Iroquois Council celebrates Local Government Week

by Margaret Gladstone
Chieftain Staff Reporter

At the April 22, 1986 meeting of Iroquois Council approximately 10 citizens attended as a result of Local Government Week. While residents had anticipated sitting in on the entire council meeting, council found it necessary to hold the Business Improvement Association hearing in camera.

Iroquois-Matilda Cancer Society

The Iroquois-Matilda Cancer Society requested that Council provide a grant for their organization. Councillor Lorraine Fader stated that she felt, since the village is canvassed door-to-door a grant from council would result in a double donation from citizens. "I don't think that we should give to them twice" said Mrs. Fader.

Other members of council agreed and no grant was allowed.

Burning of leaves

The issue of burning leaves was raised by Lorraine Fader. There is currently no by-law in effect which prohibits the burning of leaves and such action is considered annoying by a number of citizens. Council decided to look into the matter of placing a by-law into effect. It will be discussed at the next meeting.

Drainage

A request was submitted to council by George Jackson regarding property which drains into the Matilda drainage system. Mr. Jackson is attempting to get the permission of 50% of the property owners which drain into a Matilda drain to have an engineer appointed to survey and determine the needs to correct the drainage system.

Owners will be assessed and charged a share of the repair costs once the drainage work is completed.

Citizen requests

One citizen asked council if they would once again consider placing a bicycle path along Beach Road. She said she had brought the matter up at last year's meeting and council had then said they would do something about it. To date, she advised, nothing had been accomplished. Reeve Rooney advised her that council would look into the matter.

Citizens also asked council if they would be facing tax increases similar to those in Brockville. Council advised that they did not anticipate such a large increase. The budget will be out as soon as the Separate School Board presents their budget to council.

Business Improvement Association

The Business Improvement Association was granted $15,000 to renovate the mini-mall area of the plaza square. This money is to be made available in 1986. Further funding for the plaza was set aside for 1987 and 1988. The sum of $5,000 was allocated for 1987 and 1988.

Council also undertook to pay ⅓ of the cost of the concept plan which was drawn up by Totten, Simms, Habicki, and Associates. The total cost of the plan was $1,750.00.

Next meeting

The next meeting of Iroquois Council will be held on May 13, 1986 at 7:30 p.m.

Matilda Township Council comes to grips with stray dog problem

Last Thursday evening, at their second Council meeting of the month, Matilda Council came to grips with the stray dog problem, and cleared up some misunderstandings about the matter.

Council have been looking for ways to cut down on the cost of the dog program, and now everyone is in agreement that the secret lies in reducing the operating costs, such as the amount of travelling that is done.

A figure of $3400 had been mentioned earlier as the cost of the dog control office; but this was a gross figure, not taking into account the amounts recovered through the sale of licences. Frank Roskell, dog control officer, was some upset to think that he was not being paid this amount when his T-4 slip shows only $2,100.

The other misunderstanding had to do with telephone calls. It was Mr. Roskell's understanding that when he gave advice over the telephone he would be paid a minimum of 1 hour for his time. But Reeve Lorne Mellan was quick to set that straight. The agreement allows for a minimum charge of 1 hour for time spent on the road call, even though only 15 minutes might be spent; in addition, an allowance is made for the mileage travelled. However, if only a telephone call is involved, no payment is authorized. If the dog control officer needs to make a long distance call in the line of his work, a record is kept and he is reimbursed.

According to Mr. Roskell the number of stray dogs in the Township is steadily dwindling, perhaps due to the policy of destroying any dog found without a tag. One suggestion was made that perhaps the dogs that were picked up could be sold, making a profit for the Township, but Mr. Roskell said that he would prefer to shoot them.

Matilda Council also opened the annual paving and gravel tenders. The paving materials contract, for 6,000 tons of hot mix, was let to Dibblee Construction Company Limited at a unit price of $33.90 Forbes Building Materials Limited was awarded the contract for the supply of crushed rock, at a unit price of $32.00 per ton. No bids were submitted for the supply of crushed gravel. However, Forbes Building Matierials submitted a quotation of $2.00 per ton, and this was accepted subject to approval by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications.

Council also came up with a solution for the Marshal Estate Lands. An offer has now been sent to the Township, and Council has made a counter offer. There is an amount of $2,000 against the property owing to the Township, and Council want to make certain that they do not lose money on the deal. The main reason why the property was not sold years ago was the difficulty in tracking down the heirs.

Another petition has come to Council for drain work, which has been pending for some time, but

Police battered again

The Morrisburg Ontario Provincial Police lost two more of their cruisers over the past weekend as a result of action on Highway 401. Terry Chase of Brockville has been charged with dangerous driving and failure to stop for a police officer, and was scheduled to appear in Provincial Court yesterday to answer to the charges.

Damages of $1,400 was sustained by a cruiser driven by Constable Joe Roach, and another $3,800 to a cruiser driven by Constable Peter Meilleur. Details of the action were incomplete at press time.

In other accidents reported by Morrisburg, Raymond Hamilton had his trailer hitch break, causing $1,200 damage to his home-made trailer and his 1977 pick-up truck. This accident happened on April 24, 1986 at 4:55 p.m. A 1986 Datsun, left unattended on a roadway west of County Road 2 by Earl Merkley of Iroquois sustained $2,500 damage when struck by an eastbound vehicle.

Dennis Wylie of Brinston was charged in connection with the accident. He failed to see the parked vehicle, collided with its rear, then left the scene about 12:30 a.m., April 27th.

The Morrisburg detachment reported having dealt with three impaired cases in the last week; a small number of liquor seizures were made.

The detachment also reported that suspects are in custody in connection with the vandalism in Iroquois and area last week. Under the Young Offenders Act no identification can be made.

LEAD Program becoming reality

After 15 years in the making, Prescott Heritage Harbour and its affiliated projects under the South Grenville Local Employment Assistance Development (LEAD) Program are beginning to become a reality.

Last week, local papers announced that $700,000 would be received by the LEAD program to be used to develop Heritage Harbours in Prescott, and Edwardsburgh Township.

While the official notice of the grant approval has not yet been received, advised Sandra Lawn, Chairperson of LEAD; Flora MacDonald, and MPP Jennifer Cossitt have both vouched for the eventual receipt of the grant.

the funding is conditional upon the hiring of a director for the program. This includes the breakwater and marina project.

There are three segments involved in the plan. These include the heritage landings and harbour. The $700,000 which has been approved will go towards these segments of the plan. The majority of the funding is slated for the Heritage landing.

Another portion of the overall plan involves primarily private funding. This is the hotel proposal which is to be funded by Toronto developers who plan on an investment of $5 Million for a resort hotel if the waterfront plan in Prescott goes through.

The third section of the plan involves rennovation of the Toshack Building into a centre which will house a restaurant, health club, offices and other commercial enterprises.

Funding for the LEAD project is being sought by the Ontario

Apple Orchard Computer program started at Seaway

A community computing centre has been established at Seaway District High School. The equipment includes 15 Apple II-E computers with disk drives and 2 printers.

Four of the senior computer studies students have received a week of intensive training and will be prepared to assist computer users.

The centre will initially be open for use by elementary school children but later will expand to include the comunity at large.

A variety of softwear (programs) will be available at the centre. Elementary students will be encouraged to program in the computer language LOGO but BASIC will be available. It is hoped to have a Word Processing program, educational games, etc. in the near future.

Time is available during the the school day for the centre to be used by elementary pupils under the direction of their teacher. Assistance will be provided by senior students or the Computer Studies teacher, if required.

Before organized groups come to the school please phone the school and reserve the room.

Use of the machines should be free to elementary pupils but the pupils' family should be an official member of the project. The fee is $10.00 per family per year.

Although children who do not belong to the project will not be excluded when attending as part of a school group, their family fees will help to defray the costs of running the centre.

Membership fees are available at SDHS.

For the present the hours of operation of the centre, for school students, and for their parents if they wish to come, will be 3:15 to 5:15 on Monday, Wednesday and

Re-Zoning hearing held in Cardinal

The Village of Iroquois has had its zoning by-law upheld by the Ontario Municpal Board.

On March 21, 1986, the Ontario Municipal Board held a hearing in Cardinal as a result of the Village's attempt to rezone certain lots from residential to industrial. The idea was to permit the Canada Starch Company to use the land for parking purposes. The land is owned by the Company.

In June of 1980 Cardinal had passed a comprehensive zoning by-law; in September of 1985, a by-law to amend the original by-law was passed, to rezone the lands in question. Several land owners in the area objected to the proposal, forcing a hearing before the OMB.

In the main the complaints were that the parking lot would be too close to one of the remaining houses, and that the increase in polluting emissions and noise could not be tolerated.

The Board, in its decision, has said that the parking of private cars should be reasonable if some buffering is applied.

The Board has directed that a planting strip 12 feet wide be used to screen part of the lot, and that a planting strip 3.5 feet wide be used along another strip.

The Village is to amend its by-law to take these restrictions into account and file it with the Board for final approval.

Bed and breakfast in Iroquois district

by Margaret Gladstone

The home of Tammy and Mike Ryan can be found by exiting at the Iroquois exit on the 401 and driving North. To the right one will see a depot for school buses and just around the bend a dirt road can be found to the left. The Ryan home is marked by blue wooden butterflies attached to an oak tree. It is the first house to be found on the right.

Upon approaching the door be aware of the silent sheepdog which has a habit of sneaking up on the unsuspecting. He is practicing to become a house dog advised Tammy and feels that if he is quiet enough he can just sneak right in there. Tammy is too quick for him though and manages to deter his entrance.

Tammy Ryan is your hostess at the Ryan residence. She is an ex-urbanite (from Montreal) who has found her place in country living. Tammy has 23 years experience in the hotel and restaurant business. She has lived in this farm home for five years and has been operating the Bed and Breakfast for four years.

The Ryan's have enjoyed their four years as host and hostess with the Bed & Breakfast, advised Tammy. "We should have done it sooner", she said. Mike Ryan operates a welding business in conjunction with the small hobby farm which past visitors to the Bed & Breakfast have enjoyed.

Comments found in the guest book indicate that guests to the Ryan house were most impressed by the pigs. Mrs. Ryan continues to receive postcards and letters from people who have visited her home.

There are four bedrooms for visitors. One large room, two medium sized rooms (one of these will have double beds), and a small room which would delight any child.

The rooms give an impression of modernity intertwined with antiquity. Tammy, an outgoing person with an obvious flair for people, makes this country home a pleasure to visit. She has a drive towards collectables and displays her collections of hats, buttons, and old clothing in a most impressive manner. You would have to see it to believe it. The lady has unique decorative taste.

The house is 125 years old, advised Tammy. They have done a lot of work on it over the five years they have been there. The wooden floors are carpeted downstairs, but the wooden planks beneath the linoleym can still be seen upstairs in the bedrooms.

Tammy serves up a traditional breakfast with bacon and eggs at the convenience of her guests. Some people like to get out early and start their day, others prefer to wait until later in the morning. It makes no difference to Tammy.

The guest book at the Ryan home displays the pleasure visitors have found within the house. One person came for a night, advised Tammy, and ended up staying for a week.

The Ryan home is only minutes from 401. It is little more than a one hour drive to Ottawa, and to Brockville or Cornwall, for major shopping centres. It is less than an hour to Upper Canada Village and horse back riding, as well as the Upper Canada Play House. The Iroquois locks are also only a few minutes away.

Mother's Day Craft Sale

There were 22 booths featuring a variety of crafts, plants, woodworking, quilts, jewelry and bake goods to name a few at the First Mother's Day Craft Sale held in Iroquois on Saturday, April 26th at the Iroquois Civic Centre. Carol Brouse (left) and Jean Mattice (centre) are shown with their booth of dried flower arrangements. The organizer of the Craft Sale, Lorraine Fader (right) said there was a good crowd and she feels the Mother's Day Sale will become an annual event. The Craft Sale was sponsored by the Summer Festival Committee and the proceeds will go towards the purchase of bands for the Summer Festival parade. Chieftain Photo - J. Grant

An added feature was the display and sale of surplus nightwear from the Gift Shoppe.

Ditch work to begin in Matilda

Karl Groniger and Garnet Johnston finally came to terms with Matilda Township Council last Thursday evening when all parties signed an agreement that covers ditch work along the road between Concessions 3 and 4.

The work has been hanging fire for a long time, as nothing could be done until the agreement was signed. The agreement puts the responsibility for future maintenance upon the land owners, and also spells out future considerations in case the lands are sold. However, Karl Groniger was rather apprehensive about signing the agreement, mainly because of the powers given to the engineer.

But, after long arguments, Grant Johnston decided to sign, rather forcing the hand of Mr. Groniger. He let it be known that he considered the whole affair to be completely ridiculous, and that he was signing against his better judgement.

Bird Notes

by E. G. AVERY

The first Robin tales are going around already, and at this stage they ususally have to do with the strange sites the Robins choose for their nests.

One bird has chosen a low-level spot quite near to a house on Beach Ave. The mother Robin does not seem to consider the children playing nearby to present a threat to her family. The only good thing about the low placing of the nest might be that the baby birds will not have so far to fall.

The white-throated Sparrow arrived, a female, so we have not yet seen the white pattern on the head - the female wears a buffy strip instead.

Another interesting returnee showed up last week, the little Chipping Sparrow. This one is often heard before it is seen; it usually chooses a tall tree or a utility wire to deliver his "song" which is more of a buzz than a musical offering. A tiny bird, resembling the winter.

Tree Sparrow except for the dark breast spot, it is often seen feeding on weed seeds in the Victoria-Dundas St. area.

Bird watchers on Caldwell Ave. had an interesting experience over the weekend. A baby Mourning Dove left his nest before he really knew how to manage his wings; and spent all day Saturday sitting on the lawn. Towards evening the neighbours decided to offer the little fellow bed and breakfast, and he was duly settled in a box for the night. In the morning he was returned to the spot where he was first seen.

During the day it gradually dawned on "Lovey" the Dove that wings are for flying, and when approached he took off into a tree; no problem. There was rejoicing on the ground as the foster-family watched. The bird would probably not have survived the perils of the night; cold, wandering cats and dogs, and unfamiliar sounds.

This is a strange Spring. A few Redpolls are still here, and the Grosbeaks come now and then. A flock of Juncos, this time seen on Elizabeth Dr., and Goldfinches in the Pussywillow tree along with sundry bees and other flying insects make up an unusual list for this time of year. The Tree Sparrow are overdue.

House Finches are becoming more numerous each year and everone is happy about that. We heard them singing their lovely song from the top of a tall Maple, giving the Robins some real competition.

Fly-by-night repairmen

It is that time of year again. The time to beware of fly-by-night repairmen. Most contractors are honest and competent; in fact we almost take it for granted that, when some one does work for us, the work will be done well, and on time.

But there always seems to be someone who will try to take advantage of the public.

Now there are some steps one can take to avoid problems coming up. If you have some repair work to be done, first decide exactly what you want done, and settle on how much you can afford to pay. Next you should take care in choosing someone to do the work.

Don't just pick a company at random, consult friends, or someone who has had similar work done before. An appealing advertisement might look great, but it is best to depend on a recommendation from a satisfied customer. And be very careful of the door-to-door seller who offers to pave your driveway for a sum so low it is hard to refuse.

If you really want to be sure of a particular contractor, check with the Better Business Bureau or local business association.

For major work it is advisable to have a contract drawn up. It might even be advisable to enlist the aid of a lawyer if the job is a costly one. Any contract should spell out the type and amount of work to be done and the materials to be used. A start date and a completion date should be specified; completion dates might be set forth for various stages of the work if a lenghty period is involved.

The wording in a contract for construction or renovation work can be very important. Forgetting to specify something in the contract can lead to difficulties and disappointment with the quality of the work or the materials, or perhaps incomplete work or unexpected expense.

And in any type of work or service, be sure that you read the warranty or guarantee carefully; be sure that you fully understand what you are getting. And also remember that any guarantee is probably useless if the company goes out of business. Again, it means that you should be dealing with a reputable company in the first place.

Be wary of a company that demands a large down-payment or cash advance before the work begins. Some small contractors may need an advance to buy materials, but generally a reputable firm will have enough credit to buy the necessary supplies.

For a major project the builder may ask for progress payments at certain stages of the job. This is quite usual, and helps both the contractor and the client, but make sure that payments are only made in accordance with the contract, and only when you are satisfied that the work has actually been done, and done well.

It is also advisable to hold back some of the money until you are sure that there are going to be no difficulties after the job is completed. The Construction Lien Act allows you to retain 10 per cent of the total price until 45 days after a job is completed. This is to protect you in case the main contractor fails to pay his bills.

If you are having work done this summer, be safe, not sorry.

Public protest needed

Guest Editorial

Canadians, by and large, are pretty easy going types.

What else can explain our attitude when the government dumps another load of garbage (figuratively speaking) at our door step. And they are doing it all the time and we just sit back and take it.

A prime current example is the situation with respect to gasoline prices in this country.

We listened and accepted when the federal government told us that they would set oil prices here at the world level.

Well, as everyone should now be aware, world prices have plummeted. But our prices have just barely moved, a couple of cents less per litre. And now there is talk that prices might, in fact, creep upward once again.

Yet barely a whimper from the hard-done-by Canadian consumer.

That's one thing about Americans. Sure, we love to knock them at every opportunity, but the fact is they wouldn't stand for this situation.

And look at their prices. We are paying two or three times as much for our gasoline. The U.S. price is in line with what has happened on the world market.

Canadians have to take a stand somewhere and what better issue than the ridiculous situation we now have with oil and gas prices.

We have to become more militant.

The government only understands one language. That is the language of voters who swear they will never vote for them again unless they improve our lot.

Our government could force action on the part of Canadian oil companies on the subject, but they heed the pressure.

The oil companies, for obvious reasons, don't want to see the price go down. And no doubt they have applied pressure, successfully.

Canadians, if they would only stand up and be recognized, could get action too.

But the sounds emanating from the public at present simply aren't loud enough. Public complaining, loud and long, is the only language the government understands.

Surely it's long overdue.

Policy Conference held for Eastern Ontario

Noble A. Villeneuve, M.P.P.
Stormont-Dundas-Glengarry

I am pleased to report that I attended a very successful Policy Conference for Eastern Ontario in Kingston on Saturday, April 12th. Some two hundred and fifty people were in attendance to discuss a number of different topics in workshop type seminars. Many new ideas were put forth along with a number of our continuing traditional theories which were looked into and updated.

The Legislature has now reconvened as of Tuesday, April 22nd, with a somewhat different schedule. The legislature will now sit on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for a total of twenty hours per week, leaving members free to return to their constituencies for Friday, Saturday and Sunday. All members look forward to an active session with a numbe of controversial bills presently in the process of being debated.

I made a personal presentation to the Right to Farm Committee which held hearings in Kemptville recently. My very deep concerns were expressed over the possibility of eliminating all farms severances on prime farm land, severely restricting other severences on more marginal lands. I also addressed the fact that farmers should have the right to determine their own destiny as farmers and not be dictated too by provincial bureaucrats, as what is normal farming practices. Cutting off severances in these difficult economic times is effectively expropriating without compensation.

Please remember there are only a few days left to complete your application for stabilization grants. Producers who sold weaner pigs, market hogs or slaughter cattle in the period of April 1st to September 30th, 1985, are eligible to apply. Deadline is April 30, 1986.

Traditional youth employment programs available again

This year more than 61,000 summer jobs for Ontario young people will be made available through the Ministry of Skills Development. These traditional programs provide a wide variety of opportunities for young people looking for ways to earn job experience.

For example, the Experience program will be returning this year. Experience '86 will provide 7,000 jobs in more than 100 provincial ministeries and provincial organizations.

Experience '86 provides hands-on knowledge of work situations that can lead to rewarding careers. Jobs vary from teaching water safety to assisting researchers on energy conservation programs to providing information to tourists.

The popular Ontario Youth Employment Program pays a wage subsidy of $1.25 an hour to Ontario employers to encourage them to create new summer jobs for 53,000 young people. Jobs created under this program must not displace full-time employees, and the young people hired cannot be relatives of the employer.

Many young people decide to create their own business during this summer, rather than work for anyone else. For these young people, the Student Venture Capital program can provide up to $2,000 in interest-free loans to eligible students who want to set up their own business.

Last summer 1,230 young people took part in the Student Venture Capital program. This program is supported by the Ontario Chamber of Comemrce and the Royal Bank of Canada.

This year the Ministry of Skills Development has allocated $43.8 million towards the operation of these three summer employment programs.

In addition to these programs, other provincial ministeries offer employment opportunities. For example, all provincial ministeries have regular summer hiring within the public service in a variety of areas.

Information on these programs are available at my constituency office.

Renovating Track at Seaway High

One Year Later

One year ago a committee was formed to look into the prospects of raising funds required to renovate the track at Seaway District High School. The cost was estimated at $25,000.

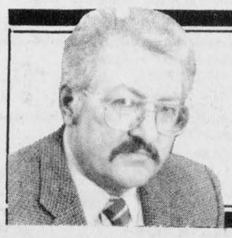
The committee was headed by S.D.H.S.'s Don Fairweather, and they had hopes of raising enough money over the summer to allow the track to be brought back to its original condition by autumn of 1985. Right off, the Iroquois-Matilda Lions Club had pledged $5,000 for the project.

Originally the track was an in-school project, completed in the late 1960s. Over the years the track has deteriorated and now requires considerable work to be done. Current estimates of the cost of renovations is $40,000. An amount of $18,000 has been collected from the Lions, the school board, and several fund-raising events, such as the bike-a-thon. This money is now collecting interest.

Until last week there was hope of getting the rest of the money from the Province, under the government's grant program for the restoration of recreational facilities. However, it appears that the S.D.H.S. project does not have a high enough priority at the moment.

According to Don Fairweather it is still hoped that the project can be undertaken this year, but as it stands, all depends upon the support that can be obtained from the provincial government.

Garbage



Peter Hessel

I AGREE with you, this heading leaves something to be desired. Garbage by Peter Hessel may not attract quite as many readers as Airport by Arthur Haily or Shogun by James Clavell. But let me follow the trend to one-word titles to tell you about my struggle with the unwanted materials that accumulate in our house.

First of all, I have come to recognize something inevitable. Our society may be changing. Women are entering professions and trades previously reserved for men, and vice versa. We see more and more women in the police forces, in the armed forces and in hockey. On the other hand, there are increasing numbers of male nurses, secretaries and librarians. And that is the way it should be. But no woman has ever tried to take away from me what seems to be the last bastion of male exclusiveness: The handling and disposal of domestic garbage.

In other words, the garbage is my job, my responsibility. No one is trying to take that away from me. It is mine, all mine.

Although we live in the country, we are fortunate enough to have garbage pickup. So I don't actualy have to load the stuff in the back of the stationwagon and drive it to the dump. Unless I forget to put the garbage out on Friday mornings. If I do that, then I have to make a trip to the dump on Saturday. Before 6 p.m. If I get there at 6:16, I have to make another trip on Monday. I speak from experience.

Throughout the house, waste paper is collected in every room in incredible amounts. In addition to newspapers, magazines, junk mail, paper bags, notes, lists, catalogues and what have you there are facial tissues (generally referred to as kleenes) that seem to fill up all available containers every day. I am convinced that our family alone keeps one logger, two papermakers and three printers in the work force. All this stuff I dump into a green plastic bin, where it is allowed to mingle with the other non-smelling garbage like bottles, jars and broken toys.

Then there is the sticky, odiferous, colourful material that accumulates for the most part in the kitchen. The only time I have an opportunity to identify the components of that mess is when Elizabeth is missing a silver spoon or Duncan can't find his sister's barrettes he had no business playing with but did anyway. Then I get to know what was dumped into the large polyethylene bags inside the heavy metal containers on every day of the week. Out of respect for your feelings, I will spare you the juicy details. And these searches don't happen every week. Maybe once every two weeks.

Thursday night is garbage night. The garbage truck comes between eight and nine on Friday morning (except when Friday is a holiday, then it comes a day earlier, which usually means a trip to the dump on Saturday). But on regular Thursday nights, I not only collect the current seven or eight assorted waste baskets and garbage cans distributed at strategic locations throughout the house, I also perform my duty as garbage coordinator in the garage. I prepare everything for the takeout, although takeout time is not until early Friday morning. I can't leave the garbage outside over night, because of our rich rural fauna.

I tried a few times, using a variety of tricks like weights or stacking the cans on top of each other. The moment I open the garage door on Thursday night, the animals spread the word that the garbage is coming out. And as I place the cans, dozens of raccons, squirrels, chipmunks, mice, voles, moles, wildcats, bobcats, domestic cats and dogs from the village, as well as blackbirds, crows and ravens line up behind the ditch, waiting for me to close the garage door. The result of their forays does not become evident until dawn. Too many times did I pick spaghetti out of the gravel, saran wrap out of the grass, orange peel out of the culvert. No more Thursday night takeout.

I'm thinking of redesigning my entire garbage disposal system. There must be an easier way. Like pelletizing the whole shooting match. Or turning it into propane gas to drive our gas gussling wagon.

Do any of you men have new ideas? How do you solve your family garbage problems? I don't expect to hear from women, since they know nothing about garbage disposal. We men have to work this one out ourselves. Garbage is really important to us, isn't it? As a matter of fact, it is one of the only way in which we can still prove our masculinity. Here is something nobody else can do. Wow!

I have to run. Elizabeth will be home soon, and if she sees that I didn't bring the empty garage cans in, there will be hell to pay.

the bottom line

ANCIENT MARINERS OFTEN HAD A TOUGH TIME keeping spirits up in the crew's quarters. The daily ration of grog didn't go far in neutralizing the hardships and fears of the explorers' ships.

THE MASTERS WHO GOT THE MOST OUT OF THEIR CREWS in the great age of discovery were those who infused their men with a sense of mission, a sense that they were all striving to attain a valuable goal. It's a lesson that should not die with Cabot or Eric the Red.

WE LIVE IN A NEW AGE OF DISCOVERY as the old economic order crumbles. And each coutry is bound on its own voyage of economic discovery, pursuing the promise of the entrepreneurial revolution. But the polls tell us that the captain and the officers who walk the quarterdeck in Ottawa have not succeeded in giving Canadians a sense of the direction our own ship of state is headed.

GOALS — CLEARLY DEFINED AND ARTICULATED — are crucial to the success of any venture, from a sea voyage to a manufacturer to a country. How long would you want to sail into the unknown, suffering from scurvy, without believing that there's a chance to land in Tahiti?

WHAT SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS does not set out specific goals and keep them in front of employees who must develop strategies to meet those targets? How much tough medicine will Canadians swallow without believing that long-term gain demands short-term pain?

THAT'S WHAT THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT SHOULD BE ASKING ITSELF in the days leading up to the latest budget. There is nothing wrong with Ottawa's strategies on a number of fronts. The proposals to ease the movement of goods and services through freer trade and deregulation are admirable.

INITIATIVES TO MAKE THE LABOR MARKET MORE FLEXIBLE through a thorough review of the Unemployment Insurance system are laudable. And plans to encourage investment through changes to RRSPs and capital gains tax exemptions are moves in the right direction. Yet we get the same tires series of corporate bailouts and other new-yet-familiar problems which raise the teapot tempest that have repeatedly pushed the government off course.

THE COMMANDER, PREOCCUPIED WITH FIGHTING POLITICAL FIRES, has failed to impart the ship's destination to either his officers or his crew. Simply put, we do not know whether we're headed for Nirvana or off the edge of the world. The coming budget will contain new strategies, but it cannot inspire the kind of public support we need for the times of change ahead. That must come, primarily, from the man on top.

CANADIANS HAVE HEARD OTTAWA'S PRIORITY IS "JOBS, JOBS, JOBS". But those will come, for the most part, from entrepreneurial activity which is fast assuming revolutionary proportions. It is an age which will require an economic system closely attuned to flexibility and adaptability. Our government can do nothing to stop this international impetus. But by failing to establish the clear goal that Canadians must create a competitive, entrepreneurial society, it can leave us in the wake of other nations in the race to the economic New World.

THIS WEEK'S BOTTOM LINE: Peace comes not from the absence of conflict in life but from the ability to cope with it.

Identification of property encouraged by local O.P.P.

Early 1986 has shown a marked increase in thefts from vehicles in the Morrisburg area.

During the Christmas season many people are conscious of the invitation presented to a would be thief by gifts left visible in their car. As a result many lock these items in their trunk in an effort to keep them out of sight, out of mind.

This time of year the thefts involve cassettes, cassette tape players and radio cassette players. In some instances these items had been taken from vehicles which had been left unlocked but many did involve vehices that had been locked and were subsequently broken into.

In order to help reduce this type of crime, police are encouraging drivers when leaving their cars to put valuables or items susceptible to theft out of sight and suggest locking them in the trunk. While some items such as radios and cassette players are not as movable, these items should be marked for identification purposes by engraving their vehicle licence number on them. This principle may also be applied to smaller items such as cassettes, cameras, etc. that may be left in the vehicle.

For further information on identification of property, the use of engraving pencils, contact your local O.P.P. detachment.

Winchester Hosp. receives funds

The Ministry of Health has announced that $23,000 will be provided to the Winchester & District Memorial Hospital towards offsetting their 1985-86 deficit. Mr. Stel, administrator of the hospital is confident that this amount will almost cover the amount of the deficit.

In addition the province is increasing the budget base for the Hospital for the current year. And although the Hospital's budget has not as yet been completed, Mr. Stel is hopeful that the increase to $242,900 will assist in balancing the budget for 1986-87.

Christian Farmers annual meeting

The Christian Farmers Association of Dundas County held their annual membership meeting and banquet last Friday evening, April 25, 1986.

The guest speaker was Elbert van Donkersgoed, research and policy director of the Christian Farmers Federation of Ontario. In his topic "What future for young family farmers" he outlined the status of farming in the 70s and 80s and what things are likely to be in the late 80s.

He saw farmers becoming less specialized due to the need for crop rotation and the present surpluses. He predicted smaller farms, which would be more viable, and a continuation of high interest rates. His message was of cautious optimism, but pointed out that farmers must learn to save, either by bank savings or by paying off the principle on loans. He believed that farmers today were more realistic, and that they had learned the lessons of the past years, and would adjust successfully to the changes.

Correction

On page nine of the April 23, 1986 issue of the Chieftain, the cutline for "Craft Show to be held this weekend", identified Lois Roberts and Janet Davis as having been working at the craft for the past 13 years; it should have read 5 - 6 years. In addition, the classes mentioned were arranged by Joan Boyle, not J & L Crafts. We apologise for any inconvience this may have caused.

South Dundas Dairy Club meet

The second meeting of the South Dundas Dairy Club was held on April 15th at the farm of Alex and Perry Hart. □

The meeting was opened by president Ed Byvelds, and then handed over to leaders Francis Henderson and Dalton Hart. The different aspects of cattle housing were discussed.

The members were split into groups with the younger members being given instructions as to what to look for when judging an animal. Everyone then judged a class of four year old cows.

We then travelled to see Hart's heifer barn set-up. The meeting closed with refreshments.

Cancer Campaign ends April 30th

Clara Graham, Public Relations Officer of the Iroquois-Matilda Cancer Society reported that the campaign, which officially ends April 30, 1986, is still receiving donations.

Anna Stacey, Chairperson of the organization advised that they have raised $3,002.25. In addition $837.75 has been obtained through the Daffodil sales.

While a lot of people have reported in, advised Claira Graham, there are still a few more left to come. If anyone has not yet donated to the Cancer Society, and would like to do so, your funding would be greatly appreciated.

Cards Of Thanks

DAVIS - We would like to thank everyone who was so kind to us during our dark week. The flags at half staff all week, and the closed Municipal office on Thursday, all touched us deeply. It was his second home for many years. To all who called to pay their respects at the chapel, to all who so generously brought food to our home, and to the ladies of the U.C.W. who served a delicious lunch, our sincere thanks. To the old neighbours and friends of Davis Dr. and to the newer friends of Church and Ann Sts., for their generous contributions to the Heart and Stroke Fund, or to the other organizations of their choice, and to all others who also contributed in Lloyd's memory, thanks so much. The floral tributes which were just enough to provide a frame around him were deeply appreciated. Our thanks also to the organist and choir for their beautiful contribution and to Rev. Mr. Klaehn, for the simple, touching service. We thank you all.
The Davis family. A30-1tc

Item 1: 9:25 p.m. •A proposed amendment to Section 4.1.1.2(4) of the text of the Official Plan would correct an existing error in the policies for "Residential Serviced" lands adjacent to the Village of Cardinal.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETING CONCERNING AN AMENDMENT TO THE ZONING BY-LAW

Take notice that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Edwardsburgh will hold a public meeting on the 2nd day of June, 1986 at 8:20 p.m. at the Township Municipal Office in Spencerville to consider a by-law pursuant to Section 34 of the Planning Act, 1983.

The proposed Zoning By-law amendment would rezone the property in the north-east portion of the Hamlet of Johnstown, Township of Edwardsburgh, County of Grenville, as indicated on the attached Schedule, from Open Space to Conservation and Recreation (CR) Zone.

Any person may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed by-law.

Additional information is available for inspection during normal office hours at the Municipal Offices in Spencerville.

Dated at the Village of Spencerville this 28th day of April, 1986.

Richard Austin, A.M.C.T.
Clerk-Treasurer
Township of Edwardsburgh

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Purpose and Effect:

This By-law would delete the Open Space Zoning on the community centre grounds and replace it with Conservation and Recreation Zone (CR). The Open Space Zone was found to be redundant with the Conservation and Recreation Zone provisions and therefore was deleted from the By-law by an earlier amendment.

This Amendment is technical in nature and will not change the use of land or the provisions controlling its use.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETING CONCERNING A PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE ZONING BY-LAW

Take Notice that the Council of the corporation of the Township of Edwardsburgh will hold a public meeting on the 2nd day of June, 1986 at 8:10 p.m. at the Township Municipal Office in Spencerville to consider the following items pursuant to Section 34 of the Planning Act, 1983:

Item 1: This proposed amendment to the general provisions section of the Zoning By-law text pertains to lot areas and/or lot frontage where it is less than required and legally non-conforming at the time of the passage of the By-law. The text specified that where a lot was held under distinct and separate ownership from abutting lots that the provisions applied. However, there are a number of plans of subdivision in the Municipality, registered since 1970, which have lot areas and/or frontage smaller than the requirement but are found on one deed because of their vacant and/or undeveloped nature. This provision, therefore, was creating hardship for the owners of these vacant registered lots where more than one existed on one deed.

This amendment, therefore, will recognize abutting lots within plans of subdivision registered since 1970 as being deemed to be under distinct and separate ownership for the purposes of the application of the provisions of the By-law.

Item 2: This proposed amendment pertains to the permitted uses provisions in the Agriculture Resource Zone (AGR). The By-law only allows single-family detached dwellings as accessory uses in the AGR Zone. However, there are a few situations where a single-family detached dwelling as a primary use can be permitted by the consent process (i.e. retirement lot by a farmer) and existing lots of record.

Therefore, this amendment would implement the policies of Section 4.3.3(3) of the Official Plan which indicate that Council will consider permitting a single residence and accessory building on existing registered lots of record in the Agriculture Resource designation. Thus vacant parcels of land found scattered throughout the Agriculture Resource Zone (AGR) would be allowed a single residence. Retirement lots for farmers created by consent for conveyance should also be recognized in the by-law as allowing a dwelling unit as a primary use in conformity with Section 15(d) of the By-law.

Any person may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed by-law.

Additional information is available for inspection at the Municipal Office during regular office hours.

Dated at Spencerville, Ontario, Municipal Chambers, this 28th day of April, 1986.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETING CONCERNING PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE OFFICIAL PLAN AND ZONING BY-LAW

Take Notice that the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Edwardsburgh will hold a public meeting on the 2nd day of June, 1986 at 7:40 p.m. at the Township Municipal Office in Spencerville to consider the following items pursuant to Sections 17 and 34 of the Planning Act, 1983:

Item 1: To consider changing the land use designations on a number of parcels of land which are licensed by the Ministry of Natural Resources for mineral extraction in the Township of Edwardsburgh, County of Grenville, as shown on the attached Schedule, to Pits and Quarries.

The lands affected by this redesignation are found in the following location: Part of Lot 20, Concession X; part of Lots 33, 34, Concession X, part of Lots 36, 37, Concession IX, and part of Lot 37, Concession VIII: part of Lot 36, Concession IX; part of Lot 28, 29, Concession VII; part of Lots 13, 14, Concession VI; part of Lots 8, 9, Concession VI; part of Lots 20, 21, Concession VI; part of Lots 33, 34, 35, Concession VI; part of Lots 16, 17, Concession VI, Township of Edwardsburgh, County of Grenville.

Item 2: To consider changing the zoning of the aforementioned lands to "Pits and Quarries Zone (EX)", introduction of new Section 16A to the text "Pits and Quarries Zone (EX)" with permitted uses and zone requirements.

Any person may attend the public meeting and/or make written or verbal representation either in support of or in opposition to the proposed by-law.

Additional information is available for inspection at the Municipal Office during regular office hours.

Dated at Spencerville, Ontario, Municipal Chambers, this 28 day of April, 1986.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Purpose and Effect of the By-law:

This amending by-law proposes to implement an Official Plan amendment which will recognize ten licensed mineral aggregate areas within the Township of Edwardsburgh which are initially omitted in the new Township Official Plan. This by-law classifies these sites as "Pits and Quarries Zone (EX)" in recognition of their licensed status.

This amending By-law will also introduce a new zone classification "Pits and Quarries Zone (EX)" to the text of the comprehensive Zoning By-law No. 84-33 and will provide a list of permitted uses, zone requirements and other provisions for the new section numbered "16A". This zone classification, requirements, etc., were mistakenly omitted from the comprehensive By-law No. 84-33, passed by Council on November 26th, 1984 and now waiting for Ontario Municipal board approval.

Cardinal petition started

A petition is being circulated in the Village of Cardinal in an attempt to forestall any action to decrease police protection in the area.

Organizers of the petition are worried that Cardinal Council may decide to reduce the existing police force in a cost-saving endeavour, and these citizens are worried that this will reduce the effectiveness of the force.

Reeve Jim McLaughlin has advised that Council is looking into all aspects of police protection in the Village, but is not able to say anything further until more facts are known.

In the meantime, salary negotiations with the police force will be going to arbitration, sometime in July.

Char-Lan wins title

Char-Lan Rebels are the Eastern Ontario Junior "B" Hockey League champions for the first time in their 7 year history.

They took the crown in the final game of the 7-game series with a 6 to 4 triumph over Ottawa South Canadians. The game was tied at the end of the first period, but Ottawa was ahead 4-3 at the end of the second. However, Car-Lan was able to come back with 3 unanswered goals in the final period.

Dwayne Spinks scored the opening goal with only 40 seconds of time played. Frank Sinfield scored the winning goal with just over 4 minutes remaining in the game, and then put an insurance marker into an empty net with only seconds to go. Other scorers for Char-Lan were Mike Lapansee, Shawn Blanchard and Norm Sauve.

Scoring for Ottawa South were John Poirier, Tim Featherstone, Glen McDonald and Mike Bilyk.

Seven of the Rebel's players have played their final junior hockey game, although two may return next year as over-age players.

a petition has not come forward until this time. Since this work would also benefit Williamsburg, Council has sent it on there for signature.

In other business Matilda Township Council gave third reading to the by-law concerning the Barkley-Johnson Drain. Second reading was given to a by-law to authorize borrowing for the purchase of tile drain debentures.

The next regular meeting of Council is scheduled for Thursday evening, May 8.

LEAD Program

Ministry of Natural Resources Recreation Boating Project and the Small Crafts Harbours Branch of the federal Fisheries and Oceans Department. These organizations are working separately but in conjunction with LEAD organizers.

The Small Craft Harbors Branch is seeking $964,000 needed for the breakwater and dredging. The breakwater is a man made structure which creates a sheltered area for boats within the harbour while continuing to allow for the freeflow of water, advised Mrs. Lawn.

While the funding has not yet been received, Mrs. Lawn is hopeful that they will obtain official notice, and with any luck, the money, within the next month. "At this moment", said Mrs. Lawn "it is difficult to say when (the funding will be available) to be put to work."

The hotel alone, says Mrs. Lawn, should create 100 full-time and part-time postions. In addition, the project increases the potential for tourism which would be an economical advantage to the community.

Citizens may help simply by contacting politicians such as Fisheries and Oceans Minister, Tom Siddon, Regional Industrial Expansion Minister, Sinclair Stevens, and Prime Minister Brian Mulroney. By making them aware of the need for the project it might be completed faster. Mail to the House of Commons, Ottawa, K1A 0A6, may be sent postage free.

Local Government Week celebrated

Approximately 100 students from the Iroquois Public School and St. Cecilia's Roman Catholic School in Iroquois attended the film and council meeting enacted by Iroquois Council, for Local Government Week.

Council decided to provide the students with an understanding of how and why council works

The session began with a film entitled "Your Local Government". Reeve Rooney then chaired a meeting during which councillors gave reports on their various responsibilities within the community.

Reeve Rooney reported on the Hydro Seminar. Joan Saver, on the Golf Club and its requirements. Lorraine Fader provided the children with a shock as she outlined for them the costs of recreation in Iroquois. Joyce Fader explained to the students the workings of the Fire and Waste Disposal Agreements and John Haldane spoke to students regarding the workings of government. Betty Marlin, the Clerk Treasurer was asked to outline the 1986 Budget.

Students were quick to take council up on the opportunity to ask questions. The caliber of questions was indeed interesting.

Council's first question was "Is this (re-enactment) how it is really done?"

Reeve Rooney advised that this 30 minute session is somewhat shorter than the real thing. Council, he said starts at 7:30 p.m. and we try to finish by 10:30 p.m.

One student was interested to find out if it was ture that there might be a Marina in Iroquois. Joyce Fader stated that it was true and outlined some of the work that has been done on the project.

Another student noted that the in the film shown, money was paid by council to a police force. If Iroquois has no police force does it still have to pay? The clerk treasurer Betty Marlin, advised that while Iroquois has no police force, it does have by-law enforcement officers. These people do not enforce the same type of laws as the police, but they are paid by Council.

These are but a few of the questions council dealt with at the local government session. Students displayed a interest in the presentation and from their questions, appeared to have learned a few things about their local government.

Resource Centre's Futures Program working well

by Margaret Gladstone
Chieftain Staff Reporter

The Cardinal District Resource Centre has been sponsoring a Futures Project which is funded by the Ontario Ministry of Skills and Development (Gregory Sorbara, Minister). The program is "designed to assist youth in developing the skills necessary to secure and retain employment", advised Kathy Jodoin, Co-Ordinator of the Futures Program in Cardinal.

The Resource Centre services a rather large area which includes Iroquois, Matilda, Cardinal, and Edwardsburgh.

The program is designed to assist persons between the ages of 15 and 24 who have not completed their Grade 12 and have been unemployed for at least 12 weeks. There is some flexibility with regards to part-time or casual workers under the program.

Ideally, individuals who fall within the category the program is aimed at, will contact the CDRC and request to meet with the Futures Program Co-Ordinator. The Co-ordinator will have a number of employers who are looking for individuals to work with them under the program.

Kathy advised that there is a tendancy for some employers to view the program as simply a benefit to them. She stresses that the most important point to remember about Futures is that it is too meet the young person's needs, not to simply provide an employer with free labour.

The employer gains by providing training to a young person who has been matched with him by the program co-ordinator free of charge. The employer then has an employable person whose training has not cost him/her any money.

The Centre has been given $194,810.00 to go towards 25 full-time, 14 week placements; 5 part-time, 28 week job placements; and, 10 Guarantee Option placements. The CDRC is funded to place a total of 40 young people between April 1, 1986 and March 31, 1987.

The Guarantee Option placement gives the young person access to three separate 12 week placements over a one year period. The individual in return, must spend a minimum of three hours a week working towards a Grade 12 diploma.

Sheri Smail was selected by Kathy Jodoin to provide an example of the Futures Program at work. Sheri quit highschool before completing grade twelve to take a job in a restaurant. She was 19 at the time and has definite regrets for having dropped out when she was so close to receiving her diploma.

It was the money which enticed her to quit, advised Sheri. Now she realizes her mistake. After years of rejection due to lack of skills and education, Sheri managed to find work part-time with Rev. Tysick.

Sheri was working for Rev. Tysick for one day per week when she met Carol Thompson, who was working with Rev. Tysick under the Family Violence Project in Winchester. At that time Carol was employed at the CDRC and she suggested to Sheri that she become involved in OCAP at the Resource Centre.

Sheri took Carol up on her offer and was placed under OCAP with Rev. Tysick full time. This gave her a chance to do more of the work which needed to be done which Rev. Tysick did not have the money to pay for.

When Sheri first started, Rev. Tysick advised, she was lacking in self-confidence. She wouldn't even make a long distance phone call." All I hired her for was to type the church bulletin", if it took her all day it was ok, advised Rev. Tysick, as that was all he needed the money to hire her for.

The church could not afford a full time person, advised Rev. Tysick. The work that Sheri is now doing is seen as vital to the operation of the church.

Sheri takes messages when Rev. Tysick is out on calls. She looks after the administrative functions giving Rev. Tysick time to work on church ministry. Basically, Sheri, looks after all of the general office duties and administrative duties involved in Church work: baptismal certificates, marriage licenses, etc. "I do everything but perform the ceremony" says Sheri.

Kathy chose Sheri as a focus because she is typical of most of the clients the Futures program deals with. She has less than Grade 12, found lack of work experience to be a problem in finding a full-time job and needed to develop social skills due to a lack of self confidence.

Sheri, advised Kathy, has come a long way. Rev. Tysick and Sheri both agreed.

When asked whether the employer-ee arrangement in this case was similar to other cases, in the sense of having had previous contact before the Futures/OCAP monies were applied to the case, Mrs. Jodoin replied in the affirmative.

This prior contact is not unusual in the rural areas, she said, it is less common in urban centres. Sheri took over the work her aunt had been doing for Rev. Tysick before her death. There was no full-time position available and the position was, in a sense, created, for Sheri after the goverment funding was made available.

The program co-ordinator's job of matching up in this instance was done previously by Rev. Tysick and Sheri. All Mrs. Thompson had to do was bring them into the program so that a full-time position could be created. Without the funding the job would not have been available to anyone.

The purpose of the Futures program is to create full-time jobs for previously unemployable people. If the congregation can be convinced that Sheri is functioning in a necessary and positive manner it might be possible for the church to come up with the money to pay the additional salary. If that happens, the Futures will have reached both of its two goals: 1) to train young people needing the requirement, 2) to create jobs.

Cribbage Results
