Cost is right to dress well for school

Parents and kids, check this opportunity out to dress well for school.. The congregation of the Morrisburg Pentecostal Tabernacle has been busy gathering good quality second hand clothing to assist in providing children with their back to school wardrobe. Everything is washed, ironed, inspected and, yes, some members even went out and bought new clothing to add to the supply. Some good quality adult clothing is also available. Rev. Duncan Perry says there is a whole storeroom full of good clothing ready for the asking. ""We've been working on it for over a month," says Perry. There is no charge for this clothing and the church members will be happy to see their efforts put to use. To follow up on this opportunity, visit the Pentecostal Tabernacle on Lakeshore Drive this Thursday, September 2nd from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

19th century Funeral at UCV

Upper Canada Village will present its last reenactment to the celebration of life—a 19th Century Funeral—Saturday, September 4. The presentation will demonstrate the customs observed in the 1860s, along with how a funeral was indeed a celebration of life as one "passed on". The fictitious reenactment will begin at 9.30 a.m. The "deceased" is the uncle of the village doctor and will be resting at his home. Beginning at 9.30 a.m. until 1 p.m., the 1860s villagers will pay their respects at the Doctor's Home. Starting at 1 p.m. the cortege will make its way to the Anglican Church. Following a brief "service" the cortege will depart: however, the traditional burial will not be presented as part of the program. This presentation concludes the Village's "Circle of Life" programming which began with a "christening" in spring and continued with a "wedding" in summer. This series is intended to show the traditions, customs and ideals of over 130 years ago.

Curfew by-law not in the works for now

by Catherine Thompson
Leader staff

WILLIAMSBURG—South Dundas Council is holding off on a curfew bylaw to control rowdyism in the Earl Baker Park and Waterfront Park area.

OPP Constable Brent Mattice discussed a report brought to the last council meeting, when a delegation claimed he and others on Sir James Morris Drive were experiencing a "summer from hell" due to rowdyism in the park areas. Mattice said he reviewed the dispatch information, and found three calls of service from June 1 to August 1.

Mattice added he was concerned over the individual's declaration of response time of one and half to two hours.

"We reviewed our dispatch information, and one was 28 minutes and the other was 42 minutes," said Mattice referring to two incidents when the OPP were called in. "Based on other calls in the time frame, I think it was quite reasonable, but he begged to differ. If you wait for service in an emergency, one minute can seem like an hour," Mattice continued.

Mattice said he had since spent some time in the park areas after 9 p.m. and "no one was there. We talked to him, and things have quieted down since his last report to us."

At the last council meeting, the individual who did not wish to be named cited incidents in May, August 1, and the weekend of August 7 to 8.

"Council and I were surprised. We hadn't known about it," said Mayor Johnny Whitteker.

Council had briefly discussed the idea of passing a curfew bylaw, but Mattice noted difficulties surrounding the issue. "If it's 10 p.m. then you can force the Trespassers to Property Act. It's a fine line and a tough call because of other people wanting to use the park."

Mattice added that he was surprised to hear there was that much activity in the park, when there were very few calls about it.

"We were quick to jump on the kids with no proof. We went along with what he said about the park," said Coun. Rowdy Gillard, who had talked to several others on the street. "He was the only one who complained."

One councillor noted Recreation supervisor Keith Robinson had confirmed the reports that there was a problem in the parks until 2 to 3 a.m.

Mattice suggested the problems may lessen at this time of year or go elsewhere as the season changes.

"We thought initially it was the way to go, but there are a lot of people to consider who will be affected. It's hard to draw the line with kids and someone else walking in the park. Once you draw the line, it's up to us to enforce," said Mattice.

Coun. Audrey Rooney said bylaws are a "matter of common sense. You'll not have an officer stop Grandma and her dog at 10.30 p.m."

"But if Audrey is in the park one day and is not charged, and John Smith is at 11 p.m. the next day, he can say 'What about her?' said Mattice. "It's the same thing is my concern."

"A bylaw will make our life very easy," he added.

"And us too," Rooney said.

Rooney pointed out the difficulty of not passing a bylaw. "If we don't do anything until next summer, it will be six months before it is passed."

Coun. Bev Sabourin raised the possibility that the incidents may have been made up, but Mattice said he had no question about the complainant's credibility.

Coun. Cam Martel said people can congregate and some get into difficulties, and the issue is how to correct (the situation).

"We have nothing to correct. We have no authority to do anything. With a bylaw, it gives someone the authority to do something," Rooney noted.

"If we make a blanket bylaw, it puts all in the same bind," said Martel.

Problems at Challies Pond were dealt with by posting No Trespassing signs from 9 p.m. to 7 a.m. and makes the situation easier for the police to deal with, Mattice noted.

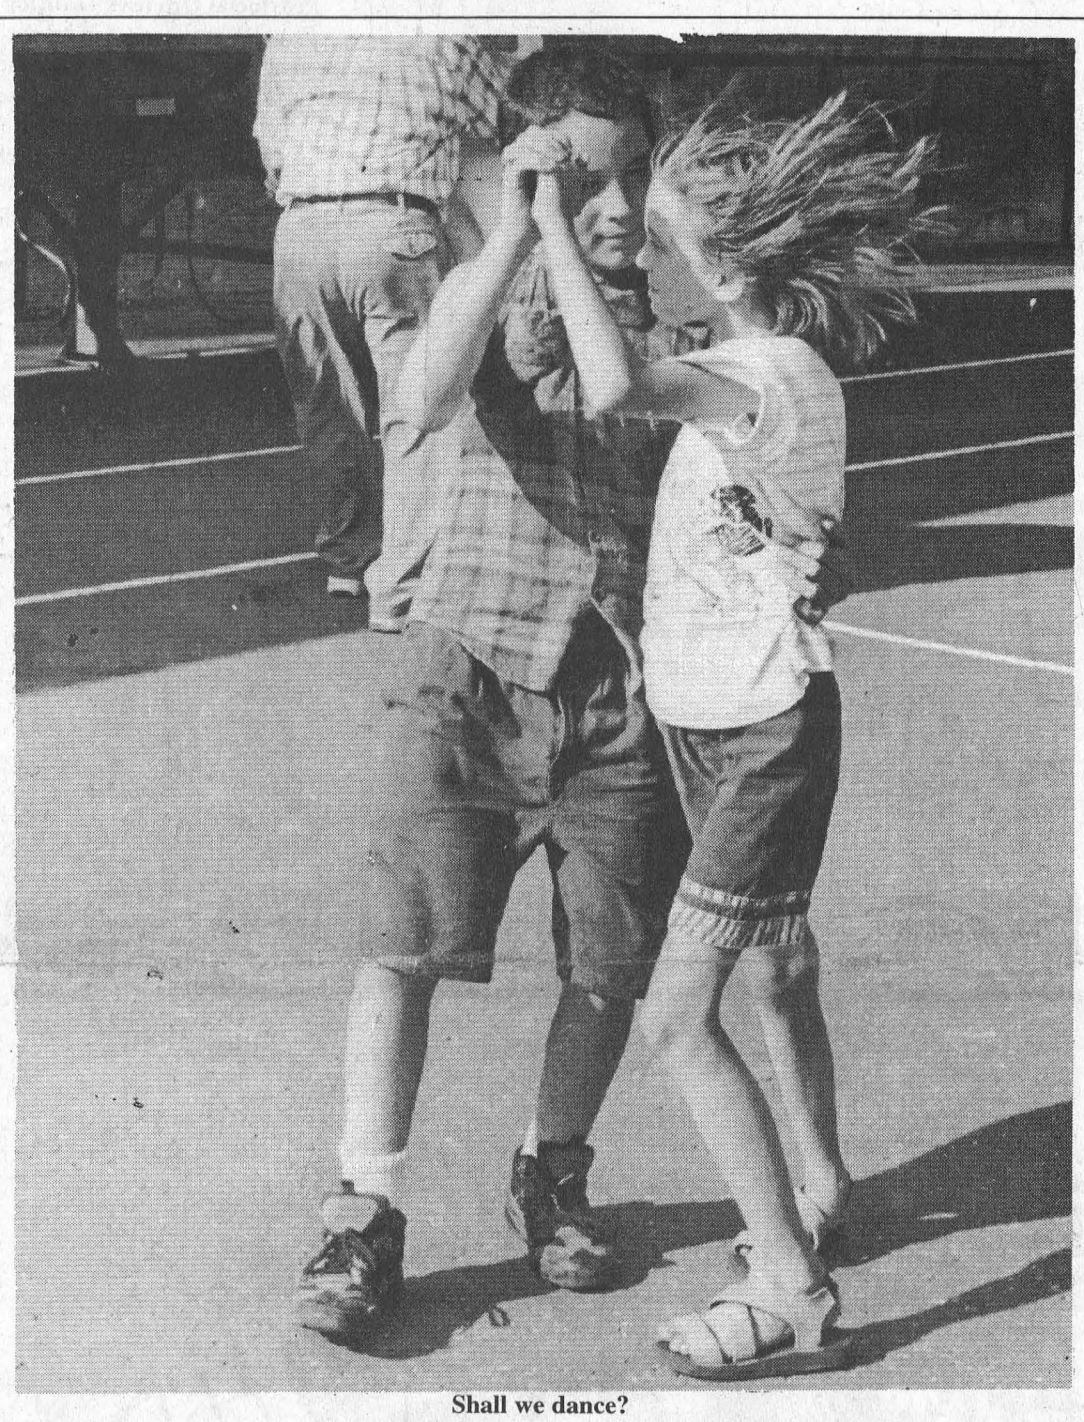
"If you do this with a bylaw, no kids in the park after dark, it will drive them to the shopping center. You'll have to post for everywhere," said Gillard.

"It will be martial law," observed Administrator Mike Waddell.

In response to the above discussion, Council has decided not to take a "knee jerk" reaction to the complaints and is not considering a curfew bylaw at this time.

Mattice added the OPP are having a serious problem with break and enter hitting mainly businesses not just locally, but throughout the region, and "some is very organized."

The OPP are working on this, and "we hope something positive will come out of it. We're being hit hard," Mattice continued. Further discussions are to be held with Council on this matter.



Shall we dance?

Jeremy Belton of Constance Bay and Juanita Caverley of Williamsburg joined in the dancing at Saturday's Country and Western Jamboree sponsored by the Williamsburg Oddfellows. The event drew approximately 300 participants, just a few less than last year, said Oddfellow Dennis Whitteker. Proceeds are still to be tallied.

Council helps Ross Video with ditch fill-in

by Catherine Thompson
Leader staff

WILLIAMSBURG—South Dundas Council has approved a request of Ross Video Ltd. in Iroquois for assistance to install a catch basin, and ditch fill-in as well as a new 60 foot entrance.

Public works superintendent Hugh Garlough brought the matter to Council's attention, noting the Public Works Department normally does not pay for entrance or ditch fill in for personal or business property. Garlough said there were extra costs involved in the project which were not first anticipated.

While Ross Video requested $10,000 in assistance, South Dundas Council is approving assistance only if the applicant shares the cost and to the upper limit of $5,000.

However, if the project costs less than the estimated $10,000, say $8,000, the Township will contribute half the amount.

The decision was reached after considerable discussion. Mayor Johnny Whitteker recommended the Township pick up the costs. "It's a clean industry, even though we're not in the habit of paying for this. If you can get an industry this size for $10,000 it's wise we cooperate with them." (The firm has 75 employees including part-time students and full time employees.)

Owner John Ross has stone dust put on the bike path near the waterfront, Whitteker added another point in favour of Ross Video's request.

Coun. Audrey Rooney pointed out the contribution of stone dust is ongoing, to encourage children not to ride on the airstrip and benefitting the airport as much as anything.

Coun. Rowdy Gillard noted if the Township is willing to pay for work at Ross Video, it might be asked to pay for burying cable at SDS Kerr, (Beaver Dental). SDS Kerr had requested and received Council's consent to bury electric cable for computers on Township land, at its own cost and with cleanup to the satisfaction of the manager of Public Works.

Coun. Cam Martel said if this is a policy procedure for the future, "we'll probably be asked again."

Then Coun. Bev Sabourin suggested paying half.

"I think we should pay all, because he'll use part of the money for stone dust. He is a good citizen, and this is what I would do," said Whitteker.

"I don't like the sound of it. when do we stop getting asked. It comes and it comes," said Gillard, adding the minor variance had come through "on a bit of a threat" to pull up stakes and leave.

Earlier this year, the Township agreed to Ross Video's request to reduce site yard requirements and lot coverage to allow the company to construct a new building.

"It's dangerous to go forward without a plan to handle an inquiry in the future, if on a needs basis or a systematic approach which I can support," Martel noted.

"We play a part in encouraging a business to come here. If a business is here, do we as a Council or not (continue)?"

"The costs are more than figured in the electrical end. We can keep costs down if we try to help. I think we should not stop the project," said Whitteker.

"He's a good tenant and person in Iroquois, but other businesses, we'll have to turn and do the same. Are we willing to do it for them?"

"As a group, we should determine how to handle situations like this." said Martel.

"If it's a new industry wanting to build here, we'd be happy to forego $10,000. Being familiar around business, and knowing a local business plans an expansion, I look for a policy we can approve without it snowballing big time," said Rooney.

"Where do we draw the line? Either your business is worth it, or your business isn't.. $10,000 is not a big investment for an industry. I could pass it, and have a company

Canadian Tire sets up new format store here

by Catherine Thompson
Leader staff

TORONTO—Canadian Tire Corporation is setting up a "new format" store in Morrisburg, with construction starting in the spring of year 2000, and opening in the fall.

"There will be a store in Morrisburg and the zoning is in the works right now," Dan Strasbourg, spokesperson for Canadian Tire Head Office confirmed Monday.

According to the new format, the store will have "wider aisles, better lighting, and a great paint department," said Strasbourg. "The auto department will be big with a wide selection and there will probably be a garden center."

"It's one of 300 we're opening across Canada by the end of 2000," Strasbourg continued.

Strasbourg said Canadian Tire Corporation Ltd. has already opened 160 new format stores across Canada, in a $1 billion expansion program of converting existing stores or building new ones. The new stores have "met with tremendous success," he added.

The expansion program was launched in 1994, "as part of a commitment to be the best at what our customers value the most. We listened to what customers wanted and we're giving it to them."

The opening of new format stores is separate from another Canadian Tire initiative, which will see the setup of about 200 PartSource retail outlets to focus on the needs of heavy automotive "do-it-yourself" customers and professional automotive installers.

Strasbourg didn't have any information at this time regarding size of the store, jobs, or any information about employees.

Nor did he have an announcement concerning the future of the store in Williamsburg, because construction on the Morrisburg store doesn't start until next spring.

South Dundas Council Briefs

Smoking bylaw tabled again

Clerk Bill Horner is drawing up a revised non smoking bylaw to be brought to the next meeting. In the proposed bylaw, municipal buildings and functions would be 100 per cent smoke-free. The bylaw would include Fire Hall buildings and municipal garages. Renters of the Matilda Hall would have the option of having a 100 per cent smoke free hall, or a maximum area for smoking of 25 per cent.

If passed, the bylaw would take effect in January 2000.

SDS Kerr request approved

The Township has approved a request of SDS Kerr (Beaver Dental) to bury electric cable on Allison Avenue for computers. SDS is to handle the cost of burying and cleanup to the satisfaction of the manager of Public Works.

Provincial Offenses Transfer

Council has approved protocol prepared by the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry for the transfer of court administration and court support functions and prosecution of provincial and federal offences under Part 1 of the Provincial Offences Act to the County level. The County will be the municipal partner, taking responsibility for the above, except those that continue to be prosecuted by provincial ministries. The Province is to retain responsibility for prosecution of most provincial and federal contraventions under Part 111 of the Act.

Upon signing the agreement, the County will receive the accumulated net revenue for its area, including the City of Cornwall collected from January 1998. The Ontario Attorney General remains constitutionally responsible for the administration of justice in the province. The Province retains responsibility for prosecution of offences and federal contraventions under Part 111 of the Act.

The revenues will be shared with the City of Cornwall on the basis of a formula. Revenues are to go towards reduction of the general portion of the County levy for future years. However, there will be no revenue in 1999, revenues are for future years.

Industry property tax rebate

A resolution of the Town of Hawkesbury was approved. Hawkesbury is asking the Minister of Municipal Affairs to amend the Municipal Act to allow municipalities to grant property tax rebates for up to three years to new industries setting up in Ontario. "Now it's against the law to give an incentive to new industry. But if they make it, it will be within the law," said Mayor Whitteker.

Sign for Ball Diamonds

Council has approved the installation of a monument dedicated to the Morrisburg Legion for their help toward installation of ball diamonds 10 years ago. The cost of relocating the diamonds was between $35,,000 to $40,000, said Coun. Cam Martel. The sign would match the Earl Baker Park sign, which cost $1,470. The Legion Memorial Park is to be dedicated in honor of Carrie Utman, a very active Legion member and strong supporter of recreational activities in Morrisburg.

Sale not to affect Edgerton-Baker

by Catherine Thompson
Leader staff

MORRISBURG—The ownership of Edgerton-Baker Fuels is changing hands and will be under Ultramar Canada as of September 30.

On that date, Ultramar Canada, a key subsidiary of Texas-based Ultramar Diamond Shamrock Corporation acquires Edgerton-Baker Fuels from its current owner, Universal Terminals Inc.

"There will be no effect on customers," said Tom Kaneb, who with Gail Kaneb is co-owner of Universal Terminals. "Ultramar will retain all existing staff at Edgerton-Baker. The transfer will not impact the area because the new company is interested in providing the same level of service to the customer as Edgerton-Baker Fuels. Ultramar wants to continue to serve their customers, and the best way is with existing staff."

Edgerton-Baker Fuels has 20 full time employees, and two part time employees. Approximately 95 per cent of their business is in home heating oils, with a range of five to 15 per cent of their business in commercial or farm diesel oil.

"As far as we know, there will be no change in salaries or working conditions," said Louis Migliacci, manager at Edgerton-Baker Fuels.

Migliacci said all employees were informed through a conference call, and a visit by Tom Kaneb, who visited each division last Tuesday and Wednesday. Kaneb came to Edgerton-Baker Fuels last Tuesday.

Edgerton-Baker Fuels originated in 1978 after Earl Baker sold his fuel business "Earl Baker and Son Fuels" to Edgerton Fuels. At that time, the name of the company changed to Edgerton Baker Fuels. Edgerton Baker Fuels was at that time, and continues until the present as a division of Universal Terminals in Cornwall.

Universal Terminals Inc. was established in 1954, and employs 160 people at 11 divisions throughout Eastern Ontario. The other divisions also being transferred include Lally Blanchard Fuels in Cornwall, Reynolds Central Fuels in Brockville, and locations in Barry's Bay. Elgin, Kingston, Picton, Napanee, Tweed, Pembroke and Smiths Falls.

Kaneb said the selling price remains confidential since an agreement to purchase prohibits both buyer and seller from disclosing details about the price.

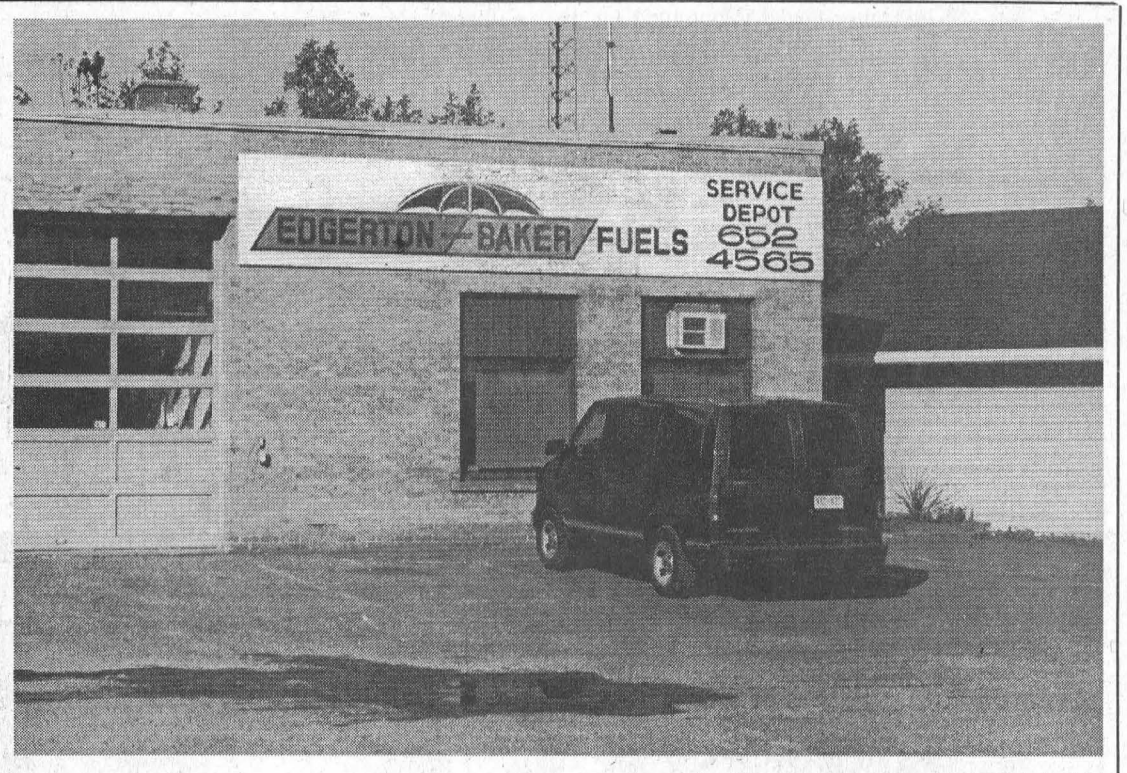
A news release from Universal Terminals Inc. describes the company as "a particularly attractive acquisition because they continued to grow when the rest of the industry was flat. They attribute this to a culture which encouraged each employee to reach their full potential."

"As part of that culture, all employees were given access to both personal development and technical training."

Approximately 95 per cent of the employees will continue to be employed by Ultramar, and the only jobs lost will be at the corporate level, the news release continues. "Generous severance packages are currently being arranged."

Tom and Gail Kaneb, the owners of Universal, express confidence that the skills and caliber of people who are leaving will make it easy for them to find excellent opportunities in the job market. "The employees who will be retained will form a strong foundation for Ultramar's expansion into Eastern Ontario."

The release also states Ultramar operates "one of the most technologically efficient and internationally competitive refineries in Canada. Jean Bernier, president of Ultramar Ltd. said, 'The Universal Terminals asset acquisition evidences our firm commitment to expand in the Ontario market- (It) is another concrete example of the confidence Ultramar has in Canada's economy and its ability to supply the fuels of the future.'"



Edgerton Baker Fuels changes hands

Edgerton Baker Fuels changes hands from Universal Terminals to the new owner Ultramar Canada, as of September 30. The company has 20 full time employees, all of whom are to be retained by the new employer.

happy with me, but other businesses may not be happy with me. I want to treat everyone fairly," she continued.

After these and a few other comments, Council defeated a motion to assist with the entire $10,000, and approved a motion to pay for the work to the limit of $5,000.

Ross' view

Contacted Tuesday, John Ross told his side of the story. Two weeks ago, Ross was at a meeting with the Hydro Commission to discuss supplying power to the 11,000 square foot building expansion, and a similar future expansion.

"In the past power was brought to the lot line and we took over from there," said Ross. But he was "very surprised" when he learned of Hydro's requirement for new transformers. Their building is equipped for 220 volts, but standards now require new buildings to be equipped for 600 volt distribution.

Hydro also requires customers to pay for transformers, although they are owned by Hydro, and there is no other option, Ross said.

"The first proposed cost of $200,000 for transformers would kill the expansion," Ross added. "But by doing a number of things and not allowing for the future expansion at this time, we brought the cost to approximately $35,000. "

"On top of it, there is no room on the property for transformers," he explained. "We had to fill in the ditch to provide a place for transformers on South Dundas property."

As a result of discussion, Ross Video agreed to fill in part of the ditch to allow truck access, and the Township agreed to fill in part to support the transformers.

Ross said Council made a "good decision" to have both parties pay a portion. He praised the Hydro Commission for to reduce the cost of transformers, adding: "I'm happy everyone is working together to provide the best solution."

Think safety when kids return to school

The start of September marks a return to school, and a reminder to motorists to be careful as students and school busses are back on the road.

The Ministry of Transportation asks motorists to drive with extra care whenever you see a school bus in front of you or coming towards you. Remember, if the overhead alternating red signal lights are flashing, traffic in both directions must be prepared to come to a stop when the bus stops and the stop arm comes out.

The law applies everywhere, regardless of posted speed limit, on highways, country, city or village streets. Motorists meeting a stopped school bus with lights flashing must stop unless they are on a highway divided by a median strip.

Motorists on any highway must stop at least 20 meters before reaching the stopped school bus with lights flashing. They may not proceed until the bus resumes motion or the lights have stopped flashing.

Conviction for failure to stop when required carries the following penalties: for a first offense, a fine of $400 to $2,000 and six demerit points; for each subsequent offense, a fine of $1,000 to $4,000 and six demerit points and possibly up to six months imprisonment.

You should also be aware that school buses, unlike other vehicles, are required by law to stop at all railway crossings.

As a parent, you should remind your children to be extra careful when getting on and off the school bus. Always have them take a second look for traffic before crossing the road.

School bus riders should help the driver keep his/her attention on the driving task. The children can do this by behaving themselves, being as quiet as possible and remaining seated, facing front until it is time to leave the bus.

Children should be aware of the danger zone around the bus. The danger zone is anywhere close enough to the bus to touch it. The bus driver cannot see children when they are in the danger zone.

If a child has to cross the street to get on the bus: when the bus comes, he or she should wait until it has come to a complete stop. The bus driver will make sure all traffic stops. The stop arm will be out and red lights will be flashing. A child should watch the driver until the driver signals the child to cross. But a child should also watch for traffic, and walk, not run.

When leaving the bus, a child should hold the handrail and take two large steps away from the bus. To cross the street in front of the bus, a child should walk ahead at least ten giant steps, cross only when the driver signals, and in single file. A child should not pick up something he or she has dropped. Instead, tell the driver or other adult.

Remember, school bus safety is everybody's responsibility.

This Week In Morrisburg's History

Compiled from The Leader's fyles

It was reported in the August 30, 1989 issue of The Leader that Dundas Dairy Princess, 19-year-old Isabella Farlinger, was one of 44 contestants vying for the Ontario Dairy Princess title at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto. She was the first Morrisburg area resident to capture the Dundas crown in its 30-year history.

A three car accident early Sunday morning sent three people to hospital. Morrisburg OPP responded to the call on Highway 31, near Park Lane in Williamsburg. Injured were Sean Coligan of Matilda, Randy Merkley of Williamsburg and Cristal Black of Williamsburg.

A two page ad explained the changes to the Federal sales tax system which were to come into effect January 1, 1991. A new goods and service tax (GST) was to replace the existing Federal Sales Tax. It was to be charged at uniform rate of 9 per cent on the vast majority of goods and services consumed in Canada. The existing federal sales tax rate was generally 13.5 per cent at the manufacturer's level. It was to strengthen our international competitiveness, create jobs, and help low income Canadians.

The Iroquois Men's Valley League team led by a four-over-par 76 from Brian Fawcett won the 1989 championship for the first time in many years. Jack Newsom of Morrisburg was the senior champ, and Jeff Ferguson of Iroquois won as the junior.

Sean Duval shot an 81 to lead the Morrisburg Junior Valley League team to their first championship in the four years the tournament had been played.

Bill Ault was happy with the success he had in his first attempt at a children's soccer school.

John and Marion DeGray were celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary.

Headlines in the August 29, 1979 issue of The Leader read Carter Jump here this Weekend. Ken Carter, the long-awaited trickster and stuntman, acclaimed as the Mad Canadian, had set his date to jump the St. Lawrence just west of Mariatown. The historic jump was to come after several years of promises. The rocket powered car was to arrive in Morrisburg within the next few days.

The Seafarer's Institute drew dignitaries from several levels of government and industry for the official sod turning of the $3 million development. The Institute was to be completely self-contained for as many as 150 students at any one time. Courses were to be offered in 10-week sessions, and instruction was to be provided in stewardship, docking and engine room departments, and life boat and fire fighting training.

The first twin engine plane to land at the new Morrisburg-Upper Canada Airport brought the executive director of the Premier's Office to Morrisburg.

John A. Allison Real Estate had a beautifully built three bedroom side split listed for $68,000. The home included a finished basement with family room, workshop, one half bath, and laundry facilitie, along with a large family-sized kitchen, living room with field stone fireplace, central vacuum system, and a walk-in cedar closet.

Richard Gaiser shot a two under par 69 to win the Morrisburg Golf Club's Junior Championship.

The new Pinkus Plaza was scheduled to open in the fall, and several locations had now been rented, one of which was taken by Stedmans.

The new gym for Timothy Christian School at Williamsburg was under construction. Principal, James Kooistra, expected some 106 students from 50 families to be enrolled in September.

The St. Lawrence Medical clinic announced Dr. J. Graham Jacques, a general practitioner, had joined the staff.

1969

The August 29,1969 issue of The Leader reported the Morrisburg Mets lacrosse team was well on its way to winning its second consecutive Junior B league championship. The Mets were holding a 3 - 1 lead over the Ottawa Vikings in the best-of- seven championship.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor
Morrisburg Leader

This is a reply to the resident from Sir James Morris Dr. who describes his "Summer from Hell" in the August 18 edition.

You have the right to complain if you are being subjected to these indecent acts of kids trespassing, and handling your property, but you don't have the right to blame a certain target group of kids because of their hair colour or how they amuse themselves without proof.

I'm proud to say I'm a mother of one of the skateboarders who you are blaming for these indecent acts. I'm speaking on behalf of these kids who feel they don't need to defend themselves, when they have done nothing wrong. Too many times, responsible kids don't get recognized for being good citizens of a community, but are linked together and judged along with the troublemakers of the town.

I can tell you this is the case concerning your article, because I know each and everyone of the skateboarders that hang out with my child. If you are to blame someone, I suggest you obtain proof before doing so, since even the justice system deems a person innocent until proven guilty.

Could the following statements in your article have anything to do with placing blame on this certain group of kids? "But its got so that everytime you see dyed hair and skateboards your blood pressure goes up. Everyone is fed up." If these statements were taken out of context accept my apology. As far as hair colour goes, gray, light violet, red green, brown, and blue are all colours. Hair salons are making money dying hair and let me assure you that it isn't the teenagers that they are making the most money from for this service.

None of the skate park kids were aware of your accusations until they read about it in the paper. If you came close enough to one of them to be apologized too, surely you should be able to describe the culprit to the police and charges laid. As far as you blaming the increase of youth visiting Morrisburg skate park on the skateboarders, it is really unfair. I wasn't aware that people, especially kids with dyed hair and skateboards, had to check in at the gate of Morrisburg before being allowed entry.

How can you blame kids who built a recreation area for themselves, be responsible for people who travel to Morrisburg to use the parks area. When special events are held at the same park, that attracts outside visitors to the area, does the increase traffic bother the Sir James Morris residents at that time as well?

If so, then I suggest these same residents move to the country where their privacy will only beinterrupted by the odd bird. It seems every time the town of Morrisburg tries to give our children something to amuse themselves with, there are certain town residents who complain until it is either closed down or regulated so that the children move on to other areas to hang out in.

To give an example of this, remember the skating rink which had to be torn down, was this done because oops, it was an eyesore for the Sir James Morris Dr. residents? Now they want the wading pool drained, and the skate park moved. What's next, shutting down the beach, and closing the ball diamonds since children playing and having fun, increases the noise level for the Sir James Morris Dr. residents? If the park can't be used for our children, maybe town council should get the entire park area subdivided and build housing on it. This way at least it would contribute to town coffers rather than be free river front scenery for a selected few on Sir James Morris Dr. If you are one of those residents who are not included in this argument please accept my apology, each time I said Sir James Morris Dr. resident. I, unlike the resident who is complaining, do not believe that just because you belong in a group, that you are to be judged along with them whether you are guilty or innocent.

DENNIS DEGRACE
On Behalf of my Mother

Dear Editor
Morrisburg Leader

This is written to the skateboarders of our community. In this world we live, you are going to find critics. But remember for every one person that criticizes, there are ten who praise. My philosophy has always been, "There are two sides to every story".

Last year the complaints were that kids were skateboarding in the mall. The Morrisburg Recreation, along with the skateboarders and the Recreation Facilitator decided that an area should be designated for these kids. The PARK immediately came to mind. Isn't that what parks are for? These skateboarders have worked long and hard to make their facility a viable place to have fun.

The negative approach of some people to this area has me wondering, "What exactly do you want our youth to do". Just go away! THEY ARE HERE TO STAY and they are our future."

I, for one, am proud of the way these youths have handled themselves. My father always said to me that "one bad apple doesn't make a barrel bad." And I will say, I haven't even heard a name of one bad apple yet. Make sure that the people you are criticizing are the ones that should be criticized.

My advice (skateboarders) keep on doing what you are doing and take pride in your accompishments. If you need help, there are people there to support you.

God Never Changes

From A Biblical Perspective

We live in a world of change. Two stories in the news have made that clear again. One story, Eaton's Stores closing it s doors after years of catering to the Canadian public, has been front page news for the last few weeks. The other, that Diana, Princess of Wales seems to have been forgotten, is in today's news. On the second anniversary of her untimely and terrible death there are no plans by the Royal Family or the people of England to remember that day in any special way.

I would not want anyone to get the idea that either of these stories is unimportant. I genuinely feel for all the people who will lose their jobs because of a major retailer having to close. I pray that God will open another door of employment for them. I know that God cares about them, and He understands the emotions they are experiencing. I also know there are still many people in the world who will remember the tragic loss of a beautiful person, Diana, Princess of Wales, even if some have forgotten. I make mention of both of these stories to emphasize that the world we are living in is ever changing. That which we thought a few years ago would last forever is now gone. Lives end, and sad to say, after a period of time we forget those persons

I'm reminded again that there is only one who never changes, that is God. The hymn writer of many years ago put it well, I believe, when he penned the words, "Hold to God's unchanging hand, Hold to God's unchanging hand, Build your hopes on things eternal, Hold to God's unchanging hand." The psalmist wrote in Psalms 119:89, "Your word, O Lord is eternal; It stands firm in the heavens."

What I'm trying to say to you in this column today is this, more and more, we realize that there is nothing in the world that is going to last forever. Decay causes things to fall apart. The things that man builds will only last for a season, but God never changes, nor does His love for us. We can look back through the centuries and see that His hand has always been stretched out toward us in love and compassion, drawing us back to Himself, extending hope and eternal life to whosoever would believe in Him. He continues in His regenerating work even to this day. His word declares that He is not willing that any perish in their sin, but that all would repent and turn to Him and receive everlasting life.

The words of the hymn express very well the hope of those who put their trust in

Rev. Duncan Perry

Jesus Christ. It says, "My hope is built on nothing less than Jesus' blood and righteousness; I dare not trust the sweetest frame, but wholly lean on Jesus' name, On Christ the Solid Rock I stand; All other ground is sinking sand." If your hope is not in Jesus Christ, may I take this opportunity to encourage you to place it there. Everything else will fail, but His truth will abide forever. Please call 543-2618 if I can help you in this very important decision.

1949

The August 26, 1949 issue of The Leader reported J.W. Karl Blair had been named Bell Telephone Manager for Morrisburg, succeeding Gerald Coleman.

Prompt arrival of firemen prevented a serious loss at the property of Willis Salmon, north of the subway, when a grass fire swept over a large field west of the house and barn.

At Sherman's, two piece dresses were clearing at $4.95 and ladies smartly styled sandals were two pair for $2.50.

1939

Headlines in the September 1, 1939 issue of The Leader read Hitler Invades Poland. Hitler's troops were marching into Poland, climaxing a week of extreme tension. The German Fuehrer had ordered his army to meet force with force, igniting the spark to blow up the European powder keg. British and French government officials had served notice on Germany that they were ready to fulfill their obligation to Poland, which was presenting stiff competition to the German attack. A special session of parliament had been called in Canada.

Fundraising for CNIB in Dundas County

MORRISBURG—September is the month for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind's door-to-door fund-raising campaign in Dundas County.

Money raised aids in its work with the visually impaired. Helping in our community is a fulfilling experience, and Greg Duggan, campaign chair, reminds us he always welcomes new volunteers.

During September these volunteers, your neighbours, will blitz every street in Morrisburg and vicinity. Greg reports that the canvassers will be wearing CNIB volunteer buttons and will issue income tax receipts for your donation. The CNIB relies on volunteers to keep costs down.

The residents and business people in the community have always been generous in the past and the CNIB counts on your support again this year. Invariably, some people will be away when the canvassers call, so the volunteers will make a follow-up visit to the those homes sometime later in September.

The CNIB is a non-government, non-profit organization that provides services which allow visually impaired individuals to remain independent and integrated within their own communities. About 128 people who are experiencing vision loss in Dundas County are receiving services from the CNIB.

The CNIB was behind the founding of the Morrisburg support group for the visually impaired, which meets monthly at Stampville, and serves 22 active members. Should you know of anyone who might benefit from this service, please call Barb Bradford at 543-3682.

Greg Duggan reminds everyone that all of the money raised through the door-to-door campaign remains in this community, providing support and services to our blind and visually impaired neighbours.

Parker announces new funeral concept

MORRISBURG—Bonnie Parker, Funeral Director at the Parker Funeral Home located at 28, Sir James Morris Dr. is pleased to announce that the Parker Funeral Home has chosen to participate in the introduction of Forethought Funeral Planning, a new funeral planning and funding concept.

Last year alone nearly 21,000 Ontarians pre-planned and pre-funded their funerals. So, while the idea of pre-arranging and pre-funding one's funeral is not new, the options and opportunities provided with the Forethought program are new and previously not available to consumers in Morrisburg and surrounding area.

With funding available from the Forethought Life Insurance Company in Burlington, Ontario, the Forethought plan is available to anyone through age 90. Life Insurance is purchased in amounts tied to the value of individual funeral pre-arrangements. Premiums may be paid in a single installment or over time according to convenient, affordable time-payment schedules. In addition, policy benefits are designed to increase over time, tax free during the life time of the individual funeral planner providing protection against rising prices.

The Forethought Life Insurance Company is a division of Hillenbrand Industries. Hillenbrand Industries, through its Batesville Casket and Batesville Canada subsidiaries, has served the funeral industry in North America for over 100 years.

The Forethought companies continue this tradition. Life Insurance to fund pre-arranged funeral's is the only type of insurance offered by the Forethought Life Insurance Company. Since the company's inception in 1986, well over 500,000 individuals have pre-arranged and pre-funded their funerals with The Forethought Funeral Planning program.

Should you like more information about this unique new program, please call Bonnie at 613-543-2271 or outside the area toll free 1-877-543-2271. She will be happy to answer any of your questions.

Sixty years ago on Sept. 10, 1939, our country declared war on Germany. It seems to be that only a handful of citizens wish to remember the sacrifice that so many were willing to pay for the future of our country. Less than a dozen attended the ceremony to commemorate the end of World War 2 held on the 17th of August. The numbers of veterans grow fewer and their service seems to be forgotten. I didn't see or hear any mention of it in the press or on T.V. Wreathes were placed at the Waterfront Memorial by 1st Vice-President Donald Ferguson for the Branch and by Comrade Doris Cairns for the women who served not only in the service but for those who manned the home front. Comrade Carson Baker and Padre Donald Prunner laid crosses of Remembrance. Before the ceremony in the Park, Service Officer Ross Hummell laid a wreath at the Cenotaph in front of the Morrisburg Civic Centre.

Friday night our ever popular Steak Bar-B-Q was held and as a tribute to the season, an added attraction, corn on the cob was served along with the steak. In addition baked potatoes, assorted salads and a roll for only $10.00 and thrown in as an added bonus there was music starting at 8:00 featuring the Clean Cut Country Music Band.

The Terry Fox Run sponsored by the Branch is in jeopardy as the only person showing up at an organizational meeting was the pro tem chairman. There will be another attempt at an organizational meeting at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 14 at the Legion. Our Branch sponsors the site and a generous donation to the Terry Fox Run, but in order to make it a success it needs the support of the community of South Dundas. This will be our sixth run and it is hoped that someone younger and with more pep will volunteer to take over the run. If you can help in any way, either as a volunteer or a participant please call 543-3304. Your call will be answered or returned the next day. This year's theme is going the distance. You can make one lap of the course of 1 km or as many laps as you like. You do not have to run, you can jog, walk, bike, roller blade or skate board. You can bring a friend, a family member or the whole family for a worthwhile cause. Pledge sheets are available at the Morrisburg Legion and will be available at other places in the area. The terry Fox Foundation supports many cancer research studies and with your help hopes that one day a cure may be found.

Our most senior member, Comrade Jim Fraser, wishes that you would come and join him and other members of the Legion Choir as they commence their fall session. They will be starting their practices on Monday, Sept. 13 at 7 p.m. The choir is open to any male member of the community so if you like to sing come out and join them. I am afraid this is not politically correct but it is a male choir but under the direction of Carol Wicka.

Morrisburg Golf Club

Course changes approved

by Bonnie McNairn
Leader staff

MORRISBURG—Members of the Morrisburg Golf Club are about to breathe new life into their 60 year old course, following a special meeting here Monday night.

Changes, which involve the building of a new green and three new tees, were discussed at length by more than 50 members who opted to proceed with the plan, which grounds chairman, Tony Cummins estimated would cost up to $20,000.

Club captain Sean Devaul explained the proposed changes came about due to the condition of the existing fourth green, which was severely damaged last winter, and has not recovered.

"It's a terrible green, and poorly designed," said Devaul. "That's how the idea came up to make number four a par five by eliminating the green and running the hole to what is presently the fifth green."

"By moving the fourth tee forward, that would make the hole a good par five of about 500 yards," said Devaul. "That left us with eight holes, and the need to add a hole somewhere."

To solve that problem the planners looked to the southwest corner of the course, where there is unused land between the course and the Morrisburg beach.

"That's where we saw the hole," said Devaul, explaining that by using the existing ninth tee, a par three running towards the beach could be created there. "It would give us a 135 yard par three."

A a result of this a new tee for the ninth and 18th hole will have to be built, and that said Devaul would be located just off the new green.

"This will make the final hole play as a par four dog leg left, using the current green located in front of the clubhouse," said Devaul. "It eliminates a tough par three, but will give us a great par four."

The plan also calls for moving the first tee forward, making the current par five first hole a par fou,r and eliminating the protective fencing that runs along the parking lot. This also frees enough space near the clubhouse to build a putting green.

"A putting green would be a bonus to our members, and to our green fee players," said Devaul. "As well by moving the first tee forward we alleviate the problem of people being hit on the third tee from shots coming off the first tee."

The existing fifth tee, which will no longer be in use, can now be used for the third hole which will increase the yardage there.

"I think the proposal would be a great improvement to the course," he said. "It will add yardage, and it may help our slope rating for our members going out of town for play."

"We believe the labor and expertise to carry out the plan is available right here in the club." he said. " And we think the changes will make it a much more attractive course. Perhaps it will attract new members, and more tournaments."

Cummins reported the club has been granted the use of the land between the course and the beach by South Dundas council.

"A legal contract is being drawn up that gives us the use of the land for 20 years," he said. "There is a possibility, that from time to time we may have to put up with some noise as the hole runs up near the volleyball nets."

Cummins said the work would be done this fall, which gives the new areas two growing seasons, and should be ready for play next summer. He said the work can be done without interfering with play.

The inevitable question about a watering system was again brought up. The need for an irrigation system has been an ongoing problem for the club for years, but with a price tag of between $100,000 and $150,000 it continues to remain out of reach financially.

"Irrigation is definitely in the back of our minds," said Cummins "But it is something we can't pay for unless the the dues go up, and our membership number increases."

Cummins explained that back about nine years ago the club had over 400 members but is currently sitting with 270.

"The membership has slipped every year, and we probably lost another 30 between last year and this year," he said. "There is a lot of competition out there, and the 18 hole courses are grabbing our members."

Club treasurer Mike Barclay indicated the club could afford to make the course changes out of the operation's capital, but could not fund a major project like irrigation.

"Perhaps the changes will enable us to attract new members," he said.

Hockey school a success

by Bonnie McNairn

MORRISBURG—Organizers of the Junior B Lions' hockey school, held last week at the arena here, are pleased with the results and plan to make it an annual event says head coach Barry DeGray.

DeGray who was the head instructor at the school, claimed the first year is always the hardest.

"We started advertising late, and missed kids who were already booked into other schools," he said. "But we were looking for 25-35 kids, and came close with 24 attending."

"We are very happy with the results," he says. "We had good feed back from the parents, and they told us the kids went home very tired every night."

"Next year we'll promote it earlier, and maybe be able to double our number."

DeGray says there were several reasons for running the school.

"The arena wanted to try putting the ice in earlier than years past, and they were very successful," he said.

With extremely hot weather last week, DeGray said there was some ice shrinkage, and they had to work throughout the week to keep it in good shape.

Also the Lions' organization wanted to determined what the community response to a local school would be, and provide some of the junior B players the opportunity to experience hockey from an instructor's point of view.

"Morrisburg has never had a hockey school, and we would like to be able to compete with other communities who offer camps," he said.

DeGray provided a well-rounded program with emphasis on skating.

"I'm a firm believer in learning how to skate properly first," he said. "We did a lot on skating, teaching the proper techniques and helping them to learn their edges."

As well there were control drills with pucks, flow drills and the school wrapped up with a scrimmage on Friday.

Assisting DeGray during the week were Carson Runions, Steph Champagne, Jamie Robertson, Dana Hasson, Mark Millward, and Matt Carkner.

Hockey has to be fun says NHL draft pick

by Bonnie McNairn
Leader staff

MORRISBURG—Montreal Canadiens second round draft pick, Matt Carkner dropped in at the Jr. B Lions hockey school last week, and not only was his assistance on the ice a big bonus for the students, but his words of encouragement were probably just as valuable.

"You've got to make hockey fun," he told the kids. "I had a coach who told me the most winning-est teams you'll ever play on are the teams you are having fun on."

Carkner, who is 18, weighs 230 pounds and stands 6 foot four, went 58th overall in the 1999 draft

"As soon as you are drafted it's unbelievable," he said. "You have no idea what it feels like to stand there with the NHL sweater in your hands, and the team hat on your head."

"It makes all the years worthwhile."

Immediately following the draft he met the Montreal coaches.

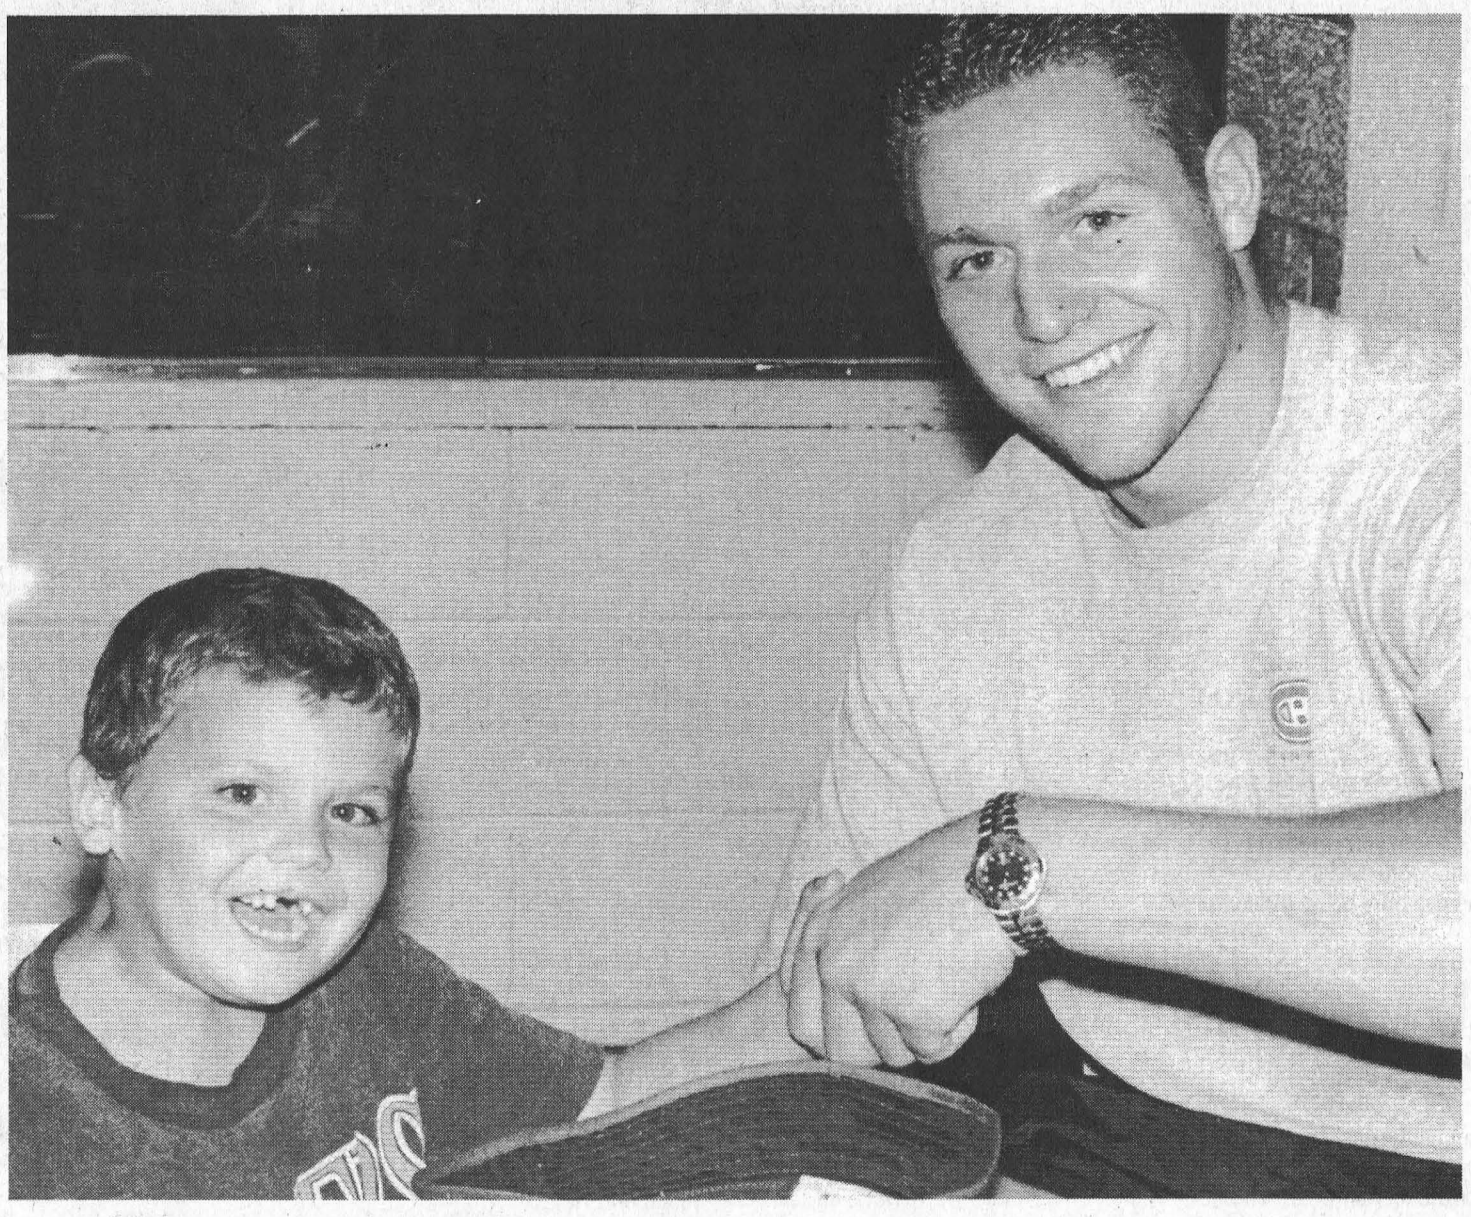
"Tremblay was there, and we were taken to a back room where we were interviewed," he said. "There were cameras and reporters in your face all the time, kids were there wanting your autograph, we had our pictures taken for hockey cards and other things. It was crazy."

Matt grew up in Morewood, and started playing hockey when he was seven.

"I played novice and various rec leagues in Winchester," he said.

"You should have seen me in atom," he told the kids. "I was really clumsy, and could barely skate. But I wanted to play hockey, so I used what talent I had and worked hard. I definitely never thought I'd be sitting here talking to you guys like this today."

Matt's first step was a forward position with the Rideau St. Lawrence Kings.



Meet My New Buddy
Six-year-old Derek Hutt of Williamsburg shows off a great smile as he shakes hands with Matt Carkner, who was the Montreal Canadiens second draft pick this year. Derek was so impressed with Matt, that not only did he have his sweater autographed, but his hat and stick too.

"That first year I had three points the whole season," he explained. "But the next year I played defence, and had 30 goals and 40 assists."

After this he was protected by the Brockville Braves, but as a rookie he didn't feel he was getting as much ice time as he needed. As a result he left the Braves, and finished out the season with the Junior B Hawks in Winchester.

The following year he returned to the Braves, and was then drafted by the Peterborough Petes, where he has played the last two years.

"My first year with the Petes I had six points and no goals" he said. "In the second year I had lots of penalty minutes."

His first big fight was in a Prospects Game in Calgary in front of Don Cherry, who was coaching.

"But I'm a player first, and an enforcer second," he added.

Asked if he had found it hard to keep his school work up he explained that at times it was tough.

"I was an A student in high school, and had an above 80 average until the year I left Brockville," he said. "That year I moved four times, so it was hard to keep my grades."

"And this last year there was a lot of stress with the draft going on," he said. "But I finished my O.A.C.s, and this year I'm attending Trent University in Peterborough on a part-time basis where I'm going to take some business courses."

"There's no better way to get your schooling paid for than through hockey," said Matt. "Even with the Petes, money is put in a fund for you each year so when you're done you can still get your education."

Next week Matt will be in the Rookie Tournament in Hull, where he'll play for Montreal against rookie teams from the Senators, Tampa Bay, and Florida.

He looks forward to returning to Peterborough, and expects to complete this season with Petes.

"After this year I might sign with Montreal," he said. "It'll depend on the kind of year I have."

"But if I don't sign I become a free agent which is good too," he said. "Montreal needs some defencemen especially some big defence like me who can rough some guys up."

Matt is very optimistic about the Petes upcoming season, predicting a Memorial Cup win.

"When I started there two year ago we had 11 young guys, and this year should be our year," he said.

Asked by one youngster, who he'd most like to score a goal against, he said it would be Buffalo's Dominik Hasek.

"But I don't think that will ever happen," he added.

Asked who he'd most like to hit he picked Tie Domi. "That would probably feel like hitting a brick wall."

Matt also told the players he had hoped to be drafted by Boston.

"They were interested, and had I gone to them I would have been 21st overall," he said.

Growing up Matt cheered for the Detroit Red Wings .

"Then for a while I cheered for Toronto," he said. "Now I cheer for Montreal."

Iroquois wins Men's Valley League

by Bonnie McNairn
Leader staff

IROQUOIS–The party continued at the golf course here Saturday, with the Iroquois men's win of the 1999 Valley League Competition.

The ladies kicked it off last Saturday, winning the ladies valley league, and this week it was the men's turn

They posted a 1,322 team total to win by a full 57 strokes over second place Morrisburg at 1,379. Summer Heights had 1,404 strokes, and Cedar Glen 1,416.

Leading the Iroquois field was Randy Casselman, who won the Miller Trophy for low gross of the day with a three-over-par 75.

"I thought I threw it away coming in," said Casselman. "I went bogie, bogie."

Casselman admitted the very high wind made it extremely difficult for play. The wind increased as the day continued, and he finished out his round with bogies on four of the last five holes.

"I was playing it safe all day, just trying to hit the greens," he said. "I was putting well."

Casselman started his round on the back nine, putting together an even par 36, and brought it home with a 39.

It was playoff action for Roger Levere of Iroquois and Summer Heights Dan Julien, who finished regulation play tied with 77s. Levere earned the Sports Unlimited Trophy in the extra holes.

C flight low gross, and the Summer Heights Fun Nite trophy, went to Travis Thompson with an 83, giving Iroquois a clean sweep of the silverware.

The Iroquois' charge continued in the net wins with Bill Minkhorst shooting a 79 for a 73 net to win the Julien trophy for A flight, and Brent Mattice claiming the Cedar Glen trophy in B flight with a 78 gross for a 66 net.

Peter Brunt prevented the Iroquois' net sweep with an 86 in C flight, which gave him a 69 net and the Lorne Barkley trophy.

Tom Aitken of Summer Heights won the Tom and Jean Parker trophy for senior low gross with an 82, and Morrisburg's Robert Annable claimed the junior win with a 78.

Barry Elliott of Iroquois won the club captain's low net trophy on a gross score of 90 for a 68 net, and Ray MacDonald of Summer Heights won president's low net with a 77 gross for a 70 net.

The Iroquois team received the W.D. MacLennan Team Trophy for its team gross of 1,322, and also led the field with a team of net of 1,207. Morrisburg was presented the Comrie Blakely team trophy with a 1,280 net.

Morrisburg second in Junior Valley League

by Bonnie McNairn
Leader staff

ALEXANDRIA—The Morrisburg Junior Valley League team finished just five strokes out of the winner's circle at the annual tournament played here last Wednesday.

Winning the day was the home club from Glengarry with a six person team total of 511. Morrisburg had 517 strokes, Summer Heights was third at 542, Iroquois had 560 and Cedar Glen 578.

Junior Valley League play is divided into two categories by age, A flight consisting of ages 14 and up, and B flight ages eight to 13.

Each team has a spare and a female player, whose scores do not count in the team total.

Eric Irvine led the Morrisburg A flight with a 78 gross, followed by Robert Annable with an 81, and Eric Wemmerman at 88.

Nick Groves brought home the only silverware for Morrisburg, claiming the B flight low gross championship with an 86.

Backing up Groves was Tyler Lafortune with an 87, and Travis Dillabough with a 96.

Amanda Annable and Chris Phifer (spare) tied with 108s.

Low gross of the day in A flight went to Mark Spencer of Glengarry with a 77, and the low net was claimed by Iroquois' Kyle Dingwall with a 61.

B flight low net was won by Brandon Elliott of Iroquois with a 60.

For the girls the low gross was an 84 shot by Cindy Radford of Glengarrry.

Morrisburg Blooper ball

MORRISBURG—The final tournament was held on Sunday for the Morrisburg Blooper ball league and it came down to Cider's Pub and The Couples in the finals.

Going into the finals Cider's were undefeated and therefore only had to beat the Couples once for the championship, whereas the Couples would have had to beat Cider's twice.

The first game of the finals saw the Couples come out flying and they demolished Cider's with a powerful display of hitting.

In game two the results were much closer but to the same outcome as the Couples won their second championship in a row. The final score was 12-9, and it was such a close game that one swing of the bat won it for the Couples. A grand slam homerun put them over the top and Cider's could not make up the ground.

To try and dampen the mood for the Couples celebration Cider's short stop, Jeff Barclay, twisted his ankle and pulled some ligaments running to second base. Thanks to Garry Beckstead and Ray Van Moorsel for helping him to the bench.

Next year the league will be competitive for all teams with everyone finishing with a strong showing.

Congratulations to the Couples on their repeat and next year we will try to stop it from being a threepeat.

Old Sticks finish with win

by Bonnie McNairn
Leader staff

AKWESASNE—Coached by Morrisburg Mets" veteran player Stan "The Crippler" Mabo, the Morrisburg Old Sticks Lacrosse team won the B championship of the Masters tournament played here on the weekend.

With Mabo stressing a defensive game, the Old Sticks met Ottawa for the championship, and came away with an exciting 4-3 win.

The Old Sticks added a little old fashioned rough play to Mabo's defensive game plan causing Ottawa to shy away when having to move through the Morrisburg defensive zone.

The Morrisburg rough style, however, had them playing short-handed through much of the first period, and early on they found themselves down 1 - 0.

Gary Hess took care of that problem late in first tying it with a short-handed goal.

A scoreless second was followed by an exciting third period which got rolling with six minutes left to be played when Ottawa scored on a penalty shot for a 2 - 1 lead.

On Morrisburg's next possession, Steve Casselman fired a bullet pass to Phillip Dillabough at the side of the net, and the game was tied 2 - 2.

On the next attack Tom Dawley intercepted an Ottawa pass, and sent Jeff Burgess in all alone to give Morrisburg a 3 - 2 lead.

Ottawa pulled their goaltender, and with the clock winding down Casselman and an opposing player began roughing it up. A referee decision gave each team a penalty shot with 10 seconds left in the game.

Ottawa was successful on their shot to tie the game 3 - 3, forcing Morrisburg to score or the game would go into overtime.

For the shot, Mabo sent team sniper Brian McNairn who moved in and deeked the goalie several times before snapping the ball into the top shelf to give the Old Sticks the 4 - 3 win.

Morrisburg received the Iroquois Masters B Trophy, and McNairn was named the Old Sticks game MVP.

Old Sticks goaltender, Terry Burgess of Ottawa, was named the MVP for the B tournament.

Morrisburg opened the tournament with a 4 - 2 win over the Akwesasne Two team. McNairn led the charge with two goals, and singles came from Gary Hess and John Johnson, who nailed the game winner. Burgess was named game MVP.

In game two the Old Sticks were up against the Akwesasne Ones. Down 4 - 1 after the first, they fell apart in the third, and were clobbered 13-1. Morrisburg's lone goal came from Tom Dawley who was also named MVP.

Game three was against the Kahnawake Chiefs, ranked the top team in the tournament. Morrisburg held on, trailing only 2 - 1 after the second period, but lack of third period scoring punch left them with a 5 - 1 loss.

Eric Warford scored the Old Sticks lone goal, and again goaltender Terry Burgess was named as Morrisburg's MVP.

Lions' training camp opens

by Bonnie McNairn
Leader staff

MORRISBURG—The Morrisburg Junior B Lions open their training camp this Friday night, and they are only too happy to be holding it on home ice.

The ice went in at the arena two weeks ago, and despite last week's high temperatures the staff there has been able to maintain a good surface.

Lions head coach, Barry DeGray says the camp opens this Friday, with registration set for 2-3 p.m.

"The first scheduled game is set for 5 p.m.," he says. "And we'll determine what we do from there once we know the exact numbers."

According to DeGray, the Lions have sent out 62 invites, but the camp is open and walk-ons are welcome.

DeGray, who is stepping into the head coach position for the first time this season, says he finds it a bit different, "not knowing who is coming back and who is not."

"But even the veterans will have to earn a spot," he says.

DeGray is very keen as he heads into the season, and says he hopes to promote kids into the scholarship route or into the Ontario Hockey League.

"There were three to five junior B league players drafted into the O.H.L last year," says DeGray. "And it's time Morrisburg started putting kids into a higher level program."

DeGray says the Lions will be bringing in some quality calibre players from out- of- province this season.

"Like everyone else these players will have to earn a team spot," he says. "We're trying to build a good working relationship with the Cornwall Colts of the Central Junior A league, so maybe we can get some players to boost the team."

"We don't have totally enough kids in town," he said.

DeGray says the weekend camp will wrap up with a Sunday afternoon all-star game, and by that time he expects to have about 75 percent of the team signed.

"The other 25 percent will have to fight for their spots," he added.

With the expectation of out-of-town players, the Lions are looking for families interested in billeting. A remuneration will be paid by the team, and anyone interested in more details can call DeGray at 925-5105 or Ron Casselman at 543-2068.

The Lions will open the 1999-2000 season on the road when they travel to Char-Lan Saturday, September 25, and their home opener is Sunday, September 26 when they host the Winchester Hawks.

Recreation getting ready for winter programs

by Bonnie McNairn
Leader staff

MORRISBURG—With most of the summer activities behind them, members of the Morrisburg Recreation committee are busy getting ready for their fall and winter program.

The first of the fall events is a junior golf tournament set for Sunday, September 26 at the Morrisburg Golf Club.

"We want to give the kids a chance to have their own tournament," says Barb Levere, a member of the recreation committee and coordinator of the event.

The tournament is open to players ages eight to 18, at a cost of $20 which covers play, prizes and a meal. Entries will be taken on a first come, first serve basis to a maximum 75 golfers, and registrations will be accepted at the golf club or by calling Levere at 652-4670.

Activity nights to return

Also returning this winter is the bi-weekly activity nights, run by Donna Hollister and Deby Blais, which were a big draw of local youngsters in the first year last winter.

Set to start, Tuesday October 5, Hollister says she is looking forward to getting back to it.

It runs two nights a week, at a cost of $10 per month, payable at the start of each monthly session.

"On Tuesday nights we are at the old high school where we do crafts and games, and Thursday nights we are in the Morrisburg Public School gym where we play things like floor hockey and dodge ball," says Hollister. "We've decided to go with two age groups this year, four-eight years from 6:30 to 7:30, and nine and up from 7:30 to 8:30."

"The parents drop the children off with us, so it kind of gives everyone a break," she says.

"It just turned into one of those things that worked," she explained of the first season's success, which saw up to 60 children per evening participating.

"It was very successful last year, and we were basically running by the seat of our pants," she said. "We'll be a little more organized this year."

"As long as there is the interest we'll keep doing it," she said.

"We weren't part of recreation originally," explained Hollister. "But we did eventually join."

"They gave us start-up money, and then we basically operated on the money we brought in," she said

Hollister says there are rules of conduct, "but it's not like school. There has to be some sense of order, but we want it to be fun."

Successful summer programs

Levere says members of the rec committee are pleased with the results of the summer activities.

The swimming program was excellent and we were able to buy new buoys," she said. "Presently we are in the process of removing seaweed to prevent problems next year."

"Fortunately we didn't have to close the beach this summer," she added.

Levere also points out that a minor lacrosse program, started by Phillip Dillabough and Steve Coligan, was well received by the kids.

"We are now considering the possibility of an organized lacrosse program next summer," she said.

She also lauded the tennis program which was successfully run by Mark Lunday, and attracted about 40 kids twice a week..

Also successful was the skateboarding area.

"Everything that's down there the skate boarders made themselves," she said. "The rec committee spent $3,000 to have the pavement resurfaced, as we felt it was the right place for them to be."

Ideas or help accepted

According to Levere there is always room for more volunteers on the recreation committee.

"If there are people with ideas, or who want to organize a program they can come to recreation," she said explaining recreation works on a budget received from South Dundas, along with some very active fund raising.

The villages of Morrisburg, Iroquois and Townships of Matilda and Williamsburg all have their own Recreation committees which submit a budget every fall.

She also stressed if anyone has problems or concerns about the Morrisburg Recreation program to call chairman Tom Adlington at 543-2347 or first chair Donna Hollister at 543-4312 in order to give the committee a chance to deal with it.
