Mr. John McCormick Died At Brockville

Funeral Service Held Here On Monday Afternoon

Magistrate John McCormick, highly esteemed citizen of Winchester, and widely known throughout Eastern Ontario, passed away at the Brockville General Hospital on Friday morning last, in his 80th year. Deceased was taken to the hospital on Saturday, November 1st, and underwent an operation for hernia which he had suffered about 25 years ago, but which did not cause him much inconvenience until a few weeks ago. The operation was a success and Mr. McCormick was feeling fine with every hope of returning to his home in a few days. It is believed that the deceased suffered a relapse of a heart attack which he had a few weeks ago and this was the cause of his passing.

The late Mr. McCormick was born at Morewood, a son of the late Patrick McCormick and his wife, Elizabeth McKee. He received his early education at Morewood and later attended the Collegiate at Morrisburg. Following his graduation from the Collegiate, he obtained a teacher's certificate and taught in schools at North Mountain and Kerr's Ridge for five years.

Shortly after his marriage to Miss Susanna Hoy, who predeceased him 13 years ago, he established a general merchandising business, and for 30 years operated stores at Osgoode Station and Morewood.

After disposing of his merchandising business, he became a commercial traveller for a Montreal Wholesale Grocery Firm, a position he held for 23 years. Through this medium he became very widely known and his death will be regretted by many friends throughout Eastern Ontario.

The late Mr. McCormick took up residence in Winchester in 1905 and remained here until the death of his daughter, Mrs. Olive McCrae, about a year ago, when he went to Morrisburg to reside with his son, Mr. J. L. McCormick, a member of the Customs Staff, there.

During his residence, here, the late Mr. McCormick became a very prominent citizen, and took a keeen interest in all phases of community life. For 16 years he was a member of the local High School Board, and for five of those years served as chairman. He was first elected to the Board in 1910 and served until 1913. In 1917 he again took a seat on the Board and was elected Chairman, resigning in 1921. His last term as trustee started in 1932 and continued until 1939, when he was forced to retire owing to ill-health.

Always deeply interested in church work, the late Mr. McCormick was, for many years, Chairman of the Board of Managers of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

Prior to leaving Winchester, he was a member and had served on the executive of the local 100 Club, and prior to ill-health, was an active member of the Bowling Club. He served as secretary for the Winchester Agricultural Society, when the annual Fall Fairs were held here, and took a keen interest in the work of the Horticultural Society.

The late Mr. McCormick was a member of the I. O. O. F. and a Past District Deputy Grand Master for St. Lawrence District. He was also a member of Morrisburg and District Canadian Club for several years.

A staunch Conservative in politics, the late Mr. McCormick was a past-president of the Dundas Conservative Association, and in 1925 contested this riding for the Conservative Party, under the leadership of the Hon. G. H. Ferguson. Owing to the strong fight put up by the Temperance forces against the sale of beer in beverage rooms, which at that time was an election issue, Mr. McCormick was defeated by Mr. Geo. Smythe, of Dundela, who although a Liberal, was elected on a temperance ticket.

The following year Mr. McCormick was appointed police magistrate for Dundas County, and continued to serve on the Bench for 14 years, retiring in 1940. His record as a magistrate was an honorable one, which is evidenced by the following tribute paid by Magistrate Wright, of Brockville, in court at Morrisburg last week, in referring to the death of Mr. McCormick, his former colleague:

"As a man he was respected and admired for his sterling character and adherence to Christian ideals. As a magistrate, his reputation extended throughout Eastern Ontario for the wisdom and justness of his decisions. His high sense of fairness and his appreciation of the fact that punishment and penalties can be administered with humanity and kindness were characteristics of his term on the bench."

The late Mr. McCormick leaves one son, J. L. McCormick, of Morrisburg; one daughter, Mrs. D. Lownie, of St. John's, Newfoundland; and one sister, Mrs. Margaret Stephenson, of Toronto. His eldest son predeceased him several years ago.

Funeral Held Monday.

Attended by many friends and acquaintances of the deceased, the funeral was held at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon from the residence of Mr. J. L. McCormick, Morrisburg, to St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Winchester, where a very impressive sevice was conducted by Rev. C. S. Miller, pastor of Morrisburg Presbyterian Church. During the service, the choir, under the direction of Miss Clara Irving, sang: "Above The Bright Blue."

Following the service, interment was made in the Presbyterian Cemetery at Morewood. The pall-bearers were: Honourary—Messrs. Wm. Quart, Wm. Johnston, A. G. Suffel and Geo. Fraser. Active—Messrs. Herbert Poole, Robert Empey, George Wilson, Walter Moffat, J. J. Gray, and Wm. Watson.

Testimony to the high esteem and high regard in which the late Mr. McCormick was held by his many friends and associates were the large number of floral tributes which included those from the board of managers of St. Paul's Church, police officers of Morrisburg, Winchester High School board, Winchester 100 Club, and the customs staff at Morrisburg.

Drive Being Planned For S. D. & G. Recruits

Lieut. Col. W. J. Franklin, officer commanding the 2nd Battalion, S. D. and G. Highlanders, stated this week that a strenuous drive for recruits would be made for his unit, following receipt of a letter from Kingston headquarters authorizing all reserve units to train at full strength with pay to the end of he year.

The new order rescinds one issued in the Spring, which required all reserve battalions to cut down to half strength. The wartime establishment of the Highlanders is 790 men, all ranks, the present strength being 350, divided among companies in Cornwall, Alexandria and Winchester.

Col. Franklin said the first step would be the recall of all who were granted indefinite leave last Spring, followed by the signing up of new men to bring the unit up to required strength.

Ottawa Hunters Pay Heavy Fines Here

Charged with illegal hunting in a restricted area in Dundas County, seven men from Ottawa were brought before Justice of the Peace Hugh McMaster, here, on Sunday morning, and, after pleading guilty, paid fines, totalling $120.00.

One of the hunters was assessed $30.00 and the other six $15.00 each. These figures included court costs.

The men were apprehended by Game Warden Wayne Robinson, of Ottawa, and the Game Warden from Merrickville and Hawkesbury, in a bush at the north end of Mountain township. The hunters claimed they were on a duck hunt, but this excuse was not good enough for the game wardens.

Their equipment did not fit in with their alibis and besides the area they were found in is known to be frequented by deer and is rsetricted to hunting. Constable Herbert Helmer assisted the Game Wardens in rounding up the illegal hunters.

NEWLYWEDS HONORED

Over 125 friends and neighbours gathered on Monday evening at the home of the groom's parents, to tender their best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cumming. A very enjoyable evening was spent in community singing, contests and games.

About ten o'clock Gordon and Lola were ushered to a place of honour, when an appropriate address was read by Mildred Porteous, after which the bridal couple were presented with a beautiful occasional chair, walnut table and a large circular mirror. Gordon expressed their thanks in a few well chosen words after which all joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

While refreshments were being served, everyone had the opportunity to sign their names in a well designed book containing the address.

IROQUOIS CITIZENS DONATE $500.00 TO PROVIDE CHRISTMAS BOXES FOR BOYS ON ACTIVE SERVICE

Great enthusiasm was shown by the Iroquois Citizens' Committee, when a call was made for funds for the purpose of sending Christmas boxes to the local boys on active service, overseas and in Canada. The canvassers realized approximately $500 for this worthy purpose. The boxes were mailed overseas Saturday and the boys who are serving in Canada will receive theirs at a later date.

Iroquois, for a small village, is proud of the fact that she rates high in the number of boys on active service, not only overseas, but who are serving in Canada.

War Savings Drive Opens In Winchester

Councillor Hy. Bessin Heads New W. S. Committee

Councillor Hy. Bessin was appointed Chairman of the local War Savings Committee, at a public meeting, held in the Town Hall on Friday evening last. New members added to the committee, in addition to those who acted as canvassers during the campaign last February, are: Mrs. Howard Fetterly, and Messrs. Eldon Fennell, W. J. Stewart, E. J. Spinks and C. B. Timmins.

Councillor Bessin was appointed to the chairmanship, following the formal resignation of Reeve T. O. Keyes, who stated that he could not give sufficient time to the War Savings Campaign, owing to business pressure and his other civic duties. In relinquishing the chair, however, he gave Councillor Bessin the assurance that he would do all he could to assist him and his committee to make the War Weapons Drive in Winchester and district a success.

Friday's meeting was not largely attended, but the few that were present displayed enthusiasm and were quite anxious that the local drive for War Savings Certificates should be well organized.

Councillor Bessin thanked those present for appointing him as chairman and said he would do his best, with the co-operation of his committee and other local citizens, to put the War Weapons Campaign over successfully. He then called on several speakers for suggestions.

Mr. W. J. Stewart, local school inspector, outlined the system of War Savings that has been adopted in the schools, and said that he was willing to supervise, this phase of the local campaign and do anything else that would be of assistance to the cause.

Mr. W. A. Rowat, manager of the Royal Bank, said, that as bankers, neither he nor Mr. J. J. Gray, were allowed to act on committees of this nature, but as private citizens, they would give the executive all the assistance they could. He said that local citizens did not realize the importance of War Savings, and as a result not 25 per cent. of the people in this district were investing in War Savings Certificates. The indifference of Canadians to Canada's War Effort was responsible for so many people not realizing the importance of these War Weapons Drives. He stressed the advisability of War Savings by the man of average means and pointed out that the War Savings Certificate was not a scheme whereby rich men could become richer. The amount that any one individual can invest in these certificates in each year is limited.

Mr. Spinks, principal of the High School, expressed the opinion that a man should invest every cent available in War Savings Certificates—even at the point of extreme sacrifice. He pointed out that this conflict of nations was a mechanized war and the more mechanized equipment a country had to fight with, the fewer men will be lost. Our country needs this equipment and we, as Canadians, should dig down deep to supply the funds to secure it. Mr. Spinks reminded the audience that one side or the other is going to win this war—and the difference between victory and defeat is the amount of mechanical equipment the country can provide its armies. He outlined the system of War Savings being carried on in the High School, also the voluntary contributions being made by the students, to be sent to bombed-out citizens of Winchester, England.

Dr. McKendry said he didn't think the war had affected the citizens of this country to any great extent and that was the reason for the falling-off of War Savings. Only the families who have men in the Active Service realize what this war really means in the way of sacrifice. Canadians in general have not sacrificed much for War Savings, he said. They have not given up going to theatres, attending sports, luxuries or cut down on unnecessary eatables in order to save money to purchase War Weapons. War Savings are the difference between Victory and Defeat, he said. One party is going to win. If we don't do what we should now to provide our armies with prper fighting equipment, it's just possible we will not win. He said he was all-out for War Savings and anxious that the campaign would go over with success here in Winchester.

Mr. Eldon Fennell pointed out that if the people did not lend their money the government would be forced to get it by other means. War Savings should make us War Conscious, he said. Mr. Fennell touched on the problem of adjustment after the war and what an important part the money we invest in War Savings Certificates today would play in that phase of our economic life later. He praised the system and urged all to get into into the habit of saving systematically by purchasing War Savins Stamps and Certificates regularly.

Mrs. J. W. Ault, president of the Red Cross Society, was the only lady speaker on the program. She suggested that a blackout be held in Winchester or some other scheme devised to awaken local citizens to the fact that there was a war on and that they were expected to do their part to help finance it. She outlined the great work the women of the town had done in the past, and were doing today, as their contribution to Canada's war effort. She scored a point that deserves consideration when she said it was much easier for a man to dig down in his pocket for a dollar to buy a few war savings stamps than it was for a woman to sit for hours and knit a pair of those extra-length wool socks for men of our fighting forces. This is more or less of a challenge to the men—and it is a timely one. In closing, Mrs. Ault said she was in full sympathy with the War Savings campaign and was willing to do all she could to help it along.

COUNCILLOR HY. BESSIN

Who was elected Chairman of the Local War Savings Committee last Friday evening.

Following the naming of a committee, Councillor Bessin asked for the unstinted support of all local citizens to make the War Weapons campaign an outstanding success and thus bring honour to this community.

Committee Met On Monday.

On Monday afternoon, the committee met and made plans for conducting the present campaign. Dr. W. A. Sherwood was added to the committee and Mrs. Howard Fetterly was appointed secretary. It was decided that the committee would interview all employers of help in factories, shops, garages, stores, etc., and obtain their support in organizing their employees as regular War Savers, also to make a thorough canvass of the town and district.

Information was received from War Savings headquarters at Toronto to the effect that only three per cent. of the citizens of Winchester were enrolled as regular purchasers of War Savings Certificates and Stamps, also that this was the poorest showing of any municipality in Ontario. This is, by no means, a reputation that Winchester should be proud of. We fell down badly, and failed to reach our objective in the recent War Loan campaign—We did not stage a Salvage Drive—75 per cent. of the people who signed pledges to buy War Savings Stamps and Certificates last February failed to live up to their promises—We have even contributed very little, compared with other municipalities, to the local Red Cross Society. Just why local citizens are so indifferent to these campaigns, which are a necessary part of Canada's War Effort, is hard to understand. However, the new War Savings Committee has resolved that Winchester will make a better showing in the present War Weapons Campaign, and it is up to every business man and private citizen to give the committee their fullest support. Only by this co-operation can the campaign be a success.

Speaks To Students.

At the invitation of Mr. E. J. Spinks, principal, Mr. Bessin visited the High School on Monday and addressed the students, impressing upon them the urgency of War Savings and soliciting their support. It is expected the students will be organized into a Junior War Savings Committee and prizes will be given to the students selling the largest number of War Savings Stamps each month.

Beyond this veil of sense,
We are aware
Of beauty, love, and life and power,
The consummation of our hope is there,
We see our loved ones face to face
Not through a glass, made dark by earth,
But as, when shines the sun
The candle is of little worth,
So on the height of stars, and rolling spheres,
We sense the hidden glory,—and the tears.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13th, 1941.

THIS IS EDUCATION WEEK

This week, November 10 to 16, has been set aside as a period in which people in all walks of life should pause for awhile and consider the importance of education to the nation.

Education Week was organized in Canada seven years ago for the purpose of directing the attention of the public to the schools for at least one week of the year, with the hope that over the years, parents and tax-payers alike may become better acquainted with the work of the school. It was never intended, of course, that public interest should stop at wider acquaintance; for it is not sufficient that public opinion become merely informed regarding the school. Such informed opinion must participate in supporting the school. In a self-governing society it is the responsibility of the electorate to determine the type of school it shall maintain in the best interests of that society. It is the responsibility of the electorate to determine the place of the school in the life of the community. Any occasion, such as Education Week, which serves to call the attention of the public to the school is one to be welcomed by all socially conscious citizens.

Canada's schools are big business. 2,189,450 pupils were enrolled in our provincially-controlled schools in 1939. An army of 74,549 teachers were employed, while the cost of maintenance amounted to approximately $123,000,000 of the tax-payers' money. No other business, except the war, affects so many of our population; for education to-day becomes the direct responsibility of every parent and every tax-payer. In a country engaged in a life and death struggle to maintain the right of the people to govern themselves, the school becomes an institution of very vital importance.

During Education Week the general public are invited in most communities to visit the schools personally, to talk with the teachers and to find out what is being done. For that week, at least, it will be possible to find some discussion of educational problems in the press. Editors are well aware of the importance of the school to the life of the community. They know most of its shortcomings and they are fully aware of the extent to which the school and the press can join forces to serve the best interests of the community. Consequently our newspaper and magazine editors have been the most consistent observers of Education Week outside the school itself.

The radio has also taken up the observance of Education Week. Last year there were educational programmes carried during Education Week on both national and local stations all across the country. Programmes of a similar nature are also being carried out this year, not only on the Canadian stations, but on those of the United States as well.

The churches of the country are becoming more and more aware of the close bond that should exist between the home, the church, and the school, particularly in the building of character, and more churches than ever this year will take advantage of Education Sunday (November 16) as a day on which to recognize and emphasize this bond of unity. To-day, more than ever before, large sections of the community are wondering whether we have not, in the past, neglected the moral and spiritual basis of our whole social structure. In times such as these, where tens of thousands of our best are called up to risk life itself in defence of our civilization, it becomes very necessary to appraise our civilization, to know very definitely why it merits defence at such a cost. Such an appraisal cannot fail to emphasize the fact that the very fundamentals of our democratic way of life are the very fundamentals of all our religious faiths. A well rounded educational programme, designed to build citizenship for a self-governing community, cannot afford to be concerned only with the intellectual needs of those citizens, but must concern itself also with their moral and spiritual development.

Service Clubs and organizations of various kinds have been quick to realize the opportunity which Education Week offers them to study our educational system. Most of these clubs now devote at least one of their meetings, usually during or near Education, Week, to education. Usually speakers with some contact in the field of education are invited to address the members. One of the most striking features of Education Week's observance last year was the educational publicity carried on by the Junior Board of Trade of Saskatchewan. So impressive was that work that at the annual convention of that organization held last summer in Winnipeg, a national Education Committee was set up for the purpose of inaugurating provincial committees in other provinces to co-operate with educationists in making this year's Education Week a greater factor than ever for stimulating public interest in the school and its programme.

Good citizenship has always been a major concern of the school, but only recently has it been realized that more could be done toward that end than simply producing a few prize and scholarship winners. The importance of the individual, of equal opportunities for all, and the necessity for training the whole man (not his hands or his head only) are being realized as never before. By means of the new courses of study and through the formation of study groups, teachers are endeavouring to meet the challenge of the times.

In this work—work that is vital to the perpetuation and improvement of democracy—these teachers need the understanding and support of the people who really mould our schools, the parents and the taxpayers. In a democracy, new departures of any real importance must wait for the approval of an informed public opinion. There are, for example, many inequalities in Canadian education —not only between province and province, but between communities in any one province. In the attempts now being made to teach citizenship directly in schools (particularly to senior students), teachers also need the support of the communities in which they teach, because such work might easily be misunderstood as an attempt to introduce 'politics' into the classroom.

FOR OR AGAINST

Citizens of Canada are now lined up for or against the country's war effort. None has shouted an imperative order to us to fall in, in one line or the other. Circumstances alone have dictated that all shall be in one line or the other. There is no middle ground on which to stand.

The average intelligence of Canadians is reputed to be high. There should be few within the dominion who have yet to fully understand that every man and woman is in the fight to keep Hitler out of Canada. With that understanding, those who continue to say "Let George do it," and who put selfish interests first, refusing to give or lend as much of their worldly possessions as possible for the fight, are definitely lined up against the war effort.

The man or woman who slows up or stops the flow of war material across the Atlantic by participating in a strike is also lined up against the war effort—in spite of the fact that this war is being fought to preserve the right of a man or woman to strike if they believe they are not getting a square deal from the employer.

The young man who fights voluntary enlistment because he would rather have the comfort of home life and the higher wages in the wartime economy is against the war effort. The girl or the mother who schemes and plots to thwart the desire of a young man to enlist is against the war effort.

VICTORY

"V"—is for Victory, we all long to see.
"I"—for the Isle, where all Britons love to be.
"C"—is for Canada, our country ever dear.
"T"—for those loved ones, we'll fight for, never fear.
"O"—is for Order, all free people need.
"R"—for the Right, to live our lives as we please.
"Y"—is for Youth, give them all work to do.
And they'll prove worthy citizens,
Honest — staunch — and true.

EDITORIAL NOTES

At the present time the proper way to emphasize "V" for Victory, is to purchase War Savings Certificates. For every $4.00 invested, the government will pay you a "V" in due time.

"Canada's Creed"—I believe in Canada; I love her as my home; I honor her institutions; I rejoice in the abundance of her resources; I glory in the record of her achievements; I have unbounded confidence in the ability of her people to excel in whatever they undertake; I cherish exalted ideals of her destiny as a leader among the world nations; To her I pledge my loyalty; To the promotion of her best interests I pledge my support.

The beginning of all life is a search for individual happiness. We look upon the world as made specially for ourselves, and we expect with the utmost confidence that everything around us will minister to our pleasure. And in every case we experience a bitter disappointment. There are some instances in which the fortunes of life are unequally bestowed, but here the same lot falls impartially to all. There is not a man in the world who has not come to the conviction that his first conception of existence was a dream, who has not arrived at the knowledge that things were not created to minister to his own individual happiness.

Some young boys in town are reminded that Hallowe'en only comes once each year, October 31st. Pranks that are indulged in on that night are generally tolerated without complaint by most citizens. When boys continue these acts of mischief after the Hallowe'en season is past, they are liable to be apprehended by the police. A local lady reports that a gang of boys from the west end of town visited her home on Hallowe'en and dumped the ground out of a large flower box all over her verandah and took the container away. She recovered it next morning, replaced the ground and put the box in its usual place. Next night the boys returned and repeated their act. The lady in question knows the identity of the boys creating this mischief and if the practice continues, the police have been notified to take action.

OUR FOOD SUPPLY

Written Specially for C. W. N. A. Newspapers by John Atkins, Farmer-Journalist

NO. 5—THE FARMERS' SPOKESMAN

What do food growers require?

Who can speak for farm people?

Food growers require a national agricultural policy that will:

1. Recognize the fundamental nature of food and land and farm people, and the importance of agriculture in our national economy;

2. Establish a fair balance between agriculture, labor and industry;

3. Provide a systematic marketing program designed to feed our markets both at home and abroad in an orderly and efficient manner.

4. Develop a production program shaped according to the needs of a marketing program, and designed to give our farmers guidance which will enable them to plan their farm program at least two years in advance; and

5. Recognize the principle of a two-price policy. This means that prices of farm commodities in the domestic market must bear a proper relationship to cost of production and cost of living in Canada, even though it may be necessary for our exportable farm products to go to the world market at a lower price.

Thus speaks the authoritative, non-political voice of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture which includes the great majority of all farm organizations in Canada with an affiliated membership of 350,000, representing one-half of Canada's farm homes.

What do food growers require? They require Canada to make up its mind about what it expects of its basic industry and, having made up its mind, to make it possible for farm people to produce what Canada needs for home consumption, for British and allied aid, and for foreign trade.

Who can speak for farm people? The farm people of Canada can speak for themselves through their own national organization which is a federation of farm organizations representing all classes of food growers in all parts of Canada.

In this national organization Canadian farmers have combined the experience and the wisdom of organizations which have been successful in promoting better farming methods, growing better foods, breeding better livestock, co-operating in better marketing, and in working with other Canadians and with governments in the betterment of agriculture and of Canada as a whole.

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture is to Canadian farm people what the Canadian Chamber of Commerce is to Canadian business people. It is a means of creating understanding through contact with other organized groups and a means of education to its own members. It is also a means of education to other Canadians, all of whom must understand the place and importance of agriculture before they can understand Canada's vital economic problems.

Through the Canadian Federation of Agriculture the people of the towns and rural communities of Canada can learn how they can serve their common interests and ensure the production of Canada's food supply. The farm organizations in every district and locality are contributing their ideas to the common fund of knowledge which produces the policies of the C.F.A.

The members of these farm organizations are in daily contact with their town neighbors and are constantly exchanging ideas with them. They are farm people with various political opinions who see the wisdom of keeping the Canadian Federation of Agriculture out of politics and in order that it may work with and through any and every government—dominion, provincial and municipal—to further the best interests of food growers. The best interests of food growers are identical with the interests of those to whom they sell and from whom they buy—all other Canadians. (The address of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture is Booth Building, Ottawa).

KILLING GERMANS
(Windsor Star)

There must be no delay in supplying Russia with the means of combat. Every German killed on the Russian front is one less German to carry on the war elsewhere.

IT'S THE TRUTH.
(Trenton Courier-Advocate)

The professional hockey players have donned their uniforms for the coming season, but they are not the uniforms which are the most popular at this time, when a beast like Hitler roams the earth and kills and destroys everything that he can reach.

WE WERE ALL TO BLAME
(Almonte Gazette)

Speaking publicly, Premier Hepburn charges that many of the men responsible for Britain's non-preparedness policy that gave Germany such a start against the civilized world, still occupy high official places in the British Government. This is disconcerting if true.

GOERING WAS WRONG
(Owen Sound Sun-Times)

Householders in Berlin are being warned to have their attics swept clean and to have sand and water buckets on hand as protection against air raid damage. Some of them must be wondering about this; Goering assured them Berlin could not be bombed.

OVER THE TELEPHONE
(The Argonaut)

This story is told of a prominent and busy man who was sending a telegram over the telephone. He had great difficulty in making the operator understand the letter "S" which she interpreted as "F". Finally she said, "F" as in Fred?" "No," roared the exasperated business man. "S" as in stupid." She got it!

HONESTY PAYS
(Goderich Signal-Star)

A pleasant tale comes from the Canadian Travel Bureau. The 14-year-old son of an Illinois woman holidaying in Canada lost a billfold containing $13. It was returned by a Chatham lady through the medium of the Foreign Exchange Control Board, and the mother was so pleased that she convinced six other women that Canada was the place to spend a vacation.

WINCHESTER ISN'T!
(Carleton Place Canadian)

We notice in some of the papers coming to our desk from week to week the official announcement of the publication of a voters' list in certain municipalities. Apparently some places are planning to hold an election for municipal officers for next year as usual. Is this another mix-up similar to the standard time and daylight-saving time bugbear?

NO WORKABLE SOLUTION
(Toronto Financial Post)

When statesmen the world over are looking round for ways and means of financing the world's costliest war, why have they not called on William Aberhart of Alberta? That question apparently has been bothering the Edmonton Spotlight also but after an investigation its editors came to this conclusion: "The real fact is that Aberhart, despite his loud talk, hasn't got a workable solution for his country's economic difficulties. If he had the world would have been making a beaten path to his door long ago."

V FOR VANISHING CARS
(Brampton Conservator)

A military officer at Kingston is given credit for the following: "The other day I gave a lift to two Australian airmen who had been spending a week-end travelling about Ontario by the usual method. Questioning them about the number of people who would give them a lift, I was informed, without any bitterness, that the car which was almost certain not to stop was one plastered with V's, and signs proclaiming that "There Will Always Be An England."

MAIL CARRIERS UNDERPAID
(Stirling News-Argus)

Rural mail carriers are to receive a bonus of five per cent. to offset the Federal gasoline tax of three cents a gallon. While this bonus will no doubt be welcome we are of the opinion that if the Government would set a salary commensurate with services given on each rural route instead of resorting to the tender system, when allotting the mail contracts, it would be much more appreciated. Too many of the carriers are working today at too low a salary.

LEADERSHIP NEEDED
(Smiths Falls Record-News)

Hon. Mr. Hanson, the Federal Tory leader, made a statement in Toronto last week, to the effect that he would not make a declaration in favour of conscription. His reason? Well, he also said this: That if the Conservative party came out for conscription "we would consolidate all those forces that have been opposed to us since 1917." Shame! Shame! Another case of cursed politics. It would seem that to Mr. Hanson the preservation of the Tory party comes before the preservation of the country. The Conservative Party is badly in need of a new leader.

NOT MERCHANTS' FAULT
(Dunnville Chronicle)

If your favorite merchant says: "No, madam, sorry I cannot allow you to charge any more merchandise until your balance is paid off," don't think your pal is letting you down. He is only obeying the law and would run the risk of being heavily penalized if he were to extend you the favor. Adding to your charge account under these circumstances would necessitate your complying with the new "instalment plan" regulations of one-third down payment and twelve months to pay the balance, with a minimum down payment of $10 and minimum monthly payments of $5.00. Persons whose 30-day charge accounts have been paid up may open new ones under the condition that the entire balance be paid off on the last day of the month following date of sale. Ten days' grace is also allowed. Local merchants are anxious that their customers be patient with respect to the new regulations.

Some folks wonder why they don't get on, when all they're trying to do is to get by.

CANADA'S telephone traffic is climbing to new peaks! Engaged in all-out war effort Canadians are depending on telephone facilities more than ever. That's why telephone workers are determined to maintain the fastest, most efficient service under all conditions.

They are especially grateful for the sympathetic co-operation of all telephone users. Subscribers can aid in making severely-taxed telephone facilities yield maximum service . . .

- By speaking distinctly directly into the mouthpiece
- By answering promptly when the bell rings

Please be sure, also, to replace the receiver on the hook. Over 120,000 times last year, telephones were reported "out of order" because of receivers left off or improperly replaced.

These things are what we mean by "co-operation".

ORMOND B. Y. P. U.

The Young People's first meeting in November was held in the church Friday night last, opening with the usual period for song service. "I Love To Tell the Story," was the children's hymn, and Miss Mary Cumming offered prayer. Barbara McLean and Gwen McIntosh received the offering. The Juniors' worship service, led by Miss Cumming, consisted of a Bible alphabet in which each took part, and the topic: "The Bible—What is it?"

The Seniors' Bible Study, by Rev. Mr. Augustine, centred on the story of the marriage in Cana of Galilee where Jesus performed His first miracle. Roll call was answered by each repeating a verse of Scripture.

The theme throughout the Devotional Group program was the Church. Mrs. G. McVey was leader. An interesting article entitled "A Good Friend," which closed with these words, "I am the Church," was read by Miss Lillian Jorgensen. Verses containing the word, "Church," were read, under the direction of Miss Isabel MacGregor.

A very splendid topic was given under the following headings: "What is the Church," by Miss E. Carson; "Why people don't go to Church," by Mrs. N. Porteous; "Why people go to Church," by Miss V. MacDonald, and "Why we (non-Christian and Christian) should go to Church," also by Miss Carson. Open discussion in which many took part became not only interesting but helpful. Benediction by the pastor followed the singing of "The Church in the Wildwood."

MODERN ETIQUETTE

1. If you are introduced to a person for the second time and he or she doesn't seem to remember the introduction, what should you say?
2. What phrase should be used if one does not wish to use R.S.V.P.?
3. Is it correct to serve a wedding "breakfast" if the ceremony takes place at three o'clock in the afternoon?
4. Is it bad form to applaud loudly in a theatre?
5. Where should the candles be placed on the buffet supper table?
6. Should a hostess always extend her hand to a man, when being introduced to him?

Answers

1. Don't embarrass the person by saying, "Why I met you at such and such a place." Merely say, "How do you do?" Nor should you feel hurt or slighted and accuse the person of being a snob. It might just be forgetfulness, something of which we are all guilty at one time or another. 2. If one prefers to use English words, write "The favour of a reply is requested." 3. Yes; if the ceremony takes place before four o'clock the refreshments are spoken of as a "wedding breakfast." This is an English term used for any daytime wedding feast. 4. Yes. Applause that is protracted or too loud is in very bad taste. And if you happen to be the only one applauding, it is time to stop. 5. This depends upon whether single candlesticks or candelabra are used. An attractive decoration is to place a single candlestick at each of the four corners of the centrepieces of flowers. 6. Yes; it shows friendliness and cordiality.

AIRGRAPH MESSAGES EFFECTIVE NOVEMBER 15th TO FORCES IN UNITED KINGDOM

On countless occasions persons listening to the broadcasts from our boys overseas have heard, time after time, the request "Send Me a Letter." Few persons, however, fully realize the gigantic task confronting the Canadian Post Office Department in ensuring a smooth and regular trans-Atlantic mail service under war-time conditions. Despite the careful study given to the handling of these military mails, delay is sometimes inevitable. Suitable shipping space must be found, then more time may elapse before the convoy can be assembled, while the ocean voyage itself often takes longer than in peace time. There, too, is always the possibility of loss through enemy action, while on arrival in the Old Country, delay may be occasioned because of the black-out, enemy air action, and similar conditions, so that much valuable time my elapse before the man on active service can hear from his loved ones.

Last summer, to overcome similar difficulties and delays of ordinary mail service between the British Forces in the Middle East and their friends and relatives in Great Britain, the British General Post Office introduced the modern Airgraph Message system to facilitate their correspondence. The first to use the Airgraph system from London to the Middle East was Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth, who mailed the initial Airgraph message on behalf of the women at home to General Sir Claud Auchinleck, G.C. I.E., Commander in Chief, Middle East, in which Her Majesty sent her greetings to the Forces.

The enormous time and space conserving possibilities of Airgraph recommended the system to the Canadian Postal authorities, and, after careful study, plans have been finally completed for the inauguration of Airgraph service to expedite messages from correspondents in this country to the members of the Armed Services in Great Britain. Airgraph, which enlists the aid of Air Transportation and of photography will undoubtedly be welcomed by those on the "home front" and the lads on Active Service.

A person wishing to send a message to a member of the Armed Forces in the United Kingdom may now obtain a special Airgraph Message form at his Post Office—a single sheet, which has a special space reserved for the written message, and another for the address. From actual experience it has been found that black ink gives the best results in reproducing an Airgraph message, so do not use coloured inks, greens, purples, and reds, as they do not reproduce so well.

Each Airgraph message form will be prepaid at the specially reduced fee of only 10 cents—just one third of ordinary Trans-Atlantic Air Mail postage! Prepayment will be made by postage stamps, affixed to the space provided on the reverse side of the message form, which will be handed in unfolded by the sender at the Postal Wicket. Envelopes should not be used. Airgraph messages will be given the most expeditous routing and handling, either by air or rail, as is quickest; and will be transmitted to Toronto, where the forms will be checked, numbered and processed, and the original messages filed. These Airgraph messages will be photographed on micro-film at such a degree of reduction that the photographic images of the letters will occupy about 1-250 of the area of material required by the originals. In this way a roll of film would contain 1700 letter-pages and weigh only 1-100 that of the original 1,700 pages.

This film will be despatched by air to Great Britain, where an enlargement will be made of each message; and the prints will be placed in envelopes and delivered to the units or formations of the addressees by the Canadian Postal Corps.

This remarkable new service, which is designed exclusively to provide a speedy means of communication for persons in this country writing to the Armed Forces in Great Britain, will go into effect on November 15th according to the announcement made by Hon. William P. Mulock, K.C., Postmaster General.

W. C. T. U. KNIT-A-BITS

Thursday evening of last week, the ladies of the W. C. T. U., who knit for the Red Cross, and some of their friends, met at the home of Mrs. Geo. Earle. An executive meeting held at the beginning decided that copies of the Temperance lessons be secured for Sunday and day schools.

The President of the Red Cross gave some interesting items about the work that is being done in the United States as well as in Canada.

Mrs. K. Helmer conducted a clip sheet programme on: "Is the people's will respected? Is Democracy betrayed in Ontario?" Replying to these questions, it was shown that it is an infringement of our right to representative Government that there are at least five vacancies in the Ontario Legislature. The Premier refuses to administer the Canada Temperance Act, and beverage rooms have been illegally set up in Huron, so a bye-election might be awkward for the Government there, hence Huron is left without Parliamentary representation. It is of great importance that existing democratic institutions should be cherished in Canada, if Canada is to be a country worth fighting for.

Light refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

OBITUARY

LATE J. W. MELDRUM

The funeral of the late John Wood Meldrum was held on Monday, Nov. 3rd, in the Ormond Baptist church, conducted by his pastor, Rev. P. D. Augustine, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. During the service, the choir sang, "Beyond the Smiling and the Weeping." The late Mr. Meldrum was born at Ormond 80 years ago, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald Meldrum. He passed away on Saturday, Nov. 1st, after a lingering illness. He was a member of the Ormond Baptist Church. Of a quiet and kindly disposition, he was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

The late Mr. Meldrum leaves to mourn his loss, two sisters, Miss Mary Meldrum and Mrs. J. E. Docksteader, and one brother, Alex J. Meldrum, all of Ormond.

Interment took place in the Ormond cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. Percy Carkner, Lorne Carkner, Hugh Carkner, Justin Docksteader, Isaac Cinnamon and Fred Marquette.

Among the relatives attending from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Henderson, of Montreal; Mr. A. E. Meldrum and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Nesbitt, of Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Cheney, of Mountain.

LATE MRS. R. H. HOGABOAM

A large number of sorrowing relatives and friends attended the funeral last Saturday afternoon at Irena of Mary Smirle, wife of R. H. Hogaboam. Although in poor health since over a year ago when she fell and broke her hip, the end came unexpectedly in the early hours of Thursday, Nov. 6th, following a stroke a few hours before.

Born 64 years ago, east of Morewood, she was married 19 years ago to R. H. Hogaboam. They resided for a time in Kemptville and then moved to the farm in Irena, where she passed away. She was a devoted wife and a great homemaker, always giving a cordial and genuine welcome to all who visited her. During the past year the greater part of her time was spent in Brockville Hospital or in bed at her home. In all of this she showed true Christian patience.

Besides her husband, there are two step-children, Howard Hogaboam, of Brockville, and Mrs. Eben Smith, of Three Rivers, Que., both of whom were present at the funeral. There are also five brothers, among whom is Mr. Archie Smirle, of Morewood.

Rev. Mr. Heslip, Presbyterian minister of Prescott, conducted the funeral service at the home, and also the graveside service at Maple Ridge Cemetery, the pall bearers being four neighbours, Messrs. Colin Casselman, Roscoe McCaslin, Ray McCaslin and John Gibbons.

C. G. I. T. AFFILIATION SERVICE

It was an inspiring sight on Sunday evening to see in the choir of the United Church 24 young girls, as well as the organist, Mrs. Scobie, in the C. G. I. T. uniforms. These girls led in the singin of the hymns. A special number, "Come Ye Blessed of My Father," was sung in an excellent manner by Patti Cass.

Dr. Halpenny expressed his appreciation of the work done by the leaders of these girls—Misses Ethel Annable and Evelyn Fennell.

Speaking from the story of Naaman, captain of the host of the King of Syria, and that of the little Israelite maid, as told in II Kings, 5. Dr. Halpenny drew the lesson of overcoming difficulties and of service to others.

After the sermon, the girls left the gallery and came down to the front of the church where their leaders expressively conducted the affiliation service. This was followed by a beautiful candlelight service, after which Dr. Halpenny pronounced the benediction.

Sunday morning Dr. Halpenny was assisted in the service by Rev. James Proudfoot, Secretary of the Shantymen's Christian Association, who told of the good work being done by that organization.

The worship service was a memorial character in keeping with Remembrance Day. The choir sang Kipling's Recessional in which Mr. Boothe took the solo parts. There was another special selection, "Rock of Ages," sung by a male quartette—Messrs. E. Shaver, S. Lindsay, C. B. Timmins and H. Boothe.

Rev. Mr. Halpenny had time for only a brief message on the Holy Spirit, continuing his thought of a week ago. He said there will be a rising of sacred resentment against things that are wrong. It was always when others were injured that Jesus showed indignation. The liquor traffic and the iniquity of the war were named as two things the Christian Church should rise up against.

During the Sunday School session Mr. Aldridge, of Toronto, spoke on behalf of the Gideons, telling of the great number of Bibles placed in hotels and in schools in our cities by this organization. The beautiful wreath of poppies and evergreens belonging to the Veterans was placed in the front of the Church.

NO. 2—TOUR OF LARGEST AUTOMATIC GUN PLANT IN ONTARIO

Written For C. W. N. A. Papers by C. Earl Rice.

An automatic gun plant in Eastern Ontario, is now the largest single producer of machine guns in the British Empire today.

In the spring of 1938, the Canadian Government decided to make Bren Guns for the Canadian Army. Now the plant consists of some 19 buildings, covering more than a million square feet of floor space. At the outbreak of war, the working personnel consisted of slightly over 400 persons. Today, more than 4,500 are employed on war production, and in another nine or ten months, that number will be increased to around 9,000. Nearly 40 per cent of the employees are women, and they can handle the machine tools with all the dexterity of men. More women will be used as men are called to other types of war work.

The production of a Bren Gun is an intricate job, and requires literally hundreds of operations. There is a total of 161 different parts in each gun, requiring 3,000 separate operations. In the plant, there are more than 4,000 machine tools and over 17,000 different gauges.

100 Per Cent. Canadian.

When the Government let the contract for the construction of these guns, it stipulated that where possible, only Canadian materials were to be used. As a result, the guns are one hundred per cent. Canadian, with the exception of the walnut, imported from the United States, used for the gun stocks.

Bren Guns are as nearly fool proof as it is possible to make them. They cannot be assembled incorrectly. If one part fits into another, that must be the correct way, otherwise they would not go together. They weigh just 22 pounds.

Each gun is equipped with a spare barrel, and twenty-four magazines, each magazine holding thirty cartridges. It is a simple matter to slip one magazine off, and put another in place; the operation requiring only a few seconds.

Details of the construction of any type of ordnance cannot be given. It is possible, however, to mention a few pertinent facts regarding certain parts of guns, which will give one some idea of the tremendous work involved in their production. The body of a Bren Gun starts along the machine line as a rough, forging weighing 45 pounds. The body is the part of the gun which houses the firing mechanism. This forging passes through 269 separate operations before it is completed. As many of these operations require more than one handling, and must be gauged following each operation, it means that literally several hundred persons have had a hand in the production of the gun body. By the time all operations are completed, what had originally been a forty-five pound forging, weighs only five and one half pounds.

Guns For Airplanes.

Browning machine guns are also produced in this plant. These are the guns used in our fighting airplanes, six or eight being housed in the wings of Hurricanes and Spitfires. A Browning gun is capable of firing more than one thousand rounds per minute, and a blast from one of our fighter planes' six or eight guns, will practically cut an enemy plane in two.

A Browning Gun, while not quite as intricate as a Bren Gun, requires nevertheless, a great deal of care and detail in its production. There are 178 different parts, requiring 2,500 operations for its construction. The weight of a Browning, 35 pounds, is somewhat greater than that of a Bren.

This plant also produces the Boys Rifle. It is used for an entirely different purpose than the other two guns mentioned. It is a heavy, sturdy gun, firing a single bullet. These bullets are armour-piercing, however, and the Boys Rifle is used extensively in action against light tanks and armoured vehicles.

In the course of the next few months, production will be doubled. So perfect has become the system of mass production of automatic gun equipment in this plant, that the United States has sent representatives to study the details.

The same firm is also turning out marine engines on a large scale. Triple expansion engines to power Corvettes are built here, and now production is under way on the engines that are to be used to power the Tribal Class Destroyers Canada is now building for the British Navy.

MAKING BREN GUNS

The young woman shown in this photo is welding cartridge clips for Bren machine guns. These light and efficient weapons are being turned out by the hundreds in Canada.

MORE CHEESE NOW FOR DOMESTIC MARKET

Starting November 1, cheesemakers in Ontario and Quebec, the provinces from which about 93 per cent. of Canadian factory cheddar cheese comes, were allowed to make cheese of any size, weight and colour for domestic consumption, the Dairy Products Board announced on October 31. The Board emphasized that all cheddar cheese in Ontario and Quebec made down to and including October 31 must be made available for export to Britain. This was the result of the rescinding on October 31 by the Dairy Products Board of Order No. 23 of the Board passed on May 20, 1941 which stated: "That all cheddar cheese manufactured in the Province of Ontario or Quebec, on and after May 26, 1941, shall be white and unwaxed, not less than 14 1-2 inches in diameter and 75 pounds in weight, and that all such cheese shall be exported to the British Ministry of Food through the Dairy Products Board by exporters licensed by the Board."

At a meeting on October 31, the Board issued Order No. 29, which reads: "The Dairy Products Board hereby orders that Order No. 23 of the Board, published in an extra of the Canada Gazette on the 20th day of May, 1941, be rescinded as of October 31, 1941."

This means that more cheese will now be available for domestic consumption than has been the case since last May.

LETTER FROM OVERSEAS

Somewhere in England.
October 23rd, 1941.

The following letter was received a few days ago by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rice, of Winchester Springs, from their brother, Archie Rice, now on active service in England:

Dear Gerald and Lillian:—It is now 6.45 in the evening, that would be 2.45 in the afternoon over there. I returned last night from a 5-day leave in Glasgow, Scotland, and did I ever have a wonderful time. The people over there won't let you spend your own money. Three of us stayed at a private house and when we offered to pay her she was insulted. She had a comfortable old Scotch home, a big fire place in the dining room and one in every bedroom. They are great people for tea. Every night before we went to bed we had tea-biscuits and sweets. Any kind of fruit and sweets are hard to get any place here. The Canadians are used extra good in both England and Scotland. They ask us all about Canada. I get a great kick out of hearing them talk.

Glasgow is 400 miles from London. We had to change trains in London coming home last night. While we were there, there was an air raid alarm, but no sign of any bombs. I really enjoyed myself every minute in Glasgow. I think everyone has heard of Loch Lomond. It is a short ways out of Glasgow. We went there, and it is a beautiful sight. The Y. M. C. A. went around the street and found a lot of Canadians and had a supper and party for us. There were 50 of us and 50 girls. The girls were all in uniform. There are girls in the Navy, Air Force and Army here, so we surely had a good time.

The money was hard to get used to here. There are no nickels, dimes and quarters here. There are pense, sixpence, shillings and pounds. A penny is 2c, sixpence is 12c, and a pound is $4.47 in Canadian money. When I get my seven days' leave in December I am planning on going to Glasgow again and stay with the same people.

I am going to London for a week-end—48 hours—before long. I saw a few places in London that had been bombed. I am going to try and put my next leave off until Christmas if I can. The time seems long here with nobody we know around camp except the soldiers.

I suppose you are filling the silo now and starting to plough. The farmers are threshing here now, but there is a lot of grain that isn't cut yet. I hope mother is fine and happy. Let me know how long my letters are coming over, also if there is anything cut out or not.

It is 7.30 now and I will have to put the covers on the window as there can't be any lights showing here after dark. We had a hard time getting around in Glasgow in the blackout, not being used to the city. There has been no fog here yet, but as the weather gets colder the soon. fog is bad, we are told. Cheerio and Archie. God bless you all. Hope to see you all Your loving brother and son,

STABILIZATION OF PRICES AND WAGES

Your Country asks your loyal support of this Wartime Measure

TWO NEW CONTROLS have now become essential in Canada's wartime design for living. These are:

(1) Control of Prices

Commencing November 17, 1941, there may be no increase in the prices of goods and services generally unless absolutely necessary and authorized by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

(2) Control of Wages

No employer, with certain limited exceptions, may increase the basic wage rates paid to his employees unless authorized by a Board on which the Government, employers and employees are represented. But after February 15, 1942, every employer with the same exceptions, will be obliged to pay a cost of living bonus and to adjust this bonus every three months.

Action Necessary to Stop Inflation

This Government action has been taken to prevent the inflation we knew in the last war, and its subsequent depression, unemployment and suffering.

Every housewife knows that prices are rising, and rising prices, unless controlled, will make it more costly and difficult to finance the war. Rising prices, unchecked, will spread confusion in industry and trade; will hinder production and proper distribution of supplies; will make the cost of living rise more rapidly than wages and salaries; will lessen the value of savings; will result in hardship for almost everyone, and especially those with small incomes. And the result of uncontrolled inflation, after the war, when prices drop, will again be depression and unemployment. Prices cannot be controlled without control of wages. Excess profits are, and will continue to be, under rigid control.

Coverage of Wages Stabilization Order

The Order is applicable to the following employers:

1—Every employer normally subject to the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act.
2—Every employer engaged in the manufacture of munitions of war, or war supplies, or the construction of defence projects.
3—Every building trades employer with ten or more employees.
4—Every other private employer with fifty or more employees.

The Order does not apply to employers in agriculture or fishing, or to hospitals, religious, charitable or educational associations operated on a non-profit basis.

Wage Provisions

Except on written permission of the National War Labour Board, no employer may increase his basic wage rates. This permission can only be given in cases where the Board has found the wage rates to be low. Wage rates which are unduly high will not have to be decreased, but in such cases the Board may order the employer to defer the cost of living bonus.

Cost of Living Bonus

Every employer covered by the Order must pay to all his employees except those above the rank of foreman a wartime cost of living bonus.

Effective November 15, each employer already paying a bonus under PC 7440 of December 16, 1940, shall add to such bonus an amount based on the rise in the cost of living index for October 1941, above the index number used to determine the current amount of the bonus.

Effective February 15, 1942, each employer who has not been paying a cost of living bonus must begin to pay a bonus based on the rise in the index between October, 1941, and January, 1942, unless ordered by the Board to base the bonus on the rise in the cost of living over a longer period.

The bonus is calculated on the following basis: For each rise of one point in the cost of living the amount of the bonus shall be 25 cents per week, except for male workers under 21 years of age and female workers, who, if employed at basic rates of less than $25.00 per week, shall receive a bonus of 1 percent of their basic wage rates.

These bonuses will be adjusted regularly every three months.

Administration

The Order will be administered by five regional Boards under the direction of a National War Labour Board. Labour and employers will be represented on each of these Boards. Watch for the announcement of these Boards to which inquiries concerning the application of the Order should be directed.

Whole-Hearted Support Required

Your Government knows that this policy, as it affects labour, industry, commerce, and agriculture, demands a degree of restriction to which Canadians are not accustomed, and is directly a wartime measure. It will demand self-discipline and self-control. It will need the whole-hearted support of everyone who has the well-being of his fellow citizens at heart. But by loyal co-operation, Canadians can have much more assurance that the fears, sense of insecurity, the suffering and profiteering which inflation always brings, will neither interfere now in the winning of this war, nor in the recovery and reconstruction of Canada and the Canadian way of living after the war is over.

"At the beginning of each month the oil controller (G. R. Cottrelle) will announce how many gallons of gasoline a coupon will entitle a person to obtain and we hope it will entitle a driver to as many gallons as he will want to use."

The ration cards are expected to be ready for distribution with the 1942 License Plates.
