high triples: Gladstone Winters, 778; Bert Zeran, 768; Lyle Forsythe, 717.

ACCORDING TO PLAN

The story comes from Little Ferry, N.J., that Anthony Havel is a man who plans things out. He testified in court that he:

1. Telephoned his mother and asked her to get some bail money.

2. Went to police headquarters and told police he was going to get arrested.

3. Went to a local tavern and slapped his wife's face.

The planning paid off. Havel was arrested and fined $50 for assault.

ATTENTION: HOG PRODUCERS

As has been our custom for the past twenty years to truck or ship hogs and cattle from this district, we would like to continue to do so.

We have both P.C.V. and cargo insurance on our trucks.

We feel that it is to the farmers' advantage to have their hogs trucked on Monday to assure early killing. Trucking and shipping every Monday, and otherwise as arranged.

Yuletide celebrations in Scotland in the 15th century lasted from about December 18 to January 7.

Morewood farmers form local of Ont. Farmers' Union

On Monday evening a representative group of Morewood farmers met to hear Orville Dowdall, Richmond farmer and organizer for the Ontario Farmers' Union. Clarke Smith acted as chairman for the group.

Mr Dowdall first pointed out that the Farmers' Union recognizes equal status for men and women in its meetings and executive and that the farm family is the basic voting unit. He traced recent developments of the union to its present strength of 330 locals. The Ontario Farmers' Union is by charter non-partisan, non-sectarian and free from discrimination.

Farm Union policy comes as resolutions from locals to head office in Guelph. The resolution goes before open convention and if accepted returned as policy statements. The Interprovincial Farm Union Council discusses federal policies.

The speaker reviewed Farm Union policy in action, particularly in the deficiency payment program. He quoted the maxim of unionism: "United we stand, divided we fall."

The chairman opened the meeting to a question period.

"What has the Union to offer?" A forceful representation to government farm agencies and an awareness of government farm policy. A protection of a member where company guarantees are not fulfilled. The union attempts to give responsible recommendations to marketing boards.

"What is the policy of union organization?" The union attempts to build a local of 40-50 family memberships. Then officers are elected. The union fee is $6 per family.

"What happens to an allegiance to a producer group?" The union is a policy making group. It does not buy nor sell.

The chairman then called for expressions of individual opinion. Sufficient numbers took membership cards to form a local.

David A. Alguire

One of the area's oldest citizens, a resident of Gallingertown since 1905, David Albert Alguire passed away in Cornwall General Hospital on Tuesday morning, January 5. He was in his 84th year.

He was born on March 13, 1876, in the Eighth Concession of Cornwall Township, Northfield, Station, a son of the late John Alguire and his wife, Ellenor Gallinger.

On September 21, 1904, he married the former Eva Maye Stephenson, of Avonmore. In the spring of 1905 he and his wife moved to Gallingertown where he farmed for over 50 years.

Surviving are his wife and one daughter, Mrs Olin Ault (Mary:, of Ingleside; one brother, Daniel Alguire, of Cornwall, and many nieces and nephews.

The remains were conveyed to All Saints Anglican Chapel and the funeral service was held on Thursday, January 7, in St. Peter's Anglican Church, Ingleside, at 2 p.m.

The service was conducted by Archdeacon Christie of Trinity Anglican Church, Cornwall. The hymns sung were "Let Saints on Earth in Concord Sing," "Rock of Ages" and "Thine Forever God of Love."

Pall bearers were Clifford Neill, Clair Gallinger, Kenneth J. Gallinger, Tom Swerdfeger, Lloyd Marcellus and Chas. McNairn, all neighbours of the deceased.

Lovely floral tributes were placed about the casket by sorrowing friends and relatives. Attending the funeral were friends and relatives from Gallingertown, Cornwall, Morrisburg, Avonmore, Newington, Monckland and Long Sault.

Interment was in Pleasant Valley Cemetery.

Stavenger, in Norway, has a cathedral dating from the 11th century.

PLEASANT DREAMS

A near-sighted mouse has paid the penalty for ducking into the wrong hiding place—the open mouth of sleeping Andrew Leech, of Newcastle, Eng.

"I snapped awake and gulped before I realized what it was," said Leech at the police station where he rushed for aid. "Down it went."

Said a spokesman at a hospital where the plumber received emergency treatment:

"He should have no ill-effects. Nature will take its course."

EVERYBODY EATS- TRY THESE!

By Helen Graham

A TREAT TO EAT

WHAT WITH EVERYONE—or almost everyone—using the easy to prepare mixes for cakes, etc., it really is a treat to eat cake made from an honest-to-goodness old-fashioned recipe. Here are a few of my favourites along with the recipe for Mrs Basil Rowe's fudge squares.

When Mrs Rowe brought fudge squares to a recent Women's Institute meeting everyone clamoured for the recipe and I was given permission to include it in this column.

Mrs Basil Rowe's Fudge Squares

1/3 cup butter
1 cup white sugar
¼ tsp. salt
2 eggs
½ cup all-purpose flour
1 tsp. vanilla
1/3 cup walnuts
2 squares unsweetened chocolate

Cream butter, sugar and salt; add unbeaten eggs; blend well. Melt chocolate over hot water and add to egg, butter and sugar mixture. Add remaining ingredients. Spread evenly in a greased shallow baking pan. Bake in 325 degree oven 25 to 30 minutes. When cool cover with your favourite butter icing and pour melted chocolate over the top.

Dark Chocolate Cake

½ cup butter
2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs
½ cup cocoa
½ cup boiling water
½ cup sour milk
1½ cups flour
1 tsp. soda
½ tsp. salt

Cream butter. Add sugar gradually. Add beaten eggs. Dissolve cocoa in boiling water and add the milk. Add to first mixture. Sift dry ingredients. Add to mixture and beat until smooth. Bake in greased cake tin 60 minutes in 350 degree oven.

Surprise Cakes

4 tbsps. butter
½ cup sugar
1 egg
1½ cups flour
2½ tsps. baking powder
½ cup milk
½ tsp. lemon juice
½ tsp. vanilla

Filling

1 tbsp. butter
1 egg
½ cup orange juice or pineapple and lemon juice
Rind of one orange
1 egg yolk

Icing

2 tbsps. butter
1 cup icing sugar
2 tbsps. orange juice
2 tbsps. grated orange rind

To make the cakes: Cream butter and sugar together thoroughly. Add egg; blend with sugar and butter. Sift flour with baking powder. Add alternately with milk. Add vanilla with lemon juice. Fill greased muffin tins two-thirds full. Bake in 375 degree oven 20 minutes. If desired you may use paper liners in muffin tins instead of greasing.

When cakes are baked and cooled cut slice off top; hollow out slightly and fill with filling made as follows: Melt butter in top of double boiler; add egg and egg yolk beaten. Blend with butter. Add fruit juices and rind. Cook until thick, stirring frequently to prevent lumping. After filling cakes replace top and cover with butter icing.

To make icing cream butter, add sugar. Cream together thoroughly. Add orange rind and juice.

Daffodil Cake

1 cup egg whites
½ tsp. salt
¾ tsp. cream of tartar
1¼ cups sugar
1 cup cake flour
½ tsp. vanilla
½ tsp. orange extract
4 egg yolks

Add salt to egg whites which should be at room temperature. Beat until foamy then add cream of tartar. Add sugar gradually and carefully fold into egg mixture. Next fold in flour which has previously been sifted three or four times. Divide mixture in two. To one half add vanilla extract and to the other half add orange extract and the four egg yolks which have been beaten until they are thick and lemon coloured. Spoon carefully into greased tube pan alternating the mixtures. Bake 30 to 35 minutes at 375 degrees. Cake is done when crust springs back after touching.

Miss Mabel I. Pacey

Impressive tribute to the memory of Miss Mabel I. Pacey, B.A., a valuable member of the Finch and Avonmore High Schools teaching staff for 37 years prior to her retirement in 1957, was paid at funeral services held on Friday afternoon in her home town of Havelock, Ont.

Miss Pacey died early last Wednesday after an illness of several months.

The service at the Bruce Curtis Funeral Home was conducted by Rev J. M. Drennan, M.A., minister of Knox Presbyterian Church, Havelock, of which Miss Pacey was a member.

Mr Drennan eulogized Miss Pacey's passing in terms of her contribution in the interests of young people throughout the years. He said that her passing would be mourned by hundreds of former students, scattered across the length and breadth of this country. He commended her Christian fortitude and courage which characterized the months of her illness.

The body was placed in the vault at Maple Grove Cemetery, Havelock, to await burial in the family plot at a later date.

The service was attended by many of Havelock's townspeople, along with several former teaching associates from Toronto, Ottawa, Sharbot Lake, Finch, Avonmore and Newington, and friends from Finch.

Miss Pacey was born in Belmont Township, near Havelock, 67 years ago last September 11. She was a daughter of the late Henry Pacey and his wife, Isobel Buchanan. She was educated locally; received her junior matriculation in Havelock High School, and her senior matriculation from Lindsay Collegiate. She attended Queen's University, Kingston, from which she obtained her Bachelor of Arts degree.

She graduated from the Ontario College of Education, Toronto, in 1914. That year she went to Avonmore and taught there until 1922. That year she went to Finch and with the exception of an interruption of five years, during which time she cared for her aged father before his death and taught for one term in Norwood District High School, she carried on in Finch until her retirement two and one-half years ago.

Extremely conscientious, Miss Pacey took an individual interest in her students and followed them with her best wishes as they went out into the world to follow their chosen vocations.

In 1957 hundreds of former pupils attended the testimonial in Finch Community Hall upon her retirement. Many students, unable to be present, sent telegrams and letters expressing their good wishes and recalling highlights in their individual experiences in Miss Pacey's classroom.

Miss Pacey, who leaves no near relatives, is mourned by her hundreds of "boys and girls" who benefitted from her teaching and example throughout the years.

Finch C.G.I.T. members enjoy African dinner

On Wednesday, December 30, at 12.30 p.m., Finch C.G.I.T. leaders, Mrs Hamilton, Mrs Floyd Dingwall and Mrs Harold Winters, held an African dinner for their group and three visitors, Freda MacLean, Jean Watkins and Rev Mr Hamilton, in Chalmer's Church Hall.

After dinner there was an exchange of gifts and Mr Hamilton led in a sing song, with Eileen Runions acting as pianist.

At 2.30 Mrs Dingwall welcomed the Avonmore and Newington groups who joined for the afternoon and Miss Eileen Runions, in her pleasant manner, presented a book review on "African Manhunt," which was thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs Hamilton thanked Miss Runions for the interesting story and showed the African film strip on "Angola Awakes."

Heather Simmons led in an African song, after which Norma MacLean and Audrey Casselman conducted an African game. Rev Mr Hamilton led the groups in other games and the recreation period came to a close.

Finch C.G.I.T. girls served a delicious lunch and Marion Watkins, Avonmore, and Sandra Tait, Newington, thanked the girls for the lovely afternoon.

Rev Mr Hamilton gave benediction and the afternoon came to a close with "Now the Day Is Over" and Taps.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my friends, neighbours and relatives who sent me cards, letters, treats and flowers and called on me while I was a patient in Winchester Memorial Hospital. Special thanks to Drs Howard and Duane Justus, the nursing staff of the hospital, Rev Douglas Fry and Rev Andrew Blackwell.

Mrs Andrew Allison.

IN MEMORIAM

McNAUGHTON—In fond and loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Mrs Margaret McNaughton, who passed way January 17, 1958.

Calm and peaceful she is sleeping,
Sweetest rest that followed pain.
We who loved her, sadly miss her,
But trust in God to meet again.

Fondly remembered by Kaye, Allan and grandchildren.

IN MEMORIAM

FYKE—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Donald Emerson Fyke, who was killed January 13, 1950.

The flowers we lay upon his grave
May wither and decay;
But the love for him who lies beneath
Will never fade away.

Mr and Mrs Percy Fyke and Family.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to express my sincere thanks to all who remembered me with cards, letters, flowers, gifts and personal calls while I was a patient in Winchester Memorial Hospital. Special thanks to Drs Howard and Duane Justus, Rev Douglas Fry, the special nurses and the nursing staff.

Mrs A. T. David.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my friends and neighbours, ministers, Presbyterian Ladies' Aid, Winchester and Morewood Institutes for flowers, cards, gifts and letters, and Dr Justus and the nursing staff of Winchester Hospital for their kindness to me when I was a patient there.

Mrs Weldon A. Dillabough.

IN MEMORIAM

CARR—In loving memory of James Henry Carr, who passed away May 22, 1916, and his wife, Nancy Arabella Beckstead, who passed away January 16, 1958.

In a little country graveyard
Lie our parents side by side;
Softly the leaves of memory fall,
Tenderly we gather them all;
To us they will always be
Beautiful thoughts in our memory.

Milton and Ruth.

EVENING AUXILIARY—
