WEEK OF INTENSE HEAT

The weather man has been doing nothing by halves this year. When he gave us rain he did not stint any place or person. Now the heat has been turned on and for the last ten days the cool places have been just out of reach, the mercury hovering around the nineties most of the time. The ground has become so baked after the soakings of earlier weeks that it is as hard as rock. Haying has been going on apace under trying conditions with many hay stacks appearing around farm barns which usually means the barns are filled to capacity. Horses have been suffering where used in the haying from hordes of mosquitoes fairly bringing blood from their skins. There has been no complaint from the tractors.

CHILD KICKED BY HORSE

Last Thursday afternoon Sharon May, the thirteen month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Marcellus, a mile south of Morewood, was quite seriously injured when kicked just above the eye by a horse with shoes on. The little tot had been playing on the lawn where she was left alone for a short time. She wandered off to the barn and was located by searchers just at the moment when the horse's hoof struck her. Medical aid was soon forthcoming and Sharon May is now said to be out of danger.

Morewood Institute EntertainsRussell Members

The home of Mrs. Arthur Steinburg, Morewood, was the scene Wednesday afternoon of a very interesting meeting when Morewood Women's Institute entertained the members of Russell Institute.

Miss Jane Dillon of Morrisburg, district president, was present and told of her trip to Guelph when she attended the Fiftieth anniversary of the first Institute meeting.

The table was daintily decorated and centred with a beautiful birthday cake in honour of the occasion. Mrs. Ab. Dillabough and Mrs. Claude Smith poured tea. A programme of readings and music was contributed to by members of the Russell Institute. The young mothers of the community were also among the invited guests for this special occasion.

Chesterville Horticulturist Has Rare Bloom

Recently Mrs. Lyle Marcellus, a member of the local Horticultural Society, had a rare bloom among her house plants when a night blooming cereus opened its petals as some fifty neighbors, guests of Mrs. Marcellus, watched the handiwork of nature. It is only once in seven years that such a phenomenon by a single plant is witnessed. The petals began to curl back early in the evening and had reached perfection around ten o'clock, remaining open for some two hours. When in full bloom a pleasant fragrance was in evidence from the pure white petals. The flowers like those of other members of the cactus family, comes from the edge of the green leaf.

Need For Cleaner Milk Stressed At Rotary

Pointing out that 75% of the extraneous matter in the raw materials of cheese comes from the farm, Cliff Butterill, Cheese Instructor of the Provincial Department of Agriculture made it quite clear that greater care is necessary in the handling of milk on the farms. This will be necessary, he said, if Canada si to hold her favoured position in the overseas markets.

Mr. Butterill was speaking at the regular meeting of the Chesterville Rotary club. He was introduced by P. J. Gilroy, and had as his topic, "Better Quality Cheese". Deploring the small numbers of cheese apprentices today in training, the speaker gave as his opinion that the field of cheese making did not offer enough attractions to the young men of the farm. He took the pessimistic view that Canada is slowly going out of the cheese business and quoted figures to show the number of factories that have closed in one area in one year.

In referring to the need for clean cheese and clean milk, Mr. Butterill was of the opinion that by this time next year the factories will be receiving a bonus on the cleaniness of their product, aong with their quality bonus.

Dr. H. G. Barton expressed the thanks of the club to the speaker.

Crop Improvement Meeting At Farm of C. A. Graham

Under the auspices of the Dundas Field Crop Improvement Association a field meeting was held at the home of Allison Graham, Chesterville, on August 7th. The purpose of the meeting was to give association members an opportunity of inspecting the rod-row tests set out on Mr. Graham's farm. The President of the association, Mr. Howard Kittle of Chesterville, called on Mr. H. W. Graham, Dundas Agricultural Representative to act as Chairman. Mr. Graham introduced the guests of the evening, Mr. R. A. Derick, and Mr. Cowan of the Central Canada Experimental Farm, Ottawa. The gentlemen in charge of Oat, Barley and Pea experiments, extensively outlined the progress being made in the breeding of the various small grain varieties in order to combat rusts and other diseases.

Mr. G. E. Summers, Dundas County Weed Inspector, spoke briefly on the work being done in his field with respect to Weed Control.

It is regrettable that this meeting had to be called at such a busy time for the farmers, but the plots were at an ideal stage of growth for inspection and the date could not be altered. However, those members present agreed that the information gained from the inspection tour and the lectures given was very beneficial.

Take Exhbit "A"

The mother was having a hard time each day persuading her five-year-old Dora about the health value of a bath. She decided to appeal to the very young lady's vanity.

"A daily bath," she cajoled, "will give you a beautiful figure." Noticing the young one's skeptical look, the mother questioned: "Don't you believe me?"

"Yes, I believe you,' Dora promptly answered, "only, Mom, have you taken a good look at a duck lately?"

CAMM—HOUGH

A marriage of interest to the Morewood district is that of Miss Phyllis M. Hough, a former member of the staff of Morewood High School and now a History specialist at the Smiths Falls Collegiate Institute.

The ceremony took place in Morgan Memorial Chapel in Kingston, on August 9th. Following a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Hough, Sillsville, Mr. and Mrs. Camm left on a river-cruise from Kingston to the Saguenay River. For the remainder of August they are visiting in Woodham with the groom's father.

CHESTERVILLE CALF CLUB HOLD THIRD MEETING

The third meeting of the Chesterville Calf Club was held on Wednesday, at the home of Mr. Hugh Smith. The minutes were read and eighteen members answered the roll call. The programme consisted of a quiz on the judging and caring for dairy cattle. Plans were discussed for attending the Ottawa exhibition and the local fall fair. The meeting was brought to a close and a delicious lunch was enjoyed by everyone.

Elma Women's Institue Holds August Meeting

The August meeting of the Elma branch of the Women's Institute was held Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Donald Dillabough.

The meeting opened with the creed, followed by the ode. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. One visitor was present, two new members joined and the roll call was answered with pickle recipes.

Mrs. George Armstrong, Citizenship convener, had charge of the programme which included "O Canada"; a paper outlining women's duties as citizens; a questionaire on the government of Canada; and the "Maple Leaf Forever."

The next meeting is to be held at the home of the secretary, Mrs. Hyndman McMillan, Sept. 2, the roll call to be answered by a Household Hint.

SEEK INCREASE OF FALL WHEAT ON ONTARIO FARMS

Ontario Crop Improvement Association members are anxious to increase the production of fal wheat in this Province, says John R. MacLeod, Rirector of the Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture. At a recent committee meeting, an objective was set of an increase of ten per cent in the acreage to be seeded this fall, but the committee hopes that this figure will be far exceeded.

The 1947 crop is now being harvested, and reports indicate yields of fall wheat per acre are favourable in comparison with spring seeded crops, such as oats and barley. There are keen demands for Ontario wheat, as it is preferred for pastry flour.

Considerable interest in the crop has developed in many areas o the Province during recent years, particularly in Eastern Ontario where the Rideau variety has given excellent results. Growers say that well drained land is required, also a well prepared seed bed, free from weeds. The application of 250 pounds of 2-12-6 ertilizer per acre is very important for best results. Seeding a proportion of fall wheat on every farm also distributes farm labour to good advantage, which is important under present conditions of scarcty.

Many farmers are now beginning to prepare their land for fall wheat and during the next few weeks, close to 1,000,000 acres may be seeded. Careful growers, says Mr. MacLeod, will use registered seed as the highest standard that can be obtained. There are ample supplies of good seed available. Further information on fall wheat may be secured from agricultural representatives, agricultural colleges, experimental farms, or from the Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

FOR BEES IN SPRING SHOULD PLAN NOW

An established beekeeper, or anyone planning to become a beekeeper in the fall, says C. B. Gooderham, Dominion Apiarist, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

Those who already keep bees must feed and protect their colonies for the coming winter so as to insure their continuity as living colonies into 1948. It is assumed that the first step n this direction has been taken and that all colonies are now up to full strength for safe wintering. If not, all the weak ones should now be united. A few strong colonies are much safer than dozens of weak ones, as the latter may be dead before spring. The next step is to see that every colony has an ample supply of wholesome food to carry it well into next spring or early summer. Most colonies that die of starvation do so during March or April simply because the food given in the fall is not quite enough to last until new supplies are available. Forty pounds is the minimum amount for each colony, a larger amount insures greater safety and gives stronger colonies next spring. The third essential is plenty, but not excessive, protection during the winter, whether in cellar or outdoor packing cases. With the latter protection from wind is highly important.

To those who are planning to start beekeeping next spring, they should bear in mind that unless the sugar situation eases before that time they are not entiled to extra sugar to feed the bees when they get them. Too many beginners have been losing their bees because of overlooking this fact. Established beekeepers are entitled to sugar. If, however, enough sugar can be spared from household ration bees should be ordered before the new year and then make sure that all the equipment necessary to house and care for them when they arrive is at hand. Feed and protect all bees on hand for the winter now and place orders for new bees to be delivered next spring as soon as possible.

TIME FOR DECISION

By George W. James
The Statesman, Bowmanville

(Article No. 12)

Previous articles in this series have outlined the food agreements entered into between the Canadian government and the British government and the two main controls set up over Canadain to give effect to the whole scheme. It has been shown that Canadian producers have lost freedom over their saleable surplus and at the same time are losing a huge sum through these deals.

Present Disparity

A comparison has been made between the U.S.A farmer and the Canadian farmer to give further emphasis to the present disparity in their sales and purchases. Now it remains to examine the positions taken by the several parties in the House and outside in regard to these controls and agreements. Main interest will centre about the stand taken by the government and the official opposition.

Federation Consulted

The position of the government of course is set forth in its legislation. The Minister of Agriculture and the Minister of Trade and Commerce arranged the agreements with the British Minister of Food, Mr. Strachey. They did not consult the Canadian parliament but made quite a point in claiming to have consulted the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, the leaders of which favored the deal on the ground that it offered hope of future stability.

Advice Declined

But this government argument was greatly weakened when it was shown that the advice of the Federation was declined in other particulars. The government denied the Federation's appeal against a rise in feed wheat from $9.00 a ton to $11.00 a ton; refused their plan for a barley subsidy; refused their plea to pay participation on last year's crop; declined their request for token shipments of beef cattle to the U.S.A.; would not listen to their plan for a National Farm Products Act.

Future Trade

These points will be kept in mind by the average farmer who will have to make up his mind before voting in the next election.. But the broad question is this: How shall we come out in the end after attempting to fulfill these arbitrarily arranged, by-lateral British agreements? Selling food to Britain much below world prices we are forcing other sorely pressed peoples to buy elsewhere at a high world price. Can we expect their future trade when the day comes that we try to get it.

British Policy

The position of the British government was clearly stated by the Socialist Minister of Food, Mr. Strachey who said: "We buy food at the lowest prces we can get in the world; if not, parliament would censure us; and bulk contracts are the best methods of getting low prices." Hence he was consistent in buying bulk Canadian wheat at $1.55 per bus. with the world price more than a dollar higher.

Outside Markets

Reading this statement of British policy clearly gives the key to what may be expected by Canadian producers when more normal times return. There is no question that Great Brtain will adhere to her present agreement. But the future, the search for wider markets, is the problem of real concern to the Canadian farmer. It comes right down, therefore, to the question of whether the present policy of the government is wise in the long run.

Bracken View

Speaking in the House on the British agreements Hon. John Bracken, leader of the Progressive Conservative Party said: (P.591 Hansard) "Let there be no misunderstanding with respect to our attitude on this measure. The government of Canada has made an agreement with another nation. That agreement we have either to respect or dishonour. As one public man I purpose to respect the agreements we enter into with other nations."

Parity Prices

But he went on to examine the implications in the deal and to recapitulate the farm policies that he had announced when chosen leader of his party. These policies set forth a fair deal for agriculture, which meant parity prices for farmers and he showed clearly that the price under the British deal netted the farmer less than parity and he demanded not only parity but payment of participation each year under the contract.

Production Falling

Dealing with the position of agriculture in his address on the Speech from the Throne, Mr. Bracken declared that the various boards and controls set up over Canadian farmers had so regimented them that he had constantly warned they would lead to decline in production all along the line. What he said has a direct bearing on future world trade and will be told in a following article.

THANKS FOR ALL

By Helen Isabella Tupper

For all that God in mercy sends;
For health and children, home and friends,
For comfort in the time of need,
For every kind word and deed,
For happy thoughts and holy talk,
For guidance in our daily walk,
For everything give thanks!

For beauty in this world of ours,
For verdant grass and lovely flowers,
For song of birds, for hum of bees,
For refreshing summer breeze,
For hill and plain, for streams and wood,
For the great ocean's flood,
For everything give thanks!

For sweet sleep which comes with night,
For returning morning's light,
For the bright sun that shines on high,
For the stars glittering in the sky,
For these and everything we see,
O Lord, our hearts we lift to thee.
For everything give thanks!

Bad Dream

"I dreamed last night that I had invented a new type of breakfast food and was sampling it when—"

"Yes, yes, go on."

"I woke up and found a corner of the mattress gone."

Triumph in Reasoning

A Scotchman, leaving his friend's house where he had been visiting held out to his host's small son a nickel and a dime, saying "Now Sandy, which one will ye hae?"

Young Sandy (being a cute, wee beggar) said, "Ach, Mr. MacTavish, I was always taught not to be greedy. I'll gie the big one to ye."

HYDRO SPEEDS NEW POWER PLANTS

Hydro is pushing construction to meet the pressing demand for more electricity. The above huge generator will soon pour an additional 70,000 horsepower into the Hydro system from the DeCew Falls plant near St. Catharines.

Two other larger plants in eastern Ontario, now under construction, will deliver 81,000 horsepower next year and 360,000 horsepower by 1951. These two major developments, with the DeCew Falls addition, will provide Ontario with a further badly needed half-million horsepower.

The growing output of Ontario's industries and farms benefits everyone but calls for more and more electricity. Even now that the war is over, the demand has not slackened but continues to mount. Hydro's peak load increased by more than 500,000 horsepower over the highest wartime demand, an increase of 25%. Generating plants take a long time to build and could not be started during the war.

Few places in the world have as much electricity available per person as Ontario. However, we must use our electricity sparingly so that all homes, all farm services and all industries will receive their share.

Will you do your part? . . . USE HYDRO WISELY and there will be enough for all.

Mrs. Bernard Gibbons Mourned By Many Friends

On August 2 there passed away in the Ottawa Civic Hospital, a highly esteemed lady in the person of Mrs. Bernard Gibbons.

She had recently been suffering with a heart condition which developed into a seizure from which she did not rally.

She was formerly Anna B. Creighton, a native of Raymondville, New York, born in 1878. In 1910 she was united in marriage to Bernard Gibbons of Chesterville. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband and one son Gerald and a brother, Edward, of Raymondville, N.Y.

The deceased was an ardent and active member of St. Mary's Parish in Chesterville, partaking of the duties of its various Catholic organizations, being president of the Catholic Women's League for nine years. She also fulfilled executive burdens in the local Red Cross Society during the troublesome years of war, as well as lending talent to many social activities. Her co-workers in the various groups deem her departure a distinct loss.

The funeral was held on Tuesday, August 5, in St. Mary's church, Chesterville, with her pastor, Rev. Father Keaney officiating at the Requiem High Mass. Interment at the lower cemetery. The pallbearers were: Jas. Moran, Stanley Sullivan, William Servage, E. B. McMillan, John Clement and Pat Gannon.

A Good Lincoln Story

Lincoln once told a friend that he was tormented by three men—Sumner, Stevens and Wilson. "They prod me eternally," the President said, "to sign legislation that I think is premature."

Smiling wryly, he told of lining up, as a boy, to recite school lessons. One day he stood in line with several other little fellows to take turns in reading the story of the Israelites being thrown into the fiery furnace.

It fell to the lot of one tow-headed stripling to read that part of a chapter in which Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego are mentioned. He could not pronounce the names and was soundly cuffed by the schoolmaster.

He was left sobbing as the reading progressed on down the line. Finally, he was quiet for a minute, but as his time to read neared once more, his tears flooded anew.

"What's the matter now?" the schoolmaster asked.

The little fellow held up his book, awaited his turn.

"Look, teacher," he whimpered. "Here comes them same three damn fellers again."

Lincoln laughed and pointed out the window. Approaching the entrance of the White House were Sumner, Stevens and Wilson.

A Wise Choice

"Doc, why did you choose to be a skin specialist?"

"Because my patients never get me out of bed at night, they never die and they never get well."

He Wasn't

The teacher had been giving her class a lesson on the great inventions of the century and was now anxious to test how much her pupils had learned.

"Now, children," she began, "can you tell me the name of one important thing unknown a century ago?"

A small boy rose at the back of the class, "Me, teacher," he replied.

Not at All!

Irvin S. Cobb once told of a nice old lady, enjoying her first ride in a taxicab. Going through heavy traffic, the old lady grew more and more nervous as the driver kept removing his hand from the steering wheel, putting it outside the car. Finally, the old lady could stand it no longer.

Leaning far forward she tapped the driver on the shoulder. "Young man," she said sternly, "you just tend to your driving. I'll tell you when it starts to rain.'

HANDS AT WORK . . .

LEARNING REFRIGERATION

ONTARIO'S productive capacity is the measure of her future prosperity. To assure this province a prominent place in domestic and foreign trade markets, skilled hands are needed. Increased production of refrigeration units will mean a greater need for skilled servicing. Veterans, basically trained in schools and ON THE JOB, will fill this need as they are absorbed into industry. For those who have mastered skilled occupations, higher wages, job security and better working conditions are within easier reach.

Through plans sponsored by the Department of Veterans Affairs and other agencies, hundreds of young workers are being trained for refrigeration servicing. Graduates of training schools are ready now to take their places in industry. Craftsmen of the future, they will have a share in Ontario's progress—an important part to play in her industrial development.

THE BREWING INDUSTRY (ONTARIO)

REFRIGERATION

D. C. Guiry, 23, of Toronto, a veteran of 15½ months' service in the Royal Canadian Air Force, is shown checking the operating pressures on a domestic training unit.

The Refrigeration Course gives the student a theoretical and practical knowledge of domestic, commercial and air conditioning units.

GARDEN CHATS: By Mrs. Harry Allison

Hello neighbours—Well here it is time to visit you again. What a short week it has been, too. In fact, in looking back over it, I seem only to remember hot days filled with hot meals over a hot stove, and trips to the barn to stand in the hot sun while I drove the horse to unload hay. Now it's Wednesday and hotter than ever.

One afternoon I had a change from the regular routine. We had a meeting of the Executive of the Horticultural Society at Mrs. Eric Casselman's. In spite of the extreme temperature, all but four members were present. The chief item of business was the Flower Show. It was decided to hold it in the Community Hall the afternoon of August 29.

Now, if you will just be kind enough to look through this issue of the RECORD, you'll find a copy of the Prize List as compiled on Monday evening by a Committee consisting of Miss Helen Moad, Mrs. Keith Graham, Mrs. Eric Casselman and myself. We hope you will appreciate the large number of classes we have arranged for this year. Surely you will have something to enter with this wide selection.

You will notice that we have asked for a certain number of blooms, rather than bouquets. No doubt you would prefer to display your artistic ability and make bouquets, but judges say "No". So, will you please retain your artistry for the Table Centre, etc.

You have two weeks to plan your entries. Study the Prize List carefully. I'm sure you can make one or more entries. Even if you know Mrs. Somebody-or-other has larger blooms than yours, bring yours anyway. The Judge might like yours better. Then, the more exhibits, the greater the success of the Show.

Please read the rules carefully. Note that most classes request that the blooms be shown in quart sealers. Then no one can say that Mrs. Greenleaf won because her asters were in such a pretty vase. Then, twelve noon is the dead-line for all entries. This gives the Judge a fair chance.

If you live in a two room apartment and your only flowers are on the wallpaper, come anyway. It will be educational for you to see this beautiful display of summer bloom. But if that doesn't appeal to you this will. The Women's Institute is serving tea. That is one matter in which we're all most interested. So, right now mark August 29 on your calander and say, "This year I am going to attend the Flower Show and exhibit all I can."

More next week, and now a WARM farewell.

Sincerely.

P.S.—Please clip the Prize List this week, as it will not appear again.

Told Off!

A Chinese gentleman was trying to catch a train and a porter was trying to locate his baggage. The Chinaman got very upset. Finally, as the train was about to depart, he hammered upon the counter and exploded in these words:

"Pretty damn seldom where my bag go. She no fly. You no more fit run station than God's sake. That's all I hope."

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! Are you serving your fresh fruits just as they come? So many of them—blueberries, raspberries, peaches and apricots—need no sugar at all.

Prepare, wash and chill. An hour in the refrigerator will make fresh fruit extra luscious or set a dish of fruit in a larger bowl of crushed ice. Sweeten the cream if necessary to suit the "sweet tooth".

Ideas for Fresh Fruit

1. Fresh pears stuffed with cottage cheese mixed with a little minced peel can be served on crisp lettuce and topped with mayonnaise.
2. Cantaloupe sliced in short pencil-sized pieces is attractive mixed with apple cubes which have been dipped in lemon juice.

Honey Raspberry delight

2 tbsps. gelatine, ½ cup cold water, 1½ cups milk, ½ cup honey, 3 tbsps. lemon juice, 1½ cups red raspberries, 1 cup whipping cream.

Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes. Scald milk and pour it over the gelatine. Stir until the gelatine is dissolved. Cool Mix honey and stir in the milk mixture. Chill and when it begins to set add the whipping cream and raspberries. Pour into 8 custard cups. Place in a refrigerator until very cold. Serve in the custard cups.

Orange Cantaloupe Cocktail

2 medium cantaloupes (3 cups cantaloupe balls), mint sprigs, 1 cup orange juice, 2 tbsps. lemon juice.

Cut cantaloupe into ball-shaped pieces with a French ball cutter, mix together orange and lemon juice. Pour over the cantaloupe balls. Place in six dishes. Chill. Serve in the glass cups and garnish with sprigs of mint. (Serves 6.)

Fluffy Pudding

1½ cups milk, ½ tsp. salt, 1|3 cup light corn syrup, ¼ cup quick-cooking wheat cereal, 1 egg, separated, ¾ tsp. almond extract, 2 tbsps. sugar.

Scald milk; gradually add cereal and salt; cook over boiling water 20 minutes, stirring occasionally: Add egg yolk, corn syrup, almond extract; beat well. Whip egg white stiff; gradually add sugar, beating constantly. Fold into cereal mixture; chill in electric refrigerator. Serve with sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

Raspberry Sauce

Pick over 1 pint raspberries; wash and crush. Add ¼ cup sugar and ¼ cup water; bring to boiling point; simmer 5 minutes. Press through sieve and chill.

Take A Tip

1. To prevent fruit from floating in gelatine base desserts, let the gelatine mixture chill to a syrup thickness — the consistency of molasses — before adding the fruit.
2. Save all juices and syrups to make dessert sauces and give added flavour to chilled drinks.
3. To keep cut apples, peaches and bananas from turning dark, dip them in lemon juice.
4. Sprinkle a little fruit sugar on berries to draw out the juices before chilling them for shortcake.
5. Dip oranges and grapefruit in hot water for 2 or 3 minutes, then in cold water; the peel and white membrane may then be easily removed. Chill fruit before serving.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. C. M. asks: Which is the best way to make iced tea?

Answer: There are two accepted ways to make iced tea: take your choice: (1) Pour double-strength hot, fresh tea over glasses filled with ice cubes or crushed ice. The ice chills and dilutes the tea at the same time.

Or (2) cool average-strength tea before serving time. Then pour it over glasses half-filled with ice.

Mrs. D. G. asks: What is the secret of making a "short" pie crust?

Answer: Our neighbour says that chilling the pie dough for even an hour will do the trick. It should be wrapped in wax paper and placed near the freezing unit of the electric refrigerator to chill quickly.

Mrs. S. R. asks: How can you prevent the skins of plums from bursting during the canning process

Answer: Prick with a fork or darning needle when washed.
