The Late Nancy Clark.

Miss Nancy Clark passed away on Thursday last at her residence Piety Hill, South Mountain, from the effects of a paralytic stroke suffered in June, 1911. Her good constitution helped her to improve some, but her condition became serious seven weeks ago and she gradually sank. Her death although not unexpected is deeply regretted, as she was widely and popularly known in that district. She leaves to mourn her loss one sister, Miss Ann Clark of South Mountain, and one brother, William Clark of Cass Bridge.

Brantford officials and citizens are rebelious towards the Provincial Board of Health orders for vaccination.

Jubilee Singers Here.

The Canadian Jubilee Singers held forth in the Music Hall on Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of Trinity Methodist Church, to a good house and the audience seemed to be pleased with the oft repeated songs given by Jubilee singers The company took part in the musical program of the service in Trinity Church on Sunday evening. Both the auditorium of the church and the Sunday School Hall had to be used to satisfy the gathering. Rev. H. E. Warren gave a splendid talk on the peace centenary between the United States and Canada.

Telephone Man on Fraud Charge.

Lawrence McGillivray, Bell telephone agent at Lancaster, Ont., was charged in court at Ottawa on Monday morning with obtaining by fraud small sums aggregating $50.70. McGillivray, it is alleged, while looking after the interests of the company, drew small vouchers from time to time, ostensibly in favor of one A. Trepannier.

The company honored these vouchers when the amounts were small, and sent to McGillivray, whom they claimed converted it to his own use. Several comparatively large sums, notably $19.50 and $11.10, caused them to ask for an itemized account, and then investigate.

Good Roads Meeting.

By invitation the reeves and deputy-reeves of the villages and townships in Dundas County attended a meeting held at Winchester on Friday afternoon last. There is a proposition on foot for the construction of a good roads scheme from Ottawa to Prescott, an account of which recently appeared in the Record. The above meeting was called for the purpose of bringing some influence to bear by having the road built through Osgoode Township, and between the boundaries of Winchester and Mountain and Williamsburg and Matilda, instead of by way of Kemptville. A president was elected and committee formed to take action at once in the matter. When you take in consideration that Hon. Dr. Reid and Hon. G. H. Ferguson are in close touch, there does not appear to be much chance of drawing the road far from Kemptville.

Died At Goldfield.

After an illness extending over a period of three weeks, Mr. R. P. Kendrick (better known as Percy) of Goldfield, passed away on Sunday morning, Feb. 14th, 1915, at the age of 37 years.

The deceased was a son of the late S. H. Kendrick of Dunbar, who died a few years ago, and who was well known in this country, and also a brother of Mr. S. O. Kendrick of Dunbar, the only surviving one of the family.

The deceased married Clarissa, daughter of Mr. Amos Marselis of Dunbar, and to them were born two sons, of the ages of seven and twelve years, who with the widow, are left to mourn his death.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon to Trinity Methodist Church, Chesterville, where services were conducted by Rev. H. E. Warren, after which the remains were placed in Maple Ridge vault.

The pallbearers were Simeon Droppo, Geo. F. Droppo, Roland Droppo, John Nephew, Thos. Foley and William McMillan.

Hon. Mr. Casgrain Weds In New York.

New York, Feb. 16. — Hon. Thomas Chase Casgrain, postmaster general of Canada, was married in St. Patrick's cathedral here this morning to Mrs. Marie Louise Masson of Que. The bride has resided in Paris for several years, and arrived in New York yesterday.

The ceremony was performed by Bishop Mathieu, of Regina, Sask., a classmate of the postmaster general. Robert Fowler and James H. Marious signed the register as witnesses.

It was not announced where the honeymoon will be spent.

Jas. E. Beckstead Dead.

The death of Jas. E. Beckstead, a well known resident of Elma, occurred at his farm residence east of that place, on Friday, Feb. 12th, 1915, at the age of about 57 years.

Besides his widow an only sister, Mrs. John Barkley of Elma, are left to mourn his death.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon from his late residence to the Methodist Church at Elma, where services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Keough, after which the remains were placed in the vault at Wiiliamsburg.

Deceased was a member of Chesterville Lodge Ancient Order of United Workmen, and a number attended the funeral and took part in the service.

Sending Out $20,000 a Month

The end of last year Canada had paid $11,885,107 for war in allowances to rank and file and maintenance of men and horses. Today the paymaster of the militia department is sending out $30,000 a month for assigned pay and separation allowances to men on service in Europe and Canada. About fifteen per cent. of the men on active service are married and five per cent. were the supporters of widowed mothers. In the case of the first contingent a majority of the men assigned a portion of their pay to dependants.

During the last six months the contract branch of the militia department purchased war supplies to the value of $18,500,000 for the Canadian forces. In addition to this it bought for the British War Office harness, saddlery, blankets, and similiar army supplies amounting to $6,400,000. There were some ten thousand contracts made. The supplies cover everything from rifles, field guns, and amunition to boots, clothing, and horseshoers' tools. Not only was enough bought to supply the men enlisted, but a reserve supply of all articles ranging from 30 to 100 per cent. has been contracted for.

Clothing was first contracted for on Aug, 10, when orders were placed for 150,000 pairs of socks, 100,000 flannel shirts, 100,000 suits of underclothing, 50,000 service uniforms, 6,500 pairs of pantaloons, 65,000 pairs of boots, 3,000 cloaks, 15,000 great coats, 40,000 jackets, and 33,000 pairs of puttees.

Gilroy—Scott.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the manse, South Mountain, on Wednesday, Feb. 3rd, when the Rev. Mr. Bolingbrook united two of our most popular young people, in the persons of Miss Grace Scott, daughter of Mr. John Scott of Vancamp, to Mr. John W. Gilroy of that place. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for Montreal to spend their honeymoon and on return will reside on the groom's beautiful farm at South Mountain. Mr. and Mrs. Gilroy carry with them the best wishes of a host of friends in town and vicinity.

Ontario Patriotism and Production.

The Department of Agriculture has published statistics touching the production from the standpoint of farming of the agricultural industry by counties in Ontario which are interesting. The figures for Dundas for the past year are:

Dundas— An important dairy section. Milch cows. 25,178; other cattle, 18,262; horses, 9,805, mostly light draft; sheep, 5,793; swine, 24,123. Considerable poultry raised for city markets. Hay, acreage 52,889. With underdraining now progressing this county should steadily go forward agriculturally. Apple growing becoming an important industry.

William Henry Hogaboam Dead.

A well-known and much respected resident of Inkerman passed peacefully away on the evening of Feb. 6th, in the person of William Henry Hogaboam, at the age of 85 years and 7 mos. The deceased resided with his sister, Mrs. E. Keys, his family having predeceased him some years ago. The funeral services was conducted by Rev. Mr. Philp at the home. The sympathy of the country is extended to the aged sisters who are left to mourn their loss.

Scared By Fire Balloons

Brockville, Ont., Feb. 15.—Word came from Morristown, N. Y., this morning that the mysterious aerial visitors which disturbed this vicinity last night were fire balloons, sent up to commemorate the century of peace between the United States and Great Britian, and this was confirmed by the finding of the remains of two paper fire-balloons on the river ice near the grounds of the Western hospital. The balloons were fitted with firework attachments, which would explain the lights seen.

HIGHER TARIFF AND STAMP TAX FOR CANADA

Stamp Tax on Commercial Paper, Railway and Steamship Tickets, Telegrams, Letters and Medicines—Sugar, Tobacco, Tea and Anthracite Excepted from New Tariff.

Ottawa, Feb. 11—The special taxes for revenue purposes were announced by Hon. Mr. White, Finance Minister, in the Commons to-day, as follows:

Upon all banks to which the bank act applies, a yearly sum equal to one per cent upon the note circulation, to be computed and paid quarterly. From this taxation we shall realize approximately one million dollars.

Upon every trust and loan company incorporated under any legislative authority and carrying on business in Canada, a yearly sum equal to one per cent of its gross income derived in Canada, payable quarterly.

Upon every insurance corporation, society, association, firm or partnership carrying on the business of insurance, other than life, fraternal, benefit and marine insurance, a sum of one per cent, upon all premiums received by it in Canada, payments to be made quarterly.

The provisions of the bill will apply to the business of the respective banks, trust and loan and insurance companies transacted after January 1, 1915, and the first receipts therefrom will reach consolidated revenue fund about May 1.

Cable and Telegraph Taxation.

In addition, the following taxation will be provided for:

Upon every cable and telegraph company using telegraphic cables or wires within the jurisdiction of Canada, a sum equal to one cent upon each despatch or message originating in Canada for which a charge of fifteen cents or more is imposed, returns to be made quarterly. The company is authorized to charge the additional toll and collect the same from the person sending the message.

Railway and Steamer Tickets.

Upon every purchaser of a railway or steamboat ticket in Canada for any point in Canada, Newfoundland, the West Indian colonies or the United States, the sum of five cents in respect to a ticket costing every one dollar and not more than five dollars, and five cents for each additional five dollars or fractional part of five dollars with the ticket costs.

Berths and Parlor Car Seats.

Upon every purchaser of a berth in a sleeping car or seat in a parlor car the sum of ten cents in respect of each berth bought and five cents in respect of each seat bought in Canada.

The railway or steamboat company or person selling the railway, sleeping car and parlor car tickets referred to is required to collect the taxes imposed and transmit to the Government.

Tickets to Foreign Countries.

Upon every person, firm or company carrying passengers by vessel to ports or places other than ports or places in Canada, Newfoundland, the British West Indian colonies and the United States, in respect of each passenger the sum of one dollar if the amount chargeable for the passage exceeds ten dollars, the sum of three dollars if such amount exceeds thirty dollars, and the sum of five dollars if the amount exceeds sixty dollars. The company is authorized to collect the tax from the passenger, and is required to account therefor to the Government.

Stamp Tax on Cheques, Letters, Etc.

In addition to the above the following stamp taxes; Upon all cheques, receipts to banks by depositors, and upon bills of exchangs passing through a bank, a stamp tax of the value of two cents.

Upon all express and postoffice money orders, a stamp tax of the value of two cents, and upon postal notes a stamp tax of one cent.

Upon every letter and postal card posted in Canada, a war stamp tax of one cent.

Upon every bill of lading a stamp tax of two cents.

Patent Medicines and Perfumery.

Upon proprietory or patent medicines and perfumery sold in Canada, the retail price for each bottle or package of which is ten cents or less, one cent, and in addition for each ten cents of retail price one cent.

Wines and Champagne.

Upon wine, non-sparkling, sold in Canada, for every bottle or package containing one quart or less five cents, and for each additional quart five cents.

Upon champagne and sparkling wine sold in Canada, every bottle containing one pint or less twenty-five cents, and for each additional pint twenty-five cents.

Probably Eight Millions.

The special taxes above outlined will come into force at a date to be fixed in the act, with the exception of the taxes on wines and champagnes, which become effectual at once. The total amount expected in increased revenue Mr. White estimated at from eight to ten million dollars, with the probability in favor of the former figure.

Dealing with the imposition of an income tax upon individuals, the Finance Minister declared that after giving the question consideration, the Government had decided that it was not expedient for the present.

More in Domain of Provinces.

In order to bring into force an income tax the Government would be obliged to create machinery for assessment, revision and collection, involving a heavy expense, as compared with the amount which would be realized. In any event, it would appear that Canada could hardly expect to derive from an income tax similar to that adopted by the United States more than $2,000,000. The chief objection, however, was that the several Provinces are also likely to be obliged to resort to measures for raising additional revenue, and the Government thought the Dominion should not unnecessarily enter upon a domain of taxation which belonged peculiarly to the Provinces.

Typhoide At Brockville

Brockville, Ont., Feb. 12.—Brockville is still battling with the outbreak of typhoid fever, and in the investigation being conducted into the possible cause of the spread of the disease through impure water, a diver has located a big break in the intake pipe laid on the river bed through which sewage contamination is thought to have found its way. On the recomendation of the Board of Health the sewage is being chlorinated before discharges into the river.

Czar To King George

London, Feb. 12—The Russian minister of finance. M. Bark, in the course of his visit to England, presented to King George 250 cigars in a gold box ordered in Paris a month ago at a cost said to have been $127,500. The sides of the box are half an inch in thickness, and the top and sides are ornamented with the flags of England, Russia, France, Belguim and Serbia, worked in precious stones.

The box is presumable a gift from the Czar, for it is not thought that M. Bark personally would have bought so costly a present.

NEW YEAR'S IN CHINA.

When All Debts Are Paid and the Whole Country "Painted Red."

New Year's is the national pay day in China. All accounts must be squared up at that time, and the man who can't raise money enough to pay his debts has to go into bankruptcy. The laws are such that the creditor can enter the debtor's house and take what he pleases if there is no settlement. To prevent such action families club together and make all sorts of compromises to keep up the business reputation of the clan.

New Year's is a great day for the pawnbrokers. Their shops are crowded with people who want to redeem their best clothes before the new year. There are crowds, also, who want to pawn other things in order to get money to pay their debts. Pawnbrokers receive high rates of interest, in which they are protected by the government.

The Chinese paint the whole country red, figuratively speaking, on New Year's day in more senses than one. Red is the color which with them denotes good luck and prosperity, and all the New Year cards and invitations are on paper of that color. Every child gets its New Year's present wrapped in red paper, and red inscriptions are pasted over the doors of the houses.

These inscriptions bear characters praying for good fortune, wealth and happiness, and they are posted on each side of the outer doors of the houses. New pictures of Chinese generals are put on the front doors, and the houses are-scoured and made clean.—Exchange

A PAINTERS' PARADISE.

Capri's Quaint Inn, Where Poor Artists Can Get Free Board.

Capri, beautiful in itself, offers an irresistible invitation to artists, since it has an inn where any one, by painting a picture on the wall, can get free board.

To the lovely island of Capri, with its perennial summer, its blue grotto and its lemon groves, came some fifty years ago a ruined artist. He opened an inn and died rich. In his will, leaving the inn to his heirs, he made these conditions:

"The charge per day, two bottles of red Capri wine included, is never to be more than 6 francs.

"If any artist is too poor to pay he shall paint a picture upon some wall space, receiving all the accommodation accorded to those paying the highest price.

"If any German artist shall come to the inn he shall be accommodated and shall receive the amount of his fare to Germany upon his promising never to return to Italy."

The inn is conducted today on these conditions. Its walls are covered with paintings. Now and then a German artist gets his fare home.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Fair Exchange.

It was Mrs Malloon's birthday, and she felt a trifle disappointed that there was no gift beside her plate. It was the first time in twenty years that her husband had forgotten the occasion. Mr. Malloon smiled at her frankly.

"My dear," he said. "I have been so busy lately that I have not had time to buy you a birthday gift, but I'll give you the cow."

She thanked him graciously. "Daisy is a beautiful cow," she said.

Two months later Mr. Malloon's birthday came round. When he appeared at breakfast his wife greeted him with a radiant smile. "My dear," she said, "I have been so busy lately sewing for the children that I haven't had time to make you a birthday gift but. I'll give you the cow."—Chicago News.

Three Ages.

The Berlin botanical gardens, says Lustige Blatter, are wonderfully beautiful, but to small children they are a forbidden paradise. Boys and girls under ten are not permitted to enter.

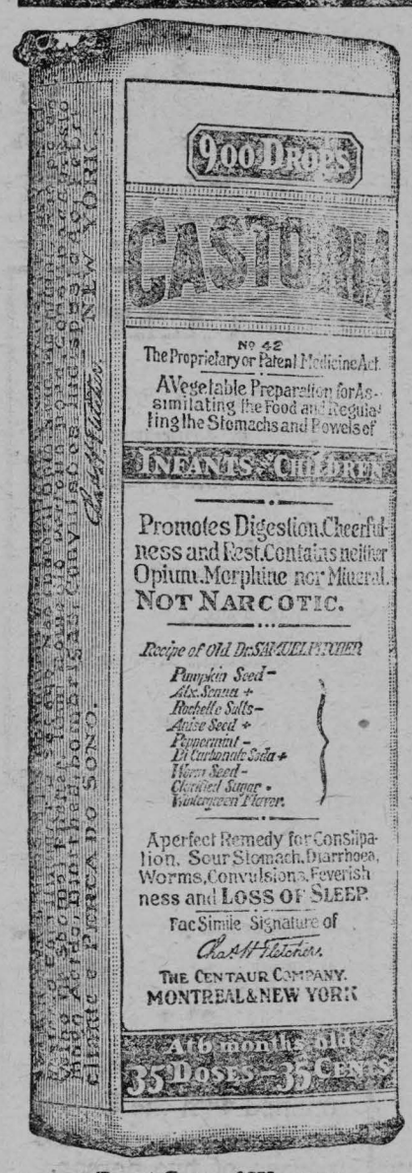

Herr and Frau Muller found this out to their disappointment when they planned to take their little Paul on a Sunday trip to view the beautiful gardens. Nevertheless they gave their young hopeful a few instructions and started out. At the gate the porter stopped the young Muller. "How old are you?" he inquired. Paul answered "Six for the electrics; really eight; for the botanical gardens, ten."

The Stoning of Hamilton.

Alexander Hamilton was stoned by a New York audience in the summer of 1795. While at a public meeting he was speaking in favor of the Jay treaty, which had just been negotiated by John Jay between the United States and England. Dr. Francis in his "Old New York" says that among those who did the stoning was the famous Edward Livingston together with many other "leading citizens."

HYDRO-ELECTRIC NOTICE.

After a careful study of local conditions the Village Council has decided to take up the inside wiring and installation work in the Village of Chesterville. This, it is hoped, will be to the best interests of the village and consumers.

All material will be purchased through the purchasing department of the H. E. P. C., thus assuring the use of only such material as has been approved by the Board of Underwriters.

All work will be executed according to the plans and under the supervision of the superintendent and in strict compliance with the rules of the H. E. P. C. The charges will be as near actual cost as practicable and still protect the municipality against loss.

As the supervision of this work is being taken up by the superintendent of the Northern Branch of Eastern Lines along with his other duties throughout the district, it is not possible to fix more than two days of each week for him to be in Chesterville, but his services will be available upon shortest notice at any time.

Estimates and suggestions on lighting and power installation given free. Motors, heaters, cooking appliances, etc., furnished upon shortest notice at minimum prices.

Farmers along the route of the transmission line between Chesterville and Winchester sub station should get particularly interested, as rates for power and light along this route are attractive.

Fairly Good Prices Paid at Mr. Empey's Sale of Pure-breds

The W. F. Empey Stock Farm sale of Clydesdales and Holsteins held at Chesterville on Tuesday of last week drew an attendance of over 300 farmers and notwithstanding the extreme dullness in the horse market just now fairly good prices were paid for the stock. The Allison Stock farm catalogued the imported Clydesdale Stalion, Bright Guard, and the imported mare, Riverdale Belle, and for the former Elgin Montgomery, of South Mountain, Ont., paid $825, and the latter went to Wm. McConnell, of Morewood, Ont., for $345.

The Holstein bulls did not bring the prices expected or what their breeding warranted in being paid. Nevertheless they had to go in order to enable Mr. Empey to carry out his plans for a larger herd of milch cows. The females sold well for their age. The sale was conducted by Mr. Thos. Irving, of Winchester, Ont., who made good.

The following list gives names and addresses of buyers and the prices paid:—

McCutcheon Bros. Must Stand Trial

After an inquiry lasting three days at Toronto, Magistrate Denison decided that he had heard enough evidence in the McCutcheon conspiracy case, and sent the four brothers and Marshall A. Cook to the assizes for trial. Gordon McCutcheon was released on bail of $10,000, while David, C. M. and J. H. McCutcheon and Marshal Cook gave bonds of $5,000.

The Mayfair property and the Melfort real estate were again investigated. Witnesses swore that the Melfort properties were only worth $8,000, while the valuation placed on them by the McCutcheons was $72.000. Other witnesses testified as to the over-valuation of the Mayfair lots and the way they had been led into purchasing.

An Election Protest

Ottawa, Feb. 12.—A protest against the election of Nelson D. Porter as mayor and J. A. Ellis and J. Wellington Nelson as controllers of the City of Ottawa was filled in the local courts today. Payment of money to voters, hiring of conveyances etc., is alleged by the complainant.

Appreciative references to the late Hon. Robert Jaffray were made by Senators Lougheed, Bostack and Kerr at the opening session of the Senate.

THE MIDNIGHT SUN

Really Seen but Once a Year In the Polar Regions.

A SWING ROUND THE HORIZON.

For One Whole Day, About June 21 at the North Pole and About Dec. 22 at the South Pole, Old Sol Keeps His Blazing Face In Full View.

"The midnight sun" is one of those seemingly mysterious natural phenomena which exercise a perpetual charm over the popular imagination. The northern part of Scandinavia has acquired for itself the distinctive name of the "Land of the Midnight Sun," but the title should be extended to include a complete circuit of the earth along the arctic circle. Then, too, the southern hemisphere has a precisely similar phenomenon, which occurs along the antarctic circle, including a portion of Wilkes Land.

Properly speaking, a midnight sun is seen but once a year in either hemisphere.

Confining our attention to the northern hemisphere, the midnight sun is visible near the arctic circle on the date of the summer solstice, which occurs about June 21 at the time when the sun in its apparent annual circuit of the sky reaches its greatest northern declination, which means its greatest distance north of the equator. This distance in augular measure is about 23½ degrees, which is precisely equal to the inclination of the earth's axis of rotation from a perpendicular to the plane of its orbit around the sun.

The arctic circle is situated this same angular distance (23½ degrees) from the north pole. When the sun is directly over the equator, about March 21, its light reaches simultaneously both poles of the earth. As the sun begins to move northward the light quits the south pole, which then enters its period of six months' night. But at the same time the sun rises higher at the north pole, which in its turn enters upon its period of six months' day.

In the meantime, along the arctic circle, the days grow longer and the nights shorter, as the sun comes continually northward, until, at the solstice, when the sun is 23½ degrees north of the equator, there will be one period of twenty-four hours during which the sun does not set at all in the arctic circle.

At the hour of midnight on that day the sun, describing a circle through the sky, just touches the edge of the horizon in the north, like the bob of a gigantic pendulum, and then, without disappearing, immediately begins to rise again to describe the other half of its sweep in the sky.

This is the phenomenon called the "midnight sun."

Conversely at the time of the winter solstice, which occurs about Dec. 22, when the sun is at its greatest southern declination, there is one absolutely sunless day on the arctic circle, when the sun skims just under the southern horizon at noon.

As a matter of fact, owing to the effects of the refraction of the atmosphere, which means the power of the air to bend the rays of light so that the sun appears to be above the horizon by about its own diameter, when it is really its own diameter below it, the phenomena just described are visible half a degree (about thirty-five miles) south of the arctic circle.

After the day of the solstice the sun begins to dip below the horizon again, because it is then going south once more, and the nights, beginning with a length of only a few minutes, gradually increase until they, too, for one single occasion, attain the length of twenty-four hours.

Within the arctic circle the days and nights, alternately, greatly exceed twenty-four hours in length. At the very pole, as we have seen, they each last six months. In Lapland they may be a month long and at the North cape three months.—Garrett P. Serviss in Spokane Spokesman Review.

Shoes For Soldiers.

A study of the orders given by Napoleon indicates the care he exercised to have a sufficient supply of shoes provided. On one occasion he wrote, "You know that shoes are always needed in war, and at another time he said to Baron Lejeune, "Shoes help on marches, and marches win battles." To Sir John Burgoyne's question addressed to Wellington, "What was the first requirement of a soldier?" "A good pair of shoes," he replied. "And the second requirement?" "A good pair of shoes for a change." "And the third?" "A pair of soles for repairs." —Scientific American.

Ways of Iceland.

There are no trades or guilds in Iceland, every man being compelled to depend upon his own skill for his supplies. The natives make their own shoes, shoe their own horses, and manufacture their saddles. A few artisans are found in the capital—for example, a bookbinder, a jeweler and others.

Helping Him Along.

"I want to improve my language," said the conscientious man, "so I bought a book entitled 'One Thousand Words Often Mispronounced.'"

"You didn't need the book. You know more than a thousand now."—Washington Star.

Nature is an endless combination and repetition of a very few laws.

The World's "Victoria Crosses."

Great Britain may well feel proud and boast of her military decoration, the Victoria Cross, which is only conferred for conspicuous acts of bravery on the field of battle.

France confers her distinctive badges in the well-known form of the Legion of Honor.

Austria confers her Ancient Order of Marie Therese.

Germany's equivalent of the Victoria Cross is the Iron Cross, which, it is said, the Kaiser has already given to 38,000 of his soldiers in the present war.

Russia distributes her Cross of St. Vladimir sparingly to her successful soldiers.

Denmark has one of the most illustrious orders of chivalry, the Order of the Elephant, which ranks even with that of the Order of the Garter.

Spain is truly proud of her Order of the Golden Fleece, which is, and has been, most sparingly conferred.

Italy never fails to decorate her soldiers with her Military Medal of Merit.

Politely Kills Teuton.

Lieutenant de Lupel of the French army has endeared himself to his command by a most unusual exhibition of what they are pleased to term "old fashioned French gallantry."

Accompanied by a few men, Lieut. de Lupel succeeded in surrounding a German detachment occupying the station at Mezieres. The lieutenant on searching the premises came upon the German officer hiding behind a stack of coal. Both men leveled their guns and for a moment faced each other.

"After you," finally said the Frenchman courteously. The German fired and missed, and Lieut. de Lupel killed his man.

The French soldiers cheered their leader, and he has been praised everywhere for his action.

He Objected

A surgeon was explaining a very uncommon case to his students and finished up as follows:

"This, gentlemen, is a very rare tumor indeed. In all my thirty years' experience I have never come across one like this, and you will see me remove it to-morrow."

"No, you won't," said the patient. "If that's all the experience you've had of this sort of thing I'm going home."

Russian Tipple.

A popular drink among the peasants of Russia is called quass. It is made by pouring warm water over rye or barley meal. It is a fermented liquor and is very sour, but has been used for years by these poverty stricken people.—Liverpool Mercury.

The man who does things may make mistakes, but he never makes the greatest mistake of all—doing nothing.

A Warm Welcome.

A bibulous old Scot, a golf caddie, who was as sharp and sarcastic as he was convivial, had a wife who was much troubled by her husband's loose way of life. He could never have a good day on the links but he must end it with a wet night at the tavern. So to cure him the woman lay in wait on the road one evening, dressed in a white sheet.

When her husband appeared she rose from behind a hedge, an awful white figure, with outspread arms.

"Who the de'll are you?" asked the intemperate caddie as he gazed unsteadily at the supposed ghost.

"I'm Auld Nickie," said the figure in a hollow voice.

"Gie's a shake o' yer hand, then," said the tipsy caddie. "I'm married tae a sister o' yours. She'll be waitin' for us up at the hoose, an' nae doot she'll mak' ye welcome."

Quite a Spell.

"Spell your name!" said the court clerk sharply.

"The witness began: "O, double T, I, double U, E, double L, double"—

"Wait!" ordered the clerk; "begin again!"

The witness repeated: "O, double T, I, double U, E, double L, double U, double O"—

"Your honor!" roared the clerk, "I beg that this man be committed for contempt of court!"

"What is your name?" asked the judge.

"My name, your honor, is Ottiwell Wood, and I spell it O, double T, I, double U, E, double L, double U, double O, D."

Not War Taxes

(From Ottawa Free Press.)

The proposed collection of the new special Dominion taxes by means of stamps labelled "War Tax" is rank hypocrisy in the first place, and the creation of laborious, inconvenient and unnecessary tax collection machinery in the second place. The new taxes are in no sense "War Taxes". Not one cent of the money so collected will go towards the conduct of the war. The new taxes are rendered necessary to meet the ordinary financial obligations contracted by the government quite distinct from the war.

It was intended, of course, that these obligations should be met out of the customs collections, but the Canadian people have been economizing so much since the war began that there has been a big falling off in imports and a corresponding shortage in customs collections. The Canadian people, however, can not be permitted to economize in the matter of their tax payments. The Dominion government must have the money to meet its obligations and its running expenses. Hence if the Canadian people will not contribute enough to the Dominion treasury in one way they must be compelled to contribute it in another way. This the imposition of new taxes — not additional, but different taxes.

The idea of the stamp labelled "War Tax" is of course a childish endeavor to mislead the people when they buy such a stamp. They will be supposed presumably to pat themselves on the back, swell out their chests and say: "There goes my mite to help defeat the Kaiser."

It is, as we have said, sheer hypocrisy, because none of the money will go to the undoing of the enemy, and all of it toward the meeting of the ordinary expenses of the government apart altogether from the war. There seems no reason why ordinary postal stamps should not be used as in England for the special revenue taxes. To be compelled to fix two stamps to every letter or postcard, one a postal stamp and the other an inland revenue stamp, will both be inconvenient and unnecessary. The only excuse for such a plan can be the government's belief that the people can be hoodwinked into considering these special taxes as "War Taxes" when they are only the old taxes in different disguise.

Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, vice-president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, is quoted as saying these new taxes will make the Canadian people realize that they are parteners and not onlookers in the great war struggle. That might be the case if the Dominion government were bold enough now to impose taxes sufficient to help carry the war expendidtures of Canada, but they are borrowing all the money required for the war and leaving the task of paying it back to posterity. What these new taxes should make the Canadian people realize is that they are partners with the Dominion government and individually responsible for all obligations and expenditure contracted by it, no matter how extravagant.

Factory Partly Destroyed

Kingston, Ont., Feb. 16.—Early this afternoon fire broke out in the saw mill of S. Anglin and Company's factory, destroying the large building containing the planing and sawing departments, as well as the mica assortment room. This building was valued at $15,000, and was partly covered by insurance. It is thought that spontaneous combustion in a pile of sawdust underneath the mill, was the cause.

The Local Newspaper

No business man professional man or manufacturer in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns, says an exchange. This applies to all kinds of business—general stores, dry goods, groceries, furniture dealers, manufacturing establishments, automobile dealers, mechanics, profesional men, etc., etc. This does not mean that you should have a whole or half or even a quarter of a page ad in every issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned if you do not use more than a two line space. A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell just what business is represented in a town by looking at the business mentioned in the paper. This is the best possible town advertiser. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and his town. He is the man who is expected to do the most free boasting for his town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to a town but refuses to advertise his business is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of any town depends upon the live, wide awake and liberal advertising business men.

Col. Thos. W. Sharham Dead

Lieut-Col. Thos. W. Sharham died at Brockville on Tuesday, at Kingston, but practically all his whole life was spent in Brockville. He served as a volunteer in the Fenian Raid and subsequently became attached to the 42nd and 41st Regiments, attaining to the position of commanding officer of the latter, which he held until it became a city regiment in 1904. He is survived by two sisters.

Yeggman's Kit Found

Brockville, Feb. 16. — While a building was being removed in the freight yards of the G. T. R. today, a workman found wrapped in a coarse bandanna handkerchief several fuses with dynamite caps attached, also a bottle containing nitroglycerine. There were also in the parcel two candles, and the whole outfit is evidently what is known among "Yeggmen" as a "Soup" kit for blowing safes. The police took charge of the find.

James Doyle and Robert Hilliard, two former Brockvillians, are under arrest in Syracuse, N. Y., charged with breaking a safe in a saloon and stealing $30. Later their actions aroused suspicion and at 1.30 in the morning of Friday last, while attempting to enter a boiler room, two detectives closed in on them. Hilliard and Doyle ran and were fired at by the detectives, Doyle being brought down with a bullet wound in his leg. Both were then captured. The wound in Doyle's leg is not serious as the bullet went through the fleshy part above the knee.

He is survived by two sons, Russell Hollister, of Cupar, Sask., and Wm. Hollister, of Minneapolis, Minn. The funeral took place on Sunday last from the residence of Mrs. C. Hollister to the Methodist Church, here, interment being made in the Pleasant Valley Cemetery. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Hanna, Aultsville. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Lindsay Rombough, H. P Alguire, Osborne Hartwell, Chas. Cryderman, John A. Cameron and John Shaver. Among the friends present from a distance were Messrs. John and Wm. Brownell, of Casselman; Russell Hollister, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Brownell, Newington; Mr. and Mrs. John Shaver, Aultsville. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

GOLDFIELD.

Miss Nellie Gillies spent Sunday with friends at Avonmore.

Mr. P. Johnston, of Chesterville, spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Young and family, of Dunbar, spent Sunday at Shady Cottage.

The many friends of Mr. Arnold Casselman will learn with deep regret that he passed away on Saturday night. The funeral took place on Wednesday.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McMahon on Friday last, when a number of their friends gathered and were most hospitably entertained, dancing and playing cards.

TIRED THE MUSICIANS.

How Strauss Once Snubbed a Russian Court Dignitary.

When Johann Strauss took his orchestra to Russia he had some unusual experiences not generally vouchsafed to those who live outside an autocratic government.

One day he received the Czarina's commands to play before her at her summer resort and was told on arriving there that he would have to rehearse his program three times before the performance. He begged to know the reason for that, but no explanation was given him. These were Her Majesty's orders, and he could only comply. Still, his astonishment grew when he saw during the three rehearsals an empty court carriage drawn by a par of horses slowly going back and forth in front of his orchestra.

Throughout the final performance the mysterious act was explained. The Empress, having a sharp attack of gout, was obliged to recline in the carriage, her foot on a cushion, while the concert took place, and the object of rehearsal had been to accustom the horses to a full string band lest they should take fright and bolt with her.

At the end of the performance an exalted dignitary of the court bade Strauss follow him to a splendid grand piano, sayings:

"Now be good enough to play me all the newest Vienna music."

Although he was pretty fatigued by his three rehearsals and state performance, Strauss thought it expedient to comply, but after he had played continuously for over an hour he stopped, saying, "I presume that will be sufficient?"

"I am not at all tired," coolly rejoined his excellency.

"But I am!" said Strauss and rose from the instrument.

Use Bicarbonate of Soda.

What is the secret of destroying the "onion breath?" Not all the spices of Araby can do it, but there is a simple deodorant that has its place on every cupboard shelf which will do the trick.

Bend low and lend an ear—plain bicarbonate of soda, saleratus or baking soda — take your choice of a name, the effect is the same.

Gargle with a solution made by dissolving one to one and a half teaspoonfuls of the soda in a glassful of water, and gargle and gargle and gargle; then sally forth to your dance with a clear conscience and a sweet, clean breath.

The virtues of bicarbonate of soda as a reodorant are known and appreciated by very few — most of them nurses and physicians. What woman will not be glad to learn, for instance, that it is a perfect neutralizer of perspiration odors? There are many expensive powders put up for this purpose, and some of them are effective, but plain sodium bicarbonate at five cents a whole lot is quite as good as the best of them. It may be rubbed on the shields or through the armholes of a white shirt waist and be relied upon to neutralize any odor. The armpits may also be bathed with a solution of it before dressing.

Troop Horses' Burdens.

Cavalry are playing an unexpectedly large part in the war, and the weight carried by cavalry horses in the various armies is of interest. The British cavalry is armed with the short Lee-Enfield rifle, the magazine of which holds ten rounds; the sword, which is carried by all ranks except signallers; and the revolver, carried by warrant officers, staff-sergeants, sergeants, trumpeters, and drivers. Each trooper carries one hundred rounds of ammunition in a bandolier over the left shoulder. Lancer regiments carry the lance. Altogether the British troop horse carries 280 pounds.

The Cossack pony carries about 238 pounds. The average weight carried by the Indian troop horse when ready for war is about 266 pounds. The Austrian "troopers" carry a weight of between 294 and 308 pounds, and the average in the French and German armies is about the same.

First Hudson Bay Report.

The first annual report of the Hudson Bay Railway shows that the line is only 24 rules of a variation from an air line covering the entire length of 412 miles.

About 240 miles have been completed, 350 miles are partially graded and on 204 miles the track is laid. Telegraphs have been constructed for 175 miles. Grading will be completed next summer and the line will be ready to handle the 1916 crop.

He Rounded Them Up.

The way they do things in some of the odd corners of the Empire, where they are comparatively free from wireless telegrams, is very pretty. The officer in charge of a certain hinterland received from his superior officer at the base some time in August this message:

"War has been declared. Arrest all enemy aliens in your district."

With commendable promptitude the superior officer received this reply:

"Have arrested seven Germans, four Russians, two Frenchmen, five Italians, two Roumanians, and an American. Please say who we're at war with."

Village Money.

(Toronto Star)

There must be a lot of easy money loitering around the small towns of Ontario, wistfully longing to get out and experience life and adventure in the big world.

The case with which village money can be enlisted for distant advantage is pretty well shown in the evidence now being taken in a case in court. A man in his own town can go from office to office from one end of main street to the other without being able to borrow five hundred dollars to put into his business unless he can give a first mortgage for the loan or give security far in excess of what ought to be required.

But a stranger can hop off the afternoon train, ask the bus-driver for the names of those in town who are locally supposed to have money buried in their gardens, and three hours later he can leave the town with from ten to twenty thousand dollars in cash and with names signed up for additional thousands to undertakings that have the same value as promissory notes. All the stranger needs to bring with him is blank forms, highly legal in appearance, and red seals that glitter and gleam with vast impressiveness. When the stranger arrives in town his gripsack is filled with glowing prospects; when he leaves it is filled with solid certainties.

Of course, we would not think of denying that there is big money to be made in places far away. Nor would we dispute the statement that to make big money a man must take chances. But we would point out that it often happens that when a man thinks he is taking chances, he isn't getting a chance at all.

We do not wish to say anything that would tend to make money timid. But what we cannot make out is why money that is always so timid around home that its very existence is unknown to the neighbors, can be persuaded to leave home on the most dare devilish enterprises and take chances that the money at Monte Carlo would shrink from.

Perhaps if small town capital would turn in and take a few chances right at home the local towns would flourish more than they do.

AN OLD DUTCH LEGEND.

How Jantje the Bellringer Saved Sluis From the Spaniards.

An old statue in the steeple near the bells at Sluis, in Holland, which was originally erected in honor of Jantje van Sluis, is worked by mechanical means, which cause it to strike the bell at every hour and a half with a hammer.

Jantje was a bellringer and watchman during the eighty years' war with Spain. On the night of June 12, 1606, Du Terrail, a Spanish captain, resolved to recover Sluis, the principal fortress of Zeeland, from Prince Maurice of Orange, who had conquered it two years previously.

When the clock struck nine it was arranged that the Spanish soldiers should sound a false alarm at one gate in order to draw the Dutch soldiers away from another, thus leaving a means of ingress for the enemy.

Providentially Jantje forgot to wind up the clock till late in the evening, and, being terribly afraid of ghosts, he did it so hastily that he damaged the works. Another story avers that he was intoxicated, the result of Sluis fair, which had been held on that afternoon.

Be that as it may, Terrail waited in vain to hear the familiar striking of the old clock, and thus the attack was put off till midnight. In the meantime the garrison had suspected something amiss and were on the alert. Consequently the Spaniards were repulsed with great loss.

Jantje had accidentally saved his town, and to honor him his fellow citizens erected the bell ringing statue to his perpetual memory.—London Tatler

FREDERICK THE GREAT.

On the 17th of August, 1786, died one of the most remarkable sovereigns Europe ever produced, Frederick II. of Prussia, called Frederick the Great. Thomas Carlyle thus describes him:

"The man is not of godlike physiognomy any more than of imposing stature or costume. Close shut mouth, with thin lips, prominent jaws and nose, receding brow by no means of Olympian height; head, however, is of long form and has superlative gray eyes in it. Not what is called a beautiful man, nor yet, by all appearances, what is called a happy.

"On the contrary, the face bears evidence of many sorrows, as they are termed; of much hard labor done in this world and seems to anticipate but more still coming. Quiet stoicism, capable enough of what joy there were, but not expecting any worth mention; great unconscious and some conscious pride tempered with a cheery mockery of humor—are written in that old face, which carries its chin well forward in spite of the slight stoop about the neck; snuffy nose rather flung into the air under its old cocked hat—like an old snuffy lion on the watch; and such a pair of eyes as no man or lion or lynx of that century bore elsewhere, according to all the testimony we have.

"This is the man who, among the common people who much loved and esteemed him, was Vater Fritz—Father Fred—a name of familiarity which had not bred contempt in that instance."

Born to Fighting.

Mons began fighting. Caesar founded it as a camp and a short time later Cicero's brother sustained a siege by Ambiorix. Its most famous siege was in 1572, delivered by Frederic of Toledo, one of the distinguished generals of Alba. The siege lasted from the end of June to the middle of September; sorties and relief were vain; the town capitulated under the most honorable conditions. In 1691 the Marechal de Luxembourg attacked the town, inflicted great damage and forced surrender. In 1709 Marlborough and Prince Eugene attacked and carried the town after a siege of 126 days. In 1746 the Prince de Conti laid successful siege. In 1792 Mons was the first fruit of the republican victory at Jemappes, and in 1794 the Austrians were subjected to a crushing defeat.—New York Sun.

The Rose of Sharon.

In Asia the rose of Sharon is considered the emblem of resurrection. Throughout Syria, Judea and Arabia it is regarded with the profoundest reverence. The leaves that encircle the blossoms dry and close together when the season of blooming is over, and the stalk, withering completely and drying in the shape of a ball, is carried by the breeze to great distances. In this way it is borne over the sandy deserts until, touching some moist place, it clings to the soil, where it immediately takes fresh root and springs to life and beauty again.—London Mail.

That Explained It.

"I say, I have just come from my landlord's, and would you believe it? —I had the greatest difficulty in the world to get him to accept a little money from me."

"Nonsense! And why, pray?"

"Well, because he wanted [illegible]."—Liverpool Mercury.

TOO MANY CHILDREN

with pinched faces and poor blood; they do not complain but appetite lags, they have no ambition and do not progress.

Such children need the rich medicinal nourishment in Scott's Emulsion above everything else; its pure cod liver oil contains nature's own blood-forming, flesh-building fats which quickly show in rosy cheeks, better appetite, firm flesh and sturdy frames.

If your children are languid, tired when rising catch cold easily or find their studies difficult, give them Scott's Emulsion; it supplies the very food elements that their systems lack.

Scott's Emulsion contains no harmful drugs and is so good for growing children it's a pity to keep it from them.

TORTURED BY CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Paralyzed Bowels and Digestion

ST. BONIFACE DE SHAWINIGAN, QUE. Feb. 3rd. 1914.

"It is a pleasure to me to inform you that after suffering from Chronic Constipation for 2½ years, I have been cured by "Fruit-a-tives". While I was a student at Berthier College, I became so ill I was forced to leave the the college. Severe pains across the intestines continually tortured me and it came to a point when I could not stoop down at all, and my Digestion became paralyzed. Some one advised me to take "Fruit-a-tives" and at once I felt a great improvement. After I had taken four or five boxes, I realized that I was completely cured and what made me glad, also, was that they were acting gently, causing no pain whatever to the bowels. All those who suffer with Chronic Constipation should follow my example and take "Fruit-a-tives" for they are the medicine that cures".

From Counties' Council Minutes.

It was moved by Mr. Fisher, seconded by Mr. Hamilton, and resolved.—

That this Council, by reason of the Public School Districts of Winchester and Chesterville in the County of Dundas being shorn of the portions of Township of Winchester heretofore included in said Districts, and realizing that the Chesterville School District may suffer injustice and treatment in respect to any grievance under which the ratepayers have to labour, are aware that serious difficulties may be anticipated when the Districts are established in the new School Districts, and that the two Villages of Winchester and Morewood District.

That the proposed plan may be determined or by the Legislature of the burden, and will be fraught with any proposal which is much to be desired that the remedy may be by the union of one or more of the School Districts and their annexation to Minister as Constituted. Carried.

That the foregoing is a true copy of an original resolution adopted on Friday the 5th day of February, A. D., 1915, by the Municipal Corporation of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry in Session Assembled, and that it forms part of the minutes of the said Council.

Given under the Seal of the Municipality of the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry this 5th day of February 1915.

D. MACDONELL, County Clerk.

Ploughing Matches.

There was a time in Ontario and Quebec when the ploughing match was an event of importance in many localities. Later, interest in the matches decreased greatly, especially among the younger men. As a result, good ploughing and good soil cultivation have fallen back some points since the old days, except in the few districts where the matches have been continued. As the first-class ploughman is likely to be a good cultivator of the soil, agriculture, in general, has suffered. On the other hand, the farmer who regards ploughing merely as a process of turning over land, the sooner done the better, will not, and can not, be a good cultivator of the soil. Unless the soil is well ploughed, it is impossible to give the land the best of preparation for the seed.

It is encouraging to note, however, that the ploughing match is being revived, and that the Prairie Provinces also are taking a keen interest in competitions of this kind. If they are beneficial as an aid to better farming on the virgin prairie they are of even greater value in the older parts of the country, where the land needs more careful working to maintain soil fertility and increase crop production. Good ploughing is a matter of good ploughmen as well as of good ploughs and, as these matches encourage good workmanship, they are worthy of support by all interested in better farming. As they have an educational value and often give the boys the needed encouragement to remain on the farm, ploughing matches might well form one feature of the work of the Farmers' Club, Farmers' Institute, or Agricultural Society.—F. C. N., in Conservation.

Youngest Bugler In Corps.

Capt. Hamilton of Earlscourt fire hall, Toronto, is in receipt of a letter from his son, Bugler Hamilton, Salisbury Plains, of which the following is an extract: "The adjutant of our regiment called me into his tent a few days ago, and explained the conditions existing on the continent, and what I should have to face when the troops got to the firing line, and offered to send me home to Canada if I wished to go. I refused, and told him I enlisted to go through with it, and I would not back out, and go through it I would."

Bugler Hamilton is the youngest soldier, with the first Canadian contingent, and a general favorite with the men. He will leave for the front with the first Canadian contingent, he expects, at any time now.

Big Patriotic Fund.

According to an audited statement issued recently by the general committee of the Manitoba Patriotic Fund and the Winnipeg Patriotic Fund, there has been subscribed towards this fund up to the end of 1914 the sum of $891,386, of which $282,838 has been paid in. Of this amount there was at the end of the year a bank balance of $39,731.

The families of 1,388 soldiers are at present being assisted, while to date 1,441 families have received assistance from the Unemployment Fund.

BUY FROM A WELL ESTABLISHED COMPANY

The most important point in selecting an automobile is to know the reputation of the Company—"Who is Behind" it.

New makes of automobiles come and go year after year.

The question of service should also be considered carefully. Do not buy an "orphan" car for which you may have difficulty in securing repair parts and service, after purchasing.

The McLaughlin Carriage Co., Limited, of Ottawa, is one of the oldest vehicle industries in Canada—built up on Canadian capital—in business for over forty-five years building high grade carriages, and in the eighth year of automobile manufacturing.

This company has such an extensive organization that an owner can secure dependable service at any of the twelve branches conveniently located throughout Canada.

Every McLaughlin Buick has the famous VALVE-IN-HEAD Motor, that is guaranteed to produce and deliver more power than any other motor of equal size of any make, and on a lower consumption of gasoline.

In Montreal, the Branch Salesroom is located in the Somner Building, 260 Ontario St. West, and the garage, carrying a large stock of extra parts, is at 1570 St. Lawrence Building.

Induction Services.

The Prespytery of Glengarry met on Jan. 28 at Gravel Hill to induct Rev. Dr. McIvor into the pastoral charge at Gravel Hill and Monckland. The church was crowded, the aisles being filled well as the pews. Rev. Mr. McIllrath of Apple Hill, presided and inducted the minister. Rev. James Hastie, who had been Interim Moderator of Session during the vacancy, narrated the steps that had been taken to secure the minister.

The sermon was preached by Rev. W. McLennan of Moose Creek, from the text in St. John's gospel, X:10; and contained an able presentation of gospel presented doctrine with fervor and energy.

The charge to the minister was given by Rev. J. I. Manthorne of Avonmore, and was very comprehensive presentation of a pastor's entire work under the two-fold division of the outward, and the inward; and also the equipment necessary for the effective discharge of his work. The theme gave full scope for the speaker's well known oratorical powers.

The address to the congregation was given by Rev. Mr. Lennox of St. Elmo, and proved quite unique. Mr. Lennox had been liberally supplied with "mother-wit," although he is not an Irishman. On this occasion he lit up his address from beginning to end with flashes of sanctified wit and humor which stirred the heart and mind of his audience as seldom happens.

At the close, Rev. Mr. Hastie and John Crawford, senior elder, introduced Dr. McIvor to the congregation. Dr. McIvor's post office is Monckland.

Murdered Girl's Family Employ Detectives

Lake Megantic, Que., Feb. 5.—A week ago to-day the murdered body of Ethel Vinner was found on the C. P. R. track about three miles west of this town. It is said that not a move has been made by authorities to investigate the murder and endeavor to locote the guilty party.

The Coroner reported the matter to the Attorney-General's Department last Saturday. The murdered girl's family have taken the matter up, and employed private detectives to try to unravel the mystery surrounding the unfortunate young woman's death.

Local and District News.

Whitteker, the Optician, will be at Winchester, Monday, Feb. 8th; Chesterville, Tuesday, Feb. 9th; Russell, Thursday, Feb. 11th; Finch, Friday, Feb. 12th.

Mr. John Helmer, who lives 4 miles North-west of Chesterville and 3 miles east of Winchester will hold an Auction Sale on Thursday, Feb. 18. See his adv. in Record.

The Conservative patronage committee at Kingston has nominated James Mallen, of that city, for the position in the customs office rendered vacant by the death of Captain Geohegan.

Few people believe nowadays that cheapness is necessarily economy. Cheap tea loaded with dust is a poor bargain at any price. Salada tea is all clean, whole leaves and is marvellous value.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Liscumb and children of Newington, spent Sunday the guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Jas. McNeill.

The old fort at Prescott, after receiving but scant attention for over half a century has once more come into being as a detention place for Germans, Austrians and Turks. Even its name, that of Fort Wellington, is once more known. 75 prisoners are now quartered there and accommodation is being made for 400. It will act as an overflow from Fort Henry of Kingston.

The places and dates of the Patriotism and Production Campaign Conferences have been arranged. These meetings will be addressed by well known agriculturists at the afternoon sessions and by prominent speakers at the evening sessions. Farmers and town people should turn out in large numbers to these meetings and hear what these speakers have to tell us with regard to the ever important question of production of food stuffs to help support the Empire in the present crisis. Meetings will be held as follows:—Morrisburg, Feb. 16th; Finch, Feb. 23rd; Winchester, Feb. 24th.

At the Ottawa ice races last week Ellis Pointer, a three-year-old owned by Mr. T. J. Ellis of this place, was successful in winning the race in which he was entered and in which many horses were contestants, but to say it plain it was a walk-a-way for Ellis Pointer, winning the race in three straight heats. This gelding is a coming race horse. Already they are afraid of him, for he was barred from his class at the races held at Smith's Falls on Tuesday and yesterday. We are bound to hear something good of him in the future.

Special Grant Made To Tropper L. W. Mulloy

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—An order in Council has been passed granting to Trooper Lorne W. Mulloy, the blind veteran of the South African war, a land grant of two adjoing quarter sections in western Canada at $1 per acre. It will be remembered that Trooper Mulloy lost his sight from a Boer bullet when serving with the Canadian contingent in South Africa. When the South African land grant was passed in 1908 Trooper Mulloy was unable to fulfill the conditions with regard to residence and cultivation owing to his blindness. He also did not take out the script on the grant due him. A special consideration is now shown him by the order in Council above referred to.

Winchester Township Council.

A regular meeting of the Winchester Township Council was held at Morewood, on Monday, Feb. 1st.

All members present.

The minutes of former meeting confirmed.

The correspondence received by the Clerk since last meeting read, including one letter from the Public School Inspector re the appointment of truant officers and one regarding school maps of Township.

Bylaw No. 243, for the appointment of Township officers for the year 1915, was finally passed, signed and sealed.

Moved by Geo. Quart, seconded by F. Fraser, that the retiring High School trustees of the different districts be reappointed and a bylaw accordingly be prepared.

Moved by Geo. Earl, seconded by Geo. Quart, that the prayer of the petition of John Black and 92 others, for a bridge over the Petite Castore on headline between cons. 10 and 11 be granted.

It was agreed to accept the offer of Mr. Eagleson for school map of Township.

On motion by F. Fraser, seconded by J. A. Bogart, J. W. Bogart was appointed truant officer.

Next meeting, March 1st, at Winchester.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney and Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney and Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by druggists. Price 75c per bottle.

Red Cross Tea.

The Red Cross tea last week was held at the Methodist Parsonage, Mrs. Dr. W. A. Brown and Mrs. (Rev.) H. E. Warren, being the hostesses of the occasion. Early in the afternoon a number of ladies came with their knitting for the soldiers, and spent a social time together, until the tea hour, when a large number more of the ladies of the town gathered. All were delighted with selections, rendered by Mrs. Howard, pianist, and the Misses Thompson, Simser, and Munroe, the latter being accompanied in her song by a violin obligato by Miss Beattie. The amount realized for the Red Cross Fund from the tea was $10.50.

AVONMORE.

We are glad to report that Mr. Dalton Shaw, who broke his leg, while felling a tree, is doing as well as could be expected.

Mrs. John J. McIntyre is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. A. O. Miller.

The marriage of Miss Grace Monk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Monk, to Mr. Wesley M. Stephenson, took place at the home of the bride's parents on Jan. 27th. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. I. J. Manthorne. The many friends of the young couple join in sincere congratulations.

At the Presbyterian Manse, Avonmore, on Jan. 27th, Miss Allister McBain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McBain, of Moncklands, was married to Mr. James Seyea, of Moose Creek. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. I. J. Manthorne. Many friends extend their hearty congratulations.

Death of D. M. Macpherson.

Mr. D. M. Macpherson of Lancaster, whose funeral took place there Saturday, died at the Montreal General Hospital. Some three weeks ago he went to that city to undergo an operation for a serious disease. Mr. Macpherson was born in Glengarry county some sixty-seven years ago of United Empire Loyalist descent.

Mr. Macpherson was one of the first Canadians to see the possibilities of the cheese industry be developed on scientific principles. From one factory started on the Allen Grove farm at Bainsville, Glengarry county, in 1870, his holdings in cheese factories and creameries increased until at one time he was sole or part owner of some seventy odd factories, chiefly in Glengarry and the county of Huntingdon, P. Q., thus becoming known as the "cheese king." He was keenly interested in all branches of agriculture, and was himself a model farmer, his farm at Bainsville being the Mecca for agriculturists from all over Ontario and Quebec. As M.P.P. for Glengarry in the Liberal interests he sat for some five years in the Ontario Legislature. He was a Presbyterian being an elder in Knox Church, Lancaster.

He is survived by his wife, two sons and five daughters: John A., in British Columbia, and Duncan J., of Lancaster; Mrs. A. S. McBean of Saranac Lake, N. Y.; Mrs. J. D. McArthur, Belleville; Mrs. H. G. Bornet, Renfrew; Mrs. Edward Widman, Utica, N.Y., and Miss Eva Macpherson, Lancaster.
