Winchester Hospital joins area hospitals in predicting deficit

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader Staff

WINCHESTER—Hospital director James Egan says he expects that like some other area hospitals, Winchester Hospital will be finishing this fiscal year in the red.

"We will have a `substantial deficit for the end of the fiscal year in March, 1991," said Egan Thursday.

"It's difficult to balance a budget when faced with extra costs." he added.

Last year's budget was $11.5 million, but the hospital is having difficulty keeping operating costs in line.

Operating costs have risen because of legislation bringing in an employer health levy, and pay equity.

A two-year arbitrated union settlement totalling a 15 per cent increase has also increased costs.

In the same two-year period, the hospital only received an overall increase of nine per cent in government funding.

"We're not alone in the troubled situation," said Egan referring to financial difficulties experienced by five of six city hospitals in the region.

A story in the December 5 edition of The Ottawa Citizen quoted figures ranging between $100,000 and $700,000 as expected deficits for hospitals in Pembroke, Smiths Falls, Cornwall and Brockville.

Just how high Winchester Hospital's deficit would be he couldn't predict, but suggested it could range anywhere from between $100,000 to over $500,000.

While Winchester Hospital didn't have a deficit last year, it had a $210,000 deficit in 1988, and for each of four years previous.

Egan suggested the hospital would have a better idea of this year's deficit in the spring when the province presents their allocations.

"The new government is having a difficult time with their $3 million deficit," Egan admitted.

Last week, SDG MPP Noble Villeneuve attempted to meet with Health Minister Evelyn Gigantes to request an increase in operating funding, and to request confirmation of the first $2 million in funding for the $6 million renewal project.

"The money was promised by former Minister of Health, Elinor Caplan. However, nothing was in writing," said Villeneuve.

The third objective was to request approval for funding to complete the project.

Contacted Friday, Villeneuve reported, "We got the word from the ministry we couldn't meet with the Minister unless she gave the OK to have a meeting."

Villeneuve explained that he sent a note to the Minister in the Legislature, and received her message to the effect that the Winchester Hospital accounts were undergoing review along with the accounts of other hospitals for the period of 1990-1991.

The Minister added she would be checking into the exact circumstances of Winchester Hospital.

For this reason, she didn't recommend another meeting at this time.

However, the hospital board and executive director would be willing to go to Toronto at the drop of a hat to meet with the ministry.

Egan could not be reached for a follow-up by Tuesday at press time.

"With capital improvements coming on stream it's difficult. That's why we must have confirmation of the first part of funding," said Villeneuve.

The other problem is the budgetary deficit which may amount up to $500,000.

"They may be able to pay the interest on the debt, but can't repay the capital.

They were underfunded before, and it's too large a deficit to be picked up over several years," he explained.

Villeneuve suggested the Ministry "block-fund" the deficit now in order to eliminate further accumulation of debt.

The Ministry of Health is currently in the process of striking the 1991-1992 budget.

Angel tree provides gifts for 109 children this year

KIM TOSHACK
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—Residents of Morrisburg and the surrounding area have again may the Morrisburg and District Lion's Club's Angel Tree a huge success.

This year, 109 names were taken from the United Counties Department of Social Services, and all were bought Christmas gifts. Last year, 83 children were represented on the Angel Tree.

The program was "very successful, very well received," said Jack Notman, past president of the Morrisburg Lions Club, and organizer for the tree.

The tree, which was again set up in the Bank of Nova Scotia in Morrisburg, was available until December 10, at which time all gifts had to be returned, unwrapped.

At this point, the gifts must be wrapped and sent to the House of Lazarus in Dundela, where they will be distributed along with the South Dundas Christmas Exchange food baskets.

"It's great," said Notman, "that all of these children will now receive gifts."

But according to Notman, others have benefitted from the tree as well.

"When we picked up the gifts, it was apparent that they were bought in local stores," he said. "You could tell by the bags they came in."

As well as the gifts bought for the kids on the Angel Tree, donations have been coming in also.

As Notman stated, local businesses have been donating gift wrap and other miscellaneous items. Even the tree in the bank was donated.

Other donations included money donations, and donations of gifts, such as the presents left over from the Christmas party at Caldwell's in Iroquois.

Many people bought gifts without having an angel, stated Notman.

Due to the fact that the Angel Tree idea has been such a success in the last two years, discussions are already taking place on plans for next year.

One idea mentioned by Notman was decorating the angels further and allowing participants to keep it each year as a memento of the child bought for.

Because nothing is definite for next year yet, other ideas are being discussed as well.

Hospital gets Christmas present
Jean Lamb, representing the Morrisburg Knox Presbyterian Church Women's Club, and the Women's Missionary Society, had a healthy $1,000 donation for the Winchester Hospital renewal project on Thursday. Hospital director James Egan, at right, received the cheque which will go to redecorating a patient's room. The fundraising committee hopes to redecorate all patient rooms by the completion of hospital renovations.

Osnabruck Township

Land fill has less life than expected

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader staff

OSNABRUCK CENTER—Osnabruck Council was disagreeably surprised on Monday to learn that their landfill site could be nearing capacity several years prematurely.

Council found out the bad news when consultant Rick Eamon with M.S.Thompson Associates, presented a revised site closure plan to Osnabruck Council on Monday.

Eamon is submitting an application on behalf of the township to the Ministry of Enviroment under the Enviromental Protection Act.

He is requesting the ministry to amend the landfill site's existing Certificate of Approval, to include the revised closure plan.

The revised contour plan is redesigned for better utilization of the landfill area, and gentler slopes to handle run-off.

The original plan included trenches to contain garbage, but the new plan outlines berms for burial of waste, thus providing better compaction.

The contours of theexisting closure plan are not defined as either garbage contours, or as garbage contours with a six-meter cap and .15 meters top soil and vegetation cover.

"If the ministry looks at the plan and states the final contours are garbage contours, not clay cap contours it would give them an additional five to eight years capacity.

If they establish the final closure plan as being clay cap, they have no capacity," Eamon explained.

Another point Eamon stressed was the excessive use of fill at the land fill site, and the need for greater compaction.

He noted the township may be interested in sharing a contract for a landfill compactor with other municipalities.

At a suggested price of $245,000, compactors are an expensive purchase, but affordable if costs are shared with other municipalities.

Osnabruck Landfill site services 4,450 residents who at an average of 1.6 kilograms per person per day contribute a total of 2,199 tons waste to the site per year.

Eamon estimated the present compaction rate at 400 kilograms per cubic meter.

At this rate, the landfill site would fill to the tune of 8,905 cubic meters yearly.

But with modern equipment, landfill compaction could be increased to 700 or 800 kilograms per cubic meter, almost doubling the lifespan of the waste site.

The Township has not yet embarked on a blue box program to reduce waste, but a number of residents are composting.

Kraft Foods Limited now contributes 250 tons of waste yearly to the site, but is to start recycling cardboard shortly.

When the eight-year old landfill site was approved by the ministry, it was hailed as one of the first in Ontario to receive approval without going through an environmental assessment.

At that time it was given a 20-year lifespan, and in 1990 should have 12 years left.

The township is required to have an annual consultant report on the landfill site.

The report for 1989 by Water Earth Sciences cost the township $15,792.

The original estimate for the M.S. Thompson reportfor 1990 was $5880.

However, Eamon suggested an additional $3,000 to prepare an amendment to the Certificate of of Approval, and $2400 for costs of a geodetic survey, bringing the total to over $10,000.

Council didn't object to the additional costs of the report. "For years, I have questioned the amount of fill going to the landfill site. This is a positive indication," said Deputy Reeve Carson Elliott.

"We'll have to look at the whole landfill site operation and lay down clear guidelines to the contractor," he added.

"We've been looking at the material for two or three years, and asking what compaction can we expect?" stated Coun. Don McElheran.

"For the additional costs over ten years, if successful, it's money well spent," he added.

Council pay

Council approved pay rates for themselves for the year 1991 at a meeting held here Monday.

The reeve will receive $1,725.00 yearly.

The deputy reeve and three councillors are to be paid $1,200.00 each yearly.

All council members are to be paid $60.00 per meeting, and $675.00 for each three-day convention.

The amounts show no increase over remuneration in 1990.

Santa's Coming!

MORRISBURG—Parents and children will be able to greet jolly old Saint Nick Saturday at the Morrisburg Plaza. Santa Claus will be arriving at the plaza at 2 p.m. where he plans to drift from store to store greeting everyone. He will be giving out candy canes to all who were good the last year, but be on time, because at 4 p.m., Santa will be heading back up North.

SLPC to enhance Park with ministry funds

MORRISBURG—The St. Lawrence Parks Commission will be receiving a new injection in capital funding, Minister of Tourism and Recreation Peter North announced December 4.

A total of $685,000 is to be distributed for forest management and park improvement, storage facilities, repair and renovations at Upper Canada Village, and Fort Henry, to complete a final design for upgrading marina facilities, and to improve the Long Sault Parkway.

SLPC Manager of Maintenance and Engineering Mike Paradis says the details of distribution haven't been all worked out, but about $50,000 is to go to Upper Canada Village, $125,000 to Fort Henry, and $200,000 to Long Sault Parkway.

At Upper Canada Village, the work will consist of major repairs and reconstruction in roof projects, rebuilding of walls and foundations, and replacement of interior flooring in various buildings.

Capital works already completed at the village this year include recreation of the entrance area in front of the Village Store and reconstruction of an A-frame timber bridge.

Earlier this year an Ottawa architect, Peter Pivko was hired to make a preliminary concept plan for upgrading the 30-year old Crysler marina.

Preliminary plans include the replacement of all existing docks, landscape improvements, and harbor dredging.

The marina service center which now consists of a retail outlet, an office and washrooms is to be replaced by a new building and include laundry facilities for boaters.

"Now that funding is available, we'll be letting the architect know he can go on with the final design," said Paradis.

The same architect will be hired to carry out the final design if money should become available to complete the project.

The commission had requested and received a promise of $200,000 from the previous Liberal government to enhance the Long Sault Parkway as a tourist attraction.

The NDP government confirmed this grant with the recent announcement.

Plans include the installation of playground equipment at the day use areas of Woodlands and Mille Roches Park.

Picnic shelters are to be set up at Woodlands, Mille Roches and McLaren Parks.

The $685,000 in funding is in addition to $1.5 to $2 million allocated yearly for the Commission's capital program, and came as a result of an earlier request this year.

"It was no big surprise," Paradis explained.

The grants are included in an initial $4.2 million of $41 million promised in capital projects for agencies of the Ontario Ministry of Tourism and Recreation.

This is the first phase of a $700 million committment to capital projects announced in the Throne Speech.

"This injection of capital funds will stimulate the winter economy in Eastern Ontario and allow The St. Lawrence Parks Commission to improve and enhance its facilities for the 1991 tourism season," said George Speal, Q.C., Chairman of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission.

Other agencies to receive funding are: Huronia Historical Parks $2,076,000, the Ottawa Congress Centre, $1,126,700, Old Fort William $160,000, Thunder Bay Ski Jumps Limited $40,000 and Ontario Place Corporation $200,000.

"These projects will encourage more residents and visitors to come and see some of Ontario's best attractions", said North.

Morrisburg says yes to composting

KIM TOSHACK
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—At Monday evening's regular meeting of Morrisburg Council, Claire Theijsmeijer of the Dundas Environmental Resource Centre presented a deputation regarding the implementation of a composting program in the area of Morrisburg.

Opening her comments, Theijsmeijer stated that the North American Waste crisis is a fact. Every person produces 2.2 kg per day of waste, and the figures have been increasing 5% per year.

The shortage of landfill space in Ontario will continue to worsen, as within the next five years, half of the Ontario sites will close. Municipalities are finding out that waste disposal is becoming a highly expensive, highly regulated and high profile part of their responsibilities.

The Ontario Ministry of Environment guideline is a 50% reduction in solid waste by the year 200. Recycling programs help, but only divert about 15% of municipal waste.

Through Theijsmeijer's presentation, she showed council how a municipally sponsored home compost program will provide an effective way of meeting that 50% reduction goal.

Economically, a home composting program makes good sense because it reduces the amounts of waste to be disposed of while disposal costs are reduced and landfill life is extended.

Environmentally, the use of compost rebuilds soil naturally, reducing chemical use and accompanying pollution. Less landfill space is needed, and energy use for waste is transported.

Politically, composting is a concrete way to address a major public concern. It offers the public a means to personally make a difference and set a policy with lasting benefits for the community.

Because composting requires little to maintain, organic refuse, air, moisture and soil, anyone can do it.

The method for doing it includes putting organic wastes with soil, using bone meal and manure to speed up decomposition, mixing or turning the pile regularly to add oxygen and adding the compost to the garden after two to six months.

Such a program will bring numerous advantages to the home composter as well as the community.

It is a relatively easy and inexpensive municipal waste reduction program that achieves significant results. There is little follow-up required.

The reduction of waste needing disposal is 25-40%, even reaching as high as 60% in the spring and fall.

Composting encourages people to work with the natural soil cycle, instead of using chemicals. Plant nutrients are returned to the soil, rather than a landfill site. Pollution of groundwater through chemical leaching is reduced.

As for the costs of disposal, less transport is needed, while landfill capacity is extended. Three cubic yards are saved for every ton of waste diverted. According to statistics, a realistic estimate of savings with 50% participation in composting would give 20% reduction is disposal costs.

Theijsmeijer was also prepared to give council a number of figures regarding cost to start a program and funding available to assist the municipality.

The Ministry of Environment (MOE) offers grants under the reduction/reuse program. This covers a 50% grant for capital cost to purchase or modify compost units, as well as a 50% grant for promotion which covers newspaper ads and flyers.

For example, if the unit chosen costs $40, MOE pays $20. The municipality may charge residents $20 or subsidize a percentage of the cost to promote participation. Some manufacturers offer free brochures and seminars with the purchase of their units.

In order for the program to get started, municipal involvement is required. On the administration side, the grant application must be made and later a progress report sent to MOE. An application for reimbursement must also be sent.

Before and while the units are being bought, promotion of the program is necessary along with public education on composting. Once the units are purchased, temporary storage is needed, even though delivery can be staggered.

The distribution of the units requires careful planning.

Theijsmeijer suggested a number of ways to handle the distribution. First, residents can prepay by order form or pay at pick-up, or they can pick-up the units on a first come, first served basis or go on a waiting list. It was also stated that there should be some kind of a limit, preferably two units per household.

Theijsmeijer was also prepared with a chart comparing the various composting units on the market. These included the Bio Keg, the Soil Saver, the City Gardener, the Eco-Balance Bin, the Eco Gardener, the Bio-Bin the Barry-Bin and the Green Cone.

Details to consider in choosing a specific unit include cost per unit with tax and delivery, material types, durability, appearance, capacity and method of compost removal, pest resistance and guarantee.

In closing, Theijsmeijer stated that the benefits of a composting program in the municipality are enormous.

"It is not a large expense for council but greater savings will be found later (in the reduction of waste disposal costs, extended landfill life and the reduction of pollution)," said Theijsmeijer.

Council agreed to the program in principle and requested the Dundas Environmental Resource Centre look into doing a survey to determine public interest in such a program.

Morrisburg Council Briefs

KIM TOSHACK
Leader Staff

At the regular meeting of Morrisburg Council, a number of items were discussed in brief.

Linda Bowers, a representative of the Parks Management Board was present to discuss with council the possibility of passing a resolution on the waterfront development plan in order to go ahead with the application for a grant through a program with Destinations East through the Ministry of Tourism and Recreation for a feasibility study. If the application is accepted, Destinations East will cover 50% of the cost for the study (approximately $20,000), leaving the remaining $10,000 to come from the Parks reserve. Council passed the resolution, opening the door for the Parks Management Board to make the application.

Through action correspondence, Meals on Wheels requested permission to renovate the kitchen at the Civic Centre. Permission was granted as they have the funds available, while Council discussed the possibility of aiding with the renovations.

Permission was requested to conduct door-to-door campaigning by the Kidney Foundation. The canvassing would take place in March of 1991 and the request was resolved.

Correspondence was also sent to council regarding Hazardous Waste Day. It was agreed that the day should be in the spring and the collection of hazardous waste could be collected throughout Dundas County for a cost of $1,500 per municipality.

Seaway students perform first-ever musical at UCP

MORRISBURG—Seaway District High School's senior drama class and the S.D.H.S. band have joined forces and talents to present the first full-length musical that the school has ever attempted.

The Hobbit is a delightful musical fantasy based on the first of J.R. Tolkien's novels set in the mythical Middle Earth.

The musical follows the amazing misadventures of Bilbo Baggins (played by Darrick Casselman), as he joins the great magician Gandalf (Ryan Robertson), and a band of mighty dwarves in a search for their treasure, the Arkenstone.

Journeying through the Misty Mountains, the Kingdom of Goblins and the swamp where the deadly Gollum (Allistair Lee) dwells, Bilbo and his companions face danger, imprisonment, merry chases and magic spells.

And, at the end of the quest is Smaug, the terrible Dragon who has stolen the Arkenstone.

With its stirring marching song, "Nine Mighty Dwarves", the comic Troll song, "Eating" and the plaintive "I Want to Go Home", The Hobbit has music and laughter for everyone.

The Seaway students have been given special permission on this occasion to use the Upper Canada Playhouse in Morrisburg as the setting for The Hobbit. Marshall Button, artistic director; Lois Rosenquist, general manager and the Board of Directors of UCP have been tremendously supportive. Working in a real theater has been a wonderful experience for the students.

Many parents have also volunteered to help out the The Hobbit, doing everything from costume building to supervising dressing rooms.

The strong support of the S.D.&G. Board of Education Arts Consultant, Mrs. Brenda King, has meant a great deal to the cast.

As well, Mrs. Annette Turner and Mr. Ross Whyte at Seaway have worked hours on costumes and sets for the show.

As the opening matinee Thursday, December 13 approaches, The Hobbit is really taking shape.

For the first time, under the direction of music teacher Cindy Alguire, the S.D.H.S. band is working with the delightful but challenging music of a full production. And, directed by drama teacher Wendy Gibb, the cast of 22 sings, dances and handles over 40 different roles.

Student designer Alain Beriault has already spent hours getting sets ready, while lighting designer Claude Labrecque has worked wonders.

Matinees for The Hobbit are Thursday, December 13 at 12:45 p.m. and Friday, December 14 at the same time. Seats may be reserved for the matinees only by calling 652-4878 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday to Friday. Matinee tickets are $3 per person. (We do not reserve specific seats, just blocks of seats on a first come first serve basis.)

Evening performances of The Hobbit begin at 7 p.m. and run Friday, December 14 and Saturday, December 15. Evening ticket prices are $5 for adults and $4 for children 12 and under. There is no reserved seating at evening shows.

It works every time!

Almost every day of every year, but particularly during the busy pre-Christmas season, shoppers in Morrisburg, as well as in other communities, are being urged to shop at home — to use their shopping dollars not only to bring joy to their family and friends, but also to benefit their fellow-citizens who operate the retail businesses in their town and help to give the community its viability.

That is sound advice certainly, but not always as practical as it sounds, not always as well received as it is intended. Merchants in smaller communities often find it more difficult to offer the larger variety or the same lavishly attractive surroundings as those in the larger centres. A smaller turnover, fewer purchasing advantages resulting in a reduced profit picture, as well as other factors, contribute to their dilemna.

In recent years, however, the majority of Morrisburg's commercial establishments have joined together in an organized effort to increase their sales potential, not only at holiday time, but throughout the year. That their efforts are bearing fruit is amply attested to by the beautiful Christmas decorations throughout the business and residential sections of the village, all adding to the festive atmosphere; the shared and well-co-ordinated promotions at Christmas and for other special occasions have yielded gratifying results and benefits for all on a far greater scale than could independent efforts by individual operators.

The sense of "togetherness", of community spirit and community effort and mutual accomplishment is contagious, and the feeling is just there, and is being spread abroad that Morrisburg is a friendly place, a well-stocked place, a reasonably-priced place, to do all your shopping.

The spirit of co-operation is always desirable, always essential for a successful community. And every resident can play a part in that success, whether you are a merchant, the operator of some type of service establishment, or a consumer. All that is necessary is for everyone to embrace that co-operation, and to practise it every day of the year. And it always works!

How to "keep Christmas"

Many of the Christian churches, at this time of year, observe what is known as the Season of Advent. Traditionally, this has been a four-weeks time of preparation for the Feast of Christmas. Billions of people throughout the world are preparing for this important holiday in different ways, but without too much thought or concern for its real significance.

Many, many years ago, Henry Van Dyke penned some sage observations about Christmas Day and "Keeping Christmas". The gist of the message from this latter-day wise man went like this:

"It is a good thing to observe Christmas Day. The mere marking of times and seasons, when men agreed to stop work and make merry together, is a wise and wholesome custom. It helps one to feel the supremacy of the common life over the individual life. It reminds a man to set his own little watch, now and then, by the great clock of humanity which runs on sun time.

"But there is a better thing than the observance of Christmas Day, and that is keeping Christmas!

"Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world may owe you, and to think what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; to see that your fellowmen are just as real as you are, and try to look behind their faces to their hearts hungry for joy; to own that probably the only good reason for your existence is not what you are going to get out of life, but what you are going to give to life; to close your book of complaints against the management of the universe, and look around you for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness — are you willing to do these things, even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.

"Are you willing to stoop down and consider the needs and desires of little children; to remember the weakness and fears and loneliness of people who are growing old; to stop asking how much your friends love you, and to ask yourself whether you love them enough; to bear in your mind the things that other people have to bear in their hearts; to try to understand what those in the same house with you really want, without waiting for them to tell you; to make a grave for your ugly thoughts, and a beautiful garden for your kindly feelings, with the gate open wide — are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.

"Are you willing to believe that love is the strongest thing in the world — stronger than hate, stronger than evil, stronger than death — and that the blessed life which began in Bethlehem nearly two thousand years ago is the image and brightness of Eternal Love? Then, you can indeed keep Christmas".

And if you can keep it for a day, why not for a week, or a month, or a year — or why not always? But you must remember this one prerequisite: You can never keep it alone!

Hospitals Care About Your Vital Signs.

Shouldn't You Care About Theirs?

Nobody likes to ask for money. But the fact is, without your support, it's becoming increasingly difficult for hospitals to upgrade their equipment, services and innovative programs. And, sadly, that means that some much-needed medical care may never reach the people who need it most. So do your part, and take care of your hospital. After all, they do the same for you.

Give To Your Local Hospital. Give To Life.

This Week In Morrisburg's History

Compiled from The Leader's fyles
by Laurie Day

1980

It was reported in this issue of The Leader that two Iroquois women escaped a violent death on Monday, December 8 on the train crossing in Iroquois when their car stalled just beyond the tracks. Maureen Madden and Olive Allin were on their way to a bingo game at the Iroquois Legion when the accident took place. The car stalled before it had cleared the railway crossing on the south side. At that moment the train signals were activated, and the lights started to flash. The women then jumped from the car and ran as far as they could because they feared that they may be injured from flying debris as the train collided with the car. The train, which was the Turbo, sustained minor damage to the nose and was one hour late getting to Toronto. The vehicle was totally demolished.

A rare and dangerous occurrence took place on Thursday, December 4 in the Morrisburg Shopping Plaza. An automobile, reported to have been operated by a very small child, collided with two other vehicles. The mishap took place around 3:30 p.m., and the vehicle was registered under the name of Marjorie Trickey of Williamsburg. She was using the car that afternoon and had left it unattended with the motor running in front of the pharmacy. The child, Trickey's grandson, leaned over the front seat and navigated a left hand turn among the cars in the parking area, but he failed to straighten the wheels which resulted in a collision with a second car, and in turn, the second car hit a third. Estimated damages were under $1,000 total for the three vehicles.

Morrisburg council offered unanimously to support Reeve Bill Dillabough and Hydro Commissioner Willard Steinburg in their proposal to move the Morrisburg Hydro Office to the Morrisburg Civic Building. This move was brought forth to provide the Morrisburg residents with a more reasonable service. It was also a way to cut costs, and it was an attempt to secure a balanced budget.

A special notice from the Ontario Provincial Police was reported in this issue of The Leader for the Yuletide Season. "Christmas is a special time of year for the young and the young at heart. Throughout the years Christmas had been embellished with many beautiful traditions making this the most festive of holiday seasons, while stressing the message of 'Peace on Earth, Goodwill to all Men'." This is the time of year to experience the joy of giving. Two blessings which will make our gifts more meaningful are health and happiness, neither of which can be bought, and this is also the time of year for folks to indulge in a little, or a lot of, 'good cheer'. The thoughtless driver who has had a few too many can so easily take away that which means the most to us. A precious life. Extra care and caution while driving during the Christmas season and throughout the coming year is one of the best gifts we can give as a gesture of goodwill to all."

St. John's Lutheran Church, Riverside held its annual meeting on Sunday, December 20. The Annual Sunday School Christmas Tree service was held the same day with many people in attendance at both events. The Sunday School congregation Christmas service followed the annual meeting, and the presented the St. Luke Christmas Gospel in pageant form as read by Victoria Beckstead. The pantomime, 'Stars of a Holy Night' was also performed.

Some local and general news...Frank Coons spotted a robin in his back yard on December 18, and it was reported that no one knew if it was the first or the last robin report of the season...Delbert Jones was a patient at the Civic Hospital where he underwent surgery to his leg on December 19...T.W. (Fore) Bouchard was reported to have been improving steadily from his operation at the W.D.M.H...Also reported improving in hospital were Raymond McIntosh, proprietor of the Pioneer in Williamsburg, and Mrs. Phyllis Strader, also of Williamsburg.

The Dundas Soil and Crop Improvement Association was a growing organization, and it was demonstrated at its annual meeting in Winchester Springs on December 1. A group of 75 farmers turned out to hear guest speakers D.L. Parks of the Kemptville Agricultural School, J.Y. Humphries, a Glengary Agricultural Representative, as well as a report on many crop demonstration projects by Ed Pearson, Dundas Agricultural Representative. Martin Schneckenburger of Morrisburg was awarded the trophy in the Dundas Pasture Competition. He also received the award of the Hogg and Lyttle Seed Company and that of the Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association for placing third in the Eastern Ontario zone finals.

There was an accident involving a dump truck and a station wagon on Ottawa Street, South and 31 High Street on Saturday, December 3. The Ball Construction Company dump truck was operated by Max Arthur of Morewood, and the wagon was driven by James McCrank of High Street in Morrisburg. The accident occurred when the truck driver backed from the driveway at 31 High Street, and hit the McCrank vehicle. Damage was estimated at $1,000, and no injuries were reported.

Three members of 1959 council were returned to office in the Monday, December 5 election, and one new member was elected as well. Bill Dillabough replaced Lawrence Coligan, who had been a member for the previous two years. Under a passed by-law, the new council members were to sit a term of two years.

News of the death of Frank Hansen in Everett Washington was heard with deep regret by his friends in Morrisburg, who cherish many fond memories of him though he had been absent from here for several years. Born in Morrisburg, he was the son of the late Joseph Hanson and his wife, Dinah Haworth. He graduated from Morrisburg schools and learned the printing trade in the office of The Morrisburg Herald, then operated by the late Frank Platz. He followed his trade west as a young man and went on to Everett until he became ill and retired. His wife, the former Rose Van Warmer, predeceased him three months prior to his own death. He was buried in Morrisburg at the St. James Anglican Cemetery.

The Morrisburg branch of the Canadian Red Cross shipped a consignment of finished articles to the Toronto Ware rooms, consisting of bed jackets, pajamas, sweaters, mitts, sweater sets, stockings, ankle socks and scarves, for hospital and civilian use. They were in great demand.

The largest turn out of breeders ever attended the annual banquet of the Dundas Holstein Breeders Association which was held in the IOOF hall here to hear an address by W.A. Watson, the Toronto Ontario Livestock Commissioner. Awards and prizes were handed out as well to the top breeders and outstanding junior members. The importance of a proper balance between agriculture and industry was stressed by Watson and he was sure that Canada was at the beginning of the most prosperous era in the country.

It was reported in this issue of The Leader that Mr. Hall, leader of the Morrisburg boys' band resigned from his duties due to the underhand developments. After he organized, financed and supplied instruments for the organization, a meeting was called behind his back and a president and committee were elected. Hall was then offered a contract to lead the organization which he had made possible in the first place. He was forced to resign in order to retain his self-respect alone, not to mention the unpleasantness of working with an organization as unappreciative as this one seemed to be.

Dr. and Mrs. A.T. Shannett and their young son, Dick arrived at Morrisburg, from Everett, Western Ontario, and moved into the home which was previously vacated by Dr. Cram, who was in the Canadian Army. Dr. Shannette, a native of Dundas County and a one-time pupil at Morrisburg Collegiate Institute was known to many in the area, as was his wife, the former Mildred Meikle, a daughter of Fred H. Meikle of Morrisburg.

A petition was being circulated in town and had been signed by practically all the merchants, asking the council to declare Boxing Day, December 26, as a holiday.

On Thursday December 11, in the Dillon Hotel in Cardinal, the St. Lawrence Junior Hockey League was formed with the following people chosen for the committee positions: Hon. President-Jas. Gill, Cardinal; President-G. E. Fitzpatrick, Prescott; First Vice President-Colonel L. W. Mulloy, Iroquios; Second Vice President-Fred Broder, Morrisburg; Secretary-Treasurer-B. Short, Cardinal. It was expected that junior teams from Morrisburg, Iroquois, Cardinal, Spencerville and Prescott would participate in the hockey action.

In the connection with the whiskey-running game on the American side of the river, in the vicinity of Masena, Collectors Holland has issued a statement summarizing the arrests and seizures made so far this year. The statement said that 372 seizures of liquor had been made, and 106 automobiles, in variety from a Pierce Arrow to a Ford were confiscated, along with 20 horses, four motor launches, 54 tons of hay, and 41,159 quarts of whiskey. More that 500 arrests were made and fines were imposed ranging from $400-$1,000 in each case. Whiskey was found in carloads of hay, boats, cars, trucks, pulpwood, potatoes, secreted in butter, Christmas trees, fishing boxes, steel drums and wagons.

The Ottawa Senators are for real! Anyone who sent the $25.00 pledge towards season's tickets should be laughing. Now, they'll be able to get in to see NHL action in just about an hour. There is another big plus in having an NHL team right here in our area — a lot, if not most of the Leaf fans should be able to switch their allegiance to the Senators, and cheer for a more competitive team, even in their first few seasons.

Carolling services will be held this Sunday at Upper Canada Village at 1:30 p.m. and 3:00 p.m. Visitors are invited to join in the singing. Horse-drawn sleigh rides will be available between the services.

The skiing season is now upon us, and with it comes the first injury of the year. Justin Hess starts out this year with a broken leg suffered on his first trip to St. Sauveur. Oh well, Justin, the leg should be healed just when the skiing gets good, in January.

Gregor's Place should be a hot spot next Tuesday morning between 6:00 and 10:00. Scott Roberts, of CFLG will be doing his morning show from the local coffee shop. If you can't be there, you can hear the show at 104.5 on your FM radio band.

Whenever local viewers see the new Johnson & Johnson ad on their TV, featuring the Reach toothbrush, they should listen carefully to the English voice of "Mr. Fliptop". We'll give you a hint that it's a local fella, and he works for a Johnson & Johnson subsidiary right here in Morrisburg.

Food hampers to go to 230 families in area

KIM TOSHACK
Leader Staff

The South Dundas Christmas Exchange is in full swing these days, with 230 families already included on the list requiring food hampers.

Although the numbers are quite high, organizers for the Exchange are confident everyone will be provided for.

The food bins placed in various locations have been filling up with nutritious, non-perishable food items and the money jars are jingling with coins and cash.

At the Iroquois Presbyterian Church and the Lakeshore Drive United Church, the Mitten Trees are quickly filling up with colorful hand-knit mittens.

At the same time, the Brinston United Church is laden with appropriate books.

At Morrisburg Public School, non-perishable food items are being collected in lieu of an admission charge at their Christmas Concert this Thursday night.

On Sunday, December 16, at the Anglican Church in Morrisburg. there is a combined choir of the United and Anglican Churches. They will be presenting the traditional service of lessons and carols.

At the Christian Reformed Church on the same evening, an ecumenical choir will be presenting "Songs of Christmas" with old fashioned carol singing and special numbers by the ecumenical choir.

The proceeds from both of these events will be donated to the South Dundas Christmas Exchange.

"The First Noel" Christmas story to be presented at UCV

MORRISBURG— The true Christmas spirit is alive and well and may be rediscovered this Sunday at Upper Canada Village.

On December 16 at 1:30 and 3.00 p.m. the Village's Christ Church will resound with all-time favorites such as "The first Noel" and the reading of the Christmas story.

Under the direction of Mrs. Wallace, a music teacher at Front of Yonge School in Mallorytown, grade 5, 6 and 7 students in period costumes will present their rendition of "Silent Night", "While Shepherds Watch Their Flocks by Night", "Good Christian Men Rejoice" and many more.

Children from Morrisburg, Iroquois and the Brockville area who participated in the Village's Young Interpreters' program during the summer will play the role of 1860's Sunday School scholars and tell the Message of Christmas in a traditional setting and manner.

Visitors are invited to join in the singing and round off their stay with a stroll through the wintery Village or a horse-drawn sleigh ride offered between the two church services.

Admission to this event is $1.25 for students and seniors and $2.50 for adults.

Children up to five years of age are admitted free of charge. The Village Store is open daily from 9.30 a.m. to 4.00 p.m.

CHRISTMAS SAFETY TIPS

Brought To You By

BRISTER INSURANCE BROKERS LTD.

Some Special Notes on Electricity and Electrical Cords:

— Examine all extension cords: Often these are used only once a year, at Christmas time, and may be quite old. If they are frayed, it is time to replace them.

— Avoid "octopus" situations — circuits can become overloaded.

— Never puncture the insulation of electrical cords by nailing them to walls or floors.

— Do not run extension cords under carpetings: this may conceal a damaged cord, and will not allow the heat from the cord to escape, causing overheating.

— More electricity is used by most households during the holiday season: cold weather and entertaining increases use of stoves and other appliances. It is a good idea to ensure that all fuses are of the proper rating and in good repair.

— Fireplaces and inserts are often used more to create a holiday atmosphere. Ensure that these are always supervised. Avoid creating very hot or large fires. It is a good idea to ensure that the chimney is inspected and cleaned by a professional.

Forever loved and so sadly missed.
- Grandpa and Grandma Shaver

SALMON - In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Chris, who passed away December 15, 1987.
If tears could build a stairway,
And memories build a lane,
We would walk all the way to heaven
To bring you back again.
So many times we've missed you,
So many times we've cried,
If love could have saved you,
You never would have died.
We think of you in silence,
Yet often speak your name,
As memories remain ours forever,
Dear Chris - It will never be the same.
- Sadly missed and forever remembered by Dad, Mother and sister Nicole. 50c

FOSS - In loving memory of a dear wife, mother and grandmother.
Another festive season is here
And we mourn the lose of a loved one
Who shared with us the happiness of the Christmas season
She leaves with us the memories
The vacant chair leaves us to mourn
The great loss of her cheery greetings on this Christmas Day.
- Sadly missed by husband and three sons and families: Wilfred J. Foss, Glen and Helen, Gary and Cynthia, Brian and Joan 50p

To: Grandpa and Grandma
Theresa M. Cougler (December 14, 1984)
T. Grant Cougler (January 18, 1985)
God must have known how close you were
To leave one here without the other
Would have been just too unfair
All I know dear Grandpa and Grandma
Is that I miss you more each day
And all I hope to see
Is someday your arms reaching out to me.
- Your granddaughter Barbara 50p

GAUTHIER - In loving memory of Janice, our only daughter and sister, and Robby, our only grandson and nephew, whom God called home December 14, 1986.
God sometimes calls his servants home,
Whose years are in their prime,
But He has greater measures,
Than the Pendulum of Time.
Some servants quickly do their tasks,
Of labour and of love,
So their promotion early comes,
To higher works above.

NOTICE

HAVE YOU MADE YOUR DECISION YET?
The truth is we know (the believer that is) what God is doing today; He is saving lost sinners through faith in the finished work of His Son at Calvary and placing them into the Body of Christ (His Church) to filling our role as "ambassadors of grace and peace (the peace of God that is) in a world of sin and woe." Christ died for sin; believers die to sin; unbelievers die in sin. Ponder thoughtfully unbeliever war is the extreme opposite of peace, and judgement the opposite of grace. Grace is offering reconciliation to all who will place their trust in the now rejected Christ. Now is the accepted time ... Now is the day of salvation (2Cor.6:2). I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave Himself up for me. (Gal.2:20). Thanks be to God who is not willing that any should perish. (2Pet.3:9).

Council hears presentation on van by Non-Profit Housing

KIM TOSHACK
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—In association with Williamsburg Township Council, John Dalrymple, of the Non-Profit Housing presented council with a deputation regarding a service van at Monday night's meeting of Morrisburg Council.

As Dalrymple stated, the majority of the aging population in South Dundas is unserviced and since the funding agencies desire to keep this population in or near their existing residences, Willliamsburg Non-Profit Housing have been looking for ways and means to service these people.

The organization already has van which is funded by the Ministry of Community and Social Services, but several in the population will not use the van because of their inability and fear. The population is getting older and hence a greater need of more accessible transportation.

A presentation was given to members of Williamsburg Council and with their urging, the other municipalities are being approached in order to ensure sufficient usage of the vehicle and to spread the funding around.

Suggested capital costs for the project include $46,000 to purchase the van. The Ministry of Transportation and Communication (MTC) will cover 50% of this cost, leaving a difference of approximately $23,000. This could come from the municipalities themselves or through donations from various service groups.

Dalrymple also gave a list of suggested operating costs for the first year, reminding council that it would take approximately three years before the project could be in the black. These costs, including insurance, fuel, drivers wages and benefits, maintenance and repairs, tires, dispatching costs, stationary and advertising, telephone and licence, came out around $28,220.

The estimated operating revenue in the first year was made up of 25% by the MTC, $2,000 in users fees (approximately $2 per trip at 1,000 trips per year and a provincial subsidy of $13,200 bringing the total to $22,250.

This in comparison to the $28,220 estimated operating cost leaves the project only $6,000 short. This could be covered through sponsors or donations.

Council agreed to designate a member to meet with the representative from Williamsburg Council at a later date to discuss the matter further.

Thank You

Morrisburg Figure Skating Club would like to thank Edie's House of Fashion for their donation to the competition on Nov. 25, 1990. We apologize for omitting their name in our previous Thank You.

Seaway News

By Kelly Lackey

This week Seaway is holding their annual the Clothing Drive. Students are asked to bring in old clothing that is filling up their closets to the cafeteria every morning this week. The clothes will be going to Allan Tysick of Matilda. The clothes will be divided up according to population of students in certain areas.

The Food Drive is still on this week so keep bringing in non-perishable food to your homeforms. The homeform at the end of the week with the most food brought in will be awarded a prize.

The Airhead contest was won by Mike Whitteker and Sally Stevens. These two along with not many others got up in front of the whole school and sang to their favorite songs while wearing walkmans.

The Scavenger Hunt is starting again this week. Each homeroom was given a list of items to be brought in, from 1955 pennies to candycanes. The fastest homeroom to collect the most items on the list will win a prize.

Last Friday there was a blood donor clinic at North Dundas District High School. Many students from Seaway travelled there to give the gift of life. Seaway will have their blood donor clinic in April of next year.

On Tuesday Seaway had some very short visitors to the school. Midget basketball players were there to entertain students and teachers.

The school again will be offering a Christmas dinner for students and staff the final day of school before Christmas and the New Year. The teachers will be preparing the food for the students.

As for a certain teacher, whose name I will not mention (Freedom of the Press), he has established that his Datsun is in beautiful condition and only has 27000km. Boy this car should run for at least twenty more years!

JUST A WORD

KIM TOSHACK

The Montreal Massacre. One year ago Thursday, December 6, 14 female students of Ecole Polytechnique in Montreal were shot senselessly by Marc Lepine for being "feminists".

The victims families, students and women across the country asked themselves "why?". Why did something so horrible and unfair have to happen?

Men, women and children are killed everyday because of disease, in motor vehicle accidents and for many other reasons. But mass murder?

I remember the day the shooting took place. I was in college myself, in Belleville. The entire school was like a different place that day. Everyone walked through the halls in silence, women were visibly upset, and it's no wonder. School is a sacred place, like the home, where you are supposed to feel safe, secure.

If a shooting of that magnitude could happen in Montreal, it could just as easily have happened in Belleville or anywhere else.

Women's groups were outraged while most females were just plain scared. But to be fair, I really believe that a lot of men were frightened as well. I mean, a women could have done the same thing.

Like most other places, a vigil was held outside of City Hall in Belleville. Women, mostly students, attended while a few stray men showed up and stood at the back. It was a very touching sight, considering none of us knew any of the victims.

Now, one year later, the anger and fear has not subsided. It won't be forgotten. Women will never let that happen.

For one minute Thursday, 500 men and women stood outside Ecole Polytechnique remembering the 14 women shot dead. In Ottawa-Hull, the Commons marked the tragedy with a minute of silence. A memorial scholarship for female engineering students has been set up at the University of Ottawa. A candlelight vigil organized by various women's groups was held on Portage Bridge on the Ottawa River.

Judy Rebick, president of the National Action Committee for the Status of Women, said December 6 should be marked annually as a women's Remembrance Day.

Everyone is doing what they can. Unfortunately, none of this will bring back those women. All anyone can do is remember and hope a massacre of this kind never, ever happens again.

Lions take two weekend wins on the way to a playoff position

LAURIE DAY
Leader staff

MORRISBURG—They're on a roll!

The Morrisburg Lions counted two victories over the weekend in the Rideau-St. Lawrence Jr. B Hockey League.

The first one came on Friday evening in Morrisburg, against the first place Rideau Division leaders, the scrapping Gananoque Platers.

Morrisburg took an 8-6 decision, and they needed all three periods to do so.

Jeff Hopkins was in fine form as he covered the crease exceptionally well for the home team.

The game started off on the right foot for Morrisburg, as Derrek Holmes netted the first goal which Tim Casselman and Jeremy Morrow set up.

Platers' Andy White returned the goal a minute later, and it was Grant Smith who put the visitors ahead with 4:53 remaining.

Jamie Higgs claimed two assists on the Plater goals.

Yvon Besner, who is filling the position of captain while Johnny Morrow recuperates from a broken shoulder suffered in the Westport game last Friday night, fired the tying goal to end the period 2-2.

Morrisburg came onto the ice fired up in the second, as Dean Beckstead landed the go-ahead goal for Morrisburg. Chris VanBridger claimed the assist.

Gananoque's Higgs netted a goal two minutes later to tie the teams once more.

Andrew McEwan tallied for Morrisburg off a pass from VanBridger, and Besner landed his second of the game to put the Lions up 5-3.

The Platers bounced back with less than two minutes to go in the second period, and counted two more goals before the horn.

Veley and Grant Smith netted the goals for the visitors.

With only one period to go and the score tied again, this time at five, the fans which traveled from Gananoque couldn't believe how their first-placed team was doing.

"Sloppy, they're all over the place," said one Plater follower. "The Lions are smothering them."

For the final period, a new found fire burned in the eyes of the Lions as Beckstead found the target on two accounts to get things rolling in the final 20 minutes.

Tim Casselman scored his second of the game which was the final marker for the Lions.

With 2:30 remaining in the game, the Platers' Veley fired what turned out to be their last goal, and the visitors watched the clock tick away.

The Lions chalked up a big win, and the Platers were wished a very Merry Christmas.

McAllister and Beckstead fire two apiece

In Williamstown on Friday night, Morrisburg handed their rivals, the CharLan Rebels, an 8-3 loss.

"Our biggest goal this year is to make the playoffs," said coach Doug Casselman. "and to do that, we have to beat the Rebels."

That's what the Lions did.

Mike McAllister found the open space in the net past the Rebel netminder, Matt McKenzie, on the first two goals of the game. Andrew McEwen assisted on both goals, and Jeremy Morrow was credited with an assist on the first one.

For the Rebels, Denis St. John got by Morrisburg's Daryl Keviaho on two accounts. The first one on a power play assisted by linemate Chris Petry.

St. John's second goal was unassisted.

Morrisburg went ahead on a goal from Lions' centre, Dean Beckstead. Smith claimed the assist to end the period 3-2 in favor of the Lions.

The Rebels came up empty in the second period, and Morrisburg pumped in three more to give the home team a bit of a shake.

Smith fired a shot in the Rebel net with some help from McAllister and Yvon Besner.

Two power play goals were then scored by Morrisburg. It was Ernie Beckstead and Besner who fired the shots.

Period two ended with Morrisburg leading 6-2.

In the final period, Morrisburg added two more less than 10 seconds apart. Besner and Dean Beckstead claimed the goals.

Dean Beckstead picked up the assist on the Besner goal, while Besner was on his goal.

Ronnie Lefebvre finished up the scoring for CharLan, to end the game 8-3.

Morrisburg will be facing the top two teams of the league this weekend. Friday they travel to Winchester for an 8:15 p.m. contest against the Hawks, and on Sunday,the Alexandria Glens will be in Morrisburg for a 2:30 p.m. start.

Nationview A claims senior boys volleyball trophy

LAURIE DAY
Leader staff

SOUTH MOUNTAIN—Jack Barkley coached his senior boys through the Dundas County Volleyball Championship almost perfectly, last Friday afternoon at the Nationview Public School.

The A division team only lost one game all day, and that was against the boys from Maple Ridge in the round robin action, prior to the final match-up where they met again.

Nationview took the best of three final games with a two-game sweep, beating the Maple Ridge team 15-7, and 16-14, to be crowned the 90/91 champions.

Nationview A first met up with Maple Ridge B and they had a fairly tough time beating them.

Nationview took the first game 15-4, but Maple Ridge battled back and claimed the second game 15-13. The third game proved to be an easy win as the Nationview boys volleyed to another 15-4 victory.

Their next victims was the Stampville 8 team, and the score read 15-2 after the first game. The second game was another run-away with a 15-5 victory.

Stampville had an unfair advantage however, due to the fact that they don't have easy access to a gymnasium.

Stampville 7 were trounced by them as well in two games, 15-6 and 15-4.

St. Cecilia was the next to tangle with the soon-to-be champions.

Another two game sweep for the boys from Nationview as they took the games 15-10, and 15-5 to head into the final match.

For Maple Ridge A, the Stampville 7 team fell to defeat first, as Maple Ridge took a 15-9 win and a close 15-12 win.

Stampville 8 was the next team to be eliminated, in yet another two-game victory. This time the scores were 15-2 and 15-5.

One more win for the Maple Ridge boys would put them into the finals, and they had to play the Nationview B squad.

Nationview B gave them a tough match as they had to play a third and deciding game.

Nationview B took the first game 15-5, while Maple Ridge fought back to claim the next game 15-10.

The deciding game was a close one as well, but Maple Ridge held on to the lead to take the 15-10 win.

Maple Ridge then had a taste of what was to come in the final game as they met up with Nationview A.

The two teams fought it out to the third and final game. The first ended 15-13 for Maple Ridge, and the second game was a complete blow-out by Nationview ,as they took the game 15-1, and went on to take the third, 15-5.

Maple Ridge's last game was against St. Cecilia's where they were forced to the third game once more.

The last game's score was 16-4 for maple Ridge. They took the first of the series with a 15-8 win. The score of the second game was 15-10, St. Cecilia's.

After completing their last match, Maple Ridge had to take to the court once more for the finals against a well-rested Nationview team.

Nationview took the first of the championship match easily 15-7, but the second game was a bit tougher.

The teams fought for service throughout the second game, but it was a determined Nationview who held on to take the title with a 16-14 decision.

Maple Ridge didn't have any thing to hang their heads about as they played well throughout the day.

MORRISBURG—In men's Town League hockey Thursday night in Morrisburg, the House of Carpets lost to the F-Team in a 7-2 contest, the Blues out shot the Flyers, 5-1, and Parkers Paints hit the mark again with one more victory, this time over the first place team, Charlie's Sport Shop.

The House of Carpets took advantage of the situation as best as they could, as Jim Tuttle and Fred Osler brought the score to 4-2.

The F-Team didn't let that score stay on the board for very long, as McNairn counted his third of the game with 3:56 remaining.

Schell fired an unassisted goal, and it was Adair who marked the final goal of the game to end it 7-2.

Feeling Overloaded at Christmas?

We understand. At Ontario Hydro we get overloaded too! Christmas lights add to our load, so please don't turn your outside lights on until 7 p.m. and remember to turn them off at 11p.m.

Better still, create an extra cosy Christmas feeling while outside lights are on by turning most inside lights off.

Let's give tomorrow a hand.

MORRISBURG TO HOST THE CJOH NO STARS

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg Minor Hockey Association has decided to fight the January blahs with a hockey game featuring some of the organization's best, but long-forgotten talent.

On Saturday, January 12, the ever-popular CJOH No-Stars will be in town to tangle with the association's better kept secrets.

Do you recall the days of top-notch goaltending from Viv and Ossie? Well, neither does anyone else, but they promise to be in top shape.

It gets even better with the promise that former stars, Lut, Nigger, Duke, "K", Baldy, Bulldozer, Gini, 20 Watt, Francis, Otis, Loueye, and Cupcake strap on the blades in an effort to remember what the game is all about.

The talented crew will be sharing their box with the best coaching staff ever to be assembled in Morrisburg.

Heading the staff is Blackie, who will receive assistance from Motor Mouth and Lulu. Already the coaches have the team practising, and they plan to increase their preparations when the pond freezes over.

To kick off the evening, Charlie's Angels will take to the ice at 6:45 p.m. to play a team of retired Angels. The two hour CJOH game will start at 8 p.m.

Between periods of the main event, there will be a special figure skating performance, which at this point is shrouded in mystery. The only clue to these skaters is that they are not officially with the local figure skating club, but contract negotiations are underway.

According to a Leader source, the various minor hockey teams are gearing for the event, each planning to put together the strongest cheering section for their favorite player.

One minor player claims his entire team will be in the stands, and they are busy rounding up cheering devices, and making banners and posters.

"If the other minor teams want to take this as a challenge, they can," says the source, "but they'll never out cheer us, and our player will be the best on the ice."

The CJOH No-Stars are known throughout the Ottawa Valley for their assistance to local groups with their fundraising efforts.

Advance game tickets will be on sale within the next week, so get your cheering section ready and plan to attend.

All proceeds will go to the Minor Hockey Association, which in turn, plans to make a contribution to the Morrisburg Zamboni Fund.

Christmas workshop suggests alternatives

KIM TOSHACK
Leader Staff

MORRISBURG—Christmas is a time of year when spending is in full force, but as well, it is also a time when garbage cans fill up with excessive amounts of unnecessary waste.

How is it possible to get around all of the extra waste during this season?

The answer to this question was recently given at the Christmas Workshop, held on December 5 at the Dundas Environmental Resource Centre, 17 Second Street, Morrisburg.

Claire Theijsmeijer, Teri Peeters and two other employees have been working together to keep "the public informed".

Although attendance was low for the evening, those present made the evening a success.

During the introduction, members of the audience were given the opportunity to bring up specific topics which interested them, as well as give a few ideas of their own.

The biggest issues had to do with gift wrapping and Christmas trees.

When gift wrapping, Theijsmeijer suggested a number of alternatives, such as making the wrapping a part of the gift. She suggested using tea towels, pillow cases, scarves, face cloths, fancy wooden boxes, bandanas, cloth napkins, wicker, cloth baskets or baby blankets.

If wrapping paper is preferred, recycled paper is best, rather than foil or glossy printed wrapping paper, which are not made from recycled paper and do not break down as well. Ribbons and bows should be reused.

Recycled paper can be bought at numerous stores, as can multi-use bags and cloth decorated gift boxes.

Members of the audience stated a number of other ideas, such as wrapping gifts in comic strips, magazines or the local newspaper for someone who has moved from the area.

Theijsmeijer suggested getting one gift bag for each member of the family. Cloth bags, heavy paper or wall paper can decorate a cereal box to look like a bag.

However, before a gift even gets wrapped, there is already excessive waste from the packaging which causes excessive waste. Children's toys are a good example of overpackaged products. It was brought up, that if possible, adults should avoid buying toys that are packed in this way. If the toy is greatly desired, save the package and mail it back to the company who made the product or write them a letter telling them how you feel about such excessive waste.

Participants were also informed about a number of facts. Statistics Canada estimates that Canadians consume about one billion pounds of pulp annually for a one time use. If everyone in Ontario uses 25 square feet of wrapping paper this holiday season (about three rolls), this would be enough paper to produce a sheet that would cover the entire surface of Lake Ontario more than six times.

A comparison was also made for those present regarding the use of the natural tree or the artificial tree.

The advantages to a real real tree include the fact that they can be recycled (in some places) and they are more aesthetically pleasing. The disadvantages are the fire hazard, harvesting depletes forestry resources, they generate landfill waste and the fact that farms are aerial sprayed with insecticides, herbicides and fungicide.

The advantages to an artificial tree include their reusibility, the fact that they are less of a fire hazard and they are cheaper over time.

Because of the fact that they use up non-renewable resources and once disposed, go to a landfill, there are a few disadvantages.

There are five choices for Christmas trees; the natural tree, the artificial tree, a tree substitute, a living tree or no tree at all.

According to Theijsmeijer, the alternatives for Christmas trees include cutting down a big branch off a tree instead of cutting down an entire tree. This can be put in the same base and decorated.

Potted trees also make up an environmentally aware tree. They can be transplanted after the season is over or kept as a house plant.

Options were also given for those who enjoy sending Christmas cards. Instead of sending a card, greetings can be given by phone to those close to home, and cards to friends that are a distance away. Sending a newsletter instead of a card or a Christmas postcard were different ideas.

Rather than throwing cards out after the season has ended, Theijsmeijer suggested cutting them up for decorations or gift tags. It is also a good idea to send them to the schools for reuse. They will use them for projects.

Those who attended the workshop were also given the opportunity to view a number of environmental gift ideas. Such things as recycled stationary, a cloth tote bag and a gift basket containing non-disposable items. Some added ideas are a living, potted Christmas tree to replant aft Christmas, a subscription to a favorite magazine, a gift certificate for hard-to-buy relatives, a homemade gift such as a jar of preserves or the gift of time (such as babysitting, helping a friend or carpooling).

For further information about the workshop or easier ways to have an environmentally safe Christmas, contact the Dundas Environmental Resource Centre at 543-4505.

Engineer alters shared costs for joint project

CATHERINE THOMPSON
Leader Staff

OSNABRUCK CENTER—For a brief minute here Monday, Osnabruck Council council held their breath as Engineer Don Lishman with McNeely Engineering stated he had erred in presenting costs at a public meeting in Ingleside on sewage upgrading.

However, council breathed a sigh of relief when the engineer added the altered figures were only for the costs shared between the municipality and Kraft in Option B-1 of the joint project.

But total costs were to remain the same at $10,116.4 and $11,524.0 for Option B-2.

Option B-1, at $965 per household involves the upgrading of the sewage system for joint benefit of the community and Kraft Foods without reducing extraneous flows to the sewer system.

Option B-2 estimated at $1,974 per household is similar but with reduction of extraneous flows.

Due to an error in calculations Lishman revised the percentage of Kraft's share in the trunk sewer project from 13.8 percent to 32.8 per cent.

And Kraft's share of the outfall sewer project now stands at 21.7 per cent, instead of 11 per cent.

Thus, Kraft's total contribution towards the joint sewer project was upped about $225,000 from $3,644,000 to $3,865,000.

Costs to the Village of Ingleside of the project correspondingly dropped slightly from $1,387,000 to $1,345,000.

Translated for individual homeowners, the price tag now stands at $930 instead of $965 per lot.

After this update by the engineer, council made an oral agreement to join Kraft Foods in a joint upgrading of the Ingleside sewer system.

A decision whether to go with Option B-1 or Option B-2 will be made in the future, after the Ministry of Environment reviews the consultant's proposal.

Council will be meeting with the company later this month, after the consultant receives legal advice from the township solicitor on how to go about the agreement.

After discussions, council commented on how subdued the response had been from taxpayers.

"Most aren't fussy to put up $1,000 but they realize it's the best alternative, and can be budgetted over three years," said Coun. Jim Bancroft.

"I was surprised. We had very few negative comments," said Coun. Don McElheran.

"At the senior citizens the other day I was expecting to be thoroughly questioned. But not one person asked me on it," stated Reeve Stewart Hart.

"I guess they accept the inevitable," he added.

At a public meeting in November attended by about 50 residents, or four per cent of the Village residents, Lishman had presented five viable options for the sewer upgrading, and asked for public input.

Since then, 14 residents responded, the majority of responses siding with Option B, or a joint project with Osnabruck Township.

The A-1 option estimated at $1,079 per household, involved upgrading the sewage system for Ingleside, with no reduction of extraneous flows to the collector system.

At $2,064 per household, Option A-2 is similar to A-1, but includes the reduction of extraneous flows.

Option C, estimated at $872 per household, would only reduce extraneous flows in the sewage collection system.

Option D, which is to maintain the status quo or do nothing, was not presented as a viable option.

While costing nothing, the option would limit community growth, which the Ministry of Environment has restricted due to lack of capacity at the sewage treatment plant.

St. Mary's students prepare for Christmas

Like their fellow students everywhere, the students at St. Mary's School in Morrisburg are busy these days perparing for the Feast of Christmas.

Students will be exchanging gifts, with a maximum value of $3.00. School staff will decline gifts with thanks.

On December 15th, students of Margaret Brown will be holding their Christmas Recitals at 2:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. in the Iroquois United Church.

Two days later, on the 17th, the High School students from St. Joe's Drama Club (Cornwall) will present their play "Alice Saves Christmas", beginning at 9:30 a.m. Parents are welcome to attend this performance.

On December 18th, the annual Christmas Presentation by all rooms of St. Mary's may be seen at 1:15 p.m., and again, parents are welcome.

On December 20th, at 9:30 a.m., in St. Mary's Church, there will be a special Christmas Mass, at which everyone is welcome also. Later that same morning, it is hoped that Santa Claus will visit the Senior Kindergarten, and will make a return visit in the afternoon, to participate in the gift exchange and Christmas Party._

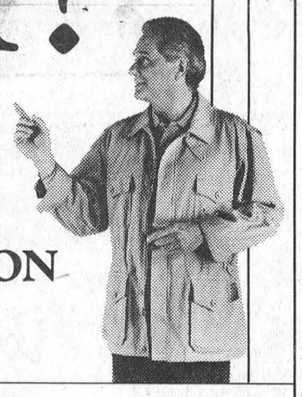
GST?

THIS WEEK YOU ASKED THE GST CONSUMER INFORMATION OFFICE.



Q: I'm thinking of buying a new car in 1991. How will the proposed GST affect prices?

A: The outgoing Federal Sales Tax (FST) is now part of the price of new cars. So, while they will be fully taxed at 7% in 1991, the expected effect of replacing the FST with the GST on the average $22,000 mid-size car is a reduction of around $850.

Q: My son has figured out it will cost $500 in lumber to build a dock at our cottage if he bought it now. How much will that lumber cost with the proposed GST?

A: You can expect to pay about $512 for that same amount of lumber for personal use based solely on the changeover from the FST to the GST.

Q: I know the proposed GST won't apply to city bus fares but I take the commuter train to work. Will I have to pay GST?

A: No. Daily commuter trains are considered a municipal transit service, so fares are exempt from GST.

We're here to answer your questions about how the GST will affect prices. Call us toll-free Monday to Friday 9am-9pm. Ask for your free copy of the "Consumer's Guide to the GST and Prices."

The answer is to call
