New members join old for final meeting of 1970

The final meeting of the present reeve and council was held on Tuesday, Dec. 28th in the council Chambers. All members were present including reeve - elect Keith Graham and councillors-elect Jack Lannin and Stuart Allan.

Council received a letter from the Department of Highways requestng approval for relocation of poles of the Chesterville Hydro System making way for the Highway 43 by-pass. The complete cost of the relocation will be borne by the Highways Dept.

A letter was received from the Minister of Transport regarding workshops in connection with the reduction of accidents by motor vehicle collision.

The 17th in the series will take place in the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 28, 29 and 30.

The village clerk and reeve received an invitation from the Winchester Lions Club to attend their next meeting at which time, W. A. Neill, consultant with the Ontario Development Corporation, wll be the guest speaker.

A lengthy discussion was held on various factors regarding the Sanitary Sewage System. The cost of construction of the present system is $579,000, cost of three extensions $24,000, making a total of $603,000; engineering costs amounted to $60,000; land surveys, etc. $28,390; interest on monies during construction, O. W. R. C. reported the total cost at $725,960. Also charged to the project is an extension to the lagoon with a possible construction date of 1975. The extension was estimated to cost $32,637, at the same time the dumping station will have an increased capacity of 500 gallons per minute at a cost of $5,222. Total project cost is $763,819.

Provincial assistance is $273,685 and CMHC forgiveness loan $25,977. Interest rates have increased to 9 percent and 7⅞ percent. Sewage rate as determined at the meeting on a debenture basis is 40c per foot frontage and $12.50 connection charge to be paid annually for 40 years. The cash price for frontage is $4.30 per foot and the connection cash charge is $162.00. The service rate per thousand gallons increased from an estimate in 1968 of 68c to the present figur of 74.7c.

It is expected that 50 percent of the residents will be connected in 1971 increasing to 75 per cent in 1972 and 100 per cent later. The service charge for sewage remained at $6.00 per month and will be billed at every second month on the same bill as hydro. If sewage frontage and connection charges are not paid in cash the annual charge will be added to the tax bill. A statement of the charges for frontage and connection will be mailed to all property owners early in 1971.

The accounts for the month of December which amounted to over $33,000, were approved by council.

A motion was received to adjourn the meeting.

Bits and Pieces

Au revoir — regretfully

Mr and Mrs Norm Harris and David will be leaving Chesterville in the near future. Norm has held the position as assistant manager at the local Nestle plant. The Harris family will be taking up residence in Western Ontario.

The community, as a whole, will sorely miss this family as they have spent much time and effort towards the betterment of Chesterville.

We extend best wishes and much success to Norm, Isobel and David in their new endeavour.

Minor Hockey

Minor hockey will be starting for Chesterville's youth, in the very near future.

Tyke and Atom players will be contacted in the next few days by coaches Ray Gibeault, Ewen McCadden, Adrian Laflamme and George Cooke.

Chesterville Atoms have already been challenged to a game, next Tuesday evening, by Morrisburg Atom 'B' team.

Pee Wee teams will be contacted with reference to their game schedules.

The Bantam team requires more players before the coaches will commit themselves.

No Snowmobile Tracks

The snow and cold weather, over the past few weeks, has brought the roar of snowmobiles.

We note, however, that as yet there are few or no tracks on the snow-covered river. We hope no one, in an act of rashness, attempts to travel this route.

The snow covering the river may be deep but there is no indication, as yet, that the ice is consistently thick enough to support a snowmobile.

F. M. Cass bowing out

The Grenville-Dundas Progressive Conservative Association announced recently that Fred Cass, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, will not contest the next provincial election.

Mr Cass, 57, has represented the Grenville-Dundas riding since 1955. He was appointed speaker Feb. 1, 1968, after previously serving as attorney-general, minister of highways and minister of municipal affairs.

Here comes December 31

Tonight we shall join together in ringing out the old and bringing in the new. 1970 has just about drawn to a close. Don't play all your cards New Year's eve. Remember Chesterville C. of C. and committees are planning a gala winter carnival later in January.

We would like to take this opportunity in wishing everyone

Happy New Year!

DIARY OF 1970 EVENTS

International unrest was the word in 1970. The terror of a tribul war in Nigeria; South American guerrillas kidnapping diplomats; National guardsmen shooting students at Kent State University; protestants and catholics battling in Northern Ireland; Arab Commandos hy-jacking airliners and blowing them up in the middle of the dessert. In the closing months of 1970, the terror was here in Canada — the FLQ kidnappings of two prominent residents of Quebec.

The following are the highlights of news events happening locally:

January — Open House held in Newington's New Fire Hall; Sewage System start made by Chesterville Council in sod - turning ceremony.

February — Nestle (Canada) Ltd. plan changes amounting to $1,500,000; Atom Hockey League in finals.

March — Bank at Finch hit by robbers; New Park Pavilion bid accepted at Monday meeting.

April — Nestle introduce a new canned pudding; new addition to Morewood school officially opened; Park pavilion fund grows by $9,100.

May — 1970 mill rate set, land owners face 5 mill increase; Lagoon construction underway, completion of walls in 10 days; Chesterville hosts 1970 Cub-O-Ree.

June — S. D. & G. Elementary school teachers receive 8.16 per cent pay increase; Local students from N.D.D.H.S. attend U.N. Seminar.

July — James Auld officially opens Park Pavilion; Nestle apply to O.M.M.B. to relinquish milk quota.

August — Walkathon planned at Williamsburg to aid area boy, Rodney Barkley; Classes filled to capacity at Avonmore fair.

September — Chesterville Pool produces four bronze medalists; new doctor, J. S. McQuade, introduced at C. of C. meeting.

October — $75,000 loss, Embrun barn ravaged by fire; 452 feet raise $3,800 for park improvement.

November — One dead four injured in highway 43 crash; Newington honors ball teams; Capacity crowd attends N.S.D.H.S. annual commencement; $603,000 village sewage system officially opened.

December — Finch Township opens new bridge; Graham will pick up reins as reeve, sweeps opponents Monday; Highway 43 bypass to be completed in 1971; S. Allan elected to fill fourth seat on council; Judy Ross, Ingleside, wins Eastern Ontario "Miss Hope" contest.

What's Ahead for 1971?

1971 promises to be a year of improvement for Chesterville — a new highway by-pass; a new bank and a new fertilizer plant, just west of the village, are scheduled to be completed in '71.

We assume the new reeve and council will continue to lead the village on its long road to improvement.

Municipal officials have a heavy work load ahead — village roadways, cut up by the installation of the sewage system, will need major repairs and further resurfacing; legislation will be required to control snowmobiles, under the present lack of laws a fatal accident is inevitable.

In 1971 we (Chestervillians) could make a firm resolve to — each and everyone show more community spirit and "sell Chesterville."; another look should be taken regarding the hours of operting businesses (unanimty would be an asset); all beds could be moved against the wall (preferably the wrong-side in) this should help eliminate the sometimes uncourteous answers received when seeking information.

Things we can do without in 1971 — an increase in taxes, at any level; any more businesses closing in Chesterville; another television re-run of 'White Christmas'; more CBC dramas; another shameful Quebec incident; dogs untied; record snowfalls; lights burning out in the municipal water tower.

Our hopes for 1971 — Russ Jackson to take B. C.'s offer (he's' not through yet); a Canadian team in the Stanley Cup playoffs; Charlotte Whitton to put Ottawa back in the news; Cornwall to get an incentive program (of some sort); less unemployment; further steps be taken by the Ontario Government to curb pollution, inflation (education will have to take second priority spot for a while).

Our Final Wish

BELL CANADA INSTALS 6 MILLIONTH TELEPHONE

The number of telephones served by Bell Canada has passed the 6,000,000 mark. The six millionth phone was installed earlier this week, accordng to a company announcement.

Bell Canada, which operates in Ontario, Quebec and parts of Labrador and the North West Territories, serves two thirds of Canada's more than 9,000,000 telephones.

There are 1,360 telephones in service in Chesterville and 4,056 phones which customers can reach without paying long distance charges.

Bell Canada added the last million telephones considerably faster than the first million. It took 65 years for the company to reach the 1,000,000 mark while the increase from 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 took only three years.

The company, 90 years old this year, added some 260,000 telephones during the past 12 months. It had 2,100 phones in operation at the end of its first year of service.

GREENBELT FANTASYLAND

The Jack Pine nature trail is going into its second winter with a bang. There is an array of bird feeders set up under a huge old pine tree designed to attract most of our common winter birds and uncommon ones too.

On a bright, sunny winter day the bouncy chickadees, upside down nuthatches, and raucous bluejays flit among the ravenous hoard of yellow and black Grosbeaks. A squirrel scolds from a nearby spruce and a young boy triumphantly drags his weary dad to view some fresh snowshoe rabbit tracks he has quickly recognized from last week's science class. Meanwhile, in a secluded vista an amateur, Cecil B. DeMille, meticulously adjusts the lens of his Leica, crouches behind a make-shift blind and shivers away waiting for the big scene.

This is recreation in its purest form, young and old free to observe and walk, snowshoe or ski through a well organized but not painfully regimented complex of ecalogical phenomena all within fifteen minutes of downtown Ottawa.

The parking lot at the trail on Moodie Drive, built to accomodate thirty cars, is nearly always filled every week-end. During the week the yellow buses from urban schools disgorge their exuberant passengers into the outer classroom. This is no day off. With notebooks in hand off they go into the wilds in search of truth and hnowledge.

When the last farmer gave up his fruitless fight to wrest a living from the shallow soil, little did he know that this apparently barren conglomeration of rock, trees and water, would someday produce a wealth of interesting experiences for the people of the nation's' capital.

Ann Landers . . .

Dear Ann Landers: There comes a time when each of us has reached the limit of his endurance — when we can take no more. My time has come so I am writing to Ann Landers.

I am a pianist-organist. For years I've played for weddings, funerals, anniversary celebrations, testimonial dinners confirmations — just name it and I've supplied the music. My bureau drawers and closet shelves are loaded with handkerchiefs (all lace — no place to blow a nose), jewelry and assorted pieces of junk. I have paid babysitters, driven hundreds of miles and put in dozens of hours rehearsing as well as performing.

Everyone says, "Your music made the event" — or, "You set the tone, created the mood —." High praise, to be sure, but after all is said and done there is no substitute for money.

I hope every person who reads your column will offer CASH to the musician who "makes the event, sets the tone and creates the mood" and not assume that he or she will be insulted. Be an angel, Ann, and print this.

— Dizzy Fingers

Dear Dizzy: Here it is — with an added word to you from "Angel". The prolem can be eliminated by one frank sentence. When a musician is asked to provide music he should say, "I'd be happy to but I'm charging now —" and name the fee.

* * * *

Dear Ann Landers: The woman who wrote to say she is proud of her husband because he had a vasectomy has every right to be. Not every man will do this for his wife.

My husband is a World War II veteran. He was a Marine. To listen to him talk you'd think he fought the battle of Guadacanal by himself. Yet when I ask him 15 years ago to have the operation he refused — said I had no right to put him through that. He didn't mind putting ME through six difficult pregnacies, however.

For the past several years we have had separate bedrooms. Our marriage is phony and we both know it, I'm sure things would have been different if he had had that operation when I begged him to. There's nothing you can do for me, Ann Landers, but I hope you'll print this letter so some of the sissy men out there will see and get smart.

— Peoria

Dear P.: I'm sorry you didn't write me 15 years ago. I would have told you to take your Marine to the family doctor for a chat. Many husbands who fear this surgery invariably change their minds after the have talked to a physician and received reassurance. Ignorance and fear are tthe twin culprits here. I'm sorry for you both. Even though your child-bearing days are over, your sex life need not be. Consider counseling, with or without him. It can't hurt — and it might help.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a normal 17 year-old high school girl who has no income except for my allowance which just barely covers my expenses. I used to do babysitting when I was younger but I have given up my customers to my kid sister who just loves it. (I found it very boring after I reached 16.)

Last night I had a date with a Greek God who had Roman hands. He started to wander on to forbidden territory and I ordered him off. When he persisted I gave him a wallop and accidentally broke his glasses. He says I have to pay to get them fixed. (Cost about $15.) Is this my responcibility.

Sorry But Broke

* * *

Dear S But B.: Guys who make passes should take off their glasses.

Do you feel ill at ease . . . out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key To Popularity." enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self addressed, stamped envelope.

Canada Moves to Join PAHO

Exchanging views by Canada's name plate, at recent health meeting, are Dr. Abraham Horwitz of Chile (left), who directs work of inter-American agency, and Dr. Basil B. Layton, Principal Medical Officer in Canada's Department of National Health and Welfare.

Canada has moved a step closer to joining the Pan American Health Organization, the inter-American agency headquartered in Washington, D.C. This is the result of:

- An announcement of intention to join by Canada's Dr. Basil B. Layton, Principal Medical Officer, Department of National Health and Welfare, when Canada "has completed the necessary administrative and financial arrangements."

He made this statement to top-ranking health officials attending the recent 18th quadrennial Pan American Sanitary Conference. "I might add," he told them of the possibility of membership, "we view this prospect with some optimism."

- A resolution by the officials that noted with "pleasure the declaration of the government of Canada," and that also gave authority to Dr. Abraham Horwitz, director of PAHO's secretariat, "to provide all available assistance in order that Canada may join PAHO without delay."

The resolution was passed unanimously by delegations from PAHO member governments—28 in all.

They are the 20 Latin American Republics; Barbados, Guyana, Jamaica, Trinidad and Tobago, and the United States; plus France, the Netherlands, and the United Kingdom. The European delegations represent their territories in the Western Hemisphere.

Jointly with the World Health Organization, PAHO carries out some 600 international health projects in the Western Hemisphere on a budget of about $30 million, doing so through a common secretariat, the Pan American Sanitary Bureau.

As a founding member of WHO, Canada gave to that U.N. specialized agency its first Director-General, Dr. Brock Chisholm. As a WHO member also, Canada attends regional committee meetings, which are held in conjunction with PAHO meetings.

Until now however, Canada has held official observer status, without exercising the right of vote.

With Canadian membership in PAHO, all countries of the Western Hemisphere—29 in all, who are WHO members—would also be PAHO members.

Budgeting philosophy -

How to beat the high cost of living

Unless you are one of the few fortunate beings who has no financial worries, you have undoubtedly felt a greater pinch on your spending capacity over the past few years. No longer are you able to treat yourself to little extras and have likely found that your salary disappears rather quickly on the basic necessities.

In the January issue of Chatelaine we meet a most remarkable family from Chippawa, Ontario, who has managed to beat the high cost of living. On a take-home salary of $9,500, the Huxtables and their six children drive two cars, live in a $40,000 house, summer at a cottage and take family jaunts to Boston, Montreal and Ottawa. And, the reason they can afford such luxeries is because they have learned to govern their spending by an overall budgeting philosophy. For the Huxtables, saving money isn't a hardship, it is a way of life which adds zest to their activities.

All the children have jobs, such as babysitting or cutting grass for the neighbours. In this way they earn their own spending money and learn to hustle for themselves. They also help with the housework, cookng and repairs, to save the high cost of hiring servicemen.

The house the Huxtables own was built almost entirely by themselves, each stage over a certain period of time. They furnished it gradually, savng for one item at a time.

Food is another area of great saving. Mrs Huxtable always listens to consumer reports, watches for specials and buys food in quantity whenever possible. Casseroles are a familiar sight in her home as they are economical and offer variety.

Although a strict system of budgeting requires considerable energy and determination, it has proven a rewarding practice. And, even though most people would find it impossible to be as dedicated as the Huxtables, one can certainly learn a great deal from their example.

Mr and Mrs Webster Barry celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr and Mrs Earl Colquhoun RR 2 Chesterville, on Sunday December 27. Married December 29, 1920, in Iroquois United Church parsonage by Rev T. J. Vickery, they moved to the Chesterville area from Merrickville four years ago.

Mainly About People

Mr and Mrs A. E. Jarvis and Miss Cora Droppo spent the Christmas holiday and weekend with Mr and Mrs Dale Jarvis and Mr and Mrs Stephen Brabazon and family in Ottawa.

Mr and Mrs Roy Lynch, Finch, spent Christmas in Ottawa with Mr and Mrs Bernard Lynch and Mr and Mrs Gerald Lynch.

"After Christmas, What?" was the sermon subject of the Rev E. Earle Eaton, minister, at the Presbyterian Churches of Chesterville, Morewood and Dunbar last Sunday. "The First Christmas Carol" was the title of his children's sermonette. Congregational hymns were the traditional carols "Christians, Awake, Salute the Happy Morn", "First Noel", and "O Come, All Ye Faithful". Chorales were "Little Lord Jesus", by Muellee-Emig; "Song of Bethlehem", by Fink; and "A Little Child the Savior Came", (Angelus) , by Josephi. At the Dunbar service the sacrament of Baptism was administered to Ronald Patrick Wood, infant son of Mr and Mrs Earl Wood. Elder H. Van der Heide assisted Pastor Eaton at the baptistry. Several visiting worshipers signed the guest book at both Morewood and Dunbar.

Elderly to receive property tax assistance

More than 230,000 elderly people across Ontario have begun to receive special assistance from the Ontario Government to lighten their property tax burden.

Municipal Affairs Minister, Darcy McKeough said the 1970 Tax Assistance for the Elderly represents "a major initiative in relieving tax pressures confronting a particularly hard-pressed sector of the population.

The Minister said the $17 million plan, designed to ensure a maximum of $100 to any one household, "is an important immediate step taken while the Government continues to work toward its broad objective of a meaningful reform of the system of local taxation."

Tax reform is not realistic until the market value assessment program is completed in 1975, Mr. McKeough said. "It is appropriate, then, that immediate measures be adopted to deal with the immediate problems facing elderly citizens in the province."

Mr. McKeough said $50 cheques have been mailed out to all elderly persons in Ontario who receive the Federal Guaranteed Income Supplement.

Premier Robarts announced the plan in the Legislature last October 6, along with other measures intended to alleviate the property tax burden for segments of Ontario's population.

The new plan will supplement benefits already available under the Ontario Residential Property Tax Reduction program, and "reflects our continuing concern over the implications of increased local taxes for those living on restricted incomes," Mr. McKeough said.

Accompanying the $50 cheques are pamphlets explaining to recipients that they may be eligible for a second payment of up to $50. The literature also explains how they may apply for the additional payment. Application forms are attached to the cheques and must be submitted before the end of next year.

In cases where a husband and wife living together both receive the Federal Guaranteed Income Supplement, the maximum $100 will be paid.

Mr. McKeough also pointed out that although it is difficult to accurately measure the tax burden of elderly persons living in single rooms or with friends or relatives, they will receive $50 under the plan.

1970 Tax Assistance for the Elderly is one of two new programs, designed to relieve the property tax burden in Ontario, launched by the Government this year. The second is the Farm Tax Reduction Program.

BETTY KENNEDY'S FORMULA FOR SUCCESS

From newspaper reporting in her native city of Ottawa to radio and television broadcasting across Canada, Betty Kennedy has risen to a level of fame that few people ever achieve. She is known nationally as one of the Front-Page - Challenge panelists along with Pierre Berton and Gordon Sinclair, conducts her own radio interview program on Toronto's CFBR, heard widely throughout the Ontario area, and has just recently launched a series of programs for the new Ontario educational TV channel.

In the January issue of Chatelaine, Mollie Gillen reveals what she has discovered to be Betty Kennedy's formula for success. A woman of quiet charm, warmth and intelligence, Betty Kennedy certainly hasn't reached the top as a swinging, hip, show-biz dazzler. In fact, she rather portrays the opposite image. When not involved in her work, she enjoys a normal, quiet home life with husband Gerhard and their four children.

As Canada's top woman broadcaster, Betty Kennedy has managed to channel her talent successfully and has proven that nice girls, with a lot of perserverence and a little luck, can finish first.

LIMERICK FOREST WINTER TRAILS

With snowmobile sales up again this year and many areas being closed to them, there will be an ever increasing use made of our county forests, especially Limerick and Larose.

The Department has maintained that snowmobilng is of good use compatible with timber production. Some trails have been cleared and preliminary packing has been carried out at Limerick Forest to ensure safe travel in the swamp areas. Maps are available at the headquarters to avoid becoming confused.

It must be pointed out that these trails are meant for travelling and exploring and there is no way racing enthusasts will enjoy them. Since trail maintenance is a very diffcult problem, there will be very little carried out, except by mother nature with new snowfalls.

To those who worry about the deer, let us assure you that in Limerick Forest they can escape into dense cedar yards that cannot be penetrated by snowmobiles. This is not always the case, however, and snowmobilers should refrain from molesting any wild animals.

It is also essential that the snowmobile group, in general, police their own activities because it is by the irresponsible acts of a few that many areas have already been closed to their use.

ARMSTRONG — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Jack Armstrong, who passed away on Dec. 29, 1969.
God knew that he was suffering
That the hills were hard to climb
So he closed his weary eyelids
And whispered, "Peace be Thine"
Away in the beautiful hills of God
By the valley of rest so fair,
Some day, we know not when,
We will meet our loved one there.

HOW CHILDREN STRAIN A MARRIAGE

How many of us have felt while growing up that our parents have made ridiculous and unforgivable mistakes that we would never repeat when bringing up our own children? Each new generation feels that it is perfectly competent to raise children. In fact, the survival of the race depends greatly on this feeling of confidence. If people knew exactly what to expect of child rearing, many might change their outlook. It always looks easier when one is on the receivng end.

As we learn in the January issue of Chatelaine, children definitely can strain a marriage and sometimes destroy a healthy relationship between husband and wife. When the first child is born, the parents assume a great responsibility, and this responsbility grows with each additional child. Each time the child develops a problem, the parents suffer stress.

In many marriages the first real strain between the couple comes with the arrival of a colicky, angry baby, who keeps his young mother perpetually on edge, keeps both parents from getting enough sleep, and causes arguments over whose fault it is anyway. Even if the baby is good, looking after it takes up far more time than either young parent ever thought it could, and the young husband's secret fear that the baby will take his wife's love away from him may turn out to be all too true.

These problems, and many others, are bound to occur, and both parents should be prepared for this possibility. It is important to find ways to get enough rest and have time alone together. Otherwise, a child can become a burden, when it could, under different circumstances, bring two people a great deal of joy.

FARMERS — LANDOWNERS

Ontario deer hunt most successful

Better weather conditions resulted in improved hunting during the recent 1970 deer seasoon in eastern Ontario, but the improvement was not as great as had been hoped. Hunting remained poor in the Sudbury mainland, and in North Bay and Pembroke Forest Districts, but there was average success elsewhere in this area.

For the first time in many years there was no snow and little rain to help hunters track deer anywhere in the eastern deer range during the entire hunting season. The pleasant but frequently overcast weather was neither a help nor a hindrance to hunters; a distinct improvement from last year when heavy rain discouraged hunting. The warm weather resulted in deer being spread well over their summer range. Fewer hunters participated probably for various reasons, including such things as general economic conditions.

Slightly improved hunting was reported from Kemptville, Tweed, Lindsay and Lake Huron Forest Districts. Preliminary figures showed that hunter success in Tweed District increased to 17% from 15% in 1969. The poorest success seemed to be in north Hastings County. In Lindsay Forest District hunter success was variable, being very good in Haliburton County but less so in north Peterborough County. On the Bruce Peninsula (St. Edmonds and Lindsay Townships) only 20 man-days were required to get a deer compared with 32 in 1969. Parry Sound reported about 20% success, similar to 1969. In Lake Simcoe Forest District some Townships showed success as high as 25%, though the overall success is expected to be about 15%, the same as last year.

Further north, hunter success in Pembroke Forest District decreased to 12% this year from 13% in 1969. North Bay had its usual 8% success and Sudbury mainland remained below 5%. Sault Ste. Marie hunter success also appeared about the same as 1969, being a little better in the Blind River area than in the rest of the district. Manitoulin Island showed a very slight improvement to 23% from 22% in 1969.

Although the good fawn production of 1969 continued to show up as a substantial number of yearlings in most districts, the numbers of 1970 fawns appeared low. Last winter may have been severe enough to impair the condition of does and result in some loss of fawns during the spring. An exception was in Parry Sound Forest District where fawns comprised nearly a third of the deer examined.

The hunting picture was brightened by very good moose and bear hunts in many of the northern sections. It appears that the forests in these areas are becoming more suitable for moose than for deer.

MacQueen is an old Scots Family

The following was taken from the Toronto Telegram and has been submitted by A. Alex Stark, Queenston, Ont. According to Alex's letter their are many families located in this area related to the MacQueens.

Text by Rev. James McGovern

I have just read a letter from a Rev. Donald MacKinnon to an Alex Stark. It was written June 18, 1951. What I find in that letter intrigues me and has sent me to delve a little further into an old Scots family — the MacQueen's'. Here is an extract from that letter.

"I have been thinking of writing your relative in Scotland — young Hector Cameron — to let him know that I am in touch with some of his cousins in Canada. His aunt Annie Cameron, whom I know intimately, and who was a great friend of my late wife, is a most estimable woman, and she will be most interested to hear about you all.

"You and Annie Cameron are second cousins. A daughter of the Rev. John MacQueen is still living. She is a Mrs MacKenzie and is very old. The Rev. Hector Cameron, whom I never saw, was one of the great ministers of the Highlands of Scotland. He was a convert from the Roman Catholic Church to Protestantism.

"Mrs Hector Cameron, who was your Mother's first cousin, I saw once. She was a very superior and refined woman, and her son, the Rev. William Cameron, who was my senior by many years, was like his father, a great preacher and a most lovable man. I knew his intimately and was with him at a Communion in Skye shortly before he passed away. His death made a great blank in the ministry of the Free Church. When I got back to Scotland I shall send you a copy of the Free Church Record, giving an account of his life and work. His only son, a lad in his early 20s, is following in his father's footsteps.

"My father-in-law, the Rev William Fraser and the Rev. Hector Cameron were very friendly and stood together, the former in Skye and the latter in Lewis, in 1900 to continue the Free Church when the great majority of the Free Church ministers joined the United Presbyterian Church to form the United Free Church, which after an existence of 29 years became submerged in the Church of Scotland."

This letter shows a little how clerical this family has been and is. One of our foremost Protestant clerics of today is Rev Angus MacQueen.

But they are also known as a strong military family throughout their history and Mac Queens have been found in the story of many British and Canadian Regiments. Perhaps the most eminent is Major General McQueen of Nova Scotia.

I would like to illustrate this loyalty to Crown and Country by a petition made Feb. 5, 1842 by an Alex McQueen from Brockville.

"That your memorialist served his Sovereigns and Country in a military capacity for 40 years, from which service he retired in the year 1830.

"That being desirious, one of his sons should embrace the same line of life in which his father passed the best and happiest of his days.

"Your memorialist most humbly prays that Your Excellency may be graciously pleased to recommend his son Duncan Edward MCQueen to The Right Honourable Lord Till, Commanding-In-Chief Her Majesty"s forces for a commission in the Second Battalion of The Royal Canadian Regiment about to be raised in Canada, he is at present doing duty as ensign in the 4th Battalion of Incorporated Militia doing duty at Prescott.

"Your memorialist begs leave to state that the said Duncan Edward McQueen and his four brothers were actively engaged in the service of their country during the whole of the late disturbances in Canada."

But who are the MacQueens of Scottish Story? The name is derived from either Suibhne (MacSuibhne, son of the peaceful, quiet man) or from the Old Norse Swain of Cvein. In the latter instance the name MacEwen or MacSwyn would have been a paronymic meaning the "son of Swen or Swyn". In Gaelic, the 's' in Swen is aspirated in the genitive, and so MacSwen becomes MacShwen, MacShwyn, MacShuin, pronounced MacCuinn and in English, MacQueen.

According to tradition, the MacQueens were an item in Tochradth nighean a' Chathanaich (the dowry of O'Cathan"s daughter) by which Angus Og of Isla, Lord of the Isles, was given with his wife, Agnes, daughter of Conn Buidhe O'Cathan, a man out of 240 families in his extensive territories. There are still families in the isles and on the mainland of the west as well as the MacQueens that trace their origin to this source. There is every indication that the MacQueen's earliest setlement was in the district of Moidart n Inverness-shire.

Whether the MacQueens of Skye were originally an offshoot of the Corrwbrough family or their progenitor had gone from Moidart with one of the Clanranald ladies who had married into the Sleat family, it is impossible to say at present. During the 16th century, there are references in documents to MacQueens, who acted in the capacity of Notaries to the Sleat family in Skye and North Uist.

TEN INDUSTRIES UNITE TO CUT ACCIDENTS

For more than half a century, industrial firms in Ontario have been trying to cut the accident rate in factories and workshops. The Industrial Accident Prevention Association has led the way by uniting the efforts of ten industries: woodworking, ceramics and stone, metal trades, chemicals, food products, leather, rubber and tanners, textiles, printing trades and retail stores.

Each year, the 53,000 members firms of I.A.P.A. conduct an intense program of activities throughout Ontario to prevent accidents in industry. These include a safety drive, a convention that attracts 4,000 delegates, seminars between unions, government and management representatives, workshops, training courses, in-plant study groups, family rallies and audio-visual presentations, all of which combine to promote the prevention of accidents.

The Association promotes its activities through committees made up of more than 1,000 volunteers from industry. They serve either through separate industrial classes or through geographical divisions and sectons.

The I.A.P.A. maintains close liaison with The Workmen's Compensation Board, the Departments of Labour and Health, and other safety associatons.

I.A.P.A. services are available to all member firms, and are paid for out of assessments paid to the W.C.B.

THE 1970 FARM TAX REDUCTION PROGRAM

The 1970 Farm Tax Reduction Program is the most recent phase in the Government of Ontario's long-term plan to reform the system of local taxation in this province.

This program will help farm property owners to pay their municipal and education taxes.

Farm property owners will receive $20,000,000 in special assistance from the Government of Ontario. This amounts to 25 percent of the net municipal taxes on eligible farm property.

To be eligible, the property owner must live in Ontario. Also, if the farm property is less than 11 acres, it must have yielded $2,000 or more in gross income during the year.

Cheques and information leaflets are being mailed out by the Department of Municipal Affairs to every eligible farm owner.

Christmas concert presented in Roxmore school

Reviving a custom that has always been a mainstay of the Christmas Season in the rural community, the staff and students of Roxmore Public School presented a fine Christmas Concert in the school's auditorium before a large appreciative audience of parents and friends recently.

Upwards of 600 persons, including the boys and girls, were in attendance.

Mrs Mabel Watkins, principal of Roxmore School, welcomed all the guests and introduced the members of the hard-working staff who had co-operated in making the program possible.

The program was so arranged that each teacher was responsible for a part.

The musical and vocal arrangements were directed by Mrs Iva Bush.

Miss Coleman's kindergarten class opened the program with "Jingle Bells", "Rudolph" and "We Wish You a Merry Christmas".

Mrs Christena Heuston's students presented the song "Frosty the Snowman" and "Christmas", a choral reading.

The boys and girls of Mrs A. Ferguson's room contributed "A Welcome to You", "Up on the House Top", "Children's yes" and "Away in a Manger".

Cynthia Hartle gave "Words of Welcome" on behalf of all the boys and girls of Mrs Wilma MacMillan's clasroom. Other numbers were "Old Mother Hubbard's Christmas"; songs "Here Comes St. Nicholas", "Hardrock, Coco and Joe" and a play "Christmas Dreams", Jeffrey Johnson entoned a "Farewell".

Mrs Luella Robinson's class presented the play "The First Nowell".

The pupils from Mrs Ethel Fetterly's class led off with the choruses "Thirty-Two Feet and Eight Little Tails" and "O Christmas Tree"; verses by Sydney Shepard, Neil MacIntosh and Mark Sproul; a play, "Christmas Tree Angel" and the Virginian Reel dance.

Mr George Willis and the boys and girls of Room 7 presented a French play.

Mrs Mary Flangagan's class presented the play "A Visit of Inspection" and the choruses "The First Nowell" and "We Wish You a Merry Christmas".

The finale came from Mrs Watkins' and Mr Willis' students. It took the form of the story behind the writing of such well known carols as "Angels We Have Heard on High", "O Little Town of Bethlehem", "Hark the Herald Angels Sing", "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear", "Joy to the World" and "Silent Night".

Parents and friends had the opportunity of visiting all the classrooms and viewing the many forms of art work that had been done on the theme of Christmas.
