55th WEDDING ANNIV.

The Post and its readers extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Genzemer Clark, of Church Ave., Iroquois who celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, April 28th.

The Business and Commerce Department of Seaway District High School has as its purpose to prepare students for positions in business offices, and to establish closer co-operation between the school and the businessman for whom these students will eventually work.

In an effort to achieve both these objectives, the present graduating class in Business at Seaway has just completed a two week "on the job" training in district business offices. Placement this year was as follows:

Automatic Electric, Brockville; Susan Slater, Gary Coulthart.

land, Marnie Johnstone.

Eckel Industries, Morrisburg, Alma Casselman.

Long Sault Fabrics, Long Sault, Bonnie MacDonald, Gloria McPhee.

McInnis and MacEwen, Morrisburg, Sandra Lucier.

L. Barkley, Clerk, Village of Morrisburg, Gary Gale.

The students were most impressed with all the offices in which they worked, and with the friendliness with which they were accepted.

We at Seaway are deeply indebted to the businessmen and employees of the above companies who so kindly contributed their time and effort to assist the students in their transition to the business world.

Teachers-Parents Night

The first "Teachers and Parents' Night" conducted by the Knox Church School was hailed as "excellent" by all those in attendance, Tuesday evening, April 28th, with approximately 60 per cent representation from the parents of the church school children.

Prepared as a fellowship-time for the promotion of a strong "home-church school" relationship, the evening began with a complimentary dinner in the church hall, prepared by members of the church school staff. A night "without the children under foot", many parents found a way to be present and to share in this mutual concern about the Christian Education programme of the congregation.

Opening remarks and welcome were extended by the Minister, the Rev. John Hibbs, following the dinner hour, followed by the introduction of the Church School Staff, Session Representatives, and officers. Mr. William Barnhardt Jr. is the Superintendent, and Mrs. H.B. Bradley the Secretary-Treasurer.

The motion picture film, "For Every Child", was shown, with the Minister conducting a resume of the principle of teaching inherent in the church school classes, relative to knowledge of the Person of God. Using the medium of a blackboard, this resume detailed the three-fold approach to Christian Education in the congregation, contrasting former approaches with present involvement experiences of teacher and pupils, through dialogue in the class, class creative work, field trips, and family oriented youth services. Mr. Barnhardt then outlined "A Day in the Church School", elaborating upon the corporate experiences of teacher and pupils, through dialogue in the class, class creative-oriented youth services. Mr. Barnhardt then outlined "A Day in the Church School", elaborating upon the corporate experiences of special days, and church school outings. Mr. Arle den Hartogh of the Kirk Session presented a resume of Catechetical work in the church school, relating his remarks to the Heddleburg Confession and the Westminster Confession of Faith, 70 per cent of the church school pupils are involved in catechism studies as part of the overall teaching programme.

The evening concluded with the Rev. Hibbs thanking those who attended this first occasion in the life of congregation; special commendation to Miss Dacie MacKenzie for her fine spaghetti and meat dish "cook's" special; and to all who helped prepare the programme. Mr. James Ward, speaking on behalf of the parents, thanked the church school staff, Minister, and Session Representatives for a very excellent informative evening.

Following an outline of the class structure of the church school, noting that there is a present enrollment, including cradleroll register, of 84 children, and a staff of 13 teachers the Minister encouraged the parents to visit the various class rooms, where the teachers explained the materials being used in the teaching situation, class projects, and shared in parents' pupils' concerns.

Members of the Knox Kirk Session and their wives also shared in this evening of Christian Education concern.

Knox Church To Mark 96th Anniversary, May 3rd

The 96th Anniversary of the congregation of Knox Presbyterian Church will be observed with one service of commemoration, this Sunday evening, May 3rd, at 7:30 p.m., and to which the churches of the village have been invited. The sister congregation of St. Andrew's, South Mountain, will also share in this occasion.

Guest speaker for this anniversary commemoration will be the Rev. William H. McLennan, B.A., B.D., Minister of Roxborough Park Presbyterian Church in Hamilton, and Director of "The Wayside House" in that city, a ministry of church and community for the rehabilitation of male alcoholics. Mr. McLennan will be speaking to the topic, "Addiction As A Way Of Life", timely in its concern with the increasing number of young people and adults alike, in our society today, who are becoming addicted to chemical comforts as a "way out of" personal responsibilities.

The Rev. McLennan, a graduate of Knox College, Toronto, brings to his subject the past 2 years of ministry he has directed in the city of Hamilton at the rehabilitation centre called "Wayside House". A former advertising manager, sales representative, and factory worker, Mr. McLennan brings also a wealth of experience in the field of personal encounter and personnel placement. He has been responsible, with other clergymen and laymen, in making "Wayside House" a place of residence, re-employment opportunity, and mental-physical rehabilitation for many, otherwise derelict victims of alcoholism. Working closely with Alcoholics Anonymous and The Alcoholism and Drug Addiction Research Foundation of Ontario, this team ministry of church and community has been given positive recognition throughout western Ontario.

Sharing in the congregation's observance, the Knox Senior Choir, under the direction of the Minister, the Rev. John J. Hibbs, and Mrs. A.E. Bell, Organist, will offer a special anniversary ministry of music, including the anthem selections: "The Lord Is My Light" by H. Smith; "If I Had A Hammer" by Hays-See-gar; and "With a Voice of Singing" by M. Shaw.

Concluding this Anniversary commemoration will be the annual Turkey Dinner, to be held in the church hall, Wednesday, May 6th, with servings beginning at 5 p.m. and until all are served.

Friends of Knox are most cordially invited to share in this occasion of anniversary celebration.

UCW Discuss Discontent Between French and English

The well attended April meeting of the United Church Women was held in the church parlour on Tuesday evening.

The President, Mrs. George Fowler opened the meeting with a poem entitled, "Making good use of your time."

Mrs. Ambert Brown acted as Secretary in the absence of Mrs. Eva Summers. Members responded to the roll call with various suggestions for new projects within the work of the women.

The worship which was centred around the theme of the Dominion of Canada was in charge of the Misses Edith and Gertrude Rander, with Mrs. Doris McQuaig at the piano.

Among the items of business discussed were plans for our annual visit to Glen St. Dun Lodge along with members of the Women's Institute. The date set for this occasion is May 20th. Program conveners were appointed for same, and arrangements made for sandwiches and cookies to be served at the close of the evening's program. Several of the ladies offered to drive their cars and take all those wishing to go, whether they are taking part in the program or not. It has been noted during the past several years that a number of people attend this program, and make it a little more meaningful by visiting around the people there, even though they may not be participating in the evening's entertainment.

In giving her report the treasurer, Mrs. Doris McQuaig outlined a number of items purchased for the manse.

Many articles of good used clothing have already been brought in for the bazaar which will be packed on Wed., May 20 in the church parlour. Anyone having articles for the bazaar may still bring them in before that date.

Mrs. Cougler, Mrs. Edna Beebe, and Mrs. William Ayscove were in charge of the program, their theme dealing with the causes of discontent between French and English, not only in Quebec, but across all of Canada. It was pointed out that although Quebec is 80 per cent French speaking, there are 1,000,000 English and non French residents. Moreover, 850,000 French speaking citizens live outside of Quebec. It is estimated from various newspaper polls that but 13 per cent of French speaking Canadians want separation in Canada. A very large percentage want more control over Quebec affairs. Grievances are desperate enough to produce violence and urgent enough to threaten Confederation.

The Quebec election picture was summarized: Union Nationale Party, under Jean Jacques Bertrand; Keep Canada together, but a new constitution by 1974 or a referendum for possible separation.

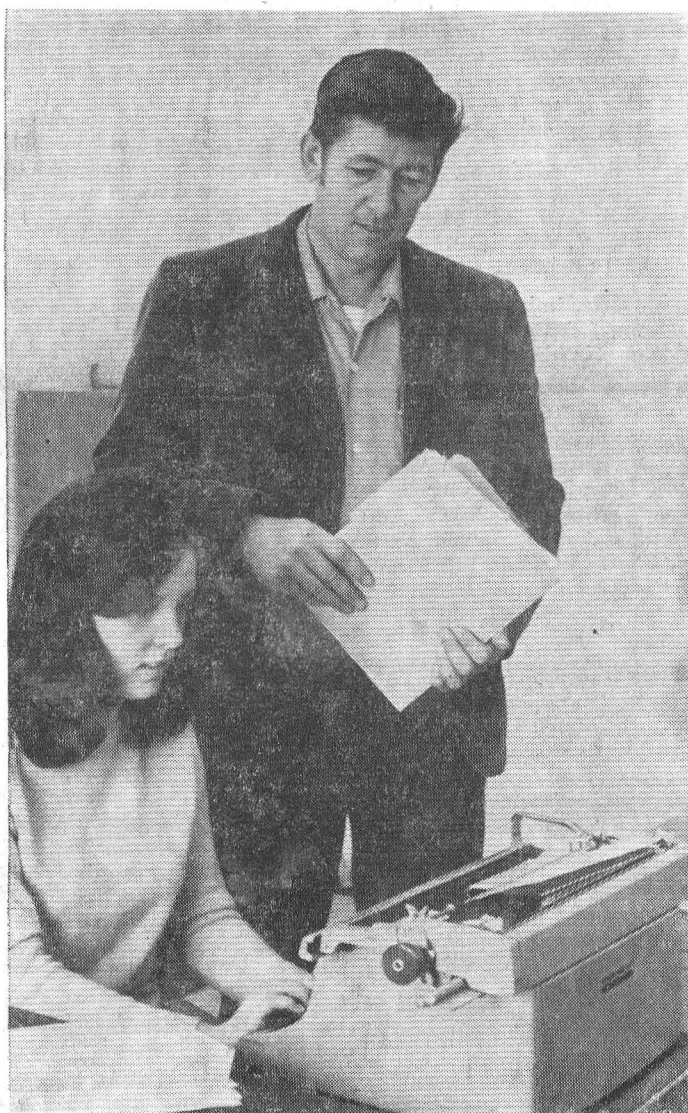

Liberal party, under Robert Bourassa: Federalism must remain, but Quebec's distinct vocation to have a higher priority. Parti Quebecois, under Rene Levesque: Separation immediately; cooperation with the rest of Canada, as each needs the other.

Creditistes, under Camille Samson; Federalism, a new deal in economics.

Much lively discussion took place throughout this very interesting meeting, and the entire program left us with much food for thought.

In keeping with the theme, Mrs. Helen Smith closed the meeting with a very appropriate poem, entitled "The Habitant".

Mrs. M. Feiterly conducted a contest which created much enjoyment, after which a cup of tea was served by the ladies who had been in charge of the evening's program.

Shows Typing Ability

"Industry"

The Consumer Credit controls announced by Finance Minister Benson in his recent budget may be necessary weapons in the fight against inflation but they obviously will do nothing for corporate profits.

To the extent that they achieve their purpose of slowing demand for such consumer durables as automobiles, appliances and home furnishings, the new restrictions are bound to depress the earnings of many companies, particularly within the industries most affected.

The impact of these developments should not be minimized for they come at a time when profits are already noticeably on the decline. Latest evidence from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics confirms that the sharp, seven per cent drop in corporate profits in the third quarter of 1969 was followed by a further two per cent fall in the fourth quarter.

Since profits normally rise in the last quarter of any year, this last is as serious as it is unusual. There has not been a fourth quarter decline in profits since the session of 1960.

It is too early yet to know what happened in the first quarter of this year but certainly there is nothing to suggest any reversal of the trend. Clearly, business is feeling the pinch even before the new controls on consumer credit take effect. They can only serve to intensify the squeeze on profits as companies attempt to cut costs and raise (or at least hold) sales at a time of mounting expenses and slackening demand.

One little realized consequence of shrinking profits is the reduced revenue accruing to government. Since Ottawa takes something like half of all corporation profits each year—providing nearly one-quarter of total federal revenues—this is a matter of major concern to the Finance Minister. He at least is well aware that the profits tax, among other things, makes a vital contribution to the payment of Canada's fast-rising social services bill.

In this budget, Mr. Benson acknowledged the slide in profits and his estimates for the coming year are based on a five per cent drop in revenues from this source. It is an estimate which may well prove to be distinctly on the conservative side.

The immediate outlook for corporate profits, it must be concluded, is not good and, on the available evidence, likely to get worse before it gets better. The implications are not pleasant, but they will have to be faced—by labour and government, no less than by management and shareholders.

NOW YOU SEE IT,
NOW YOU DON'T

Personal incomes in Canada, measured on a household basis, The Financial Post notes, are now up to an average of $11,000 a year, almost double those of a decade ago. In this period there has been a tripling of total income tax payments, but the average household still has $9,000 left to spend, save—or use to pay other taxes. Averages like these, The Financial Post comments, provide abundant statistical evidence that, for most Canadians, the 1960s brought about a major advance in living standards. But with the acceleration of direct and indirect taxes since the mid-1960s, many families have good reason to wonder whether, in fact, they are really better off. Special calculations, made by The Financial Post, show how devastating has been the bite of higher prices and higher taxes. The $10,000 a year man of 1960 would have to earn $14,342 this year to maintain his 1960 standard of living. Through the first half of the 1960s, he would have had to add only $870 to keep abreast of increased prices and taxes—but to keep up from 1965 to 1970 he would need another $3,472. Back down the income scale, the $5,000 earner of 1960 now requires $6,993 to offset higher taxes and prices; the $7,000 man, $9,916. The Financial Post comments: In the current battle to regain price stability, our various political governors do not make much of the inflationary impact of higher taxes on incomes and on income demands. Yet for people who earned more than $7,000 in 1960 ($10,000 today) the inflation of taxes through the late 1960s has eroded incomes substantially more than has the inflation of prices.

JOBLESS RISE
COOLING STRIKES

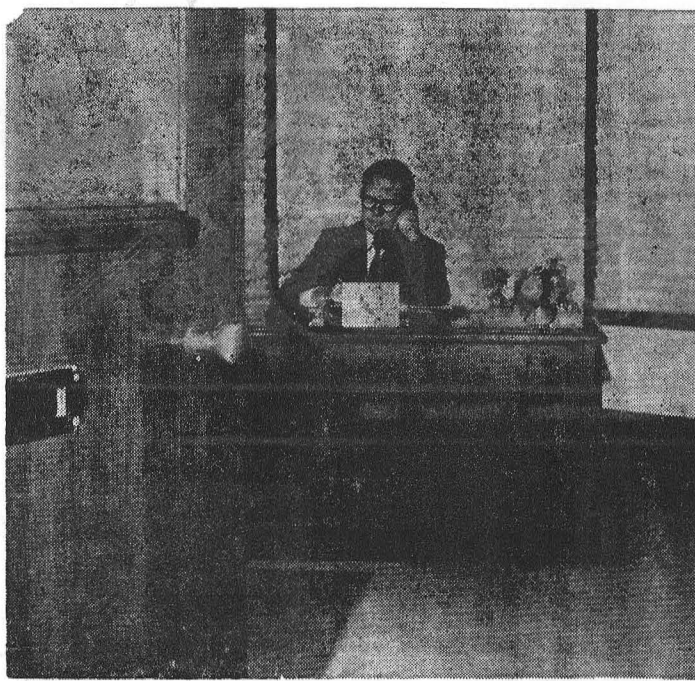

Apprehensive about rising unemployment, John Schreiner reports in The Financial Post, 440 Consumers' Gas Co. office workers ended a month-long strike this week in 11 Ontario centres. Earlier this spring, 8,000 Canadian General Electric Co. employees in Ontario—also nervous about layoffs and plant closures—accepted a company offer that the union bargaining committee had advised the employees to reject. These examples, The Financial Post writer says, show how the rise in unemployment during the past six months is starting to affect collective bargaining. A positive trend cannot yet be pinned down—but it seems likely that one is the making. The Financial Post notes that in the Consumers' Gas case, a union official explained that the strike collapsed because a quarter of the membership had already returned to work. With the high rate of unemployment, they were worried that they might be replaced if they stayed out too long.

ARCTIC SOVEREIGNTY

Hardly any recent issue has gripped Canadians like that of Arctic Sovereignty. We see the economic potential of the north; we are concerned about our defence; we fear pollution; above all we feel the north is "ours".

WE OWN THE LAND

We own the Arctic Islands—no Nation challenges this. We also control the Arctic seabed and the mineral resources lying beneath it. What has been uncertain is our right to control shipping in Arctic waters.

FREEDOM OF THE SEAS

Freedom of the Seas is an ancient principle of international law. Until recently the jurisdiction of coastal states extended only three miles—the distance of a cannon shot in far off times. The right of coastal states to control fishing and pollution beyond this limit was doubtful. Canadians were alarmed that our ice-bound Northern waters would be opened to the shipping of oil tankers and threatened by catastrophic pollution from oil tankers.

A NEW TWELVE MILE LIMIT

In recent years, with Canada taking the lead in international conferences and otherwise, a 12 mile limit has come to be accepted by the world at large. The Territorial Sea and Fishing Zones Act now before Committee having received unanimous approval on second reading in Parliament will establish a 12 mile limit for Canada. It also gives the Government power to establish fishing control zones beyond this limit to conserve fisheries now being indiscriminately depleted by other countries.

PREVENTION OF ARCTIC POLLUTION

A companion Bill which has also received second reading agreement in Parliament by a vote of 198-0 will give the Government power to prevent pollution of our Arctic waters, including an area 100 miles beyond our Arctic coastlines. In detail, we will control navigation, the structure of vessels and take other steps, including the prohibition of shipping in dangerous circumstances, to prevent pollution. This is a large assertion of sovereignty which goes beyond existing rules of international law. As a result, we have withdrawn this action from the jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice. But we will try to have the world community accept this vital principle of pollution control and to overcome the present bias of international law in favour of maritime commerce as against the rights of coastal states.

RESULTS

The effect of these two bills is to give us complete de facto control of our Arctic waters. By asserting our right to control pollution and fishing, we have taken a long step forward not only for Canada but for the world. The conservation of resources and the prevention of pollution are world problems. Although our action has been objected to by the United States (as it appears more as a matter of form), we can be reasonably confident that ultimately all responsible nations will follow our lead. When we consider that there were more than 50 wrecks in the world last year similar to that of the "Arrow" off Nova Scotia and that more than one million gallons of oil were spilled into the Seas, the need for international action is clear. The ancient right of freedom of the seas must be limited to protect us all from these destructive consequences of the pollution of our global environment.

DIED

Mrs. Mary E. Tennant, 78, a resident of Wassaic since 1930, died at her home on Tuesday, April 14.

Born in Ireland, November 6, 1891, she was the daughter of Robert and Ellen Hopkins. Mrs. Tennant was employed at Wassaic State School until her retirement in 1960. She came to this country in 1913. Her husband, Chauncey Tennant, predeceased her eleven years ago.

Mrs. Tennant is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Susan E. Toner the Bronx; and Mrs. Henrietta Walsh, Flint, Michigan, several nieces and nephews.

Two sister-in-laws Mrs. Mary O. Curry, Clinton Corners, N.Y., and Mrs. Kathleen W. Stinchcombe, Parkton, Ont.

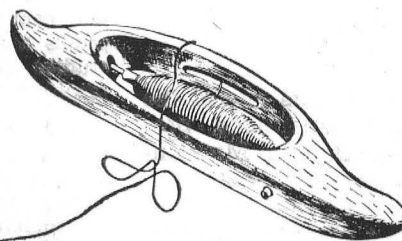

Funeral services was Saturday, April 18, at 11 a.m. at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Amenia Union. The Rev. Walter Allyn Rogers, officiating. Burial will be in the Amenia Island Cemetery, beside her late husband.

Magnificent tapestries, sometimes taking years to complete, decorated the walls of many homes and churches in the Middle Ages. Woven with richly colored strands of silk and wool, they often pictured scenes from the Bible. To create a beautiful tapestry required patience... skill... devotion.

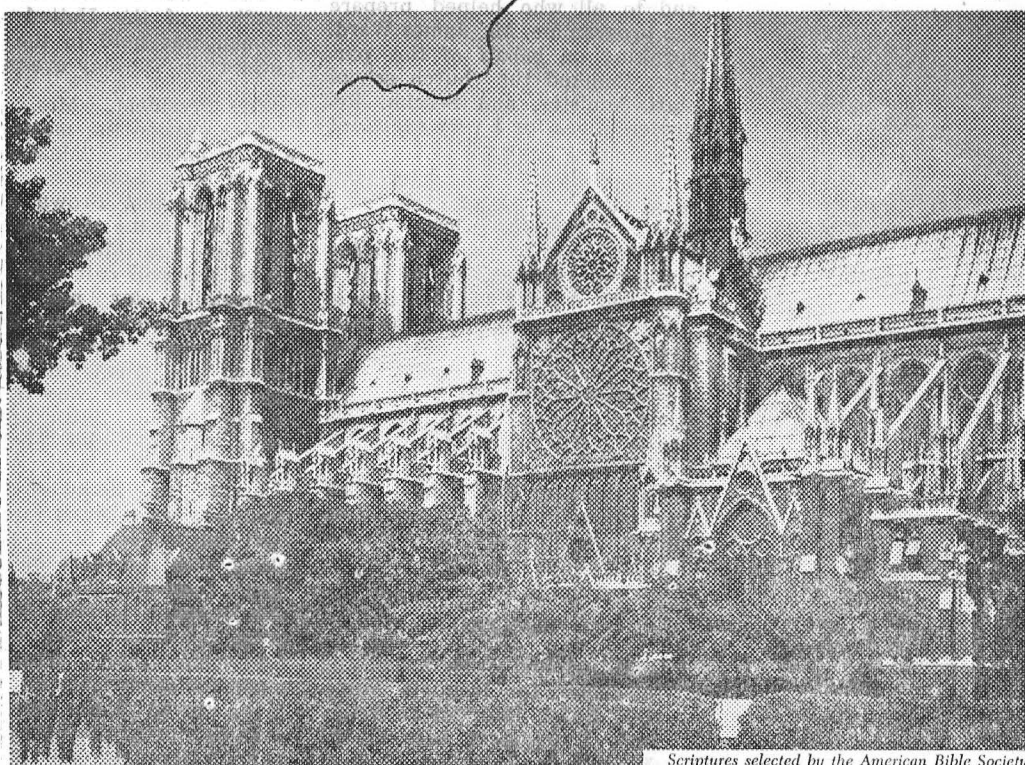

Today each of us weaves a tapestry—the fabric of our lives. We sit at a loom, wondering whether the pattern of our lives will be of bright rose, green or golden threads, or whether the events will show as somber, dark colors.

A weaver in the Middle Ages worked on the reverse side of his tapestry. By looking up at a mirror, he could see how the entire design looked on the right side.

When we look up to God in worship, we can see with clarity the pattern of our lives. Attend the church of your choice for perspective on your life's tapestry.

It'll cost me a fortune

No major, or even minor theme this week. Just a few observations. Perhaps the most important to me is that my daughter has turned over a new leaf. Or perhaps it's just an old stone. She is studying hard for two music exams, and actually has a job, part-time.

She has learned, in a remarkably brief period, that "bread" as the kids call it, is fairly important when it comes to eating and keeping a roof over one's head. She has learned that jobs are mighty scarce when your only experience is playing the organ in a church one summer. She has learned that a Grade 13 certificate and one term at college has as much use as a third leg.

She came home on the weekend, with her danged cat and kitten, and clamoured for meat. Real meat. She's sick to death of hamburger and Bologna, and drooled over a steak in her honor.

But she's a criminal. She went back to the city with her kitten stuffed under her jacket. I believe it's against the law to transport animals on buses. However, she's a clever criminal, and may go a long way. She gave the kid a quarter of a sleeping tablet in milk so he wouldn't yowl for his mama and alert the bus driver. We've been left with the mother cat, an unexpected treat, like a hair in your meat pie.

We agree that Kim will be fired on the first day of her new job. Her function is to stock shelves in one of those cut-rate stores. And since she was three, her greatest attribute has been knocking over her milk, dropping full bottles of any liquid, and smashing cups and saucers while doing the dishes. It's not lack of coordination. She can play a Bee-thoven sonata. Oh, well. We'll see.

That's one thing off my chest. The next one is not so pleasant. I share with most Canadian citizens a sickening disgust at the attitude of most Members of Parliament toward their own financial security. At present, with their $18,000 a year, six of it tax-free, and various other "perks": Postage, travel, secretarial help, etc., they're grossing about $20,000, as MP Barry Mather recently pointed out. This is not wealth. Far from it, these days. And I think they should give themselves a reasonable increase, consistent with the cost of living and tax increases. But the proposed pension plan stinks to high heaven. Oppose it, with every means within your power.

The old pension scheme was rotten, and many men who had given most of their lives to public service wound up in poverty. But the new one is rotten in the opposite sense. Don't let them pass it.

Another item which has me pretty disturbed is that The Telegram News Syndicate, which circulates this column, wants an up-to-date picture of yours truly. Who first came up with this infamous idea I don't know, but vile and vicious are the words that first come to mind. It'll cost me a fortune.

I'll have to buy a wig. I'll have to have my remaining molars painted white. I'll have to pay a photographer to touch the whole thing up. And I'll still look like a veteran of the Boer War. My wife disagrees. She says my fine bone structure will always come through. Yeah. Just like a death's head.

However, I ain't scared. The grog blossoms won't show, in black and white. I can have my eyes debagged, which is expensive, but works. My Roman nose is intact, and perhaps a side shot, with the jowls taped up behind my ears, might convince some people of something or other.

Maybe they could take the shot from the waist up, and show the needle-holes where I had my cortisone shots. I would certainly be better than one from the waist down. I have bow-legs, and gout in my right big toe. Anyway, you'll be seeing it. Take a good snort, or a tranquilizer, before it comes out. I'll be right there with you.

But what the heck, we all have troubles. If nobody's were greater than mine, it wouldn't be a bad world. Cope with your own troubles, and don't let them drag you down. Look at the world troubles, and if you, personally, can do something about them, do it.

Otherwise don't let them drag you down. It's a long road that has no turning; you'll be a long time dead; and spring is here. Rejoice!

F. M. Cass Says Ontario Legislature Joins Conference

Last week was a short one for Ontario Legislature Members as the House adjourned on the Wednesday in order that all Members might be observers at the Municipal-Provincial Conference called to discuss all phases of Ontario current Government and fiscal problems and plans. This

Centre of Science and Technology should provide a very intensive study from both provincial and municipal levels of our present systems of government, taxation, welfare, planning and all other spheres of activity, and should result in much better and productive co-operation between and among all those public officials and officers charged with these responsibilities.

This was another week spent, apart from the Private Members' Hour debate on Monday and the processing of several private bills, in the Committee of Supply, this week debating the estimates of the Department of Mines. The problems of processing in Northern Ontario the mine rais mined there and of mine safety were the main topics. With respect to the former, the recently announced government policy requiring within the next few years, save in special circumstances, all minerals to be processed in Canada, was approved by all Members. And with respect to mine safety, the new Mining Act recently introduced and now before the Standing Committee, updating all safety procedures and rules for the mining industry will give much scope for further debate and informed understanding of, and publicity for, the needed changes embodied in the Bill.

On the Monday the Liberal and Conservative Members from the Lake Erie area provided for the Members a dinner of Lake Erie perch to demonstrate the tastiness of the fish from their area and that there was no danger to the consumer in such food despite recent publicity. All those in attendance reported a delicious meal and no ill effects. Hopefully this gesture will aid in restoring confidence in Canadian Great Lakes fish products on the market which are all inspected and declared non-toxic and non-injurious by government (Federal) inspectors. Too often zealous and often misguided publicity on such matters has grave consequences to the people vitally interested — in this case the fishermen whose livelihood depends on their catch and sale of same to the consuming public.

Despite the shortness of the official week in the Legislature the multiplicity of committee meetings with the normal demands on Members by their constituents has kept all Members quite as busy as ever, which of course is a condition to which all in the service of the public are inured.

The program at the Kingston Hockey School has again proved to be very successful and manager Jas. B. McCormick of the Kingston Memorial Centre reports that all six weeks of the original scheduled weeks of activity have been completely filled. In order to take care of the large overflow of youngsters wanting to register, an extra week has been added to the schedule and it will commence July 13. All the pros who headline the teaching staff have offered to come in one week earlier so that the overflow of enrolments can be taken care of.

This, of course means, in the event that there are any other youngsters wishing to enroll the program will only be available for the week of July 13 and of course could easily be filled by the time any further applications are made.

Members of the teaching staff of the Kingston Summer Hockey School have all had excellent seasons with Wayne Cashman, star for the Boston Bruins in their drive for the Stanley Cup and championship of the National Hockey League. Also back is Don Blackburn who played mostly with the Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League and he also had quite a few appearances with the New York Rangers.

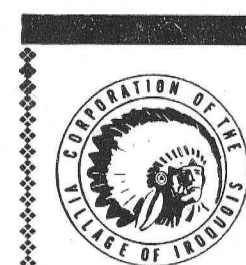

Two other veterans of the staff have made all-star mention in the Western Hockey League, with Dennis Kearns of the Portland Buckaroos making the first all-star team, and Larry Mavety of the Denver Spurs making the second team, although he was the highest penalized player in the league.

Bruce Landor, of the Springfield Kings, gained all star recognition in the American Hockey League during his first year as a pro, and he has been a goal-keeping instructor at the school for the past two years.

Newcomers to the staff include Randy Legge of the Buffalo Bisons and Syl Apps Jr. who not only led the Central Hockey League in scoring, but paced the Omaha Knights to the championships of that organization.

Amongst the boys in this area enrolled in the school are: Lance Valcour, Steven Montpetit,

Chosen Beauty Queen

Judy Byers, Miss Credit Union was chosen Miss Cardinal Fire Prevention Queen at the annual Fire Queen Pageant held Friday at Benson Public School, Louisa Armstrong, Miss Cardinal Motor Sales, princess was a close runner-up with Linda Crawford, Miss Town Council placing as "Miss Congeniality".

The auditorium held a capacity crowd when the Cardinal Fire Fighters Association held their annual pageant. Nine popular young ladies were judged on appearance in street clothes, bathing suits, evening apparel, on talent and on poise when confronted with impromptu speaking. Contestants, other than the three winners were: Jane Martin (Miss Minor Sports); Julie Crawford (Miss Local 483); Linda Gilmer (Miss Red and White); Darlene Lucas (Miss Burrell Fuels); Joyce Levere (Miss Cardinal Legion) and Melva Merkle (Miss Police Department).

Bob Durant of Radio Station CERA, Ottawa, was master of ceremonies for the pageant; Mrs. Margaret Armstrong was pianist and Mrs. Pat Reynolds was commentator.

Walter Livings, Council member, representing Reeve Arthur Casselman, welcomed those in attendance followed by brief welcome and remarks by Fire Chief William Gamble.

During intermissions musical selections were given by the talented Bolevert Sisters and by a second musical group. George Alexander, Chief of Fire Services of Ontario presented Chief Gamble with the award for Cardinal Department placing first in annual competition. On behalf of the Province of Ontario, Maurice Roussy of the Fire Marshall's Office, Cornwall presented Fire Prevention Officer, Lieutenant James Grant of the local Department with a Fire Prevention plaque and certificate.

This contest was conceived and planned as a supplement to Cardinal's Fire Department Fire Prevention program. It proved,

Hockey people from all parts of the Ottawa District Hockey Association jurisdiction will converge on the Skyline Hotel, in Brockville, on Saturday, May 2 for their annual hockey meeting. The meeting which gets under way at 1:30 p.m. sharp, has been called to review the past year's activities and to give direction to the Executive Committee for the new hockey season.

All junior and intermediate

The trustees of The Jack Miner Migratory Bird Foundation at their annual meeting announced the purchase of an additional acreage of 102.4 acres of land adjoining the land already held in trust by the Jack Miner Foundation.

This purchase was made possible by the Jack Miner Foundation of the late Sarah M. Scaife of the United States.

The stately maple grove of between 100 and 200 hard maple with trees from three feet to five feet in diameter is all being preserved and the underbrush taken out and ground levelled and seeded so it will be appropriate for placing picnic tables and benches for groups to hold old fashioned family picnics to be held during the summer as well as Boy Scout and Girl Guide camps. In the corner of the woods is an endless supply of water in a gravel vein only 10 feet in the ground.

East of the woods is a spring of water to supply a two acre pond which during the winter months was excavated out.

The property extends over a half mile back in from the road where there is thirty or forty acres of woods and land at one end where there never has been a plow in it and many virgin trees abound. This acreage is being left in its natural state with a nature trail made to wind through the area and the assistance of the local Nature Club is going to be solicited to collect wild flowers from all over the county and have a collection of natural native wild flowers to be unequalled in western Ontario. As well as wild flowers, daffodils, narcissus and other flowers will be planted by the walk.

Last but not least Manly F. Miner has made it known he plans at one end of the woods where there are no trees to make an interprovincial forest by writing the 10 Forestry Departments of the 10 provinces in Canada and solicit 100 native trees six feet high from each province to plant in rows and have the rows marked as being contributed from the various provinces.

The large acreage which surrounds the ponds will be used as a landing field for the thousands of geese that congregate here but during the summer months arrangements have been work the land for the foundation made with the former owners to grow and raise grain to feed the waterfowl.

Truly it is carrying out what President Nixon of the United last year, to be a successful means of developing co operation among community organizations and individuals.

Judges were Fire Chief Wm. Manoll and Mrs. Manoll of Brockville, John Radford, owner of Radio Station CFJR, Brockville, Maurice Roussy, Cornwall, Miriam Colligan, Morrisburg, Fire Chief Murray Storey, Iroquois.

Festivities concluded with Kathryn Phillimore, Miss Fire Prevention Queen 1969 crowning her successor.

Annual Meeting

teams registered with the OSHA this past season are eligible to send voting delegates and a record number of voting delegates are expected to be in attendance to review the past season's activities and to help set up the hockey program for the forthcoming season. The annual meeting is an open meeting and anyone is free to attend, but only the official delegates may vote on motions or amendments.

and the election of the new Executive Committee.

Several important amendments to the Branch constitution have been proposed and the voting delegates will be asked to endorse or reject these amendments. Two-thirds majority of the voting delegates will be necessary to amend any of the articles or By-Laws of the revised constitution adopted at the Cornwall meeting last year. Proposed amendments generally centre around By-Laws dealing with minor hockey and Branch assessments. Little opposition is expected to the proposed amendments to the constitution.

The meeting will conclude with the election of the Executive Committee for the 1969-1970 hockey season. The major issues centre around the office of 1st vice president, which is being contested by R. G. Fowler, the present Secretary Manager; Alfred Taylor presently chairman of minor hockey, and Joe Doyle just concluding his first year as a director. The six positions as directors of the OSHA are being contested by no fewer than 18 contestants, some of whom may withdraw before voting begins. Intermediate "A" and Junior "A" clubs will each be given (5) five votes while the Intermediate "B" and Junior "B" clubs will each have two votes and the Junior "C" clubs and present Executive Committee members will be entitled to one vote only.

The meeting will be highlighted by President Jean Cadioux's report on the year's activities. One or more CAHA officials are expected to be on hand to address the coaches, managers and other club officials.

Looking After Birds

States suggested in his 1970 speech to the Union when he said North America must provide more recreational areas for its people and landings areas for its wild life to be used not only now but in years to come.

The trustees of the Jack Miner Foundation take this means in this manner to thank the family of the late Sarah M. Scaife for their generosity for providing these funds to add this additional land to the land already owned by the Jack Miner Foundation which is visited annually by thousands of waterfowl and by tens of thousands of sight seers and tourists.

It is hoped that other men and women of wealth or other Foundations will also furnish The Jack Miner Foundation with funds to buy additional lands to provide safe landings for centuries to come.

Fire Fighters Met at Winchester

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Stormont Dundas and Glen gary Mutual Fire Aid Association was held in the Town Hall at Winchester on Monday, April 20th.

The meeting was called to order by President, Chief John Hehir of the village of Chester-ville.

A two minute silence was observed in memory of James Harper, a past resident of Chester-ville and a former member of the Cardinal Fire Department.

Chief Frank Gannon introduced Reeve Donald Christie of Winchester and the following Council members, Basil Dawley, Roy Pawcett and Walter Shad-bolt, who welcomed the Association on behalf of Winchester Village. Reeve Christie praised the Winchester Fire Department for their activities and general Fire Protection in that area.

The minutes of the last meeting held at Upper Canada Village on February 16th, was read by the Secretary, Chief "Gib" Ralst-trick of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission, which was moved for adoption by Chief Cyril Ray and seconded by Chief Merton Cassey of Maxville.

A report of all Committees was given in the following order: In absence of Hamilton Sum-mers of Long Sault, Chief Ralst-trick reported — that the co-operation of local newspapers in the three United Counties was and should be considered as part of our Organization. On a motion by Chief Clifford Rombough of Newington and seconded by Cyril Ray, that an expression of thanks be forwarded to the Editors of such areas involved.

Under Welfare, Captain C. Snider of Cornwall reported that cards and acknowledgments had been forwarded to two members in hospital.

The Sports Committee Chair-man, Chief Merton Cassey reported that the annual Curling Bonspiel at Maxville was a real suc-cess on February 21st, which showed expenditures of $137.00 and a balance of $38.00. Winning awards were presented to the following departments, 1st New-ington, 2nd Lancaster, 3rd Ches-terville and 4th to Maxville. He also reported a very successful day was held in Lancaster on April 4th. The two officers, Mer-ton Cassey and Norman Mather-son were praised for their efforts by Chief Vince O'Farrell of St. Andrews.

Chief Laurent Hebert of Cry-sler reported on membership at-tendance and advised that a new Fire Chief, Robert Little had been appointed at Williamstown. Chief John Miller of Avonmore explained the new point system cards and how they should be observed with reference to At-tendance, Fire Drills, School at-tendance, dues and other items. That at the present time the St. Lawrence parks standing was 20 points in the lead. He was thank-ed for this time and efforts by the president.

Captain Clarence Snider of Cornwall reported the following: That a past Presidents meeting for nomination of officers for the 1970-71 term would be held in Cornwall on Monday, May 11. That the regular annual meeting for all members would be in Cornwall also on June 15th. — That Chief John Hehir, L.A. Carriere and Captain Snider had been appointed a committee in charge of all trophy awards for the 1969-70 term. That "Roth-mans of Pall Mall Ltd. and "Levitt Safety Supplies were in-terested in sponsoring a trophy award in the near future. A new date, Saturday, October 24th had been set for the annual ban-quet and dance at the "Royal Hotel" in Cornwall, open to all members and friends at $3.00 each and that Chief Ralst-trick and Cyril Ray were in charge of all ticket sales. A special draw for a $100.00 bond would be in charge of Chief Vince O'Farrell of St. Andrews. The deadline of all ticket sales would be Septem-ber 1st. That the Ontario Fire Marshall Mr. Hurst or the At-torney General be invited as Guest Speakers with the topic on Re-gional Government.

Captain Snider was thanked by the president for his activi-ties and interest on this subject.

A lengthy discussion followed the reading of the correspond-ance received by the Secretary from Hastings and Prince Edward Counties Mutual Fire Aid Asso-ciation requesting a brief ques-tionnaire with regards to a $1000. deductible for volunteer fire-men to the Federal Government Department of Revenue. The Secretary was instructed to for-ward a letter to the Association concerned requesting that they contact each Fire Department in the three united Counties per-sonally.

The Ontario Fire Marshalls re-presentative, Mr. J.R.M. Roussey reported that the Regional Fire training school would be held in the New Fire Station at Corn-wall on October 26 to 30th with four instructors in attendance and from some fifteen depart-ments present he received twenty eight applications so far. The School will accommodate 40 students. We were further advised that two and one half days would be for lectures with the balance on basic training. A survey of Fire Departments for recommen-ded mappower, training and equipment from the Fire Mar-shals office, revealed that 77 Departments throughout Ontario had been made, in which fifty have been completed.

Under the order of New Busi-ness it was moved that at least two or three meetings be held each year for all Fire Chiefs in the three United Counties in which dates will be set by the County Co-ordinator.

That congratulations be exten-ded on behalf of the Association to Chief Clifford Rombough and the Council of Osnabrock Twp.

"Seaway" News Notes

SEAWAY SENTINEL

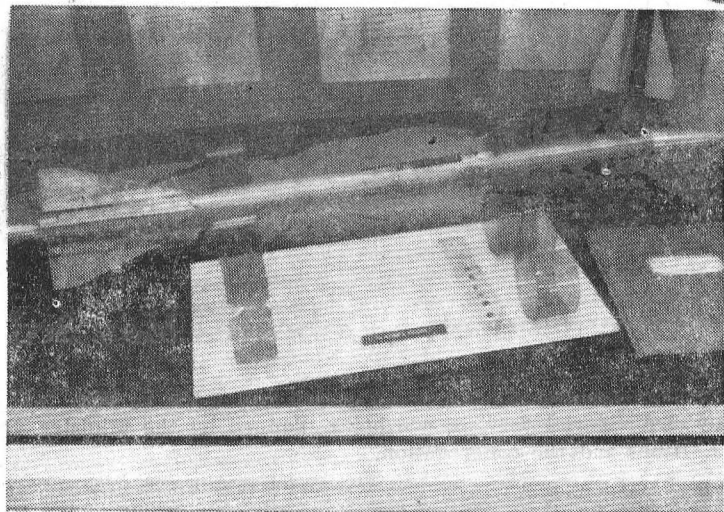

Here it is, as it appeared at the Rideau-St. Lawrence Science Fair. Permission from the Canadian Government is now required for the actual launching. Let us hope all the systems will work efficiently.

—Ralph Empey

P.D. DAY

Friday, April 24th the Secondary School teachers under the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Board of Education, met in the three Cornwall secondary schools for their Professional Development Day.

Seaway was represented on the English program in communications by Mrs. Helen Smith who spoke on senior creative composition and presented marking schemes which many, and especially new teachers, will find helpful. Other topics and related discussion included Canadian Literature, Theatre Arts, Film Making, E.D.L., Reading Improvement, and a Grade XIII Humanities Course.

The teachers all report an instructive day and interesting displays of audio-visual equipment and books. On the other hand, Seaway students who had been dreaming of Friday fishing and sunshine were disappointed. It rained and it came down in a deluge. However, teachers and students alike, were back to resume their duties in the classroom on Monday morning.

—Audrey Beckstead

OPEN HOUSE

On Thursday, April 30, Seaway will hold its second Open House from 7:30 to 9:30 in the evening. The public is cordially invited to attend any or all of the displays in the gymnasium, the shops, and the classrooms. Don't miss the Fashion Show. The tax payer will find it rewarding to trace his well spent dollar.

BAKE SALE

There will be a Bake Sale at the school between 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. Thursday, April 30. The public is invited to help us. Proceeds will help pay the transportation costs of the trip to New York and assist you with Thursday's menu.

REPORT

CHILD SAFETY WEEK MAY 3 - 9, 1970

More Canadian children are killed in accidents than die from major diseases. The biggest single killer of children is traffic accidents.

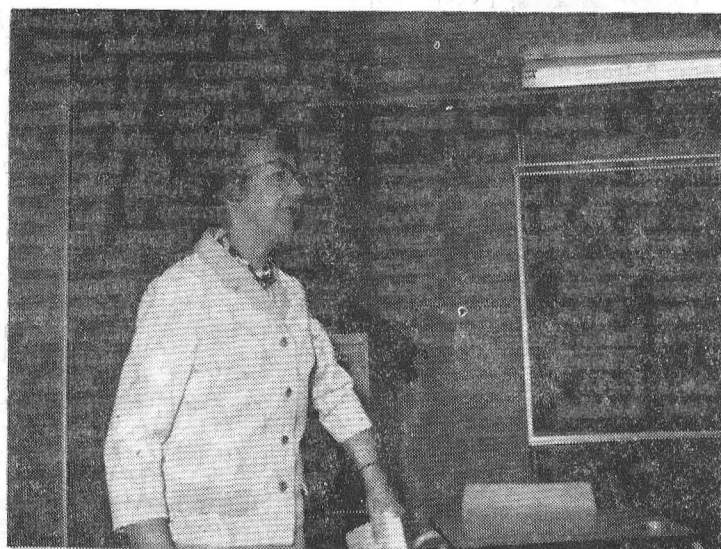

The latest figures show that in 1968, 826 children under the age of 15 died in traffic accidents. Of these, 21 were under the age of one. Almost half of these children could have been saved had they fastened in approved restraining systems when in a car.

Another 231 children died in the one to four age group. Most of these children died from being struck by cars while playing on the streets or driveways without supervision or after running away from parents or older children in charge of them.

Parents could have prevented these accidents by knowing where their children were at all times and keeping them in after dark. Pre schoolers need simple, clear cut rules such as "No running or playing in the streets". Parents should also show their children by example when they are walking with them.

In the 10-14 age group, 232 children were killed in traffic, the largest number while on foot, and the next largest number while on bicycles.

While emphasizing traffic safety in this campaign it must be noted that home accidents are

Dollars and Good Sense

by William J. Martin

This column is a regular weekly feature prepared by the Family Financial Counsel in Service of Avco Financial Services, P.O. Box 2820, London, Ontario. All questions submitted to the above address will be answered in print or by return mail. Names will not be used in print. However, all questions should be accompanied by a complete name and address.

Dear Mr. Martin:

When we were married a couple of years ago, my wife and I agreed to live on my salary and put hers in the bank. It was our intention that we would use "her" money only for those things that we really wanted. Now, I want to buy a new car for us and my wife agrees we need one, but she wants to keep what she calls "her" money in the bank and pay for the car from my income. I don't think she's being fair about it. What do you think?

The original concept upon

Mr. M.N. which you and your wife agreed upon is correct. Unfortunately, time has apparently changed her attitude. I have always maintained that if at all possible, income which the average working wife brings home should not be used for everyday expenses. It should be set aside for that "something" in the future which cannot be handled readily by the husband's income. I assume this is the agreement you and your wife made at the beginning.

It's probably very human for your wife to refer to the income which she has been bringing in for the past two years as "her" money rather than "ours." It may have been the acceptable way of defining or separating the two incomes.

I don't know the particular circumstances about the car — who will drive it the most, etc. — but I would attempt to convince her that the car will belong to both of you, not just to one.

In all probability there may be more to this situation than just buying a new car. I would suggest that you and your wife sit down and re-examine together your common goals and the spirit of partnership you established when you first married.

When you do, I'm sure that the matter of how you are going to solve it.

I continue to believe that the way to pay for your car will be the method of banking a working wife's income (when possible) is a sound program of family financial management.

77th Anniversary At Cardinal

The 77th anniversary of St. John's United Church, Cardinal, was observed with a return visit of Rev. Harry Seeley, of Elgin United Church, who was student Minister in the church for a period of a year or more.

Both services were well attended. In the morning Rev. Seeley chose for his sermon "What Have You Done With the Lord?", which was very inspiring.

Rev. R. Pentinga, minister of the church, conducted the services, Miss Margaret Kain presided at the organ, and the choir under the direction of David Hyde, rendered the anthems — "Glorious is Thy Holy Name" and "God Gives His People Strength" and led in the singing of the hymns.

For the evening service, Rev. Seeley, having just enjoyed a trip to the Holy Land, showed slides on the trip and talked on it also.

The choir rendered an anthem, Rev. L. Dean pronounced the Benediction.

Members of the choir were—Director, David Hyde; members, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Archie Campbell, Mrs. O. English, Miss Linda Casselman, Mrs. Smith Baldwin, Mrs. Donald Ufford, Mrs. A. Burwell, Mrs. W. E. Fletcher, Mrs. Sylvester Brennan, Mrs. A. Simpson, Mrs. J. O. H. Sayeau, Miss Marlene Weldon, Dr. A.S. Allen, Robert Maginnis, A Brand and A.C. Casselman.

Following the evening service a very enjoyable social time was spent in the church hall, where Rev. and Mrs. Seeley renewed friends. Mrs. Seeley was the former Marion Adams of Johnstown.

On Wednesday following the services, a well attended anniversary dinner was served.

The church bus from the Norwegian Seaman's Church in Montreal spent one day at Little Norway. The sailors Arng Tveit, Erling Roren, Tor Haslum, Thor Lauritzen, Bjorn Solheim, Arne Dahl, Knut Fosshaug, Odvar Mathinsen, Bjarne Syvertsen, Egil Rullth, Terje Haugen, Bjorg Sohaug, Elen Tveitan with her son Sondre 5 years of age all from the Norwegian Freighter M/V Thorswave, which opened the shipping season between east Canada and South and East Africa.

The bus was driven by Arvid Bruce and family of South March. Guests the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Froom and family were friends Mr. and Mrs. Robert Banks of Lachute, Que. and Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Fisher, Brookfield, N.S.

Congratulations to Miss Sandra Pitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Pitt, has been chosen as one of four Ontario 4-H Home making Club Members to participate in the 1970 Inter Provincial Exchange program. She will be visiting Alberta from July 6 to July 20.

We welcome to our community Mr. Basil Levere and daughters, who moved this week to the home he recently purchased formerly the Shanly Store and house.

Hagen, the assistant minister. Brian Langlois was also a guest.

The Norwegian Seaman's Minister of Montreal, John Mauritzen, together with the Norwegian Scientist Mr. Dag Moller, his wife and 3 sons Petter, Dag and Tore from St. Andrews by The Sea, N.B., recently visited Little Norway Riding Camp and spent the day enjoying themselves, riding and relaxing in the friendly atmosphere of the camp. Refreshments were served in Norwegian cuisine.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Vinnet, and daughter Claire of Perrefont, Que., Debbie Schlossberg of Montreal and Judy Catave of Wintrop, N.Y. were guests of Captain and Mrs. E. Risberg and daughter Carine at Little Norway Riding Camp, Cardinal.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

Toronto Telegram Syndicate

This bright-eyed baby is Patsy, just a year old. She is a small child with blue eyes, red hair and fair skin, Anglo-Saxon in descent. She is a happy, affectionate baby, sometimes a bit shy with adults, but enjoying other children.

Patsy is in excellent health. She eats and sleeps well and is active and responsive. She is almost ready to walk and is beginning to talk. Though there is mental retardation in her background, she herself seems normal in every way.

This dear little girl needs parents who will welcome her on her own merits without concern for her ancestry.

To inquire about adopting Patsy, please write to Today's Child, Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182. For general adoption information ask your Children's Aid Society.
