Chesterville Council Seeks Support For Joint C. C.

It's not only Spring, it's Community Centre building time. With a community centre building project already underway in Winchester and with an important meeting coming up Monday evening concerning the issuing of debentures for such a project word this week that Chesterville village council has also decided to get in on the act.

According to a release from a Monday night meeting of Chesterville council an invitation will be sent to "all" neighbouring municipalities to discuss the possibilities of building a Community Centre to serve the district.

Chesterville Council after a long deliberation Monday night expressed confidence in such a project and voted unanimously in favour of the following motion: "That the Council of Chesterville village approach the councils of other adjacent municipalities to attend this meeting to discuss the possibility of erecting a Community Centre to service the area".

Chesterville Council is of the opinion that a joint effort for the new CC complex would be of more service to the area than one constructed by a single municipality.

The date and place of the meeting have yet to be decided.

Meanwhile Winchester Community Centre building fund committee hopefully looks to next week for an answer from village council concerning needed monies. Following this meeting it is expected approaches will be made to at least two neighbouring municipalities to gain their support for building a new community centre to serve the district: Location of the building will be at the Community Centre recreational complex which already houses a public swimming pool and the Curling Club. Immediate plans call for lighted ball diamonds in addition to other facilities.

Yes Or No Monday

The future of recreational facilities right here in Winchester will be decided Monday night. A 'yes' from Council with ratepayer approval will provide the 'fuel' to accelerate the lagging 'motors' of fund-raising officials.

It is anticipated most village tax payers will be in attendance at the Town Hall for this important meeting, and there seems little doubt council will receive approval for the $50,000 debenture for proposed new Community Centre.

When such commitment has been made by village council, the Community Centre Board can then proceed with investigations regarding other help from neighbouring municipalities, and exact grants available from governmental levels. Both Council and Community Centre Board urge all village residents to attend the meeting and give the 'vote of confidence' so urgently required by both bodies.

Another $200 For Community Centre

Proceeds from 'Recital Interlude '69' which was staged at Winchester Public School on March 8th were turned over to Winchester Community Centre Fund. Official presentation was made in the office of F. M. Cass last week.

Richard Sennot, manager of the Canadian Conservatory of Music, is shown presenting $200 to Mrs. Betty Cook, Secretary of the Community Centre Building Fund.

CANCER SOCIETY'S OBJECTIVE

$3,000 will be the objective of Winchester Branch, Canadian Cancer Society this year. The local campaign will be launched April 1st when canvassers will be calling door-to-door soliciting funds for this much needed cause. Encouraged by the enthusiastic response of local residents last year, the objective this year has been stepped up $500 over the previous goal.

Many may wonder exactly what the Cancer Society does, and possibly the following paragraph taken from 'Cancer Facts 1969' may help clear any doubts from the mind concerning the true value of such a fund-raising project:

"The Canadian Cancer Society provides 81% of the funds required by the Institute for the support of cancer research and fellowships -$3,326,000 in 1969. The Society provides capital funds for research facilities at universities, such as the Dr. John S. McEachern Cancer Research Laboratory at the University of Alberta the Medical and Cancer Research Building at the University of Saskatchewan, the Cancer Research Laboratory at the University of British Columbia, the Cancer Research Laboratory at the University of Western Ontario, additions to the research facilities at the Ontario Cancer Institute, the Cancer Research Unit at McGill University, and research facilities at the cancer clinic of the Manitoba Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation in Winnipeg. To date, these contributions total $4,168,558. Since 1949 (the year of the first national campaign) the Society spent $26,985,000 on cancer research."

Locally the Winchester Branch renders a great service to the community. Included in the work so willingly performed by the local unit is help in preparing dressings for all cancer patients; supplying pain-relieving drugs; helping with housekeeping chores when needed; and supplying transportation when requested.

In each case all work is done on direction of the attending physician and the Winchester Branch urges all who require such services to contact their family doctor or a member of the executive.

Arnold Dukelow is President of Winchester Branch and Mrs. Harold Clarke is Secretary-Treasurer. Others on the executive include: Education Chairman, Mrs. Ralph MacPherson; Service to Patients, Mrs. Ernie Merkley; Transportation, Mrs. Howard Manchester; Dressings, Mrs. Al Bond.

Mrs. Charles Beedie is Campaign Chairman and she has campaign captains in the various districts as follows: Inkerman: Mrs. Dwight Hutt; Hallville, Mrs. Lanson Hyndman; Mountain and Van Camp: Mrs. T. W. Maxwell; Vernon: Mrs. Roy Porteous; Winchester Springs: Mrs. Ralph Allison; Pleasant Valley: Mrs. Ken Hunter; South Mountain: Mrs. Arthur Farrell; Winchester: Mrs. Beedie.

All local doctors act as medical advisers to the unit.

The pre-campaign dinner was held at Winchester Country Kitchen Restaurant on Tuesday night with Dr. D. C. H. Ley, Chairman, Medical Advisory Committee Ontario Division, Canadian Cancer Society addressing the group.

Constable H. J. Merkley Transferred To Kemptville

Corporal H. J. Merkley, who has been a member of Winchester Detachment, Ontario Provincial Police for the past five years, was promoted to the rank of Corporal on March 1, 1969 and has been transferred to Kemptville Detachment #10 District, effective April 1, 1969.

Corporal Merkley received his early education near Wingham, Ontario, Huron County and was employed as an auto mechanic in that area for eight years. On receiving his appointment to Ontario Provincial Police, December 15, 1955, he was posted to #11 District Headquarters, Cornwall, where he served until being transferred to Winchester in November, 1963.

A member of Winchester Masonic Lodge, Winchester Lions Club, and an Honorary member of Winchester Legion, the friendly Corporal has made many friends during his stay in Winchester.

Approximately 150 people, including fellow Police Officers from Long Sault, Ottawa, Maxville, Morrisburg and Winchester, as well as, many local and area friends gathered at Winchester Legion Hall last Friday night to wish the Corporal continued success in his new assignment.

On behalf of Corporal Merkley's many friends and as an indication of the respect in which the young officer was held in this community, Superintendent H. Ramsbottom, # 11 District Headquarters, Long Sault, presented Corporal Merkley with a lovely combination stereo and radio set.

Corporal and Mrs. Merkley, Kevin and Cathy will be taking up residence in Kemptville when suitable accomodation can be obtained.

NEW EDUCATIONAL ORGANIZATION

Final Organizational Meeting

The final meeting of the Organizational Committee for the formation of the North Dundas District Educational Association was held Monday, March 24th.

The committee developed full plans for the first meeting of the association which is to be held in the Gym of North Dundas District High School on Monday evening, April 14, at 8:00 p.m.

A good program has been arranged, which includes a report of the committee, the aims and objectives proposed for the organization, a report from a new nominating committee, talks by Mr. Hugh Hutchison, Area Supervisor and Mr. Shaw, Director of Education, discussion period, and refreshments.

The organizational committee is enthusiastic in its expectations that its motto EDUCATION IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS will lead to an excellent start for the organization and that the meeting will be attended by as many interested parents and ratepayers as possible.

In view of the fact the organization is to represent through its membership all elementary, separate and secondary schools in the district or area a large membership is anticipated. The opportunity to join this association will be available at the meeting. The committee decided to spare no effort in further advertising the meeting and it is expected that this should reach everyone.

Frustration At Chesterville

Strikers at Nestle (Canada) Ltd. plant at Chesterville attempted to prevent the stationing of C.P.R. freight car at the company loading zone on Monday. Provincial Police and railway officials were summoned to the scene.

Reports indicate the engineer had no time, nor desire, to tangle with strikers and was content to leave the empty car well down the tracks. With the arrival of police, however, the car was moved to the loading zone in preparation for taking on its cargo on Tuesday. Plant officials were surprised when they arrived at the plant Tuesday morning to find the car once again far down the siding.

Union officials met with plant officials briefly on Monday morning but it was apparent neither sides were prepared to make concessions.

The strike will be five weeks old by the end of this week and with 200 not working, the impact is being felt in the Eastern Ontario village which is largely dependent on the milk plant for employment.

THE NEWS in Brief

Nation River Rising

Although March 25th, with swirling snow and temperatures hovering around the freezing point, looked more like a winter morning than the much hoped for Spring weather, the restless Nation appeared poised for attack.

A week of mild weather cut deeply into the snow with resulting heavy flow of water in area ditches. The thick coating of ice on the nation, however, although bulging has refused to yield and consequently water is backing off over low farm land from Cass Bridge west.

Weather conditions in the next few days will determine the extent of flood conditions in the area. With weather experts predicting rain, the outlook is not good.

Early Birds Returning

The friendly robins have returned to their familiar nesting grounds. Mrs. Keith Barkley, South Mountain reports seeing both robins and red wing blackbirds on Sunday, March 23rd. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Biccum noted the arrival of what may have been the first robins to reach Winchester, Monday morning, March 24th.

Robins - floods - warm floods - grass - and golf. The future indeed looks good.

Basil Dawley On Green Line

An open line program on the General Farm Organization will be aired by CFRA's "Green Line" today (Thursday, March 27th), with Lowell Greene talking with a panel chaired by Basil Dawley of Winchester.

This panel, with Mr. Dawley in the chair, was a part of the Farm Machine Show and Seed Fair at Ottawa's Civic Centre. Other panel members include Delmer Bennett, Forester Falls, member of the campaign committee; Frank Wall, Port Burwell member of the executive, Ontario Federation of Agriculture, and Angus Wilson, Cumberland, director, Carleton County Federation of Agriculture.

Mr. Greene will be inviting calls from interested area farmers, and it is anticipated many local agricultural men will be dialing the 'Greene Line' today.

Pat Beavers At 100 Club

Pat Beavers, Morrisburg, was guest speaker at the March meeting of Winchester 100 Club last week. Mr. Beavers gave an interesting account of the changes in education brought about by the Hall Denis Report. The guest speaker was introduced by George Elliott, and thanked by Stuart Harris.

President Archie Rice was in the chair and the meeting heard read a letter of thanks from the Community Centre Fund Raising Committee.

Two new members were introduced by Jack McIntosh. Both Raymond Annable and Bevis Graham were welcomed to the fine Winchester fraternity.

Future projects came up for discussion and it was agreed tickets will be sold on two season tickets for Rough Rider games. Other activities include the 'Steak Barbecue' and 'Light Bulb Blitz'.

Boost donor Keith Carkner was 'boosted' by Ed Boyd, and prize winner was Denzil Crowder.

WATCH OUT! it's bicycle time again

There were more than twice as many bicyclists killed in traffic accidents in Ontario during 1968 than in the previous year... 47 in 1968 compared with 22 in 1967. Reportable injuries were up also, from 1,530 in 1967 to 1,736 last year.

Most of those killed and injured were in the five to 14-year-old age group.

"We are taking a very serious view of this situation," Hon. Irwin Haskett, Ontario's Minister of Transport, said. "To navigate safely through today's traffic, young cyclists need to know the same rules of the road that car drivers are required to know. They must be skilful at handling their two-wheeled machines and know the importance of keeping their bikes in a safe, dependable condition.

"I urge all parents to accept responsibility for making sure that their youngsters know and obey the rules of the road and that the bicycles their children ride are mechanically safe.

Here are some tips for safer cycling from the Transport Department:

1. Obey all traffic laws, signs and lights.
2. Signal turns and stops with the proper signals with the left arm out and up for a right turn... out straight for a left turn....out and down for a stop.
3. After signalling, return your left hand to the handle bar promptly...and keep both hands on the handle bars.
4. Ride in single file, close to the curb.
5. At busy intersections, stop at the curb, get off your bike and walk it across. At stop lights, walk your bike across only on the green signal.
6. Walk your bike when you're on a sidewalk. Only very small children with sidewalk bikes may use the walks for riding.
7. Carry parcels in a carrier... not in your hand.
8. A regulation bike is for one rider...no passengers allowed.
9. If you're riding after dark, or in poor visibility, your bike must have a white or amber front light, a red reflector or light on the rear, red reflective material at least 10 inches long and 1 inch wide on the back fender, and white reflective material at least 10 inches long and 1 inch wide on the front forks.

Small Post Offices On The Way Out

Indications are that small Post Offices all across Canada will soon join the little one-room schools as a brief page in Canadian History.

Already many small units have been closed and areas are being served by larger central offices. Post Office Department officials feel such moves will eventfully lead to more efficient service. These reports Hallville, Dixons Corners and Marionville are three such units doomed for closure in the near future.

Hallville Post Master Don Erwin feels a very important service will be taken from the community when and if his office closes. Hallville is a small community on Highway 43, eight miles west of Winchester, and most boxholders in the clean, compact office are pensioners. Mr. Erwin points out he is required to assist many of these people with their letter writing and mailing. He enjoys helping his friends but wonders if such assistance will be forthcoming under the new system.

Victim Of Progress

Hallville Post Office, typical of the hundreds of such small stations across Canada, has for many years faithfully served the district and now, according to recent reports, will soon become victim of progress.

Oldest residents of the little community cannot remember when there was no Post Office in the village and many feel loss of the office will be a cruel blow. Postal authorities claim such moves are important steps in improving the communication system. Well?

THE O.P.P. REPORTS

When A Siren Blows

It has been brought to our attention that majority of drivers do not understand their duty when being approached by a fire engine or police department vehicle upon which a siren is sounding. The following is the section from the Highway Traffic Act dealing with the duty of the driver.

Sec. # 79(1)

The driver of a vehicle upon the approach of an ambulance, fire or police department vehicle or public utility emergency vehicle, upon a bell or siren is sounding, shall immediately bring such vehicle to a standstill as near as is practicable to the right-hand curb or edge of the roadway and parallel therewith and clear of any intersection.

Walker, as secretary and Mrs. E. Merkley as treasurer.

Sugar Time!

In an atmosphere reflecting pioneer days in Canada, a young couple plan for the future. The setting is Upper Canada Sugar Bush where maple sap is boiling in two huge iron cauldrons hung from a branch suspended between two trees. An evergreen thatched lean-to protects the operation from the wind. Homemade spoils and wooden buckets prove the ingenuity of the early settlers. While the smoke from blazing wood fire mingles with steam from boiling cauldrons on a beautiful spring afternoon, this boy and girl may be thinking of the hardships overcome by young couples such as they, when Canada was young.

ONE OF MANY

Baking Soda Uses

In this day of specialized cleaning products for every separate household chore it is often difficult to choose, let alone store, the products the advertisers would have us believe are essential to good housekeeping.

Baking soda, says the Carleton County Agricultural Extension Personnel, is an effective cleaning product because it is non-gritty it can be used safely on most surfaces and it will leave the cleaned surfaces smelling fresh because it absorbs odours. For general cleaning dissolve a half cup of baking soda in a pail of water. For many purposes just sprinkle the dry baking soda on a damp cloth.

Baking soda is particularly good for cleaning the bathroom. You can use it to clean and polish mirrors, fixtures and tiles. Because it has no grit it will not harm these surfaces. It is also especially suited for cleaning kitchen surfaces because it will not contaminate food and it will remove odours. It is recommended for cleaning the interior of refrigerators or freezers because it absorbs odours and does not leave any odour to affect the food.

In addition to its uses in baking and cleaning, baking soda is handy as a fire extinguisher and for first aid. It is a good idea to keep a tin can filled with baking soda near the stove or barbecue to use on a possible grease fire. A paste of baking soda and water will relieve sunburn or take the sting out of insect bites. For a relaxing bath add a cupful to your tub. Because there are so many household uses for baking soda it is a good idea to have several packages on hand in different parts of the house.

Dr. W. A. Taylor Elected New Winter Fair President

Dr. W. A. Taylor, Reeve of Osgoode Township, who has been acting president of Ottawa Winter Fair since the death of Fraser Hurdman last September, was unanimously elected president at the annual meeting last Friday.

Dr. Taylor, in his report on the last fair activities, said it was a year of 'firsts'. The first time the fair had been held in the new Civic Centre and the first time a feature attraction was presented (Don Messer Show). The result said the president, was the best show ever.

A new committee was set up at the meeting. This committee headed by Alderman Howard Henry, will be known as a 'ways and means' committee and its purpose will be to decide on new features that may offer greater attraction and possibly revamp regular features with the same aim in view.

Other members of this committee include, S. B. Williams and Mrs. Frank Flaherty.

Vice-presidents elected by acclamation were Alderman Howard Henry and Dr. J. C. Woodward, assistant deputy minister (research) Canada Department of Agriculture.

N. Russell W.I. Plans Events

The monthly meeting of the North Russell Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Asa Sullivan on Tuesday afternoon, March 18th. The president Mrs. Eldon Paul presided. During the business part of the meeting the Ottawa Fair Prize list was discussed and preliminary plans were made for holding the District Annual of the Institute. It was also decided to ask for a short course on Needlecraft. Plans for a Bingo were discussed but no date set.

Mrs. John Morrice and Mrs. Carmen James were in charge of the programme. Miss Dulice Hamilton, Dairy Princess for Russell County gave a very interesting address on "What the Dairy Industry Means to Us". She was later presented with a gift from the members of the Institute.

Mrs. Wilmer Hamilton gave a very interesting account of her work as leader of a 4-H group. She also demonstrated the needlecraft stitches done by her group.

Lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs. Gerard Osterholt, Mrs. Helen Boothe and Mrs. Robert McCallum.

40 PER CENT TO GO

Easter Seal Campaign Receives Encouragement

"Returns have been very encouraging and 60% of our objective has been reached", reports Harold Cowan, Chairman of Metcalfe & District Easter Seal Campaign.

Mr. Cowan feels that with another week to go and returns still coming in steadily, the goal will be reached. Lion members are often encouraged by letters received with donations, and such letters make them realize their efforts are being appreciated. One such letter reads like this:

Dear Mr. Cowan:

Please find enclosed five dollars, which I would like to give toward making possible your programme of "Care for crippled children".

The Metcalfe and District Lions Club and all similar clubs everywhere are carrying on a wonderful work of service in this area of human need. Every encouragement you give carries with it a very real message of hope.

Words cannot always express one's heartfelt feelings of gratitude for help given but response in a smile, a light in one's eyes, delight in the voice, of one of these little ones must say "Thank you" as no other way can.

God Bless you all in this very dedicated service to others.

Sincerely yours

Isobel Flay

Winchester Loves Crossroads At Moira

The Ottawa Journal rated this fabulous dining spot "One of the Finest on the Eastern Continent" and since that day dozens from this area have been driving to this amazing restaurant motel. Honeymooners love it.

Appearing nitely (except Saturday when the great John Cotry band plays for dancing) is Canada's famous Blind Organist Ronnie Matthews. Ronnie plays Sunday from 3 p.m. It's his first engagement after 22 years at Montreal's Mother Martins.

For an evening you'll long remember drive over this evening or this week-end or Sunday. It's located just 14 miles from the Cornwall Bridge.

Food is prepared by the former Chef to the Duke of Windsor. Gourmet dinners from $3.25. Canadian Money at Par. Atmosphere like something from Alice in Wonderland.

Each motel room is a different country. Advt. 47c

CBC Traces Holy Land Pilgrimage On Special Good Friday TV Program

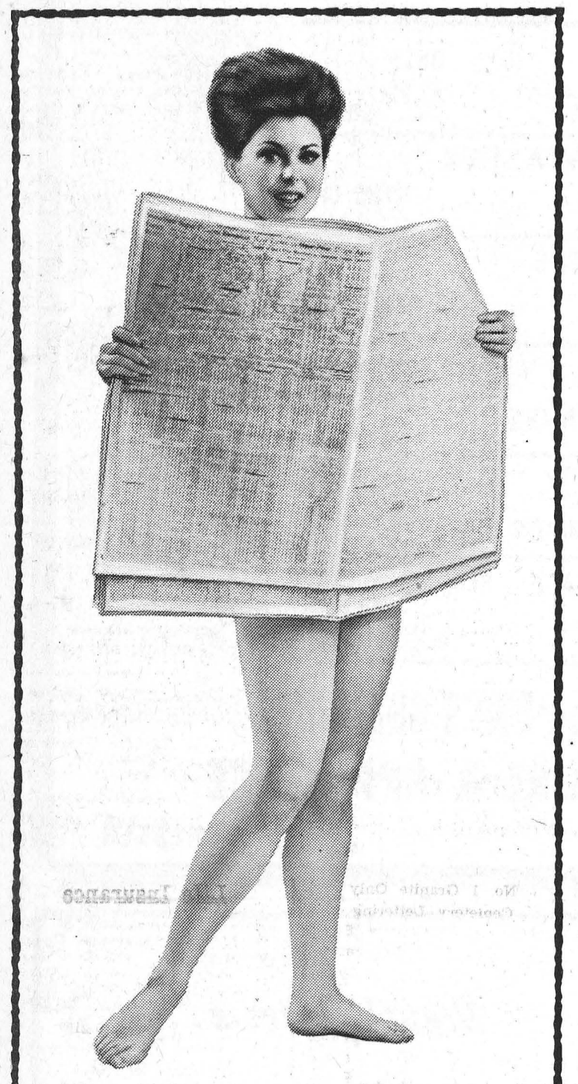
The beauty and mystery of the Holy Land are captured in a special 90-minute Good Friday porgram, Lord, It Is Good for Us to be Here, which will be seen Friday, April 4 at 9:30 p.m. in colour.

Last October, 50 Canadians -- United Churchmen, Anglicans, Presbyterians, Jews, Roman Catholics and some doubters -- made a pilgrimage to the holy and historic places of the Near East, under the leadership of Rev. Brian Freeland, the CBC's assistant network supervisor of religious programs. The Good Friday special is the filmed record of that visit, with the pilgrims telling in their own words what they thought and felt during the inspiring experience.

For many of the pilgrims -- such as a lady who earns her modest living as a sewer in a Spadina Avenue garment factory in Toronto - - the trip was the great event of a lifetime. Rev. Mr. Freeland was able to cut the cost to a little less than $500 per person. "The program title, which seems a bit cumbersome, really expresses the good feeling that radiated from so many people who never expected to be able to afford a Holy Land visit," says Freeland.

After landing in Egypt, the pilgrims went to Lidda, home of St. George; to Tiberius on the Sea of Galilee, with its beautiful surrounding countryside, to Nazareth, Capernaum and Magdala. During a week in Jerusalem, they visited the Wailing Wall and nearby Bethlehem, and later Hebron, where Abraham, Isaac lie. They also saw Jericho and Qu'umran, where the Dead Sea Scrolls were found. A final tour took them to Cairo and Luxor.

Filmed by Norman Allin and Ed Long, Lord, It Is Good for Us to Be Here was directed by Robert Barclay and produced by Brian Freeland. Executive producer, Leo Rampen.



SILENT GAME

Alvin George, 15, streaked across the blueline and fired the puck into the lower left corner of the net.

He was about to raise his stick signalling the goal when he realized the goalie hadn't even tried to stop it. It was only then that he knew he had been offside crossing the blueline.

Alvin couldn't hear the referee's whistle because he is deaf. But his deafness doesn't stop him from playing left wing for the Pigment Chemical bantams in the Milton Minor Hockey Association.

Alvin is one of 20 students at the Ontario School for the Deaf here who play in the league, skating alongside boys with normal hearing.

But for Alvin and his friends from the school no cheers are heard from the crowd when they do score; they hear no linemate's call for a pass, nor a warning before they are crunched into the boards. Sometimes they wish they had eyes in the back of their heads to compensate for what their ears might have told them.

For them it is a silent game.

However, their lack of hearing is no handicap to their ability on the ice nor the playing fields as the school's athletic record attests.

Their pride and joy is the shiny trophy they won as champions of the Central and Western Ontario Secondary School Association B track and field meet.

In every race, they start a step behind their hearing counterparts They have to wait until they see the puff of smoke from the starter's pistol before they break from the starting line.

The Beavers, the school football team, won the division title last fall but lost the championship in a playoff game that went into overtime. Communication is not as great a problem in football because the plays follow pre-arranged patterns. Naturally no audible signals are called. The quarterback stands with his heel raised and starts the play by dropping it on the ground.

Ottawa Gets Daily CP Air Jet Service

A new global travel vista will open up to the national capital region April 1st. CP Air, a designated Canadian flag carrier to Southern and Northern Europe, the South Pacific, the Orient, Hawaii, Mexico and South America will commence daily jet service into Ottawa's Uplands International Airport on that date.

Ottawa will be served transcontinentally by two CP Air flights each day. Ninety-five passenger Boeing 737's will arrive at 5:00 p.m. eastbound from Vancouver and Toronto enroute to Montreal. Westbound from Montreal, Flight 75 will arrive in Ottawa at 7:20 p.m. and depart 20 minutes later for Toronto and Western Canada.

Federal Minister of Transport the Hon. Paul Hellyer, will officially greet the first Ottawa flight along with other federal, regional and municipal officials in a planned tarmac ceremony April 1st, at 5:00 p.m.

President John C. Gilmer will arrive on the inaugural flight and speak for the airline, Native international poster girls, representing ten of CP Air's 16 foreign destinations, will be part of the formal Ottawa welcome of the new air service.

Those expected to be on hand to welcome the first flight include: Hon. Paul T. Hellyer, Mininster of Transport; Hon. J. Richardson, Minister Without Portfolio; Mr. O. G. Stoner, Deputy Minister of Transport; Mr. Dennis Coolican, Chairman, Regional Municipality of Ottawa-Carleton; Mayor Don Reid, Ottawa; Mayor Marcel D'Amour, Hull; Mayor Gerard Grandmaitre Vanier City; Commissioner John R. Belcher, Chairman, Air Transport Committee of the Canadian Transport Commission; Commissioner Gerald Morisset, Canadian Transport Commission; Mr. A. John Frost, Chairman, National Capital Commission.

Cheaper Dialing For Metcalfe 821

By the end of 1970, says Bell Canada, their customers in the Metcalfe area (821) will have longer range free dialing. Included in the enlarged calling area will be Ottawa-Hull, Manotick, Britannia and Russell. Presently a customer residing in the 821 area can dial, without charge, Winchester, Osgoode and the 822 section of Ottawa. Customers have all been informed of this favourable change.

Playing sports with students who have normal hearing is part of the school's total therapy program which is designed to enable students to make their way in a world of people who hear and talk.

Western Music Show In Metcalfe

The ever-popular 'Doc Williams' will be in Metcalfe in July. The country and western music show will be sponsored by Metcalfe Branch of the Womens' Institute.

This was the word from the March meeting of the branch which was held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Graham last week. Eighteen members and seven visitors attended the meeting and roll call was answered by giving an idea for a tour.

Mrs. Ben Gallaway gave a report from the District Directors' meeting and members were reminded the District Annual meeting will be held on May 24th, at Manotick.

Mrs. Harold McKeown gave an interesting talk. Her theme was "Consider the Turtle, he never makes any progress until he sticks his neck out".

Guest Speaker, George Drew, member of the Carleton Board of Education, was introduced by Mrs. William Dow. Mr. Drew gave an informative talk on the talk of the new board, and answered many questions concerning the transformation from many small boards to the one large administrative body.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Duane Monaghan and Mrs. Earl Reaney.

New Trimester KCAT Program Begins May 5

The trimester system has been extended to include the diploma course in agriculture at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology, it was announced by Dr. F. A. Stinson, Principal of the College. The new summer semester will begin May 5 and end August 1.

The trimester program was inaugurated at Kemptville a year ago for the home economics course. The change has proved successful and has encouraged College authorities to expand the program to cover the agriculture course.

In announcing the change, Dr. Stinson pointed out that much greater use of College facilities will result from the move to the trimester system. The summer semester will enable students to make first-hand observations on crop production, soils and farm equipment during the growing season.

The trimester system allows students to begin courses in January, May or September. Four consecutive semesters will fulfill the requirements of the diploma course, reducing the time required for completion of the course from two years to sixteen months. Students can, of course, take longer to complete the course, depending on the schedule they prefer to follow.

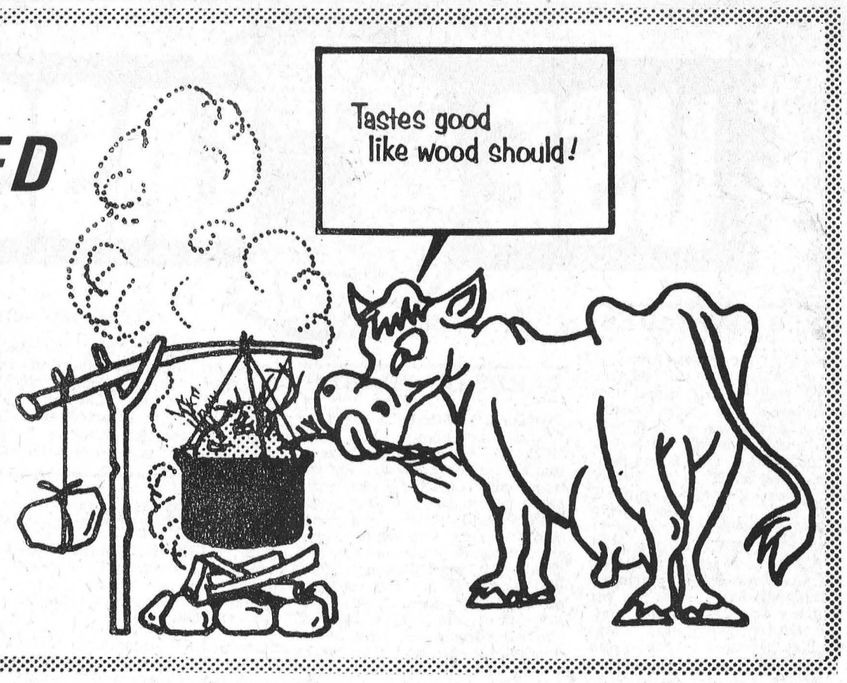
Through a wide selection of elective courses, students will have a much greater flexibility in choice of subjects. This choice of subjects can be extended to persons who may wish to take one or more courses without acquiring a diploma in agriculture.

WOOD FOR FEED

Two federal government scientists have developed a process that will change wood into cattle feed -- a relatively cheap and good feed at that.

Dr. David Heaney, an animal nutrition expert with the Canada Department of Agriculture's Animal Research Institute, and Dr. Fred Bender, head of the chemistry section of the Forest Products Laboratory operated by the Department of Fisheries and Forestry, have been able to change poplar into a feed equal in digestibility to medium quality hay.

Dr. Heaney says the wood could take the place of hay or forages but would have to be supplemented by nitrogen (perhaps urea), minerals, and vitamins to provide a balanced diet.



Health Minister Clears Misunderstanding

Health Minister, Dymond said today that there appears to be some misunderstanding, particularly in rural areas, concerning the interpretation and application of the Regulation under the Public Health Act, respecting Food Premises.

Dr. Dymond added that, contrary to some opinions, this regulation does not prohibit occasional catering by church groups or similar community organizations. He added however that the regulation does require that certain conditions be met in order to provide every protection to those attending such functions against food-borne infections and food poisoning.

The Minister of Health also stated that while this is a Provincial regulation, its application is carried out by local medical officers of health. He made it clear that this regulation is flexible so that it can be expected to cover all forms of catering from the traditional annual church supper to the regular and commercial catering operations carried on by some groups throughout the Province.

Reassuringly, the Minister added that if the responsible official of any organization would contact the medical officer of health in his municipality, misunderstandings of this regulation could be dealt with and resolved. Dr. Dymond concluded by stating that while this regulation may appear at first reading to be too demanding, individual circumstances would be given every consideration and conclusions reached based on sound public health grounds.

Grenville-Dundas Ayrshire Club Holds Annual Barn Meeting

Grenville Dundas Ayrshire Club annual barn meeting was held at the farm of H. J. Kittle, Chesterville, last week (March 19th), with approximately fifty breeders taking part. Panel members were Donald MacIntyre, Roy Simmons, Mac MacGregor and John Seguin.

Prize winners and donors were as follows: Lorne Renwick - bag of dairy ration from Dwayne Smith, Chesterville; Allan McRoberts - block of cheese from Ault Milk Products Ltd., Winchester; Baden Renwick - water bowl from Lorne Acres, Winchester; Herman Jansen - bag of milk replacer from Co-op, Chesterville; Awrie Cayer - grease gun from Harvey Barclay, Chesterville; Maurice Seguin - 10 cartridges grease from U.C.O. Kemptville; Lester Robinson - Auremycaen crumbles from Berry's, Winchester; James McAndrew - bag of heifer chow from Clement Feeds, Chesterville; John Seguin - masti care kit from Larose Pharmacy, Winchester and Floyd Pemberton - $5.00 credit note from Deeks Auto Electric.

Junior winners were as follows: Patsy Seguin - 100 points; Neil Kittle - 98 points; Donald Simmons - 96 points; Gilbert Seguin - 96 points; Bob McRoberts - 96 points.

President Ed Rose was pleased with the participation and expressed thanks to all who had helped in anyway. He had special words of praise for the Kittle family who so ably hosted the meeting.

The "Rockets" Of 1923-24

Mention the word 'INKERMAN' in any hockey conversation and immediately thoughts of the great Inkerman 'Rockets' come to mind

But to some, 'Inkerman' and 'Hockey' conjures up memories of yet another era when a great team represented the little town in hockey wars. Judging from the picture and the two impressive looking trophies, one would assume this was the unbeatable combination in the area 45 years ago.

Country boys, at that time, were obviously more rugged individuals than today's young hockeyists. Note the lack of padding, and helmets. One cannot help but notice also that no 'curved sticks' are in evidence. Possibly the almost lost art of stick handling was a skill possessed by this determined looking group.

Junior "B" Finals Drawing Large Crowds

Two evenly matched junior teams are fighting right down to the proverbial 'wire' for championship honours in St. Lawrence Junior 'B' hockey.

The series now stands at 2 games each. (by press time the fifth game will have been played and , if possible, results of the game will appear on front page of this edition).

Following a 6-4 win in the first game at Maxville, Metcalfe dropped two in a row. In a Wednesday night game at Embrun Arena Maxville scored a 6-4 win, and back in Maxville on Friday night the home team made it two in a row by dowining Metcalfe again to the tune of 9-6.

Both teams were fired up for the Sunday night encounter at the lovely new Embrun rink which was filled to capacity for the contest.

Both netminders were kept busy in one of the highest scoring games of the season. Metcalfe took an early lead on a first goal by Dennis Ouilette and were never behind with final score 12 to 10.

Donnie Honey led the winners with a five-goal effort; Pete Miller picked up three; Wayne Reid netted two; with Bob Woods geting the other one.

For the losers, Nick Haramis scored five; Don Blaney 2; and single went to Bryce Benton, Mike Haramis and Gilbert Leduc.

In first four games of this final series, Metcalfe boys have picked up 28 goals. Although each marker came as a result of close team effort, statistics look like this: Donnie Honey, 7; Wayne Reid, 6; Pete Miller, 6; John Kelly, 2; Gordon Reaney, 2; Carson McVey Geoff Cochrane, Eric Honey, Bob Woods, and Dennis Ouilette, 1 each.

The "Jets" Mascot

Metcalfe 'Jets' now engaged in a hard-fought final series with Maxville 'Highlanders' for St. Lawrence Junior 'B' Championship honours, have a strong cheering section of young girls at all games. In an effort to inspire their boys to even greater efforts the girls bring the club 'mascot' along and the lucky little fellow moves from the arms of one pretty young miss to the arms of another throughout the entire game.

His name is 'Paddy' and he has to be considered the 'cuddly, silent' type. The boys are playing brilliantly and it is noticeable that at every opportunity the rugged players pause to wave at 'Paddy' - or is it Paddy? You be the judge. Here he is with three of his charming friends, l to r: Brenda Waddell, Maureen Cook and Judy Bath.

John Kelly Plays Important Role

John Kelly, speed winger with Metcalfe has played an important part in keeping his team in the play-off picture. John's uncanny skating ability keeps opposing forwards at a continued disadvantage, and his alert breaks toward the opposition net makes him a key man on all power plays. When his team is shorthanded he plays the role of penalty-killer.

It's That Time Of Year Again

Muddy water holes, winter's filthy residue blackening the surface, disgusting pot holes, leaky basements, plugged up sewer systems, flooding waters, cloudy days, dirty clothes, soaking wet feet, runny noses, and, yes, lots more. It is Spring!

At least it is early Spring. For this is the season that provides us with a variety of days and its characteristics are not all so bleak.

Spring is also clean rains washing up after a long, long winter, street cleaning, house painting, lawns growing, buds bursting, birds returning, sun shining, gardening, golfing and, of course, fishing.

Spring. A time to forget the long cold winter months and to look forward to the warmer days ahead, to become excited over the National Hockey League play-offs, to focus attention on the nearest golf course, to clean up the clubs, the garden equipment, to catch that first one of the year, a time when a young man's fancy turns, a time to renew living after the shelled up process.

Spring. A first trip to the cottage. A time for hopscotch, skipping ropes and bicycles; for laughter and knee socks, for ploughing and planting, for holidays, love and understanding called Easter.

Spring. A many splendoured thing. A conglomerate of unusual days, an awakening of thoughts, an appetizer for better things and a desire for the next day.

SPRING!

The Fag Drag

There was a time when cigarette smokers really did "smoke them because I like them." There's a growing theory to-day that times may be changing. Either the smoker is hooked and can't kick the habit or he is buying because most major cigarette companies have gone into the "give-away" business in a big way. Even the growing numbers who have given up the weed may be still buying the odd package just to see if the lucky coupon will reap them a prize ranging from a few dollars to a lifetime income.

It would seem that cigarette companies are struggling to keep up sales in what may be a static or declining market. With little prospect of attracting large numbers of new smokers, the companies are turning more and more attention to infighting between brands. At the moment Imperial Tobacco holds command of the sales but three recent surveys point out that all cigarette companies may be losing the battle to Canadian males who are quitting in increasingly large numbers.

Many are switching to the pipe or cigar, where tobacco sales are up sharply. Others are simply giving up the habit because of the persistence in medical bulletins that cigarette smoking is definitely linked with a host of diseases and in particular heart conditions and cancer.

Members of the younger generation, strangely enough, are still smoking cigarettes at about the same ratio as ever, and women smokers are on the upswing. And although statistics show that January and February sales of cigarettes totalling 6,739 million were up over the previous year, all the significant signs point to a static market.

Seaway Valley Regional Tourist Council is confronted with the perennial problem of finding enough members to meet its financial objective. In short, for each dollar received up to $5,000 the Ontario government will match it with another dollar. It is an excellent situation to pick up a maximum of $5,000. In this area, however, there is always the question at this tme of year when time is running out if the membership drive will be large enough to accommodate the government's maximum grant.

On the surface there should be no problem in finding enough interested business establishments, Chambers of Commerce and municipalities to provide the needed membership monies. Dig a little deeper, though, and the figures reveal the true picture. This year, with the March 31 deadline quickly approaching, the Tourist Council finds that for the first time in its seven year history the membership may not be sufficient to take advantage of the maximum government grant.

This is most unfortunate. Unfortunate because this Tourist Association, the only one of its kind promoting tourism for the entire Seaway area, is doing an excellent job for everyone. It deserves a better fate than an apathetic group of businesses who apparently believe that tourism "just happens."

Well, tourism does not "just happen." Experts from the Department suggest that a cessation of promotional activities by this council could result in a 30 per cent. decrease in the tourist dollar. Think about that!

For a mere $15.00 per year the Regional Tourist Council provides you excellent service in putting this area on the tourist map for more than 50 million potential holiday spenders. Tourism in this area is big business, just as it is in practically every part of the country. With the St. Lawrence Parks system and the nation's capital as prime drawing attractions, the area should be more than enthusiastic about a regional tourist council which is doing a first rate job.

Every service station operator, motel and hotel owner, and restaurateur should be a member. Because these are the people, primarily, who receive the direct benefits from tourism. In Seaway Valley, however, the complacency of the people who should belong is almost pathetic. And quite often you find persons who are "indirectly" associated with tourism taking the lead because they value the importance of this industry in our area.

During the past few years the Tourist Council has purchased and distributed more than six million pieces of literature promoting this industry in "your" behalf. And it is on the job twelve months of the year in "your" behalf. In Seaway Valley alone tourism is a $100 million business.

Think about it. Isn't it worth supporting?

Spring Is Pure Female

A couple of weeks ago, I sang a song of hate in this space. Since Spring, theoretically, is just around that corner which recedes steadily as you approach it, the least I can do is sing a song of love, and ask you to join me. Everybody loves something, even if it's only his car.

Looking into the backyard, it's pretty hard to get all goofy about Spring. The pile of snow pushed up beside the garage is now down to six feet. My cedar lawn chairs look like a couple of matrons, buried to the waist in blanc mange, their arms extended pleadingly. The picnic table still looks like a freshly-risen loaf of bread.

But the sun shines, day after day, and eventually those articles must reveal themselves in all their scabby, shabby ugliness.

Spring in Canada is pure female; unpredictable, perverse, passionate, hot-or-cold, cruel-or-kind. And completely undependable, as far as mood goes.

In this crazy climate, I have lain on fresh grass in March and in love and in sun that suggested the following month would be July. And I have gone fishing on the first of May and had my line freeze to the rod.

There. Having expressed my mistrust of Canada's Spring, I shall return to our theme: love.

This is a favorite topic for poets who can't think of anything else to write about. Not being a poet, I will avoid trying to be poetic and thereby save both of us a lot of embarrassment.

Some people think that love is a potion, especially in the Far East. You know: rhinoceros horn ground up in a mixture of oysters, and celery. Actually, I wouldn't mind taking a swig at it. Sounds jolly invigorating, or something.

Love is not a potion; it's a lotion. It warms the cold heart, as analgesic balm warms the sore shoulder. It lubricates the grinding nerves. It soothes the tortured soul as olive oil does the baby's bum.

It is an ointment (by the way, Mecca ointment is good for practically anything. Unpaid commercial). And it is a Mecca toward which you travel, and from which you return, rather wondering whether the whole trip was worth it. Sand and flies and heat. And nobody else there but a mob of exhausted, hot, tired and disgruntled pilgrims like yourself. That's love.

However, one mustn't wax philosophical about love, even on a highly elevated plane like this. Not in this country, in this climate. Let's get down to specifics. What do we love?

I love my country. Not the government, or the people, particularly. The physical Canada. A black spring stream racing between the snowbanks in March. The ghostly mist of green that slips into the trees in May. The Rockies, in midsummer, aloof, sneering at the ants that crawl about their knees. The sculptured blue-white seascapes of January.

I love peace and loneliness, and they're dam' hard to come by, now-a-days. It's beautiful to be alone, sometimes, without the yelp and clamor, the stink and garbage of everyday living. About the only place you can find it is in an inacessible bog, with a fishing rod. The outboard motor and the ski-doo have seen to that.

And I love all growing things: grass, flowers, leaves. Except when they have to be mowed, or cultivated, or raked. And nearly all children. Except when they grow up.

And I love a good poker game, especially when the cards are coming right. And a good argument, especially when I'm right, which seems to be nearly every time.

And I love my wife, but oh, you kid. And I love my kids, but OH, YOU KIDS!

And I love to do a good job, whether it's writing a column, or teaching a dumbbell something, or finding a new gimmick in my tax return. It seldom happens, but it makes me happy.

Sometimes I can even love my neighbor as myself. It's a lot easier these days. He hasn't an ox or an ass or a maid-servant to covet.

See? I've just begun. I haven't even mentioned hot bonfires or cold beer, or a thousand other things. Put down a list for yourself, and you'll decide you're not such an old miserable after all.

Meditations

by REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Ephesians 6:17 - "And take ... the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God."

Today swords are largely for display. Very few know how to handle a sword, and many have seen one. But nearly everyone knows the symbolism in such a phrase as "draw the sword". That means battle and bloodshed.

It seems strange to hear such language used for the life of faith. Especially in our modern age where the cry is heard on every hand for tolerance, understanding, cooperation, the joining of hands in love and unity, but not a whisper about drawing swords and setting the stage for battle. Listening to the many voices that can be heard throughout the world, religious leaders seem to feel that the Word of God is the olive branch of peace, not "the sword of the Spirit". The reasoning of modern man is that the time of battle has passed and the time for patient understanding has come. We must bury the sword and work for unity, is the slogan.

Undeniably the Word of God calls us to peace and love and unity. I know of no one who would question that. But that the Word of God calls for warfare, many question that. The reason for that is that the true nature of this warfare is not understood. The apostle has said it so clearly that our warfare is not "against ... the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. "(Eph.6:12). In other words, we are involved in a warfare in which we strive to overcome sin and evil, to conquer over the forces of wickedness. In that warfare there can be no peace and no tolerance. A truce on that front would spell disaster for the Church of Jesus Christ.

It is surpassingly strange that it is precisely on that front that many are calling for peace, that is, that the soldiers of the cross should makepeace withthe forces, of evil. The kind of truce weshould seek concerns the "sword of the Spirit, ...the word of God". The truce calls for tolerance and understanding that demands that what is viewed as the heart of the true historic Christian faith be set aside so that no obstacles stand in the way for unity for those who deny it.Historic creeds, that give an exposition of the Scriptures long cherished by the saints of God, must go. Or at least, their precious testimony must be left out of personal or creedal contacts. That is found necessary for otherwise there cannot come a unity, and unity is so badly needed today.

It is especially on this front that the soldiers of the cross are called to fight as never before. Abetrayal of God's Word is equal to the soldier giving up and throwing aside the sword. God's Word calls us to take it up, that is, to know the Truth and to expose and destroy evil with it. Any yielding in that battle spells the doom of God's army, but also of society. The question remains the same for every age: Do we know God's Word and do we conquer over all evil through it?

Guard Those You Love

The Seventh Column

Eric Kierans, Canada's postmaster general who seemingly has a way for getting into hot water, should take a more realistic look at the job he is trying to do in making the post office a paying proposition. Sure, it would be nice. But it is also impossible. The best that can be expected is for Eric to clean it up as much as possible, but with some regard for the people who use this service and also for the people who work for it. Eric is an ambitious type. No telling where we would be to-day if the Liberals had chosen him their leader, rather than Pierre. The other day he told a Toronto audience, "we may have to undertake major changes in structure to mold the post office into all the other mediums of communications — telegraph, telephone, telex, data transmission and on up to communication by satellite . . . It is my intention that the post office should ride those waves (of the future) and not be submerged by them."

Unless you are a socialitic screwball, and there are a few around, in government circles too, there is no way that the public would want the state to take over these other communications services. On the contrary, it would probably be better if private enterprise operated the post office and that other great communications medium subsidized by the government . . . the CBC. You're away out on a limb again, Eric. Why don't you just simmer down a little and try to do a realistic job for the post office department. As one telephone official said last week: "Eric's got another wrong number."

Finally, Eric, whatever happened to that new and needed post office for Winchester and district? We've been sweating it out here for a number of years with promise of a new one on the way. The local facilities are much too limited. There are not enough boxes and many of them are simply too small. And all of them in Winchester post office at the moment are dangerous. So, how about it, Eric. Here's an area that has a legitimate need for a new post office. Not in 1974, but now!

For Canadians it was "Frustrations Unlimited." We refer to the World Hockey championship in Stockholm, Sweden. It's old hand, we know, but the Canadian team simply lacked the horses. There were a few spurts of good hockey. Mostly, though, it was a rehash of the past . . . inferior athletes and excuses, excuses, excuses. A quick turn of the dial to an NHL game tells this writer that the Russians or any other European team have not reached that calibre yet. And a quick look at the books over the years shows us that Messrs. Smythe and Molson have been treated kindly by the Canadian hockey fan. Like at Maple Leaf Gardens where there has been a sell out crowd at every game for the last 23 years. With both gentlemen supposedly having something to do with the new Hockey Canada Corporation is it too much to expect that they provide the same Canadian hockey fan with a little token of appreciation . . . say an international champion in a year, or two. And with due respect to Happ Emms let's have a more youthful general manager, Emms is over the hill. There's no reason why Canada's international team should be the same way.

We are not certain of the reason behind Council's decision to call a ratepayers' meeting for next Monday evening in the town hall. According to an advertisement and a report of a previous meeting Council wants the opinion of the ratepayers on the issuing of debentures for the building of a new Community Centre. Even without the meeting it is within Council's jurisdiction to issue debentures subject to OMB approval. The question arises now about the outcome of such a meeting. Hopefully this will not be the case. But, suppose next Monday night's meeting votes against issuing debentures for such a project. What then? Council was voted in last December granting it authority to proceed in situations like the building of a Community Centre. Only in the event of a petition (the right of any ratepayer) is it necessary to alter the course. Otherwise the decisions reached by Council must be accepted as those being in the best interests of the entire village. So, in our opinion, apparently backed by the statutes of the province, Council has already been given the permission to proceed on this issue. What should be of prime concern is not so much the actual issuing of debentures . . . but for how much. For there is no way to-day that a new CC can be built without municipal help. And it is this newspaper's opinion that the help will have to be substantial. Any motion of council leading to a by-law for debenture issuing should state an approximate figure only. To arrive at a definite amount at this time would be putting the cart before the horse. The procedure, as we see it, is to first of all make provision now to debenture and secondly, when more pertinent information is available, to fix the amount of such a debenture, realizing of course that OMB will have something to say about the size.

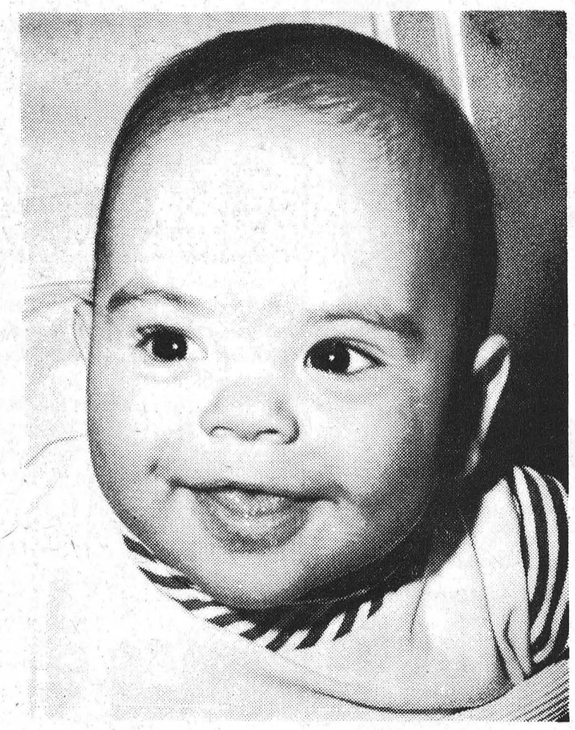
TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

Toronto Telegram Syndicate



This lovely baby is Daniel, 7 months old, who needs a Mommy and Daddy to help him grow up. As you see, he is a handsome child of Irish, German and Negro background. He is active and healthy, used to lots of company and attention for he is living with a foster family of seven while he waits for a home of his very own. Daniel is a happy, affectionate, good-natured boy, who chats away in his own language, blows bubbles and is tireless about playing pat-a-cake. He likes acrobatic games, especially with people a good deal bigger than himself, who are strong enough to make him feel secure if they pretend to throw him around. He is well nourished and easy to care for — goes to bed at 7 and sleeps right through the night and can amuse himself well when awake. To inquire about adopting Daniel please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 5. For general information about adoption ask your local Children's Aid Society.

The Officers from Morrisburg and Winchester Detachments, while working these hours, laid 28 charges and issued 39 warning under the Highway Traffic Act. The Ontario Provincial Police during this time also investigated 2 thefts, 1 Break and Enter and 12 miscellaneous complaints.

Christian Reformed Church Holds Annual Meeting

The congregation of the Williamsburg Christian Reformed Church held its annual meeting on Monday, March 3, 1969. The chairman Rev. J. D. Pereboom opened the well attended meeting with devotions: "Zion founded on the mountains, God thy Maker loves thee well" was sung, followed by scripture reading from 1 Peter chapter 1 and 2 and prayer.

After a word of welcome, the clerk Elder W. Harbers read the minutes of the last congregational meeting, which was approved. Then Rev. Pereboom introduced the 1969 church directory and spoke a word of thanks and appreciation to all those who in some way or another gave of their time and effort to the well being of the church. The work of the two Ladies societies, the three Young People's societies and the Calvinette club for girls and the Cadet club for boys aged 12-14 are included in the expression of gratitude.

The clerk read the annual report over for 1968.

During1968 one member passed away, one family with 4 children and 5 single members were transferred to sister churches; one family with 4 children and 5 single members came over from elsewhere; seven children of the congregation were baptized during 1968 and three marriages were solemnized in the church.

The total membership stands per December 31 at 548: 330 members by baptism and 218 members in full communion. The number of families is 94.

The financial report over 1968 is presented by the treasurer Mr. P. Swank. The congregation contributed a sum total of $22,356.94. The budget for 1969 stands at $23,985.83.

The decision was made to redecorate the church interior during the Spring of 1969.

The meeting was closed with hymn singing and a prayer for guidance and of thanksgiving by Mr. F. A. Zandbergen.

Safety And You

an essay from the OPP

What is an accident? Some people think of it as being a misadventure. Others dismiss it as an unforeseen or unexpected event. Many think of it as a matter of bad luck. But it is not luck, luck is only a word which we use to cover up defects of knowledge. Every accident is caused by something. If we wish to live we must apply our intelligence so as to preserve ourselves.

Parents should pass on their safety requirements to babysitters. They should tell them where they can be reached, their emergency telephone numbers and what to do in case of an emergency.

Good housekeeping, cleanliness and orderliness are the fundamentals of accident prevention in the home, because they prevent the causes.

Falls compose a large and increasing proportion of the accidents, being second only to motor vehicle fatalities. Causes for falls are innumerable, but many are preventable. Everything climbed upon should be tested and stairs should be provided with hand rails and be well lighted.

Fire menaces everyone, but nearly all fires are due to human blunders. Safety from fire consists in the proper handling of potentially dangerous equipment and material.

Safety is something we should all strive to obtain. So becautious. The life you save may be your own.

Fred M. Cass Reports

Queen's Park Busy

This week past was one in which the Government finally began to introduce large numbers of new Bills for discussion and eventual enactment into law, some 50 Bills were brought to third reading while at least 25 more were introduced into the House. This, of course, means that the time of the Members can be, and is, taken up now not only by consideration of Departmental Estimates and of these Bills in the House, but also by numberless meetings of standing Committees called to meet to consider the new laws. Indeed, the Member now is finding, as usual at this point in a Session, that he has a really full-time job at Queen's Park.

The school holiday week brought countless teachers, parents and school children to Toronto; some to attend meetings of the O.E.A. and all to shop, sightsee and visit relatives, and a great many to visit their Ontario Parliament at work. It was the pleasure of Mrs. Cass and myself again this year to have a number of our friends and constituents visit us and view proceedings in the House. And every Member seemed to be having like visitors which indicates a wide and lively interest in Government on the part of our citizens which is welcomed by all Parliamentarians.

Debate on Estimates continued with those of Correctional Services and of Tourism and Information being completed. Despite the pessimism of many Members and the wordy efforts of a small number of Opposition Members. it now appears that the discussion of Departmental Estimates may not be as prolonged as in the last Session. By the large Opposition Party spokesmen have been doing their homework and the calibre of these Debates has improved considerably over that of the preceding Session. As yet, there has been no indication of any Government move to set up, as in Ottawa, an Estimates Committee of the House which might well be an improvement in present procedure without in any way restricting Opposition probing of Departmental programs and expenditures.

News from Toronto during the week of especial interest to our area concerned an Ontario Development Corporation loan of half a million dollars to a Prescott industry together with a Department of Highways announcement of road connections for the new plant.

As was to be expected, the week also bustled with statements and announcements from the Minister of Education. Among them were two very interesting ones, namely the taking over by Universities of all Ontario Teachers' Colleges and the discontinuance of grade 13 in our high schools. For those of us of an older generation, these changes do appear strange but they undoubtedly fit in with modern educational theories and practices. The first assures that eventually every school teacher will have an earned university degree and the other opens the way for year round operation of our secondary schools and much freer choice of subjects by students in our secondary schools, both of which ends are very desirable in today's over-crowded and overburdened school system.

Firearms Control

The assassination of the Kennedy brothers and Martin Luther King focussed public attention on gun control laws. Canada, unlike the United States, has had such laws for many years. These are now being brought up to date.

The principal aim of gun control laws is to protect the public without at the same time interfering unduly with the traditional Canadian interest in hunting and marksmanship.

Registration Requirements

The most attractive weapon to the criminal is one that is easily concealed and is most dangerous in use, such as revolvers, sawed-off shotguns and automatics. These are now and will continue to be subject to two types of control. The first requires registration in a central registry kept by the R.C.M.P., which merely permits possession at a person's residence or place of business. The second is a permit to take the weapon out of the residence or place of business under strict conditions and limited principally to target practice under the auspices of an approved club.

These controls will not affect farmers and hunters possessing standard sporting rifles and shotguns which do not have to be registered. Of course provincial laws requiring hunting licences still apply.

New Protection

The new law plugs many gaps. Permits for permission of restricted weapons may be refused or revoked for proper cause. Firearms of any kind may be seized from mentally unstable persons and others in whose hands they create public danger. More stringent controls apply to the use of guns by young people. A new offence of using or carrying a firearm in a manner dangerous to the safety of other persons will restrain careless hunters.

These provisions give greater protection to everyone. The criminal possessing an unregistered weapon is guilty of an offence carrying up to two years imprisonment. The law-abiding citizen owning firearms has nothing to fear from them.

How To Register

I have received numerous questions which deserve answers Registration is handled by the local police headquarters. Revolvers, pistols or other restricted weapons included in gun collections must be registered, even if they are considered antiques. The ex-servicemen who have discovered long-forgotten pistols or other restricted weapons brought back from the war should register them, but I am confident this can be done without difficulty if the circumstances are explained.
