Boy Scouts Will Hold Apple Day Saturday

The Morrisburg Boy Scout Troop will hold an Apple Day in Morrisburg on Saturday of this week, October 17th. Everyone should buy an apple when approached by the Boy Scouts, for it is one of the very finest youth movements in the world.

The Boy Scout movement is not connected to any religious denomination or sect. It is not limited in membership to any nationality. Any boy is free to join the Boy Scouts.

The movement provides a young boy with healthful relaxation and exercise and gives him instruction in useful arts and crafts. It develops his youthful energy and ability and turns this ability into useful channels. So buy an apple on Saturday when you are canvassed by the Boy Scouts. Your small investment will bring you good dividends in happy smiling faces, and in the satisfaction of having helped a little in the great Boy Scout movement.

A.F., spent about two years on the staff of The Morrisburg Leader. "Choc" also held down jobs with the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder and the Recorder and Times in Brockville, and is well known in both these towns. At present he is spending a leave in Morrisburg, with Mrs. Warner and son, Tommy.

Memorial Service on Sunday for Sgt.-Observer Keith Barkley Utman

On Sunday last the United Church in Williamsburg was filled to capacity with sorrowing friends of the late Sgt.-Observer Keith Barkley Utman, who was killed in action overseas.

Rev. C. R. Cronmiller, pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, had cancelled his services, in order to assist Mr. Lacey, of the United Church, in conducting the service.

Mr. Cronmiller opened the service by reading the Psalm and offering prayer. Rev. Lacey spoke very comfortingly, saying in part, that we are assured that those who lead a life of service while on this earth, will pass beyond the gates of death into a fuller and higher life. Such a life was that of the young man whose bravery and sacrifice of self for the higher ideals was a shining example to all.

The beautiful hymns used during the service "Saved by Grace", with the duet part taken by Robert Loucks and Donald McIntosh, and the solo, "My Task", rendered by Miss Evalene Barkley, were chosen by Keith, as were also the anthems, while he was on his embarkation leave. The Last Post was sounded by Gordon Louden of Morrisburg and the Dead March in Saul was rendered by the organist, Mrs. R. A. Merkley, after the pronouncement of the Benediction. The very fine tributes paid by Rev. R. D. Smith of Brockville and Rev. William Lister, formerly of Dundela, were read by Rev. Lacey; also a tribute from the Young Peoples' League of the United Church, prepared by Miss Aleda McIntosh, was read by Rev. Cronmiller.

A large number of the young people from the Morrisburg Collegiate Institute, members of the track and field team of which the deceased lad was a member, and a number of boys in the services, attended in a body, thus showing the high esteem held for deceased, and taking this opportunity of extending their sympathy to the parents and sister of their departed comrade.

Many beautiful floral tributes were placed in the Church from the friends and companions of K. Utman

A very kindly sympathy from their friends throughout this district is extended to the parents and sister in their bereavement.

Red Cross Sale at Williamsburg Very Successful

On Wednesday afternoon, October 7, the Picadilly parking lot at Williamsburg took the appearance of a small market when fruit, vegetables, potatoes, grain, poultry, furniture, etc., were donated to the Red Cross for an auction sale.

The crowd, although not large, bid generously and the auctioneer, Mr. Ross Morrow, who gave his services for the Red Cross, was able to dispose of all articles, which, together with a few donations of money, amounted to $303.80.

The money from the sale is to be used by the Williamsburg Township branch of the Red Cross, to send Christmas boxes to the boys of the Township who have gone overseas. Boxes will be sent to all if parents, wives, and friends will send the names and addresses to the Secretary of the Red Cross at Williamsburg before October 23rd.

The morning session opened with the president, Mrs. McIntosh, Winchester Springs, presiding. Worship service was taken by Chesterville auxiliary. The need for sympathetic fellowship in our Church was stressed. The subject "What Our Auxiliaries Should Have" was dealt with under four heads: "Dependable Officers" - Williamsburg; "Programs" - Chesterville; "Membership" - Winchester; "Creatness of Our Task" - Morrisburg.

Miss Dillabough of Elma favoured us with a delightful solo and the president, in bringing the morning session to a close said that we must first have community fellowship, in order to have national fellowship. A delicious dinner was served by the ladies of Colquhoun.

At the afternoon session, the worship service was in charge of Morrisburg Auxiliary. Interesting facts from the Montreal Conference were given and the work for Leaders of the Summer School held at Merrickville was interesting and helpful. A solo by Mrs. Fulton of Chesterville was enjoyed by all. The meeting closed with a vote of thanks by the courtesy committee.

DISTRICT SHOWERS HELD

On Tuesday evening of lat week a large gathering of friends and neighbours were present at a nicely arranged miscellaneous shower in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Merrikin, who were recently married.

Dancing with music furnished by the Morrell orchestra was enjoyed during the evening.

About 11 o'clock, the guests of honor were called to the front of the hall and an address expressing the congratulations and best wishes of all was read by Wilbert Loucks and on behalf of all present, the young couple were presented with a miscellaneous shower of useful and lovely gifts.

Mr. Merrikin, on behalf of himself and his bride made a fitting reply, expressing sincere thanks for the lovely gifts and the kind words which accompanied them, after which all joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows". After the serving of a light lunch, dancing was again resumed.

On Friday evening last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Casselman, a delightfully arranged miscellaneous shower was given in honour of their son, Ivan Casselman and his bride, the former Miss Dorothy Millward.

After about 100 friends and neighbours had assembled, the guests of honor were escorted to the front of the room. Miss Jean Strader read an address and on behalf of all present, the young couple was presented with numerous beautiful gifts.

Mr. Casselman expressed in a few words the appreciation of himself and Mrs. Casselman for the lovely gifts and the kind words which accompanied them, after which all joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows".

After a pleasant evening of dancing, games and social intercourse, lunch was served.

A very pleasant and sociable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gory Millward of Riverside when about 75 neighbours and friends gathered together on Wednesday evening in honour of their daughter, Dorothy, who was recently married to Ivan R. Casselman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Casselman of Strader's Hill.

Progressive euchre was played at twelve tables. First prizes were won by Mrs. Roy Styles and Garnet McKenzie and consolation prizes by Mrs. C. R. Rice and Alfred Carkner.

At an appropriate time during the evening, the bride and groom were called to the centre of the floor and an address from a beautifully designed bride's book was read by Miss Maxine Merkley. At the same time, on behalf of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Casselman were presented by little Misses Mary Millward and Audrey Mae Carkner with a large basket laden with gifts.

After unwrapping the gifts, Mrs. Casselman made a reply on behalf of her husband and herself, thanking their friends for their lovely and useful gifts and inviting them all to come and visit them in their new home.

All joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows", after which a dainty lunch was served, bringing to a close a very pleasant evening.

HOW CAN I?

Q. How can I avoid watery eyes when peeling onions?

A. Dip the onion for a moment into boiling water and then begin at the root and peel upwards. It will be found that this method does not affect the eyes.

Q. How can I make use of bacon rinds?

A. Save the rinds for flavoring soups and dried peas and lima beans. Spread over the top of Boston beans while baking, they take the place of the usual piece of salt pork, imparting flavor and protecting the top layer of beans from burning.

Q. How can I make an old ivory finish for woodwork or furniture?

A. An old ivory tint can be obtained by tinting light ivory paint with raw sienna and burnt umber. After this, apply a glaze coat of raw sienna mixed with burnt umber and then wipe lightly.

Q. How can I make cretonne draperies hang more evenly?

A. If cretonne draperies are lined with a soft material of a harmonizing color it will bring out the pattern of the material, and the draperies will hang more evenly.

Q. How can I keep parsley fresh for a long time?

A. Parsley, put in an airtight glass jar and then placed in the refrigerator, will stay green and fresh for a long time. This is a much better way than trying to keep it in water, where it usually turns yellow within a day or two.

Canada Halts Liquor Output

Distilleries Diverted For Manufacture of Synthetic Rubber and Chemicals

Production of beverages by Canadian distilleries will be halted Nov. 1 and the entire output diverted to war purposes, the Munitions and Supply Department announced last week.

The order issued by Chemicals Controller E. C. Sterne, has no direct effect on sales of beverages already manufactured and does not apply to the manufacture of beer and wine. There was no immediate indication of how long existing stocks of distilleries will supply present demands. Distilled liquors are stored for at least two years for maturing.

Mr. Sterne said the entire output of Canadian distilleries was required for the manufacture of synthetic rubber and chemical and explosive needs of the United Nations.

Similar action was taken in the United States. The United States war production board in Washington ordered the entire output of America's distilleries diverted into industrial alcohol for wartime purposes after Oct. 8.

Precautions In Drying Laundry

Increasing the serviceable life of textiles is all important these days to cut down consumption of raw materials, and decrease the man-hours of labor, and machine-hours used in manufacturing them.

Here are two precautions in laundering. First, don't hang laundered clothes out all day in the sunshine. Bring them in soon after they're dry. It has recently been shown that sunlight damage to fabrics is quite appreciable.

Modern Etiquette

1. What advances should be made by the two families of a man and a woman when a wedding engagement has become known?
2. Should the plates of the dinner service be of a certain dimension?
3. What is the symbolism of violets?
4. When introducing two persons, is it all right to say, "Mrs. Davis, this is Mr. Norton; Mr. Norton, Mrs. Davis"?
5. What color should be chosen for the baby's christening clothes?
6. Should one use a fork to place butter on a piece of bread or biscuit?

Answers

1. The mother and sisters of the man should call immediately on the girl and her family. Then, within a few days the girl and her family return the call. 2. No; the precise dimensions of the plates cannot be given, as they vary somewhat with the make of china. 3. Blue violets are symbolical of faithfulness, white violets of modesty. 4. No. It is altogether unnecessary to mention the names twice. 5. At the christening everything the baby wears should be white. 6. No; the knife is always used for this purpose.

When Automobiles Annoyed Farmers

The following item came from the Hanover Post files of twenty years ago. It had been reproduced then from a fifteen-year-old paper, and had appeared originally in one of the Walkerton weekly newspapers under the headline, "The Automobile Nuisance."

"In Kincardine one day last week, an automobile frightened a horse, the horse ran away, the driver was thrown out of the rig and had his leg broken. It is becoming very apparent from incidents like this that something will have to be done about these automobiles. For several years past the farmers in the vicinity of Toronto have been agitating for a law to restrain automobiles from using the public highways but so far have not been able to accomplish anything. But gradually the nuisance is becoming more general.

"Nearly every town in the province has its automobile now and some of them have more than one. The machines go scooting through the country in all directions and no road is sacred to them. Horses that are easily enough controlled in the presence of a railway train will go crazy at the sight of an automobile and accidents such as the above are happening all over the country. It will not be long before the automobile will drive the farmers off the public highways altogether unless something is done to restrain them.

"The farmers built these highways in the first place and are taxing themselves every year to keep them in repair and it must be more than a little annoying to them to be thus dispossessed by this new machine. What they ought to do is pledge every candidate for Parliament to use his vote and influence in favor of a law prohibiting automobiles from using the public highways altogether, or at least under conditions that will not interfere with traffic."

Have You Heard?

Three jovial travellers were dining together at a hotel one day, when it was agreed between them that whichever of them possessed the oldest name should be exempt from paying the cost of the dinner each one was enjoying.

The first traveller man said: "My name is Richard Eve, and that is rather old, you must admit."

The next man replied: "My name is Adam Brown; I go further than you."

The third traveller, with a merry twinkle in his eye, took his business card from his pocket and showed it to the other two, who read on it these words: "Mr. B. Ginning."

"How did you learn to use both hands equally well, Pat?"

'Sure, now, and me father, he always said to me: 'Pat, learn to cut your fingernails with yure left hand, for some day ye might be afther losing yer right hand.'"

"That new man Charlie we've got on the pumps is certainly a live wire," said the manager of the gas station.

"Really?"

"Yes. A motorist drove up just now and shouted: 'Dionne Quintuplets'!"

"That was a puzzler, wasn't it?"

"Not to Charlie. He simply said, 'Yes, sir,' and gave him five gals.!"

Garage Mechanic — What's the trouble, lady?

Mrs. Newdriver — They say that I have a short circuit. Can you lengthen it while I wait, please?

A candidate for parliament declaimed: "The people of this country must grow more wheat."

"How about hay?" yelled a heckler.

"I'm talking about food for mankind," retorted the candidate, "but I'll get around to your case in a minute."

Host—Ay, mon, it's a terrible nicht. Ye mon hae a strong whusky-and-lemon — when ye get hame.

Alaska Highway Soon To Be Used

1,600 Mile Route Being Completed Ahead of Schedule

The Alaska Highway will be ready for use about Dec. 1, War Secretary Henry Stimson announced and traffic is expected to move steadily over its 1,600 miles until spring thaws make it impassable in April and May.

Not only is the highway being completed months ahead of schedule, Stimson said, but instead of the contemplated rough "pioneer" road, the "highway as it is now being constructed by the corps of engineers is a well-graded, well-drained truck road for practically its entire length and will afford two-way traffic over many long stretches."

Stimson said that muskeg, the bog moss that was expected to give the highway an unsteady base over long stretches and provide some of the worst problems of the undertaking, had proved to be a minor consideration.

Connects With Railways

The highway, beginning at Dawson Creek, B.C., runs northwest to Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, and then crossed the Alaskan boundary, terminating at Fairbanks. It connects with the rail and highway systems of Southern Canada and the United States at Dawson Creek, and not only provides a motor highway to Alaska, but serves also as a feeder route for various military airfields which previously had to depend on air transport alone for all supplies.

Army arrangements for winter maintenance of the road include rest camps for the operators of truck convoys, barracks for engineer maintenance troops, and weather observation and telephone installations the length of the highway.

Construction began in March. After aerial surveys and ground reconnaissance on foot, bulldozers, tractors and other heavy equipment were put to work on the actual road building.

WHAT SCIENCE IS DOING

RUBBER LATEX

So you'd give your shirt to help win the war? Of course you would.

Well, Baby's beaten you to it, Science Service points out, for he's already given his pants. In the United States they're wrapped around the army's telephone lines.

How rubber latex that used to be used in making necessary articles of infant's wear now goes into insulation for light-weight communication lines was related before the Eighth Annual Chemurgic Conference at Chicago, by Dr. M. C. Teague, research chemist of the United States Rubber Company. The latex-insulated telephone wire is produced by a multiple dip process using a special latex compound. It weighs only 30 pounds per mile, as compared with 168 pounds per mile of the older-type wire. The government has already ordered more than 100,000 miles of the new wire, enough to go four times around the earth.

The list of latex articles used in war is a long one. It includes bullet-proof fuel tanks for airplanes, life rafts, pilot balloons, gas masks, aviators' helmets, blackout paint, sponge cushioning for use in tanks, submarines, gunsight eyepieces and a thousand other things.

All of this has meant, of course, that civilians have had to get along without the two-way-stretch fabrics that have come to be standard parts of bathing suits, foundation garments, shoe tops and "elastic" generally.

Again the rubber industry has come to the rescue. Dr. Teague told about a new "synthetic" latex made from reclaimed rubber.

$15,000 To Train U. S. Navy Aviator

Texas athletic coaches who attended a U.S. Navy physical fitness school get a dollar-and-cents valuation of proper training.

It costs the U.S. Government $15,000 to train a Navy aviator, Lt. Wesley Brown explained. If a flier is forced down from immediate rescue, his physical fitness probably will determine whether he returns to fight again.

Fliers who get back to their squadron thus save considerable expense and time of the armed forces.

Cannibals Prove Good Workmen

Cannibals make good laborers for Uncle Sam, reports Capt. Martin Teem, U.S. infantry officer.

He said cannibals, soldiers, sailors and marines all were working together in construction of a strategic airfield in the South Pacific.

"Needing labor," said Captain Teem, "we sent a sergeant to an adjoining island to get labor recruits.

"When he got to the village the cannibals were just finishing a feast. The main dish was 10 women stolen from a neighboring tribe. It seems the rival tribe stole the wife of the chief and this tribe retaliated by stealing the other chief's 10 wives. So the sergeant says.

"It was known these were cannibals, but friendly to the whites. They only eat each other.

"The sergeant dickered and they agreed to come over and help us for a certain period. They'd heard of the good treatment and good wages Americans gave other natives and they were glad to try it.

SERIAL STORY

SPORTING BLOOD

BY HARRY HARRISON KROLL

CHAPTER IX

A VISITOR

After Strickland Ballard had left, Hunter sat on his cot wanting somehow to laugh, though it was much nearer a crying matter. Ballard had come with a vague hope of fastening the crime on Hunter. His real reason was to shield poor Junior. Because Hunter's motive all along had been pretty much the same thing, it might seem as if they could get together. The trouble was that Hunter Dent was not quite prepared to carry a crime of which he was innocent to save another who seemed guilty.

Whatever Ballard's call, it took him hastily away. When Anderson came for Hunter to talk over the telephone, he laughed ironically.

"If I have any more high-and-mighty guests like you, Dent, I aim to install a private phone. There you are."

"Hello," Hunter said.

"This is Tracy Hannings. I can't be with you until 10 o'clock. Will that be time enough?"

"Okay. We'll make it time enough."

"Don't talk, don't say a word, until I've gone over everything with you." He hung up.

Hunter returned to his cell. Anderson obligingly brought the morning paper. Aside from the war news, the most interesting thing to Hunter was the dope on the local mystery. The girl, Sarah Kiker, had been released. The police would be watching her every moment to discover her escort the night of the murder. The long-expected break in the ordnance plant scandal came. The elder Ghibardo had been arrested in the charge of fraud in the contracts for building the great plant, and his case would come up in Federal Court. The First National, and other local financial interests, were allegedly involved. Other financial interests meant Strickland Ballard, who had his finger in every pie that came along. Perhaps it was this involvment that had taken Ballard away so quickly.

Tracy Hannings came at the appointed time. They went over the whole matter, detail by detail.

"Waive preliminary hearing," Hannings advised. "I'll get your case before Judge Elkhart by tomorrow, and arrange to get you out on bond. Who would go your bond—got any friends?"

"The only person whose name might look worth the ink it took to write it is Strickland Ballard's."

Hannings gave a short laugh. "Well, it won't hurt you to stay in jail a few weeks anyhow."

* * *

During the afternoon Hunter entertained himself looking out his single window. The autumn afternoon of Middleton. The jail overlooked the river, and the old water-front section of town where the stick-up had been staged. It was a mean, dismal, but picturesque mixture of dirty warehouses, old rickity buildings, poor dwellings in need of light and paint and sanitation. River rats, thieves, gamblers, riff-raff of all sorts, inhabited the neighborhood. Down there were plenty who would have esteemed it the opportunity of a lifetime to kill a man and take $17,000 off him. But what on earth was the messenger from the bank doing in that section of town with the bag of money on him, at such a time of night? And even more mysterious was the manner the thugs had found out the messenger was on his way. The killers had to know beforehand a lot of things that somebody was going to be red in the face trying to answer.

"That brings up young Temple. He is the lad whose face is going to be red before all this is over!" Hunter concluded.

Hunter got a pretty good night's sleep that night, and the next morning at 9 o'clock he faced Judge Elkhart and heard his bond fixed at $10,000. Hannings took Hunter back to jail. Hunter didn't feel so good. Nor did his feelings look up as he saw the day pass. Always an active outdoor man, this enforced idleness was killing him. He slept fitfully, dreaming of Junior Ballard's dying, of the lost money; and questions about why the money was moving, and where, tormented his half dreams. After breakfast the next morning Anderson came to his door.

"Visitor," the sheriff announced. He let Bella Ballard in. "Rattle the door when your want to leave, Miss Ballard," he said when he left.

The season of rain and gloom had passed. Red was in autumn colors—brown, dark reds; and with her hair and bright color she was so pretty that it hurt Hunter. He tried to think of her against Tisdale's jealousy, against her father's expressed fear that Hunter might get into the family. He wished he could feel as sanguine. She sat on the other end of the cot.

"They think Junior has a chance now. The doctors won't allow him to speak, to see any of us. But Dr. Ferguson thinks if no complications set in he will get well."

Hunter said warmly, "Well, I'm proud to hear that, Red. I really am."

She looked around and grinned. "I like your apartment, Hunter."

"No wisecracks, please. Or I'll have Anderson lock you up with me."

"I think I would like that."

"Like grief! I'd tear these jail walls down to escape anything like that!"

"Love that would burst through jail walls and jump heavy bond awes me. If you really would like to get out of here, at least temporarily, I bet it could be arranged."

"You BET it could be arranged! So more of that. I've seen the fruits of such wickedness, and I'm fed up on the flavor."

She said, with mock sadness, "You don't like the Ballard family trait very much, do you, Hunter—I mean the sporting instinct which is such a marked characteristic of ours."

"No—bluntly, I don't care for it at all."

She got up with a laugh, did a supple skip and swing, and stopped before the window. "Delicious view you have."

"Sez you," Hunter grumbled, running his hands through his hair.

* * *

She came and looked down at him, and tousled his hair. "So you don't like us?"

"I didn't say that. I don't like this so-called sporting blood you all have. Granting that life is pretty much of a gamble, there are still enough good laws in the universe for anybody to live by."

"Come on," she urged. "It's a good text and the sermon should be uplifting. Your idea is use your brains, work hard, be honest, early to bed and early to rise."

"You can't make me ashamed of the old-fashioned virtues. I guess we can be realistic."

"Please!" she begged. "When folks go realistic they are usually disagreeable."

"Just the same, when Junior gets out of the woods he is still likely to be in a jam. I've been trying pretty hard to shield him. But I can't do it and get my neck in the noose. You and I know Junior's involved in this nasty business. My idea is that young Temple gave the secret of the money movement away. Someone bet Junior he could not intercept the messenger, stage a fake stick-up, and get away with it. Now the messenger is dead, the money's gone, Junior's shot, I'm in jail, your daddy is about to have a nervous break-down, and — well, isn't that enough? Wouldn't you be sold on the old-fashioned platitudes if they would have prevented this, as they would?"

She was smiling when he looked up at her loweringly. She had an insolent and beautiful way of standing, her hand on her hip, just eyeing him.

"I'll lay you a wager, Hunter."

He said crossly, "Go play like you're a squirrel and run up and down a tree and bark."

"I'll wager you your freedom, terribly as you profess to hate us—"

"I never said I hated you."

"—saturated as your evil heart is with a desire for revenge, that in no time at all you will be asking me to marry you, and what's more, I might say yes, and we'd be married!"

"Red, will you please run along? Will you? I'd hate to—"

"It's on the barrelhead," she laughed. She rattled the door for Anderson to let her out.

An hour later Sheriff Anderson was back. "Get your knitting. They've got the hot-seat ready and are fixing to burn the seat of your pants out. Come along."

Record Set For Ship Construction

Ten days after its keel was laid, the 10,500-ton Liberty freighter Joseph N. Teal slid into the Willamette River at Portland, Ore.

Thus the Henry J. Kaiser Oregon shipbuilding yards trimmed a full fourteen days from the record for ship construction.

Work on the Teal began at 12.01 a.m. Sept. 23. 240 hours later, some of the hundreds of men working on the hull began clearing the way for launching.

When the Teal hit the water she was 87 per cent complete, said Albert Bauer, assistant general manager of the yard. Ordinarily a vessel is 79 per cent finished at launching.

Seafood Casserole

Sometime ago we wrote in this column about a dinner cooked all in one dish. This is a fish dinner and is suitable for Fridays and other fast days and presents a solution for economy and labor saving.

The answer is as easy as one, two, three — first quality canned fish, a medley of vegetables, and buoyant biscuits keeping every thing shipshape.

Pare and dice enough potatoes to measure 2½ cups. Plunge these into boiling salted water and add immediately 1 chopped onion and ½ cup chopped raw celery. Cook until tender and drain. Save the vegetable stock to use later in the recipe.

Next will be required 1½ cups flaked fish. When you have drained off the oil and flaked the fish mix it with ¾ cup canned peas, ½ pimento cut in strips, and one eighth teaspoon pepper. Stir in the cooked vegetables (potatoes, celery and onion).

Grease a 1½ quart heat resistant glass baking dish. Place in it the fish mixture and pour over it ½ cup cegetable stock and ½ cup milk perked up with a few drops of lemon juice. Use a fork to blend the liquid and solid into a smooth texture. Dot with bits of butter using in all two tablespoons.

That is almost a meal right there. But fluffy sea-going biscuits crowning such glory will turn any dinner into a gala event. Use your favorite biscuit recipe. Cut dough into small biscuits and arrange on top of the fish mixture. Place in hot oven for about 20 minutes. When the biscuits are brown rush this hot pungent dish to the table.

Just one thing more,—do not forget a glass of that tart currant jelly.

Peanut Loaf

1 cup freshly ground peanuts
1 cup mashed potatoes
1 cup bread crumbs
1 egg
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon butter

Combine the peanuts, potatoes or rice if desired, and bread crumbs. Beat the egg; add milk and the seasonings. Add to the first mixture. Add melted butter and place in a greased loaf tin. Set in a pan of water and bake in an oven of 350°F. for about 35 minutes. Serve at once with well-seasoned tomato sauce.

Delicate Orange Pudding

4 slices bread
2 tablespoons butter
Pulp from 2 navel oranges (1 cup)
3 eggs
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons grated orange peel
½ cup milk

Butter bread and cut in cubes. Place in buttered casserole or custard cups with orange pulp. Beat whites of eggs until stiff, add sugar and continue beating until well blended. Add egg yolks and then add milk; stir into beaten egg whites. Pour over bread and oranges and bake in moderate oven 350°F. about 40 minutes.

Fruit Scones

2 cups sifted cake flour
2¼ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
4 tablespoons butter
1½ teaspoons grated orange rind
½ cup finely chopped seedless raisins
2 eggs
⅓ cup light cream

Sift flour once and measure; add baking powder, salt and sugar, then sift again. Cut in shortening. Add raisins and orange. Reserve about one-third of the egg white for glaze. Beat the remaining eggs well and add the cream. Add all at once to the flour mixture and stir until flour is dampened. Then stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around the bowl. Turn out at once on slightly floured board and knead for ½ minute. Roll ½ inch thick and cut in triangles. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Beat top lightly with reserved egg white slightly beaten. Bake in hot oven 12 to 15 minutes.

Corn Syrup Cookies

1 cup corn syrup
½ cup brown sugar
1 cup butter
2 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
3½ cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ cup top milk
1 cup chopped raisins

Cream sugar and butter and add corn syrup. Add eggs and beat well. Add vanilla and salt. Alternately with milk add the flour mixture into which has been sifted the soda, salt and baking powder. Lastly add the raisins and stir batter well. Drop by spoonfuls on greased cookie pan. Flatten out thin and sprinkle with nutmeats. Bake in moderate oven about 12 minutes.

HOUSOLDIERS— Attention!

Here's the Answer to Your Question

If you cannot get Crown Brand Syrup from your favourite grocer now and then, here is the reason. Because "Crown Brand" in addition to its other uses is being very generally used to help supplement the supply of sugar in Canadian Homes, the demand has increased tremendously.

Though there has been a much greater amount of Crown Brand syrup produced this year, even this increased supply cannot cope with the shortage of millions of pounds of sugar.

Don't hoard ... buy normally ... we are making every effort to supply the increased demand, and your grocer will do his best to fill your needs.

New Blouses Show Variety In Style

Blouses have truly come into their own this year. Their variety in style makes it possible to change the look of that basic suit to fit almost any occasion. An extra skirt or two takes away the almost.

The new fall blouses offer quite a departure from the classic shirt theme, although that is still the big volume seller.

Two practical considerations have been taken into account this season. One is the return of the over-blouse for the woman who desires the effect of a two-piece dress. The other is the use of warm fabrics in varied styles. Wartime jersey, 65 percent wool and 35 percent cotton, is one of the newly developed fabrics which is extensively used.

Looped wool fringe, lace, novel lingerie trimming and spangles add distinctive touches.

Wooden Ships

In these days of steel ships the extent to which the British forests of oak were reduced to provide ships to fight the wars of other days is not often appreciated. From keel to completion one "wooden wall" would require a forest to itself. Two thousand oak trees at least 100 years old had to be felled for a warship of Nelson's time.

ROLL OUT THE APPLE BARREL

Recipes-of-the-Month Call for the "King of Fruits" In Late Fall Desserts

By BARBARA B. BROOKS

Spring has its young lamb and tender greens, summer its berries, but autumn can call the Apple, king of fruits, its own. A year-round favourite, the apple is at its juiciest in the late fall when it reaches the market straight from the ripening orchards. Once in the kitchen, the apple starts on a brilliant career of tasty, pungent-smelling dishes.

Three new apple recipes that will win laurels at any table are Apple Flake Betty — a crispy combination of corn flakes and apples in a simple yet satisfying pudding; Apple Crunch, another apple-inspired dessert and the last word in pies — Apple Pie Moderne. Below are the recipes.

Apple Flake Betty

5 cups corn flakes
3 cups sliced apples
¾ cup sugar, granulated or brown
cinnamon
3 tablespoons butter

Put layer of corn flakes in buttered casserole. Cover with layer of apples. Add half the sugar; sprinkle with cinnamon and dot with a third of the butter. Add another layer of corn flakes, remaining apples and sugar. Sprinkle with cinnamon and dot with more butter. Put layer corn flakes on top; dot with remaining butter and sprinkle with a little sugar. Cover casserole and bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 35 minutes or until apples are soft. Serve hot or cold with cream.

Yield: 6 servings.

Note: Add about 2 tablespoons water to strudel before baking if apples are not juicy. Sprinkle a few drops lemon juice over apples if they are not tart.

Apple Crunch

6 cups sliced tart apples
1¼ cups light brown sugar
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
4 cups corn flakes
½ cup melted butter

Arrange apples in baking dish. Cover with one cup of brown sugar, nutmeg and lemon rind. Roll corn flakes into fine crumbs and combine with remaining sugar and butter. Sprinkle on top of apples. Bake in moderate oven (350-375°F.) about forty-five minutes or until apples are done. Serve with cream.

Yield: 6 servings (9 x 9-inch dish).

Apple Pie Moderne

6 cups corn flakes (1½ cups fine crumbs)
1 quart pared, sliced apples
½ cup sugar
½ cup butter
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter

Roll corn flakes into fine crumbs. Melt butter, add sugar gradually and mix with crumbs. Reserve ⅓ this mixture; press the rest evenly over bottom and sides of pie pan.

Fill pie shell with apples; sprinkle with ½ cup sugar mixed with cinnamon. Dot with 2 tablespoons butter; sprinkle remaining crumbs over top and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) for ½ hour, reduce heat to 300°F. and bake 1 hour longer, until apples are tender.

Yield: One 9-inch pie.

CAMEO HIGHLIGHTS

"TWO YANKS IN TRINIDAD", coming for Mon.-Tues.,Wed., Oct. 26, 27, p8, gives Pat O'Brien and Brian Donlevy full opportunity to give their best in acting and amusement, and is one of the best pictures these two have yet appeared in. You'll enjoy every minute of it.

"MY FAVOURITE SPY" is one fine comedy with grand music, and we know you will be delighted with it. It is by all odds by far the best picture in which Kay Kyser has appeared, but he is not yet by any means the whole show, as Jane Wyman and the others in the cast excel themselves in making "My Favourite Spy" one of the funniest pictures you have seen this year. Here for October 29-30-31.

On November 2-3-4, we will have a picture that we want all lovers of beautiful singing to see. The world-famous Welsh Singers, whom you enjoyed in How Green Was My Valley, are very much out in front with their wonderful voices and are supported by the renowned Paul Robeson, one of the world's greatest singers. Apart from the music, "PROUD VALLEY" is a fine picture—so do not miss it.

Coming along in November will be ADVENTURES OF MARTIN EDEN, Jack London's famous story, Betty Grable and Victor Mature in I WAKE UP SCREAMING, REMEMBER THE DAY, and many others.

LOAN CAMPAIGN OPENS ON MONDAY; OBJECTIVE $175,000

The campaign for the Third Victory Loan of the war, with a national objective of $750,000,000 opens on Monday. The objective for Williamsburg Township has been set at $175,000, or an increase of $15,000 over our local objective in the last loan campaign.

It hardly seems necessary to use up space, extolling the merits of Victory Bonds as an investment, or the dire consequences which will befall if we should lose this war because we have not enough money to buy ammunition or weapons, or to pay our fighting men, or to clothe and feed them properly. That is all old stuff. We all know it thoroughly.

We know that the money is needed badly right now. We have reached the stage, where actual military operations on Continental Europe are a feasability. Even though a general offensive there may still be some distance away, it is in view. And that, we are convinced will mean a successful and a quick end to the war. That is what the money is needed for now. And with that in view, we look for an early oversubscription of the loan. The sooner we can get this war over with and return to a peaceful life, the better we will all like it.

Although some defeatists may tell you that the money just isn't in the country, there are statistics which prove them in error on this point. In 1938, before the war, deposits in Canadian banks totalled $2,400,000,000, whereas at present deposits are approximately $3,200,000,000. That shows a difference of $800,000,000 or $50,000,000 more than the amount asked for in this loan. In all other Victory Loan campaigns, the people of Williamsburg township substantially oversubscribed their quotas in the alloted time. There is no reason to think that they will do otherwise this time. Let's get it done early!

A REMARKABLE LIAR

"The press of Canada is not only under censorship, but is directed what it must say", said Col. Robert McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, in an address Monday to an American editorial association.

Commenting on the colonel's statement, the Ottawa Journal says: "He is a remarkable liar". That remark describes Col. McCormick rather well, but not we think sufficiently.

Col. McCormick's own newspaper, The Tribune, has built up a large circulation and a powerful influence by questionable gangster methods.

Col. McCormick, by that very remark is marked, if he had never been marked before, as a dangerous foe of Canada and the United Nations. And that includes the great country which allows him the privilege of speaking what thoughts pass through his warped mind,—the United States.

Col. McCormick is a friend of the Axis nations. That being the case, he cannot be other than an enemy of his own country and ours. — A dog that would bite the hand that feeds him.

The press of Canada is remarkably free. Our news services and our newspapers, are among th e finest in the world. And to attain that greatness they didn't have to go snivelling around behind any crazy paper-hanger either.

Next time you order a new suit from your tailor, you will learn, if you do not know already, that you may not have a second pair of pants from trat particular piece of cloth. But you can walk over to the racks of pants and buy all you want of an other pattern. Or you can buy all the pants you want from other suitings. Still, it is agin the law to have a second pair of pants to match the first. Whoever thought that one up really did a day's work. But we hope he stays idle for a long time in the future.

And how as school children we cheerfully looked forward to this day. It was a holiday. And it was in our childhood that we learned about Queen Victoria. How our parents honored her. She seemed to possess every virtue which appealed to them. Queen Victoria was honored and revered as no previous sovereign had been. Her life was an example to the humblest subject in the realm, and this fact accounts for her birthday having been set apart as a holiday and kept until 1942.

GIVE US MORE MEN WHO CAN GET RESULTS, AND FEWER ORATORS

From time to time when recruiting lags, both the army and the air force resort to recruiting campaigns, designed to promote interest in the services.

In a display advertisement being run currently by the R. C. A. F., we noticed these lines: "Lack of formal schooling (such as High School) is no longer a bar to enlistment". At the beginning of the war, standards of education for candidates for the air force were extremely high, and if a young man had not completed his senior matriculation, he was just about washed up so far as aircrew jobs were concerned. Now, however, all that is changed. The air force, and other services as well, are finding out that a fighting man who has no B. Sc., or Ph. D. after his name can and does make just as good (and in many cases, better) a fighting man as his brother or neighbour or cousin, who attended Bazooka University for umpteen years and has all the degrees from A to Z.

Because Canada is a part of the British Commonwealth of Nations, and because certain Englishmen are, in some quarters though snobbish, we too, are sometimes accused of the same snobbishness. That charge, is no worry, however to the rank and file of the Canadian army or air force. They are writing their names gloriously in history, with their brave deeds on every front. But to us, that charge should be a challenge Let us remember that this country is a democracy. And let us keep our army and air force democratic. In other words, let us give equal opportunities and equal recognition to every man. They can't all be generals. They can't all be decorated for valor. They can't all be college men. But don't forget that it was mostly privates who fought on the beaches at Dieppe, and at Dunkirk. It is mostly N. C. O.'s who are fighting the battle in the skies.

Let us have more of these good fighting men, and fewer of the soapbox generals, who can give a great speech, but who, when it comes to a fight, aren't worth a tinkers dam.

SHOULD USE DISCRETION IN ALL TEMPERANCE MEASURES

The Dominion Government has ordered the Canadian distilleries to cease the manufacture of alcoholic beverages after November 1, of this year, not possibly, as a temperance measure, but in order that the capacity of the distilleries for the manufacture of alcohol might be utilized in the manufacture of synthetic rubber and explosives. So far, so good. But the prohibitionists, who refer sanctimoniously to themselves as "temperance advocates" have greeted the announcement of the order as a concession to them, and are now light on for the closing of the beverage rooms. That might not be such a bad idea either, although if it were to be done, a new lot of liquor legislation would have to be enacted.

Experience has taught us all except those who have no wish to be taught, that prohibition just won't work. The money will be spent on liquor in even greater amounts than at present, if prohibition legislation were enacted. You never saw nor heard of a bootlegger who sold his stuff at the same rates as government stores. Neither did we. And in addition, their booze is generally doctored, and even more harmful to the human constitution than the kind we now purchase through the agency of our provincial governments.

And in any scheme to save for the government all or part of the money now spent on drink, you must enter in the debit side of your ledger, the amount it would take to pay for increased police forces to cope with the bootleggers.

We think that far more can be accomplished along this line, if the government would start a campaign, asking the citizens voluntarily to cut their liquor consumption, rather than to legislate all liquor out. That is a costly and cumbersome business, and furthermore, and more important, it just won't work.

The Chicago Tribune, a violently anti-British newspaper, has got in dutch with the United States government. The Tribune, which always considered itself above the law, published a news story about the Japanese attack on Midway Island, contrary to censorship, and now must answer for it to an investigating committee. It is the first serious action taken by the United States Government against a large newspaper in this war.

We will push on to Victory!

WHEN FRANCE FELL, and Britain stood with her back to the wall, one strong jaw jutted out, and the grip of one clenched fist shook the Empire.

It was Churchill hurling Britain's decision across the channel. Quit? . . . Never! . . . Fight? . . . Yes, through the hell of adversity till victory is won.

• • • • • •

Today Canadians face challenge after challenge with the same unconquerable spirit. Today we are asked to do without so that our fighting men will have everything they need—when they smash straight into the heart of enemy defences.

Canada's ringing answer to this latest challenge will be:

"Yes, we'll fight with the last ounce of our strength, and the last dollar we can earn and save."

Canada's Victory Loan drive opens Monday. Canada's Victory Loan representative will ask for your answer soon.

Will it be "No, I do not choose to do my part"?

Or will it be "Yes! Yes!! Yes!!! I will buy Victory Bonds! I will lend all my support to help make victory sure."

You will be laying up for yourself the best of all investments—VICTORY BONDS are backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada; they yield a fair rate of interest; you can borrow against them; and they are readily saleable when you need the cash

HOW TO BUY

Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters! Or you can authorize your employer to start a regular payroll-savings plan for you. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1000 and larger. Salesman, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

BOOSTING THE WAR EFFORT

FREE WAR SAVINGS STAMPS; NEWS FROM OFFICIAL BULLETINS

This paper and the advertisers in this space will each week for a 26 week period, boost the war effort in two special ways — first by keeping up an interest in War Savings Stamps by giving 4 stamps free each week (2 each to the persons whose names will appear in different advertisements). Simply locate your name, clip out the advertisement and present it at the Leader Office and you will receive 2 War Savings Stamps free. The second boost will be in the form of information published on this page each week taken from the official bulletins reaching this office from various government sources. These items will be about rationing, price control, unemployment insurance, etc., all of which affects our daily living, and of interest to everyone. We suggest that you clip this information out each week and file it in a scrap book for later reference.

TIME EXTENDED FOR HARVESTER'S SUGAR

In view of the lateness of harvesting in different parts of the country due to climatic conditions and shortage of manpower, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has announced that until October 31st, housewives may procure extra sugar at the rate of one ounce per man per meal for the feeding of harvest crews. This sugar may be procured from their regular suppliers by signing invoices (to be forwarded to ration officers by the suppliers) which show the amounts sold, the number of harvesters involved in each sale, the harvest period for which the sugar was supplied and the address of each purchaser. These invoices will form the basis for the issue of special purchase permits by ration officers to enable retailer to replenish their stores. It is emphasized, however, that this arrangement affects only sugar supplies for harvesting crews and that extra tea and coffee cannot be obtained.

SET MAXIMUM PRICES FOR SCRAP MATERIALS

Under an order of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, maximum prices have been established for transactions in brass, copper, bronze, tin lead, nickel and aluminum scrap. Classification of usable grades of non-ferrous scrap is also defined by this order, which does not affect iron and steel scrap prices. Everything from the housewife's old copper boiler to automobile and aeroplane parts is covered by the order.

WHOLESALE CEILING OF BEEF ELEVATED

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has announced an upward revision of the wholesale ceiling price of beef and stricter control of retail prices, which will also increase correspondingly. The revision involves an increase of $1.50 per hundredweight in the wholesale price for the autumn period ending on ovember 30. The basic Toronto maximum price will therefore be $17..25 per hundredweight, with the usual differentials for the other 14 zones throughout the Dominion. Seasonal increases will commence in December and will continue on a graduated scale until the seasonal peak of $19.50 for good commercial beef and $20 (both being Toronto prices) for "red brand" beef is reached next June..

MR. FARMER: You have increased your Pork Production by 119 per cent. You have increased your Beef Production by 20 per cent. You fed all the grain you had last year. There is more feed grain in Canada this year than can be fed. There is a market for all the hogs and cattle that you can feed this year. Average prices for hogs and cattle during the coming year will be higher than the average for the past year. We know that you will continue to produce all you can. Your splendid war effort is appreciated by Canada and the United Nations.

A Critical POWER SHORTAGE THREATENS OUR WAR EFFORT

Save ELECTRICITY IN THE HOME

Our mounting production of weapons of war places an ever-increasing demand on Hydro for more and more electricity. Today there is not enough for every need. The drain on vital power is serious. Remember this . . . when you're using a toaster, grill, waffle-iron, coffee-maker or electric range . . . turn the switch 'OFF' promptly as soon as the job is done. Divert more and more power to our industries. Electricity is urgently needed to produce the vital weapons of war. SAVE IT.

HERE ARE SUGGESTIONS HOW YOU CAN DO YOUR PART

- Remember that stored heat in your electric range oven will continue the cooking process after power is turned 'OFF'. Plan to use this stored heat and save electricity.
- Turn 'ON' such appliances as coffee-makers, sandwich toasters, waffle-irons and grills only when you are ready to use them.
- Operate your toaster only as toast is required; do not leave 'ON' when not toasting.
- Save on lights, don't use two if one will do. Never leave lights 'ON' in empty rooms.
- Remember the turning 'ON' or leaving 'ON' of one unnecessary switch is a waste of power urgently needed in the present emergency.

Clear telephone lines for
ALL-OUT PRODUCTION

Your telephone is part of a vast interlocking system now carrying an abnormal wartime load. Don't let needless delays hold up messages on which production efficiency may depend.

OTHER "WARTIME TELEPHONE TACTICS"

1. BE SURE you have the right number... consult the directory.
2. SPEAK distinctly, directly into the mouthpiece.
3. ANSWER promptly when the bell rings.
4. BE BRIEF. Clear your line for the next call.

These things may look trifling, but on 6,500,000 daily telephone calls, they are very important.
