Schools Closed This Week As Paralysis Case Develops

Chesterville's three schools were closed at the week end by order of the Board of Health when a case of poliomyelitis (infantile paraylsis) was reported Thursday morning. The patient is the 10-year-old son of Melvin Hummel, who lives about 1½ miles west of town. The child was at the Fair here Wednesday afternoon and that night developed very positive symptoms of the dread disease that has been spreading across the Dominion and is particularly bad in this Province.

Dr. A. B. Clayton, of town, and Dr. P. McLaughlin, of Winchester, township M.O.H., were called and obtained the convalescent serum from Ottawa which was administered with all possible haste The boy is still in a serious condition but his physicans are quite hopeful of his chances of recovery.

Children were barred from the Community Theatre at the week end and Sunday schools were closed.

The Limerick, Ridge and Forward Public schools have also been closed.

Equipment to be Purchased For Study of Agriculture

The High School Board will purchase supplies at once required for the study of the new course in Agriculture provided by the Department of Education. W. P. Markle, the new principal of the school, attended the meeting of the board Tuesday evening, and submitted a list of necessary equipment, including a powerful microscope, 300-egg incubator, bee hive, and other small items. The Department will re-imburse the board up to $150 for this equipment and it is hoped to keep within this limit. Other items were required by the school which the purchasing committee will seccre at once.

H. E. Wales was appointed to the purchasing committee to the place made vacant by the resignation of Geo. Cross. H. S. McMurray is the other member.

The board showed displeasure over the action of the Board of Health in closing schools in town and not notifying the board of the decision, and a motion was passed authorizing the secretary to write to the Board of Health protesting the action and asking for co-operation in the future. The Board was of the opinion that the students would be safer in school under supervision than remaining out of school and running around the town, as well as neglecting studies.

Unless any further cases of infantile paralysis should be reported by the week end, the school will re-open Monday.

SCHOOLS RE-OPEN MONDAY.

UNLESS other cases of infantile paralysis develop this week, schools will re-open in town on Monday, the Board of Health has announced..

Planning For Expansion Chesterville Live Stock Show

With the most successful Live Stock Show yet held by the Chesterville and District Agricultural Society now a matter of history, the thoughts of the directors have turned to the future and the matter of shortly providing considerable stabling on the grounds. To do this requires some financing. Five years ago when the grounds were acquired by the Society, a mortgage was given bearing interest at six per cent as part of the purchase price. It has now been suggested by more than one of the shareholders that an effort should be made to reduce the interest charges and make a payment on capital account.

The suggestion is that the shareholders be assessed five dollars each to be added to the surplus of this year's operations and a payment of $500 be made on principle, reducing the mortgage indebtedness to $1500 and seek to have the mortgage renewed at four per cent which would reduce interest charges by $60 a year.

If this can be effected it would leave funds in hand to go ahead with the projected improvements and plans to make the show bigger and better than ever. A meeting of the directors will be held in Chesterville on Saturday evening, this week, to discuss the situation and plan for next year.

FAIR AT METCALFE INDEFINITELY POSTPONED

Metcalfe annual Fall Fair has been postponed indefinitely by order of the Board of Health, J. E. Craig, secretary, announced yesterday. All officers on the 1937 executive will retain their status for 1938. The fair was scheduled for September 14 and 15.

CHESTERVILLE MAN FINED.

Austin McNaughton, 29-year-old resident of Chesterville, appeared before Magistrate John McCormick in Winchester, Friday morning, charged with being intoxicated in a public place, and was also found guilty of vagrancy and creating a disturbance. On the first charge he was fined $100 with costs of $20.50, and sentenced to one month in jail on the second charge, with costs amounting to $7.50. If the fine and total costs are not paid the accused must spend an additional three months in jail.

Threaten Take Legal Action If Castore Bridge Not Built

Ratepayers of the 12th concession of Winchester Township through their solicitors, Cass and Cass, of Winchester, served notice on the members of the Township Council at its meeting in Winchester on Monday that unless immediate steps were taken to construct a bridge over the Castore river on the Nine Mile road in lots 11 and 12, court action to force the construction would be applied for. With the township solicitor, W. B. Lawson, K.C., of Chesterville, the council will visit the site of the proposed bridge before taking any action.

The sum of $1,502.69 was paid for the maintenance of roads, making the expediture to date more than $1,000 in excess of the total expenditure last year. Bills for the hospitalization of indigent patients amounting to $425.-15 were paid.

Tenders were opened for the excavation of the Kittle Creek improvement, and the contract awarded to William Steen, of Morewood, at 25 cents per cubic yard for earth, 75 cents for hardpan, and $1.25 for rock.

Pretty Autumn Wedding At Winchester Springs

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Aden Casselman, of Winchester Springs, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon when their eldest daughter, Edna Rebecca Louisa, became the bride of Victor Harold Riddell, son of the late W. J. Riddell and Mrs. Herbert Hanson, of Dundela.

The house was adorned with gladioli, iris and phlox, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert S. Smith, pastor of the Winchester Springs United church. The wedding music was played by Miss Uena Whittaker, cousin of the bride,. and during the signing of the register a solo was sung by Mr. R. S. Smith.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess model of shell pink triple sheer crepe over taffeta, with a high draped neckline extending to form a cape. The skirt was of floor length and her veil extending beyond the skirt was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli.

Georgina G. Casselman, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore a yellow organza dress, with a frilled neckline and long swing skirt. Her accessories were in blending tones of the same colour and she carried yellow gladioli.

The best man was Bernice Sargent, B.A., M.A., Ph.D., cousin of the bride, of Queen's University.

Immediately following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served by Misses Leila Casselman, Clova Barkley and Grace Myers, of Winchester Springs; Bertha Sargent, of Dunbar; and Florence Revier, Rochester, N.Y.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Riddell left by motor for Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a knitted woollen suit of deep brown, with hat, shoes and accessories in blending tones. Upon their return they will reside at Dundela.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harper, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. William Dillabough, Mr. Henry Sargent, Dunbar; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barkley, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whittaker, Williamsburg.

Band to Give Selection At Carleton Place Concert

The Citizens' Band will attend the meeting of the district bands in Carleton Place on Sunday, and will contribute one of the three selections to be given by visiting bands. These massed band concerts originated last year when the bandsmen of the district met at Merrickville last fall to honour Byron Magee, the oldest bandsman of the district.

A number of the Winchester bandsmen have been playing with the local organization this fall as their band is not functioning at present, and will help out on Sunday, 22 bandsmen being expected to make the trip.

The selection to be played by the local band is "The Trouper," a march by Talbott. An invitation will be extended to the several bands to meet here on the Sunday of the Old Home Reunion next year when the band members hope to be able to sponsor the day's programme.

The Ontario Department of Health

Presents a Statement by

The Academy of Medicine, Toronto, on

"INFANTILE PARALYSIS"

(POLIOMYELITIS)

Realizing the anxiety which exists in the public mind today with respect to the increased prevalence of Poliomyelitis ("Infantile Paralysis") in Toronto and other parts of the province, the Academy of Medicine of Toronto, which represents more than one thousand physicians, called a special meeting of its Council, September 1st, to review the whole situation. To this meeting were invited representatives from all departments of medicine interested in this subject.

At the conclusion of the conference, during which time all of the pertinent facts of the present situation were presented and discussed, it was felt that, in fairness to the public, an official statement should be made to set forth the facts exactly as they exist. To this end, a committee was appointed to prepare and issue an official statement, which follows:

Poliomyelitis ("Infantile Paralysis") is a communicable disease. It is definitely known that it is caused by the entrance into the body of a minute form of life known as a virus. It is known also that this virus enters commonly through the upper part of the nasal tract. There is no evidence that the disease is conveyed by flies or domestic animals.

When an outbreak of the disease occurs, healthy persons as well as those ill with the disease are found to harbour the virus in the secretions of the nose and throat. The disease is, therefore, spread through the contact of persons one with another.

Usually the virus occasions only a mild illness but sometimes the virus enters the central nervous system, which may result in paralysis. The majority of adults are not susceptible to the disease.

Present Situation

While the number of cases reported in Toronto is greater than in any previous outbreak of this disease, and there is no reason to presume that the incidence rate is likely to decline within the next two or three weeks, it must be borne in mind that not 25% of these cases show any evidence whatever of paralysis. Furthermore, among those developing paralysis, the majority eventually will recover complete use of their paralysed limbs. It would appear, therefore, that while there is every reason for the public to view the present situation with concern, there is no justification for undue alarm or hysterical behaviour.

According to figures computed by the Department of Health, Ontario, to date, there are estimated to be 750 cases in Ontario, of which 285 have occurred in the City of Toronto. Of this number, 212 cases have been admitted to the Riverdale Isolation Hospital, only 54 of whom developed some degree of paralysis. There were 11 deaths in this group. Statistics of a similar nature apply to the Hospital for Sick Children, which has received its cases not only from Toronto but from other parts of the province.

Control Measures

These include the strict isolation of all persons ill with the disease and the quarantine of those who have been in immediate contact.

In as much as it is not known who are or are not carriers of this disease, it is advisable to reduce to a minimum, contact with other people. In other words, keep out of crowds. As children are particularly susceptible, it is most important that they be kept as far as possible from mingling with other persons. For this reason, the opening of the schools of Toronto has been deferred and the Department of Health of the Province of Ontario has recommended to parents that they see to it that their children avoid attendance at theatres, playgrounds, bathing pools and beaches and other places of amusement where children congregate. The Academy agrees with the provincial and municipal health authorities that the responsibility for the control of the activities of children is primarily the duty of the parents.

The Department of Health of Ontario has completed within its own organization plans whereby serum for the treatment of this disease is available in any part of the province upon the request of the attending physician.

Nasal Spray

Experimental work with animals indicates that Poliomyelitis can be prevented by spraying the extreme upper part of the inside of the nose with a harmless solution of zinc sulphate. This was discovered during the past year. To date, its value in the prevention of Poliomyelitis in humans is not known. To be in any degree effective, the spray must be applied high up inside the nose. This can only be done with a specially constructed atomizer and by a physician thoroughly familiar with this type of work. The application of this or any other spray by an ordinary atomizer or to the lower part of the nose is quite useless. The possible value of the nasal spray properly administered is being determined at the present time in Toronto.

The Council of the Academy of Medicine of Toronto endorses the attitude adopted by the provincial Department of Health and the local Board of Health in respect to measures designed to control the present situation. We would respectfully suggest that the general public will best serve its own interests by endeavoring to follow the advice which is being given by these health authorities.

His Nickel's Worth.

Sandy seated himself at the dairy lunch counter and drew a nickel from his pocket. "Say," he asked, "what can I get for a nickel?"

"A glass of buttermilk," replied the counterman.

Sandy looked disappointed. He picked up the coin. "I think I can do better than that," he declared.

"Go ahead," snapped the counterman.

Sandy left. And it was just two years later to the day that he again entered the same place. He spotted the same counterman.

"Okay," he cried. "But put plenty of butter in it!"

He: "I prefer the English to the American mode of spelling."

She: "Indeed!"

BORDEN means MILK the world around

"Borden" is a big name in the milk world.

Yet Borden is only one of several principal concerns purchasing milk in Canada. Borden milk purchases in Canada are less than 3% of the Dominion's total production.

Borden buys milk in only 4 of the Dominion's 9 provinces and in less than half of the 48 states of the United States, but sells in almost every community in the civilized world. Borden salesmanship of milk and milk products and constant scientific research helps build a bigger market for all dairy farmers.

THE FRUIT OF A STRIKE.

Charleston News and Courier.

STOCKHOLDERS of a strike-bound cotton mill in Tupelo, Miss., have voted to liquidate their property and the strikers have been asked to vacate the company-owned houses. Four hundred workers have been out of employment since April 7th. The company owns 105 houses on thirty-five acres. Unless the stockholders have a change of heart, these workers and their families will have to seek employment elsewhere. Tupelo is not large enough to absorb so many persons. Meantime the workers are without regular income and are about to be without shelter. The stockholders cannot be blamed for abandoning a property which has become unprofitable.

ROBBERY IN WINCHESTER.

Harry Flora's booth in Winchester was broken into by thieves who stole a large quantity of tobacco, cigarettes and candies but overlooked the change which had been left in the booth. The same night an attempt had been made to enter Duncan's store also in Winchester.

SOLD CARLOAD OF HORSES FROM WESTERN DROUGHT AREA

Edwin Webster, of Renown, Sask., is paying the first visit to Dunbar, his old home community, in 25 years. He comes from a dried-out area of the western provinces where there is no crop this year, neither wheat nor feed grains sufficient for the stock. He brought a carload of his horses down to Aultsville where they were disposed of to advantage.

"You say you lost your sweetie by tossing coins with your rival in front of her?"

"Yes, we tossed to see who'd be her permanent boy friend and I tossed a dime and he tossed a twenty-dollar gold piece!"

Before the advent of the motor car and Hydro in Ontario, the farmer was truly "the forgotten man". The days were long—the nights longer and lonelier . . . farm labor was arduous . . . the housework drudgery . . . the young people waited their chance to get to the city.

Few realize how much Hydro has changed rural life in Ontario. Its coming brought every advantage enjoyed by city homes. Hydro lights the home and barn—pumps the water—washes the clothes—cooks the food—brings the world's best entertainment into the parlor. Today, the farmer has within his grasp the opportunity to make his home equal to the most modern city home—to operate his farm with the most modern labor-saving equipment.

Fully realizing that the greatest single contribution it could make to a better, more enjoyable life, and a more permanent prosperity to Ontario, would be to electrify every rural home in the Province, the present Hydro has left no stone unturned to extend the benefits of low cost power to Rural Ontario.

During the present fiscal year, Hydro will spend approximately four million dollars building over 2,000 miles of new line to serve approximately 10,000 new rural customers. At August 15th, 1937, over 1,500 miles had been built, and more than 7,500 new customers added.

Service charges have always retarded Hydro growth. Realizing this, the present Commission cut these rates in half in November 1936. Hundreds of rural users immediately applied this saving on new appliances for the home or for labor saving and profit making electrical equipment on the farm.

In addition to this reduction in the service charge, the basic cost of power was reduced in some systems by $2.50 per h. p. On August 1st, a further reduction was made of $3.00 per h. p. in Eastern Ontario, and $2.00 per h. p. in the Niagara System. The effect of these reductions will ultimately be felt in reduced consumption charges all over the Province.

Certainly Rural Ontario has gained as much, if not more, than any other section of the Province by the success of the present Hydro in cutting power costs and extending the benefits of low-cost power. There is no "forgotten man" in the Hydro policy of today.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1937.

I KILLED A MAN.

From Scribner's Magazine.

IN the records of the courts and the insurance companies, it was pretty much the same old story. While driving home early one evening, I rounded a familiar curve and faced a pair of glaring headlights. On the right of the road, a millworker was on his way to work on the night shift. He became confused and jumped the wrong way. The impact threw me a little forward in my seat. The millworker's body slid flat on the pavement for perhaps fifty feet, rolled over, jerked, and lay still. The dinner pail he had carried under his arm rattled along the pavement for another twenty feet, then all was quiet. When we got to him, we saw there would be no hurry about taking him to the hospital. He was dead.

During the long court ordeal afterward, it was established beyond all doubt that the accident was unavoidable. I am a free man; free to lie in bed on Sunday mornings, stretching and yawning; free to eat when I am hungry and drink deep when I am thirsty; free to feel the wind and sun on my face, to know the four seasons, to love.

But I cannot forget that because of me a man will never see the white sparks from molten steel again, or smell the hot metal in the moulds, or feel the satisfying tug of his muscles against a heavy crane, or peer out of a factory window into a moonlit night, or open his dinner pail with the keen appetite of a labouring man. Because of me a mother will never again hear a familiar footfall when work is done, and she will have things to explain to her babies that will break her heart.

I know all this is not my fault—a court of law has told me so—but I cannot stop thinking how different things would have been if I had started half a minute sooner or later, or if I had been going just a little slower or faster, or if, in that split second my skill had been just a little greater or my brakes a little better, or if I had thought in advance of all the possible circumstances that might have been waiting for me around that curve. It has been two years since it happened, yet these thoughts go round and round in my mind continually. Nothing can make me forget that I am still walking this earth, and that because of me another man is not. I cannot forget that a combination of factors—factors that could so easily have been just a little different — happened to work out with lethal precision, and I killed a man.

Husband (reading a newspaper account of an incident at a travelling menagerie): "With an 'oarse roar, the lion sprang at the trainer and pandemonium broke loose!"

Wife: "What queer names they give animals, to be sure!"

Hubby: "Is there something wrong with this cake you made, darling?"

Wifey: "No, dear, it must be your taste. The cookery book says it's delicious."

Likely Place.

"Why," asked the prospector, "did you come out into the middle of this dried up barren territory to build a home? There isn't a tree within a hundred miles of you."

"What else could I do? The wife was set on learning to drive the car!"

And Hepburn said:
"NO—MR. FARMER"
"YES—SIR JAMES"

What has happened to the promises Hepburn made to the farmers of Ontario before he was elected?

Hepburn Promised the Farmers:
A special session of the legislature to deal with farm relief problems immediately after the election.

What Hepburn Did:
Nothing! He said: "The farmers must stand on their own feet."

Hepburn Promised the Farmers:
Help in improving livestock, grants to help agriculture.

What Hepburn Did:
He wiped out the Farm Loan Board—stopped bonuses for pure bred sires and grants to junior judging competitions—cut off $300,000 in grants made by the previous government to aid the farmer.

Hepburn Promised the Farmers:
Wider markets and better marketing facilities.

What Hepburn Did:
He closed the marketing agencies at Montreal, Winnipeg and in the Maritimes—closed Ontario House in London, England, which had created markets thereby increasing Ontario farmers' annual income by $10,000,000.

Hepburn Promised the Farmers:
A string of cold storage warehouses across Ontario, for the benefit of the farmer.

What Hepburn Did:
Nothing!

Hepburn Promised the Farmers:
Reduced taxation.

What Hepburn Did:
He collected in taxation 80% more than was collected in the last year of the Conservative Government, of which the farmers paid their share.

What is Sauce for the Goose . . . Is Sauce for the Gander

BUT—while Mr. Hepburn was saying to the farmer "you must stand on your own feet" and was cutting off $300,000 in agricultural bonuses, he was passing on a bonus to Sir James Dunn of the Algoma Steel Corporation of almost a like amount of the taxpayers' money.

Agriculture and industry are both vitally necessary to the prosperity and welfare of the Canadian people. The farmer says, however, that "what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander—why take away our bonus to bonus Sir James Dunn?"

NEWS AND INFORMATION FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Furnished by the Ontario Department of Agriculture

ARRIVE FROM WEST.

Six families from Southern Saskatchewan, arrived at Brighton in Northumberland County recentiy, with 11 carloads of chattels, including 52 cattle, 40 horses, furniture, implements, tractors, etc. These families are being placed on Ontario Farm Loan Board farms and are being cared for by the Saskatchewan Government until they can become self-supporting.

CATTLE QUOTA IS FILLED; HIGHER DUTY IMPOSED

Under the Canada-United States Trade Agreement which came into effect on January 1, 1936, Canada with Mexico was granted a quota of 155,799 head of cattle of 700-lb. weight or more each in any one year at 2 cents per pound duty instead of the usual 3 cents per pound. As a result of the quota now being filled, the three cents rate became effective on all cattle exported from Canada to the United States weighing 700 lbs. or more each during the remainder of this year under an order issued by the United States Commissioner of Customs dated August 12th, 1937. As at August 19, Canada had exported 139,690 head of cattle out of the 155,799 allowed, Mexico having presumably sent the remainder. Refund of the extra one cent duty imposed will be made to shippers whose cattle entered the United States prior to the filling of the allotment.

CARE OF POULTRY.

The extreme heat and dry weather of summer bring new problems to the poultry raisers and these extra obstacles necessitate careful attention to detail.

Trouble from external and internal parasites prevail in addition to the usual feeding and management practices which demand conscientious attention during the summer months.

Too frequently, the results of good care during the early life of the chicks are neutralized or lost, due to neglect after they have passed the so-called danger point in their development. There is no such thing as passing the danger point in raising poultry, but the wise poultryman will be on the alert to anticipate and avoid trouble, rather than to pay the penalty which follows negligence.

In many cases the farmer fails to provide adequate rations, usually by depending upon insect life as a source of animal food instead of including adequate supplies of dried milk or meat scraps in the growing mash. Then, again, he may not provide sufficient amounts. An abundance of feed hoppers kept filled with grain and growing mash, and placed in shady places, will assist in keeping the chicks growing during hot weather. When the range dries up so that the green feed is lacking, alfalfa leaf meal can be included in the growing mash to advantage.

THE VEGETABLE CROP.

Vegetables are in average to above average condition throughout the Province with the exception of onions and canning tomatoes, which are somewhat below average in Western Ontario and late cauliflower and lettuce which are slightly below normal in Eastern Ontario. Temperature and precipitation have been generally favourable during the past month for most vegetable crops although more rainfall would have been beneficial in the countlies of Northumberland, Peterborough and Hastings. In Eastern Ontario insects and disease losses are about normal, but in Western Ontario local wet and other adverse conditions have particularly affected tomatoes (splitting and breakdown); lettuce (tip-burn); onions (skin rot and poor development owing to excessive moisture); and to a lesser extent celery (blight). Usual insect pests are fairly well under control in Western Ontario. Rains during the past month have improved all vegetable crops in Northern Ontario.

PLAN TO IMPROVE WHEAT.

A fall wheat improvement programme for Simcoe County is being put into operation by the Department in co-operation with the agricultural societies of the county, the agricultural committee of the county council, the junior farmers and leading wheat producers. Its purpose is to bring about the production of a higher quality wheat so as to meet the demand of the milling companies for pure white winter wheat. Six agricultural societies including Cookstown, Allliston, Nottawasaga, Oro, Elmvale and Barrie have agreed to co-operate by conducting field crop competitions. These are supported by grants from the Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture, $75 divided into 12 prizes available for each of the contests. Where possible, a Boys' Wheat Club will be organized and these along with the senior contests will link up with fall fairs held in 1938. Contestants will be required to sow at least three acres with registered Dawson's Golden Chaff Wheat (O.A.C. No. 16), the seed to be purchased through an agricultural society. Both field and wheat exhibit will be taken into consideration when making the final awards.

FIRST DAYS.

By Helen Welshimer.

LITTLE red schools on a country road,
And those on a city street,
Alike are echoing once again
To the marching of eager feet.
Faces with freckles and faces with smiles,
Sometimes a tear in an eye,
Now and again there's a new little girl,
Or a little boy starting to cry.

Oh, the road winds far when it starts to school,
And it wanders through half the town,
When a small boy chokes on a hidden lump
That wants to go up, not down.
His toys are scattered about the house
Yesterday he could play,
But he washed his face and he went to school
When the loud bell rang to-day.

He's finding a world that he didn't know,
He'll laugh at each glad surprise,
After the lump goes down a bit
And the tears have left his eyes.
The waiting toys are as safe as safe.
It's part of an old, old rule:
Nobody likes to touch his toys
When the last little boy's in school.

Family Fortune Recovered From Second-Hand Dealer

Winnipeg.—A $2,520 "gift" of old clothes, that netted a rag buyer $3 when he sold it to a second-hand dealer, led to a police hunt here that restored a family's finances.

The rag man called at Mrs. Bessie Morrow's apartment and was given some old clothes by her daughter, unaware that her mother had wrapped up a purse in them containing $2,520 which she had withdrawn from the bank to go to Toronto for medical treatment. It had been hidden temporarily in the colthes for "safe keeping."

When the mistake was discovered, police were called and after locating the rag man they interviewed the second-hand dealer who had bought the old clothes for $3. The dealer had not even opened the purse he found in the clothes, finding the clasp stiff.

The money, intact in two $1,000 bills, five $100 bills and one $20 bill, was returned to its relieved owner.

A Little Crowded.

"Have you much room in your new flat?"

"Heavens, no. My kitchen and dining room are so small that I have to live on condensed milk and shortbread."

Like Daddy.

Joan, aged five, was speaking to her father on the telephone for the first time. As it was a little above her reach, her mother tipped the mouthpiece down toward her.

"Oh, don't do that, mummy," she exclaimed, "daddy might fall out."

Department of Health of Ontario

"INFANTILE PARALYSIS"

(POLIOMYELITIS)

The Department of Health has a sufficient supply of Convalescent Serum for present demands. This serum is obtained from persons who have previously suffered from an attack of "infantile paralysis".

In anticipation of further requirements the Department now requests that persons who are willing to provide blood for this purpose (donors) register with the medical officer of health in their district.

The Department remunerates donors on the basis of Ten Dollars for 100 cubic centimeters; the usual amount withdrawn from one donor is 200 cubic centimeters. This can be readily obtained without discomfort or ill effects to the donor.

Children under fourteen years of age are not eligible. Persons who have suffered an attack of the disease during the present year are also not eligible. Those persons fourteen years of age and over who have suffered an attack within the past twenty-five years and who show some definite evidence of resulting paralysis, are requested to provide the medical officer of health with their name and address.

Those who have already acted as donors need not register again.

When a clinic is to be held, donors will be notified through their medical officer of health.

CHIEF SCOUT ENDS INTERN'L SCOUT MEET WITH APPEAL FOR WORLD GOODWILL

A call to Scouts to "spread friendship and brotherhood throughout the world" was the closing appeal of a moving address by Lord Baden-Powell World Chief Scout, to the 28,000 boys of all nations about to separate at the close of the 5th World Scout Jamboree in Holland this summer.

"The time has now come for me to say good-bye," said the 80-year-old father of Scouting. "I want you to lead happy lives. You know that many of us will never meet again in this world. I am in my 81st year, and am nearing the end of my life. Most of you are at the beginning, and I do want your lives to be happy and successful. You can attain it by doing your best to carry out the Scout Law all your days, whatever your station and wherever you are.

"I want you to preserve this badge of the Jamboree on your uniform. I suggest that you keep it and treasure it, and try to remember what it stands for. It will be a reminder and an inspiration of the happy times together in camp, and by observing the significance of the totem it will help you in your quest to help bring about God's reign of peace and good-will.

"It will always remind you of Holland. It will help you to be equipped to carry out the Scout Law all your days and to spread even farther our Scout ideals of good-will and of the helping hand of fellowship to all we meet. My message to you is to spread friendship and brotherhood throughout the world. Good-bye and God bless you all."

To each of the leaders of the various contingents the Chief Scout presented the Jamboree totem, a Jacob's Staf, an instrument used by early Dutch navigators, to take home "as an emblem of good-will."

DIPHTHERIA CAN BE PREVENTED.

DIPHTHERIA is caused by the poison or toxin produced by the diphtheria germs lodged in the human body, usually in the throat and nose.

When this toxin attacks the body, the latter seeks to protect itself, and it does so by producing diphtheria anitoxin or anti-poison, which counteracts or neutralizes the toxin. If this occurs quickly enough and a sufficient quantity is produced, the body wins and recovery results. Not only does recovery take place but something happens inside this human body which enables it, in most cases, to prevent a second attack of the disease.

Can protection similar to that conferred by one attack of the actual disease be gained without the danger of death and without fear of the suffering that comes with the disease? The answer is "Yes'.'

Diphtheria can be prevented by the injection of diphtheria toxoid or toxin-anti-toxin. This method is known as diphtheria immunization. The injections stimulate the body to produce the substances which are the fighting forces against diphtheria. These substances are not developed at once; it takes several weeks for this to occur, but after the development has taken place, the person is immunized or protected against diphtheria, just as he would have been had he had an attack of the disease.

The menace of diphtheria can be eliminated. Lives can be saved and suffering prevented. Ask your family physician to give your children this protection by immunizing them against diphtheria.
