The Annual Meeting Of The Experimental Union.

The Annual Meeting of the Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union will be held at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, on the 12th and 13th of January.

One of the most important features of the Experimental Union is always its co-operative work amongst the farmers These experiments have become very general throughout the Province, and it is through the medium of this organization that some of the best varieties of farm crops have been introduced, and are now grown extensively, as for instance, the O. A. C. No. 21 Barley, the O. A. C. No. 72 Oats, etc. The co-operative work of the past year has been carried out along six different lines and the results should be of much interest and value.

Particular attention will be given this year to the increased production of food stuffs. There was never a time in the history of the British Empire when such close attention should be given to increased production of the real necessities of life. The following are some of the subjects which are to be discussed at the Annual Meeting: "Ontario's Opportunity in Food Production under Present Conditions;" "Bean Growing in Ontario;" "Canada's Chance in Heavy Horse Breeding" "Some Important Ways in which Farm Life in Ontario might be Improved"; "Agricultural Information Gleaned on a Recent Trip to New Zealand, Australia, China and Japan"; etc.

All sessions of the Experimental Union to be held on Tuesday and Wednesday Jan. 12th and 13th, are open to any person interested in agriculture, and every one is welcome and invited to take part in the meeting. Cheap rates have been arranged for on the certificate plan. For fuller particulars and a copy of the program apply to the Secretary, C. A. Zavitz, Agricultural College, Guelph, Ontario.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

MADE THE REPORTER BLUSH.

When the House of Lords Adjourned at His Suggestion.

There is a good Fleet street story, says a writer in the London Daily Citizen, of how a reporter once adjourned the house of lords. He had worked in the gallery of the house of lords for about a quarter of a century, and it may be that familiarity had dimmed his sense of reverence. One day there had been a stodgy little debate with a dozen members in the house, and the reporter, with his colleagues perched in the gallery, was thoroughly sick of the whole business. His feelings found outlet in a muttered remark as some noble lord on the cross benches rose to continue the debate.

"Why don't you move the adjournment?" said the reporter to himself. He said it louder than he intended, and the words reached the noble lord who had just risen. He on his part believed the words to be a private hint addressed to him from the lord chancellor, and, feeling that he could not disregard the suggestion, he said, "My lords, I move the adjournment of the debate."

Instantly the lord chancellor was on his feet from the woolsack, and their lordships' house rose for the day. Hardened as was the reporter, it is stated that as he went out he was blushing at his achievement.

MAYOR OF BIRD LAND.

How the Beautiful Lizard Canary Got Its Unique Name.

The lizard canary is one of the most unique varieties in the cage bird world. Its beautiful ground color, so nicely ticked, and pretty little "cap" make it a thing of beauty and a joy forever. It is, however, the only variety that moults out its plumage at the end of the first season. By this it is meant that, although the bird possesses so beautiful a coat for the first year, the plumage disappears altogether at the second moult.

Thus it is a show bird for only one—i. e., the first—season, and this is considered a drawback to its popularity. On account of its wearing such gay apparel for one year and then putting it aside the lizard has been aptly termed "mayor of Birdie Land."

The little story connected with the lizard and a mayor is well worth repeating. It was at a well known cage bird show being opened by Sir William Treloar, then lord mayor of London, that this celebrity in a few well chosen words likened himself unto the lizard canary, many grand specimens of which were on view at the show. The stately robes he then wore were only for a season. Such is the case with the lizard.—Boston Herald.

Mendelssohn Surprised Them.

The church of St. John's, Waterloo road, has an interesting association with Mendelssohn. The late R. J. Horsley, R. A., tells in his reminiscences how the great musician, while staying with a friend on Denmark hill—in the house where he wrote the "Spring Song"—was induced to go to St. John's one Sunday morning and give a recital on the organ. On reaching the organ loft Mendelssohn was annoyed to find himself exposed to the full view of the congregation and vented his displeasure in a thunderous improvisation which greatly startled the worshipers, used as they were to the "subdued" music then in vogue. Not being in the secret, they were still further surprised when the music ceased and the eccentric performer sprang up, clapped on his hat and abruptly left the building.—Westminster Gazette.

Treaties.

A treaty is a form of disagreement between two countries reduced to language which enables each of them to crawl out of it. It belongs in the same family as the insurance policy except that no one can understand an insurance policy, whereas a treaty reads as though it were perfectly plain until something happens that makes one of the parties to it wish to get out of it. Treaties are used for various purposes—to promote typewriting agencies, lawyers, diplomats and to furnish material for editorial writers to convey the impression that they know something of what they are writing about. The principal use of treaties, however, is to bring on wars. —Life.

Didn't Have to Ask.

Mrs. B. saw her little three-year-old daughter come from the back door of the house next door eating a cookie, and when the little lady came into the house her mother turned to her and said:

"Why, Elsie, you must not ask Mrs. K. for cookies."

"I didn't ask her, mother," said Elsie; "I know where she keeps them."—Delineator.

Ides of March.

In the calendar of old Rome the fifteenth day of the months of March, May, July and October and the thirteenth day of the rest of the months were known as Ides. In old Roman writings one hears of the "Ides of March," which is a poetic way to express the date.

KEEP YOUR TEMPER.

It Will Save Your Heart From a Lot of Unnecessary Strain.

Dr. J. Strickland Goodall, in a recent address before the Institute of Hygiene, illustrated the enormous power of the human heart in a striking way. He told his hearers to take a two pound weight in the palm of the hand, resting the elbow upon a table, and raise and lower it from the level of the elbow to the shoulder. This is exactly the work done by the heart at each beat. Do this about seventy or eighty times a minute and see how long you can keep it up. The heart keeps it up from before birth to just after death, perhaps seventy years. It never takes a rest. It never sleeps.

At each contraction the heart does enough work to lift a two pound weight one foot. The heart of a young and healthy person is almost immune to weariness or strain. But if its muscles be weakened by the accumulation of body poisons or by anaemia it is very easily strained. The heart has been known to break from the strain of sudden emotion. Anger will increase the work of the heart from 152 to 224 foot pounds a minute. Therefore, as the Scientific American says, "'Keep your temper' is good physiological advice."

Running to catch a train, running upstairs or any sudden and unusual exertion puts a great extra strain upon the heart. The healthy heart of youth is equal to such strains; not so the heart that has been weakened by disease, dissipation or old age. Dr. Goodall tested the heart of a healthy man before he ran to catch a train; it was beating 76 to the minute and doing 152 foot pounds of work a minute. He tested it immediately after the run; it was beating 180 to the minute and doing 360 foot pounds of work a minute.

VALUE OF ELASTICITY.

Shown In the Sand Blast as Well as In Catching a Ball.

A sand blast consists of a stream of sand and compressed air shot from a nozzle and is used for polishing or cutting hard materials or cleaning paint off metals, etc. It is also used for etching figures on glass. Now the question arises as to what the glass is covered with in those parts that are to remain free from etching.

A thin sheet of rubber is used, it having been found that the sharp sand particles will rebound from the rubber, although cutting deeply into the glass. As rubber is much softer than glass it seems more or less peculiar. The explanation lies in the fact that the sand particles striking the rubber take a longer time to stop than those striking the glass, and it is a law of mechanics that the longer it takes a given body to stop the smaller the force exerted on the object struck.

This is a well known phenomenon in other ways. A player catches a baseball with a backward swing of his hand instead of holding it rigid. The mitt itself allows the ball some time to stop before the stuffing is compressed sufficiently to become rigid. A pair of eyeglasses dropped on a carpet do not break, but do dropped on a cement sidewalk from the same height They have the same amount of energy to be destroyed by the body that stops them, for they fall from the same height, but the carpet took longer to stop them than the cement.

The same reasoning applies when a man is hit on the jaw and on the fleshy part of the arm with the same amount of force in each blow. Damage is done to the jaw, but not to the arm Thus, if a fat man be kicked, nothing in the world is hurt but his dignity.—Chicago Herald.

Strange, but True.

"Isn't human nature a funny thing?" said the philosopher at large. "Take the average man when he goes into the wash room of a big hotel or restaurant. If the wash room boys insist upon getting in his way by turning on the water for him, putting a towel in his hands or whiskbrooming him, their sole object of course being to extort a tip, he says to himself, 'What do they think I am, an easy mark!' But if they pay no attention whatever to him he asks himself, 'What do they think I am, a cheap skate!' Queer, isn't it?' —New York Times.

"To Get Into a Scrape."

The expression "to get into a scrape" referred at one time to any one who fell into a deer run in the forest When deer run wild in the forest they frequently cut deep gullies among the trees, due to their constantly running backward and forward over the same ground. The cuts so made in the forest were known as "deer scrapes," and it sometimes happened that a woodsman fell into them, to his great danger.

Very Brief Lesson.

Farmer (to country boarders)—Sorry that you young folks got stung How'd it happen? Spokesman—Well, you see, we were standing beside the beehive wondering how the bees made honey. I guess they must have over heard us, for they came out and gave us a few points.—Boston Transcript.

Cornwall General Hospital.

This institution provides skilled nursing and care at very moderate rates to those able to pay, and without charge to indigent persons from the three United Counties, other than the Municipal Grants.

It is kept up by:

1. Fees from paying patients.
2. Grants from the Government and Municipalities.
3. Donations and Subscriptions from Churches Corporations, Societies and Individuals, the last being the largest source of revenue.

You are asked to assist in this work

The nucleus of an endowment fund has been established by a legacy recently received, and parties remembering the Hospital in their wills may stipulate that bequests made by them shall go to this fund.

On Behalf Of Dr. Beland

Ottawa, January 6.—Major-General Sam. Hughes has cabled Lord Kitchener asking that if the proposed exchange of prisoners between the Allies and Germany takes place an effort will be made to secure the release of Hon. Dr. Beland, ex-postmaster-general, who is now detained by the Germans in Antwerp, where he was acting as surgeon in the Belgian army when the city was captured.

As a special reason for the exchange of the Canadian member of Parliament, General Hughes has informed Lord Kitchener that Dr. Beland's wife is now seriously ill n Holland.

Methodist Church Appeal

Toronto, Jan. 5.—Methodists throught the Dominion of Canada and in Newfoundland are to make a special effort to aid the Belgian people who are suffering from the privations of war. The executive of the General Conference special committee has decided that an appeal will be made in all Methodist churches for this purpose on Jan. 31, or the nearest Sunday to that date.

Municipal Elections.

The municipal elections occurred in the majority of places on Monday. In Chesterville considerable interest was manifested in the contest and as it was a straight election for the reeveship, there can be no excuses offered as to the result; and we must say it was a big surprise to many who were sure of a victory. There are many things that could be said relative to the result and the cause of it all, but we feel quite satisfied by the result, that the public are aware of the facts and voted accordingly. Mr. Keys, the defeated candidate, is a highly honored gentleman of this community, but the vote was not against him, although he was defeated. It was against some of his supporters.

The result:

Can Alien Worker Get Compensation?

Is an alien-enemy working with an Ontario firm entitled to full compensation in case of accident or industrial disease? This question has been raised in connection with the Workmen's Compensation Act. It is now being discussed by the commissioners, but will probably be referred to the Attorney-General.

The first "death" application came to hand from Cornwall on Tuesday and officials are now engaged on it. In cases of death or serious injury the compensation is delayed no longer than is necessary to establish that the applicant comes within the Act. The assessment returns for the new Act already approximate a quarter of a million dollars.

Clothing belonging to W. A. Whittaker, a well-known citizen of Peterboro,' and foot marks leading to open water in the river, are taken to indicate his suicide.

Joseph Lalonde, of the Third Con. of Lancaster, saw his barn buildings burn to the ground yesterday. Sixteen head of cattle were destroyed, a number of hens and pigs, also hay and grain. The fire is supposed to have caught from a gasoline engine. There was no insurance.
