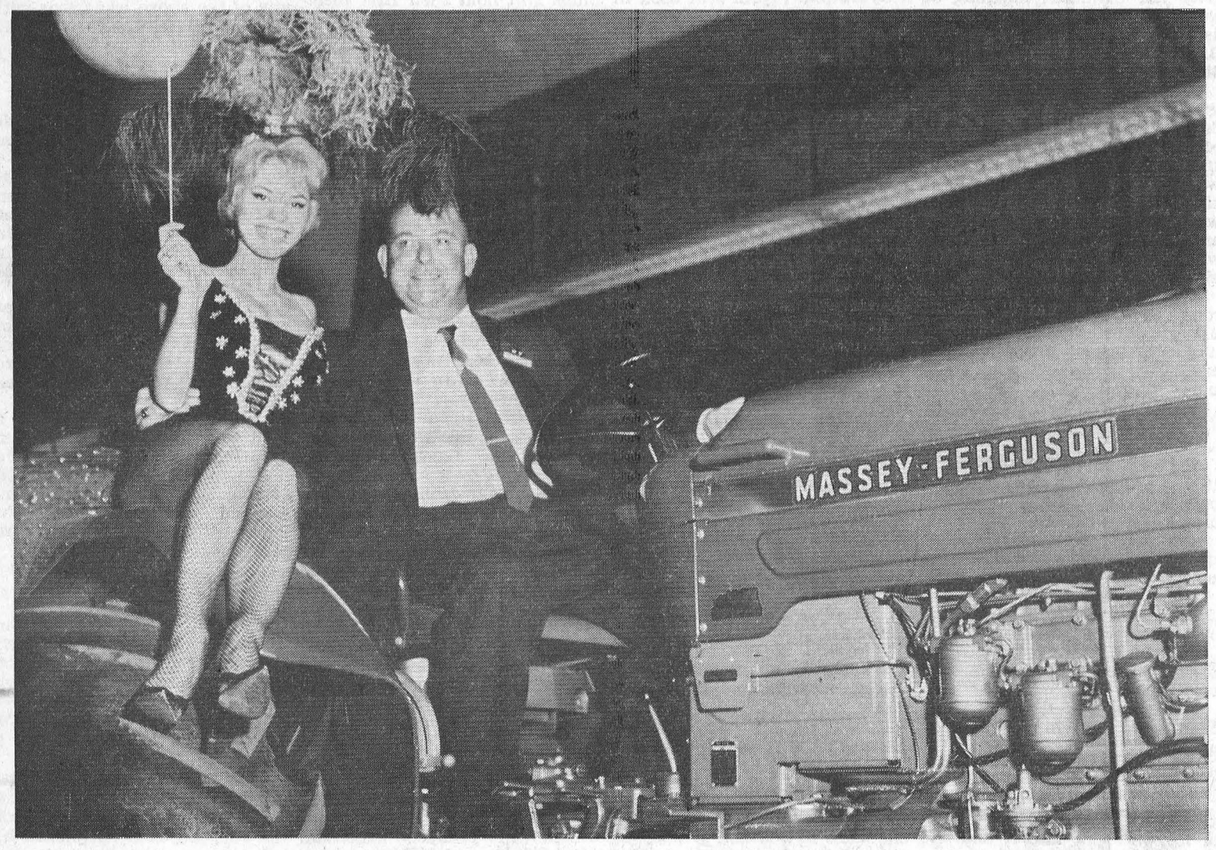
Sixty-Eighth Year, No. 25 | Chesterville, Ontario, Thursday, March 15, 1962 | EIGHT PAGES | Single Copies, 10c



One of the pleasures of being an implement dealer is the opportunity of observing close at hand the newest models. Leon McMillan journeyed to Toronto the other day and was able to do just that We were fortunate in receiving photographic evidence of the Mc Millan Bros.' partner as he closely examined the very latest thing in farm equipment. He is seen here with this year's model, classed as a two-cylinder number, very fast, expensive to operate but not at all difficult to maintain. Incidentally the M-F dealer is holding down the seat of a brand new tractor that will be offered for sale in the district this year.—M-F Photo.

Broomball tournament ends successful season at local rink, Sunday

Parking proved to be the major problem as more than 500 spectators dropped in to watch 10 teams battle it out for he season's broomball championship.

What started out to be a small local tournament, ended up with 10 teams fighting for the honours. Along with 5 teams from Nestle's and one from the High school, teams were also entered from Winchester, Morewood, Orchardside and the Forage Club.

The tournament started at 1 p.m. and continued until 11.15 with the "floor" team from Nestle's finally taking honours by defeating Winchester firemen on the basis of the first goal scored. The game ended in a 1 - 1 tie and after an overtime period, under tournament rules the team scoring the first goal in the regular game automatically won.

More than 250 cups of coffee were provided by the teams from Nestle's and the grapevine has it that almost as many bottles of liniment were sold on Monday.

This brought to a close the most successful season of the open rink so far, with 110 boys organized into hockey teams ranging from Midgets to Peanuts. This surely points out the need for a covered rink.

Through the efforts of Len Shane, Garry Price, Bob Miltimore, N. Laprade, Dale Jarvis, Bob Henderson and Wayne Laprade, the young folks saw more organized hockey than they have had for some time. With the cooperation of the Community Centre Board, more time was allotted for hockey, but the weather man didn't always see things our way, so that many hours were lost.

Donations of sweaters and other hockey equipment by many local business men shows a renewed interest in the boys and it is hoped for an even more successful season next year.

A letter from Nigeria by mistake

This week a couple of tons of magazines arrived at the "Record" office from London, England. Each 60-lb. bundle comes in its own "Great Britain" mail bag, sealed with a small lead seal.

Rev. Milford Heimbecker, local pastor at the Pentecostal Church here helps at the newspaper office on a part-time basis and it fell his lot to empty the bags and prepare the magazines for mailing addresses.

One of the last big bags to be emptied contained more than just a box of magazines. A letter tumbled out and it proved most interesting.

A young man by the name of Johnson M. O'Siruvwogo, at a place called Okpara Inland, via Sapele, Nigeria, had written an answer ot a "help wanted" advertisement in the Daily Times of Aba, Nigeria, had enclosed a stamped self-addressed envelope with his letter and sent it off.

The letter had remained stuck in the GB bag, had gone back to England, over here to Chesterville, and now is on its way back to Nigeria, with our best wishes and a note to the editor explaining why it was a bit late.

Chesterville Midgets oust Prescott

Chesterville Midgets are on a real wining streak right now. If they keep up the good work, they will be ready for the Stanley Cup finals.

The other night at Winchester they took the measure of the Prescott contingent to the tune of 3 - 2 and then turned around and did it again with a skunk at Brockville 2 - 0.

Larry Barkley came up with three of the winning goals and Doug Thompson and James Harper clicked with the other two.

Fred Labre scored his shutout and made the net a solid shield against the flying rubber of the Prescott team.

Maxville came into the picture Wednesday night and the locals will journey to Alexandria for another big game on Friday night, March 16.

The boys are going great guns and they are looking for as much public support as possible.

Line up—goal, Labre; def., Van Oers, Desourmeaux; fwds, Thompson, Lacelle, Robertson, Barkley, M. Wagner, J. Harper, Beckstead L. Carkner, R. Wagner, D. Carkner, Doering and W. Harper.

Harold Steele host to meet Stor. Ayrshire Club

Harold Steele, RR2, Newington, was host to Stormont Ayr shire Club for the annual barn meeting. The afternoon affair was largely attended by Ayrshire men and their guests.

Dr Merlin Wilson, of the Eastern Ontario Cattle Breeders' Association, spoke in cattle diseases and breeding problems. Wilfred Vallance, Maxville, and William McRoberts, Winchester, conducted the judging classes of Ayrshire cows.

Prize winners in the junior class were Barry Alguire, Jim Vallance, Billy Beaudette, Ian MacMillan, David Alguire, Rickey Alguire and Earl MacIntyre.

In the senior class, winners were George Hehir, D. C. Murray, Allan Beaudette, Douglas MacIntyre, Donald Harris and Allan McRoberts.

Noteworthy among coming events announced by club president Millard Grant is an Ayrshire Club bus trip, scheduled to leave Cornwall bus terminal at 9 a.m. Wednesday morning, March 21.

In announcing plans, K. E. Best, agricultural representative for Stormont, said there were enough applications to permit arrangement for use of a bus on the tour. Some Glengarry Ayrshire men plan to accompany the Stormont group on their visit to Melody Lane Farm of F. J. Bova, Burke, N.Y., and Clover Crest Farm of Marshall F. Cheesman, Ellenburg Depot, N.Y. The New York state tour will be followed by a return to Canada and a visit to Alderwood Farm, St. Valentine, Quebec.

The bus trip or similar tour of notable Ayrshire establishments is arranged approximately once a year by the local club.

High School News

Tuesday afternoon Grades 9A and 9B gathered in room one to watch a film on bus safety. Many of our students are drawn by bus from the country so this film was quite interesting. The film was shown during a Health period.

The members of the Chesterville High School Students' Council were joined by four membrs of the Winchester High School Students' Council at their meeting on Wednesday. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss a dance to be held jointly by the two schools under the name of our future school, North Dundas District High School.

The dance was arranged for a date in April with each school sharing half the expenses and half the profits. This is a perfect chance to get with the new school spirit.

The calendar shows the exams are coming fast with less than a week to prepare. The results of these examinations make or break the chance for recommendations in June for the students in Grades Nine and Ten, good luck!

The Home Econimics room fire escape was installed on Saturday.

The snow and rain slowed the broom ball for a few days. Brooms are scarce, anyone with a worn out broom, please notify the high school.

It's a good idea never to buy more shellac than is required for a particular job. This excellent liquid doesn't keep too well when exposed in the container to both light and air. Also be sure that it's either in a glass container or a special lead lined metal container.

Robin seen March 8 by James Sargent

Just a week ago, Mrs James Sargent found it hard to believe her ears. But a closer investigation revealed a big fat robin in a tree next the house carolling away as if Spring was right at hand.

She called Jim in from the barn, and the two of them watched the early bird until it decided to take off, heading directly for Chesterville, according to the young farmer.

FOR ICE FISHING

There's a battery - operated, motor-driven device that jigs the lure constantly to fool the fish. It's made of aluminum and operates up to 100 hours on a D size battery, it's said.

And the walls came tumbling down. Winchester high school is slowly becoming rubble under the activity of the wreckers. Here we caught a corner of the building falling as the big 'dozer backed away at the end of the cable. The work is proceeding at a good pace and the contractor hopes to soon have the whole thing levelled.—Record Photo.

It seems a zoo keeper is looking for a mate for his prize tern in the belief that one good tern deserves another.

CRUMBS from Graham's Loaf

The end of the week will find us all wearing the green and delving around in our mixed ancestry to see if ever we came within a leprechaun's leap of owning a bit of Irish blood. The 17th of March, aside from its signal importance as the day the ice goes out, is also St. Patrick's Day. Surrounded as we are by districts bearing the old and honoured names of Limerick and Connaught, not to mention the Boyne and Noodlebush, it is only fitting that we take off the hat to the Irish for the day. In case someone wonders about Noodlebush, rest at ease. We have often wondered about the name and just threw it in to fill the line. We think it came from the Cherman word "nudel" to rhyme with "strudel."

Old S.S. No. 9 was a riotous spot of the Auld Sod on the 17th. Surrounded by Carrolls, McCloskeys, Currans, McDonalds and Moores, the Irish Grahams had about as much chance as a thistle in a shamrock garden. Top the whole thing by a young teacher called Maggie Mulloy, and shure it was a great day for the Irish. The highlight was always reached when Len Carroll could be persuaded to sing. Finally he would give forth with innumerable verses about the marvellous sights at Derbytown, "and you can see the same as I."

For years we proclaimed our descent from a bunch of hungry Irish Allisons, and had the county history book to prove it. But the matter was never recognized among the faithful at No. 9. As long as the name smoked so strongly of the peat bogs and the heathen garments of the Scotch, we took a back seat. Our childish treble was allowed to lift in an occasional chorus of "Smilin' Irish Eyes" but never were we called upon to give forth with a solo part. Of course, part of the reason there was our repertoire of solos. We knew only stalwart Methodist sawdust trail hymns then, and they were not really the most popular hits at Limerick school.

Some weeks a weekly newspaper has so little news, it would be wise to go out and make some. This is one of the weeks. We are in the middle. week of the early early Spring or the late late Winter, or something. The only bit of live news is the fact that Jim Sargent saw a robin last week. And after the snows of Monday and Tuesday maybe that feathered news is not so alive. Most of the roads filled to the top with wet, sodden snow and even the road to Morewood was nearly impassable Tuesday morning. A bit farther east, it was worse, with schools and traffic just about at a standstill. Perhaps it is the last big twitch before Winter gives up the ghost.

One of the delights of growing up and older is that of recalling the process. Every little while we get a jab about this business of looking back so often. But it is only by looking back that the present is livable and the future possible. Every man and woman was once at an age of wonder. We delighted in the freshness of discovery, if only to realize we had friends when we needed them or to find hidden strength to lift a sudden burden. The delights of our young days are sorely needed today to help us appreciate the youthful exuberence of our own kids. We must remember how we accepted exactly the same circumstances then, fit our experience to the present pattern of youth, and bless their freshness.

OPINIONS . . .

OURS AND OTHERS

Impossible, but seemingly true

It appears as if the new central school for the district is going to turn out to be almost wholly built out of government funds and insurance money. The cost to the taxpayers for the new $1,500,000 structure is getting closer and closer to peanuts.

At the weekend, word was received by the school board that their interest in the final disposition of the $155,000 insurance money was ready for reply. The board had asked, hoping against regulations, that the insurance money could be used as a capital investment by the district. In other words, that the money be used, not as a charge against the grants but as a credit in the bank. Thus when the final figures would come forward showing what the municipalities would have to pay, it would be a tremendous lift to the whole affair if that cost could be reduced by the insurance money.

.And that is what has happened. We can assume the municipalities would be obliged to pay a debenture debt over 20 years of some $300,000. The figures are only rough yet. But the Department of Education has stated it will be agreeable to using the insurance money from the Winchester school to reduce that sum to about $145,000 or something like one-half a mill.

The cost figures may not seem to come out exactly right with normal business accounting. It must be remembered a composite school is planned. It will fill a large void in the part of Eastern Ontario education bounded by Bell's Corners, Prescott and Cornwall. All these centres are in process of completing their composite school plans. Because it is a composite unit, the grants become outright 100 percent payments, for many parts of the building and equipment. And because of the emergency circumstances in this district, special consideration is being shown to the harried board.

Even if the figures lie a bit, in the matter of a half-mill levy, the cost of the new school is being pared down enough to make the larger maintenance costs seem easier to contemplate.

Who's afraid of the big, bad bull?

Lately a lot of bull has appeared in the press, both locally and nationally. The Winchester Press broke the story and picture of a trained bull in the Mountain area. The story went on TV and over the Canadian Press wires before it was cold.

There is little doubt the Dundas Safety Council people have been having nightmares. Even though the beast is a reasonably even-tempered beef-type animal, it still possesses the tiny mind of a potential killer. If it is bright enough to be trained to draw a load, it is bright enough to turn on its human keepers like a flash.

Bulls, if they are still bulls and not steers, are not to be trusted under any circumstances. We have vivid memories of a tame and docile beast that turned a barnyard into a shambles. Only a benign Providence that day saved a gang of kids from suddenly being minus a father and a helping neighbour.

It would seem a lesson could be learned from the bull story. One that might just serve as a topic for the next object lesson when farm safety is under discussion. The greatest emphasis is not too much when warnings come to be issued about the uncertain tempers of big farm bulls. They have a part to play in farm life, but it has to do almost entirely with procreation, not recreation.

Play safe, and not with bulls.

Is your dog vaccinated

The incidence of rabies in the counties is on the wane but the danger still exists. Dogs are turning up still, as well as cats, infected with the dread disease and it would be well if some simple precautions continue to be observed.

Many dog and cat owners of the village and district have taken the precaution of having their pets inoculated by the veterinary. It is not an expensive type of insurance and would offer a large degree of peace of mind to those with children who play with their pets.

The village is polluted, as usual, with running packs of foot-loose dogs. This time of year they seem to be even more plentiful than usual. Wonder how many of them are vaccinated? Wonder if it wouldn't be a good idea to keep them tied up the year around?

Ontario Legislature Report

By Hon. F. M. Cass, Q.C.

This was a week of Departmental estimates with those of Agriculture, Transport and Provincial Secretary being considered. Three late night sessions were needed to dispose of these items of business while other days were taken up with speeches on the Budget Debate, ordinary business of the House, and Committee meetings.

During the Agricultural estimates debate much was made of the recent difficulties in meat inspection and the government forecast that, in co-operation with the Federal authorities, this problem would shortly be satisfactorily met. There was also some discussion over payment by the government of the cost of removing from the British market some cheese from Eastern Ontario which had gone bad over there, and in this manner protecting the good reputation of Canadian cheese in our most important export market. Farm marketing laws also came under discussion but without the heat shown during last year's debates on the same subject. The new Minister of Agriculture, the Hon. William A. Stewart, himself a farmer, showed an excellent knowledge of his department and agricultural problems and progress and acquitted himself most excellently on his first estimates.

The Transport Department estimates varied little from former years and indicated a steady increase in motor vehicle registrations, a slight increase in accident statistics and a very determined government campaign for safer driving. The Minister, the Hon. H. Leslie Rowntree, announced a measure of reciprocity with some of our sister provinces in licensing of commercial vehicles which is a goal towards which the Ontario Government for the past several years has been giving much leadership. He also announced that to date over 97% of all vehicles licensed for this year had been insured so that another goal seems almost have been reached, namely, of having no uninsured vehic on our highways and streets. T Minister also announced a sw ing revision of the laws and pro cedure governing the unsatisfie judgment fund which will enable recovery to be much faster and less expensive.

A great many more new bills were introduced in amendment of existing laws and many were studied by the Members in Committee. The Private Bills Committee, of which Mr Geo. E. Gomme, M.P.P. for Lanark is chairman, almost completed its work of examining, amending and reporting on the many and varied bills presented to the House by municipalities, corporations and individuals.

Premier Robarts is proving himself as House Leader during this Session and showing that he is well able to lead the government and administer the affairs of the Province. He is firm, but courteous and reasonable, and would appear to have gained the confidence of all parties. He had the pleasure during the week of introducing a new Government Member, Mr Leonard Reilly, M.P.P. for Eglington Riding in Toronto, who won by a very small margin of votes the seat formerly held by the late Dr W. J. Dunlop, long-time Minister of Education.

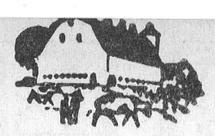
FRENDLEE FARM CHATS



By Lillian Allison

They tell me there is a new Canadian dictionary fresh off the presses. It's an English-French, French-English model and is unique in the fact that it gives the Canadian meaning of words rather than the meaning used in United States, Great Britain or France as previous dictionaries have done.

I've been thinking for some time (Well at least since Saturday.) that there's another kind of dictionary needed in this country. It would contain a list of words that are or will soon be obsolete and could be stored away now for mothers and teachers to use in years to come when the children ask questions about the old days.

In case no one ever gets around to writing it the following list of words may be of some use so I suggest you clip it out and lay it away where you'll never find it again.

—— cut here ——

Abstract art: Popular about 1955 — 1962. Gaily coloured paintings of nothing in particular.

Aeroplane: The model T of space ships, jets, rockets, capsules etc.

Flour: Something used to thicken cakes, cookies and bread in the days before mixes.

Frying: A method of cooking meat before the advent of barbeques.

Gear-shift: A device on ancient cars used to put the car into low, second and high.

Hired man: A lad who worked on a farm.

Ice-box: A contraption for keeping food cold. Huge blocks of ice were put into it and the water ran out at the bottom.

Legs: Appendages that reached from the human body to the floor in the days when people walked. On some girls they were quite attractive. On most men—no.

Lead pencil: A pencil with a long, narrow strip of graphite instead of a ball point.

Loose hay: Tall grass that was cut and dried and stored in barns for winter.

Maid: A girl hired to help with the house work.

Peeling: An operation performed by housewives on vegetables before the days of freezing and dehydrating. (Term still used in burlesque shows.)

Reading: A way of procuring knowledge and information from books. Popular in the days prior to TV.

Sixty mph: The speed limit on highways during the late 50's and early 60's.

Steam engine: An antique device used to draw trains. It burned coal and was noisy.

Stork: A huge bird once noted for bringing babies.

Stovewood: Slices of a tree burned in a cookstove to produce heat and cook food.

Strap: A piece of leather used by teachers on disobedient pupils.

Sweets: Good food people used to enjoy before diets became popular.

Teacher: A man or woman who instructed school students previous to the electronic age and teaching machines.

The twist: Violent contortions of the body to noisy rhythm. Considered by some to be a dance, by a few to be exercise and by others to be darned foolishness.

Time: Something people used to have once in a while.

Threshing mill: A huge machine used by primitive farmers to remove kernels of grain from straw.

Underwear: Tight - fitting, warm clothing that men wore next to their skin. It covered them top, bottom and sides.

Walking: An action once used by humans to get them from one place to another. It was performed by placing one foot ahead of the other. No Motor or mechanical device was used.

Water pail: A pail used to carry water into the house for drinking. It was ladled out with a dipper from which everyone drank.

Work horse: A large horse used to draw loads or instead of a tractor on the farm.

And you'll probably think of others.

Federal Government Report

By Mrs Jean Casselman, M.P.

A world organization such as the United Nations is the most effective means of impressing all nations with the fact that there is no such thing as a complete solution to problems, but only the constant meeting of problems as they arise. Increased awareness of the endless differences between the nations of the world should, it would seem, automatically point out the futility of war. An increased awareness of the endless amount to be learned from one another, should automatically increase respect for one another.

The growth of the European Common Market proves the speed of development in this area. Countries that have fought one another for centuries have given it up. They are proving the possibility of what would have sounded impossible only two decades ago—the old adage—"Where there's a will there's a way."

However much Britain endeavours to protect us in her Common Market entrance terms, we are no longer going to be able to ride on Commonwealth preferences. We must find ways of meeting changed conditions. As much as any country in the whole world, we have been blessed with natural resources and assets. We need the will to overcome our labour - management problems, our unrealistic expectation of softer and softer living, shorter and shorter work days. I commend the Government for establishing the Productivity Council which seems to be at least educating everyone to the very real problems we face.

We have craved independence as a nation. We have our own house now and the cost of living in it as we wish to do is just becoming apparent. We can no longer rely on friends or hide behind temporary expedients. For some time I have feared that public works projects, fine as they are for the physical beautification of our country and temporary employment, might only lull Canadians into a feeling of false prosperity.

Although activity is most certainly better than idleness, productive activity is still better, in fact, essential. It seems to me that this goes very deep in our society. For instance, we should not lulled by the fact that we are building a lot of schools. The real test is whether these schools can produce graduates equipped to succeed in our present world.

I would hope that all Members of Parliament would act as leaders in presenting these challenges as honestly as possible. Particularly in this election year, here is the obvious temptation for all parties to become as popular as possible, and this often takes the form of glossing problems or accepting responsibilities which rightly belong to individual citizens.

All of us who believe in freedom of the individual and free enterprise, as against state control, believe that meeting challenges is rewarding and satisfying and that governments should only aid people in preparing to meet challenges and not in meeting them for them.

Most nations are at their best in times of war or catastrophe. These are too obvious to be avoided, but it seems to me that less obvious emergencies are often avoided for fear governments will be blamed and associated with demanding situations if they happen to uncover them and publicize them. Unfortunately, we have proof of this in the blame placed upon the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett for a situation not of his making. We hear all too often attempts to repeat this process by the slogan "Tory times are hard times." Certainly the last four years have been very difficult indeed, but not because of the fact that we have a Conservative government, but because of world events and because many of our present challenges were not faced realistically by the former government, in fact, not even recognized, much less faced.

Mrs Elwood Ouderkirk hostess to meeting of Crysler W.I.

The March meeting of Crysler W.I. was held at the home of Mrs Elwood Ouderkirk. Mrs M. Godard, 1st vice president, presided.

Roll call was answered by hints for the new programs. The secretary will forward the fee for the presidents' conference to be held May 9 and 10 at Guelph.

Mrs Elwood Ouderkirk will look after the treat for Stormont ward of St. Lawrence Sanatorium, Cornwall. The euchre in aid of the hospital, which was postponed, will be held at the Rod and Gun Club Hall on March 26. The draw for the blanket will take place at that time.

Interesting papers were given by Mrs Barry Armstrong on "Citizenship and Education" and Mrs M. Godard, "Home Economics and Health."

The National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

Miss Carol Ann Godard was winner of the contest. Mrs Elwood Ouderkirk, assisted by Mrs D. C. Baker, served lunch and a social hour was enjoyed.

County 4-H Clubs to organize for coming season

Dundas County 4-H Clubs are soon to organize for the 1962 season. Two 4-H Calf Clubs will hold their organizational meeting at South Mountain High School on March 21. Three other Calf Clubs will hold their first meetings at Winchester Town Hall on March 23.

Other 4-H Clubs to be organized during March and April are the Winchester Senior 4-H Tractor Club, Dundas 4-H Grain and Corn Club, Chesterville 4-H Poultry Club and the Dundas 4-H Swine Club.

Membership is open to farm boys and girls who have reached their 12th birthday on January 1, 1962, except in the Tractor Club where members must be 14 by January 1, 1962.

Membership in a 4-H Club is a rewarding experience. The monthly meetings offer a wide variety of interest and training to boys and girls. One of the most important parts of Club work is that each member has a home project. In the Calf Clubs, this is the care and management of a calf through the spring and summer. The Calf Club season ends when all calves are exhibited at the 4-H show at the fall fair.

In the Tractor Club members keep records on the maintenance and repair of the farm tractor. Their year ends with a tractor driving competition held early in the fall.

The Swine Club is a new project for Dundas County. In this Club members will be required to purchase a pair of pure bred weanling gilts and to care for them through the club season.

Grain Club members will this year grow one-acre plots of the new Russell variety of oats, while others will produce maximum yields on a small grain corn plot.

Voluntary 4-H Club leaders, presentative, are responsible for the supervision of 4-H Clubs. In Dundas County the leaders are as follows: Allan McRoberts, Gerald Kittle, Malcolm MacGregor, Donald Rose, Franklin Milne, Allison Fawcett, Harry Holmes, Jack MacMillan, Albert Smith, Dr B. W. Lapp, Donald Durant, Arthur Milne, Malcolm Graham, Baden Renwick.

Boys and girls who wish to join 4-H should get in touch with any of the above leaders or with agricultural representative E. K. Pearson, Morrisburg.

"BOUNTY" BUCKING POLITICAL STORM

Whether Nova Scotia should reclaim the Lunenburg-built replica of HMS "Bounty" for a tourist attraction is blowing into a gale-force political storm, writes the Halifax representative of The Financial Post. The province has been offered the ship by U.S. moviemaker M-G-M, on condition it's sailed for a year as a promotion for the latest cinema version of Mutiny on the Bounty. That will cost an estimated $112,000, and the province says it won't afford the expense.

Meanwhile, disagreement about how to employ the "Bounty" mounts. And people who want the famous Nova Scotia fishing schooner "Bluenose" reclaimed from its Caribbean grave attack the "Bounty" project as not truly Canadian.

UP AND QUIT-

A Pittsburgh bus driver, fed up with the antics of high school students riding in his bus, stopped at a busy intersection and walked off the job.

"I can't stand it anymore. I've had it," Fran Seitz told police at the scene.

Seitl, a driver for the Pittsburgh Railways Company for 15 years, ordered the students off the bus and then telephoned his office to come and get the bus because he was going home.

Quality milk producers honoured at banquet

Producers of high quality milk were honoured for the first time in the Province of Ontario at a banquet held at Ingleside last week.

Trinity United Church Hall was the scene as Award of Merit certificates were presented to 21 producers of milk for making cheese from Stormont County and 13 producers of fluid milk from the United Counties. J. C. Palmer, associate director of the Ontario Department of Agriculture Dairy Branch made the presentation.

A score of 100 per cent on quality tests and attainment of recognized standards for buildings and utensils upon personal examination by Department of Agriculture and industry officials was required for qualification.

Leonard O'Donohue, of Berwick, vice president of the Stormont Cheese Producers' Association, acted as chairman for the after-dinner program. He explained at the outset that the quality recognition idea was of local origin. Hence, Stormont and the United Counties can claim a first in the province. It was first proposed at a meeting at Finch a little more than a year ago, and carried out throughout last summer in Stormont and, for the fluid milk producers, in the United Counties.

Dr D. M. Irvine, professor and head of the dairy science department at Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, spoke on the future dairy industry in Canada.

"Canadians," he said, "are the highest per capita users of milk products in the world, far higher than most Europeans. By 1980 the annual requirements for increase in dairy products will be in terms of millions of pounds every year."

But Dr Irvine cautioned it is absolutely essential for the dairy industry to look to its reputation for quality products and continue to use skillful salesmanship to keep its products before the public. Further inroads of substitutes for dairy products are possible, he pointed out.

There is a fairly comprehensive study of milk now underway at O.A.C., Dr Irvine reported. This study could lead to changes in the dairy industry by basing payments on total milk solids content instead of butterfat as is now customary. Prof. Irvine also said the public continues to demand milder, blander flavours in food, and the dairy industry must look more carefully than ever to the flavour factors in all food products.

Dr Irvine had a few rather harsh words for the dairying families of Ontario. Boys who had come to O.A.C., he remarked, can hardly score milk and some never learn to do this because they don't drink milk at home. About half of these boys don't use fluid milk, he remarked.

"I don't see how you can sell a product unless you know exactly what a product is," he admonished. As a gesture in the right direction, the tables at the basquet were amply supplied with fluid milk in cartons, which was used by most of those present.

Thomas Aitken, of Martintown, president of the Cornwall Milk Producers' Association, introduced Dr Irvine, and pointed out sime of the advantages of the quality milk program. Mr Aitken said he hoped certificates of merit would some day be supplemented by an increasing differential payment plan that would result in increasingly satisfactory returns to the farmer who is producing a product of maximum quality.

Dr Irvine was thanked by Frank Dafoe of the local quality milk committee.

The presentation ceremony was conducted by James Jewson, fieldman for the Milk Marketing Board in the area. Mr Jewson pointed out a large number of producers were quite close to qualifying for the certificate. In some cases, all the tests required were not on record, so that he felt a substantially larger number of producers would qualify next season.

Mr Jewson introduced Mr Palmer, who presented the merit awards to individual producers. Called forward in groups according to the cheese factory to which the producer sent milk were:

Avonmore: Archie MacMillan, Oran Flanagan, Hector McRae, Lorne Harris, J. G. McElheran and Robert Campbell.

Patrons of Finch Creamery receiving certificates were Robert Armstrong, Mrs Theresa McMahon, A. J. McIntyre and Evert Termeer.

Strathmore: Ralph Grant, Sam Bender, Earl Bender and Stewart Crawford.

Farmer's Joy Cheese Factory, Monckland: Melville McEwen, Roger Giroux, Oran Montgomery, Lyman Crawford, Howard Haley, Cecil Helps and John A. McLennan.

Kraft Foods Ltd. factory at Newington: Albert Winters, Mrs Betty Zeran, J. B. Ferguson, Sinclair Feek, Howard MacMillan, Bert Winters, E. Ravary, Wilfred Woodside and Willard Wereley.

Producers of 100 per cent grade No. 1 milk in the fluid milk industry were: Harold Poapst, Stuart Mullin, Thomas Aitken, D. C. Murray, G. Duval, Harry Masterman, J. E. MacDonald, Anthony McIntosh, John Peters, Clifford Johnston, George Brooks and Son, Harold Shaver and Angus Smith.

In his congratulatory remarks, Mr Palmer said that these people had gone "a little beyond the ordinary requirements for good quality milk. We are aiming at getting all milk up to the same point, but among the 70,000 producers in the province of Ontario, some are able to go beyond ordinary standards for a good product. I am happy to learn that this is a movement of local origin. I hope it will become general in our province."

Marvin Beach of the Kemptville Dairy School staff and president of the Eastern Ontario Milk Sanitarians Association presented prizes to the highest point winners. In the fluid milk class the awards went to George Brooks and Son, Chesterville, and Clifford Johnston, Cornwall. In the cheese milk class Melvin McEwen of Maxville ond Oran Flanagan of Avonmore were at the top of the list.

Greetings from United Counties council were expressed by Warden Robert Smith, who pointed out that the district produces the finest cheese in Canada, and Stormont the largest volume. Mr Smith expressed himself as heartily in favour of the program for better quality.

PROPER HAIR CARE

When you've set your hair yourself and someone asks where you had it done, you'll be a pro! The secret is just knowing how.

Perk up oily hair between shampoos by saturating a bail of cotton with your favourite cologne and daubing it all over scalp and around hairline.

Give dry hair an oil or cream treatment. Apply cream dressing right from the tube to scalp and hair ends, then brush through hair and leave on for an hour before shampoo. For oil treatment, part hair into one-inch sections and apply warm olive oil all over your scalp with a cotton swab. Wrap your head for fifteen minutes in a turkish towel wrung out in hot water; as towel cools, wring out again.

Spray on wave lotion, a half-and-half beer and water mixture or a little sugar in water to give your set extra springiness.

Wind roller in the direction you want curl to go. Comb section before you wind and hold it up (or out) from head in the opposite direction from which you intend to wind. Use end papers.

To make a perfect pincurl, hold the strand up and out from your head; loop end of hair over thumb and keep turning curl around thumb toward scalp. Secure with clip or bobby pin.

For bangs or check curls, use cellophone tape to hold hair. If you like bangs straightish but high, set them over cotton bolster.

The comb-out means brushing mostly. Brush hair back firmly but not not roughly; then tease; take a handful of hair and hold it up, then slide comb a few times down the strand toward the scalp. Don't snarl it. The trick is to plump hair, not frizz it. Then brush or comb very gently to smooth and flip curls or waves into place.

THIEF-PROOF

London police may have found the ultimate weapon in their war against payroll pouch robbers.

The inventor of a thief-proof suitcase said if it is snatched from its courier a whilstle blows, three arms shoot out which makes it difficult to put into a car and it clamps the thief's fingers in a vise hidden under the handle.

A manually operated machine gun was patented in London, Eng., in 1718 by James Puckle.

TEAMSTERS HIT ROUGH GOING

Jimmy Hoffa's Teamsters Union - driving for more Canadian strength - finds the going heavy, reports Ray Magladry in The Financial Post. A move into the Maritime Provinces has had mixed results. Organizing campaigns in Prince Edward Island are at least temporarily on the rocks. A Labor Relations Board refusal to certify new Teamster locals points to a long-drawn-out court battle.

Elsewhere, Teamsters face sniping and pockets of stiff competition from Canadian Labor Congress affiliated unions. For the future, the union has its eye on the big department store complexes - a plum that Teamsters couldn't pick on an earlier try.

POST-GLACIAL FOREST

The well-preserved remains of a post-glacial forest, thought to have covered the south Saskatchewan region 10,000 years ago, has been discovered on a farm in the Earl Grey district 40 miles north of Regina.

The discovery was reported to the Saskatchewan Museum of Natural History by Wilfred Manz, a farmer.

Mr Manz found ancient specimens of wood, vegetation and animal life while excavating a cattle-watering dugout.

Museum officials said the remains were "fantastically well-preserved." Several trees were in an almost perfect state of preservation. The find also yielded leaves, seeds, snails and insects in excellent condition, exact in detail even to their original colour pattern.

Among different varieties of eggplant the white is preferred in Europe, purple in North America.

FRIENDLY PEOPLE

It gave P. S. Ambrose a warm, satisfying feeling as he drove from his farm to Ahoskie, N.C.

Neighbours, and even strangers, waved to him. He waved back.

Others shouted to him. He shouted back. Children ran to the roadside smiling. He smiled back.

Folks gathered around when he parked his truck in Ahoskie.

They, too, had seen the little red hen, her talons locked on top of the vehicle's rear gate, hitching the 12-mile ride to town.

Mink accounted for 92 per cent of the total animals in fur-breeding farms in Canada in 1959.

POULTRY TIP

IN MEMORIAM

ARMSTRONG—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Henry Armstrong, who passed away March 15, 1959.

There is no parting from those we love,
No distance can divide,
For today in memory's garden
We still walk side by side.
Each dawning day a thought of him,
At evening time a prayer,
And in the hearts that loved him
He always will be there.

Sadly missed and.. always.. remembered by wife Charlotte, children and grandchildren.

WILD ANIMALS BETTER

A scientific team, just back from a three-year safari in East Africa, suggests that the African tribes would do better by living off wild animals than attempting to raise domestic cattle for

The ecological studies show that not only were the wild animals better adapted to the land but also that they could produce far more meat per acre than domestic cattle.

A HANDY EXTENSION SAVES WORRY AND HURRY!

Folks in Chesterville are finding that an extension phone in the bedroom or kitchen saves many steps and adds convenience and security to the home.

Convenience in the kitchen . . .

When things are brewing in the kitchen . . . just keep stirring and reach for your nearby extension phone.

Convenience and privacy in the bedroom . . .

Those trips through the house to take calls are ended forever when a bedroom extension is a few steps away. And when calls are "personal" the bedroom is an ideal place to take them.

Added security . . .

It's comforting to know the telephone is a narm's length away at night . . . in case of sickness or other emergency.

Wall and table extensions are available in a wide range of colours to harmonize with the decor of your home. Why not call us today? Ask us about extension telephones or speak to the man in our green truck.

STAND-BY POWER

Keeping your telephone ready to operate around the clock is one of our most important jobs. In our exchange building on King street large stand-by batteries are kept fully charged ready for instant use. If disaster strikes at outside power sources, these batteries can provide electricity to keep your phone operating for several hours. In addition, we have stand-by generators that can provide electricity indefinitely, if necessary. This is just one of the ways telephone people here in Chesterville plan ahead to keep your calls going through.

REFUGE IN A PHONE BOOTH

Many customrs tell us how much they enjoy today's phone booths. Walk-up and drive-up phones make it convenient and pleasant for them to call. But a woman we heard about the other day is sure there's no substitute for the booth with "four walls." Walking down the street, two snarling dogs halted her progress. She leaped nimbly into a nearby booth, slammed the door and phoned the dog catcher to come around.

DINAH is a healthy 11 year old girl of French Canadian and Scotch Origin. She is short and slight with hazel eyes, light brown hair and fair complexion. She is a bewildered 9 year old Roman Catholic child with hazel eyes, light brown hair, pretty features and very attractive. She is in Grade 3 and is an excellent student. A Roman Catholic couple who are steadfast but light hearted and jolly would be most fortunate to have this child for an adopted daughter.

* * *

GRACE & DOREEN—These French Canadian Roman Catholic sisters, Grace 7 and Doreen 10 would love to stay together but this may not be possible unless parents somewhere are hoping for just such daughters as these. Doreen is small boned with blue eyes, brown hair, regular features and a wide smile. She is a high-strung, fearful little girl because of a tragedy in her life. She has an excellent singing voice, is in grade 4 and shows a lot of promise if she gets the right home. Grace is thin and small boned with brown eyes and hair, regular features and attractive. She is reserved and depends on her older sister Doreen. She is well mannered and responds to affection. Grace has a clear true soprano sing ng voice and is in grade 2. She and her sister need permanent parents in a real home.

* * *

FRED—6 year old Fred has large appealing green eyes, wavy blond hair and even features. He is rather shy but will hold his own and is quite easily managed. He is well liked and loves school, but it is doubtful if his ability will carry him far academically. Fred has a slight speech impediment which will be overcome with help. * * *

VERA is a healthy 5 year old Roman Catholic child of Ukrainian and Polish background. She has blonde hair and brown eyes. Vera is bright appearing, outgoing and friendly and easy to get along with. She would be happy in a good Roman Catholic home with new brothers and sisters.

* * *

LLOYD—This attractive 13 year old American-English lad, is tall and of average build. He has brown eyes and hair and olive complexion. Lloyd has an attractive personality and needs understanding Protestant parents in a home where he would have plenty of stimulation to achieve his potential academically and socially.

* * *

A FAMILY OF SIX CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION—These Protestant brothers and sister have made up their own minds that they intend to remain together. They want Protestant parents who have sufficiently big hearts and house to include all 6 of them.

The eldest is 12 year old Louise who is a little mother to her 5 younger brothers ranging in age from 11 to 4 years. These children are Anglo-Saxon Canadians and all have normal intelligence. Louise is pretty and the 5 boys are handsome and active with attractive personalities. They are well mannered with the exception of one who is a real little "rough neck". The boys are in all the local activities and sports. They are mischievous, but have never been in any serious trouble.

The fortunate Protestant parents who are selected for these children have busy and active times to look forward to with the responsibilities and fun of guiding the futures for a daughter and five sons.

The security of a permanent home with parental love and care is childhood's greatest need.
Children lacking these normal advantages are brought to your attention through these advertisements.

The BIBLE TODAY . . .

The Bible abounds with stories of God using faithful women to accomplish His purposes. Christian work everywhere has benefitted from the devoted service given by women.

The latest evidence of the debt owed by the Bible Society to women comes from Brazil. About four years ago the Women's Auxiliary of the Bible Society of Brazil came into being. Groups have been organized in 32 cities, two of them with a population over three million—Sao Paulo with more than 500 churches and Rio de Janeiro with more than 450 churches.

In this vast country of 3,200,000 square miles, these groups of women, separated by great distances, are enthused by one aim—to give the Bible to their homeland.

Last year no less than 50% of was collected by the women. In 1959, over 5,000 new members were enlisted, and approximately $3,800.00 was raised.

The women's organizations promote the observance of Bible Sunday, take part in open-air demonstrations, put exhibitions of Scriptures in shop windows, have weeks of prayer and engage in colportage activities.

Suggested Bible Readings

Sunday, March 18: James 2: 1-26.

Tuesday, March 20: James 4: 1-17.

Wednesday, March 21: James 5: 1-20.

Thursday, March 22: Exodus 20: 1-17.

Friday, March 23: Psalm 51: 1-19.

Saturday, March 24: Psalm 96: 1-13.

LIVER CAN BE TEMPTING

Not only is liver a valuable source of iron, but it also supplies a large amount of Vitamins A and B.

The livers of beef, pork, and lamb are a dark reddish-brown in color. That of calf or veal, considered the choicest liver, is lighter in color. All, however are very high in food value. Vary the kind you use, suggests the Food and Nutrition Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

Serve liver with onions or bacon. Simmer it with vegetables and tomato juice, or bake it in a casserole in alternative layers with vegetables. In all cases, remember not to over-cook it, since this tends to make liver tough.

United Messengers hold meeting

On March 5, 26 members of Trinity United Church Messengers met in the Sunday School rooms. After the opening ceremony the offering was received and dedicated by Maryel Fulton.

Mrs Hugh Marcellus told the story from "Timmy's Team."

The worship service included a hymn, a scripture verse by Marlene Merkley and meditation by Mrs D. Docksteader.

The members took an imaginary trip to an art gallery and viewed appropriate pictures which they associated with Bible verses they have learned. Nancy MacMillan distributed the World Friends magazines.

HOW TO REPLACE THAT WINDOW PANE

When replacing a window pane all broken glass, putty and glazier's points should be removed from the rebate or groove. This can be done with a knife, an old chisel, or other similar tool.

Before fitting the new pane a film of putty should be spread on the face of the griove parallel to the glass to act as a seal and cushion. This is known as "bedding the glass."

On wood sash a filler should first be applied to prevent the wood from absorbing too much of the oil contained in the putty. A light coat of paint will also serve this purpose.

Triangular pieces of tin known as glazier's points are used with wood sash to keep the glass in place. They are laid flat against the pane and wedged into the rail by tapping with a flat tool.

Applying the putty requires a little practice. If the putty is too stiff or if it crumbles, adding a little linseed oil will make it workable. The putty should be rolled into lengths and then pressed into place. A regular putty knife should be used to smooth the putty with a single, long stroke. This is a small, inexpensive, square-edged instrument with which a professional-looking glazing job can be achieved. Holding it at the proper angle between sash and glass makes the job easy.

To replace a broken pane in metal sash remove the metal glazing strips which hold the glass to the sash by means of screws. After cleaning the groove a new bed of putty should be applied, the glass set in place and the glazing strips replaced.

Prepared putties recommended for the purpose are available at hardware stores. When dealing with patented devices other than glazing strips to secure glass to metal sashes the maker's instructions should be followed.

FLOODED BASEMENTS CREATE PROBLEMS

Some flooded basements are due to the fact that the house was built on top of an underground stream or spring but usually the trouble is because rain water is allowed to seep down along the basement walls until it eventually finds a small crack that allows it to enter. One of the best ways to prevent a wet basement is to take steps to keep water away from the basement wall.

We've mentioned before how important it is to keep the discharge from roof gutters from seeping into the soil adjacent to the foundation wall. Another important item to watch for is a concrete walk or drive running next to the foundation wall. It is also important that the joint where they meet the basement wall be made watertight. This can be done by cutting out the seam so that it's a half inch or so in width and, after drying it out with a blowtorch, filling it with hot tar.

Low spots in the soil adjacent to the basement walls can cause trouble for water collects in these areas and may eventually reach the basement walls. Fill in low spots and grade the soil around the basement walls so that it will slope away from the wall. If you have the soil properly graded and then seed it with grass you won't be troubled with any surface water reaching the basement at this point.

If you have areaways or wells around basement windows, make sure that these are provided with drains to carry water collecting in them away from the house. When this is not practical, it's worth making covers for these wells to use over them during heavy rains. The cover should be given a pitch so that the water falling on it will flow away from the house and the well.

ABOUT ELECTRIC HEATING

Flameless electric heating is so completely different from conventional fuel-fired heating systems that many people are not quite sure how it works.

There are no pipes, ducts, furnaces, registers, or radiators needed to carry heat through the home.

In their place are electric wires and a heating unit—baseboard heaters, wall panels, heating cables in the ceiling or floor, or portable heaters.

Electricity is carried through wires to the heating units just as it is to your light bulbs and household electrical appliances. For complete home heating, units are wired in permanently. For supplementary heating, the units may be wired in or plugged into an ordinary wall outlet. Portable units are available in the same capacity as built-in heaters.

Most electric heating units work on the same principle as an electric blanket. Electricity passes through the resistance wire or element. The resistance makes the wire warm and that's your heat.

Baseboard convention units are metal baseboards, housing electric heating elements, which replace wooden trim around your rooms. The electric elements replace the hot water pipes in a conventional fuel-fired baseboard heating unit. Air drawn in through the bottom of the unit passes the heating element and is discharged into the room by natural convention.

Radiant ceiling cable consists of a number of small resistance heating wires stapled to ceiling board then concealed with plaster or plasterboard. Warmth radiates evenly downward as it does from the sun. Floor cable provides even, draft-free heat and is best suited for tile or bare floors.

Radiant wall units may be mounted in or on the walls where ceiling and baseboard space is limited, such as in bathrooms.

Until the development of electric heating, we could keep our houses warm only by some form of fire contained in a stove or furnace. Electric heating is completely modern and in keeping with this miracle age in which we live.

HONKED, JAILED

Cost Mesa, Calif., folks complained about the honking so the Humane Society picked up the culprits—a Canada goose and four wild ducks.

The fowls were jailed, so to speak, under the city leash law for pets.

A bird lover anonymously hired lawyer Ramon Poitevin to go to bat for the goose.

The lawyer told police his client's detention violated the U.S. Migratory Bird Act. They were ahead of him.

"Mr Poitevin," he says they told him, "we're gonna loose your goose."

"That's ducky," he replied.

The goose soared off where the wild goose goes.

But his four feathered buddies, without a friend at court, are still jailed birds.

Said a sympathizer: "It's a fowl blow."

Life expectancy for Canadian women has increased from 62 to 73 during the last 30 years.

MARK ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN YOUR MENUS

ST. PATRICK'S DAY is a good time to experiment with green food colouring. Do use it sparingly though or your foods, instead of looking attractive, will just look poisonous.

A St. Patrick's Day Menu

Broiled Lamb Chops Mint Sauce
Buttered Spinach
Parsley Potatoes
Jellied Lime Salad
Peppermint Mousse Small Cakes

Broiled Lamb Chops

Trim fat from chops, wipe with a damp cloth. Place in a broiling pan which has been rubbed with some of the fat and cook in the broiling oven of a gas or electric stove. After both sides have been seared, reduce the heat and cook about 10 minutes. Meat should be turned only once during broiling. Season with salt and pepper before serving.

Parsley Potatoes

6 medium sized potatoes
Butter
Juice of ½ lemon
½ cup minced parsley

Pare potatoes and cut in small cubes or with a vegetable scoop cut into balls. Boil until tender. Add salt just before cooking is finished. Drain, place in a sauce pan with sufficient butter to coat all the potatoes, add lemon juice and sprinkle with the minced parsley. The potatoes should be well coated with the parsley when served.

Jellied Lime Salad

1 pkg. prepared lime jelly
1 cup boiling water
½ cup shredded pineapple
½ cup green marschino cherries cut in pieces
½ cup diced celery
Lettuce
Salad dressing

Add the boiling water to the lime gelatine. Stir until dissolved. Add shredded pineapple and cook until it begins to stiffen. Stir in the diced celery and green cherries. Pour into moistened molds to chill. When ready to serve, unmold on lettuce leaves and garnish with salad dressing and pieces of red maraschino cherries.

Peppermint Mousse

1 tsp. gelatine
2 tbsps. cold water
1 cup milk
½ cup finely crushed cream mint candies or peppermint sticks
Few grains salt
1 cup cream

Soak the gelatine in cold water five minutes. Heat the milk and pour over moistened gelatine. Add crushd peppermint candies and salt. Chill and when the mixture begins to thicken, beat until foamy. Fold in cream beaten stiff. Tint a delicate green with vegetable food colouring. Freeze without stirring.

Little St. Patrick's Cakes

6 eggs
1 cup sugar
½ tsp. salt
1½ tbsps. lemon juice
1 cup flour

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon coloured. Add the sugar gradually and continue beating. Add lemon juice and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Fold in the flour and salt, mixed and sifted together. Pour into greased muffin pans or small paper baking cups and bake in a moderate oven 30 minutes. When baked and cooled, cover with the following icing:

2 tbsps. cream
2 tbsps. butter
1 cup icing sugar
Flavouring
A few drops green colouring

Cream the butter with 2 tbsps. sugar; add cream gradually. Sift in the sugar to make it thick enough to spread. Add flavouring and colouring.

If desired, icing can be left white and the cakes garnished with small pieces of green maraschino cherries or green-tinted granulated sugar.

* * * *

Wash fresh spinach carefully in several waters to remove any sand or earth adhering to it. There is nothing more unappetizing than gritty spinach.

* * * *

A little lemon juice added to spinach just before serving improves the flavour.

* * * *

White cream cheese may be coloured slightly with green food colouring and used as a St. Patrick's sandwich filling.

* * * *

Well scrubbed potatoes may be used as St. Patrick's candlesticks by making a place for the candle with an apple corer.

LOVE AT FIRST HIT

Boy hits girl. Boy visits girl. Boy marries girl.

That was the story of a Norwegian couple just back from their honeymoon.

An Oslo man "got acquainted" with a young woman last year by accidentally running over her with his car. He drove the girl to a hospital, where he began to visit her regularly.

Soon after her recovery he popped the question and she said "yes." Now they have returned from their honeymoon—in the car that brought them together.

"X" MARKS THE SPOT

A man who can't write has been charged with forgery.

Detective William Carlyle said LeRoy Curry, 27, admitted that he stole two payrool cheques from fellow construction company workers.

Curry took the cheques to different St. Petersburg, Fla., stores, Carlisle said, signed them with an "X" and cashed them.

Police typed up Curry's statement and he signed it with an "X."

Many attend variety night at Osnabruck High School

Students and teachers of Osnabruck District High School have had a busy season. Recently they presented their annual variety night which is the culmination of the extra-curricular activities program. The auditorium was filled to capacity with parents and friends who received with enthusiasm this highlight of the school's winter program.

The drama club presented two one-act plays. The first, entitled "The Dear Departed," by Stanley Houghton, was directed by Gerard Dube. "The Income Tax," written by Peg Lynch, was directed by Miss Phyllis Mayhew.

The Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Lena McLaren, were heartily applauded for the fine interpretation of their selections.

Boys' and girls' gymnastic teams, directed by George Hickey, demonstrated singles, pairs and pyramid building displays.

The school also held its annual oratory competition on Friday evening. Carol Klarbourg and Robert Bruce won the junior and senior championship, respectively.

In addition to Miss Klarbourg the other junior speakers were Sandra McGinn, Sandra Tait, Nancy Murdock, Susan McLaren and Lynn Balkwill. Miss McLaren and Miss Murdock tied for second place.

Competing with Mr Bruce in the senior category were Donald Menard, Patsy Winters, Carol Trimble, Heather Fetterly and Sharon Thompson. Miss Trimble and Miss Thompson tied for second place.

Peter Torrance, chairman of the adjudicating committee, announced the names of the winners and complimented all the speakers on the high calibre of their addresses. The other judges were Mrs S. B. Profitt and Frank T. Shaver.

Mr Shaver presented the junior oratory shield to Miss Klarbourg and George Hickey, senior English teacher, presented the championship shield to Robert Bruce.

Personal trophies were presented to these two youthful orators by the the teachers of lower school English, Lloyd Hylton and Charles McGill.

John C. Schultz, principal of the school, was chairman for both programs. During the intermission the audience was entertained by some of the school's talented musicians.

A piano solo was rendered by Phyllis Raymond, and Donald McLaren sang "There's a Hole in the Bucket" to his own guitar accompaniment. Miss Beverley Smith played two of her own compositions on the piano. Miss Ann Adams collaborated with her on the words for the second number. These two girls, with Joyce McAllister, sang the lyrics.

Frank Bojarski entertained with several selections on the piano accordian.

Finch cow owned by R. Roy Simmons makes outstanding record

Many high mlik and butterfat yields were completed by Canadian Ayrshire cows on official R.O.P. test during the past month. Five different cows completed milk and fat yields that rank among the ten highest All Time producers in Canada for their class.

R. Roy Simmons, Finch, completed an outstanding record with his homebred cow, Memory Lane Jane. Commencing her lactation at a few days over four and one-half years she produced 16,659 lbs. milk, 679 lbs. fat, 4.08% in 305 days with B.C.A.'s of 201 for milk and 199 for fat. Her milk yield ranks fourth and her fat yield ranks sixth among the All Time All Canadian producers for this class. She continued on milking for 324 days producing 17,192 lbs. milk, 702 lbs. fat, 4.08%.

In spite of the fact that she only milked 324 days both her milk and fat yields rank sixth among the All Time All Canadian producers for the 365-day division. Completing high yielding lactations is nothing new for Memory Lane Jane. Milking last year as a junior 3-year-old she completed both milk and fat yields that rank among the top ten in Canada for this class.

At slightly over five years of age this cow has completed three lactations producing 43,997 lbs. milk, 1,761 lbs. fat, 4% in 936 days. She is also of high quality type-wise, as she is type classified Excellent. Her sire is Burnholm Queen's Star.

The body was placed in the vault at St. Lawrence Valley Union Cemetery to await burial in the spring.

Pall bearers were Clifford Thompson, Lorne Thompson, Gordon McIntyre, William Jarvis, Andrew Keeler and Robert Brownell.

The many floral tributes and messages of condolence received as well as the large number who called at the funeral home and attended the service were indications of the high esteem held for Mr Thompson.
