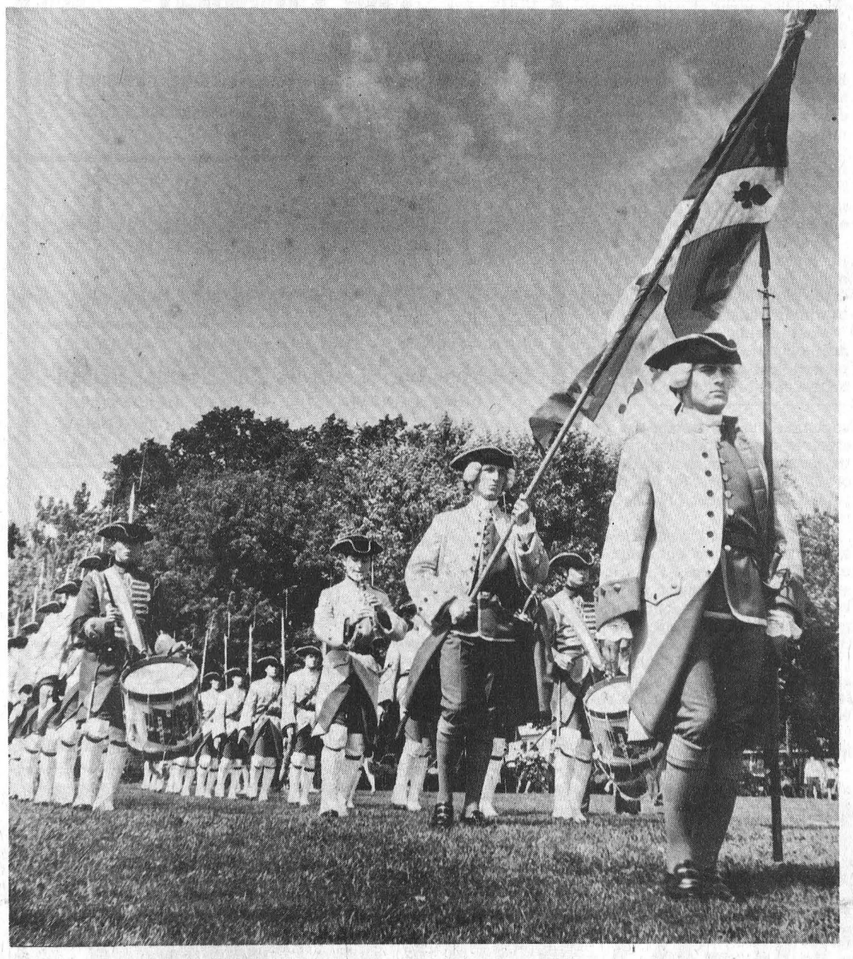
Ault Plant Announces

MILLION DOLLAR EXPANSION



S.G.K. Ault, president of Ault Milk Products Limited, informed The Winchester Press this week that his plant has just completed arrangements with the Ontario Development Corporation making it possible to undertake a $1,000,000 expansion program. Work is to start immediately.

In an official announcement from the Development Corporation, Trade and Development Minister Stanley J. Randall and Hon. Fred M. Cass, MPP Grenville-Dundas said that a Corporation loan of $329,270 had been issued. The interest free loan, granted under the province's Equalization of Industrial Opportunity program, will not have to be repaid provided the company meets certain conditions over a six-year period.

Negotiations with the Development Corporation and with contractors had been going on for the past year, Mr. Ault said.

Already the largest milk processing plant in the country the new facilities are designed for expanded operations in the milk and food processing industry. Mr. Ault explained that the addition will accommodate some of the most modern equipment available and at the same time will create at least 10 new jobs, with more in the future.

Briefly, the plant which currently handles more than 1,000,000 pounds of milk per day will step up production in this department. One building, measuring 73 feet by 32 feet by 77 feet high will house a new Scheffer Evaporator imported from Holland and capable of processing 60,000 pounds of milk per hour or 1,200,000 pounds per day. The new dryer complex will be the home of an ultra modern dryer facility. The building will be 21 by 32 by 40 and the dryer which will be used on whey products is expected to be purchased from DeLaval of Canada. It will have a capacity of 4,000 pounds per hour. Also included in the million dollar expansion program are a new boiler with 20,000 pounds of steam per hour capacity to be fueled by both oil and gas; two silo holding tanks made of stainless steel with 300,000 pounds holding capacity and a new continuous butter machine, manufactured in Germany, which has a capacity of 10,000 pounds per hour but which initially is expected to turn out 50,000 pounds of butter per day.

With greater manufacturing facility more storage space will be needed and in outlining the over-all complex Mr. Ault said that another steel Butler type storage building would be included in the plans. The building will measure 144 feet in length and 90 feet in width.

Ault Milk Products, one of the leading industries in the entire Eastern Ontario area, has a staff of approximately 100 today. The expansion program made possible by the assistance from ODC is in keeping with the company's policy of increased production combined with greater efficiency. In addition to milk products the plant is expected to become more greatly involved in food processing. Instant powder, cheese portions and butter patties will be among the growing number of new products, Mr. Ault said.

Contractors for the extension are Wiseman and Thompson and Dodge Construction Company.

Over 5,000 See Military Pageant

Crowds well in excess of 5000 thundered their applause on Sunday afternoon at Prescott when the grey-coated 'Les Compagnies de la Marine", a 1756 period regiment from Montreal, marched stiffly onto the parade ground.

Accompanied by only the mournful notes of a flute, and armed with gleaming muskets and bayonets the regiment impressed the huge audience with their inspection ceremony.

The pageant jointly sponsored by Chamber of Commerce, Legion Branch 97, Youth for Action and Prescott Rotary Club was staged at historic old Fort Wellington. To officially open the tattoo Hon. James Auld, Ontario Minister of Tourism and Information, and Gordon Blair, Grenville-Carleton MP fired small cannons at the command of Prescott Mayor Donald Irvine.

Mr. Auld remarked in his brief speech that he was a bit concerned when he first learned he and Mr. Blair would be firing guns, but felt much better when he noted both guns were aimed in the same direction.

Brilliant sunshine bathed the site and boats on the hazy St. Lawrence appeared to hurry just a little as 24-pound cannons boomed from the ramparts.

Other regiments taking part in the pageantry were The Fraser Highlanders (1763) also of Montreal; Fort York Guards of Toronto (1812) and the internationally famous Fort Henry Guards from Kingston.

Following the afternoon display thousands enjoyed a chicken barbecue in the shadow of the old 'Blockhouse' and remained for the retreat ceremony in the evening.

Picture

Like ghosts emerging from the pages of Canadian ---- Les Compagnies de la Marine marched onto the parade grounds at Prescott last Sunday. Taking part in a colourful tattoo sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and other local organizations the regiment from Montreal was one of four regiments taking part. John Morris, President of Prescott Chamber of Commerce welcomed the huge crowd assembled at Old Fort Wellington for the historical pageant.

Each regiment was attired in uniforms of the period they represented and the young men pictred above reminded spectators of familiar pictures of action on the Plains of Abraham. Commands were given in French and the long muskets with their gleaming bayonets flashed smartly in the bright sunshine. High on the ramparts of the old fort overlooking the St. Lawrence guards stood ready to fire the 24-pound cannon.

SOME NEW TWISTS

Metcalfe Fair In Five Weeks

Five weeks from to-day the curtain rises on the 113th Annual Fall Fair at Metcalfe and reports indicate it will far surpass all its predecessors. New classes have been added; new attractions will nake their debut; and with over $10,000.00 being given away in prizes, this has to be classified as one of the finest fall fairs in the povince.

One change that will meet with instant approval is the 'Official Opening' program. In other years this consisted of the appearance of some well known personalities on Saturday afternoon. Usually conducted from a judges' stand where all but the speaker were hidden from view, and his words were smothered by the roar of the midway, the ceremony had little or no impact on fair-goers.

All this has been changed. A special entertaining program will be presented in the huge Osgoode Township High School auditorium to make the opening of the fair this year. The attraction, with Radio Station CFRA's Trevor Kidd as Master of Ceremonies, will take place on Friday evening and will feature the popular MacDonald Sisters from Green Valley. The girls are noted scottish dancers and singers just back from performing at Highland Games in Scotland. While in Great Britain, they made several guest appearances on British television networks.

Gordon Blair, Grenville-Carleton Member of Parliament, will be on hand to officiate and declare Metcalfe's 113th Fair officially open.

Tickets for the big night of fun are now on sale. To encourage family participation, fair officials offer a special price for family tickets.

Transport Upsets On Hwy. 31

Adrian Girard of Ottawa narrowly escaped serious injury when the truck he was driving left Highway 31 Monday morning. The late model truck, owned by Capital Meat Company, was transporting a heavy load when the accident occurred. Reports indicate the driver swerved slightly to avoid hitting another vehicle, struck the shoulder of the road and lost control. As shown in picture the rear wheels left the truck on contact with the ditch and the heavy vehicle rolled over in the soft muck. Mr. Girard was taken to Winchester District Memorial Hospital but later released. Removing the heavy vehicle proved a difficult task and it was evening before it was finally hoisted out by a huge crane and loaded on a float. The accident was investigated by Winchester Detachment of Ontario Provincial Police who reported damage to the truck at approximately $9,000.00.

An interested motorist surveys the scene.

Edna Darlene Harper Weds Gerald Belanger

Mrs. Maefred Merkley, Williamsburg, was organist for the occasion. Bernard Belanger assisted the groom as best man; the guests were seated by Leonard Belanger, brother of the groom, and Donald Harper, brother of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire styled full length gown of peau de soie highlighted by a chapel train of chantilly lace falling softly from the back shoulder line. A ring-effect of white roses and seed pearls held her illusion veil; she carried a cascade of deep pink roses and white chrysanthemums. A gift from the groom, she wore a single strand of crystals and matching earrings.

The matron of honour, Mrs. Arlene Millward, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Carol Armstrong and Miss Ann Trickey were similarly attired in full length gowns of peacock blue and mint green, matching ribbon headdresses and carried cascades of white feathered chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Harper, mother of the bride, wore a lilac sheath dress, matching coat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother chose a cranberry crimpelene dress, dark accessories and a corsage of peppermint carnations.

Guests from Toronto, Kitchener, Cobourg, Montreal, Winchester, Brockville, Prescott, Iroquois, Morrisburg, Williamsburg, Monkland, Chesterville, Brinston and Elma attended the reception in The Pioneer Hotel, Williamsburg, following the ceremony.

On return from a honeymoon in Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Belanger will reside at 10 Windsor Dr., Apt. 4, Brockville, Ontario.

Prior to her marriage, Miss Harper was guest of honour at a miscellaneous shower held at The Pioneer Hotel, Williamsburg, attended by friends from Williamsburg.

SAFETY TIP

Check Pressure Canner For Safe Operation

Before canning the summer's harvest of produce, check your pressure canner for efficiency suggest food specialists at Macdonald Institute, University of Guelph.

An accurate pressure guage is essential to insure the correct processing temperature of home-canned foods. To test the guage, you can use a master gauge or a maximum thermometer, or you can return the gauge to the manufacturer for checking.

A pressure cooker must be kept clean and handled carefully for safe operation. Do not use the gauge as a handle or rest the cover on the gauge. Keep the petcock clean and open. Check and clean a ball-and-socket safety valve after each use. If it is corroded, replace it. Keep proper tension in a spring-type valve.

Prevent odors from forming in the cooker by airing it thoroughly. Always store in a dry, well-ventilated place. Store with the lid off to allow air to circulate and store the cover right side up to prevent moisture collecting in the gauge.

When using a pressure canner, follow the manufacturer's directions. Never operate the cooker without at least a quart of water and don't close the petcock until there has been a steady flow of steam for 7 to 10 minutes. Hold pressure as constant as possible.

Hydro Appeals To Farmers Scrap Home-Made Fences

A six-year-old Hamilton area girl was electrocuted in mid-July when she crawled under a fence on her father's farm. The child was chasing her kitten at the time of the tragedy.

Just a few days later a 1,600 pound bull was electrocuted when it contacted an electrified fence intended to keep it from entering a neighbouring property.

In the wake of these accidents Ontario Hydro has appealed to farmers across the province to immediately remove electric fence controllers of the home-made or unapproved type.

Both the child and the bull were killed by contact with fences electrified by home-made electric fence controllers.

Investigation into the death of the child revealed the unapproved fence controller consisted of a line cord, lampholder, step-up transformer (115 to 600 volts) and two wires to connect the 600-volt secondary to a ground rod and the fence.

The arrangement permitted secondary output currents in the order of 30 milliamperes (thirty 1000th of an amp) at 600 volts - 15 milliamperes is sufficient to kill an adult male.

And the primary current interrupter permitted the device to remain "on" for three seconds.

Conditions under which the bull perished were similar.

The Canadian Standards Association safety standard on electric fence controllers limits the output current to a maximum of 25 milliampers for an "on" period of one-tenth of a second maximum.

The "off" period must be nine-tenths of a second minimum to meet CSA standards. Failure of any internal component may not result in continuous current of more than five milliamperes on the fence.

And CSA-approved "fencers" are available - at considerably less cost than a home-made device.

For the home-made electric fence controller can cost a life.

DEPARTMENT CLAIMS

Winter Wheat Profitable

Department of Agriculture and Food officials claim many Eastern Ontario farmers should be growing winter wheat. Their reasoning is that there are many acres of well-drained land in the district and such land is ideal for this crop.

Survey soil maps list almost 700,000 acres of this part of Ontario as having well-drained land and most of this, as well as, the tile-drained acres will support winter wheat.

According to departmental statistics Dundas County has in excess of 30,000 acres of this type of land; Carleton 65,000; Glengarry 125,000; Russell and Prescott 30,000; and 275,000 acres in Frontenac, Lanark, Leeds and Renfrew.

In 1967-68 these counties grew only 3,000 acres of winter wheat out of a total of over 400,000 acres grown in Ontario.

The Field Crops Division of Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology assures farmers winterkill appears to be a minor problem but points out that yields drop if winter wheat is seeded after September 25th. Recommended time for seeding is from September 10th to September 30th.

If a very early maturity corn is planted, one or two fields might be harvested as corn silage, plowed, disked and planted to winter wheat by September 30.

Most fields of winter wheat are planted on land that was plowed and cultivated after one or two cuts of hay were harvested. If these fields are free of quack grass they produce excellent winter wheat.

Many farmers hesitate to grow winter wheat because they are uncertain of its feed value and do not know how to sell wheat for a cash crop. As a livestock feed, winter wheat is about equal in energy to corn but has about three per cent more protein. However, winter wheat is usually too high priced to use as feed. The real market is as a cash crop for milling into pastry flour or for export.

Flour mills in Eastern Ontario use several million bushels of winter wheat. All is imported into the area. Also, Montreal is a large market within shipping distance.

In conclusion, says the Department, winter wheat can be grown in Eastern Ontario on well-drained land. The grain and straw can be sold as a cash crop and the crop can make excellent use of machinery and labour. For the farmer, who is looking for a cash crop, winter wheat would appear to be worth considering for a part of the crop acreage on his farm.

New Water Act Designed To Help Conquer Pollution

The proposed new Canada Water Act, announced by the government, is designed to break through "the bureaucratic and jurisdictional maze" that has up to now bedevilled efforts at water pollution control and conservation, Otto Lang, Minister responsible for energy and water resources, said Monday.

HIGHLIGHT

One of the highlights of the act designates that pollution of waters in designated areas would be punishable by a fine of up to $5,000 for each offence. Each day this pollution continued it would be regarded as a separate offence

CONTEXT

Here briefly is the context of the new act: -

Together with the provinces, the federal government would designate as a water quality management area any body of water where there is significant national interest.

Together with the provinces, or alone if necessary on interjurisdictional waters, the federal government would launch water quality management programs in designated problem areas. These programs would be administered by agencies which would recommend objectives of water quality and steps to achieve these objectives. Agencies would be charged with implementing approved water quality management plans.

Water quality management agencies would design and operate sewage treatment facilities, collecting charges for the treatment of wastes delivered to these facilities.

Ottawa would enter into agreement with any province to establish intergovernmental committees or agencies to advise on water research, planning, management, and development, and to help co-ordinate and implement water policies and programs.

TOGETHER

Together with the provinces, the federal government would establish joint commissions, boards or other agencies to conduct water management programs. Such programs would be concerned with the supply, quality, distribution and other aspects of water - a comprehensive approach to multi-purpose water resource management

Why are you interrupting my bath, Andy might be asking with that questioning look. This appealing baby is of black and white parentage. His white ancestors were Italian, Scottish and Irish so he is almost a United Nations himself. Andy is eight months old, healthy and sturdy with big dark eyes, scant light brown hair and pale complexion. He is very active and already quite strong. He is alert, responsive and good-natured. He chatters cheerily with a few recognizable words. He likes attention from children or can be quite content playing with toys in which he takes an increasing interest. He needs loving parents who will value his heritage. To inquire about adopting Andy please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For other information about adoption ask your local Children's Aid Society.

Mini-Skirts Can Be Practical

The Ontario Safety League reports that in Florida, a mini-skirted miss passed her test for recognizing traffic signs. When taking her driving test she pushed down on the brake and revealed to the interested examiner replicas of all the signs painted on her upper leg.

Ed's Note: (see, we told you those skirts were educational).

A. R. D. A. Looks At Farm Enlargement And Consolidation

One of the programs receiving the most emphasis by A.R.D.A. in Ontario at the present time is that of Farm Enlargement and Consolidation.

Since the program began in 1966 over 900 farms have been purchased in Ontario. Most of these are in Eastern, Central and Northern Ontario.

Until recently farms were bought by A.R.D.A. only if they could be immediately leased to neighbouring full time farmers. Farms offered for sale and falling into this category will continue to receive priority providing an eligible applicant to lease the farm, who cannot obtain credit to purchase the farm, is available.

However, A.R.D.A. is now prepared to purchase farms under certain circumstances even though there may not be farmers in the vicinity wishing to lease them. These may be owned by young farmers who find that their farms are not large enough or productive enough to provide sufficient income and who wish to either relocate their farm operations or to take training courses and enter other occupations.

They may also include farms in isolated areas which have low agricultural value and where the owner wishes to move away.

Another group may be those farmers over 55 years of age who presently occupy uneconomic farms and wish to retire from farming. Provided these farms have been offered for sale for at least six months it may be possible for A.R.D.A. to purchase them, and hold them until eligible applicants for farm enlargement signify their desire to rent. In some cases it may be possible to give the owner a life lease on the house under reasonable rental terms.

Anyone wishing further information on this policy may contact D.A. Knapp or Eber Dobson of the A.R.D.A. Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food at Box 789, Kemptville, or Russell McAllister at the Agricultural Office in Cornwall.

HEALTH & SAFETY

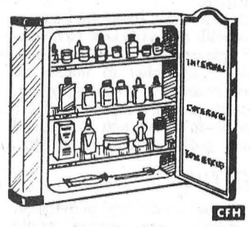
Mainly for Mothers

by Carol Hart

Neatness Counts in Medicine Chest

What is rectangular, often impressive-looking and may contain pirate treasure, medicines, tea or odds-and-ends of little value? It's found in the holds of ships, bathrooms, and many a dusty attic — and it's generically known as a chest.

The most valuable of all can be the medicine chest. But while it may contain a treasury of life-saving items, it also may cause trouble in your household if it is not properly maintained.



CFH

The Council on Family Health, a non-profit organization created to promote health and safety in the home, has a few suggestions worth considering.

Your youngster is by nature a would-be mountaineer. Someday he may decide to climb the bathroom sink and explore that shiny box on the wall. Keep him from getting into it by putting a snap lock on the door.

Mother may think she knows what is in all of those strange looking bottles. But if the labels are badly soiled or missing, she should not rely on memory. Discard all those which are not clearly and completely identifiable.

If you go to the medicine chest at night, be sure to turn on the light. You need a clear, alert mind when you select the medication you need.

Your medicine chest should be planned more carefully than any other place in your home. Ideally, there should be an extra cabinet that houses only medical supplies but most mothers have only one to work with.

First, the cabinet should be divided into two sections. The upper portion should be reserved exclusively for medicines and the lower part for toiletries and other grooming aids.

The medicine section again should be subdivided into two parts — one for internal medicines, those that are swallowed, and the other for external medicines, those that are applied to the surface of the body.

A laundry marker or write-on adhesive tape should be used to identify each section so the whole family knows where items belong and will help keep the cabinet neat.

These simple measures will help keep your family constantly alert to the need for careful handling of medicines to assure each is used only for the purpose for which it was intended.

DEPT. OF LABOUR

Studies Workmen's Compensation System

A comprehensive study of the Canadian Workmen's Compensation system has just been published by the Canada Department of Labour.

The study entitled "Workmen's Compensation in Canada," explains the development and features of the ten provincial workmen's compensation schemes, all of which are based on the principle of collective liability of employers which was introduced in Canada by the Ontario Government in 1914. The book treats in detail the ten provincial Acts, the two federal compensation Acts governing federal government employees and merchant seamen, and the Workmen's Compensation ordinances of the Yukon and Northwest Territories.

It discusses all facets of workmen's compensation, stressing the basic principles common to the system: comprehensive coverage, compulsory insurance in a provincially-operated Accident Fund, exclusion of the courts from workmen's compensation cases and the processing of claims and payment of benefits by an administrative board with continuing jurisdiction to review and modify any decision. Accident prevention and rehabilitation of the injured workman are shown to be integral parts of the workmen's compensation system. Scales of cash benefits are set out in tables, permitting comparison between provinces.

One chapter describes the steps taken in various provinces to increase pensions awarded at times when lower earnings and compensation rates prevailed

The study describes the laws as they were on December 31, 1967. A supplement covering changes made in 1968 is included. A supplement will be published annually.

The work of Miss Evelyn Woolner, Chief of the Legislative Research Division of the Legislation Branch of the Department the book is available at a price of one dollar in Englis and French versions from the Queen's Printer or from any of the Canadian Government book stores.

IN MEMORIAMS

HOLMES—In sad and loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Leslie A. Holmes, who passed away suddenly Sept. 1st, 1968.

A silent thought, a secret tear,
Keeps his memory ever dear.

—Wife Evelyn and family.
17p

THOMPSON—In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Hilliard Thompson, who passed away September 1st, 1966.

More and more each day we miss him,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
Lying within our hearts concealed.
When the ties of love are broken
And loved ones have to part,
It leaves a wound that never heals
And an ever aching heart.
Still loved and longed for every day.

—Sadly missed by wife Maybell and family. 17c

GILLESPIE—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Stanley A. Gillespie, who passed away September 1st, 1968.

One year has passed since that sad day
When one we loved was called away.
God took him home, it was His will,
Within our hearts he liveth still.

—Sadly missed by wife and family. 17c

DURANT—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Elmer Durant, who passed away August 26, 1953.

We often sit and think of him,
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.

17p —Wife and family.

Miss Edite Ezers of Toronto and Miss Nancy Oake of Sarnia, have been visiting Margaret Campbell of Golden Valley and also were guests at the wedding of Mary Campbell and Floyd Fisher on August 21, 1969.

Short Courses Available By Vernon W.I.

Two short courses will be available this fall through the Vernon W.I., one on "Furniture Facts", a one-day course. The other is a course of four meetings, on "The Main Wish makes the Meal". Both are open to women of the area, as well as to W. I. Members, and are put on by the Home Economics Branch of Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food.

Reports of the after-church Sunday dinner held at Vernon lately, proved it a decided success, and proceeds are being turned over to the Community Centre at Metcalfe to help pay for the extensive renovations being carried on in the kitchen there. This type of Sunday dinner may well become an annual event in Vernon W.I.

At an earlier meeting the Members decided to ask the Post Office Department for an outside mail box at Vernon Post Office. This box has now arrived, and is available for evening or weekend mailing of letters.

Discussion on the Metcalfe Fair exhibit, a possible trip to interesting points in Ottawa, and other business concluded this meeting.

The Septmeber meeting will be in the form of a barbecue - weather permitting.

STAGE BABY BEEF DRAW

Lions Return To Den, Plan Future Activities

A sure indication that the holiday season is drawing to a close was the return of Metcalfe and District Lions to their 'Den' last week.

A complete new slate of officers headed by President Roy Porteous, immediately began the task of programming activities for the months ahead. Favourable reports were read by committeemen who had been active during the summer months, including the Canteen Committee.

All were in agreement that the present building which serves as a canteen, in close proximity to the ball diamond, is inadequate. Some expressed the opinion it might be satisfactory for limited crowds attending ball games, but much too small for the busy days of Metcalfe Fair. President Roy was authorized to set up a committee and if possible have the building enlarged in time for the Fair early in October.

Tickets are now on sale for the Annual Baby Beef Draw and those in charge of the raffle, Jack Crogie and Gordon Bolland, were confident a thousand books would be sold well before Fair Day. Members learned this year's 'Beef' (a white shorthorn), was purchased early in the spring at "Glencromar Farm", and has been cared for at "Shadybrook Farm" since that time.

In answer to a request from East Osgoode Memorial Community Centre Board, a committee was set up to meet with community centre officials. Since both organizations serve the community, such a joint meeting is planned to form some type of working agreement beneficial to both organizations and the community in general Members appointed to the committee were: Jim Rowan, Eric MacDonald, Past President Gordon Morrow and President Roy Porteous.

Lion members, aware that new artificial ice facilities will make possible a broad expansion of winter programs, favoured a better hockey program for the coming season and in addition the inauguration of a figure skating training for girls.

President 'Roy' suggested some type of party early in September to bring all members end their wives together following the two-month layoff. This will possibly take the form of a 'Corn Party' at the den. The President was quick with a definition of such a party, "Corn on the cob", he said.

New Education Calendar

If all of Ontario's school children were placed 20 yards apart at the equator, they would stretch around the world.

This, and other down-to-earth facts about education in Ontario, are contained in a unique calendar designed by the Ontario Department of Education for distribution at the Canadian National Exhibition and other exhibitions in Ontario this summer and fall.

The calendar, in kindergarten crayon colors, comes folded like an accordion and stretches out to four feet, nine inches in length. It starts with September and runs to next August.

It can be stuffed in a school bag, read forward or backward, right side up or the other way round, hung full length on a wall or suspended from the ceiling like a mobile with days of the month on one side, and those quick facts about the education on the back.

Family Reunions

JEACLE

Names of those present included Bleeks, Dow, Ferguson, Garton, McRostie, Moodie, Moore, Morris, Newell, Pyper and Saunders but it was the first Jeacle family picnic that brought them all out to Woodlands Park near Ingleside on Sunday, August 17.

The seventeen members of the Milton Jeacle family made up the largest family unit among the sixty-nine descendants of Wm. Jeacle and Sarah Morris.

Everyone from Abigail Jeacle (96 years) to Bradley Dow (3 mos.) had a fine time renewing old aquaintances and making new ones. They all hope to do it again next year.

ROBINSON

The fifteenth annual reunion of the descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. James H. Robinson was held at the Marvelville Community Centre on Sunday, August 10th.

Fifty-eight members were present. President and Secretary were Ed. and Ruth Lewis. They were assisted by Henry and Harvey Robinson. Five new members joined the family during the past year.

Elected president and secretary for 1970 were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Robinson of Marvelville.

Crerar Exhibit Takes 5 Firsts

When Betty Crerar, (Mrs. Ian Crerar) says "Honey, I love you", she is not necessarily referring to her husband. Both Betty and Ian have good reason to love honey. This year their lavish exhibits at Ottawa exhibition won five of six classes and placed second in that one.

Their exhibit, included a spectacular entry of 600 pounds of honey arranged in bottles and other glass containers in a variety of shapes and sizes, with life-like bees ingeniously made from pipe cleaners.

The Crerars of Vernon make a habit of winning at fall fairs and their prize-winning exhibits prove a special attraction at all local exhibitions.

Eighty-four dollars was the amount of prize money won by exhibits at Ottawa but their stand was always a hive of activity as fair-goers, attracted by the beautiful display, lined up to purchase jars of golden honey.

Grandmothers Honoured By N. Russell W.I.

Members of North Russell W. I. honoured all Grandmothers at their regular meeting in the Institute Hall last week. Members of neighbouring Leonard W.I. were also special guests.

Mrs. Asa Sullivan, convenor of historical research presented an interesting program and grandmothers winning prizes were Mrs. Thorpe, Mrs. Birch, Mrs. Ernest Hamilton, Mrs. Norman Dugdale, Mrs. Robt. McCallum and Mrs. Clelland Hamilton. A special contest was won by Mrs. Bertrand.

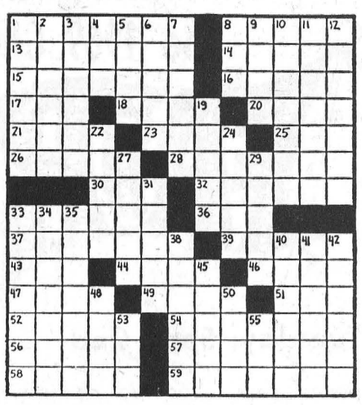
Here's the Answer



We Still Need More Money !

'Grey Matter' is put to the supreme test as members of Winchester's Community Centre Board sit once again at their familiar post in the Town Hall. Residents have been generous with money; given freely of time when requested; offered timely suggestions; and whole-heartedly supported the campaign since its inception....BUT! STILL MORE DOLLARS ARE NEEDED! As a result the committee of 'thinkers' returns to the drawing board and from this combination of intellectual minds will emerge new ideas and a renewed optimism. They're doing their part to make Winchester's new Community Centre a reality. Are you?

Warriors Battling To Be League Champs

Dundas Intermediate Fastball League finals now stand at one game each for the two teams engaged in a best-of-seven final series. Chesterville, with Bob Miltmore on the mound won the first game 3 to 1 despite a stellar pitching performance by the Warriors' Stan Woods who fanned 14.

In game number two Stan was back in top form and shut out Chesterville 2 to 0. Strong hitting power by Elzeon Raistrick and Bruce Kerr proved the margin of victory for the Warriors.

Third game was played last night but no results were available at press time. Fourth game will be played at Chesterville tomorrow night (Friday), with fifth game slated for Winchester next week.

One Winchester sportsman who felt this fine team deserved a little more support decided to do something about it. Pleased that the boys were providing fine evening entertainment he conducted his own campaign to give the boys a much needed financial 'lift'.

Percy Douglas, considered by the Warriors as their 'Number One' fan had little trouble convincing Winchester's sports-minded businessmen and following the last game he handed 'his team' $40.00.

"With fans like this, we can't lose", said Coach Bob Porteous.

Midgets Reach Finals

Winchester Midgets edged Cardinal 8 to 7 to win their semi-final round and will meet the winner of the Kemptville-Newington series for the league championship.

Brian Williams and Norm MacLeod were credited with the win and Ed. Riddell was the losing pitcher.

For the winners Mervin Patterson and Rae Armstrong picked up two runs each and Al Utman, Wayne Anderson, Norm MacLeod and Al Levere each got one.

Final series should get under way next week and this one will be a best-of-five series.

Russell Softball Tournament

Mountain-Chesterville girls, with three straight wins captured top money in Russell's Annual Softball Tournament last Saturday. Their first win was at the expense of Montreal by a score of 13 to 11. They followed this with a convincing 8 to 0 victory over Morrisburg to qualify for finals.

Russell's modern ball park was filled to capacity for the big final game between Mountain-Chesterville and Cornwall and it proved a real thriller. At the end of six innings the score was tied. Cornwall failed to get a hit in their half of the seventh but the big bats of the local girls came to life. Marilyn Williams drew a walk; Margaret Ann Hyndman slammed a double; Diane Arcand connected for a single to load the bases and set the stage for the game-winning hit by Edythe Cameron.

Perth defeated Kingston in the consolation final.

For their victory the girls won the Carling Trophy and a cash prize as well.

Pioneers Ahead In Fastball Semi-Finals

Williamsburg Pioneers hold a 2-1 lead in their best of 7 Dundas Fastball League Semi-finals despite a 2-1 loss to Brockville Thursday night. Blaine Healey tossed a 6 hitter, walked 4 and struck out 8. Big Doug Casselman hurled a 6 hitter, walked 1 and struck out 9. Brockville's 2 runs came in the 4th on errors. Ted Smith scored Pioneers only run in the 4th on Kevin McMillan's sacrifice. Ted hit the only triple of the game.

Carfinal Pats lead Brinston Bears 3 games to 1 in their series with wins of 3-2 and 7-1, with errors proving costly to the Bears. Ted Hoy struck out 43 batters in 3 of the games to Gerry Belanger's 35 strike out.

Shamrocks Edge Jets In Close One

Anna Verhoeven and Ruth Thompson each connected for a homer Thursday night in a losing cause, as Cardinal Shamrocks edged Morrisburg Jets 4-2 in the 2nd game of the best of 5 semi-finals.

Lorraine Patterson hurled a 5 hitter, walking 3 and striking out 1. Sandra Scott took the loss with a 6 hitter, 2 walks and 8 strike outs. Penny Casselman in her catching debut, caught for Sandra.

Monday night the Jets hosted Cardinal in the first game of the playoffs. Cardinal led 5-0 going into the bottom of the 5th, when the Jets got 3 runs and 4 runs in the 5th to win 7-5. Katherine Casselman hurled a 7 hitter, and struck out 6. Lorraine Patterson fired a 10 hitter, 5 walks and 5 strike outs.

Next game of the series is in Morrisburg August 25th. The winner of this series to meet Cornwall in a best of 5.

Russell Has 2-Game Lead

With South Carleton Fastball League semi-final play already under way, Russell has a 2 game lead in the Eastern Division and Stittsville has a 1-game advantage in the Western section.

The home-and-home round robing series eliminated Munster and Metcalfe. The strong Munster team hit a slump at the worst possible time and failed to win a game in the round. Metcalfe, a young team that enjoyed a very successful season also ran into trouble. Unable to score on the strong Russell nine, Metcalfe defeated Osgoode in their first encounter. Osgoode lost their first one to Russell but won their second when Russell failed to field a team. This set the stage for what proved to be a sudden-death game and Lynn Dewan pitched Osgoode to a 4 to 2 win.

The best-of-seven semi-final series was scheduled to start at Osgoode last Friday night (Osgoode plays their home games under the lights at Metcalfe). A series of unfortunate circumstances, including a death in one family, left Osgoode shorthanded for the opener and as a result Russell went one game up. The second game was played at Russell on Monday night. Scheduled for 7 innings, the game went to the bottom of the 11th before Russell managed to squeeze across a game-winning run.

Also on Monday night Kemptville was at Stittsville for the first game of their series and dropped a close 2 to 0 decision with both runs being scored as 'unearned'.

Play continued on Wednesday night but no results were available.

Friday night Osgoode will be at Russell and Stittsville at Kemptville. Next Monday Russell plays at Osgoode and Stittsville will again be at Kemptville.

Inflation . . . An Inflated Idea

The modern day cliche of "buy now, pay later" may be changed to "buy now, pay now" if Prime Minister Trudeau has his way. A few days ago in a nationwide telecast he told Canadians to tighten their belts and to demand less. He also said the battle against inflation would be started by the government right at Parliament Hill by suggesting "hold-the-line" tactics for the Civil Service.

Few will disagree that the Civil Service is an over-stuffed conglomeration of departments where numbers are concerned. Monsieur Trudeau suggests that the Civil Service become aware of "greater efficiency" instead of "greater numbers." Not a bad idea if the Prime Minister can make it work. Although the idea is not new the actual implementation of it is long overdue. Certain government departments can spread the work around more efficiently among fewer people. But if inflation is to be combatted successfully the government can only take the lead; the entire job cannot be accomplished just by the three levels of government. The idea of producing more efficiently at more realistic prices must be accepted and used right down the line through business management and, in particular, unions. Otherwise we are just batting our collective economic head against the inflationary wall of high wages and high costs.

Inflation is an inflated idea of Canadians that the only answer is more money. Certainly the problem cannot be licked over night. It must be solved over a period of time. Otherwise the consequences of an anti-inflationary cure not properly administered could be just as dangerous as the disease itself.

Prime Minister Trudeau, of course, has been criticized for the measures he has suggested. The fact of the matter is that in recent years at least no one has come up with a better idea. We have been warned regularly by the Governor of the Bank of Canada that we must do something in this country to halt inflation. We simply cannot go on at our productive rate and demand more and more and more at the same time. The dollar, as each of us realizes each week, is a diminishing quantity. It must be strengthened. And to do this it will take the understanding of all Canadians led by a government which will put into practice what it has just preached.

The alternative, whether we like to believe it or not, is economic chaos in the days ahead. By putting the skids to inflation now, tight money, high interest rates and all, we are simply preserving a prosperous future for all of us.

Three Point Two

Total sales of Canadian manufacturing industry last year exceeded $48 billion, an increase of three-and-a-half billion dollars over the 1967 total.

The five year increase is even more remarkable, showing as it does a jump of nearly $14 billion — or more than 40 per cent. — between 1964 and 1968.

Even allowing for rising prices, such growth in the domestic and foreign consumption of the product of Canadian factories is impressive indeed. It is the basic reason, of course, for both the high employment and high earnings of recent years.

What about profits? Not surprisingly, Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports that they, too, rose last year. Manufacturers' after-tax profits on their $48 billion worth of sales amounted to $1,542 million, compared with $1,240 million on sales of $44.5 billion in the previous year.

Apart from the record sales total to which it relates, three other points will put this improvement in manufacturing profits in proper perspective.

First, it follows two successive years of actual decline, in contrast to total labour income and individual hourly earnings, both of which have been rising year after year without interruption.

Secondly, profit dollars are no more proof against inflation than any other kind and last year's $1,542 million has significantly less purchasing power than the $1,231 million earned on only $34 billion of sales five years earlier, in 1964.

Thirdly, while $1,542 million may seem a healthy enough sum, it actually represents an average profit on the 1968 manufacturing sales dollar of exactly 3.2 cents — just four-tenths of one cent increase over the 1967 figure and the same fraction less than the 3.6 cents of 1964.

In other words, the last four years of strong economic advance have left Canada's manufacturers earning a lesser average annual profit on the sales dollar than they did in 1964. Astonishing, perhaps, but true.

That profit squeeze is no figment of the imagination. We have the word of DBS for it.

The Kids Are Pathetic

It's been a rough summer for a lot of people, including yours truly. There's nothing like getting home, exhausted, after a trip and finding a) that your wife has lost the house key and you have to break in through a cellar window, and b) that an oak limb 40 feet long and ten inches thick has fallen across your hydro lines during a storm.

However, these are minor things. I got into the house with no more than a scraped knee and a bad temper, and a good neighbor had climbed up and sawed the limb in two, allowing half of it to crash down on my fence.

But this is a mere bagatelle compared to what others have gone through. Teachers are supposed to recharge their batteries during the summer vacation, and hit school in September tanned, fit and bursting with idealism.

We'll be lucky to open this fall, the way our staff is folding up. A hernia and a heart attack, a total collapse from exhaustion, various slipped discs and other ailments have decimated the ranks. All I have is a touch of heartburn, and I attribute that to a couple of days of Bloody Marys for breakfast, served by friends we were visiting.

It's been a bad summer for a lot of parents. First, two kids I met on a visit to the old home town, told me nonchalantly that they'd flunked their first year at College. Their parents weren't quite so nonchalant. Apoplectic is the word.

A friend of my daughter, a pretty, blonde 17-year-old, had a stroke and her right side is paralyzed. No need to ask how her family feels.

A distraught mother told me three weeks ago that her 14-year-old daughter had disappeared, run off with another kid. She phoned, collect, this week from Vancouver. Alive, but who knows what she's been doing? The lady is a good mother, in every way. Has two daughters, one a fine, steady girl, the other a young rip. Why?

And everywhere you see them on the highways, dirty, bearded, long-haired. Hitchhiking from nowhere to nowhere.

Some of them cluster in "communes" in the big cities. A commune is usually a falling-down house in a slum area. It has a kitchen of sorts, a toilet that works occasionally, and the rest of the floor space is covered by mattresses and sleeping-bags.

Theoretically, everyone contributes for food, rent and chores. In reality, there are usually two or three working and the rest just drift in and out like alley cats. This produces personality clashes and hassles and a very unhealthy psychological atmosphere. Add drugs to this boar's nest and you have some pretty sick young people.

They claim they're opting out of a sick society. Work is a dirty word. They are meditating, seeking a higher spiritual life. There's a lot of talk about vibrations and Buddha and pure love for everyone. All this in a pig-pen?

The young people are rather pathetic, but I grieve more for their parents, who simply don't know how to cope with a way of thinking and living so alien to their own. They are loving, frustrated and helpless.

And I save a little pity for myself. Got a letter from my daughter, from Montreal, telling me cheerfully that she had one cent. Wired her some money yesterday. Got a collect call this morning, saying she couldn't cash it because she had no proof of identity. Phoned the Montreal telegraph office, told them it was OK to cash it. No can do. Confirmation had to come from our local wire office. Called them, got off a wire and presumably she cashed in, as she hasn't called back yet.

So, the original bite, plus two wires, plus two long-distance calls to Montreal. Should all kids, at birth, be placed out on a lonely hillside for the shepherds to adopt? We might be flooded with shepherd's pie, but it would certainly make life a lot simpler.

Meditations...

by REV. CECIL W. TUININGA

Psalm 44:20, 21a - "If we have forgotten the name of our God, or spread forth our hands to a strange god: will not God search this out?"

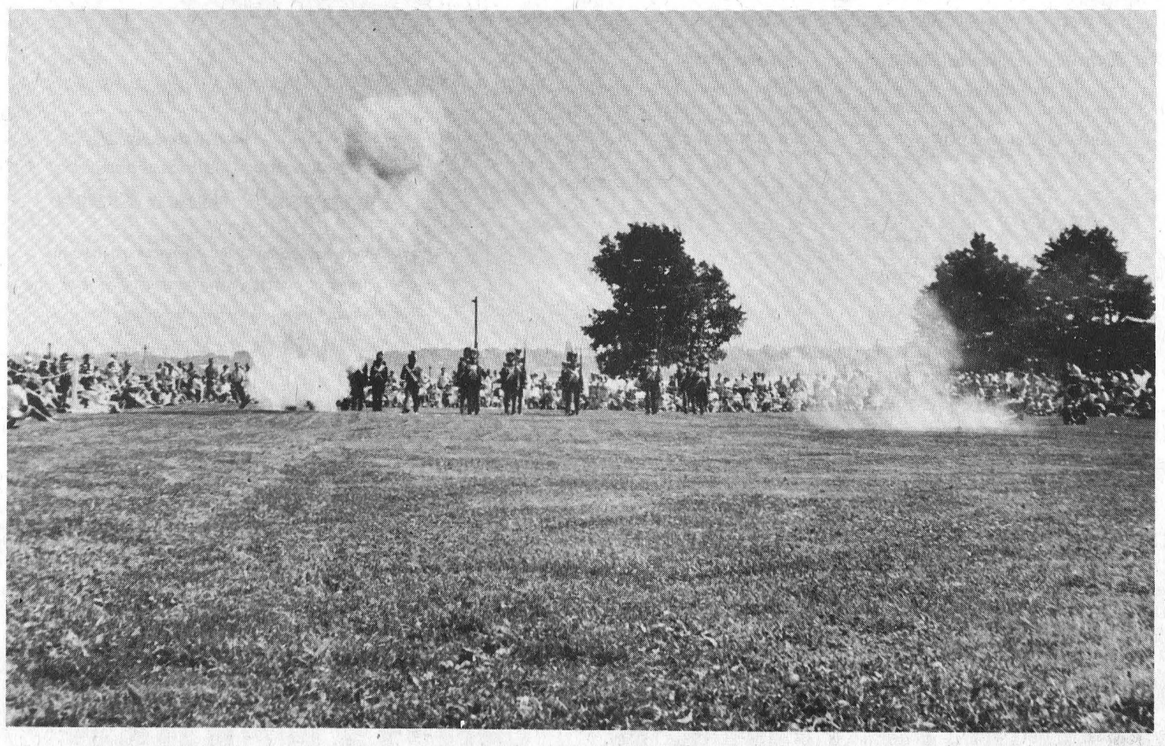
Were you in church Sunday, and did you worship God there? I trust you would answer affirmatively to both questions. But what have you done with his worhip since then? Have you forgotten "the name of our God" in your work, or vacation, or recreation?

But is all of life then worship? I hear many ask that question. It calls for an answer, for it is a very important question. We all live in the very presence of God always, as Scripture declares it, "Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?" (Psalm 139:7) God also observes all we do or think. Scripture declares "Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do. "(Hebrews 4:13). As the Soverign Creator God brought forth all things to His own honor and glory. He claims the life of all his creatures for Himself, demanding that they give Him praise and adoration. That is an absolute claim, but also a gracious claim, for to know and to serve the Living God is life indeed.

Yes, all of life is worship. Every man on earth inescapably serves either the true God or a flase god. He is always responding to God, for Him or against Him. Even the man who claims to be neutral is religiously active. He has chosen against God. There is no thought, word, or deed of any man that is not worship, an act of religion. All of man's life is motivated and directed, either for and towards God, or for and towards an idol.

That makes life very important indeed. It also makes it very meaningful. It is a fearful thing to live contrary to God's will, for sin works death.(Romans 6:23) It is a blessed and joyful life to serve God. Such a life is filled with many happy surprises. Besides this, all that a man does in this life has eternal value and is eternally rewarded, if done unto the Lord. But when a man disobeys the Lord and serves the idol, even that which he has will be taken from him. His end is tragic indeed. Such is the importance of our life, for in essence it is worship, true or false.

That man is blessed who can honestly say that he has not forgotten his God but continues to worship Him day and night. Such a man will know that strange gods have no place in his life. He will live in the awareness that God sees and knows his every thought and action, that he cannot hide from God in any way. But more important, living in the awareness that God is always present, he worships Him with his whole life. Every thought and act is for him joyful service to the God of his salvation. The important question is: Do we so live before and for our God? Then we have life! But if we "spread forth our hands to a strange god" we forsake God and follow the way of death.



The Cannons Boom At Fort Wellington

The Seventh Column

Lots of things happening in Winchester and the district this week, and chief among the items in the "what's going on" department is the announcement by Ault Milk Products Limited of a $1,000,000 expansion program to get underway immediately. Needless to add this is good news. It means more business for the large Ault firm and a shot in the economy arm of Winchester district. And this was preceded last week by a presentation of a cheque in the amount of $5,000 to the Community Centre Building Fund Committee by S. G. K. Ault, president of Ault Milk Products Limited and Lloyd LaPorte, comptroller of this progressive and important industry. And, of course, that is good news too for this donation, along with many others which continue to come in, will pave the way for the actual building of the new Winchester District Community Centre as soon as possible. So keep those donations coming in. The money is urgently needed if the project is to get an early start this Fall.

But that's not all in the "what's going on" department. In addition to the continued home building boom in the town look for at least one and possibly two more subdivisions to get underway in the near future; the possibility of even more building and more than one pertinent business announcement. Things are happening. Just take a look at the second instalment tax bill . . . it all goes towards our educational system.

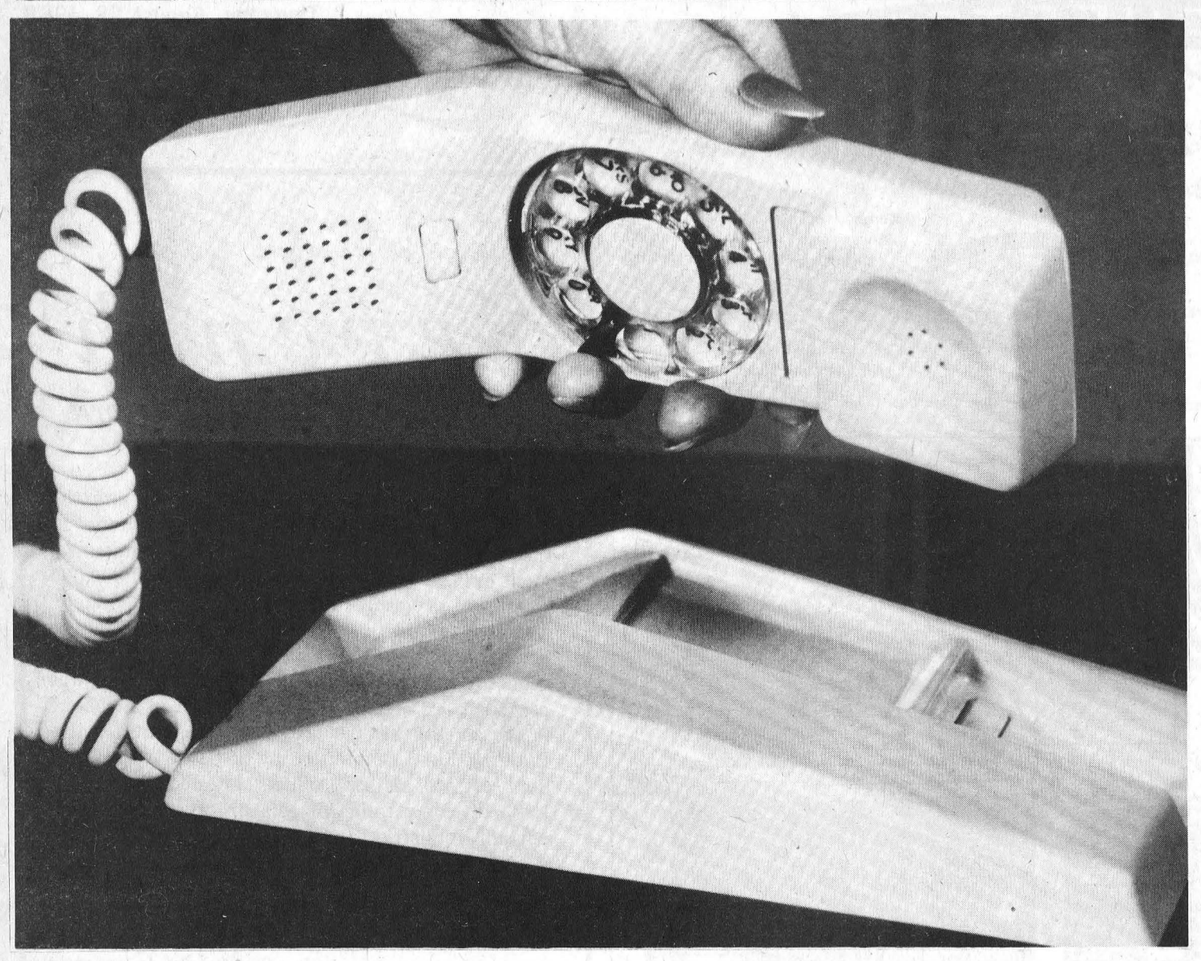
And over at the Community Park where the new CC will be located the Park Board, with Council's blessing, is at last getting around to really appreciating what a coat of paint can do. We've advocated this sort of colouring for a long, long time. And certainly the paint job to the pavilion, fences and picnic tables is a real plus towards over-all park beauty. So congratulations are in order to the people responsible. Meanwhile the Lions Club lighted ball diamond is coming along. And just picture this in the future. With a little maintenance, and a bit of manicuring of lawns and shrubs this recreation complex can develop into one of the most attractive areas in Eastern Ontario. There are few communities where planning ahead is so evident in one department. The Winchester district complex will include the modern Curling Club, community swimming pool, Community Centre and hall, lighted ball diamond, picnic tables and other facilities. So the money being invested here is certainly being invested wisely.

Now, all we need is an announcement from the Department of Highways as to when the by-pass will be started. Instead of fooling around with Cass Bridge, although a new bridge is needed, why not get on with the job of the by-pass which is so important to the future development of this community.

Back to the Community Centre for just a word or 50. Next Tuesday night, September 2nd, is the big $10.00 per plate Sportsman's Dinner at North Dundas District High School. The last of the tickets are just about gone. But, if you hurry, you may still be able to pick up one or two. The list of names of sports dignitaries planning to attend continues to grow. And with "Big Ern" of CFRA Calcutt fame on hand to handle the emcee chores it should be more than an enjoyable affair. Have a night of fun and help the CC at the same time by attending the Sportsman's Dinner next Tuesday.

Hard to believe but district schools open their doors again next Tuesday. Where did the summer go? One thing for sure. There are few complaints with the summer weather this year. It has been simply outstanding and just maybe we'll be blessed with another beautiful September like the one a year ago. Meanwhile the kids and young people trek back to school to continue their pursuit of needed education. There'll be new teachers, new students, and new programs hopefully designed to meet the needs of the students in these changing times. And for the motorist a warning that the youngsters are back in class and this means that near crosswalks and schools a particularly careful eye will be needed. To the students and the teachers we extend a warm "welcome back." And to mother the good word that she can start breathing again.

And following a policy of this office where there is a Monday holiday the next issue of The Press will probably be a day later than usual to facilitate staff on the day off and to accommodate late news events which should be included in the next issue.



The Latest In Telephone Design

A unique, Canadian designed and developed telephone is now available to all Bell Canada subscribers in the area.

The CONTEMPRA phone is the first telelphone ever available in Canada which places the dial or push-buttons in the handset instead of in the base.

"CONTEMPRA was introduced to our customers in Montreal and Quebec City earlier in the spring," says R.R. Pearson, Bell's local manager. "The response was tremendous. In fact, the demand there has been so high that we've had to step up production to satisfy it."

CONTEMPRA is a brain child of Northern Electric Laboratories in Ottawa. It incorporates convenience features such as an extra long cord and a special recall button in the handset which enables the caller to disconnect and place another call without hanging up.

Pleasure is one of the chief factors in the CONTEMPRA design. It is available in nine beautiful colours, fits in with the interior decor of almost any home and is a stimulating conversation piece. In fact a surprisingly high number of the sets have been installed in the living rooms of residences in Montreal and Quebec City.

Installation began August 25th, and Bell is encouraging its customers to place their orders as soon as possible.

Here are some interesting facts concerning this new telephone:

- CONTEMPRA received an award for excellence from the Canada Design Council.
- CONTEMPRA is available in nine colours - Warm - white, ivory, beige, soft yellow, green, dark turquoise, bright red and mauve.
- a caller can hold the handset and dial with the same hand while lying down - thus making CONTEMPRA useful to bedridden people or hospital patients.
- CONTEMPRA is designed to harmonize with its surroundings, not to call attention to itself.
- CONTEMPRA is an all Canadian telephone. Designed and developed at the Northern Electric Laboratories in Ottawa under the direction of John Tyson, it is manufactured at a Northern Electric plant in London, Ontario.
- the monthly charge for CONTEMPRA is $1.75 per set.
- CONTEMPRA fills a dual purpose - the same set can be placed on a desk or hung on a wall.

Wanted-Red Pine Cones

This year the Department of Lands and Forests requires as many bushels of red pine cones as possible. It has been some years since a good seed crop for red pine occurred and for this reason every effort will be made to collect all available red pine cones this year.

The forecast this year is for a light crop only but despite this fact it is still necessary to carry out a collection program.

The price of cones delivered in good condition is $8.00 a bushel and anyone wishing to earn a little extra money this September is urged to give red pine cone collecting a try.

Cones will be received at three Lands and Forests headquarters in the Kemptville area as follows:

- Lanark Headquarters - Lanark
- Kemptville Nursery - Kemptville
- Larose Headquarters - Bourget

For further information contact your nearest Lands and Forests office or telephone the undersigned at 258-3411 area code 613.

Placing third was Mrs. Sydney Cotton, Navan, with 83 points. New exhibitor with the highest number of points was Mrs. R. Currie of Leonard.

This year's horse show was the best ever with 16 new exhibitors placing entries because the light horse section was open to all areas for the first time. The afternoon horse judge remarked that this was the best display of horses he had seen anywhere. Angus O'Byrne of Carlsbad won the director's special with the best heavy horse on the grounds. Ewart Watson of Sarsfield came out on top with his Clydesdales showing 5 first prizes, 2 seconds and 1 fifth. A Test To Destruction

Marnie Ellison of the engineering staff at General Motors of Canada in Oshawa watches with some apprehension while Bill Murphy, precision inspector, carries out a destructive seat belt test. Each day, seat belts selected at random from supplier shipments are put in this strength-testing machine that simulates body stress. Belts are required to withstand a 5,000 lb. load and regularly exceed this figure by 40 to 60 per cent.

ATTACKS GOVERNMENT

Robert F. Nixon Addresses Rotary

Opposition Leader Robert F. Nixon, addressing members of Pembroke and Kingston Rotary Clubs berated the Ontario Government for its wanton spending of large sums of public money to advertise OHSIP.

"We had no idea," he said, "as Members of the Legisture debating the province's entry into Federal Medical Insurance, that within a few days of the adjournment of the Legisture large sums of public money would be spent to hire the best professional advice, actors, and to buy the most expensive radio and television time, to give us a message that is largely incomprehensible."

Mr. Nixon suggested the advertising campaign simply says "Don't worry until next October".

"In my view", he went on, "it is an unconscionable waste of public funds, and I can't even say the government is using it to advertise itself since the message is unclear."

The Opposition Leader also expressed concern that a young man named Derek Green has spent 45 days in Don Jail waiting for his trial and in desperation had attempted suicide. Mr. Nixon said the blame must lie with the Legislature and, particularly the Attorney General, in not seeing that our system of justice can accommodate the problems present in this case.

"If we believe in the innocence of the accused until he is proven guilty", he concluded, "then I don't see how we can justify this particular series of events."
