Munro—Parker

"Parkdale Farm," Cass Bridge, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding Wednesday, Sept. 25th, at high noon, when Pearl Daisy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Parker was united in marriage to Mr. Mr. Peter James Munro of Saskatoon, Sask. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Geo. Yule, pastor of St. Paul's church, Winchester. The bride who was given away by her father looked charming in a beautiful gown of ninon over satin and carried a boquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her veil of embroidered net was garlanded with orange blossoms. They were attended by Miss Nettie Munro and Mr. William G. Parker, and the music was furnished by Mr. B. Close. The groom's gift to the bride was mink furs, to the bridesmaid a signet ring, to the groomsman a pearl tie pin, and to the organist gold cuff links. The bride's mother received and wore a gown of black satin with touches of gold. She was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Clinton E. Jamieson of Peterboro who was attired in embroidered marquisette and Mexican lace. A dainty luncheon was partaken of after which the bridal pair left on the 4.56 p.m. train for Montreal and New York amid showers of confetti and rice. The bride travelled in a navy suit and black velvet hat with willow plume and amber trimmings. The many useful and valuable presents speak well for the popularity of the bride They are followed by the best wishes of their friends and acquaintances.—Press.

Obituary.

The following is taken from the Butler County Press, Iowa, and has reference to a former resident of Dunbar:—

Sarah Ann Sproul was born in Ontario, Canada, Sept. 13, 1834, and died in Greene, Iowa, Aug. 29, 1912, at the age of 77 years 11 months and 16 days.

Miss Sproul spent about two thirds of her life in her Canadian home, where she followed the calling of dressmaking and tailoring. In 1883, she left the place of her nativity and located at Greene, which remained her residence to the end of her iife.

Miss Sproul was a woman of retiring disposition, very kind and unselfish in her relations with others and exceedingly thoughtful of their welfare and happiness. She united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in mature life, in 1869, and remained a consistent member of that communion to the end.

She enjoyed good health all her life, until about a year before her decease, when her friends began to notice a weakening of her strength. Her death was caused by a fall, resulting in a broken hip, a few weeks before it came to mercifully relieve her from the excruciating pain and distress that followed.

She is survived by two brothers and a sister, as follows,—Wm. J. and Andrew, of Greene, and Mrs. W. R. Allison, of Canada, besides many more distant relatives and friends.

Morrisburg's tax rate is 25 mills this year. Last year it was 30 mills on the dollar.

Thanksgiving Day.

Monday, October 28 has been officially proclaimed as Thanksgiving Day.

Social Life in City vs. Country.

"Resolved that the social life of the Country tends to develop a higher type of manhood than does that of the City," was the subject of a debate which called forth a large audience at the Epworth League meeting in Trinity Methodist Church, Monday evening. The speakers, Messrs H. G. Merkley and D. G. Whidden for the affirmative, and Messrs W. J. M. Cass and W. T. Baker, negative, ably presented arguments on the merits of the respective sides.

It was a most enjoyable and informing controversy. The judges, Miss Shennette, Principal of the Public School, Mrs. Wholehan and Rev. Mr. James of Morewood, gave their decision in favor of the affirmative.

The Late Mrs. Devany.

The death of Ellen, wife of M. Devany, occurred at the family residence at Connaught, on Sept. 24th, 1912, at the age of 36 years, the cause of same being Jaundice.

The late Mrs. Devany was a daughter of the late John E. Gibbons and was born in Limerick Settlement.

She leaves to mourn her death a husband and two children, aged 3 years and 10 months respectively, and brothers, Bernard, on the homestead, John and James of Chicago, Henry and Gerald of Kingston, and Misses Mary, Bridget and Elizabeth of Chicago, and Bertha, of this place, sisters.

About 90 rigs attended the funeral.

Requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Fleming.

Interment was made in lower cemetery.

Messrs. O Devany, Jas. Gibbons and sister Mamie, and Nora Devany all of Chicago, attended the funeral.

The pall-bearers were, W. Barrett B. Coyne, M. Chalk, J. Robinson, J. Behler and Patrick Cain.

Whole Family Were Drowned

Omemee, Ont, September 29.—Five persons, a family party, were drowned yesterday afternoon in the Pigeon river near Omemee, when their canoe was overturned by the pull of a 14 pound maskinonge on a trolling line held by McCaffey assistant supply manager of the Canadian General Electric Company, Toronto. The dead are.:—

William McCaffey, aged 41, 16 South Drive.

Laura Seager McCaffey, aged 38, his wife.

Mrs. Mary McCaffey, Omemee his mother.

Grace Maxine McCaffey aged 12 his daughter.

Howard Seager McCaffey, aged 8 his son.

Mr McCaffey, a son of Charles McCaffey, of this town, came here with his famity on Friday to spend a short holiday. with his wife, mother, and two children he started down the Pigeon river yesterday morning on a fishing expedition. The weather was fine and though rain came on towards evening there was nothing in the nature of a squall.

No member of the party was seen alive after the canoe passed down the river.

When the party did not return towards evening, Charles McCaffey father of the drowned man, became alarmed, and organized a search party. seven miles down the river the canoe was discovered floating bottom upward. Dragging operations were commenced immediately. The search continued until 3o'clock on Sunday morning, by which time four bodies — those of McCaffey, his wife, mother and son— had been recovered. The body of the little girl was not found until 10 o'clock this morning.

Clutched in the hands of Mr. McCaffey when his body was found was the end of a trolling line. On the hook was a live maskinonge weighing 14 pounds. Mr' McCaffeys watch had stopped at 2.35 o,clock, McCaffey was an experienced canoeist and an expert swimmer. Maxine, the little girl had lessons in swimming. It is not known whether the other members of the party could swim or not.

An investigation was made by the local coroner this morning. He decided that the facts were so manifest as to render an inquest unnecessary. A quintuple funeral will be held on Tuesday to the Cemetery at Omemee.

The addresses of Mr. W. H. Goodwin of Montreal were upon the subject of the "Bible." In the morning the speaker gave an interesting exposition of the Parable of the Sower At the afternoon session Mr. Goodwin spoke of personal experiences of the directing power of the word of God.

At the evening service his theme "Obedience to God's word, the only way of testing its value upon life." Needless to say Mr. Goodwin will be cordially received whenever it is possible for him to visit the church again.

At the afternoon session of the Sunday School Miss Nellie Sullivan was presented with two well bound volumes Vandyke's "Out of Doors in Palestine," and the "Life of Helen Keller" for obtaining highest marks upon the Honor Roll. Attempt To Poison Well

An attempt was made this week to poison the well of John Polk, a farmer living at Portland in Leeds country. Mrs. Polk was first to the well in the morning, and to her great surprise found the pump filled with paris green. Her husband was at the well about ten o'clock the night before for a pitcher of water and all was right at that time. Fortunately no person drew water from it before daylight.

Man Found Dead on Track.

Yesterday morning the section men of Finch found the dead body of a man on the track just west of Cameron's hill. The coroner, Dr. G. H. Ellis of this place was called, and after viewing the body, decided that he evidently had fallen from an emigrant train which passed through Finch about 3 a. m., Oct. 2nd. His name was John Martindale, an English emigrant, aged about 45 years. He left Liverpool, Sept. 21st, for Edmonton, Alta., and landed in Quebec Oct. 1st. His watch, which was found broken on him, had stopped at 3.35 a. m. The remains are being held for a few days, as some parties are being communicated with.

The Eel Dead

Columbus, O., Sept. 27.—One of the horses entered in the-free-for-all pace of the Grand Circuit races will not go today to the post. The race is number 13 and The Eel, with a record of 2.02 1-4, died last night following several days illness of lung trouble. The Eel was owned by F. W. Entriken of Tavistock, Ont., was well known over the entire circuit and was considered good for second money in the race today. Independence Boy, with a record of 2.01 1-2, and Evelyn W., who has gone in 2.01 3-4, have the best records of the horses in the free-for-all pace billed for this afternoon. A cool air, clear skies and beaming sun make conditions ideal for the races today and a large crowd is expected.

THE PECTORAL FINS.

Without Them a Fish Would Stand Upon Its Head.

The pectoral fins of a fish are the two fins, one on each side, just back of the head. These fins aid the fish to some extent in swimming. They are small oars which the fish feathers very beautifully and are of value chiefly to preserve its equilibrium. It is with these fins that the fish maintains its horizontal position in the water when not swimming. Without them the fish would stand on its head. Sometimes a fish loses one or both of its pectoral fins by disease or by accident. A fish without pectoral fins is in a bad way.

While most fishes keep a horizontal position in the water when not swimming, there are fishes that do not. One of these fishes is the filefish, which when motionless suspends itself in the water, head downward, at an angle of forty-five degrees or even nearer the perpendicular. A filefish kept in an aquarium which had lost both its pectoral fins inclined over backward past the perpendicular when motionless to about the same angle that it would have kept in the other direction if its pectoral fins had been intact, so that when not in motion it seemed to be lying at an angle on its back.

In the same aquarium there was a striped bass weighing about a pound and a half, one of whose pectoral fins was attacked at the tip by fungus, which gradually encroached upon it. Finally the diseased portions of the fin were cut off with a pair of sharp shears, the cut being made within the sound part of the fin. At first the fish was like a man in a boat pulling one long oar and one short one—it couldn't hold a course. But it soon accustomed itself to its new condition, and thereafter it got along very comfortably.

TEST YOUR LUNGS.

A Simple Method by Which One May Measure His Development.

People often suffer from weak, undeveloped lungs without suspecting it. True, small, feeble lungs are usually associated with a small, narrow or sunken chest, but not invariably. By means of the misuse of physical culture it is possible to develop large chest muscles, thus acquiring a big chest measurement, while the lungs remain small and ill nourished.

Again, lung mischief is often so slow and insiduous in its approach that the trouble is not discovered until it is firmly established. Here, however, is a simple test which will tell you whether your lungs are healthy or not:

Take as deep a breath as you can, and then, in a slow but distinct voice count from one onward as far as you can without taking in more breath The number of seconds you can continue counting is a pretty reliable index to the state of your lungs, so you should have some one to time you.

If your lungs are sound and normally developed your range will be between twenty and thirty-five seconds. If your limit is between ten and twenty seconds, there is no need to be alarmed; probably your lungs are merely in need of exercise, to be readily obtained by regular deep breathing in pure air. A range of less than ten seconds, however, points to more or less mischief, and you should not delay in having your lungs examined by a medical man.—London Answers.

Chair of the Giant Idris.

One of the mountain peaks of north Wales is known as the Chair of Idris, or Cader Idris, as the Welsh people call it, because its top is hollowed out like an immense couch. According to local tradition, whoever spends a night in the Chair of Idris will on the following morning be dead, raving mad or endowed with the loftiest poetical inspiration. No one seems to know exactly who Idris was or when he lived, but he must have been a giant if his body was in proportion with his celebrated "chair." Mrs. Hemans has a fine poem with the Chair of Idris as the theme, and Tennyson also mentions it in "Ænid."

Tart!

In the days when Mrs. George Cornwallis West was Lady Randolph Churchill she mixed considerably among politicians and political affairs, and one story told of her shows how she scored off Mr. Joseph Chamberlain and the late Sir William Harcourt. They were chaffing her about some paintings she had done.

"But why not paint us?" one of them asked. "Where can you find more attractive models?"

"Impossible!" Lady Randolph exclaimed. "I could never paint you black enough!"—London Tit-Bits.

Fifth Monarchy Men.

The fifth monarchy men formed a religious sect that sprang up in the days of Charles I. of England. They were so called from the fact that they asserted that in the last days the four ancient monarchies, the Assyrian, the Persian, the Babylonian and the Roman, would be restored, and to them would be added a Christian monarchy, or fifth monarchy, of which Christ would be the king.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

THE boy who hasn't sufficient curiosity to follow a band should go into the ministry when he grows up and not try to make a living in business.

No man can tell how a marriage will turn out, but any woman can—and usually does.

Some men are born liars, some have to lie for a living, and some lie because their wives are too inquisitive.

Life is a toil, and love is a trouble, especially when the four-year-old requires three pairs of shoes a month.

A person's idea of a competency depends largely upon whether the person trains inthe automobile or the dinner pail class.

Women wouldn't care half so much about voting if the men didn't keep intimating that they don't know enough.

An unruly temper serves as good a purpose to a man as nerves do to a woman.

Some women pay more attention to their dogs than they do to their husbands, but then maybe the dogs growl less.

A man is always rather boastful of his youthful follies—when his son isn't around.

The Campaign.

Ladies and gentlemen,
Step right this way
For the grand display
Of oratory, verbal fireworks
And noise.
One who enjoys
Such manifestations
May have them to his heart's delight.
It is a fight,
Not to a finish—oh, no!—
Just for a show.
Each party will proclaim
That its game
Is the very best
And will test
One hundred per cent pure.
It is very sure
Of that,
And while talking through its hat
It emphasizes the fact
That now is the time to act.
To list to their chatter
One might think
Something was the matter
With this great land.
But when you understand
That the high notes
Are for the purpose
Of dragging down votes
You cease to care
How much hot air
They throw,
Because you know,
Whichever side
To power may ride,
The rivers will flow down hill
Still,
The sun will shine,
And the earth will not decline
To produce.
So what's the use?
The country will plug along
At the old stand
And
Be safe whichever side wins.

Makes a Difference.

"But most men who have that infliction consider it the most desirable alternative."

"It's different with Smiley."

"Why?"

"You see, he's a Mormon, and he has to send out about three checks of the sort a month."

More Particular.

"He can pull the wool over his wife's eyes all right."

"Not any more."

"Why not?"

"She demands silk automobile veiling now."

A Thoughtless Husband.

"I am so indignant."

"What is the matter?"

"I have just discovered that my husband lost a lot of money on the races."

"But, my dear, think how much you lost on bridge lately."

"I know it. And we simply can't afford to lose so much."

Dundas County S. S. Convention

(Morrisburg Herald)

The thirty-fifth annual convention of the Dundas County S. S. Association was held in Morrisburg on Tuesday and Wednesday, 24th and 25th, the Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning services being held in Knox church and the Wednesday afternoon and evening services in the Methodist church.

Nothwithstanding the very bad state of the roads and the unfavorable weather the attendance of delegates was most encouraging and the convention was a success in every way. Rev. W. H. Steven, of Chesterville, the president, presided at all services and proved himself to be a most capable and genial chairman. Mr. J. Jackson, of Brinston, the secretary treasurer, was also at his post throughout the convention and discharged his duties with marked zeal and ability.

The billeting committee, Miss J. Smith and Mr. F. H. Broder, of the Methodist church, and Miss McArthur and Miss L. Gillespie, of Knox church, were most painstaking in looking after the comfort of the delegates and all were most hospitably entertained by the members of the above named congregations.

The Tuesday evening session was opened at 8 o'clock, devotional exercises being conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. Cameron.

Rev. A. Harvey Strike of the Methodist church gave the address of welcome and in fitting terms assured the delegates of kind and cordial treatment on the part of the citizens of this, the most beautiful town on the banks of the St. Lawrence.

Mr. Stevens, the president, replied to the address of welcome, expressing the appreciation of the members of the convention for the cordial welcome extended to them.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. Hugh Pedley, D. D., pastor of Emmanuel Congregational church. Montreal, and was a luminous and masterly appeal that gripped the hearts of the large audience present. His subject, "The Smallness and Greatness of the Teacher's Opportunity," was a most timely and helpful one, and the speaker's treatment of it gave evidenae of careful thought and wide experience. Dr. Pedley referred to the fact that four influences moulded child life and the lives of young people, viz., the home, companions, public school, and the church, through the Sabbath-school. Coming to his subject he dealt with it under three heads, carefully explaining each, and emphasising them by most apt and telling illustrations. The first fact was "the compactness and vitality of truth." Truth is the seed and everlasting life in it. and this the Sunday-school teacher is engaged in sowing, by God's help, in the hearts and lives of the scholars. His second fact was that "In human lives there are certain critical hours" which should be carefully watched for the improved by the teacher. Third fact, "Pervasiveness and continuity of personality."

On motion of Principal Jamieson, seconded by I. Hillard, K. C., a cordial vote of thanks was tendered Dr. Pedley for his address.

The second session of the convention opened in Knox church on Wednesday at 9.30 a. m. After a praise service led by Mr. Ritchie Bell, of Montreal, devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. Philp of Iroquois. Reports were given by three of the township secretaries; as Mountain is yet unorganized there was no report from that part of the county.

Owing to the absence of those who were to give reports of the Provincial convention held at Brockville last October, their place was filled by Rev. H. Cameren, who attended the convention In his address Mr. Cameron referred to a number of the features of Christian work that had been emphasized by the speakers at the Provincial convention some of which were: The vast importance of careful Bible study; the need of the hearty co-operation of parents; the work of the Sunday School; the importance of careful preparation on the part of the teacher for this work; the reflex influence of Sabbath-school work on the church, and the optimistic tone of all who took part in the convention.

The afternoon session was held in the Methodist church and opened at 2 o'clook Mr. Ritchie Bell led in a praise service and devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. D. O. McArthur of Iroquois.

Then came the report of the convenors of the different departments of Sabbath-School work in the county. A round-table conference was conducted by Rev. Mr. Chandler, of Ormoud. A good many questions were asked and various opinions expressed regarding certain features of Sabbath-school and church work. Rev. E. W. Halpenny, Secretary of the Provincial Association, gave a most interesting address on the importance of various features of a helpful Sabbath-school service.

Mr. Cartner of Ormond, reported for the nominating committee and the report was adopted. The following are the officers for 1912-13: President, Rev. D. O. McArthur, Iroquois; vice-president, Rev. Mr. Chandler, Ormond; secretary-treasurer, Mr, J. Jackson, Brinston; recording secretary, Miss Merkley, Chesterville; heads of departmental work—elementary grades, Miss S. May Kyle, Colquhoun; junior grades, Wm. Bowen, Iroquois; adult Bible class, I. Hillard, K. C., Morrisburg; home department, Rev. H. Cameron, Morrisburg; temperance, Miss McTavish, Winchester; missions, Miss Bessie Carlyle, Dunbar. The above officers with the secretary-treasurers of the several townships from the executive, five to be a quorom. Rev. Mr. Stevens was appointed official delegate to the Provincial convention to be held in Hamilton in October. Rev. D. McArthur was appointed alternate.

The evening session opened at 7.30 o'clock. After a praise service led by Mr. Ritchie Bell, devotional services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Strike, pastor of the church. Mr. Halpenny gave a very able and helpful address on the care and culture of the child life. Dr. Alguire, M. P., of Cornwall, gave a splendid address on "Profitable Bible Study." The address gave evidence of careful preparation, a deep experience of the facts set forth, and wide knowledge of the suitableness of God's Word to supply man's many and great needs.

During the sessions on Wednesday Mr. Ritchie Bell rendered a number of solos which were greatly enjoyed by his hearers. Mr. Bell has a fine voice and knows how to use it to advantage.

Hearty votes of thanks were tendered to the speakers, the retiring president, and the kind friends who had so hospitably entertained the delegates to the convention.

Agreement Reached

The negotiations betw'n the Canadian Pacific Railway and their telegraph operators were brought to a conclusion on Wednesday night when an agreement was arrived at which was accepted as satisfactory by the representatives of the men.

The full text of the agreement is as follows:

Twelve per cent increase in wages to all operators.

One hour reduction per day in working hours for agents and operatorr.

Advance of five cents per hour for all work over regular schedule of ten hours per day.

Linemen will recieve ten per cent of an increase in salary and an allowance for overtime and Sunday.

This agreement was arrived at as the result of negotiations which have extended over a considerable period, and which at times threatened decided tension between the company and the men, represented by the Order of Railroad Telegraphers. The operators asked for a 15 per cent increase, with special provisions for overtime and a decided reduction in hours of work.

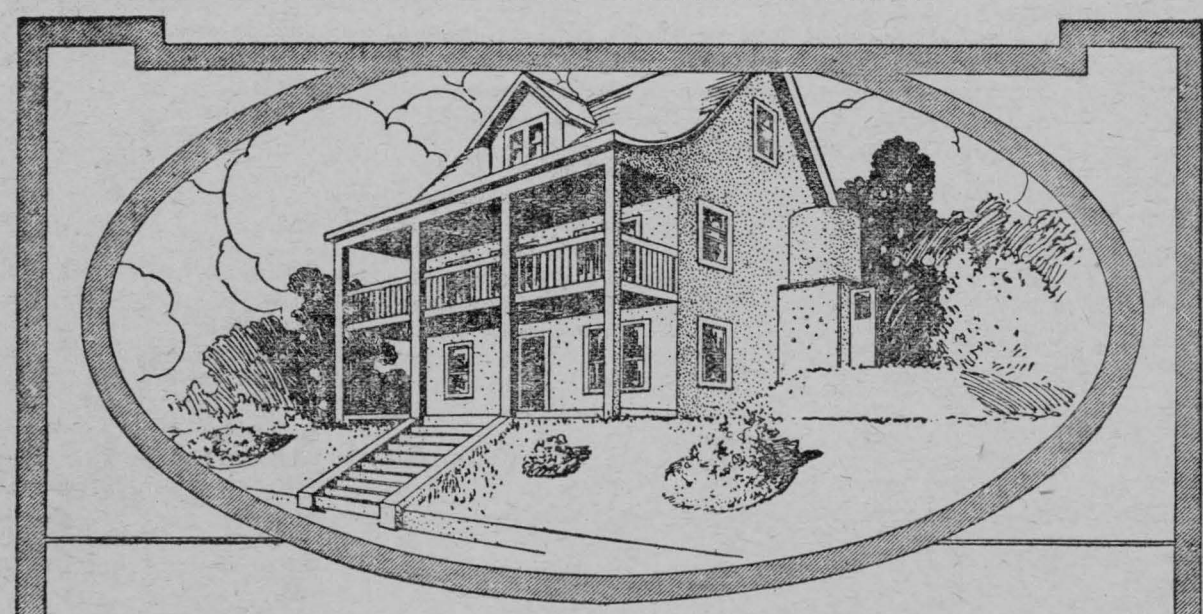
Write for the "Concrete Book"



IN Canada, where the winters are long and cold, houses must be solid and substantial. No "gingerbread frills," such as distinguish California bungalows, can be permitted. Canadian homes should be built to defy wind and cold, to keep warm inside when it's thirty below out-doors.

IT is because Concrete, of all materials, best withstands wind, water and cold, that it is fast becoming popular with Canadian home-builders. Concrete houses are warm in winter, requiring less coal for heating; they are cool in summer. A Concrete house never needs repairs; because, instead of decaying, it actually grows stronger with time and exposure to the elements.

VERY attractive architectural effects may be obtained with Concrete, especially for houses in the country, where the rough concrete surface harmonizes with its surroundings.

SINCE it never requires repairs, the first cost of a concrete residence is its last cost; and it is cheaper, for this reason, than any other kind of home.

NOT only is Concrete the best material for house-building. It may also be used in scores of other ways around the home and on the farm. For each of these purposes it is the best material known.

IF you haven't investigated the use of Concrete around the home and on the farm, write now for our free book, which tells all about the mixing and placing of Concrete, and describes hundreds of practical uses for it. Just say "Send me your book" in a letter or on a post card, and the book will be sent you absolutely free.

Eastern Ontario Stock Shows up Well in Milk Production.

A report of very great general interest has just been issued by the live stock commissioner's branch of the department of agriculture. It is the record of performance for pure bred dairy cattle in Canada and the fact that the list contains the records of cows owned by a great number of Eastern Ontario breeders speaks highly for the class of stock in this section of the Dominion. The period during which the tests were made covers practically a year and some of the records of milk production are of an exceptionally high order.

Nearly 500 cows in Canadian herds have won, on performance of milk production and regular breeding, certificates of record of performance. This has been accomplished within the six years that the tests have been in progress.

In introductory paragraph the report points out that while this work is of great benefit to the raisers of pure bred stock, it has an even wider influence in furnishing to the owners of grade herds reliable and valuable information. The chief aim of this work is stated to be to develop and perpetuate high producing strains of dairy stock under normal conditions of management and feeding.

In addition of the rules and regulations standards for registration, etc., the report furnishes a complete index of the owners of qualified cows together with the record, age, etc., of each successful animal. Anticipating a keen demand from breeders and owners of both pure bred and grade herds of dairy cattle. Hon. Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture, has authorized the printing of a large edition of this report which is distributed by the publications branch of the department of agriculture, Ottawa.

The records of the animals of Eastern Ontario which have won certificates are:

You can rip sod land with the CLIMAX and a 3-horse team—so it MUST be built strong! Yet the teeth won't smash if they strike a stone—their joints unlock and fly back to pass over unharmed.

Manitoba College used a CLIMAX on land rank with wild mustard; got rid of that bad weed; and grew oats 71 inches in the straw without a weed in the whole crop! The CLIMAX certainly does destroy weeds!

Each pole has a tilting lever; and these, with the pressure lever — all in easy reach of operator — exactly regulate depth of cut. Teeth go right for the roots of the weeds, and rip them out of the soil.

This is the stiff-tooth cultivator that gets the weeds OUT of the soil—not merely cuts off their tops or just tickles the roots a little. On dirty land you surely need the

The Canadian Seed Growers' Association.

The Eighth Annual Report of the Canadain Seed Growers Association which is now being distributed by the Publications Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, is replete with matters of interest not only to those concernd in the production of high class seed but to all who are interested in rural progress generally. In addition to the report itself there are included several addresses by such prominent authorities as Hon. Martin Burrell, Dr. Jas W. Robertson, P.of. C. C. James, Prof. L. S. Klinck, J. H. Grisdale, cte. Of special interest perhaps, is the paper presented by Mr. Rufus Stimson, Agent of Agricultural Education, Boston Mass., on "Vocational Agricultural Educrtion for Boys and Girls." The means adopted in Massachusettes and other States of the Union in interesting boys in farm work and in correlating the work of the school with ordinary farm work is most suggestive and should be carefully studied by all who are interested in the more efficient education of boys and girls in rural communities.

The above report may be had free of charge by applying to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Great Crowbar Sank From Sight

While cverseeing the digging up of the streets to permit of the extension of the water works system iu Cornwall, the superintendent Mr. Charles Lount, left two great iron crowbars standiug against the side of the excavation. He crossed the street to look after another section of the work, and when he returned a few minutes later one of the bars had sunk completely out of sight and the other was only a few inches above the surface.

One of the bars was recovered but although a depth of four feet was sounded the other could not be found, having gone beyond reach.

The bride who was unattended wore a beautiful gown of ivory satin with Irish point lace and crystal trimmings; veil and orange blossoms; and carried a bouquet of white carnations. After a dainty luncheon, the happy couple were accompanied by a few friends to the O. & N. Y. depot, Cornwall, where they took the South bound train Albany and New York. The bride wore a handsome tailored suit of navy broadcloth and velvet hat, trimmed with a white willow plume, and grey ostrich boa, the gift of the groom. On their return they will take up their residence in Russell.

To Educate The Farmers

Following on the work which has been accomplished by the Canadian Pacific Railway through its better farming specials, which have traversed not only the lines in the West, but throughout the Province of Quebec and New Brunswick, arrangements are now being made for a special train fully equipped to cover the Western section of Canada, for the purpose of educating the people to cultivate mixed farming. The country is suffering through a scarcity of mixed farmming, not only in the West but throughout the eastern provinces, and the time is now arriving when something must be done to encourage the industry.

Wheat farmers little realize the importance of mixed farming, and the fact there is a huge market for home produce of this kind. 'The Mixed Farming Special' is scheduled to commence its journey on October 28, and will continue throughout the month of November.

The Hon, Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture for Alberta, is making arrangements, and has recieved every possible assistance from the railway company. The equipment of the C. P. R. train will consist of two car loads of pure bred stock, two passenger coaches fitted for lecture rooms, one baggage car for displays of grains, grasses, weeds and dairy produce, a car load of poultry, one sleeper, and diner and one box car.

Schools will be held for three hours at all stopping places, beginning at nine o'clock in the morning and two o'clock in the afternoon. Arrangenents will be made in advance at all points, and no time will be wasted.

The following officials will accompany the train: Professor W. J. Elliot of the Department of Natural Resources; C. E. Lewis provincial superintendent of fairs and institutes; H. A. craig superintendent of demonstration farms, and other provincial officials. The train will be made up at Calgary and there will be on board special lecturers, attention being particularly directed to the breeding of livestock and the raising of poultry, dairying hog raising and vegetable growing One of the interesting collectionson the special will be the noxious weeds in different stages of growth. I intend to have every section foreman and every section man on our road,' said one of the prominent railway officials, 'see that display of noxious weeds, in order that our right of way may be kept clean, and I have no doubt that the farmers will need an introduction to these weeds quite as much as the railwaymen. That feature alone should attract the farmers to the train.'

Schools will be held at Cochrane, Langdon, Irvine, Bow Island Bassano, Walsh, Taber, Stirling, Raymond, McGrath, Cardson, Carmangay, Okotoka, High River, Cowley Pincher Creek Crossfield, Didsbury, Vulcan Red Deer, Bowden, Coronation, Castor, Stettler, Alix, Ponka, Wetaskiwin, Provost Hardisty, Killam, Daysland, Leduc and Camrose.

The service which was conducted by the Dean and Rev. Mr. Dobbs. The hymns sung were "Lead Kindly Light" and "Now the labourer's task is over." The Dead March in Saul was played as the body was borne from the cathedral to the funeral carriage.

The cortege from the cathedral was a lengthy one. Among the prominent men in it were Senator Lougheed, Senator R. Jaffray, Toronto; Hon. Charles Murphy, ex-secretary of state.

At Cataraqui cemetery the committal service prayers were said by Rev. O. G. Dodds and the final collect and blessing by the Dean of Ontario.

Among the floral tributes were wreaths from the Dominion Government and the Senate, the Montreal Liberal Club and the Kingston Reform Association.

The body was laid in the family plot, not far from the graves of four other distinguished Canadians, Sir John Macdonald, Sir George Kirkpatrick, Sir Alexander Campbell, and Sir Henry Smith.

SMITH'S FALLS

The Coming Railroad City.

The present growth of Canada is phenomenal and the prosperous conditions that exist are beyond question. As a result of this growth and prosperity many towns are springing into prominence all over the Dominion.

The town of Smith's Falls in Eastern Canada, however, is particularly attractive at the present time, not only to the business man and the investor, but to the manufacturer, because Smith's Falls now has the Canadian Pacific Rly., the Canadian Northern Rly., the Rideau Canal with the beautiful chain of world renown lakes, as a means of transportation. A recent announcement states that the G. T. Rly. will shortly run a line through Smith's Falls to Ottawa. The Kingston and Ottawa Electric Line is under way, the right of way already surveyed and the Hydro Electric Co. has 120,000 H. P. of electric energy to place in Smith's Falls whenever it is called for. All this insures cheap power and cheap competitive railway rates, and it is essential to manufacturing interests. Smith's Falls is the livest, most progressive town east of Peterboro, and a most important divisional point of the C. P. Rly., through which point nearly all that vast volume of freight both going west and coming east must pass. It is at Smith's Falls that the C. P. Rly. bring their famous Silk trains, every one worth over a million dollars, and it is at this point where the distribution takes place. Over 250 houses are at present required in Smith's Falls, and this town will have a boom shortly that will literally carry it off its feet. Already new industries are seeking information about Smith's Falls and new businesses are locating there. Places of business are absolutely at a premium, in fact, on the Main Street it is impossible to secure a site, and recently the firm of C. C. Cottrell, Limited, had to buy out a business and pay a good stiff price to obtain a stand.

"Rideau Heights," the new sub-division being put on the market at one cent a foot and up is really one of the most interesting Real Estate propositions launched by C. C. Cottrell, Limited, because the demand is there for the lots, and nothing of the kind has ever been attempted. The rush for these lots at the lowest prices, ever heard of without interest is unprecedented and not only are Smith's Falls people buying fast, but every town within a radlus of 60 miles, who all know what a progressive place Smith's Falls is, are sending in orders for these lots. It is safe to say the disposal of this property will be a record in Real Estate sales and any one desiring to secure some of the greatest bargains in Building Lots, should communicate with C. C. Cottrell, Limited, Smith's Falls, at once. Fill in the coupon and full particulars will be furnished on demand. Prompt application alone will secure some of the choicest of this property.

TRACING A CRIME.

Clever Detective Work by a University Professor.

THE KEEN EYES OF SCIENCE.

They Detected Blood Where There Were No Apparent Traces of It and Found Telltale Finger Marks That Pointed Direct to the Criminal.

Mme. Guian was the wealthy widow of Jean Howard Guian, former president of the Bank of France. Mme. Guian was seventy years old. One night she took a train at Fontainebleau for Paris. She had to herself a first class compartment. When the train arrived in Paris the porters found her compartment unoccupied. The door had been half torn from its hinges, there was a great pool of blood on the floor, and the police picked up from floor a handful of woman's hair, a torn piece of skirt and a first class railroad ticket from Fontainebleau to Paris.

A search along the railroad tracks resulted in the finding of Mme. Guian's body beside the rails just outside Fontainebleau. It was greatly mangled. A little farther on was found the satchel she had carried. There were no rings on her fingers and no money in her pockets.

Mme. Guian's relatives took the ground that she had been seized with a hemorrhage, to which she was subject, had tried to open the door of her compartment to summon aid or to get air; that she had in her paroxysm wrenched the door open and had fallen off the train, killing herself. The police were not satisfied with this explanation, particularly after Professor Reiss, the famous Lausanne university criminologist, had pointed out that the cut on the woman's satchel had been made by a knife and not by a sharp stone, as had been thought. This, however, was very little evidence, and Professor Reiss turned his attention to the compartment which Mme. Guian had occupied. After he had finished his investigation he went to M. Lepine, prefect of Paris, and said to him:

"I am sure that Mme. Guian was murdered, and I am equally sure that her murderer was a soldier. In the train compartment there were a towel and a stationary washstand. There were no stains upon the towel visible to the naked eye. Nevertheless we subjected every square inch to one of the most delicate tests for blood. We at last discovered an area which gave us the positive reaction for human blood.

"Upon this towel the murderer of Mme. Guian wiped his bloody hands. He knew that this would be evidence that the old woman did not meet her death by accident as he wished it believed, and so he washed the towel thoroughly, as he thought, and hung it up to dry.

"The detection then of this microscopic quantity of blood, which can be removed from a fabric only by acids, revealed to us that Mme. Guian met death by the hands of a murderer.

"But I found another piece of evidence. There was, if you remember, a railroad ticket picked up on the floor. On its back was the imprint of a thumb. I compared it with that of Mme. Guian; it was not hers. I threw its image up enormously on a lantern screen. I was then struck by the peculiar indentation of the little ridges on the inner side of the mark. Careful analysis of these marked ridges showed me that this was the thumb of a man who was actually serving as a soldier. The frequent drills with guns result in the pressure upon the ridges of the inner side of the thumb. This causes a peculiar flattening, which is visible under a microscope when enlarged and is true of no other occupation except that of a soldier.

"As I reconstruct this crime this soldier managed to get into Mme. Guian's compartment after the train had left Fontainebleau. He knew that she usually carried a number of jewels and a large sum of money. He tried to rob the old woman, and, meeting with unexpected resistance, fought with her in the compartment, killing her by beating her head against the register and then stripped the body of its jewels. He thoughtlessly wiped his hand upon the towel. He knew that this would be evidence of the presence of some one else in the compartment, so he washes the towel with soap and water, but does not know that we can discover blood even when it is only to the amount of one one-thousandth millimeters.

"He then wrenches the compartment door open and throws out the body. He is pressed for time, rips open the satchel with his knife. Then, taking advantage of the slowing down of the train between Fontainebleau and Paris, he jumps from it and makes his escape."

As a result of Professor Reiss' analysis it was found that two soldiers, Gravy and Michel, had followed Mme. Guian to the train on the night of her murder. They had hidden in her compartment, and when the train had started they murdered her, as Professor Reiss had indicated. The rest of the reconstruction was proved at the trial of these two men. They both confessed, were convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Certainly.

"What was that savage animal that attacked me?"

"That was a razorback."

"Well, he gave me a close shave."—Louisville Courier Journal.

When the fight begins with himself a man's worth something.—Browning

FINDING A PAWN TICKET.

Sometimes It May Be Just Walking Into a Trap.

"While walking through one of the prominent streets the other day," said an innocent looking individual, "I espied an important looking piece of paper on the sidewalk and, picking it up, found it to be a pawn ticket for a diamond scarfpin which some careless person had apparently dropped.

"According to the ticket, the pin had been pledged several weeks before for $15. 'How am I to find the owner?' thought I. 'Shall I take it to the pawnbroker? Perhaps if I do the owner will never see it anyway. The pin must surely be a good one and doubtless worth three times the amount for which it was pledged. Why not appropriate it to my own use?'

"The name on the ticket was Brown, and my conscience was relieved when I found several hundred of that name in the directory. I soon made up my mind and started for the broker's office. I asked to see the pin before redeeming it, stating that I had bought the ticket, and upon the payment of 25 cents was allowed to examine it.

"It looked all right to me, although I am not a qualified judge of diamonds, so I paid the principal of $15 and the interest of $1.80 and the pin became mine.

"The next day I showed it to an expert, who declared it to be worth far less than the amount I had paid for it.

"'It is a trick of some people,' he said, 'to defraud unwary persons like yourself. The scheme consists of issuing tickets for spurious pieces of jewelry for amounts many times in excess of their value and dropping them on the sidewalk in different parts of town where unsuspecting persons might find them and redeem them, as you did, thus yielding a handsome profit to the perpetrators.'"—Philadelphia Record.

AN HOUR'S WALK.

You Would Hardly Think It Meant Traveling 85,253 Miles.

Have you ever thought of the distance you travel when you are out on an hour's stroll? Possibly you walk three miles within the hour, but that does not by any means represent the distance you travel. The earth turns on its axis every twenty-four hours. For the sake of round figures, we will call the earth's circumference 24,000 miles, and so you must have traveled during the hour's stroll 1,000 miles in the axial turn of the earth.

But this is not all. The earth makes a journey around the sun every year, and a long but rapid trip it is. The distance of our planet from the sun we will put at 92,000,000 miles. This is the radius of the earth's orbit—half the diameter of the circle, as we call it. The whole diameter is therefore 184,000,000 miles, and the circumference, being the diameter multiplied by 3.1416, is about 578,000,000.

This amazing distance the earth travels in its yearly journey, and dividing it by 365 we find the daily speed about 1,586,000. Then we get the distance you rode around the sun during your hour's walk, divide again by twenty-four, and the result is about 66,000 miles. But this is not the end of your hour's trip. The sun, with its entire brood of planets, is moving in space at the rate of 160,000,000 miles in a year. That is at the rate of a little more than 438,000 miles a day, or 18,250 miles an hour.

So, adding your three miles of leg travel to the hour's axial movement of the earth, this to the earth's orbital journey and that again to the earth's excursion with the sun, and you find you have traveled in the hour 85,253 miles.

Mrs. Longworth's Bang.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth has adopted a bang and is proud of it. It is short and fluffy and wavy and fastens to her hair under her soft pompadour by two long pins. Mrs. Longworth is telling her friends that since the Chicago convention she fully decided that her high brow needed concealing, and so on went the bang.

Whether in the stress and excitement of the convention she tugged at her front locks or not she does not say.

The bang is becoming to Mrs. Longworth. She wears it most simply, and the bang is the only bit of artificial hair Mrs. Longworth has ever worn.
